If what I understand is being taught in our schools, and what I hear propagated in the media is factual, then to believe there are clear and distinct guidelines of right and wrong taught in the Bible is to be truly out of step with much of the so-called culture of our time.

3. FAITH DEMANDS COURAGE TO CHOOSE

If you are going to be a child of God, a born-again Christian in any Bible-believing sense you had better make up your mind that you will have to go against the strong currents of our day.

President Kent Hill of Eastern Nazarene College said last evening in his "remarks" at the reception in Quincy Market that if the godless forces of an atheistic communism brought the USSR to chaos and ruin it is no less true that the godless, empty philosophy of pluralism and total relativity of truth threatens to destroy what we know as Western Civilization.

But how does that "interface" with the call of God, and the challenge of Jesus to "Follow Me!"?? Is it possible for an individual in 1993 to (1) hear a call from an Infinite Other we call God; and (2) to follow in any intelligent, satisfying way, with any degree of assurance?

I BELIEVE THAT IT IS!

I. HOW IS IT POSSIBLE TO OBEY CHRIST'S "FOLLOW ME" FROM OUR HEARTS?

A. THERE MUST BE A CALL FROM GOD!

1. We could not hear from God unless and until He chose to reveal Himself to us. God has always been willing to talk to man. As Frances Schaeffer said, "He is THERE and He is NOT silent!"
2. God apparently has always had a witness. Melchizedek. "Other sheep." By a Burning Bush to Moses. By dreams to Jacob and Joseph. By the Scripture. By Jesus Christ, and by the Holy Spirit. God speaks. If you reject the authority of the scripture and set up your own criteria for good and bad, you do so at the peril of your perspective, and your life.

B. THE SCRIPTURES SPEAK CLEARLY: GOD HAS REQUIREMENTS

God's requirements: What does God expect of us? Can we ever hope to "live up?"

1. Micah, an Old Testament prophet says:

Micah 6:8 He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?

When we think of God's requirements, we think mostly of what we DO. And what we do IS not unimportant. But even more important to God is why we do what we do. What we value, how we love!

And most important of all to God is the purpose He made us in the first place— why we are here— and what really fulfills us and makes us completely happy for time and for all eternity! God LOVES us, and wants us to learn to LOVE HIM!

2. Jesus, in Mark's Gospel, says this:

Mark 12:30 And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength; this is the first commandment. (31) And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these.

II. RE-DISCOVERING THE FIRST COMMANDMENT

- A. To follow God we have to FOLLOW! And God is prepared to lead us! But "right" and "wrong" is not so much a list of "in" and "out" things to do... first it is a list of what we shall LOVE!
- B. FIRST— we are to love the Lord. We are to commit to following Him. We are to say, "You convince me it is YOU, and I will do whatever You say!"
SECOND — we are to love our neighbor as ourself!
- C. All too often we call ourselves followers of God, Christians, when we try to turn these two commandments around. FIRST, we seek to love our neighbor with all our heart and soul and mind and strength. And THEN we seek to love our God as ourself!
- D. It is not by accident that there are TEN commandments— and that the first FOUR have to do with honoring God. The last SIX are DRIVEN by the POWER that comes from obeying the first FOUR! We cannot truly love our neighbor as God intends until we love God.

III. DISCOVERING THE RUDDER OF THE SOUL

- A. The whole question of following Christ's call hangs on the idea of "love." Thou shalt LOVE God! Can LOVE be commanded?

THE HEART OF THE GOD-WALK, THE GOD-LIFE IS FROM THE INSIDE OUT!
But how can we control how we feel? How can we control the thought life? Is such a thing possible? Do I simply decide, "Now I will LOVE God!"? Do I say, "Now I will not COVET!"?
- B. TO 'LOVE' IS A CHOICE! TO "FOLLOW" MEANS A HEART RESPONSE! When Jesus calls, you will know it! And you had better listen, for nothing you ever learn will be more "true!"

And when Jesus calls, it is possible to respond by an act of will!

- C. We will never be saved by will power. But we will never be saved until we join our wills with the will of God!

Conclusion:

Is it possible to "follow Jesus" in any literal, satisfying sense in this modern day?

Not "part time." Not simply in skepticism. You may have been brought up by "fundamentalists" who said "It is so because it is so" or even worse, by "second-hand Christians" who taught you that being a Christian is simply a matter of rules, and joining, and staying out of trouble.

But Jesus still calls: Come walk with ME! Trust ME! I will help you love mercy! I will help you DO justice! But you must walk HUMBLY with Me!

To follow Jesus is neither simple nor easy! It requires faith! But if you hear the call you can be certain Jesus will BE there the rest of the way home!

We pray— "Lord, if You will bring spiritual reality into my life I will DO what you say— I will LOVE what You want me to love— but please, JUST LET ME WALK WITH YOU!

232 Just as I Am (O Lamb of God, I Come!) or

43 O Master, Let Me Walk with Thee

Your Place in Gods Church

February 12, 1993

INTRODUCTION

"Hail, mighty man of valor! The LORD is with thee!"

YOU ARE HOLY!

YOU ARE CALLED TO BE HOLY!

A HOLY GOD CALLS YOU

A HOLY HEAVEN AWAITS YOU

A HOLY CHURCH

Gideon didn't know if the angel was making fun of him, or was just very near-sighted! But with God's help Gideon became just that, a mighty man of valor!]

If a letter came to your house addressed to "the saints" at your residence, how would you respond?

When you read or hear read the challenge anywhere in the Bible: "Be ye holy for I the Lord your God Am Holy!" how do you receive it?

The very idea of "holy" or "holiness" invokes strong reactions. In general there are two:

1. One response to holiness says, "Who me?" Then with great humility the heavy responsibility of sainthood or holiness is ever so lightly pushed aside.
2. The other response says, "I will be holy!" But then it proceeds to define the beginning and ending of the call to holiness strictly in the individual, in the "me."

I. THERE IS A PERSONAL CALL TO HOLINESS Which Cannot Be Ignored.

A. YES, GOD CALLS US PERSONALLY: (re: Romans 12:1,2)

1. God calls EACH of us, deals with us, convicts and convinces us, so that we might be enabled to fellowship with Him.

2. God calls EACH OF US TO HIMSELF. To be "holy" means we are in a special relationship to God. Our "holiness" is not a "LOAD OF GOODNESS" that makes US "holy" in all we do or say.
3. ONLY GOD IS HOLY in any underived way. All holiness comes from HIM. God cannot fellowship with the unholy.

The dilemma: you have to be holy to come near to God, and you can't come near to God unless you are holy.

B. TO BE GOD'S IS TO BE HOLY:

Whatever is God's [possession] IS holy; the struggle is not to make ourselves holy so that we can approach God; WE CANNOT DO THAT OURSELVES!

How do we get clean hands and a pure heart so that we may ascend the hill of the Lord?

Somehow the struggle is not to be HOLY— but to give ourselves wholly away to God, and to know that He has accepted our gift. What is HIS— He makes holy!

C. TO BE HOLY INVOLVES BEING PART OF GOD'S HOLY CHURCH

Our passion for personal holiness must flow into a holy love for Christ's church if it reflects Christ's own heart, his love:

"Holy" has been preached almost exclusively from a personal, experiential approach. We have measured our holiness by the inner, emotional response (i.e., "I feel sweet, or peace, or feel love, etc.), what we sense personally, enabling: "I am not ashamed to testify" "I find that I can forgive."

This personal side is absolutely valid and necessary. And yet it can be extremely centered in self! The corrective for this is remembering that we are sanctified in relationship to Christ's church, which is to be HOLY!

II. GOD'S CALL "BE HOLY!" IS ALWAYS IN THE CONTEXT OF THE CHURCH

A. THE CHURCH IS THE FOCUS OF CHRIST'S LOVE (Text)

Ephesians 5:25 "... Christ loved the church and gave Himself up for it, that he might make it holy with His own blood, and present it to Himself pure and radiant, without any spot or wrinkle, holy and blameless."

B. THE CHURCH CAME TO LIFE ON THE DAY OF PENTECOST

Peter preached: "This is that which was spoken by the prophet Joel!"

C. THE CHURCH'S CALL TO HOLINESS INCORPORATES THE INDIVIDUAL 'PERSONAL CALL TO HOLINESS' AND MORE:

1. The CHURCH is to be united with God by the sanctifying grace: John 17:17
Sanctify them: "That they may be one with us"
2. The CHURCH is promised the empowering Spirit: Acts 1:8 - [this was to the ASSEMBLED church-to-be]
3. The CHURCH received admonition and challenge from the glorified Savior in Revelation 2,3

D. HOLINESS IN THIS CORPORATE SENSE IS A SUBMITTING AND SURRENDERING TO MAKE THE CHURCH MUCH MORE THAN OUR INDIVIDUAL TESTIMONY CAN BE.

This is a risky, scary thing: to submit one's individual rights into a sense of community.

(Hippies did it— and they were disillusioned every single time!)

(James Jones persuaded many to do it; the results were disastrous.)

(Still, there it is: the disciples had all things in common; they relinquished their own rights. What principle is this?)

III. THE HOLY CHURCH WILL MANIFEST GOD'S LIFE IN THIS WORLD

A. The LOVE of God - The COMPASSION OF HOLINESS must be manifested in the context of the corporate faith. The Apostle John said the greatest "selling point" that the church has is: BEHOLD HOW THEY LOVE ONE ANOTHER!

- B. The COMMUNION of God - THE COMMUNITY OF HOLINESS must also be manifested in the corporate faith. The church described in Acts 2 was manifestly unselfish! They gave whatever they had in order to make the kingdom go forward. "THEY HAD ALL THINGS COMMON!"

We can re-capture some of that "belonging"! The nursery needs to be staffed. Little children need to be cared for. People need to be loved and prayed for. It isn't a matter of communism, or giving, although in my mind tithing is a "floor."

- C. The LIFE of God - THE VIBRANT REALITY OF HOLINESS will also be made manifest in the corporate faith! [I am not speaking of synthetic excitement.] When God meets with His HOLY CHURCH it is always an enormously important occasion!

Some time ago in some church promotional literature one "managerial-type" pastor likened his church to a filling station. HE SAID: "The 'real world' is out 'on the road.' "

I take exception.

The church is like a home. THIS is a dining room. The meal is fuel for the tasks to be done. But it is also a sacrament of love.

Physically — too much of our eating is 'fast food' filling station mentality. HAPPY is the family that several times a week sits down together in love to eat, talk, laugh, think, remember, enjoy each other.

Spiritually — what the church does 'out on the road' IS vital; the only way that Jesus gets "out of the Bible, out of the four walls of the church" is in you and me. In our lives.

But what we do IN the church is much more than a smelly selfish gas station. It is more than "tanking up."

We are family- God's HOLY family! We LOVE each other! When we eat, Paul said, wait for each other!

Conclusion:

SO, HOW IS THE CHURCH 'HOLY?'

1. You [PERSONALLY] are called to holiness as a child of God.

You are already sanctified, if you are a Christian at all— for you are dedicated, given, baptized into the Body of Christ. You are being sanctified. God wants to sanctify you through and through, with His cleansing reaching every deliberately surrendered part until you know you have said an everlasting, "YES!" And one day we shall be sanctified completely! In a way we cannot imagine, "When we shall see Him we shall be like Him!"

2. We [AS GOD'S CHURCH!] are called to holiness as a unit. We can have the baptism of the Holy Spirit that fosters compassion.

I get tired of seminars, and of super-stars, and of methods and techniques.

But we must avoid any false humility that says, "I'm no saint! Holiness is for the day of the kerosene lamp and the button-down shoes. We can't have that kind of fellowship!" Can't we?

I'm going to ask you to join with me in the closing prayer today, A JOINT AFFIRMATION (on this Pentecost Sunday) that we belong to God as a church!

Prayer:

We, the Wollaston Church of the Nazarene, affirm that we belong to You, O God. We believe that what belongs to You is truly holy. We ask that You will make us wholly Yours that we might walk with You and fellowship with You and obey You in all that we say and do, that You may have your perfect will in our congregational life. Amen.

HYMN #19 Thanks to God Whose Word Was Spoken Or

#39 Spirit of Faith, Come Down (Wesley)

Jesus Strength in Weakness

February 28, 1993

For just as through the disobedience of the one man the many were made sinners, so also through the obedience of the One Man the many will be made righteous. Romans 5:19

Musings on "Temptation"

This past week my "grand-dog" "ate" my sheepskin hat. I guess I was too proud of it— I thought I looked like a proud Russian cossack. Now I look like a survivor of the siege of Leningrad that got shot in the head!

I tell you this to confess that at the time I think I underwent temptation. I had the strong urge to strangle a certain large golden retriever!

I. THE HEART OF TEMPTATION DISCOVERED

A. Just what IS "temptation?" You MIGHT say:

- Temptation is when you are pushed or pulled to do something you know you probably shouldn't.

OR,

- Temptation is when you are ENTICED, drawn by the BAIT of something good to do something BAD.

OR,

- Temptation is the LURE to commit an act of SIN!

And probably all these are right. But there is something more basic, more fundamental about temptation in the two Bible stories in our lessons today than even being tempted to commit sin.

B. Temptation is a solicitation to part company with God! It is an invitation to go against divine revelation.

1. In the Garden of Eden (1) God walked with Adam and Eve "in the cool of the day;" there was fellowship. But God also (2) talked with Adam and Eve, and they knew what God wanted them to do and not to do in some clear fashion.
 2. The tempter came to say: (1) I'm not sure God actually HAS spoken to you! and (2) If God HAS spoken to you He didn't get it right! God is WRONG!
 3. When they chose (they chose!) to part company with revelation, they were cut off, separated, spiritually orphaned!
 4. As we will see, when Jesus was tempted, Jesus used the words of scriptural revelation as weapons in the battle to resist and division between Himself and the Father's will!
- C. Simply stated: The goal of temptation is not just to get you to sin, it is to separate you from God, and ultimately, to damn your soul in everlasting death!

II. THE 'BESETTING TEMPTATIONS' OF THE CHRISTIAN LIFE

A. A. The "timing" of temptation.

1. 1. Now, at Lent.

When we decide to walk with Jesus is when we begin to face the full strength of temptation. Temptation is the lot of all those who face the day. If we take the way of Christ and seek to walk with Him we will inevitably come face to face with temptation.

2. 2. Temptation immediately followed (Matthew 3:17) the great assurance at the Baptism by John. God spoke from heaven: "This is My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased."
3. 3. Temptation will oppose every single movement toward God. Wherever you are in your spiritual pilgrimage, you need to recognize and resist your temptation:

B. Recognizing temptation for what it really IS!

Temptation is a life-long fact of life for those who would walk with Jesus. It never just "goes away." If we think it does, we've been blind-sided!

1. The temptation of the beginner is distortion. The perspective of the Way is all mixed up. Sometimes the Christian Way is made to seem impossible! It seems such a long, hard road. [I was sure my mother would get lost in Junior High school; I tried to give her directions to my home room (208, Miss Hagan. Somehow, she found her way.)]

Or, by the same distortion method, at the first we are tempted to think "we have arrived!" This way is SIMPLE! The "old folks" have made such a big deal out of it— all they need to do is really get the kind of sincerity I have!

[Keep your eyes on JESUS! Distortion usually comes from watching people more than we look to HIM!]

2. The temptation of the progressing Christian is often connected with discipline. Why do we need day-in day-out, regular use of the "means of grace" to press into the deeper things of the Spirit? Isn't that "works religion?" Or, conversely, thinking that a technique or ritual, even a good one, can make us like Jesus! But the fact remains: No Christian ever develops into her/his potential without the dimension of spiritual discipline. There simply are no short-cuts and all such are temptations to err.

3. The temptation of the veteran is scruples and fear.

It is not the easiest thing in the world to pass the torch to succeeding generations while maintaining a Christ-like spirit.

[Do you know where the word "scruple" comes from? Neither do I! But I have read that it comes from a root which describes getting a tiny little pebble in your shoe. Did you ever get a large grain of sand in your sandal? Unless it is removed it soon becomes as big as the Rock of Gibraltar, and nothing else, not even the love of Jesus seems very important!]

III. LESSONS FROM JESUS' TEMPTATION IN THE WILDERNESS

Genesis 3 is an important lesson for us about temptation. But we can thank God that it is NOT the final word! [A brief description of the wilderness temptation here: The fasting; the approach of the tempter; the use of scripture. But it is important here HOW THE SCRIPTURE WAS USED.] Jesus became our Champion! There are some lessons we can learn from His victory:

A. Temptation is not sin.

The fact is, temptation is often most keen in the experience of the resolute. ("When I would do good...")

Jesus was tempted, and He was both holy and noble. Temptation may appeal to the very best within; but there is always a little "twist."

B. Temptation opposes any spiritual progress. As soon as we choose to respond to grace and walk with God we face opposition. Jesus faced temptation immediately after His Baptism by John in the Jordan; immediately after the heavens opened and the Father said, "This is My Beloved Son, and the Holy Spirit like a dove descended upon Him in a wonderful epiphany of glory!

He faced it again when Peter spoke against His death after the Great Confession ("Get thee behind me, Satan!") And again in the Garden of Gethsemene. Temptation's timing is exquisite! It never seems to come when it is easy to face!

C. Temptation is a deadly warfare.

1. Jesus taught us to flee to the scriptures. We are not simply to "use" them as some sort of technique, but to genuinely love and respect them, and to LIVE under their authority.

- a. Knowledge of the scriptures will give us an awareness of the twist of temptation. The tempter in fact sought to justify his attack by USING the scripture. But something was wrong!

- b. THE TEMPTATION TO "USE" THE SCRIPTURE IS ALWAYS DANGEROUS. An irreverent attitude toward revelation is ALWAYS an invitation to darkness.
 - c. Cultivate a reverence for the Word of God. Satan is never far away when we approach the Word of God with skepticism: Awareness of an enemy: what Satan knows about you; what Satan knows of the scripture; Satan's use of the scripture.
- 2. Jesus did not argue with Satan (that is, attempt to 'reason' with him).
 - 3. God gives us grace to resist, to CHOOSE the right! Temptation is settled, finally, by choosing. Goodness is always a result of choice; otherwise it is just "nice-ness."

IV. WALKING WITH JESUS IN OUR TEMPTATION

- A. Jesus is MORE than an example; He is our Champion!

The possibility of moral goodness means also the possibility of its opposite. This is where Adam failed. This is where we all have failed, ever since. We have "turned every one to his/her own way (Isaiah 53)."

- B. Our strength lies in HIS authority.

Temptation does not last forever, and when we resist we are ministered to, and we are strengthened.

God sees, He cares, He approves, He loves!

The angels of God still minister!

Conclusion

The heart of temptation is— to separate you from God and His love. But the heart of Jesus is to bring you into life and fellowship with God.

As we seek to walk with Jesus during this Lenten season, we will be opposed! It is never simple or easy to "draw near to God!"

Jesus Strength in Weakness

So in the hour of temptation, do not simply flee from the act of sin. Oh, yes! DO flee from sin! But flee TO THE STRENGTH OF JESUS!

Prayer

O God, Who does not lead us into temptation, but Who does deliver us from evil:

We acknowledge that we do not live by bread alone, and that the wealth of our living is more than material things and money. You are the Bread of Life, You are the Joy of Living.

Is This All There is to Life

March 7, 1993

Romans 4:1 "What shall we say that Abraham ... has found?"

The question of our text, "What has Abraham discovered?" comes between two Bible stories in our lesson for today; one from the Old Testament, one from the New. Both of these stories touch on the profound mystery of life itself. Let us start with the Old Testament story. I hope that you can come to it with "fresh eyes."

I. THE CALL FOR 'A RADICAL DEPARTURE'

- A. (A story. A true story.) Once upon a time there was a good man. He had a good family. He had good connections. He was living in a reasonably comfortable manner. He was abreast of the latest modern technology. His life was not in crisis. But deep in his heart there was the nagging uncertainty, the question he could not put into words:

"IS THIS ALL THERE IS TO LIFE?"
- B. Then one day this good man became aware that Almighty God was talking to him. Just how this awareness came about I can not tell you. [We're so sophisticated... we "know" God doesn't talk to people ... now! Or does He?] But Abraham heard a call from God that sent him packing. It was a call of a loving God, calling a seeker to Himself.
- C. We usually miss this basic fact in the telling of this great story. But God was answering the question that sooner or later we all come to ask: IS THIS ALL THERE IS TO LIFE? God was saying, "Well, no, as a matter of fact THIS isn't all there is to life! And if you are willing and obedient, I will show you what your heart is seeking! I want you to "come home" and live your earthly life WITH ME as your closest Friend!"
- D. In order to find his true home in God's Presence, Abraham had to LEAVE all false security behind. ("Entering" almost always also means "leaving.") God said, "I want you to LEAVE... your country your people your father's relatives and above all your right to control your own direction!"

But never lose sight of the fact that this was (1) a call from God (2) inviting Abraham into a one-on-one relationship with Himself!

II. QUESTIONS THIS PASSAGE RAISES:

1) Does God still call people like He did Abraham? 2) How would God get your attention if He wanted to speak to you? 3) How might we respond to a call from God in 1993?

A. Does God still call individual people?

1. My 'message' is "yes:" I am convinced that God is thundering His call to a "radical departure" ... all the life stories of conversion and salvation, from Noah, and Abraham, and the Exodus, and the prophets are being echoed today in one great call "Save yourselves from this reprobate civilization!" In a society where it is a criminal offense to hand out Bibles in the schools - while it is commendable to teach perversion and hand out birth control devices; where millions of people use abortion as a means of birth control after the fact; where public media does its best to ridicule anything supernatural that has to do with God Almighty, while at the same time promotes the worship of Mother Earth and in the name of Pluralism makes Jesus Christ sound like a bigot when He declares:

"No one comes to the Father but by Me!" ... still in all this God calls,
"Leave the prison of your self-made gods— come away from a Scripture that YOU edit and cut and pick and choose and stand in judgment over — leave the bondage of "what so-called sophisticates might think," — and step out on a journey of faith with Me!
2. My personal testimony is "yes:" I know you would expect an evangelical Christian minister to answer in the affirmative. I can answer that I am certain, convinced, sure, that God spoke to me when I was living selfishly and out of fellowship with Him. He spoke to me by both love and fear; by what I might call "Behold the goodness and the severity of God" (Romans 11:22)

B. How would God call YOU, if He wanted to call you?

1. God speaks through dramatically unspectacular, quiet "means of grace," through a regular submission to the Word; by an habitual obedience in prayer; by the sacrifice of praise and worship in the corporate worship of the church.
2. It might just be that God has a quiet but absolutely vital message for you during this next week of revival services. I ask you now if you have re-arranged your schedule even one little bit in order to give God a chance to communicate with you during this Lenten Season— and even perhaps through Floyd and Barbara Flemming, who have been praying and preparing for their ministry in the Word to us? It doesn't make much difference HOW God is calling if you are not listening, or tuning in on a completely different channel.

[I toyed with the idea of just reading Wesley Tracy's editorial in last week's Herald. It really challenged me. So here it is:]

COME ON HOME[1]

Isn't it time for you to come home? Haven't you had enough of the world's shallow gratifications? Haven't you had enough counterfeit answers to your heart's deep needs? Haven't you leaned your ladder on the wrong wall too long already? Aren't you tired of trying to be a classy sophisticate who knows all about things timely— progressive education, career enhancement, political correctness, next season's fashions, and the done thing?

Are you not tired of having just enough religion to make you uncomfortable at a cocktail reception and yet ill at ease in the presence of the Holy?

There is time to come back to simple holy living. A time to come back to self-control, Christian simplicity, and spiritual discipline energized by God's grace.

"Now is the time. We have been through it all— the grasping, the looking, the searching. We have lived as people who try to serve God and mammon, and we know now that it cannot be done.[2]

Too many Christians have drifted into letting the world tell them how to dress, what to drive, what songs and entertainment with which to saturate the soul, and just how to put me first at the expense of other people whom nobody puts first. Some who take the name of Christ seem owned by their ambitions, chained to a success formula, enslaved by the hunger for prestige— diseases they have caught from our sinful culture. They fill up the ranks of the Christian jet set. Visit any important Christian conference and you will see them— "dressed alike, talking alike, smiling alike, looking over the shoulders of the people to whom they are speaking in order to see who else has come into the room." [3]

The world has taught us to reach for the things that matter least while neglecting the things that matter most. Prayer, Bible study, devotion, and obedience have been elbowed to the margins as Christian self-help propaganda taught believers to dress for success, win through intimidation, fulfill themselves, enjoy sex, and lose weight. Richard Baxter's 17th-century description fits today's cosmopolite evangelicals like a glove:

When we should study God we study ourselves; when we should mind God, we mind ourselves; when we should love God, we love our carnal selves; when we should trust God, we trust ourselves; when we should honour God, we honour ourselves; and when we should ascribe to God and admire Him, we ascribe to and admire ourselves: and instead of God we would have all men's eyes and dependence on us, and all men's thanks returned to us, and would gladly be the only men on earth extolled and admired by all. And thus naturally we are our own idols. [4]

Even spirituality has become something to be utilized. We were coached to practice the spiritual disciplines in order to achieve self-fulfillment, discover happiness, become fully human, and overcome stress. Such behavior is a lilac-scented blasphemy. The only reason to practice the spiritual disciplines is because of who God is.

Not even Hollywood has "out-glitzed" evangelical religion. Popular Christianity has been polled, charted, televised, and made "user friendly" by the best ad crews in the world. But now we know that making Christianity compatible with the loose living and undisciplined conduct of our culture does not work. The popular church "has lower standards for membership than those for getting on a bus." [5] But we have learned a few lessons, haven't we? "Now we can see . . . where uncontrolled living goes. We know the misery. We have felt it." [6]

It is time to come home. Time to stop trying to be citizens of two countries. It is time to stop trying to blend God's way with our own wants and lusts. Come home to Christian simplicity, discipline, and holiness of heart and life.

The journey is not easy. The worldly culture will try to sweep you back into its whirlwind of shallow gratifications, its conscience- deadening maze of greeds and lusts, its "cosmetic diversions and plastic pleasures."

Resist them in the power of the Spirit. They are vapors of fantasy that lead only to emptiness. On the other hand, the holy life to which God is calling you is "astonishing in its completeness," as Thomas Kelley writes. Of the holy life, he says,

Its joys are ravishing, its peace profound, its humility the deepest, its power world-shaking, its love enveloping, its simplicity that of a trusting child ... It is the life and power of Jesus of Nazareth.⁷

C. Yes, God calls! The last question, is How can we respond? :...

III. WE CAN RESPOND WITH FAITH

The other story of the morning is from John 3. Here is another wealthy, successful, respected man, a leader in society, who is asking himself:

IS THIS ALL THERE IS TO LIFE?

He comes to Jesus by night. He says, nice things to start the conversation, but Jesus almost interrupts him to say: "Unless you are BORN AGAIN you cannot even SEE the kingdom of heaven!"

Nicodemus was a sort of "literalist." "How can such a thing be?"

Right at this place Jesus reminded Nicodemus of an Old Testament story every Jewish child knew— and ever Christian child ought to know, too. You know it, too— remember the Children of Israel had been disobedient, and as a judgment an invasion of poisonous snakes began a fatal assault on them, left and right. God had Moses fashion a serpent of brass and lift it up on a pole. As many as looked to the serpent recovered. Those who refused to look died.

Jesus said to Nicodemus, "Your journey into life starts with a look! It begins with faith in what I am going to do on the Cross of Calvary! Faith is trusting ME!"

Conclusion:

Our text tells us that Abraham, the father of faith, discovered something. Just what was it that Abraham discovered and passed on to all people of faith?

It is the answer to the question so many have asked through the ages:

IS THIS ALL THERE IS TO LIFE?

Abraham discovered that real LIFE is about walking with God! Getting to know God! And in the text Paul tells us that God still wants people to walk with Him by faith.

God still calls people to come HOME into the growing assurance that we can live in the will of God, and we can KNOW it!

I'm convinced that if we answer this call, two things are necessary:

- a. We need to deliberately break the insulation that separates us from entering into God's Presence, the "Shekinah." God's Presence is life-giving. We must enter into the Presence and worship, wherever we are coming from.
- b. We need to break the bondage of self-consciousness before the judgment of other human beings. "If I buy into this radical response I will be stepping back into the '30s— I will be an ignorant sheep—" NOT if it is truly GOD who is calling you to come HOME to HIM!

Footnotes

1. Editorial by Wesley Tracy in The Herald of Holiness, March 1993, 2,3
2. WT quotes Roger C. Palms, Enjoying the Closeness of God
3. WT quotes Palms, Enjoying, 20
4. WT quotes Richard Baxter, The Saint's Everlasting Rest
5. WT quotes Harry R. Rudin, Christian Century, June 4, 1952
6. Wt quotes Palms, Enjoying 30
7. WT quotes Thomas Kelly, A Testament of Devotion, 29

Fourth Man in the Fire

March 21, 1993

Every good Christian boy or girl, along with every good Jewish boy or girl, knows the story of the three Hebrew children in the furnace. We "get" the "lesson" we are "supposed" to get from it. BUT TWO THINGS WE JUST MAY NEED TO REMEMBER:

1. (1) THEY DIDN'T GET TO BE HEROES INSTANTLY! What happened then started when they were teen-agers!
2. (2) SOONER OR LATER, YOU AND I ARE GOING TO BE IN THAT FURNACE!

I. MAKING SOME LIFE CHOICES EARLY ON:

It is possible to settle some things forever when life is mostly still "out ahead." Then whatever comes, good or bad, the important decisions fall in line with the most important decision.

- A. A. Judah had been conquered by the dominant kingdom and ruler of the world, Babylon and Nebuchadnezzar. But the king was open-minded, and wanted to absorb the best of the various cultures in his far-flung empire.

1. [ONCE IN A LIFE-TIME OPPORTUNITY]

So he made a decree: If suitable Hebrew youth could be located, a full, all-expenses-paid scholarship was to be made available to the greatest school in the world. A three-year graduate study in government and upper-level management, with a guaranteed prestige job waiting. But there were very tough entrance exams.

The physical exams were unreal. Unfair, yes! But there they were:

2. [PHYSICAL GIFTS]

Applicants had to be in perfect health, and they had to be judged as very handsome. [That would have left me out!]

But the mental and psychological tests were even more rigid. [3. EXCEPTIONAL MENTAL GIFTS]

These men had to have I.Q. scores off the chart! After rigorous testing only four young men from Judah were admitted to the program. Their names were Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. They were IN! And they did go on to very illustrious careers in government!

- B. This is where their "life commitment" first was challenged. [THE "GOD-FIRST PRINCIPLE"] Early on in their "graduate program" the four young men faced their first challenge.

It was the food! College people always complain about the food! [I like E.N.C. food!] Their problem was not what you might think...the food was too "good!" It was not how they had been taught to honor God.

They were not disrespectful. They talked it over. They prayed. THEY DECIDED THAT BEING FAITHFUL TO GOD WAS THE MOST IMPORTANT THING IN THEIR LIVES! They were faithful and God honored them!

The "God-first principle" was a source of contention all their lives— but also a source of witnessing power!

- C. It helps if we can settle some things early on

1. God is good!
2. The Bible can be trusted!

Run (like you would from a snake) from anyone who tries to take away your faith in the Bible to speak with authority on all matters of your spiritual life. Settle it early that you will give God the benefit of the doubt, and that whatever the cost you will honor HIM!

3. God's people need to stick together!

Your bosom buddies, your "soul-friends" must be those who will pray with you and stand with you and support you in sorting out God's will from God's Word. You need the church!

4. Don't compromise on little things if God's will is involved!

You cannot be "selectively obedient" to God's known will!

II. LIFE'S COMMITMENTS WILL BE CHALLENGED!!

- A. A king on an ego trip takes the place of God.

Several years later, these men were well on their way to a great career. (This is where "the story", PROPER, BEGINS.) The king decided that HE was not getting enough respect— so he made a statue "of gold" and demanded that all the known world bow down and worship the statue which HE had set up— in his own honor!

Everybody, but everybody was there at the great day of honor! The Babylonian Symphony Orchestra was there. Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego were there. Daniel evidently wasn't there. The Bible doesn't say where he was.

When everybody else bowed down, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego did NOT! And they were hauled in before the king himself!

- B. Principles under fire! SOME THINGS YOU DON'T "ARGUE":

(The respectful but at the same time BLUNT speech these three men made:)

1. We do not have to answer you, O king, in this matter. The argument is over before it starts in our minds.

Some things you don't "argue":

(Why were they so sure? Because they took literally the Ten Commandments, among other things: "Thou shalt not make any graven images ... Thou shalt NOT bow down and worship them!")

They had "bet their lives" on God!

2. A statement of CONFIDENCE IN ALMIGHTY JEHOVAH GOD. "Our God is able to deliver us from this unjust command of yours, O king!"

They were willing to die for the right!

3. A statement of (beyond CONFIDENCE!) Abandonment to the love of God!
"But even if God does NOT save us, make NO mistake, O king, WE WILL NOT BOW DOWN AND WORSHIP THIS SHINING STATUE!"

- C. THE MIRACULOUS DELIVERANCE ... natural destructive power of fire abated ... a mysterious Presence walking with the three in the midst of the furnace ... a pagan king both alarmed and convinced, if not converted.

III. STATUES AND THE FURNACES TODAY

- A. Perhaps it is harder to walk with God and live for Him right now, in our time, than it was for Daniel and Shadrach and Meshach and Abednego!

It is NOT a simple thing to sort out the truth from the garbage!

- B. WHAT ARE SOME OF THE STATUES?

Today's "Golden Images" are unchallenged popular slogans that "everybody" says, and "everybody" is expected to give agreement with:

There are a lot of these "statues hanging around, like "Look out for #1 first!" and "The bottom line is the bottom line." and "The one with the most toys ..." and "Personality is more important than character."

"If you are famous then surely you are important." "If nobody knows you then surely you are NOT important."

But the one that troubles me the most as a Christian Pastor is "Religion is private!" This is the one that says, "You worship your God in your way, and I'll worship mine! 'My God wouldn't do this .. or that!' as if we own God .. and create Him .. as if there is no One True God who has a right to own us and make demands on us!"

Think about it! Religion is PERSONAL! God loves YOU! But religion is NOT PRIVATE! It effects the way you live in the world! You can't love God and serve Him and act as YOU damn please!

Whatever you do, don't bow down and worship these lying, damning idols!

But we belong to God! He tells us what to do!

C. RECOGNIZING THE FURNACES

The KING wasn't the enemy ... he was the tool of the enemy! Paul tells us in Ephesians 6 "We wrestle not against flesh and blood!" When you are in the furnace ... and it burns and you know your next breath is going to be your last ... look around! There is Someone who will be right there with you in the midst of the burning fiery furnace!

The enemy is the devil, the accuser of the Family of God— the force behind the evil in our world.

Turn in your HYMN BOOKS to #549 and read the Scripture lesson (Ephesians 6:10-18) with me:

1. Do YOU have on this armor of God?
2. Have you settled it that you belong to God, and not the other way 'round?
3. Are you RIGHT WITH GOD just now??

This world needs some heroes! People who won't bow, and who won't burn, and who will mind God and take this world for Him!

Prayer:

#68 EH I Will Serve Thee Because I Love Thee

Seeing and Believing

March 21, 1993

John 9

Introduction

He was bewildered, in a completely new world. You would think that everyone would be totally happy that he could see. But in fact he hadn't had a lot of peace ever since the miracle.

Not that he ever wanted to go back to the old way. He still hadn't gotten over the wonder of things; things that everyone else seemed to take for granted. Like the ever-changing color of the sky. Like "color" itself— he never imagined the splendor of birds and flowers and insects. Like the face of his mother. Still, he wished he could find ten minutes alone and get some peace.

He remembered again for the thousandth time how it began:

The Encounter With The Healer

He had felt like a curiosity, a sort of freak on display, when the Healer had first come within earshot. He could hear people say, "Master, did this man sin? or was it his parents that sinned? that he was born blind like this?" He felt his face burn as he realized these voices were discussing him, and he knew that people had turned their curiosity on him.

But then he had sensed something else. He was not sure how he knew, but he knew that he was loved. The Healer's voice said, "That is not the way to look at other people! We aren't looking for guilt and blame now!" And then he knew the Healer was coming very close, and he felt a hand on his shoulder, and another hand applying a warm compress to his eyes. The Healer had said, "Go and wash in the Pool of Siloam!" Then he could hear the Healer and the other voices with Him move on down the street.

He hadn't had any trouble getting to the Pool of Siloam. He knew his way around his lightless world. He had gotten on quite well indeed for all the years of childhood and growing through adolescence. Now as a young man he was as independent as many resourceful sightless people seem to be. He was partly accompanied and partly led by any number of curious people who had heard what the Healer said. There were many witnesses to what happened next. But the Healer Himself was not there.

As he had been commanded, he had made his way to the Pool, and then more cautiously had felt his way to the water's edge. Kneeling down he had scooped handfuls of water from the pool to his mud-caked eyes. And as he washed, the mud came off, and with it went his blindness. His eyes were healed, and he could see perfectly. And then is when it all began. This turmoil inside!

Surprising Complications Of Sight

In the first place he had a hard time finding his way back home! There was so much crowding into his sense receptors— the thronging crowds of people to be looked at— the colors of the stone buildings, the meat hanging in front of the open stalls, the camels, the donkeys, the dogs and cats— he simply had to shut his eyes from time to time to try to remember where he was!

Then, he saw his family for the first time! They were happy, but they could hardly believe what they were seeing! But even while they were getting filled in, it all began! Here came the questions— the loaded questions from the people who seemed to hate the Healer. He couldn't believe the tone of their interrogation. [It almost made him think of the Inquisition, and that hadn't happened yet for 1,000 years!]

They went over the whole story again and again. And while it was perfectly clear that this man had been born blind, and that now he could see as well as anyone, it was also clear that he had never even seen the Healer.

The Painful Price Of Honesty

There is power in a personal witness. He did not try to tell what he did not know. He would not denounce the Healer who had loved him enough to care! He was "cast out!"

Then Jesus Came!

This time it was not as a Healer or restorer of sight. The Bible says "Jesus found him!" Jesus came to where he was ... his sight had served to get him into trouble—but not beyond where Jesus could go.

Jesus may have said, "I hear they have cast you out!" "Yes, they have, Rabbi!" "Well, I have some wonderful news for you, dear friend. Do you believe on the Anointed One, the Son of Man, the Messiah of God?"

The man looked into the face of the Healer. He was new at this "looking business," but he could feel his heart thumping, and he answered, "Lord, who is He, tell me, so that I can believe on Him!"

Then came one of the outright declarations of the Son of God: "You have been LOOKING at him— it is the Person that is speaking to you right now!"

This was the moment of truth. This was when sight gave way to believing. It was a marvelous time. The official religious leaders had thrown him out, and as far as they were concerned, consigned him to hell. Jesus came along and took him in, and true worship began. You can count on it, the man born blind never felt shut away from God ever again, never, never!

Conclusion

We can learn a few things from this man born blind. Maybe, too, we can see the difference between what we can see and know with our God-given abilities, and what it means to have Jesus Himself slip up beside us and say "DO YOU BELIEVE IN THE SON OF GOD?"

Maybe we can start to distinguish between the blessings and benefits of a loving Father, a compassionate Jesus Christ, and the ultimate purpose of all that God does for us in Christ, which is to hear Jesus say, "I THAT SPEAK TO YOU AM GOD! DO YOU BELIEVE?"

That is what the Gospel of John is all about! It is summed up in the confession of another man who was blind, in a different way, perhaps. He has been called Thomas the doubter, and he made his declarations: Unless God comes up with evidence that meets MY criteria I will NOT believe that there is Eternal Life, or that Jesus has literally risen from the grave!! Period!!

And Jesus found HIM! And Thomas did the very same thing this man born blind had done, Thomas fell at Jesus' feet and worshiped: "MY LORD AND MY GOD!" And that is the climax of the Gospel!

But that is NOT where this story ends. Not quite. The religious people had to have their last word. They came to the Light of the world, and they said, "Now we suppose that YOU think we are blind to spiritual truth!"

What did Jesus tell them?

Prayer

Summons to Life

March 28, 1993

Note: In reading/preaching this it will be best NOT to read the main points (headers.)

Ezekiel 37

John 11

Romans 6

Introduction

Come with me into the mind and heart of an ancient prophet.

I. AN ASTONISHING VISION OF REVIVAL IN THE PROPHETIC WORD OF GOD

It is easy to read snatches of the ancient prophet's message, The Book of Ezekiel, and be completely put off, and dismiss him as eccentric, negative, and hopelessly imbedded in a long-dead culture. Actually Ezekiel was sensitive, caring, full of hope; and above all, he was faithful.

In the message God gave Ezekiel for us he was given a vision, in which he was set down in a valley which was full of human bones, dry bones— bones of people more suited to pages of National Geographic and archeology than anything else. In this valley of dry bones God the LORD began a conversation with the prophet:

"Son of man," God addressed Ezekiel; "Can these bones live?"

Ezekiel was properly evasive. He had a prophet's lofty regard for the Almighty. But he saw that the bones were relics, very dead indeed.

"O LORD GOD, You know the answer to that!"

God continues. This time there is a command. No room for mistake. Ezekiel heard God say, "Preach over these bones!"

Then God even gave Ezekiel a text and a message. It was a message of promise and hope, even if there did not seem any one there to listen.

"Tell these bones," God said, "'O dry bones, hear the word of the Lord!' (That is your text. Now here is your message:)

'Thus says the Lord God YHWH to you bones: 'Behold I will cause breath (Rhuach, spirit) to enter you that you may come back to life. And I will put sinews on you, make flesh grow back on you, cover you with skin, and put breath in you that you may come alive; and you will know that I AM the LORD.'"

So Ezekiel stood there, in the valley of dry bones. And he took his text that God had given him, and preached the word that God had said.

And then Ezekiel said, "In my vision, even as I preached there was a noise, and a rattling, and the bones came together, bone by bone."

Like trick photography there was suddenly an army of people- -well, at least, an army of bodies, for Ezekiel said, "There was nobreath in them."

Then Almighty God broke in again and spoke to his prophet: "Pray now to the Wind, Son of man! Pray to the Spirit, and say to the Rhuah, "Come, Holy Spirit, and blow over these dead bodies!"

What a vision! In his vision Ezekiel saw this great host of corpses come alive and stand on their feet, ready to take orders from God, ready to live!

And Ezekiel understood!

He took the message back to his discouraged, captive, nominally believing, dead fellowship by the River Kebar.

And we have this word from God today! His vision speaks to us of the evocative power of God's word.

Leave that thought for a moment. Ezekiel's is a vision of astonishing revival. Look now at a second passage, this time a story, a very true story, that is meant to climax the good news of our Savior's ministry before His passion.

II. A POWERFUL MIRACLE OF RETURN FROM PHYSICAL DEATH AT THE CALL OF THE INCARNATE WORD OF GOD

Lazarus was a real man, who lived and died in a small house two miles east of the city of Jerusalem. When he became ill, and it became apparent that he was close to death his sisters, Martha and Mary, sent for Jesus where he was in retreat beyond the Jordan River. Jesus received the communication, and then to everyone's surprise He stayed right where He was for two more days. Lazarus was already dead when the message reached Him.

When the two days had passed Jesus set out for Bethany, a day's journey away. On the fourth day after the death He came to the edge of the village, where He was met by Martha, the proactive member of the family.

"Lord," she said, "Why did You have to take some time off? If you had just been here, my brother would still be alive!"

"YOUR BROTHER WILL RISE AGAIN!"

"I know he will, in the final resurrection. But that is a long way off, and he is gone from our lives!"

Then came words that mean more than we can ever fully comprehend. Words that we say at the funeral of the saints. Words that go to the heart of our Christian faith.

"I AM THE RESURRECTION AND THE LIFE!"

Only God Himself could say this and be truthful. Martha knew Jesus, and knew He could not, would not ever lie. Her heart pounded as she tried to grasp what Jesus was really saying, as He went on:

"THE PERSON WHO BELIEVES IN ME WILL LIVE EVEN IF THEY DIE; AND ANYONE WHO IS ALIVE AND BELIEVES IN ME WILL NEVER DIE!"

Then came a question:

"DO YOU BELIEVE THIS?"

For the moment Martha forgot the sorrow of the day and the fact that her brother was dead. She was struck by faith, struck full in the heart. She knew who Jesus really WAS and IS!

"Yes, Lord," she said, "I DO believe that You are the Anointed One the prophets all told about! I believe You are the Son of the living God!"

And she left to call her sister, the meditative religious of the family.

Mary repeated the same "if only" that her sister Martha had said minutes before. Jesus was deeply moved by their grief. He was not playing with their sorrow.

"TAKE ME TO THE GRAVE! OPEN IT, REMOVE THE STONE!" He commanded when they had reached the cave-tomb.

"It won't be good!" said Mary. Lazarus had been dead four days.

"HOLD STEADY, TRUST ME," said the Master.

Then Jesus called to the dead man, whose eyes were permanently blind, and whose ears were permanently stopped, and whose life-systems had shut down in the sleep of death. Jesus called him by name:

"LAZARUS! ELEAZAR! COME FORTH! COME TO ME!"

And in the tomb the man who had died came stumbling, wriggling, hopping out, bound all around with the peculiar wrappings with which bodies were then prepared for burial.

"LET HIM GO! UNBIND HIM!" said Jesus.

It was an astounding miracle. It set off the final countdown to the Cross.

Ezekiel's vision: astonishing revival; the raising of Lazarus: powerful miracle— but the theme, the message is the same— (do you hear it?) — the evocative power of the Word of God. When God speaks, He calls into being— when God speaks there is LIFE. Moses wrote, in Deuteronomy, "Man shall not live by bread alone, BUT BY EVERY WORD THAT PROCEEDS OUT OF THE MOUTH OF GOD!" But that is not the end of our message this morning:

III. A GRACIOUS CHALLENGE TO LIFE THROUGH THE SPIRIT-BREATHED WORD

- A. We like to hear from the Bible that God's word can raise the dead. These passages give us hope for a future time when we shall have died, and when we shall hear the call to resurrection. And make no mistake, we shall all rise, not to re-incarnation, but to face the fact of the person we are now becoming.
- B. But there is a more pressing call to be heard here. The wind of the Spirit blows over our deadness, and calls us to life!

Certainly you and I are not the intended "target" of Ezekiel's vision? You and I could never think of ourselves as dead and dry ... could we?

The voice of the Savior calls us by name! "Come forth!"

Do you see it here, in this epistle passage?

"Don't you know that Jesus Christ died in your place on the cross?" You don't have to die any more! You don't have to be dead, dry bones!

So— hear the Spirit's breath blowing over and among us now!

So— hear the Savior's voice calling:

"Reckon yourself dead, yes, dead to sin— but alive indeed unto God!"

Conclusion

Suppose I hear God, or I think I do— calling me to life?

What do I have to do to come into this newness?

Lazarus was dead! He had nothing at all that he could do to bring the stir of life.

But when he heard the Christ calling his name, Lazarus could and did respond!

And so can we, you and I!

Prayer:

Summons to Life

Lord Jesus, If we hear what we think we hear today—You are calling our name! We want to come to life! O God, without You life is not really life at all! We hear You saying, "Come to Me!" Please, Jesus, help us take that next step into Your Presence, because knowing You is What Life is all about! Amen.

Sing (in EH) #54 O Breath of Christ, vv 1 and 3 only

The Mind of Christ

April 4, 1993

Our text urges "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus..." and usually evokes a devotional, rational, peaceful Bible study in which we may use the Beatitudes or the nine-fold fruit of the Spirit to see first (1) how they profile our Master; and then (2) how we are supposed to ask for grace to be like Him.

But on Palm Sunday? This is not your typical day in the life of the Teacher!

I. THE MIND OF CHRIST IN THE TRIUMPHAL ENTRY

- A. Why have a parade at all? Was it an accident? Did it just sort of "happen?" Doesn't it make seem ironic in the light of the crucifixion? Isn't it a mockery, a play-acting to hear "Hosanna!"

No, there was a definite purpose here; and that purpose ties in with "the mind of Christ."

1. This is a statement: JESUS IS LORD!
 2. He is the Creator! (The Rocks would cry out!)
 3. He is giving notice: I am in charge!
- B. Zechariah the prophet (9.9) foretold this, and in some sense explains it as well: Behold thy KING cometh unto thee, meek, and lowly . . .
1. The MEEKNESS of Jesus: strength under control, not weakness. No need to bluster or intimidate. (When He comes in conquest there will be no empty show, either! There will be no resistance able to stand before Him!)
 2. The LOWLINESS of Jesus: a king who has come all the way to where we are; the incarnation Jesus became LIKE us... it is THE miracle of the ages. In redemption Jesus is simply carrying through on the Plan—

II. WHAT, THEN, IS THE MIND OF CHRIST?

- A. The "peaceful study" approach has its place— (Beatitudes and Fruit of the Spirit and all ...
- B. But here we don't "study" about it— we SEE it. We grasp it- - as we watch Him ride past:

THE MIND OF JESUS IS LOVE!

1. LOVE FOR/OF THE FATHER

He is truly a king— one with the Father. LOVE OF THE FATHER CHARACTERIZES JESUS MORE THAN ANY OTHER ONE THING. The fellowship within the Godhead is mystery— but Jesus shows us the first great commandment: THOU SHALT LOVE THE LORD THY GOD WITH ALL THY HEART.

2. IDENTIFICATION WITH THE LEAST AND LOWLIEST

Jesus stopped the procession at one point — I think I was right there— and He wept over the city. The mind of Christ CARES!

3. FINALLY, A COMPLETE EMPTYING, OUTPOURING "What wondrous love is this, O my soul, O my soul!"

III. LET THIS MIND BE IN YOU

- A. How? Start a new "mind of Christ" study? Form a new class? THINK ABOUT IT? ... discuss ... these have their place! But Paul tells us how:

- B. (12) "work out" the salvation God has given you. "WORK?" Better, express in obedience God's love BY DOING HIS WILL!

(13) We "work out" what God is working IN! The mind of Christ is realizing that God wants to be at work IN us! WE think that WE are so smart! WE have to think it all up! WE have to SAY it or it won't get said ... but NO! God works in those who LOVE Him!

(14) OMIT the complaining! OMIT the faultfinding .. too often we are "experts and analysis"— we can say what OUGHT to be done, rather than trying to be some part of God's LOVE in action.

[Dr. J. Glenn Gould brought in a red-penciled, corrected bulletin every Monday morning; the secretary and printer were often reduced to cold sweat and tears!]

(15) We are God's stars! We are to SHINE OUT HIS LOVE! "You shine as stars as you hold forth WHAT? As you hold forth the word of God! The WORD has "evocative power!"

[Dr. Sam Kameleson told Helen and me last Tuesday evening how his ministry began. His obedience was a beginning point that God could and did use to His glory!]

Conclusion

Many that were there to see the Triumphal Entry that day went on later to find "the mind of Christ." But however they started ... they arrived because of LOVE!

We preach about discipline, and about developing a prayer life, and about all the responsibilities and privileges of the Christian life. And all these have their place.

But the mind of Christ does not come by any of these! (If we find the mind of Christ, we will certainly want to pursue them all!)

NO- the mind of Christ comes for LOVE! — the mind of Christ comes with LOVE! — the mind of Christ comes AS WE LOVE HIM ENOUGH TO FOLLOW!

WORSHIP OUR GREAT KING! AND LET US SEEK TO BE LIKE HIM!

Jesus Last Prayer

Before his death on the cross

April 7, 1993

From Luke 22:

There are a number of prayers of Jesus recorded in the Gospels. The prayers of Jesus have direct impact on our daily lives even to this day. The "Lord's Prayer" which we pray is actually our prayer, our model for praying, given to us by Jesus to teach us to pray. The LORD's Prayer, perhaps properly so called, is the prayer Jesus prayed in the Upper Room, the High Priestly Prayer recorded in John 17. In that prayer Jesus prays for the unity of His church, and for the perseverance of the saints.

But the LAST prayer Jesus prayed before He went to the cross is a prayer almost beyond description. It is a prayer of indescribable courage. It is a prayer that on the surface of it was unanswered, or answered with a "No." But it is a prayer that set the course for the victory of the ages. If the life and death and resurrection of Jesus were expressed in dramatic terms, this prayer is the CRISIS, the turning point and the Cross, the work on Calvary is the CLIMAX, or the culmination. But the drama which began actually before the world was created, in the mind and heart of God, does not end with the Cross. There is an UNFOLDING, a CELEBRATION, a NEW ORDER BEGUN, which we celebrate next Sunday. But first we must address the AGONY, the conflict.

Jesus always prayed at crucial times, but never like this. He was NOT in any way in rebellion. But Jesus was PURE and CLEAN and GOOD and KIND and HOLY, and now He was going to (somehow) receive all the iniquity and hatred and shame and injustice and evil and selfishness and straying and SIN of the world— your sin and my sin. Jesus was the Paschal Lamb. The Passover, the Eucharist, the Lord's Supper, all inform the sacrament we embrace, which sacrament is a figure of the true Sacrifice, the vortex of which Jesus was entering that very hour.

Every atom of His holy being was repelled by the task ahead.

"OH, MY FATHER! IF IT BE POSSIBLE, LET THIS CUP PASS FROM ME!" [This is more than I can bear! I will die before the time! I feel as though I should avert my eyes! But there it is in the scripture for us to see. And there is no pause, no break in the thought:]

"NEVERTHELESS, NOT MY WILL BUT YOUR WILL BE DONE!"

And the answer comes. It is not a "Yes!" to take away the heavy assignment. It is not a "No!" in rejection of the agony and grief. Rather it is encouragement. The Father calls a great archangel, and sends him on an assignment of unspeakable love. "Strengthen My Son! Encourage Him! Physically under-gird Him!"

But the Father Himself remains, as it were, silent. Not a sullen silence, or a silence of insensitivity. Oh, no— the Father is very much aware of what the Son is saying. But in the heart of the Fellowship that is our great Godhead there Plan has been formed in love, the Plan to redeem lost sinners. That Plan is on target. There will be no turning back. There is no substitute sacrifice for this Father and Son.

I think of the transition of power from Moses to Joshua as recorded both in Deuteronomy and in the opening pages of the book of Joshua. It is remarkable how many times either Moses, or God Himself, is recorded as saying to this 'Jesus' of the Old Testament, "Be strong! Have courage! Don't be discouraged! Whenever a battle rages, and the crisis time comes, there comes a time for sheer character to show itself! And this prayer of Jesus is the greatest example of courage ever recorded.

The battle that night continued over a period of time. How long exactly we do not know. In his humanity Jesus craved human comfort! Someone to come alongside! The disciples were tired; it had been a wonderful day, with the Seder and all. So much going on— and so much pressure. They slept— Jesus prayed on. Strengthened, sweating, sweating as it were great drops of blood. Agony— persisting, facing the anguish of evil He never once deserved. Right up until the time of the betrayal Jesus prays.

Then— something happens. As the traitor approaches and the actual pouring out of Jesus' life and blood is about to begin, there is a serenity and majesty that encompasses our Lord!

Look at Him! He looks at the sleeping disciples with pity: "Sleep on now, and take your rest! How you are going to need it! I would that you could have watched with Me just one hour!"

And then the lights of torches, and the sounds of people in a crowd trying to walk quietly, trying to surprise their intended captive. Jesus looks at them as they enter the Garden. He rouses the sleepers: "Get up now!" The Sacrifice of the Ages is about to begin.

They come closer, and are startled to see that their intended Victim is calmly watching them, looking into their eyes, into their very souls. The traitor calmly walks up to the Master, as though somehow this was all right. He give the customary Middle Eastern greeting- you have seen it many times, first on one cheek, then the other, then again. I wonder if he ever finished that mockery?

And Jesus goes with the High Priest's militia to begin a day we call Good Friday. On that day he carried my sins and yours all the way to the Abyss, where he hurled them from Himself! The injustice of the Cross was the end of sin and death and the everlasting defeat of hell.

Prayer -

Communion

A Story of Faith

April 11, 1993

Easter Sunday

John 20:9 He saw and believed.

The seeds of life had been sown. Wonderful, living words. Wonderful loving deeds. The seeds fell on warm hearts and cold hearts. They fell on good ground and stony ground. And there the seeds of life waited. Now the Sower was gone. All of a sudden it was winter, It was night, And it had never been this dark, this bleak, Ever, ever before. Then, suddenly the Sun came up, And it was springtime. Some of the seeds began to feel the stirrings of life. Some of the seeds knew they must respond. The WORD was calling them to LIFE!

I. BELIEVING WITHOUT WORDS

The first person to believe in the Risen Savior was John the Beloved. His coming to this living faith is stated in just four words. He saw and believed. (8)

John is modest to a fault. He never calls himself by name throughout the book. But he does not deny what happened in his heart when he looked into the empty tomb. He had not yet even seen the risen Jesus. That would come later, and John would meet Jesus again and again. John's vision of the glorified and risen Jesus would finally surpass every vision, at least until we all behold Him face to face.

But that first beginning is recorded so simply that it is easy to pass over as insignificant. John saw and John believed.

John saw what? The empty tomb. The empty grave clothes. And that was all John needed. He remembered Jesus had said, "I will rise again the third day!" He remembered Jesus had said, "I will not leave you comfortless!" The seed has been planted in pure and fertile soil, and a miracle took place: John believed! That was it! Mary's revelation is so much more dramatic. A sinner, a notorious sinner, she was the first to see the Savior! But John was good ground. The seed had lodged well.

John stands for millions of believers who have been implanted with the Good Seed of the Gospel before they ever came to rebellion, or before they knew enough to doubt.

John stands for many who know that Jesus is alive long before they reach the age of full understanding.

John stands for those who are so inclined to believe in Jesus that they know even before they know HOW they know! And never despise such faith! It will mature. It will be tested. It will have its revelations.

John was first!

II. FAITH IN THE GARDEN

The first person to see the risen Savior was a woman. She was without doubt a remarkable woman, with a strong character that had been refined and prepared for faith by the redeeming grace of Jesus. Her past keeps coming back to us; when she first met the Nazarene she had been possessed of seven devils. Jesus had set her free, and she had been a part of the faithful few that went all the way to the cross with Him.

But after the crucifixion Mary came to a dead stop. Her life was totally circumscribed by a visible, tangible Authority. She would gladly have died for Him, but she had not fully grasped how He had died for her! Her hope was in a living Messiah. And she had seen Him die on a cross.

She loved Him so much she wanted to go as far as she could in showing Him respect and honor. But all the words He had spoken, and all the things He had done were history now. Except that she still was free of the demons.

She went to honor a dead Jesus, but she went with love. And the hunger and cry and aching of her heart were answered in a way she never could have imagined. It is one of the most beautiful scenes in all holy writ.

Jesus, Himself, came to the Garden where she was. He came near and spoke her name. "Mary!" And within her the dormant seed of faith sprang to life!

"Master!"

Mary stands for the millions who have come to faith through love of a Christ they have been seeking. Perhaps we all have sought in the wrong places at times for Jesus. It may be that we have "supposed" and have almost mistaken the truth in the error of our suppositions. And then the living, risen Savior has spoken our name! I know you! And you know Me, too!

Mary stands for those who go looking with love for the Master.

III. FAITH THAT CAME IN TIME

It was a different kind of 'coming to faith' that John used for the very climax of his Gospel.

Thomas was a man who missed church on the first Easter Sunday. Perhaps if he had been there it might have been different. But it wouldn't have been so good for you and me if we didn't know this story of Thomas.

Thomas seemed to be that sort of person who is cursed with a gloomy outlook on life. But at the same time he seemed to be as honest as he knew how to be.

Remember how at a time late in Jesus' ministry when Jesus said He was going to Jerusalem, and the other disciples tried to tell Jesus not to go, that it was dangerous? Remember who spoke up, and what he said? It was Thomas who said, "Well, let's go with Him and die!" He loved Jesus enough to follow Him even when he, Thomas, thought He was probably wrong!

Anyway, Thomas didn't see, so he wouldn't believe. I get the idea that Thomas didn't dare to try to believe, because he didn't want to be disappointed again. And besides, Thomas couldn't see how things had changed. They were still a powerless little band of outsiders in their society.

Thomas represents honest doubt. Thomas stands for millions who have been persuaded that all religions are made of smoke and mirrors, and that believing in an unseen God probably is delusion. (Who was it that said an agnostic is a person with no invisible means of support?)

A Story of Faith

Thomas would like Jesus to prove to him personally that He is relevant in a hostile world.

One thing comes through in this story. Jesus really loved Thomas. He may have been stubborn. He may have been unable to join in the celebration because he couldn't believe what he hadn't seen. Jesus still loved Thomas.

And Jesus found Thomas. And when Jesus came to where Thomas was, the arguments Thomas had insisted he would make were never made!

"Come, put your hand in my side!", said the Savior. Thomas never did! Instead he fell to his knees. The seed of faith sprang to life!

"My Lord and my God!" said Thomas.

It is a wonderful thing to know the story of Jesus. It is a wonderful thing to come to love Him and to believe in Him as the Christ of the Bible. Jesus said that the Good News of the Gospel is the Seed of Life, and to know about Jesus is to receive that seed into the heart.

But it is an infinitely more wonderful thing to believe! To believe, to be persuaded deep in one's heart that Christ is alive, and to make Him our own personal Lord and Savior.

Believing, in this sense, does not come from knowing more and more. Believing does not come by winning arguments, or human understanding. Believing comes when people meet the risen Jesus!

A church where Jesus is alive can be a place where Jesus meets with people, and brings the seeds of faith to life. A heart where Jesus lives can take the risen Savior to neighbors at school or in the work place. God help you and me to let the living Savior shine through our lives!

Whether we are like John, or like Mary, or like Thomas, if we will let Him, Jesus will come to where we are. He will speak the word that calls our seeking to a living faith: we can believe!

Now the Sower was gone. All of a sudden it was winter, It was night, And it had never been this dark, this bleak, Ever, ever before. Then, suddenly the Sun came up, And it was springtime. Some of the seeds began to feel the stirrings of life. Some of the seeds knew they must respond. The WORD was calling them to LIFE!

EH #34 - Christ is Risen, Christ is Living

EH #35 - Christ is Alive

You Will Be with Me in Paradise

April 9, 1993

Preached at Fort Square Presbyterian Church

"YOU WILL BE WITH ME, IN PARADISE, TODAY!" Luke 23:32-43

A conversation involving three men is recorded in the Gospel of Luke (23). It was not by any means a casual conversation. Two men were dying on crosses on either side of our Savior.

One man chewed his tongue in agony and anger, and cursed the Man on the middle cross. Cursed Him for a fraud and an imposter.

"You said a lot of great-sounding things when the crowds were following," he groaned. "If you are not a fake do something!"

One man cried out in spite of his anguish, in rebuke of the blasphemy he was hearing. "Aren't you afraid to die with that kind of hatred coming out of your mouth?" he groaned. "You know we deserve what we are getting!"

Think about it. That is quite an admission of guilt.

But that was not all this dying thief we have come to call "Dismas" said that day. He continued, "This Man has done nothing wrong!"

Whether or not he fully realized what he was saying, he had made a correct theological statement. He had made a declaration of faith in the sinlessness of Jesus.

Then Dismas turned his head toward the middle cross and said, "Jesus, remember me when you come into your kingdom!"

Remember me! Don't forget me!

Just what does it take to get ready to die?

Here is a man with no time left at all. Whatever opportunity he has had to cultivate a relationship with God evidently has been wasted.

What is really necessary to be with Jesus wherever He is going?

- A. One thing is certain: only a fool would deliberately plan to wait until the day of his death to make his peace with God.

Presumption is the mortal enemy of genuine saving faith. Presumption is dictating terms to God— saying "I will do this, and then that, and then I will take advantage of Your grace." Presumption is assuming that because we know the facts of salvation, of the Bible, of the Plan of Salvation— because we may say the words of Four Spiritual Laws or a Roman Road to Salvation that now we are safe in the arms of Jesus.

Presumption is the mortal enemy of faith. We never dictate terms to Almighty God.

- B. There is always the mystery of calling involved in getting ready to die. I believe God has given us grace to accept Him, to "choose" to be saved. However there is always a mystery involved when people come to the saving knowledge of Jesus Christ. We say in our arrogance, "I found God!" But in reality it is always God who finds us!
- C. Given that we are called to salvation, what elements are present in this conversation between Dismas and our Lord?
1. There is an awareness of sin, of unworthiness.
 2. There is a God-inspired faith in a Savior.
 3. There is a sincere cry for remembrance. "Remember me!"

And we shall be remembered! Not one sparrow falls, Jesus told us, but the Father knows. We don't have to wait until the crisis hour to cry for mercy! And when we answer the stirrings of faith deep within us— when we see Jesus standing outside our heart's door— perhaps at a summer camp for teens— perhaps in a children's Sunday School hour— maybe in the quiet of our living room— but whenever we say, with faith that knows our own sinfulness, but that looks to the spotless Lamb of God, "Lord, remember me!" we are heard!

Perhaps all humanity is represented in this conversation on Golgotha's hill. All of humanity is sinful, condemned, and justly so, to eternal separation from the holy. All humanity apart from grace is headed for the oblivion of the lost and empty wastes of outer space darkness. This conversation marks a singular division.

Two thieves were crucified that day. One was saved so that none ever need despair. But only one was saved, and none ever dare presume. There will be an eternal division of humankind.

Jesus spoke of this division in another way at another time. He said that when Judgment Day finally comes two men will be working a field, one will be taken the other left; two people will be sleeping in a bed, one taken, one left; two women grinding at the mill, one taken, the other left.

Of all those who have prayed, with repentance, "Lord, remember me!" how many, do you suppose, Jesus will forget?

From my heart, I pray: "Lord, remember me when You come into your kingdom!"

A Plan for Your Prayer Life

April 18, 1993

Psalm 40

Anyone who claims to be an expert on prayer rouses my suspicion. We are all, as Christians, enrolled in the school of prayer. But at the same time, not one of us will ever really amount to a hill of beans unless and until we learn some measure of effective prayer.

The best pattern or outline I know is what we call "The Lord's Prayer." It is a beautiful outline for prayer.

But just now I look at this Psalm (40) of David; here I see a fantastic plan for an effective prayer life.

I. WE NEED TO FIND GOD'S TIMING.

AND WE DON'T HAVE TO TALK ALL THE TIME. SOMETIMES WE CALL IT 'OUR QUIET TIME' WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO "WAIT"?

One aspect of prayer that some people never do learn is waiting before the Lord. It takes time, sometimes, to be filled. (Thoughts at the gas station.) Two or three times a week, perhaps, we need to simply "get quiet" before the Lord. Henri Nouwen calls it "being useless." It may seem like a waste; your mind will not be used to silence.

Don't try to do too much here. Don't worry too much about intrusion. Just tell the Lord at the beginning you are going to sit in His Presence. Use a passage like Isaiah 40: "They that wait upon the Lord ..."

Every day have a token silence before you pray the Lord's Prayer.

II. WE NEED A PLACE TO STAND.

WE DON'T NEED TO REINVENT THE WHEEL EVERY TIME WE PRAY! WHAT ARE SOME FOUNDATIONS FOR FAITH?

It certainly helps to have a firm place to stand. We can trust the Word. In it God speaks to us; and by it we learn to speak to God.

Every day affirm your own personal "focus verses." My focus verses are:

HEBREWS 11:6 / JOHN 15:8 / EPHESIANS 4:32 and in recent years LUKE 11:13— I ask to be filled again with the Spirit!

III. WE NEED A SONG TO SING!

TOO OFTEN WE THINK WE HAVE TO WAIT UNTIL THE SUN SHINES TO PRAISE THE LORD AND REJOICE!

PRAISE AND JOY

Praise God FOR His blessings! Praise God FOR His LOVE! And praise God for His Promise, His Presence— when there doesn't seem to be any reason to praise!

The "sacrifice of praise" can be just that! An offering that almost hurts as we give it— but that pleases God! We affirm, "GOD IS GOOD!"

IV. WE NEED A JOB TO DO

God's people can be assured that they do not live in vain! You may have the most boring JOB in the world— but God's will for you includes something that matters for eternity!

I DELIGHT TO DO THY WILL, O LORD!

The last half of the Lord's Prayer is petition. We can ask boldly in terms of getting God's will done. And even though there will be storms, it is a wonderful thing to know that God's will cannot be frustrated. His will becomes our absolute delight!

Conclusion:

WE ARE ALL SEEKERS AFTER GOD'S HEART! AND THIS PSALM CLOSES WITH THE PETITION/PROMISE.

MAY ALL WHO SEEK YOU REJOICE AND BE GLAD IN YOU!

Prayer: Lord, Thank You for the access we have to You in prayer. Help us this very week as we wait before You. Amen.

#83 EH He Touched Me

Through Flood Through Fire

April 18, 1993

John 20:29 "Blessed are those who have not seen, and yet have believed"

Introduction

We who live along the seacoast know what a sobering thing it is to hear that a hurricane is coming. We do what we can, if we need to we go to a safer place, and then we simply have to ride it out. [Hurricane Bob in 1991]

The hideous and tragic events (of just this past week) sound like a hurricane warning to me. If we doubted it before, murder in our public schools shout out that challenging days are upon us. [Of course this is something our brothers and sisters in the inner city have been living with for a long time, now.]

Our scripture lessons today— all three of them— point to the fact that God's people can and will survive BY FAITH when the storm comes. One lesson is a reminder of the story of Noah. One lesson is a message from Peter, who is the prophet that predicted that the elements will melt with fervent heat, [Isn't that comforting?] And the text that holds it all together is a "post- Easter text" that closes with Jesus saying "Peace be with you!"

There is another thread that runs through all three scriptures as well: it is OBEDIENCE IN THE ABSENCE OF SIGHT, i.e., LIVING BY FAITH. [Look first at the lesson of Noah]

I. THE LESSON OF NOAH

- A. Jesus said (in Matthew 25 & Luke 17) that the world would come to resemble Noah's time before He came again. We cannot, of course, fully understand what that world was like, but in Genesis 6 we read: "Now the earth was corrupt in God's sight and full of violence..." In fact it was so corrupt, and so full of violence that God destroyed it.
- B. In that time of corruption, not everyone was corrupt and violent. In Genesis 6 we also read, "Noah was a righteous man— and he walked with God."

When judgment fell on the earth there was an escape. In the ark which Noah built to God's order he was spared along with his family. Noah's life was spared because he obeyed God in preparing for judgment day. The key to the story of Noah is faith and obedience. We miss the point if we get sidetracked on lesser points in the story. [Bill Cosby's version is nearer to the incredulity everyone may have felt than we like to admit!]

Noah certainly couldn't comprehend all that was involved in his task of building and preaching, preaching and building. But Noah could and did OBEY GOD to the saving of his soul. And even IN the ark there was need for continuing trust!

[Leave Noah for a moment now. The epistle lesson from Peter is the same message, only coming closer to where we live now:]

II. THE MESSAGE OF PETER

- A. In I Peter 1 there is an awareness of coming storm. He says "your faith- though tested with fire- will result in praise and glory and honor!" (1:7) Jesus told Peter at the lake side that when he (Peter) was old he would be carried where he did not want to go. Peter died a martyr's death. But Peter has a message of confidence.
- B. That confidence— that "ark of safety" to which Peter clings- - he calls being "born again to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead" (1:3)
- C. That living hope is the love of a Jesus we have never seen! "(1:8) though you have not seen Him, you love Him, and though you do not see Him now, but believe in Him, you greatly rejoice with joy inexpressible and full of glory."
- D. It is the people with this living hope that are TODAY'S "ARK BUILDERS!" Many people, not just believers, are concerned about the violence of our times. They want something to be done. It is a knee-jerk reaction to expect the government to do something about it. But strange as it may seem it is the "ark builders" and the people with the so-called "narrow view" that are making a difference in the face of a rising storm!

[The media have given some attention to some of the inner city leaders. What they have not addressed is the power behind the effective leaders, like Bruce Wahl, like John Borders, like Dr. Michael Haynes. That effective power is a focus on GOD!]

By the same witness, it is the families who have GOD at the center of their agenda that will stand the storm!

I hope you don't misunderstand me, or think I think I am "super-spiritual." I don't have the answers. But also I don't know how to address those who think it is wonderful when, say, a Nazarene makes it big in the Big Leagues. I still have the gnawing, nagging feeling that we have forgotten the Third Commandment, and don't really know how to keep a Christian Sabbath holy. If GOD is truly at the center, that is what really counts!

I can't put my finger on just what is right or wrong with the glamour and the excitement of Christian entertainment. I'm sure there is a place for great souls like Steve Green and Ken Medema and so forth. If I did not totally believe in Cross Walk I could not in good conscience be a part of the service this evening. It is necessary and good to worship God with the best we know, and to communicate the Gospel in a language people understand.

BUT WE HAVE TO SEE BEYOND THE GLAMOUR, BEYOND THE SO-CALLED 'POWER POSITIONS', BEYOND BEING ON T.V. AND ALL THAT. If we are trying to make Jesus accommodate to our goals and agenda, the storm will come and destroy us with all the others who have built on the sand.

IT IS THE ARK-BUILDERS, THE ONES WITH FAITH IN THE WORD OF GOD THAT WILL SAVE THEIR FAMILIES!

III. THE CONFESSION OF THOMAS

What do Peter's alarming words, and the story of Noah have to do with this closing passage from John 20 where Jesus appears to the assembled disciples?

Well, if the disciples had been able to see THE STORMS THAT LAY AHEAD FOR THEM they might have thought they needed detailed instruction in what they were to do.

(Those Instructions would come, later, as they needed the details.) But NOW Jesus came and simply assured them that He is very much alive!

Here is the very climax of the Gospel! - the entire purpose for which it was written. JESUS IS ALIVE TO MAKE US ADEQUATE IN THE STORMS OF LIFE! And this climax can be summed up in the words of a man who had trouble coming to faith, the man we call "doubting Thomas."

Thomas finally came to say, "My LORD, and my GOD!" And John writes, "THAT IS WHY THE BOOK WAS WRITTEN— SO THAT YOU MIGHT BELIEVE, TOO, AND BELIEVING YOU MIGHT HAVE LIFE IN JESUS' NAME!"

That living faith— "living HOPE, as Peter called it— is THE ONE THING THAT WILL HOLD US STEADY WHEN THE WORLD IS ON FIRE. And along with the inner assurance that Jesus is alive is the literal, constant Presence of the Risen Savior through the gift of the Holy Spirit.

Receiving the Holy Spirit, and being filled and re-filled with His Presence is a completing part of the preparation every one of us needs so that we may live with joy in these threatening days. Being filled with the Spirit of the Risen Savior is both a crisis of trust (Romans 12:1,2) and an ongoing renewal (Luke 11:13.) And it works!

Conclusion

We are to be ark builders! Just what form the ark will take depends on obedience to God. The one thread that runs through all three of these scripture passages is OBEDIENCE EVEN WHEN WE CANNOT SEE! Noah had to believe even AFTER he was on board the ark! (Think of floating on endless waters day after day!)

If obedience to God is your sincere desire and prayer, God will help us find a way.

I think of such things as taking our children out of the public schools if they become untenable to our faith. I think, CERTAINLY, of EQUIPPING OUR CHILDREN TO SEE that some of what they will be taught is good and necessary; and at the same time that SOME OF WHAT THEY WILL BE TAUGHT IS CONTRARY TO WHAT THE BIBLE SAYS.

God's "ark of safety" needs to be offered to everyone who will listen. We are concerned about our children because they ARE ours. But God has children we do not know, and He will be using us to reach some of them, too. The plans for the ark of safety are not of our design.

Whatever plan God has for the ark (here in our corner of His kingdom)— it is His plan! Our first task is to KNOW HIM, and to STAY CLOSE TO HIM! And I am sure then, that God will enable us to have something of the spirit of the old spiritual that sings about the "Ark":

"Get on board, little children!
Get on board, little children!
Get on board, little children!
There's room for many-a more!"

Prayer:

O God, Our Refuge and Our Strength, our Very Present Help in Trouble, Help us to be ARK BUILDERS! Give us a spirit that trusts and obeys and that reaches out to our families and beyond— That prepares for the coming storm but does not fear. In Jesus' name, AMEN

EH 81 My Faith Has Found a Resting Place

Eternal Lamb of God Ever Present

April 25, 1993

Luke 24:13-35

1 Peter 1:17-23

Isaiah 43:1-12

Introduction

Our Scripture lessons for today have one encouraging theme:

GOD IS NEAR TO THOSE WHO SEEK HIM AND WHO WANT TO LIVE IN HIS PRESENCE AND TO DO HIS WILL.

The Lesson from Luke 24 brings us back to the beautiful story of the Emmaus Road. The children have read it again for us: As the disciples walked along, talking about the events of the day in the light of a faith that had been almost lost, Jesus was there, He went with them, they believed and they shared.

The text from I Peter says it in a profound, theological framework:

For He (the Lamb of God) was foreknown before the foundation of the world, but has appeared in these last times for the sake of you who through Him are believers in God, who raised Him from the dead and gave Him glory, so that your faith and hope are in God."

The vision of Isaiah gives us the word as from the very mouth of God Himself. And powerful, comforting, but challenging words they are!

I. GOD SAYS WHAT HE IS TO HIS PEOPLE

They have not been all they should be. In fact they have been in captivity because of their earlier rebellion, and the rebellion of their parents. But God still loves them. He has heard their hearts cry. And so God says these things:

- A. I HAVE FORMED YOU. I am Your Creator. I know what really makes you tick!

If we are self-made people, then God's words do not apply.

If our church is of our own efforts; if we in fact are not a living stone, built into the living structure of the One True Church that Jesus is building, then these words do not apply.

We are not "the only church." But by God's grace we are a part of God's church! We have life, we have an open door. We are God's because He has planted us here!

- B. I HAVE REDEEMED YOU. I have removed your sins; I have paid the price for you. I am the Suffering Servant as well as the Mighty God, the Everlasting Father. You do not have to continue in your unhappy condition.

If we have not sinned, we have never been redeemed.

If we are righteous in our own goodness, these words are meaningless.

But by the grace of God we have been washed in the blood of the everlasting sacrifice and been cleansed of our iniquity, and clothed in Christ's own righteousness. We have been redeemed.

- C. I HAVE NAMED YOU. I have called you by name. Not only do I know your name— the details of your life— but I have given you a new name. [Remember Jacob and the wrestling scene at Jabbok, and how in the course of the night the angel (Theophany) said, "What is your name?" "Jacob!" "No! Your name is Israel!"

- D. YOU ARE MINE! God-owned! That sounds so limiting, so confining to the un-believing mind, I suppose. But to my mind it is the most satisfying thing I can think of, to have the great God of heaven and earth unashamed to call ME His own!

I have seen children who were ashamed of their parents because they were out of style. I have seen parents ashamed of their children— and sometimes I may have wanted to pretend my children belonged to someone else (not really!!) But to have God say "You belong to me!" gives me great security. I would think twice before messing around with Almighty God's property!

II. GOD SAYS WHAT HIS PEOPLE ARE TO HIM

- A. A covenant is not "one-way;" it is in some way "reciprocal"

God has said, "I AM your God!" And in that statement are all the wonderful things God has done for us. But God is also saying, "You are mine!" The covenant is not just one sided, with nothing for us to be and do. God makes it plain; His statement is simple, it is repeated, it is clear:

YOU ARE MY WITNESSES!

"These are to be the conditions of our covenant relationship: I AM YOUR GOD! YOU ARE MY WITNESSES!"

- B. Witnessing involves: Talking about God! But this involves more than "speculation!" Everyone, it seems is an "expert" on God; God wouldn't do this; God isn't like that—

What is involved in our covenant? We are to be witnesses to what? To the fact that I AM God! And that the I AM God is the center of our lives! This acknowledgment of God in every facet of our lives sums up our duties as God's people, His servants, His witnesses.

- C. To WHOM do we talk about God?

1. We talk about God to God Himself! We tell GOD what He is to us! That is WORSHIP!
2. We talk about God to our selves! (Psalm 103) We tell ourselves what God IS to us: that is HUMILITY!
3. We talk about God to each other! We tell each other what God is: that is FELLOWSHIP IN WORSHIP! (The importance of what we used to call "testimony time.")
4. We tell everyone who will listen who God is TO US! We tell everyone who will listen who God is and that becomes EVANGELISM.

What do we tell them? (1) What we know for certain! (2) "God is GOOD!" And God has said He inhabits such God-talk! If God is in our God-talk He says (in this Isaiah passage:)

"I will bring your family together from the north and the south and from the east and from the west."

CONCLUSION

A résumé of the year is in your hands. God has helped us this year. Pastor Nielson has worked with ad hoc committees this year who have helped develop a ministry that is solid for our people from birth through teens; Mike Schutz has developed the College Sunday School class and has worked with Chaplain Mark Sanford in that area; I have mentioned some exciting things in the younger adults ministries in my report. It remains for us this year to continue to seek to develop opportunities for adult ministry and growth.

I asked church leaders, staff and board members and others, to share their best dreams for our church in a sentence or two. What I received could be summed up, for the most part, in a desire that every individual who worships here might be folded into a caring, sharing group— for prayer, Bible study, encouragement; and that every individual who worships here might be encouraged to discover, develop, and use gifts of the Spirit in service to God.

Last year ... "no vision"

Haddon W. Robinson, distinguished professor of preaching at Gordon Divinity quotes the 19th century poet/essayist John Ruskin as saying:

The greatest thing a human ever does in the world is to see something and tell others what he saw in a plain way. Hundreds can talk for one who can think, but thousands can think for one who can see. To see clearly and tell others is poetry, prophecy, and religion all in one."

If that is anywhere near true, then the greatest thing we can do as individuals, and more importantly for this message today, the greatest thing we can possibly do as a church is to learn to see God and to talk about Him in a plain way to each other in encouragement, and to anyone who will listen in the sacrifice of praise, which really is the whole end and purpose of our being as a church— and encompasses all the tasks of worship, evangelism, education, service and fellowship as well.

We Are His People

THE SHEEP OF HIS PASTURE

May 2, 1993

John 10:1-10 - I Peter 2:19-25 - Nehemiah 9:6-15

The prayer from the book of Nehemiah, which we used for a call to worship today, is a powerful statement all by itself. But when we know the story of where it was prayed, and why, and by whom, it takes on an even deeper significance.

I. THE PRAYER AT THE SQUARE BEFORE THE WATER GATE

A. Context of the Prayer

When this prayer was first prayed, there were thousands of people, all the Jewish inhabitants of the Holy Land, standing in the open square which stood just inside the Water Gate to the City of Jerusalem.

Ezra the priest and scribe, and Zerubbabel the governor, in the years just before had rebuilt the temple, but the walls remained down, and the people had been at the mercy of very unfriendly neighbors.

But now Nehemiah has led them in rebuilding the wall around the Holy City. It is a miracle! And now they have been called together to worship.

For this gathering a high platform had been built. From early morning light until noon for one entire week the people stood, attentive, as the Word of God was read in their hearing.

And Ezra opened the book in the sight of all the people for he was standing above all the people; and when he opened it, all the people stood up. Then Ezra blessed the LORD the great God. And all the people answered "Amen, Amen!" while lifting up their hands; then they bowed low and worshiped the LORD with their faces to the ground. ... And they read from the book, from the law of God, translating to give the sense so that they understood the reading. (8:6 - 8) The people wept when they heard the law. Ezra said, "This day is holy to the LORD your God, do not mourn nor weep." Then he said, Go, eat of the fat, and drink of the sweet, and send portions to him who has nothing prepared; for this day is holy to our LORD. Do not be grieved, for the joy of the LORD is your strength." (8:9,10)

And after the seven days of reading of the word the people went home. But they returned three weeks later with the express purpose of renewing their covenant with God. This is the context of this prayer, a part of which was our call to worship this morning.

B. Content of the Prayer

1. This is a wonderful prayer. It is strikingly like our lesson from last Sunday morning, from Isaiah 43, for it recognizes God as
 - a. Great/Almighty
 - b. Creator of heaven and earth
 - c. The One who CHOOSES His people— He chose Abram;
 - d. The One who NAMES His people: changes their character (He changed Abram to Abraham!
 - e. The Redeeming God, who brought His people OUT (Exodus)
 - f. A Shepherding God— who led His people by a pillar of cloud/ a pillar of FIRE!
2. This prayer recognized God's willingness to lead His people:
 - a. The pillar of fire in the past, but also
 - b. The very walls that surrounded them were evidence of God's leading to the very present!

Nehemiah's "Miracle"

At a seemingly trivial moment Nehemiah's "opportunity" came.

(This is where we usually begin his story.) He was serving Ataxerxes, the most powerful king in the world, and the king simply mentioned that his face was downcast and sad. Nehemiah prayed a split-second prayer for guidance (2:4,5) "So I prayed to the God of heaven, and I said to the king:

"Send me to Jerusalem to rebuild the city of my fathers." It is important to see that this split-second prayer had been preceded by earnest and sincere intercession for genuine revival.

The king granted Nehemiah all he asked, because (2:8) "The good hand of my God was upon me."

Nehemiah went immediately to Jerusalem with authority from the king. With great wisdom from God Nehemiah faced ridicule, and anger and hatred and contempt and evil conspiracy and treachery and discouragement from 'friends.'

He rebuked profit at the expense of love and friendship, and he denounced greed... and he persisted and the wall was completed.

- C. SO NOW THE PEOPLE WERE GATHERED TOGETHER, THEY STOOD THERE AT THE WATERGATE BETWEEN THE MIRACLE OF GOD'S LEADING IN THE PAST — AND DECIDING IF THEY WOULD PUT GOD FIRST FOR THEMSELVES AND THEIR CHILDREN!

II. THE DISCLOSURE OF THE GATE OF LIFE

- A. It seems quite a leap from the prayer in Nehemiah, recalling God's leading in the ancient past, to the words of Jesus to His disciples, and to us:

I AM the way to God! I AM the door for the sheep of God's pasture! I AM the Good Shepherd!"

The common thread in these passages is God's leading— His willingness to guide us.

The people who heard Jesus say these words: "I am the DOOR! I AM the Good Shepherd!" knew those same stories of the Exodus, and they believed them. They also had seen Jesus at work, and had come to know His spirit, and His Presence among them.

Now Jesus was saying to them:

"God still wants to lead people! He wants to lead YOU! And I AM the way God leads! I AM the doorway into life! I AM the Good Shepherd!"

- B. The comfort and the provision and the love of the Shepherd are directly connected with the willingness of the God's people to follow the Good Shepherd. The Psalmist says, "We are His people, and the sheep of His pasture! Enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise! Be thankful unto Him and bless His name! For the Lord is GOOD! (from Psalm 100)

Don't make any mistake— there were decisions being made that day as Jesus spoke!

And every time these words really "come alive" decisions are made!

III. DECISION TIME AT THE GATE OF LIFE

- A. The people who stood near the Water Gate responded to the Word! They literally signed a renewed covenant that they would be God's people! That day they changed the way they were living to agree with God's revealed will to them:
1. They sought to put God at the center of their lives, by seeking to DO God's will. This is symbolized particularly in the matter of how they observed the Sabbath. They had been conducting business on the Lord's Day. Nehemiah shut the gates of the city at sundown on Friday evening. The caravans simply had to wait until Shabbat was over.

2. How do we translate this to our specific, present situation?

We simply ask ourselves this question: Who is really on the throne of our everyday living? Comfort? Ease? He that seeks to save his life will lose it, the Master has said!

3. These people also sought to put God at the center of their lives by refusing to serve idols. Serving God is not all "positive thinking!" There are times when we need to declare war on evil! It is not enough to do good things, and give good testimonies. This turning away from evil was represented by the people rejecting compromising relationships. They quit trying to worship both God and the gods of their neighboring cultures. They put away pagan partners who refused to worship Jehovah God.

4. Once again, how do we translate this to where we live just now?

- B. We are afraid to take a stand against anything for fear of offending! "Pluralism" and "tolerance" have become such shibboleths for virtue in our society that we have almost come to believe that Christians are their own Masters, that we do not have a LORD!

No question about it— we must renounce all sin in our lives! We cannot simply "add Jesus" to the life we choose to live! The idea that we can be Christian, God's children, and live exactly as we please, without regard to God's will, is abomination, and God cannot bless it!

There was a time when Nazarenes were almost "plain people;" they had rules and regulations that probably were, in many cases, a little bit of scripture and a lot of human scruples.

But it seems so much that we have swung way over through freedom, and I wonder if we have taught our young people and children to have no fear at all of displeasing God!

We now have people who claim to be serious about their relationship with God who are impure in their sexual lives; people who talk about loving Jesus, and yet who buy and sell and copy schoolwork that is supposed to be their own; people who are Christian who can pad accounts and steal from employers.

Nehemiah and Ezra called for a reform based on the revealed will of God! Not only these people, but their children's lives, hung in the balance of how they would respond!

Conclusion

Our generation stands between a past of grace— unmistakably God has brought us to this hour— and a future of choice!

God stands ready to lead us!

The Gate of LIFE stands open before us!

The Shepherd of our souls is ready to guide us with His rod and His staff.

But we must decide whom we shall worship— and whom we shall obey!

Prayer O Great God Who formed us And redeemed us And who has called us by name and said, "You are mine!" We truly want to belong to You! We want You to lead us! Help us to be like You! In Jesus' Name. Amen

Hymn #161 Children of the Heavenly Father

When Your Children Ask You Questions

May 9, 1993

John 14

Deuteronomy 6:20

1 Peter 2:1-10

Introduction

One of the great joys of being a mother or a father is trying to learn how to answer questions. Questions start early, even before children can talk. Then we hear: "Do I have to go to bed now?" and "Are we almost there yet?"

The questions get more complicated later: "Can I stay over at the Wilson's house tonight?" "Can we go hang out at the mall?"

And then even more complicated even later: "Can I have the car this evening?"

Sometimes these questions are amazingly profound. My son John once asked, "If Sam Miller went to heaven, how come you stopped at the funeral home to see him?" Sometimes the questions seem to miss the point altogether. At my first attempt to "explain" something to a VBS class, a little girl raised her hand; I thought, "Here comes proof of the enlightenment!" Her problem: "I'm stuck in this seat!"

[Transition: Our scripture lessons for this morning deal with answering questions. Moses told the second generation Exodus nation that their children were going to be asking questions about their faith. And in John 14, Jesus' final, vital, very important talk with his disciples was interrupted at least three times with questions:]

I. JESUS' FINAL DISCOURSE INTERRUPTED WITH THREE QUESTIONS

A. This last discourse of Jesus is a message of wonderful assurance;

"Let not your hearts be troubled; believe in God, believe in Me ... I am going to prepare a place for you, and if I go I will come again and receive you unto Myself that where I am there you may be also; and, furthermore, I am sending the Comforter to be with you so you will never be alone."

- B. The message was not un-appreciated; it was simply not fully comprehended. It was interrupted with at least these three questions:
 - 1. How can we know the way to life? (Thomas)
 - 2. How can we ever find out what God is like? (Philip)
 - 3. Why are we the favored ones? How come the Holy Spirit comes only to us, and not to the entire world? (Judas the Less)
- C. I'm deeply thankful for the Last Discourse. But I am grateful for the questions, too. And these three questions, in one form or other, are those we have asked our parents, and questions our children ask theirs!

II. JESUS' ANSWERS ARE A 'PRIMER' FOR CHRISTIAN PARENTS

- A. A. Each generation of Christians needs to know, deserves to know the answers to these vital questions: HOW TO FIND THE WAY TO LIFE! and WHAT IS GOD LIKE? and JUST WHO ARE WE, ANYWAY, THAT WE THINK WE HAVE A CORNER ON TRUTH?
- B. B. There are really TWO ways that Jesus answered these questions— or, if we look a different way, THREE:
 - 1. 1. BY THE FORCE OF HIS CHARACTER
We may learn from the example of Jesus when He was interrupted with question or disagreement: He was not bothered or turned aside by these questions at all; Jesus took the time to address them as they came; some with mild rebuke, some with assurance, all with love unmistakable.
 - 2. 2. BY THE SIMPLE TRUTH OF HIS WORDS (REVELATION)
We can pay particular attention to the answers Jesus gave to these specific questions: (and also)

3. 3. BY THE ASSURANCE OF HIS PRESENCE. Jesus stayed with His disciples; and gave them promise that He would always be there for them.

C. C. Look just now at Jesus' answers:

1. Question 1. How may we know the way to life?

Jesus answered this with

- integrity. Jesus reminded Thomas that he already knew the way! What could this mean? Thomas was saying, "I don't know the way!" But when we seek the Lord all the days of our lives, and walk with Him in honesty, we share that integrity with those we love. When we play games with what we know to be right, how can we expect our children to come to believe in God, or to find "the way"?

Jesus also (had) answered this question directly,

- with words, with a lesson. Doctrine IS important! In this pluralistic society, not all sincere faith is true faith! Jesus said, " I AM THE WAY... NO ONE COMES TO GOD EXCEPT BY ME!"

Jesus answered this question, also, a third way:

- Jesus was PRESENT to His disciples. I AM with you! I will NOT leave you! Stay in Jerusalem until I send the Spirit—the Spirit will actually make the Father and the Son "at home" in you!

We need this "presence" to answer the questions of life our children will ask!

2. Question 2. The second, profound question, was asked by Philip: How can we see the Father God? "Show us the Father and it will be all right!"

Once again the first answer was

- You see God when you look at Me! Jesus is the Word, the Incarnate God. God is revealed to all mankind in Him. No one else can say in the same way: "Look at me and see God!"

Jesus was God in Word, God in Deed, God in Spirit. "He that has seen ME has seen the Father!"

- Whether we like it or not, our children will get their first ideas of God from their parents! None of us can reflect God's glory as we might like. But if we know Him, it will show!

Some people have had bad experiences here; we can and must go beyond the vision of God our parents show to us. [Was it Martin Luther who had a hard time praying the Lord's Prayer ("Our Father...)??]

- We can, and we must point them to Jesus! HE reveals God! Even our little children can learn to pray, can learn to love God! God is GOOD!

III. THE PRIVILEGE AND RESPONSIBILITY OF KNOWING FATHER GOD

- A. The third question that interrupted Jesus in that discourse seems somehow of a different kind. Judas (not Iscariot— Judas the Less) asked it:

Question 3. Are we a privileged people? How come you will reveal these things to us, and not to the world?

Did you ever think that thought? I have— unprompted, when I was just a schoolboy, long before I studied philosophy or theology. "How come we think we have a corner on what is right?"

- B. What was Jesus' answer?

1. There IS an exclusive element in following Jesus: "No one comes to the Father except by Me!"

I didn't say that. Jesus did! But Jesus did NOT come to EXCLUDE anyone from God's Light and Presence! The Gospel says that Jesus is the light that shines in the world giving salvation's hope to every person!

2. The very reason that Jesus came was so that everyone who will may find life! The reason, then, that Jesus reveals God to His disciples is so that they can continue to tell people who God is— to carry on His work of love:

"As the Father has sent Me, so I am sending YOU!"

- C. This concept goes back to the reason God ever called out the nation of Israel. In Abraham "all nations of the earth will be blessed" was the promise. And in our lesson this morning Moses was reminding the people: "When your children ask you "Why these commandments..." "What good are God's laws??" remind them that God formed us, God called us into existence— that we exist for God!

Conclusion

This is what Peter is saying as he answers this third question: "Are we something special? Are we the holders of truth?"

Whether or not we are fathers or mothers with children at home, we share in this wonderful privilege of faith. Peter says: "By God's grace we are something special!" Listen to what Peter has written:

"But you are a chosen people, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people belonging to God IN ORDER THAT YOU MAY DECLARE THE PRAISES OF HIM WHO CALLED YOU OUT OF DARKNESS INTO HIS WONDERFUL LIGHT." (I Peter 2:9,10)

Only God's grace can help us answer the vital questions our children ask us. God can help us know our true identity in Jesus Christ, that God has chosen us, and called us not so much to know the answers in detail as to live them.

Turn with me in your hymnal to #530. Read in unison with me the first nine verses (ending with the words "marvelous light".)

[here read the passage]

When Your Children Ask You Questions

God's call is an inclusive one, and we are to be a part in His plan to bring the world to Him— beginning with our own daughters and sons.

Prayer

Hymn # 338 Lord, Speak to Me, That I May Speak

I AM The Vine

May 16, 1993

John 15: 1-14

I AM the true vine, and My Father is the vinedresser. Every branch in Me that does not bear fruit, He takes away; and every branch that bears fruit, He prunes (cleanses) it, that it may bear more fruit. You are already clean because of the word which I have spoken to you. Abide in Me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, unless it abides in the vine, so neither can you, unless you abide in Me. I AM the vine, you are the branches; he who abides in Me, And I in him, he bears much fruit; for apart from Me you can do nothing. If anyone does not abide in Me, he is thrown away as a branch, and dries up; and they gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned. If you abide in Me, and my words abide in you, ask whatever you wish, and it shall be done for you. By this is My Father glorified, that you bear much fruit, and so prove to be my disciples. Just as the Father has loved Me, I have also loved you; abide in My love. If you keep My commandments, you will abide in My love; just as I have kept My Father's commandments, and abide in His love. These things have I spoken to you, that My joy may be in you, and that your joy may be made full. This is My commandment, that you love one another, just as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that one lay down his life for his friends. You are My friends, if you do what I command you.

Some scripture passages are so simple and yet so deep that they become veritable fountains of life throughout all our spiritual journey. One such passage is the 15th of John, the "True Vine" passage.

How do I keep from 'jumping on my homiletical horse and riding off in all directions?' I want to be exceedingly simple:

I. JESUS CAME TO LIVE WITH US

- A. The essence of the Gospel story is, first, that Jesus came. Jesus was God made flesh, living among us. He only lived here 33 years. He was the eternal Son of God. But he became flesh.

John 1:14 says "The word was made flesh and dwelt among us." We beheld His glory, full of grace and truth. Jesus still identifies with us.

- B. There has been a commitment on God's part. The eternal love of God has been expressed.

1. Jesus came as God's SACRAMENTAL MIRACLE: (A sacrament is a visible sign that reveals spiritual truth)
 - a. Jesus reveals to us the invisible God; through Him we come to know God.
 - b. Jesus also shows us what humanity is supposed to be. The image of God in which we were created, marred in the separation of sin, is revealed to us in Jesus Christ of Nazareth.

2. JESUS FOREVER IDENTIFIES WITH YOU AND ME

- a. The word does not say, "He was flesh" (fruit) which would say that for a while Jesus was flesh as He dwelt among us, but now He has discarded that aspect of His being. No, the word is "He was made flesh" (factus est).

Hebrews 2:16 says: "(Jesus) took on Him (or assumed) the true human nature."

- b. All the creeds tell us that Jesus Christ is very God, very man.
- c. This permanent identification speaks to us of the NATURE OF FAITH. First of all, the faith God has in His Son to make us like Himself. It says that there is AN ABIDING QUALITY in faith! God came to LIVE with us!

[But the Gospel story is not just a "One-Way Street:"]

II. JESUS CAME SO THAT WE COULD COME TO LIVE WITH HIM

A. Right Here, Right Now

We think of this "Coming to live with God" as at some distant time in the future. [And I'm sure "then" will be wonderful.] But Jesus taught that eternal life, God's quality of life, begins when we receive HIM!

Just as He took our flesh, Jesus has made provision for us to receive His divine life, not in the distant future, after we die, but right here in this difficult, imperfect world of NOW!

Just as God came to live with us, God expects us to live with Him!

1. There is to be a permanence about the relationship we have with God. "Abide" "Remain!" "Be 'at home' in Me!"

Life in Christ must be much more than a moment of decision. No conversion, in and of itself, can make Jesus a life-long friend.

2. Friendships are the work of a lifetime! Real, genuine friendships grow. Loyalty are the soil in which they grow. Everything of lasting importance comes from this "abiding relationship!"

B. Jesus Tells Us 'How'

Jesus sums up the things that make for this mutual sharing of life:

1. Dependence on God. This opposes what the popular philosophies of life say: "Do YOUR OWN thing!"

But Jesus says, "Without ME you can do NOTHING!"

You cannot find a place in life that will really count for time and for eternity! You cannot make your marriage what it really ought to be! You cannot successfully rear your children! You cannot live and cannot die with confidence!

2. Fellowship in LOVE.

3. Prayer that is in Jesus' name:
 - a. the discipline of prayer (Matthew 7:7 "Ask and keep on asking!")
 - b. the focus of prayer (unlimited power/limited scope) (John 15:7 "Whatever you ask - IN MY NAME!")
 - c. the result of prayer - fruit
4. The Presence of God in our lives! The Comforter!

III. THE WORLD WILL SEE JESUS AS WE ABIDE IN HIM

[Our entire lives become "sacramental:"]

- A. Just as Jesus makes God "real" to us, we are to make God real to each other and to the world! (What does it mean, "sacramental living?")
 1. We know the two sacraments of the church: baptism/water; Eucharist/wine bread— and the different "sacramental religious things"— preaching, gathering together in God's house; obedience revealing God's sovereignty...
 2. But ABIDING — living together in Christ— potentially makes ALL our lives sacramental! If we abide in Christ as branches in the True Vine, then His life reaches into all aspects of our living.
- B. Sacramental living is LOVING as Christ loves:
 1. No transforming relationship can be "cold" and "objective". People are NOT "objects." We cannot "zap them with the gospel" and then leave. Like Jesus, we must commit to BEING a message, not just 'SAYING' A MESSAGE, and staying with the people God to whom sends us. The message is always LOVE! Not some sort of goofy-dust magic we sprinkle and then run back to our ghetto.
 2. Our "much fruit" may never be recognized as "great" except by God. But God knows! Mordecai Hamm won Billy Graham; one farmer and his wife sponsored a revival that won Roy T. Williams; Jim Fox discipled a teenager in his church in New Philadelphia, Ohio, named Randy Davies.

It may be that you will do something spectacular; chances are you may not— but what you do, if you abide in the True Vine, will have eternal significance.

3. You will save your loved ones!

And nothing you ever do will be more important than your faithful witness to the ones nearest and dearest to you. If you go out and become world-famous, and have thousands in your cathedral of the day after tomorrow, and you lose your loved ones, you are a loser!

Conclusion:

The most wonderful thing about this is that the burden of growth and fruit and success are not on us!

THIS WHOLE WONDERFUL THING IS GOD'S IDEA! (15:16)

YOU have not chosen ME— this is NOT YOUR "TEAM"

I AM ! I have chosen YOU

We have a God of loving-kindness. A God of tender mercy. A God whose joy is making His children happy. He doesn't make us happy by giving us what we think we need.

[Exhortation:] — When we make our life's highest goal "being happy" we are certain never to arrive. But when we understand the love of God, to that extent we have already arrived, even though we never arrive! The joy is in the journey!

Jesus Christ by His Spirit living in you and me, and people just like us in every race, tribe and nation, is the only hope of this world!

We must take Jesus into the work-place. We are training our young people to be "successes;" but are we defining "success" as Jesus does?

Jesus must have access to every part of our home life: Here is where the battle will be won or lost for our children!

The marriage relationship reflects the love of Christ and His church. The parent-child relationship reflects the relationship of God to His children. The brother-sister relationship reflects the fellowship of the Trinity.

—

I AM The Vine

Multiplied over and over again, the life of Jesus in His church is more powerful than any other force on earth!

We are not responsible to change the entire world all by ourselves. To make God visible in this world is too big an assignment for us alone; but we can begin by inviting Christ into our lives, and then by letting God's love be seen in the relationships where we are.

Prayer

#84 (EH)

*Let the beauty of Jesus be seen in me;
All His wonderful passion and purity.
Oh, Thou Spirit divine,
All my nature refine,
Till the beauty of Jesus be seen in me.*

The Session of Jesus

May 23, 1993

Ascension Sunday

Wollaston Church of the Nazarene

John 17:1-11

Acts 1: Ye shall receive power ...

Hebrews 12: 2,3

Introduction

[We are just one week away from "the Third Great Day" in the church's yearly calendar— the Day of Pentecost. Pentecost is a day the secular world has not (yet) learned how to commercialize. And as a result, much of the worshipping church almost ignores it. After all, we follow the culture much, much more than we want to admit. So if Hallmark doesn't know what to do about celebrating the birthday of the church, well, then— neither do we!]

[What difference does it make whether or not Jesus actually, literally, bodily rose again from the dead? What difference does it make that Jesus literally, actually, in His glorified BODY ascended into heaven, there to sit at the right hand of God the Father? When I am under pressure, misunderstood, what difference does it make WHERE Jesus is?]

If we could get use of a Star Trek time warp and by some miracle take the place of that first little group of believers in the year that Jesus died and rose again if we could be that group that actually experienced the first outpouring of the Holy Spirit which was the baptism and the birth of the church, the body of Christ... .. we would just now be three days into an historic prayer meeting.

I. JESUS ASCENDED INTO HEAVEN

THE ASCENSION SEEN FROM BELOW AND FROM ABOVE

A. How WE saw it ...

"Just last Thursday we were on the mountain that rises east of Jerusalem, walking and talking with the risen Lord. We were getting used to the idea that He really has conquered death, and that He is Lord of Lords.

"But then this most awesome thing happened. Jesus had told us He was going to leave, and yet that He was not going to abandon us. There were angels there to explain it, but we still were pretty much amazed. For last Thursday there was a departure. Jesus said that we were to come back here to the Upper Room and wait, and pray, and that we would understand, would receive power to carry out His mission. Then while He was speaking He simply lifted off from the ground and a cloud of glory received Him and He was gone, out of sight.

"This would have devastated us a few weeks ago. But we have learned a little about trusting Him; we are here in this place in obedience to His command."

B. How HEAVEN may have seen it ...

Even if we had been part of that church-in-the-making there in the Upper Room, we could not have understood what was going on at the "other end of that Ascension Day journey" Jesus took that day.

We make a great deal of the coming of the son of God to this world as a Baby, and rightly so. Our imaginations have taken us to Bethlehem year after year. But we don't quite know how to deal with the return of the Son of God to his throne, to the glory he had before the worlds began.

This was a direct answer to the great High Priestly Prayer of John 17. Before Jesus prayed for the disciples or for us in that great prayer, He prayed that night for Himself. He said,

I have finished the work You sent me to do— now, O Father, GLORIFY ME WITH THE GLORY I HAD WITH YOU BEFORE THE WORLD WAS!

We need more poems like Christopher Wordsworth (1807-85)'s hymn;

*See the conqueror mounts in triumph,
See the King in royal state,
Riding on the clouds his chariot
To His heavenly palace gate!*

*Hark! the choir of angel voices
Joyful alleluias sing,
And the portals high are lifted
To receive the heavenly King.*

*Who is this that comes in glory
With the trump of jubilee?
Lord of battles, God of armies,
He has gained the victory*

*He who on the cross did suffer
He who from the grave arose
He has vanquished sin and Satan,
He by death has spoiled his foes.*

*Thou hast raised our human nature
On the clouds to thy right hand
There we sit in heavenly places
There with Thee in glory stand;*

*Jesus reigns, adored by angels;
Man with God is on the throne;
Mighty Lord, in thine Ascension
We by faith behold our own.*

*Glory be to God the Father;
Glory be to God the Son,
Dying, risen, ascending for us,
Who the heavenly realm has won;*

*Glory to the Holy spirit;
To One God, in Persons Three;
Glory both in earth and heaven,
Glory, endless glory, be.*

It is marvelous to catch glimpse of the joy in heaven that the Eternal Word has returned in Triumph.

II. JESUS IS SEATED AT THE RIGHT HAND OF GOD THE FATHER

THE SAVIOR AT THE THRONE OF GRACE

It is even more wonderful from our selfish perspective to realize what Jesus is doing there at the Throne.

1. Jesus is praying for YOU.
2. Jesus is sending His Spirit, by His Spirit He is Present with us
3. Jesus is "preparing a place" for His people. He came to earth to share our human frailty in order that through eternity we might share His eternal fellowship. Listen to the theology in that Christopher Wordsworth hymn again:

*Thou hast raised our human nature —
On the clouds to thy right hand —
There we sit in heavenly places —
There with Thee in glory stand; —

Jesus reigns, adored by angels; —
Man with God is on the throne; —
Mighty Lord, in thine Ascension —
We by faith behold our own.*

III. JESUS CONNECTS WITH YOU AND ME, WHERE WE ARE NOW!

OUR SOURCE OF HOPE AND JOY

- A. IF WE BELIEVE THIS, THEN WE CAN LIVE WITH PERSPECTIVE: It helps in life if we can look above the problems and burdens of the day and know where we are headed.

In the recent book The Seven Habits of Highly Effective People, author Steven Covey says:

"I value my children. I love them, I want to help them. I value my role as their father. But I don't always see those values. I get caught up in the "thick of thin things." What matters most gets buried under layers of pressing problems, immediate concerns, and outward behaviors. I become reactive. And the way I interact with my children every day often bears little resemblance to the way I deeply feel about them. (105)

Jesus, at the throne of grace, watching us, caring for us, praying for us helps us keep perspective on our goals, where we are headed. Even when we cannot see, we can trust that He can— and that he will "lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil."

B. IF WE BELIEVE THIS, WE WILL SURVIVE LIFE'S BATTLES:

Look again at the familiar opening words of Hebrews 12, especially as they apply to the Ascension:

Therefore, since we have so great a cloud of witnesses surrounding us, let us also lay aside every encumbrance, and the sin which so easily entangles us, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us, FIXING OUR EYES ON JESUS THE AUTHOR AND PERFECTER OF FAITH, WHO FOR THE JOY SET BEFORE HIM ENDURED THE CROSS, DESPISING THE SHAME AND HAS SAT DOWN AT THE RIGHT HAND OF THE THRONE OF GOD. For consider Him who has endured such hostility by sinners against Himself, so that you may not grow weary and lose heart.

When the little kids in my house are insufferable, or when the boss that controls my paycheck (if not my career) is impossible to understand and unfair or when the other people in my school act as if I did not even exist....these may not be classic martyr-type cases of suffering. But they are suffering! They do represent pain! And when we experience pain and suffering and struggle, Jesus is THERE for us!

Suffering is the overlooked thread that runs through the scriptures. No one enjoys even thinking about the hard times, the opposition, the pain and the struggle.

The Ascension says several things to those of us who believe in the Christ when we come to the times of suffering and struggle. Jesus showed us how. He endured! Jesus cares, He prays for us NOW. Jesus assures us that suffering is temporary, but victory is permanent. [Finally,] (Conclusion)

C. IF WE BELIEVE THIS WE WILL DO AS THAT EARLY CHURCH DID:

We know we cannot find that time-machine and change places with the disciples in the pre-Pentecost prayer meeting. But we can and we will obey the Lord's same commands:

1. We can... and we will pray for the fullness of the Holy Spirit! Have YOU made that full and complete surrender to the will of God for your life? Have you asked and received the fullness of the Spirit?
2. We can... and we will do our best to let this world know that Jesus is alive. Even when we suffer, we will be faithful!

Peter says (in our epistle lesson); "Don't think it is strange when things are tough! That is the way life is! As a matter of fact, things are sometimes tougher for Christians!"

3. We can... and we will live with Christ's RETURN in mind!

The angels said, This same Jesus shall so come in like manner as ye have seen Him go into heaven! and Jesus Himself said, If I go I will come again and receive you unto myself, that where I am there ye may be also! So, if we are faithful in our pilgrimage there is an Ascension Day waiting for us, as well!

Prayer

Hymn Spirit of God, Descend Upon My Heart

A Door Standing Open

Trinity Sunday

June 6, 1993

Revelation 4:1

John speaks here of 'a door standing open in heaven.' John's own vision, his writing that we call The Revelation is for us just such a door into the reality that lies beyond our limited vision.

I. THE REALITY THAT IS OUR GOD

- A. The reality of God is reflected in all the human race. We human beings are made in the image of God, made to know and love and worship Him. That image has been marred, we believe; splintered, broken, but is still discernable, reflecting the spiritual reality that is God.

By far the overwhelming majority of people on the face of the earth have some kind of belief in deity, reflecting that craving we have for God. Some few people have a god that is "no god." We call them "atheists" because their faith system says there is no faith system. But most people are more deeply concerned than they themselves realize with coming to know just who or what God really IS.

- B. If God is truly God He must reveal Himself; He cannot be 'defined'. God's "definition", so far as we are concerned, begins and ends with revelation. That revelation is all of one piece; God does not contradict Himself. If we, unaided, could "figure out what God is" then we would in some measure have to be 'equal with' Him. The Bible tells us this when it says, "No one has seen God at any time."

We do not dare to presume to define God. Only God can do that.

CHRISTIANS BELIEVE THAT THE ALMIGHTY GOD WHO HAS REVEALED HIMSELF, first as the I AM THAT I AM, the loving and kind YHWH, proclaimed through prophets in sundry times and diverse manners, HAS IN THESE LATTER DAYS SPOKEN THROUGH HIS ONLY BEGOTTEN SON, JESUS CHRIST.

- C. GOD IS WHO HE IS, regardless of what we or any person may declare Him to be. Modern culture strongly resists the idea that there is any definitive, objective revelation of God.

We are told often and in many ways that "religion is a private matter." When the secular culture dares, it denies God altogether. But the usual approach is to say that religion is valuable to each individual; that God is whatever and whomever each person thinks He or She may be. If God is no more than the figment of each individual's imagination, then worship is no more or no less than calming our inner resources through the power of meditation, or tuning in to some imagined harmony of the planets and spheres. If, however, God IS GOD, and of God is a Rewarder of those who diligently seek Him, then worship in spirit and truth, worship that truly engages God, becomes the most important single thing that human beings can do.

II. A DOOR OPEN IN HEAVEN

- A. We look into the MYSTERY that is God .

I like mystery! It leads my imagination to wonder. I am glad that when I was a small boy I read about castles and dragons and Aladdin's lamp. Children love mysteries. But what does that have to do with God?

Fundamentalists do not like mysteries. They need to have everything explained! And there ARE some things that need to be made as plain as possible. Reformers and evangelists through the years have sought to cut through sham and lies and vagueness to make the way of salvation crystal clear. Thank God for simple, understandable truth on how we may be saved. But sometimes evangelicals can fall into the trap of extending that simplicity into an explanation of the entire sphere of God's kingdom. Not content to be introduced and admitted into the fellowship of God, we feel that we have to explain what we cannot ever possibly fully comprehend.

John introduces us to MYSTERY! He sees things in heaven that are so very wonderful, so very true and holy and beautiful, that he cannot possibly begin to understand them. Words cannot describe the deepest realities of the human spirit, let alone the glory of our great God. Children's mystery stories pale as we see an emerald halo encircling the great throne, and thrones surrounding the glory where God sits enthroned and read of strange creatures and dragons and battles in the heavens. GOD, OUR FATHER AND FRIEND, DWELLS IN AWESOME MYSTERY!

B. We peer into the MAJESTY of God's Presence.

John describes a Throne which he saw through the open door into heaven. Throne denotes authority; this is no earthly, limited monarchy. This is the Throne of the Universe. Surrounding the throne of God are several wonderful concentric circles of wonder. The first thing John describes is the encircling rainbow. Not now an arc, or partial circle, with a will'o'wisp pot of gold forever promising something sometime somewhere, but the glory of light in all its radiance completely encircling the Great White Throne.

I have to leave it to those who are gifted both in science, higher mathematics, physics and the like to fully appreciate all that such glory of light might mean. The first commandment was "Let there be light!" Our scriptures tell us that God IS light, and in Him is no darkness at all. Jesus told us that He is the light of the world, and that we, reflecting that light, are to be the light of the world. But here, at the heart of all Holiness, is light in many-splendored glory encircling the I AM THAT I AM. Then John describes for us a circle of twenty-four thrones. Right there in God's holy Presence is that which suggests to us the faithful of all ages. The Patriarchs represent those who follow after God in the light before the Son was fully revealed; the Apostles represent the Church and all to whom the message of grace shall reach by the light of the rainbow of promise shining through the circles of the faithful.

The four living creatures are next described. It is impossible for us to say with certainty just how they are arranged. But they speak to us of the whole of divine creation, the fitness of good things, the harmony of truth, the rightness of giving to God the Creator the honor due His name. All of the Universe echoes with praise: THOU art worthy!

C. We see a glimpse of the MERCY that is God's love.

The praise for God's great Mystery and His Majesty takes on a different focus, one which even we can begin to understand as we continue reading John's vision through the open door into heaven on into the next brief chapter. For there the song "Worthy is the Creator!" becomes "Worthy is the LAMB!" Isn't it only appropriate and right that we, who have been invited to partake with God in His very life and in the fellowship of His saints should praise Him for the love that caused Him to give His only begotten Son that whosoever believes in Him should not perish? Doesn't it seem somehow right that heaven will be a place where we celebrate the Incarnation of the Son of God who brings about, finally, through the great plan of salvation, by His grace, through His blood, the Glorification of His Church? John gives us an insight into where our finite-ness, our humanity shall one day merge into God's great Infinity, and we shall live and reign with Jesus in the Presence of the Light that is God.

III. WHERE EARTH AND HEAVEN MEET

A. God has made, and does make contact with us.

God meets with us (1) IN THE HEART OF JESUS AT THE THRONE. And by His great grace, God also meets us (2) IN THE CALL TO SALVATION, WHEN WE ARE ENABLED TO RECEIVE THE LORD JESUS CHRIST AS SAVIOR. And then, when we are redeemed, God meets with us (3) IN THE MEANS OF GRACE... IN PRAYER...IN THE LIVING WORD OF GOD ... IN WORSHIP ... AND PARTICULARLY IN THE SACRAMENTS OF THE CHURCH.

B. The sacraments clarify and reveal spiritual truth to obedient hearts.

In their light we come to see more of who God is, and also we see who we are. 1. Communion cannot and does not forgive sin. The Christ who is the Host of communion can and does forgive sin. He gladly receives those who may acknowledge that they have gone astray. But to be forgiven, sin must be confessed. For sin to be forgiven we need to bring it to the Christ with a faith that not only says, "I'm sorry, please forgive me!" but also says without reservation, "Jesus is LORD!"

Sacraments can be observed with deceit. We can easily deceive others, and make them think we are humbly seeking to take part in the mysteries of faith when in fact we are covering known sin, or simply going through the motions with no desire for God's love. We can even deceive ourselves, and sweep real guilt and real sin under the rug of rationalization. But when we say "Lord, I am sorry for my sins; please be the Lord of all my life!" the grace of God is willing to meet us just there. It is a serious thing to partake of the body and blood of the Lord with an unrepentant, divided, selfish and deliberately sinful heart!

Those who arrested and brought our Savior to Pilate's hall were very much aware that the next day was Passover. They needed to be ceremonially clean. They would not be able to pray for their sins to be forgiven if they violated the ceremonial laws. So though they were desperately wicked and hateful, and though they lied against the Savior and sought His death, some people went to their Seder meal and ate with their families after they had delivered the Paschal Lamb to be killed on the cross of Calvary.

Certainly this is not to discourage anyone from coming to the Lord's table. It is to help us realize that the invitation to Communion is an invitation to share with God His very Presence and life.

Into the Sacrament itself:

Read (responsively) # 752 in Sing to the Lord

A Door Standing Open

Invitation: This is the LORD'S table; HE is the HOST! Wherever you are in your spiritual pilgrimage, you are welcome, if HE invites you. Only do not come irreverently!

Prayer: #750

The Sacrament of Baptism

June 6, 1993 pm

(see also 1/5/92 & 10/2/88p)

Baptismal service

Intro:

One of the difficult things for Protestants is fixing in their minds the relative importance of the sacraments of the church. Of all the means of grace, they are possibly understood the least.

I. THE IMPORTANCE OF THE SACRAMENTS AS MEANS OF GRACE

- A. Grace is unmerited favor of God; grace is that which bestows God's great LOVE on us; grace is God's attitude of forgiveness toward the sinner; grace is a quickening and strengthening of life within the soul.
- B. AND MEANS OF GRACE ARE the channels by which God bestows His LOVE on our hearts. I submit seven:
 - 1. WORD OF GOD; and with this I include the faithful the preaching of the Word, as well as reading in order to obey God's will.
 - 2. PRAYER IS PROBABLY THE PRIMARY MEANS OF GRACE; and prayer combines with power with the use of the Word.
 - 3. THE FELLOWSHIP OF GOD'S PEOPLE is a significant and powerful means of grace. God never intends for us to make our way to heaven independent of other individuals, or of other families, or even other groups of believers. God intends that we bear one another's burdens.
 - 4. CORPORATE WORSHIP, in the large groups or celebrations, in the smaller groups united around a lesson or a ministry (congregations,) as well as in the accountability groups of prayer and sharing (cells,) is a means of grace.
 - 5. PERSONAL WORSHIP may be the same as #2, prayer; but it involves the carrying forward of life in the spirit of 'the living sacrifice.'

6. The good old Nazarene theologian, H. Orton Wiley, lists THE SABBATH AS A MEANS OF GRACE! It was introduced at the time of man's creation, and belongs to mankind generally and perpetually.

I am convinced that there is great spiritual power waiting to be released in the lives of the people who can tap the resources of the Lord's Day by observing it joyfully, not in bondage, but in rest and worship and refreshing.

7. But the last 'means of grace' I would mention are THE SACRAMENTS OF THE CHURCH THAT WERE INSTITUTED BY JESUS.

We use the term 'sacrament' to signify an outward and visible sign of an inward and spiritual grace given to us, ordained by Christ Himself as a means of receiving that grace, and as a pledge or assurance of Christ's promise. From the earliest times, the sacraments have been understood by the church to be religious rites that carry the most solemn obligation of loyalty to Jesus Christ and His Church.

All Protestant churches recognize two sacraments: baptism and the Lord's Supper.

C. SACRAMENTS ARE PLEDGES OF LOYALTY TO JESUS CHRIST; THEY ARE TESTIMONIES THAT MARK CHRISTIANS AS SEPARATE, DIFFERENT FROM THOSE WHO DO NOT BELIEVE.

1. The sacraments are for all Christians: John Wesley once said: (in 1736)

"I think the rock on which I had the nearest made shipwreck of the faith was the writings of the Mystics; under which term I comprehend all, and only those, who slight any of the means of grace." GFH, p541

2. In other words, Wesley said that even people who seem to be so very, very spiritual nearly led him astray when they picked out which means of grace they would adopt, and which they would avoid.

3. Wesley was saying 'I want to be faithful to God through Christ's church!' And if you wonder what John Wesley thought the 'true church' consisted of, here is a quote from H. Ray Dunning:

"There were two major means that Mr. Wesley seemed to identify as constitutive of the church: the pure Word of God preached, and the sacraments duly administered. This puts him squarely in the Reformation tradition." GFH p542]

II. THE IMPORTANCE OF BAPTISM AS A MEANS OF GRACE

- A. Baptism is clearly one of the sacraments of the church. It was instituted by the Lord Jesus, first by His example, and then by His unmistakable command (in the words of the text:)
- B. Baptism means three things for the believer:

1. BAPTISM MEANS IDENTIFYING WITH JESUS in His baptism.

John the Baptist baptized many people in the Jordan. This was not clearly outlined in Old Testament law, but it could have some meaning of preparation for the coming of a new order, in that just before the giving of the Law on Sinai, God told Moses to sanctify the people, and He specifically said: "Have them wash their garments!"

But the baptism of Jesus was unique. Jesus was identifying with sinners, even though He knew no sin. In coming with the sinners, JESUS TOOK THE ROLE OF THE SUFFERING SERVANT; and in the descent of the Holy Spirit HE CLEARLY EXEMPLIFIED THE ROLE OF THE ANOINTED ONE, THE MESSIAH.

No one else was sinless that day, or any other day. But Jesus identified with everyone who has failed; he came to bear our sins and sorrows to the Tree.

No one else could ever hear the Father say: "This is my Beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased!" and have the Holy Spirit descend without measure.

But if Jesus identified with us, with sinful humanity that day of His baptism; then we, as His spiritual sons and daughters identify with Him.

We are not called on to die as the sinless sacrifice; but BAPTISM IS THE WAY OF THE SUFFERING SERVANT; and we identify with Jesus in death to sin (He died for sin.)

We cannot know the fullness of the Holy Spirit as Jesus knew Him, but WE ARE CALLED TO ACCEPT THE ANOINTING OF GOD, indwelling us, and live in the new life and power of that life the Holy Spirit brings.

2. BAPTISM MEANS INCORPORATION INTO THE CHURCH. The washing of baptism by John indicated a preparation for a new age of the Spirit of God. But Jesus transformed John's baptism, and made it the sacramental portion of His Great Commission: "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit.
3. BAPTISM MEANS THE INITIAL RECEPTION OF THE HOLY SPIRIT. The Holy Spirit is the gift of the Son, and of the Father. He comes to make Jesus real to us. He is the Spirit of Jesus. He does not testify of Himself, but is the fulfillment of the promise: "Lo, I AM with you always, even to the end of the age."

The connection of baptism with the reception of the Holy Spirit seems clear in the New Testament. Sometimes the people received the Spirit as, or after they were baptized; sometimes it was a witness or a seal after they had already been saved.

Acts 2:38 (Peter says:) "Repent and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, AND YE SHALL RECEIVE THE GIFT OF THE HOLY GHOST." Here, clearly, the people to be baptized did not yet have the Holy Spirit.

But later, at Caesarea, Cornelius and his household received the Holy Spirit as Peter was preaching to them. And the question there was: "Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, WHICH HAVE RECEIVED THE HOLY GHOST AS WELL AS WE?"

In obedience to the command of Christ, we can expect that the sacrament of baptism will be a confirmation of the promise of God the Father and God the Son to bestow the Holy Spirit, personally, and powerfully, into each believer's heart!

To the Candidates this service:

June 6, 1993 - To this class of young people being baptized:

We have talked together about Romans 10:9,10, and what confessing Christ and becoming a Christian means:

It is so very simple— and yet cannot be done without the life of God being breathed into us:

1. to truly believe that God has raise Jesus from the dead is in large part the work of the Spirit within;
2. to confess with the mouth that Jesus is Lord is something which we can do by God's help.

This act of baptism is one way that you confess, loud and clear, that Jesus is LORD!

In just a few moments as part of the ritual of Baptism I am going to ask you three questions. Your answer will be, in part, that second part of Romans 10:9,10— for you will be saying publicly that Jesus is YOUR Lord, that you love Him, and that by God's help you will serve Him and do His will!

The Sacrament Dearly Beloved: Baptism is the sign and seal of the new covenant of grace, the significance of which is attested by the apostle Paul in his letter to the Romans as follows:

(Romans 6:3-5) "Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into His death? Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life. For if we have been planted together in the likeness of His death, we shall be also in the likeness of His resurrection."

The Sacrament of Baptism

The earliest statement of Christian faith, into which you come now to be baptized, is the Apostles' Creed. Shall we all affirm our faith as we read it together:

Congregation Read (with the candidates) the Nicene Creed: #13 in hymnal)

Question #1 - Will you be baptized into this faith?

(If so answer, "I WILL.")

Response: I WILL.

Question #2 - Do you acknowledge Jesus Christ as your personal Savior, and do you realize that he saves you now?

Response: I DO.

Question #3 - Will you obey God's holy will and keep His commandments, walking in them all the days of your life?

Response: I WILL.

IN THAT BAPTISMAL WATER

1. [OPTIONAL brief statement of testimony.]
2. [Y o u r n a m e], I baptize YOU in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

The Compassion of Jesus

June 13, 1993 am

Matthew 9:36-38

And seeing the multitudes, He felt compassion for them, because they were distressed and downcast like sheep without a shepherd.

Then He said to His disciples, "The harvest is plentiful, but the workers are few. Therefore beseech the Lord of the harvest to send out workers into His harvest."

Introduction

You have probably heard this scripture many times before. But what comes to your mind from these words? If we look carefully, the first thing we see is the compassion of Jesus.

I. THE COMPASSION OF JESUS

A. The primary motivation of Jesus is compassion. ([Com= "along side"] [passion= "feeling"].) Jesus comes alongside, feels with the multitude.

My primary motivation,[AS I LOOK AT 'THE MULTITUDES' TODAY] apart from divine intervention, is something else: fear, or intolerant judgment, or something else.

- Children who have been brought into the world unwanted, and who have not known tenderness, with the means to take lives... frightening prospects
- Haitian immigrants infected with AIDS, a burden to society, overloading welfare dollar availability...
- Vocal minorities, anti-Christian voices/forces

B. Who is right? Jesus? or me in my fear? But how can I help feeling what I feel?

II. THE COMMAND OF JESUS

- A. Perhaps this is why the first word of Jesus regarding "the multitude" is NOT to command direct human action. Jesus is afraid of what I might do or say in my own [best] attempts to do "what is right!"

It is NOT that Jesus approves of the sins of the multitudes. But He sees their need primarily as a LACK of a Shepherd before it is anything else.

- B. Christ's first command is: PRAY THE LORD OF THE HARVEST! SEND FORTH LABORERS!

Jesus did NOT say "You shall NOT go into the harvest!" and He did NOT say, "Don't volunteer!" But first Jesus DID say "PRAY!" This task is bigger, much bigger than we can know or understand.

But why "pray!"???

1. Prayer UNITES US WITH JESUS IN COMPASSION. It is difficult, if not impossible, to pray in the Spirit for a person and still hate or despise.
2. Prayer IS THE MEANS GOD HAS CHOSEN TO RELEASE THE POWER OF GOD'S LOVE: "Ye have not because ye ask not" James said.

If we really thought that loving intercession released tangible, vibrant, effective power in the lives of God's people, would we pray more, more pointedly, more effectively?

3. [Think about this:] Certainly a prayer which Jesus has told us to pray WILL BE ANSWERED!

- C. Transition: This compassionate challenge for us to pray was immediately followed by a commissioning of the disciples (in Matthew 10:)

III. THE CALLING / COMMISSION OF JESUS

(Exodus 19: A kingdom of priests, an holy nation) People who walk with God, and who represent the love of God (the compassion of Jesus) to an entire world!

A. GOD'S PEOPLE ARE "SPECIAL" TO HIM

BUT THAT "SPECIAL LOVE" IS ALSO A SACRED TRUST! Jehovah God chose the Jewish people to be SPECIAL! But that "special" included a love for the entire world. "All the world is MINE!" declared the Lord God.

Our "special" relationship with God is wonderful! But we never dare forget that COMPASSION that says

PRAY! for it will make us, in some measure then, among those who GO!

B. WE CAN AND WILL BEAR FRUIT IF ONLY WE WILL PRAY!

1. Most of us will not be like Dale and Pat Stotler who will be pioneering a work in Lesotho (lee-soo-too) where no one else has evangelized. But every one of us can PRAY! And as we do, the vision comes that this entire world belongs to God! And in some measure, we will want to GO!
2. God does not expect us to do what we CAN NOT do, but that does not mean our prayers are ineffectual!

This platform was filled to overflowing last Thursday evening with brand-new churches, and those planting them. Four of these churches represented were Haitian daughters of OUR Second Church.

Big things sometimes swing on "little hinges of prayer"... Dr. Brickley and Merritt Nielson talked; Merritt & I prayed as we circled Second Church... yes, Ruth Richardson ... and the transfer became reality.

The vision has not developed as I thought it might; our church is NOT as "hands on" as I might have hoped it would be. But the work is being done BETTER than we might have done it!

The work is being done because someone "prayed the Lord of the harvest!"

WHAT WILL OUR NEXT 'PRAYER' RESULT IN?

Conclusion

The Compassion of Jesus

Let me close with two thoughts that may seem a little disjointed— but they go together in my thinking:

1. This past week my heart was challenged as I thought of my assignment here in Wolleston. We were interviewing a young pastor about to take on his very first assignment. Dr. Manny Chavier asked him what he, the young man, thought success in the ministry might be?

"I want to produce holy people!" was the surprising reply; and it was given in all humility. I know no one can make people holy but God, but this young man may not have said it exactly right, but he was saying that through his ministry he wanted to cooperate with God in such a way that the people he pastored would be holy.

I thought: I have been pastoring 37 1/2 years and I couldn't have a better goal than that!

How I want to help YOU be a holy man! a holy woman! I want you to be comfortable in God's Presence! I want you to grow to your full spiritual potential in Jesus Christ!

2. I believe a holy people will be effective and fruitful in this harvest that Jesus tells us is so plentiful!
 - a. I am interested in the MEANS to that end: if it is small groups/ accountability covenants/ seasons of prayer and fasting— so be it!
 - b. I am convinced that if we will obey Jesus in His command to "Pray the Lord of the harvest," He will send out laborers! And I also believe that the end result will reach our own lives, and we will have the joy of sharing in that harvest.

The answer Jesus will do in our lives will boil down to THREE POWERFUL CHARACTERISTICS:

1. WE WILL GLORIFY GOD BY OUR INTEGRITY OF CHARACTER

We cannot labor in God's harvest fields if we are false in any relationship. We cannot do God's work if we have any reservations whatsoever about our love for Him, or our obedience to His will!

2. WE WILL GLORIFY GOD BY A CLEAR PRESENTATION OF THE WORD

It is not enough to have good intentions, or even to know the elementary things of the Word. We need to go into the Word for our food, our life, and study it to know Christ better than we know anyone else!

3. WE WILL GLORIFY GOD WITH OUR PRESENCE WHERE WE ARE NEEDED!

It is not quite enough to truly be GOOD, and to wonderfully be TRUE— but we have to love someone enough to stay with them in intercession and presence and caring— until they realize we love THEM, and not just their "souls!"

Prayer

Lord of the Harvest! Send forth laborers into your harvest fields! Amen!

Hymn 529 - God Whose Giving Knows No Ending

An Offer Too Good to Refuse

July 11, 1993 Isaiah 55:1-5; 10-13 (6 - 9)

Introduction

(Yesterday I received another "offer" in the mail that was) "Too good to be true!" We become cynical about such claims.

But God is the only Person who can make us an offer that is literally too good to refuse.

I. THE THIRST! Hearing The Word!

Ho! Everyone that thirsteth! Come to the waters! The universal thirst!

If we Christians are right about anything at all, there is one craving deep in your heart and mine, and in the heart of every human being on God's earth, that underlies and precedes every other need. It is not a superficial or secondary craving. It is absolutely elementary and essential. (Jesus Himself said it: "Man shall not live by bread alone — but by every word that proceeds from the mouth of the Father!")

We are made in the image of God. We are God-craving creatures. That craving may be denied, it may be stuffed and crammed with artificial God-substitutes. But there is no substitute for God in the human heart. God and God alone can fill our hearts to complete satisfaction.

"Ho! Everyone who thirsts! Come to the waters! Come, buy wine to revive and heal! Come buy milk to nourish and sustain! Buy water to refresh and maintain life! And the cost is in the coming, and in the covenant! There is no charge! No price!" This, indeed, an offer too good to refuse!

II. THE SATISFYING DRINK! Refreshing From The Word!

(Isaiah gives a picture- a sketch really- of the satisfaction of those who have come to the waters— ((10-13)) —a veritable harvest of LIFE!)

- A. Lowest level: A harvest of freedom FROM sin and increasingly so: though never from sin's nearness or temptation
- B. Second level: A harvest of joy in coming TO God in the privileges of sonship
- C. Higher levels: A harvest of sharing in the divine plan and purpose visible, recognizable fruit, yes— but also assurance of pleasing Father God.

III. THE COVENANT! Receiving The Word!

(But this harvest is conditional upon receiving the word. We hear a lot about unconditional love, of "acceptance." But that must be balanced with the truth that even unconditional love must be acknowledged and received!)

The operative word here is "SEEK!" "Seek ye the Lord while He may be found!" We usually relegate "seekers" to the newcomers- - to those who do not know the Lord.

But seeking is a way of life for God's people! Thirst is an indication of life!

- A. The word here is THAT GOD IS WILLING, EVEN WAITING TO MEET OUR VERY DEEPEST HEART'S LONGING. And that thirst-quenching love of God is available on the basis of A "WHOSOEVER WILL" CALL far and near!

Available without cost:

- 1. One cannot "buy" his way
 - 2. One cannot "good works" his way
 - 3. This does not mean that this is "cheap"; there is a vast difference between "priceless" and "worthless"
- B. Hearing, listening is the first step in finding the God-thirst quenched. For hearing the word leads to the offer of A COVENANT WITH GOD.

The covenant is simply saying: IF YOU SPEAK, I WILL OBEY! YOU BE GOD, I'LL BE YOUR MAN, YOUR WOMAN! This is where it begins!

Remember Isaiah 43— which we looked at several weeks ago in a morning service. [You may have forgotten my sermon, but you may remember how Michael Ballard was inspired as he read this passage— and it was re-read at Baccalaureate for the college:]

In Isaiah 43 God says (in this covenant relationship, there are some things that I am doing for you:

1. First I made you
2. Second I have redeemed you
3. Third, I have called you by name and you are MINE!
4. I will be with you, through flood or fire!
5. for I AM the LORD your God!

and in return

1. You are to be MY witnesses!
2. You are to tell people what I have done for you!

That's it!

C. Seek on the level of your need.

1. Sin
2. Adoption
3. Adequacy for an assignment
4. Present need, whatever it may be!

Conclusion

Last Tuesday morning in the Glasgow Airport I saw (a minor drama of) a little (3-yr old) boy. His parents just left on holiday, his granny holding him while he was absolutely devastated! Crying so bitterly it hurt my heart!

By contrast:

Last night Jake (our 3 yr-old grandson) came in out of the (90+ degrees of) heat— he looked around- got up on his grandmother's lap— and went to sleep for the night!

An Offer Too Good to Refuse

We are made to be at home in God! That need is like a keen thirsting! (Psalm 43 "As the deer pants after the water brook!") Our text sounds too good to be true! But it says

Ho! Everyone that is thirsting in Spirit! ...

Hymn No. 324

(Reading is No. 325)

A Word to the Outcasts of Israel

July 18, 1993

Isaiah 56:8 "...the LORD GOD which gathereth the outcasts of Israel..."

Introduction

It is impossible to "explain" poetry, even when that poetry is the living Word of God. But that can not prevent poetry from speaking deep and true into our very innermost being. And when that poetry IS the Word of God, the message that it speaks kindles life itself.

This portion of Isaiah (found in the 56th chapter,) flowing out of the "Servant Passage," speaks particularly of how the great Jehovah God loves all mankind, is willing, desires to be everyone's God, even -and perhaps particularly- those who seem to be hopeless or somehow "inferior."

Rather than analyze and dissect this chapter, I would let Isaiah lift us up on poetic wings for an overview of his joyful, hopeful, confident, gracious portrait of the great God we love and serve.

I. A GOD OF GREAT COMPASSION

42:3 A bruised reed He will not break, and a dimly burning wick He will not extinguish
God is in the life-saving, life-lifting business; not in the life-extinguishing, find-a-reason-to-kill-you business!

46:1-4 Bel, Nebo (Babylonian idols) ...the things that YOU carry, are burdensome, a load for the weary beasts... "Listen to Me..You who have been borne by Me from birth, and have been carried from the womb; even to your old age, I shall be the same, and even to your graying years I shall bear you!

The prophet contrasts His God with (and even makes FUN of) the idols of the nations. JHWH carries His loved ones!

God is not just interested in our "souls." He cares how we feel; His heart feels the good and the bad along with us.

I do not pretend to understand the apparent inequities of life; I do serve a God Who CARES about these inequities, and Who has promised that He would be with every one who calls on Him, and that His PRESENCE would give us REST.

II. A GOD OVER ALL THE EARTH

45:1 "The LORD says to Cyrus, His anointed ... "I will go before you and make the rough places smooth ...

I am the LORD and besides me there is no God I am the Lord and there is no other...

[God could and did take the king of Persia and subdue and chastise the king of Babylon, and in the doing (Romans 8:28) care for the Chosen, while establishing His name in all the earth.

And He can and shall do it again ... without (I might add) the frantic, sweaty help of those who think God NEEDS us! On the other hand, however, remember that God can and will use the human instruments that SUBMIT to Him!

The ancient world had pretty much divided itself into isolated armed camps, and each social group had its own version of deity. Most of these deities were pale reflections of human vices and virtues raised to the Nth power, and the concept of pure GOODNESS, or unfailing JUSTICE, or overarching HOLINESS seemed to be missing.

JWHW declared Himself to be concerned about ALL peoples!

The modern world creates its own gods in its own self-serving image, as well. There is really nothing new under the sun... and today God Almighty says:

I AM THE LORD! BESIDE ME THERE IS NO OTHER!

You Nazarenes do not own Me! You Roman Catholics did not create ME!

III. A GOD OF A SPECIFIC PEOPLE

- A. He chose Abraham, and then formed a Covenant People. THERE IS ALWAYS A HUMAN RESPONSE TO GOD'S CHOICE INVOLVED!

Our God chooses people by making covenant with them!

- B. But from the very beginning, God's plan has been that the CHOSEN, the "covenant people" always will share God's kindness and love to all the world:

49:5 And now, says the LORD, who formed Me from the womb to be His Servant — My God is My Strength— He says, Is it too small a thing that You should be My Servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved ones of Israel;

I will also make You a light to the nations So that My salvation may reach the end of the earth Thus says the LORD, the Redeemer of Israel, and its Holy One, To the Despised One To the One abhorred by the nation, To the Servant of Rulers, "Kings shall bow down Because of the LORD who is faithful, the Holy One of Israel who has chosen you."

- C. (We believe that THE CHURCH carries on this covenant relationship! Instead of circumcision, now the covenant is baptism, and also the covenant of the Eucharist.) And...

God STILL chooses those who will listen to be HIS people! But He STILL chooses them in order to let the rest of the world know just what kind of God He IS! He still loves all people, everywhere!

IV. A GOD OF THE HOPELESS

[Which brings US/me to the passage for today... this great and gracious God speaks particularly to the disenfranchised, the minorities, the discriminated against, the "outcasts in Israel," the aliens, or, in our modern buzz-word jargon, the "victims."]

56:3 "Let NOT the foreigner who has joined himself to the LORD say, "The LORD will surely separate me from His people" Neither let the eunuch say, "Behold, I am a dry tree."

MY house will be called a house of prayer for all the peoples!

The Lord GOD who gathers the dispersed of Israel declares, "YET OTHERS I will gather... to those already gathered!"

NO one! is "shut out" from God's love! We are separated from each other at times ... we separate ourselves from each other— we think we are separated from God. That there are special "elite" called people! such as... The JEWS! Birthright Christians! Second generation Nazarenes! Gifted! Moneyed! Those "in the clique!"

SUMMARY:

THE GOD OF GRACE INTENDS THAT IN HIS RIGHTEOUS KINGDOM NO ONE WHO DESIRES TO HAVE LIFE SHALL BE SHUT OUT!

CONCLUSION

The ("bottom line") word that comes through loud and clear from this poet-preacher Isaiah is the fact that this great God wants very much to be YOUR God and YOUR Friend!

66:2 "To this one I will look, to him who is humble and contrite of spirit, and who trembles at (deeply reverences) my word." God wants a people He can love and that He can work with- - and who will be His witnesses: A GOD WHO WOULD BE YOUR GOD

(Exhortation:)

And just how important it is that you connect with the REALITY that is this great God!???

By "reality" I mean MORE than human thought, or human feelings, or human determination and will. To KNOW GOD is an exercise in TRUST, in FAITH that God IS! And that God is a Rewarder of those who seek to know HIM! God is as real a person as you are. Therefore you must not seek so much to know ABOUT Him as to know HIM!

JUST ONE FACET OF THIS "IMPORTANCE":

My highest priority as a pastor is to save the children of the church family from losing their faith and slipping into the maelstrom of the world and being lost in time and eternity.

The best, the only real prevention for the loss of our children is a personal relationship with Jesus as Savior, Lord and Friend.

The way this is most likely to happen is if they have a model or models who have a "real" working relationship both with Jesus and with them. This is not to say that people cannot work their own ways through to genuine salvation without a Christian family or network. But the usual pathway is role model and example.

This makes the following question one which should not be avoided. [My problem sometimes is that people think I am exaggerating when I'm serious, or think I'm serious when I am having fun and exaggerating. I want absolutely no confusion here: I am as serious as I know how to be!]

The question is: HOW REAL IS JESUS CHRIST TO YOU? If you, as parent, role model, leader, have a "get-by" or "mediocre" friendship with Jesus, and your prayer life is not an increasing push into the adventure of the mystery of knowing God in Jesus Christ, then it is likely that those watching you will not be excited about the faith that you may well hold dear.

We need to talk with Jesus. We need to walk with Jesus, and tell Him constantly how we are, what we are thinking. And then we need to put at the top of our intercessory prayer list the people we do not want to be separated from for all eternity!

#617 A Closer Walk with Thee

The People of God

Where God's Word Lives

July 29, 1993

Colossians 3:16

Introduction

"It has become a family story..."

Ben went to the doctor who lifted his shirt and listened to his heart with a stethoscope.

"What are you doing?" asked little Ben.

"I'm listening to your heart," was the reply.

"Jesus is in there, " said Ben, matter-of-factly.

"I think I hear Him," said the doctor with a smile.

My young grandson Ben's statement to the doctor: "God is in there!" Ben certainly did/does not know the ramifications of an indwelling Presence in the very soul of the believer. But his statement that God is in his heart comes close to summing up what genuine Christian faith can be: incarnational faith!

Paul says: Let the word dwell in you richly!

I. WHAT THE WORD OF GOD IS

- A. The Bible is God's WRITTEN Word. It is probably the first thing that comes to mind, especially for those of us brought up in the Christian church. We believe that the Bible is God's revealed Word on salvation. It is a great and good thing to have the words of the Bible hidden in our hearts.

But the Bible is the written Word that tells us of the WORD.

- B. Jesus Christ is God's WORD. He is the LIVING Word. John in the Prologue to his Gospel says, "In the beginning was the WORD!" The text says "Let the WORD dwell in you!" To have the WORD in us is more than Bible memorization: the living WORD can come and live within us! In Ephesians 3:17, a similar passage, instead of saying "Let the Word dwell in you.." Paul says "That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith.."
- C. Then, with Jesus Christ LIVING— ALIVE in you and in me... WE the CHURCH— become THE WORD INCARNATE! Three great miracles of INCARNATION or INTER-FACING of God and Humanity— the Bible, the WORD, and the Church made up of born-again believers— speak to a world that is hungry for God.

It is our task to abide in Jesus, the WORD, and to let His WORDS abide in us— and then we can share in His mission to let the world come to know God:

II. A PARTICULAR, SPECIFIC REVELATION FROM THE 1993 GENERAL ASSEMBLY

A. World Mission Society

1. Thunderous media presentation— impressive! Scared little children almost out of their wits!
2. Winsome, genuinely spiritually alive singing groups from Korea, from Barbados, as well as outstanding orchestra, choir, organ and piano from US colleges were interspersed with pictures from many foreign fields.
3. And then "a still, small voice"—

Mel McCullough came out with a little Russian girl about 12 years old, all dressed in white, and she sang, very simply, with almost no accompaniment, "Da, Jesu loov meit"

Then Mel McCullough told about young Nazarenes, in Russia and in Romania, caring, loving, living out the message of God's love— THE WORD INCARNATE— in hospitals where people lay for months with no attention because they had no means to pay attendants— our young people cared, loved, took them out into the sunshine.

One of the translators assigned to the first group was so impressed (Galena) that she gave her life to Jesus Christ, and was there with the Nazarene delegation from Moscow.

4. This Friday night service closed with the challenge of pioneer missionaries standing at the front, and hundreds of teens responding with a willingness to do as God would have them, and hundreds of older people "standing back of them."

I was sitting with Joel Scott and Bob and Mike Johnston. I am proud of both Bob and Mike (having brought in unsaved school friends this year, who were won to the Lord.) Joel saw his mother and dad way down at the front, and he left us, made his way to the bottom of the upper arena area, jumped over the wall and I watched him make his way probably seventy yards more to the platform area to try to get near his parents.

B. SUNDAY SCHOOL MINISTRIES

The speaker Saturday evening was Donald Owens. His text was our text for this morning: "Let the WORD dwell in you richly..." The "guests of honor" were a thousand or more Sunday School teachers representing all those who teach in all the Nazarene churches around the world.

C. COMMUNION SERVICE

D. WORLD MISSION

Theme: That the World May Know 1- Jesus said: "I will build My church." 2- The kingdom of heaven is like a grain of mustard seed 3- His truth is Marching On!

Twenty new countries entered in past four years:

Thailand Transkei Ghana Liberia Rawanda Tanzania Zaire Eritrea Lesuthu* (Stotlers) Angola Bangladesh Ethiopia Cambodia Romania* (Scotts/ Dorothy Tarrant/ ENC-ers) Russia Solomon Islands Sweden Ukraine Albania Madagascar (Galena) (China, not allowed to evangelize)*Reiders

- E. Monday's opening DR. GREATHOUSE brought the devotions from John 17, calling the church to personal holiness; to the consecration of all of life to the love and service of Jesus.
- F. EDUCATION SERVICE Donald Young honored.

Returning to Colossians 3

III. THE PEACE, THE WORD, THE NAME

- A. The PEACE to "rule:" (15) Let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which you are called in one body; and be ye thankful.
- B. The WORD to "abide" and give stability: (text 16) Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord.
- C. The NAME to empower and authorize. (17) And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by Him.

Conclusion

We are called to be HOLY; not simply so that we can bask in our goodness, but so that Christ can indwell us, and speak of His love and righteousness and grace to a world that wants to know God!

We are given what is necessary for us to live this CHOSEN life: God's peace; His Word; and His great name— the name of Jesus!

Into the Ritual of Communion

Inviting the Living WORD to abide in us!

The Call of a Lifetime

September 8, 1993

Jesus: "Follow Me!" John 21:22

Introduction

It all began for Peter one day by the sea-side. Several boats were drawn up on the beach, and his brother and others were going about their business. Some were washing and mending nets; some were looking to their boats. Peter thought he saw the ripple of fish feeding along the shoreline, and he walked over and threw his round weighted casting net over the place where the ripples were.

Then he saw Him! This was the One called Jesus of Nazareth. He was a Man that was like no other man Peter had ever known. Peter felt a stirring deep down in his insides. And then he heard Jesus say, "Follow Me!"

And that is just what Peter did. He put aside everything, and began to follow Jesus. He could not have imagined that day where Jesus would take him. But Peter decided he would forsake everything else, and trust Jesus.

It is impossible to over-estimate the importance of who we walk with. Oh, I do not mean that we should not spend time with all kinds of people. But those people we follow, the people we call our special friends will have a profound effect on us.

If you follow some people around you might get rich. If you follow others you will almost certainly get into big trouble. One thing for sure— the one you walk with will make a big difference in your life.

Peter decided that he was going to go where Jesus went, and it took him into all sorts of situations. One time Peter even walked on water. No one, as far as I know, has done it since!

Has Jesus called YOU to follow Him? Really? I don't mean has some preacher told you Jesus was calling you— or YOU have decided to be a Christian... but has JESUS called you?

I. A CALL TO FOLLOW JESUS IS A CALL TO ABANDONMENT

- A. A call "Follow Me!" means leaving nets and all, and a definite change in life and living. It is a "turning."
- B. A call means a willingness to take orders. Training, discipline is a part of serving. [John Kauffman in OCS in Marines had to undergo "boot training;" being treated roughly, etc.] Rough edges need to be knocked off in any smooth-running relationship. [Marriage's first 365 days!]

Peter was of the "Let's just DO it!" "Shoot-from-the-LIP!" variety of people. They are good people— but do they ever need to learn to FOLLOW and to TAKE orders before they are commissioned to LEAD themselves, and to GIVE orders.

- C. Later Peter sort-of-complained: "Lord, we have left all, and have followed You." He was implying the question, perhaps, "Is it really worth it, this total abandonment to Jesus?"

Do you remember two key incidents in Peter's life: ONE was a real HIGH point, when Peter was inspired, and he said, "Thou art the Christ! The Son of the Living God!" And in reply Jesus said to him: "Blessed are you, Peter! I will build my Church on this Rock! I am giving you the keys to the kingdom!"

But the other was a LOW time, which Peter would have loved to forget. Peter had trusted his own strength, and said to Jesus, "Even if all these others forsake You, I won't!" And Jesus this time had gently said, "Peter, before morning comes you will deny Me three times!"

II. A CALL TO FOLLOW IS A CALL TO RESPONSIBILITY

- A. It is inescapable: God expects His people to take life to a higher and higher level! It will be true when we get to heaven: "Well done, good and faithful servant! You have been faithful over a few (earthly) things; I will make you RULER over many (cosmic) things! Enter into the JOY of your Lord!" But it is true right now here in the nitty gritty where we live between Sundays.
- B. Peter was far from ready, far from perfect. He was even a little bit two-faced at times through fear of confrontation (see Galatians 2.) Still Peter was challenged by Jesus: "I am giving YOU the keys to the kingdom!" And every child of God can open or shut doors into the kingdom! What if, on a bad day, you were rude to a delivery person; then you discovered that the person was settling things about whether or not to become a Christian? And you told him Christians are just the same as everyone else!

- C. God challenges everyone He calls, every one of His children, to things that count. Jesus doesn't let us settle for trivial pursuits. Someone has scrambled all the price tags of our world. We pay much too much for money, and we value life-changing love so very little.; but Jesus gives the keys to the kingdom to those who will follow Him, and ONLY to those!

One last story about Peter: It was the first Easter evening. Jesus left a message: "Tell the disciples— and especially PETER, 'I'll meet them by the lake.'"

It was a 90-mile journey back to Galilee. The disciples must have made it back in record time, because less than a week later, back by the beautiful lake where Jesus had first called them, where they had once earned their living, Jesus met them.

Jesus took the big fisherman aside, and He tenderly renewed their broken relationship. "Do you still love Me?" He asked.

Peter was grieved that Jesus had to ask.

But the relationship was restored. Then Jesus said, "Whatever the others do, Peter, I want you to follow ME!"

And Peter followed Jesus to the death!

III. A CALL TO FOLLOW IS A CALL TO THE VERY DEATH

- A. It isn't very good sales technique, I guess. But if you follow Jesus you will live for Him and you will DIE for Him! It isn't that you will necessarily be tortured to death. Things aren't usually as simple and clear-cut as that.

["How sweet would be their children's fate; If they, like them, could DIE for Three!"]

Anyway, in THIS world, where, do you suppose, is the Christian faith the "healthiest" and the "strongest?"

- B. The most important aspect of our faith, TO SUPERFICIAL CHRISTIANS, is to have just enough of God to save our souls from hell, and at the same time save our skins from as much discomfort as possible.

"Give to the church— because you will GET MORE in return!" "Tithe the income you WISH you had— and you will get it!" Even "Seek ye first the kingdom of God—AND ALL THESE THINGS! will be added!" These half-truths are a perversion of a deeper truth about true riches!

- C. As a matter of fact, life as we see it with the natural eye is NOT fair! Jesus was crucified at 33 years of age! Every one of his followers since, up to the present generation, has died, too. Does it pay to follow Jesus even to the death? I wish I could beam Peter down here and ask him in person just now!

Conclusion

The common caricature of Peter is the Gate Keeper of heaven. There he stands with the keys, saying who shall and who shall not. but that is just a cartoon idea, of course.

Peter, just like you and me, had to come to God by faith, through grace. I am not saying that any one of us is equal to Peter's stature. But I am saying that God LOVES you just as much as He loves Peter, and has provided for YOU to follow Him to the death, too.

But Peter was faithful to the death! I wonder just how Jesus greeted Peter when Peter's great spirit left his martyred body and was escorted by the angels into the Presence? Whether or not there were words spoken, however it was expressed, I can only imagine! But in that "Well done, good and faithful servant!" that greeted Peter there had to be a flashback in both Peter's AND the Master's mind to that day along the lake shore when a number of boats were lined up on the sand and a Stranger came by with the holy light of heaven in His face and said to Peter and his brother Andrew, "Follow Me!"

Jesus is still stopping by where we are going about our daily routines, and He is still saying to people who will listen, "Follow Me!" You cannot know what you are getting into, or where you will end up if you hear that voice and obey. But you DO know WHO will be walking with YOU!

Prayer

Hymn #468 I Have Decided to Follow Jesus

Reality in Spiritual Experience

September 26, 1993

2 Corinthians 5:15-17

" ... He died for all, that they who live should no longer live for themselves, but for Him who died and rose on their behalf.

Therefore from now on we recognize no man (by what he is in the flesh;) even though we have known Christ according to the flesh, yet now we know Him thus no longer.

Therefore if any (person) is in Christ he/she is a new creature; the old things passed away; behold, new things have come."

Introductory Illustration

Mrs. "K____" called me at radio station (WFME) after a very popular prayer time. I met her at a street corner she designated, and took her to my home in Edison, New Jersey. She was "being shadowed by the F.B.I." She did have $5,000 she wanted me to take and keep for her.

My wife can verify what I am telling you. She was CERTAIN! But she was certainly WRONG!"

How do we KNOW we are Christians? How do we KNOW that we KNOW GOD? Ask ten different people— you may just get ten different answers!

One will say: "God said it. I believe it. He said I should do certain things. I did them. I trust Him. And that is how I know I'm saved!" This is a covenant based on Scripture primarily.

Another will say, "The Bible became food and drink to me." Here appetites, in their changing, indicated a change of nature.

Another will say, "I don't put down these other ways, but Christ warmed my heart! I felt something!"

Another way we know— high up on MY list— is the testimony of a changed way of living. Show me someone who was lying and abusing substances and living selfishly and maybe sleeping around, but who has an encounter with the living, risen Christ and all of a sudden there is a 180 degree turn around, and he or she is honest and thoughtful and Christlike and begins to love the things of God, I don't know of a more convincing witness to the fact of Christian faith.

However it is that we KNOW, that KNOWING is important!

AND EVERY ONE OF US CAN KNOW GOD, AND WE CAN KNOW THAT WE KNOW HIM!

I. IT IS POSSIBLE TO HAVE A PERSONAL EXPERIENCE OF SALVATION

- A. A personal "experience with God" is the birthright privilege of every Christian believer! It was one of the great contributions of John Wesley that he taught the privilege of knowing that we are saved.

1. PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE UNSUPPORTED BY OTHER WITNESSES IS SUBJECT TO DELUSION

Illustration: Remember "Mrs. "K____" who called me at radio station... She was CERTAIN! But she was certainly WRONG!"

2. "Experiences" widely vary. They can not be used all by themselves, standing alone, as the "norm" for measuring either the quality or the validity of Christian life and faith.

B. THERE ARE AFFIRMATIONS THAT SUPPORT OUR KNOWLEDGE

1. A clear experience of salvation is always in harmony with the Christ of salvation! A clear experience of salvation will not contradict the clear teaching of the scriptures. We believe in the authority of the scriptures.

Illustration: A woman called her pastor and asked him to pray for her. She had "lost all the JOY out of her experience with God."

Her pastor asked her, wisely, if she wanted to talk about her concern. She replied that she did not want to discuss it, she just wanted him to pray for her. But as he gently probed he found she was "living in" with her boyfriend in clear violation to what she knew God's Word would have her do.

She wanted to have a good, clear experience of salvation with no regard for what the Bible said, and no regard for what the clear scriptural teaching of her church might be. What she would not admit to understanding was that A CLEAR EXPERIENCE OF SALVATION IS ALWAYS IN HARMONY WITH THE CHRIST OF SALVATION!

2. The classical teaching about "witnesses" to faith is that there are three:
 - a. the witness of the Word;
 - b. the witness of my spirit (God said it, and I believe it):
 - c. the witness of the Spirit.
3. But there are other witnesses, too. There is the witness of life's changed directions and goals. (text "Old things passed away") There is the witness of life crying for nourishment. ("as newborn babes desire the sincere milk of the Word" 1 Peter 2:2) The Bible becomes an opening Book! There is the witness of life that simply cannot be contained, seeking to share its joy!

C. THE SECRET IS WHAT IS AT THE CENTER!

[Our text has the 'secret'] " There has been A GENUINE REPENTANCE: A TURNING FROM, A TURNING TO— AND NOW WE AGREE WITH GOD! (verse 15 He died for all, that they who live should no longer live for themselves!") Christian faith is always Christ-centered. (Isn't THAT profound!)

EVEN IN THE MATTER OF PERSONAL EXPERIENCE, self must not be the center and the focus. This is a 'given.' Christians do not any longer live for themselves! (And that certainly goes against "Grab for the Gusto!" doesn't it!!)

It is possible to be self-centered in every phase of our faith. (There is a kind of false Christian faith that is human centered. It says: How can this benefit ME? How may I be served?)

It is possible to seek to BELIEVE THE TRUTH UNTO OUR SELVES! To "control" what we believe, rather than putting our lives under the scrutiny and the authority of the Living Word.

It is even possible to OBEY THE TRUTH UNTO OURSELVES! To "control" how we serve the Lord. ("Though I give all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned ... and have not LOVE ... it profits me nothing!")

And it certainly is possible to SEEK RELIGIOUS EXPERIENCE UNTO OURSELVES! When we put even the experience of salvation at the center (INSTEAD OF GOD HIMSELF) we get pulled 'off target.' "Get all excited! Tell everybody!" That is good, even necessary- - so long as Jesus is what we are excited about— as long as HE IS AT THE CENTER OF LIFE, and not 'feeling good' or even 'feeling we are doing important work' or 'feeling ANYTHING!'

II. LIVING LIFE FROM THE TRUE CENTER (TEXT)

- A. Real, lasting, satisfying EXPERIENCE springs from KEEPING GOD AT THE CENTER OF ALL WE ARE AND DO. It is THIS LIFE CENTERED IN CHRIST that is what the "new creation" is all about!

Illustration: Let me tell you another story: Some time ago I received a letter from a lady with a "delayed testimony" that stretches back now several years.

After spending her entire life in the church during some special meetings or studies she came to realize she didn't really know that she knew God! She talked with her pastor. She began to seek to be honest and open with God, herself, and her husband (with whom she had what I believe was and is a good marriage.)

She is writing to say that after spending all her (more than 40 years) in the church she has broken through into a new and glorious experience of spiritual reality.

She writes: "I had thought for years that I couldn't really be saved — and I had never really wanted to get away from God, but had never really let go of myself and really let God take control of my life.

"I have thought so many times since then as I look around me at others, "what are they really hanging on to? What was I hanging on to?" But God really and gloriously saved me and I gave Him my heart and life and He sanctified me wholly and I am really living and learning daily as I give myself to Him day by day.

"It took some fearful groping for the first few months and I went through a depressing period when I really didn't know where I was going. But I wanted to KNOW I was saved and although at the time I wondered if I'd ever be able to look back on this period and say 'Thank You, Lord,' I know I needed this test of faith.

"Richard (her husband) was so understanding— we both began to talk about things and fears that had haunted us since childhood. You know, we both grew up in Christian homes and are so very glad that we didn't taste of deep sin— but there was a very harsh and bitter attitude in the church during our impressionable years that had scarred us, and may I say, many other young people.

" ... God is blessing our home not in a big overwhelming way, but a quiet steady sureness that He is ours and we are His children. I think so many times of the song, "Great Is Thy Faithfulness, Lord Unto Me!"

" ... Not a service goes by without the blessedness of His Presence. ... We have many people with problems ... but we are really fasting and praying for them and I believe God will be faithful. ... I want you to know that I'm one of the fruits of your labor."

The letter is signed (Lenora Hinkle)

Do you think that the Hinkle family was an isolated case? Do you believe that there are other good, solid, even saved and believing Christians who aren't satisfied with the level of their ASSURANCE?

B. It is my deep conviction that EVERYONE can know spiritual reality!

THOSE BROUGHT UP IN THE CHURCH, familiar with holy things, practically inoculated by a "mild form of spiritual life" against ever getting the real thing, like [Lenora Hinkle] in this letter I just read can have a satisfying personal walk with God.

THOSE WHO HAVE LOVED JESUS SINCE THEY WERE LITTLE CHILDREN, but have been under the impression that He is far off, and not to be bothered with walking and talking with each one of us— these people can come to know Jesus and love Him.

THOSE WHO HAVE BEEN SELFISH AND LIVING UNTO THEMSELVES in every part of their lives— they can have spiritual reality!

C. HOW?

1. Mystery! Salvation is the work of an instant. And yet sometimes people go for years before it seems to dawn: I CAN really KNOW God!
2. INVITING God into your heart and life! This is NOT a 'week end project'! It is the surrender of the center of life— for time and for eternity! Seeking! Asking! Knocking!...as a way of life!
3. But if you want reality you may HAVE reality!

Conclusion

Begin just now, where you are. Walk in all the light that you have.

Romans 10: 9,10 says if we confess with our mouth the Lord Jesus; and, if we believe in our hearts that God has raised Him from the dead— we shall be saved.

This not a cut-and-dried formula. But it is the simple truth!

Prayer - Hymn of Invitation #343 Just As I Am

The Power of Gods Word

-A Story of Martin Luther-

-For Reformation Sunday Evening-

Preached first October 31, 1993

For: October 31, 1999

Falmouth Church of the Nazarene

Let me tell you a story this evening about a man who became a legend in his own time. This man, I sincerely believe, spent his life earnestly seeking after God, but he made at least as many enemies as he made friends. Five hundred and sixteen years after his birth (Nov 10, 1483) he is still a controversial figure in history.

The man's name, of course, is Martin, Martin Luther. He was the son of a peasant, Hans Luder, a working copper miner who was himself shrewd and ambitious and became an owner of mines. In a way it was a miracle that Martin should have gotten higher education, for few in his social level were recognized as worthy. But Martin was gifted, both scholastically and musically. He was permitted to attend the University of Erfurt, in Saxony, where he received his Bachelors of Arts in September 1502, and Master of Arts in January 1505. He began studies for law in May of that same year, 1505.

Like many young people Martin thought seriously about life and God and salvation. He was a seeker after truth and after God. In July of 1505, the year in which he began his law studies, Martin was caught in a thunderstorm, and a bolt of lightning struck so close to where he was that he was frightened half to death. He was certain that God Himself had spoken. In that moment Martin Luther said to God, "I will become a monk!" [cf. Acts 9/St. Paul] He was "shocked" into the most extreme action he knew how to take.

The Luders were devout Catholics, but they did not want their child to be too religious. A monk takes vows of poverty, and there would be no way Martin could support them in their old age. And so it came as a shock to Hans Luder as well when Martin announced that he was entering religious orders. But enter he did, and he was ordained in 1507 and celebrated his first Mass just two years later.

So Martin Luther not only became a monk, but a priest, and an outstanding scholar. Highly respected, Martin was promoted to Doctor of Theology in October of 1512, and was appointed the cathedral lecturer there at Wittenberg.

About this time two things happened that sparked a great change in Martin Luther, and ultimately in the way many of us have come to understand God's plan for our salvation.

FIRST, in these early years as a scholar and lecturer Martin Luther was wrestling with the word of God as revealed in Holy Scripture— wrestling with it directly.

Often as he studied Martin actually lived in torment because his faith only brought him into conflict with a God that demanded righteousness but never satisfied those who sought after it. So along with his studies came a growing sense of his own inability to measure up to what he could see of God's demands that God's people be holy and righteous.

In 1513, the year after receiving his Doctorate and becoming lecturer, Martin began lecturing on the Psalms. When he arrived at Psalm 72, even as he was lecturing to the students he got a new grasp about "the righteousness of God." He began to see it as a quality which God was willing to give to believers, and which would make them acceptable in his Presence.

He was struggling to HEAR WHAT GOD'S WORD REALLY WAS SAYING to him. In 1515 he began lecturing on Romans, and soon his "LISTENING" centered Paul's statement that the righteous live by faith. Martin had always thought this said, "If you are RIGHTEOUS, then you will have the true faith." He knew that God was righteous, and that he, Martin Luther, was not.

But as Martin listened to the word of God with the ears of his soul he heard, he understood, finally, what we now take so much for granted, and what we need to hear again and again:

It is by God's gift of grace to us, by FAITH, that we are enabled to take hold of Christ's righteousness— and the righteous LIVE BY THIS FAITH.

Luther declared that we could not even understand that we are sinners apart from the gospel. He wrote:

"We must know that we are sinners by faith alone, for it is not manifest to us; rather we are more often not conscious of the fact.. Thus we must stand under the judgment of God and believe His words with which he has declared us unjust, for he himself cannot lie."

Luther discovered that he had had it all backwards: WE DO NOT ACHIEVE FAITH BY BEING RIGHTEOUS, BUT WE RECEIVE CHRIST'S RIGHTEOUSNESS BY FAITH! This kernel of truth— this powerful portion of God's Word— was HEARD by Luther. He processed it— what could it mean? He RECEIVED IT AS GOD'S WORD. And Martin BELIEVED it! THE WORD OF GOD WENT TO WORK IN MARTIN LUTHER!

The SECOND THING that sparked change was: The mother church at Rome needed money, and was sending out special missions to collect it by the selling of indulgences. In Saxony, where Luther was, this conflict centered around an itinerant money collector named Johann Tetzel, who had the franchise on indulgences for that part of Germany.

Historian Walther Köhler has quoted Tetzel's sermon: "Do you not hear the voices of your dead relatives and others, crying out to you and saying, 'Pit us, pty us, for we are in dire punishment and torment from which you can release us for a pittance'?" And then the last exhortation in the form of a couplet:

"When the coin in the coffer rings, the soul from purgatory heavenward springs!"

Luther may not have been opposed at that time on the idea of purgatory, or even perhaps on praying for the dead; but he knew and understood that the motivation behind Tetzel's money-raising was not the salvation of souls at all. So he vehemently opposed the selling of indulgences, and he pretty well ruined Tetzel's business in his territory.

For it was on October 31, 1517, exactly 482 years ago this very day, Martin Luther nailed 95 Theses— 95 statements for debate on why the sale of indulgences were evil— on the Cathedral door in Wittenberg, Germany. He wrote these propositions for debate in Latin— the language of the church, and they began great debate, you may be certain. But the 95 theses were also translated into the common German, and printed, and spread far and wide. THAT is how Tetzel's business was ruined in that part of Saxony.

A whirlwind of things happened in the months and years following this revolt. The presenting problem had been sale of indulgence, but the underlying problem was where final authority for the church would rest. There were many communications and interviews, including a citation from Pope Leo X for Luther to come to Rome, which Elector Frederick of Saxony refused. Finally a Papal Bull in June of 1520 gave Luther 60 days to submit, and early in 1521 Luther was invited, under safe conduct, to the high court, or Diet of the Church at Worms, where he finally appeared in April, 1521.

Luther had hoped to engage in debate, but when he was admitted to the Diet on April 17, at about 4:00 p.m., before the Emperor Charles V and all the representatives of Rome the chancellor of the archbishop of Trier gave him no opportunity. Instead he gestured to a table in the middle of the impressive assembly, which was piled high with books. He told Martin Luther he had been called to the Diet of Worms to answer two questions: Had he written those books? Was there a part of them he would now choose to recant?

The monk and professor from little Wittenberg was given a chance to recant— not to debate. The judges had already made their decision. He spoke in a voice that could scarcely be heard: "The books are all mine— I have written more." But then, as he considered the second question: "This touches God and his Word. This affects the salvation of souls. I beg you, give me time." And so he was given one day. Back in his quarters Luther wrote, "So long as Christ is merciful, I will not recant a single jot or tittle."

Luther was not admitted to the Diet the next day until nightfall, and he stood in the candle-lighted episcopal hall next to the great cathedral. After realizing again that there was no room for debate, Luther made this statement:

"Unless I can be instructed and convinced with evidence from the Holy Scriptures or with open, clear, and distinct grounds and reasoning— and my conscience is captive to the Word of God— then I cannot and will not recant, because it is neither safe nor wise to act against conscience."

And then he added the famous words: "Here I stand. I can do no other. God help me! Amen" And with those words Luther became an outlaw.

Even though he had been guaranteed safe passage his life was immediately in danger. [He made his way to the Castle Wartburg, where he allowed his hair to grow out, and he became "a knight" for the next few years. But much of Germany was responding to this concept of salvation by faith.]

Let it be said that it is clear from all records that Martin Luther loved his church, and never intended that he start a different movement of the church. He appealed to the Pope himself to stop the excess. But there were many factors that entered the picture, too many to put in one sermon. The political scene in Northern Europe, the threat and even invasion of the Turks up the Danube against Christendom— soon the lines were drawn, and the division became beyond repair.

But the entire Christian world was changed by this man who listened— who believed— who let the word work in him. We who call ourselves Wesleyan owe a great deal to Luther, for in May, 1738, while he was at a prayer meeting, John Wesley heard one reading Luther's Preface to the Book of Romans— and Wesley knew in a new way that he was saved— by faith— that his sins were forgiven through grace!

THIS ENTIRE REFORMATION MOVEMENT WAS SPARKED BY ONE THEME, ONE PHRASE, AS IT WERE, FROM THE WORD OF GOD.

The Power of Gods Word

LOOK AGAIN AT THE LESSON (in your worship folder) THAT IS OUR TEXT FOR THE MORNING: Paul says

1. I labored to give you the gospel of God; and
2. I am thankful when you heard it you received it and believed it, and
3. it is at work in YOU now!

Two thoughts:

1. HOW IMPORTANT IT IS THAT WE SHARE THE WORD OF GOD; (SHARE THE WORD AND NOT OUR IDEAS!) The ancient prophet Micah complained that false prophets were saying whatever got them the highest salary.
2. HOW POWERFUL GOD'S WORD IS WHEN IT IS HEARD AND TRUSTED.

Just what IS the "word of God?" It is revelation; it is given to us in the Bible, by the Spirit, by the foolishness of preaching, by God's great grace.

The word of God is that which we know to be God's will communicated to us with convicting power; the word of God is the transforming message of God's love in Christ. The Bible is all that. It is the word of God.

THE WORD OF GOD IS DYNAMIC: (1) The word of God needs to be communicated. Spoken. Proclaimed faithfully. Preaching is God's appointed means, method. (2) The word of needs to be received, heard, believed. The word of God is "not" the word of God for you, for me unless and until it is received!!

The word of God is powerful. The same word that called worlds into being is the power that calls LIFE into being within the person/church that hears, receives, and believes. The listening ear of the soul is the receiving organ of God's mighty holy power.

What happens when we hear the word of God? When we really listen to what God is saying?

- we can never stay the same. We either walk forward in the power of the word that transforms us— that is "at work in you who believe"— OR we fall forever behind what God wills for us to be.

To listen, to hear, is to be a part of God's Plan of salvation. Every true messenger of God has been energized, empowered, compelled by the WORD OF GOD. When evil attacks us, our families, our world— our first reaction is to march out with all our might against it. And if we do we are doomed to failure. But if, instead, we listen to what God is saying about the evil, the word of God at work in us will involve us effectively. The whole thing will be wrought of the Spirit.

461 Open My Eyes That I May See

Lesson:

Surely you remember, brothers(and sisters), our toil and hardship; we worked hard day and night in order not to be a burden to anyone while we preached the gospel of God to you.

You are witnesses, and so is God, of how holy, righteous and blameless we were among you who believed. For you know that we dealt with each of you as a father deals with his own children, encouraging, comforting, and urging you to live lives worthy of God, who calls you into his kingdom and glory.

And we also thank God continually because, when you received the word of God, which you heard from us, you accepted it not as the word of (mere humans), but as it actually is, the word of God, which is at work in you who believe.

I Thessalonians 2: 9-12

The Promise of His Coming

First Sunday in Advent

November 28, 1993

O That Thou wouldst rend the heavens... Isaiah 64:1

INTRODUCTION

THE CHURCH EXISTS ON THE STRENGTH OF A PROMISE.

Jesus said, "If I go away, I will come again and receive you unto myself, that where I am there you may be also." The ability to believe that promise is a gift of God's grace. We call that gift "hope."

We cannot live apart from God. St. Augustine's most famous words: "You have made us for Yourself, O God- and our souls are restless until they find their rest in You!" are anticipated here as Isaiah cries for his people: "Oh, that Thou wouldst rend the heavens and come down!" But sometimes it is hard to believe that Almighty God cares for our little world, let alone individual people like you and me. Hope tells us that it is true, God does care.

I. THE WONDER OF SUCH A PROMISE

[God is so great; we are so small]

David spent many lonely nights on the dark hills watching the sheep under what we call the Milky Way, and he said, "When I consider the heavens, the works of Thy fingers, the moon and the stars which Thou has ordained, what is man that Thou art mindful of Him!" (Psalm 8:1)

And from time to time that fact of our finiteness, our insignificance in the great scope of Creation becomes almost inescapable, and makes the wonder of Hope, the Promise, even more precious.

We Are Small on the Vast Scale of Earth

The Promise of His Coming

Much earlier in our ministry Helen and I led a delegation from Akron to International Institute in Colorado. There after leading a seminar each morning we drove up into Rocky Mountain National Park, to an overlook about 12,000 feet in altitude, where we parked and walked across the road and sat down on a precipice to a mountain view of 100 miles or more of range after range, peak after peak to the south. Now after more than 30 years the vividness of detail has faded, but I shall never get over the sheer majesty of what I could see and still not grasp of wonder and beauty and sheer size. To say we felt "small" hardly begins to express the scale. For example it was the second or even the third day before we noticed in the valleys below seven mountain lakes— there was just so very much to see, to take in, to absorb. When I consider the snow-capped mountains and the deep wooded valleys stretching on and on, what am I but an insignificant speck? And yet I also remember the thrill that I knew the God who made these things.

It is easy to see how people, apart from living HOPE, could wonder how God could ever find them on this big planet if He ever did come searching.

We are Individuals in a Vast Number of Humanity

Later that same year, 1962, Helen and I packed our four small children into that same beautiful aqua colored big Mercury and moved from a tiny Ohio rural town to the outskirts of the metropolitan New York City community and the corrupt influence of the liberal east. When I saw superhighways sixteen lanes wide moving at 65 miles an hour, or miles of traffic backed up and standing still, or when I walked the streets of Manhattan and saw people lying on the sidewalks with humanity streaming all around them; when I drove for miles and miles through dense population another kind of insignificance suggested itself. Among so many millions, what was one person more, or one person less?

It is easy for me to see how people, unless they know for themselves what Jesus said, could wonder how God would ever sort out which one they were among all the millions of earth.

We are a Tiny Planet in a Vast Universe

People who look through telescopes tell us that we are inhabitants of a planet circling a small-to-average star in an average galaxy in our Universe. There are, they tell us, about 200 billion such galaxies. That is the number two (2) followed by eleven zeroes, two hundred billion galaxies, or 30 or 40 for every man, woman, boy and girl on our tiny little planet!

Then, in our Milky Way there are, we are asked to believe, 500,000,000,000 stars like our own sun. That means if stars like our sun were being handed out from just our own galaxy there are enough for every man, woman, boy and girl to have almost 100 stars of their own.

So— when the prophet cries out to Jehovah "Oh that You would rend the heavens and come down!" he is asking quite a lot of God just to be able to sort out which galaxy and which star, to find him among the intricate and complex systems and dimensions of time and space that this great God has created.

It is not hard to see, apart from God's gift of HOPE, when we consider how great is this Creation, the heavens and the earth how that it is beyond our comprehension how or why God would care to come to us.

We Have Met Jesus: We Choose to Believe His Word

But Jesus has promised! He is with God in whatever dimensions of reality that lie beyond our present understanding. But Jesus is also WITH US even NOW in TIME and SPACE by the Holy Spirit. He is very NEAR! And Jesus is as good as His word. We can depend on his PROMISE. He will come again, we will see Him, and we will be like He is.

If we know Him NOW by His WORD, and by His SPIRIT'S PRESENCE, then this HOPE will keep us spiritually alive.

Remember: The church exists on the strength of one promise.

II. THE JOY OF SUCH A PROMISE

[The centrality of HOPE in Christian living]

This HOPE is not only WONDERFUL, but it is central to our Christian faith and life, It is much more important than we may realize.

1. It is HOPE that holds us safe in the storms of life. (Hebrews 6:19.) "Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both steadfast and sure."
2. It is HOPE that gives us comfort in any trial. (2 Thessalonians 2:16) "God has loved us and given us eternal comfort and good hope by grace."
3. Hope is a force motivating us to purity (1 John 3:3) "He that has this hope in him purifies himself, even as He is pure."
4. It is HOPE that gives us BOLDNESS to witness to God's goodness and to give Him praise (2 Corinthians 3:12) "Having such a HOPE we use great boldness in our speech"

Hope begets hope.

III. THIS PROMISE - OF GOD'S COMING- HAS BEEN USED AS A THREAT MORE THAN A SOURCE OF JOY AND HOPE.

The coming of God the Son in glory is not a happy prospect to those who do not love Him. His coming will be an embarrassment to those who profess to love Him but do not live for Him. This is what Jesus is saying in our Gospel lesson.

It is true that when Jesus comes HE WILL SET THINGS RIGHT. There will be VINDICATION and JUSTICE. There will be A HOLY DISCRIMINATION BETWEEN RIGHT AND WRONG, GOOD AND EVIL, LOVE AND HATE, SHEEP AND GOATS. But the Second Coming has been used as some kind of Sword of Damocles to threaten us into good behavior:

You better watch out, you better not cry— better not pout I'm telling you why— He knows if you've been bad or good, so be good for goodness" sake!

It depends on how we think of God, what our relationship, our fellowship with Him is, how we think of the prospect of Him coming to seek us out!

Adam and Eve dreaded meeting God: They had disobeyed, and in their disobedience they had "become as gods to know good and evil" in a partial response to Serpent's lie. They knew they were evil, and they knew they were naked and they knew that they did NOT want to see God face to face. So they hid themselves, with their fig leaf covers. The Presence of God was a source of fear and dread where it had been a comfort and companionship.

But Job did not dread meeting God. In all his distress he knew that he had not been perfect, he had spoken foolish words— but he also knew that he trusted God, and that he had been perfectly true and faithful— that he had lived for God and loved him. So Job did not dread seeing God, but wanted Him to come— even to show him (Job) where he had done wrong so he could confess it; Job was OPEN before God, and sought God's love and grace:

Job: O that I knew where I might find him! But HE knoweth that way that I take, and when I am tried I shall come forth as gold.

It is impossible for me to understand how Christ's people can be anything but happy at the prospect of being with the One they love the most! If we love Jesus why wouldn't we want to see Him?

IV. THE CHURCH MUST REFLECT THIS HOPE TO A HOPELESS WORLD

Can you imagine what it would be like to NOT have this HOPE? Can you imagine how people who do not know God's LOVE and His PROMISE may well feel lost in time and space and the crush of humanity?

If our total concern about Christ's Second Coming is worrying about how much or how little faith we need to be ready when He comes then perhaps we have missed the point altogether. Millions of people don't even know God cares, that He has sent His Son to love us, and die for us, and that He is coming again for those who love Him.

If we truly have this HOPE, then we, God's people, together become the means whereby a world in darkness and chaos can hear the story of Jesus and come to believe His Promise that He has conquered sin and death and that He is alive forevermore and that He will come and find us where we are so that we may be where He is for ever. How did YOU come to have hope? Who showed YOU the way?

The Promise of His Coming

—The total helplessness of being befogged in a calm at sea; and the trip we took (Bud, Bernie, Bill Taylor, I) from Kingston river around the Gurnet to Green Harbor in a pea soup fog... coming on channel markers, dead reckoning, looming in on Duxbury beach, sounds, magnified and distorted— joy of finding harbor...

If we have this hope, somehow we not only are finding that way ourselves, but we ourselves somehow become dependable. We show others the channel, the way through the mists, to hope, buoys or lower lights to bring others to this haven of hope.

Prayer

Song for the Nations #699

Call to Comfort

December 5, 1993 - Advent II

Isaiah 40:1 "Comfort ye My people . . . "

Introduction

This Christmas Season Handel's Messiah will be sung again in many places, part of the Christmas tradition along with Scrooge and roasted chestnuts. But wherever it is sung the story of Jesus is told again.

After the overture, the tenor soloist will step forward and begin: Comfort ye! Comfort ye! Comfort ye my people, saith your God! Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto her that her warfare . . . her warfare is accomplished!

Is that the word that you or I would begin with, if we were telling people about Jesus? If the word "comfort" means...

I. GOD IS LOVE, GOD IS NEAR

WE ARE NOT ABANDONED, then I cannot imagine a better word!

- A. Handel had it exactly right! When we tell the story of Jesus, the place where we begin—and the place where we end, and everything between comes from the great heart of God, who intends that His people shall know real peace!
- B. The world desperately needs this message of comfort, the word that God KNOWS, and God CARES—that God IS NEAR TO THOSE WHO SEEK HIM!
 1. God asked his prophet Isaiah to tell his people. They had forgotten, if they ever knew, just how much God cares.
 2. God asks everyone who grasps this great grace to pass along the comfort. The word we hear is not: "Comfort yourselves! Be comfortable!" The word, instead, is "Comfort MY PEOPLE!"
 3. The church, in its role as prophet, is to carry this message that this great God of GRACE wants to live right down here where we live — we are to tell to all who will believe and become God's people. THAT IS THE ESSENCE OF THE CHRISTMAS STORY!

But the message of comfort comes in what seems a strange package; it comes with the declaration that all other comforts are false comforts.

II. GOD'S WORD IS ALL THAT WE CAN TRUST!

- A. God's voice said to Isaiah, "Cry!" And with Isaiah, we ask, "Cry what?" What is this message of comfort to the people of God?
 - 1. And the reply comes back "All flesh is grass ... the grass withers, the flower fades!" We have to give up trying to stay young, to live forever on earth's terms, stop putting our faith in things that rust and decay. ALONG WITH THE MESSAGE OF PEACE AND COMFORT IS THE MESSAGE THAT ALL OTHER COMFORTS ARE FALSE. TO FOLLOW GOD WE CANNOT CONTINUE OUR "BUSINESS AS USUAL"
 - 2. Peter puts it in even stronger language in the epistle lesson: "The elements shall melt with fervent heat!" The greatest tragedy we can think about is the melting down of this material world, with all our securities and hard-earned retirement benefits. Isaiah said the grass would fade; Peter puts it a little more dramatically when he says this whole entire visible created universe is going to disappear, to melt down, to change or pass away. But Peter also has had Isaiah's promise of COMFORT! He has total confidence in this one thing: GOD HAS MADE A PROMISE! The promise of God is good enough to make Peter rejoice in the prospect of losing everything!
- B. The first "point" in the message of comfort, then, is that the world as we now see it will not last forever— in fact— it will not last very long at all! But the heart of the message is NOT a negative message; what this world needs to know is there is a place where you can stand that will not be blown away in the storm! "The grass withers .. the flower fades .. but the Word of the Lord stands forever!" THE CHURCH EXISTS ON THE STRENGTH OF A PROMISE! [My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge!]

If we really have grasped this— if we live in the HOPE of God's eternal PROMISE— then how can we stay silent about it? How do we begin telling our friends and neighbors?

III. GOD'S GREAT PEACE IS OURS TO SHARE!

- A. God's word to the prophet is God's word to His people; it is God's word to you and me: YOU comfort my people!

We begin the telling of the story of Messiah by sharing God's PEACE with each other. (Testimony? Yes! but more...) How seriously are we concerned with the welfare of our brothers and sisters in the church? And what does this have to do with the comfort of Messiah? What does telling the story to each other have to do with world evangelism? [Only everything!] The church is not simply a mutual admiration society. Far from it! But the church is, ought to be the family of God. To "comfort," that is, to seek the edification of the Body, is to begin making Messiah known. The story of Messiah begins with "Comfort ye!" Who would want to become a Christian, a part of Christ's Body, unless and until this comfort is manifested?

- B. When Christ's peace and love are manifest within the Body the message of a God who comes and a God who cares will have validity when we carry it outside the walls of the sanctuary.

[Exhortation:]

We can tell them IF WE BELIEVE OURSELVES that Jesus brings peace.

We can tell them IF WE OURSELVES ARE STANDING ON SOLID ROCK in our relationship with God.

And we can tell them IF WE ARE WHERE THEY ARE, NOT TURNING OUR BACKS ON OPPORTUNITIES TO SHARE God's love.

If we can tell them, and we don't tell them, then we miss the whole point of our faith, which is to make us like the One we love. If we aren't sharing God's peace there may be something wrong, Before we can tell them we may have to repent -to agree with

Call to Comfort

God in all things, even those pertaining to ourselves! The Psalmist chimes in here "Turn us, O Lord! Let your face shine on us!"

This of course is also an admission of our helplessness; even our repenting is of grace! Unless the Lord turns us, we shall not be turned! If we are willing to be turned, then we can pray for the Lord to turn us, and cooperate with Him in seeking His face. But His power is released with the story we tell.

Part of this "turning" process is LISTENING! (v8) I will hear what God the Lord will speak; AND WHAT DOES GOD SPEAK? GOD SPEAKS "PEACE!" Conclusion: God's call to comfort is a challenge to bring the love of God to people who need it. It is a challenge to say that there is a solid Rock to stand on that will never, ever pass away.

[Move now to Communion - Invitation:]

The Word is Prepare

December 5, 1993

Psalms 80

Isaiah 40:1-11

2 Peter 3:8-18

Mark 1:1-8

1. Prepare yourself for the coming of God.
2. Prepare a way for God to get to others; the voice said "Cry!"

What is the message we are to cry? That all flesh is grass? Is that supposed to be good news?

3. How does anyone "prepare" for God to come?

-the word is repent -to agree with God in all things, even those pertaining to myself

- A. The Psalm says "Turn us (repent) and we shall be saved; I will hear what the Lord will say; for he will speak peace unto his people, and to his saints."

The Psalmist has heard the stories of what God has done for His people in the past. He is longing for that blessing again. Then he asks a strange thing: He asks God to turn him around! "Turn us again, O Lord, and cause your face to shine on us!" is the way he expressed it in Psalm 80. Here he says, "Turn us, O God of our salvation, and cause Thine anger toward us to cease."

Why doesn't the Psalmist merely say, "Lord, WE are turning around! Look at us! We are repenting!"?

There is an admission of helplessness here; even our repenting is of grace! Unless the Lord turns us, we shall not be turned! If we are willing to be turned, then we can pray for the Lord to turn us, and cooperate with Him in seeking His face.

Part of this "turning" process is LISTENING! (8) I will hear what God the Lord will speak; AND WHAT DOES GOD SPEAK? GOD SPEAKS "PEACE!"

- B. Isaiah 40 says Comfort my people! The grass withers and the flower fades but the word of our God shall stand forever.

Picking up where the Psalmist leaves off, Isaiah quotes God directly. He hears God say: "COMFORT MY PEOPLE! SPEAK TO THEM OF PEACE ... THE WAR IS OVER AND WON!

Isaiah hears God speaking "Peace" but he also hears God saying TO HIS PEOPLE "CRY!" GOD SAYS YOU BE MY MESSENGERS!

And, again, what are God's messengers supposed to be saying?

There is an outline, here, of our message:

1. All flesh is grass. The grass withers, the flower fades. Is THIS supposed to be good news? You are going to grow old and die! That is news?
2. But the word of our God shall stand forever! There is something that will never fade! There is a country where there may be seasons, but there are no seasons of death!

This world that in so many ways is fatigued and frightened needs to hear God saying, "I am standing right here waiting to bring you comfort and peace and forgiveness for your sins and the fellowship of my Body the Church." And guess who God is asking to tell this good news? Do you have a pocket mirror? If you don't, then when you get home, go look in the bathroom mirror— take a good long look— because the person you see there has been asked to tell the message. And what is more, that person is asked to tell the message by being a part of the message! Don't be incongruent!

- C. Mark says: John the Baptist echoed Isaiah: Prepare the way of the Lord but also A PROMISE OF A MIGHTIER BAPTISM. John the Baptist was a messenger, one who was making a way for the coming of Immanuel.

- D. Peter says: the elements shall melt with fervent heat. What manner of persons should we be? God is long-suffering, not willing that any should perish, according to the promise. We look for a new heaven and a new earth. Be diligent that ye be found IN PEACE.

The greatest tragedy we can think about is the melting down of this material world, with all our securities and hard-earned retirement benefits. But I get a different slant when I read Peter. Isaiah said the grass would fade; Peter puts it a little more dramatically when he says this whole entire visible created universe is going to disappear, to melt down, to change or pass away.

But Peter also has confidence in one thing: God has made a promise! The promise of God is good enough to make Peter rejoice in the prospect of losing everything!

God has made a great promise. We, according to his promise, are looking for a new heaven and a new earth 2 Peter 3:13

Our message, then, is "Where you are standing may seem like rock, but it is less than an ice floe— it is going to melt away; come on over and stand on solid rock! Test the promise of a God who speaks to those who will listen.

Prayer

A Promise of Joy

December 12, 1993

Sometimes I wonder, since the Bible tells us that Jesus was born like a light shining into a darkened world, how much darker the world could have been then than it is right now! A hundred years ago optimistic Christians in this country were saying that with just a bit more education we would usher in the Millennium. And yet in this century more people have been killed in wars, and in religious persecution, and in so-called ethnic cleansing than in any other period in recorded history, and perhaps more than in all previous history combined. If ever we needed Messiah's Light, we need it just now!

Jesus has changed this world already. Many millions have found that He is as good as His word. It is impossible to imagine what this world would be today apart from the leavening influence of the Holy Spirit holding back the tides of evil and darkness through the Body of Christ on earth. But unless something like a new challenge to turn to the light is heard and heeded our civilization is headed for anarchy and chaos. I do not need to re-play the evening news; you did not come to church to be depressed. But what this world needs is the message of John the Baptist: Prepare the way for God to come!

I. (John 1:6-8) A MAN WITH A PROMISE

- A. He was a strange, mysterious figure, this man they call 'the Baptist.' His looks were odd; he might be called a "mountain man" in our day. His social skills were unorthodox to say the least— he spent most of his time in solitude, or at least with just a few disciples in the desert.

But this man was sent from God! He was a man! And he was sent! John the Baptist bridged the gap from Old Testament prophet to New Testament evangel. He had a rugged, uncompromising message. He called sin by name. He did not despise the poor; he even gave soldiers (fighting men) hope of salvation.

John the Baptist was remarkable for his humility. He had disciples, which indicates that people believed in his integrity. But John did not claim more grace than he had. And when Jesus came along John pointed the way to the Light. His testimony was "He must increase! I must decrease!"

John came for the purpose of proclaiming a PROMISE! "God has spoken," he declared. "One is coming after me who will baptize you with the very Spirit of God!"

- B. The church today needs to recover this same message: PREPARE THE WAY OF THE LORD!

We are bearers, like the herald angels, of a promise of great JOY! Like John, we may be voices crying in the wilderness. but if we will cry, the message will be heard! Only God knows what would need to take place for us to see one last Great Spiritual Awakening. We may not bring about Millennium. But we can tell the world they may trust God's Promise of GREAT JOY!

II. (Psalm 126) TEARS BEFORE HARVEST

- A. A hole where JOY should be

The world probably does not understand what JOY really is. There is a lot of laughter around, but not too many really happy people. There are many kinds of so-called "entertainment," but not very many people can say they are truly "fulfilled." And whatever JOY might be, there is an extraordinary amount of un-joy around. There are many refreshing exceptions, but a lot of what we are being taught is selfishness, hedonism, nihilism. The popular expression is "Take care of number one!"

So we have people bruising people. People hurting, and being hurt. Thank God in the Christian community sometimes we remember the admonition, "Bear one anothers' burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ!" But sometimes even we forget!

B. That HOLE is "God-shaped"

The seemingly logical answer to the need for joy is to seek after it. But it is not ever quite that simple. For JOY is not an obvious end in and of itself. That is, if we set out simply to please ourselves we can never quite make the speed that kicks us out of our self-bound orbit. Joy comes as the mighty by-product of delightful relationships! Joy is difficult to define, and there is a mysterious aspect of this "fruit of the Spirit." But we might say that JOY IS AN INNER HARMONY OF POWERFUL SATISFACTION THAT COMES AS A WITNESS TO RIGHT RELATIONSHIPS, AND THE PRIMARY RELATIONSHIP OF ALL IS VERTICAL!

C. (Psalm 126) The Psalm today gives two interesting aspects of this joy.

1. Surprisingly, the first is not our joy at all, but God's! See it there on the back of your worship folder:

I will rejoice over Jerusalem and take delight in My people, the sound of weeping and crying will be heard in it no more.

It is thrilling to me to think that the very heart of God rejoices when we, His children, look to Him with love. It is a source of joy to any child to realize that he or she is bringing pleasure to a parent. [How long has it been since you sincerely took pleasure in your child, and expressed it?]

2. But the other aspect of joy is the deliberate investment that is demanded if we are to be able to rejoice in God and in His assignment for us.

Those who sow in tears will reap with songs of joy. He who goes out weeping, carrying seed to sow, will return with songs of joy carrying sheaves with him.

If there is no sowing, there will be no harvest of joy. Joy is always the result of having faith in a dream or a vision or a promise— and then investing in that promise:

the JOY of a game well-played and won the JOY of V-J Day, when a great deal more was at stake the JOY of the last BAPTISM here in this sanctuary, as the candidates testified to DEATH TO SELFISH WAYS and to LIVING WITH AND FOR JESUS CHRIST!

D. (I Thessalonians 5) This is how Paul can urge us (in the epistle (see it there on the back of your worship folder:)

Be joyful always! Pray continually! Give thanks in all circumstances! This is God's will for you in Christ Jesus!

We may rejoice for the God who calls us to His holy fellowship is the God who makes us able. We become His new creation!

III. (Isaiah 65) CREATION NOW!

Isaiah 65:17-28 The promise of a new heaven and new earth; the call to rejoice in what God is creating; and His greatest creation is YOU!

The changed nature - "The wolf and the lamb shall graze together, and the lion shall eat straw like the ox; and dust shall be the serpent's food. They shall not do evil or harm in all my holy mountain, says the Lord."

This is a return to the theme of Peace under the Rule of Messiah; the theme of what we sometimes call "The Millennium," as seen in Chapter 11. Prophecy literalists see only a time in the future when these beasts of such different and incompatible instincts get along and "a little child shall lead them."

Certainly this poetic prophecy speaks to us of God's ability to create that which He has promised. A new heavens, a new earth will be remarkable. But the kind of creation spoken of here is beyond belief, apart from the knowledge of Jesus Christ.

=====

When the shepherds finally came to announce the birth of Messiah, after the silence of centuries their first words were

Behold I bring you glad tidings of great joy which shall be to all people . . . Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace to men of good will.

There was immediacy in that announcement. At that very time Jesus Christ had come! Immanuel was not just a promise any more, for in the very flesh here was God, bone of our bone, flesh of our flesh, in the manger of the stable of the inn in Bethlehem.

There was also promise of that which was yet to be in that announcement. The angels sang of a joy which shall be to all people. The darkness had not yet been dispelled. The light was shining, small as it seemed. The promise was that the light would never be extinguished, and that in fact it would one day illumine the whole earth.

The Word is Hope

THE STORY IN MATTHEW

Matthew 2:21 "And (Joseph) arose and took the Child and His mother, and came into the land of Israel."

For a very brief time in the beginning of the Gospels' story of Jesus, the focus of attention falls on Joseph. It is easy to pass over the importance of the part Joseph had in the life of the Lord Jesus Christ. For Joseph was the guardian of hope.

Everything that we know about Joseph is good. But in his lifetime, so far as we know, Joseph never saw the full fruition of his faith and obedience. Still, his obedience kept HOPE alive for us all, and is still bearing fruit to this day.

Joseph is the guardian of hope. Before he ever SAW any of God's promises fulfilled Joseph was willing to obey and believe. First Joseph was confronted with misunderstanding and shame. He chose to take Mary into his home. Then Joseph had the privilege of naming the Holy Child "JESUS" in accordance with what the angel had told him.

His faith was rewarded, and there were visitors who came and confirmed what he already knew; there were shepherds that very first day; there were devout people in the Temple in Jerusalem, Anna and Simeon, who confirmed and assured his heart that the Child truly was Messiah.

Then came even greater surprises; kings, strange Gentile wise men from distant lands came paying homage to the Child, and bearing costly gifts, but at the same time speaking, perhaps in surprise, that the local authorities were unaware and probably hostile to this great HOPE of all the earth. Then that very evening Joseph had a vision of the angel again warning him: "Take the young child and his mother and go to Egypt. He is in danger!"

We see this story from the perspective of centuries; we read it like a drama. How could anything ever harm the Lord's Anointed One, even as a Baby? Would not the angels keep watch over Him? If Jesus was truly God and the Son of God, why shouldn't he, Joseph, simply take the Baby to Jerusalem and proclaim Him before all the world?

But Joseph was living out his relationship with Jesus in the harsh reality of life. God's TIMING is impossible for us to figure. All Joseph knew was that precious LIFE must be protected at every and any cost! Whatever it took to keep the Baby alive and well Joseph would do! That very night, before dawn, Joseph was on the way to Egypt.

Where he stayed, what he saw— so pleasant for our speculation— the pyramids were already nearly 3,000 years old— did Joseph and Mary see them? What happened— the Bible is silent. Joseph stayed in Egypt until the angel sounded the "all clear." And then, with human fear and trembling, the Holy Family made its way back to the home town of Mary, to Nazareth, where Jesus spent the rest of his life until He began His ministry.

Joseph had the discernment of humility and obedience. He kept HOPE alive!

THE PRAYER IN EPHESIANS

What comes to us in a story in the Gospels Paul often packs into a lesson in the Letters. The connection between Joseph's obedience and this prayer in Ephesians 1 is not immediately apparent, but in both there is underscored the importance of keeping HOPE alive and well. Paul prays first of all for discernment, for enlightenment, so that believers can see what the essence of HOPE really IS.

Paul's world was dark and gullible; it was impressed with soothsayers and Caesars. Even believers were turned on by visible gifts more than they were by love and integrity; they were challenged by the show biz and glitz of their age, as we are by our own. And so Paul prayed: Lord, help my people to be able to see what is the HOPE of their calling, where the true POWER is to be found!

HOPE is not self centered! There is an element of risk involved. Hope is the confidence that God will carry through— in God's own good time.

Hope must be nurtured in obedience and faith.

Hope is related to what God can and will do.

Hope on our part has to do more with BEING than it does with DOING!

It is interesting just here how a best-selling book, The 7 Habits of Highly Effective People, by Stephen R. Covey, interacts with the Christian concept of the importance of discernment and keeping genuine HOPE alive. In his book Covey says that:

For the first 150 years of our existence as a nation we were challenged along the lines of CHARACTER: the qualities that make for quality of life and relationships: integrity, honesty, fairness, congruence between profession and life-style.

For the last 50+ years the literature of practical life has swung to the emphasis on PERSONALITY: those attributes of human nature that make for success and the appearance of completeness. Techniques and short-cuts and seminars that bring about desired results without the outlay of personal development. He says that we have been taught that if we maintain (1) good public relations, and (2) keep a positive mental attitude we can accomplish "success," whatever that is. "Success" can be had by shortcuts, including cheating in school, being insincere in business relationships, and selfish in our own families.

Interestingly, Covey says this is NOT SO. He calls his readers back to the basics of CHARACTER FOUNDATIONS.

And really, that is what Paul is praying for: that we will discern how important it is to keep HOPE alive!

THE PROMISE IN JEREMIAH 31

The third seemingly unrelated passage in this morning's message comes from "the weeping prophet," Jeremiah; a man so burdened with the hardness of his generation and the shallowness of worship that he earned that pseudonym. "Weeping prophet!" But some of the most beautiful and sensitive passages in the Bible come from Jeremiah's heart! For all ages Jeremiah caught something of the extent of HOPE which shall be, through Jesus, for all people.

The Word is Hope

How important to "nurture the Babe" and let Him grow and become Lord on His terms! How important to seek the noble way, the way of integrity and honesty before God, and leave the timing up to Him! For, according to the promises of God through Jeremiah, HOPE opens up these realities of faith:

- I will gather my people
- I will lead them
- I will turn their mourning into joy [My people will be satisfied with My goodness]
- I will be their God; they will be My people [I will write My law in their hearts and they will KNOW Me!]

CONCLUSION

Hope is what makes life worth the living. All these great stories and promises are nothing if they are cut off from where we live and where we are just now.

But HOPE must be sustained by obedience. HOPE does not follow our agenda, nor does it follow a timetable which we set. We, like Joseph, may have to move to Egypt for a while, whatever that means. We WILL have to listen carefully for God's voice. If we think we hear Him saying exactly what we want Him to say we had better be very, very careful!

For God NEVER asks us to take short, cross-lot, cheap methods into "success." God never compromises His demand that we serve Him with excellence, with the best that we have. God never sacrifices CHARACTER on the altar of PERSONALITY!

If we have the precious LIFE of Jesus within, then that LIFE must be preserved at ALL costs!

CHARACTER OVER PERSONALITY INTEGRITY OVER IMAGE JESUS OVER ALL KINGS AND GIFTS

The Church as Family

March 27, 1994 pm

Philippians 1:7 "I have you in my heart."

If you never guessed it before, "family" is pretty big with me. I hear a lot about the family under attack in our country, and I believe it. My family is far from perfect, and we made lots of mistakes in raising our four sons, I'm sure. There have been real hard times, and there have been real good times across the years. But the deepest human satisfaction I know is the love and belonging that comes with being "family."

One thing that has made our family relationships special has been the fact that while we are related by human blood, we have also very much been a part of a great family where the ties that run even deeper than blood. Not every member of our family has always been in the good graces of the church at all times, but every one of them has known that there is a real love that God's people know that lies deep.

As Bill Gaither has told us with his song, "I'm So Glad I'M a Part of the Family of God!" It is great to belong to God's family!

Every heart craves a sense of belonging. And every local church ought to foster that sense of belonging because in Father God's eyes, His church is family.

I. THE CHURCH IS FAMILY

Paul's letter to the Christians at Philippi is a "love letter" to the family of God. That idea of community in faith, of the church as family, of belonging, is more than coincidental to the lessons and commands of the letter.

Community in faith is central not only to Paul's letters, but to the entire New Testament. It is absolutely essential to any church that wants to carry out Christ's mission.

There are some places where people go to worship where the atmosphere is about as friendly and cordial as the "friendly supermarket." People are civil, even "nice" to one another, but the welfare or needs of each worshiper is no one else's business.

This is not the way vital Christians worship. Paul reminds us at the very beginning of the letter that God is our Father: ("Grace to you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ . . . " vv 1,2) Jesus taught it, this same emphasis, in the Pattern Prayer. When we come to Jesus for life, we are adopted into the family, and we are related to one another in Him. The people with whom we worship regularly become dear to us. Even more, there is a blood-relationship with every other born-again believer!

One way of fostering the sense of belonging, and the reality of "family" in the church is learning to pray for one another.

II. THE FAMILY WILL PRAY FOR ITSELF

We Christians are family by birth— but even in families love is never automatic. The most rewarding and passionate love will die unless it is nourished. God intends that we pray for one another! Paul writes " (v3-5) I thank my God in all my remembrance of you . . ." Paul wrote to remind the Philippian Christians, "I am praying for you!" And he asked the Ephesians (see the chapter just preceding) "Please pray for me!" (Ephesians 6:19)

If you need a deeper sense of "belonging" begin to pray for the Body! Pray like Paul says he prayed("I thank God for you every time I think of you") rather than first of all being critical or fault-finding. In verse eight Paul says: "When I think of you I get warm feelings in my insides!" Prayer enhances love. I question whether it is possible to pray consistently for someone and hate him/her at the same time.

III. THE FAMILY PRAYS SPECIFIC PRAYERS

HOW do we pray for each other? What really IS God's will for you? for me? Is it enough to mention a name and say, "Bless her!"? "Bless him!"? What do we mean by "bless"? Perhaps when we have prayer lists our mind passes along the list, we think of those people with kindness— but then there are times when the Spirit draws and leads us to pray for a certain person, or a specific need.

Paul prayed specific prayers. He says (v 9-11) "And this I pray ."

1. For increasing love! We never dare to take love for granted at any level. We need to tell our family— our children, our wives our husbands often. We need to tell our little children with our faces and with hugs. And when they are not so cute or cuddly we need to tell them then, too. Especially then!

[I had a dear Christian father. But this week I recalled an incident when my dad was extra harsh with me when I was about sixteen— over a small thing like how I should wear my tie. It really hurt— because I thought— I knew he was more interested in what people would think of him than he was in how I felt. He never knew then— and he will never know now because I have forgiven him long ago. He didn't mean anything evil— but I still remember with some pain 48 years later!]

This is true in your family; it is also true of the family of God. We need to thank God for one another. Certainly we have our faults. We know each other's weaknesses. A good team covers and plays to strength. A group of individuals shows each other up so they will look better. But we are family! [Paul also prayed. . .]

2. For discernment to choose between good, better, and best. The pressure is always on to simply "settle" for what we can get away with. but Paul always had in his mind that he would give an account for his life to God. So in the light of judgment Paul prayed that the church family would have discernment to choose the very best! [Last, in this particular prayer Paul Prayed . . .]
3. For fruitfulness! Paul wanted the family of God to know the pure delight of pleasing God. "Fruit" is mentioned in at least two ways in the New Testament in reference to believers. One aspect is the fruit of the Spirit, and has to do with the quality of the inner life, as well as the love with which we fill out our relationships to God and to each other. Paul certainly wanted the family to be "quality people," with this fruit of the Spirit manifested in our daily lives.

IV. A CALL OF OUR CHURCH FAMILY TO PRAYER

{Ephesians 6:18,19 "Be on the alert for all the saints, with perseverance and petition..."}

I take liberty (homiletically) to move back into Ephesians to get the actual challenge from Paul in this final word on the church as family, which is a call to family prayer. Paul calls for prayer for the entire church— and then he humbly asks (6:19) "Pray for me, too, please!" The great apostle needed, asked for— even begged for prayer!

Maybe we already do pray for each other a lot. But with the pressures of springtime coming, and with the challenges the enemy would give us when we begin to see victory along some lines I wonder if you would accept a word of concern from your pastor?

1. I would ask you to become a committee of one to pray for the peace of our church family between now and when the work and witness team leaves for Holland in June. I would ask you to be a committee of one to pray for the small groups that are meeting to seek Christ-likeness— that they will be folded into the purpose of Christ for the entire church, and not just for their own spiritual satisfaction.

IF EVERY LAST ONE OF US DOES OUR VERY BEST BEFORE GOD WE WILL UTTERLY FAIL IN ACCOMPLISHING WHAT GOD HAS IN MIND FOR OUR CHURCH! The key in that surprising statement is "OUR very best!" For IF WE ALL SEEK GOD'S VERY BEST FOR THE CHURCH THEN TOGETHER WE CAN SEE VICTORY WE NEVER DREAMED POSSIBLE!

2. Pray in a specific way for:.. Anyone who is difficult for you to understand or love. I am not even suggesting that you go to her or him, for you might well be misunderstood. but I challenge you to pray God's very best will be done, that salvation and Christ-likeness may be hers or his!
3. Pray for Your immediate family, for loved ones and dear friends. Maybe someone that you love but don't usually think of as needing extra prayer.

4. Finally, pray for Yourself— for an opportunity to talk about Jesus— just the opportunity and the leading of the Spirit when it comes to take advantage of it in the Spirit of Jesus Himself.

Conclusion

The kind of prayer we need will not necessarily come in one great night of effort, although along the way there may be those extra pushes. But when the entire family of God begins to get in the habit of "Thank God every time we remember one another . . . " and when we "Pray that one another's love may abound in every good work . . . " God will answer those prayers in ways we never dreamed possible. It is HIS church, HIS family. If we will forget about individual glory and praise, and be His Body He will answer our prayers and equip us to carry forward as we have never done before!

Prayer

Hymn No. 512 Take Time to Be Holy

The Son of Consolation

May 8, 1994

A Brief Sketch of Barnabus

1 John 4:7 Beloved, let us love one another, for love is from God, and everyone who loves is born of God and knows God. The one who does not love does not know God, for God is love.

The apostle, John, tradition tells us, was finally released from his exile on the Isle of Patmos, and lived to an extremely old age.

He is said to have been carried, very frail, to the services of worship where he would say from his pallet, "Little children, love one another!" I have always liked St. John. Long before I was ever a pastor I wanted to pattern my life and spirit after his.

The reason John is so attractive is that he wrote a lot about love. We feel more comfortable when we hear about the love of God than we do when we hear of His holiness. And yet the nearer we draw to the love of God the brighter it shines, and the more we are struck with a sense of holy wonder. God's love is an awesome thing to experience.

St. John says some very strong things in this text which I am using to introduce one of the truly loving persons of the Bible, Barnabus. John says (1) to truly love is to be born of God. Love is of the very essence of what it means to be Christian. Usually we accept that. But then John also says (2) the person who does NOT love not only is NOT born again, but he or she does not even KNOW God. Now THAT is strong language. John is saying, if I understand him correctly, that it doesn't take positive, evil acts to separate me from God— sins that I DO— - but he is clearly saying that something negative— the LACK of something— something I DO NOT DO— can prove I don't even know God at all.

John makes it clear that love is not an option, not the deluxe route to go after we are sure of heaven because we have said the right words at an altar somewhere. John says that if we do not love one another we are NOT Christians and we do NOT know God.

But, you say, there are brothers and sisters that simply are not all that easy to love. What are we to do?

Like forgiveness, which is closely related to Christian love, the kind of love John is writing about here is as much for the person who loves as it is for those who are the objects of both love and forgiveness. You can go to heaven if people don't love you, but you can not go to heaven if you don't love people! You can get to heaven if people do not forgive you. But you can't get there if you are unwilling to forgive. I didn't say that. Guess who did? Jesus said, "If you do not forgive others their trespasses, neither will the heavenly Father forgive you your trespasses." (Matthew 6:15) So we find that forgiveness and love benefit most the one who forgives and loves. We should love if for no other reason than this fact: love transforms the one who learns to love like Jesus.

I. LOVE TRANSFORMS THE ONE WHO LOVES

- A. Barnabus is one of the most kindly, attractive people in the Bible. Every time he is mentioned he is helping, lifting, or encouraging. How, do you suppose, Barnabus got that way?
- B. Whenever we use the word "love," it is always necessary to give some kind of definition. Love, in one form or other, drives or motivates humankind. But much, no, most of the motivating love we see is curved around to look like greed (love of money) or lust (love of sensation apart from commitment) or racism (love of security) or selfishness (love of self to the exclusion of all else.) I am not now speaking about love that is centered in one's self, or even in one's ideas of what is good. We human beings are so mixed up that everything we do is complicated, along with the reasons why we do what we do.

This love of God, this "agapé" love I would speak about, is a love that is centered in a Higher Cause than self, that wills the good of another. It is more than filial love, that is centered in the human relationships and community, or to erotic love, which is based on the physical attraction God built into us, and which is good, but which easily degenerates into selfishness and worse. The love John is writing about, the love which characterized and transformed Barnabus is a God-given, God-centered love that risks believing in others, and that sometimes takes the chance that possibly the one loved might go wrong. The love Barnabus manifested forgives others, because it knows it has been forgiven. That kind of "agapé" love reflects the love of God to others. I need that kind of love. And so do you!

II. LOVE TRANSFORMS THE ONE WHO IS LOVED

- A. Barnabus was probably responsible for more books of the Bible than anyone else! He had the gift of encouragement. When the church was desperate for money we see Barnabus (Acts: 4:37) selling property and laying the money at Peter's feet. He kept the wheels turning.

Then much later an older Barnabus sponsored and even championed a young man others thought was a failure. Paul said, "John Mark is not dependable, He is not to be trusted." [Translation: He is a flake!] But Barnabus stood by John Mark even when it meant looking like a rebel, breaking up the team. And Mark went on to write the oldest and most basic of the Gospels, many say with the help of Peter.

He never would have been there to write the gospel if Barnabus had let him be written off after he failed on Cyprus.

- B. But if Barnabus never did anything else, the transforming power and grace of his influence on St. Paul would have made his entire life worthwhile. Thirteen books of the New Testament came from Paul's quill pen or stylus, but who do you suppose was responsible for bringing him into prominence in the church?

1. Saul of Tarsus was arrested by Christ on the Damascus Road (Acts 9:1-19) and a disciple named Ananias, of Damascus, was brave enough to pray with him and call him "brother." But when immediately the enemies of the church, Saul's former gang members, plotted to kill him as a traitor, and when Saul escaped Damascus and fled to Jerusalem, the Bible tells us, "he was trying to associate with the disciples, and they were all afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple." (Acts 9:28) Enter Barnabus! The scripture tells us that Barnabus took Saul in tow, brought him to the apostles, believed in him, sponsored him. And what did the apostles do? The brothers sent him away to Tarsus where he continued in obscurity for some time.

Possibly it was the three years when Paul spent time studying in the desert.

2. During this time the church enjoyed another brief respite from extreme persecution. They had been scattered after Stephen's death, but now after Saul's conversion there was another lull in the opposition, and the church continued to grow in numbers, now all over the Middle East and beyond. Barnabus was sent to Antioch (Acts 11:22) and while he was there he took a side trip to Tarsus especially to look up Saul. What Barnabus could not have known, nor the rest of the church, was that persecution was about to resume with a vengeance under Herod Agrippa (Acts 12:1-3 et al) But Barnabus found Saul, and asked him to join his gospel team, and encouraged him to get into missionary work. It was the beginning of the career of the world's greatest missionary.
3. Until this new persecution broke out, the Word has been proclaimed mostly to the Jews. God has made it clear that His grace in Christ is for all people. But no one could have anticipated that Barnabus, in his generous spirit of comfort and consolation, led by the Holy Spirit, had located and discovered and recruited the Church's great apostle to the Gentiles.
4. The pupil that Barnabus mentored soon left him behind, literally. They disagreed so sharply (Acts 15:36) that their group was broken up after one missionary journey. But even in this dispute my heart goes with Barnabus! He was sticking up for the underdog. And whatever Paul achieved in writing half the books in the New Testament, and defining a theology of grace, and in preaching from Asia to Spain, Barnabus had a share because of the love of a humble man who himself had been transformed, and who in turn dared to risk loving another with that same transforming love of God.

III. THE TRANSFORMING POWER OF GOD'S LOVE

- A. God's love enables us to love others. Believe me, it isn't always easy to love as God would have us to love. God's love may be unconditional, but it is not blind to sin, wrong, injustice, or the need for correction. Barnabus did not hesitate to tell Paul when he believed Paul was too harsh. Paul did not hesitate to get in Peter's face and tell him he was acting like a hypocrite (see Galatians 2). But before we can oppose people we had better be solemn sure that we love them.

God's love doesn't make us less human; it does help us incarnate what we believe. It (amazingly) does enable us to give up all bitterness and malice and anger and wrath and clamor. It does (amazingly) enable us to say with our Lord, "Father, forgive them!"

- B. God's love helps us to accept the transforming grace of God for ourselves.

We are changed when we understand how much Jesus loves us. That change is sanctification. We are transformed, and we are being transformed. Not one of us is absolutely like Jesus Christ, nor will we ever become God. But we are being transformed even now. And when the time comes that we see Jesus face to face we shall be glorified until even our bodies will be changed. We will be able to exist, to live in His Presence with exceeding great joy!

- C. Jesus loves YOU! Jesus has chosen YOU! If you will accept that fact humbly and simply, God will go to work on your very being. You will be changed the moment you can say, by the help of the Spirit, "Jesus is LORD!" And then that transformation will continue if you will allow the love of God to penetrate every corner of your life and living.

COMMUNION INVITATION

You have not chosen me. I have chosen you. Be a Barnabus! We cannot all be Pauls or Peters. We can all let God's love help us forgive. (Is there one soul on the face of God's earth you cannot forgive? Do you really know God?)

The God Questions

May 29, 1994

TRINITY SUNDAY

John 3:3 Jesus answered [Nicodemus:] "Very truly, I tell you, no one can see the kingdom of God without being born from above."

On a day called Trinity Sunday you might imagine that we ought to consider the deep and profound mystery of the Triune God. But when we begin asking deep and profound questions, as Nicodemus did one night to Jesus, we find that Jesus does not deal in abstract speculation. Instead He challenges us about life in the Spirit, and He asks us if we are ready to live by the very breath of the Spirit. We come to know God when we respond to His self-revelation. We come face to face with that revelation when we dare to ask what I call the God-questions.

To begin to think about God, as impertinent as it sounds, we have to ask at least three God-questions: (1) IS THERE A GOD? (2) WHAT IS GOD LIKE? (3) WHAT IS THIS GOD TO ME?

I. IS THERE A GOD?

It may seem sacrilegious to ask such a question from a Christian pulpit. Of course there is a God! As a church we certainly are not neutral in this matter. We believe it, we teach it. We certainly don't intend to leave to our children to decide for themselves when they turn eighteen. We have all been brought up on the (good) assumption that there is, indeed, a God.

And yet for most people God is not very "real." The fact is that many believers—even professing Christians—live from day to day as though God did not exist at all.

"IS there a God?" YES! And yet each one of us has to answer that question for ourselves! This is a God-question— a question that only God can finally answer by revealing Himself. There are what Morris Weigelt calls "intersections"— God-crossed moments in each of our lives when we KNOW we have encountered God.

Oh, we could speak of evidences: (1) We see God in His Creation: the heavens declare the glory of God! (2) We come up against the fact of God in The written word: "God at sundry times and divers manners has in the past spoken to us by His prophets! (3) The highest "proof" of God is The Living Word: Jesus said, "If you have seen ME you have seen the Father!"

But finally, God Himself must make Himself known to us. And He does, He will, if we are prepared to respond. He does this in many different ways.

[I think on this college-dominated weekend of the godly men and women who showed me God's face while they taught me here at E.N.C. I have a portrait of Bertha Munro on my study wall. God has spoken to us by their faith; faith revealed to faith. And I often wonder can OUR LIVES answer, begin to answer that question for those who may be seeking an answer?]

It is a question that cannot be satisfied by cold logic and facts, but God still does convince and assure us when we dare to look for Him (Hebrews 11:6.) We seek Him with the gift of faith, and He makes Himself known. Have you been thinking of intersections in YOUR life where this question has been answered beyond doubt for you?

But that brings us to a second question:

II. WHAT IS GOD LIKE?

There are plenty of people who are ready to answer this question for us if we will let them. Some of the answers are helpful, or even necessary.

We have our "official" definitions of God; the Manual of the Church of the Nazarene states:

"We believe in one eternally existent, infinite God, Sovereign of the Universe; that He only is God, creative and administrative, holy in nature, attributes, and purpose; that He, as God, is Triune in essential being, revealed as Father, Son and Holy Spirit."

Such definitions are both good and necessary. But they are not complete or exhaustive. And they don't leave us with a very warm feeling.

The Bible gives more light on the question of what God is like; there are names that are deeply significant. Names like Elohim (power;) and "the unspeakable name" which the ancient Hebrews would not speak— the name Moses heard as I AM THAT I AM, the name we call Jehovah and scholars usually call Yahweh. The Jews had compound names Jehovah-Jirah (the LORD will provide) and Jehovah-Nissi (the LORD my banner) and Jehovah-Shalom (the LORD send peace) and Jehovah-Shammah (the LORD is there) and Jehovah-Tsidkenu (the LORD our righteousness.) Another Hebrew name for God was "El Shaddai" (God our Nourisher) "Adonai" which means lord or master was usually spoken when the 'unspeakable name' was read with the eye.

Jesus told us a lot about God; He showed us that God is SPIRIT, and that God is LIGHT and God is LOVE and God is LIFE ETERNAL. Interpreted and illuminated by the other New Testament writers we learn to say that God is HOLY, God is ETERNAL, God is Father, Son and Holy Spirit. We say that God is OMNIPRESENT and OMNISCIENT and OMNIPOTENT.

And the very highest insight we can have into the question WHAT IS GOD LIKE? is Jesus Himself. It was E. Stanley Jones who was famous for saying, "We have a Christ-like God!"

But once again— this is a God-question. Many people are genuinely convinced that God exists. But all too many of them do not know for themselves that God is like Jesus, His Son— loving, full of grace and truth; and that God is present in this world by His Holy Spirit. In His great love, God reveals that He truly is like His Son, Jesus. In Jesus God has come all the way to where we live.

But there is a third God-question. And if we are open and honest before Him we will face the challenge:

III. WHAT IS THIS GOD TO ME?

God IS, and that's a fact which we may be convinced of. God is like Jesus, and we can believe that, too. But nothing really happens in the spiritual world until by grace we respond to God in a person-to-Person connection. The greatest question is not just what God is, or what He is like, as important as those questions are. But the important question for you and for me is Who is God to YOU?

Jesus put it to Nicodemus this way: You can't even SEE the kingdom of God until you are born again! The Spirit has to breathe life into your being! If you don't have a personal relationship with God you are window dressing in the kingdom of God, absolutely void of spiritual life and power.

Two-hundred-fifty-six years ago last Tuesday— although in 1738 it was a Wednesday- - an Anglican priest went half-heartedly to a small group Bible study and prayer meeting. The study was Romans. The leader read an introduction to the book by Martin Luther. The Anglican priest said later that as the leader was reading he felt his heart was strangely warmed, and he knew in his heart that he was a Christian, his sins forgiven, the assurance of his salvation certain.

Before that hour John Wesley had eloquently answered God-questions one and two both with word and with deed. He knew more about God then than most of us will ever know, perhaps. But after he answered the third question he did not just know about God, he knew that he KNEW GOD! And his Gospel message abruptly changed, and he began to go about his duties with a different emphasis. "You can KNOW God! You can KNOW YOU ARE SAVED!" And in the next 50 years John Wesley changed the course of history!

Jesus does not deal in abstract speculation. He asks us if we are ready to live by the very breath of the Spirit. He says to YOU "Are YOU born of the Spirit of God?" If you want to know more about God, let Him have your heart! God has made Himself known to you in many ways! You know that He is a God who loves you so much that He gave His only begotten Son so that you might have eternal life. But who is this God TO YOU just now?

Prayer: Great God, our Father, our Friend! Speak again to us today! Help us to know not only THAT You are, and WHAT You are— but help us to KNOW YOU! Help us to belong to YOU! Help us to return Your great love, and share it with a world that needs You. Amen

#42 (in Sing to the Lord) Praise, My Soul the King of Heaven

The Question

September 11, 1994

Mark 8:29 But who do you say that I am?

Jesus asked his disciples two questions as they walked into the hills north of Galilee. The pace of ministry had been fast and furious, but now they were alone on the road. Those two questions are still penetrating questions today.

Jesus said, "Who are people saying that I am?" And then he asked the question that came very close: "But who do you say that I am?"

The first question drew a variety of responses. The second question brought a response from Peter that Matthew tells us brought a blessing from the Master. Consider with me those two questions again:

I. WHO DO PEOPLE SAY JESUS IS ?

A. The fact is that there are a lot of different answers to this:

1. there are many "wrong answers;" that is, answers which contradict the clear teachings of the Bible. Some of these wrong answers are evil; Jesus has been attacked and vilified across the ages. Some of these wrong answers are simply ignorant or incomplete such as, "Jesus was a great teacher, or a martyr, or an Essene revolutionary."
2. there are probably many "right answers" as well. Every sermon, every good book, and in a sense, even what Matthew, Mark, Luke and John say about Jesus are right answers to this first question of Jesus.
 — I've been asking fellow Christians all week who Jesus is to them— and while I believe every one of them really knows Jesus I have gotten a variety of answers: Jesus is a "Listener ... a Shepherd ... a Guide ... our Intercessor."

B. The fact is that, apart from the inspired Scriptures, the answer that is given about who Jesus is tells more about the person answering the question than it does about Jesus Himself. For this is a watershed question. Jesus is finally known by revelation; Jesus is known by faith; Jesus is the I AM, and what each one of us think about him does not change him, and yet every individual must know Jesus in a personal, unique relationship.

II. WHO DID PETER SAY JESUS IS ?

- A. Peter, of course, gave the right answer. He was like the kid that sat in the front seat right in front of the teacher with his hand up when you were in the fifth grade. Peter always had something to say. And this time he hit the nail on the head. "You are the Messiah!" Matthew tells us that Jesus said, "You are blessed, Simon, son of John! Flesh and blood did not reveal this to you. My Father, God in heaven, has given you this insight!"

And then Jesus went on to say that this confession of Peter is foundational to the kingdom of God.

- B. The great confession of Peter did not keep him from having mistaken ideas about the mission of Jesus. he still had a lot to learn, and a long way to go. But he was on his way. And that is the lesson from this chapter— if we are simply studying it as we would a history lesson.

But Jesus by his Spirit speaks through these pages and he asks you, and he asks me:

III. WHO DO YOU SAY THAT I AM ?

- A. A PERSONAL WITNESS CAN BE A POWERFUL WITNESS

Some time ago Pastor Martin Copenhaver, of Wellesley Congregational Church preached on this passage. He had been to a seminar where Michael Greene, a British scholar of the history of evangelism, had challenged a group of pastors with: "When was the last time you told your congregation what Jesus means to you?" Later he wrote in his study, "As a pastor I talk a good deal about Jesus, but do I say what Jesus means to me?" He decided he would try to do just that.

As a pastor in the UCC he said, "Our forebears in the faith worried that they might be seen as heretics. Today we (UCC people) seem to be more worried about being taken for fundamentalists." So in personal, devotional terms Pastor Copenhaver tried to tell his people just what Jesus meant to him.

Evidently the sermon was quite a personal testimony. After the service Pastor Copenhaver noticed one dear lady whom he respected as one of the "saints of Zion" came through the line to shake his hand, and could not speak— and went around and got at the end of the line again to give herself time to compose herself. When she finally came the second time she simply said, "Why didn't you tell us this before?"

Copenhaver writes: "I did not know how to respond. Now her question, along with (Michael} Greene's, continues to haunt me."

B. A PERSONAL WITNESS CAN ALSO BE A CHALLENGE

I have wrestled with this question this week; what would I put into a sermon like Pastor Copenhaver's? Don't worry, I am not going to talk about myself and my relationship with God for a long time just now. But I assure you that the prospect of laying aside other people's correct answers— and even laying aside what the Bible says Jesus is supposed to be to me— and telling you truthfully who Jesus is to me has been a challenging experience!

I have been reminded again and again of Reuben Welch's sermon from this very pulpit (he is going to be with us for "Say Yes '95 in January, Lord willing!) when Reuben said, "I know Jesus! I want you to understand, I really do know Him! But sometimes I think I hardly know Jesus at all!" I understood then exactly what he was saying.

Who is Jesus to me?

Jesus is a Presence. I have never seen Him, but I cannot imagine life without Him. I talk to Him, and I listen for Him. I wish I could hear His voice, but He does speak from time to time, as I'm sure He does to you, too.

Jesus is a Friend, but a Friend with a capital "F." He is not my "peer," not someone I consult before I decide whether to do His will or not. There are many decisions that I have to make, and Jesus lets me make them, along with my share of mistakes. But when I know—when Jesus makes known his will— there is no decision further. I have already decided many years ago that I will follow Jesus.

Jesus LOVES me! I confess that I don't understand why— and sometimes it is hard to believe. But I DO believe it! I learned "Jesus loves me this I know" before I can remember. I never knew a time when I didn't know that. But that love has been dawning on me, little by little, more and more, for all the years of my life! I really want to return that love ...

Conclusion:

I would seriously like to give you an assignment. (That is all you need: another assignment!) This is an assignment that can go along with or be a part of your quiet times for the next few days or weeks. The assignment is to think pointedly about who you really say that Jesus Christ is:

1. with your understanding; do you believe that Jesus is the Son of God? Do you believe that Jesus IS God?
2. with your emotions; do you LOVE Jesus? Perhaps that is not altogether a proper way to frame it, for LOVE is more than feelings, that's for sure. But does your heart reach out to this Person who loves you so very, very much? Do you respond to his love? Paul says, "I plead with you by the great and tender love of God to present your bodies a living sacrifice ..."
3. with your will: do you accept Jesus as your Master? Will you report to him each morning and say, "I have given you my life back there at an altar, back there at camp... back there in revival.. I have given you my life— NOW HELP ME TO LIVE ONE DAY FOR YOU— TODAY— YOU SHOW ME WHAT TO DO AND I WILL DO IT!

And then, ask Jesus, your Friend, to help you share THAT reality with your friends, and with everyone who will listen.

God Our Home

October 9, 1994

Psalm 90:1 Lord, Thou hast been our dwelling place through all generations.

Hebrews 3:6 [Christ Jesus] whose house are we.. if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end ...

Ephesians 3: 14 - 21 That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith...

There is a recurring theme here of "home" or "dwelling" or "abiding." The Psalmist says, "Lord YOU have been our dwelling place." Then in Hebrews and again in Paul's prayer in Ephesians 3 God is spoken of as dwelling or living in us. Hebrews seems to say that together, as a body, Christ is building us into a house where he can dwell. Paul prays "that Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith." And do you remember Jesus saying to us (John 15) "If you abide in ME, and my words abide in you . . . ask what you will!" We do not dare overlook this theme of abiding, dwelling, being "at home."

There is a deep longing built into your heart and mine for "home." What makes "home" is more than place (although that can be very important.) People—PERSONS - are really what "home" is all about.

God has made us for community. It is great when families love each other and trust each other. It is great when communities are more than just isolated individuals. Friends I made while in college are still as close to me or closer than some blood relatives. God has made us for lasting fellowship with Himself. Beyond human love (and what escapes us sometimes) is the lesson that God has also made us to be more and more at home with HIM.

He does not demand that we be hermits and give up human friendship to draw near to Him. He has made it clear that He certainly intends that we love one another. But God does desire that we learn that He is the reason for that deep longing for "home." That ache in our hearts for God is the most important desire we will ever have.

We hesitate to call this God-hunger the most important quality of our faith. We think the most important thing is success, or productivity, or ministry. (The elder brother in the story of the Prodigal— was faithful in his chores— but the father wanted his affection, and wanted him to love his brother.) The most important thing in all the world is being "at home" with God. God our dwelling place; Christ "at home" in us.

Henri J. M. Nouwen, as reported in the most recent Christianity Today, once told a gathering of Baptist ministers these shocking words:

"Ministry is the least important thing. You cannot NOT minister if you are in communion with God and live in a community. A lot of people are always concerned about: 'How can I help people? Or help the youth come to Christ? Or preach well?' But these are all basically non-issues. If you are burning with the love of Jesus, don't worry: everyone will know. They will say, 'I want to get close to this person who is so full of God.'" CT, Oct 3, '94, 28

This strikes home to me as I read it, because drawing close to God, being filled with Him is demanding work. It begins when we decide that God's will is worth anything, that God's way is best even when we don't understand it. It begins in earnest with the "BREAKING" part of sacramental living. It seems sometimes that we are willing to do almost anything to avoid "being broken"!

"Who is Henri Nouwen?" "Does he do any ministering?" "Has he ever accomplished anything?" Many of you are "old friends" with Henri Nouwen, but others have yet to meet him. He is one of my favorite devotional authors, a Hollander who began studying to be a simple parish priest, but had such a brilliant mind he was almost pushed into academia. After years of what might only be termed "brilliant" successes, as a tenured professor at Yale, as the author of a score or more good books, and working in Latin America and spending time in a monastery in Genesee, New York, and teaching at Harvard University, for the last eight years Henri Nouwen has been pastor of a community of mentally and physically handicapped persons, located just north of Toronto, Ontario.

As gifted and productive as Nouwen has been, he has always been restless, and to a certain extent rootless, but now he has found a sense of being at home in his ministry to the people who do not know him as "that famous holy man," but just Henri, who cares about them.

Nouwen wrote that the more "important" he became, the more empty he felt; until when he got to Harvard it was very difficult for him to maintain the simple contact of being at home with God (MY words of interpretation.) One big reason Nouwen feels at home is because he experiences God's love through people who love him for himself, and not because he is a celebrity. He says,

"If (handicapped people) express love for you, then it comes from God. It's not because you have accomplished anything. These broken, wounded, and completely unpretentious people forced me to let go of my relevant self— the self that can do things— and forced me to reclaim that unadorned self in which I am completely vulnerable, open to receive and give love regardless of my accomplishments."

So Henri spends much of his routine days caring for people who cannot take care of themselves, and would be outcasts in the world at large. Just a few more words of wisdom from this modern day holy man:

"The evangelical movement has become just a bit victimized by a success-oriented culture, wanting the church— like the corporation— to be successful. On that level the mystical tradition of communion with Christ is important. 'I am the vine, you are the branches. If you remain connected with me, then you will bear fruit.' The fruit is not success." CT, Oct 3, '94, 29

But strangely enough, to be "at home" or seeking to be at home in God, or to make God at home in us— does not lessen real spiritual accomplishment. Nouwen's spiritual journey is not over, and he continues to be a blessing through all the evangelical Christian world.

One other person who rejected "success" in favor of spending a life-time seeking to be "at home" with God was a man who once was a student at a sister holiness college. As a young man this young man, Stanley Jones, sought to be sanctified entirely, set apart for whatever God wanted in his life. I suppose there have been others who did what he did, but I never saw one in our own denomination: Stanley was offered- - elected— to the highest post in the United Methodist Church— elected a bishop. It is like being elected a General Superintendent. Certainly God's will! But Stanley Jones turned it down and instead went back to India where he was serving as a missionary. He was one of the great Christians of modern day times. Truly a holy man, Jones was at times controversial, outspoken. Let me tell you a little of the story of a man who was learning to be "at home" in God:

As a seventeen-year-old, he was converted under the hell-fire ministry of Evangelist Robert J. Bateman (who went down on the Titanic.) Stanley went on to seek and claim the experience of entire sanctification. He began to read Hanna Smith's book The Christian's Secret of a Happy Life, and on page 42 the Holy Spirit said: "Now!" Stanley obeyed, and without any emotional surge he claimed the fullness. He testifies that it saved him from the extremes of emotionalism and of rationalism. Stanley was from that moment "all out" for God— with no holds barred.

He professed to be called to preach— but forgot his outline in his first sermon and left the pulpit, dumbfounded. But before he got to his seat, he felt he should give his testimony; and a young man came forward and was converted [— and later entered the ministry.]

Stanley did not take his crisis of being sanctified wholly to be a static, milestone in the past sort of thing. He wanted to be being filled with the Spirit! He told of how as a student at Asbury, in a dorm-room prayer meeting, the Holy Spirit moved in in a way that Stanley had never known before— and never knew quite the same way again.

He was "spirit (Spirit) intoxicated!" for three or four days. After a day or so the emotion almost totally wore off; but there was a sense of God's Presence that swept the entire community. Every student in that Christian college professed to a right relationship with the Lord, along with scores of people from the community.

And for Stanley, that filling became the touchstone for a life of living in the fullness— depending on the fullness— again and again breaking into the fullness of the Presence of the Lord. Whatever it took for Christ to be "at home" Stanley wanted that more than anything. He declares he did not live on "mountaintops" or speak in tongues— did not know extremes of emotions. He simply lived in the fullness of the Presence.

As we said at the beginning, he was elected a Bishop of his church— the highest honor that could be offered— and graciously declined so that he could continue a missionary in the poorest country of the world that he knew. He touched thousands of lives. He spoke here in 1949— and I still remember his text!

He was controversial. He was wrong many times. He said himself that there were times when he went on his own judgment and failed.

Stanley Jones learned to live in the dynamic of being filled with the Spirit. He knew his crisis of being sanctified. He had his mountaintop experience(s) of full assurance. And then he simply lived in the expectancy and the dependency and the obedience of the Spirit-filled, Spirit-dominated, Spirit-saturated life! When you looked at E. Stanley Jones you saw an ordinary man. When Stanley Jones spoke and acted, somehow Jesus was exalted! There is a deep longing built into your heart and mine for "home." HOW CAN YOU AND I FOLLOW THAT SPIRITUAL HOME-SICKNESS AND FIND OUR HOME IN GOD, AND MAKE GOD AT HOME IN US? I really believe that God wants to make his home in your heart; he wants to share every part of your life. (Revelation 3:21)

1. God has CHOSEN you— called you to himself. Have you responded to God's choice? Are you His child? You are already loved! But when God calls, we need to respond!
2. God has BLESSED you. If you have asked Him to save you, He has already give you his Spirit and increasingly wants you to have the full fruit of the Spirit. There are gifts and graces waiting for you. All the resources of God's storehouses of grace are available to make you all God wants you to become.
3. God needs to BREAK you! HERE IS WHERE THE RUBBER MEETS THE ROAD! God does not have servants who serve Him because of fear, or because they are trying to save themselves, or any other selfish reason! God asks that we make our lives available to Him simply because we love Him and trust Him!

We cannot plumb the depths of being at home in God until we are willing to empty out the things that hinder, and set aside our own will and "die out!" (Holiness people may have said some pretty extravagant things here. The fact remains there needs to be a sacrifice made:) Romans 12: 1,2. We must renounce the sovereignty of self forever in favor of God's good will.

And then God will see to it that we are GIVEN where He says we are needed! There is where the JOY is! Wherever God's will and our loving obedience coincide there finally is the greatest joy we can know!

I want to minister well; I want to be a good preacher, or a good "do-er." But far, far more— I really want to be the kind of person Henri Nouwen was talking about— remember what he said:

If you are burning with the love of Jesus, don't worry: everyone will know. They will say, 'I want to get close to this person who is so full of God.'

THAT puts me under conviction! The world is waiting for people who are really at home with God, and in whom God is at home. The world will seek out a church where God is pleased to be "at home."

Prayer

Hymn #462 Sweet Will of God

Between Alpha and Omega

November 20, 1994

Christ the King Sunday

Did you ever sit at a window seat in an airplane and fly over your house, or over a part of the country you have lived in? I have... and I am usually amazed at how different it looks from the overview. I am always fascinated when I get the chance to fly at just how different everything looks when I am up above, and looking down on familiar scenes, seeing them in context.

GOD SEES THE END FROM THE BEGINNING, AND HE HAS PROMISED HE WILL NOT FORGET US, AND THAT HE WILL CARE FOR HIS CHILDREN

I. THE ETERNAL OVERVIEW: GOD IS SOVEREIGN - Daniel 7

Because of the gift of FAITH, we can end the year— and begin it again— with the certain knowledge that God IS, and that God is GOOD, and, as Hebrews tells us, God is a rewarder of them that diligently seek Him.

Actually that is a faith statement. The glory of the Eternal is beyond description. But Daniel, and John on Patmos, and Isaiah, and others have "cracked open the door just a little" into the vistas of eternity, and have given us a glimpse into the glory. They give us a picture of a holy God, a God of Light and glory.

Into this glory comes a person, a human, a son of man, and to him is given the kingdom which will never pass away

This is usually taken as a prediction, something which shall take place. If we can understand, this is a view into eternity; this is the way God sees it just now. It is a finished and completed fact: Jesus is Lord! From everlasting to everlasting, from before Creation as we know it the word of the Lord has been settled in heaven.

II. THE VIEW OF THE "SON OF MAN" ON ASSIGNMENT - John 18

[We skip over this title "Son of Man" when Jesus uses it, but do you see the significance? In Daniel's picture of eternity it is the "Son of man" who receives dominion and glory and a kingdom that is everlasting.]

- A. There are two passages that can be used for "Christ the King" Sunday. If we used the passage from Mark 11 we see there a king who enters Jerusalem on a little donkey. A crowd of very ordinary citizens are cheering, little children are waving palm branches and shouting "Hosanna to the Son of David!" In this one parade that Jesus ever permitted, it is hardly a state occasion. No brass band— no waving silken banners. Yet it does unsettle the authorities.
- B. In this passage (John 18) the scene seems even less "kingly," at least on the surface of it. There is some pomp and ceremony; Jesus does not have any of it. Pilate represents the conquering power of Rome; he cannot afford not to show his power. There is a palatial residence, and a royal, uniformed guard. A robed representative of the mightiest earthly kingdom in the world comes to the entrance of a courtyard where a solitary prisoner, obviously weary and bruised, stands bound.

How can this possibly be the scripture for "Christ the King?" How can we understand? Pilate is supposed to be making a judgment on whether or not Jesus is worthy of death.

You remember the outcome— the verdict was "Innocent! I find no fault in this man!" The sentence was death by crucifixion.

III. THE ETERNAL SON OF MAN AND THE CRUCIFIED JESUS IS THE SAME PERSON! - Philippians 2:5-11

It seems such a long, long way from the heavenly vision of Daniel, or Isaiah, or John's Revelation to this scene in Pilate's courtyard. And it IS a long way!

But believe me, it is the same Person! Paul tells us something of the road Jesus took so that we could know how much God loves us. WHY Jesus ever left the eternal glory is beyond my power to understand. But we know that Jesus came...

1. to show us God. He is the express image of God, the Word.
2. to show us God's LOVE: "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son that whosoever believes in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."
3. to bring every one of us into His kingdom.

There is no question: Jesus is Lord! He is not "going to be Lord" for he is sovereign, and his glory will be revealed. That is what Daniel's scene tells us.

But that second scene, where Jesus stands before Pilate, tells us a great deal, too. We know now that Jesus was not on trial that day, but Pilate himself, and those who accused Jesus, and all his disciples— they were the ones who had to make a big decision. Where they stood is where we stand today; we think we are deciding who Jesus is. But Jesus IS who HE IS! Jesus is the great I AM THAT I AM. Our decision does not change who Jesus is. But it makes all the difference to us!

Jesus is standing in Pilate's hall Friendless, forsaken, betrayed by all Harken! What meaneth the sudden call, "What will you do with Jesus?"

What will you do with Jesus? Neutral you cannot be! One day your heart will be asking "What will He do with me?"

Voice from Eternity

November 27, 1994

Luke 21:25-28; Psalm 50:1

The Passage in Luke 21

We begin the Christmas watch with a word of HOPE from Jesus. He is speaking about the Second Coming. He is saying that even though there is distress, and bewilderment and troubles and people actually fainting and dying from fear, the last word to his people is "When these things begin to occur, stand up! Hold up your heads! Don't be afraid because I will be there for you!"

The Second Coming of Jesus isn't a large item in evangelistic circles any more, especially since all too often people that do preach about it either set dates and make fools out of themselves, or else they emphasize prophetic details that have no real spiritual value. But all the same, there it is: the word from eternity: this world will answer to ME!

Long before Jesus was born in Bethlehem prophets said they could hear God speaking. Sometimes it almost seems to us that they got mixed signals. Sometimes they said God said Messiah was coming in great pomp and glory with an army to establish peace by force. Sometimes they told of a Suffering Servant, a Branch, a Root out of dry ground that would be despised and rejected. But they were certain of one thing. God has something to say to all mankind. God cares very much about us, and how we treat each other, and how we respond to Him. The word from eternity is a summons for all mankind to come and stand before God. The Psalmist Asaph wrote:

The Mighty One, God, the Lord, speaks and summons the earth from the rising of the sun to the place where it sets.

This summons of God, ushered in by the Second Coming, has often been used as a threat. Like a baby-sitter saying to a child, "If you don't stop that when your parents get home you'll be sorry!" We have used the threat of the Second Coming as a source of fear.

[I recall more than one afternoon coming home from grade school to an empty house and worrying just a little bit about whether or not I had been left behind. On at least one occasion I called Pastor Watkin, because I thought if he was still here I was safe. I wonder who I would call now?]

Certainly there are sobering aspects of this eternal summons of God. We ought to think very serious thoughts when we realize that God will call the earth to answer for their lives. But if we have learned to call God "Father," and if in any personal way we have come to know Jesus Christ, then the word we hear from eternity ought to be a great source of encouragement. Jesus tells us that when the going gets difficult, and the outlook is dark, we are to try the UP-LOOK. "I'm closer than you think!," He says.

Still, to hear God's word with HOPE requires the help of faith. In an utterly absurd way God looks at our pain, and not just yours and mine, but all the injustice and hatred and war and sin and death of all the ages of all time— and he sends us a Baby. It is the Baby that is his Word of HOPE.

We know the story of Bethlehem. We have heard it again and again, and we love it. What we need to remind ourselves again today is the power that is in this word from God. It is not only wonderful, and beautiful, but it is the word of God.

God's Word is an eternal word. The Baby is the Son of God, the Eternal Word. That means that our salvation is not an afterthought. It also means that while the Second Coming will be a particular event at a particular time, we are called to face the judgment of God on our sins when by the Holy Spirit we are brought to conviction for them.

It is possible to worry about a Rapture somewhere in the future, and put off getting right with God here and now until it is everlastingly too late. It is possible to worry about the "unpardonable sin" and forget that every sin is capable of separating us from God until it is under the precious blood of the Cross of Christ. With God the time is always "NOW." From eternity God's voice reaches to where we are in time and space.

God's Word is a personal word. God makes covenant with men and women. He never breaks covenant. He honors those who seek him, and who make him the center of their living. He warns severely those who claim to know him but who are not fair to their brothers and sisters.

[In this Psalm God particularly zeroes in on the malicious use of the tongue:

You use your mouth for evil and harness your tongue to deceit. You speak continually against your brother and slander your own mother's son. These things you have done and I kept silent; you thought I was altogether like you. But I will rebuke you and accuse you to your face. (50:19-21)]

God cares how YOU respond to Him. If you will take time to listen, you will understand that God is not just summoning "the world" to Himself; God is speaking to YOU, and to ME! He is asking us to remember our covenant, or, if you have never made covenant with God, God is inviting you to hear His Word.

God's Word is an adequate word. It is all we need. Against all the bad memories, the loneliness and fears, the distress and fainting for fear and foreboding that Jesus tells about— against this dark background Jesus says:

"Now when these things begin to happen, stand up, and raise your heads, because your redemption is drawing near!"

Conclusion

What are the enemies of hope in our world today? What are the things that would destroy our faith and fellowship right here in the church, the Body of Christ? And how can this 'word from eternity' make any difference?

We are very much pressured by the culture in which we must live. We live at a dizzy speed; we are more and more efficient so that we can cram more and more activity into our days. The result is we are pushed until we feel ISOLATION. I am over-worked, and tired of the rat-race. No one really understands how I feel! I am

"unique" in my invisible isolation booth. ISOLATION AND LONELINESS are some of the devil's very prime weapons.

God's WORD calls his people to the place of worship. In the place of worship God listens for our cry for help. God warns us about thinking that we "pay our way" by our sacrifices, or our rituals. He says:

"If I needed food, would I tell you? I don't need the flesh of bulls, or the burnt offerings you give. What I want is your LOVE, your THANKS, and your LOVE. And when you CALL on me I promise I will deliver you, and you will honor me.

In the act of worship God's WORD makes it clear that we will see the salvation of God. The world will tell us that we are insane to put our HOPE in the integrity of a covenant we have made with an unseen God who says both that he is with us now, and that he is coming when we need Him the most.

And that integrity is all we have to rely on. Either we will believe God's Word, and live— or we will believe the words that come from the darkness and die. We begin the Christmas watch with a word of HOPE from Jesus. He is speaking about the Second Coming. He is saying that even though there is distress, and bewilderment and troubles and people actually fainting and dying from fear, the last word to his people is "When these things begin to occur, stand up! Hold up your heads! Don't be afraid because I will be there for you!"

The word from eternity, the word from God is I LOVE YOU!

Prayer

#289 - Soon and Very Soon

Life in the Spirit

April 2, 1995

Reflections on a Golden Chapter

This is not a sermon— but is a review of a major resource for personal spiritual victory— the treasure of Romans 8. There are a number of Golden Chapters that have truth we turn to nearly every day - some days we live in one Chapter, sometimes another - -

I've been referring to Psalm 107 a lot lately ... you may well have your favorite chapters. It is well to become acquainted with many of them, because we need the strength they give. Again and again I refer to John 15 and abiding in the Vine ... to Philippians 2:5, and Philippians 4, and to Galatians 5, the fruit of the Spirit, and Ephesians 6 and the whole armor .. and Ephesians 4, the "church chapter, and on and on.

Romans 8 is about LIFE as it can be lived in the Spirit, by the Spirit, through the Spirit of Christ living in us. It is, or ought to be, a chapter of great encouragement.

There are some statements of FACT— or the believer's STANDING in Christ because of the reality of life in the Spirit. Look at some of these statements:

If we are born again... WE ARE ALIVE IN CHRIST BY HIS SPIRIT

Verse 8: They that are "in the flesh" cannot please God. coupled with Verse 9: Christians are NOT in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if indeed the Spirit of God dwells in us.

If you are a Christian you have the Spirit living in you - - - - your STANDING is "in Christ"

Verse 9 "If anyone does not have the Spirit of Christ he does not belong to Him (also 14) All who ARE LED by the Spirit of God are children of God.

If we are born again... WE WILL HAVE ASSURANCE (FROM TIME TO TIME) THAT WE REALLY ARE GOD'S CHILDREN!

Verse 15 - 16 Something in us cries out "Father!" (John Borders calls it "DAD!")

If we are born again... WE ARE STILL NOT YET ALL WE WILL BE

Paul speaks about sharing in the SUFFERING with Jesus (verse 17) in order that we also may be glorified with Him.

Verse 18 The sufferings of this present time do not compare with the glory that shall be revealed in us.

Does that mean when we die by and bye? Yes. But it also means that we aren't perfect or worthy as we are just now.

Christians live by HOPE! There is a difference in our STANDING, that is our POSITIONAL UNITY WITH JESUS and our STATE, or the circumstances, understanding, imperfection of our situation in a very imperfect world:

Verse 23 Not just the creation at large is groaning with the childbirth-pains of being set free from corruption... BUT WE (PAUL AND YOU AND ME) WHO HAVE THE SPIRIT BEARING WITNESS THAT WE ARE GOD'S CHILDREN— WE ALSO GROAN FROM TIME TO TIME AS WE WAIT THE FULL REDEMPTION THAT WILL BE.

So we live by hope... Verse 24 For IN HOPE we have been saved—

Christians live stretched out... living by faith ... trusting a Father we cannot see ... reaching out in our infirmity to God. BUT

If we are born again... THE SPIRIT HELPS US IN OUR WEAKNESS

Verse 26 ...and a primary place the Spirit helps us is in our PRAYER LIFE.

The word says specifically that "we do not know how to pray as we ought .. but that the Spirit HIMSELF makes groanings for us which cannot be uttered.

The SPIRIT can "translate our hunger after God" — our desire for LOVE PEACE JOY .. to the God who will both hear and answer.

If we are born again... THERE IS NO SITUATION WHERE GOD WILL NOT WORK FOR OUR GOOD AND HIS GLORY

Verse 28 - it was true before it was written (Joseph) "You meant it to me for harm - God has used it for good!"

Some rhetorical questions for our encouragement from a Golden Chapter

1. Verse 31 IF GOD IS FOR US, WHO CAN BE AGAINST US?

Think about it; if you are honestly seeking to do God's will you have "Luther's THE RIGHT MAN ON OUR SIDE. THE MAN OF GOD'S OWN CHOOSING!" and all hell cannot keep you from doing God's will!

2. Verse 32 IF GOD SENT HIS SON, THEN DOES IT MAKE SENSE HE WILL DRAW BACK FROM FOLLOWING UP WITH WHATEVER ELSE IS NECESSARY TO SAVE US?

The question answers itself.

3. Verse 33 WHO CAN (SUCCESSFULLY) ACCUSE THE CHILD OF GOD?

God has justified you. He is the One who counts.

4. Verse 35 WHO SHALL EVER SEPARATE US FROM THE LOVE OF GOD?

When God LOVES— it is forever!

During the Lenten Season it is a time to seek to go into the heart of fellowship with God. It is a time not so much for DOING good as it is to SEEK TO BE IN GOD'S PRESENCE and realize how much HE loves us.

Henri Nouwen told a group of Baptist ministers who came to find help in their work:

"Ministry is the least important thing. You cannot not minister if you are in communion with God and live in community. A lot of people are concerned about: how can I help people? Or help the youth to come to Christ? Or preach well? But these are all basically non-issues. If you are burning with the love of Jesus, don't worry: everyone will know. They will say, 'I want to get close to this person who is so full of God.'"

I really believe that if we learn to worship well— as a congregation— and as individuals— God will help us do the other vital and necessary work of His kingdom, and do it well.

Use this chapter in your personal worship; let it encourage you.+

#736 I Am So Glad that Jesus Loves Me

The Champion

Palm Sunday April 7, 1995

Zechariah 9:9 Behold your king is coming ...

Has there ever been a time in your life when you were afraid? Have you ever had something looming out ahead you didn't know quite how to face? I have.

Looking back it may not now seem as life-threatening as I thought it was then. But it stands for all the other times, even to this very moment, when I know I can't go on by myself, that I need Someone's help.

I dreaded going to school. School itself was fine— it was just getting there and getting home again— you see, I lived on Magnolia Avenue, and I had to watch out for the Hayford Street Gang.

Most of the time I walked to school with the Magnolia Avenue kids. As long as three or four of us were together we felt safe. But it could be seriously damaging to your health if you got caught all alone by the Hayford Street Gang.

And then one night it happened! I had to stay after school and the rest of the Magnolia Avenue kids for some reason or another couldn't wait. I had to walk home alone. I started down Kalamazoo Street with the sincere hope I wouldn't- - but I did! I had only gone about a block from the Allen Street School when I looked about another block down the street and there— there I saw—The Hayford Street Gang! I knew I was going to get beat up.

My mind began racing— in one split second I thought—" I'll run down this driveway and over the fence— no, I'm not sure what's in that back yard— I'll turn around and run back to the school— no, maybe its locked now— O God! What will I do? " Just then I saw HIM— a big kid from the Junior High School walking down Kalamazoo Street in the same direction as I was walking, catching up with me.

I smiled at him: "Hey, Can I walk along with you? See those kids up there? They're after me!" He said, "Sure— I don't care!"

The Champion

So I fell into step with him, just as if he was my big brother or something. I really didn't know him at all, but I kept smiling at him and talking as we came nearer and nearer to— the Hayford Street Gang! And when we came right to where they were they parted— just like the Red Sea— and WE walked through and on past— one block, two blocks— clear to my corner where I turned for home. And I said, "Thanks!" and ran down Magnolia Avenue where I was safe.

That day that big Junior High kid was my CHAMPION!

How many times since then I have faced situations where I was going to get beat up! There have been threats far more serious than the Hayford Street gang.

I. WHY THE PARADE ? BECAUSE THE CHAMPION WAS NOT AFRAID

There must have been an excitement— and a sense of the rightness of the moment— and yet it was humble— not at all militaristic.

The disciples did not know the real significance of it then. It was not until later when Jesus had been glorified that the real significance stood out. When we look at the over-view it is really remarkable.

John 12:16 These things the disciples did not understand at the time; but when Jesus was glorified, then they remembered that these things were written (Zechariah 9:9) and that they had done them (Psalm 118:26.)

The Champion was declaring confidently who he was. He was not about to be taken by surprise, not to be simply a martyr for a cause. He was forcefully declaring that he is king and had the right to be declared the same and worshiped.

Jesus moved into the Temple courtyard and overturned the tables of the money-grubbers there.

II. WHY THE PARADE? THERE WOULD BE ANOTHER KIND OF PARADE BEFORE THE WEEK WAS OVER - A DIFFERENT SORT OF CROWN - - BUT THE SAME CHAMPION

Sometimes a champion can be a champion and it doesn't cost anything. The Big Kid that got me through my trouble when I was facing the Hayford Street Gang didn't even know he was a champion.

But sometimes it costs everything to be a true champion. I shrink back from talking about Christ's suffering; I am so afraid of intruding on holy ground. We see and hear so much of violence- - I'm not sure we understand the price Jesus paid for our salvation; I'm not sure we can speak about his passion without making "an event" out of it instead of standing in awe in the realization that Jesus became SIN for ME— Jesus who knew no sin- - in order that I might in HIM become righteous and able to become ONE with Him and share HIS life.

The Via Dolorosa - it had to be in the Champion's mind that Sunday morning as he wept over the city— wept not for himself, but for the tragedy of the result of his rejection.

III. WHY THE PARADE? THIS IS THE ROUTE OF THE KING OF PEACE

When Jesus ascended into heaven it was from this very same Mount of Olives which was the route of the parade on Palm Sunday. As he came from Bethany to the Eastern Gate of Zion the parade actually began with the descent from the top of the hill.

Tradition has it that the early church so strongly believed that Jesus literally would come this same route again that when the city was conquered centuries ago by the Muslims one of the rulers had the Eastern Gate walled shut so that if he, Jesus, did come back he couldn't enter the city.

Conclusion:

<<<< end of text >>>>

A Prayer for Holy Week

April 9, 1995

Ephesians 3:14-21

Paul's letter to the Ephesians is a manual on the healthiness of life in God as it is intended to be lived. Here we can read about how God's great POWER will be released in those who believe. We are introduced to mysteries of GRACE and wonders of God's KINDNESS and the joys of LIFE.

But perhaps the highest privilege is FULLNESS. The greatest imperative in the entire letter is 5:18: "Be filled with the Spirit!" And the prayer here (3:14-21) is the heart of Paul's concern for the Ephesians, as well as certainly God's will for you and me. FULLNESS! But what KIND of fullness?

I. THE QUESTION IS NOT 'SHALL WE BE FILLED' BUT RATHER 'WITH WHAT SHALL WE BE FILLED?'

- A. Each one of us is a vessel that is full, for there is no such thing as a spiritual vacuum. People are full of the stuff of life. People are full of their own importance or their own troubles. They are full of worry— they are full of advice— they are full of hot air— but they are FULL! In our culture it seems like the norm for people to be filled with the importance of self.

We are so near to our culture that we are often blind to how all-encompassing that the fullness of SELF-WORSHIP is the "accepted way to live." There is total occupation with what "I" want! There is obsession with being true to "me." To suggest otherwise is equal to LUNACY and TREASON combined.

IT SEEMS IMPOSSIBLE, A CONTRADICTION, BUT ONLY WHEN I AM FILLED WITH GOD MY REAL 'BEST SELF' CAN BE FORMED.

This is what Jesus was talking about when he said:

Mark 8:35 For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his life for My sake and the gospel's, the same shall find it.

B. Whatever we are filled with shows. We need to be looking at:

- RESERVOIRS OF CONSCIOUSNESS

What are the things that fill up our day? Not that we ever need to say "This is important" Or even that we ENJOY it... but what are we DOING WITH OUR DAYS? We need to look at:

- WELLSPRINGS OF ATTITUDES

The way we usually ARE to other people. The "habits of the heart" We let ourselves take on a "usual" way of looking at things. They said of Joseph: "Here comes the Dreamer" We look at some people and say "Here comes a Complaint!@" "Here comes trouble" "Here comes LOVE!"

We also need to look at:

- FOUNTAINS OF THE SPIRIT

The way we really ARE before God. Blessed are the pure in heart. Blessed are the seekers after God. Open, obedient, growing faith and love that is reflected in love for the Word, love for the place of prayer, love for the Church.

C. "Fullness" is not usually a conscious choice:

1. We "catch" the ways of society more than we deliberately choose. It isn't that we need to look for the devil under every rock ... the spirit of creeping secularism is much more subtle than that .. WE JUST NEED TO FORGET WHO WE ARE ... AND WHOSE WE ARE .. FOR A SHORT WHILE!
2. Being "filled" is not usually seen as moral questions— or as "serious." But things "take up space" in our souls (if we can think of spiritual things "spatially"); many things "take up space" that might be used for better things. Fill your mind with junk ... and when the crunch comes up will come ... junk!

- D. "Fullness" and "capacity" are two different things. Remember, even a small vessel can grow, and eventually take on surprising proportions.

Which brings us to the main idea:

II. THE IDEA OF BEING FILLED WITH GOD!

- A. "Filled with all the fullness of God." All that God has to offer— doesn't mean that we have all of God that there is. The Universe does not "contain" God but rather is sustained by His word. But being filled with God means that all of us is permeated with God's Spirit.
- B. This is not a phrase to be lightly dismissed. "Oh, yes— this means ... entire sanctification!" (Or, "This means speaking in tongues!" Or "This means a certain "experience." The sanctifying experience is true - but in OUR context we may be saying: "We Nazarene's OWN this! We are on familiar territory! Two trips to the altar and we "have God's fullness."

It is nice to have things packaged neatly, theologically— but God wants to relate to us in the reality of where we live and work— in the deep needs of our homes.

There is real truth in the MESSAGE OF HOLINESS . . a reality to being filled with the Spirit of God that, while it defies complete description, IT IS CRUCIAL TO OUR SUCCESS AS CHRISTIANS.

EITHER WE WILL SEEK TO BE FILLED WITH GOD, AND BELONG ENTIRELY TO HIM . . OR WE WILL FAIL!! And we

1. will fall into outward sin, and go away from the church, or we
2. will fall into the sin of pride - thinking that WE are the KEY .. that OUR WAY is a lock on salvation (a mass of legalism), or we
3. will fall into the sin of false humility (antinomianism) and say: everyone has to sin every day anyway... it really doesn't make any difference how we live— what we are filled with.

III. THIS IS NOT JUST THEORY (THIS PRAYER OF PAUL FOR YOU AND ME) THE KEY TO FULLNESS IS KNOWING JESUS CHRIST

- A. FULLNESS MEANS THE INDWELLING CHRIST Verse 17 - Jesus, welcome, at home in you/me just now!
- B. FULLNESS MEANS THE EMPOWERING CHRIST Verse 18 - Enabling us to grasp God's love
- C. FULLNESS MEANS the ALL-SURPASSING CHRIST Verse 19) Both in CRISIS and on-going SURRENDER ; a GRASPING FOR THE LOVE that enables us to make our bodies a living sacrifice (Romans 12:1,2)

CONCLUSION: You do not have the choice "Shall I be full?"

The question is: WILL YOU BE FILLED WITH THE SPIRIT OF JESUS CHRIST?

#335 - His Way with Thee...

Last Words First Concerns

April 13, 1995

John 17: 1 - 11

"Last words" are important to us. When someone leaves for a day they say "Don't forget to mail that letter . . ." When a son or daughter leaves to go to school away from home there are tears and we say "Don't forget to write every week ..." And when someone is dying we bend low and listen.

Wesley, dying, said "Best of all, God is with us!" Millard Porter, a sainted man I once pastored, said from his bed in a crowded ward "Thirty-Four! Thirty-Four!;" and even though he had a stroke I knew he meant Psalm 34:1 "I will bless the Lord at all times, his praise shall continually be in my mouth!" That episode in the hospital— those final words have meant a lot to me across many years.

But the final words of Jesus are in a completely different, incomparably higher category. Every word that Jesus spoke is important. But as Jesus came to the close of his earthly ministry he summed up the essentials again. The Gospel of John gives four full chapters to the final words of Jesus.

In those final hours Jesus not only spoke of the importance of caring, but demonstrated it. He washed his disciples' feet. And In those final hours Jesus gave a new commandment which actually sums up the Ten Commandments: "A NEW commandment I give you: that you have love one for another! Even as I have loved you— so you are to love one another!" (John 13:34)

But then Jesus closed his final remarks with a prayer. The High Priestly prayer is the Holy of Holies of prayers. A lifetime of study would not exhaust the truth and power it holds. It is a living prayer that Jesus prayed for you and me.

I bring two profound thoughts from that prayer for us to ponder as we come to the Table this evening:

1. Jesus greatly desires that we understand that God loves us. Jesus prayed first for Himself, that the glory and wonder of his unity with the Father would in fact take place. (See Philippians 2: 5 - 11) But in the same thought, Jesus asked the Father to bring the disciples into that circle of holy unity and love with God the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Again, and again Jesus prays that the believers might be in Christ and in God.
2. Jesus greatly desires that this love be not only vertical— that is between you and God, and me and God— but that this unity might be manifested horizontally— between you and me, and me and you— and you and you, and so forth.

It is as this unity is manifested— not just talked about or theorized— but as the supernatural, gracious, Spirit-breathed love of God is manifested in the church that the world will come to believe that Jesus really is sent from God Almighty to bring salvation to the world.

THIS IS OUR ONLY HOPE OF MAKING A SKEPTICAL WORLD BELIEVE. I don't know when we will believe this, and quit trying to evangelize over top of sin and selfishness and ambition. I don't know why we have relegated "spirit" to the "optional" category and elevated "techniques" and "corporate management" and "worship tricks" to the forefront in so-called "church growth" building.

The fact remains that OUR ONLY HOPE OF MAKING A SKEPTICAL WORLD BELIEVE THAT JESUS IS LORD IS WHEN HIS LOVE IS FIRST IN YOUR LIFE AND MINE.

This was Jesus' final prayer after His final words. How important do you think they are?

INTO THE SACRAMENT:

The Hand We can Trust

April 14, 1995

"Father, into thy hand I commend my spirit ..." Luke 23:46

On the Cross of Calvary we see both the deity and the humanity of our Lord. As our Savior and Redeemer we believe that he finished the work of salvation, and accomplished a work which we cannot ever comprehend. We weakly address the "what" and the "why" and the "how" of what Jesus did on the Cross, and we speak of substitution and redemption and ransom-- we say that "Jesus paid it all!" And certainly he did! but we will never understand fully how-- or even why. His love for us is wonderful, and totally undeserved. All we can hope to do is receive it, and let it begin to transform us, and try to return it as best we can.

But as a man Jesus gave us a Pattern and Example to follow. We cannot fully grasp this side of Jesus, either, perhaps. And we will not be able to do it quite as well as He did it. But Jesus in his humanity lived among us in dependance on the heavenly Father. He was God, and yet as man he lived by prayer. Jesus never made a decision without spending time in prayer. He was Almighty, and yet he asked his disciples to watch with him in his hour of agony. He responded with gratitude when favors were done for him. He resisted temptation, not by divine destruction of the tempter, but, by living by the written word of God: "It is written!" he said.

On the cross we saw his humanity as he cried out not only "It is finished!" but "I am thirsty!" And in the final moment of His death he not only said. "My God, WHY?" as the sin-sacrifice, but he said these wonderful words of trust:

"Father-- into your hand I commit my spirit!"

... and Jesus bowed his head and died.

As our Savior Jesus has opened a way for us to connect with God and receive eternal life. But as our Brother Jesus has shown us how to connect with God in trust for day-by-day living. Jesus has shown us that when temptation would overwhelm us we have resources of scripture and prayer and fellowship. Jesus has shown us that it is all right to feel lonely, or tired, or even at times to wonder if anyone else is listening to the truth. And finally, Jesus has shown us that we die as we live. If we have put our lives into the Father's trust, then we can trust Him with our spirit when night falls, and we cannot go on. A few years ago my grandson, Ben, went to his first hockey game. His birthday is tomorrow, and he'll be nine years old; he is a Hockey Mite, and his name is in the Quincy Sun often as a scorer. (Granddad isn't too proud, I hope!)

But the Garden and the Bruins were a little much for a five year old. Tickets were courtesy of an uncle-- but they needed a parking space; Ben spontaneously began to pray for one-- immediately they saw a sign "Parking!" Just $9.00!! Oh, well, Ben hadn't specified FREE parking.

Anyway, Ben and Steve, his dad, found their seats and Ben made friends with all the people around him. He thought the Garden was sort of like church, I guess. We should be friendly here, shouldn't we? He offered to share his popcorn-- and he even watch a little of the game.

But about the middle of the first period Ben began to flame out. The excitement ran its course and his eyelids began to droop. Finally he put his head in his dad's lap-- and his feet in the lap of the lady on the other side-- she didn't seem to mind-- and he was GONE! Somehow Steve thought he ought to go on home right about then, and there were two empty seats the rest of the game.

And Ben never woke up as his dad carried him out of the Garden and back to the $9.00 parking lot and back home and to bed. When he opened his eyes again it was morning, and Ben was home. It is wonderful, a sort of miracle that little kids know and we only vaguely remember-- that wherever it is they happen to fall asleep if it is away from home-- they wake up where they belong, in their own beds.

And that is the trust a Christian can have. That is the trust that Jesus was manifesting that dreadful, wonderful day when as our Champion he won our eternal life, and defeated death and hell. For as our Brother Jesus was showing us that we can trust our dying into the hands of a loving Father.

We know that if we go to sleep before the ballgame is over, we will wake up at home.

The Other Witness

April 23, 1995

John 20: 19 - 31

Acts 5: 27 - 32

Text: Mark 5:32 "We are witnesses .. and so is the Holy Spirit"

In these scriptures read in our hearing this morning is a clear message about the church that Jesus founded, loves, and continues to build by his Spirit. On this Annual Meeting Sunday we bring this, our local church fellowship alongside the words of Jesus, and ask Him to show us how we can better know and do His will. Jesus is Lord of the Church!

In these passages we see first:

I. THE MISSION OF THE CHURCH

John 20:21 As the Father has sent me, so I send you. When he had said this, he breathed on them and said to them, Receive the Holy Spirit.

- A. Our mission is, first, TO CARRY OUT THE WORK OF JESUS IN WORSHIP, EDUCATION, FELLOWSHIP, SERVICE, AND EVANGELISM
- B. But, clearly, our mission also includes, (IN ORDER TO BE ABLE TO DO THIS WORK) the fact that WE, THE CHURCH, MUST RECEIVE THE HOLY SPIRIT IN FULLNESS AND POWER

Jesus through the Scripture, by the Spirit is:

II. THE AUTHORITY OVER THE CHURCH

Acts 5:29 Peter and the apostles answered, We must obey God rather than any human authority.

- A. THERE IS NO QUESTION THAT HUMAN LEADERSHIP AND ORGANIZATION IS NECESSARY; DEACONS, [EPHESIANS 4], PAUL'S CONSULTATION WITH THE LEADERS AT JERUSALEM

- B. BUT THERE ALSO IS NO QUESTION THAT ABOVE ALL HUMAN AUTHORITY IS THE WILL OF GOD AS REVEALED BY HIS SPIRIT, THROUGH THE WORD OF GOD, THROUGH THE MEN AND WOMEN OF GOD, THROUGH THE EXPERIENCE OF GOD, AND THROUGH GOD-GIVEN INTELLIGENCE AND REASON

But being commanded to do something is one thing. To find the strength and power is another. We see here also the secret of:

III. THE POWER OF THE CHURCH

Acts 5:32 We are witnesses ... and so is the Holy Spirit whom God has given to those who obey him,

- A. We have the POWER of knowing we have met the Risen Lord. WE ARE WITNESSES. A witness can tell what he/she knows. Anything less than first-hand is not witnessing, it is hearsay.

What do YOU know for yourself ?

1. about what the Bible says;
2. about what God has done in saving grace in your own heart;
3. about how to lead another spiritually hungry person into the Presence of God in Christ?

- B. We ALSO have ANOTHER WITNESS! "SO IS THE HOLY SPIRIT"!

There has to be another witness! (1) In one sense the Holy Spirit may well be at work long before you say anything. (2) But we need the right spirit in order to give our testimony life and authority. Both Spirit and spirit count!

Unless we have "the other witness" we will not be effective!

[What we have done this year in some ways seems remarkable; in other ways we wonder why didn't we do more. I need to be a specialist in appreciation— the work of the kingdom is always a team effort when it is what God intends for it to be. I am grateful for every dollar given, for every ounce of effort expended, for every prayer prayed, for every kindness and word of love expressed within this body. But rather than speak of specific areas of victory or need I want to close this gospel message with a challenge for the new church year:]

IV. THE CHALLENGE TO OUR CHURCH

Hebrews 11:14 Make every effort to live in peace with everyone and to be holy; without holiness no one will see the Lord.

- A. We have the same mission that Jesus gave the first generation of believers. We have the same authority over us: Jesus is still the head of the church and commands us to obey him instead of any human authority. We have met Jesus, and we need to tell others what we know about Him. The Holy Spirit can and will come alongside us as we witness.
- B. These two important facts are self-evident: (1) WE MUST HAVE FIRST-HAND KNOWLEDGE OF JESUS TO WITNESS. Hear-say evidence is not admissible, even though it is used over and over again. If Jesus has changed your life, if Jesus is real to you, then you have something to witness about. But also (2) WE MUST HAVE THE RIGHT SPIRIT IN OUR WITNESSING. You can use a capital "S" and a lower case "s" here! The Holy Spirit needs to work on our spirit until we tell the truth in LOVE. The Holy Spirit is the Spirit of Jesus!
- C. A CHALLENGE FOR THE COMING YEAR (Four-fold:)
 - 1. COMMIT TO JESUS THROUGH THE BODY

We come to Jesus one-by-one. Jesus calls us by name. He speaks to us, personally. But sooner or later we discover that we may not be God's favorite child— but that God has a whole lot of other "favorite children" as well. In fact God loves YOU as much as He loves ME. That is the normal pattern of growing up and maturing.
 - 2. FOCUS ON JESUS IN ALL THAT YOU DO

"Holiness" is not a "higher standard" of rules and regulations; there is no double standard in the kingdom— we cannot be partially alive. Holiness is God-given grace to be in God's Presence in fullness of fellowship through the deliberate surrender of our rights. It is Christ-likeness, Christ-centered living, Christ wholly owning, possessing us, filling us with the Spirit of Christ. PRACTICE THE PRESENCE!

3. TITHE!

How can I say this after an impassioned plea to be holy? Talk about money? I challenge you to put God absolutely first in financial matters. Some of you are on tight budgets. If you tithe you will go under— or so it seems. Listen— I've been there— it doesn't work that way. I have no axe to grind, no possible way to profit from your tithing or not tithing. I simply say that when we are Christ's then all we are is his as well— and when we give him our assets he also takes on our liabilities.

4. (A HANDLE FOR ALL THIS:) LIVE IN HEBREWS 11:14

"Follow peace with all persons everywhere, and (follow) the holiness without which no one can see the Lord."

I challenge you to live in this verse. Super-impose it on whatever passage you are studying. Read it along with the Ten Commandments and the Beatitudes.

1. 1. Get rid of whatever might cause the least cloud between you and any other human being on the face of this earth. If it is their fault, you cannot afford to have a bad spirit about it. I'm talking serious stuff here; I'm talking the difference between kidding ourselves and real, genuine spiritual break-through.

If that makes you uncomfortable— if you would rather simply draw back into your hurts and your self-righteousness— I ask you to read this verse on your knees— because holiness is linked with a willingness to be clean. And until we have forgiven as we have been forgiven we are not yet clean.

2. 2. Make certain that you have the sanctifying fullness of the Holy Spirit. This is not a "doctrinal" thing, now. Holiness is belonging to God without reservation. And when that is fact— we will never have to do the work of the church in our own puny human strength. We will have THE OTHER WITNESS!

THE OTHER WITNESS IS READY TO WORK WITH US THIS YEAR TO CARRY FORWARD THE GREAT MISSION OF CHRIST THAT HE HAS GIVEN US. PRAY WITH ME THAT WE WILL MEET THE CHALLENGE!

A Question about Love

April 30, 1995

John 21:1-19

A Beautiful Setting

It was a beautiful lake at sunrise. The wind had died as it usually does just before daybreak, and tired fishermen were rowing their boat the last quarter mile to shore through the rising mist. The sail hung limp, and the thump of the oars against the sides of the boat was the only sound to be heard.

It was at least two weeks after Easter. The crush of the Passover holiday had subsided, Jerusalem had gone back to its normal routines. The disciples from Galilee had walked the ninety or so miles back to their lakeside homes in Capernaum. Since the resurrection they had seen Jesus exactly twice- except for Thomas, who had seen him once.

Remember the confession Thomas had made. It is the climax of the Gospel of John. Thomas, who had had trouble believing good news, said to the risen Savior standing before him: "My Lord and my God!"

But that was then. That was there, in Jerusalem. Jesus had risen, the disciple's hopes had been re-established. Jesus had told them he would meet them in Galilee. But then for several long days— nothing.

Life had to go on. There were responsibilities. And they had to eat. There is nothing wrong with meeting the demands of life. So the big fisherman said what seemed the obvious thing to do: there were boats and nets on the beach at the foot of the street, there were mouths to feed and bills to pay. Peter said, "I am going fishing!"

I don't know what deep significance, if any, we should read into those words. I don't think Peter meant "I am giving up on following Jesus." It may have seemed longer, but just a little more than three years before Jesus had walked along that same beach and had said to these same fishermen, "Follow Me!" And those fishermen had laid aside nets, and pulled their boats up onto the shore. Now, obviously, the "following" of Jesus was on hold— because Jesus was not physically with them.

So for whatever reason Peter and Thomas and Nathaniel and James and John and two others John doesn't name all piled into a fishing boat and pushed off into the evening shadows. They fished all night long. Seven people in one boat— tells me it was a pretty good sized vessel. At least three professional fishermen aboard— they knew the lake. They had the equipment. Still, with every trick in the trade they came up empty.

The sun was just coming up, the boat was nearing home, the beach was just looming through the rising mist. The tired men on board thought they saw a lone figure standing on the shore as though waiting for them.

"Children, you have no fish, have you?" the figure called. It could have been a stranger simply asking from curiosity— it could have been someone wanting to buy some fish from the fishing fleet. But at daybreak? On their part of the beach?

The disciples called back across the water, 100 yards or so, "No! No fish!"

Back came the call: "Cast your net on the right side of the boat and you will find some." Amazingly the fishermen took this Stranger's advice. And even more amazingly their nets were instantly full. What a great story!

The Breakfast Together

The story gets even better. The disciples recognized Jesus through the mist, and Peter, impetuous Peter, could not even wait, or be bothered to help with the great catch of fish. As the rest of the men labored toward the shore dragging half a ton of fish, Peter swam and waded ashore. When he got there he really didn't know what to say.

— a really, really profitable night's work— they discover a fire of coals just right for cooking fish— actually some fish already cooking. Jesus says, "Bring along some more of that fresh fish— and come to breakfast!"

And so they secure the catch, pull up the boats, and gather round for an absolutely unforgettable celebration. More things race through their heads than they can express. Will the itinerant ministry now begin again? Will Jesus now move to restore the kingdom of his ancestor David? But these and all other questions remain unasked— because they know this is the Master, and as long as He is here everything will fall into place in due time. It is hard to imagine this meal being eaten in total silence. It is a happy time. The fish were counted— big fish— 153 of them. There was good-natured kidding about the long night and empty nets.

But one person did not speak what was on his heart. I don't know if Peter was silent or not. Sometimes we talk a lot to cover up what we really would like to say but don't dare. We use small talk like a jab, jab, jab to keep away from the stuff that really matters. And Peter look across at Jesus and wondered if things ever could be like they were before he had cursed and sworn that he did not even know Him.

Then breakfast was over, and the men started to go about the tasks at hand— some to wash the nets, some to take the fish up to the marketplace of the sea-side Capernaum, some perhaps to drown and cover the fire. Jesus crooked his finger at Peter and started down the beach for the private conversation Peter was dreading.

It was— or seems it should have been— a very private conversation. Bt John tagged along. Taking notes. Jesus asked Peter some very tough questions about love. Three questions— yet all the same question. Jesus clearly knew what Peter needed. And because John took those notes it must be that I need to answer these questions too.

"Peter, do you love me more than these?"

OUR LOVE MUST BE BEYOND COMPARING WITH OTHERS

Before Peter denied his Lord and stumbled he "knew" that his love was stronger than anyone else's. But it is always the wrong approach to tell God we love Him in any comparison to others. "Lord, if all these deny you, I will still go to the death with you!" Or, "I could never love the Lord like that person!"

If our faith must be in comparison and in contrast to others the chances are it is on shaky ground. Some churches build their entire message and ministry on "coming out of the unbelievers."

Jesus is not the spirit that takes shots at other followers. Peter had to say "I love YOU, Lord, and not in relationship to THEM."

"Do you love me?"

OUR LOVE MUST BE BEYOND COMPETITION WITH OTHERS

Life is NOT fair— some will have glamorous assignments. Some will die young. Some will suffer while others seem to prosper. Jesus told Peter that hard times loomed ahead for him.

That didn't shake Peter— but he did say— "Look at HIM, Lord— the one taking notes— what about HIM?"

And Jesus had what seem like harsh words for Peter. But they are words that every one of us need to take to heart if we are to really tell Jesus we love HIM. "What is that to YOU? You follow ME!"

"Do you love me?"

OUR LOVE HAS TO GO BEYOND THE WORDS OF CONSECRATION

Each time in response to Peter's anguished answer: "Lord— you know I do! You know I love you..." Each time Jesus said: "Then you take care of my lambs, my sheep!" If we love we will put our lives where our mouths are.

Many years ago I remember watching a local newscast from a Cleveland TV station; a family tragedy had occurred, a family was in shock, grieving. A TV reporter [John (Bud) Dancy] stuck a microphone in a young mother's face and asked her personal questions while the camera took close-up pictures of her pain. Deep private feelings evidently make for good public interest. The reporter has since gone on from local reporting to network reporting to retirement. He never answered my letter of protest.

This story (in John 21) is one of those private, emotional, very personal scenes. But even though some scenes are so sensitive and private and holy that no one from outside should be included, evidently the apostle John either didn't know or didn't care because he tagged along and listened in— and then he wrote the whole episode down for the whole world to see. Of course we believe that God intended for this private scene to become scripture— it is one of those absolutely specific and individual times that have universal application.

The Courage to Witness

April 30, 1995 pm

Acts 9:1-19

The conversion of the great apostle Paul came about through the witness of two Christian lay people. Without two men named Stephen and Ananias the story of St. Paul probably never would have happened.

Stephen's impact on Paul came first: it is found in the book of Acts, Chapter 7, at the unspeakably violent scene of a mob killing. A lay-person table-server, deacon, Stephen, was stoned to death. The thugs who were doing the actual killing did not want their clothes ruined with blood spatters, so they laid them at the feet of an arrogant young Pharisee. The young Pharisee was in full accord with what was going on, but was too proud to take part in the actual manual labor of lifting stones and throwing them.

The witness of Stephen was in two distinct parts. Stephen SAID some tremendous things about the nature of God and what it means to worship. He said that from the beginning of time human beings have made substitutions for God— they have worshiped creation instead of the creator. He also said that God Himself will speak to us if we will only listen. He said that finally the Word God speaks is not simply a lesson or a religion, but a Person. This Person Stephen declared to be Jesus Christ of Nazareth. He said that the proof of this truth is the fact that Jesus was crucified and died and was buried— and that he rose again from the dead.

[The power of the resurrection is the engine that drives the church of Jesus Christ. We have learned to harness many other kinds of power; it is hard to imagine a church without electric lights and amplification and copiers and faxes. And other powers are fine as long as they are not used to try to substitute for the power that gives life. But if the resurrection power is missing no amount of money or intelligence or entertaining media will ever save even one soul.]

Stephen knew Jesus was alive, and said so. The power of the resurrection is what gives our witness authority. The highly intellectual Pharisee heard that sermon— the one and only sermon Stephen ever preached. Perhaps it seemed then that it made no impression at all. But it made a powerful impact

But Stephen's witness was in two parts: what he said— AND THE SPIRIT IN WHICH HE SAID IT. The scripture says that the people there saw his face— like the face of an angel. They heard his last words, not now a sermon, but a prayer: "Lord, lay not this sin to their charge!"

THE SPIRIT IS EQUALLY AS IMPORTANT AS THE WORDS.

Saul of Tarsus, who became the great missionary apostle Paul, heard this sermon and saw this dying spirit.

The word does not say how much time passed until chapter 9— but this haughty young Pharisee had had a taste of the thrill of persecuting the Christians, and he became an expert in it. He became the topic of conversation throughout the young church, and certainly was the last person Christians would want to meet in the street.

The church spread outward from Judea and Galilee, fueled by the threat of persecution that began with Stephen's martyrdom. It was as though the floodgates of anger and resistance broke and Acts 8:1 tells us that the whole church was scattered — except the apostles.

How it was that the church reached Damascus in Syria we don't know. Evidently there was a healthy church there because the anti-Christian forces in Jerusalem were sufficiently concerned to authorize an armed force to go and extradite them back to Jerusalem for trial, conviction, and execution. Saul of Tarsus had legal papers making him the equivalent of an ancient bounty-hunter. He set off to Syria and Damascus with a vengeance.

We are all well acquainted with Saul's dramatic conversion— aren't we? [Don't get me started on scriptural illiteracy! You can't grow in grace if your theology consists totally of just what you hear on WEZE or pop-Christian music.] Jesus the risen Lord met Saul in the middle of the road to hell and knocked him off his feet with a challenge to turn his life around. Saul got up, groping, blinded, willing but bewildered. Who ARE You, Lord? But that is NOT Paul the Apostle speaking! He is still Saul of Tarsus— and still on the outside of the fellowship looking in!

Enter the second witness: Ananias of Damascus!

He was THERE. The Lord spoke to him "Ananias!" And Ananias answered: "Here I am, Lord!" It's a great way to begin every day! Not just "Here I am" location-wise, but "Here I am, reporting for duty! What do you want me to do today!" What if every one of us got up and sincerely reported to God for duty every day?

He was CONNECTED (vision unimpaired)

He was PRESENT for roll-call

On this day the "duty" was not routine: "Get up and go over to Straight Street to the house of Judas— and look for a man from Tarsus, whose name is Saul. He is praying right at this moment— and I told him a man named Ananias was on the way over to pray for him to get his sight back."

Ananias was no robot. He was HUMAN (God didn't FORCE Ananias without reasoning with him—) "Lord, I know about this man. He is the talk of the fellowship. He has legal authority to arrest Christians and take them back to Jerusalem." God gave Ananias assurance that this was really His will. And Ananias was OBEDIENT. But I'm also sure he was BRAVE, too. The trip over to Straight Street must have been what athletes call a "gut-check."

But when Ananias got there, once again the SPIRIT OF JESUS shone through. Ananias was COMPASSIONATE "BROTHER Saul ..." As Ananias prayed Saul was healed. Saul was baptized— they didn't wait around in the New Testament church. And then Ananias of Damascus sort of fades out of the story. He was soon forgotten, out of the way— gone— but

WE know how vital a part Ananias played.

Actually, there was one other person that should get a share in Paul's ministry. His name was Barnabus, and he took up where Ananias left off. Later in the chapter when Paul, or rather Saul had come to Jerusalem (and that is another adventure story in itself) he tried to join the church there. But (26) they were all afraid of him. But Barnabus (27) took Saul, brought him to the apostles. The church enjoyed a time of peace but Saul/Paul was sent back to his home city, and actually went to the Arabian desert to study for three years. We don't see him again until Acts 11, when the church in Antioch had a revival and the Jerusalem people sent Barnabus there to lead. Barnabus went to Tarsus (11:25) to look for that keen young man that the others hadn't really trusted— Saul. Then in 13:2, in the Antioch church, the Holy Spirit said: "Set apart Barnabus and Saul for my work!"

During that first assignment Saul became Paul— and the team changed from Barnabus and Saul to Paul and Barnabus— and later on they split up over Barnabus's habit of siding with the underdog (Mark.) But if it had not been for Barnabus— a man willing to do whatever was necessary to encourage Saul— we would not have heard of the great Apostle to the Gentiles.

This hasn't been a sermon— it has been a sort of lesson.

We aren't all like PAUL. (Maybe Charles Coleson?)

We aren't all like STEPHEN (aren't you glad of that!) But when unfair things happen, how do (I) we respond? We can't all be like ANANIAS. But we can get up in the morning and say, "Here I am, Lord!" We can't all be like BARNABUS. But I sure do wish we had a few more like him around, don't you?

And we can have the same two dynamic elements of witness:

1. WE CAN KNOW THAT JESUS IS ALIVE. Not as a textbook fact- But we can KNOW Jesus. Nothing less will do, if we are to witness. And
2. WE CAN HAVE THE SPIRIT OF THE RISEN LORD. These men were not simply "nice people." They were HOLY people. They were people who had been filled with the Holy Spirit.

They were people who were living Hebrews 12:14 even before it had been written! When our words and our spirit unite with the mighty Spirit of God, then we can join the ranks of the Stephens and the Ananias and the Barnabuses. And Jesus will build His church. And there will be joy!

Prayer

Sing: # 552 O Master, Let Me Walk with Thee

1995-04-95 A Prayer for Holy Week

April 9, 1995

A PRAYER FOR HOLY WEEK

Ephesians 3:14-21

Paul's letter to the Ephesians is a manual on the healthiness of life in God as it is intended to be lived. Here we can read about how God's great POWER will be released in those who believe. We are introduced to mysteries of GRACE and wonders of God's KINDNESS and the joys of LIFE.

But perhaps the highest privilege is FULLNESS. The greatest imperative in the entire letter is 5:18: "Be filled with the Spirit!" And the prayer here (3:14-21) is the heart of Paul's concern for the Ephesians, as well as certainly God's will for you and me. FULLNESS! But what KIND of fullness?

I. THE QUESTION IS NOT 'SHALL WE BE FILLED' BUT RATHER 'WITH WHAT SHALL WE BE FILLED?'

A. Each one of us is a vessel that is full, for there is no such thing as a spiritual vacuum. People are full of the stuff of life. People are full of their own importance or their own troubles. They are full of worry-- they are full of advice-- they are full of hot air-- but they are FULL! In our culture it seems like the norm for people to be filled with the importance of self.

We are so near to our culture that we are often blind to the pervasive, insidious, all-encompassing fullness of SELF-WORSHIP as the "accepted way to live." There is occupation with what "I" want! There is obsession with being true to "me." To suggest otherwise is equal to LUNACY and TREASON combined.

IT SEEMS IMPOSSIBLE, A CONTRADICTION, THAT ONLY WHEN I AM FILLED WITH GOD MY REAL 'BEST SELF' CAN BE FORMED. But this is what Jesus was talking about when he said:

Mark 8:35 For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his life for My sake and the gospel's, the same shall find it.

B. There are places where our fullness shows. We need to be looking at:

RESERVOIRS OF CONSCIOUSNESS

What are the things that fill up our day? Not that we ever need to say "This is important" Or even that we ENJOY it... but what are we DOING WITH OUR DAYS?

We need to look at:

WELLSPRINGS OF ATTITUDES

The way we usually ARE to other people. The "habits of the heart" We let ourselves take on a "usual" way of looking at things. They said of Joseph: "Here comes the Dreamer" We look at some people and say "Here comes a Complaint!@" "Here comes trouble" "Here comes LOVE!"

We also need to look at:

FOUNTAINS OF THE SPIRIT

The way we really ARE before God. Blessed are the pure in heart. Blessed are the seekers after God. Open, obedient, growing faith and love that is reflected in love for the Word, love for the place of prayer, love for the Church.

C. Our "fullness" is not usually a conscious choice:

1. We "catch" the ways of society more than we deliberately choose. It isn't that we need to look for the devil under every rock... the spirit of creeping secularism is much more subtle than that... WE JUST NEED TO FORGET WHO WE ARE... AND WHOSE WE ARE... FOR A SHORT WHILE!

2. Being "filled" is not necessarily seen as moral questions... or as "serious." But things "take up space" in our souls (if we can think of spiritual things "spatially"); many things "take up space" that might be used for better things. Fill your mind with junk... and when the crunch comes, up will come... junk!

D. "Fullness" and "capacity" are two different things. Remember, even a small vessel can grow, and eventually take on surprising proportions.

Which brings us to the main idea:

II. THE IDEA OF BEING FILLED WITH GOD!

A. "Filled with all the fullness of God." All that God has to offer-- doesn't mean that we have all of God that there is. The Universe does not "contain" God but rather is sustained by His word. But being filled with God means that all of us is permeated with God's Spirit.

B. This is not a phrase to be lightly dismissed. "Oh, yes-- this means ... entire sanctification!" (Or, "This means speaking in tongues!" Or "This means a certain "experience." The sanctifying experience is true - but in OUR context we may be saying: "We Nazarene's OWN this! We are on familiar territory! Two trips to the altar and we "have God's fullness."

It is nice to have things packaged neatly, theologically-- but God wants to relate to us in the reality of where we live and work-- in the deep needs of our homes.

There is real truth in the MESSAGE OF HOLINESS ... a reality to being filled with the Spirit of God that, while it defies complete description, IT IS CRUCIAL TO OUR SUCCESS AS CHRISTIANS.

EITHER WE WILL SEEK TO BE FILLED WITH GOD, AND BELONG ENTIRELY TO HIM ... OR WE WILL FAIL!!

1. And we will fall into outward sin, and go away from the church,

2. Or, we will fall into the sin of pride - thinking that WE are the KEY... that OUR WAY is a lock on salvation (a mass of legalism),

3. Or we will fall into the sin of false humility (antinomianism) and say: everyone has to sin every day anyway... it really doesn't make any difference how we live-- what we are filled with.

III. THIS IS NOT JUST THEORY (THIS PRAYER OF PAUL FOR YOU AND ME) THE KEY TO FULLNESS IS KNOWING JESUS CHRIST

a. FULLNESS MEANS THE INDWELLING CHRIST -- Verse 17 - Jesus, welcome, at home in you and me, just now!

b. FULLNESS MEANS THE EMPOWERING CHRIST Verse 18 ENABLING US TO GRASP GOD'S LOVE

c. FULLNESS MEANS the all-surpassing Christ (Verse 19) Both a crisis AND an on-going SURRENDER ; a grasping for the love that enables us to make our bodies a living sacrifice (Romans 12:1,2)

CONCLUSION:

You do not have the choice "Shall I be full?" The question is:

WILL YOU BE FILLED WITH THE SPIRIT OF JESUS CHRIST?

Hymn: His Way with Thee...

At Home with God

May 20, 1995

John 14:23

As you probably have heard me say before, when I was a little boy my parents were song evangelists. We literally lived out of suitcases, on the road at least 36 weeks a year. Our "home" was simply the address of an aunt and uncle in Lansing, Michigan.

I guess I didn't think of traveling all the time as strange because it was the only life I knew. I think I felt sorry for other kids who didn't get to see new things all the time. But at the same time I looked with great longing at houses, homes, permanent places to live. How I looked forward to coming back to Lansing to be with aunts and uncles and cousins by the dozens! How I valued that aunt and uncle's home!

Still I think I learned something very early in my life that applies to this scripture lesson today. It is good— best perhaps— to have a sense of place and permanence. But being "at home" finally is a people matter. When we did not have any permanent house whatsoever when I was with father and mother I was "at home." Their security was my security. Their peace was my peace. Occasionally, their discontent was mine, too— for while they were people of integrity they weren't perfect.

That first lesson, then, was where the people you love and trust are— there is home, at least in the sense of security for the child.

Later, when circumstances made it necessary for my parents to leave the itinerant ministry, our first-ever house of our own was a bungalow at 610 South Magnolia in Lansing— you know— two blocks over from Hayford Street. I had a room that was mine, and I slept in the same bed every night, and could have my own closet and my own pictures on the wall. It was far from heaven. But there I had my family, and I had a sense of permanence as well.

I know it is a stretch of imagination to apply this homely and personal understanding of what it means to be "at home" with God, but the facts somehow seem similar:

The reality is that we are not yet at home. [The choir has sung "I Feel Like Traveling On" because "This world is not my home, I'm just a-passing through..."] The promise of Jesus early on in this great passage is that in the place where he lives are many dwelling places, and that he has gone to prepare a place for us so we can be where he is permanently. The passage from Revelation is not so much descriptive, to my literary understanding, as suggestive of a glorious reality that transcends everything we know now.

But the reality also is that God Almighty, YHWH— the Father, Son and Holy Spirit want to be "at home" with us while we travel towards home. This kind of being at home with God isn't the final word on glory or fulfillment or permanence. We are not yet what we are going to be. But if in fact God is wi-i-i-i-ith us!! as the choir sang last Sunday night and Tom Waltermire has been TRYING to sing all week— if God is with us on the road, and we are at home in him— then we need to make sure this has happened in a personal way in each of our lives.

"IF YOU LOVE ME," said Jesus, "YOU WILL OBEY ME, AND THE FATHER WILL LOVE YOU, AND WE WILL COME TO YOU AND TAKE UP PERMANENT RESIDENCE IN YOU."

God not only WITH us— God not only WATCHING OUT for us— God not only SAVING US FROM SIN— BUT GOD AT HOME IN US WHILE WE ARE ON THE WAY! A WORKING DESCRIPTION OF WHAT WE CALL "HOLINESS!" How do we go about making God at home in us??

Love is the key.

Love is not a feeling, but a centering, an act of will and covenant.

In the case of humans there is a submission to covenant.

In the case of divine-human relationship God is always right.

He accommodates our weakness but cannot compromise dishonesty or selfishness so he must be obeyed, but obeyed because of trust/love.

The everlasting "YEA" is the doorway to everything of significance in the kingdom of God. You know whether or not you have come to the place in your walk with God where you have deliberately said "yes!!!!YES!!! Y E S!!!!!" to God for time and for eternity!

That is the place where God moves in to make Himself at home.

The Norm Pentecost

June 4, 1995

In the last days, God declares, I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh. Acts 2:17

Today we celebrate one of the three great days of the entire church year. Everyone celebrates Christmas, and most people even know that it has to do with the birth of Jesus, whether or not they call Him God and Lord. Most people celebrate Easter, and some of them know that Easter, too, has to do with Jesus, and His victory over death and sin.

But then, at least in our country, comes Thanksgiving, (when we do have ecumenical services; and that is good, although most Americans are more tuned in to football and a big family reunion and meal), and then Super Bowl, and of course the Fourth of July.

But what is Pentecost? Why should anyone call it one of the "big three" Christian holy days? Do you know? To begin with:

PENTECOST IS (ANOTHER) TRANSFORMED JEWISH HOLY DAY

We say Pentecost is ANOTHER transformed Jewish holy day because Christians have seen Christ as the fulfillment behind just about all the Old Testament. Jesus is our Passover Lamb, and Jesus is our Seder Host, transforming the Passover Meal into the Communion we will share this morning. And so Passover, too, takes on fulfilling significance to Christians.

Pentecost was and is a Jewish feast day celebrating two things. Called "Pesach" or "Pentecost" because it follows fifty days after Passover and the High Holy Days, Pentecost was first a celebration of the first harvesting of summer fruits. It anticipates the later, greater harvest of the autumn season.

Pentecost also in later times came to be a commemoration of the giving of the law to Moses on Sinai. Devout Jews praised God for giving guidance to all mankind on how to live lives of order and righteousness. The giving of the Law can be contrasted with the giving of confusion at Babel, when God confused those who were trying to reach heaven on their own wisdom; the giving of the Law is God's way of bringing order out of chaos.

WHAT HAPPENED THAT FIRST PENTECOST?

First of all, what happened on Pentecost was that the gathered disciples received the indwelling Holy Spirit, and the Church as Christ's body came into existence. It was the birthday of the church.

Christians believe that on the Jewish feast of Pentecost that came 50 days after Jesus rose from the dead, and ten days after He ascended to the Father, Jesus, HAVING RECEIVED THE FULLNESS OF GLORY, for which he prayed in John 17: 1, Jesus then poured that Spirit He had received out upon his beloved disciples.

This was THE FIRST FRUITS of a great harvest which was to come. As a matter of fact that FIRST FRUIT CELEBRATION that day netted 3,000 new believers in Jesus Christ! It is a celebration of FIRST FRUITS.

The Christian Pentecost might seem to have little to do with the second aspect of the Jewish celebration: the giving of the law to Moses on the mount. But actually, here was a fulfillment of the promise that God would pour out His Spirit on all flesh, and as Paul declares in 2 Corinthians 3:3 God wrote his law now not on tables of stone, but on fleshy tables of the human heart. And instead of confusion of languages, now everyone could hear God's plan of salvation in a language they could understand. In the words of a Sandi Patti song: "Fluent LOVE is spoken here!"

There were other, dramatic things that happened that day of Pentecost. There was mighty, shaking, fearsome sound of hurricane force wind. There were licking, flaming, forked tongues of fire. And there were languages spoken in order that every person who came to see what was happening could understand who Jesus is, and how he can deliver from sin.

Once again here was a direct contrast with Babel: where Babel had been confusion and misunderstanding, Pentecost was God's law in the hearts, God's law of LOVE, and the opposite of confusion: interpretation: everyone heard in his own language the message of salvation.

We have been trained to think of Pentecost and the Holy Spirit only in the rushing wind, and the tongues of fire, and the exotic gifts of language or experience. But first of all the coming of the Spirit is God loving us, and coming to make his home in us so that we can be at home in him on our way home.

THE NEED FOR PENTECOST TODAY

This is the NORM for our Christian existence. The Holy Spirit IS the life of the Church. No Spirit- no life! The Spirit fills every believer to the extent of his/her capacity. There is a deeper life for those who will seek the fullness of the Spirit's blessing. There are wonderful benefits to be received from living the life of full surrender to God's will. But it begins with the Holy Spirit coming to live in you and me and together making us the Church. Welcome the Holy Spirit into your inner being this very day!

Pentecost, or the descent of the Holy Spirit into the human heart, is NOT a doctrine or belief system to defend, but a reality to know and live out. As humanly understood belief systems, even the precious doctrines of our church, even holiness doctrines, are fallible— they are subject to the shortcomings of human understanding that mark all human belief systems. But as a living encounter with God holiness, being filled with God Himself, transforms lives and changes the course of human history. Almighty God actually DOES come to live in His people, and together God's people ARE the Church.

Faith in God must permeate the whole of my being and yours, not simply logically exist in my thinking, or excitedly flood my emotions, or even determinedly rest in my human will. God must be made welcome at the center of all I am and all I do! As a Person God can make Himself known to me, and can dominate my living and your living. And together you and I are the living Church of Pentecost. That is what Pentecost is all about: that is why is a BIG DAY!

PETER'S SERMON

That day Peter stood up and declared the glory and love and power of Jesus Christ. He told the devout Jews assembled that they needed to change their direction: "Repent, and be baptized, every one of you, for the forgiveness of your sins!"

Then he told them: "This God-shared LOVE, this Holy Spirit is to every one of you who will believe!

Into Communion:

First "Preparing

Next: Choir (we ALL sing verse 4)

Then Creed #8

Then Prayers

Then #304 (Sweet, Sweet Spirit) leads into Offering

The Recovering of Hope

June 25, 1995

I Kings 19, Luke 8

If you go looking for strong personalities in the Bible, if you make any sort of list, you'll have to include Elijah the prophet. This man is the quintessential rugged individual. No one exceeds his reputation as a prophet, a man of God, and a fearless teller of the truth. But as strong as Elijah was, he was NOT super-human.

THE ROLLER-COASTER OF REAL LIFE EMOTIONS

In the story we've read, Elijah was coming off a world-class high, the greatest success he had ever seen, beyond fantastic. Elijah had exalted YHWH, God had answered his prayer by fire from heaven. Thousands of Israelites shouted their return to faith, and hundreds of false prophets, prophets of Baal, were put to death. Then Elijah prayed again, and again God answered with rain that ended a three-year drought. You would think that with an entire nation's attention and respect Elijah would have had some sense of accomplishment and joy.

But that is not how real life goes. The rugged prophet is mentally, emotionally, and physically exhausted. So when in the wake of that great victory the queen of Israel threatened Elijah's life, there wasn't anything more Elijah had to fight with. We might think a man who could call fire down from heaven would simply say: "Get in line, Jezebel— you're next on the hit list!" But that is not what really happened. Elijah didn't think, didn't pray— he just ran.

Maybe Elijah had thought everyone would love him now that God had vindicated his prayers, now that the rains had returned, now that the false prophets had been proven false. Maybe Elijah even thought Jezebel would come around. But when none of that happened, and Jezebel threatened to kill him, Elijah simply went south. He walked and ran and walked to the very end of the road. Then he kept on walking another day into the dry and barren wasteland of the Negev desert. Finally he found himself lying exhausted under a broom tree, more depressed than he had ever been before in all his life. All he could think of was, "Let me die!"

"HE RESTORETH MY SOUL" - ELIJAH'S RE-ASSURANCE

What happened next might just make a difference in your life and mine. It is a classic example of how to deal with exhaustion and depression. We can't duplicate the exact circumstances. We wouldn't want to. But we can see how the God of a rugged prophet dealt with that prophet when he ran out of gas:

1. An angel touched him. He had fallen asleep from sheer exhaustion, but an angel gently touched him and said, "You've been sleeping for hours. Now get up and eat." There was a cake, fresh baked (angel food, of course) and a jug of water. Elijah ate and drank and stretched and turned around and lay back down and went out like a light once again. The process was repeated. The angel said, "Hey, you've slept around the clock! Get up and eat— you have a journey ahead of you."
2. Strengthened, but still certain that he was not appreciated, and certain that he was the last bastion of faith, Elijah set out to re-connect with God. God had never left Elijah, but Elijah needed to hear first hand that everything was all right. He set out for Sinai.

Finally he got to the mount of God, found a cave, and went in. A cave is a great place to hide. Unfortunately, a cave is also a bad place to try to live. And a cave is a frightening place to be trapped. Elijah spent the night in the cave. When he awoke he heard the word of the Lord asking him, "Elijah, what are you doing here?"

Elijah was ready— he began to tell God what he had done- as if God did not know. "I am alone! No one else is true!"

The word came to Elijah. "Get out of the cave, stand and wait before the Lord."

Elijah did as he was told. A great wind began to moan and shriek; the passage said it split mountains and broke rocks to pieces. That is some wind. But the Lord was not in the wind. Next came an earthquake. God was not in the earthquake, either. Then came a desert storm of fire. God was not in the fire, either. Elijah waited. He needed to hear from God himself.

After the fire there was silence. One translation calls it "a sound of sheer silence." Elijah knew he was in contact with God Himself. And the question came again: "Elijah, what are you doing here?"

3. Elijah knew he was being heard. He poured out his complaint— he told God exactly how he felt. But Elijah was also ready to hear what God had to say. The grip of the depression was broken. Elijah was ready to move on. God said to him: "Go, return on your way to the wilderness of Damascus." There was still work for Elijah to do. There was a real connection with God.

LET ME BREAK OFF NARRATIVE HERE AND GO DIRECTLY TO APPLICATION:

HOW DOES THIS 'TRANSLATE' FOR PRACTICAL HELP?

1. Listen to your body. You are not superman, superwoman. You are not intended to be. There are times to work almost around the clock. There are other times when it is not optional, it is necessary to take time off, "down time," letting the soul catch up with the rest of us.
2. Listen for God. Listen to God's still, small voice. Listen, and be still, no matter if it takes a while. Listen. [If you wait, God will speak.]

People pay great sums, they travel long distances in order to hear what they believe are words of wisdom. God is waiting to reveal Himself to you, but what makes you think that God can or will speak as you think he should, or on your time-table? You do not understand ALL the reality involved, so seek to wait before God, in the confidence that he can and will speak to you.

FINDING GOD IN THE SILENCE - From Thomas Merton's "Thoughts in Solitude": If life is poured out in useless words we will never hear anything, we will never become anything, and in the end because we have said everything before we had anything to say we shall be left speechless at the moment of our greatest decision.

The Recovering of Hope

3. Listen for God's word on the Church

You will find strength and faith and support in the body of believers. There are yet 7,000 who have not bowed knee to Baal. You are NOT all alone.

4. Listen for God's will for you.

In the center of God's will, there is your peace. I'll guarantee: God is not done with you yet. (Ruth Cameron's mother at 90+ just took on a new assignment: to serve God in her nursing home; it has given her great peace! A miracle!)

5. Share God's goodness. Anoint others to serve.

In this story, after Elijah hears from God he is given a renewed assignment. That assignment is making kings— and choosing his successor. (By the way— Elijah finally ends on an "up.")

IN THE GOSPEL LESSON FOR TODAY Jesus delivered a man from the blackest of dark places.

Called "Legion" because he was the slave of thousands of demons, this man who terrorized a whole countryside was set free, brought to peace, clothed, and in his right mind after Jesus spoke to him.

Then the man who had been called Legion asked if he could go on the road with Jesus. Jesus rather gave him this assignment:

"Return to your home, and tell how much God has done for you." And so this man set free went away as Jesus had bid him do, and proclaimed through the city how much Jesus had done for him. (I remember a time or two when a person whose life turned around became a bright witness to an entire community! Walter Lahner!)

Those who have "been there" have the privilege of not only having their hope renewed, but of being God's instrument for bringing hope to those who have not yet been set free.

Prayer - Wherever we are today, Lord, we need You. We seek You. We listen, and we love You. Thank You that You love us. Amen

Hymn #101 He Giveth More Grace

Liberty Freedom Independence

July 2, 1995

Galatians 5:1 For freedom Christ has set us free. Stand firm, therefore, and do not submit again to a yoke of slavery.

As a schoolboy I lived for the sound of the afternoon bell when I would be free. My child's understanding of freedom was some period of time when no one was telling me what to do. I just took it for granted that all "grown-ups" were absolutely free. They didn't have to go to school (and hear Miss Stroud pronounce spelling words.) They had car keys. They could stay up as late as they wanted.

Of course I didn't know one thing about mortgage payments or utility bills or jobs where the boss might be just as stupid as Miss Stroud.

And as free as I might feel at 3 p.m., you can count on it— by 5:30 I was by the radio in our living room listening to Jack Armstrong, the All-American Boy and waiting for my mother to call us to supper at 6. My freedom did not pretend to be independence. I had never thought much about it, but freedom and independence were two completely different things, and as a matter of fact, so they are.

On this weekend good Americans think about words like independence, and liberty, and freedom. For next Tuesday is the Glorious Fourth of July.

Of course, if you happen to be among the 95% of the world that is made up of people other than Americans these concepts are dear to you as well, even if your red letter days are different from ours. [George Lyons tells about enrolling his children in school in Australia on the 4th of July. The headmaster said, "Isn't this Thanksgiving or something in your country?" ... But you DO have a 4th of July in your country, too! Otherwise you wouldn't have anything between the 3rd and the 5th!]

Independence. Liberty. Freedom. Words that people have used to start revolutions. Words that have been counted worth dying for. "Give me liberty, or give me death!"

"Live free or die!" But also words that need to be taken seriously and understood. Perhaps no words are more misunderstood than independence, liberty, and freedom.

In the physical reality of our day-to-day world in which we live there is no such thing as independence, and no such things as absolute liberty, or freedom.

We depend on others to harvest food and bring it to the marketplace. We have all had mothers or mother-figures to change our diapers for us. We cannot live in this world apart from everyone and everything else. We are inter-dependant. Every one of us is circumscribed by limits of time, and of space, and of physical energy and endurance. We soon learn to live within the bounds of our physical reality.

We cannot be in two places at once. We cannot go backward in time. We cannot undo what we have done. We cannot jump over a house or run 50 miles an hour. We may not have any human laws prohibiting these things— simply the reality of physical and natural laws limit our freedom.

Probably no one here has any great problem with the fact that in everyday, practical living, freedom and liberty flow out of inter-dependence and trust, and that we need laws and we need each other.

But somehow, when we think of independence, liberty and freedom in the things of ultimate reality, what I would call the world of the spirit, the issues are much more difficult for us to perceive and understand.

We are like that schoolboy, waiting for the bell to ring, and thinking that all there is to life is getting out of as much responsibility as possible.

Sometimes we think we have the ultimate answers of life when we really haven't heard all the questions yet. We think we will be free if we can only declare our independence from the restrictions of God and religion, or we pick and choose between the many interpretations within the bounds of nominal Christianity. And believe me, you can pick and choose until you find people teaching what you want to hear.

But when we bump up against the realities of life and death— when the crunch times come as they will and as they do, we need to hear the voice of love saying, "It's supper time! Come to the table!"

In looking for liberty, real freedom, we can pick and choose what WE think is right, OR, we can trust a Person we have come to know. I am speaking, of course, of Jesus Christ!

This Person lived 2,000 years ago and taught many wise sayings. but so did Confucius and Buddha. This Person died for what He believed was the will of Father God. So have thousands of others. But this Person we are challenged to trust with defining liberty and freedom in the realm of the spirit is different from every other Person who ever lived.

This Person not only spoke truth, He said that He IS Truth. By a miracle of grace God gave us His word through prophets, and by sweet singers and Psalmists, and that Word told of One who would come and fulfill all truth. Jesus came, and lived and died, and sent His Spirit to breathe life into a Church. The Spirit inspired the evangelists and apostles to write, and through that New Testament as well as the Old the Spirit of God has introduced you and me to a living Person.

We have sat in Bible School and sung "Into my heart, into my heart, Come into my heart, Lord Jesus!" And you know what? The Lord Jesus Christ has humbled himself again and come into your heart and mine. We have come to a public altar at an invitation, and we have heard someone say to us: "Listen to this scripture, Revelation 3:20: 'Behold I stand at the door and knock! If any man/woman/boy/girl will hear my voice, and will open the door I will come in.' Do you believe this? Will you ask Jesus in?" And we have said, "Dear Jesus, please come in!"

And the Lord Jesus Christ, king of the Universe, has humbled Himself and has come into your life and mine to live in us by His Spirit.

Frankly, this world is moving so very fast that none of us can keep up with the explosion of information and keep his/her balance. Our freedom is limited by boundaries we do not begin to understand. But we can trust a Person we have come to know in a personal and intimate and very real way.

But if we follow Jesus we must be prepared to obey Him. If we choose to follow Jesus we are free but we will not be independent. Following Jesus brings with it a freedom, but within a love that sets lesser loves aside. To follow Jesus is to find liberty to do the right, freedom to follow the best. But that is a far cry from doing as we please!

A correspondent of mine, a Methodist minister, Rev. David Miller, recently wrote:

Every time we had Bible study, Ray and I disagreed with each other. Almost every passage at which we looked would launch him into an explanation of why infant baptism was anti-biblical or some other criticism of official United Methodist theology or practice.

My sermons never seemed to click with him, either. I tend to use a lot of references from popular culture, and he didn't even own a TV. "Fanatic!" I thought to myself (and said to colleagues and friends.)

After being his pastor for a few months, I learned something about him that amazed me. When he became a Christian, he gave up his tobacco base. He didn't just quit growing tobacco; he didn't lease or sell his base. He gave it up completely. When he gained a new life, he gave up his livelihood.

In many important ways Ray was a follower of the way.

We might want to wriggle a bit on this challenge that Jesus confronts us with— "Will you come all the way with Me, will you be willing to go where I go, do what I ask of you, no matter what?"

We would like a more moderate sort of faith- a faith in good citizenship or strong family values (and they are worthy!). But Jesus calls us to the freedom that only comes from abandonment to the total will of God. That is something to think about over this Glorious Fourth of July Weekend.

Prayer

Chorus:

Sacrament of Communion

Assurance of Faith

August 13, 1995

Luke 12:32-40; Hebrews 11:1-3

One of the high privileges of being a pastor is being around God's people in the crises of life. It isn't always fun, and in fact it can be quite anguishing at times. But seeing faith at work, and seeing faith work is a reinforcement to my deepest convictions.

In talking with Esther Sanger these past weeks and days I was made to remember several things I thought I already knew. I remembered that

1. Death is an enemy. No matter what we say, we want to live in this life as long as we can. We fight for life and that is good and understandable. Death is not a friend. But death is not the end, either.
2. The sting of death is sin, which can be removed— indeed, it is removed for Christ's one. God's people die just as everyone else dies. But they don't die like everyone else, either. They die in peace with God, and with a sure hope.
3. The God-covenant is all-important, and goes deeper than we can explain or understand. This is not in any way to deny or invalidate being "saved." It does not set aside the truth of doctrine, of the works of grace. But being "saved" really involves a living connection with God, a relationship, or, even better, a working covenant.

Our scripture lessons today talk about confidence in this God- relationship. How important is it to you just now to know that you are right with Almighty God? I am not being in the least morbid when I tell you that one day it will be the absolutely most important question you will have to answer!

The scriptures (Hebrews 11: 1) tell us: "Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things unseen..." What do you know for sure about faith?

I. FAITH IS MYSTERIOUS

One thing you can be sure of: if you think you have God and salvation and the great questions of life all figured out, you don't even know all the questions!

ONE SIDE OF FAITH IS VERY, VERY SIMPLE.

I can tell you with confidence that you can trust the Bible when it says (Romans 10:9,10) "If you confess with your mouth, and believe with your heart you will be saved." or (John 3:16) "WHOSOEVER BELIEVES shall never perish" and (John 6:37) "He that comes to me I will in no way cast out!"

ANOTHER SIDE IS VERY PERSONAL.

It is making those great Bible promises my own. It is the dynamic assurance that I not only believe— but that this is true in my life.

FAITH IS GOD'S GIFT OF SOUL VISION. IT IS GOD'S RADAR. IT IS THE ABILITY TO "SEE" GRACE BEING OFFERED

Some things faith is definitely NOT: it is not "being in control" by exercising superior power. It is NOT getting MY way no matter what God wills. Faith does not change who God is.

II. FAITH IS RESPONSE TO A CALL - FAITH IS NOT TAKING THE INITIATIVE - AND THAT TAKES THE PRESSURE OFF . . . =

Salvation ALWAYS begins in God's heart— in God's LOVE for YOU- - and then it ALWAYS begins when God calls us away from selfishness to follow Him. Hebrews 11:6 God IS; God will be found of those who seek HIM!

The way we hear it sometimes— faith is a power that we can exercise to do whatever we think we ought to do— a power we can use to get God to do OUR will. There IS a certain amount of power in sheer "believing" I am sure. But that is a thousand miles from saving faith.

III. FAITH IS A CHALLENGE TO LIFE AND JOY

It seems that to be God-centered means an end to happiness. If I have to do what GOD says I can never really be happy! To get ready for eternity means I have to live a life of frustration here and now! Right? Wrong!

SO MANY "DON'T BE AFRAID!" AND "FEAR NOT!" God's Way is the most fulfilling way there is! It is THE ONLY truly fulfilling way!

IV. FAITH IS FOLLOWING A GOD WHO LEADS

There is always a dynamic aspect to faith. That is what Hebrews 11 is telling us. The greatest example of faith is Abraham.

Hebrews 11:8 -

Abraham OBEYED when he was CALLED

"Passive?" We cannot simply set out to follow unless and until we are called. Abraham did not know his destination; he only knew his Leader He followed - He believed - He obeyed - He became fruitful: So now we call Abraham 'father' It is making trips to an altar— but it is more... It is responding with feeling to a challenge— but more... [One thing you can be sure of: if you think you have God and salvation and the great questions of life all figured out, you don't even know all the questions!]

WHEN FAITH CALLS— WHEN GOD CALLS— It is always AWAY from the world's definitions of life, of love, of values:

WHEN FAITH CALLS. It is always A SENSITIZING TO THE FACT OF SIN! (sIn is spelled 's-(capital)I-n' The middle letter is the clue!)

WHEN FAITH CALLS It is TO OPEN OUR HANDS AND HEARTS

Jesus has been dealing in these chapters with the biggest single evidence of selfishness and self-centeredness which is GREED! It is getting more for ME! ("I'll build bigger barns for ME! etc.")

Jesus always leads AWAY FROM ACQUISITIVENESS AND GREED. Dare to be like me, Jesus says. He leads into radical trust.

DON'T BE POSSESSED BY POSSESSIONS where YOUR TREASURE IS, THERE IS YOUR HEART!

"Children more important than jobs" "Jobs get more respect than children!"
"Friendship more important than profit" "Profit gets higher priority than friendship"
[what we DO speaks louder than what we give lip service to]

Conclusion

So—how can we be assured at all? If it is true that "One thing you can be sure of: those who think they have God and salvation and the great questions of life all figured out, don't even know all the questions!" then HOW CAN WE KNOW ANYTHING AT ALL?

I used to belong to Squantum Yacht Club. There is a narrow channel dredged in to the mooring area that is always deep enough to bring a power boat through. At some tides it doesn't matter because there is 9' of water. At other tides the channel is visible because the mud flats come right up out of the water. But at half tides there can be trouble if you get out of the channel coming home.

So— how do you stay in the channel coming home? From a distance the Wollaston shore looks all the same. It is easy to get headed in the wrong direction.

First— I look for the church steeple. Then I watch for the first red buoy. I know that marks the outer end of the channel. Then as I head for that outer buoy, I watch for the next red buoy in the distance and finally line two or three up, keep them on the right, and I'm on my way in.

Faith is something like that. Faith is SIMPLE. But faith is also PERSONAL. First we see the great promises and know we're headed toward home. But then we watch for the channel marker, and God's WORD lines up with God's SPIRIT for our own personal relationship.

(Romans 8:16) "God's Spirit bears witness with our spirit that we are children of God."

WE HAVE THE BIBLE WE HAVE THE SPIRIT HIMSELF WE HAVE THE CLEAR CHANNEL HOME

This is NOT salvation by works. It IS a personal following Jesus that begins here and now— and never, ever ends. Faith is not simply "I was saved 10 years ago..." That is great! But faith is Abraham years later giving up Isaac— only to receive him back and become the father of nations.

Faith is Esther Sanger nailing posters to telephone poles around Wollaston "If you need help call xxx-xxxx" And I want you to know that Esther is still trying to keep in step with Jesus!

#489 Where He Leads Me

Standing on the Shoulders of Giants

August 20, 1995

Sources of Strength

Hebrews 12:1,2

The Faith Chapter, Hebrews 11, is far more than just a Hall of Fame of heroes of the faith. The writer of Hebrews fully intended that it would be a help to YOU and ME in our own journey with God.

The words of introduction which lead into Hebrews 11 are a call to assurance:
[Hebrews 10:35]

"Cast not away therefore your confidence which has great recompense of reward.. you have need of patience that after you have done the will of God you might receive the promise... and then these great words which fired the imagination of Martin Luther, among many others: "THE JUST SHALL LIVE BY FAITH!"

[Then comes the roll call of the heroes of faith]

The words which summarize that great Roll Call are the words of our text this morning: [Hebrews 12:1,2] begin:

"Wherefore, seeing we are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us run with patience the race that is set before us ..."

The Faith Chapter is there to be a source of personal strength and encouragement to every one of us.

I. FAITH IS

- A. Last week we outlined a practical description of "faith" . We said, among other things, that
 - 1. A GIFT that makes
 - 2. COVENANT WITH GOD POSSIBLE; and even more, faith that brings us into

3. A PERSONAL, LOVING RELATIONSHIP WITH GOD. There is no more wonderful verse in the Bible than Hebrews 11:6.

B. Today we add to that description the fact that true faith involves:

1. OBEDIENCE— putting obedience ahead of prolonged analysis (11:8 "By faith Abraham, when he was called ... obeyed ... and he went out not knowing where he was going")

Faith in God also always means

2. REFUSING TO COMPROMISE WITH SIN (11:24 - 26 "By faith Moses, when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter, choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a little while")

And if we are willing to accept the Faith Chapter's description of faith, faith in God ultimately means

3. PUTTING DAY-BY-DAY FAITHFULNESS AHEAD OF PERSONAL SUCCESS (Hebrews 11:36 "And others ...")

Transition

This description of faith would seem to tell us that faith is dynamic, a relationship; it is not simply believing a list of propositions or accepting the statements of fact about God, salvation, and the Bible.

Faith ultimately is not simply what we know and what we believe, important as that is. The faith that saves and keeps and accomplishes the work of Christ is a matter of WHOM we know, and WHO is willing to walk with us into the good times and the hard times of life where it is really lived.

This kind of faith- living is not automatic. It takes courage. It requires strength— more strength than I have, or you. That is one main reason why the writer of Hebrews gave us this faith chapter. He began it with the admonition not to give up. He follows it immediately with the call to be encouraged and strengthened. I would close this sermon-lesson with several apparent sources of strength from this passage in Hebrews:

II. SOURCES OF STRENGTH TO OUR FAITH

A. There are important secondary sources:

1. The EXAMPLE of the ones who have gone before Stephen J. Gould once commented that "in the south transept of Chartes Cathedral the most stunning of all medieval windows depicts the four evangelists as dwarfs sitting on the shoulders of four Old Testament prophets, Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekeil, and Daniel." Gould went on to commend the humility of Isaac Newton, one of the fathers of modern science, I suppose, who was quoted as saying "If I have seen farther, it is by standing on the shoulders of giants."

2. The EXPECTATIONS of those who have finished their work

3. The EYES of those running and yet to run

(When I was young no one had ever run a four minute mile. For years the record was 4 minutes and 5 seconds. Then in May 6, 1954 Roger Bannister, a young physician, Oxford man, ran the mile in 3:59.4. It was astounding! Soon, however, later that summer, actually, that record was smashed. Now top runners regularly break 3.50. The last I heard the record was under 3:45, actually 3:44.39. It was shown as possible ...)

B. There is, of course, ONE PRIMARY Source: Jesus is the Source of all strength: "Looking to Jesus!"

1. The AUTHOR: he started the whole thing!
2. Jesus ENDURED CONTRADICTION The kind of things that hurt us are real— and yet not often are they directed pointedly at us to hurt us. When occasionally we face real persecution it is deeply painful. But Jesus endured the unleashed forces of darkness, directed specifically at Him because He represented total and complete victory for all who would look to Him.
3. Jesus ENDURED! He is the FINISHER! JESUS ENDURED! he carried through to the end of the race. He finished!

The Posture of Praise

August 27, 1995

Luke 13:13 When he laid his hands on her, immediately she stood up straight and began praising God.

In the House of Worship on the Lord's Day is probably not the the first place we would be looking for people bent out of shape. But there she was, all bent over, looking down because she couldn't look up. Jesus was there in the synagogue on the Sabbath day, and when Jesus touched her, she stood up straight and tall for the first time in eighteen years!

At the very beginning of his ministry (Luke 4:18) Jesus declared that he came to preach good news to the poor and to set captives free. Here in the synagogue in Capernaum Jesus found a woman who was weighed down by a burden that had bent her over for eighteen years. True to his word, Jesus touched her and set her absolutely free, and she stood up straight and tall and began praising God..

If we could look around this sanctuary with spiritual vision, we might be surprised by the various kinds of burdens that bend us over, by the kinds of weights that make simply carrying on from day to day a near-impossible task. Every one of us will have to go through hard places, and carry heavy burdens. But is it possible that some of us carry unnecessary burdens? Are there spirits of heaviness that have any of us weighed down? Do you think it is still possible that Jesus is still in House of Worship ready to touch people who are bending under heavy loads?

THERE ARE MANY DIFFERENT KINDS OF BURDENS THAT SHOW UP EVEN IN THE PLACE OF WORSHIP.

There are legitimate burdens of care for elderly parents, or for wayward children. There are burdens of responding to God's call in spite of opposition.

Then there are burdens we have brought on ourselves through foolishness or sin. There are burdens of secret sin, of leading double lives. Burdens of envy and jealousy, of hatred or malice. And there are burdens of unresolved hurt feelings, There are burdens of fear of the unknown. It sounds simplistic, and it is, to say 'Jesus is the answer' to all these kinds of burdens. Still, coming near to God, coming to where Jesus can touch us, is the beginning point, whatever your burden this morning may be. . . .

SO— WHAT DO WE DO ABOUT THE BURDENS THAT BEND US OUT OF SHAPE?

WE BRING THEM TO THE SANCTUARY IN HOPES OF MEETING JESUS WE LOOK FOR THE TOUCH OF JESUS REGARDLESS OF THE SOURCE OF THE BURDEN WE DO WHAT WE CAN DO . . . AND GOD WILL DO WHAT WE CAN NOT DO . . .

Look at some of the BURDENS OF LIFE The (complicated) burdens that involve others, relationships, damaged emotions can best be ministered to by counsel and community. But ministry which treats the whole person, including body, mind, and spirit, needs to begin with a prayer for help to Jesus. Jesus cares whatever our heartaches may be. He is not deaf. He said he came to make us free men and women. We may have to bear burdens, but we do not have to be slaves of our responsibilities and cares. If you are here this morning with a burden involving heartache and sorrow, don't avoid counselors and normal channels of help. But begin by laying out your sorrow before the Lord. He cares! He will help guide your path to freedom. Jesus does not want any of his people captive by anyone or anything except love to Him.

Do you realize that there are BURDENS OF FAITH ? It may sound strange coming from a pastor, but religion itself can be an unbearable burden. The spiritual burdens of doubt and faith and inner struggle are burdens that Jesus loves to remove.

The LAW, the Ten Commandments, the word from Sinai, is GOOD. But God's original Law has been "improved" and "interpreted" with ten thousand 'shalts' and 'shalt nots,' that are impossible to keep. I know that heavy burden of being told what is right and what is wrong, of seeing salvation supposedly reduced to a rigid code of conduct which is interpreted and re-interpreted until the juice of compassion and grace is all but squeezed out of it, totally missing the heart of the joy and peace that knowing Jesus is all about.

The Ten Commandments are true and good. But God intends that we be able to keep them by loving Him, and loving each other. Being "religious" can be a burden. But true religion comes when we quit trying on our own to be Christians, and invite Jesus to live in us and forgive our sins, and when we start living to please HIM. I don't know any heavier burden than trying sincerely to live the Christian life apart from the indwelling Holy Spirit!

[Finally ...]

The teens coming back from Camp and testifying last Sunday night gave me food for thought. They were unanimous in saying "I need to witness! But I am afraid!" Do you ever think about

THE BURDEN OF GOD'S CALL [?]

The prophet Jeremiah was just a very young man when he felt this challenge to 'do something important' with his life. He seemed at the same time to be wrestling with one of the most common ailments known to modern human beings: the Low Self Image. (It is there in the first chapter of Jeremiah's prophecy:)

Jeremiah woke up one morning to find a great big burden ready to weigh him down to the ground. It was a burden he would carry for the rest of his life. But in carrying that burden Jeremiah was not bent down to the ground— he is one of the sweetest, kindest, most faithful prophets this world has seen.

Jeremiah heard God say: "I know you! I am calling you to be my special man!" He said, "Ah! Lord God! I am only a young person ... I can not possibly do this task! It needs someone great!"

But God answered back:

"Don't ever say 'I am ONLY! Never say I am ONLY anything!

"Because I AM has called you!

"Because I AM expects you to say ONLY what I tell you to say— and you can do that!

The Posture of Praise

"Because I AM expects you to go ONLY where I tell you to go...

"And not only that, I AM COMING ALONG WITH YOU EVERY STEP OF THE WAY!"

[I am a thousand miles from being Jeremiah— but this happened to me on the way to ENC: I discovered Isaiah 41:10! It is still mine. I need it right now!]

Coming full circle, back to where we began:

On the Lord's Day in the sanctuary of the Wollaston Church of the Nazarene might not be the first place we would go to look for people bent out of shape. Jesus is in the business of setting captives free— of taking away the burdens of sin and shame and selfishness, and as He did with Jeremiah, making burdens redemptive when they are burdens of the cross.

There will always be burdens as long as there is life. But Jesus is in the business of setting us free, so that we are not hostages to those burdens. When we bear the cross for Jesus, we do not have to be captives to anyone or any thing. Amen.

Prayer - #607 - Just a Closer Walk With Thee

September 3, 1995
Communion Sunday

Luke 14

The scripture doesn't tell us, and I can't imagine, why a leader of the Pharisees invited Jesus to a formal Sabbath dinner. I can't imagine why Jesus accepted the invitation. You'd better watch where you ask Jesus to come, because he just might take you up on it.

Be that as it may, Jesus was definitely out of His usual setting.

['Would you pleez pass th' jelly?']

He was a carpenter from the highlands of Galilee. These people were Politically Correct, heavy-duty Very Important People from the capital City of Religion. It is obvious that Jesus was invited to the dinner for less than friendly reasons. There were people there who simply wanted to find fault with him. He was definitely something of a curiosity as the invited guests began to take their places. The text says ""they watched him intently." They just might have thought they could "put down" Jesus, and put Him in His place.

Have you ever been "put down?" Have you ever, say in your younger days, ever gotten into a situation where you came to realize you just didn't belong? Have you ever thought that maybe people might laugh at you because you didn't know which knife or fork to use? I have. And I don't think I'm going to tell you about it just now. [I do remember spilling a cup of tea on the wallpaper a long time ago.]

But Jesus was watching them, too. You can be certain that Jesus was not nervous or ill at ease in the least. He watched as the guests jockeyed for the places of honor nearest the power at the head of the table. He watched as they smiled insincere smiles, and made their comments behind their hands. He saw things they did not see, or did not want to see. He saw a man who needed help, and he helped him. Ultimately, Jesus is never 'on trial.' He is Truth.

I. Jesus Exposed The Insincerity Of Relationships Built On Appearance Rather Than Substance.

Before he healed the man with swollen joints, Jesus watched the insincerity of people jockeying for importance and ego satisfaction. He confounded his critics by asking them whether or not he should heal on the Sabbath. "Is it right to heal this man, or isn't it?" he asked them. Of course, the Pharisees weaseled on their reply, and this made Jesus angry.

Jesus absolutely turned the situation upside down. Now the Pharisees were looking awkward. When people do not dare to be who they really are, they say what they think people want to hear, or what will make themselves look good, rather than what is right and true.

If you find yourself always having to say what you believe people expect to hear instead of what you know is true, then you are running around with the wrong kind of crowd.

God's people, of all people, should be able to speak the truth in love.

[This is certainly not to say it doesn't matter how we act so long as we are "ourselves" and sincere. There is a definite place for social graces and tradition. Remember the parable Jesus gave that balances this one, of the man who came to the (free grace) wedding banquet but did not bother to put on the wedding garment that was furnished, and who was bound hand and foot and cast into darkness.]

II. Jesus Explained That Hospitality Is A Hands On Attitude Instead Of Giving Alms At Long Range.

The Pharisees were big on PROGRAMMED ALMS-GIVING. They were tithers, and that is good. They believed in crossing the ocean if necessary to make a proselyte. But they weren't too good on simply being kind to someone they had invited home to dinner.

It may make you feel better to send $20 to Sally Struthers when you see pictures of poor little children half way around the world somewhere. But that doesn't let you off the hook if your next door neighbors, (who may even have a lot more money than you do,) need someone who will care about them and love them and tell them the truth instead of just passing the time of day. I've been impressed and deeply moved by the people who ministered to the desperately need in Bucharest. But you don't have to be in Romania to find elderly people who need to be ministered to. They might just be sitting next to you this morning.

Hospitality is having room in your heart for others. Hospitality is caring for the people where you live, not the people you are going to meet someday. Hospitality is loving people here and now. The "others" who desperately need the love of Jesus are not always far away.

What goes on INSIDE the church is the key to the quality of what will happen OUTSIDE!

NEVER despise the vital necessity of hospitality and fellowship by saying "Didn't Jesus say we need to get out into the streets and compel them to come in!"?? For before we can compel anyone there must be a climate of love into which to bring the lost. It is that very hospitality which the world doesn't understand but desperately needs. John put it this way: "They will say, "BEHOLD, HOW THEY LOVE ONE ANOTHER!"

Sometimes we are in the role of guests at the Lord's Table, responding to his invitation, and taking our place in the family meal. Sometimes we are called upon to be Christ's representatives as hosts, inviting others to the banquet. And Jesus has words here for us whether we are guests or hosts or both.

When we are guests at God's table we need the humility to realize we are not above our Lord, who washed his disciples feet. The epistle passage says "Let mutual love prevail!"

Our hope and prayer ought to be that our brothers and sisters have their burdens lightened, and not simply be concerned with our own.

When we are inviting others to Christ's banquet table, welcoming strangers into the friendship of the church, Jesus says our motive should be meeting their needs, and not simply compiling a list of names to drop. If we open our eyes, as Jesus did that day, we will see people that He can help, and we will be able to introduce them to Him.

The Epistle lesson underscores this kind of hospitality. Listen to it again in the words of The Message:

"Stay on good terms with each other, held together by love. Be ready with a meal or a bed when it's needed. Why, some have extended hospitality to angels without even knowing it!

Regard prisoners as if you were in prison with them. Look on victims of abuse as if what happened to them had happened to you. Honor marriage, and guard the sacredness of sexual intimacy between wife and husband. God draws a firm line against casual and illicit sex.

Don't be obsessed with getting more material things. be relaxed with what you have. Since God assured us, "I'll never let you down, never walk off and leave you," we can boldly quote, "God is there, ready to help; I'm fearless no matter what. Who or what can get to me?" (Hebrews 13: 1 - 5)

III. Jesus Demonstrates His Hospitality Here At His Table This Morning: He Has Invited All Who Will To Come, To Partake.

The hospitality Jesus expects of us is simply a reflection of the kind of hospitality He extends to us as He invites us to His table. Jesus does not exclude those of us who are weak, or sinful, or imperfect in our service. He does not invite those who can afford to pay their own way. He calls to you and to me.

Will you come if he asks you? Will you try to be more like Him?

Prayer - Interim Hymn/Chorus

September 3, 1995

THE HOLY COMMUNION

The Law Read and Confession Made

The Lord Jesus Christ has said to us: "Thou shalt love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the first and great commandment. The second is like unto it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets."

Shall we pray:

Search us, O God, and know our most private thoughts. Try us, and show unto us the deepest motives, the real state of our hearts. Forgive us where we have been selfish, or insensitive, or sinful in any way. We cannot keep the Great Commandment, and truly love You, O God, with all our heart, soul, and mind unless You in mercy grant to us the grace of Your indwelling Spirit. We cannot love each other as we should unless Your love is shed abroad in our hearts.

Brothers and sisters, let us search our hearts. In silence let us ask God to draw us near to Himself so that we can come to his table with confidence.

We do not presume to come to this table, O God, trusting in our own righteousness, but in your great mercy and grace. Grant us to eat the Bread of heaven, and drink the blood shed for the remission of sins, that we may live in Christ, and Christ may live in us forever. Amen

Let us confess our faith:

The Nicene Creed (STL # 14)

The Informal Invitation ("This is not my table . . .")

Holy and gracious Father; in your infinite love you made us for yourself; and, when we had fallen into sin, and were worthy of death and hell, you, in your mercy sent Jesus Christ, your only and eternal Son to share our human nature, to live and die as one of us, to reconcile us to You, the God and Father of all.

He stretched out his arms upon the cross, and offered himself in obedience to your will, a perfect sacrifice for the whole world.

The Words of Institution:

On the night in which he was betrayed our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had give thanks to You he broke it and gave it to his disciples and said, "Take eat: THIS IS MY BODY, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me.

After supper he took the cup and when he had give thanks he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you; THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink this, do it in remembrance of me: Amen

We praise you for the mystery of our salvation! We truly believe
Christ has died!
Christ is risen!
Christ will come again!

Bless these emblems, O God, and make them to us the Body and Blood of your Son, spiritual food, and spiritual drink of new and unending life in Jesus Christ.

And now, together, we pray, as Jesus taught us:

Our Father which art in heaven . . .

Now, humbly we receive the Gifts of God for the People of God

Doing Lost Being Found

September 17, 1995

Luke 15:1-10

I Timothy 1: 12 - 17

It is important to know WHY Jesus told these stories here in Luke 15. The very religious Pharisees and scribes were critical because Jesus was spending time with "sinners." Jesus wanted them to know he came to seek and save the LOST. The ironic thing is, they probably never realized that THEY were lost and in danger of eternal loss.

This chapter is about what it means to be LOST.

Sometimes when I think of "lost" I remember the story of "Lady Be Good."

In the early years of World War II after the United States forces invaded northern Africa, crude airstrips were established on the desert, and bombing runs across the Mediterranean were begun on Axis targets in Italy.

"Lady Be Good" was a Flying Fortress, B-17 bomber, that was making these long and dangerous flights. The night this plane was tragically lost the crew had made it to Italy and was returning on a radio beam from the desert air strip. When the beam would come on the Lady be Good made certain it was on a straight line toward home.

The crew never knew until it was too late that they had a strong tail wind that brought them back much sooner than expected. With no visual point of reference they simply overflowed the directional signal and kept straight on until they ran out of gas and came down in the Libyan desert more than a hundred miles south of the coast and water. They were LOST. They simply disappeared off the face of the earth— no one knew they had overflowed their base into the heart of the desert.

Their plane has been almost perfectly preserved in the dryness— the men themselves survived the emergency landing only to die of thirst in the desert with no one knowing where they might be.

This story has always been a classic object lesson to me, personally, that doing MY best and following rules, even good rules, is not enough. These men were literally "on the beam." And perhaps the chilling part of this story is that people can be lost and not even know they are lost until it has ruined their lives or worse.

In order to find our way in this world there has to be a dependable point of reference, a point of personal contact with God. The Ten Commandments and the Beatitudes and the guidance of scripture are all good, but they cannot save us, and we can keep them all so far as human effort is concerned and still be lost.

"Lost" is being where you're not supposed to be. "Lost" is not really knowing where you belong, or how to get there. "Lost" is having no valid point of reference outside of "self." A great proportion of society today is unaware that there is any reference point beyond what looks good, or feels good, or seems good at the moment. The worst kind of being lost is not having a clue that you are lost at all.

These Pharisees to whom Jesus addressed these stories about "lost" and "found" did not have a clue that they were themselves LOST. They were sure and certain they knew all about God and what God expects; they "knew" they didn't need Jesus or anything he could tell them. The Pharisees "knew" because they knew how to "do" religion. Whenever religion becomes a matter strictly of "doing" with no reference point for "being" we have people who are lost and don't even know they are lost.

One thing for sure, the Pharisees Jesus confronted are not the only people who ever thought they knew more than anyone else about being God's people. Anytime we think we know how to DO religion apart from that strong reference point of personal contact with God, and communion with His Spirit in Christ-likeness, we are on dangerous ground. The Pharisees are still with us, and sometimes I fear we could say, like Pogo, "We have met the enemy, and he is US!"

In John Wesley's day the human nature was exactly the same as it is today. The saintly man John Wesley hand picked to be his successor, John Fletcher, was deeply concerned about people who DO religion apart from the SPIRIT, apart from the REFERENCE point of accountability to Jesus. If you can try with me to "translate" two-hundred-year-old English, listen to John Fletcher's concern for his day:

TO CHRISTIAN PHARISEES:

I address you first, ye perfect Christian pharisees, because ye are most ready to profess Christian perfection, thought [sic], alas! ye stand at the greatest distance from perfect humility, the grace which is most essential to the perfect Christian's character; and because the enemies of our doctrine make use of you first, when they endeavor to root it up from the earth.

That ye may know whom I mean by "perfect Christian pharisees," give me leave to show you your own picture in the glass of a plain description. Ye have professedly entered into the fold where Christ's sheep, which are perfected in love, rest all at each other's feet, and at the feet of the Lamb of God. But how have ye entered? by Christ the door? or at the door of presumption? Not by Christ the door; for Christ is meekness and lowliness manifested in the flesh, but ye are still ungentle and fond of praise. When He pours out His soul as a divine prophet, He says, "Learn of Me, for I am meek and lowly in heart: take My yoke upon you, and ye shall find rest unto your souls." But ye overlook this humble door; your proud, gigantic minds are above stooping low enough to follow Him who "made Himself of no reputation," that He might raise us to heavenly honours; and who, to pour just contempt upon human pride, had His first night's lodging in a stable, and spent His last night partly on the cold ground, in a storm of Divine wrath, and partly in an ignominious confinement, exposed to the greatest indignities which Jews and Gentiles could pour upon Him. He rested His infant head upon hay, His dying head upon thorns. A manger was His cradle, and a cross His death bed. Thirty years He traveled from the sordid stable to the accursed tree, unnoticed by His own peculiar people. In the brightest of His days, poor fishermen, some Galilean women, and a company of shouting children, formed all his retinue. Shepherds were His first attendants, and malefactors his last companions.

Fletcher was saying we cannot be Christian apart from Jesus and the Spirit of Jesus.

In a community that was concerned with its own salvation and success the Lord Jesus was out of step. The Pharisees then found fault with His actions and attitudes. The three stories about being "Lost and Found" in Luke 15 are an answer to those who simply DO RELIGION. Jesus is not in a defensive posture, but rather He is giving us a glimpse into the heart of God. He is trying to give a point of reference— to say that salvation— true religion— is GOD-CENTERED.

Jesus is exposing the self-centeredness that is at the very heart of all sin. (Don't forget, sin is spelled with an "I" in the middle!)

The McLandress Coefficient

When I was studying pastoral care many years ago I read about the "McLandress Coefficient;" Herschel McLandress was a professor of psychiatric measurement at Harvard Medical School, and he developed a way to measure a person's degree of self-absorption. In spoken and written material he measured the use of "I," "me," and "my" and the "Coefficient" was the longest span of time a person can remain diverted from himself. Eleanor Roosevelt was supposed to have a McLandress coefficient of two hours; John F. Kennedy's was twenty-nine minutes, and Elizabeth Taylor's was three minutes. The reason I don't make Jesus more at home at times is because I need to talk about me, when maybe he wants to talk about something else. How is your McLandress Coefficient?

How can we claim not to be LOST when everything we do and say revolves around US? Even in our worship and praying we cannot escape this selfish way of living. do we come to this "POINT OF REFERENCE?" How do we escape our "Self?" A clue to the answer probably lies in the question. "How do we DO? The answer is WE don't! [[[In GOD-CENTERED WORSHIP GOD IS THE SEEKER
GOD IS THE SPEAKER GOD IS THE CELEBRATOR]]]]

The stories of our Gospel lesson speak of one who seeks the lost— one who turns the house upside down looking for the lost.

If you even WANT to have a God-centered faith, you are a lot closer that you might think. The worst kind of "lost" is the one who has no idea he or she IS lost. If you have an inkling that maybe you need to find and move closer to the Eternal Point of Reference, then you can be sure that grace is already at work in your life.

I remember a story of the sea from days gone by. A sailing vessel had become becalmed off the coast of South America and had drifted for days with not enough wind to go anywhere. Their supplies had been low when the wind had died, and now they were becoming desperate for drinking water. They prayed for rain, prayed for a wind, but just scorching sunshine. Then over the horizon came a coal-burning steamship.

They shouted and hoisted flags, and soon the ship turned and came toward the becalmed vessel.

They shouted as soon as they could make themselves heard "Do you have any water for us? We're dying of thirst?"

They thought they heard the reply "Let down your casks into the sea?" They asked again— and got the same strange answer. Anyone knows that to drink sea water doesn't quench thirst and is inviting death. "Let down your casks where you are right now!"

Someone threw over a bucket on a line and hoisted it on deck, and, amazingly, it was sweet and fresh. The reason— they had drifted into the mouth of the Amazon River, which is 100 miles wide when it flows into the ocean. They had been dying of thirst with water to drink all around them.

There are people not far from where we are right now who are drying up in spirit, and dying of spiritual thirst with the provisions of God all around them. We don't have to DO anything to bring God where we are. He is here, waiting for us to recognize Him and ask His help in putting him at the center of our lives. But we can and we must respond to a God that seeks us in our lost condition.

How, do you suppose, can we return to a God-centered life? How can we put God at the center of our worship and our everyday, walking-around lives? Could I suggest a couple of ways to begin with?

A. If you know you are a child of God, then begin again think about BEING, before DOING!

Ask God to help you give Him his rightful place at the very center of your life:

1. Sabbath day observance puts God in His rightful place. Is your Sunday in any way a day set apart for God and rest?
2. Value Being over Doing: Whatever we do, we must ask for the Spirit of Jesus. If we want to win people to the Christ we love, the first thing we need to do is NOT learn some sales speech, or some slick technique. The first thing we need to do is ask Jesus to help us LOVE people, and let that LOVE shine through all that we are. We are worried about whether or not we should sing this or that kind of music. But if we care about people they will understand that, and they might then just listen about the faith we claim. Value Person values, family values over thing values and career values reflects the Spirit of God who gave His only begotten Son so that we could share His life.

If we say we follow Jesus, and then make all our life decisions based on money and position and profit, or even on bigger and better ministry, will it be any wonder if we lose our children to the spirit of "Bigger and Better"? Don't sacrifice your children on the altar of ambition.

B. If you have never made a definite decision to make Jesus Lord of your life, and give your self over to Him, you do not have to wait one hour longer! You can let down your faith into His promises right now.

When our religion is a burden, when our so-called "faith" consists of what we DO, of how good WE are, we are like the Pharisees that day a long time ago that watched Jesus and criticized Him, to whom he told these stories. It doesn't have to be that way! God is seeking every one of us— to bring us to Himself— to give us His Spirit— to make us his own.

Pray with me:

Lord Jesus— I turn my life over to You. I don't want to be the center— I want YOU to be Lord. Forgive my self-centeredness. Forgive my trying to DO salvation. Help me to BE Your own dear child. I ask this according to Your own great promises. Amen.

Sing with me: Just a Closer Walk with Thee (#607 STL)

One God - One Mediator

September 24, 1995

I Timothy 2:1-7

Luke 16:1-13

The Gospel lesson for today is both very simple and very difficult. In our group study of this lesson last Wednesday Rev. Desmond Dixon, our guest from England, pointed out that the final message of the passage is simple: we cannot serve two masters. We must make up our minds to serve God, and that's that. But the story Luke tells before that bottom line is about a shrewd steward (say that three times fast) who has been dishonest, and who cheats his master as he gets ready for involuntary retirement. In that story the master actually admires the shrewdness of the servant. To me, at least, that is hard to understand.

When we are faced with difficult lessons it makes sense to begin with what we can understand for sure. The way of faith is both simple and profound. We will never be excluded from the kingdom if we respond in faith to what God has revealed.

Apprehending God's truth is more than grasping and understanding facts. Truth is always, finally, incarnate and not abstract.

The "plain part" of the gospel lesson tells us there is no such thing as insignificant dishonesty. If you cheat on an exam, it says, you will be dishonest in the big things of life as well. It is also clear that we cannot split our loyalty between God and our own vested interests.

The lesson from I Timothy (2: 1 - 7) sheds light on this gospel truth. It states three wonderful facts:

1. God, the High God of heaven, desires that everyone shall be saved and come to the knowledge of the truth.
2. There is (only) One God.
3. There is (only) One Mediator between this High God of heaven and all of humankind; Jesus Christ, who is himself a man, very human.

(Think with me first about the statement:)

I. THERE IS ONE GOD

I DO NOT OWN GOD. (God IS! Hebrews 11:6) You do not own him. No one group, large or small, has exclusive rights to access to God. I cannot "define" Him. No one can say with authority, "We know, we tell you who God is and what he is like."

Of course we do believe that God does reveal Himself. We have based our entire faith on the fact that Jesus came to tell us who God is, what he is like. But we must listen to Jesus, revealed through the Holy Scriptures, inspired by the Holy Spirit both in the speaking/writing and the reading/hearing in order to be able to say with any assurance "I know God!"

By saying "I do not own God" I mean that God is NOT who I think He is subjectively— God IS WHO GOD IS! God IS!

The PRIVATIZATION of faith has "subjectivized" the very idea of God. We are patronizingly encouraged to "worship at the church of our choice" or to pray "to the God of our choice— our Higher Power." But there are not many Gods. There is ONE God. God is who God IS! The privatization of faith has sought to destroy the "otherness" of God in our understanding.

The EGALITARIANISM of culture has served to trivialize the majesty of God. Our heroes are often mediocrity amplified and celebrated. We have lost sight of a God before whom glorious angelic beings of great power and light fall prostrate. We have never stopped to learn about a Great White Throne before which all the multitudes of earth will one day stand in silence while our most private thoughts are known and judged.

The SOUNDS AND PICTURES AND WORDS of a media culture have all but drowned out the still, small voice of grace and peace. We need retreats, and we need time alone with God. No— I NEED RETREATS! etc.!

We may not own God, but it is true that

- GOD REVEALS HIMSELF TO THOSE WHO SEEK HIM
- This God is GOOD.
- God defines what GOOD means!
- This God is HOLY.

Everything and anything that can be termed "holy" is holy ONLY in relationship to God!

What is HIS is holy. What has nothing to do with God can not be holy.

- This God is LIGHT and LIFE.

"This is LIFE," Jesus prayed (John 17), "They they may know You, the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom You have sent."

- THERE IS ONE GOD!

(Now think with me about this:)

II. THERE IS ONE MEDIATOR BETWEEN GOD AND YOU / ME

It is wonderful to believe in God. It is a give of faith to be able to say with conviction that I believe God IS, and God is GOOD and HOLY, and LIGHT and LIFE. But it is another thing to approach God— to draw near to Him— to get to know Him, and find his tender love and compassion. We are so small! God is so Immense! But there IS a Mediator!

THERE IS ONE MEDIATOR

"What about the billions who have never heard?" I can tell you what I truly believe. But the MYSTERY of those billions does not apply to you and me. We HAVE heard! Jesus is more than an ancient figure in history to you! We have been introduced to Him! He is real to us! HE IS AT WORK IN YOUR LIFE JUST NOW!

THIS MEDIATOR IS TO BE TRUSTED

RETURNING TO THE 'SHREWD STEWARD' STORY

Whatever else that story means, Jesus is certainly saying we need to be serious about preparing for eternity. There is more to this life than seventy or eighty years and money and property and worldly fame and success.

We are fools if we do not think, and think seriously, about where our lives are going. We are worse than fools if we let someone OTHER THAN JESUS CHRIST try to tell us who God is, or what God expects of us. We are lost fools if we think we can get by without the Mediator, the Lord Jesus Christ.

We need to give our full attention to the one thing that matters more than any other thing to us; OUR ETERNAL DESTINY.

I guarantee that eternity will be a surprise to you! I guarantee that you and I will be shocked by the way things really ARE when the veil is removed and we see things in the light of God's eternity. (Like I told Esther before she died (that she wouldn't be missing us!))

Our perceptions here and now can be shaped by other, lesser things. But the fact of God's Word remains:

- IS YOUR FAITH ANCHORED IN THE GOD WHO IS?
- IS YOUR FAITH BASED ON THE LIVING WORD OF GOD?
- IS YOUR FAITH A LIVING, BREATHING, INCARNATE REALITY?

Would you like to be sure?

Pray this prayer with me:

Lord Jesus! You have said in your word that no one who comes to you would be cast out. In faith I come to you. I ask you to reveal the truth of God to me. I ask you to be Lord of my life from this time forward. I give You the right to throw down all idols, all false gods.

I ask you to re-arrange my life, and make me a child of God. Come into my life, forgive all my sins, and I will confess You as Lord and follow you. May God the Father, Son and Holy Spirit make it so, I ask in Jesus' name. Amen.

Sing: (Just a Closer Walk) OR ??

At the Lords Table

October 1, 1995

Luke 16:19-31

We come again this morning to the Table of the Lord. The family gathers for food and fellowship. When a family eats together, and there is love, one word that can be used to describe what happens is communion.

A lot of Jesus' teaching and miracles seemed to happen around tables. Jesus very evidently enjoyed eating with people. He loved to go to the house of Mary and Martha and Lazarus in Bethany. It was while Jesus was at table that a woman came and anointed his feet with expensive perfume. It was while Jesus was eating in a Pharisee's house that he healed a paralytic man. Jesus taught that when are invited to dinner you should not seek to push your way to the head of the table. At a table Jesus pushed back his own couch and got up and washed his disciples' feet. And so it is that Jesus has taken this most common and wonderful thing families do— eating together— and has made it the special way that he meets with his family, the church.

In this story Jesus pictures a rich man, dressed lavishly, sitting at table. It is not a table of fellowship and communion, but of selfish extravagance. Some of the scraps got snapped up by the dogs, and some few got to the beggar Jesus named Lazarus. It is certainly a story of contrast. But what Jesus is teaching may not be what we think we see at first.

We love poetic justice, and a lot of people think that in the story Dives went to hell because he was rich and wouldn't share, and Lazarus went to heaven because he was poor, and so God was making it up to him. But Jesus wasn't saying that at all. Jesus never said that all rich people go to hell, or that all beggars go to heaven. What Jesus was saying is that rich people can't buy what is really the most important in life, and that the poorest of the poor do not have to be without it. That most important thing is: Communion.

The story of the rich man going to hell lends itself to preaching about social justice, and the need for sharing our wealth with the poor. Christians ought to be leading the way in caring about people, and caring for people. But the rich man's selfishness flowed out of the poverty of his spirit; it was an indicator of his spiritual bankruptcy. Dives didn't go to hell simply because of his sins— he went to hell because he was an unrepentant sinner. His world began and ended with himself.

In the lesson from Timothy we heard a verse that is very often misquoted: "MONEY IS THE ROOT OF ALL EVIL!" Does it say that? NO! It says, "The LOVE of money is A root of ALL (kinds of) evil!" There is a world of difference in the two.

Money is not evil. Money is merely condensed life. Money is a tool with which we can help or hinder ourselves and others. But the LOVE of money is an entirely different thing! If we LOVE money we will learn to USE people! If we LOVE people we will learn to USE money to help them!

This story makes me think of the difference between the words communion and communism. The two words have similar root word meanings. Maybe some might think they are interchangeable. But one word focuses on who and what we are when we come together. The other word is primarily concerned with what we possess, what material circumstances are ours.

Human solutions to all the problems of society is all of material and outward effort: if we can just elect the right people, and if we can just mount enough protests we can right the wrongs of our society. God's solution never ignores suffering and material need- "Inasmuch as you have given to the least of the needy, you have given to Me," Jesus said. But God's solution never stops short of communion. God's solution never stops short of the family gathering around the table, in love— love for the Father- love of Christ— love in the Spirit— but also love for every other human being!

What Jesus was saying was that rich people can't buy what is really the most important in life, and that the poorest of the poor do not have to be without it. That most important thing is: Communion.

We can't tell by looking at people whether they are rich or poor as God counts true wealth. Some of the people most to be pitied are those who have more money than they need. Some people who have very little still are people who know love, love of God, and love of family and church, who care about people.

Robert Coles, the famous Harvard teacher who wrote the book, The Spirituality of Children, began his career working with understanding the moral development of children when he met a six-year-old black girl in New Orleans, named Ruby Bridges. I have preached a number of times about the faith of this remarkable Bridges family.

[A little girl stopped and prayed for the people who were shouting obscenities at her. "God, please forgive them; they don't know what they are doing!"]

I saw that incident on film last Sunday night: Last Sunday night on PBS Robert Coles was featured in a special in which he interviewed several children aged from about 9 to 11 or 12. He interviewed a true cross-section of America, racially, economically, geographically. [I hope that I can get a video of that special, and if I do and am allowed I would like to show it to you.]

Some of the children came from obviously very wealthy homes. Some were single parent homes in what we might call ghetto housing. And you might be surprised at which were truly rich and which were truly poor.

Of one wealthy home Cole said (as he looked at the crayon drawing the little girl had made of her family) "This is a house of strangers!" And the warmest sense of security and love came from a family of twin girls and a single mother with very modest surroundings, but with a well-worn Bible and love and prayer and joy and caring.

Communion is when a family comes together to eat and love each other. For us, our love begins here— at the Table of the Lord— and carries through into everything we are, and everything we do. Welcome to the Table of the Lord:

TO: THE HOLY COMMUNION

The Jesus Prayer

October 29, 1995

Luke 18:9-14

Two men went up to the temple to pray to the one true God. One man stood by himself in his shining goodness. The other man stood afar off in consciousness of his sinfulness.

This is a pointed story. Jesus told it to some people who were trusting in themselves for salvation, and were actively putting down other seekers after God.

In this story the first character, THE PHARISEE, was the sort of fellow you think of as the pillar of society. He was regular in paying his bills, he belonged to the Rotary Club, he drove a Cadillac, he tithed a pretty hefty income.

The second character, THE TAX COLLECTOR, was different. He was far down the social scale. He had a shady reputation. He had business dealings with unbelievers. He would not deny being a sinner.

The PHARISEE had a LOAD of righteousness— self-righteousness. It was a comparative righteousness. He compared himself to people he despised: "I thank You God that I am not as others are — thieves, rogues, adulterers, or, God forbid, even like this tax collector standing there!" And he measured his religion in adding up the good things he did. "Add these things up," he said to God. "I fast twice in the week, I give a tenth of all my income, I'm really quite a valuable addition to your temple, God!"

The TAX COLLECTOR, on the other hand, stood far off, away from the altar. His head was down. He smote his breast. He acknowledged his sin.

It is not acceptable in polite society today to talk about "sin" and "guilt." We deserve a break today! Remember rights, and entitlement! Guilt is always bad— always unhealthy.

The Jesus Prayer

I agree that guilt is something we do not have to live with. But I do not agree that all guilt is either inappropriate or bad. There is a kind of acknowledging of guilt which is actually healthy, because it accepts responsibility. Facing real guilt is the first step to real forgiveness and real peace with God. "IF WE CONFESS OUR SINS," is the promise, "GOD IS FAITHFUL AND JUST TO FORGIVE US OUR SINS, AND TO CLEANSE US FROM ALL UNRIGHTEOUSNESS." (I John 1:9) [We like the "all unrighteousness" part— we don't always hear the "If we confess" part!]

The Bible says that whether we are up-and-outers like the Pharisee, or down- and-outers like the tax collector, "all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God." (Romans 3:23) We are all sinners by birth, and every one of us have sinned by choice. Sin is putting anything or anyone ahead of God.

Two men went up the hill to pray. The PHARISEE went up the hill to the temple knowing that he was better than most people. The TAX COLLECTOR went up the hill to the temple knowing that he had come short of God's glory. He didn't try to fool either God or himself for even a minute. He prayed this prayer: "Lord, be merciful to me a sinner."

Two men went down the hill from the temple that day. Jesus said the tax collector went back home justified. The Pharisee just went back home.

The simplicity of the prayer the tax collector prayed all too often escapes us. We know that following Jesus involves doing as well as being. Being Christian takes discipline and prayer. So we forget how simple and how basic it is to say from the heart, "Jesus is Lord!" We memorize Romans 10:9,10, but we forget the impact of that short prayer.

When we get away from the simplicity of the faith we start building our own righteousness. We begin to THINK like the Pharisee, even if we don't actually put his prayer into our own words.

THIS IS REFORMATION SUNDAY - On this particular Sunday of the year we recall one man in history who re-discovered the power of the Jesus prayer and changed the course of history

Let me just mention again a few facts from Luther's life that underscore this story Jesus told:

Martin Luther was born in 1483, and as a young man started out to study law. About the time he finished law studies, in 1505, a lightning bolt scared the wits out of him, and he promised God he would become a monk— went on to become a priest— was a brilliant but not-very-happy seeker after salvation.

The church of Luther's day was often guilty of praying the prayer of the Pharisee. Like every human institution, our own included, there was a strong incentive to preserve the machinery and to forget the spirit of Christ— to legalize and legislate, and forget the simple truth of grace. Luther was frustrated, unsatisfied in his own heart.

In 1513, the year after receiving his Doctorate and becoming teacher/preacher at Wittenberg, Martin began lecturing on the Psalms. When he arrived at Psalm 72, as he was lecturing to the students he got new insight concerning "the righteousness of God." (Have you read Psalm 72 lately? I had to re-read it again to see what was so revolutionary as to catch Martin Luther's imagination:

(Psalm 72:12) For (God) will deliver the needy when he cries for help, the humble also, and him who has no helper. (13) He will have compassion on the poor and needy, and the souls of the needy he will save....)

Martin Luther began to see the compassion of God. Up until this time Luther had only feared God, as a tyrant judge. He began to see God's righteousness as a quality which God was willing to give to believers, and which would make them acceptable in his Presence.

Then in his study of Romans Luther re-discovered "The Just shall live by faith!" Luther discovered that he had had it all backwards: WE DO NOT ACHIEVE FAITH BY BEING RIGHTEOUS, BUT WE RECEIVE CHRIST'S RIGHTEOUSNESS BY FAITH! Still Luther asked questions of himself, recorded in his works, such as:

"Are you alone wise? Can it be that everyone else is in error and has been in error for so long? What if you are wrong and lead into error so many people who might then be eternally damned?

But Luther could not remain quiet forever. Things came to a head when fund raisers came through Saxony selling coupons to get people out of purgatory. It was just three years after Psalm 72 had spoken to him, and after he had re-discovered the great truth in Romans "The just shall live by faith!" that the crisis came.

On October 31, 1517, exactly 478 years ago this very week, Martin Luther nailed his 95 Theses, 95 statements for debate on, among other things, why the sale of indulgences were evil- on the Cathedral door in Wittenberg, Germany. He wrote these propositions for debate in Latin— but the 95 theses were also translated into the common German, and printed, and spread far and wide. The business of indulgences, salvation from purgatory by works, was ruined in that part of Saxony. The Reformation was under way.

Nearly four years later, in April of 1521, Luther was summoned to Worms to defend his position before a Diet of the clergy and secular rulers. On the first day of his appearance Luther saw that he would not be permitted to make a speech, and he begged for a day to think of his answer.

Luther was not admitted to the Diet the next day until nightfall, and he stood in the candle-lighted Episcopal hall next to the great cathedral. After realizing again that there was no room for debate, Luther made this statement:

"Unless I can be instructed and convinced with evidence from the Holy Scriptures or with open, clear, and distinct grounds and reasoning— and my conscience is captive to the Word of God— then I cannot and will not recant, because it is neither safe nor wise to act against conscience."

And then he added the famous words: "Here I stand. I can do no other. God help me! Amen" And with those words Luther became an outlaw.

Thus endeth the "history lesson" this Reformation Sunday!

The "two ways of justification" are still with us today.

If we are honest— there are times when we have stood in the place where the Pharisee stood in the story. We have compared ourselves to other mortals instead of seeing a holy God. We have added up our good and hoped it outweighed the bad.

But there are NOT two ways to find peace with God. There ARE NO human beings who can justify themselves in God's holy eyes. There are NONE of us who dare to despise others, and compare our holiness with other sinners.

In our Wesleyan tradition we need to learn to live in the healthy tension between the call of God to holiness and the humility of knowing that our performance often comes short of God's glory. Our Savior can give us grace to live above willful sin in word thought and deed. Our Savior also taught us to pray every day, "Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors!" Can we live with the paradox of not sinning and confession our sins? Can we seek to be God's instruments and NOT seek to use God selfishly?

There is a prayer, an ancient prayer, actually, that came out of this passage, no doubt. It is called The Jesus Prayer. I'm sure that a number of Nazarenes would not want to pray this prayer because we have been forgiven and are no longer in active, willful, outbroken sin, no longer in rebellion against God. . . .

I can still hear the wisdom of my elders saying "If we start calling mistakes 'sin,' it won't be long until we are calling sin 'mistakes.'" In other words we cannot excuse any willful sin in our lives.

Still the fact remains that Jesus has given us the Lord's Prayer— and also he has given us this story to keep us from trusting in our own righteousness, and comparing it with others. That ancient prayer, the Jesus Prayer simply goes like this:

"Lord Jesus Christ, Son of God, have mercy on me, a sinner."

It is a powerful prayer when it becomes a way of life! Shall WE pray?

#435 vv 1,2,3 -My Faith has Found a Resting Place

Enter His Gates with Thanksgiving

November 19, 1995

Psalm 100

Philippians 4

John 6

I have just two simple thoughts for you this morning, thoughts to take with you into our American Thanksgiving week.

Thanksgiving is a great holiday, with a great theme— and it brings up a pretty complex response in most of us that includes Pilgrims and football on TV and pumpkin pie and some familiar songs like we are singing this morning. Next Wednesday will be the busiest day of the year at Logan International Airport, even busier than Christmas week. We go "home" wherever that may be if we can. Thanksgiving is a good time, when people of good will can get together to thank God for life itself. Thanksgiving, you already know, was not invented by the Pilgrims. Thanksgiving is a central theme of the Bible.

Two simple thoughts for thanksgiving: (first)

THINK OF THANKSGIVING AS A FOCUS FOR LIFE

We enter the sanctuary of God's Presence in the act of thanksgiving. "Enter God's gates with thanksgiving, and come into his courts with praise!"

We begin to understand faith itself through returning God's love. There is tremendous power released by deliberately acknowledging God as the Source of all that is good.

Just this week I was reading an essay about the Christian apologist (and mystery writer) G.K. Chesterton by a scholar named Kent Hill. He wrote "For Chesterton the origin of theology was gratitude. Near the end of his life he described his youth as a troubled time when he hung on to religion 'by one thin thread of thanks.'"

Enter His Gates with Thanksgiving

Life as we must live it is complex and at times chaotic. The good is often the enemy of the better and the best. Life is not always fair. But by faith we can affirm that God is good! We Christians have a simple trust at the very heart of our faith. It is the simple trust that God IS, and that God is GOOD! True thanksgiving helps us focus in on what is really important, really vital in life and living.

The ability to be grateful is itself a gift from God. Praise and thanksgiving are Creation's way of staying in tune with its Creator. "All nature sings, and round me ring the music of the spheres." This is my father's world.

There is something powerful about deliberately acknowledging God as the Source of good.

There is power in simply, from our hearts, giving God thanks and praise. Thomas a Kempis, in The Imitation of Christ, wrote: Simplicity and purity are the two wings by which a person is lifted up above all earthly things. Simplicity is in the intention, purity is in the affection. Simplicity (looks) to God, purity (joins with) - "tastes" Him.

He went on: Nothing can hinder you if you are inwardly free from inordinate affection. If you intend and seek nothing but the will of God and the good of your neighbor, you will enjoy eternal liberty...

In a dirty and often chaotic world God gives us the gifts of simplicity and purity; simplicity to see God as the source of all good, and by His indwelling Spirit, purity of love to join with God by his grace

It sounds too simplistic to say that all these good things of faith begin with thanksgiving. But humbly bow and praise God for Himself. Thank Him for the great gift of grace. As the Psalmist tells us— this is how God's people enter the place of worship. This comes at the beginning! "Enter His gates with thanksgiving, come into His courts with Praise! be thankful unto Him and bless His name!" The second thought for thanksgiving is just as simple. That is that thanksgiving is a choice we need to make deliberately.

REALIZE THAT THANKSGIVING IS A CHOICE

Bundle up your deepest hurts, your greatest frustrations, your hidden sins, your inmost fears— and give them to a loving Father in prayer with thanksgiving. (Look at it again, there in your worship folder:

"In the act of giving thanks God can release His peace in us!") Giving thanks becomes sacrament— that is, it becomes an outward sign that validates an inward, spiritual reality. Giving thanks as we bring our concerns to God, is a lightning rod for peace— a means of grace!

We really don't have a great deal of choice about important things in this chaotic world. We did not choose to be born, nor to be born white or black or brown or rich or poor. We do not really guide the destinies of our nation or world, usually. All the same God does give us the power to choose not only our eternal destiny, but the spirit in which we shall journey through time toward eternity.

God gives us the gift of praise and thanksgiving to enter his courts .

We can fret, complain or we can praise and be aligned with God's peace

Conclusion - IN THE SIXTH CHAPTER OF JOHN Jesus talked about bread— and selfishness— and choices. Some took his bread and followed Him selfishly. They did not understand His LOVE. They never made the vital connection of the blessings with the Blessor. They were offended when Jesus demanded they share His very life. (6:66)

Jesus said to the disciples—"Are you going away, too?" Their choice then, is ours, now. Peter spoke for us all: "Lord— we CHOOSE You! YOU have all that we want or need!" (In closing let us read again Phil 4, etc. -worship folder) Re-read "Act of Worship" -Hymn Response 773 For the Fruit of All Creation

Children of the King

November 25, 1995

Christ the King Sunday, 1995

Colossians 1, Luke 23

One thing I love about the stories of C.S. Lewis is that he can challenge old clichés with fresh ways to look at familiar words and concepts. He helps me, when I come to 'Christ the King Sunday,' to realize that I cannot 'predict' or 'define' the word "king" as it is applied to the Lord Jesus Christ, God's Son.

In the first Chronicle of Narnia, The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe, the battle between good and evil is underway. Already Mr. Tumnus, a friendly faun, has been captured and is in imminent danger of being turned into stone. Peter and Edmund and Susan and Lucy are desperate to get him back. We break into the dialogue right there:

(Peter is speaking) "We can't just leave him to be to be to have that done to him."

"It's no good, Son of Adam, " said Mr.Beaver, "no good your trying, of all people. But now that Aslan is on the move "

"Oh, yes! Tell us about Aslan!" said several voices at once; for once again that strange feeling like the first signs of spring, like good news, had come over them.

"Who is Aslan?" asked Susan.

"Aslan?" said Mr. Beaver, "Why don't you know? He's the King. He's the Lord of the whole wood, not often here, you understand. Never in my time or my father's time. But the word has reached us that he has come back. He is in Narnia at this moment. He'll settle the White Queen all right. It is he, not you, that will save Mr. Tumnus."

"She won't turn him into stone, too?" said Edmund.

"Lord love you, Son of Adam, what a simple thing to say!" answered Mr. Beaver with a great laugh. "Turn him into stone? If she can stand on her two feet and look him in the face it'll be the most she can do and more than I expect of her. No, no. He'll put all to rights as it says in an old rhyme in these parts:

*Wrong will be right, when Aslan comes in sight,
At the sound of his roar, sorrows will be no more,
When he bares his teeth, winter meets its death,
And when he shakes his mane, we shall have spring again.*

You'll understand when you see him."

"But shall we see him?" asked Lucy.

"Why Daughter of Eve, that's what I brought you here for. I'm to lead you where you shall meet him," said Mr. Beaver.

"Is is he a man?" asked Lucy.

"Aslan a man!" said Mr. Beaver sternly. "Certainly not. I tell you he is the King of the wood and the son of the great Emperor Beyond the Sea. Don't you know who is the King of the Beasts? Aslan is a lion the Lion, the great Lion."

"Ooh!" said Susan, "I'd thought he was a man. Is he quite safe? I shall feel rather nervous about meeting a lion."

"That you will, dearie, and no mistake," said Mrs. Beaver, "if there's anyone can appear before Aslan without their knees knocking, they're either braver than most or just silly."

"Then he isn't safe?" said Lucy.

"Safe?" said Mr. Beaver. "Don't you hear what Mrs. Beaver tells you? Who said anything about safe? 'Course he isn't safe. But he's good. He's the King, I tell you."

"I'm longing to meet him," said Peter, "even if I do feel frightened when it comes to the point."

EXPECTATIONS OF A KING

One reason we love to read C.S. Lewis is the way he makes us look in fresh ways at familiar ideas. To make the King of Narnia a Lion, to invent Aslan, reminds us that we don't begin to understand all the glory and power and sheer wonder of our Christ. Of course it isn't that Lewis is saying Jesus is like Aslan, although the Bible calls him The Lion of the Tribe of Judah. But in Aslan we see a little glimpse of the King we can never control, but who loves his own with a fierce loyal love even to the death. We have to lay aside our own limitations of what kind of king Jesus might be.

In Jesus' time there were those who expected a king to be decked out in all the trappings, a wealthy monarch like Herod or Caesar. There were others who had a political agenda and expected a zealot leader to strike for justice. Still others were ready to take up arms and fight, while maybe others saw the loaves and fishes and wanted a magic wand to take them out of hard times.

Instead, Jesus came saying, " Love your neighbors— and love your enemies! Forgive your enemies! He walked away from every attempt to use Him. Most people simply rejected any notion that this King could ever rule over them. He finally was lifted up above the earth— but his throne was a cross!

THE TRIUMPH OF A KING

It is hard for us to put the two thoughts together— "king" and "cross." We sing that song, "He could have called ten thousand angels!" and we really sing it like "He SHOULD have called ten thousand angels!" or "I wish he HAD called ten thousand angels!" Or, we say, well, when he comes again He will really kill everyone in sight that disagrees with US! How, really, do we follow such a KING?

[Returning briefly to C S Lewis's story, Aslan is so great and powerful that nothing or no one can defeat him. But then there comes that spell binding scene where Aslan goes to die in Edmund's place; there is a celebration of the evil forces of the cold, white winter only to have the Stone Altar split in two evil put to flight— because LOVE has triumphed over everything else because Aslan was absolutely pure!]

It was from the cross that the greatest power of this great King began to be displayed. Luke 23 is a strange scripture to use to glorify a King. Naked, beaten, bruise, bleeding, dying— mocked with cries of "If you are the King save yourself!"— Jesus calmly turned to the criminal who said, "Lord, remember me when you come into your kingdom" and said, "Today you will be with Me in paradise!" For Jesus is king— eternally. He was never MORE king than he was that day on the cross.

It is because of the cross that Paul could exult (Colossians 1:)

"He has rescued us from the power of darkness ... in him we have redemption, the forgiveness of sins ... in Him all the fullness of the Godhead is pleased to dwell, and through him God was pleased to reconcile all things to himself on heaven and earth by making peace through the blood of his cross."

And what is even more amazing in the next chapter (Colossians 2:9) this assertion is repeated and we are brought into the picture: "In Christ all the fullness of the Godhead dwells in bodily form and ye (you, plural) are complete in HIM!"

Because Jesus is King sin and death and hell are defeated, and the church has everything it needs to carry on the work of Jesus here on earth.

THE GIFTS TO US OF OUR KING

The people of Jesus' day— at least most of them— missed the point of why Jesus came, and what it meant that Jesus is King. But what about us? We know better, don't we?

We know that Christ the King can and does forgive sin, and give Gifts of the Spirit. We know that Christ the King has opened the way to heaven and eternity with God. But I am afraid that all too often we are not too different from religious people in Jesus day that wanted to use Him to help them get important things done for them. (We know so much better now that we have 2,000 years of perspective— don't we?)

We want a King who knows the way to heaven, and who promises to forgive our sins past, present and future and who won't interfere with OUR agenda! We want a King who validates OUR ideas of what is right and wrong. We get emotional when we think of our King who was willing to die for us— we don't mind putting crosses in our church and wearing them around our neck.

But what if Jesus asked us to change our life-style, to give up something dear to us? What if Jesus asked us to do something downright distasteful?

(I talked yesterday to Janine Tartaglia Metcalf, who is now living in San Diego. When she first was saved she was an anchor for a major TV outlet in L.A. and she gave it up to follow a call to preach. When she went to her pastor for an assignment he said, "I have some old people that need a hand's on touch!" Janine was thinking of something a bit more glamorous. As she changed bedpans and scrubbed kitchen floors she was wondering? How does this make sense? Then old Mrs. Krutcher told her she needed to "Die out!" Janine began to get a glimpse of the Servant King. It changed her entire spirit.]

When we are serious about calling Jesus "Lord," making him KING— the cross becomes our way of life! Our KING loves enough to give himself for those he loves, and he dares to ask us to take up his way of love as our own. We enter into Christ's very spirit, that validates what we celebrate this Christ the King Sunday a faith that believes God IS and that God is GOOD as seen in Jesus Christ

- JESUS CHRIST CAME
- JESUS CHRIST DIED
- JESUS CHRIST ROSE AGAIN FROM THE DEAD
- JESUS CHRIST IS COMING, KING OF KINGS ALMIGHTY!

(In closing)

As children of the King we have all that we need to follow him and be like him. We are royalty and all the fullness of our King is manifested in his body, the church (Colossians 2:9.) The kingdom is manifested when Christ's people follow their king in spirit, and dare to show the love of God as Jesus did Himself on the cross.

In the 1950's our nation was involved in a war in Korea. Thousands of Americans were killed and wounded in what was supposed to be a United Nations police action.

During the height of that conflict the great evangelist Billy Graham went to Korea to minister and preach to the American troops (as well as anyone else he could reach.) We've all seen Billy Graham preach, and have watched the hundreds step forward as God blesses his ministry.

But on this trip Billy Graham went through a military hospital that had been set up there in Korea. He came to one young man who had been wounded in the spine, and who was lying face down on a canvas sling, looking through a hole in the canvas at the floor. Without fanfare, Billy Graham lay down on his back on the floor and slid under that bed so that the two men could look each other in the face.

I happen to believe in Billy Graham. I thank God for his integrity, and his faithfulness to the "Thus says the Lord!" and "The Bible says...!" I believe that Billy Graham has been highly honored as a man of the throngs, a Prince of the Pulpit. But on that cold day in Korea, on his back in that make shift hospital, looking one wounded soldier in the face, Billy Graham showed that he had caught the spirit of our great King.

As the poet has written:

*His were the planets and stars in the sky
His were the valleys and mountains so high
His all earth's kingdoms from pole unto pole,
But he became poor, to ransom my soul.*

In Christ our King is all God's fullness. You and I are called to that kind of fullness of love!

Prayer

124 All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name (Coronation)

People of Hope

December 3, 1995 - Advent I - Romans 13 - Matthew 24

The Promise of Light in a Dark World

Did you ever in your life get up at four o'clock in the morning because you were going somewhere exciting that day? I have— a good many times in my life! When we lived in the wall-to-wall cement in New Jersey we would start out on our vacation to Maine so early that we were at Hogan Pond by noon eight hours later! By the time the sun came up we were over the Hudson River and well on our way. That is a little of what Advent is like. That is what the epistle lesson this morning is shouting: The day is breaking! Exciting things are going to happen! Get out of bed! Put on the garments of light! Lay aside the darkness!

Today is the first Sunday in Advent. Advent is getting ready for Christmas— but it is even more. Advent is getting ready for Christ!

Advent also is the beginning of a new church year.

It is the time of the prophet calling: "Get right with God!" It is the time of prophecy of the seventh angel of the Revelation(11:5): "The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of His Christ, and he shall reign for ever and ever."

God is calling us to be people of the Light! If we could begin to understand what it means to be "people of Hope"— if we could see what God wants to do even here in this congregation— if we could catch a glimpse of His vision for us— I believe it would literally take our breath away! I thank God for what he has done, and what he is doing. Still, the challenge of Advent is to more yet than we have seen. We are a church called to a mission.

The mission statement of this church is simple— perhaps deceptively simple: TO KNOW GOD, AND TO PROVIDE A CLIMATE IN WHICH EACH PERSON CAN COME TO FULL SPIRITUAL POTENTIAL IN JESUS CHRIST.

TO KNOW GOD!

So simple! You say, I know God! He knows me! What else is there? Yet when you stop to think of it, this is an eternity challenge! God is our Friend right NOW! But getting to know God is the most wonderful adventure there can ever be!

IT IS PRESENT REALITY! You can know God in Jesus Christ right now! I am sure that many of our little children are friends with Jesus. (I think of Kara Nichols inviting Jesus to her birthday party when she was about five!) But knowing God is ALWAYS BECOMING, ALWAYS DYNAMIC, ALWAYS GROWING

As a church— this is our highest priority. Our worship reaches out for God! Our evangelism introduces God! Our education is more than learning "about" it seeks to introduce people to God! Our fellowship is in God! Our cup of cold water is given as unto God!

KNOWING GOD IS PERSONAL.

You have to know him for yourself. But whether or not you will believe it— knowing God is ALWAYS IN COMMUNITY AS WELL! We help each other SEE God. We are never saved selfishly. We do not come to know a God who plays favorites— unless we can realize that the one who is most obnoxious to us is just as much loved by God as WE are! We are ALL God's "favorites!"

Knowing God is SATISFYING! There is nothing as deeply satisfying as obeying God and sensing that in some small way he is pleased. But knowing God is always HUNGERING AND THIRSTING FOR MORE!

Will you make this part of our mission statement your own? Will you make it your life's personal mission to know God? And will you join with us here in a conscious, deliberate effort to make everything we do as a church bend to this mission statement? If it does not enhance our pursuit of knowing God— we simply don't do it!

But "to know God" is just the first half— and the last half is like the second half of the Ten Commandments— it is horizontal—

TO PROVIDE A CLIMATE IN WHICH EACH PERSON CAN COME TO FULL SPIRITUAL POTENTIAL IN JESUS CHRIST.

Jesus said the first, great commandment is Thou shalt love ... and the second is like unto it: THOU SHALT LOVE THY NEIGHBOR AS THYSELF. What does it mean to have a mission statement that declares we want to enhance the spiritual growth of every last person in our community?

It means that WE SHALL BE A COMMUNITY OF SUPPORT.

That happens! It will continue to happen! It doesn't mean we don't fail at times— but God helping us— we shall care when the crises come!

It means that WE SHALL BE A COMMUNITY OF HONESTY. I have seen some kinds of spirituality that had very little to do with the real world. I have seen holiness that never got its feelings hurt— never needed to say "I'm sorry!" —- but I don't know anything about that in the way life is lived.

In our community we need to ask God to help us disagree at times and still have a genuine love for each other. In our community in particular, the one thing that stands out is how many different kinds of people and tastes we have— differences that could and will tear us apart if we let them. We have "depression babies" that have their cellars full of old magazines— because "we might need them sometime"— and Baby Boomers— who throw away good clothes when they get dirty— we have Baby Boppers who go to concerts so loud I couldn't stand them— and body surf!! But do you know what? We really do LOVE each other! And we CARE when we hurt, and we want each other to be like Jesus!

It means, finally, that WE SHALL BE A COMMUNITY OF WITNESS.

There will be the witness of "Behold hoe they love one another!" We will be a community of witness in our homes to those we love the most! And wherever we go in our weekday world we will witness, first in our spirit— then in our actions— and finally as the Holy Spirit leads us, we will witness in a confrontational witness of words.

IT IS SIMPLE, ISN'T IT? TO KNOW GOD! TO HELP EACH OTHER GROW IN CHRIST? BUT WHAT IF WE TOOK IT SERIOUSLY? WHAT IF WE MADE EVERY SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS— EVERY PARTY— EVERY BIBLE STUDY— EVERY MEAL FOR THE QUINCY CRISIS CENTER— IN THE LIGHT OF THIS MISSION?

Conclusion

We believe in Jesus a new day is dawning that will never have an end. The life we have found in Jesus will become a never-ending day.

Until that sunrise is complete we must be children of light. It may seem that our world is dark and growing darker, but that is not what the scripture says. Let's get out of bed, get dressed, and get on the road! In the darkness we light the candle of faith, and watch the horizon. The night is far spent; the day is at hand— our King is on his way!

Prayer

Into communion

THE HOLY COMMUNION

The Law Read and Confession Made

The Lord Jesus Christ has said to us: "Thou shalt love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the first and great commandment. The second is like unto it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets."

Shall we pray:

Search us, O God, and know our most private thoughts. Try us, and show unto us the deepest motives, the real state of our hearts. Forgive us where we have been selfish, or insensitive, or sinful in any way. We cannot keep the Great Commandment, and truly love

You, O God, with all our heart, soul, and mind unless You in mercy grant to us the grace of Your indwelling Spirit. We cannot love each other as we should unless Your love is shed abroad in our hearts.

Brothers and sisters, let us search our hearts. In silence let us ask God to draw us near to Himself so that we can come to his table with confidence.

We do not presume to come to this table, O God, trusting in our own righteousness, but in your great mercy and grace. Grant us to eat the Bread of heaven, and drink the blood shed for the remission of sins, that we may live in Christ, and Christ may live in us forever. Amen

Let us confess our faith:

The Nicene Creed (STL # 14)

The Informal Invitation ("This is not my table . . .")

Holy and gracious Father; in your infinite love you made us for yourself; and, when we had fallen into sin, and were worthy of death and hell, you, in your mercy sent Jesus Christ, your only and eternal Son to share our human nature, to live and die as one of us, to reconcile us to You, the God and Father of all.

He stretched out his arms upon the cross, and offered himself in obedience to your will, a perfect sacrifice for the whole world.

The Words of Institution:

On the night in which he was betrayed our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had give thanks to You he broke it and gave it to his disciples and said, "Take eat: THIS IS MY BODY, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me. After supper he took the cup and when he had give thanks he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you; THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink this, do it in remembrance of me: Amen

We praise you for the mystery of our salvation! We truly believe

People of Hope

- Christ has died!
- Christ is risen!
- Christ will come again!

Bless these emblems, O God, and make them to us the Body and Blood of your Son, spiritual food, and spiritual drink of new and unending life in Jesus Christ. And now, together, we pray, as Jesus taught us:

Our Father which art in heaven . . .

Now, humbly we receive the Gifts of God for the People of God

Good News in Strange Places

Advent III

December 17, 1995

(cf 12/13/98)

Isaiah 35; Luke 1:47-55; James 5:7-10; Matthew 11:2-11

I ENJOY CHRISTMAS TRADITIONS. Especially those having to do with children. Last Sunday at the dinner table Jake asked his cousin Miranda if she was coming to church next Sunday night (which is this evening now.) She said "Why are you asking?" Jake said, "Because I'm in the play."

"Do you want me to come?" Mandy went on with the conversation.

"I don't care," was Jake's response. But of course he cared or he wouldn't have asked. And Mandy told him she'd be here. Another generation is getting into Christmas tradition.

I remember well when our children first were old enough to "say pieces." (I'm looking forward to this evening at 6 o'clock.)

CHRISTMAS IS A BEAUTIFUL TIME

What is "the ideal children's Christmas?" Do you have a romanticized picture of what Christmas ought to be? Or what it once was? Did you ever have a "perfect Christmas?" Some elements I can think of that make a Christmas wonderful for children are (1) TRUST and (2) a sense of SECURITY, as well as (3) ANTICIPATION.

CHRISTMAS TRUTH IS MORE THAN TRADITION

I hope I've made it clear that I love all the lights and traditions and children's pieces and good stuff that comes along with Christmas. But behind the traditions are some very real and very wonderful facts. I don't think I'm a compromiser when I say I can live with Santa and toys and Christmas Trees and still not forget the heart of what Christmas is about. There is a beauty, and a Good News that goes far deeper than even the most warm and wonderful of our Christmas traditions: Christmas really comes to challenge our faith! God comes to where we are. In the situations where we find ourselves, God makes Himself known, and the circumstances may not change immediately, but the Presence is everything.

1. GOD REACHED OUT AND TOUCHED OUR WORLD
2. JESUS DOESN'T COME TO FULFILL OUR EXPECTATIONS

Mary's song is beautiful: "My soul magnifies the Lord!" But we can only imagine what a challenge to faith the reality of Mary's situation was. She certainly had to TRUST that God's Word was trustworthy. Her visit to her cousin Elizabeth boosted her faith. Mary's Christmas had little SECURITY as we know it— but Joseph was there to support. And Mary's HOPE was not what she might have expected— but has blessed every generation as she was promised.

John the Baptist was once certain that what he was preaching was absolutely true. He was "on the inside track" with God— and the message was flowing to those outsiders. But now the action had gone past— he was on the inside of a prison, and on the outside of what was really happening. He did not ask with the voice of unbelief. Some have called John's question "A Friday voice of faith." Sometimes we need to make room for honest doubt— and confront God with our questions— or doubt will turn to skepticism and become a permanent fixture in our spirits. John addressed his questions as best he could to Jesus Himself. The answer is worth studying: we cannot simply cling to what we remember of Jesus— what we THINK he OUGHT to be. We need to be open to what HE SAYS— to what HE wants to be doing with us. He is always challenging us to go beyond what we think we know of Him. The moment we think we have Jesus all figured out He does something we never expected.

But we can be certain: Jesus is to be trusted. He came to save sinners. He came to make bad people good, and good people nice.

3. JESUS DOES COME WHERE HE IS INVITED

CHRISTMAS IS A CONTEMPORARY REALITY

Like John the Baptist, many people are looking at the promise that God cares, and God is with us, that God's name is Emmanuel— from prisons just as real as the one he was in. There are prisons of childhood memories— prisons of abuse— prisons of addictions— prisons of depression. There are prisons of bereavement and sorrow because loved ones aren't here at a family time. It might be neater and nicer not to even mention these— but if you aren't in one of these prisons, you know someone who is. What do we say to them when they say: "What can Jesus Christ do for ME? Are we supposed to believe in HIM, or do we look for someone else?" If we try to tell them about a Jesus we THINK we know— or a Jesus we remember dimly from some Christmas a long time ago we won't be much help to them. If we introduce Jesus by letting Him make us men and women of God— by loving people and not just saving souls— JESUS WILL MAKE HIMSELF REAL TO THEM— and bring HIS JOY.

How do we reconcile the JOY of Christmas with the sorrows of life? How does Christ align with faith when crunch time comes? Two examples come to mind:

One is the common but real burden of getting old. [Mrs. Allen, Ruth Cameron's mother— in a "prison" which has actually become a place of ministry and joy!]

Another is facing the prospect of separation and death. [I recommend "Shadowlands" — either or both of two movies now out in video about CS and Joy LEWIS.] What about Amy Porter who was supposed to be married next week, and instead was buried a couple of weeks ago?

A couple that you don't know— and I know only through correspondence in Bible study, and minister and his wife names Mark and Elaine Forrester, in Nashville, Tennessee, are facing a battle with cancer. With his permission I share his thoughts with you. He writes:

"My wife, Elaine, relapsed with leukemia after being in remission for almost eight years. After five years of remission we were told, "you're cured." We believed it, and were happy as could be. As it turned out, we were under the spell of an illusion. Now that we've been disillusioned— stripped of false assumptions— does that make us blessed? Quite honestly the answer is both no and yes. No, we are anything but fully blessed— because we are broken. As people of faith we still affirm God's abiding love, but seriously question God's power. (When well-meaning people tell us, "don't worry, God's in control of all things and is allowing this to happen for a reason," I want to say, "thank you for your concern, but keep your illusions to yourself.") But finally I must say that our bitter disappointment has created an emptiness that can only be filled by God. And in that regard we are blessed and graced with the ability to discard false expectations while giving root to new seeds of hope and life that permeate this Advent season. In this hour of discontent— as our Friday voice of faith begins to stutter with uncertainty, we are invited to hear the words often sung and believed on Christmas Eve: "the hopes and fears of all the years are met in thee tonight." May we all be disturbed by God's unexpected joy! Amen." [Pray for Mark and Elaine Forrester of Vanderbilt and Nashville.]

Isaiah tells us that in the desert there is a highway to Zion. He promises us that the dry place will become verdant and blossom. It is not always as simple or as stylized as the ideal Children's Christmas. We don't find a Christ who we can use, or who changes life to the pattern we lay out for Him. But this highway is a highway of hope, and a way of real JOY! For Jesus comes and walks with us on the journey.

As Jesus comes, and He does come!, we find TRUST, and we find SECURITY— and we have great ANTICIPATION.

We can enter into our children's traditions in good faith. We may smile at Santa and Rudolph and tinsel and lights, but the Christ of Christmas still is the Prince of Peace. We don't smile at Mary's Song— we worship! And you and I can walk with Her Great Son, Our Savior, along that highway that leads into spring. Let us pray: (Segue chorus: Jesus, Name above all names!)

Closing Story:

Barbara Brown Taylor in a recent Christian Century told of taking a big van load of rich kids to Appalachia to acquaint them first hand with how a lot of the rest of the world lives.

There they met some very real and wonderful people, among whom was a boy named . He soon became one with them, and they prayed together. But

God So Loved the World

December 24, 1995

John 1:1-15

One summer afternoon we were in Westminster Abbey (where kings and queens have been crowned and buried— one of the most fascinating of places—) when an announcement was made that worship was to begin. All other activities were to cease. Tourists could become worshipers, or they could leave. Some of the people showed obvious displeasure at losing half an hour in their exploration of the chapels and mausoleums and crypts and all the history of that great church. Some simply left.

Helen and I found seats in the nave. The great organ began to play. The choir sang praise to God. The scriptures were read. Our hearts were lifted. We worshiped. We were refreshed in spirit. We were reminded that the Abbey is first of all a house of prayer, a church. Then we went back to being tourists.

Christmas has become almost like a great cathedral.

It has enough to fascinate and inspire for a lifetime. Christmas, like a cathedral, is full of beauty and wonder. The Old Testament poets and prophets laid the great foundation stones and began the soaring arches. Matthew and Luke have given us the great picture windows of Bethlehem and the Star and Wise Men and Angels and the Annunciation and much, much more. Down through the centuries writers and musicians and peasants and kings have added carols and stories and oratorios and pageants that fill the cathedral that is Christmas full of wonder. Even the little lights on your Christmas tree and ours are part of the great Cathedral of Christmas. There is more than we can ever hope to see. (What a "Gift Shop" this cathedral has! And what a "lunch room"!)

But still, Christmas is a place of worship!

John's contribution to Christmas is a little like that call to worship in the abbey. He calls us to the center of the cathedral, and goes to the very heart of what Christmas is all about. John says not a word about Bethlehem and the manger and the shepherds and the wise men. As a matter of fact, in his entire Gospel John never once mentions Mary, Jesus' mother, by name. Joseph, his step-father is mentioned only once. But John comes immediately to the heart of Christmas. The opening words of John's Gospel are absolutely packed with wonder.

I. JESUS IS GOD ALMIGHTY

John wrote: 1:1. In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. 2 The same was in the beginning with God. 3 All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made 4 In him was life; and the life was the light of mankind. 5. And the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not.

- At Christmas remember:

The Baby of Bethlehem, as the creed tells us, is:

"God of God, Light of Light, very God of very God, begotten, not made, being of one substance with the Father, by whom all things were made ..." This is revelation truth! When you really can believe this it is revelation time! Just words and human wisdom cannot get the truth across. If you believe that, count yourself truly fortunate. As Jesus told Peter: "Flesh and blood has not revealed this unto you, but my Father which is in heaven!"

God Himself came down to earth!

II. JESUS IS REALLY ONE WITH US, OUR BROTHER

John wrote 1:14. And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth.

- At Christmas dare to believe:

"The Lord Jesus Christ... came down from heaven and was made incarnate by the Holy Spirit of the Virgin Mary, and was made man," the Creed continues. Here is THE miracle of miracles. Here is the very heart of our faith. The INCARNATION. Jesus is one with us! He came here to bring us salvation. he was crucified for us under Pontius Pilate. The cross itself is only tragedy if in fact Jesus is not very God and very man.

Do you really believe that? If you do it is a miracle! Jesus is not only God— he is our BROTHER! To believe that is a gift of faith from God!

III. "JESUS CHRIST IS LORD!"

John wrote 1:12 But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the children of God, [even] to them that believe on his name : 13 Which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God. - Best of all, at Christmas, say from your heart, "Jesus Christ is Lord!"

There is MYSTERY here! Not everyone receives Jesus. Not everyone knows Jesus. Not everyone is willing to believe that He is God and that He is human. But if YOU have met him, and if you believe, then you are invited into the family of God! Jesus makes it possible for you and me to be men and women of God. "Jesus is the light that lights every person in the world."

This is not MY family (although I have been adopted, too)— not the property of this church or any church. But the simple promise is there: if you receive the Christ you have the power— the right— the privilege and promise to be God's child.

~ * ~ * ~

How do you and I "receive Christ" and be/become children of God? The answer is both simple and profound. It has to do with believing and confessing.

First, believing: God doesn't ask us to believe in magic, or profess to believe something totally and obviously false. Still, the basic facts of Christmas are pretty hard for human minds to grasp. But by the help of God

God So Loved the World

1. We can believe that Jesus is God
2. We can believe that Jesus came and lived among us, and that somehow he took our sins to the cross forever.

This faith is a gift of God. It is a persuasion that comes as you open your heart to God. It is revealed from faith to faith.

Then comes confessing:

You may think I am speaking about confessing your sins and asking forgiveness. Forgiveness of sins is a pretty important part of being a Christian, but it is not the very heart of the matter. The very heart of the matter is WHY we sin— it is WHO or WHAT is at the center of our lives. Being saved is not just having our sins forgiven so we can have a clean slate and live a clean life on our own terms. Rather being saved, or born again, is saying that we will make the Christ of Christmas our Lord, and follow Him.

3. We can confess "Jesus is Lord!" and by that confession renounce every other life allegiance, every other pretender to the throne of our lives. Do you even now believe? Really and truly in your heart do you believe Jesus is God? That Jesus is Savior because he took our sins to the cross? Do you say with your mouth, and with your mind— and with your will— JESUS IS LORD! ??

~ * ~ * ~

We are ALL in the Cathedral that is Christmas!

I sometimes wish I could be back in that great Abbey. I LOVE almost everything about a cathedral. I can't do that. but that essence of what the cathedral stands for, the worship and praise of God, is not limited to the great churches.

How many times have you heard people say: wouldn't it be nice to have Christmas all year— I don't know about that. But the essence of Christmas is first of all a time of worship and wonder. And we CAN have that because Christmas is TRUE! Jesus, God's Son, is Lord! He is ONE WITH US forever!!

Lift up your hearts! Worship the Christ! Then carry on with the carols and stories and being happy tourists in the Cathedral called Christmas!.

Prayer - #152 Fairest Lord Jesus - Verses 1 & 4 [then # 164 ??]

Starlight Sonlight

December 31, 1995

Matthew 2:1-12 When they saw the star they were overjoyed ...

Ephesians 3:1-12 (sel) Although I am the very least of all saints, this grace was given to me to bring to the Gentiles the news of the boundless riches of Christ . . . so that through the church the wisdom of God ... might now be made known ..."

The story of the Magi is a reminder to God's people that the Good News is for all the world. The Jews are God's chosen people, but they were chosen for the purpose of telling the nations about a God that loves them and wants them included in His family. This was not hidden in their scriptures: Isaiah 60 says "Nations shall come to your light and kings to the brightness of your dawning."

It is pretty heady stuff, being God's chosen people, and knowing that you have the truth. It is easy to slip into the comfortable notion that you are not only chosen, but favorite, that God exists to meet your needs, instead of God's people being God's servants. That is why it is so significant that at the very beginning of Jesus' life Matthew tells about important Gentiles that came and found Jesus, and worshiped him as their king, and gave him gifts. Matthew, that most Jewish of the Jews, is telling the world that Messiah is for all nations.

The New Testament expands the concept of chosen people to include the church. Galatians 3: 29 If you belong to Christ, then you are Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise. We are God's family; it feels good to belong. It is great to believe that we know God in Christ. But the 'other side' of the message is there, also: we don't have a monopoly on God's love. We can be called God's people, but we have been given the light in order that we may tell others where to find the Christ.

The story of the Magi tells us that God's salvation is revealed to those who will seek Him. Following the STAR is an illustration of the truth found in Hebrews 11:6, that the Lord God is a Rewarder of those who diligently seek Him. The Magi didn't seem to have too much to go on when they started out. Just the light of a star. But they persisted, and were rewarded with Epiphany. God takes notice when people start seeking him. If they will keep at it, they will not be disappointed.

We all have to come to Bethlehem by following the light we have been given. Every story is different. Many of us have been brought into this world with open Bibles in our homes, and simple, straightforward Bible doctrine preached in our churches, and we cannot remember when we didn't believe the basics about Jesus coming, and dying for our sins. That's good. Many remember how the light hit them in the darkness, and they became seekers and finders of the Christ, like my own father, who was never once in a gospel service before he was 21 years of age. There are as many stories of how we came to know Jesus as there are people. Still, the promise is there: if you want to find God, you have a gift (faith) that will enable you, by diligent seeking, to come into His Presence.

Finally, the story of the Magi challenges God's people to be like the star— and try to point everyone we can to the Christ we know. Coming to Bethlehem was evidently a long journey for the Wise Men. First they were afar off, and the light was dim, but there it was. "...they set out; and there, ahead of them, went the star " -Matthew 2:9 People need light when they are "far off."

We Can Begin With Simple Kindness.

Maybe sometimes the most important thing we can do will seem like a very small thing— but it will be like a star on the horizon, starting someone on the road to Bethlehem. The journey to salvation may begin with a little kindness together with a prayer.

(Sue Sylvester saw a boy reading a Testament on a school bus— and said a word of encouragement with an invitation to fellowship. She herself had miles and miles to go yet. But years later she saw that boy, now a young man, in that church in Beverly where she attended as a teenager, and he told her that her word of encouragement on the school bus had nudged him forward— was a contributing factor in his finding the God in the church.)

The "far off" witness is not to be despised. Arm yourself with God's Spirit every morning. Fill your quiver with arrows of God's love and concern. Then shoot those arrows every place you go, all day long. The "arrow" may just be a smile. It may be an encouragement or thanks. There may be times when you can give a word about Jesus Christ to a perfect stranger— but usually that privilege has to be earned or opened by previous work of the Spirit. But we can all be engaged in the first line of spiritual warfare which is seeking to let love overcome indifference, and light overcome darkness.

God Will Bless His Word, The Bible.

The Magi sought and found guidance from the Revelation of Holy Scripture. Even though the Herod and the scribes weren't sympathetic with their search, the scriptures themselves were not to be denied. Once again, the three wise men set off with what light they had.

If we take that next step in introducing people to Christ we will have to be people who let God's Word abide in us.

God Will Do What We Cannot Do.

'The star they had seen ... stopped over the place where the child was' and they entered the house 'they saw the child, and knelt down and worshiped and gave him gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh.' This has to be a special revelation, a miracle. No heavenly body could ever single out one house on earth— it is impossible. But when the star had done all it could, and the scriptures got them into the neighborhood, then God took over and brought them the rest of the way.

Our sharing the Good News is like that. People hunger after God. Then they hear a Gospel Message— perhaps Billy Graham preaching a simple Gospel message. But then the Holy Spirit says "YOU need to say "Yes!" to Jesus! YOU need to come and confess Jesus as Lord!" [I have been accused a few times of singling out individuals in a gospel message. I never have— but that "feeling" illustrates the final step of the miracle of personal Epiphany.

Just a couple more thoughts in closing:

There are times every one of US are seekers, like "The Wise Men"— we are seekers— following the light! Remember Hebrews 11:6. Find someone who knows the Bible. Listen for the Holy Spirit's guidance.

There are other times when the entire CHURCH is called to be like the STAR of Bethlehem. Paul understood that when (in the epistle passage he says - Ephesians 3:8 "Although I am the least of all saints, I have this high privilege: to tell the Gentiles they can get in on God's fabulous riches." Fabulous riches!!

[He almost makes evangelism sound like Publisher's Clearing House and Ed McMahon, doesn't he. But if you think about it, it is BETTER than any amount of money.

[You know— you've seen the ads that feed all out avarice— a van pulls up and some poor man in his undershirt is told: "You now have $10,000,000!!" Actually, telling people about God's riches doesn't ALWAYS get such a great reception because people don't yet have the capacity to believe. As wonderful as God's riches are, the great mystery involved made Paul's reception a little different from Ed McMahon's.]

Paul's privilege has come down US, to the CHURCH, to you and me. Do you ever feel like "the very least of all saints"? So do I! But you and I together have a share in the grace of bringing the news of God's riches to people outside our religious and ethnic family. Let's begin where we are. Don't start BIG— start where you ARE now! We all are able to love people and pray for them as we go through our daily routine. In so doing who knows what STAR may rise on their horizon!

Jesus said (and with these words I close:) Matthew 5: 14 YOU ARE THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD! A CITY THAT IS SET ON AN HILL CANNOT BE HID, NEITHER DO PEOPLE LIGHT A CANDLE AND PUT IT UNDER A BUSHEL. LET YOUR LIGHT SO SHINE BEFORE 'THE GENTILES' THAT THEY MAY SEE YOUR GOOD WORKS, AND GLORIFY YOUR FATHER WHICH IS IN HEAVEN." Amen.

Prayer - Hymn #429 The Light of the World is Jesus

Say Yes

A Vision for Giving

January 7, 1996

I Corinthians 13:3

In a famous poem by James Russell Lowell, a Knight of King Arthur's Round Table, Launfel, set out as a young man to give his life to a high and noble service of the Lord Jesus Christ. Sir Launfel spent his life in a search the world over for the Holy Grail, the cup that Jesus used during the Last Supper.

Though he searched the world over, Sir Launfel never found the Grail. In bitter disappointment, as he was coming to the conclusion that he would never find the Holy Grail, he was confronted by a hungry man asking for alms. Launfel shared what food he had with the beggar, and gave him a drink from his own cup. And then, to his amazement, that beggar became the Lord Jesus Himself.

The last few lines of Lowell's poem:

*"Lo, it is I, be not afraid:
In many climes without avail,
Thou hast spent thy life for the Holy Grail;
Behold it is here— the cup which thou
Didst fill at this streamlet for me but now;
This crust is my body broken for thee,
The water his blood that died on the tree;
The holy supper is kept, indeed,
In whatso we share with another's need;
Not what we give but what we share,
For the gift without the giver is bare;
Who gives himself with his alms feeds three—Himself, his hungering neighbor, and Me."
-James Russell Lowell*

Giving is important. This month we begin an emphasis on giving. But there is something more important than giving. More important than giving itself is WHY we give.

Giving is good. But just giving is not quite enough. God's kind of giving means putting LOVE into our gift. God so loved that he gave. We, too, can give because we love. I am speaking now of God's kind of love, agape' love.

I. A LIFE-CENTERING LOVE

- A. Life-centering commitment is a requisite for world-class success in any endeavor: When people FOCUS their lives and living THINGS HAPPEN! People can "AGAPE" ANY NUMBER OF OPTIONS: I John 2:15— this warning:

"Love (agape') not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any one love (agape') the world, the love (agape') of the Father is not in that person!"

The same word for love, "agape"— but different life-centers.

Winners, people going for success in any field will have this life-centering kind of drive. Most people simply live from paycheck to paycheck.

- B. World-class Christians have a life-centering commitment to Jesus! It is as simple as that! Life-changing Christians— are people who build their lives around ONE center— a love totally abandoned to God in Jesus Christ by the power of the Holy Spirit. These are the kinds of GIVERS that make a real DIFFERENCE in their world.

Transition: I am assuming that YOU are with me— in that we want to be the best Christians we know how to be. We want to have this AGAPE' love for God— and have it working:

II. UPGRADING OUR LOVE — BETTER REASONS TO GIVE

- A. Giving for any reason but love simply does not impress God. It certainly can and does impress me! I might not be able to tell the difference. I am simply amazed at any kind of sacrifice. But the Bible tells us people can make amazing sacrifices that in God's eyes are totally wasted. Nothing!

"Though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not love (agape'), it profits me nothing." -I Cor 13:3

B. Agape' love for God keeps seeking the best ways to LOVE, and to GIVE:

Did you know that the Bible shows there are "good" and "better" and "best" ways to love?

1. There is the Old Testament standard of love: "Thou shalt love thy neighbor, and hate thy enemy" Do not do to anyone else what you would not want them to do to you. This world would be a better place if just that level of love were put into effect.
2. There is the Golden Rule, from the New Testament: "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." Most people think that this is the very best we can ever hope to do.

But did you know that Jesus has called his disciples to even an higher standard?

3. The Great Commandment: "Love one another as I have loved you!" Beyond doing as we would have others do— we are to love as Jesus loved! Can we ever begin to come close? HOW?

Dorothy Day is considered a major "force" in shaping Christian, particularly Catholic, social work in our country. But she was well into her adult years before she became a Christian. She had been active in social concerns in an almost atheistic, certainly a non-religious way. She had an AGAPE', certainly— but God was not in the equation. The story of her conversion is dramatic— too long to tell here. But in the last 40 or so years of her life she GAVE out of sheer LOVE. She saw individual needy people as persons of great worth— she saw them as God sees them.

Her testimony has had an impact on ME! I want to spend the remaining years of my life GIVING— not just CONSERVING, HOARDING ENERGY to make life last as long as possible!

Esther Sanger is hardly recognized on a national scale, as is Dorothy Day. But in a very similar way Esther became a "force" in helping shape caring concerns right here on the South Shore! {Just this week I heard father Bill McCarthy speak of Esther as a founding force in father Bill's place beginnings.} Esther was past 50 years old before her AGAPE' found its center in God. She was human, with faults as big as yours or mine. But she decided she would GIVE herself to God, or to "others" through her love for God.

Say Yes

And Esther's life has had an impact on ME! I want to give what I have, and not hold it back to see how safe I can be!

I wonder if churches can catch new vision for giving as well as individuals? I wonder if a church like ours— that gives already to missions and home missions and Christian education and local needs— might not seek new ways to give our love along with our gifts? We could think of giving just in terms of dollars, and praying for the overseas missionaries— and that is important and we have to keep it up.

But can we give ourselves more— along with our giving?

The answer of HOW may be answered in specific ways this month of "Say Yes" as we hear from different kinds of people serving God in different kinds of ways. But if we go to a new vision for giving it will begin with the willingness to let God have all our hearts!

I say let's not hoard our strength! I believe we are a LOVING CHURCH. Let's give ourselves along with our giving. Could I dare say, " ASK NOT "What can God do for me?" but instead LET'S DARE TO PRAY TO GOD "What WILL YOU GIVE THROUGH me?"! THROUGH US! I challenge US to give ourselves, our young people as well as our money to see God's kingdom come and His will be done in earth as it is in heaven! Amen! This is my vision for giving!

It may not rank up there with the world's greatest poetry, but it says it pretty well, doesn't it:

"Not what we give but what we share, For the gift without the giver is bare; Who gives himself with his alms feeds three— Himself, his hungering neighbor, and Me." - James Russell Lowell

As we share at the Lord's Table this morning— will you ask God to make YOU truly WISE? Will you invite HIM to be the center of your life, and make YOU His kind of GIVER?

Let us pray:

January 7, 1996

THE HOLY COMMUNION

[THE TABLE THAT TRANSFORMS: Lord, let no one come to this Table today and not be changed!]

The Law Read and Confession Made

WE HAVE READ OUR CONFESSION OF FAITH Brothers and sisters, let us search our hearts. In silence let us ask God to draw us near to Himself so that we can come to his table with confidence. Shall we pray:

Search us, O God, and know our most private thoughts. Try us, and show unto us the deepest motives, the real state of our hearts. Forgive us where we have been selfish, or insensitive, or sinful in any way. We cannot keep the Great Commandment, and truly love You, O God, with all our heart, soul, and mind unless You in mercy grant to us the grace of Your indwelling Spirit. We cannot love each other as we should unless Your love is shed abroad in our hearts.

We do not presume to come to this table, O God, trusting in our own righteousness, but in your great mercy and grace. Grant us to eat the Bread of heaven, and drink the blood shed for the remission of sins, that we may live in Christ, and Christ may live in us forever. Amen

The Informal Invitation ("This is not my table . . . ")

The Words of Institution:

We praise you for the mystery of our salvation! We truly believe Christ has died!
Christ is risen! Christ will come again!

Say Yes

Bless these emblems, O God, and make them to us the Body and Blood of your Son, spiritual food, and spiritual drink of new and unending life in Jesus Christ. And now, together, we pray, as Jesus taught us:

Our Father which art in heaven AMEN

[Now receive the sacrament - wait and partake together - be in prayer for yourself, and intercession for others ...] HERE LET THE ELEMENTS BE DISTRIBUTED, PRAYERS OFFERED, (MUSIC PLAYED/SUNG) Partaking Together:

Holy and gracious Father; in your infinite love you made us for yourself; and, when we had fallen into sin, and were worthy of death and hell, you, in your mercy sent Jesus Christ, your only and eternal Son to share our human nature, to live and die as one of us, to reconcile us to You, the God and Father of all.

He stretched out his arms upon the cross, and offered himself in obedience to your will, a perfect sacrifice for the whole world.

On the night in which he was betrayed our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had give thanks to You he broke it and gave it to his disciples and said, "Take eat: THIS IS MY BODY, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me.

After supper he took the cup and when he had give thanks he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you; THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink this, do it in remembrance of me: Amen

Now, humbly we receive the Gifts of God for the People of God

With Jesus on the Mountain

With Jesus Series 1 of 7

- With Jesus on the Mountain
- With Jesus in the Wilderness
- With Jesus at the Well of Sychar
- With Jesus into the Light
- With Jesus at the Cemetery
- With Jesus into Holy Week
- With Jesus into Resurrection Life

February 18, 1996 AM

Matthew 17:1-9

The Transfiguration "This is my Son ...listen to him!"

Mountains as Points of Reference

One Sunday afternoon, a long time ago, instead of taking the usual Nazarene nap, I took my four sons on a hike up Mount Beacon above the majestic Hudson River in Beacon, New York. We lived in Poughkeepsie where I was pastor at Vassar Road Church.

It was sultry and hot, and the thought of climbing in shady, cooler woods sounded like fun.

It was a twenty minute drive to a place where we could leave the wagon as far up the mountain as it could go. Then it was just over an hour's walk to the top where you could look up and down the river for miles.

On the way up the trail we heard the sound of a brook off to one side, and followed the sound and found a beautiful place where the water was falling through a U shaped place in a big rock into a shallow pool like a basin underneath it. It was hot, and the water was very cool.

The four boys stripped down to their shorts and into the water they went.

One of them would sit in the cleft in the rock and dam up the water it was that narrow until it spilled over his shoulders then he'd jump into the basin below with the wave gushing after him.

We stayed at that pool half an hour or less that hot Sunday afternoon and that was thirty years ago. I drove back to Vassar Road and preached and led the evening service. I haven't a clue as to what I preached it has been long forgotten. But every one of those four boys, now grown men with families of their own, remembers that day we climbed Mount Beacon. And somehow it has a good place in our family history. It was one of those defining moments that help give life direction.

We've all had those times, those defining moments, that we remember as we look back across the landscape of our lives to those mountains, literal or figurative, that show us where we've been, and to some extent, who we are and where we're going. Perhaps the day the story in our Gospel lesson began started out like just any other day for the disciples. But it was going to turn out to be a day they would never, ever forget.

Jesus called to Peter, James, and John. He often went apart to pray, and a prayer time was all they really were expecting. Up and up the mountain trail they went, until they reached the top. And there they stopped. Luke's Gospel says that Jesus began to pray, and he also tells us that the three disciples became very sleepy.

Peter, James and John were not expecting what came next. While they watched in awe something wonderful beyond description began to happen. The kindly face of the Galilean carpenter began to change in ways the evangelist has found difficult to describe. Later the three men tried to find words to express what they had seen: "Light streamed from his face, as bright as the sun. His clothes became whiter than white they shone with light."

These men knew Jesus well. They had been with him three years and had heard him speak, and heal, and raise the dead. They had even confessed their faith that He is the Son of God, the Messiah. But they were NOT prepared for this display of dazzling glory. They knew Jesus. But they also realized they hardly knew him at all!

(Our doctrines are good/necessary; they try to explain the mysteries of faith: Jesus is very God and very man, the Son of God and the Son of Mary. The Father in heaven helps us to confess our faith with Peter, and say with conviction: "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God!" But NOTHING is as convincing and satisfying and thoroughly frightening as a mountaintop glimpse of Christ's glory!)

Then, as they watched, the three disciples became aware that two other people were present, talking with Jesus in the cloud of light. In some mysterious and wonderful way, they knew that these two glorious figures were Moses and Elijah, the Lawgiver, and the greatest of Old Testament prophets.

Moses on a mountain long before this great giant of faith, the meekest man who ever lived, had talked with God face to face, and had received the Ten Commandments, the holy Law of God by which all mankind is supposed to live, but especially the people of God.

Elijah on another mountain years later, but still a long time before, this rugged prophet had prayed fire down from heaven, and had defeated the false prophets and brought God's people back to Him.

Here were the Law and the Prophets in conversation with the Living Gospel, the Good News of Salvation. Here was a vision of the Law fulfilled, and of Truth triumphant, the whole Plan of Salvation, the whole Word of God represented in one glorious conversation.

Luke tells us something of what Moses and Elijah were discussing with their glorious Lord that mountaintop day. They were talking about another mountain yet to be climbed. They were talking about the hill we call Calvary.

Peter, James and John may not have understood the full implication in the dazzling light of the moment, but they were dramatically seeing portrayed before their eyes

With Jesus on the Mountain

- Jesus as fulfilling the Law (Moses), completing the truth of Torah; and
- Jesus as Champion over evil (Elijah), making sinners right with God, completing the Plan of Salvation.

The disciples were uncomfortable. Don't ever think that when God is manifested in power it is a comfortable, easy time. This was gut wrenching, frightening to the limit! Peter began to 'prattle' a bit. "Lord, let's build succoth booths right here on top of the mountain! We'll build three one for Moses, one for Elijah, and one for You!"

Then came a majestic, thundering, authoritative voice from heaven. The Father put things into perspective. He said, "This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased. Listen to HIM!"

The heart of faith is not Jesus AND Law, or Jesus AND Proclamation, or Jesus AND anything else.

The heart of faith is Jesus. That is the message this mountain top experience carried home to Peter James and John. Then it was over. Just like that.

As soon as they came down the mountain actually before they got to the bottom they were back at nitty gritty work. As far as we know they never had another Transfiguration type opportunity. (Oh, yes, John saw the glorified Savior during his exile on Patmos you can read about it in the first chapter of the Revelation.) But these men never forgot what they saw on that mountain that day.

They needed it in just a few weeks when their Master was taken from them and mocked and beaten and killed on a Cross. It looked like defeat. It looked like weakness. (But) They had been to the mountain. They had seen the glory. They could believe when the Resurrection came.

They needed it after Jesus ascended to heaven, and their own crosses became heavy, and they were tempted to wonder if it was worth it. But they had seen a glimpse of the glory. They knew that their Master was Lord of Moses and Elijah who are very much alive. They had been on the mountain. They could trust that God would not waste their sacrifice.

James was killed by the sword early in the first wave of persecution. Had the vision been wasted on him? I don't think so. Peter led the church in Jerusalem, and then Antioch and Ephesus and Rome. The vision sustained him, and he passed it on to Luke. John the Beloved outlived all the other apostles. As long as he lived the memory of that day of Transfiguration on a mountain in the north of Israel was a blessing and a hope.

We cannot live on mountain tops, or even live FOR that kind of experience. Don't forget, eight perfectly good apostles got word of this day second hand, just like you and I have.

What we can do is live in confession of faith in our Master. If truly the faith has been granted us to believe that Jesus is the Christ we can say with Peter, six days BEFORE this glory time, "You are the Christ, the Son of the Living God!"

What we can do if we have that faith is affirm from our hearts, "Jesus is LORD!" We can ask Him if we can follow Him around day after day. We can listen to Him pray. We can ask Him if we can come along when he cares for people who hurt. That is what we can do. And sometime when we least expect it there will be those loving times those tender times when Jesus lets us know He's pleased with us. Not Transfigurations, maybe. But mountain experiences. Defining moments. Moments we never forget.

And who's to say Oh well

Let's pray

Hymn No.66 Thou Art Worthy

With Jesus in the Wilderness

With Jesus Series 2 of 7

- With Jesus on the Mountain
- With Jesus in the Wilderness
- With Jesus at the Well of Sychar
- With Jesus into the Light
- With Jesus at the Cemetery
- With Jesus into Holy Week
- With Jesus into Resurrection Life

February 25, 1996

Preface

Today is the first Sunday in Lent. Six weeks from today is Easter Sunday. I would like to give you a verse to use during these weeks and days before Easter as we join together in seeking to draw nearer to God. (Let me read the first few words in Hebrews 12:)

"Therefore we also, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which so easily ensnares us, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and has sat down at the right hand of the throne of God. For consider him who endured such hostility from sinners against himself, lest you become weary and discouraged in your souls." (Hebrews 12: 1 -3)

I especially underscore those three words: "looking unto Jesus..." All through Lent let's make that the key to our Bible reading and prayer. I ask you to look to Jesus "in all his offices," as John Wesley would urge us. By that I mean remember that Jesus is always our Prophet, our Priest, and our King.

Jesus is our Prophet, who calls us to turn from any selfish ways and be right with God. Jesus is our Priest, who by the sacrifice of his life on Calvary forgives our sins, and brings us with Himself to God by his blood. Jesus is our King, who leads us in the way we should go— our Shepherd who loves us and cares for us— our Physician who heals us, makes us whole.

Will you try to do this? to remember all through the time between now and Easter to be "looking unto Jesus— our Prophet, our Priest, our King!"?? (With that introduction to Lent (as a six week journey) we look at today's lessons:)

I. AT THE BEGINNING OF LENT WE LOOK AT TWO BEGINNINGS

We look back to the Garden where it all started— and to the Desert where Christ's battle with evil began in earnest. The two "beginnings" are very much connected.

You remember the story of what happened in the Garden.

One writer called it "the Big Mistake made by the father and mother of us all before they had really gotten the hang of being human." In a Reader's Digest version:

God said, "Don't eat the fruit!"

They ate the fruit anyway. And the rest is history.

And so we have our first parents to thank, or to blame, for what we call "original sin," however it is that we have been tainted with it. We are all sons and daughters of an Adam and Eve who were tempted, and who gave in to their temptation. Every son and daughter ever since has had some version or other of a repeat of that loss of innocence. We know that story pretty well:

- God said it.
- We heard it.
- We thought about it.
- And we went ahead and did it anyway. Every son and daughter has sinned— except One.

But we also remember another story. This story took place in the desert.

The first Adam, and Eve, came into a Garden. When they failed in their test of obedience they were expelled, and the earth was cursed. The Second Adam, Jesus Christ, was tempted in a Wilderness.

Fresh from the baptism, from the glory of God the Father's wonderful words: "This is My beloved Son in whom I am well pleased!," Jesus is brought into confrontation with raw evil. The ordeal in the desert lasted forty days.

That is one big reason why Christians have taken the forty days before Easter to unite in spirit with our Lord.

The temptations of both Adam and Eve, and Jesus were across the whole spectrum of human needs and desires. There was the level of physical hunger, which could be understood as the drives or appetites of our bodies. There was the level of emotional need and the desire for acceptance, the cravings of our souls. There was the highest level, of choosing, of deciding who will say what is right and wrong, the statement of what it ultimately means to be human.

Jesus was asked to prove he is God's Son by making stones into bread. He was asked to prove he trusted God's Word by throwing himself off the temple so angels will catch him. He was asked to compromise "just once" and avoid all the agony of the cross.

In every case, of course, Jesus refused to argue or reason with Satan. He had taken the role of Servant of his Father— and he used the written Word as his guide.

By his triumph over sin, both there in the desert, and then on the cross, Jesus gave us the right and privilege of getting in on a new race of human beings. (John 1:12 As many as received Him, to them gave he power to become the children of God, even to those who believe on His name.")

We all carry Adam's genes. we know what it is to fail. Every one of us has lost innocence before God. But if we will, we can be sons and daughters of this new Adam. We can be born of the Spirit. We can all carry Jesus' genes— and we can know what it is to overcome temptation.

II. BOTH STORIES SAY TWO BASIC THINGS ABOUT TEMPTATION

All temptations begin with a question of God's Word, of one kind or other.

"Has God really said THAT?" That's the first approach of the wily serpent. In the desert Satan's opener was "IF you are (really) the Son of God all weak and hungry and wretched like this..."

The first line of attack will be to blur the lines— to confuse the difference between right and wrong— to question the Word of God Himself. (God HAS spoken!)

Treasure the Word of God! Listen when God wants to speak— even by humble means. Be careful how you handle the Bible! It is a very human book, and has been translated by very human people. But somehow the same Spirit who inspired it— and inspired it in ways no liberal OR fundamentalist can prove or disprove by merely humanistic means— somehow the Spirit is able to preserve that message of salvation so we don't need to err if we will listen.

The serpent is still saying "Has God SAID?" Ask your heart! You KNOW God has said!

All temptation, ultimately, is temptation to try to take God's place.

The second aspect of temptation is to say— even if God HAS spoken, HE IS NOT TO BE TRUSTED! I WILL MAKE MY OWN DECISION ABOUT RIGHT AND WRONG!

Adam and Eve fell for Satan's promise "You will be like gods to know right from wrong." Jesus, in His mission as God's Servant, remained totally obedient to the Father's will.

In Adam, Paul tells us, we all died. In Jesus— in his victory— we all (potentially) were made alive.

In Adam something was LOST— the secret of what we were supposed to be/become. In Jesus for the first time we get a picture of perfect humanity.

Humanity was recovered!

When Adam sinned all the earth was cursed. When Jesus, the Perfect Man, submitted wholly to the Father's will, and resisted temptation He was ministered to by angels, and all the earth was blessed.

But the message is more than just history— more than true stories: the message is as we look to Jesus we find help in our temptation:

III. TEMPTATION AND OUR PROPHET, PRIEST, AND KING

Jesus did not just TELL us how to defeat Satan. He showed us.

He did not argue or reason with temptation. In every instance he fell back on the written word of God.

Jesus refused to do the right things for the wrong reasons. Later Jesus would feed 5,000 people in the wilderness. After all, he had provided manna for the thousands in the wilderness during the Exodus. Making bread, or showing his power, becoming sovereign over all the earth was never in question, nor were those items the issue. Jesus refused to do the tempter's bidding, refused to step outside the plan God had for His ministry.

He was tempted in all points as we are, yet without sin.

Look to Jesus in his offices:

As Prophet Jesus calls us to choose God's Word, His will, His way over our own. All of us have failed in the past. All of us have faced temptations great and small hundreds of times. Our Prophet calls us to recognize the Tempter in matters of the will— and to choose God's Word! God has spoken!

As Priest Jesus overcomes the sin that does so easily beset us. By His sacrifice on the Cross he has given us power to receive Him and become sons and daughters (John 1:12) of God. He is praying for you and me right NOW! We can overcome as we plead the merits of the blood of Calvary! God has stooped to lift us!

With Jesus in the Wilderness

As King Jesus comes alongside us by His Spirit to "lead us not into temptation, but (to) deliver us from evil." Our King is a Shepherd King—a Physician King— a Presence! God is WITH us right now!

Prayer: You have taught us to pray— "Lead us NOT into temptation, but DELIVER US from evil! Thank You for answering that prayer— for showing how we can flee to You in our need. Amen

Hymn: 636 Jesus Lover of My Soul

With Jesus at the Well of Sychar

With Jesus Series 3 of 7

- With Jesus on the Mountain
- With Jesus in the Wilderness
- With Jesus at the Well of Sychar
- With Jesus into the Light
- With Jesus at the Cemetery
- With Jesus into Holy Week
- With Jesus into Resurrection Life

March 10, 1996 - Lent 3

John 4:5-42

If ever anyone lived on a dead end street this was the person. And by dead end I don't mean a nice cul de sac where the kids can play and the traffic can turn around. I mean dead end like going nowhere, like abandon all hope. I don't know how, but she had run through five marriages. Five separate stories of tragedy.

It could have been tremendously bad luck, and her husbands had all died. It could have been simply the result of a kind of society where wives were throw-away items, where certainly all women were second class citizens. But anyone who has been married that many times has become very well acquainted with loss and failure.

Maybe the biggest loss of all was this person's loss of any sense of self esteem.

This passage has been studied so thoroughly that we all know, or think we know, how women in the middle east always went for their water early in the day, together, in a community time of fellowship. While the little children played and the latest village gossip was passed, the women carried home their water from the well in the cool of the morning. The scene here is in the blazing light of high noon, when there was usually no one at the well and she could come and go in her loneliness without the added pain of feeling she was part of the gossip being passed along.

I don't know that she was a greater sinner than any of the other men and women of her village. But in her isolation she certainly had to be right up there among the greatest in terms of her pain and needs.

When she arrived at the well she was annoyed just a bit. For there on the curbing of the well sat a stranger. By his dress and his bearing she knew him to be a Jew. She had no idea that her life was about to change and that this man would be the most important person she would ever meet.

She had deliberately chosen this time to come to the well so she could stay away from people. This was a low time in her life. It was a time that she least expected to meet anyone, let alone someone very, very important. She certainly did not have in mind a challenge to her faith that would change her forever. She paused, not quite sure what to expect of this stranger.

The stranger surprised her by asking her for a drink. He looked a little tired, and he evidently was thirsty. The woman was not afraid to voice her surprise. "How come you even speak to me?" she asked.

Social rules were stronger then than we can understand in our society. Some things simply were not done. Jewish men would sooner suffer great thirst than ask a strange woman for a drink.

She let her water jar down and down into the deep well and watched it turn on its side and fill and sink. Then she hauled it hand over hand back to the well curb, and poured the cool water into the stranger's cupped hands. She was amazed that this Jew not only would speak to her, but drink from her water jar— she was ceremonially untouchable, and she made the jar ceremonially unclean. The stranger drank and drank, and then wiped his mouth.

Before he said another word this stranger had said a tremendous amount. He had said 'You are not worthless. You are someone who can help me. You are worth talking to.' He had said "I am not afraid to cross over barriers of gender and race that put people down.' He had even said 'It is all right to ask favors, and reach out to help and be helped by others.' And he said a lot more beside before he ever opened his mouth again.

But then Jesus DID open his mouth and say a whole lot. As a matter of fact, a part of this story is the longest conversation that is recorded that Jesus ever had with any one individual. And even though I hate to interrupt the flow of the drama, we do have to look at what Jesus told this one shunned and rejected woman. Actually he told her two things that stand out to me, and a third thing than was stunning!

1. He told her something about how people worship. Whenever sincere people seek after God they come under one of the ways Jesus described to this one woman. I'd love to say more about this— but there is more there than I can say now.

Jesus simply said "You Samaritans don't know ... we Jews have heard God's revelation and do know— but there is coming— and now is a higher, deeper way to worship!"

2. And then Jesus spoke some of the most profound words that have ever been spoken on the subject of true worship, of worship as God intends it shall be— the kind of worship, Jesus said, that the heavenly Father goes looking for. Maybe I can address that best by reading a short paragraph of Eugene H. Peterson's translation, The Message:

"It's who you are and the way you live that count before God. Your worship must engage your spirit in the pursuit of truth. That's the kind of people the Father is out looking for; those who are simply and honestly themselves before him in their worship. God is sheer being itself—Spirit. Those who worship him must do it out of their very being, their spirits, their true selves, in adoration."

The longest conversation on record— with a woman who lived on a dead end street, going nowhere! The most profound words about worship— to a person who had probably never heard of philosophy or knew much about Torah.

3. Then- most stunning of all— the first declaration of his Messiahship recorded in the Gospel—She says, "Well— these are wonderful words— and when Messiah comes I'm sure HE will make them plain!" And the amazing, head-spinning reply she got, and that she believed, were the words: "I that speak unto you— am HE!"

Well, that may not have been the end of our woman's hard times in life, but it certainly shattered her isolation. She left her precious water pot right where it was and headed into the village looking for the people she had been afraid of, the people who had scorned her. And they listened to her! There was something absolutely fascinating to the village people about the genuine faith that had been kindled in this woman many of them knew had been a loser in so many ways. The village emptied at noonday, and streamed out to the edge of town to the well of Sychar, the well of Jacob their forefather. They heard for themselves. They believed. A genuine turning to God of a whole town began.

The transformation of a hopeless woman into a kind of evangel, the transformation of a Samaritan town into a worshiping community began when Jesus asked someone, someone on a dead end street, for a drink.

It makes me think there are no really dead end streets if Jesus is really there. We've probably all been to the well at one time or other. It makes me believe that in the least expected places, and in the strangest times Jesus shows up in the most unexpected ways. He treats us like people of worth— for he values us. He asks us for our help if he needs it.

And then he offers us in return the kind of grace the rich and famous can never buy with all their wealth, and the keenest scholars can never figure out with all their fabulous IQ, and the most powerful politicians cannot legislate with all their hot air. He offers us up the knowledge of who we are, and the hope of who we can be. He helps us look Him in the face and see his purity— and then look ourselves in the mirror and see our possibilities. And before we know it we are even looking our neighbors in the face, whether they are rich or poor, and telling them about a Man who makes us more alive than we ever thought we ever could be.

Prayer - Hymn Closer - 458 Fill My Cup, Lord

With Jesus into the Light

With Jesus Series 4 of 7

- With Jesus on the Mountain
- With Jesus in the Wilderness
- With Jesus at the Well of Sychar
- With Jesus into the Light
- With Jesus at the Cemetery
- With Jesus into Holy Week
- With Jesus into Resurrection Life

March 17, 1996

20/20 BLINDNESS

John 9:1-41

Did you ever hear the old saying about college students:

*Freshmen know not, and know that they know not;
Sophomores know not, and know not that they know not;
Juniors know, and know not that they know;
Seniors know, and know that they know?*

I don't quite know what to say about that, except I'm not sure I ever met a "pure" freshman who knew that he/she didn't know— and I'm not sure which I am more ashamed of— that I still catch myself being like a sophomore, who doesn't know how much I don't know— or even like a senior who is wise beyond all understanding.

The story today is about knowing; about knowing the most important things in the world. It is a story about the healing of physical blindness. Before the story is over we see there are worse things than not having physical sight. At the end of the story one big question is asked: "ARE WE BLIND?" That is a question we all might want to dare to ask Jesus. Because NO ONE IS QUITE AS BLIND AS THOSE WHO ARE SURE THEY CAN SEE CLEARLY.

[To the story: John 9:1-14]

You might not think it would be hard to imagine what it would be like never to have seen— to be blind from birth. You could just shut your eyes, you might think. But of course you know that is not the same.

The man in this story got on in the world as best he could, using his other senses. Blindness was a severe handicap, but he made a living, such as it was. Then one day the blind man met Jesus. He didn't know, really, who Jesus was. We are not told how much he had heard about Jesus. By what he told the authorities after he received his sight, the blind man didn't know very much about Him at all.

We have to wonder what in the world inspired such hope and faith in him that he would even listen to Jesus. Then when Jesus did what he did, and told the blind man to do what he was supposed to do— - this man simply went and did as he was told. [What Jesus did: made mud, sent the blind man off in his darkness to wash in the Pool of Siloam}]

I like to think that something warm happened inside the man when Jesus spoke to him. I like to think that grace began to work in him to begin the miracle of faith. That beginning faith might have been as small as simply saying "What do I have to lose!?" Or it may have been inspired by what he had heard of other miracles.

Whatever it was, this man did not deserve to be blind because he had sinned— and he did not deserve to be made well because he was good. We know he was made to see because Jesus took compassion on him; not because he believed in Jesus as Messiah or savior or because he was especially religious or deserving. He simply obeyed, and a miracle took place: He could see!

We have to speculate a bit on what it must have been to experience sight for the first time. To live in a dark world of sounds and smells and jostling, and suddenly to see a donkey for the first time, or a pigeon, or the crowded streets of Jerusalem, or the Temple mount looming above the pool?

Did the blind man have to have help getting home? Did he have to shut his eyes so he could remember where he was?

Finally he got home— and found that he was now quite a celebrity. If he lived now he would certainly make at least the local talk shows on the radio— he might even make Good Morning Israel! on nationwide TV. People began to take notice. It isn't every day a person born blind can see with 20/20 vision by a miracle of God.

So now the people who know everything about everything— who have a faith of rules and regulations that exist to maintain their traditions, rather than traditions that nurture and maintain their faith— these people said, "This is outside OUR control! This is too dangerous!" They moved in.

1. "Number one— nobody does anything or goes anywhere on the Sabbath unless WE say so." [The healing had taken place on the Sabbath.] Of course there were ways to get around Sabbath rules— but they were sure Jesus hadn't bothered to worry his head about that.
2. Number two— this Jesus was the object of grave concern because he had been teaching SPIRITUAL worship— that God must be worshiped by placing HIM at the center of life— instead of by just keeping rigid rules and regulations.
3. Number three— they had to show this man who was really in control of spiritual matters— so they found him and began their interrogation.

This is one of the funniest stories in the Bible, in one way. The interchange between the big shots and the blind man becomes actually almost hilarious.

"Tell us about what happened," they say.

He does.

"Well, this man couldn't be good and do what he did not the Sabbath."

"I think it's pretty good, what he did," says the blind man. "I'm learning to read at 35 years of age!"

"Don't get smart with us," they say. "Maybe you are twin brothers or something." Then, "Let's go and ask his mom and dad."

Mom and Dad don't need trouble with the authorities. They don't want to make any waves.

"No," they say, "we only have the one blind son— he was blind all his life— that's him— he's 35 years old— he can speak for himself." The big shots look the poor man up again.

"Tell us what happened," they say.

"I have already told you about six times," he says. " Are you considering joining the Church of the Nazarene?" Oooh, that one burned!

"Don't be smart with us! We know this man is bad news."

"Bad news, good news—," our friend is getting testy. "All I know is this: I was blind. I can now see 20/20! That is the sum and total of it!"

For his veracity and tenacity the blind man succeeded in getting the high-up people very angry. On the spot they officially excommunicated him. His last hope of heaven, supposedly, was out the window. Their rage must have been a bit sobering even for the ex-blind man, and I'm sure his parents, who didn't want to make trouble, were devastated.

But then comes the best part of the story: Remember, this man had never ever even once seen Jesus. I'm sure Jesus planned it that way. He could have healed him on the spot and when he opened his eyes to see for the first time the first thing he would have seen would have been Jesus instead of that donkey by the pool of Siloam. But Jesus had sent him away to wash.

The blind man didn't know what Jesus looked like— but Jesus looked him up. The disciples said, "Jesus, Master, you know that man you healed last Sabbath day? The authorities have cast him out! His whole neighborhood is buzzing about three visits in one day by the long black robes and all the commotion." So Jesus went looking for him.

And Jesus found him. "Do you believe in Messiah?" Jesus asked.

"Who is Messiah?" answered the man. "I'd like to be able to believe." And then here it came again! Last week to a Samaritan woman, this week to an excommunicated ex-beggar blind man. Jesus reveals to one person the fact that He is the Messiah.

"You're looking at him!" said Jesus.

"Lord, I believe!" said the blind man who now could see in more ways than one. Down on his knees before the Son of God he went.

Then Jesus said one of those enigmatic statements that aren't too difficult to understand if you really want to understand them: "I've come, he said, to help blind people see, and to make those who see become as blind as bats."

Some Pharisees heard him — and they got really upset because they thought they knew what Jesus meant. It was then they asked the question I began this sermon with: "YOU'RE NOT TELLING US THAT WE'RE BLIND, ARE YOU? ARE WE BLIND?"

And Jesus said: "THERE ISN'T ANYONE QUITE AS BLIND AS THE ONE WHO THINKS HE KNOWS EVERYTHING!"

AM I BLIND, JESUS?

If I am a know-it-all, yes!

But if I am in a living connection with Jesus I can say No! I am not blind! The LORD is my Shepherd!

With Jesus as prophet, priest, and king I can see: If my life is centered in Him ('looking unto Jesus'— Hebrews 12:3)

As Prophet he helps me see clearly what is his will,

As Priest he shows me that the cross and the empty tomb are my salvation, and

As King he is the shepherd who leads me even through the (Glen Coe) dark valleys of shadow.

In Chapter 8:12 Jesus said these words: "I am the light of the world. Whoever follows me will never walk in darkness, but will have the light of life."

With Jesus into the Light

Prayer & Hymn 424 The Song of the Soul Set Free

Thoughts on Isolation and Reunion

The Story of 'The Prodigal' in Luke 15:11-32

March 24 (pm), 1996

There are three characters in this drama. The drama itself is about the sadness of separation, and the joy of reunion, and about what it means to really be a part of a loving family.

There are three kinds of sadness represented, which really come from the very same source. That source, as we have already said, is separation, isolation, being shut away in one's time of need.

First Separation

The First separation is obvious. The sadness and pain is that of a person in a corner, at the end of things. It is the sadness of a person who perhaps has been selfish and thoughtless and now is out of luck. He comes to himself when he comes to the very bottom.

We know that this man, the Prodigal, comes home, and there is finally a "happy ending." But at the same time we cannot gloss over the pain this man felt. We can only imagine the wreck and ruin which his descent into the abuse of his gifts brought on his head. The fact that he was saved in the end is wonderful— and it tells us a great deal about the mercies of God. But there was terrible pain involved along the way.

Some time ago the Reader's Digest had a story about a Prodigal. Rev. Gordon Weekly was a highly successful Baptist minister who became addicted to drugs, first through prescriptions, and then through alcoholism and worse. He let his story be told so others might have hope, but also so others might not presume on God's grace.

This man who was at times a co-worker with the Billy Graham Evangelistic Team in South America and other places found himself separated from all spiritual reality in Christ. He lost his great church, he lost his marriage, he ended up on skid row and nearly lost his life before Rev. Grady Wilson challenged him to give himself and his failure to Jesus. He did. God restored him. But God did not go back and change history! Gordon Weekly is doing God's work now— but don't deny the pain that was there before he came back.

Second Separation

The Second separation is obvious also. The older brother's pain is that of a person who harbors bitterness of spirit in the presence of other people's good fortune. It is the overwhelming gloom and sadness of an unforgiving spirit. It is a sadness that is twisted in on itself, that says "Let the sinner suffer! Sinners deserve hell!"

We don't know how the separation began in this father-son relationship, but it was not in the lack of love of the father. It was in the heart, the selfish heart, of the older brother. "You never gave me so much as a scrawny goat to party with!" The son exploded at the father. He was angry because the older man's heart was still warm toward his prodigal brother.

It is hard to feel sorry for the elder brother. But his pain is real. And the danger is real that he probably will never really be happy! He almost seems to hold on to his misery like he holds on to his self-righteousness. He is right and everyone else—even GOD Himself is wrong!

Third Separation

The Third separation is that which the great father in the story experienced, separation from both of his sons.. His sadness and pain is undeserved. Think about it: this man suffered the loss of his younger son for a period of time. But he kept watch, and when he got the chance he ran out to meet him. I can understand that kind of love a little bit.

But this good man also had suffered the alienation of his older son. In separating himself from his brother and from his father he caused his dad as much grief as the younger man had done in his wastrel sin!

This third great sadness is the sadness of God the Father when we, His children, separate ourselves from His great love!

We Don't Know how the story ends. After all it was just a story, and all the more true for it. But it almost seems that Jesus is saying it is easier for down-and-outers to repent and find peace and happiness than it is for bitter-of-spirit and self-righteous Christians to ever really find peace.

I feel sorry for those who experience the isolation of sin. No one can suffer entirely to himself/herself. Every sad story is the story of multiple heart-ache.

I feel sorry for those who experience the isolation of bitterness and an un-forgiving spirit. Hell has already begun on earth for them. Those who cannot forgive are doomed to shut themselves away from forgiveness. It is a sad thing to be right, to be where you ought to be— and be terribly wrong in spirit.

It may well be that many of us don't need to worry too much about being taken for Prodigals. But we are all in danger of being judgmental "older brother" types, apart from the love of Christ.

It is sobering to think of the great sorrow that God feels as He watches his children go on in isolation and sorrow. I believe God the Father doesn't just want us to be "good." He wants to welcome them into the warmth and fellowship of his great home! The lights are on! The band is playing! The table is groaning! There are children returning, and the father is rejoicing. But he is also watching for others to come— and he is surprised and saddened that some who never went away to the far country refuse to really come into the house!

We all experience times of stress and sorrow— even times of isolation and loneliness in this world. But there is an isolation and a sadness and a loneliness which we do NOT need to experience. God loves every one of us! He wants us to share His home, His house, be a part of His family!

God is ACTIVELY SEEKING to break into your isolation— He wants, He waits— to welcome you home! to bring you INSIDE!

Prayer

Thoughts on Isolation and Reunion

Hymn No. 607 Just a Closer Walk with Thee

OR

No. 337 (Sing to the Lord) - Softly and Tenderly Jesus Is Calling

With Jesus at the Cemetery

With Jesus Series 5 of 7

- With Jesus on the Mountain
- With Jesus in the Wilderness
- With Jesus at the Well of Sychar
- With Jesus into the Light
- With Jesus at the Cemetery
- With Jesus into Holy Week
- With Jesus into Resurrection Life

March 24, 1996

Ezekiel 37 - The Valley of Bones

John 11 - The Raising of Lazarus

"I am the resurrection and the life . . ." - John 11

The prophet Ezekiel is not the usual fare for devotional Bible reading. Ezekiel is sort of the surrealistic painter of the Bible, who gives us word pictures we could compare with Salvador Dali, or even Picasso. When we think of Ezekiel, if we think of him at all, we wonder where he got the strange visions of wheels within wheels, and descriptions of strange creatures that appear again only in the Book of Revelation. But absolutely none of Ezekiel's visions are more graphic— and yet more absolutely TRUE— than the virtual reality of The Valley of Dry Bones.

EZEKIEL'S VISION

GOD takes the prophet "in the spirit (Spirit)" to a valley. The valley was full of bones. Why the bones were lying on the surface of the ground Ezekiel does not say. he does say that in his vision they were very dry. They would be very unclean to a kosher Israelite.

GOD then asks a "silly" question of the prophet. In spite of the hopelessness of the scene God asks: "Son of man, can these bones live?"

In his vision Ezekiel answers very well indeed: "O Lord God, YOU know!"

GOD then gives a direct command, with promise: Give these bone THE WORD OF THE LORD— tell them there is HOPE— tell them God CARES—

Then in his vision the bones come together— they become bodies—But there still was no breath in the re-created host; so the Spirit spoke again and said, "Call for the WIND— the RUACH— the Spirit—" and the Spirit came into the assembled host. The resurrection was complete. They were hale and healthy before his eyes. This is the vision of The Valley of Dry Bones.

GOD EXPLAINS THE VISION to Ezekiel— this valley of dead, dry bones is where my people are right now— and I am sending you to tell them "I will put my Spirit in you and you will come to life, and I will place you on your own place, your own possession— the place I want you to be!"

This is a story about HOPE, and about GOD, and about the power of God's WORD: THE RAISING OF LAZARUS FROM THE DEAD

John 11 repeats the message. There is HOPE when God speaks! Only this is no vision. Jesus demonstrated his authority over life and death. That miracle carried His disciples into what lay ahead. The raising of Lazarus is about HOPE and about GOD and about the power of God's WORD: it is our reminder in these days before Good Friday and Easter that Jesus is Lord, and that He is in charge even on His way to the Cross.

DRY BONES AND GOD'S WORD TODAY

So how do these two stories apply to us on March 24, 1996? What do they tell us to help us where we are on our spiritual journey right now? I SEE TWO POWERFUL POSSIBILITIES:

1. Sometimes we may have to identify with the BONES! Or maybe with Martha or Mary. Or even good old Thomas, who said "I'll go along with Jesus but I can't see anything good..."

Like the people of God in Ezekiel's time there may be times we think our situation is hopeless, or that God has forgotten. Yes, MAYBE there are times when WE ARE THE DRY BONES. We identify with the sisters, or even Lazarus.. waiting for the word of God to penetrate— listening— responding. And I believe the word of God still moves in darkness and chaos and dryness and death.

2. But sometimes GOD may call on us to identify with Ezekiel himself! There are times when God lets us get into the valley of dry bones because He needs a prophet who can speak His word.

ILLUSTRATION:

It must have been 15 years or more, during prayer meeting, a recent E.N.C. grad who was doing Social Work in the toughest sections of inner city Boston stood to testify. Her name was Cindy Knox, and I had a lot of confidence in her character and her walk with God. She gave a testimony that night that in my mind has become a classic.

She was in a particularly unpleasant, unhealthy situation, where children were neglected or abused. She said she actually said half aloud, "Oh God! Where are YOU!" And she almost had anger in her voice in the prayer,

But then Cindy said immediately she had the answer, almost as if God had spoken audibly. He said, "I'm in YOU, Cindy!"

"I AM IN YOU, CINDY!" God challenged Cindy to bring His Presence where she went, and through that challenge, which I never forgot, God challenged those of us who heard her testimony as well.

ILLUSTRATION

Three weeks ago Helen and I were in Florida for a week's rest. During that week I saw posters all over the place— in Sarasota, Bradenton, the Sun Coast— about an interdenominational evangelistic campaign with an evangelist, Steve Wingfield. As I was dressing on Sunday morning we turned on the TV and in the broadcast service of Sarasota First Baptist worship, there was this Steve Wingfield preaching from the book of Joshua. Then we ate breakfast and went to Bradenton First Nazarene , and guess who was the speaker that morning? Steve Wingfield.

I thought Steve Wingfield preached a good sermon that day. But what I remember was his personal testimony. I spoke later with Bradenton pastor Thurl Mann about Evangelist Wingfield. He was just as impressed as I was. It reminded me of this challenge God gave to Cindy Knox. God called Steve Wingfield to a valley of dry bones, too:

Steve Wingfield told about his own conversion, which interested me, because he was the son of a minister (Methodist.) He rebelled quite a while, and was saved in his early 20's.

He told of how when he was saved he worked for an ambulance service in Virginia; and told how he hoped God would help him get a different job before he went away to seminary because he had been one of the gang that was pretty rough in words and actions...

God challenged him to go back and witness to every one of the 18 employees. It must have been like Ezekiel felt, being told to preach to a valley of dry bones.

The toughest one for Steve was his partner. They were good friends, but he got an awful hard time from him. Then one night shift when they were on call his partner shook him awake and said, "I have been troubled. i want what you have been talking about." The Spirit of the Lord was blowing over the dry bones. (ALL 18 GAVE THEIR HEARTS TO THE LORD BEFORE A YEAR WAS OVER...)

I wish I knew all the details of Steve Wingfield's story. Maybe sometime you can get to meet him yourself.

There is great POWER in the word of the Lord.

God's WORD called this world into being. God's WORD brought Lazarus from his tomb.

God's WORD is in your heart— and in your mouth it can bring HOPE where you are!

IF IN OUR WORLD WE WONDER, LIKE CINDY KNOX, "WHERE IS GOD?" IT MAY BE WE WILL HEAR HIM SAY TO US "I'M IN YOU! SPEAK MY WORD TO THESE DRY BONES!"

Prayer: 543 Let Your Heart Be Broken or No 572 He Hideth My Soul

With Jesus into Holy Week

With Jesus Series 6 of 7

- With Jesus on the Mountain
- With Jesus in the Wilderness
- With Jesus at the Well of Sychar
- With Jesus into the Light
- With Jesus at the Cemetery
- With Jesus into Holy Week
- With Jesus into Resurrection Life

March 31, 1996

Matthew 21:1-11

We have followed Jesus during this Lenten Season as he sat by a well and talked with a Samaritan woman about living water and about worship. We have listened in the night hours on the housetop as he told Nicodemus, "You must be born again."

We have watched him search out the man born blind who had been excommunicated by the religious authorities after he had been healed and would not say Jesus was evil. We heard him tell him his Messiah knew and cared, and that it would be all right. We began the Lenten journey in the desert of temptation, and in the last week have gone with Jesus to the tomb of his friend Lazarus, and we have seen the power of the Word of God to rebuke the tempter, and when spoken from Christ's lips, to bring a dead man back from the grave.

There remains just one more week to complete the journey, and celebrate the Resurrection, that day in which all human hope centers. But what a tremendous week this will be! What a journey, through the Last Supper, and the Garden, and Calvary and the Grave!

With the Passion staring Him in the face, we might ask, why should there be a parade? Why the waving of palms and shouting of hosannas? Didn't Jesus know what was going to happen?

The answer is of course Jesus knew. On this last journey to Jerusalem (Matthew 20:18) Jesus told the disciples "We are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man will be betrayed to the chief priests and to the scribes; and they will condemn him to death, and deliver him to the Gentiles to mock and to scourge and to crucify. And the third day he will rise again."

SO, WHY THE PARADE AT ALL? Matthew records the crowds in Jerusalem that day as being "moved." They asked the question, "WHO IS THIS?" And the people in the parade answered back: "THIS IS JESUS, THE PROPHET FROM NAZARETH OF GALILEE." Which (statement) was true as far as it went.

WHY THE PARADE? We remember a chorus we learned as children: "Everybody ought to know who Jesus is!" And the people themselves really didn't know if Jesus was a prophet, or a deluded pretender— or an unwitting victim of what was going to come that week of Passover. But Jesus knew! And this parade was a statement of His authority.

The Triumphal Entry was a Necessary Part of the Plan

The parade was a deliberate statement that Jesus was not a martyr, taken by surprise and afterward made into a hero by his followers. Rather, Jesus was telling them then, so they could understand later— and telling us now, so we can see with the 20/20 vision of hindsight, that the Cross was a battle, not an execution, and that sin and death and hell were being squarely faced, not merely accepted as inevitable.

The triumphant Entry tells us:

I AM THE KING OF PEACE

Jesus was making no mistake. He was declaring that he was the fulfillment of prophecy. Jesus arranged himself for the donkey and the colt. It was a festive time, with people on hand for the high holy days. They were ready for celebration. But Jesus was also fulfilling scripture. (Zechariah 14:4) He knew where the week would take him, and yet he encouraged the cries of "Hosanna!" When the authorities told him he was on an ego trip Jesus replied with the self-knowledge of the Son of God "If these do not praise me on my way to the Cross, the very rocks and stones in the streets will cry out. Their Creator is passing!"

The Triumphant Entry begins the Pascal Procession:

I AM THE LAMB OF GOD

The words of the Psalm that closes the "hallel" portion of the Psalter, the hymn that Jesus no doubt sang the night he transformed the Passover into the Eucharist, Holy Communion, come to mind— the words we heard that opened the service and began the procession into the sanctuary today:

"This is the day!

"The stone the builders rejected— is to become the chief stone of the corner"

"Bind the festal sacrifice with cords to the horns of the altar!"

The procession to the high altar had begun! The sacrifice was willingly on its way!

The Triumphal Entry says Love Can and Will Triumph

I AM HE THAT HAVE THE KEYS OF DEATH AND OF HELL

Luke is the evangelist that records that this joyous parade was interrupted as Jesus paused on the hillside overlooking the temple mount and wept over the city of Jerusalem. There was sorrow there— but it was not for himself that Jesus wept.

Closing words:

There remains just one more week to complete the journey, and celebrate the Resurrection, that day in which all human hope centers. What a tremendous week this will be! What a journey, through the Last Supper, and the Garden, and Calvary and the Grave! With the Battle for Our Souls just ahead, the story this morning is not a complete one. It will be next Sunday. Until then I challenge you to watch and wait with me— in worship and praise for what our Lord has done!

With Jesus into Holy Week

Closing prayer - Dexter sings "Too High a Price"

IF NOT - (232 Lead Me to Calvary)

Maundy Thursday Communion

April 4, 1996

I woke up this morning with the music of that song in my head:

*"Precious Lamb of glory—
Love's most wondrous story,
Heart of God's redemption of man—
Worship the Lamb of glory."*

At the Passover meal which Jesus ate with his disciples the evening of Good Friday, as the Jews counted their days, they sang from the Psalms of their love for God who had delivered them from Egyptian bondage.

They sang "I love the Lord, for He has heard my voice!" They sang, "What shall I give to the Lord for all His mercies to me?" And they sang the answer, all from Psalm 116, "I will lift up the cup of salvation! I will offer the sacrifice of thanksgiving!"

At the Passover meal which Jesus transformed into what we call Communion, Jesus told the disciples, "I am giving you a new commandment, that you love one another. Just as I have loved you, you also must love one another." The room was full of love that evening. I think of another song we sing once in a while, a song that has a marching cadence that may rush us past some of the wonder that is expressed:

*"I stand amazed in the presence of Jesus, the Nazarene,
And wonder how He could love me . . .
He took my sins and my sorrows and made them his own,
He bore the burden to Calvary . . ."*

And that night He took off his outer garment— in our language, he took off his jacket— poured water into a basin, and washed the disciples' feet. The Prince of Peace, the Creator, the Savior of the world, washed OUR feet.

Jesus cared! That night the room was full of love, and of forgiveness even for the cowardice and abandonment that lay just ahead. And it was then that Jesus said, "As I have loved you, so you love one another!"

That Great Commandment of Jesus is the hope of the church. If we determine that with God's help we will care for one another we will not only survive, but we will be the most attractive thing in the world. The Great Commandment of Jesus actually is the hope of the world. For if the church were to succeed in fulfilling the Great Commission to go into all the world and make disciples, and the entire world was compelled to become Christian— but we forgot to love one another, we would not be the church, but some other human organization. The only reason people would want to be a part of the church is if in fact we try to obey the Great Commandment Jesus gave that Thursday evening, that first Good Friday Eve before he was betrayed.

In our little corner of the Church of Jesus Christ we have the opportunity to either take seriously and obey the Great Commandment, or, to let it go by as just another impractical and impossible Quixotic goal. In the small community where we live we hurt and bruise each other. If we wait for the one who is to blame to initiate the love we may wait a long time because probably no one intends to wound his brother, or her sister— it just happens along the way.

So what shall we do with the Commandment?

As we come to the Table of the Lord, by faith— by the grace of Jesus Himself— we are at an extension of that Passover of nearly 2,000 years ago. The very same Savior, by the Presence of His Holy Spirit, is with us this evening. The very same Commandment is our challenge this evening. It is a challenge for me, I will confess! There is something in me that clings to hurt and pain and says, "This isn't fair!" It is not easy to let go and say, "God helping me I will simply love my brothers and sisters without assigning blame to anyone! God helping me, I will accept the free grace of Jesus for my own shortcomings, and ask Him to help me pray the Lord's Prayer all the way through and mean it!

Invitation to Communion

April 4, 1996 - Continuation from meditation:

Scripture (I Corinthians 11:23 - 30)

For I received from the Lord what I also handed on to you, that the Lord Jesus on the night when he was betrayed took a loaf of bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it and said, "This is my body that is broken for you. Do this in remembrance of me." In the same way he took the cup also, after supper, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me." For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until he comes.

Whoever, therefore, eat the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord in an unworthy manner will be answerable for the body and blood of the Lord. Examine yourselves, and only then eat of the bread and drink of the cup. For all who eat and drink without discerning the body, eat and drink judgment against themselves. For this reason many of you are weak and ill, and some have died. [NRSV]

Apostles' Creed (#8)

Invitation to the Table of the Lord:

Jesus Himself is the Host.

Examine your heart. If He bids you come, you are welcome.

Prayer of Confession/Forgiveness

The "holiest" among us needs every moment the grace of God; we are not holy in and of ourselves. We come short of the perfect will of God in performance, and all too often, we lag in spirit, are insensitive in our relationships, and act more to our own self interest than for the kingdom of God and the salvation of others.

For this we ask your forgiveness— purchase of your blood on Calvary.

We claim your promise: (I John 1:7,9) If we confess our sin, God is faithful and just to forgive us our sin, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

Prayer of Dedication

Maundy Thursday Communion

We ask that we may have your ASSURANCE that we have been CHOSEN of you to be your sons and daughters.

We ask that you will give us our ASSIGNMENT, not just our "big" assignment for life's career, but our day-by-day assignment of introducing You to those we know.

We ask that You will help us ACCEPT Your revealed will, and put you at the center of our lives, in all we do.

We ask that as we partake of these emblems of bread and the cup they may be for us true means of grace, by faith may we partake of your body and blood to our soul's life and health.

Lord's Prayer - (Instructions. Come, receive, and hold the bread and the cup and we will partake together.)

At the moment of partaking: The BODY of the Lord Jesus Christ: (may it) Preserve you blameless to life everlasting.

Again, with the cup: The BLOOD of the Lord Jesus Christ: Preserve you blameless to life everlasting.

#220 Lamb of Glory - Into Tennebrae -

With Jesus into Resurrection Life

With Jesus Series 7 of 7

- With Jesus on the Mountain
- With Jesus in the Wilderness
- With Jesus at the Well of Sychar
- With Jesus into the Light
- With Jesus at the Cemetery
- With Jesus into Holy Week
- With Jesus into Resurrection Life

April 7, 1996

What Easter REALLY Means

Revelation 1:17 Do not be afraid. I am the First and the Last. I am the Living One; I was dead, and behold I am alive forever and ever! And I hold the keys of death and of Hades.

MY EARLIEST RECOLLECTIONS of Easter are in the Great Depression, when, although I don't recall being "poor," I do recall how often we were literally "penniless." And yet somehow Easter was special— Easter we boiled eggs and colored them— Easter my mother somehow always took us to church looking fresh and scrubbed and greased and creased— and usually wearing something brand new— even in the Depression.

I got the idea that Easter was important— and of course that the Resurrection was the central thing about Easter.

EASTER REALLY MEANS RESURRECTION

ALL MY YEARS as a Christian pastor I have seen Easter as important, and have seen the Resurrection as the center of what Easter stands for. But I think there has been a subtle change as I have been growing older. I no longer see the Resurrection as the most important part of Easter. I see the Resurrection of Jesus Christ as the heart and soul of all our faith, and Easter is an important part of the Resurrection, and not the other way around. As Paul wrote some twenty years or so after the Crucifixion, in 1 Corinthians 15: 14 "If Christ has not been raised, our preaching is useless and so is your faith." It is as simple as that.

HOW MANY TIMES have we heard this Resurrection Day story? How can we hear it again as for the first time? J. B. Phillips was a translator of the scriptures. I remember when his translation seemed very modern indeed, and his words still carry a freshness. I came again recently across his words about translating the resurrection passages in Corinthians. He wrote:

For me, the translator, this fifteenth chapter seemed alive and vibrant, not with pious hope, but with inspired certainty. Quite suddenly I realized that NO MAN HAD EVER WRITTEN SUCH WORDS BEFORE. As I pressed on with the task of translation I came to feel utterly convinced of the truth of the Resurrection. Something of literally life-and-death importance had happened in mortal history, and I was reading the actual words of the people who had seen Christ after his resurrection and had seen men and women deeply changed by his living power. Previously, although I had known something of the "comfort of the scriptures" and had never thought them to be false, I must have been insulated from their reality simply because they were known as "Scripture." Now I was compelled to come to the closest possible terms with this writing, and I was enormously impressed, and still am. On the one hand these letters (of Paul) were written over quite a period of years, but there is not the slightest discernible diminution of faith. And on the other hand, it was borne in upon me with irresistible force that these letters could never have been written at all if there had been no Jesus Christ, no Crucifixion, and no Resurrection.

Easter IS Resurrection— and specifically, the Resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ from the grave. So actually Easter means specifically JESUS IS ALIVE—

EASTER REALLY MEANS A LIVING SAVIOR

JESUS LIVES AS OUR PROPHET OF THE ETERNAL WORD

When Jesus appeared to the eleven that same evening of the day he rose from the dead he said these words (Luke 24:44) "This is what I told you while I was still with you: Everything must be fulfilled that is written about me in the Law of Moses, the Prophets and the Psalms." In other words the Risen Savior was making the flat statement that the Old Testament Scriptures existed to help us know who Jesus is, in order that we might come to understand what God wants us to know of Himself. When Jesus appeared to the two on the Road to Emmaus (in that same chapter in the Gospel) he warms their hearts, and enlightens their understanding by beginning with Moses and the Prophets and speaking to them from the scriptures the things concerning Himself.

JESUS LIVES AS OUR HIGH PRIEST IN GOD'S PRESENCE

When Jesus appeared to Mary Magdalene (in the passage in John read this morning) he made it clear where he was heading. "Do not hold on to me," he said (John 20:17), "for I have not yet returned to the Father. Go instead to my brothers and tell them, 'I am returning to my Father and your Father, to my God and your God.' " The Prophet awakens us to the truth of God, and to our need to be holy so we can walk with God in fellowship, as God intended in Creation. But the Priest makes a way for us to come to God. He bears the sacrifice of his own life into the Holy of Holies for our sins and infirmities, so that he can assure us we may call His Father OUR Father, and His God OUR God!

JESUS LIVES AS OUR OMNIPOTENT KING FOREVER

Jesus rose from the Tomb as the Sovereign of an entirely NEW WAY OF LIFE. He never "LOST" His life— Our KING LAID IT DOWN as a sacrifice to take it again forever as the Conqueror of death and evil.

Because the Risen Savior could say, (Matthew 28:18) "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age."— because He could say THAT— we are citizens of a NEW KIND OF KINGDOM— A NEW WAY OF LIVING.

Other kings have kingdoms that pass away. Jesus says His kingdom will not pass away. Eternal life is not just this life patched up and going on forever and ever. It is beyond the bounds we know as time and space— more real than we can now understand. In a beautiful passage in The Everlasting Man, in a chapter called "The Strangest Story Ever Told" G. K. Chesterton wrote these powerful words:

On the third day the friends of Christ coming at daybreak to the place found the grave empty and the stone rolled away. In varying ways they realized the new wonder; but even they hardly realized the world had died in the night. What they were looking at was the first day of a new creation, with a new heaven and a new earth; and in the semblance of the gardener God walked again in the garden, in the cool not of the evening but the dawn.

Easter is Resurrection, and Easter is a Living Savior. But Easter is of absolutely no lasting worth to you and me until Easter becomes very personal. And I am happy to tell you on the authority of God's Word this Easter Sunday that

EASTER REALLY MEANS THE GIFT OF LIFE BY GOD'S GRACE

ROMANS 10:9,10 tells how simple, really, it is to become a part of Christ's kingdom. "Confess with the mouth— believe with the heart that God has raised Him from the dead..." IF YOU TRULY BELIEVE JESUS IS ALIVE, YOU ARE BLESSED. Do you believe? 2 CORINTHIANS 5:16,17 indicates that even we, who have not seen the glorified, risen Lord can know Him. If you truly want to believe ask Jesus to walk with you in your seeking. He is nearer just now than you may imagine.

INVITATION TO CONFESS JESUS AS LORD!

Prayer "He is Lord, He is Lord...He is Risen from the Dead and He is Lord.."

The Path of Life

Faith in the Presence of Fear

April 14, 1996

John 20:19-31; Psalm 16

Psalm 16 begins, "Protect me, O Lord God, for I am trusting in you!" The Psalmist, David, is using what seems to me the language of fear. He probably had good reason to fear, for his life was often in danger.

Do you ever feel fear? Is it a sin to feel negative emotions? Is it evil to have questions or even doubts when it seems everyone else is so certain about so many things? In the very last chapter of the last book in the Bible (Revelation 21) is a list that sometimes bothers me. It is a list of people who are not going to enter the New Jerusalem. In fact John, the writer of Revelation, says they will have part in "the second death."

Now part of that list I can understand would not fit in heaven: "the abominable, murderers, whoremongers, sorcerers, and all liars" is how the list ends. But the part that bothers me is how the list begins. The list of those who miss heaven begins: "But the fearful and the unbelieving . . . will have their place in the lake of fire." What does this mean? Sometimes I feel like the Cowardly Lion, and I admit there are a lot of questions I cannot honestly answer.

Can the feeling of FEAR keep me out of heaven? [Before I go any farther, let me say I believe the answer is NO FEELING will keep you or me out of heaven. Feelings are emotions— feelings are results, not causes— and God is not seeking reasons to exclude, but to INCLUDE. He is not willing that ANY should perish. In the Gospel Thomas is afraid to believe and Jesus comes to him— in the Psalm David is afraid, and he cries out "O God help me!"] No the feeling will not exclude you.

Still, there IS a fear that can keep us from taking hold of the gift of LIFE. And there is an unbelief that is not of the mind but of the heart that says, "I will not submit to God even when He speaks clearly to me." This passage from John helps us understand how we can dare trust the Risen Savior.

I. THE DISCIPLES WERE AFRAID TO BELIEVE HOW MUCH GOD LOVED THEM

They thought: "It is too good to be true!" Jesus came and dispelled their fears somewhat— it took a while. But Thomas wasn't there. He said, "I have to SEE for myself." He was afraid to let himself get built up just to be let down again.

Looking again to Psalm 16, David prays for God's mercy, but even as he prays he recognizes how audacious it is to talk to God. He says, "MY GOODNESS EXTENDETH NOT TO THEE." In another place (Psalm 8) David says, "WHEN I CONSIDER THE HEAVENS, WHAT IS MAN THAT YOU ARE MINDFUL OF HIM?"

Many of the theologians of our day (whether post-modern, or process, or deconstructionist, or whatever— I'm probably ten years behind in labels) seem to be saying, "You common people have no idea of how big God really is— and so you can never speak about Him with any kind of certainty!" And some of them carry it so far they are saying 'GOD'S LOVE, IF IT IS THERE, IS TOO BIG, TOO MYSTERIOUS FOR US TO KNOW AND BE SURE ABOUT.' It is almost a blocking FEAR before the mystery of God's love.

BUT THE GOD OF THE BIBLE— WHO TRULY IS BIGGER THAN WE CAN IMAGINE— HAS SPOKEN TO US IN THE LIFE AND DEATH AND RESURRECTION OF HIS SON JESUS CHRIST!

That message is understandable even though we can never understand WHY God should love us! That message IS: GOD LOVES YOU!

Jesus said: "Thomas, I'll help you believe! Blessed are those who have NOT seen, and still believe! FAITH WITHIN US SAYS: Jesus really DOES know and care about ME!

But even after the disciples began to grasp the fact that Jesus was alive, and that He was with them again, there was a hesitation to dare to believe what Jesus was asking them to do (commanding them, actually).

II. THE DISCIPLES COULD NOT BELIEVE WHAT GOD EXPECTED OF THEM

Jesus began outlining his assignment for the church that very night. First, he BREATHED ON THEM, and said: RECEIVE THE HOLY SPIRIT!

I'm sure they did not grasp it fully then— nor even fifty days later at Pentecost— but the disciples— and you and I— are to be the place where God lives on this earth.

We are God's housing!

Do YOU think of yourself as a tabernacle of God? Is God welcome in YOUR body? In your relationships? is that a new thought to you? Is it a bit frightening?

As if that was not enough, Jesus also began assigning them a role in telling the world that their sins had been forgiven on Calvary. This is mysterious, and not easy to understand: "Those whose sins you forgive they will be forgiven..those whose sins you don't forgive they will remain..?" We can stop and get hung up on the translation of words here— OR we can understand that WE have a part in sharing the Good News of Salvation.

FEAR said, that night, "Lord Jesus we have all been afraid! We have all forsaken you and run away! How can WE ever accept such an assignment?"

But FAITH SAID: "YOU CAN SHOW ME HOW TO BE FILLED WITH THE SPIRIT! YOU CAN HELP ME SHARE THE MESSAGE OF SINS FORGIVEN!" And that is exactly what happened.

That is all well and good for the disciples..then..and for the worship times in church. But what about the everyday fears that come— AND WHAT ABOUT THE REALLY DARK PLACES IN LIFE THAT COME TO US ALL? Can fear defeat us when we face the worst life can offer?

III. WE ALL FACE FEAR'S CHALLENGE IN OUR DARK HOURS OF THE SOUL

Faith's victory over fear is NOT just doctrine or theory. We cannot help at times FEELING overwhelmed— even pushed toward despair.

In the Garden of Gethsemene Jesus Himself prayed like one who hated, even dreaded what lay out ahead. He prayed, "O MY FATHER, IF IT BE POSSIBLE, LET THIS CUP PASS FROM ME!"

In the Psalm (16) David wrote the script for the Messiah's hope even though it was 800 years or so before the time— he wrote for Jesus— and for all who follow Jesus— "THOU WILT NOT LEAVE MY SOUL IN HELL, NOR SUFFER YOUR OWN TO SEE CORRUPTION" Our souls somehow become the battlefield of fear versus faith. For insight into that aspect of the emotions of fear and temptation to unbelief there is no better book than The Book of Job. Job loved God— and refused to believe God was anything but GOOD! He certainly did not understand what was going on. But Job said, "GOD KNOWS! I WILL TRUST HIM!" Faith went beyond what it could see, and even what it could NOT see— and reached for the hand of God.

In some of Britain's darkest hours in WW II, the people listened by their radios on New Year's Eve as their king, King George VI, gave his annual greeting to his people over BBC. It was truly a fearsome time. The very existence of their nation was at risk. And the king that night quoted words that have since become famous. he said: "I said to the man who stands at the Gate of the Year, 'Give me light that I may tread safely into the unknown.' And he replied, 'Step into the darkness, put your hand into the hand of God, and that will be to you better than a light and safer than a known way.'"

David said, "In your Presence is joy! If I can just BE WITH YOU I will be all right!" We do not have to wait until we die and go to heaven to know God's Presence. he is near, He is with us today. If we will let Him he will live within us, and walk with us. We may not know all about Him, but we may know Him. He loves us, and his perfect love cast out fear.

Prayer - Hymn (Chorus) #626 Gentle Shepherd Come and Lead Us

Moments of Recognition

April 21, 1996

Luke 24:13-35

The Walk to Emmaus is one of my very favorite stories in all the world. It brings the story of the earthly life of Jesus to a close in a way that is really a launching pad for a sequel that is still unfolding. Whatever it was that happened on that road the first Easter evening is still taking place.

There are a number of other stories of encounters with God in the Bible. Moses turned aside from his flock of sheep to see why a bush would burn and not be consumed. Jacob laid his head on a stone while he was running away from his troubles, and saw a stairway to heaven, and then, years later, he wrestled all night with a manifestation of God in the flesh. Isaiah saw the Lord high and lifted up in the Temple. But still I love the story of the Road to Emmaus perhaps best of all.

The Emmaus Road story contrasts with another famous encounter with the risen Savior. Saul of Tarsus first met Jesus on another road, going in another direction. On the Road to Damascus Jesus got Saul's attention by knocking him to the ground. In this story Jesus walked along with the disciples, warming their hearts with scripture, and would have walked on if they had not asked him to come in.

Perhaps those two encounters are examples of the ways some of us here today came to meet the risen Lord. Saul was not at all acquainted with Jesus before he met him on the Damascus Road. Paul was very much NOT a part of the followers of Jesus. But Jesus found Saul, and stunned him with conviction. His conversion story has all the subtlety of a whack on the head with a stick! Saul was blinded for three days, and his life turned around 180 degrees.

No one here has had a conversion exactly like Saul/Paul. But all the same, that confrontation, that shock, is the way some people need to find God if they ever find him at all. My own father never heard of being born again until he was 21 years old. His conversion was night and day, black and white, dramatic change, a break with everything old in his life. Maybe you were not brought up in the fellowship of Jesus, or with the followers of Christ. But God spoke to you, the Holy Spirit showed you where you were wrong— and you repented and surrendered and Jesus became your Lord and Savior. There was a dramatic meeting with Christ you couldn't miss.

But the two disciples on the Road to Emmaus had an altogether different problem. If Jesus was the last person Saul would have wanted to meet— these two disciples were mourning because they loved Jesus so much, but believed they could never know him again. These were people who had spent time with Jesus, and with the friends of Jesus. Maybe they had heard the Sermon on the Mount— maybe they even knew the Lord's Prayer by heart, and had been taught to pray by Jesus Himself. When they met Jesus on their road, there was no light from heaven— at least not the kind that knocked them to the ground. There was no persuasion from being against Christ to calling Him 'Lord.'

===

THE STORY ITSELF is deceptively simple:

The disciples were SAD

They were DISCOURAGED- Their faith was in the past tense (If only it could be like it used to be)

Jesus described them as sinful, or at least "slow of heart to believe" UNBELIEVING: even sinful in their inability to believe

The Savior was A COMPANION even as they walked the road

The walk to the hamburger stand??? [story]

A FEW times since— YOU have had them, too ??

AN INTERPRETER OF SCRIPTURE

Jesus demonstrated how we should read the Bible— Jesus is the reason for the Scriptures!

REVEALED IN THE BREAKING OF BREAD

Their faith brought THAWING HEART (like John Wesley's testimony!) as they walked (Can it be that when WE talk about Jesus to others their hearts are "thawed"??) CERTAINTY! Their faith immediately came back into the PRESENT TENSE!!

And the fact that Jesus immediately disappeared was not the least discomfiting; the fact that he was very much alive, very real, totally satisfied their hearts. They would have to walk by faith for years— they may never have such vivid assurance again— but they knew what they had experienced.

Irresistible urge to share the good news!

AN IRRESISTIBLE URGE TO SHARE THE GOOD NEWS!

They got up from the table and started back the seven miles to Jerusalem to tell the other friends of Jesus!!

=====

The Emmaus Road is the way some of us found the Lord. But the reason I love the story is that the Emmaus Road happens again and again.

This is not just a story about conversion— it is a story of the re-kindling of faith, of assurance. Even Saul had one Damascus Road experience, but then he went on to have many more encounters much more like the Emmaus Road. The day his ship was wrecked, and strong men were failing with fear it was Paul who said, "Don't be afraid! God stood by me last night and said we are all going to be all right!"

Where ever you may be on your spiritual journey, Jesus is not very far away! He wants to make sense of the Bible for you. He wants to get to know you in the breaking of bread. he wants to bring your faith into the present tense.

Where do you suppose Jesus is right now?

Prayer

Hymn #606 (one or two vs) In the Garden

The Marvelous Light of Gods Grace

Communion Meditation

May 5, 1996

1 Peter 2:9; John 14:1-14; Acts 7:55-60

1. Who Peter tells us that we are, and
2. What such names or titles imply:
 - We belong to a New Creation that begins with the Second Adam (chosen race)
 - We have the assignment of saying "God is GOOD!" (a royal priesthood)
 - We have great dignity/authority in this work (holy nation, God's own people - ambassadors of Christ)

3. Like Thomas and Judas, not Iscariot, (in John 14) we do not always know what we know!
This is profound stuff!

"Where I go ye know, and the way ye know!"

(Significance to me of "ye" as opposed to "you.")

"No we don't!"

"Yes you do!"

"Show us God!"

(God is TOO big to be seen— no one has seen him)

"Look at ME!"

4. LOOK AT JESUS - WHAT WE SEEK TO DO IN WORSHIP

Particularly in the sacraments -

But also particularly in letting the New Creation/Risen Lord live in us!

"offer spiritual sacrifices"= saying "No" to the way this world thinks/does,
and saying "YES" to the Holy Spirit within...

5. TWO WAYS TO THINK OF GOD'S GRACE

- as over and above— to be reached for on special occasions in need— to keep us alive in a hostile environment
- as permeating all of creation and life: to be aware of Christ's Presence and to celebrate. Worship as reminder in liturgy and fellowship that grace "goes before"

6. Stephen's LIFE (confronting) and DEATH were demonstration of his RACE, and his PRIESTHOOD (sacrifice/intercession) and AUTHORITY (God's own people) — in that with great power God used Stephen's life to reach Paul and reach even us today. Consider using all or part of the following quote (courtesy of an Australian pastor studying this same lectionary this week:)

TS Eliot, preface to Part II, 'Interlude', "Murder in the Cathedral".

Apologies for the sexist language.

"Consider also one thing of which you have probably never thought. Not only do we at the feast of Christmas celebrate at once Our Lord's Birth and His Death but on the next day we celebrate the martyrdom of His first martyr, the blessed Stephen. Is it an accident, do you think, that the day of the first martyr follows immediately the day of the Birth of Christ? By no means. Just as we rejoice and mourn at once, in the Birth and in the Passion of Our Lord, so also, in a smaller figure, we both rejoice and mourn in the death of martyrs. We mourn, for the sins of the world that has martyred them; we rejoice, that another soul is numbered among the Saints in Heaven, for the glory of God and for the salvation of men.

Beloved, we do not think of a martyr simply as a good Christian who has been killed because he is a Christian; for that would be solely to mourn. We do not think of him simply as a good Christian who has been elevated to the company of the Saints: for that would be simply to rejoice: and neither our mourning nor our rejoicing is as the world's is. A Christian martyrdom is never an accident, for Saints are not made by accident. Still less is a Christian martyrdom the effect of a man's will to become a Saint, as a man willing and contriving may become a ruler of men. A martyrdom is always the design of God, for His love of men, to warn them and to lead them, to bring them back to His ways.

It is never the design of man; for the true martyr is he who has become the instrument of God, who has lost his will in the will of God, and who no longer desires anything for himself, not even the glory of being a martyr. So this as on earth the Church mourns and rejoices at once, in a fashion that the world cannot understand, so in Heaven the Saints are most high, having made themselves most low, and are seen, not as we see them, but in the light of the Godhead from which they draw their being."

A Reason for Our Hope

May 12, 1996

1 Peter 3: 13-22

John 14:15-22

1 Peter 3:15

The word I have been getting this Easter season has been fresh and new to me. It is two-part; (1) first, you and I are privileged to share in Christ's resurrection life. (2) Second, we are called to be people of hope, to tell this world that God is good, and that He loves them.

(I recall last week's text, 1 Peter 2:9. "But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, God's own people— that you may proclaim the mighty acts of him who called you out of darkness into his marvelous light.")

Today, here it is again— Peter says "Be always ready to give a reason for the hope that is in you."

I. TELLING PEOPLE GOD IS GOOD

There is no question that God's people are supposed to tell the world that God is good. The code-word in the church is "witnessing." All my life I've been told I need to "witness." And usually I feel vaguely guilty about it because I know I don't do it very well. Right here I want to tell you I am not going to put guilt on you if you are not high pressuring people about spiritual things. But how do we tell others that God is good? Peter gives some clear directives for telling people about our hope. He says

1. Sanctify the Lord God in your heart. Make certain that Jesus is Lord.
2. Be ready where people are. Be prepared. If someone asked you who Jesus is to you, are you prepared to tell him or her?
3. Do it with extreme gentleness and courtesy, respect for the person to whom you are speaking. We will not win people to Jesus without the spirit of Jesus.

Our spirit must be congruent with the love of God. (Yes, Jesus got angry at times—but those people he drove OUT of the temple, not IN!)

Illustration: Verne Ward, missionary to Papua New Guinea, who was here with his wife Natalie a few years ago for "Say Yes!" worked for several years in some of the most primitive culture on earth. Every bush, rock, tree has "spirits" and the people were ruled by what we would call "witch doctors."

One day Verne saw a witch doctor talking with one of his Christian people and it made him angry. He came up and bid the man be off in no uncertain tones. He was protecting his little flock. But then as he walked away along the trail it seemed that God spoke to him about the way he had spoken to the witch doctor.

Verne made his way back along the trail until he located the man. According to the custom of that culture, which Verne had learned, Verne sat down on the ground silently and waited for the man to recognize his presence. When finally the man spoke, Verne asked him, asked the witch doctor to forgive him for being rude. He made it clear that the God he served was not unkind, and that he loves everyone.

Then he went on his way.

The story of that witch doctor's conversion is too long to tell here. God spoke clearly to him, almost like he did to Saul of Tarsus on the Road to Damascus. But it began with simple gentleness and courtesy, and the humanness of an American missionary who was big enough to ask a New Guinea Witch doctor for pardon.

Our spirit must be in harmony with the words we speak. We cannot tell people about a God who loves them when we don't love them. We can't simply throw money at the world's problems. We can't simply buy the latest games and clothes for our children, and leave them for the television to educate and call that giving a reason for the hope that lies in us.

We cannot really LOVE by 'remote control.' We say our love with words— and that is important. But we really say our love with our spirit— with our time and with our presence.

Illustration: There is an old country tear-jerker ballad called Roses for Mama that tells the story of a going into the florist to order flowers sent to his mother for Mother's Day— he is going elsewhere. A little boy comes in with just a little money to buy for his mother. I think the first man helps the little boy buy a few more flowers, but anyway the next verse takes our flower order-er past the cemetery where he see the boy laying flowers on his mother's grave— Whereupon he turns around and goes back to the florist— asks if the flowers have been delivered yet— and then delivers them himself.

Our spirits must say the same things that our words say. We may not even be able to say the absolutely correct thing— but if we care, and if we are there— God will help us get the word of HOPE where it belongs.

Peter's word is not the final one on this matter. Jesus himself says, "If you love me you will love each other, as I have commanded you." He tells us that if we will love him and love each other we will never be alone.

II. TELLING PEOPLE GOD IS GOOD ACTUALLY BRINGS GOD NEAR

It may have been my fault, the way I heard it. But I thought that witnessing was trying to persuade hostile people to become something they didn't really want to become. All Jesus asks us to do is to love Him, and love people, and then let them know we care and God cares. This is saying, "GOD IS GOOD!"

Illustration: The great Russian Count Leo Tolstoy wrote a short story called "Where Love Is, There is God," that actually is a beautiful picture of what Jesus was telling us when he said "If you love me, you will keep my commandments." It told of a humble cobbler, a shoemaker, named Martin Avdeich, a widower who worked in a basement shop that had but one window at street level. From that lowly position Martin could only see the boots of people passing by in the street outside his shop. After the loss of his wife and the tragic death of his only son, he became despondent and hopeless. He wished to die.

"How shall we live for God?" he asked a visiting countryman who had just returned from a eight years of pilgrimage. The old holy man reminded him "Christ has shown us how to live for God. Do you know how to read? If so, buy yourself a Gospel and read it, and you will learn from it how to live for God. It tells all about it."

So after the man departed, Martin did what he had been instructed to do: he began to study scripture. His heart was lifted. His life began to change. He was happy simply in the seeking. But one night as he was reading late into the night he put his head down on the table and not knowing if he was asleep or awake he heard a voice which he believed to be that of Christ: "Tomorrow I will come to the street!" And so, expecting a miraculous appearance, he began the next day to look for a visit from Jesus.

As he waited, expecting a knock at his door, he attended to the needs of those passing by his window an old man who had come to shovel the snow from his sidewalk whom he invited in for hot tea; a poor woman with her infant child, whom he fed and offered his cloak; and, finally, a young boy caught in the act of theft, whom he spared from a beating reconciled with his intended victim.

Finally, the cobbler realized that the day had drawn to a close, and he searched his mind to interpret the voice he had heard and make sense of the absence of his promised visitor. In the growing darkness, he heard a voice calling to him: "Martin, oh Martin, have you not recognized me?" One by one, those whom he had helped during the day appeared to him in a dream. After the last of them departed, he opened his Bible and his eyes fell upon the text from Matthew twenty five: "Inasmuch as you have done it unto one of these, the least of mine, my brothers, you have done it unto me."

Tolstoy concludes: "And Martin Avdeich understood that his dream come true, that the Savior had really come to him on that day, and that he had received Him."

We think "To know Christ is to love Him." We think "If Jesus makes himself known to me then i will surely give him all my love." But the fact is we will see Jesus when we love Him; we will come to know Christ when we learn to serve one another in love. To love him is to know him.

III. TELLING PEOPLE 'GOD IS GOOD' IS REDEPTIVE

(Finally) When we incarnate love to others— when we express to them the fact that God cares and we do, too— we may do more than save a soul— we may redeem a life. Every one of us has had a teacher or a Sunday School teacher or a camp counsellor along the way that has made a lasting impression on us. Sometimes that impression may be negative. Sometimes that word of hope goes far beyond what that person dreams of.

Illustration:

Bertha Munro prayed for me. (Hector Hawkins was mean to me!)

Charlie and Gladys Caldwell sponsored junior high kids years and years ago. Many of them are old enough to have their own kids in junior high now and more. But they still remember the love they got at church from their junior high sponsors!

R. C. Sproul is one of the leading evangelical Presbyterian theologian-writers. I have heard him tell in person about what it was that first gave him courage to become a scholar. A second grade teacher pinned one of his papers on the bulletin board at school and said, "R. C, you can write!"

Sanctify the Lord God in your hearts— and then gently, and with great respect— this week be ready to tell people that God is good. If we get ready to tell them, we'll certainly have a chance to say it: "GOD IS GOOD!" And if we have a chance, and if we tell them— who knows !!!

Prayer -

Hymn - (Prayer Chorus, actually) Open Our Eyes #459

Waiting for Pentecost

God's Spirit where we live...

May 19, 1996

John 17:1-11; Acts 1:1-11

Have you ever come to church on a Sunday saying to yourself 'I really want God to speak to me today?' Have you ever keenly sensed a need for God? Do you have concerns right NOW that you would like God to step in and solve?

Believe me, I have been there. Recently. Maybe even today. And I have been disappointed sometimes. But often as I have listened, almost desperately at times, the sense of God's care has come through. I hope this is a Sunday when God meets you at your point of need.

Next Sunday is Pentecost Sunday. Today is the last week of Eastertide. What can that possibly have to do with your need this morning? How can words that Jesus said to a few women and some fishermen that lived and died nearly 2,000 years ago possibly connect with your life and mine in this high-tech computer age? We have problems their wildest dreams could not imagine.

Believe me— these words do reach into our world today. Trust me—Jesus DOES connect with where we are right now! God wants to speak to your home, to your heartache— to your decisions that need making. Listen to Jesus carefully. Listen with your heart and you will hear what you need.

I. JESUS PRAYED FOR YOU

The last words Jesus spoke to the disciples before he went to trial and the cross were beautiful and wonderful. But then Jesus quit talking to the disciples and started talking to God the Father.

He prayed for himself— and they listened as he spoke of a glory shared in the Godhead before the creation.

Then Jesus prayed for them. His prayer was wonderful. He prayed for their security—that God would KEEP them. He prayed for their JOY, that their lives would never be wasted. He prayed for their UNITY, not just with one another, which is vital, but actually a union with God Himself— that they might have Easter life, resurrection life, eternal life forever.

Then Jesus prayed for you and me. (Verse 20 "I pray not for them alone, but for everyone who WILL believe on me because of their witness.") Because Jesus is God his prayer that last night of earthly ministry was when Jesus prayed for you and me. That WE might be secure, saved, preserved to everlasting life. That WE might have JOY, and our lives count for something. That WE might never be alone, but be in union with God and Christ and the Church. (Is it beginning to "connect" yet?) - Jesus' prayer "connects" with you/me at the point of your/my need! He knows! He cares!

(But Jesus not only prayed for the disciples...)

II. JESUS GAVE DIRECTIONS

The very last words Jesus spoke, not now before the cross, but before finally ascending to the glory he prayed about in the prayer (John 17) were directions for receiving the benefits of the prayer he had prayed some 40 days before. He was very specific about what the disciples were supposed to do.

- (v 5) They were to expect the Holy Spirit as He had promised. They were not supposed to begin working for God on the strength simply of what they had been taught. They were God's people, and He was going to go with them wherever they went or they were not supposed to go.
- (v 7) They were not to worry about times and dates. The details of God's plan are best left in His hands. Our task is to obey as best we know how.
- (v 4) They were to receive the Spirit where they were. They were not to leave Jerusalem until they had been filled with the Holy Spirit.

There you have it: the two aspects leading to Pentecost:

1. A PROMISE : Jesus had prayed that it would take place. They were to expect nothing less than God's Presence with them to the end of the age. His prayer is powerful, and reaches even to where we are today.
2. A COMMAND : Jesus had commanded them to receive the Spirit where they lived, and to wait as long as it took for the Spirit to come before they went anywhere.

III. THE PROMISE AND THE COMMAND ARE STILL VALID TODAY

The church of Jesus Christ still has that High Priestly PRAYER, with its PROMISE , and we still have Christ's final COMMAND ringing in our ears to this very day!

- It is a promise of adequacy for our needs. "You will receive POWER when the Holy Spirit fills you!" THAT connects!

Wherever you are on your spiritual journey— the God of heaven loves you and has promised to meet you and help you toward eternal life. "Ho! Everyone that is thirsty in spirit! Ho! Everyone that is weary and sad! Child of the world, are you tired of your bondage! Child of the Kingdom— be filled with the Spirit!"

If we lack in power, or in a sense of God's Presence— if we need more of God the place to begin is right here with the Promise and the Command. If we want to "become" who we really are— a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, God's own people— we need to be filled with the Holy Spirit! That adequacy is for you and me! We've established that (John 17:20.)

- IT IS A COMMAND TO RECEIVE THE HOLY SPIRIT WHERE WE LIVE— before we can begin to tell anyone who Jesus is. We can't tell the world if we can't tell our own family— our children— our wives, our husbands know if we are Spirit-filled! We need God's Spirit in a new way in our homes and families. The disciples went back to Jerusalem from the mount of Olivet and did what Jesus told them. They waited for the Spirit to come. They did not know they would wait ten days or ten minutes. But they waited. And while they waited they prayed and talked and talked and prayed.

They settled some problems. They made up some disagreements. How do I know? because when the Promise finally came the Bible says they (already) WERE IN ONE ACCORD!

- We need God's PRESENCE WITH US more than anything else!

WE may have to wait expectantly. GOD MAY HAVE TO REVEAL SOME THINGS TO US: Would there have to be some FORGIVING done on your part? Maybe there would have to be some heart-searching done. If we want the Holy Spirit to come we will become sensitive to the things that make Him at home in us— and those things that are not in accord with the spirit of Jesus.

The Holy Spirit simply is NOT going to fill a Christian who is disobedient to the command of Jesus to expect Him, to wait for Him— to prepare for Him.

IV. A VISION OF A COMMUNITY WHERE GOD'S LOVE HAS COME

Next Sunday is Pentecost Sunday. The Spirit has come, and we will remember and celebrate again the fact that God is with us.

But what would happen if we prepared like the disciples— if we decided that we would EXPECT God to fill us full of His Spirit, and He did it again next Sunday?

What do you think might happen if we remembered Jesus' prayer and His promise and his commandment in each of our personal lives this week? What if we said "We won't go on without God's Spirit leading the way!"?? "We won't leave home without God!"??

What would happen in your home? What would happen in my own?

We have our set ideas of what a Pentecost visitation of the Holy Spirit is supposed to be like. We think there will be an exciting emotion, and people filling the church seeking God. And wouldn't that be great?

But maybe, just maybe Pentecost could begin when we tell God we want Him to step into our homes, and into our lives and do whatever HE wants to do. God wants to "connect" with every one of us, and he will if we will learn to listen.

Maybe our Pentecost would begin this day we told the Lord that those concerns we brought to church are HIS, and we will do whatever HE says. This is where it just might begin.

Prayer

#324 (STL) Come, Every One Who is Thirsty in Spirit

Movings of the Spirit

May 26, 1996

Numbers 11 - John 20

-Pentecost Sunday-

Fairly early on in the 40-year Exodus saga Moses faces a crisis. . . he needed help. God told Moses to bring his leaders to the Tent of Covenant. Seventy-two men were on the list of leaders. God miraculously poured out his Spirit on the seventy who actually came. They were "chrismed" — they began to prophecy.

But Eldad and Medad— I'm sure that means a lot to you— good old Eldad and Medad couldn't make it to the meeting. But God poured out his Spirit on them back in the camp, where they were. They were "chrismed", too—and good old Eldad and Medad began to prophecy just like the 70 out in front of the Tabernacle.

A young man came running to tell Moses. the established leadership was concerned. They loved and respected Moses.

But Moses— that great and meek man with great wisdom said, "ARE YOU WORRIED ABOUT ME? DON'T BOTHER! I WOULD THAT NOT JUST ELDAD AND MEDAD WERE PROPHETS— BUT THAT ALL GOD'S PEOPLE WOULD BE PROPHETS, AND THAT GOD WOULD PUT HIS SPIRIT ON ALL HIS PEOPLE!"

Now that is some concept— that all God's people might be prophets. It sounds like the prophecy of Joel, centuries later (2:28)"It shall come to pass in the latter days, says God, that i will pour out my Spirit on all flesh!" It sounds like what Peter had in mind when he wrote, "You, all God's people, are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, God's own people!" This is in fact what happened when God's Spirit fell on the church at Pentecost. And today is Pentecost Sunday!!

I. WHAT PENTECOST IS ABOUT: ALL GOD'S PEOPLE BEING FILLED!

HOW SHALL WE OBSERVE PENTECOST SUNDAY??

Pentecost means that Moses' dream is our possible reality! Pentecost means that God lives in all His people! in ALL His people! So— how do we observe Pentecost properly??

- PENTECOST IS HISTORY

...and we can sing "Happy Birthday" to the Church. About 1965 years ago today or thereabouts the Spirit of God fell on 120 believers in an Upper Room in Jerusalem, and together they became the living Body of Christ. And that Body, the church lives right down to this present moment. There have been failures and excesses and human errors by the million. But the fact is that Pentecost is history, and the Spirit has come and that's a fact. But Pentecost is more than a historical fact.

- PENTECOST IS PRESENT FACT.

God lives in His church today. We here are a small part of a great and wonderful thing. Whether we like it or not-- whether we can define it or understand it or not, we are part of ONE, HOLY, CATHOLIC, APOSTOLIC CHURCH that Jesus Himself founded, and Jesus Himself is building. We may at times be miserable representatives of the unity of the Body, BUT WE ARE IN FACT CHRIST'S OWN BODY! Because you and I have the Spirit that came at Pentecost if in fact we say "Jesus is Lord!" and if in fact we in any wise belong to Him.

But Pentecost is even more than present Reality, as good as that may be.

- PENTECOST IS DYNAMIC CHALLENGE!

Jesus is still breathing on His church saying: 'YOU RECEIVE THE SPIRIT!' I don't know how else to put it— but Pentecost— the promise of the Holy Spirit— is that God wants to take us where we have never been before, and do with us what we cannot even dream of doing by ourselves! Young men see visions! Old men dream dreams! Handmaidens prophecy! All God's people prophets! All God's people manifesting Christ's Spirit!

But this is really like our individual walk with God— the way each one of us has had contact with God the Holy Spirit.

II. THAT'S HOW YOUR SALVATION WORKS, TOO—

- YOUR SALVATION IS HISTORY

You WERE SANCTIFIED when we first came to God for pardon. We were sanctified in that the Spirit came with LIFE and with PARDON and with ADOPTION into God's family.

- YOUR SALVATION IS PRESENT REALITY

You ARE SANCTIFIED— (aren't you?) You gave your all to God, didn't you? We surrendered our redeemed lives to God and the Spirit came in cleansing response to our sacrifice (Romans 12: 1,2).

But that is not all..

- YOUR SALVATION IS ONGOING CHALLENGE

You/WE are BEING SANCTIFIED as we carry out the challenge of living in obedience to God's unfolding will. We can handle salvation as history. We can even take salvation as present reality, if we can somehow keep a handle on it— keep it somewhat static. But when it starts to "get outside the lines" it gets a bit scary. What does a person who was sanctified and is sanctified and is being sanctified look like? How does he act?

III. CHALLENGE TO BE BEING FILLED!

So, what does Pentecost in action "look like"? What does it "DO"??

- His name wasn't Eldad or Medad— it was KEN. He was here with us just a year ago. He HAD BEEN sanctified. In fact he WAS sanctified. But Ken Sullivan was also BEING FILLED with God's Spirit, and never shrank back from the challenge. What an impact he has had on this community!
 - after 60 he wrote his first book
 - to his final illness he reached out in love

- in his last hours he could say, "It's ALL right!" x 3

That is what this Pentecost reality looks like. It looks like LOVE!

- HER name wasn't Eldad or Medad, either But she got outside the normal lines at times. Her name was Esther— and she was with us a year ago, also. Although her body was often weak, and her health was ebbing away, Esther Sanger was one of those people who kept on being filled with the Spirit. She was past fifty years old when she really began to break through beyond a hold-the-line sort of experience, and began adventuring into uncharted waters with the Holy Spirit.

Esther began small, where she was— sharing compassion, often tough love. She tacked up little signs on telephone posts: "Do you need help? Call xxx-xxxx" The phone started ringing— and never stopped. The Quincy Crisis Center came into existence— then the Mary Martha Learning Center.

Esther explored the depths of prayer, and yet remained very human, exemplifying Nouwen's The Wounded Healer. She died in a room full of angels last August— but not before she showed us what true Pentecost really looks like. It looks like LOVE!

Now God doesn't expect you or me to be a Ken or an Esther. There were only one each of them (thank God!) But do you know—Jesus is here this morning— saying "PEACE BE TO YOU!" AND SAYING "receive the spirit!" Not necessarily in any spectacular way do YOU dare to go on being filled— where the Spirit leads you!???

I HAVE A VISION OF A COMMUNITY WHERE GOD'S LOVE IS AT WORK— AND THAT IS WHAT PENTECOST IS SUPPOSED TO LOOK LIKE!

Prayer: O great God, our Father! We dare to ask You this morning: Let Your Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, BREATHE on us again today! Help us hear Him say "RECEIVE THE HOLY SPIRIT!" Amen

#732 - I Then Shall Live

Majesty Mystery Mercy*Trinity Sunday - Holy Communion*

June 2, 1996

Isaiah 6:1-8

Isaiah was in the temple when it happened. That was not unusual; Isaiah was a prophet in good standing. He had stood before King Uzziah many times and proclaimed his vision for God's people. He was in the mainstream of the best in Israel's faithful people. Isaiah had come for the usual reasons: He needed renewal and refreshing. He always felt better after he had worshiped. But somehow on this day the focus swung around from Isaiah's hopes and Isaiah's expectations— and all of a sudden Isaiah got a glimpse of the majesty and the mystery that is Almighty God!

I. GOD'S REVELATION OF HIMSELF TO ISAIAH:

THERE WAS MAJESTY - When God Almighty reveals Himself any measure there is also a corresponding sense of awe or reverence. The temple in which Isaiah was worshiping was beautiful; but God's Presence was a majesty of a different quality altogether. Cathedral or store-front, Gregorian chant or swaying gospel choir, all these can be instruments of the human spirit reaching after God. But when God reveals Himself no human efforts add to His majesty! No, God's Presence is a majesty of a different, incomparable quality. It was unmistakably God!

THERE WAS MYSTERY - When God draws near it is more than a "good time." There was an awesome, almost eerie sense of God the "other" in Isaiah's vision. God does have a problem with us, you know! If He wishes to draw near He has "to be careful" on two important counts: (1) we are finite, and cannot really comprehend the dimensions of eternity; and (2) we are sinful, and cannot really understand the utter potency, the sheer white-hot energy of pure holiness!

II. GOD'S PRESENCE REVEALED ISAIAH TO HIMSELF AS WELL

The central issue in your life and mine is the nature of our God and our relationship to Him.

The nearness of God,— when we recognize that the Living God is near— and the MYSTERY involved, is always validated by the (paradox) that when we begin to see God in His glory, we begin to get the true picture of ourselves!

This is a MYSTERY that illuminates! Like shafts of sunlight filtering into a darkened parlor, making it hard to breathe because of all the little tiny swirling particles of dust revealed. ISAIAH CRIED OUT WITH THE REVELATION: "WOE IS ME!" The painful thing to Isaiah was the fact that he was a GOOD man, and yet as he began to draw near to God, instead of being affirmed, and having his PERCEIVED NEEDS met, Isaiah began to see himself as sinful and needy!

Every time God draws near, and it is a genuine THEOPHANY, the central focus is NOT on how great "I" am, but how great THOU ART! Peter: "Depart from me, for I am a sinful man!" John: "And I fell at His feet as if I were a dead man!"

[[But that was NOT the end of the vision of God!]]

III. GOD'S VISION INCLUDED EXACTLY WHAT ISAIAH REALIZED HE NEEDED

THERE WAS MERCY - With the revelation of his need, and with his cry of "Woe is me!" Isaiah found a new dimension to God: God expressed his grace and mercy to Isaiah! He did it in (what seemed to me as a boy contemplating this vision) a "strange" way: with a live coal from off the altar!

This was NOT to torment Isaiah, to sear his lips so he could not speak; it was a cleansing, purifying, illuminating FIRE! Isaiah began to experience the greatest luxury, perhaps, that mortals may know: HE WAS CLEAN, IN GOD'S PRESENCE (7)!!

...AND THE END RESULT OF ISAIAH'S VISION WAS THAT HE WAS ENABLED TO ENTER INTO GOD'S OWN ACTIVITY/ACTION FELLOWSHIP IN A WAY HE HAD NOT KNOW BEFORE!

Conclusion: THE UNIQUE AND UNIVERSAL DIMENSIONS OF ISAIAH'S VISION Who was Isaiah? He was NOT a casual worshiper. Why "the year that Uzziah died"? A removal of a royal "prop"? Isaiah was probably related to the royal family . . .

To whom does God reveal Himself? - Hebrews 11:6 The central issue in your life and mine is the nature of our God and our relationship to Him.

Chances are we won't have a vision exactly like Isaiah's. But the promise is there—that if we are seekers after God, at whatever level of our journey into faith— IF WE ARE SEEKERS, GOD WILL REWARD US WITH HIMSELF!

But there is a great difference in TALKING about seeking God— and actually putting God at the center of our lives and SEEKING HIM! So many of us are experts on doctrine— we know what this man or that woman has said—

— but not many of us are very well acquainted with this great God who is so great he makes Temples shake— and so holy He needs to cleanse us so we can live in his presence— and yet so loving he has come all the way down to where we are and has asked us to help spread the word that He is GOOD!

Talking about seeing God— ABOUT THE MAJESTY THAT IS GOD THE FATHER, SON AND HOLY SPIRIT... about the MYSTERY THAT IS GOD THE SPIRIT, FATHER AND SON... about the MERCY THAT IS GOD THE SON, AND GOD THE SPIRIT, PROCEEDING FROM GOD THE FATHER — talking about the vision is pretty "tame" compared to a trip to Disney World or even a gospel concert of one kind or another— UNTIL!! one day as we earnestly seek, God comes!

I was eighteen years old before I saw the ocean. I had read about it, I understood intellectually that it was vast. But since I first saw it— here at the end of this street, then out at Nantasket Beach— then flying over it— then in hurricane force waves— I realize that I could never "know" the ocean just by reading about it. And I also realize that there is a sense in which I don't know the ocean very much at all.

I could say the same for all the great wonders of God's creation— the mountains— the seas, the skies. And they are just handiwork that points to the great God beyond. As David said, "When I consider the heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars which thou hast ordained, who am I, that thou art mindful of me, or the children of mankind that you visit us?"

Today we think of the Trinity, of the God who is OVER us, and who is WITH us, and who is IN us. The doctrine of the Trinity is not a fascinating puzzle for our amusement, but in some wonderful way it is God's own revelation to us of His love. God so great as to be totally unspeakable in His glory, yet so condescending as to take our nature and speak our own language and show us how we may live, and God so very near that He is HERE with us as we worship!

Prayer - INTO COMMUNION - Continuation from meditation:

Scripture (I Corinthians 11:23 - 30)

For I received from the Lord what I also handed on to you, that the Lord Jesus on the night when he was betrayed took a loaf of bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it and said, "This is my body that is broken for you. Do this in remembrance of me." In the same way he took the cup also, after supper, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me." For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until he comes.

Whoever, therefore, eat the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord in an unworthy manner will be answerable for the body and blood of the Lord. Examine yourselves, and only then eat of the bread and drink of the cup. For all who eat and drink without discerning the body, eat and drink judgment against themselves. For this reason many of you are weak and ill, and some have died. [NRSV]

Apostles' Creed (#8)

Invitation to the Table of the Lord:

Jesus Himself is the Host. Wherever you are in your spiritual journey God loves you. If you have a desire for God— if you are willing to turn toward Him, He invites you to come. Examine your heart. If He bids you come, you are welcome.

Prayer of Confession/Forgiveness

O Great God, the very best among us needs every moment the grace of God; we are not holy in and of ourselves. We come short of the perfect will of God in performance, and all too often, we lag in spirit, are insensitive in our relationships, and act more to our own self interest than for the kingdom of God and the salvation of others.

For this we ask your forgiveness— purchase of your blood on Calvary.

We claim your promise: (I John 1:7,9) If we confess our sin, God is faithful and just to forgive us our sin, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

Prayer of Dedication

We ask You to help us know You better. We ask that we may have a fresh vision of Your great holiness and love, as well as your ASSURANCE that we have been CHOSEN of you to be your sons and daughters. We ask that you will give us our ASSIGNMENT, not just our "big" assignment for life's career, but our day-by-day assignment of introducing You to those we know. We ask that You will help us ACCEPT Your revealed will, and put you at the center of our lives, in all we do. We ask You to bless this sacrament of Holy Communion, that these emblems of bread and the cup may be for us true means of grace, by faith may we partake of your body and blood to our soul's life and health. Lord's Prayer - (Instructions. Come, receive, and hold the bread and the cup and we will partake together.)

At the moment of partaking: The BODY of the Lord Jesus Christ: (may it) Preserve you blameless to life everlasting.

Again, with the cup: The BLOOD of the Lord Jesus Christ: Preserve you blameless to life everlasting.

#210 (First and Last verses) One Day

Benediction

The Risk Takers

THE CALL

June 9, 1996

Genesis 12:1-9; Matthew 9:9-13

- A. Once upon a time there was a good man. He had a good family. He had good connections. He was living in a reasonably comfortable manner. He was abreast of the latest modern technology. His life was not in crisis. But deep in his heart there was the nagging uncertainty, the question he could not put into words:

"IS THIS ALL THERE IS TO LIFE?"
- B. Then one day this good man became aware that Almighty God was talking to him. Just how this awareness came about I cannot tell you. But God was saying, "Well, no, as a matter of fact THIS isn't all there is to life! And if you are willing and obedient, I will show you exactly what your heart is seeking!"
- C. That day Abraham had a decision to make. He had to decide what one thing was absolutely the most important thing in his life. The way the story puts it: God said, "I want you to LEAVE...your country...your people...your father's relatives...and above all LEAVE your right to say what is right and wrong!" I want YOU to come and walk with ME! And if you DO, I'll bless you far beyond anything you can possibly imagine!"

SOME QUESTIONS

Does God Still Call People Like He Did Abraham?

- A. My 'message' is "yes:" I am convinced that Abraham's call represents a basic theme of the whole Bible! The story of Noah the Exodus right through the whole Bible to Jesus calling the disciples the message is DARE TO LEAVE WHAT UNSPIRITUAL, UNGODLY, UNBELIEVING SELFISH WAYS TELL YOU "Leave the prison of your self made gods come away from a Scripture that YOU edit and cut and pick and choose and stand in judgment over leave the bondage of "what so called sophisticates might think," AND STEP OUT ON A JOURNEY OF FAITH WITH ME!

- B. My personal testimony is "yes:" I know you would expect an evangelical Christian minister to answer in the affirmative. I am certain, convinced, sure, that God spoke to me when I was living selfishly and out of fellowship with Him. He spoke to me by both love and fear; by what I might call "Behold the goodness and the severity of God" (Romans 11:22)

How Would God Get Your Attention If He Wanted To Speak To You?

- A. To hear God speak, we might just have to be listening! God can't teach us anything if we already know it all! Wes Tracy wrote these words a few years ago:

Aren't you tired of trying to be a classy sophisticate who knows all about things timely progressive education, career enhancement, political correctness, next season's fashions, and the done thing? . . . Some who take the name of Christ seem owned by their ambitions, chained to a success formula, enslaved by the hunger for prestige diseases they have caught from our sinful culture. They fill up the ranks of the Christian jet set.

Visit any important Christian conference and you will see them "dressed alike, talking alike, smiling alike, looking over the shoulders of the people to whom they are speaking in order to see who else has come into the room."

- B. To hear God speak there must be faith an element of TRUST. in WHO is speaking is ALL IMPORTANT!

In every purely human decision we consider very carefully all the factors and then decide which way to go. And that is only common sense. But when it comes to the deep satisfaction of the heart, and we hear God begin speaking, we have to choose make a decision on just HOW important God is to us.

Abraham started out not knowing at first where he was going only Who he was going with (see Hebrews 11:8.) The "common sense" thing is to say, "God let me see what You have in mind, then I'll say yes or no" That works for everything and everyone except God.

Romans 12: 1,2 says "Present yourselves to God for His service and then He will let you know what is his good and acceptable and perfect will!"

So to really hear God speak is a matter of trust!

- C. To hear God speak we may well have to go against the current of what is accepted as Christian by many evangelicals. We have to choose to take SELF off the throne, and seek God's face for Himself alone!

Spirituality is MORE than self fulfillment. God's way is what we are made for but it is a way of spiritual discipline that does not have happiness or deliverance or becoming fully human as its final goal though these may well be by products. Spiritual fulfillment begins when we realize GOD ALMIGHTY WANTS US TO COME AND WALK WITH HIM ON A JOURNEY WHERE ONLY HE KNOWS THE WAY!

How Can We Respond To A Call From God?

WE HAVE TO CHOOSE WHAT IS MOST IMPORTANT IN OUR LIVES. I BELIEVE GOD STILL SPEAKS, AND THAT HE HONORS THOSE WHO WILL STEP OUT IN FAITH AS ABRAHAM DID.

Yesterday morning I opened my Bible to read and get ready to pray. The passage was I Kings 3, and I got as far as verse five (5) where God is speaking to the newly crowned Solomon. He, God, tells Solomon "Ask for whatever you want me to give you."

I stopped. I thought. Honestly, now, what one thing would I ask of God if I knew for certain that He would grant me that one thing, and I did not know if He would grant me anything else. What one thing is most important to me?

First I thought "You, Lord, You tell me! You decide for me!" That sounds very pious, but somehow it did not let me off the hook. I felt prodded. No what really is the most important thing?

I was pleased that I didn't think about big bucks, or a palatial retirement home or material things at least not "up front," but only after a long reflection reflection that these were "way down the list." I confess I did think of things like not ever wanting to come down to old age and be a burden to myself and others. I thought of what a pleasure it would be to be able to write and speak and teach for years to come.

Do you know what I finally decided was most important?

When I was about six years old this scripture from I Kings brought back a memory I hadn't thought of for a long, long time when I was about six a little boy evangelistic singer traveling almost year round a store owner I can still dimly see the store a sort of hardware or Western Auto type store with wide aisles anyway, the owner took us Mother, Dad, and me to this store after church one night opened the store, turned on the lights and said to me, maybe six years old "You can have any one thing you want in this store!"

I walked up and down the aisles looking at bicycles and lawn mowers and garden furniture and clocks and house supplies and car radios, items big and small expensive and relatively cheap. I never would have such an opportunity again although at that time I was totally unaware of the values, unaware of what my dad might need, or my mother.

This is a true story. I picked up a little wind up toy car, a little painted car, made in Japan, worth less than a dollar in 1937. I'm not even sure why I remember so well except I think my father was so disappointed I didn't at least pick out a scooter or a bike but as I recall I was thinking it wouldn't fit in the car anyway. I could have had any one thing up to many times the value of the thing I chose. But that was that and what would you expect from a six year old?

Do you know what I finally decided was most important? IF WE ANSWER GOD'S QUESTION: WHAT DO YOU WANT ME TO DO FOR YOU IN ANY LESSER WAY THAN SAYING FROM OUR HEARTS "I WANT TO BE WHERE YOU ARE! I WANT TO WALK WITH YOU!" WE ARE LIKE THAT SIX YEAR OLD BOY IN THE TOY STORE. WE WALK OUT WITH STUFF WHEN GOD WANTS US TO HAVE IT ALL!

The Gospel (Matthew 9:9-13) for today is the same story different century different character same God same call. Matthew, sitting at his tax booth has asked himself the question many times over "IS THIS ALL THERE IS TO LIFE?" We might begin again: Once upon a time there was a good man. He had a good family. He had good connections. He was living in a reasonably comfortable manner. He was abreast of the latest modern technology. But along came Jesus and said, simply, 'FOLLOW ME!'

And Matthew simply got up and followed Jesus!

The journey won't be easy. It never is. Shallow spirituality, and greed and lusts and cheap grace will try to take us off the track. But they lead only to emptiness. Until we have God we are empty if we are millionaires! And if we are in God's company we have everything if we are shipwrecked or in prison or going through family trauma or whatever!

As Thomas Kelley wrote in his great little book, A Testament of Devotion: About God's way, he says,

Its joys are ravishing, its peace profound, its humility the deepest, its power world shaking, its love enveloping, its simplicity that of a trusting child ... It is the life and power of Jesus of Nazareth.

Prayer

Hymn #552 O Master, Let Me Walk with Thee

What Price Peace

June 23, 1996

Background lesson: Genesis 21(also Galatians 4:6-9;22-24;28-31)

Text: Matthew 10:34-39 (38 -39 Paraphrased:) If you do not take up your cross and follow after me you are not worthy of me. If you grasp selfishly after life you will lose it; if you lose your life for my sake you will find it.

The words of Jesus here in Matthew 10 seem somehow different that we expect to hear from him. They do not seem to be the mission of his life; isn't he the prince of peace? Here he is saying, "I did not come to bring peace, but a sword! The members of one's own household will be divided!" What can this mean?

Certainly it does NOT mean that Jesus does not bring peace to those who seek him as Lord and Savior. But what Jesus is saying is that following him will not be easy. When we start out to follow Jesus and do God's will you can count on it, you will be opposed.

What are some of the hard times you have faced because you are trying to follow Jesus?

What do you suppose are some of the challenges that oppose God's people? Can you think of any?

There are many external challenges

Surely many people will say right off: the devil will oppose those who seek to follow Jesus. I believe there is evil in this world that hates God and seeks to fight God through discouraging his people.

There are people in this world that hate religion, and who ridicule and oppose and would persecute where they can. More people have been martyred in this century for their faith than any other century in history!

There are (even) Christians who let us down, who may betray our confidence— who may turn back. All these external challenges are serious, and real, and can cause pain. But they are to be expected— and by God's grace they can be overcome.

Much harder to face are the challenges closer to home. A divided home is always a challenge to faith. When people we love and are bound to by ties of blood and ties of covenant do not share our faith, we have challenges that are harder to face than external challenges.

People who love us and whom we love have the power to hurt us the most! Jesus never asks us to "hate" loved ones. That is not what this language means. But a divided home may cause us to have to change course— but we can still seek to follow Jesus, and we can show those closest to us His Spirit of love. Sometimes that may have to be very tough love. Only the Spirit can give us wisdom to know how to carry forward.

But the hardest challenge of all is not a divided HOME— but

A DIVIDED HEART IS THE HARDEST CHALLENGE OF ALL!

There is something inside every human being- until it is dealt with scripturally- something that is not willing to trust God and simply obey Him. Is it possible to have victory over a divided heart?

Here is where the ancient story of Abraham 'connects' with us here this morning at the end of the 20th century! I love Abraham because his story is your story and my story— the story of everyone who has ever tried to leave old ways and start following God's will.

The New Testament writers used Abraham over and over as a living allegory of the Pilgrim's Progress. It FITS!

Abraham on his pilgrimage of faith faced this opposition Jesus was talking about. He faced external opposition. He struggled in Egypt with enemies of faith— and finally overcame. He struggled with his nephew Lot and was generous and prayerful and he overcame.

But the very hardest thing Abraham ever had to do was settling the division in his own heart and mind. The heart of his struggle was his love; love for his God, for his sons, for his own ambition.

Maybe you know the story of Abraham and Isaac. That is the famous story. But Abraham had TWO sons. Ishmael was the son of Abraham's own self-assertion. Ishmael represented Abraham's own answer to God's promises. But when God finally gave Abraham and Sarah the son of His own promise, Isaac, the other son, the older son— Ishmael began to bully and struggle and compete with Isaac. The conflict really began— Ishmael was strong and older— he bullied Isaac.

This becomes a painful story. Abraham and Sarah sent Hagar and Ishmael away— a cruel thing to do in our 20th century perspective. A very hard thing to do back then. But this hard thing represents to us that whatever it costs us, we need to make sure that we do not tolerate a divided heart! We need to ask God to help us put away our self-assertive tries to be righteous on our own— and to simply obey and trust Him. Paul says, in Galatians 4, that our life in Christ is like the gift of a son of promise to Abraham. Listen to these verses:

(Galatians 4:6-9) Because you are God's children, God sent the Spirit of his Son into our hearts, the Spirit who calls out "Abba, father." So you are no longer a slave, but a son; and since you are a son, God has also made you an heir. Formerly when you did not know God, you were slaves to those who by nature are not gods. But now that you know God— or rather are known by God— how is it that you are turning back to those weak and miserable things of the world? Do you want to be enslaved by them again? (21-24) Tell me, you that want to be under the law, are you not aware of what the law says? For it is written that Abraham had two sons, one by the slave woman and the other by the free woman. His son by the slave woman was born in the ordinary way; but his son by the free woman was the result of a promise. These things are an allegory, for the women represent two covenants. (28-31) Now brothers, you, like Isaac, are children of promise; at that time the son born in the ordinary way persecuted the son born by the power of the Spirit. It is the same now. But what does the scripture say? "Get rid of the slave woman and her son, for the slave woman's son will never share in the inheritance with the free woman's son. Therefore brothers (and sisters) we are not children of the slave woman, but of the free woman.

Jesus said the opposition will come. But Jesus also tells us how to find victory and peace. In Abraham's story we know what he had to do. He sent Hagar and Ishmael off into the desert so Isaac could grow up as the child of promise. "Cast out the bond\woman and her son!" But in our day and age, what in the world does this mean? How can we end the conflict of a divided heart?

Jesus calls this ending of INNER conflict "taking up our cross." It is a decision to follow Jesus, and make him master over even our own will and desires. Then it is a carrying through with His help, day by day. It is the sincere decision of our heart in covenant to Him: NOT MY WILL, BUT YOURS BE DONE!

Jesus is NOT telling us to be hateful to our parents, or to those in our households that oppose. He IS saying, "Follow ME, whatever it costs!"

Whatever it takes to make an end of our own division— to end that thing within that says, "I will not let anyone, even GOD, tell me what do!"— whatever it takes, we can and must do it! Our own will can be submitted forever to God's will, and we can know peace and freedom on the inside. The external challenges will be with us until we die.

Perhaps this surrender— this "casting out our own self-assertion" does not have to be dramatic and emotional. but by a deliberate surrender by telling God that AT ANY COST He can have us for time and eternity— our hearts will be opened to the Spirit in a new and fresh way that can and will set us free from the law of sin and death.

The way of LIFE is the way of the cross. The way of the cross is the way of LIFE! It means an end to Ishmael's tyranny over the Isaac that is God's will. There is an eternal "YES!" that can be said to God's will that changes forever how we approach the future. We have many little "yeses" that will follow. But the great decision can and must be made!

Does it mean an end to temptation? No— of course not. Does it mean we can never fall into sin? No— I wish it did mean that.. but we are still free moral agents. But if with all your heart you ask God for the grace to cast out the self-seeking, self-righteous way— God will meet you in a new fresh way with His Spirit.

This is what we call "Sanctification! Entire sanctification"— entire— because it holds nothing back! But it is not finished, ever! it is a total surrender of self— PLUS asking for all God's fullness! Have YOU surrendered your SELF for time and eternity??

Prayer

#335 Would You Live for Jesus (His Way with Thee)

Abraham and Isaac

"For Love of God"

June 30, 1996

Genesis 22:1-14

LOVE is what makes life worth living. We love and we are loved. We say to our babies "I love you SO much!" BUT DO WE LOVE GOD? (Satan's question in Job 1 "Does Job serve (love) God for nothing?")

Father Edward Collins Vacek, S.J. (America 3/9 courtesy of Martin Marty's "Context" for June 1, 1996): "In my own conversations with Christians, I find that almost all of them talk approvingly about love for others, some talk confidently about God's love for us, but few are willing to talk about their love for God. When I press them to say what it means to love God, some of them in fact deny that we can love God directly, many admit that they don't give much thought to love for God, and most deny there is any ethical obligation to do so. They judge that it is wrong not to love people, but they have no such thoughts about neglecting God. In short, many contemporary Christians subscribe to Jesus' second great commandment, but not to the first."

Vacek continues: "In short, it is not enough just to love our fellow human beings. Sincere conscience and anonymous theism are not enough." Vacek suggests that every age has its central religious concept and a question that will challenge all of us today is this: "`Do you love God?' That question evokes the endlessness of our heart's quest as well as the incomprehensibility of God, and it gives us an absorbing center for our lives." (Courtesy e-mail & Fred Kane)

What does it mean for you and me to be in a love relationship with Almighty God? This 4,000 year-old story of Abraham sheds a lot of light on that question.

I. LOVE FOR GOD WILL BE A DEMANDING LOVE

Love for God ALWAYS demands "first place" in our loyalties:

Matthew 10: 37 - 39 Whoever loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me; and whoever loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me; and whoever does not take up the cross and follow me is not worthy of me. Those who find their life will lose it, and those who lose their life for my sake will find it.

The story of Abraham and Isaac underscores the cost of loving God

By the time we come to the sacrifice scene on Mount Moriah, we are nearing the end of Abraham's life. He is an old man. He has walked in obedience to God for many years. He had done what God had told him across the years. He had even put away Hagar and Ishmael, the son of his own self-assertion, and that had been hard to do.

What Abraham had left was Isaac, the son of God's promise. In Isaac were all Abraham's hopes and dreams of the great things God had promised him way back in the land of Haran.

Then a stunning thing happens. God asks Abraham to sacrifice Isaac to him on an altar of burnt offering.

Make no mistake about it, this is a difficult lesson for us to understand.

One of my correspondents, Fred Kane wrote:

*It is a most difficult text. As has been pointed out:
God prohibits child sacrifice, yet sacrifices God's own Son.
Reading the story as one of commitment, sacrifice and obedience challenges my hypocrisy as I call others to give what I am unwilling to give.
I relish the Gift, but do not trust the Giver
(who asks for the Gift to be returned) to give again and again....
I want God to be God on my terms.*

(Transition: But a demanding love like this doesn't come like a request to foolishness. God is like a patient lover. He calls us, reassures us— for)

II. LOVE FOR GOD IS A GROWING LOVE

The Abraham Saga is a Pilgrim's Progress that illustrates HOW God calls, and encourages, and works with a person who wants to walk with Him.

- Abraham LISTENS for God
- Abraham ARGUES/REASONS with God when he is unsure of himself
- Abraham ENTERS COVENANT with God
- Abraham "IS PRESENT! TO GOD!"

The ABRAHAM COVENANT does not spring full-blown into this crisis on Mount Moriah. It BEGINS (12:1) when Abraham sets out to follow God. It is RATIFIED FORMALLY (15) when Abraham BELIEVES GOD, and sets out the sacrifice/covenant God asks. It is RENEWED (17) when a mature Abram gets a name change— indicating a growing God-likeness. It is further REFINED (21) in the giving up of Ishmael, representing Abraham's self-striving. And finally it is CONFIRMED (22) in today's story of supreme sacrifice— giving up even God's own gifts so nothing stands between Abraham and the heart of God.

This is a mysterious, difficult story which we will never fully understand this side of heaven. Abraham had made a complete consecration and covenant with God. But every consecration is tested. The covenants we make never work out perfectly smoothly, exactly as we thought. That is when the character of the covenant makers is made clear. Keeping our word when the going gets tough proves what sort of stuff we are made of.

(Transition: Love for God will be a growing love— and will be a challenge to our faith... but)

III. LOVE FOR GOD WILL BE A DEEPLY SATISFYING LOVE

There are several important lessons we can learn from Abraham's faithfulness:

A. THERE IS NEVER A STOPPING PLACE IN SAYING 'YES' TO GOD

When do we stop "living by faith?" When do we stop "giving all to God" and sit back and take it easy in the walk of faith? I certainly don't know when that time is.

I remember one day talking with Lillian Irwin, Mrs. Don Irwin, whom I respected very highly as a woman of prayer and a godly woman. She was facing some very difficult times, times that often made her weep. I remember her saying: "I don't give God my LIFE now. I give him my days—each day as it comes!"

But this story also assures us:

B. THERE IS REALLY NO CRUELTY IN GOD! GOD CAN BE TRUSTED WITH THE THINGS THAT REALLY MATTER

There is mystery involved in why God would ever ask this of the great Father of Faith. Much is made of the cruelty of the request. Some preachers on my study list have asked, "How do you imagine Isaac felt? He would be scarred for life!" And probably there is humanly speaking that question to be asked.

This mystery reflects an even greater mystery— the mystery of the Atonement itself. When Abraham took Isaac up the hill of sacrifice God prepared a ram to substitute for the son of promise. But when God's own Son walked up the hill of Calvary there could be no substitute. What happened on Calvary, and why it was necessary is a mystery that we cannot understand. That greater sacrifice speaks of the awful seriousness of our sins:

*All we like sheep have gone astray
We have turned every one to his own way
And the Lord has laid on HIM
The iniquity of us all. (Isaiah 53)*

Isaac was safe even though Abraham had to give him up to God. God cares about the things that matter— even more than you do. He is in charge!

C. LOVING GOD MAKES A PERSON MORE AND MORE LIKE HIM

- Abraham became a friend of God (I can imagine God saying to Abraham "No one know how I feel in giving my only begotten Son!")
- Abraham actually became A PICTURE of God
- Abraham became a blessing!!

And so will we—

Love is what makes life worth the living. And loving God makes life wholesome and clean and good.

BUT— do WE LOVE God for what WE get out of it? Do WE go to church because WE want to go to heaven? Do WE help others so that God will reward US? That is the question from this text today: Do you love God? Is God more important than your car, your possessions, your family, your children? Do you love these blessings from God more than you love God?

When the test of our faith comes, we can remember Abraham, who believed in God's love no matter what. When our faith is on trial, dare to love God and to trust Him! He who has spared not His OWN Son will provide!

Prayer

#142 Wonderful Savior followed by

#133 I Love You, Lord

Come to Me and Find Rest

The Call to Know Real Peace

July 7, 1996

Matthew 11:25-30

Introduction

Summertime traditionally is the time when we recharge our batteries— find rest and recreation. Rest is something we all need regularly, and from time to time we need special times of renewal. Here in Matthew is one of the most attractive invitations to rest and renewal in the entire Bible:

This passage begins with a prayer.

Jesus has been talking about tension. He spoke about a divided home, and a divided heart. He has been speaking about the tension when some people follow God and others do not. Such tensions require great wisdom on the part of Christians. The disciples could easily become bewildered and overwhelmed.

The disciples might have wondered if only extremely gifted people could ever know God's will, or very strong people could carry it out. Often when Jesus spoke about conflicts to come they would say, "When? What? How?" "If these tensions and troubles come," they were thinking, " how will we ordinary people cope?"

Here in his prayer, Jesus gives insight into how the really vital things of salvation are known. Jesus thanks the Father that what we really need to know can be known. But then he uses the key word: "revealed." The walk with God is first of all a revealed way.

Wisdom Is Revealed To Infants

"My Father, Lord of heaven and earth, I am grateful that you hid all this from wise and educated people and showed it to ordinary people. Yes, Father, that is what pleased you."

Come to Me and Find Rest

"Showed it to ordinary people"

Faith, genuine faith in God, is a great leveler. I thank God for scholars and theologians. I thank God for people who are not afraid of truth. I believe by faith that all truth is God's truth. And yet as it is pursued and developed, theology is sometimes a very esoteric science. The truly great theologians are humble people, at least where they encounter truth.

Make no mistake about it, I believe it is vitally important WHAT we believe. But there are always those very smart people who forget that finally Truth is a Person who is very capable of making Himself known to those who seek him. I believe our children and young people can invite the Lord Jesus into their heart, and know Him in their everyday lives. But Academia at times would make understanding salvation a Mensa test. Jesus in his prayer says that wisdom unto salvation is revealed to ordinary people ("babes") through the love of God revealed in Christ. Hebrews 11:6

Transition

But that is not the invitation to rest I spoke about.

A Broad Invitation To All Who Need A Rest

"Come unto me all who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest..." Here is a sincere invitation. By the Holy Spirit Jesus is speaking to you and me this morning. It is a call to renewed fellowship with Jesus.

We don't have to be rich or poor, or wise or simple, or any other criteria of judgment— all we have to be is tired. God actively invites; he is not indifferent or passively available IF we know how to apply. If we will begin coming to Him, he will begin moving toward us with rest. You will not be put off. Coming to Jesus is not like applying to any other source of help:

Illustration: Harvard Community Health Plan— very good— but when you call you get this menu of numbers to push— THEN you get a receptionist, who screens the call, THEN you maybe get a triage nurse, THEN you give your number and if you're lucky THEN the doctor calls you back. And Harvard is one of the better helping institutions. By contrast Jesus says, "Come here! I care!"

"I will give you rest!" What does this mean? What sort of rest does Jesus give? I confess I want to know!

It is rest from any and all guilt. You don't need to carry guilt the rest of your life.

It is rest from resentment and unforgiveness. You don't need to carry hard feelings against others.

It is rest from fear of dying. You don't have to worry about eternity, and whether or not you are saved.

It sometimes is just plain rest. Jesus is interested in what you need. When Elijah was depressed he found he served a God who cared— and God does not care less for you— and me.

Transition

This is a pure love. There are no "strings" attached to the love of Jesus— he loves you as you are. But there are conditions that help us find Christ's rest. We have to let go of other masters. Jesus sets us free to be what we are created to be. He speaks about "a yoke."

The Yoke Of Jesus

In the same thought/phrase/breath that Jesus speaks of rest he also tells of a yoke. A yoke is a work collar, a harness put on an animal that is going to labor. Or at times, a yoke is made for people so they can carry burdens. Jesus is using the term to indicate a submission to his mastery.

Submission is not incompatible with freedom.

A yoke usually implies connection, or team work. On a very few occasions I have had passing glimpses of yoked oxen, or ox teams. We are so citified that many of our children have never seen cattle up close, let alone having driven or touched them. But this would be very familiar to his hearers/

Come to Me and Find Rest

(Illustration: Ken Sullivan's early years saw him driving oxen in Nova Scotia...??)
We work together with others who belong to Jesus. Christ's "yoke" implies that we have the privilege of being on a team together— we help each other— we are not galled by our assignments.

But best of all, to take the yoke of Jesus implies more:

We are yoked with HIM. (I Corinthians 3:9 "We are laborers together with God")
When the Master Himself is with us, our work is joy! When he tells us to do something, he also goes along with us, before us, behind us— to take the heavy end of the task. (I Corinthians 3:9 "Laborers together WITH God...")

When we share with Jesus we never come out on the short end of the deal. Do you remember Bob Benson? There is a passage in his book Come Share the Being, that I have gone back to again and again:

Do you remember when they had old fashioned Sunday School picnics? It was before air conditioning. They said, "We'll meet at Sycamore Lodge in Shelby Park at 4:30 Saturday. You bring your supper and we'll furnish the tea."

But you came home at the last minute and when you got ready to pack your lunch all you could find in the refrigerator was one dried up piece of baloney and just enough mustard in the bottom of the jar so that you got it all over your knuckles trying to get at it. And there were just two stale pieces of bread. So you made your baloney sandwich and wrapped it in some brown bag and went to the picnic.

And when it came time to eat you sat at your end of the table and spread out your sandwich. But the folks next to you— the lady was a good cook, and she had worked all day and she had fried chicken, and baked beans, and potato salad, and homemade rolls, and sliced tomatoes, and pickles, and celery, and topped it off with two big homemade chocolate pies.

And they spread it all out beside you and there you were with your baloney sandwich. But they said to you, "Why don't we put it all together?"

"No, I couldn't do that, I just couldn't even think of it," you murmured embarrassedly.

"Oh, come on, there's plenty of chicken, and plenty of pie, and plenty of everything—
- and we just love baloney sandwiches! Let's just put it all together!"

And so you did, and there you sat— eating like a king when you came like a pauper. Benson goes on "And I get to thinking— I think of "me" sharing with God, when I think of how little I bring, and how much He brings, and that He invited me to "share" I know I should be shouting to the housetops, but I am so filled with awe and wonder that I can hardly be heard.

"I know you don't have enough love, or faith, or grace, or mercy, or wisdom— there's just not enough to you. But He has— He has all those things in abundance and says, "Let's just put it all together."

If Bill Gates, the richest man in the world, should invite you to share a joint checking account with him— you putting in all you have and he the same— how long would it take for you to agree? Here God Himself, in the person of his Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, says, "Come join with me forever in doing my work, and I will share with you, and never leave you." As we seek rest and renewal this summer, respond to this Great Invitation of Jesus: "Come unto Me!"

Prayer

Song: #100 The Lord's My Shepherd (Crimond)

Musings about the Tasks that Lie Ahead

August 4, 1996 - pm

Using a favorite verse: John 15:8 -also again- the lectionary about the pearl of great price from Matthew 13:

This time of the year is often if not always difficult for me. The task ahead seems absolutely overwhelming. It always does this time of year. I think it is because I have a little understanding of the mega-size of the job— of what a perfect church might be— and I know a little bit more about our shortcomings— my own in particular.

I think of the way some pastors can plan out the entire year, and have the machinery all oiled and well running. I think of the year in the large segments— of the Gospel we will be studying— of the themes and emphases I believe God would be pleased to open to us all. I look ahead to the beginning again of fall— the Advent Season and preparing for Christmas— to Messiah, and Epiphany and then all too soon, to Lent and Easter and Holy Week and Pentecost, and I think of how we need small groups and children's teachers and classes on personal evangelism and classes on membership and church history and on and on— until I am almost exhausted and the year has not even begun.

But then I realize with God's help some things that help me return to the task with hope, and with love, and yes, even with joy. In my private prayers I have heard God saying things you and I know, but need to hear again:

1. I am not alone. I have God and we have each other. I don't have to do it all by myself
2. I can do some things. I don't have to do what I cannot do with God's help
3. I am loved (and so are YOU!) God cares about me! He cares about YOU! What I am and WHO I am are more important to God than what I do.

I don't say these things to lessen the standards of excellence in my work for the church. As comforting as these things are, I also realize that

Musings about the Tasks that Lie Ahead

1. God expects the church to represent Him: we are God's ambassadors!
2. I have a pretty good idea of what the church is expected to do:
 - worship
 - witness
 - educate
 - fellowship
 - serve
3. I am willing to join hands with YOU and begin again the wonderful task of being God's people:

When do we begin? Just As I Am— and waiting not!

- not waiting for someone on TV to say it is "OK!" God speaks at the local church level!
- not waiting for the perfectly organized program. We can be used of God even before we understand all the lines of authority and accountability
- not waiting until we have a seminar or class to "show me how" Reporting for duty every single day
- not waiting for one who can "do it better!" This is the particular curse of a large (college) church— you have "so much talent!"
- not waiting until I am in "the inner circle" Even when we feel "left out" at times— it is a feeling, not a reality!

Real praise goes beyond the "expression"— clapping, hands raised, shouts of "Amen!" Those are well and good and we should not "quench the spirit" (Spirit) But real praise comes when we seek to manifest the Spirit of Christ in love where we are!

Best of all, the Lord Himself is willing to bankrupt heaven to help us in his work of redemption. When we start out NOW to do His work and will HE will be with us, no matter how little or insignificant that our ambassadorial role may be:

Our pearl of great price— our treasure— is right around us, the people we deal with every day. I came across an old story again this week, from Marian Wright Edelman. She tells this story about a school teacher,

"Jean Thompson, and a fifth grade boy, Teddy Stollard: On the first day of school, Jean Thompson told her students, "Boys and girls, I love you all the same." But she did not like little Teddy Stollard. He slouched in his chair, didn't pay attention, his mouth hung open in a stupor, his eyes were always unfocused, his clothes were mussed, his hair unkempt, and he smelled. He was an unattractive boy and Jean Thompson didn't like him.

Through school records, the teacher learned that Teddy's mother had died a year ago and his father showed no interest. A previous teacher's note had read: "Teddy is in deep waters; he's totally withdrawn."

Christmas came, and the boys and girls brought their presents and piled them on her desk. They were all in brightly colored paper except for Teddy's. His was wrapped in brown paper and held together with a string. And scribbled on it were the words, "For Miss Thompson from Teddy." She tore open the paper and out fell a rhinestone bracelet with most of the stones missing and a bottle of cheap perfume, almost empty. When the other boys and girls started to giggle she had enough sense to put some of the perfume on her wrist, put on the bracelet, hold her wrist up to the class and say, "Doesn't it smell lovely? Isn't the bracelet pretty?" And taking their cue from the teacher, they all agreed.

At the end of the day, when all the children had left, Teddy lingered, came over to her desk and said, "Miss Thompson, all day long you smelled just like my mother. And her bracelet, that's her bracelet, it looks real nice on you. too. I'm really glad you like my presents." And when he left, she got down on her knees and buried her head in her chair, and she begged God to forgive her. From then on, she was a different teacher. She tutored Teddy and put herself out for him. By the end of the year, Teddy had caught up with some of the children and was even ahead of some. Several years later, Jean Thompson got this note.

Dear Miss Thompson: I'm graduating and I'm second in my high school class. I wanted you to be the first to know. Love, Teddy. Four years later she got another note: Dear Miss Thompson: I wanted you to be the first to know. The university has not been easy, but I like it. Love, Teddy Stollard.

Four years later, another note: Dear Miss Thompson: As of today, I am Theodore J. Stollard, M.D. How about that? I wanted you to be the first to know. I'm going to be married in July. I want you to come and sit where my mother would have sat, because you're the only family I have. Dad died last year. And she went and she sat where his mother should have sat because she deserved to be there.

Dr. Teddy Stollard was a pearl of great price. I'm not sure that Miss Thompson had any idea that he was. But the LORD did! HE is the one who is looking for pearls— and he is using us to look! just one Teddy Stollard would be a pretty good year's work for our church— and I am sure that there are more than one we can find. We ALL are God's pearls— and we ALL are God's pearl-finders as well.

The task ahead could be overwhelming if we had to do it alone, or had to do it perfectly all at once. But you and I can do what we can do with God's help. We can remember we are not alone— we have God, and we have each other. And we can look forward the rest of this summer with prayer and anticipation and love and hope and joy because that is what God wants us to do! It is HIS work! And we are HIS family. Amen.

What is our treasure? What is our pearl of great price. We have been freely given a treasure...eternal life, beginning right here on earth. How are we being grateful, full of joy, and working at sharing our treasure with others.

Living Clean in a Dirty World

Christians Respect Personality

August 18, 1996

Re-worked from January 26, 1992

Matthew 5:27-32

A TIME OF GREAT CHANGE

Every generation takes its turn living on the seismic fault-line where past and present crunch together. Our crunch time comes when everything is shaking, and the upheaval between old and new has never been so fast and violent. Change is the order of the day. Facts that once were considered immutable have been discarded.

A majority of young people believe that there are no absolute truths. The only thing for sure is that tomorrow will be different.

I think it all began with something my children brought home from school twenty-five years ago or so, something called the "new math." At least I'd like to find some one thing I could blame it on.

My friends from IBM showed me different ways to count numbers back then— I had always used my fingers and based my number-sets on "10." Now they had machines— machines that cost millions of dollars and filled whole rooms— machines that could do hundreds and even thousands of complicated calculations in just a few minutes. And these machines only counted up to "2." Or, as they told me, just "on" and "off."

Now I have a desk top computer two or three years old...obsolete already, I know... it cost less than $2,000.00- - and it could do some things those big million-dollar main frame computers of two decades couldn't do— and faster, too—if I knew how to tell it how. I just use it for e-mail and as a word processor— maybe a computer game or two—.

We've gotten pretty blase, about progress and change. We have even gotten a little bit contemptuous of the past. If it isn't newer and faster and cheaper and better it isn't worth our time. Almost everything is changing.

CHANGE CAN BE BOTH GOOD AND BAD

Change is not all bad. This past year both Helen and I were in hospital. We both benefited from surgical procedures that were not even heard of just a few years ago. Helen had angioplasty that literally stopped a heart attack before it really got started. I'm grateful for change. But change has not all been good, either. Along with the "new math" and the personal computer has come the "new morality" and the individualization of religion. Yesterday's certainties have been called into question. The traditional family concept is under attack. Many denominations of the Protestant wing of the Church have sold out their prophetic birthright on the altar of keeping up with the latest fads of humanism.

CHANGE IS CHALLENGING THE BIBLE

Among the SACRED THINGS we used to take for granted that have been called in question have been the most basic tenets of the Judeo-Christian heritage. The First Table of the Ten Commandments have been scrapped altogether as absurd and irrelevant. The Second Table has been modified beyond recognition. We now have, for our religious enjoyment, THE SIX SUGGESTIONS!

No commandment has suffered greater attack and vilification than the seventh commandment, Thou shalt not commit adultery. Jesus has not only affirmed the "absurdity" that the commandment is still in effect, but in our text for this morning He has gone way beyond absurdity, and has stated that unless we are prepared to live clean and even to think clean in a dirty world we are guilty of sin.

"Sin," is a word that does not "compute" in our modern thinking.

The reason "sin" is an obsolete word is because it is a word related to "God- things" and God has been "privatized." All the same, Jesus seems to take the word "sin" very seriously. And because Jesus thinks sin is so serious, we are left with a serious problem ourselves: We have to decide who we shall believe and trust with our lives— Jesus— or David Letterman.

I. WHAT IS THE SEVENTH COMMANDMENT? WHAT IS "ADULTERY"?

- A. In the precise English definition, "adultery" is sexual infidelity involving person or persons who have taken marriage vows. But in its broader scope, the seventh commandment means "Thou shalt not have illicit sexual relations."

The commandment includes the full range of wrongful sexual relations; fornication, or relations by unmarried people; adultery, or marital infidelity; sodomy, or sexual relations with the same sex; or bestiality- sexual relations with an animal. In a word, sexual activity outside of the heterosexual marriage relationship is forbidden by the Word of God, which is focused in this commandment: "Thou shalt not commit adultery."

- B. In this comprehensive definition, "adultery" is irresponsible sex, or intimacy without commitment. The only scripturally condoned context for sexual intimacy is called marriage. All sexual intercourse outside of the marriage relationship is sin, and is condemned by the Word of God.
- C. This means that pre-marital sex, or fornication is a breach of the seventh commandment. [I am sorry to have to be so graphic in my language. But the times demand that Christian ministers speak out.]

1. Loud voices in our society seem to say that "everybody is into promiscuous sex." They say "It is a fact that cannot be denied" The message many in public media would have us to believe is that "everyone" is promiscuous, that all young people are sexually active before they are married, and so we need to accept that fact.

When former Vice President Dan Quayle spoke out on the subject of AIDS and had the audacity to suggest that one answer to AIDS might be abstinence he was reviled and ridiculed. The media moguls of our society can forgive any kinds of character flaws, it would seem, except simply believing what the simple sense of God's Word says.

2. But according to recent figures of the Department of Health and Human Services, 73 percent of fifteen-year-old girls in America are virgins. Fifty percent are virgins at age seventeen. And it is still sin if 99 percent were doing it—which they are NOT!
- D. This means that homosexual intercourse is also prohibited by the Seventh Commandment, as well as by other more explicit passages elsewhere. It is a sin, even though we are pressured increasingly to see what once was called perversion as "alternate life styles."
1. I do not attack or despise homosexuals. I care about them. Homosexual people are people, made in God's image, people that God loves. But by the same token as a Christian minister I do not condone any homosexual activity; all such activity is sin.
 2. I do not condemn homosexual sin any more or any less than I condemn heterosexual activity outside the bonds of marriage. All pre-marital or extra-marital sexual intimacy is sin, and comes under the condemnation of God.

II. WHY IS SEXUAL SIN WRONG? WHY IS IT SIN?

- A. Because God says so. That should, perhaps, be enough. But God always has good reasons. Some of these reasons which we can follow are:
- B. Sexual transgression is wrong because it cheapens and threatens the integrity of the family. What is meant as love within total trust and commitment becomes self-gratification. It corrupts the relationship which mirrors the love which Jesus Christ has for you and me as members of the Bride of Christ, the Church.
- C. Sexual transgression is wrong because it subverts or distorts the normal result of intimacy, which is the conception and rearing of children in a stable and pure family situation. The abortion holocaust, with more than 1,000,000 babies killed each year in our country as a malignant form of birth control after the fact is an evil testimony to the truth that sex outside of marriage is sin.
- D. Sexual transgression is wrong because sooner or later it makes the I-Thou into the I-It. In refusing or denying a permanent vow of commitment, it

1. desecrates the image of God in another human being; and
 2. it undermines the integrity of all society because of damage to the family.
- E. This is not an exhaustive list of "why adultery is sin." Your own soul mirrors the image of God, and testifies within you to the truth that God's commandment is right! Purity is better than defilement! We are all made in the image of God, as far as we may have fallen. In quiet times of reflection every person comes to say with Isaiah (and I paraphrase from the 6th chapter): "I am unclean! Would that I might be made clean!"

SEXUAL SIN IS ACTUALLY A SYMPTOM OF SOME DEEPER, MORE PROFOUND PERVERSION: THE LOSS OF GOD FROM HIS RIGHTFUL PLACE!

III. IS SEXUAL PURITY POSSIBLE? CAN IT COEXIST WITH WHOLENESS?

[If I live a celibate life outside of marriage will I somehow be less than human? No!]

- A. Sexual appetite is the only normal appetite of which complete indulgence is made to appear not only acceptable but impossible to control.
- B. Sexual purity does NOT mean an end to sexuality. We are made by God in two sexes. Sexual attraction is built in. It is not moral or immoral, any more than any other normal appetite. But like every other appetite it must be brought into line with legitimate restraints.
- C. Sexual restraint is commanded in the Bible. God's commands are also His promises. He never asks His people to do what He is not prepared to enable them to fulfill.

IV. PURITY MUST COME FROM THE INSIDE OUT!

A. PURITY CANNOT BE LEGISLATED IN SOCIETY

1. THE SEXUAL SICKNESS OF OUR SOCIETY IS A SYMPTOM OF A PEOPLE WHO HAVE FORGOTTEN GOD.

We want to attack this sexual problem by attacking the smut-mongers of society. Let's get rid of porno— let's get the TV cleaned up! [I want to attack on that front, too!] But what we may not be able to see is that the sexual problem is more of a symptom than it is simply a disease. The root of the trouble is not sex, it is self!

2. THE CHURCH IS OCCUPIED WITH OTHER THINGS ??

What we desperately need is a genuine revival, a spiritual awakening of mighty proportions, that will bring Christians everywhere to put God back in first place in our lives. We are NOT in the minority!

It isn't that Christians are in the minority. It isn't that nobody is going to church. George Cornell, a writer for the Associated Press worked out a comparison of church attendance and sports attendance for one year (1980), and added up figures for professional and college football, baseball in major and minor leagues, basketball, hockey- all pro leagues- soccer, tennis, boxing, flat and harness racing and even dog racing. He came up with a total sports attendance of 356 million for the year in the USA. Attendance at churches and synagogues was thirteen times greater, totalling 4.7 billion. More people attend worship every month than attend any sports whatever in the entire year. All evidence suggests that the pattern has not changed in the past twelve years. 88 percent of Americans belong to the Judeo-Christian heritage. But we have forgotten the secret of spiritual power is that when God's people cry out to Him He hears and sends refreshing and revival!

3. A CHURCH IN TOUCH WITH GOD WILL HAVE A CHANCE TO CALL THE NATION TO PURITY

God's people look to pass legislature and to take part in boycotts, and in various kinds of anti-this action or anti-that letter campaign. There is a place in the Church for these.

But this is a spiritual problem, and we must fight with spiritual weapons. God's people need to clean up our own acts! We are getting used to the sound of evil! We live in Sodom and Gomorrah, and we all too easily get used to hearing things that a few years ago would have shocked us beyond speaking.

4. YOUR CHILDREN AND MINE (Let alone "the world,") ARE NOT GOING TO AUTOMATICALLY LIVE CLEAN IN A DIRTY WORLD UNLESS WE ARE SERIOUS ABOUT OUR RELATIONSHIP WITH GOD!

The secret to saving our own children just now is not laws (first;) it is Jesus Christ as Lord of your home! Jesus Christ first in all that you do!

B. OUR PERSONAL LIVES MUST BE MADE PURE FROM THE INSIDE OUT, AS WELL. If society cannot be legislated into purity, neither can you simply force your inner self to be clean. If the uncleanness of our age has invaded your private world, you need to heed Christ's call to purity!

1. OWN WILL POWER CANNOT 'LEGISLATE' PURITY!. It is not a supreme act of will, to stop acting a certain way, or stop saying certain words, or stop thinking evil thoughts that will purify our hearts. We must bring our lives to the Cross. It is impossible for a person to cleanse his/her own mind and heart.
2. ONLY GOD WITHIN CAN MAKE AND KEEP US CLEAN It is possible to submit the mind and heart to God, and ask Him to undertake the job.

The key here is: submit.

What must be done is a simple surrender, an acknowledgment, saying, "Lord, I don't even know my own mind! But I am willing for You to take control, to make me willing, to cleanse my mind and heart!"

3. Addictions are strong! There must be submission to a stronger One. [The addictions of evil are many and varied. One pernicious one is pornography. Some of those in church today will have this addiction!]

CONCLUSION:

We are in a deadly battle for life itself! We will never learn to keep the Seventh Commandment, or the other five of Table Two until we remember the First Four!

Living Clean in a Dirty World

- Thou shalt have no other God's before me!
- Thou shalt not worship idols!
- Thou shalt not take the Name of the Lord thy God in vain!
- Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy!

When we bring God back into the equation, we will find purity, beginning in the center of our being!

Prayer

No. 490 (STL) O to Be like Thee (Verses 1 and 5 only)

The Question of Questions

August 25, 1996

THE QUESTION OF QUESTIONS

Matthew 16:13-20 (also Mark 8, Luke 9)

In the July 15 issue of Christianity Today this summer there was an amazing, almost unbelievable article. All my ministerial career no study or listing of heretical or quasi-Christian sects in America would have been complete without mentioning at least in passing the World Wide Church of God, founded by Herbert W. Armstrong. This article, by Ruth Tucker, fully endorsed by CT stated that the WWCG is now an orthodox Christian fellowship being welcomed into the Church of Jesus Christ. It seemed to me almost too good to be true— but after careful reading, I believe it is true.

The details are, in brief, that after the death of Herbert W. Armstrong the very authoritarian leadership passed to a man named Joseph Tkatch, Sr., who made the astounding statement that he was prepared to follow the whole counsel of the Bible and acknowledge any errors that may have been taught as God's way of salvation. The metamorphosis is too complicated to deal with in detail here; the WWCG had been very legalistic, teaching salvation by what seems to me to be a combination of OT rulings (no pork, no observation of Christmas, a myriad of other rules) and had specifically denied the Trinity— ruling that God the Father had no only begotten Son in Jesus Christ. It was in answering the question: WHO DO YOU SAY THAT I AM? that the WWCG entered into the true faith.

Of course the members of the WWCG had decisions to make as well. in 1986 they reported 89,000 members in the US. In 1996 after the momentous decision they now report 49,000 members. They have lost nearly half the people who were brought up believing what Herbert W. Armstrong had told them. But the 49,000 that remain belong now to a Christian denomination. And the central reason we can rejoice and believe that is the answer to the question Jesus asked the disciples that day in Casarea Philippi: WHO DO YOU SAY THAT I AM?

The Question of Questions

The one main reason that the Christian community can welcome the WWCG is that this great question was answered correctly— this question Jesus asked the disciples: Who do you say that I am?

Actually JESUS ASKED HIS DISCIPLES TWO QUESTIONS as they walked through the hills in the far north of the Holy land. The pace of their ministry had been fast and furious, but now they were alone on the road. JESUS ASKED FIRST: "WHO ARE PEOPLE SAYING THAT I AM?" The disciples needed to know what people thought of their Master, and so do we. (Many of the answers we will hear are "wrong" answers, just as the disciples reported to Jesus then: answers that contradict the clear teachings of the Bible. Some of these answers are simply ignorant or incomplete: Jesus was a great teacher, a martyr, or whatever. Many answers are probably "right" answers as well.

Every sermon, every good book, and even what Matthew Mark and Luke and John say about Jesus are right answers to this first question Jesus asked.) But what people say about Jesus tells more about them than it does about Him. Jesus is the great I AM. To have that knowledge is life itself. Who is Jesus?

It is the watershed question of all time.

It is the most important question in the world.

Actually when the question comes to you and me it has two parts:

WHO IS JESUS? is the first part. But the second part is: WHO IS JESUS TO YOU?

When Jesus asked THE BIG QUESTION to the disciples, Peter, of course, gave the right answer. He was like the little kid that sat in the front row in your fourth grade class and had her hand up all the time. Peter always had something to say. This time he hit the nail on the head. "You are the Christ! You are Messiah! You are the Son of the Living God!"

Jesus' response was immediate— and he said, "Blessed are you Simon, son of John! This idea didn't just come out of your own head— it was a revelation from my Father, God, in heaven!" And then Jesus went on to say that this faith, this revealed confession of Peter is foundational to the very kingdom of God!

This is fine when it is a story about the disciples long ago. But when Jesus asks us here and now, today, "Who are you saying that I AM?" it becomes a living issue. IT MAKES AN HONEST PASTOR STOP AND THINK...(how do I answer it?)

A couple of years ago Rev. Martin Copenhaver, of Wellesley Congregational Church, preached on this same passage. He had been to a pastor's seminar where Michael Greene from Britain, a scholar of the history of evangelism, had challenged a group of pastors with "When is the last time you told your congregation what Jesus means to YOU?" Later Pastor Copenhaver wrote in his study "As a pastor I talk a good deal about Jesus, but do i say what Jesus means to me?" He decided he would try to do just that.

In his sermon he said, "As a pastor in the UCC our forebears in the faith worried that they might be taken for heretics. Today we UCC people seem to be more worried about being taken for fundamentalists" So in personal, devotional terms Pastor Copenhaver tried to tell his people what Jesus Christ meant to him.

Evidently the sermon was quite a personal testimony. After the service Pastor Copenhaver noticed on dear lady whom he respected as one of the 'saints in Zion'— she came past to shake his hand, and could not speak. So she went around and came past again, to give herself time to compose herself. When she finally came the second time she simply said, "Why didn't you tell us this before?"

Copenhaver wrote: "I did not know how to respond. Now her question, along with Michael Greene's, continues to haunt me."

I have wrestled with the question again this week. I can answer it professionally with not too much trouble. But really, how do I answer honestly who I say Jesus is? How do YOU? What do we say?

The Question of Questions

The Apostle's Creed? Sure. Orthodox answers ? Jesus can build his church on those answers, especially as they come from a sincere and seeking heart.

But how about searching, honest answers: "I don't really talk about Jesus all that much!" or "I used to think I knew Jesus when i was younger— now I'm not so sure I know as much as I thought I did?" It may be true that a maturing faith sometimes requires new revelation. The battle doesn't get easier— but the love does deepen and grow. No matter how well we know Jesus he seems to keep growing and growing...

Who is Jesus to me? How can I tell you honestly? ...

Jesus is a PRESENCE! I have never seen him, but I cannot imagine life without Him. I talk to Him. I listen for him. I wish I could hear his voice— but he does speak to me from time to time, as I'm sure he does to you as well.

Jesus is A FRIEND. But a friend with a capital "F." he is not my peer. He is not someone I consult with before I decide whether or not to do his will. There are many decisions I have to make, and Jesus lets me make them, along with my share of mistakes. But when I know— when Jesus makes it clear that this is or is not his will— there is no decision further. i have already decided years ago that i will follow my Friend.

Jesus LOVES ME! I confess I don't know why. It is sometimes hard for me to believe. But I DO believe it! I learned "Jesus loves me this I know" before I can remember. I never knew a time when I didn't know that and sing that. But this love has been dawning on me, little by little, more and more, for all the years of my life! I really want to return that love!

... I really want to answer that question with my life!

HOW DO WE ANSWER THAT QUESTION IN TESTIMONY TO OUR WORLD?

Can a fellowship, or an institution "answer" the question: "WHO DO YOU SAY JESUS IS?" (Both parts? A lot of churches can say "This is who Jesus is!" But can we answer "This is who Jesus is to US?")

HOW YOU THINK OUR DENOMINATION MIGHT ANSWER?

HOW WOULD THIS FELLOWSHIP, THE WOLLASTON CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE ANSWER THIS QUESTION? (Doctrinal words are vital— important. The SPIRIT of Jesus is EVERYTHING!)

Do we say "Jesus is LORD!" by the spirit of our fellowship? Does JESUS at the center make us any different than we would be without Him at all? Can we show Jesus to others? I believe we can. By faith I believe we WILL. And I believe that is what Jesus meant by saying this is how he will build his church.

PETER DID NOT KNOW THAT DAY HOW WELL HE HAD ANSWERED!

Years later Peter had perspective on that day when Jesus called him "a rock." He was writing to the churches.. and he was thinking "Jesus called me "a rock!" I see now— Jesus is the Cornerstone. And we Christians are all living stones that Jesus is building into a habitation of the living God! The church is made of people who can say "Jesus is LORD!" Then he wrote these wonderful words that in part define the church: (I Peter 2: 9,10)

Coming to (Jesus) as to a living stone, rejected indeed by men, but chosen by God and precious, you also, as living stones, are being built up a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ . . . (9) ...you are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, His own special people, that you may proclaim the praises of Him who called you out of darkness into His marvelous light; who once were not a people but are now the people of God, who had not obtained mercy but now have obtained mercy.

OUR WITNESS, IF NOT OUR SALVATION, hangs on how we answer that question Jesus asked the disciples so many years ago.

WHO DO YOU SAY JESUS IS?

- With your understanding: do you believe he is God's Son?
- With your emotions: Do you say you LOVE Jesus?
- With you WILL: Do you accept Jesus as your Master and Lord?

The Question of Questions

HOW DO YOU ANSWER IT, PERSONALLY? HOW DO I?

Prayer

576 [STL] Jesus Is All the World to Me, or

#142 [STL] Wonderful Savior

What is in a Name?

August 25, 1996 pm

Hebrews 11:23-29

The Bible tells us, in Exodus chapter 2, that Pharaoh's daughter named Moses. She found this little baby boy in a bassinet in the bulrushes, and gave him the name, Moses, which means "drawn out." It was to be a very prophetic name.

For God is the hero of the Book of Exodus, but Moses is the human instrument that God chooses to "draw out" his people from Egyptian slavery, and with strong leadership oversee their formation into a nation, a people that has strong identity to this very day, 4,000 years later. The keeping of the Passover which Moses kept "by faith" as the Hebrews passage tells us, is still a central part of Jewish faith.

The central figure of Exodus, I repeat, is God Himself. Exodus is still a vital study— a vital message for people of faith. The message of Exodus is a statement about the very nature of God. It is a statement about salvation as deliverance from bondage. It is a call to the freedom of following God into His promises.

But you can't fully understand Exodus unless you know a little bit about Moses. Moses comes across to us across the ages as a mighty man. We have seen Moses portrayed in sculpture as tremendously impressive, a magnificent general, an imposing figure. And so perhaps he was. But the Bible tells us that Moses was the meekest man who ever lived. Meek is an interesting word. It means strength under control. Moses may have had a big ego— but he never let it dominate him!

Moses' life divides neatly into three segments of forty years each. The part of his life for which he is famous began when he was turning 80 years old. And the Bible says that although he lived to be 120 years of age he was vital and strong right up until the day of his death.

Moses literally changed his world. Through his contact with God he gave us the Ten Commandments that are the foundation of our Judeo-Christian heritage. But all this because one day Moses met God, and believed what God told him, and then Moses held on and "endured" because, as the text says, "Moses saw the one who is invisible." In other words, Moses had faith to trust and obey God.

What is in a Name?

But it certainly didn't come easy for Moses.

For the first 40 years Moses led a highly privileged life. He had many advantages— which God could use later on, perhaps. Perhaps Moses had to "overcome" some of his advantages. Perhaps he knew he was (1) a miracle, special; and so though he could do whatever he, Moses, thought was right all by himself. Moses also (2) knew he was highly trained—skilled—educated— and felt he could analyze what people needed. Moses (3) was action oriented— and ready to DO something about what he saw as injustice. But Moses forgot one small detail. Moses forgot God.

So— magnificent sacrifice,, and tremendous idealism— all Moses' best efforts were for nothing. Moses failed!

For the second 40 years of Moses' life Moses was pretty much out of circulation. He had to flee for his life as a murderer, even though he was saving a man's life when he killed the Egyptian. What a frustrating time this must have been for Moses. He was on a desert, keeping sheep. Have you ever been in a place where the landscape seems so vast that human beings seem so small they shrink down to nearly invisible? Moses kept getting "smaller and smaller..." Or, perhaps Moses simply thought his life was in the past— and perhaps this is where that powerful meekness developed. After 40 years on the desert, feeling smaller and smaller, one day God finally said, "Moses, you are now small enough that I can use you! I have a job for you! Come here!

That third and last period of 40 years of Moses' life was immediately preceded by a personal contact with God. Exodus chapter 3 is one of those wonderful seminal stories. Moses sees a bush burning— perhaps he had seen bushes burning several times before. But as he watched this bush was not consumed- It kept burning and burning— until Moses travelled the distance to draw near to see what was going on. You know the story. God spoke:

"Moses, put off your shoes! You are on holy ground!"

Moses met God. Moses heard a new "name" for God that was never heard before, and that still challenges us to worship and awe. God is the great I AM THAT I AM! Moses argued with God— but not the argument of pride or When Moses was ready to go God's way—wholly— the way of faith— then he was ready to accomplish more than he ever dreamed possible. A powerless group of slaves was not only set free— they became a nation— a people— and have retained their identity across 4 millenia!

WE are called to that freedom! I Peter 2:9, 10

Exodus is still a vital message for the church of God.

God still hears people who cry to him in their bondage in sin and injustice.

God still asks people to call other people to freedom. (Even when, like Moses, they say, "Who, me??" Perhaps especially, or even ONLY when they realize they need God so very much!)

God is saying "I am calling YOU to be my people!

God is saying, "I am asking YOU to tell someone they can go free!"

The Call to Stand on Holy Ground

The Exodus Series, Part 1 of 4

1. The Call to Stand on Holy Ground
2. Pathway to Salvation
3. Crossing the Red Sea
4. Angels in the Treetops

September 1, 1996

Exodus 3:1-10

Most of the people you meet each day, good bad or indifferent, live by their wits in this dog-eat-dog world and never think about God at all. If they ever do consciously think of God they probably think in terms of restrictions and oughts and shoulds. But at the same time most of the people we meet each day at some time or other have stopped and asked themselves the question, "Is this what life is all about?" For when we live by our wits or not, life is full of hard places.

If we were to be brutally honest, it isn't just the most of the people we meet that are frustrated with life at times— and who do not think of God most of the time. People LIKE YOU AND ME who should know better, or who may have been taught better, or even people who in earlier times at a youth camp somewhere or a revival meeting or a VBS made a commitment to God find that they can live a whole day a whole week a whole month without ever looking to God, and then one day ask that same question, "Is this what life is all about? Isn't there more than this?"

THIS IS WHERE THE EXODUS STORY COMES IN....

In the most modern, progressive, intelligent civilization the world had known to that time— a nation that had already produced man-made wonders like the great pyramids of Giza that were evidence of knowledge of celestial orbits— in that nation were several hundred thousand men, women and children who were descendants of the Hebrew Patriarchs. Four hundred years earlier Jacob had taken his tribe in a time of famine into Egypt, following his son Joseph who was viceroy of the entire land. They had been honored guests of the Pharaoh. At that time there were a total of 72 Hebrews.

The Call to Stand on Holy Ground

But in the intervening 400 years governments had changed, and generations had passed and now the Egyptians had brutally dominated the Hebrews. The descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob were reduced to living by their wits in the absence of God— or so they thought. But from time to time they raised their heads and hearts and voices and said, "O God! Is this all there is to life?" And so far as they knew — nothing! Nothing happened! Day followed day, and nothing happened.

WHAT A GREAT STORY THIS IS!!

Just as these people were praying almost in despair— several hundred miles to the southeast there was a solitary shepherd on the backside of the desert near a mountain called Horeb. He looked like any other shepherd, perhaps. He was a shepherd with a very interesting life story. He had been a prince. He tried being a hero. He became a fugitive. I have no idea what was going through this man's mind as he stood, a tiny isolated little speck of humanity in a vast dry wasteland south of the Negev. But Moses was about to have an encounter with God.

GOD MEETS ONE LONE MAN IN THE MIDDLE OF A BARREN DESERT—

The man, Moses, saw a fire. It was a fire that burned and burned and burned. Moses turned aside to see it. (Significant!) The scripture says (4) "When the LORD saw that (Moses) turned aside..." then Moses was confronted with Almighty God. Moses was drawn, but he was also almost in terror. It was electrifying.

After more than 3,000 years this story has tremendous significance. For it tells in language deeper than words can express, to those who will listen, something about what happens when we come into living contact with God.

THE WONDER OF GOD REACHING TO A HUMAN BEING

[All Moses could do was "draw near"...not generate the experience; also extreme reverence of Jews for this name "YHWH" and LORD in our OT...]

Rudolph Otto, a respected German scholar, used three Latin adjectives to describe encounters with God in the Bible in general, and this Burning Bush story in particular. Those three words are tremendum, and mysterium, and fascinans.

Tremendum: Otto used the word tremendum to express three aspects of a divine-human encounter. First, he said was (1) A sense of awe. It is, in his words, "a quite specific kind of emotional response, wholly distinct from that of being afraid, though it so far resembles it that the analogy of fear may be used to throw light upon its nature." The Scripture says "Moses hid his face for he was afraid to look at God." Later, when God had brought all the people to this place again they, too, were afraid and trembled and stood at a distance.

But there is more. Tremendum means also (2) an overpowering, a majesty— a majestic distance— realizing the infinite difference between the ineffable God and our mortal humanity. The prophet Habakkuk said: "I hear, and I tremble within; my lips quiver at the sound. Rottenness enters my bones, and my steps tremble beneath me." Daniel said, "My strength left me, and my complexion grew pale, and I retained no strength." Both these men stated later that they felt greatly beloved and yet they were shaken physically and mentally and spiritually.

Finally tremendum has elements of what can only be described as (3) sheer "energy." The "energy" is sometimes represented in fantastic ways— Ezekiel's wheels within wheels— the four living creatures of Revelation— even the picture of the living Savior in Revelation chapter one— (words like Psalm 29: 5 - 9)

The voice of the LORD breaks the cedars; the LORD breaks the cedars of Lebanon. He makes Lebanon skip like a calf, And Sirion like a young wild ox. The voice of the LORD flashes forth flames of fire, The voice of the LORD shakes the wilderness; the LORD shakes the wilderness of Kadesh. The voices of the LORD causes the oaks to whirl, and strips the forest bare; and in his temple all say, "Glory!")

"Awe" like Abram in Genesis 15 when "a horror" came over him as God passed between the pieces of the sacrifice "Overpowering" like Habakkuk who says, "I hear, and I tremble within; my lips quiver at the sound. Rottenness enters my bones, and my steps tremble beneath me." Energy beyond any human-generated excitement!

The Call to Stand on Holy Ground

[THAT IS A LONG WAY FROM BODY SURFING AT A JESUS ROCK CONCERT]

But AWE is not all when God asks us to turn aside: [Another word:]

Mysterium: Encounters with God can never be really described. And they cannot be duplicated or summoned up at will. Ezekiel is never ever willing to say he saw God or even God's glory— but he IS willing to say he saw something LIKE the glory of God:

And above the dome over their heads there was something LIKE a throne, in appearance LIKE a sapphire, and seated above the likeness of the throne was something that SEEMED like a human form..." and so on.

When the Bible tells about people coming into contact with God it never confuses this great I AM THAT I AM with the physical setting nor does it give any glory to the humans involved. God is not in the whirlwinds or the fire or in the burning bush or even in the mountain or the tablets of stone. Moses does not fast and pray until God has to do as Moses says. There is always mystery involved when the great God reaches out to communicate with people.

One might say God has a big problem. How does he get near to us without on the one hand consuming us with his energy, and on the other hand convince us that He really is interested in us if we will listen and respond in humility and faith. There will always be mystery.

[Finally— and wonderfully— there is another aspect:]

Fascinans: The final adjective Rudolph Otto uses to describe encounters with God is fascinans, or the root word for "fascination." There is a tremendous attraction within the human heart for the holiness of God. For God is white hot passionate caring LOVE. To think that someone just simply downright LOVES you is just about the most fascinating thing in the world.

"Love" of some kind or other is the dynamic that drives most of the dramas and novels of the world— the concept of loving and being loved. But no love can compare with the purity and intensity of the LOVE that emanates from an encounter with God.

Awe. Mystery. Great fascination! Moses is awed. He covers his face. He certainly does not understand. But what is this— this I AM THAT I AM finally saying to Moses?

THIS GREAT GOD CARES ABOUT PEOPLE

He is saying, to Moses,

"I have been listening to a bunch of people who are living by their wits, and who haven't really ever thought much of Me, except that I am "absent" from their lives. I have been hearing them ask 'Is this all there is to life?' And I have even heard some of them cry poor, broken prayers like, "O God, if there IS a God— like I have heard about in fairy tales and myths and stories about Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob— why don't you show up here and help me? ' Well, Moses, I AM is going to show up! And GUESS WHO is going to introduce ME and begin the process of answering their prayers??"

God went on to say that the proof that He was really God would be that right here— right at the base of this mountain— one day you will be standing with those very people who are praying to Me right now— and together you will worship. And then, and then only, the fire disappeared. It did not "go out." It simply was gone, and there stood Moses all alone in the vast expanse of desert.

THERE IS A CONNECTION, OF COURSE, BETWEEN THE PEOPLE IN EGYPT ASKING "IS THIS ALL THERE IS TO LIFE?" AND THE BURNING BUSH EXPERIENCE OF MOSES— DO YOU THINK THERE MIGHT BE A CONNECTION OF GENUINE WORSHIP AND GOD'S LOVE FOR PEOPLE "OUT THERE"??

A lot of things happened in the next few months to Moses and to Egypt and the people who were slaves but were to become the people of God. Great miracles took place, and God nearly destroyed Egypt getting the people out and away from their old masters. But the bottom line is this: one man met God— Almighty God— and obeyed Him. When this one man invited the slaves in Egypt to follow God they believed him, they responded to the promises of this God. And one day the living descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob stood at the Mountain of God, and they saw the fire and they experienced tremendum, and they experienced mysterium, and yet at the same time they knew fascinans.

The Call to Stand on Holy Ground

When WE think of the Exodus we think of the details of the journey— the parting of the sea, the manna, the water from the rock— and that is only natural.

But really Exodus is about a God of fire and holiness and mystery who calls people to look up and believe and to walk with Him and trust Him and find they have never been so free and so happy. Exodus is about being drawn out of life that goes around in circles into a life that ascends in spirals that never, ever, ever end. Exodus is about an invitation to fellowship with the eternal God, the I AM THAT I AM.

THE WONDER OF EXODUS IS THAT GOD WANTS TO COME NEAR HIS PEOPLE AND NEVER, NEVER LEAVE THEM AGAIN!

So— who are we? and where is God? Are we saying "Is THIS all?" Can we ever see God inviting us to come nearer to Him? Will we take time to "turn aside"??

THE MESSAGE OF EXODUS IS THAT ORDINARY PEOPLE CAN EXPERIENCE THE TREMENDUM AND THE MYSTERIUM AND CERTAINLY THE FASCINANS OF COMING INTO GOD'S PRESENCE— AND THAT ORDINARY PEOPLE CAN WALK WITH GOD AND NEVER NEED TO LEAVE HIS FELLOWSHIP EVER AGAIN.

Prayer - 133 I Love You Lord — [Alleluia! Alleluia!]

Passover Transformed

September 1, 1996 pm

Exodus 12:12-13; Luke 22:14-20

The wonder of this table of the Lord began 4,000 years ago in the homes of slave people in Egypt. Before there were Ten Commandments as such, and before one Hebrew slave had crossed the Red Sea into the freedom of the desert, and before, even, the ethnic group had become an organized nation, there was the Passover meal.

It began as a table of promise.

It was also a table of protection.

It was the result of sacrifice. Life blood was involved, it was a solemn thing.

Through Moses God told all of Egypt that judgment was coming, and that the Angel of Death would visit every home.

Through Moses God also told them that if they would sacrifice a special, unblemished lamb, whose roasted body would be food to give strength for the journey out of bondage, and whose blood would be sprinkled on the doors of houses of faith, the Angel of Death would see the faith of the household and would Pass Over that house as God promised.

Now, 4,000 years later the people called Jews still celebrate this night when God made and kept a promise, and they began to become a special people, the people of God. And now, 4,000 years later in the sacrament of the church we call the Eucharist we remember that night as well.

For the night Jesus was betrayed and arrested, the night before he was crucified, was Passover, and Jesus was eating that meal with his beloved disciples. And for us Christians Jesus changed the significance of that meal forever.

The Paschal Lamb of sacrifice in Egypt in and of itself never had any power to keep the Death Angel away. The power was in God's promise, and the Paschal Lamb was always a symbol and emblem of the One Holy Lamb of God which was yet to be sacrificed. It was in and of itself just ordinary food. But in obedience to God's promise it entered into the reality of that night. The homes where the blood was sprinkled on the lintel and doorposts were spared. The homes that ignored the promise were bereft. Wailing was heard throughout Egypt.

These humble elements of bread and wine are like that Paschal Lamb. In and of themselves they are ordinary food, and certainly by their size, no meal at all. But to those who enter into the promise of God, who look to Jesus Christ as our Paschal Lamb, these emblems become a true means of God's grace.

Before one Hebrew slave had crossed the Red Sea into the freedom of the desert, and before, even, the ethnic group had become an organized nation, there was the Passover meal. The invitation into God's family is something like that. It is of grace. Before you do one work of righteousness— or before you turn over a new leaf— while you are still a slave in trespasses and sins Jesus calls to you— THERE IS A SACRIFICE FOR YOUR SINS! COME, LOOK UP, BELIEVE— BE SAVED!

The Passover began as a table of promise.

It was also a table of protection.

So this table— Holy Communion— is for those who believe, a promise.

It is a table of family solidarity.

It is a table of comfort and strength

Prayer

Chorus: In My Life, Lord, Be Glorified

THE HOLY COMMUNION

The Law Read and Confession Made

The Lord Jesus Christ has said to us: "Thou shalt love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the first and great commandment. The second is like unto it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets."

Shall we pray:

Search us, O God, and know our most private thoughts. Try us, and show unto us the deepest motives, the real state of our hearts. Forgive us where we have been selfish, or insensitive, or sinful in any way. We cannot keep the Great Commandment, and truly love You, O God, with all our heart, soul, and mind unless You in mercy grant to us the grace of Your indwelling Spirit. We cannot love each other as we should unless Your love is shed abroad in our hearts.

Brothers and sisters, let us search our hearts. In silence let us ask God to draw us near to Himself so that we can come to his table with confidence.

We do not presume to come to this table, O God, trusting in our own righteousness, but in your great mercy and grace. Grant us to eat the Bread of heaven, and drink the blood shed for the remission of sins, that we may live in Christ, and Christ may live in us forever. Amen

Let us confess our faith:

The Nicene Creed (STL # 14)

The Informal Invitation ("This is not my table . . . ")

Holy and gracious Father; in your infinite love you made us for yourself; and, when we had fallen into sin, and were worthy of death and hell, you, in your mercy sent Jesus Christ, your only and eternal Son to share our human nature, to live and die as one of us, to reconcile us to You, the God and Father of all.

He stretched out his arms upon the cross, and offered himself in obedience to your will, a perfect sacrifice for the whole world.

The Words of Institution:

On the night in which he was betrayed our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had give thanks to You he broke it and gave it to his disciples and said, "Take eat:

Passover Transformed

THIS IS MY BODY, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me.

After supper he took the cup and when he had give thanks he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you; THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink this, do it in remembrance of me: Amen

We praise you for the mystery of our salvation! We truly believe

Christ has died!

Christ is risen!

Christ will come again!

Bless these emblems, O God, and make them to us the Body and Blood of your Son, spiritual food, and spiritual drink of new and unending life in Jesus Christ.

And now, together, we pray, as Jesus taught us:

Our Father which art in heaven . . .

Now, humbly we receive the Gifts of God for the People of God

Pathway to Salvation

The Exodus Series, Part 2 of 4

1. The Call to Stand on Holy Ground
2. Pathway to Salvation
3. Crossing the Red Sea
4. Angels in the Treetops

September 8, 1996

Exodus 12:1-14

Matthew 18:15-20

The Exodus Begins

A CHALLENGE TO BELIEVE

As the story of Exodus began, the descendants of Jacob were living by their wits as best they could, surviving as virtual slaves in an alien culture. From time to time they cried out to God, "Is this all there is?" Then one day word went around the Hebrew quarters that a Bedouin shepherd had appeared claiming to be Moses, one of their own, a descendent of the patriarch Levi. This sunburned shepherd said that he had a message from the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

Deep in their hearts a spark of hope kindled. They wanted to believe, but believing is always a challenge. That spark of hope, when it is genuine, is beyond words of merely human persuasion. Revelation and faith never explain the mystery of God. Over the next days and weeks they became convinced that the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, whom they now began to know as Yahweh, really had heard their prayers of despair. They decided to follow Moses as he followed God.

God's directions then became more specific. The word came that they were to begin to prepare to leave Egypt forever. They would be leaving in a time of crisis. They would be leaving in a hurry, probably in the early morning hours just about dawn, on a day sometime in the near future. They were told to pack up, and be ready at a moment's notice. In preparation for their final meal they were to get a supply of unleavened bread. They were to bring a yearling lamb into the houses. They would be told the night before that this was the night.

Four days after these preparations had been made the word went out: this is the night! Kill the lambs, and roast them. Cook the first batch of unleavened bread. Families— eat together and don't go out until morning— this is it! Passover was under way. Exodus had begun.

The path of salvation begins with OBEDIENCE BEFORE THE MYSTERY OF GOD'S WORD - "when I see the blood I will pass over you"

It took courage for them to come together and decide that they would believe the God of their great fathers. Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. It took faith for them to obey orders even when they could not grasp the significance of what they were doing. That faith was expressed in simple obedience.

God's directions given through Moses and Aaron went beyond what they could understand. The idea of eating meat for strength, and unleavened bread that would not spoil along the way would seem to make sense. But they were to sprinkle the blood of the lamb on the sides and top of the door to their homes. It would be a sign and symbol of obedience. That did not "make sense." They simply obeyed!

The significance of the blood was different from all other blood sacrifices of pagan religions, even though blood sacrifice is common; this was somehow very different. The Passover represented great respect for life itself; blood, representing life, became very sacred to God's people. The Passover demanded obedience in this mystery of respect for life. That obedience was the sprinkling of the blood on the lintels and doorposts of those who believed. It may not "make sense." But 4,000 years later our Jewish neighbors remember the Passover with reverence.

I think I hear echoes of this incredulity at times, 4,000 years later, when people trying to simplify the mystery of the Cross of Christ. We can understand the need for the good and kind things Jesus taught, but why do we need to speak of the Body and Blood of Jesus? We have managed to find fault with all the old theories of atonement, (ransom, substitution, redemption, etc.) even though each of them probably has some facet of truth from the scriptures. Some evangelical Christians have pretty much ended up where the liberals were nearly 100 years ago. Jesus is to them an example and a martyr.

A Holy Mystery is exactly what we are challenged to embrace when we come seeking the freedom from sin we call the God-life. Paul writes "While we were still dead in our sin, Christ died for us!" Peter tells us that as a lamb without blemish, Jesus shed his precious blood so that we might have eternal life. And Jesus Himself said (John 6) unless we eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink His blood, we have no part in Him. It is in Christ's DEATH that our life begins! That was exactly when multitudes left him. (see John 6:66.)

Sophisticates tell us they have gone beyond the message of the cross. But the mystery we celebrate is Jesus Christ has died! Jesus Christ is risen! Jesus Christ is coming again! The CROSS, the Lamb of God, is at the very HEART of our salvation! Thank God if you can believe! If you can and will, you are SAVED!!

The path to salvation continues with

THE DISCIPLINE OF A COMMUNITY OF HOPE

- "having loins girded; your shoes on— eat it in haste.."

The slaves were on their way— but they had not yet arrived. They had a long, hard journey ahead of them. They were not a nation, a people— but God was bringing them together. In the same way when we have come to the Cross and our sins are forgiven and we are baptized we have eternal life, and we have also begun a long journey. To believe God is to begin the discipline of the community of hope.

It is God's plan that every born again Christian have a place in the community of hope. Another word for Christian is "disciple." And that sounds like discipline. Paul says, "Lay aside every hindrance— and the sin that does so easily best— and run with discipline the race that is set before US— looking unto Jesus!"

The first major stop on the Exodus journey as the slaves began to become God's own holy nation was at the mountain where God had first met Moses. There they received holy commandments for living— Ten Commandments that have never been repealed. I will not go into detail in this sermon about the commandments. The epistle lesson reminds us, however, that God's people live by disciplines of obedience to God, and of caring and respect for personality. The commandments and ordinances and rules of God are not harsh and arbitrary. God saves us, and as we meet at the foot of the cross we realize we are not alone. We gladly embrace the discipline of the people of hope.

But mere discipline is not quite enough. God's way is not just keeping rules, and doing right and not doing wrong. The path of salvation intends that we all come to ...

FAITHFULNESS EMERGING AS GENUINE LOVE

To band together in mutual need is one thing— to become one in heart and spirit is quite another. The end God has in mind is not simply to get the people out of Egypt— or even to get the Egypt out of the people— and finally, not even to get the people over into Canaan where they each have a house and vine and fig tree— where the milk and honey flows— but the bottom line is LOVE! WE ARE NOT THE CHURCH GOD INTENDS US TO BE UNTIL WE "AGREE" IN LOVE!

Our God is a God of fierce, passionate, white-hot LOVE! He wants his people to love Him. He wants them to know He loves them! He wants them to love each other and show the world how life can be lived.

This kind of love didn't fully happen there in the desert— and really is hasn't happened too many times in the Christian era, either. But where people press through the mystery of obedience, into the discipline of a community of hope— they come into the challenge of seeing their faithfulness emerging as genuine love.

The Gospel lesson says that when just two people AGREE in prayer God will answer with power. What sort of AGREEMENT do you suppose this can be? What does it mean? There is power, Jesus would have us to know, when people forget their selfish agendas and unite to seek the whole will of God. Promises that underscore the power of prayer are easily twisted and misunderstood. "Ask what YOU will—" "Ask in MY name..." "If two of you AGREE..." What do these promises mean?

To agree to follow Jesus— to set aside selfishness— is to risk finding out what the promises mean! It is risking the awe and the mystery and the fascination of having God move in and show us how we should live.

In his book The Acting Person, the man who once was Cardinal Karyl Wojtyla gave two authentic and two inauthentic ways people act and react in community. He called the two authentic ways solidarity, which i would call "agreeing," and opposition. The two inauthentic ways are conforming (which i would call "going along passively" and non-involvement. We can betray love by saying "yes" when we should say a loving "no!" We can betray love by refusing to take an active part in the redemptive community. But when as many as two people really AGREE that they are going to follow Jesus, then things must happen, good things— eternal things.

These are milestones along the pathway of salvation: deliverance from sin, to taking part in the community of hope, to learning to agree in love to seek and do God's will, God wants us to be His body, His people, the CHURCH! I close with the "text" of this Exodus story, 1 Peter 2:9,10:

But you are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, His own special people, that you may proclaim the praises of Him who called you out of darkness into His marvelous light; who once were not a people but are now the people of God, who once had not obtained mercy but now have obtained mercy.

Prayer

Hymn 452 When I See the Blood (v1,2,4)

Crossing the Red Sea

The Exodus Series, Part 3 of 4

1. The Call to Stand on Holy Ground
2. Pathway to Salvation
3. Crossing the Red Sea
4. Angels in the Treetops

Crossing the Red Sea

September 15, 1996

Exodus 14:19-31; Matthew 18:21-35

The night of the Passover had come and gone. The slaves were streaming out of Egypt on their way to the birth of a new nation, to becoming the people of God. They were free, at least for the time being. They had been set free in what can only be called a miraculous way. Now they were being directed by a miracle, following a visible pillar of cloud by day that became a glowing fire by night.

You would think that with freedom, and with the sense of doing God's will, life would immediately be much better. In fact, life almost immediately became much more challenging. Living by faith is not for the faint of heart.

There is a certain bogus security in being a prisoner and a slave. Life within the walls of a prison is probably somewhat predictable. But now even that wispy security was gone. God's special people couldn't simply live by their wits any longer. They were learning to follow God's word, and live by faith. So— shortly after the miracle of Passover the people who were being called out by God found themselves facing a life-threatening crisis. They were being introduced to grace.

Pharaoh was in a rage. After the first awful shock and panic of the loss of his first-born son his pain and sorrow turned to bitter hatred. He assembled his armies and began pursuit. He intended to round up his former slaves and punish them. They would now have a slavery worse than they had had before.

Crossing the Red Sea

Pharaoh had all the weapons of war, the slaves had none. The refugee-like columns of Israel were marching themselves right up against the barrier of the waters of a sea. The position of the Israelites was without any visible way out. Behind was slavery. Ahead was impossible. What good could the Passover be if they were going to simply be killed or recaptured?

But then a way appeared. It was the way of grace. The obstacle they faced, once it was behind them, became a barrier between them and the country that had enslaved them. The Red Sea actually was only the first of many, many challenges the people of God faced. And every time they could fail and die in unbelief, or, they could look for the way of grace.

It is a real "stretch" to connect the Red Sea crossing of Exodus to today's gospel lesson from Matthew 18 on forgiveness. But we, too, [like the Israelites] are learning to live by faith, learning to trust the God of grace. We are called into the life of faith by the love of God. We believe the story of the Cross and begin to follow Christ. Then we find that this life of faith is a pathway of challenges. This world does not surrender its prisoners easily. We can surrender and go back— or we can do the impossible and go straight ahead. There are challenges that can only be met by walking straight ahead in God's way of grace .

One of the BIG obstacles we face as Christians AFTER we have started out by faith along the path of salvation is how to handle the matter of forgiveness. Forgiveness is of the essence of grace. It is God's way of dealing with us, and with our sins. That is what we usually think of as the heart of "being saved:" OUR sins are forgiven.

But then we discover that God is expecting us to treat OTHERS the way He has treated us. We discover that God wants us to forgive ourselves, and forgive our parents, and forgive our enemies, and simply move away from condemnation and guilt forever. Jesus knew it would be an ongoing struggle, for he taught us to pray "Forgive us whatever we do wrong...as we forgive all those who do any wrong to us!" [and then Jesus commented on that part of the prayer: "If you do not forgive, neither will your heavenly Father forgive you.."]

The way of grace is revealed particularly in this matter of forgiveness. Several factors in the nature of grace present themselves:

1. GRACE IS OF GOD: THE SLAVES—are powerless until God sends them Moses; WE are powerless to save ourselves. Then God speaks through His Word, by His Spirit—we believe and are saved. Then we begin to discover:
2. GRACE IS RELATIONAL. Grace begins with trust toward God. But grace continues in the community of hope. We begin to learn to trust and love each other as well. The Exodus narrative is not as explicit just at this point; it is later. But in the Epistle lesson today (Romans 14:7) Paul says flat out: "No one lives to himself, no one dies to himself." We live to the Lord and for one another.

Just how important is this lesson of relational grace?

Bitterness, hidden resentments, unresolved conflicts can keep Christians from knowing God's perfect freedom and grace just as certainly as the Red Sea could keep the Hebrew children from getting away from raging Pharaoh. Not to forgive acts as a block to receiving grace. A clenched fist can not receive God's free gift. But there is more about the nature of grace:

3. GRACE IS 'NOT FAIR.' That is great when it comes to your sins and mine: we don't want what we deserve. But when we begin to think about forgiving people who have done US wrong it often is another story. Grace is "not fair"—it "goes beyond."

Peter's question "How many times should I forgive??" seems to indicate that Peter was thinking about the high cost of being generous in forgiving. Seven times may be generous for Peter, and for us as well, but God isn't into keeping score. Peter's question also gives insight into God's kind of forgiveness: God's grace is extravagant. God challenges His people to live beyond bitterness and revenge and hatred as well.

How does God help us deal with the challenges of spirit that come after we have begun this way of faith? Especially, how does God help us forgive, and ask forgiveness, and relate in honesty to Him, and to ourselves, and to one another? Believe me, it takes as great a miracle as parting the Red Sea! But that miracle is available.

Reprieve to story: God did not abandon the people of faith— he (1) went behind them and kept them safe until they could get moving; He (2) went before them to show them the way through the waters. The "obstacle" that seemed to be absolutely impassable now became a barrier to the old way of life.

That is the way obedience works: seeking and finding and giving forgiveness from the heart releases grace.

One last thing about the nature of grace:

4. GRACE IS PRESENT HERE AND NOW

These scripture words are far more than just an interesting history story. Some of you are like the people who were learning to know God and walk by faith. You are face to face with the Red Sea of the need for forgiveness. You ask: Can God really forgive me? or, perhaps, "How can I believe and receive the freedom I want to know in my life while I find it hard to let go of the bitterness and forgive someone who has made life hard for me?"

Prayer - Then #84 - into #85 Grace Greater than our Sin/ Amazing Grace

Giving God the If Only

September 15, 1996 pm

2 Samuel 23:13-17

The exact time in David's life that this story took place is not clear. We do know several things:

1. David is in hiding, threatened, being pursued by King Saul. He is at times emotionally drained and overwhelmed (as his Psalms reflect.)
2. David has an as-yet unfulfilled promise: he has been anointed to be king over Israel. To his everlasting credit, David has not insisted on his rights. Instead he has waited on God to open the doors.
3. We know also that David's home town of Bethlehem is in the hands of the Philistines. And in it all David is very much "down." He is not having a good day.

IF ONLY FEELINGS COME TO US ALL . .

The reason this story appeals to us is that we can all identify with David. (He doesn't tell it like it ought to be—but like it is!) David's UNIQUE situation is also often UNIVERSAL experience:

1. Aware of God's PROMISES (God wants me, God loves me, God wants to use me) and in a sense believing, but at the same time
2. Very much aware of problems and circumstances. There is a temptation to think that God doesn't REALLY understand OUR situation— how WE feel just now. We're tempted to think God doesn't care when we hurt. Tempted to feel that somehow we shouldn't ever be "down" when others who don't believe at all are better off. We face the prospects of a long hard pull with no change in sight.
3. And right here comes the temptation to take a short-cut. Since God's BEST seems so far away, I'll just settle for what seems next best! I'll go for the PRESENT SATISFACTION. And yet we know the truth: there isn't any short-cut answer to doing God's will. Illustration: Under pressure in New Jersey in 1962 early in my ministry there I was homesick for (of all places) Ohio. I was thinking "If only!! I had $1,000 I would move back to Ohio and start all over again..."

4. In times like these it helps to remember that these feelings are.... just feelings! No real harm done IF (IF!!) we don't indulge them, or let them hang around too long. Feelings of loneliness, frustration, uselessness are part of living. But when those feelings come— right here— we need to be careful of the "IF" words! "IF only..." "What IF..."

HERE DAVID SAID: "IF ONLY I had a drink from the well at Bethlehem I think I could make it on..."

And David's men heard him— and he had an opportunity to be "satisfied" on the terms of his "if only." At great personal risk the warriors broke through enemy sentry lines and got him water from the well of his home town.

Then David did a strange and wonderful thing: HE TOOK THE WATER AND POURED IT OUT AS A SACRIFICE TO THE LORD!

REFUSING TO SATISFY SELF FIRST IS THE WAY OF SEEKING GOD'S BEST IN OUR LIVES: HIS PROMISES ARE SURE

Maybe David recognized the deeper meanings of his thirst for Bethlehem water:

Bethlehem's water— maybe it represented an innocence he could never quite recapture.

We can't turn the clock's hands backwards.

Bethlehem's well where the water came from was in enemy hands. No amount of water he could drink would change that fact.

Refusing to satisfy HIMSELF at the risk of other men's lives seems important to me here, too. David revealed a quality that I like— I want in my own life: LOYALTY, RESPECT FOR FRIENDS, NEVER USING THEM

... so David kept his goals firm: I'll follow God's promises in God's way— cutting no corners.

Illustration: What would it take for YOU to change your goals in life? You do have goals? Would $1,000,000 tax-free change the basic goals of your life? LIFE HAS DEEPER MEANING THAN THINGS, AND WHAT MONEY CAN BUY!

So David poured out his IF ONLY to God along with his future. And with it was BETHLEHEM'S FUTURE! It, along with the well, and all the water, was soon his!

David poured out his successes and failures, too. Not just here— but on two or three other occasions David had it in his power to "promote himself" to be king— to take things in his own hands and kill Saul. But David decided that God had promised, and God could and would open the doors. The raising up of David was up to God! And David became a candidate for greatness.

A self-indulgent David would never have become "a man after God's own heart." David did not pull back from keeping God first. David maintained his integrity.

WE HAVE FACED THE 'IF ONLY' TRAP many times in our experience. Do you see how the big "IF" can paralyze you? When the feelings come— and they will— pour them out before the Lord! Reject them!

No human marriage has ever succeeded without setting aside some "if only" items. No worth-while long-term goal has ever been reached unless that goal has been kept in mind.

OUR WITNESS DOES NOT NEED TO WAIT FOR AN 'IF ONLY!' (If only the times weren't so bad! If only people were more God-minded...) WESLEY'S 18TH CENTURY ENGLAND WAS AT LEAST AS VILE AND EVIL AND COARSE AS OUR OWN TIMES.

If you truly belong to God, He has made some promises. Nothing can keep you from becoming ultimately what HE wants you to be. If you are NOT God's person, then NOTHING ELSE can make up the difference! Not a million dollars . . . not ANYTHING!

Will you deliberately give your thirst to God? Will you trust Him just as you are just now? Trust him with ALL your future?

PRAYER

#489 Where He Leads Me I will Follow

Angels in the Treetops

The Exodus Series, Part 4 of 4

1. The Call to Stand on Holy Ground
2. Pathway to Salvation
3. Crossing the Red Sea
4. Angels in the Treetops

September 22, 1996

Exodus 16:2-15; Philippians 1:21-30; Matthew 20:1-16

In January of 1956 I loaded up a U-Haul and drove to the place where I was to begin my pastoral ministry. Cherry Valley is a tiny crossroad community, not even a village, in northeastern Ohio. I was twenty-five years old. As I began to learn the wonders of the pastorate, I was blissfully unaware of many problems and pitfalls. Amazing grace kept me safe sometimes in dangers I remember, and no doubt many times when I didn't have sense enough to recognize real danger. I did things backwards, I'm sure. I remember times when I was dreadfully afraid, and many times when I probably did the wrong thing.

But people in the community were saved. God blessed in many ways. God has been good to me, and given Helen and me four loving sons, and twelve wonderful grandchildren, and I have served churches where the congregations have treated me with love beyond what I deserve.

In that very same month, January 1956, a small group of young Christians just a little older than I were launching a new ministry as well. These were people with top-notch college and seminary educations, the kind who go to the very top in any field they enter. The one thing that distinguished this group was that they had totally dedicated their ambition to God.

This particular group had come together because they believed God wanted them to take the gospel of Christ to a tribe in South America where the life expectancy was barely 30 years of age, and where revenge and murder was the accepted way of life. Five wonderful, bright young Christian families believed God was leading them to take His Good News to these primitive people. They prepared in the best imaginable ways. It was as sophisticated and yet as dedicated a missionary endeavor as you could imagine, using aircraft and radio contacts. And then in their very first contact with the dangerous tribe all five men were killed.

Why have I put these two beginnings side by side? Am I comparing myself to those great martyrs? No— there is no comparison in my mind. I wouldn't change places with them, and I know they wouldn't change places with me. I have the CONTRAST in mind. Grace does not seem to treat us all alike, as the gospel lesson makes clear. But again today (as last week) we see several insights into the nature of God's grace:

[Last week speaking particularly about FORGIVENESS, we said:

1. GRACE IS OF GOD - HE ACTS
2. GRACE IS RELATIONAL - WE RESPOND TO GOD AND TO OTHERS
3. GRACE IS NOT 'FAIR' - IT IS LIFE-CHANGING

GRACE IS GOD'S BUSINESS, ON HIS TERMS

Our gospel lesson tells of contrasts in work and working conditions: "The kingdom of heaven is like a landowner who hired people in the morning who worked all day in the sun— he hired them at nine, and noon, and three in the afternoon, and again he hired an hour before quitting time— and they all got a day's wage. The all-day workers cried foul. Humanly speaking, as the only way we can speak, it was unfair.

How God assigns, how God rewards, what God calls vital and important is finally His business. Our business is to follow the pillar of fire, the "Presence," where it leads. Our challenge is to believe, to trust that God will care for us.

GRACE IS GOOD, BUT IT DOESN'T MOVE TO OUR EXPECTATIONS

Exodus passage: underscores the very human traits of grumbling when things don't go as expected. What outside forces could NOT do— destroy the Exodus mission— internal dissension and bad will almost did do. The biggest headache Moses had was ...grumbling, complaining, murmuring—

The people experienced some hunger ... and expressed their discontent. They made unfair comparisons. They remembered best times of slavery— Still on the journey, the Exodus no one starved... but some died from snakebite. Grace may be present and unrecognized, even despised; grace can be blacked out, even apparently defeated. The miracle of manna is how God chose to feed his people. It required both faith and obedience. That lesson is echoed every time we pray the Lord's Prayer: "Give us THIS DAY OUR DAILY BREAD! Faith and obedience connect with God's grace! We have provision for today to be what God would have us be today.

GRACE IS NOT FAIR. IT IS UNDESERVED. IT IS GOOD.

When the five missionary martyrs died Life magazine carried pictures of red eyed widows, and corpses beginning to bloat in jungle heat. The reporters did make mention of the amazing calm of the women and children, and their lack of hatred and revenge spirit. But it was a sad, sad story. To a pure materialist there is no question that these people were deluded in the matter of life investment and spiritual reality. What a waste for people to study language and sociology, and to take expensive equipment into the moldy hot jungles only to be killed on their first encounter with their target tribe, and have their airplane torn apart.

The Christian world saw things somewhat differently from the start. It was not too long before the very same warriors who had killed the missionaries testified that the missionaries' God had conquered them, not with punishing power and vengeance, but with forgiveness and life-changing love.

But just recently the whole story has emerged. In the latest Christianity Today is an article by Steve Saint, who was a baby when his father, Nate Saint, was killed by the people he was trying to reach with the love of Jesus. I read to you:

"Why didn't he flee into the jungle?" Mincaye emphatically asked me. "If he would have fled, surely he would have lived. Instead, he just waited for Kimo to wade out and spear him."

Dawa, one of the three women, told me she had hidden in the bush through the attack, hearing but not seeing the killing of the five men. She told me she had been hit by gun pellets in the wrist and just above the knee. (The obviously came from random warning shots fired to scare the attacker, because Dawa was hiding on the far side of the narrow river and the men could not have known of her presence.) She also told me that after the killing she saw COWODI (Auca word for foreigners) above the trees, singing. She didn't know what this kind of music was until later she heard records of Aunt Rachel's and became familiar with the sound of a choir.

Mincaye and Kimo confirmed that they heard the singing and saw what Dawa seems to describe as angels along the ridge above Palm Beach. Dyuwí verified hearing the strange music, though he describes what he saw more like lights, moving around and shining, a sky full of jungle beetles similar to fireflies with a light that is brighter and doesn't blink. Apparently all the participants saw this bright multitude in the sky and felt they should be scared, because they knew it was something supernatural. Their only familiarity with the spiritual world was one of fear. Dawa has said that this supernatural experience was what drew her to God when she later heard of him from Dayuma. CT 9/16/96 26,7

Maybe that is something of what Paul meant when he wrote: Philippians 1:20, 27-29 For to me to live is Christ and to die is gain. ... Only live your life in a manner worthy of the gospel of Christ, so that, whether I come and see you or am absent and hear about you, I will know that you are standing firm in one spirit, striving side by side with one mind for the faith of the gospel, and are in no way intimidated by your opponents. For them this is the evidence of their destruction, but of your salvation. And this is God's doing. For he has graciously granted you the privilege not only of believing in Christ, but of suffering for him as well— since you are having the same struggle that you saw I had and now hear I still have.

Did you get that one sentence? the end where Paul wrote: For he has graciously granted you the privilege not only of believing in Christ, but of suffering for him as well—

We don't know where God's grace will lead us when we start out. AND THAT IS GOD'S BUSINESS! DO WE DARE TO FOLLOW? Steve Saint closed the article he wrote about his martyr father with this short paragraph:

God took five common young men of uncommon commitment and used them for his own glory. They never had the privilege they so enthusiastically pursued to tell the Huaroni of the God they loved and served. But for every Huaroni who today follows God's trail there are a thousand COWODI who follow God's trail more resolutely because of their example.

This success withheld from them in life God multiplied and continues to multiply as a memorial to their obedience and his faithfulness. CT 9/16/96 27

GRACE IS LOVE, IT IS HERE FOR US NOW IF WE WILL RECEIVE IT

If you decide to take the way of depending on God you may have forty years of ministry, or you may have a disaster so far as a humanist observer could see. Grace is not fair. Thank God it is not fair. But I feel sorry for the people who have no invisible means of support.

Prayer

Hymn # 443 I Know Whom I Have Believed

Two Sons: One Went; the Other Did Not

September 24, 1996

There is a story told of two young monks, climbing the hill toward their monastery on a cold winter's night. The wind was chilling and snow almost blinding. As they climbed, it became bitterly cold, and both grew alarmed about making it to the monastery alive. About halfway up the hill, the younger of the two stopped, as if he had heard a voice. "Do you hear that voice, crying for help?" he asked the other. "No," said the second, "it is just the howling of wind! We must keep moving, or we will freeze to death." But the younger monk motioned the other to go on, while he remained behind listening to the voice.

Sure enough, the younger monk had heard correctly, for not far away was an old man caught in the snow, pleading for his life. The young monk assisted him up, placed him on his shoulders, and covered the both of them with his own cloak. He then proceeded up the hill. As the young monk was about to enter the monastery, he saw the other monk dead on the wayside, covered with snow. He had almost made it to the top. The younger monk, because of the warmth of two bodies, was able to reach the top safely, and alive, carrying the load of the stranger.

Many years later, this younger monk was made the abbot of his community, and he became known for his wisdom and insights. When he was on his deathbed, the community gathered around for prayer. One of the monks asked him, "Father, what is the most tragic thing that could happen in this life of ours?" The abbot, remembering that night in the snow, smiled and said: "The most tragic thing that could happen in life is to live without having another person's burden to carry. One must be empty enough to be filled with the other." [1]

This story touches on the gospel today. There we see two brothers: one said "yes" when his father asked him to go and work in the field; the other said "no," but then he went and did as his father had asked.

Two Sons: One Went; the Other Did Not

The young monk in our story was not worried so much about getting back to the monastery, even though he had probably taken a vow not to be outside of the monastery after a certain hour. No, his main concern was action, taking care of an old man who was freezing. The other monk, who went ahead and did not help out, later was found dead.

The point seems to be that action is the most important thing in our behavior. We have all made promises that we later thought better of and did not keep. Maybe we are guilty...or maybe we had such a good reason for not keeping that promise that we would have been guiltier in keeping it. For not keeping the promise would have taken us away from a serious act of charity done for someone in great need.

We often readily give lip service to the principles of Christianity, such as service, caring for the homeless, self denial. But the doing is always the proof of the pudding.

"For three decades, author Jonathan Kozol has been plumbing the depths of poor inner city neighborhoods and the children who live there. He says, "The ghettos serve a very important function for the privileged. If there was no ghetto...the rich and the privileged would have to look into the eyes of the poor every day.

"In the early and mid 1980s, thousands of families became homeless in New York... Inevitably these people walked the streets and stood outside the restaurants and theaters. The civic boosters of the city were alarmed... The last thing the theater owners wanted was to have a wealthy couple spend $200 to the Broadway play 'Les Miserables' and then come out from the theater and see the real thing!

"I walked by that theater sometimes and would notice people who had presumably been weeping for the poor children in Paris a few minutes before in the theater; now, coming out on the street, they were miserably offended by the sight of people begging on the sidewalk." [2]

This is somewhat like the story of the rich lady in the eighteenth century who sat in her opera box weeping at what was going in the play on stage while her coachman sat outside in the freezing weather, waiting to pick her up after the show.

Our words come easily, then, but actions prove what we say we believe. Pastor William Willimon says, "A few years ago I was leading a discussion about preaching among a group of lay persons in an affluent Washington, D.C. parish.

"What do you look for in a sermon?' I asked.

"Immediately, one of the group members said, 'I want a sermon which helps me to think about things in a new way.'

"Everyone in the group nodded in agreement. That's the goal of preaching, to describe the gospel in some interesting and engaging new way, to help us to think new thoughts and explore new ideas.

"All of that sounded good to me at the time. Yet over the years, the more I have thought about preaching, the less I like it as a test for good preaching. 'A sermon which helps me to think about things in a new way.' "Such a test can be an evasion of the sermon rather than a mark of a good sermon. Isn't that the way we love to deal with things? We love to think about things, to run them over in our minds, then to go home and have a good lunch? We can then think, or feel, but never need to act.

"A good sermon," pastor Willimon says, "ought to help me to act on things in a new way." [3]

C.S. Lewis said, "A person cannot remain just a 'good egg' forever. Either one must hatch or rot."

Sometimes we think our credentials can stand in place of our actions. Fr. Dick Rice is a noted counselor of priests and nuns in the archdiocese of St. Paul Minneapolis. He was giving a day of recollection to Mother Teresa and some nuns. He said, "Mother, what is, would you say, your most difficult problem?" Immediately, he felt he shouldn't have asked the question.

But Mother Teresa came right back and said, "Professionalism." Fr. Rice blinked and repeated "Professionalism?" "Yes," said Mother Teresa. "When I send a sister off to school to become a nurse or a doctor, she returns with her degrees and diplomas, I always have to interrupt her after a while in her work. She has become too intellectual about her work. She has lost the personal touch. So I send her down to the ward where we have people with advanced diseases who are dying. I tell her to just sit with them, empty their bedpans, hold their hand, feed them. Then, after a couple of months I let her go back to her work."

Two Sons: One Went; the Other Did Not

If anyone is a no nonsense person, it's Mother Teresa. In her reply she showed how important it is not to lose the common touch, no matter how many degrees one has after his or her name.

Some people substitute hanging onto their old ways of practicing their religion as God's will. They think that God never intended any change to affect the Church. But Pope John XXIII called the church to change in the second Vatican Council. And today the saintly leader of Chicago, Cardinal Joseph Bernardin, who has inoperable cancer, has just called for a meeting next spring of many theologians, men and women, and other people to talk about what's happening in the church today.

Such a common ground of talk has been criticized even by some of Bernardin's fellow members of the hierarchy, who say that once the church has spoken, we don't need to discuss anything. Everything is set in concrete once the Church, Holy Scriptures, and Tradition have spoken, they say.

But the Holy Spirit speaks through the grassroots also. It's a source of revelation called "sensus fidelium," or "the sense of the faithful," and it is not to be ignored.

Many referendums have been taken in recent years in Europe. In Austria and Germany last year some 2.5 million signatures are urging genuine dialogue in the whole church concerning certain issues. Signature sheets are being distributed throughout the United States by volunteers. People are asked to sign "with prayerful hope for a new movement of the Spirit in our church."

Organizers plan to take the results to the Vatican next year. Main points are:

1. Equality of the faithful and the right of a community to participate in selecting pastors and bishops;
2. equal rights for women, including ordination;
3. optional celibacy for priests;

4. affirmation of the goodness of sexuality combined with a shift of emphasis from sexual morality to other essential issues, such as peace, social justice, and the environment; and
5. a generous and welcoming spirit that affirms people rather than condemning them for following their conscience in such areas as divorce or theological debate."

It is important to note that no one expects the church to change overnight as a result of popular demand but rather, that those in charge of decision making should not simply close the door but continue to explore those issues in careful dialogue with many constituencies. Petition signers are in good company. The church must heed the signs of the times. Cardinal Martini of Milan has suggested we need another ecumenical council to deal with women's ordination. Bishop Reinhold Stecher of Innsbruck where the entire movement originated officially requested that Rome consider the ordination of women to the diaconate and the ordination of married men to the priesthood. Theologian Hans Kung said that the petition drive "reminds us of the original freedom of early Christianity and does an immense service for the Church in this difficult period of transition." [4]

Vaclav Havel, the head of Czechoslovakia, said, "The worst thing is that we are living in a decayed moral environment. We have become morally ill because we have become accustomed to saying one thing and thinking another. We have learned not to believe in anything, not to care about one another and only to look after ourselves. Notions such as love, friendship, compassion, humility and forgiveness have lost their depth and dimension, and for many, they represent merely some kind of psychological idiosyncrasy, or appear as some kind of stray relic from times past, something rather comical in the era of computers and space rockets." [5]

The story of the two brothers is very central for us today. We must not get caught up in our head, in giving assent to principles that we have long since ceased to believe, to put into action.

"In his autobiography, Telling Secrets, Frederick Buechner tells the story of an evening visiting his mother in Manhattan. she had prepared and was serving a gourmet meal for her visiting son when the phone rang. A friend was on the line. He asked Buechner to come wait with him at the airport. This friends' family had been seriously injured in an accident, and he was waiting for a flight to join them.

"When Buechner's mother learned of this request, she was furious. the meal was ready and was getting cold. She called him a fool for thinking about ruining a rare evening together for such a ridiculous reason. Buechner says, "And for a moment I was horrified to find myself thinking that maybe she was right. Then the next moment I saw more clearly than I ever had before that it is on just such outwardly trivial decisions as this should I go or should I stay that human souls are saved or lost." [6]

- [1] Richard N. Fragomeni, _Markings_, 26th Sun OT, Cycle A, Sept 29, 1996.
- [2] _Connections_, "Les Miz in our midst," 26th Sun OT, Cycle A, Sept. 1996.
- [3] William Willimon, __Pulpit Resource_, (24): 54, "Relating the text," 26th Sun OT, Cycle A, July, August, September.
- [4] Ingrid Schaeffer, _Good News_ (23):327, "Model homily," 26th Sun OT, Cycle A, Sept. 1996.
- [5] Arthur E. Dewey, _Good News_ (23):341, "Model homily," 26th Sun OT, Cycle A, Sept. 1996.
- [6] Gary Charles, _Lectionary Homiletics_ (7):40, "Will we go or will we stay," 26th Sun OT, Cycle A, Sept. 1996. Jerry Fr. Gerard Fuller, o.m.i., St. William's Church, P.O. Box 367, Gainesville MO Tel. (1 417 679 4804); Fax (Same); E mail: oblate@Juno.com.

Grace to Repent

THE NATURE OF GRACE

September 29, 1996

Philippians 2:1-13 - Poured out for love of family

Matthew 21:23-32 - Two sons, neither of whom did as they said

Have you ever wondered why people are the way they are?

Have you ever wondered why YOU are the way you are?

Some of us seem always pleasant and loving— like the Colonel, for example— and some of us are congenital pessimists (not you or me, of course!) But there are "personality sets" that begin early in life, and often carry over into the way we express life's most important relationships, to our families, to ourselves, and to our God.

These passages of scripture raised the question: Can a person ever really change directions? What does it mean to "repent?"

THE GOOD NEWS ABOUT GRACE IS...PEOPLE CAN CHANGE

To "repent" means basically "to turn around." One definition of repentance is "a godly sorrow for sin." But it is more than sorrow— it is a willingness to change one's mind— to change directions. Whenever anyone says, "Jesus is Lord!" there is the potential for a wonderful new direction in life! To "repent" means a willingness to take a new direction when new light is given.

We "repent" when we BECOME a Christian. But being a Christian is more than a one-time turn-around. Being a Christian is about becoming like Jesus. It is about loving to do God's will, having the same spirit that Jesus had. WE NEVER GROW PAST THE NEED FOR COURSE CORRECTION, AND THAT IS ALSO 'REPENTANCE.' "Faith" involves a willingness to change life-styles.

Jesus was talking with religious people— chief priests, elders— people who knew every passage of scripture, and who took their religion seriously. But their faith never was just in their heads, and never reached their heart and hands and feet. They were mental believers, and not concerned with caring about others, not worried about bearing one another's burdens.

Jesus told these religious people a parable about two sons: A father asked them both to do something; one said "I will obey you" and then promptly forgot and went about his own way. The other said, "I will NOT obey you" but then REPENTED and out of love for the father went and did as he was asked. He changed the kind of person he was, by grace.

Then Jesus said directly to these religious people, and I quote: "Truly I tell you, the tax collectors and prostitutes are going into the kingdom of God ahead of you. For John (the Baptist) came to you preaching righteousness and you did not believe him, but the tax collectors and the prostitutes believed him; and even after you saw it, you did not CHANGE YOUR MINDS and believe him."

The word repent is a key here. We think of repentance as "a godly sorrow for sin." But actually it is a willingness to change course and follow Jesus at every stage of our lives. It is the humility to be led, to follow.

That is what this Philippians passage is challenging me to do— to quit living selfishly and begin thinking about you. But " I want to think about ME— and I want YOU to think about me— I want to be loved— that is just human nature, isn't it?? I want to avoid discomfort as much as possible. "

So— Jesus is a real challenge. He had it all. He needed absolutely nothing. But then Jesus left it all in order to come looking for... me. He left heaven to give me a chance to come into his inner circle of love, and be like him. But once I got into that circle and began to see what Jesus' great joy was all about, I found this challenge: I really want to be in his inner circle— but it is there I have to seek to be like Him. And HE lived for others!

ABRUPT ENTRY INTO NARRATIVE

Just a week ago yesterday (9/20/96) I lost a friend. This man may have been your good friend as well, although I don't really know anyone who ever talked with him in person. That friend was Henri J. M. Nouwen, who wrote over thirty books, many of which are on my bookshelves, and many of which I have given away to others. His writings have meant a great deal to many Christians. Henri Nouwen died a week ago yesterday, apparently of a heart attack, while visiting his family in the Netherlands. he was 64.

Let me tell you just a little about this friend, this good man. Henri was evidently very gifted, and gifted in several wonderful ways. he was spiritually very sensitive, and answered God's call to ministry the best way he knew; in very liberal Holland Henri became a priest and took vows of poverty, celibacy, and obedience. But Henri was exceptionally gifted intellectually as well. His resume is too lengthy to recite here, but he was a highly desired faculty member, teacher, at Notre Dame University in Indiana, then at Yale University, and also was tenured at Harvard University. But more than these two gifts, Henri was especially gifted in articulating his faith; he not only was bright, he could make common people like me understand great truth. As a result his greatest influence, perhaps, came through his writing. He had a way of making truth winsome and gripping. I put him alongside such men I have heard as Bob Benson and Reuben Welch and E. Stanley Jones; perhaps we could speak of Paul Tornier, even C.S. Lewis, perhaps Max Lucado.

One day this passage— at least the essence of the truth which this passage expresses— began to deal with Professor Henri Nouwen of Harvard University, right here in Boston. He was popular, he had it all going for him; he was teaching the movers and shakers-to-be of the nation at the nation's most prestigious school. God spoke to Henri Nouwen about kenosis— about becoming a smitten rock— about emptying himself and BEING instead of just SAYING. (It isn't that Henri hadn't been "doing" the right things before. But this was a challenge to a new turning, a new repentance—.)

Let me use Nouwen's own words:

"After twenty years in the academic world as a teacher of pastoral psychology, pastoral theology, and Christian spirituality, I began to experience a deep inner threat. As I entered into my fifties and was able to realize the unlikelihood of doubling my years, I came face to face with the simple question, "Did becoming older bring me closer to Jesus?" After twenty-five years of priesthood, I found myself praying poorly, living somewhat isolated from other people, and very much preoccupied with burning issues.

Everyone was saying that I was doing really well, but something inside was telling me that my success was putting my own soul in danger. I began to ask myself whether my lack of contemplative prayer, my loneliness, and my constantly changing involvement in what seemed most urgent were signs that the Spirit was gradually being suppressed. It was very hard for me to see clearly, and though I never spoke about hell or only jokingly so, I woke up one day with the realization that I was living in a very dark place and that the term "burnout" was a convenient psychological translation for a spiritual death.

In the midst of this I kept praying, "Lord, show me where you want me to go and I will follow you..." God said, "Go and live among the poor in spirit and they will heal you" ... So I moved from Harvard to L'Arche, from the best and the brightest, wanting to rule the world, to men and women who had few or now words and were considered, at best, marginal to the needs of our society. It was a very hard and painful move ... " In the Name of Jesus, 9-11

So— Henri Nouwen went to Toronto, Canada, and became pastor at an interdenominational home for severely mentally retarded people, a place called "L'Arche" — you know, "The Ark" like Noah and saving a few people from the rising flood. A place for severely retarded people. A place where no one cared that Henri Nouwen had written all those books. A place where he was just "Henri." That was Henri Nouwen's employment until he died last week.

Henri Nouwen did not stop writing or speaking after he went to L'Arche. But now it was different. He had to ask if he should go or not. He usually took a retarded person with him on his trips. One such engagement was at Washington, D.C., where Nouwen was asked to talk about Christian Leadership. The remarks Henri made there became the nucleus of a book called "In the Name of Jesus." In that book he said something of what it means to not only THINK holy thoughts, but to let the holy thoughts become incarnate in BECOMING like Christ— the mind of Christ incarnate. These are some of the things he said about Christian leaders:

The leader of the future will be one who dares to claim his irrelevance in the contemporary world as a divine vocation that allows him or her to enter into a deep solidarity with the anguish underlying all the glitter of success and to bring the light of Jesus there. (ibid, 22)

The question is not: How many people take you seriously? How much are you going to accomplish? Can you show some results? But: Are you in love with Jesus? Perhaps another way of putting the question would be: Do you know the incarnate God? In our world of loneliness and despair, there is an enormous need for men and women who know the heart of God, a heart that forgives, that cares, that reaches out and wants to heal,. (ibid, 24)

The task of future Christian leaders is not to make a little contribution to the solution of the pains and tribulations of their time, but to identify and announce the ways in which Jesus is leading God's people out of slavery, through the desert to a new land of freedom. (ibid, 67)

When Nouwen delivered this challenge to the Center for Human Development at Washington, D.C. Nouwen traveled from L'Arche in Canada with a mentally retarded man named Bill Van Buren. Together these two, brilliant professor and scholar Henri Nouwen and severely handicapped Bill Van Buren teamed up to carry the message. And carry it they did [If there is time tell how; see book for details to refresh memory later]

Grace to Repent

Can we find grace to change direction? Of course we can: here it is in this challenge: Be of one mind, of one heart, of one spirit! Let this mind be in US that was in Christ Jesus!!

The church is made up of all kinds of people who, left to their own unchallenged interests, will never be heard outside the walls. But if we can be of one mind, of one heart, and care for each other— if we can have this mind in us which was also in Christ Jesus— we can be a mighty army for God to tell the world about his love. The serious can learn to care for the flighty. The impulsive can actually have patience with the retarded. The sex-crazed can be made pure in heart! We can repent, again, by grace, by the mind of Christ.

PRAYER

Seek ye the Lord while he may be found; call ye upon him while he is near. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the evil man his thoughts, let him turn to the Lord and he will have mercy upon him— to our God for he will abundantly pardon..(Isaiah 55:6.7)

OR

Willimon: seminar decided that the most important thing about preaching is to help people think about truth in a new way. Willimon reflected— "No, it is to help people LIVE in a new way!" Are WE willing? -am I willing to "repent" and turn in any direction that the Spirit of Jesus in me will lead?

526 Let the Beauty of Jesus be Seen in Me

Grace for Guidance

THE NATURE OF GRACE

October 6, 1996

World Communion Sunday

As we get ready for communion this morning the scriptures we have read call to my mind two or three pictures- pictures that may seem not to have any connection with Exodus or the Psalms. I think first of a wedding scene:

Grounds For Marriage - An Exclusive Covenant For All Humankind Exodus 20

What is more dramatic than a wedding! Each one is different— and maybe some day I will write a book— or at least a chapter— on exciting things that took place when two people met at an altar to make solemn vows and begin life together.

What is more optimistic than a wedding? I have never known one couple in all that I have ever married who came to the altar expecting their marriage to fail.

What is more exclusive than a wedding? It may be a small wedding, or a big one with hundreds of guests. But by "exclusive" I am not talking about who is welcome and who is not. Along with flowers, and attendants, and music, and cake and guests, at the heart of the wedding is a betrothal promise, a promise that "forsaking all others, (I will) keep only to him/her so long as we both shall live." That is exclusive! And that exclusiveness is reinforced again in the vows themselves when bride and groom say, "Till death do us part, I pledge you my faith(fullness.)" The heart of a wedding is the covenant. A covenant kept is at the heart of every successful marriage.

Sinai hardly looks like a wedding scene. But a wedding is what it is. A covenant of hope and optimism and, yes, exclusivity was made at Sinai. The people who had been slaves in Egypt were now to become God's own people. Jeremiah wrote about Sinai hundreds of years later, God's words: "For when I brought your forefathers out of Egypt and spoke to them, I did not just give them commands about burnt offerings and sacrifices, but I gave them this command: Obey me and I will be your God and you will be my people. Walk in all the ways I command that it may go well with you." God proposed: This is how my called out people shall live, and I will be their God forever. That is why in the New Testament the Church is called, the Bride of Christ. It began back at Sinai, and Passover, and it began with covenant. It was exclusive in the sense that there would be no other gods. But God loves all the peoples of the earth, and has made it clear that He will be the God of all who will turn exclusively to Him.

Covenant is the strength, the ribs, the backbone of marriage. The Ten Commandments are the basic building blocks of God's covenant with those who want to be His people. GOD HAS MADE COVENANT WITH US! We may keep covenant with Him!

But I see another picture in my mind as we read these scriptures. It is a scene of dancing!:

Celebrating The Covenant - Learning To Love As Well As Being Loved Psalm 19

In his novels the Jewish writer-historian Chaim Potok takes us to the synagogues in Brooklyn, New York, where the Hasidim, very strict orthodox Jews, clap and sing and dance in celebration of the giving of the Law— dance actually with the scrolls in their arms. How long has it been since we were that excited about the fact that God has given us his word on how we shall live?

For many, many years Jewish people of faith have not viewed the "law" as something restrictive, but as God's special gift to his people. God cares how we live! Let's celebrate!

The liturgical churches, especially in some of their high masses, do something which to me is similar to this dancing with the scrolls. The Gospels— that portion of the Bible that especially tell of the life and passion of Jesus Christ, are carried high in the air out into the congregation while people stand. Incense is lit, holy water is sprinkled. In a dramatic way the people are reminded that God has desired to make covenant with His people.

And that same joy is reflected just a tiny bit when we stand for the reading of the Gospels in Protestant churches— we are celebrating the covenant!

God's Covenant is to be celebrated! The Psalmist catches the joy of covenant in the Psalm (19) for today:

The word of the Lord is true, clean, good, righteous, pure, all the things that make for joy and wholesome ability to love and be loved.

In my mind I see a third picture from these scriptures: A guard brings a piece of bread and a bowl of soup, and the prisoner pushes back a letter he is writing and eats alone in his cell. But as Paul eats alone his God reaches into that lonely cell and embraces him, and he is not alone! And the love and the joy of the letter he wrote that day reach across the centuries to where we are now:

Beyond The Letter Of The Covenant - The Goal Of The Law Of God — Philippians

3

Covenant is necessary, and wonderful. But a good covenant goes way beyond the letter of the law. A good marriage is more than NOT cheating, and NOT being abusive. A good marriage is an exploration of what it means to care, to share joys and sorrows, perhaps to raise children, to live together and flesh out the covenant. If the exclusive covenant is the ribs and backbone of a good relationship, who wants to be married to a skeleton?

In that letter Paul was writing in his cell he said that before he was saved he kept the letter of the outward law perfectly. But it did nothing for him until he realized the love of God in Christ. Now, Paul says, he wants to go beyond the letter of the law— beyond "doing this" and "not doing that" as a means of salvation— and live to please God.

This is no cheap grace! Listen to Paul's declaration:

"I want to know Jesus!" ...so do I!

"and the power of His resurrection!" ... yes, that is great!

"and the fellowship of His sufferings!" ...wait a minute! What is he saying?

"being made conformable to His death!" ...is Paul talking about taking up a cross??

"If by any means I may obtain the resurrection from the dead!" —and here I get the feeling that Paul is not only talking about coming to life after he dies, but more important, coming to life before he dies! "I want to LIVE before I die— as well as live forever with my God!"

- Covenant is Grounds for Marriage - We are the Bride of Christ
- Covenant is to be Celebrated - The Commandments of the Lord are Pure, Rejoicing the Heart!

We Must Go Beyond the Letter of the Covenant - Our challenge for time and eternity is that we can know Jesus Christ, who is life itself.

Are we ready to eat at the Lord's Table this morning?

A billion people today are sitting down around the Lord's Table with us today. This is World Communion Sunday, and as the sun rolls around the earth from east to west, people are taking communion in cathedrals, and in churches made of tin and thatched roofs with dirt floors. People will be at the Lord's Table in the hills of Appalachia, and on the plains of outback Australia. On every continent, and on the islands of the seas we are God's people, bound to Him by covenant, seeking to celebrate the covenant God has made with us— that if we will be his people, he will be our God!

Eating with family means a lot to me! When my boys were at home one thing I couldn't stand was to sit down at the supper (you call it dinner) table with people missing. How many times I've gotten up and called the boys in from playing football, or even have driven a few blocks to hurry them home so the family could be together.

I remember, too, how it felt after the first son left home (in New Jersey) and went far away to Eastern Nazarene College. Our family was never really regularly the same around the table again. But when we did get together how good it was. (I still often go into Boston and have lunch with that son!)

The Table of the Lord is one place where the family gets together, and we are one with those we love, one with those who belong to our God.

All are welcome here. I invite you to quiet your heart, and prepare to share at the Lord's table with your brothers and sisters, your family near and far away.

Shall we pray:

THE HOLY COMMUNION

Communion is one of the sacraments of the church which as a means of grace gives us opportunity to draw near to God, and which affirms the fact that we are one with all people around the world who say by the Spirit, "Jesus is Lord!" This sacrament was foreshadowed by the Passover in Egypt nearly 4,000 years ago. The Lord Jesus Himself commanded it the eve of his sacrifice on Calvary. Since then it both looks back to the Cross and forward to the Great Banquet when the saved of all ages will celebrate eternal Life together in the glorious Light of God's immediate Presence. Will you prepare, with the help of God the Holy Spirit, to come to Christ's Table?:

The Law Read and Confession Made

The Lord Jesus Christ has said to us: "Thou shalt love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the first and great commandment. The second is like unto it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets."

Shall we pray:

Search us, O God, and know our most private thoughts. Try us, and show unto us the deepest motives, the real state of our hearts. Forgive us where we have been selfish, or insensitive, or sinful in any way. We cannot keep the Great Commandment, and truly love You, O God, with all our heart, soul, and mind unless You in mercy grant to us the grace of Your indwelling Spirit. We cannot love each other as we should unless Your love is shed abroad in our hearts.

Brothers and sisters, let us search our hearts. In silence let us ask God to draw us near to Himself so that we can come to his table with confidence. We do not presume to come to this table, O God, trusting in our own righteousness, but in your great mercy and grace. Grant us to eat the Bread of heaven, and drink the blood shed for the remission of sins, that we may live in Christ, and Christ may live in us forever. Amen

Let us confess our faith:

The Apostles' Creed (STL # 8) OR [Nicene Creed #14]

The Informal Invitation ("This is not my table . . . ")

Holy and gracious Father; in your infinite love you made us for yourself; and, when we had fallen into sin, and were worthy of death and hell, you, in your mercy sent Jesus Christ, your only and eternal Son to share our human nature, to live and die as one of us, to reconcile us to You, the God and Father of all.

He stretched out his arms upon the cross, and offered himself in obedience to your will, a perfect sacrifice for the whole world.

The Words of Institution:

On the night in which he was betrayed our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had give thanks to You he broke it and gave it to his disciples and said, "Take eat: THIS IS MY BODY, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me.

After supper he took the cup and when he had give thanks he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you; THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink this, do it in remembrance of me: Amen

We praise you for the mystery of our salvation! We truly believe

Christ has died!

Christ is risen!

Christ will come again!

Bless these emblems, O God, and make them to us the Body and Blood of your Son, spiritual food, and spiritual drink of new and unending life in Jesus Christ. And now, together, we pray, as Jesus taught us:

Our Father which art in heaven . . . (partake together // instructions if otherwise)

Now, humbly we receive the Gifts of God for the People of God

The Nature of Gods Grace

THE NATURE OF GRACE

October 13, 1996

"...the God of peace will be with you." Phil 4:9

Thesis: To have/keep the peace of God it is necessary to come to know the God of peace.

I think I would like to read the entire Epistle passage, Philippians 4: 1 - 9 as a bridge to these other two passages, from Exodus 32 and from Matthew 22 before I try to preach this morning.

Therefore my brothers and sisters, whom I love and long for, my joy and crown, stand firm in the Lord in this way, my beloved. I urge Eudia and I urge Syntyche to be of the same mind in the Lord. Yes, and I as you also, my loyal companion, help these women, for they have struggled beside me in the work of the gospel, together with Clement and the rest of my co-workers, whose names are in the book of life. Rejoice in the Lord always; again I will say, Rejoice. Let your gentleness be known to everyone. The Lord is near. Do not worry about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. And THE PEACE OF GOD, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and minds in Christ Jesus. Finally, beloved, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is pleasing, whatever is commendable, if there is any excellence and if there is anything worthy of praise, think about these things. Keep on doing the things that you have learned and received and heard and seen in me, and THE GOD OF PEACE will be with you.

There is more in those few words than we can talk about this morning. This letter is full of hope and joy and love, even though it was written by a man in prison. But what

I want to lift out that helps me understand the difficult passages from Exodus and Matthew is that we cannot separate THE PEACE OF GOD from THE GOD OF PEACE.

"The peace of God" represents the good things God wants to do for us. His blessings, his promises, his forgiveness for all our sins. "The God of peace" reminds us that the way of grace is not lists of things to do or not to do; it is the opportunity to get to know God Himself. This way of salvation is a personal faith. By 'personal' I do not mean 'private.' By "personal" I mean that God is a Person who loves YOU very much, and wants you and me to learn to know and love Him. [With that as background:]

Two pictures are presented by the scriptures this morning:

Exodus:

Picture of a people who have come a long, long way. They are camped at the base of Mt Sinai. A good deal has happened to them in the last few weeks and months, They were slaves, now they are free. They were hungry and thirsty, now they have enough that they want to celebrate. They were "no people," but now they are people of a covenant. THEY HAVE RECEIVED A BIG DOSE OF 'THE PEACE OF GOD.'

But all is not ideal here.

The people become impatient waiting for the "next step." It seems they have been camped here for too long— Moses is still up on the mountaintop, out of touch as some leaders seem to be. Beside that, all the other people they ever heard of have gods they can see and understand and control. So— they said, "Let's worship the Lord God who brought us from Egypt, but let's worship him in ways that we ourselves improvise and design. Aaron, we don't know whatever happened to your brother, but give us a god we can see!" Their IMPATIENCE, and their AUDACITY sought to whittle down their God into one they could both see and manage and in some sense control.

So Aaron did the most foolish thing he ever did, and his sin was a great success— the people thought their Golden Calf was just as great as Egypt's Sacred Bull— now they had caught up to the neighbors— and they had a great time of praise to God around the idol, and they sat down and had a great feast, and then they began to dance and sing—- What could be wrong with that?

Matthew 22:

Picture of a wedding banquet.

A king has invited important people to his wedding feast. (Be careful here, don't read more into it than is intended.) The so-called important invited guests have snubbed the king and attacked his messengers, so he has in turn rejected and destroyed them. Then the king invited everyone and anyone- "both good and bad"— who would to come to the feast, and many answered the call.

But all is not ideal here, either.

Wedding garments were provided for everyone. The music and the food and the dancing were in the spirit of sharing the joy and love of the king. All these were good things supplied by the king—(THE PEACE OF GOD?) But in the midst of it was this conspicuous rebel, this one who was perfectly willing to eat and drink and dance, but who said by his non-conformity to accepted custom: I don't give a hoot about my king, and am not celebrating his graciousness— I'm here for myself.

And the story says that this gracious king asked the man: "Friend, why aren't you dressed for the wedding?" The man was speechless. Whereupon the king had him treated like the people who had originally refused to come at all. Then this enigmatic story closes with the enigmatic words: FOR MANY ARE CALLED, BUT FEW ARE CHOSEN!

[You can see why even better preachers than I try to dodge this passage!]

Both the Exodus passage and this difficult story of Jesus in Matthew 32 seem to say that there is more to faith than seeking what God can do for you. Whatever the reasons that we come to God— and we all come more or less selfishly, I am sure— God is not satisfied until we realize he loves us— and until we begin to try to return that love. God is not just trying to make us GOOD— he wants us to leave the things that enslave us, and find his peace— so that we can learn to walk with HIM!

Is it possible to be "good" without God? If we mean by "good" paying bills and not kicking the dog, sure, there are a lot of people, thank God, who qualify as "good." But if by "good" we mean finding what life is about, and living in such a way that we find our noble purpose in life, then it is my conviction that no, it is not possible to really be good apart from connecting with God.

The Nature of Gods Grace

Good is not an end in and of itself. God does not save us to make us good. He makes us "good" so that we can get things out of the way and get to know Him, and what He is about. God wants a people who will wait for Him, who will seek Him, and who will love Him.

If you need freedom, God will hear your cry for help. If you want forgiveness for sins, God has already made the way for them to be forgiven forever.

But God LOVES us— he wants us to know that. And we can't STAY free— we won't STAY happy IF WE TRY TO MAKE OUR OWN GODS, OR IF WE JUST TRY TO USE GOD'S GOOD GIFTS SELFISHLY. God's life isn't like that!

God is seeking a people who not only want what He can give them, of forgiveness of sins, and peace and good will, but who will seek HIM! It isn't enough to come to the wedding, we have to become a part of the family.

xxx

One last lesson from this message today: there is great power in intercession. Moses, only one man, prayed for the people who had greatly erred. They had gone in the way of destruction. But Moses changed the mind of God. What that means I don't know— for we know that God knows the end from the beginning. But it tells us that if we will pray for those in sin, God will listen. If we identify in love with others, there has to be power in that kind of prayer.

The nature of grace makes possible many benefits and blessing simply because God loves us, and delivers us, and invites us to his place to make covenant, and to be his people. But that same grace opens the way for response to that love Moses demonstrated the power of intercession.

xxx

Prayer - Hymn 109 Our Great Savior

The God Who Knows My Name

THE NATURE OF GRACE

October 20, 1996

Exodus 33:12-23

Tevya, the milkman in Fiddler on the Roof, is one of those unforgettable, loveable characters who has become a reference point in our culture. I think one big reason I like Tevya so much is the way he carries on a running conversation with God Himself. "If I were a rich man..." he muses, "hmm — Lord, would it foul up Your universe if you made me a very wealthy man?" And then he goes on delivering his milk. We get the idea that Tevya's God is a God he lives with and a God he can talk to.

How do you talk with God? How real is that conversation?

Children often talk with God. They seem to understand and accept some things we have forgotten. Where along the way do we lose that immediacy? When does our conversation with God become something else? And at the same time, isn't it strange that we lose the immediacy of childlike faith and still we often stay at a childish level of prayer? Many Christians seem to progress in every other phase of human development except talking with God. They are computer literate. They are fashion conscious. They are up on the latest diet fads. But their prayers seem to get stuck at the pre-teen level. When they talk to God it still sounds like "Now I lay me down to sleep ..." Which, I am sure, is better than nothing at all. But grace challenges us to move on, and get to know God better and better.

Moses was at a point of "moving on." God had called and Moses had responded. God had saved the people from bondage. They had crossed the Red Sea. They had come to the place of covenant. Now Moses knew he had to start out for the Promised Land. But just then it began to dawn on Moses that he didn't know God as well as he wanted to know Him. Moses said to God: "Are You going with us on this journey?"

The God Who Knows My Name

God said, "I AM going with you— or rather, you are going with Me!"

Moses said, "I need to know You better! You know me. I hardly know You at all! Show me Who You really are!"

God said, "If you really want to know Me come closer. There is a place nearer to Me. I will tell you my Name again. I will give you as much of my Presence as you are able and willing to know now."

Then God put Moses 'in the cleft of the rock, and covered him with His hand.' Of course we don't know all that means, but we get the message: God and Moses were communicating "face-to-face," is the way scripture describes it. God knows Moses—and now Moses is moving deeper in his conversation with God.

God knows your name. He knows all about you, and He loves you just as you are. Would you believe, God loves you as much as He loves Moses himself? Why, then, does it seem to be so hard to pray — if God loves us so much? Why is it that God doesn't seem so "real?"

Maybe one reason is that we constantly let anything and everything keep us from taking time to talk with Him? How would your doctor treat you if you were waiting to see her and the nurse called your name and you said, "I'm really into this article on President Reagan in this 1989 Reader's Digest you had on the table here in the waiting room. Tell the doctor I'll be in when I finish."

Try praying like Moses prayed: "Lord you know me. Help me know you!" And then hang on! Listen to what God says. You don't have to explain yourself to God; you just need to want to know Him. Really WANT to know Him. Look for Him! Listen for Him! Be ready to talk with Him, or be quiet while He talks to you.

Sing with me:

"I love You, Lord!

And I lift my voice to worship You— Oh my soul rejoice!!

Take joy my King in what You hear!

May it be a sweet, sweet sound in Your ear.

The Call to Glory

-All Saints Day-

November 3, 1996

I John 3:1-3

You probably have had enough of Halloween this past week, and so have I. Not the innocent dress-up fun like your family and mine enjoy, I mean the strange preoccupation with the macabre, with witches and goblins and graveyards, which is not a Christian scene at all, and according to the best sources had its roots in Celtic paganism. (It seems like every TV station had some story of vampires or witches or the occult.) I am not sure why death and the dark unknown are so fascinating. But it is probably one way the pagan mind deals with an unspoken horror of unbecoming. Death is the worst thing that can happen.

One recurring theme on tombstones in old graveyards is the couplet that supposedly gives a voice to the dead lying in their graves, goes something like this:

*As you are, so once was I;
As I am soon you will be.*

Now that is encouraging, isn't it!

Christians know that the grave is not our final destination. Centuries ago the Church made November 1 a day to remember that all who know God in Jesus Christ are alive eternally. The Church of Jesus Christ is made up of all people of faith of all ages, alive eternally in Christ. This is All Saints Sunday. A powerful text for All Saints is the opening thought in I John 3:

Behold what manner of love the Father has bestowed on us, that we should be called children of God! Therefore the world does not know us, because it did not know Him. Beloved NOW we are children of God; and it has not yet been revealed what we shall be, but we KNOW that when He is revealed, we SHALL BE like Him, for we shall see Him as HE IS. And everyone who has this hope in Him purifies himself, just as He is pure.

There is tremendous truth packed into these very few words:

1. These words assure us of the great love of God. GOD'S AMAZING LOVE God loves the world (John 3:16) and gave His Son that WHOSOEVER believes in Him SHOULD NOT PERISH but have everlasting life.

2. These words say that those who receive God's love by faith are His children! WE MAY BE CHILDREN OF GOD, HERE AND NOW

"Behold what manner of love the Father has bestowed on us that we should be called children of God!"

Everlasting LIFE, "family-life" shared with God, this ETERNAL LIFE, does not begin when we die. The moment we come to Christ for salvation we are:

- a. Justified
- b. Regenerated
- c. Adopted into God's FAMILY.

As God's children we still face the hard realities of a sin-cursed world. We face hardships and disappointments. We get sick, and, yes, we die. But there is a difference. God Himself came and dwelt among us. He shared our sorrows. He identified with our weakness. He suffered and died. But He conquered sin and death and hell, and has blazed a trail for us to follow. He rose again from the dead! He sends us His very Presence in the Holy Spirit! He will always be with us. He will never abandon us.

3. These words also tell us we are different from 'the world.'

THE WORLD DOES NOT UNDERSTAND OUR HOPE

"Therefore the world does not know us ... "

Christians look at death and even sorrow differently from those who do not know Jesus. [A litany of people I have watched die— Bob Howard??]

[Millard Porter died in a ward, frustrated by a stroke. But with his last breath he managed to whisper "34!" That has been a shining testimony to me across many years!]

Christians sing by the open grave. [We SING at the open grave. The tears run down because we will miss our loved ones for a while. But we know that the grave cannot hold them. "How many of you knew Donna Bowers? Astonished grave-diggers!]

4. This word admits there is mystery, a great deal we don't know:

THERE IS MYSTERY IN FACING THE FUTURE

"It has not yet been revealed what we shall be..." We do not glorify death. We do not pretend to have all the answers. We don't know what lies beyond— the after-death is mysterious. (Oscar Stockwell ready to go— apprehensive about going someplace he had never been before..I understand that.) But Jesus comes to receive us. He sends His angels to prepare the way. And THAT is the final word:

5. But the final word: We DO know Jesus! We DO know Jesus knows us! BUT THERE IS ALSO CERTAINTY: WE KNOW HE KNOWS US!

"We know that when he shall appear we shall be like Him!" (Possible use of George O Cole's ILLUSTRATION of the industrial magnet and the Friday evening scrap heap—)

THERE IS CERTAINTY: WE SHALL BE LIKE JESUS HIMSELF!

THIS HOPE KEEPS US PURE -

Remember the message of the tombstone in the cemetery— that supposedly gives a voice to the dead in the grave: "As you are so once was I—- as I am soon you will be!"??

Pretty depressing if the grave is our final resting place.

The Call to Glory

But take these same words and hear Jesus speak them to us, and suddenly they are very true:

"As you are, so once was I!" He took our sins and our sorrows and made them His very own! He was tempted in all points as we are, yet without defeat! Jesus came all the way down to be one with us... but that is not the end—

"As I am you soon shall be!" Or, as John writes, "We know that when we see Him we shall be like Him!"

Knowing the JOYS of a holy heaven!

United forever with a pure love to all the saints in glory!

Thank God for His transforming love! Amen!

Prayer

685 For All the Saints!

Responsible Love

The Nature of Grace

November 17, 1996

Joshua 24:15-25

Synopsis: We have followed the Exodus, from the Burning Bush and the call of Moses ... to the Passover Night .. and the Giving of the Law at Sinai. We come to the end of the biblical account. The story entered a new phase with Joshua, and the trauma of changing leadership. Moses climbed the mountain and viewed the Promised Land and died without himself ever entering. Joshua was charged with taking the generation of survivors of the wilderness into Canaan. Joshua, whose name is the same as our Savior, completed the Exodus journey.

Moses brought the people OUT, and Joshua led them IN. A generation died in the 40 years of wandering. The ones who were children and youth led the way into the Promised Land. And now even Joshua is ready to retire, and calls a new generation to covenant, to renew what they already believe.

The Exodus story is tremendously important. [You may have heard of the book, "All I ever really needed I learned in Kindergarten"? Well, the Exodus story is a lot like that!] It tells more than we can ever fully understand about how God loves and calls people to be his own. It tells about the church- even the church we know today. It tells us about ourselves and how we can relate to God. If we had to sum up the lessons of Exodus, MY list would include:

1. God hears when people cry for help.

The LOVE of our great God responds!

2. God usually sends people to help people find His salvation.

Moses' call— was God's answer to a cry for help in Egypt! Sometimes we are "Moses" and God calls us to go— Sometimes God sends a "Moses" to answer our cry . . .

3. "Salvation" is a journey as well as a time or two of crisis.

Passover - - Red Sea - - Pillar of cloud/fire - - Manna - - Sinai - - all these necessary, but "salvation" meant staying with God right on through . . .

4. God's grace is personal, but is always in the context of the community of faith.

We Americans, particularly, often miss the total sense of community that permeates the Bible, Old Testament and New. The word "saint" does not appear in the New Testament! It is always in the plural. God cares about you as much as anyone in the world. But God has no favorites! We are brothers and sisters— in this together!

5. The GOAL of Exodus, and thus the goal of "salvation" is God Himself.

The real GOAL of the Exodus was God Himself. When we settle for His gifts, and make them ends in and of themselves, they fail to satisfy. The paradox of the call of God to Himself is that while we are seeking Him He is with us. The Exodus "ends" when we leave

Egypt (we are "saved"), and yet it "continues" even after we have entered Canaan.(We are still seekers after God!) The mystery of Exodus is the wonder of the Incarnation. It is God seeking a home in His people. . . . and finally

6. (Conclusion) Grace demands a choice, and on-going obedience.

Joshua 24:15-30 (a dialogue between Joshua and the people at the end of Joshua's time of leadership)

Joshua: Grace demands a response of LOVE for God! I will serve the Lord!

People: So will we!

J: You CANNOT serve the Lord! HE is holy!

P: We will lay aside lesser things! We WILL!

J: You are witnesses against yourselves!

P: Yes, we ARE witnesses!

And so the covenant was renewed again.. another generation accepted the challenge to be God's called people!

- At the close of last week's series of meetings many of you came forward, as I did, to the altar, to tell the Lord we really are available to Him— we really do love Him. We were saying, in effect, like these people when Joshua challenged them: We want God more than anything else!
- That service was moving to me! I caught a glimpse of tremendous power waiting to be released. Power, not because you are strong, or I, but because when a group of people are willing to simply obey, and seek God on His terms, there is no human way to understand all God can do. Dwight L. Moody is supposed to have said, "The world has yet to see what would happen if someone gave himself completely to God, and I intend to be that person!"— only here it is "This world has yet to see what God might do with a community of faith that is wholly dedicated to Him, and we intend to follow the Lord with all our hearts!"
- There will be plenty to DO— but what is important now is letting go, and letting God have all of us! The struggle is not to make ourselves holy, or strong, or gifted. The struggle (agonidzomai) is to say to God— "At any cost, O God, I want YOU!"

At the funeral for Esther D. Williamson I chose a poem to sum up her life, which had many achievements.

*My goal is God Himself— not joy, nor peace,
Nor even blessing, but himself, my Lord.
'Tis his to lead me there, not mine, but his,
At any cost, dear Lord, by any road.*

*So faith bounds forward to its goal in God,
And love can trust her Lord to lead her there.*

Responsible Love

Upheld by Him, my soul is following hard Till God fulfills my deepest prayer.

*No matter if the way be sometimes dark;
No matter though the cost be oftentimes great;
He knoweth best how I can reach the mark;
The path that leads to Him must needs be straight.*

*One thing I know, I cannot say Him nay.
One thing I do, I press toward my Lord;
My God, my glory here from day to day,
And in the glory there, my great Reward.*

Prayer

497 - I'll Live for Him Who Died for Me

Where Love Abides

November 17, 1996

I John 4:7-2

John 13:34 A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another, even as I have loved you, that you also love one another. By this shall all men know that you are My disciples, if you have love one for another.

INTRODUCTION (v 7)

"Love one another" the hallmark of John's ministry; the hallmark of God's people. But what is this love?

Look at this passage with me. It is:

I. A STATEMENT ABOUT GOD

A. GOD IS LOVE (v 8)

God is love. This is not comprehensive (it is not all that may be said of God) but it is conclusive: whatever else God is, He is LOVE! And so love defines God's family.

Wesley's statement: "God is love. -This little sentence brought St. John more sweetness, even in the time he was writing it, than the whole world can bring. God is often styled holy, righteous, wise; but not holiness, righteousness, or wisdom in the abstract, as He is said to be love: intimating that this is His darling, His reigning attribute, the attribute that sheds an amiable glory on all His other perfections." One stanza in Frederick W. Faber's hymn, There's a Wideness, says it very beautifully:

*'For the love of God is broader Than the measure of man's mind;
And the heart of the Eternal
Is most wonderfully KIND!*

B. GOD IS KNOWN, REVEALED BY HIS LOVE (also v8)

John is so strong in his conviction about God being love that he says: Love is essential to knowing God in any degree! "The one who does not LOVE does not know God!" God is known by His love; somehow we come to know Him by receiving and reflecting that love. How deficient some of us may feel as we hear this! How poorly we reflect such a great love! Never mind! God's commandments are also God's promises!

[But this passage is also a statement about God's people:]

II. A STATEMENT ABOUT GOD'S PEOPLE

A. GOD'S PEOPLE ARE TO REFLECT HIS NATURE

If God loves us, and has accepted us on the basis of grace and His own loving-kindness, then God expects us somehow to reflect His life and His love in our everyday living.

B. THIS IS EXPRESSED 'NEGATIVELY' HERE BY SHOWING TWO THINGS THAT ARE MUTUALLY EXCLUSIVE WITH GOD'S LOVE:

If love is the hallmark of God's people there are some things that God's love does not coexist with:

1. "Love" and "fear with torment" are mutually antagonistic, and where there is "perfect love" fear is "excluded." Taken in its literal statement of language ("all fear") we understand fear, this has been carried to logical absurdity.

There are all kinds of fears— fears that have no moral or spiritual implications whatsoever— fear of heights, of pain, of spiders . . .

John does modify his "fear" statement by speaking about fear that has torment. So we may safely say that the love of God does not change our human nature so that we have no fear of anything, ever.

And, too, we will still have a healthy "fear of God." The immensity, the majesty, the wonder of God the Creator, and above all else, the glimpse of His perfect holiness will ever inspire a holy awe, which the Bible terms "fear." But the Psalmist has it right: "The fear of the Lord is clean, enduring forever!" (Psalm 19:9)

2. God's love does not co-exist with hatred of other human beings.

We love what He loves, we hate what He hates. And that includes the most cruel form of hatred which is "un-love!" That detached interest in which we view other human beings in their failures, sins and sufferings as though they were specimens in a laboratory—make observations on their motivations and their conduct, and say, "Tsk, tsk! Isn't it a pity!"

[But remember, don't despair because you feel you don't measure up!:]

III. A COMMANDMENT THAT IS ALSO A PROMISE

- A. Which brings us back to John's "life emphasis": "Love one another!" But it isn't original with John. It was the Savior's last commandment: John 13:34

It didn't come "naturally" to John! He was a son of thunder, and a seeker after "destiny." But it came. It came as John obeyed the Savior: "Love one another" is possible with God! God's commandments are also His enablings.

But how can we obey and fulfill this greatest commandment?

- B. Our struggle is not to love one another, or to love the unlovable; not to pretend to 'feelings' we cannot manufacture, but to MAKE GOD AT HOME IN YOUR HEART AND IN MY HEART!

BEFORE WE CAN LOVE THE WORLD— OR EVEN BEFORE WE CAN REALLY LOVE EACH OTHER— WE MUST BE AWARE THAT GOD LOVES US! And when that reality begins to dawn on us, God's LOVE will transform us!

- C. It is GOD'S GRACE that makes His LOVE a reality! The world looks at what we do; and it cannot help it. But the world does not care WHY we do what we do— but 'the WHY' is everything to the Christian.

The world admired Martin Luther King (after the fact!) but it ignored and ignores the fact that he did what he did on the authority of the Bible.

The world admires Mother Teresa for her amazing love of the un-lovely. But what the world does not care to see is THE DISCIPLINE OF PRAYER AND DEVOTION TO JESUS THAT FIRES AND EMPOWERS THAT SERVICE.

[CONCLUSION:] We cannot all be acclaimed as great 'saints,' or for that matter as great anything! But we all can love Jesus and seek to obey His word. When Jesus Christ is truly 'at home' in our hearts, it must follow as the day follows the night, that God's transforming LOVE will flow through us, and we can obey this 'impossible' commandment.

Let us pray:

Gifts Before Christmas

Advent 1

December 1, 1996

I Corinthians 1:7 "... you are not lacking in any spiritual gift as you wait for the revealing of our Lord Jesus Christ..."

EPISTLE: 1 Corinthians 1:1-9

THE HOLY GOSPEL: Mark 13:(24-32)33-37 (The revelation of Christ in glory is) . . . like a man going on a journey, when he leaves home he puts his servants in charge, each with his own work to do, and says, you watch out for each other and do your work. I'll be back!"

When you were in second or third grade did you ever— do you remember— did you ever have your teacher say, "I have to go down to Mr. Benson's office for two minutes. I'm going to leave the door open and Mrs. Hagen across the hall will be listening. You be good and quiet and do your work. I'll be right back!"?? I remember!!

I hated it when they made some teacher's pet the tattletale. Still, sometimes we were reasonably quiet. Sometimes maybe we weren't.

In high school it was a little different. It could be that when a teacher left the room it would get noisy, or things might be thrown around the room, maybe someone's lunch or a pretty girl's books. Usually when classes changed and students filed into a classroom the teacher would be there waiting, because the class would be in her home room. But sometimes we would have to wait for the teacher to come. It could get very interesting if the teacher's coming was delayed more than a minute or two. We would think, "Maybe she isn't coming at all!"

For a little while when I was a junior in Akron North High we had a substitute English teacher, and she was almost always late for our class, which met on the third floor. She usually arrived with her arms full of books and papers, out of breath, scolding us, in a good-natured way for the most part, into silence.

One awful day she was later than usual, and the class was noisier than usual. Erasers were flying, books were sailing. It probably doesn't do any good to tell you that, truthfully, I usually did not take part in the chaos, although I can't say I didn't enjoy it. Anyway, on this fateful day one boy— Stanley M(ika) — produced a cherry bomb from his pocket. The room got very quiet.

Stanley lit a match and we held our breaths. The windows were open— they were the kind that the middle pane swung out from the top. Stanley evidently intended to light the bomb in the classroom and throw it out the window toward the athletic field two stories below. We couldn't believe it— but Stanley lit the bomb— and threw it— and it hit the window pane above the open window and bounced back into the middle of the room, under the desks, hissing.

Just at that very moment our teacher came breathlessly into the quiet room— quiet except for the hissing— with her arms full of books. But before she had a chance to worry about why we were quiet, or what the hissing sound was —-KA- BOOM!— the cherry bomb exploded, and instantly the room was full of smoke, and then there was silence again. Our teacher did not drop her armload of books. She did not miss a step. She simply went over to the desk and sat down and put her face on the books and papers she had been carrying.

I think it may have been a full five minutes that no one said a word, no one made a sound. I imagine today the police would be called and someone would be expelled from school, and there certainly would be a lawsuit. But her awful silence, and the fact that we were all shocked and stunned was punishment for us all, even Stanley the bomb-thrower.

More than forty-five years later I still feel that little woman's pain and disappointment at the chaos that greeted her coming. The Gospel passage is a little like that. We see it from our point of view. It is a little frightening— these passages about the Lord's Coming. God has said, "I'll be right back— you be good and do your work!" And he has left the room in charge of the learners.

The actual words from the Gospel are: "It is like a man going on a journey, when he leaves home and puts his slaves in charge, each with his work (to do)..(Mark 13:34)." From the Master's point of view, do you think He ever wonders how faithful we will be? Do you think He has made a mistake to trust us so much? In Luke 18:8 Jesus asks what seems a wistful question, "When the Son of man comes, will he find faith on the earth?" Will we say, "The teacher is late today— we can do whatever we want!!"?

In many ways, it seems that is exactly what this world IS doing. I've been re-reviewing biographies of John Wesley lately, and I have been impressed again at how much our culture today resembles the early 18th century— not in terms of modernity or creature comforts, but in spiritual poverty and violence and utter insensitivity to God and kindness. They had rampant gambling, we have rampant gambling, legal and illegal. They had bull-baiting and cock-fighting— we have Terminators and DOOM and super-heroes that kill and let blood. It almost seems like chaos is going to be reigning when the Master returns.

Two statements stand out to me in the Gospel lesson, both statements from the same sentence, (verse 31.) Jesus says, first HEAVEN AND EARTH WILL PASS AWAY! (Isn't that encouraging??) "Heaven and earth will pass away?" You may say, I don't know much about that right now, but my employer has sold out and I don't have a job and I don't have money— and I do have bills! "Heaven and earth will pass away?" You may say I don't know about that right now but people I really trusted have let me down. I hurt, and I hurt a lot! Where are you when I need You? "Heaven and earth will pass away?" It isn't comforting at first to realize that heaven and earth WILL pass away. Chaos comes.

But Jesus also says, BUT MY WORDS - - WHAT I AM TELLING YOU RIGHT NOW - - WILL NOT PASS AWAY! Jesus says, "Trust Me! I am making you a promise! I'm coming back! I won't leave you without resources!" I'm leaving YOU in charge! Each of you has his or her work to do! So stay at the job! Don't give up! I'll be back!

SO, WHAT DO WE DO? HOW DO WE APPLY CHRIST'S WORDS?

Cry! Cry out to God! Then keep your eyes and ears open! God cares! And also comfort one another— because God may be using YOU, even as you hurt, to bring His love to someone else. Don't refuse to be God's instrument of healing. Paul says that because of the GRACE of God, we are NOT LACKING IN ANY SPIRITUAL GIFT that we need as we wait for our Lord to reveal Himself.

Even though heaven and earth are passing away, God gives us resources to hold steady as we wait Christ's coming. Those gifts include LOVE! Not love in the abstract— but the tender love of God for YOU! And that love, reflected in the Body.

Those gifts include STRENGTH! The promise is "As thy day, so shall your strength be!" Those gifts include, best of all, GOD'S SPIRIT! His PRESENCE ! Yes, the Master went away— but He is very much with us because he has sent us the Presence! CONCLUSION - It seems like a funny way to approach Christmas— with words about heaven and earth passing away. Is it right to approach the happiest, friendliest time of the year with messages of the end of time, and of the Day of the Lord?

I have a more serious question: Is it right to make the Gospel message "fit" the times? (In the 18th century John Wesley did not spend too much time moaning and crying about how wicked his age was— he preached instead that God LOVED the common and the uncommon, the rich and the poor. He told people they could be saved and they could know it.) With the example of John Wesley, I propose that we don't spend too much time with negatives, crying what's wrong with our times. We are in charge of the Church— and we each have a job to do. We have the gifts necessary to carry out our jobs faithfully.

I don't have any special revelation that a new Wesleyan Revival is on the way, and the world may end in chaos before we know it. But I do have revelation that we are called to be faithful where we are. The results are not for us to determine. God has said, "I'll be right back— you be good and do your work!" And he has left the room in charge of the learners.

The actual words from the Gospel are: "It is like a man going on a journey, when he leaves home and puts his slaves in charge, each with his work (to do)."(Mark 13:34).

#279 It Will Be Worth it All

The Desert Road that Leads to Christmas

December 8, 1996 - Advent II

Isaiah 40:1 Comfort ye my people, saith your God

INTRODUCTION

If someone were to ask you to tell them about the Messiah, how or where would you begin? George Frederick Handel began with the word, "Comfort!"

A MESSAGE OF COMFORT FROM GOD

That word "Comfort." the way the Bible uses it means consolation, and strength, and assurance, and hope. It doesn't mean softness and luxury, but it does mean God cares.

In fact, beginning with the word "Comfort" that story will be told again in words of scripture this evening (Messiah will be performed here at 7 o'clock) that God was made man, and that this man who was God was crucified for our sins, and that he rose again from the dead. The story of comfort, the Good News of the Gospel, goes on to say that if we will receive Him we, too, may become new creatures, sons and daughters of God.

This message of comfort was shouted in the desert. First Isaiah, and then John called out to people with very real, very desperate problems that God cared about them, and knew where they were. Deserts are places 'over at the edge of things,' out past where life is smooth and easy, out where life becomes a fight just to survive. Believe me, there are deserts of the spirit just as real and deadly as any Sahara that sometimes we are forced to cross. Times get hard, vows are broken, separations come. We find ourselves spiritually isolated. Maybe we ourselves have failed, and failed miserably. For whatever reason, we wake up to the fact: We are in the desert.

Without changing a word, these words of scripture are full of power for today. They say God loves you, and there is no desert where He cannot or will not come.

A PROPHET USUALLY BRINGS THE MESSAGE

God usually brings his message of Good News through a human instrument. Sometimes even a prophet. But prophets are people.

Isaiah was priestly and elegant. John the Baptist was, well, strange. He wore funny clothes. He ate strange food. 'Proper' citizens may have thought he didn't have the 'proper' worship style. But John loved God, and obeyed Him. His words carried great power.

Sometimes God's speaks through unexpected sources. God might even want to speak through you!

Pastor Fred Craddock tells the true story of a little girl from one of his early pastorates in Tennessee. Her parents sent her to church, but never came with her. They would pull in the church's circular drive, the little girl would hop out of the car, and they would go out for Sunday breakfast. The father was an executive for a chemical company, upwardly mobile, ambitious. But every Sunday, there was the little girl.

One Sunday Craddock says he looked out over his congregation and thought, "There she is with a couple of adult friends." Later, he realized she was there with Mom and Dad. When, at the end of the service, the invitation was given, Mom and Dad came down front, in their fellowship they came ' to join the church.'

"What prompted this?" Fred asked the father and mother after the service.

"Do you know about our parties," they asked.

"Yeah, I heard of your parties," said the pastor.

"Well, we had one last night again. It got a bit loud, a little rough, there was much drinking. And it woke up our daughter, and she came downstairs and she was on about the third step. And she saw the eating and drinking and said, 'Oh, can I have the blessing? God is great, God is good, let us thank him for our food. Good night, everybody.' She went back upstairs.

People began to say, 'It's getting late, we really must be going,' and 'Thanks for a great evening,' and 'Thanks for a good...' Within two minutes the room was empty."

Mom and Dad picked up crumpled napkins and spilled peanuts, half sandwiches, took empty glasses on trays into the kitchen. And they looked at each other, and he said what they both were thinking. "Where do we think we're going?"

God had spoken to the right where they were. Their response in obedience became a homecoming.

God has people speaking for Him; if we will listen, God will speak! Have you heard Him recently? Do you think that: Sometimes even you and I might be asked to tell someone God cares!

It may sound strange, but we are called to be "on both sides" of the prophet's message of comfort.

We need the message ourselves, every one of us! We all desperately need God's peace, because we all have desert places to go through.

But we need to let the world know about this message, too. And when God comes to us, His Presence enables us to say with Isaiah and John: "God has told us Comfort ye! Comfort ye! God loves you!"

WHEN WE WELCOME JESUS INTO OUR LIVES, AND INTO OUR CHURCH , OUR WELCOME ITSELF BECOMES A MESSAGE OF COMFORT

My concern is: I WONDER IF WE FULLY REALIZE WHAT IT MEANS TO "WELCOME JESUS IN TO OUR LIVES, AND INTO OUR CHURCH'!! We don't bring Jesus into our lives or into the church by our own righteousness, or our good works. (But John the Baptist's message was rugged!) To "prepare the way of the Lord" means somehow we are willing to accept Him as LORD as well as Savior. I wonder if we really know what that means?

A young missionary went off to India 50 years ago and visited there a Hindu monastery whose halls were lined with pictures of many religious personalities of history, including Jesus. Every Christmas the picture of Jesus became a focus of prayer and sacrifice. It was obvious to the young, cultured Englishman that this was a perfect example of syncretism. Jesus had simply been incorporated into the Hindu world-view, and that world view was unruffled.

The Desert Road that Leads to Christmas

Slowly he began to see that his own faith had this same character, of bringing Jesus in to his own world-view, instead of radically rearranging it. Along with many other missionaries, on his return to the homeland that sent him he realized that here, too, was a mission field. (Leslie Newbigin, CT Dec 9,1996, 32)

I wonder if it is possible for any of us to realize just how much we are children of our secular, amoral, godless culture?? Sometimes I get the beginnings of a sick feeling way down inside that this "syncretism" is exactly what WE are doing. Many, many Christians have things in their lives that, practically speaking, are more important than God Himself. Possessions, material comfort, people's opinions, prestige— whatever— but a life/church like that is not going to get out the true message of God's comfort to a world than desperately needs it.

Spiritually, the world we live in is certainly a desert! I have a vision of a loving, caring community that becomes itself a Desert Road that Leads to Christmas! I believe that the believing, caring community is the basic unit God wants to tell the world He still loves them. In fact, I am sure that the ONLY way the world will hear is when churches just like our own hear and believe this word of comfort.

CONCLUSION

We hear a lot of challenge these days in evangelical circles for churches to "leave their comfort zone." By that I suppose we mean that we are supposed to say and do things we don't usually like to do. What that means to me is that I must stop being self-centered, and self-serving, and stop worrying about serving the petty gods of our 'desert culture,' and seriously go about welcoming God into my heart.

But God is challenging us to ENTER His "comfort zone" where whatever else happens, we are at home with HIM. Whatever we think it might cost, it is worth it!

We will never truly convert or convince the world to God by our wisdom, or our apologetic, as important as they truly are. But when we have opened our hearts to the message of HIS comfort— when God comes to us, and we truly love Him and love one another, then this church will be another one of God's voices, crying in the desert, "God loves you! Get ready, He is coming!" Amen.

PRAYER FOR ADVENT II

Merciful God, who sent your messengers the prophets to preach repentance and prepare the way for our salvation: Give us grace to heed their warnings and forsake our idols, that we may prepare with joy the coming of our Savior. Grant, then, that we, too, may join with the prophets in proclaiming the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ our Redeemer; who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen.

[To closing hymn, and benediction]

Looking Forward to Christmas

Advent III

December 15, 1996

John 1:26b Among you stands one whom you do not know

This past week our grandson Jake was stuck at our house for a few hours, which usually means watching Rugrats or sheer boredom for a six-year-old. But somehow this week Jake got to exploring the upstairs bedrooms. He discovered that his grandmother has turned the guest bedroom into a sort of Santa's workshop with wrapping paper and ribbons. And what is more, Jake discovered mysterious boxes and packages of different sizes and weights. Jake proceeded to investigate. Believe me, Jacob was pleased with himself. He was excited! I'm not sure if Jake has what I could theologically call a proper Advent spirit, but I can tell you he is certainly looking forward to Christmas.

Of course, our anticipation of Christmas and all it stands for is much more mature than a six-year-old's, or at least I would hope it would be. Still, there is still something of that little child in each of us, and I'm glad there is. Our Christian faith, when it is mature, can enjoy human traditions, and gifts, and carols, and all the rich human mosaic that brings families together again and again for the holidays, just so long as the trappings don't become ends in themselves. We understand that. But maybe we think we understand Christmas better than we do. Advent means Christmas is coming. Again. We've heard all the sermons about "Let's keep Christ in Christmas..." We've been there before. We've done that. We the "Jesus part" of Christmas— know who Jesus is— don't we?

John the Baptist said two things that might help us anticipate Christmas a little better this year. First, surprisingly, he said, "I am not Messiah!"

John turned aside questions about himself, for he knew he was just a messenger, a voice crying in the desert. It certainly sounds like stating the obvious, but John told us something both about himself, and about how to get ready for Christmas when he told us who he was not. Sometimes we need to say what we are NOT. When it comes to really changing lives, we need to understand just how limited we are in ourselves, and how important it is to point them to the One who can make all the difference. The sooner we realize "I am not God!" the better. John the Baptist knew we all need to know Jesus.

But then, John the Baptist said, "Messiah is already here with you and you do not know Him!" Maybe this Christmas we need to look for Jesus in ways we haven't looked for him before!

Certainly we Christians DO know Jesus! John was speaking to those sinners who were coming to him for baptism when he said they didn't recognize Messiah— wasn't he? Certainly this does not apply to me! I have heard about Jesus all my life! I cannot remember a time when I didn't know about Jesus, and did not believe "Jesus loves me, this I know, for the Bible tells me so!" I certainly DO know Jesus!

Yes, we do know Jesus! We do not need to get saved all over again to understand what Christmas really is about. But in John the Baptist's words is a kernel of truth for you and me, here today: however much we know Jesus, and however precious he may be to us, there are wonders and surprises in store for those who want to know Him better, and are willing to ask Him into the scene where they are.

Jake will find as he grows older that while Christmas presents are always nice, the good feelings they bring don't last forever. He'll find out if he's spiritually smart that our hearts really crave being loved, and being able to respond in love. That is what really meets the needs of human hearts.

And if that is true on a human level, it is also true on the highest level, our relationship with God.

Advent is when we celebrate the miracle of miracles: the fact that God loves us so much he gave his only begotten Son to become one with us, to live among us, to die on the cross for our sins, and by his rising from the dead provide eternal life to every one who believes in him. Advent is when we rejoice in the gift of a Savior. But Advent is also when we try to grasp the fact that God is not just interested in our "souls" but that he loves us, and wants us to love Him. Advent is a time when the people who know Jesus best seek to express that desire to know Him better. If we have not learned the daily walk with Jesus as Friend, then in some sense "one stands among us that we do not (yet) know (as we might.)"

Advent is for right NOW! It is not ancient history! We need to understand that Advent is not trying to identify with the people who sat in darkness, and imagine what it was like before Jesus came. Millions of people still need the message John the Baptist shouted. And we ourselves, in our deserts of isolation, or nights of darkness of the soul, can cry out for God to come, even as we know He is now with us. The "One among us" cares very much where YOU are right now.

Advent is for right NOW! It is not ancient history! But more than 1,000 years ago hymns were written to express the deepest longings of the human heart for Christ. There were seven titles or names in those hymns: "Come, O Come!" (the "O Antiphons") Come thou Wisdom from on High; Dayspring; Root (or Rod) of Jesse; Key of David; Adonai (Lord!); Desire of Nations. But all these are summed up in the most familiar of all, "O Come Emmanuel!" And that name means, "God with us!" God IS with us, waiting for us to ask Him into our lives where we are right now!

It is in that coming— in the certain knowledge that God is indeed "with us" that there is JOY - an audacious thing, certainly NOT the product of our will and energy, but rather the result of realizing that we are not alone, not lost— but that God Himself is here with us. This Emmanuel does not "fix things" necessarily in the way we think they ought to be fixed. He simply says, "If you will open your heart to me, I will come to where you are and I will never, ever leave you again!" We get the idea that if this is true, then maybe we can face the unthinkable. We're still very human, very fragile. But Jesus is, too— human, that is— and he shares his strength with us.

One very human story illustrates the power of love that comes to where we are: Henry Carter, a pastor and an administrator of a home for emotionally disturbed children, tells of an encounter he had one Christmas Eve that gave him a new insight and perspective. He was busy with last minute preparations for the worship service, when one of the floor mothers came to say that Tommy had crawled under his bed and refused to come out. He followed her up the stairs and looked at the bed she pointed out. Not a hair or a toe showed beneath it. So he talked to Tommy as if he were addressing the bucking broncos on the bedspread. He talked about the brightly lighted tree, the packages underneath it and the other good things that were waiting for Tommy out beyond that bed.

No answer.

Still fretting about the time this was costing, Henry dropped to his hands and knees and lifted the spread. Two enormous blue eyes looked out at him. Tommy was 8, but looked like a 5 year old. He could easily have pulled him out. But it wasn't pulling that Tommy needed it was trust and a sense of deciding things on his own initiative. So, crouched on all fours, Henry launched into the menu of the special Christmas Eve supper to be offered after the service. He told of the stocking with Tommy's name on it, provided by the Women's Society.

Silence.

There was no indication Tommy heard or that he even cared about Christmas. At last, because he could think of no other way to make contact, Henry got down on his stomach and wriggled in beside Tommy, snagging his sport coat on the bedsprings on the way. He lay there with his cheek pressed against the floor for a long time. He talked about the big wreath above the altar and the candles in the window. He talked about the carols all the kids were going to sing. Then, finally running out of things to say, he simply waited there beside Tommy.

After a bit, a small child's chilled hand slipped into his.

Henry said, "You know, Tommy, it is kind of close quarters under here. Let's you and me go out where we can stand up." As they slid out from under the bed, Henry realized he had been given a glimpse of the mystery of Christmas.

Hasn't God called us too, as Henry had called Tommy, from far above us? With his stars and mountains and his whole majestic creation, hasn't God pleaded with us to love him and to enjoy the universe he gave us as a gift?

And hasn't he drawn closer through the Bible, and through preaching, and conviction for sin? At then that very first Christmas God stooped to where we live, and came all the way down to live among us. And we have heard, and received, and found assurance of His salvation.

But even this very day, wherever we are in our spiritual journey, One is among us, where we are, that is willing to "get under the bed" with us and stay with us until we have the courage to come out and go with Him, and He will go with us.

PRAYER for Advent III

Stir up your power, O Lord, and with great might come among us; and, because we often are so easily centered in ourselves, let your light shine on us, to show us how very near

You are to us, and how very much You love us. We invite you to enter every part of our lives. O Come and let your bountiful grace and mercy speedily help and deliver us; through Jesus Christ our Lord, to whom, with you and the Holy Spirit, One God, be honor and glory, now and for ever. Amen

#155 - A Name I Highly Treasure

A House Where God Lives

Advent IV

December 22, 1996

Romans 16:25b-26a "...the mystery that was kept secret... is now disclosed"

Today, on this final Sunday of Advent, the story we remember is about Mary, the mother of Jesus. But strangely enough, our scripture lessons begin the story with a conversation between God and David, seven or eight hundred years before Mary was born.

David, as we all remember, began his working life as a shepherd boy, and he became the greatest king Israel ever had- maybe for a short time the greatest king in the world. In his mature years David sat in his beautiful palace and began to wonder what he could do for God. He decided to build a great palace, a temple for God.

When he told Nathan, his spiritual adviser, the prophet was delighted. Nathan is impressed. He says, in effect, "Go for it!" But later, that very night during devotions, God spoke to Nathan: "You didn't bother to ask me about this." And then God said, "I have a question for David:

"Are YOU the one to build a house for ME to live in?"

Then God, through his prophet Nathan, went on to tell David:

"I brought you from the pasture to this palace. I am the one who has built YOUR house.' Where do you think I really want to live?"

Just Where DOES God Live? Where IS God's House?

When that temple finally WAS built, (whether or not it was God's best choice,) at the dedication Solomon said these words: (2 Chronicles 6:18)

"But will God in very deed dwell with men on the earth? behold heaven, and the heaven of heavens cannot contain thee; how much less this house which I have built!"

The church building is called 'the house of God.' Mighty cathedrals and humble chapels are dedicated or consecrated to the worship of God, and we call them houses of worship, or houses of God. They are special, and they ought to be. But God does not "dwell" in them. I often come here to this room to pray. It is a sacred, special place. I have come to this altar publicly— I have come here privately many times with others in special times of need, and probably so have you. We need special places— but God does not "live" here— and God can and does meet us whenever and wherever we pray.

Think again of Solomon's question, "But will God in very deed dwell with men on the earth? " Solomon obviously saw this as a rhetorical question with the obvious answer as "No!" Solomon knew God wouldn't "live" in a building— but also Solomon never had the concept that God wanted to permanently "live" or "dwell" with or in the company of men and women. God is too great, too majestic. The temple was a focal point for worship of God. Beyond that is mystery.

And then suddenly we come to the story of Mary. We come to the story of a teen age Jewish girl in an obscure backwater village in a tiny middle eastern country. From talk of cathedrals and lavish buildings and houses of worship, we abruptly enter the tiny private world of a devout but very young woman, going about her business only to be startled by the shining presence of an archangel of God Almighty!

And we know that lovely story. God who fills the universe and cannot be confined to cathedrals comes to earth to be born of a maiden. The scripture tells us that all generations will rise up to honor Christ's mother.

The Mother Of Jesus

Luke gives us enough of the story to let us know that Mary was not simply a passive recipient of God's revelation as to the great purpose of her life. When she was greeted by the majestic archangel the scripture says she was "perplexed." Any one of us would be. Mary may have been startled, but she was not struck dumb. She questioned. She probed. She was not stubborn, but she needed to know. Maybe the angel has got the wrong Mary?!? But then Mary trusted. She gladly accepts God's best will for her life, and she never looked back.

Misunderstanding, joy, pain, and peace all mingled together in the working out of Mary's story. We know a little bit about her pain. But when we think of Mary we remember her song of praise, the Magnificat, "My soul doth magnify the Lord, and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior!" So it came to be that Mary gave God a place to dwell.

We have here the makings of a great mystery story. As a matter of fact it is THE greatest mystery story of all time! It is the story of a God who is looking for a place to live. A God who is so big that he exists beyond the light years we can grasp as what seem to us infinite space and time of our cosmos, and yet so loving and so intimate that in his fullness he comes to be knit together, fearfully and wonderfully made just as you and I were once knit together in our mothers' wombs, God Almighty seeking the womb of a virgin to be born as a Baby so He can live with us! If you can believe that, — not understand it— but believe it— you are coming very close to the wonder of Christmas! [But that is not the final end of it.]

Our text says that a mystery, THE mystery that was kept secret for long ages, is now disclosed . . . that is . . . the God of the Universe wants to live in human hearts!

In Ephesians Paul speaks about this mystery—(3:17) "...that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith . . . that you being rooted and grounded in love may know ... this love of God which surpasses knowledge." The mystery now disclosed in the Christmas story is that through the Gospel the God of the Universe is also Emmanuel - God with Us! Jews and Gentiles alike, WE are to BE the dwellingplace of God on earth!

- Christ, too big for the Universe to contain
- Christ coming as a Baby born to one Jewish girl
- Christ dwelling— at home— in hearts of believers
- Christ making the church His own Body!

The closing paragraphs of the Bible give this dramatic statement: (Revelation 21:3) And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

So, where does the story of Mary intersect with you and me? How does the idea of God living in our Body "connect"? We know the beautiful carol, "O Holy Child of Bethlehem .. descend on US we pray. Cast out our sin, and enter in, be born in us today!"

How will we respond as God says this morning, "I want to be born in YOU today!"?? Probably, like Mary, the circumstances seem all wrong just now for the unfolding of God's presence in our lives. We might say, "I'm too entangled with responsibilities; I have too much of my own problems just now, Lord.

"Besides, there isn't a lot of room in my life for anything else. I'm too crowded in here already.

"Come back later, God, when I've worked a few things out, and I'll put you on the agenda. You must have the wrong person. At least it is the wrong time!"

Then we hear that conversation again: "The Holy Spirit will come upon you and the power of the Most High shall overshadow you."

God says, "I am God, and you are not! Don't get all caught up in the circumstances. I have chosen you. I have chosen this time. I have chosen these circumstances, and I will deal with them. Let go."

Each day God calls out to us. This morning, God calls out to us. God wants to make us children of the Most High. Mary shows us the way to welcome Jesus into our lives. Probe God, ask questions, offer objections, but listen. God will provide a way. God has a plan for your life. You can trust the One who has always loved you.

"I am the Lord's servant. May it be to me as you have said."

Amen.

Thank God for this sanctuary, this building. But God is looking for a home in YOU!

PRAYER (contemporary language)

Purify our hearts and clarify our spiritual understanding, Almighty God, by your faithful Holy Spirit's revelation, that your Son Jesus Christ, at his coming, may find in us a mansion prepared for himself; who lives and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever.

The Story of Christmas Continuing

December 29, 1996

Luke 2:21-32

Galatians 4:4-7

Revelation 3:8, 20; 4:1

It was just another commonplace ritual in the Temple. It came about the fortieth day of Jesus' earthly life. There were no angels as Mary and Joseph brought their Baby into the Temple for the purification ceremony. No worshiping shepherds, no adoring Magi, at least not yet. Scripture tells that the sacrifice The Holy Family brought was the one prescribed for people who couldn't afford the higher priced sacrificial lamb. It The wonder of that first Christmas night was nowhere to be seen.

How quickly Christmas does seem to disappear! You probably noticed that again this week. One day it was total Christmas, and a lot of original thoughts, like "Why can't we have this warm Christmas feeling all year long?" The very next day it was "back to normal" with not a mention of Christmas with the exception of wonderful post-Christmas sales and bargains.

It isn't hard to discern the difference between a pagan and a Christian observance of Christmas. The pagans leave the Baby on the doorstep— they never bring the Baby into the house. And in some respects you can't blame them. A baby is inconvenient! ANY real commitment costs something.

I. THE INCONVENIENCE OF COMMITMENTS

Families are not primarily places of convenience. They are places of costly love. In our families we experience the heights of joy and the depths of pain. As Christians our families are to reflect to each other the self-giving, unconditional love that God our Father has shown to us in His Son, our Brother, Jesus Christ, both in good times and (more importantly) in bad times.

The Story of Christmas Continuing

The Holy Family of Joseph, Mary and the child Jesus, in the suffering and tragedy they endured together, is a model for us and our own families as we confront the many tensions and crises that threaten the stability, peace and unity that are the joys of being a family. In our Gospel lesson today The Holy Family was quickly learning some of the costs of commitment. One of the things they had to do as a family was present their son in the Temple for rites of circumcision and christening. These were rituals that demanded sacrifices.

Babies bring a lot into a home. Babies are exciting— for a while. Then they become very demanding. Babies are cute, whatever that word means. But sometimes babies are downright upsetting! It is usually six weeks before the parents of a new baby get the semblance of an unbroken night of sleep. Babies demand commitment. Are they worth it?

The commitment to marriage itself demands the inconvenience of commitment. No matter how well a couple prepares, and no matter the premarital counselling— they are shocked to find out that every marriage that succeeds takes WORK; no commitment was ever made that did not demand some measure of life changing inconvenience.

A commitment to God Himself is not a matter of convenience, either. Our church family ought not be a matter of convenience. As a matter of fact, a commitment to God just may be the most inconvenient thing imaginable. God never "fits" into our activities until He is given his rightful place.

Which is one answer to the question "Why can't we have this warm Christmas feeling all year long?" Christmas is a beginning, a birth, and not a goal and ending in and of itself. It is a happy welcoming of the Babe into our hearts and homes. It is a challenge to be REAL!

II. THE CHALLENGE OF COMMITMENT

The challenge to be real.

Our culture doesn't like plain old reality. There is a real question in my mind if it is possible for people who have to be excited and entertained and stimulated all the time can ever find the attitude or receptivity to come to know and receive the Babe of Christmas.

William Willimon wrote:

"...If every day at church were like Christmas Eve, then nothing would be like Christmas Eve. Show me a church where everything is happy, upbeat, joyous every Sunday and I'll show you a place out of touch with life. I don't care how developed your spiritual sensitivities, in life there are always peaks and valleys, sunshine and rain. Life is a rhythm. If your religion is only a faith of Christmas Eve and Easter Sunday, it isn't much, because life has a lot of low times, too. It's great to go up to the temple at Jerusalem. It's a wonder, on some mountaintop or Bethlehem of a place, to witness the heavens opening and to catch a wisp of angels' wings. But that can't be for always. . . . the ordinary returns after the extraordinary, and everyday life resumes. "

The story of Joseph taking Mary and Jesus to church "as he was supposed to do" is as much an affirmation of Emmanuel, GOD WITH US, as the more familiar part of the story earlier in the chapter with the angels and the shepherds and all. God is with us here the Sunday after Christmas just as much as Christmas Eve. God is with us NOW, going to church, doing what we're supposed to do, obeying the rules, going back to work, back to the office, back to the pots and pans as much as God was with us at Bethlehem.

The challenge of commitment is to walk with Jesus when it is exciting, and when it is routine and difficult. My challenge to reality is to tell Jesus every single day that I am available for Him to use as He sees fit!

Your walk with Jesus is not peripheral to all the other things you do. All the other things you do are peripheral to your walk with Jesus.

The Story of Christmas Continuing

Your time of prayer with God each day is not simply a chore to get over with— but it is a request that He will take His rightful place in your life, and that you will come to reflect His love. It may not be exciting every day. But it is LIFE!

There is a danger in the virtual reality of the media-dominated culture of our times—the excitement and the vicarious experience that pushes aside the inconvenience and the investment of time and effort required in finding authentic LIFE!

I have heard for years pastors complain that their members are always comparing a local church and program to, say, some great TV church or cathedral. But it is not just in the areas of religion— the TV pictures all of life as exciting, and glamorous— marriage is supposed to be one thrill after another. But real life isn't like that at all.

[Aside: a comment on the appetite for bizarre, etc.??]

I think one of the most discouraging things I have read lately is the statistic that a recent movie release of vulgar TV cartoon characters {Beavis and Butthead} was the top-grossing money maker over the Christmas holidays. I don't think the movie itself will send us down the tubes— it simply indicates that in many ways we are already there!

Sometimes the erosion of all that is noble and good and holy seems to be accomplished not by a great frontal attack or a dramatic moral collapse, but simply by frittering away our days and our hours with our backs to the Babe of Bethlehem until God seems less real than Oprah and Bill Parcells or whomever.]

The challenge to be loving.

But being "real" is not all of the challenge to make the Babe of Bethlehem "at home" in our lives:

The glamorous lies that promise satisfaction without commitment tend to make life more and more self-centered. But "bringing the Baby into our lives" challenges us to care about people besides ourselves. Real "Christmas love" cares about others.

A wonderful man named Lawrence Jenco died last July 19, 1996. His name probably doesn't ring a bell for you. He was a Servite Priest who was kidnapped and held captive in Lebanon for 564 days— until he was released July 26, 1986. The next ten years Fr. Jenco was a living testimony to the power and quality of forgiveness. A friend of his, Fr. Joe Nolan, told a little story that gave great insight into Lawrence Jenco's love for others. Fr. Jenco's mother was dying. As he came near her bed she attempted to speak. He bent low to hear her last words of wisdom. With great effort she said, "Did you have lunch?" She died within the hour. His mother, on her death-bed, was thinking of others. Fr. Jenco came by his spirit of love honestly!

[I had a very similar experience as pastor of this church. The people we remember with love and awe are those who genuinely cared— who loved! Fifteen or so years ago one of the most beautiful ladies I ever knew, Dee Starr Sullivan, was dying in Beth Israel hospital after a long and painful battle with cancer. As I came to her bed the family parted and her husband Bernie and her dad said, "Dee, the pastor is here!" She opened her eyes and said very plainly, and with her sweet caring spirit "How ARE you?" I have not gotten over that reality she showed— of living for others.

Transition: This is the last Sunday in yet another calendar year. Perhaps this IS "2,000 A.D.!!" A few days ago I was reading in Revelation, coming to the end of my "One Year Bible" again— and I saw again how COMMITMENT IS GOD'S OPEN DOOR INTO ALL HIS PROMISES.

In his messages to the churches the Risen Savior spoke of at least TWO different "doors" in two different cities.

III. COMMITMENT: GOD'S OPEN DOORS INTO LIFE

A Door in Philadelphia. Jesus said, "You have (just) a little strength." But I have put an open door in front of you! Is there risk involved? Certainly. But NOT to enter the open door is certainly a sentence of consignment to insignificance for ever and ever. To follow Jesus COSTS! But it is the way of life.

But there was another door Jesus spoke to a church about; that other door was mentioned after the message to Laodocia.

The Story of Christmas Continuing

A Door In Laodocia. Jesus said, "Behold, I stand at the door and knock!" Laodocia may not be exactly our address. But we do understand its language. "I am the greatest!" "We're Number One!" Sound familiar?

In sadness, the Savior says to a smug people: "You really don't know what you are talking about! You have never even SEEN real health and wealth!" Then the Savior says, "I have pure gold for the asking— it is paid for! I have all the wealth that you REALLY need! Would you really like to be rich?"

There is a closed door which stands between the Christians at Laodocia and all the promises of the Book. That door represents commitment!

This door is a door we open when Jesus saves us. "One door, and only one, and yet its sides are two—" and "Into my heart! Into my heart!" But that door is also the door by which we go IN AND OUT AND FIND REALITY!

God has set an open door before us. God is asking us to keep an open door to Him all the days of our lives.

God's open door can not be forced shut by all the hard things that come. But at the same time, God will not push the door of your heart and your personal life open if you choose to keep it closed.

The biggest challenge to you and me as we face a New Year and the rest of our lives is not to do something great and spectacular— but rather it is to keep the door open and keep walking day by day with Jesus!

Your walk with Jesus is not peripheral to all the other things you do. All the other things you do are peripheral to your walk with Jesus.

It was just another commonplace Temple ritual of purification, just another Jewish baby. But not for Mary and Joseph and Jesus. And not for two old saints who knew how to keep their eyes and ears open to spiritual reality. They were tuned in to the Reality of God. That day God revealed to Simeon, and then to Anna wonderful truth. God enabled them to be witnesses to the Savior even before He could speak.

And if we stay tuned to the Reality that is our God, He will show us what it means that the church is not peripheral to this world, but the world is peripheral to the church. Amen.

Prayer

A Prayer for Just After Christmas

Father God, you have given us the Gift of your only begotten Son to be born of a pure Virgin, to take upon himself our nature;

Grant that we by faith may receive Your life through Him, and be truly made your sons and daughters, and may find grace to daily be renewed by your Holy Spirit, through our Lord Jesus Christ, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, one God eternal, world without end. Amen.

Hymn #192 Angels from the Realms of Glory or #617 A Closer Walk with Thee

Speak for Your Servant is Listening

Say Yes '97

January 5, 1997

1 Samuel 3:10 (1-10)

Samuel's call was sudden and even dramatic when it came. It woke him in the quiet of the night. Yet it was pure and simple when it came. God spoke and Samuel heard, even though at first he did not understand. But it is not surprising that God called Samuel. In fact it would have been surprising if God's call had not come.

Hannah, Samuel's mother, love him very much. She loved him so much she gave him to God. She said, (1 Sam 1:27-8) "I prayed for the child, and the Lord has granted me what I asked. So now I give him to the Lord. For his whole life he will be the Lord's." More than anything else, Hannah wanted her son to be a man of God. And that is what he became.

Samuel's growth was gradual, both before, and certainly for years after that remarkable night when God called and called and called again. No child, even the most gifted, springs into greatness full blown. Children must be nurtured, and taught how to listen for God, and encouraged to say yes to his revealed will.

Eli, the old priest, had a part in helping Samuel understand what he was hearing. Eli was far from perfect, but he was a man who had enough sense to coach Samuel. Eli said, when God calls say, "Speak, Lord, for your servant is listening!"

Samuel's "Yes!" as a child just was the beginning. He was the last and greatest of the judges. He was the first of a line of great prophets. And he became a bridge to future greatness for his entire nation.

Because Hannah his mother loved him enough to start him in the right direction, and Eli the priest had sense enough to help him say "yes" to God, God found a man who would anoint two kings, and who would himself see the greatness in a shepherd boy, David, who became Israel's greatest king.

Speak for Your Servant is Listening

(Believe me,) This world needs a Samuel today. It needs a David, and a Nathan. It needs a Hannah and a Moses and a Mary. It needs a "YOU" filled with God's Spirit! Our world needs Jesus, and needs people who can show him to the world. And that NEED is at the heart of what "Say Yes" is about.

Our goals are high. We want to know God better than we have ever known him before. And we want to have such a climate here in our community that Samuel can hear God call. We want to provide a place where God can bring us to our full spiritual potential in Jesus Christ.

To say yes is to enter God's great plan for your life. And that is exciting. But more, much more. To say "Yes" as a community ...

- Opens a door for greater ministry than any one of us can do on our own. To say "Yes!"
- Opens the door for our young people to answer God's call in faith. It opens the door for exciting growth in ways we haven't learned to measure.
- Our goals are high. Some people think of a missions emphasis as raising money to enable missionaries to go where we cannot, and say what we cannot. And that is wonderful. But our goals are higher than money.

Some people think "Say Yes" is a means to make our church here healthy and strong. That is wonderful, too, and is getting closer to the goals for "Say Yes." But our goals are higher than building a church.

Our goal this month is to lay the foundation for an entire year of deliberate obedience to God. Our goal is on-purpose spiritual progress.

- We will hear from evangelical networking in New England -(tonight!)
- We will hear from Nazarene missionaries.
- We will hear and meet people who have ministered in China, and among Asians here in our country.
- We will have a General Superintendent help us with a vision for the world.

But the key is our own willingness to simply obey the Lord in little things and big things— in our homes and together as the Body of Christ. A church that says YES to God will make a difference in 1997. Together with God's help we can say, "Speak, Lord, for your servants are listening!"

Everyone can say "Yes!" Give God your children, your money, your time, your love.

+ + +

I came upon a remarkable story recently. We have heard how a few hundred thousand or a million Chinese Christians BEFORE Communism became more than 50,000,000 today and still growing. This story is about one very ordinary young woman who simply said "YES" to God's will. Her life became a part of that miracle growth in China:

This young woman was working as a servant, a parlormaid in London— when one day she attended a revival meeting and heard the preacher speak of dedicating her entire life to God.

GLADYS AYLWARD responded— said "YES" and became convinced she was to preach the Gospel in China. At age 26 she became a probationer at China Inland Mission Center in London— but failed her examinations and was rejected. So she went to work at other jobs and saved her money.

Then she heard of a 73-year-old missionary Jeannie Lawson who was looking for a younger woman to carry on her work. Gladys wrote ... was accepted if she could get to China. .. not enough money for the ship fare..had saved enough for the train fare, and so in October of 1930 she set out from London with her passport, her Bible, her tickets, and two pounds ninepence, to travel to China by the Trans Siberian Railway, despite the fact that China and the Soviet Union were engaged in an undeclared war. She arrived in Vladivostok and sailed from there to Japan and from Japan to Tientsin, and thence by train, then bus, then mule, to the inland city of Yangchen, in the mountainous province of Shansi, a little south of Peking.

1. The building in which they lived had once been an inn, and with a bit of repair work could be used as one again. Mule caravans that carried coal, raw cotton, pots, and iron goods on six week or three month journeys. When next a caravan came past, Gladys dashed out, grabbed the rein of the lead mule, and turned it into their courtyard. (Jesus stories) After the first few weeks, Gladys did not need to kidnap customers they turned in at the inn by preference. Some became Christians, and many of them (both Christians and non-Christians) remembered the stories, and retold them more or less accurately to other muleteers at other stops along the caravan trails. Gladys practiced her Chinese for hours each day, and was becoming fluent and comfortable with it. Then Mrs. Lawson suffered a severe fall, and died a few days later. Gladys Aylward was left to run the mission alone, with the aid of one Chinese Christian, Yang, the cook.

2. After the death of Mrs. Lawson...met the Mandarin of Yangchen. The government had decreed no more foot-binding; the mandarin needed a foot inspector, a woman (so that she could invade the women's quarters without scandal), with her own feet unbound (so that she could travel), who would patrol the district enforcing the decree. GLADYS accepted the job .. it gave her undreamed of opportunities to spread the Gospel. She moved to Yanchen— and in her second year there Gladys was summoned by the Mandarin. A riot had broken out in the men's prison. She arrived and found that the convicts were rampaging in the prison courtyard, and several of them had been killed. The soldiers were afraid to intervene. The warden of the prison said to Gladys, "Go into the yard and stop the rioting." She said, "How can I do that?" The warden said, "You have been preaching that those who trust in Christ have nothing to fear." She walked into the courtyard and shouted: "Quiet! " Lives were saved. Prisons were changed! The people began to call Gladys Aylward "Ai weh deh," which means "Virtuous One." It was her name from then on.
3. About this time GLADYS saw a woman begging by the road, accompanied by a child covered with sores She satisfied herself that the woman was not the child's mother, but had kidnapped the child and was using it as an aid to her begging. She bought the child for ninepence a girl about five years old. A year later, "Ninepence" came in with an abandoned boy in tow, saying, "I will eat less, so that he can have something." Thus Ai weh deh acquired a second orphan, "Less." And so her family began to grow.... to more than 200.

She was a regular and welcome visitor at the palace of the Mandarin, who found her religion ridiculous, but her conversation stimulating. Then the war came. In the spring of 1938, Japanese planes bombed the city of Yangcheng, killing many and causing the survivors to flee into the mountains. Five days later, the Japanese Army occupied Yangcheng, then left, then came again, then left. The Mandarin gathered the survivors and told them to retreat into the mountains for the duration. He also announced that he was impressed by the life of Ai weh deh and wished to make her faith his own.

4. A Japanese handbill offering $100 each for the capture, dead or alive, of (1) the Mandarin, (2) a prominent merchant, and (3) Ai weh deh. She determined to flee to the government orphanage at Sian, bringing with her the children she had accumulated, about 100 in number. (An additional 100 had gone ahead earlier with a colleague.) With the children in tow, she walked for twelve days. Some nights they found shelter with friendly hosts. Some nights they spent unprotected on the mountainsides. On the twelfth day, they arrived at the Yellow River, with no way to cross it. All boat traffic had stopped, and all civilian boats had been seized to keep them out of the hands of the Japanese. The children wanted to know, "Why don't we cross?" She said, "There are no boats." They said, "God can do anything. Ask Him to get us across." They all knelt and prayed. Then they sang. A Chinese officer with a patrol heard the singing and rode up. He heard their story and said, "I think I can get you a boat." They crossed, and after a few more difficulties Ai weh deh delivered her charges into competent hands at Sian, and then promptly collapsed with typhus fever and sank into delirium for several days. As her health gradually improved, she started a Christian church in Sian, and worked elsewhere, including a settlement for lepers in Szechuan, near the borders of Tibet. Her health was permanently impaired by injuries received during the war, and in 1947 she returned to England for a badly needed operation. She remained in England, preaching there until her death, Jan 3, 1970.
5. In 1957, Alan Burgess wrote a book about her, THE SMALL WOMAN. It was condensed in THE READER'S DIGEST, and made into a movie called THE INN OF THE SIXTH HAPPINESS, starring Ingrid Bergman. When NEWSWEEK magazine reviewed the movie, and summarized the plot, a reader, supposing the story to be fiction, wrote in to say, "In order for a movie to be good, the story should be believable!"

Speak for Your Servant is Listening

Miss Gladys Aylward, the Small Woman, Ai weh deh, died 3 January 1970.

The tremendous power of an ordinary person who simply said "YES" to God's will.

We have heard how a few hundred thousand or a million Chinese Christians BEFORE Communism became more than 50,000,000 today and still growing. It was because of powerful seed planted by little people like GLADYS, and like you and me, who said "YES" and kept on saying "YES" where the Lord led them, where they were!

+ + +

Samuel's call, when it came, was sudden and even dramatic when it came. It came in the quiet of the night. God spoke and Samuel heard, even though at first he did not understand. How much do we love our children? What are our highest hopes and dreams for them? Do we want them to be men and women of God more than any other thing? How much do we trust the Lord? God is still calling. And the response is still, "Speak, Lord, your servant is listening!"

PRAYER

Heavenly Father, thank you for the life humble people, even like your servant Gladys Aylward, whom you called to preach the Gospel to the people of China. Thank you for all who are answering your call right now, from this church, and throughout your Church around the world.

Speak in our day, in our fellowship, heralds and evangelists of your kingdom, wherever you would send them, that your Church may show the unsearchable riches of our Savior Jesus Christ; who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever.

Our focal point of this our first service in this month of "Say Yes" is the Table of the Lord. This sacrament is a living reminder that Jesus said "Yes" to the Father's will. It is an opportunity for each of us to say "Yes" to all of God's will for us today.

THE HOLY COMMUNION

The Law Read and Confession Made

Brothers and sisters, let us search our hearts. In silence let us ask God to draw us near to Himself so that we can come to his table with confidence.

Shall we pray:

Search us, O God, and know our most private thoughts. Try us, and show unto us the deepest motives, the real state of our hearts. Forgive us where we have been selfish, or insensitive, or sinful in any way. As you grant us, and ONLY as you grant us the grace of your indwelling Spirit can we hope to keep the Great Commandment, and truly love You, O God, with all our heart, soul, and mind . As your love is shed in our hearts, and ONLY as that love IS given to us we are enabled to love each other as You have commanded.

We do not presume to come to this table, O God, trusting in our own righteousness, but in your great mercy and grace. Grant us to eat the Bread of heaven, and drink the blood shed for the remission of sins, that we may live in Christ, and Christ may live in us forever. Amen

Let us confess our faith:

The Apostles' Creed (STL # 8)

The Informal Invitation ("This is not my table . . . ")

Holy and gracious Father; in your infinite love you made us for yourself; and, when we had fallen into sin, and were worthy of death and hell, you, in your mercy sent Jesus Christ, your only and eternal Son to share our human nature, to live and die as one of us, to reconcile us to You, the God and Father of all.

He stretched out his arms upon the cross, and offered himself in obedience to your will, a perfect sacrifice for the whole world.

The Words of Institution

Speak for Your Servant is Listening

On the night in which he was betrayed our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had give thanks to You he broke it and gave it to his disciples and said, "Take eat: THIS IS MY BODY, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me.

After supper he took the cup and when he had give thanks he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you; THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink this, do it in remembrance of me: Amen

We praise you for the mystery of our salvation! We truly believe

- Christ has died!
- Christ is risen!
- Christ will come again!

Bless these emblems, O God, and make them to us the Body and Blood of your Son, spiritual food, and spiritual drink of new and unending life in Jesus Christ.

And now, together, we pray, as Jesus taught us:

Our Father which art in heaven . . . (partake together)

WE WILL COME TO THE ALTAR TODAY (even though it is quicker and easier to serve and be served in the pews). MAY OUR COMING FORWARD BE OUR PILGRIMAGE TO WORSHIP . . MAY WE SAY BY MOVING TOWARD THE ALTAR "I WANT TO SAY "YES!!" TO YOU, O GOD!" BEFORE MY SISTERS AND BROTHERS I AM CONFESSING BOTH MY NEED AND MY CONFIDENCE IN CHRIST'S SHED BLOOD FOR MY SALVATION.

instructions if otherwise)

Now, humbly we receive the Gifts of God for the People of God

Genesis Questions

January 7, 1997

Happy New Year!

A word about SAYes '97— a time when our church renews and refreshes its mission statement. You're welcome, invited, to get in on the challenge.

New Year also a time for beginnings— for personal renewal.

I begin with Genesis and Matthew - - and again this year was struck with the questions, the first questions in the Bible:

1. The serpent's question YEA, HAS GOD (REALLY) SAID...?

In a sense we have come to label people by the way they answer that question.

- Atheists say "No, of course not!"
- Fundamentalists say: "Yes— and he wrote it down like THIS! This is IT!"
- Liberals say: "People have been discovering God all across the centuries! God is probably speaking even today . . we are discovering . . WE WE"
- Conservatives: "God has spoken... and this is what Calvin said, and Luther."

An oversimplification—YES—but this is a question that cannot be dodged.

THE WORD OF GOD IS ALIVE . . DYNAMIC.

Ultimately it is a Person — it confronts . . .

THERE IS NO SHORTCUT TO THE ANSWER TO THIS QUESTION

2. God's first question ADAM, WHERE ARE YOU?

The amazing picture of Creator God walking through a Garden looking for Adam and Eve.

- God knew/knows where they/we are/were . . . but
- in respect for their person-hood does not drag them out
- in answering God's question THEY discover where they are

TWO ANCILLARY QUESTIONS

- "WHO TOLD YOU YOU WERE NAKED?" God addresses "conscience"
- "HAVE YOU EATEN FROM THE TREE?" "Good" and "evil" are God's business! Can we let HIM have the authority?

3. Cain's question AM I MY BROTHER'S KEEPER?

In his guilt and sin the first murderer looks up to God and says "Why are you asking ME about my brother?"

God makes it plain that He is holding Cain responsible . . . but also makes it plain that there is mercy . . .

THE REST OF THE SCRIPTURES ANSWER THESE FUNDAMENTAL QUESTIONS . . .

WE ARE CALLED TO ANSWER THEM OURSELVES.

THE CHORUS: HERE I AM, LORD

Grace for Help in Time of Need

February 2, 1997

2 Kings 5:1-14; Mark 1:40-45

Before the royal caravan ever got near the capital city the palace was on 'red alert.' Any visit from the north and east was a cause for alarm, and it was clear that this visit was very important. Fearing the worst, but hoping for the best, King Jehoram of Israel had the red carpet run out. The important visitor was greeted. He was Naaman, King Ben-Hadad of Syria's greatest general. What could he possibly want?

And then after some small talk, out it came. Naaman had a letter from the king of Syria to the king of Israel. The letter said, "My great general, Naaman has leprosy. I have sent him to you so you can heal him. Thank you very much. (signed) Ben Hadad."

King Jehoram nearly fainted dead away on the spot. He said, "Could you excuse me for just a minute? I'll be right back." And then he left the meeting hall and went to his quarters where he shouted to his servants, "Who does King Ben-Hadad think I am? God? This is just an excuse to start a war!" And according to the custom of his people, he began to tear his clothing as a sign of anguish.

Just about that time a little man was ushered into the king's presence. His name was Gehazi, and he had a note from his master, the great prophet Elisha. The note read "Don't tear up your royal wardrobe, King. Send the leper over to me." The note was signed "Elisha the Tishbite."

Just then the king didn't have a better idea, so he went back into the meeting room and acted like he had just been out making arrangements in a businesslike way. He said, "Go and visit the prophet over on Cottage Lane. His name is Elisha. Elisha is our leprosy specialist. Elisha is your man. Thank you very much. Goodbye."

So the royal caravan left the royal palace and headed down the main street and down side streets and out to the edge of town. There were plenty of people to tell the camel drivers the way, and with a dramatic entrance the glitter of scarlet and gold and bellowing camels and guard uniforms came to a stop in front of the house of the prophet Elisha.

This is one of the funny scenes in the Bible. The prophet was at home, but somehow he didn't bother to come to the door. Where the king had fallen all over himself to fawn on his threatening guests, Elisha just sent down his servant, Gehazi, with what really was a remarkable promise of grace. Gehazi had to tell one of the most powerful men he would ever meet, "My boss said for you to go and dip seven times in the Jordan River and you would not have leprosy any more."

Naaman's pride almost kept him from the miracle. He was used to having his ego massaged. He expected a different kind of treatment. He was a VIP. But what he got was the thing he needed most. He couldn't pay for his healing. He couldn't do some heroic thing to deserve it. All he could do was trust the prophet's promise, and do as he was told.

The leper in the Gospel story was at the other end of the social register. He didn't have a note from a king. All he had was leprosy. But he knew where to go. He knew what to say. He knew how to say it. On his knees before the Son of God he cried for help. "If you choose, you can make me clean!"

Mark, the Gospel writer, says Jesus was moved with compassion. He stretched out his hand and touched the leper. Everyone had been taught not to touch lepers. It may have been years since anyone had deliberately put a kind hand on this man's shoulder. But on purpose, with love, Jesus reached out and touched the man who asked his help.

"I do choose," Jesus said. "Be made clean!"

Two stories:

- A flawed VIP finds healing as he is humbled. he doesn't get the VIP treatment he thought he deserved but he got something better.

- A poor outcast leper finds healing that not only saves his life, but brings him back to "life." As we come to the Table of the Lord this morning we probably feel far removed from both of these stories.

The Table of the Lord is a Table of Grace. It is a reminder that no one is rich enough or important enough to pay his own way, but at the same time, no one is so poor and so lowly that God does not love them and welcome them to His side.

[Senator Bill Bradley, 6'8" tall, came through a cafeteria line at the Capitol. He asked for a second pat of butter from the 5'5" waiter. He was refused: policy. "Do you know who I am?" asked the senator. He is impressive— former Knick pro basketball player, former Rhodes scholar. "I am United States Senator Bill Bradley!" "Do you know who I am?" asked the waiter, drawing himself up to his full 5' 5" height. " I AM THE MAN WITH THE BUTTER!"]

Grace is how we come to be saved. It is a humbling thing to have someone die in your place. God is not impressed with your importance, nor is He about to reject you because of your past sin. Grace is how we come to be saved.

Grace is the way we continue to walk with God in the good times and the hard times of life. Every last one of us lives in need to God's grace. You may have it all together just now— but you still need God's grace more than you know. Some here this morning are on living quietly on the edge of desperation. Grace is the way we continue to walk with God!

For us all these stories remind us that God hears us when we cry for help!

God is moved with compassion— he cares when we hurt.

The Naaman story may be shrouded with centuries of history and mystery, but still the fact remains that God healed a pagan general when he asked for help, and when he was willing to follow God's Word.

Jesus looked with compassion at the leper when he begged for help. I believe that Jesus cares about YOU!

His promise is simple - we COME because He invites us

His keeping grace is the same— "He that spared not his own Son but delivered Him up for us all, how shall he not with him also freely give us all things?"

As we come to the table this morning bring your burdens, your cares, your needs, your flaws— and ask Jesus to make you whole. The miracle begins when we ask! The best, the strongest, the most needy— all may come and find God's grace.

Directly to Communion unless otherwise led here:

The Communion

Scripture (I Corinthians 11:23-30)

For I received from the Lord what I also handed on to you, that the Lord Jesus on the night when he was betrayed took a loaf of bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it and said, "This is my body that is broken for you. Do this in remembrance of me." In the same way he took the cup also, after supper, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood.

Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me." For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until he comes.

Whoever, therefore, eat the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord in an unworthy manner will be answerable for the body and blood of the Lord. Examine yourselves, and only then eat of the bread and drink of the cup. For all who eat and drink without discerning the body, eat and drink judgment against themselves. For this reason many of you are weak and ill, and some have died. [NRSV]

Apostles' Creed (#8)

Invitation to the Table of the Lord

Jesus Himself is the Host.

Examine your heart. If He bids you come, you are welcome.

Prayer of Confession/Forgiveness

O Father, The "holiest" among us needs every moment the grace of God; we are not holy in and of ourselves. We come short of the perfect will of God in performance, and all too often, we lag in spirit, are insensitive in our relationships, and act more to our own self interest than for the kingdom of God and the salvation of others.

For this we ask your forgiveness— the purchase of your blood on Calvary.

We claim your promise: (I John 1:7,9) If we confess our sin, God is faithful and just to forgive us our sin, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

Prayer of Dedication

We ask that we may have your ASSURANCE that we have been CHOSEN of you to be your sons and daughters.

We ask that you will give us our ASSIGNMENT, not just our "big" assignment for life's career, but our day-by-day assignment of introducing You to those we know.

We ask that You will help us ACCEPT Your revealed will, and put you at the center of our lives, in all we do.

We ask that as You have told us that You are the Bread of Heaven, that by faith may we partake of your body and blood to our soul's life and health.

Lord's Prayer (Our Father which art in heaven . . .)

(Instructions. This morning you will be served in the pews. Pass the tray and then receive the bread and cup from the person to whom you gave the tray. Please hold the bread and the cup and we will all partake together.)

At the moment of partaking:

The BODY of the Lord Jesus Christ: (may it) Preserve you blameless to life everlasting.

Again, with the cup:

The BLOOD of the Lord Jesus Christ: Preserve you blameless to life everlasting.

#430 Singing I Go

Benediction

How Faith Really Works

February 2, 1997

The epistle lectionary for this day was from I Corinthians 9— just a short passage about discipline: (9:24-27)

Do you not know that in a race the runners all compete, but they do not all get the prize? Run in such a way that you may win it. Athletes exercise self-control in all things; they do it to receive a perishable crown, but we an imperishable one. So I do not run aimlessly, nor do I box as though beating the air; but I punish my body and enslave it, so that after proclaiming to others I myself should not be disqualified.

That reminded me of another passage by the same author, written to his favorite son in the faith. This other passage is:

2 Timothy 1-16 This is just a bit modernized in my own language, but I believe very true to the scripture:)

2:1 Timothy, I really want you to be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus. And the things that you have heard me speak before many people, I want you to entrust, to pass on to faithful believers, who in their turn will be able to teach others also. [If the faith does not die with us we will have to:]

I ask you to dare to endure hard times, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ. No one who is in a warfare gets entangled with the affairs of this life; we need to live to please the One who called us to follow him to be a soldier in His army.

I ask you to be like an athlete who goes into training, and studies the rules. You know that if someone competes as an athlete they don't win anything if they don't know the rules and play by them.

I ask you to be like a good farmer: A farmer works hard, but even farmers have to understand and live off the land.

How Faith Really Works

Really meditate on this lesson, and God Himself will give you insight regarding your faith.

Remember that our Lord Jesus Christ, the Royal Son of David, Himself was raised from the dead according to this gospel. And even I, your teacher, suffer trouble, as an evil doer; even now I am in prison writing this letter. But the word of God is not bound. Therefore I endure all things for the sake of God's called people, that they may also obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory.

We can count on it: If we have died with Him (in baptism), we shall also live with him: If we suffer, we shall also reign with him. But if we deny him, he also will deny us: If we believe not, yet he carries forward in the faith: he cannot deny himself.

2:14 Teach these things! Challenge believers before God not to get into debates about words that will do no one any good, only turn people away.

2:15 Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth. But shun profane and vain babblings: for they will increase unto more ungodliness.

The exhortation

I don't have a sermon, proper just now. I guess after this morning I just want to talk with you as pastor about a few things.

1. The certainty of change. The church is changing.
2. The absolute need for love between the different changing parts. Love can bridge a lot of gaps. Chinese-Caucasian— that is obvious. But generation and cultural gaps are not so easy—they take deliberate understanding and love (We need to believe in each other even when we don't understand!! each other!!)
3. The on-going call to "pass the good news along: (And the things that you have heard me speak before many people, I want you to entrust, to pass on to faithful believers, who in their turn will be able to teach others also.) We are to be links in an unbroken chain from Jesus to the world to the end of time.

4. The need for personal discipline.

- I ask you to dare to endure hard times, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.
- I ask you to be like an athlete who goes into training, and studies the rules.
- I ask you to be like a good farmer: A farmer works hard, but even farmers have to understand and live off the land.

Right here in Wollaston we ALL have an opportunity to love and share with generations, ethnic differences, as we walk into exciting (and threatening) change....

The invitation

779 We Are Called to Be God's People

The Rainbow of Gods Promise

February 16, 1997 PM

1 Peter 3:18-22

For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit: 19 By which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison; 20 Which sometime were disobedient, when once the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, wherein few, that is, eight souls were saved by water. 21 The like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ: 22 Who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God; angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

RAINBOW is the reminder of a promise. It is a reminder of God's love even in a time of judgment. It is a reminder of the fact that when most of the world went crazy there were some who obeyed God. it is a reminder of the story of Noah

Somehow THE WATER OF BAPTISM GETS INVOLVED IN THE STORY— at least in this passage from Peter. He says that like the ark saved Noah, baptism now saves those who turn to the risen Savior. I mentioned baptism as a saving sacrament this morning. Peter says it does not save by washing away sins from the body— it does bear witness to a clear conscience with God.

JESUS was baptized at the beginning of his ministry here on earth. CAN YOU IMAGINE WHY JESUS NEEDED TO BE BAPTIZED? John the Baptist himself could not, because John knew Jesus did not need cleansing. But somehow Jesus identified with us sinners. "He took my sins and my sorrows; He made them his very own!"

THEN Jesus began His message to earth: "THE KINGDOM OF GOD IS NEAR AT HAND!" Why was that good news? Because the kingdoms these people knew were kingdoms they needed salvation FROM. God's kingdom, they understood, meant freedom and goodness and joy.

But when they looked around they didn't SEE a kingdom— they saw only JESUS! JESUS IS THE KINGDOM! THE KINGDOM IS WHERE JESUS IS! This is the very same message WE need to hear: THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN IS NEAR! Jesus wants to set us free from the kingdoms of this world— of greed and hate and selfishness—

WHERE IS JESUS? By faith Jesus is HERE! Jesus is where we need Him! Where YOU need Him! Jesus is the ARK OF SAFETY!

Key words in Jesus' message of safety and deliverance were "REPENT!" Turn! Change course! and "BELIEVE!" Trust what I am telling you! Follow Me! Make ME the center of your life!

DURING LENT IS A WONDERFUL TIME TO GET RIGHT//DRAW NEAR TO JESUS!

223 224 I stand amazed in the Presence // O How He loves you and me!

To Build an Ark

February 16, 1997

Genesis 9:8-17; Mark 1:9-15

I never, ever, put myself into the Bible story of Noah, even as a small child. I could never build a model airplane that would fly, let alone a boat that would float. I could imagine myself as David, or as Paul and Silas, but never Noah.

But did you ever think that sooner or later every one of us comes to a Noah-like situation. We see a world that is tuned out on God, and that seems bent on going to hell. We may not recognize it as such, but we have to make a Noah-like decision. We think about it. We ponder, "What can I possibly do?" We think, "I don't want my family to be lost! I don't want to lose my own soul!"

Then amid all the pondering comes a thought from God: "Start building an ark!" Well— maybe not that. But a challenge comes from the God of Noah. God says, "Did you know that you don't have to live like the world?" And we face the question, "How much do we really want to be saved?"

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO BE SAVED?

Water in the story is significant. Christian baptism, among other things, refers back to this Noah story when eight people in the world were saved by the very water that destroyed their generation. To be baptized is to be saved— right? Well—

Believing in Jesus is absolutely vital. THAT is what it means to be saved, isn't it? The Bible tells us (Romans 10:9,10) that to say from the heart "Jesus is LORD!" and to believe that God has raised him from the dead is the essence of salvation. But the Bible also teaches us that "to believe" is more than just a mental assent— saying the right things. "To believe" is to hear God make a promise— and to respond to that promise!

BEING SAVED IS A PROMISE

Being saved is a promise GIVEN

To Build an Ark

God is a covenant making God. He makes promises. In the Noah story he covenanted never to destroy the world again by flood. Then nearly 2,000 times in the Bible we read about "covenant." We live by promises. We exist by honor.

- God has promised (John 3:16) that "whosoever believes in Jesus will not perish"
- God has promised (I John 1:9) that if we confess our sins he will forgive them"
- God has promised (Luke 11:13) that if we ask the Father will give us the Holy Spirit
- God has promised (John 15:7) if we abide in Jesus, and Jesus' words abide in us we can ask what we will and it shall be done!
 - Our Christian life— salvation depends on promise GIVEN.
 - Being saved is a promise RECEIVED.

Every promise in the word is conditional. God's LOVE does not depend on whether we are good or bad. God loves us when we deserve nothing. To meet the conditions of a promise is not the same as deserving what is promised. To pass from death to life is a mystery. But there must be a WILLINGNESS TO RECEIVE!

- To RECEIVE forgiveness there must first be CONFESSION
- To be filled with the Spirit there must first be an ASKING!

But did you know that salvation is more than an "experience" or a "fact of history?"

Being saved is a promise HONORED.

But being saved is more than an event— more than a one-time happening. Just as a good marriage is much, much more than an exciting wedding— but is built on covenant and mutual trust, so our relationship with God is an on-going PROMISE, a COVENANT!

SALVATION IS AN ARK OF SAFETY

Unless we are living differently from the world around us what assurance to we have, and what witness does the world see that salvation is worth anything at all?

Is that judging? Is that spiritual elitism?

No— that is God's still, small voice saying:

"Get busy! Start building an ark! Save your children! The flood of judgment is coming!"

LENT IS A GREAT OPPORTUNITY TO SEEK TO HONOR GOD'S COVENANT

Jesus began his ministry proclaiming GOOD NEWS!

He said: "The kingdom is near!" Where Jesus is— THERE is God's kingdom!"

BUT JESUS ALSO SAID

REPENT! JESUS SAID BELIEVE ME! JESUS SAID CHANGE THE WAY YOU LIVE! THAT IS WHAT 'REPENT' MEANS!

The challenge of Noah sounds like a great sermon preached on the day of Pentecost. Peter challenged the good people of his day to avail themselves of God's covenant-making love. In Acts 2:38-41:

Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the LORD our God shall call. And with many other words did he testify and exhort, saying, Save yourselves from this untoward generation. Then they that gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls.

Save yourselves from this perverse generation God help us in OUR perverse time!!

Peter was not preaching self-salvation! But he was preaching repentance and obedience!

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO BE SAVED?

To Build an Ark

- IT MEANS BEING DIFFERENT FROM THE WORLD!
- IT MEANS BEING FREE FROM THE BONDAGE OF SIN!
- IT MEANS BEING IN A COVENANT RELATIONSHIP WITH A WONDERFUL SAVIOR!

#142 Wonderful Savior - Invitation

Abraham's Challenge

February 23, 1997

Genesis 17:1

I love the story of Abraham. Even across millennia, I feel connected to the father of faith. It is easy for me to see why three great world religions look to Abraham as the one who showed them what it means to walk with God by faith.

It is easy for us to try to fit the life of Abraham into our understanding of theological truth. Frankly, I don't know any other way, because that is my understanding of truth. Perhaps we shouldn't say "Now this is where Abraham was saved, and here is where he was sanctified, and so forth." But here in this passage (Genesis 17) there definitely is a challenge to Abraham to move to a new level of trust and faith.

Abraham had left his native land to follow God. He had started out not knowing where he was going. Furthermore, Abraham had made covenant with God simply on the basis of trust (see Genesis 15:6.) But now in old age, when Abraham's best years seem to be behind him, God asks Abraham to move up. This call to move higher reached Abraham at the very point of his weakness and inability. (When we think it is all over, maybe God is thinking about beginnings!) "When Abraham was ninety years old and nine YHWH appeared . . ."

We could easily get sidetracked by the use of the word "perfect." God's challenge was to walk before Him and be perfect, or blameless. Abraham responded perfectly to God's challenge. It wasn't a perfect performance God was looking for, for Abraham's performance before and after this covenant was not without flaws. But Abraham fell on his face before God. He prostrated himself in worship and submission. He agreed with God, he continued to believe God's word; Abraham's perfect response was simply total willingness to belong to God and God alone.

This faith of Abraham and Sarah was not that they believed they would do great things with God's help. Rather, they believed God would do whatever God wanted to do with them. God would do great things if God said so. Abraham himself became a living sacrifice, and God could have him, weakness and all.

Abraham's Challenge

Two things took place when God challenged Abraham to a closer walk with Himself. God changed Abraham's and Sarah's names. Scholars cannot say for sure what the new names mean; the best explanation for me is that God took a part of his own name and put it into Abraham's and Sarah's names. One thing is for sure— when God changes a name it is significant, and it means a life, a character is being changed for the better. When we hear God's challenge to move up, to believe Him, it is a life-changing, character-changing thing.

God also established the old testament covenant of circumcision that day. He asked Abraham, the man of faith, to accept a permanent sign of the covenant, and forever to belong to God. Being circumcised did not save Abraham. Being baptized will not save you. But Abraham's faith resulted in obedience. Whatever God said, Abraham listened, and believed, and obeyed.

The Gospel lesson from Mark 8 is Abraham's challenge all over again. It is a call to a deeper walk, a higher way.

That challenge is open to us all: Jesus was speaking to the twelve disciples, and yet at this point he also included all who would listen, "the multitude," and he said,

If any one will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me. It is clear that God's call is to the whosoever: John 3:16 "God so loved the world . . .that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Peter tells us (2 Peter 3:9) " The Lord is . . . longsuffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance."

(We are all called, but not everyone— in fact not many— respond to that call. In fact, it seems as though there are at least two levels of Christians— many are called— few are (finally) chosen. But those who do choose to follow, to walk with Jesus, he has promised His Presence.)

Dr. (Edward S.) Mann used to begin one of his great sermons with a bit of poetry. I probably don't have it exactly right, but this is how I remember it: (I don't know who wrote it . . .)

*Behold, I set before you a way, and ways, and a way.
And the high soul goes the high way,
And the low soul gropes the low.
And in between, on the misty flats,
The rest drift to and fro.
But to each is opened a high road and a low,
And each one must determine
The way his soul would go.*

The challenge to Abraham, and the call from Jesus to each one of us, is to deliberately choose the high road of walking before God, or, as Jesus put it, of following after Him.

Jesus makes it clear and simple what the steps are if we want to take the high road. They are just three:

- We are to deny self.
- We are to embrace the cross.
- We are to follow Jesus.

To deny one's self is not to deny one's self of something. It is to ask God to do what we cannot do— to seal us with His Spirit— to circumcise the heart— It is a willingness to be His love-slaves for time and eternity. It is to take self out of the center and to seek with all one's heart to know and do God's will.

Some of the disciples loved Jesus that much. They wanted to be where He was. They were willing to give up their own selfish wills. And when the Holy Spirit was given to them they found that their hearts were made pure, and it was possible to deny self and delight in God's will at any cost.

Abraham's Challenge

To take up the cross is more than being willing to die for Jesus. It is being willing to LIVE for Him— it is making an offering of our lives to Him. The world lives for happiness. If a relationship is painful, throw it away. If promises or responsibilities get in the way of happiness, throw them aside. "We deserve it!" But to take up the cross is to say with Jesus, "Thy will, not mine be done, even when it costs!"

To follow Jesus means simply that this higher road, this deeper walk has the great privilege of always being where Jesus is. God's challenges are always in the context of covenant— and we can count on it, God keeps his word.

If we will take the time to listen these days and weeks of Lent, we will hear God calling us to come and walk with Him. Wherever you are on your spiritual journey, God wants to make covenant with you. He wants to unfold His best will for you, in you. But God's best and highest come only as we, like Abraham, go down on our faces before God— as we, obeying Jesus, are willing to deny self, take up our cross, and follow Him.

Shall we pray:

Prayer (of A. W. Tozer)

I am your servant, Lord. How I want to be a good disciple. Lead me; awaken me— not that I might be great through you, but that you might be glorified through me. Amen

#462 Sweet Will of God

The Celebration of Gods Law

To love God's law

March 2, 1997

Psalm 19

A man named John Killinger began a book about the Ten Commandments (TO MY PEOPLE WITH LOVE, Abingdon, 1988) with a remarkable parable:

A village was being plagued with disaster after disaster. The reason was that someone had planted land mines all over the countryside. People were constantly being killed or maimed.

Then one night a village elder had a dream. In that dream he saw a map of where every land mine was hidden. He awoke and wrote the map down, and gave it to the people. They were absolutely delighted and grateful. And they memorized the map.

The Ten Commandments are like that: they tell us what to avoid...those actions and attitudes that would blow us and our world of faith and love apart. God's great Laws are like road signs that say more than, "Don't do this! Don't go there!" They also say, "Life lies in this direction! We are true wisdom!"

Psalm 19 is the voice of faith responding to a God who is big enough to make the stars and fill the heavens, but still who cares enough to speak! People of faith can't get enough of a God who loves enough to show His people how they should live! God's Law is precious to people who make it life's business to seek to know God.

The great novelist, Chaim Potock, gives us Gentiles insights into the tremendous love that religious Jews have for Torah, the Law of Moses. During certain days of the year the giving of the law is celebrated with singing and dancing. Members of the congregation take turns in dancing with the sacred scrolls in thanksgiving to God. [When is the last time you saw a Christian dancing with the Bible?] Torah is the most prized possession of any worshiping congregation. If a scroll of the Law is burned in a synagogue fire, or damaged beyond repair, the whole congregation mourns; a funeral is held; the damaged remains are buried in a regular cemetery with genuine grief for the loss.

The Celebration of Gods Law

Sometimes believers make costly choices to keep God's Law:

- Eric Liddell (Chariots of fire); Sandy Koufax (Yom Kippur/ 1965 World Series);
- Eli Herring, a 340 pound offensive tackle at BYU- a devout Mormon, turned down a possible multi million dollar deal with the Oakland Raiders —These are celebrities.

But many common, ordinary citizens refuse to cheat their way to promotions; refuse to sacrifice their families on the altar of selfish ambition— and no one knows except God. These are people who have their values on straight!

Never feel sorry for people who put God's will ahead of their own. That is not sacrifice. That is common sense! "What does it profit?" Jesus asked.

- How do we approach God's Law?
- How do we get ready to come to the Table of the Lord?
- How do we know what God's Law means for right now?

We can bring a genuine humility to God's Word

We can come to Him saying, "Speak, Lord, and you servant will listen, and obey, and follow." {I am still thinking about LAST week's text, and what it means to (1) Deny self; and (2) Take my cross, and (3) Follow Jesus>}

Genuine faith begins when we are willing to agree with God. God's standards are not our own; either his Word stands in judgment of us, or, as we think, we stand in judgment of the Bible. We consciously or unconsciously let God know what we expect of HIM!

Paul says (I Co. 1) that the Jews demand a sign and the Greeks desire wisdom. And somehow we all fall into one if not both of those categories: we begin by telling God what we expect of Him. Jews want "experience" — the proof of a "feeling;" Greeks want "doctrine" — an "airtight understanding"

In the little microcosm of the universe where I have lived for a few years I see both Jews and Greeks making their demands. Right-brained people, and people of naive faith, and people brought up on strong emphasis on experience demand signs, and things happening, and excitement— and that is understandable. Left-brained people, and people aware of the depths of literary criticism, and people well read in world philosophies look for keen argument, and can usually find flaws in just about every gospel presentation ever made.

There is only one message: that message is the word of the cross.

Until we have been to the cross there is no other message that matters. Not health, or wealth, or spiritual experiences. Nothing!

Will Willimon says "We've made place of worship into a neighborhood supermarket. Get out of bed, get dressed up, open the hymnal, sing the songs, keep your eyes open, stand for the benediction...say hello to God, go back home. "

We all too often go shopping in the worship place for what we want, instead of what God has for us.

Willimon goes on: "...We do not stand, in Lent, before the mirror of our own morality. That would be an easy thing. We stand before a righteous, demanding, accusing God. His standards are not our own. His demands intrude upon our easy complacency, overturning tables, setting wild birds loose, clanging coins on stone floors. His presence is a sting of the whip upon the neck. He barges in here and drives us out of our burrows of religious seclusion.

This is exactly what took place in the Temple, as seen in John 2: Jesus told the people there that they were not worshipping as they should. And when the authorities asked him, "What sign can you show us for taking such authority as to upset the tables and drive out the cattle we brought in here for sacrifice and profit?" Jesus replied with the enigmatic message (to them) of the cross! And they did not understand a word Jesus was speaking! For the cross only makes sense when it is heard with faith!

The Celebration of Gods Law

While people continue to stand in judgment of the Word, and make demands of miracles or esoteric revelations from their God, the heavens remain silent, and there is no delight in God's law.

But when , whether Jew or Greek, we look to the God of creation with faith, and when we come humbly, seeking to listen with the ear of faith to the God who speaks, we will find. to paraphrase another, that 'God is there, and He is not silent.'

If we come listening, and kneeling down in our hearts before the God whose name is I AM THAT I AM, we will hear him say, "If anyone— if YOU will come after me, deny yourself! Take up the cross! Follow me!"

THE HOLY COMMUNION

The Law Read and Confession Made

The Lord Jesus Christ has said to us: "Thou shalt love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the first and great commandment. The second is like unto it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets."

Shall we pray:

Search us, O God, and know our most private thoughts. Try us, and show unto us the deepest motives, the real state of our hearts. Forgive us where we have been selfish, or insensitive, or sinful in any way. We cannot keep the Great Commandment, and truly love You, O God, with all our heart, soul, and mind unless You in mercy grant to us the grace of Your indwelling Spirit. We cannot love each other as we should unless Your love is shed abroad in our hearts.

Brothers and sisters, let us search our hearts. In silence let us ask God to draw us near to Himself so that we can come to his table with confidence.

We do not presume to come to this table, O God, trusting in our own righteousness, but in your great mercy and grace. Grant us to eat the Bread of heaven, and drink the blood shed for the remission of sins, that we may live in Christ, and Christ may live in us forever. Amen

Let us confess our faith:

The Nicene Creed (ST # 14)

The Informal Invitation ("This is not my table . . . ")

Holy and gracious Father; in your infinite love you made us for yourself; and, when we had fallen into sin, and were worthy of death and hell, you, in your mercy sent Jesus Christ, your only and eternal Son to share our human nature, to live and die as one of us, to reconcile us to You, the God and Father of all.

He stretched out his arms upon the cross, and offered himself in obedience to your will, a perfect sacrifice for the whole world.

The Words of Institution

On the night in which he was betrayed our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had give thanks to You he broke it and gave it to his disciples and said, "Take eat: THIS IS MY BODY, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me.

After supper he took the cup and when he had give thanks he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you; THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink this, do it in remembrance of me: Amen

We praise you for the mystery of our salvation! We truly believe

- Christ has died!
- Christ is risen!
- Christ will come again!

Bless these emblems, O God, and make them to us the Body and Blood of your Son, spiritual food, and spiritual drink of new and unending life in Jesus Christ.

And now, together, we pray, as Jesus taught us:

Our Father which art in heaven . . .

The Celebration of Gods Law

Now, humbly we receive the Gifts of God for the People of God

Coming to the Light

March 9, 1997AM

Numbers 21:4-9; Psalm 107:1-3; 17-22; Ephesians 2:1-10; John 3:14-21

The scripture lessons this week are a study in contrasts that bring a wonderful message of God's grace. There are contrasts of judgment and mercy, contrasts of death and life, and, as in the gospel passage, contrasts in darkness and light.

The Old Testament story of the fiery serpents and the brass serpent on the pole gives a glimpse into both the justice and the mercy of a holy God. God permits the murmuring Israelites to be bitten by snakes— in fact the story says God sent the serpents among the people. But even as they came to the point of death, God in mercy was listening to their cry and sending a remedy. You know the story— don't you? God told Moses to make a bronze or brass copy of the serpents, and put the bronze serpent high on a pole where it could be seen even from a distance. Then God said that everyone who would simply look to the serpent would be healed.

God does not excuse sin. His holy nature is a rebuke to wickedness. But as the Psalm (107) says, even when "fools" have brought themselves to the gates of death through their iniquities, when "they cried to God in their distress" he brought deliverance and healing. I have faced many times when I felt absolutely powerless, and my prayer seemed to go no higher than my head. But still I believe that no cry to God, no genuine cry for mercy, goes unheard or unheeded. Even God cannot remove the scars of sins of the past. But God can and does bring forgiveness and healing and forgiveness and life. God is not looking for ways to keep people out of heaven. Far from it, in His mercy He is seeking ways to bring us all to Himself.

The gospel lesson, from John 3, picks up on the story of the serpent. Jesus told Nicodemus that just as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, just so He would be lifted up between heaven and earth, and that he would draw all people to himself.

Coming to the Light

In this passage there is the additional contrast between darkness and light. Nicodemus came to Jesus in the darkness, out of the shadows. Jesus abruptly interrupted Nicodemus to tell him that he had to be "born again" in order to be able to see the kingdom of God. Then Jesus told him that heaven's light has come into the world.

"The Message" translates those final verses of our Gospel passage this way:

'This is the crisis we're in: God-light streamed into the world, but men and women everywhere ran for the darkness. They went for the darkness because they were not really interested in pleasing God. Everyone who makes a practice of doing evil, addicted to denial and illusion, hates God-light and won't come near it, fearing a painful exposure. But anyone working and living in truth and reality welcomes God-light so the work can be seen for the God-work it is.'

[Justice and mercy— God-light and darkness— but there is one more contrast in these lessons this morning: the contrast of death and life!]

In Ephesians 2 Paul says you were all dead, but God has made us alive together with Christ. What is this "death" Paul is talking about? Certainly it is not physical death. What is death, anyway?

"By and large, most of us pretend that death is something which happens to other people. Somehow, it's like the husband who said to this wife, 'If one of us dies, I think I'll move to Paris'."

But this death is something we have all experienced. In verse 3 Paul says, "All of us lived among them— the spiritual dead—and were by nature children of wrath, like everyone else." What does it mean to be spiritually dead— and how can we know if we are truly alive unto God?

One definition of death is a total inability to respond to the environment. Those who are spiritually dead have no idea that there is a world of glory and light and love. Prayer and the cross and worship are foolishness or worse, because they simply have no correspondence to reality.

Paul defines spiritual death as (1) following the course of this world. The Message puts it this way (Ephesians 2: 1- 6)

'You let the world, which doesn't know the first thing about living, tell you how to live. You filled your lungs with polluted unbelief, and then exhaled disobedience. We all did it, all of us doing what we felt like doing, when we felt like doing it, all of us in the same boat. Its a wonder God didn't lose his temper and do away with the whole lot of us.

But then comes that contrast of death with life:

"Instead God, immense in mercy and with incredible love, he embraced us. he took our sin-dead lives and made us alive in Christ. he did this all on his own, with no help from us! Then he picked us up and set us down in highest heaven in company with Jesus, our Messiah.

Contrasts in death and life, in light and darkness, struggling to balance what we see of God's justice with what we are told of his mercy, these contrasts tell the story of every one of us. We have all been bitten by the fiery serpents of sin and guilt. But we can be saved by a look at the cross. Of course, the cross itself does not save. The look does not save. But God!! . . . comes down the pathway of that look— the power released from the cross of Christ is God's redeeming love.

Prayer

Hymn No. 327 Turn Your Eyes upon Jesus

Exhortation

"Justifying grace is what we experience when we choose to stop closing our eyes to God's love in any aspect of our life

We experience the grace of God from even before we were born. There is not a moment of our lives when we are not surrounded by the grace of God. But for some reason either deliberately or through our stubbornness or just because we are too busy we often don't realize that God is there.

Coming to the Light

It's probably not so much a that we walk around in pitch black but we walk around in the light but with our eyes closed, or with a blindfold on.

Try something for me: Close your eyes as tight as you can. While you are forcing them closed, try opening them with your fingers. Now, instead, relax your eyelids. And now try to open them with your fingers. That's a bit like what goes on as we experience justifying grace.

God is always trying to open our eyes to see the light that is always there.

Sometimes we are forcing our eyes closed because we don't want to look at ourselves. We think that we are not able to be accepted.

The LIGHT, the MERCY, the LIFE of God in Justifying Grace is about us realizing that God accepts us just as we are.

Jesus said that he did not come into the world to condemn, but to save.

It is our job to believe Him. It is ours to surrender to His love. It is His job to save us, and take us where he wants us to go.

Life Beyond Pain

March 16, 1997

Psalm 51 "Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean; wash me and I shall be whiter than snow."

John 12 "Now is my soul troubled and what shall I say?" "Where I am, there also will my servant be." "Sir, we would see Jesus!"

Introduction

One of the lessons from the scripture lessons today may be one we don't particularly want to hear. Before the resurrection there is a cross. Good Friday comes before Easter. The hard lesson for today is: sooner or later life will involve us in real pain. With that lesson, the scriptures hold up to us a mirror, and a challenge.

The "mirror" that the scriptures hold up to help us see ourselves is found in Psalm 51. The pain there is David's pain. In some ways it can be like our own.

I. David's Pain

David was in an agony of guilt. He had done some terrible things, no mistake about that. He had betrayed another man by seducing his wife. He had multiplied that betrayal by scheming to have the man he had betrayed killed to cover his guilt. And David had gotten away with it for a while.

David had swept his guilt under the carpet of activity, and of forgetting. But God sent a prophet to confront him. Nathan the brave prophet told David an intriguing story. David could be enraged about another person's injustice, even though he had destroyed a home, and had killed an innocent man. But then Nathan said, "Thou art the man!" David came face to face with his own sin and guilt. It hurt! And this Psalm is a record of what happened next.

David's pain was deserved. Guilt is not an evil thing. It is the result of evil. Guilt is like physical pain. It is necessary, even healthy. But like pain, guilt is not to be ignored or covered up or accommodated. God wants his people to find freedom from the pain of guilt. I am in no way saying your sins or mine were as gross as David's, although that is possible. But I am saying that every one of us has sinned. We have known what it feels like to be caught in the wrong. That is the mirror. Psalm 51 holds up to us the mirror of confession: we do not have to live with that kind of pain.

If we confess our sins, God is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. (1 John 1:9) The only sin that cannot be forgiven is the sin that we refuse to bring to the light. We do not have to live with the pain of guilt.

David prayed that the JOY would be restored. David prayed that he would know the Presence of God. And that prayer was answered. The grace of God has broken the guilt and the power and the eternal penalty of sin forever.

Transition: But there is another sort of pain in our lessons for today. It is the pain of the Lord Jesus Himself.

II. The Pain Of Jesus

This was a very different sort of pain from what David knew. Looking immediately ahead to the passion, the climax of his earthly ministry, to the cross Jesus said, "Now is my soul troubled, and what shall I say?" This was not guilt. This was not deserved. This was pain endured as the price of love. (Gethsemane underscores this pain)

I don't pretend to understand such love, but I think I know this much: Jesus did not swerve aside from His cross because He loved the Father, and because He loved you and me.

Love costs. Love will demand sacrifices. Love cost Jesus— and yet Jesus saw something He believed He could reach in you and me. The writer of Hebrews says that Jesus saw a JOY set before him that enabled him to go forward even when it cost him.

This pain of Jesus, this great giving LOVE, is to me not a mirror: I don't see myself in His story. I am not of myself pure and holy. I am not a hero or a martyr. I am not able to save anyone. I can identify with David, and ask for forgiveness for my sins. But I cannot identify with Jesus. No one is good and holy like Jesus.

The pain of Jesus is to me a challenge. I cannot think of myself in the same sentence as Jesus, but somehow Jesus asks me to follow him. He asks you as well: "Deny yourself! Embrace your cross! Follow me!" It cost Jesus his life. It will cost us, too.

What sort of challenge is this? What does it mean to follow Jesus?

(I still am trying to cope with that challenge we heard again for the first time this Lent: "If anyone will come after me let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.")

To embrace the cross may mean in plain language:

Giving up what WE want so that someone else may have what they need. or Forgiving someone who has wronged us even though they don't deserve it. or Giving our service to others even though we have not been served. or Listening to someone else's heartaches even when we have heartaches of our own.

There is a pain that we can and should escape. We do not need to live with the pain of guilt. But there are times when we hear the challenge of Jesus' pain: "My soul is troubled, and what shall I say? Get me out of this?" and the answer is "Lord, just let me follow You whatever it costs!"

To accept this challenge to follow Jesus is worth whatever it costs! HOW? Once again, this is something we each must answer for ourselves, but I think I know this much: 1) we can be with the One we love. ("Where I am there also will my servant be." If we can be with Jesus it is worth whatever it costs.) 2) we can share the JOY of Jesus. There is no joy like hearing the Father say, "This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased!" and, that day, when Jesus did not shrink back from the cost of love, the Voice said, "I have glorified (my Name)! ("I AM pleased!") ("I AM glorified in what you are!") and ("I WILL BE glorified again!")

Conclusion:

Life will NOT be pain-free. But life can have its full share of joy.

God's GRACE enables us to deal with the pain of guilt. We can come and confess as sinners, and be born again into the kingdom of God. We can confess our need for grace as Christians, and maintain the necessary course-corrections that keep us in fellowship with God and with one another. The Lord's Prayer reminds us of our need for the grace of forgiveness.

God's LOVE calls us to embrace the cross. We certainly do not seek any way of pain. We pray "Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil." But also we hear our Lord say, "Follow me!"

PRAYER

Almighty God, You alone can bring into order the unruly wills and affections of those who come by faith to you. Grant your us your people grace to love what you command and desire what you promise; that, among the dizzying changes of this world, our hearts may surely stand firm where true joys are to be found; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever.

#547 - Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone (First Two Verses ONLY)

Praise on Parade

March 23, 1997

Mark 11:1-11; Psalm 118; Philippians 2:5-11

Can you take a trip this morning? Come with me through both time and space to Jerusalem. It is springtime of the year that Jesus was crucified. It is the first day of the last week of His earthly ministry, although we don't know that yet. In our journey we have been set back in our understanding of Jesus to exactly where his disciples were right then during that last week. We know and love Him, just like Peter, and James and John. But we don't really understand what this week will unfold.

The weather is beautiful, sunny and almost too warm. We are standing alongside a narrow road that winds down the steep hill called the Mount of Olives. It goes down through the ravine called the Kidron Valley, and up to the Eastern Gate of the Temple Mount.

We are sure that Jesus is going to enter Jerusalem during this time of Passover festival, and we are excited about that. Since he has raised Lazarus from the dead the whole world must know that he is Messiah. After Jesus has done so much good it can't be long until the whole world will want to know him like we know him.

There is an excitement in the people around us. There is an anticipation that something really wonderful is going to happen. And then it begins. Around the bend at the top of the hill comes a movement— a swirl of activity— and then we see more clearly. It is Jesus!

Jesus is riding on the back of a donkey that has been draped with holiday cloaks. On impromptu saddle blankets of scarlet and white and gold the Savior is sitting with one knee drawn up, sort of side-saddle. He is looking right and left and as the people see his face they feel deep praise to God welling up within. They cry out words meant for royalty, "God send salvation!" "Hosanna!" "God save the King!"

People who couldn't get their holiday cloaks on the donkey spread them out in the dusty road in front of Jesus. Little children join in. Palm branches are broken from young trees in the fields nearby. The parade doesn't just pass the crowd. As Jesus passes, the people join the march. The road just ahead, alongside, and following behind Jesus is jammed with people. As they come near we are caught up and we are following Jesus as well. What could possibly be more wonderful? Our beloved Teacher is being accepted by everyone! The kingdom he has been proclaiming is here, now! "Hosanna! Can you believe it! Jesus is Lord!" Where is Jesus going? What is he going to do?

As we get nearer to the gates of the city we see the Very Important People coming to meet us. Can it be that they are going to join the parade? But no, they are pushing through the waving palms and the children. We hear them say, "What is going on here? Are You starting a riot? Tell these people to be quiet!"

But our Lord is not apologetic at all. We are thrilled to see him stand up to these dry bones. "If these people stop shouting," Jesus says, "the very paving stones along the way will cry out!" And the leaders actually slink away. They are really worried. We find out later they said to each other, "The whole world is going after Jesus!"

Our excitement rises. Our anticipation. What great thing is Jesus going to do? Will he go directly to the Temple and there announce that a new way of worship has arrived with Him?

Now we are just across the little valley from the Temple and the city across the way. Jesus stops his little colt, and we look. He is . . . weeping! He is saying something we can't hear just now, but it seems like a strange way to celebrate a parade of praise.

In a moment the parade goes on, down and down and across the brook. The crowd follows their proclaimed Messiah as he gets off the donkey just inside the Eastern Gate and crosses over to the temple court. Now it will happen! Heavenly fireworks!

But Mark tells us that by this time it was late afternoon. And Jesus looked around, and then quietly left the temple area.

The crowd is at least mildly disappointed. They expected some speeches, some declaration. Maybe tomorrow? What is this— this non-climax?

We do not understand any more than Peter and James and John. We love this Man we believe is the Son of God. But we don't understand all that that means. We have faith that this Jesus will set up a kingdom of Peace. But we still do not really know what that means.

Come back to Wollaston for a few minutes while we talk about what we have seen. It is obvious that the people, the very best people, did not understand where Jesus was heading that Sunday so long ago. Jesus had said over and over he would die at the hands of unbelief and evil, but that he would rise again from the dead. Even on the day that Peter affirmed, "Thou art the Christ!" Jesus told him how he would die. But Peter did not understand it then, and he did not understand it during that colorful parade down the hill, either. The very best people did not understand what it meant to follow Jesus.

But I suggest that we do not always understand what it means, either. Oh, we really do believe in Jesus. We know intellectually about the cross. We know Easter is coming. But it is not a simple thing to follow Jesus, because Jesus is on His way to a cross. And Jesus said if we want to come after him we need to deny our selves, embrace our cross— and follow Him.

Peter and James and John tried hard to follow Jesus through that week. They ended up asleep while Jesus prayed, and the Bible says that not just Peter, but "they all forsook Jesus and fled." Our king does not meet our expectations. Our flesh is weak. We want to follow, but there is a failure of spirit. If we put ourselves back in that story with the limitations we had before, I am sure, that every one of us would fall out of the parade before it finally reached Golgotha. Peter said, "I'll die first!" And Peter is a far better man than I am. But Peter's spirit failed.

But do you know what? You are in this story! I am! And Jesus is still saying, "If you want to— you can come after Me! Deny yourself, embrace the cross— follow Me!" The secret is that the same Spirit that was in Jesus, and that enabled Jesus to cry,

"Abba! Father!" is now given to all who truly follow Jesus. The secret to following Jesus all the way to the Cross and beyond is that the very Spirit of Jesus Himself is waiting to enable us to follow Him.

"Abba," that term of endearment, is found only three times in the New Testament. In Mark's Gospel Jesus said, "Abba! Father! All things are possible for Thee; remove this cup from me; yet not what I will, but what Thou wilt" (Mark 14:36).

"Let this mind— this spirit— this Spirit— be in you which was also in Christ Jesus!" The mind of Jesus is obedience. If we want to follow after Jesus, and call God "Father" there is only one way. It is the way of "yet not what I will, but what Thou wilt!" It is the way of Christ's Spirit that leads beyond the Cross to the Life Everlasting.

Both in Romans 8, and Galatians 4, Paul writes that it is the Spirit, the HOLY Spirit, within the believer's heart that cries "Abba! Father!" That intimate drawing near to God is the heart cry of those who want to follow Jesus more than they want their own way. If we want to follow after Jesus there is only one way. If we want to know God as "Father, Abba Father" we must follow Jesus along the way of "Nevertheless!"

Jesus somehow never meets OUR expectations when he comes into our lives. But Jesus is King of Kings! His challenge to us is to follow Him, and if we do, we can begin to meet HIS expectations for us! Where He is, we will be! His JOY will be our joy! And we will begin to understand how we can call His Father our "Father, Abba Father!"

Prayer

490 O to Be Like Thee (and) 491 Not My Will, but Thine

The Mind of Christ

March 23, 1997

Philippians 2:5 Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus.

Palm Sunday is another study in contrasts. It starts out with a parade. But it is also called Passion Sunday, and Jesus weeps over Jerusalem before the parade is over. Even with the hindsight of 2,000 years we cannot grasp all its significance.

But still we are called to follow Jesus. The disciples started out on Palm Sunday as participants in the parade. But before Jesus got to the cross the Bible says they had all forsaken him, and had fled. And we would not have done any better.

But we can do better now. At least we now have the promise of the indwelling Spirit. Every person who comes to God through Jesus, and is born again, has the indwelling Spirit. And we have the ability to follow Jesus. We won't do it perfectly. We will stumble, and we will fail.

But Paul tells us— challenges us— "Let this mind— this spirit— this disposition be in you which was also in Christ Jesus!" Can you or I say that we know what that mind might be?

Jesus called God "Father." Jesus taught us to call God, "Father in heaven." Jesus intends that we should have the spirit of adoption, of sonship. In that sense we can have "the mind— the attitude" that was in Christ Jesus. We can be family with God, through grace.

But this family thing is demanding! The more intimate we want to become with the Father, the closer we want to walk with Jesus, the more we fill out that formula: deny self, embrace the cross, follow Me! At his most intimate moment, and in the very climax of the drama of salvation Jesus called his father "Abba!" Perhaps near our word "Daddy" or "Dad!" But do you know what that love was costing Jesus. He was saying, "I am hurting because of what lies ahead— but whatever it costs— i want to do what You will have me do!" The spirit of intimacy with God is the spirit of obedience and submission.

Did you know that that term "Abba" is only found three times in the entire New Testament. Here in Mark's Gospel— and then in Romans and Galatians, where Paul says that the Spirit within us— the Spirit of submission and obedience— cries out in most intimate terms "Abba! Dad! Daddy!"

Best Morning

Easter Sunday Morning

March 30, 1997

Introduction

"Mary!" "Teacher!" (John 20)

EASTER is God's promise of eternal life in the face of all the harsh realities of this world. Easter is a time for JOY!

The fire and brimstone preacher looked down sternly at all the worshippers gathered in the pews one Easter Sunday morning, and he said, "Every member of this congregation is going to die one day!" He got the response he was looking for: there was now a somber look on everyone's face. But there was just one exception. A man he did not recognize sitting right down in the front got a big smile on his face.

The preacher's face turned just a little redder as he looked squarely into the smirk on this one man's face. He raised up to his full height, put on a his most severe face and said, "I REPEAT! "Like it or not, every member of this congregation is going to die one day!"

The smile grew even larger than before. The preacher couldn't handle this incongruity, so he stopped and actually addressed the man directly: "May I ask you sir, what you find so amusing in my statement?"

To which the man replied, "Oh, I'm not AMUSED.....I'm RELIEVED. You see, I'm not a member of this congregation!"

THE CRUNCH TIMES COME AND CHALLENGE OUR FAITH

The story of Easter is the powerhouse of the Gospel. The fact that Jesus is Lord over sin and death made all the difference to the men and women who were there when the story first unfolded. But the best thing about the story of Easter is that it isn't over yet.

Easter's great story began in a graveyard. It began with people whose faith was in the past tense. Easter's story began small. Just a few disillusioned people who loved the teachings of Jesus, and believed them, but also people who had watched Jesus die, and had helped to bury him. The harsh realities of life as they knew it did not match up to what they had expected from their Master.

The challenges to our faith 2,000 years later may seem very different from those in that graveyard on the first Easter morning. But I am not so sure that people have changed all that much. We have our expectations of just what God ought and ought not to do. We think we know how he should make himself known. Then we are challenged:

- What kind of God would permit a child to die of cancer?
- Where was God when a loved one I prayed so very hard for died anyway?
- How do I really know my faith is any different from 39 apparently very sincere people who killed themselves so that they could rendezvous with a space-craft the other side of the comet Hale-Bopp?? from the foolishness of self-proclaimed Messiahs?

The answer lies in the reality of whether or not Jesus is truly alive, and able to make himself known to his disciples. The answer is in the reality of "Jesus is Lord!" The difference in vital Christian faith and all other religions, is that a grave marks the place where religious leaders finally end up, but an empty tomb is where the Easter story began. And that story is not finished.

[[ASIDE - CULTS AND TRUE FAITH Perhaps it would be an interruption in the story to pursue "differences" in true and false faith on Easter Sunday. But there are some valid differences in living faith in Jesus Christ and so-called sect mentality and alternative religions. First, WHO IS JESUS? (Creed!) Then,

1. Faith in Jesus is not esoteric, for the few. If a pastor or evangelist makes a living telling Christians all the other denominations and faiths are false, run the other way as fast as you can— Jesus is the way, the truth, and the life. But Jesus is Lord of all who will own him. This way challenges the deepest minds, but you don't have to be either a monk or a

- rocket scientist to be a Christian.
2. Faith in Jesus is not sectarian, as much, perhaps, as some of us would like it to be. We Nazarenes don't have a corner on salvation. The love of God is broader than the measure of man's mind.
 3. Jesus is not owned or operated by human effort, or for human profit.... wayfaring people can follow Jesus. Jesus is Lord! Jesus refuses to perform according to our expectations.

The idea that Jesus now comes to live in each one of us, this good news we call the Gospel, is foolishness to the Greeks, and scandalous religious nonsense to the Jews. If you get your wisdom from the talk shows and newspaper editorials, then you probably will feel foolish to confess Jesus Christ as your best friend, and admit that you talk to Him every day of your life. There is a certain amount of so-called foolishness involved. But whose fool are you? - - BACK TO THE STORY]]

Jesus had risen exactly as he had said he would. And one by one, and in small groups, Jesus found his people. The final chapters of the Gospels, and the history book of Acts, give us story after story of people in various levels of sadness and unbelief, and later of people in rebellion and sin who were brought face to face with the risen Lord, and who believed, and were changed forever.

THE LIVING LORD KNOWS WHO WE ARE, AND WHERE

The Easter story unfolds very simply: People who did not know where to look for Jesus were challenged with the wonderful dawning truth: Jesus was already looking for them!

The eternal day began with a tiny trickle of light. [Just like this morning's sunrise. it was exactly at 5:31 that the sun rose above the horizon, and it was daytime. but it was not very spectacular this morning. Still the sunrise is a fact, and no power on earth can either deny or change that fact!] The Eternal Day that is still dawning began very quietly.

First it was a small band of believers— or, at the time— sad un-believers— who saw the dawning light. John says that he was the first one after the resurrection to grasp the truth. He and Peter ran to the tomb when Mary Magdalene told them Jesus was not there. They saw the empty tomb, and John says at that moment it dawned for him. He had not yet seen Jesus, but he believed. The Easter story now had begun for John the beloved.

Mary Magdalene was the first to see and know the risen Savior. Oh, make no mistake, Mary Magdalene certainly knew Jesus. She had been perhaps the least likely member of the inner group— she was a woman with a past. She had been possessed by evil. But Jesus had turned her life around. She loved him with all her heart. But the Easter story had to dawn by faith for Mary Magdalene as well. (A poem from years ago puts these words in Mary Magdalene's mouth:)

BEST MORNING

*I could never forget his face;
Sweet face of forgiving,
Stern face of temple cleansing,
Marred face on Skull Hill
I saw them all.
And yet that morning,
That best morning,
I did not know him when first I saw him.
But in my heart a curtain tore
From top to bottom,
Tore when he spoke my name.
And something in me that had been sorrow
Became eternal life!*

And so it was with Peter and Andrew and a week later with Thomas and all the rest. Within two months, after Pentecost and the gift of the Holy Spirit, the light had grown until thousands had met Jesus in life-changing power. Before their generation died, many of them martyrs, they had begun to 'turn their world upside down.'

And so it has been with hundreds and thousands and, yes, millions of people since. There have been many human failures in the name of Christian faith. But the living Lord is alive and well in his body the church to this very hour!

Do you remember when the Good News became personal to you? We have been walking our own Emmaus Roads when the living Word has confronted us, and we have had to confess: This is God Himself calling! What will I do with this challenge? And while we are seeking Him, it turns out that He was looking for us all the time!

THE BOTTOM LINE IS LIFE: THE STORY GOES ON

John's Gospel closes with the clear purpose of the entire book plainly stated: (20:21) "These words are written that you might believe that Jesus is the Messiah, and that believing you might have life through his name!" It is clear that the Easter story is still going forward!

As the disciples grasped the fact that Jesus is alive, Jesus breathed on them and said, "Receive the Holy Spirit! And go, tell people that their sins are forgiven!" Get busy spreading the good news! Get into the Easter story! The Lord is Risen! He is risen indeed! The day that began dawning by the open tomb that Best Morning is not over yet. The story unfolds! Jesus asks you, and asks me, to carry the good word where we go!

Thomas Hine, an author who wrote a book titled Facing Tomorrow, tells of his relationship with his grandmother when he was a child. She would take him on her lap and tell tales of her life in Ireland. She spoke of coming to America as a teenager and how she had made her way through hardships and blessings. And then he concludes with these words,

"Though she never said it directly, I knew the story had no ending because I was an important part of it. It was up to me to know the story, make it part of my life, add to it and pass it on."

INVITATION

I challenge you to pray a prayer inviting Him to find you, and to take charge of your life! I challenge you to tell him that if he will be your Lord you will be his man, or his woman! If we want to own him Lord and God he will very much find us where we are and change our world..

PRAYER

O God, who gave your only begotten Son to the death of the cross for our redemption, and who by his glorious resurrection delivered us forever from the power of our enemy: Grant us grace so to die with him to sin and selfishness, and grace by faith to live with him and for him, in the joy of his resurrection, in whose holy name, the name of Jesus we pray;

Grant that we, who celebrate with joy this day our Lord's resurrection, may be raised from the death of sin here and now, and know with you the life eternal, world without end, by your life giving Spirit; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the same Spirit ever, one God, world without end.

Hymn # 264 or # 266

The Faith of St Thomas and St John

April 6, 1997

John 20:27-31

The story of Thomas is very important, or it would not be at the climax of the gospel. But what does it mean? (In a way that is an arrogant question, since it implies I KNOW the answer.) I can tell you a part of what I believe it means, and what it certainly means to me.

Why Thomas, here at the end? If this book is written so we might believe in Jesus Christ the Messiah, is Thomas the ideal believer?

The list of those coming to living faith in this chapter begins with the writer, John himself, who entered the tomb and believed on the spot! Then comes Mary Magdalene. Then the Eleven, locked in the meeting room, but without Thomas, who for some reason was absent. And now at the very end, Thomas. Are we to strive to be like Thomas? Or, perhaps, we should be like John who was the very first to believe— he told us himself— even before he saw the risen Lord?

What this says to me is that John is not holding up either himself or Thomas as models for us to follow. Rather, John is telling us that whoever or wherever we are, if we want him, and if we seek him in love, Jesus will find us and let us know he is alive. In the next chapter Jesus finds Peter in a different way, and restores him to fellowship. But that is another story.

"These are written that you might believe..." All these testimonies— this entire book is to tell us that the risen Lord is as good as his word. "Go back carefully to the beginning and read what I've written," says John. "'In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God and the Word was God...' Read again with faith that entire story of Jesus... see how he spoke like no other man... see how he had authority over life and death and creation... see how he lived and how he died and how he has risen again... read that story, John says, read and believe! Believe and have life!"

It doesn't really matter if you come like John, or like Thomas, or like Mary Magdalene, or like Peter or Paul— the important thing is to be able to say, "My Lord and my God!" Sometimes it seems like we are all expected to be giants of the faith. But Thomas helps us understand that the good news is for everyone— great and small. It is not limited to a certain temperament or personality type.

Some of us come emotionally, with tears for wasted years. Some come as little children, and never know the dramatic conversion. Some seem to be able to simply quietly believe, and know they are alive in Christ. Some struggle and agonize and pray, "O God, please give me a sign!" And yet the important thing is that synapse of faith, that spark of recognition that finally says, with Thomas and every other true believer, "My Lord and my God!"

That statement is the climax of the entire Gospel. "My Lord and my God!" comes as the confession we all are to make! That confession by Thomas precedes the text "But these are written that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ, and that believing ye might have life in his name."

Two other elements of great importance are linked with this confession in this climactic chapter of John's Gospel.

Jesus breathed on the company of disciples, and said to them: "Receive the Holy Spirit!" Faith in the risen Savior is not just a matter of being persuaded of an historical fact, but it is to be a present relationship with a God who is as near to us as our very breath. The presence of God indwells every believer. "Receive YE the Holy Spirit!" It is an inevitable result of believing in Jesus Christ the Messiah!

Jesus also told that little company, the nuclear beginnings of the church, "Go and forgive people's sins!" As we understand that, it was not some confessional power, but a way of saying that if we believe in a risen Lord, and if he is present with us in his Holy Spirit, then our assignment is sharing the good news that God has already forgiven the sins of the world, and that life is to be had for the asking.

But it begins with this inner persuasion: I have met the risen Lord! I know he is alive! I bow before Him! You, O Christ, are my Lord and my God!" That faith enables us to "be more than we are!" It may not be just for giants of the faith— but Christ comes to live in us, and helps us through the reality of life. And as we stay close to Him, He lives out through us if we will but let him.

As a Post Script:

Some scholars seem to hold Thomas up, if not for scorn at least hold him up, as a poor role model. We are not to be like "doubting Thomas." who needs more and more proof— we are to be like John who believed immediately. Thomas was not "a giant of the faith" like Peter... or so some say.

But there are in existence in India to this day Christian churches who worship God in the name of Jesus Christ, and who venerate this very same St. Thomas. For however scholars may scorn Thomas's need for proof, it seems that while St. Paul traveled west with the good news of a God who cares, St. Thomas traveled east and preached as far as India where he established the church of Jesus Christ, and where he was finally martyred for his faithfulness to Jesus.

When we say by the Holy Spirit, "My Lord and my God!" the risen Lord Himself enables us to "be more than we are" in our own strength. He gives us his Spirit. He enables us to share his grace. He is with us this very hour.

PRAYERS (contemporary language)

Everliving God, who strengthened your apostle Thomas with sure and certain faith in your Son's resurrection: Grant us so perfectly and without doubt to believe in Jesus Christ, our Lord and our God, that our faith may never be found wanting in your sight; through him who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever.

Almighty and everlasting God, who in the Paschal mystery established the new covenant of reconciliation: Grant that all who have been reborn into the fellowship of Christ's Body may show forth in their lives what they profess by their faith;

through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, now and for ever.

THE HOLY COMMUNION

The Law Read and Confession Made

The Lord Jesus Christ has said to us: "Thou shalt love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the first and great commandment. The second is like unto it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets."

Shall we pray:

Search us, O God, and know our most private thoughts. Try us, and show unto us the deepest motives, the real state of our hearts. Forgive us where we have been selfish, or insensitive, or sinful in any way. We cannot keep the Great Commandment, and truly love You, O God, with all our heart, soul, and mind unless You in mercy grant to us the grace of Your indwelling Spirit. We cannot love each other as we should unless Your love is shed abroad in our hearts.

Brothers and sisters, let us search our hearts. In silence let us ask God to draw us near to Himself so that we can come to his table with confidence.

We do not presume to come to this table, O God, trusting in our own righteousness, but in your great mercy and grace. Grant us to eat the Bread of heaven, and drink the blood shed for the remission of sins, that we may live in Christ, and Christ may live in us forever. Amen

Let us confess our faith:

The Nicene Creed (STL # 14)

The Informal Invitation ("This is not my table . . .")

Holy and gracious Father; in your infinite love you made us for yourself; and, when we had fallen into sin, and were worthy of death and hell, you, in your mercy sent

Jesus Christ, your only and eternal Son to share our human nature, to live and die as one of us, to reconcile us to You, the God and Father of all.

He stretched out his arms upon the cross, and offered himself in obedience to your will, a perfect sacrifice for the whole world.

The Words of Institution

On the night in which he was betrayed our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had give thanks to You he broke it and gave it to his disciples and said, "Take eat: THIS IS MY BODY, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me.

After supper he took the cup and when he had give thanks he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you; THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink this, do it in remembrance of me: Amen

We praise you for the mystery of our salvation! We truly believe

- Christ has died!
- Christ is risen!
- Christ will come again!

Bless these emblems, O God, and make them to us the Body and Blood of your Son, spiritual food, and spiritual drink of new and unending life in Jesus Christ.

And now, together, we pray, as Jesus taught us:

Our Father which art in heaven . . .

Now, humbly we receive the Gifts of God for the People of God

You and the Holy Spirit

April 6, 1997

John 20:21-23

This penultimate chapter of John is full of realization or expectation; it contains the final purpose for which Jesus, the living Word, the Son of God, the Creator, ever came to earth. The nuclear center of that purpose is stated in verse 31 "But these (words, this book) were written that you might believe that Jesus is the Christ, and that believing you might have (eternal) life through his name."

To my mind, John seems to say that believing comes differently to different people and personalities. But the important thing was that each of them were enabled to believe because Jesus revealed Himself to them. It was a gift of faith that was somehow different for each one, and yet somehow the same: Jesus was risen! Jesus is Lord!

But there are other key conclusions in this chapter as well; things that Jesus expects his church to be and do.

Jesus tells his nascent church that they will have a key role in telling the world their sins have been forgiven through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ. "If you forgive the sins of any, they are forgiven them." Mysterious words, these. There is good news for the world that the church has to tell. God loves them, and values each one of them, even as he loves you and values you.

But the one expectation I want to touch just now is that (mysterious) part where John wrote "When he had said this, he breathed on them and said to them, "Receive the Holy Spirit."" Before they could tell the Good News, they were to have the Holy Spirit for themselves. Luke makes an even bigger thing of this command, both at the end of the gospel and the beginning of Acts. In both places Jesus says in effect: "Don't leave town until you know you have the Holy Spirit!"

You and the Holy Spirit

What can this mean, to receive the Holy Spirit? Who has the Spirit? Who may have the Holy Spirit? How do we receive the Spirit now, today?

What does it mean 'to receive the Holy Spirit?' Do you know?

Wherever you are just now on your spiritual journey, the Holy Spirit is with you. You already "have" the Holy Spirit in the sense that wherever any person may be, God cares, and God is speaking, and God has made provision to do whatever is necessary to make that person a part of his family.

So we could say: to receive the Holy Spirit for a person seeking after God is simply to pray a prayer of discovery, or for discovery— a prayer that says, "Lord God, if you are there, I AM WILLING TO LISTEN!"

But that is not all that Jesus meant that Easter Sunday evening when he told the disciples: "Receive the Holy Spirit!" We can be pretty sure of that.

For we could say: to receive the Holy Spirit for a person finding God is to pray a prayer something like that little chorus many of us learned in Sunday School: "Into my heart, Into my heart— come into my heart, Lord Jesus!" It can be amusing, and yet we really are not confused about "God in there!" (Ben told the doctor "Jesus is in there!" - - and when Joe Finn was here he was telling about his boy at the barber's opening his mouth looking in the mirror "He must be way down in there . . .")

But HE IS IN THERE!! Romans 8 "If any person does not have the Spirit . . ."

But we Nazarenes re-discovered what Wesley re-discovered: the truth of "secondness"— the fact that Christians have to make their own sacrifice of self-will— God loves us so much that he won't dominate us like puppets. And so we have heard stuff like— "The Spirit is WITH you but he wants to be IN you— so "get sanctified!" We have prayed for the Holy Spirit to come when he is already there— but God has understood what we were crying for and had accepted our sacrifices all the same. And the Holy Spirit has come in to make Christ THE UNCHALLENGED LORD OF OUR HEARTS. We have said an ETERNAL YES to God's will.

So: to receive the Holy Spirit for a person seeking to be entirely sanctified is to say from the heart: NEVERTHELESS, NOT MY WILL BUT YOURS—FOREVER AND EVER!

And that's the end. Right? WRONG!!

For to say we are now "filled" and that's that is to ignore the dynamic realities of the way life is lived.

We need a daily, fresh infilling with the Presence of God. We need to tell God how much we love him, and receive the Holy Spirit today, now.

And there will be times along the way when we need a very special infilling, a grace that borders on the miraculous— certainly supernatural. I think of Acts 4, when the disciples were threatened and frightened and warned never to speak in the name of Jesus again. What does the record say? They went back to the fellowship, they prayed until they prayed "through." The place was shaken— and what? THEY WERE ALL FILLED WITH THE HOLY SPIRIT AND SPOKE THE WORD OF GOD WITH BOLDNESS.

So what am I saying? That you don't need the steps of conviction, and conversion, and consecration and cleansing and all that?

Not at all— but I am saying that wherever you are on your spiritual journey— God loves you very much and cherishes you. And God is very, very near to you and asks you to receive from Him what he has to offer you. And that gift is HIMSELF! "Receive the Holy Spirit!"

Wherever you are on your spiritual journey— RECEIVE THE HOLY SPIRIT!

Prayer

Chorus:

Witness to Life

April 13, 1997 AM

"We are witnesses" Acts 3

The resurrection of Jesus did not just bring him to life from the dead. That same mighty power brought a new kind of resurrection life the disciples. The disciples found that they could share this new life, and that same mighty power began to bring into being a living fellowship we call 'the church.'

The Living Word of God Himself was the source of this great power. But the Living Word used both the spoken and the written word. Words. Not just talk, but incarnate words. There were miracles, certainly. There was a great deal of love, and that was and is essential. But there were also words.

1. The WORD came through words of witness. Peter said, "We are witnesses of the resurrection." After the miracles. After the people's attention was turned to see the life the disciples enjoyed— then "We are witnesses!" There is fascinating power in hearing someone tell first hand when an important thing has taken place in that person's life. Peter told the people what he knew for himself. This was first generation knowledge. Peter knew the scriptures and used them. But what gave the words "bite" was the first-hand certainty. "I know," Peter could say. "I was there!"
2. There WORD Himself came and illuminated the words of scripture. In Luke 24 in two different places we are told that the risen Savior explained the Old Testament scriptures as existing to testify of Him! On the Road to Emmaus Jesus "expounded the scriptures." Here in the end of the chapter Jesus "opened their understanding to see that the scriptures exist for the purpose of putting us in touch with God through Jesus Christ. John 5:39 is a text I love: "Search the scriptures, " Jesus told the educated cynics and nay-sayers. "It is in them you think you will find eternal life; it is instead in them you will find ME!" Jesus IS eternal life. Apart from Jesus the Bible is a book of wisdom and history up for interpretation. But as a handbook on Jesus, the Bible becomes a means of grace, and the chief avenue for knowing about God in Christ.

3. These two "words" are still what the Living WORD uses! The Bible used to lift Jesus up—and the personal word of witness: "This is what I know!"
 - a. First, a word of encouragement to you. You don't have to do it by yourself: sharing the word is always a team effort in the final analysis. Peter said, "WE are witnesses, and so is the Holy Spirit!" Paul plants, Apollos waters, God makes the living seed grow and grow—and what you can't do and I can't alone—we can, by God's help, begin to do better together.
 - b. Second, another word of encouragement. This sharing/witness business is always a process. Life takes a while to germinate. Every step along the way is important. A new life in Christ may begin with as simple a thing as a kindly smile with a prayer behind it! The one who finally leads a person to pray "Lord have mercy on me a sinner" is not more important than the one who took in a meal when a husband or wife was in the hospital. It all is part of the word-of-life-process.

Finally—and here's the 'punch line' of this message: I believe every one of us can have a part in passing along the word that brings Life! I want to do better, and I need you! You want to do better, and we need each other!

We might begin by reviewing how we read the Bible. Jesus is still willing to open our understanding so we can see how much people matter to God—so we can see Jesus in His Book! Let's renew our focus in Bible reading: read to find Jesus! Read to draw nearer to Him. Ask the Holy Spirit to do the very same thing the disciples experienced: open our understanding to see Jesus in the written word.

But I am especially interested in that personal word: Peter said, "We are witnesses!" And do you know—we still are! and here's the 'punch line' of this message: let's use our personal stories!

Do you know Jesus? I believe you do! How well do you know Him? How well do I? Not as well as we would like, maybe. But we do know Him!

How would you introduce Jesus to a friend? "Jack, meet Jesus! Jesus, meet Jack!" Don't you wish it were that simple? It isn't, usually— people aren't used to people who have invisible Friends that they go around talking to all the time. (But isn't that who Jesus is at least some of the time?)

Your witness will be as real as Jesus is real to you. Finally—Don't mix up simple reality as you know and experience it with romantic stories of someone else's dramatic conversion.

[[The powerful witness of the early church flowed from their personal experience of a Risen Lord in their midst. John's letter begins with a description of that personal experience, and then John says "the reason we are telling you about this experience we are having is so that you can have it too." In the passage for this morning, John tells us very clearly that the power of having such an experience with the Risen Lord will have an impact in our everyday lives "Those who are right do right."

So now listen again to the offer Peter makes "Silver and Gold have I none, but such as I have give I thee . . ." Put those words on your own lips. "Silver and Gold have I none, but such as I have give I thee . . ." What is it that you have? What is it that I have? Is the root of our Christian identity to be found in the fact that we can say the Creed, or that we know some favorite hymns, or that we are recognized in the local church of our choice? Or is the reality of our Christian identity wrapped up in our experience with the Risen Lord?]]

I wish you would do me a favor: this week get some place where it is quiet and begin writing out your own story of how you know Jesus. You might bring in something like Psalm 4 "I was at a place of need and I asked for help— and Jesus came through" You might not. But make it personal to you. Don't despise your own story because it isn't like Emergency 911. Think about how Jesus has changed your life. Think about what life would be if you didn't know Him. If you have the courage, share your stories with your prayer group or parents or children. I'd love to read some of your stories. Don't try to sound like Harmon Schmelzenbach or Mother Teresa. Admit where you have weaknesses. But praise the Lord for his grace in your life.

Then get ready— write it out in simple, non-theological language. Don't use stained glassed words. If you will get ready— God will give you the opportunity to say, "You see, I have this Friend ..."

If we do this it doesn't mean we will now be a dynamite, apostolic church in great revival and renewal. But it just might be a small step in that direction! And I believe it just might please our Lord.

Will you pray with me?

O God, whose Son our risen Lord made himself known to his disciples in the breaking of bread: and who opened to them the scriptures so they could begin to see your great plan of salvation, Open the eyes of our faith, that we may see how He is at work in our own lives, and open our mouths to tell what your grace enables us to see for ourselves of Him who lives and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen.

Hymn # 532 Little Is Much When God Is in It

The Shepherds Table

April 20, 1997

The class of nursing students was new, just in its second month. The first thing on this particular morning the professor gave them a 'pop quiz.' For the most part they were all doing very well until they came to the last question: "What is the first name of the woman who cleans this building?" This had to be a joke. The students had all seen this woman many times. She was tall and dark haired, a woman in her fifties. But how could a student be expected to know her name? So they handed in their papers leaving the last question blank. But before class was over one student asked if the last question would count toward the grade.

The professor said, "Absolutely! In your calling you will meet many, many people. But every one of them is important. Every one of them deserves your attention even if all you can do is smile and say hello." Those nurses never forgot that lesson. And they never forgot the cleaning woman's name, either. It was Dorothy.

To be a good nurse is more than coming into the room and saying, "Which arm do you want this in? This might sting just a little!" And to be a true Christian is more than thinking we have found the answers to life's problems. The Christ life is a life of relationship. The Christ life is being known and loved by the Good Shepherd. The Christ life is learning to love as the Good Shepherd has loved us.

Jesus is, by his own mouth, our Good Shepherd. The Good Shepherd knows each one of his flock and calls them by name. The Good Shepherd gives his very life for his sheep. He cares personally for each one.

"I AM the Good Shepherd," these words in John 10 incarnate the power and beauty of Psalm 23. In Jesus Christ we come to know personally that "The LORD is MY shepherd!" Psalm 23 is personal if it is anything! Fourteen times in those few short verses we say "This shepherd is MINE He leads ME He restores MY soul!!

How can this possibly be? Given the millions of people who call him Lord, how can Jesus Christ possibly know and care personally about someone who is a speck on a tiny planet in an insignificant galaxy among millions of stars spread out over light years of space?

The Shepherds Table

Believe it or not, one spin off of modern computer science has underscored the certainty in my mind that knowing and caring for me, personally, is no problem to my Shepherd! Helen and I were staying for a week in a third floor flat in Falmouth, England, in June of 1990, and I thought I would see if my AT&T card would work as advertised. I walked to the bank where the "hole in the wall" was on the street; put in my card, punched in my ID and the amount 1 0 0 0 I wanted £ 10, but I forgot to put in a decimal and so nothing happened and i went home, pretty sure I was too far from home and in a foreign land and could not be recognized. But then back at the apartment I went over what I had done and so i went back to the hole in the wall and thought, this time I'll try for £100 and so typed in 100.00 and BANG! before i could blink the machine started counting out those British bills! I had been recognized and my request had been granted even though I was in a strange land and thousands of miles from home.

I saw then even more clearly that if human beings can figure out ways of identifying one person among thousands instantly, and answering a reasonable request, then what problem is it for the infinite wisdom of God to keep track of you and me, and to hear our sincere prayers wherever we might be. I got a blessing using a hole in the wall, even though I knew it was just human technology.

Knowing the Good Shepherd makes a difference in our lives. That difference is what this world desperately needs. The Psalmist says, "You prepare a table before me, (even) in the presence of my enemies!" The table of the Lord, where he meets our soul's hunger and thirst and I am speaking of the sacrament of communion, yes, but beyond the sacrament itself, speaking of all the love and care and nourishment that it richly signifies in our lives that table is what this world desperately needs! In the words of an old, old Bert Bacharach song, 'What the world needs now is love, sweet love!' So how do we set about to save the world???

The children in your home need love. You may think of their needs as food and clothing and shelter and T ball and ballet class and those things can be very important I am sure. But most of all your children need to know that you love them enough to give yourself for them. You are in the line of the Good Shepherd to your own family.

Mother Teresa was meeting with some wealthy men and women in a metropolitan suburban area. One of the suburbanites, during the question and answer period said, "Mother Teresa, you have done a great deal to make this world a better place. How can we help? What can we do?"

Mother Teresa answered with a smile, "Love your children!" The questioner had expected a different sort of answer, something more profound. But before she could draw her breath to ask more Mother Teresa raised her hand to silence her.

"There are other things you can do," she said, "but that is the best. Love your children. Love them so that they know that you love them. That is the best."

That is exactly what the Good Shepherd wants to do to you and me. He loves us—and wants us to know that he loves us! That is what John says in our scripture today: "See what kind of love the Father has bestowed on us that we might be called the daughters and sons of God and that is what we are!"

On this Good Shepherd Sunday we could do worse than stop and listen for the voice of the Good Shepherd telling us that he loves us! And we could do far worse than asking for grace to pass that love along to everyone we meet. We need to love our families. We need to "Shower the people we love with love." That is where our sharing of God's love should begin. But God loves the whole world! Even in the Old Testament, in that Shepherd Psalm, there is a hint of the need to demonstrate love even in the presence of our enemies.

I asked you last week to think about how you know Jesus. How you might share him with others. That witness is what your neighbors and friends need. The reality of Jesus to you is the most powerful testimony you can have.

Many Christians feel the need to be ACTIVIST in their proclaiming God's word. They have an agenda. Moral majority— pass laws— get out and work! Many Christians believe we are to be CONVERSIONIST in presenting the Gospel; and I agree that people need to be born again. But all too often means "See the way I see do the way I tell you!" But the 23rd psalm seems to say "EAT IN FRONT OF YOUR ENEMIES!" There is a third way to witness! (Hauerwas) This is the CONFESSIONAL way! As we CONFESS JESUS AS OUR LORD we will be at least as active as the activists we will talk about Jesus at least as much as the conversionists but as we invite all who will to the Shepherd's Table we will be in some measure doing what these scriptures say.

The Shepherds Table

Prayer - O God, who in your great love has sent your Son Jesus Christ to be our great and loving Shepherd, grant that we, receiving his great loving-kindness might find grace to share that love with those we meet; beginning with our own families, and reaching out even to those outside our present fellowship; through Jesus Christ who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, One God, world without end. Amen.

Hymn 490 - O to Be Like Thee

The Prayer God Loves to Answer

April 27, 1997

John 15:8; Acts 8:26-40

It is a coincidence, I suppose, that on Annual Meeting Sunday the Gospel lesson ends with a life verse of mine. For years John 15:8 has been a real challenge to me, literally almost daily in my private time with God. I know it sounds silly to always say that 15:8 comes right after 15:7, but 15:7 is a great, great promise of God answering prayer that people who know anything about the Bible love to quote. "Ask whatever you will!" they say, as if that means we can bring any kind of wish list to God. But that promise is a focused promise: IF you abide in me— and IF my words abide in you— and THIS IS HOW MY FATHER WILL BE GLORIFIED—-IF you bear much fruit! John 15:8 challenges us to will God's will. John 15:8 challenges us to dare to bear MUCH fruit to the glory of God!

One important emphasis of this entire passage is that every branch that is connected to the true vine will bear fruit. Not to bear fruit is to prove there is no vital connection to the vine. Jesus says plainly (5) "apart from me you can do nothing."

What does it mean to "bear much fruit?" I am glad that the final answer to that is not yours or mine to say. But i really do believe that if I abide in Christ, and Christ's words abide in me— this is one prayer that Christ is really serious about answering! This is the pray God loves to answer. we all can bear fruit— and we don't have to just settle for being nominal, leaves-only Christians!

One example of "much fruit" is this story of Philip, the deacon, who in the lesson we just heard read witnessed Christ to the Ethiopian eunuch and baptized him on the spot and thus was God's instrument to take the Gospel to Africa for the first time. But Philip's story is spread through the Book of Acts for us to see:

First, to Philip (in Acts 6) "bearing much fruit" meant serving tables to free up the apostles. Philip even had the same name as Philip the apostle, who seemed to be in the 'inner circle.' But he was willing to serve on the board of deacons and wait on tables if that meant Peter and James and the others could spend more time filling out their assignments. Acts 6:7 says, "Then (after the deacons freed up the apostles) the word of God spread, and the number of disciples multiplied greatly..."

But then the assignment changed. Stephen, one of the board members, was killed. The persecution began in earnest, and the disciples were scattered, and Philip found himself in a city of Samaria—

Then, second, to Philip (in early Acts 8) "bearing much fruit" meant becoming a witness to revival. An entire city was stirred. People came in crowds. The "fruit" was visible and abundant. There was great joy in that city. And so what happened? The "preachers" came and took over— Peter and John came down to preach about the need for being filled with the Holy Spirit. Philip wasn't the star any more.

And that is where this morning's lesson begins— the Holy Spirit said to this very fruitful branch of the true vine— "Go down into the desert, to the road that leads toward Egypt and beyond."

So Philip found still another, a third definition of "bearing much fruit." (In our lesson, Acts 8) He was a one-on-one witness. In the wonderful timing of God it was "just an amazing coincidence" that as Philip, obedient Philip, arrived a small cloud of dust was moving southward following a wealthy man's chariot. The Holy Spirit said to Philip, "Go over and do what you are supposed to do!" And that day Philip led one man to Jesus. One man. "Much fruit!" Revival in Samaria? One Ethiopian? What is "much fruit?" How do you imagine the Optic Church and all the Christians in Ethiopia got their spark of light?

So— that is the end of Philip...right? Well, not exactly. Years pass, and toward the end of Paul's ministry as he is returning to Jerusalem for the last time before being arrested and sent to Rome, the disciples stop in the beautiful marble city of Caesarea, and stay for a while in the home of— old Philip, the evangelist, one of the original seven deacons (see Acts 21:8.) Now I'll admit i don't have a lot of facts about the rest of the life of this man Philip, but I can say with some assurance that Philip (finally in Acts 21) could define "bearing much fruit" as seeing his own family in the faith. The Bible tells us that Philip had four wonderful grown daughters who all knew and loved the Lord, and who knew how to share their faith. To this father and grandfather mind, this is the greatest kind of bearing fruit to God that can be!

There we have it, the example of Philip, the consecrated lay person:

- A servant and supporter of the front-line workers
- A key part of mass evangelism, stepping into the place of need, but also willing to step aside when the apostles came down from Jerusalem— step aside with beautiful grace
- A person willing to obey the Spirit even when it meant a desert assignment. But also a gift of using the scripture— being able to begin with an opportunity and share the love of the crucified, risen, personal Savior.
- A faithful family person— give his wife credit, too, of she in fact was there as the girls grew older; no doubt she was— we don't know the details.

Can we translate the challenge of John 15:8 into a church's challenge to be a living part of the True Vine and not settle for just bearing fruit, but asking that we bear MUCH fruit?

We will need the vision for serving, for caring. We need the glue of loyalty and the oil of fun and fellowship. We can't do Christ's work unless we do it with joy along the way!

We will pray to see the times of revival, with numbers seeking and finding God. There will be these times— and like the Book of Acts, it is impossible to see what comes before or after. the revival in Samaria was the result of tragedy in Jerusalem, or so it would appear to us. But we pray that many will find Christ in the public services.

We ask God for the vision to learn better how to obey God one-on-one; along the desert roads, the Spirit will arrange for Philip to meet the Ethiopian. Race, culture, customs— none of these can be a barrier when God gives the guidance.

Perhaps dearest to my pastor-heart:

The Prayer God Loves to Answer

We ask God for vision to equip our families to grow in the love of God until, like Philip's four daughters, they will go past us, out-do us in serving the Lord! What will it profit us to gain the whole city of Quincy if we lose our own sons and daughters? But God helping us, we will not!

I cannot think of a better challenge for Annual Meeting Day than this passage from John 15. What is the "state of our church?" Maybe I should have been speaking about the $100,000+ we have given in assigned budgets for others, or I should have been raising the challenge again for Sam and Winna Chung and the Asian ministry—perhaps I should have been publicly thanking God and so many of you who minister in Sunday School and small groups and compassionate ministry and so many, many other good things this church does because we belong to the True Vine. Instead I ask you to join with me in believing with all our hearts the promise of John 15:7— that IF we abide, and IF God's truth is in us— we can ask whatever we will— and then daring to pray John 15:8: WHATEVER IT COSTS, O LORD, MAKE US BEAR MUCH FRUIT TO YOUR GLORY!

That is the prayer God loves to answer! And He will do it!

Hymn 36 To God Be the Glory or 702 Christ for the World We Sing

What Does God Require?

May 4, 1997

Micah 6:8 Do justly, love mercy, walk humbly with your God.

Acts 10; John 15: 9 17

A STORY

Two very different men.

- Cornelius. Roman officer. Wealthy, powerful. Definitely Gentile, non kosher. But a seeker after God, and after God's truth. A man who cared about people, and who prayed for light to find the way.
- Peter. Acknowledged leader of the Christians. Great Christian— people actually sought his shadow as he passed, so they could be healed; an angel had released him from Jerusalem's inner prison ... No question, Peter was the best of the best.

Raised a strict observant Jew, and kosher all his life. He found no problem at all in simply carrying his kosher disciplines along with his genuine faith in Christ. In fact he probably even saw the new faith as a continuation of his devout upbringing. And there was not one Gentile Christian in the entire world.* (*not counting the Samaritans who were 'half-Jews.')

Two visions from God.

- First to Cornelius: An angel of God appeared as Cornelius was praying. Angel says, basically, "God knows you are seeking Him. God loves you a lot. Send to Joppa, the house of a man who cures hides and makes leather. Another man, Peter, is staying at his house. The house is right on the beach there at Joppa. You need Peter to help you come to know me better." The message came about three o'clock one afternoon, and within the hour Cornelius had sent off two trustworthy servants and a Roman soldier whom he also trusted. They set out to go thirty miles to the south to look for this house by the sea and a man called Peter.

What Does God Require?

- Second vision, this time to Peter. It was about noon the very next day. Peter was at Simon the tanner's home, just as Cornelius's angel had said. Actually he was up on the roof garden praying. As he prayed he got hungry, and sent down an order for lunch. While he was waiting Peter drifted into a trance-like state. In a vision Peter saw a huge sheet held by its four corners like a big seine purse and in it were all kinds of animals, kosher and non kosher pork chops, lobsters, clams, ham sandwiches a Jewish nightmare! And the word came from heaven, "Get up, Peter you're hungry have a ham sandwich!" But Peter immediately responded, "Lord! I will not! I have never had an non kosher meal in my life!" And the word Peter got back in his trance was, "Whatever I call clean is not for you to call unclean!" This happened three times.

This is the point where the two visions from God began to come together, because right then there was a knocking at the outer door downstairs. "Is this the home of Simon the tanner? Is there a man named Peter staying here? Could we see him please?" The men from Cornelius in Caesarea were at the door. At the very same time God was telling Peter "Go downstairs and meet some men I have sent. They're Gentiles but they won't bite you! I have sent them!"

And so the three Gentiles came into a kosher home and had a kosher meal and they rested the rest of the day, and spent the night together. That was a miracle in itself. And then first thing the next morning a group of strict kosher Christian Jews, and Gentile members of a Roman occupation officer's household started out on a day-and-a-half journey together. It had to be a first!

The next day, the fourth day since Cornelius first had his vision, the little group reached Caesarea. They had made the thirty miles back in good time. And that is where our scripture lesson for this morning breaks in. Cornelius was almost willing to worship Peter, but Peter stopped that. Peter had begun to learn a lesson that maybe he needed to learn again and again: God had showed him, Peter said, that he should never, ever count out anyone as not being precious to God. God cares for everyone! That is a great lesson for every one of us to learn!

Then Peter began to preach. He told the household of Cornelius about Jesus, and his grace and mercy. He told them of his atoning death on Calvary. He told how Jesus carried OUR sins away— the Lamb of God! And then he told them about the mighty power that had brought Jesus back from death the resurrection power of God. And as he spoke that same resurrection power came on the household of Cornelius. It was like another Pentecost, a lot like the first time the Holy Spirit was poured out with power on the church at Jerusalem.

Cornelius, a Gentile and Roman citizen, became a baptized believer in Jesus Christ that very day. He became a Christian. Cornelius never did become a Jew. He never did embrace kosher ways, so far as we know.

Peter remained a Jewish Christian. He was more comfortable that way the disciplines of that life reminded him of all the promises of the Bible. But from then on a new day had begun in the church. A wall had come down. God had been working both ends of the relationship— the seeker and the speaker. He still does.

The big fisherman got a new insight into just how much God loves all people, not just those who know all the rules. The powerful officer of the greatest government in the world bowed before the son of a Jewish carpenter who had never been more than ninety miles from where he was born, and yet who was and is the Son of God come down from heaven. That day the old and the new praised God together because of His great love.

GOD LOVES PEOPLE! GOD LOVES YOU! This love shines in the words of Jesus (John 15:15) "I have called you servants, but I don't want to call you that any more. I want to call you friends! I want to show you all that is in my great heart of love!"

Maybe when we read this it just slips past us. Maybe we are sometimes too kosher or too self-occupied to hear it. Commandments are holy and good. It does make a difference to God if we seek to do his will or not. But they are all means to draw us to God!

What Does God Require?

God loves people. He loves you. God wants us to draw near to him so he can draw near to us! As we seek him, like Cornelius did, he will show us how to draw nearer. As we pray and meditate, like Peter, he will work on our prejudices and give us chances to tell people why Jesus came and died and rose again! He wants us to be his friends. he wants us to walk with him!

The Old Testament prophet Micah said it best— and he wasn't even a Christian— although I'm sure he is now. He said (6:8) "He has shown you, O seeker, what is right; and what does God require of you but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God." Too often we talk when we should be listening. We begin with the answers when we don't even know the questions. But if we are going to walk with God, as his friends, the only way we CAN walk is humbly. He is willing.

Pray with me.

O God I am a seeker after You. Show me how to draw nearer!

O God I am an old believer! Show me how to tell others how much You love them.

Amen.

#552 O Master Let Me Walk with Thee

Waiting for the Spirit

May 11, 1997

Acts 1:1-11; John 17:6-19

In the period between the Ascension of Jesus and the Day of Pentecost the disciples, in obedience to their Lord's command, waited in Jerusalem for the prayer of Jesus to be fulfilled. They were waiting for the coming of the Holy Spirit on the church, the great Promise of the Father and the Son. They certainly didn't know quite what to expect. But they had been prepared, and they had been prayed for:

This greatest prayer ever prayed is a favorite source of texts for holiness preaching. Jesus prayed "Sanctify them through thy truth, thy word is truth." And he also prayed these wonderful words, "I sanctify myself that they also may be sanctified in truth." Too often those wonderful texts become points of departure, and we want to explain in great detail the mysteries of God's great saving grace. Too often the result is not helpful.

The prayer of Jesus is not an explanation of sanctification. There are some things, however, that shed clear light on what it means to be sanctified. If Jesus does not give a theological discourse on what sanctification is and does, in his prayer Jesus gives

A PROFILE OF THE LIFE-STYLE OF THE SANCTIFIED

They are in the world, but not of the world.

"I am no longer in the world, but they are in the world ... I am not asking you to take them out of the world, but I ask you to protect them from the evil one." In another passage this same idea is expressed: "Don't let this world squeeze you into its mold."

God's people are not looking for a way to avoid life the way it is lived in the here and now. Sanctified people do not cluster into colonies and look for a space craft to take them to a higher level.

Waiting for the Spirit

They have an assignment: to be like Jesus.

"As you have sent me into the world, so I have sent them into the world." The Father sent his Son into the world, not to condemn the world but to be the light of the world. The Father's Son has said to his disciples, to you and me if you will, "You are the light of the world! You are the salt of the earth!" And here he says in his prayer that he is sending his sanctified ones to carry out his work.

It is a big assignment, to be like Jesus. Bigger than we can be without help. That is what Jesus is praying about. It is a big assignment, being like Jesus: it means caring and healing and giving of ourselves. To be fully Christian means to be a servant. It means to have a mind-set to help other people. To be like Jesus means telling people who God is— not in theological words they can't understand, but in the plain language of an eye-witness. We exist to say from our hearts, "God is GOOD!"

They have access to real joy.

"I am coming to you, and I speak these things in the world so that they may have my joy made complete in themselves." When we talk about profiles of holiness, never, ever leave out the joy! When we start to backslide— when we begin to cool off in any way in kingdom work— the JOY is usually the first thing to go! Because it is more important and vital than we realize! The Presence of Christ's Spirit brings joy!

What is this sanctified joy?

This past Thursday I visited with Tom Crawford, my daughter-in-law's father, a pastor in New Jersey who buried his wife of 48 years last Saturday. Before we had prayer together there were hugs and a few tears and smiles. There was real loss and real sorrow. But there was something else as well. There was the real Presence of God, a tangible Love that means " joy in the midst of sorrow," and "peace in the midst of pain." It is real, brothers and sisters, this Jesus Joy!

Transition

ISN'T THIS PROFILE EXACTLY WHAT EVERY CHRISTIAN NEEDS AND WANTS?

Who are these sanctified people? Super saints who never make mistakes, and never get down or even sick? Hardly. When I think of holiness, of sanctification, I think not of theories and doctrines first of all— I think of people I know and have known. I think of my teachers in college, Jasper R. Naylor and Alice Spangenberg and Bertha Munro. I think of General Superintendents Charles Strickland and William Greathouse. But also I think of think of so-called "little people," people I knew that had faults and pain, and still were totally sold out to God and had His love.

On this Mother's day I think of my own mother's testimony. In another denomination, without knowing what to call it, she asked God for something to take away her bitter spirit. And her testimony reminds me of another person in still another denomination, who never heard a message on sanctification, and didn't know what to call it, but cried out to God for cleansing of her spirit— Mary Pitman!

My OWN testimony - not to perfection— but to a removal of bitter hatred.

I haven't sought to explain what Jesus meant when he prayed "Sanctify them!" I haven't begun to talk about the doctrine and the experience and what it does in cleansing and empowering and filling with God's love. And whatever I might say would not take away the wonder and mystery of God's grace. But I can tell you how to begin to seek what Jesus was praying for! Holiness, sanctification, in its simplest, most elemental form is simply belonging to God without reservation!

HOW TO BE A SANCTIFIED CHRISTIAN

A GOD-INSPIRED DESIRE - "I pray not (now) for the world; I pray for these who are not of the world, worldly." You cannot be entirely sanctified unless you want to be; and it is the people who love God who want to belong to Him without reservation. This is A DESIRE TO LOVE GOD BETTER - Jesus: "I sanctify myself that they also may be sanctified in truth." A loving Son tells the Father he dedicates himself to His will in order that his brothers and sisters might also come closer to God.

Waiting for the Spirit

A DELIBERATE, TRUSTING CONSECRATION - Romans 12: 1,2 "Brothers and sisters, by God's great grace, give yourselves to HIM!!"

AN ATTITUDE OF SEEKING, TRUSTING, BELIEVING - I Thess. 5:23-24

#522 - in Hymnal - to read in unison

Conclusion: I challenge you to ask God to sanctify you through and through— I challenge you to tell Him He can have you for time and eternity! He will receive you!

PRAYER (contemporary language)

O God, King of glory, you have received your only Son, our Lord Jesus Christ with great triumph to your kingdom in heaven. As he has promised us, Do not leave us comfortless, but send us your Holy Spirit to strengthen us, and by faith exalt us to that place where our Savior Christ has gone before; who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, in glory everlasting. Amen.

#272 Crown Him with Many Crowns

The Breath of God

May 17, 1997 - Pentecost Sunday

Acts 2

John 15

[Ezekiel 37]

Genesis 1:1-2 In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth. And the earth was without form, and void, and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved upon the waters. And God said, "Let there be light!" And there was light!

The breath of God is the Spirit of creation. But God was not through with creation. The story continues:

And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life.

And man became a living soul. The Spirit of God is the creating force that enables you and me to have spiritual existence. Whatever the image of God in humankind may be, it is only possible by the breath of God. Every human soul is an act of creation. Every human being is a potentiality for great God-likeness. But there is still more:

A learned man came to Jesus by night asking about eternal life, and Jesus told Nicodemus: The wind blows where it will blow, and you hear its sound. So is everyone who is born of the Spirit. You must be born again of the Spirit in order to know eternal life.

The same mighty creating Spirit that brought worlds into existence, and created Adam and Eve in the image of the Eternal is essential to our salvation. We cannot even see the kingdom of God unless and until this powerful breath of God in creation has visited our waiting souls. A soul saved by grace is an act of creation.

The Breath of God

A small congregation of just 120 waited in anticipation a promise they did not fully understand when suddenly There came from heaven the sound of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. A new body, a body of believers assembled by the command and promise of Jesus, had the breath of heaven breathed into its nostrils, and the Church was born. Whether or not we understand all that the church of Jesus Christ is, or what we think it ought to be, by His Spirit God breathed life into the Church of Jesus Christ on that first Pentecost Sunday, and the one, holy, universal and apostolic church is alive today by the same mighty creation power that holds the entire universe in existence. The Spirit of God is the life of the church. That is what Pentecost means.

When the Spirit breathed life into the church the believers were all filled with God Himself! The scriptures say that immediately they began to speak in languages that all the world could clearly understand. The very message which Jesus had said the Spirit would bring became reality that day. Jesus had said: "When He (the Holy Spirit) is come he will convince (convict, reprove) the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment." As Peter and the rest of the eleven apostles gave witness to the death and resurrection of Jesus, the assembled crowds heard about sin and of righteousness and judgment to come. They were convicted of sin, because they had rejected the Savior. Of righteousness, because that Savior was now at God's right hand where He makes intercession for sinners who call to Him, and gives them God's own righteousness! Of judgment, as Peter said, "Repent and turn from this crooked generation! Repent!"

And the response of the people who heard the Spirit-filled church: "When they heard this they were cut to the heart, and said to Peter and the rest of the apostles, "Men and brethren, what shall we do?"

Peter's response was (Acts 2:38-39.)

When God's Spirit fills his church, the message is proclaimed: Sin! Righteousness! Judgment! Salvation! God's Spirit comes to His church we are guided into all truth, and Jesus is lifted up and obeyed. There is light and life and fellowship.

We too often think in static terms— Pentecost happened ... I was saved ... I was filled with the Spirit ... the world was created. This is how it is. But what if God wants us to think in dynamic ways? What if creation is still going on? What if God's Spirit wants to fill you and me and fill His church again and again until the world hears in its own language about sin and righteousness and judgment to come?

Ezekiel's message is actually a message of HOPE! Do I think we are a valley of dead, dry bones? No, not at all. I believe that God has blessed us in many wonderful ways. But the passage in Ezekiel 37, the vision of the prophet, is one of the standard texts for Pentecost Sunday. (You know the strange vision— you probably have heard the old spiritual, "Them bones- them bones- them—dry bones!") In that vision the Lord takes Ezekiel into a totally hopeless situation— where dry bones are scattered across the floor of a valley. He tells Ezekiel to preach to the bones— and as he preached they come together as skeletons, and then sinews and flesh come on the skeletons and there is a vast army of not-dead but not-alive people standing in front of the prophet as he preaches.

Then God says to Ezekiel, "Call on the WIND, Ezekiel! Call on the WIND from the four winds of the earth!" And THE SPIRIT OF THE LORD, who brooded over the darkness and chaos, and who breathed into proto-man's nostrils the spark of humanity— and who makes eternal life possible to the believer— and who came as a rushing mighty wind at Pentecost— THE SPIRIT OF THE LORD BREATHED LIFE INTO THE ASSEMBLED HOST IN EZEKIEL'S VISION, AND THEY BECAME A MIGHTY, LIVING ARMY!

Do WE dare to ask the Holy Spirit to enter our body in a new and wonderful way? Do we DARE to ask Him to have control over our bodies, and our minds, and our wills? Do WE dare to prophecy to the WIND, the Breath of God, and let him come in his own way— whether it be a hurricane or a sweet fresh zephyr? Would you turn with me in your hymnal to (#500) Charles Wesley's hymn about the outpouring of the Holy Spirit?

In this hymn Charles Wesley is asking for a fresh anointing of the Spirit of Pentecost. In the first verse he prays to Jesus to shed his all-victorious love into his heart so that his feet will never wander again, but his heart will be grounded in God. In the second verse he sees this filling of the Spirit as a fire being kindled to burn up cheap and unworthy motives and desires, and he asks God to let this cleansing fire blaze.

Would you read aloud with me the next two verses— read them slowly and make them not only YOUR prayer, personally— but with me, make it the prayer of our assembled fellowship:

*O that it now from heav'n might fall,
And all my sins consume.
Come, Holy Ghost, for Thee I call;
Spirit of Burning, come!*

*Refining Fire, go through my heart;
Illuminate my soul.
Scatter Thy life thro' every part,
And sanctify the whole.*

845 a.m.:Prayer: Almighty God, who on this day opened the way of eternal life to every race and nation by the promised gift of your Holy Spirit: Shed abroad this Gift in our hearts here and throughout the world that by the preaching of the Gospel it may reach to the very ends of the earth; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you, in the unity of the same Spirit, one God, forever and ever. Amen

11 a.m. :Prayer: Lord, that hymn IS our prayer! We thank You that in fact you already have come and sent your Spirit to make us the church and to make worship possible. We celebrate your Presence today, even as we ask you to come again and again, in any way that You will. Thank you for your Promises. Thank you for your Presence! We give you praise, in Jesus' name. Amen

291 - The Comforter Has Come

Reality Check for Salvation

June 7, 1997

2 Corinthians 13:5

[Examination time:] Scholars tell us that 2 Corinthians was written to speak to errors in doctrine and worship and life-style that had surfaced in the Corinth Church of the Nazarene when Paul was General Superintendent. In addressing the things that were wrong, Paul gave something of a simple positive outline of the things that are right about being saved. In the first twelve chapters Paul says "This is what Christians believe, this is how Christians worship, this is how Christians live!" And then at the close of the letter, in the last chapter he says, "Measure yourselves by this!" "It is exam time!"

I. SAVING FAITH IS SIMPLE

11:3 (I fear, lest somehow, as the serpent deceived Eve by his craftiness, so your minds may be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ) - It is covenant with Jesus. He is Lord, and we are His loving children.

- A. It is a faith covenant 5:7 (For we walk by faith, not by sight) - The reality of this covenant will be challenged by the wisdom of this world. And worldly wisdom is real. It doesn't always "make sense" to trust Jesus
- B. It is a LOVE covenant 5:9 (We make it our aim, wherever we are, to be well pleasing to Jesus) - We learn to live to please our Friend who loved us and purchased us with His blood.

II. SAVING FAITH IS PURE

7:1 (Therefore having these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God) - No one can serve two masters. God loves every one of us with "unconditional love." But we cannot love Him with saving faith and at the same time remain in wilful and outbroken sin.

- A. Saving faith always involves repentance, turning away from sin; always involves confessing and forsaking wilful sin 7:10 (For godly sorrow produces repentance leading to salvation; but the sorrow of the world produces death)
- B. Saving faith means forsaking sinful ways 6:14 (Do not be unequally yoked together with unbelievers. For what FELLOWSHIP has righteousness with lawlessness? And what COMMUNION has light with darkness? And what AGREEMENT has Christ with Satan? Or what part of your self belongs to unbelief? ... You and I together are the temple of God! adapt.) - Our life-style will reflect our love for God.

III. SAVING FAITH IS NOW

6:2 (Behold NOW is the accepted time; behold NOW is the day of salvation) - It is rooted in the past, and it holds bright hope for tomorrow. 1:10 (God delivered us from so great a death, and does deliver us; in whom we trust that He will still deliver us...) But still, salvation is always in the present!

- A. We believe in eternal security; God will never take His salvation back.
- B. But we also believe in accountability— (text) Examine yourself! Are you in this faith today?

Conclusion: The earliest confession of faith of the early church was simply, "Jesus is Lord!" It really says it all if we stop and think what each of those words stand for:

Who is Lord? JESUS is Lord— the only begotten Son of the Father. Not the greatest of martyrs, but God Incarnate.

What is Jesus? Jesus is LORD! Not simply our Friend, though He is that— nor just our Example. But we call Him LORD!

But that little word in the middle! That is present tense! Jesus IS Lord of heaven and earth! Jesus IS seated at the right hand of the Father just now! But when is Jesus Lord to you and me? Jesus IS Lord!

#269 He Is Lord!

Treasures, Kings, and Tiny Things

June 15, 1997

1 Samuel 15:7 "(The) Lord does not see as mortals see; they look on the outward appearance, but the Lord looks on the heart."

2 Corinthians 4:7 "We have this treasure in jars of clay..."

It is father's day today. I thought I might connect that fact with some aspects of the scriptures we have been reading recently; scriptures about treasures in earthen jars, and mustard seed small beginnings and also a story about a father named Jesse and a son named David.

I might begin with an item from Ann Landers' column titled, "A Gentle Reminder Not to Forget Father." It goes like this:

When I was

- four years old: "My daddy can do anything.
- five years old: "My daddy knows a whole lot.
- six years old: "My dad is smarter than your dad.
- eight years old: "My dad doesn't know exactly everything.
- ten years old: "In the olden days when my dad grew up, things sure were different.
- twelve years old: "Oh, well, naturally, dad doesn't know anything about that. He is too old to remember his childhood.
- fourteen years old: "Don't pay any attention to my dad. He is so old-fashioned.
- twenty-one years old: "Him? My Lord, he's hopelessly out of date.
- twenty-five years old: "Dad knows a little bit about it, but then he should because he has been around so long.

- thirty years old: "Maybe we should ask dad what he thinks. After all, he's had a lot of experience.
- thirty-five years old: "I'm not doing a single thing until I talk to dad.
- forty years old: "I wonder how dad would have handled it. He was so wise and had a world of experience.
- fifty years old: "I'd give anything if dad were here now so I could talk this over with him. Too bad I didn't appreciate how smart he was. I could have learned a lot from him.

I don't know, quite frankly, how to "fit" Father's Day into the scripture's message. I do believe that dads are often in the key position to mold lives for better or for worse. Our children are like the potential of mustard seed growth. Every parent deals with unimaginable potential.

"Years ago during the early days of the New York Herald Tribune, the same cartoon ran every year on February 12. Two men are shown meeting in a snowy wilderness road setting. One is astride a horse as the other man greets him, asking what news in the village. The horseman reports that the local squire has left for Washington to see Madison sworn in, and that he has heard that Napoleon has captured most of Spain. Then he asks the man on foot, "What's new out here, neighbor?"

"Nuthin' a tall, nuthin' a tall, 'cept fer a new baby down t' Tom Lincoln's. Nuthin' ever happens out here."

"The seed is planted, the smallest seed."

Leaving a strictly-Father's -Day approach to the texts this morning, the story of the choosing/anointing of David by Samuel has highlighted two verses for me:

I Samuel 5:7 "(The) Lord does not see as mortals see; they look on the outward appearance, but the Lord looks on the heart." and 2 Corinthians 4:7 "We have this treasure in jars of clay..." (from the lesson two weeks ago.)

The story of David, Israel's greatest king, of how he was chosen and anointed and lived out his ambition invites comparison and contrast with the story of the king that was actually in power at the time. I am tempted just to sketch out the two stories side-by-side and let them stand on their own, and maybe I will.

God sent the old prophet Samuel looking for a new king. He specifically sent him to Bethlehem (and that's significant!) to look among the eight sons of a wealthy farmer named Jesse.

The youngest son was not even present during the ceremonial part of the visit. But God made it very plain that this was the man he wanted. Then the words of the text: "MORTALS look on the outward appearance! GOD looks on the heart!" David had the heart for being a king!

Some years before this same prophet had gone looking for Saul. Saul, too, had had the oil of anointing poured over his head. Saul had shown signs of great humility. But he had failed his stress-tests along the way. He was shown to be a king that cared more for the outward appearance than he did for the integrity of his heart.

Both these men had tests along the way to assuming full power of their offices. Early on in his reign, Saul was supposed to take part in what amounted to a public coronation ceremony, complete with the blessing of God through his prophet Samuel. But when Samuel was late, Saul was impatient and took over the role of blesser as well as blessee. He took sacred calling upon himself to the danger of his soul. And when Samuel challenged him about it, Saul's response was, "Let's keep up appearances! What will the people think?"

David, on the other hand, was anointed in secret long before Saul's reign was over. David knew God's hand was on him. But on more than one occasion David had opportunity to kill Saul and take his destiny in his own hands, but each time he absolutely refused. David was ambitious, but the ambition was subject to his primary concern: being right with God!

Saul had a way of turning his conquests into profit for himself. He was supposed to be a servant of God, Instead he served his own interests. When he was told to utterly destroy the bitter enemies of God, the Amalekites, Saul destroyed everything cheap and worthless, but saved out the best of the sheep and cattle for himself. Once again, when Samuel challenged him, Saul said, "Let's keep up appearances! It is the people's fault!" But sadly, Saul also said said, "God has departed from me, and does not answer me any more!"

One of the saddest scenes in all the Bible is that of Saul the night before he died a suicide on a hill in northern Israel. Saul, taller by a head than the men he commanded, now lying full length on the floor before the Witch of Endor, trying to get a word from God any way that he could. Saul cared more for the appearance than for the substance, and he died an empty shell of a king.

These were no doubt great sins Saul had committed. But other kings later sinned, but found forgiveness. The thing was, Saul cared more about appearance than heart reality.

And so it was during the later years of Saul's reign that God began looking, as it were, for a man who cared more about the reality of who he was than he did about what people thought he might be. That is where the key text from that passage makes sense in any contrast of Saul and David:

"Human beings look on the outward appearance; God looks on the heart!"

Across the years after David became king he, too, failed more than once, and suffered because of his sins. But God did not take away his kingdom, and God called David 'a man after his own heart.' What was the difference?

The difference was integrity. David somehow had a personal trust in a God who cared. Psalm 23 reflects that trust. And so David dared to wait for God's timing in personal ambition. When he had opportunity to take Saul's life he refused. David could wait for God.

David dared to be honest with himself. We all can stumble, and we all can blind ourselves at times to our own faults. We can become our own enemies. But David never played games with God. His Psalms reflect many moods. Sometimes it almost seems that David is impatient with God. But David also asks God to show him, David, who he really is.

And when sin came, and David failed, instead of grabbing the prophet's cloak and saying, "Let's put a good show on before the people!" as Saul had done, David said to Nathan, who had taken Samuel's place, "I have sinned!" And the great 51st Psalm reflects the cry of true repentance. God forgives sin when we cry to him from our hearts.

Conclusion:

We either learn to value the treasure— or we glorify the vessel. Kings or peasants, or for that matter, churches or denominations.

A church or an institution can DIE while trying to keep up appearances. The treasure of any church fellowship is IMMANUEL, God-is-with-us-!, and when we get more interested in keeping the vessel than keeping the treasure we miss our central purpose.

Pray for our denomination this week. Like every other Christian fellowship, Nazarenes face changes on every facet of the human experience— social, economic, inter- and intra-racial tensions, power struggles between good people who think their assignment is all-important— that's only facts of life.

But this week the absolutely latest technology will proclaim the gospel in San Antonio, and many thousands of us will be there. I believe we still have the treasure of God's Presence with us. We need to remind ourselves again that the treasure of our Zion has been the challenge to holy living— it is GOD-WITH-US!

490 O to Be Like Thee

A Lesson from a Boat

February 3, 1995

July 6 (pm), 1997

Luke 5:1-11

A Story

I would love to know what was going on in the mind of the disciples as Jesus preached in their boat. There they were— they were supposed to be praying for the preacher— they were in full view of the congregation— but the sermon was long. And beside that, the night before had been extra long. It is bad enough to have to take advantage of the full moon to work all night. It is bad enough when you fish all night and catch a few. But when you fish all night long in every spot you know, and have come up empty!

So Jesus was welcome to use the boat— and more— Jesus was loved and appreciated. But I am not sure how much of the sermon Peter heard that beautiful windless morning while the multitudes sat or stood along the shore and Jesus sat in the calm waters and taught them about the love of God and the love of fellow man.

Maybe the most important thing about worship is the sermon— and maybe it isn't. I have a feeling that the most important thing about coming together for worship is whenever we feel the love in our hearts for Jesus welling up, making us want to be like him in sharing life and love with our brothers and sisters— that is when worship connects.

The sermon concluded. Peter hadn't been sleeping at all— but still he woke up with a start. He pulled up the anchor out of five feet of clear water where he'd tossed it to keep the boat from drifting. He started to paddle with one oar back to shore. But now Jesus wanted to go fishing.

Now it is one thing to have a preacher tell you how you ought to love God and read your Bible, even though some people have a problem with anyone telling them anything. But it is entirely another thing to have a carpenter tell a fisherman where to fish. Peter wouldn't mind taking Jesus fishing. But there wouldn't be any sense in fishing here and now because there weren't any fish in this end of the lake.

Still, Jesus not only wanted Peter to go fishing— but Jesus told Peter told him where to go to fish.

"Push out into the deep water and let your nets down there for a catch." Deep water. Right! "Lord, we have worked all night long without one fish!" So much to read between the lines here! But Peter is already swinging his bow out toward the center of the lake. "Nevertheless, at YOUR word we'll go again!"

The usual lesson here is supposed to be that Jesus is master of nature and all creation. He is the God YHWH who commanded ravens to feed Elijah, and who sent manna from heaven to keep the Israelites alive for forty years in their desert wanderings. The miraculous draught of fishes is supposed to tell us that if we mind Jesus he will provide for us. And that is true.

But when I read this I think about people who sometimes doze through sermons and are startled when they hear Jesus urging them, by His Spirit, to change the course of their living! It isn't simply "spiritual matters," that concerns Jesus— He is Lord of all of life! So we hear Him saying "You ought to write a letter to that person you have a misunderstanding with!" or even, "Send off that a resumé you've been praying about!" or "Don't be afraid to drop that course and take the one you've been thinking about!" And we say to ourselves "What does this have to do with holiness and religion? What does Jesus know about life in the computer age? And even if he knows what does he care? He is reaching down to us across 20 centuries, and that is a pretty long reach!"

Then we realize that Jesus isn't reaching at all! Jesus is HERE— the eternal contemporary. Jesus knows more about fishing and fish than Peter does. He knows more about computers than you do. He cares about the details of our lives!

We could do a lot worse than bring our daily schedules and our secular— so-called secular— workaday lives to Jesus for his guidance.

Jesus not only had the nerve to command Peter's boat for that one day— Jesus had the audacity to ask Peter to let him command him for the rest of his life. We still call Peter 'the Big Fisherman' once in a while, but what was immortal about him is not his prowess on the Sea of Galilee. What really counts about Peter is the kind of person he became when he followed Jesus with all his heart. What Peter really accomplished with his life is the result of a power the world cannot understand because it cannot see it. But Peter stood up on the day of Pentecost and preached, and 3,000 people then and there decided to put God absolutely first in their lives. Peter's social standing and his means of making a living meant a lot to some people in his life, I'm sure. But now 2,000 years later we remember Peter as a man who followed Jesus. That has made all the difference in ways that only eternity can tell.

Amen.

THE HOLY COMMUNION

The Law Read and Confession Made

The Lord Jesus Christ has said to us: "Thou shalt love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the first and great commandment. The second is like unto it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets."

Shall we pray:

Search us, O God, and know our most private thoughts. Try us, and show unto us the deepest motives, the real state of our hearts. Forgive us where we have been selfish, or insensitive, or sinful in any way. We cannot keep the Great Commandment, and truly love You, O God, with all our heart, soul, and mind unless You in mercy grant to us the grace of Your indwelling Spirit. We cannot love each other as we should unless Your love is shed abroad in our hearts.

Brothers and sisters, let us search our hearts. In silence let us ask God to draw us near to Himself so that we can come to his table with confidence.

We do not presume to come to this table, O God, trusting in our own righteousness, but in your great mercy and grace. Grant us to eat the Bread of heaven, and drink the blood shed for the remission of sins, that we may live in Christ, and Christ may live in us forever. Amen

Let us confess our faith:

The Creed

The Informal Invitation ("This is not my table . . . ")

Holy and gracious Father; in your infinite love you made us for yourself; and, when we had fallen into sin, and were worthy of death and hell, you, in your mercy sent Jesus Christ, your only and eternal Son to share our human nature, to live and die as one of us, to reconcile us to You, the God and Father of all.

He stretched out his arms upon the cross, and offered himself in obedience to your will, a perfect sacrifice for the whole world.

The Words of Institution

On the night in which he was betrayed our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had give thanks to You he broke it and gave it to his disciples and said, "Take eat: THIS IS MY BODY, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me.

After supper he took the cup and when he had give thanks he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you; THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink this, do it in remembrance of me: Amen

We praise you for the mystery of our salvation! We truly believe

- Christ has died!
- Christ is risen!
- Christ will come again!

Bless these emblems, O God, and make them to us the Body and Blood of your Son, spiritual food, and spiritual drink of new and unending life in Jesus Christ.

And now, together, we pray, as Jesus taught us:

Our Father which art in heaven . . .

Now, humbly we receive the Gifts of God for the People of God

The Citadel: My Heart, God's Throne

Lessons from King David, Part 1 of 3

July 6, 1997

2 Samuel 5:1-5; 9-10

Psalm 48 Great is the Lord and greatly to be praised in the city of our God ... walk about Zion

2 Corinthians 12:2-10 My grace is sufficient for thee; my strength is made perfect in weakness

The stories of the Old Testament are fascinating, and more. They are graphic pictures of the way the life of faith is, or is not to be lived.

The Exodus and the forming of the people of God into a kingdom give many insights into our understanding of the church, even to this present moment.

But narratives have their limits. And too often we read into stories what we want to see. Joshua enters the Promised Land, and the people of God "live happily ever after." Only in fairy tales! The faith walk with God is never that simple. In building kingdoms and noble lives, in human marriage and the covenant walk with our God, there is no substitute for an on-going relationship of trusting love.

When David became king of Israel nearly 500 years after Joshua had fought the battle of Jericho there were still areas of the Promised Land that were in rebellion against the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. The kingdom itself had general ownership within its boundaries, but within those bounds were unsublimated pockets of resistance; areas yet to be civilized; or even some places in open defiance of the central purpose of Israel, which was to honor God.

One of these pockets of resistance was Mount Zion, Jerusalem, the very heart of the Promised Land. Because of its fortress-like characteristics, the Jebusites that occupied the high ground were so entrenched that centuries of judges and leaders, and even Saul the first king had thought it was not worth the bother to bring the Jebusites into the kingdom or else drive them out.

David knew that Israel would not be a noble kingdom with its heart unsubjugated to its central purpose. What would Israel be without Jerusalem? So David found a way—he addressed the task at hand, and the rebel garrison became Zion, the City of David, and Jerusalem is now synonymous with God's Presence!

THERE WILL BE NO UNCHALLENGED REBEL AREAS IN GOD'S KINGDOM

There are areas in all our lives that need to be disciplined. No one is perfectly tuned to a Godly statement of mission that has no room for improvement. But we do not have to live with chronic insubordination to the worship of God. We do not have to live with inner rebellion.

[One red herring pseudo-scholars use to question Old Testament lessons based on war and conquest is the question of God's apparent ruthlessness with rebels. Our God cares for the people of the earth, all nations, all people. This is the great God we have come to know and love, revealed in Jesus Christ. But that ruthlessness and absolute unwillingness to compromise can be, and should be turned against the inner foes, the pride and unbelief and self-worship that threatens every man and woman that decides to follow God. we should have no mercy on the foes within. Bring them to the cross, and let them die there with Jesus, who was made sin for us, so that we might be His righteousness! If that is "spiritualizing" historical texts, so be it. The conquest of Jerusalem to be the heart of worship is just as valid to your needs as crossing the Red Sea is to help you understand your baptism and deliverance from sin.]

THERE WILL BE NO PROPRIETARY ATTITUDE TOWARD HOLY THINGS

After David set Jerusalem free to be a place where God was to be worshiped he still did not take worship there for granted. He never felt he had "the right" to have charge of holy things. One little story-within-the-story makes that point clear, even though it is so brief we might miss it.

David had conquered all the Jerusalem area, but he, personally, did not own any of it. He knew there should be a place of sacrifice. He, in one particular time, was in need of repentance and worship. So he went to the place where Abraham had offered Isaac, the place where the temple one day would stand, and said, "Here is the place I need to set up an altar to El Shaddai, God Almighty."

But the place was owned by a Jebusite shepherd named Araunah. Being a good and loyal subject of the king Araunah simply said, "King David, you can have this whole hilltop! It is yours!" But David said, "I will not offer offerings unto the Lord my God of that which costs me nothing!" So he paid Araunah fifty shekels of silver for the land and the oxen he was driving, and there David built an altar. (In 2 Samuel 24)

THERE WILL BE NO END IN RETURNING TO THE CITADEL; WORSHIP WILL ALWAYS BE THE CENTER OF KINGDOM REALITY

Jerusalem became the focus for all the worship of God. God's people came there when they could; when they couldn't they prayed toward Jerusalem. Jerusalem was not a one-time conquest to be forgotten and taken for granted. Going up to Jerusalem became the high point of every person of faith.

Worship, true worship, has to be like that. When all idols have been cast down, and all rebellions have been ruthlessly dealt with, then at the heart of our being we turn toward Jerusalem. We go to the place of worship when we are supposed to go, when we are able. We look to the heavenly Jerusalem every day of our lives. We come to live with the reality of a Jerusalem, a Citadel within where God reigns without a rival, and where we worship with joy.

GOD'S GRACE IS SUFFICIENT FOR THE WAY LIFE IS REALLY LIVED

Even with genuine faith and great discipline, life is not fair. Narratives don't tell the whole story. We don't just simply "live happily ever after." The epistle lesson for the day helps complete the lesson that King David began for us.

When the rebel pockets of resistance have been ruthlessly addressed, and when we are worshiping the best we know how— humble attitude, discipline, faithfulness— there will still be things that challenge us to the very depths.

Whatever Paul's famous/infamous "thorn in the flesh" might have been, it wasn't a pocket of rebellion. But it was a source of pain. So Paul prayed again and again that it might be removed. It wasn't. But instead these words: (from The Message, 2 Corinthians 12:)

"Satan's angel did his best to get me down; what he did in fact was push me to my knees ...I begged God to remove (the handicap.) Three times I did that, and then He told me, 'My grace is enough; it's all you need. My strength comes into its own in your weakness.' Once I heard that, I was glad to let it happen. I quit focussing on the handicap and began appreciating the gift. It was a case of Christ's strength moving in on my weakness. Now I take limitations in stride, and with good cheer, those limitations that cut me down to size— abuse, accidents, opposition, bad breaks. I just let Christ take over! And so the weaker I get the stronger I become."

So, the bottom line is: GRACE!

No compromise with God's enemies— but no quitting when times get hard, either. The bottom line is God's grace!

Prayer

He Giveth More Grace 101

Coming to Worship

Lessons from King David, Part 2 of 3

July 13, 1997

Psalm 24; 2 Samuel 6

"A FUNNY THING HAPPENED on the way to church..." I wonder if a play could ever be written on that theme? If we could have a video of how your family and mine, emotionally and mentally and spiritually as well as physically, arrive at their places for Sunday worship it might make for an interesting talk show theme. It is possible that Psalm 24 could be used as a lesson from David on how to come to church.

PROLOGUE - "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof..." The Psalm begins by saying what we all say we know— that God is worthy of our worship, and worship is the most satisfying activity known to humankind.

Worship, coming into God's Presence, is cause for great joy and rejoicing. To rate worship that high may seem like an extravagant statement made by a loony clergyman. It certainly is alien and far-fetched to a worldly perspective. But the fact is that it is true.

Maybe we don't give enough thought to the matter. Honestly, how did you come today? Why? There are many moods of the spirit, even many attitudes or facets of expressing our love to God. Coming into God's Presence can be celebration even while also challenging and even awesome. But it should never be casual or irreverent. The Psalmist talks about climbing the hill to the place of worship:

ASCENDING THE HILL OF THE LORD

"Who shall ascend the hill of the Lord, and who shall stand in his holy place?"

This Psalm reflects a tremendous respect for worship. David learned a lesson about worship early in his reign as king in Jerusalem; in fact the very first time he tried to bring the Ark of the Covenant to Mount Zion.

Coming to Worship

{Illus:} The Story of Uzzah: Early in David's reign in Jerusalem, shortly after he had decided to make the Mount Zion the heart of worship for his people, David (rightly) decided to bring the Ark of the Covenant from where it had been in (reverent) storage more than twenty years to the place where he had set up the Tent of Covenant. The procession began, the celebration started. But when Uzzah took hold of the Ark irreverently he was struck dead, and the dancing and singing stopped.

Then, three months later David resumed the task of bringing the Ark up the hill of the Lord. This time everything was done as best they knew in reverence and respect for God's will and God's way. This time the journey was a spectacular success. The celebration was glorious. David "danced before the Lord with all his might!" There was true worship.

God doesn't strike us dead when we seek to worship in less than perfect ways. As a matter of fact if we really seek to worship, God will never fail to receive us, for he knows our inner hearts. But I cannot help believe that many times our worship seems "dead" because of the way we have ascended the hill of the Lord.

How do you suppose people 'climb the hill' to meet God? (Yes, I mean in your quiet time, but more, in our corporate worship?)

- Some come out of a sense of duty or of fire insurance.
- Some come because it has become a good custom, and good people worship when Sunday rolls around.
- Some people come for practical reasons. Their first consideration is getting perceived needs met, and they see worship as God's therapist's couch.
No doubt some aspects of all these approaches are valid.
- Some people come with anticipation that they will meet with God. Consciously, before they ever get to the place of worship, they think of worship as somehow different from any other human gathering. It is a deliberate rendezvous with God!

But what of the worship itself? When we have arrived, what do we do?

EXPECTING THE ENTRY OF THE KING OF GLORY

"Lift up your heads, O ye gates, and the King of Glory shall come in!"

Corporate worship is more than a group of individuals coming together with each one 'worshiping the "god" of his/her choice.' God IS, and true worship is far more than bowing down to the "God" we have created in our own minds after our own image.

But how can we know this awesome Presence?

It is revealed from faith to faith. Cosmonaut Vs. Astronaut.

Expectation carried forward in the act of worship: Pray the hymns. Listen in the scripture lessons. Affirm in the creeds and prayers. Even listen in the sermon. "And the king of glory SHALL come in!"

{Illus: I was desperate to hear from God one summer vacation. I went to a large church in the morning— and they were having an annual business meeting and little or no scripture or worship. I wanted to hear from God. I went in the evening to a very small church. The service was impromptu and poorly prepared. But Jay Bergers was there, and he stood up to testify spontaneously. His words encouraged me. I realized I had heard from God!}

"Clean hands ... pure heart??" A willingness to be "real" with God, and say "No!" to whatever in order to say "Yes!" to Him.

Remember Jesus' story of the two men who went up to the Temple to pray? "God be merciful to me a sinner!" was the winning prayer that day!

CONCLUSION - "He shall receive the blessing from the Lord, and righteousness from the God of his salvation"

{Illus: When we lived (for seven years) in Edison, New Jersey, a highlight of the year— no THE highlight of the year— was our annual vacation: two weeks at Dunn's Camps in Maine. Edison was urban— wall-to-wall cement.

Our cabin was available at twelve noon on Monday. It was a solid eight-hours of hard driving from Edison, south of NYC to Oxford, Maine, north of Portland. So at 4 a.m. we would pile into our station wagon (it was before the era of mini-vans) and with great anticipation we would set out, crossing the George Washington Bridge long before morning traffic, and we would arrive at the earliest possible moment so we would not miss any part of our allotted time.

Coming to Worship

Sometimes when we would turn down the last lane toward the water on our way to a camp, either at Camp Taconic, or Hogan Pond or wherever, a spontaneous song would break forth out of the back seats of the wagon. "We're here because we're here because we're here because we're here!" And we liked it better when the sun shone than when it rained all week, but whatever happened that "green place" in our lives was precious in anticipation, and in the time it was happening, and as a matter of fact, it still has power to warm our hearts these many, many years later.

I'm not equating the worship of God with a summer's holiday at the lake. I am saying that the true worship of God, in anticipation, and as it happens, and in remembrance, is far more, far, far more! To ascend the hill of the Lord, to stand in His holy place—to welcome the King of Glory! This is the blessing! Why don't we enjoy it every day, every week?

Prayer

O Father God, our Friend and our King!

We do NOT take for granted the great privilege we have of knowing You. Give us hearts of love for You, and help us rejoice for the sheer joy of knowing that we can be in your Presence! O King of Glory, come and live in us we pray! In the name of Jesus, Amen.

Hymn 115 Come, Christians, Join to Sing

The Place Where God Dwells

Lessons from King David, Part 3 of 3

July 20, 1997

2 Samuel 7; Ephesians 2:22

INTRODUCTION

David had a bright idea. Nathan the prophet thought it was a great idea as well. David wanted to build a beautiful house in which the glory of God, the Ark of the Covenant, could rest. It would be the heart of the heart of worship for the nation. The Holy of Holies in the center of Jerusalem.

David had conquered Jerusalem. The Ark of the Covenant was back at the center of things. Now, David thought, it is time to build the House of Worship. What could be wrong with that? Nathan agreed.

But that night God spoke to the prophet Nathan. God had some questions he wanted David to think about. Through the prophet God said something like this to David:

Would you like to build me a house? (After all, I've been living in a tent all these years!) Have I ever said, 'Please build me a house?' It is nice of you to want to help me. But maybe you have things a little backwards about who helps whom. Do you remember where and what you were when I began leading you? I took you from following the sheep and brought you to the throne, and to this palace made of cedar wood. I appreciate your gratitude. But when it comes to dwelling places, maybe you have things backwards. I will build your house, not the other way 'round. Just where is it that you think I want to dwell?

Actually, David had the right idea. I'm not sure when he wrote the Shepherd's Psalm, but you remember how it closes with great confidence: "And I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever!" David wanted to be where God was. He wanted God near to him. But just where is that 'house of the Lord?'

GOD DOES NOT LIVE IN BUILDINGS

At the dedication of Solomon's temple about 40 years later David's son the king put the thought into words:

"But will God indeed dwell on the earth? Behold, heaven and the heaven of heavens cannot contain You. How much less this temple which I have built!"

In that prayer Solomon made it clear that he understood that our houses of worship are to be focal points in spiritual worship. We call them houses of God, but God makes it clear that he does not live in buildings made of marble or granite or oak or steel and glass. In the last paragraph of Ephesians 2 the place where God dwells is revealed to be the Church.

"Now, therefore, you are no longer strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the saints and members of the household of God, having been built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ Himself being the chief cornerstone, in whom the whole building, being fitted together, grows into a holy temple in the Lord, in whom you also are being built together for a dwelling place of God in the Spirit."

GOD LIVES IN THE CHURCH!

...but what does that mean? "Church" is an ambiguous English word, easily mis-used. God does NOT live in a building, or in a human organization as such.

The Church where God lives is not a building, per se. That is a tool, a sacred meeting place for the church. How many times people have remarked on coming into our sanctuary, "What a beautiful church you have!" I almost always smile and say, "Yes, we do. And the building is beautiful, too, isn't it!" If God is in this building it is because THE CHURCH meets here.

The Church where God lives is not a denomination. No truly Christian group would ever claim to be the exclusive dwelling place of God on earth. Denominations at their best are networks of cooperation, enabling cooperating churches to do what no single church or two or three churches could ever do. In that they fill an apostolic function. But God does not emanate from offices or organizations. At worst, denominations become human organizations that exist to perpetuate themselves. If God is in ANY GROUP it is because THE CHURCH is represented there.

TOGETHER WE ARE THE CHURCH, GOD'S HABITATION

The Church where God lives includes every true believer; every person who says by the Spirit, "Jesus is Lord!" The Church that is God's temple is made up of all those whom God is calling. There is a mysterious aspect to that which Christ is building. But it is the Church which is Christ's Body. He is the Head. And if Jesus Christ is Lord, and shall rule over all Creation, the Church is at the very center of God's plans for the Universe.

The "worshiping fellowship" is the basic unit of the church. The individual Christian is NOT the basic unit of the church. We are saved one by one. But we are NOT intended to exist in isolation. God dwells in the building as it is fit together.

DISCLAIMER: THERE IS NEED FOR 'MEMBERSHIP' AND 'BELONGING' THERE IS VALIDITY IN GOD INDWELLING US AS INDIVIDUALS BUT TOGETHER, IMPERFECT AS WE ARE, WE ARE GOD'S TEMPLE, OR BETTER, ARE BECOMING GOD'S TEMPLE AS HE BUILDS US TOGETHER EPHESIANS 2:22

CONCLUSION

David had a great idea. He wanted to build a place for God's glory to dwell. And then the lesson he learned was that God is the builder. God wants to build us into a holy temple where he can live day in day out. God wants to make our homes sanctuaries of holy love. God wants to make our family his family. God wants to make all people of good will into one great dwelling place of peace for ever and ever.

WE DON'T HAVE TO DIE TO LIVE IN GOD'S HOUSE!

In the closing paragraphs of the Bible this theme comes forward again. It tells us that we can be a part of the place where God lives:

Revelation 21: 1 - 5 Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their

God. And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.

That is heaven, yes. But the God-relationship begins when we let God start building us into His house.

David had a great idea. He wanted to build a house for God's glory. It came from a heart of love for God. David wanted to be near God all the time.

God reminded David- and He tells us— that, yes, He does love us and wants to be with us where life is really lived. But it is God that is building. If we let Him he will build our homes. If we cooperate with Him God will build our lives and shape them. And best of all, God is taking your story and mine, along with all who seek Him, and God is building a magnificent Temple. In the words from Ephesians 2, as found in Peterson's translation, The Message:

God is building a house. He's using us all— irrespective of how we got here— in what he is building. He used the apostles and prophets for the foundation. Now he's using you, fitting you brick by brick, stone by stone, with Christ Jesus as the cornerstone that holds all the parts together. We see it taking shape day after day— a holy temple built by God, all of us built into it, a temple in which God is quite at home.

Prayer

Lord God, Heavenly Father,

By the promise of your Son, make us one, one with You, by the grace of your Son, in the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, and make us one with each other in the bond of your love, that we might together be a place where you are quite at home. Amen.

Hymn #669 We Are God's Temple

(Last verse:)

*We are a temple, the Spirit's dwelling place
Formed in great weakness, a cup to hold God's grace
We die alone, for on its own each ember loses fire;*

*Yet joined in one the flame burns on
To give warmth and light and to inspire.
- Bryan Jeffery Leech*

Glory in the Church

July 27, 1997

Ephesians 3:21; John 6:1-21

One early summer morning a small boy was awakened by the sound of birds singing outside his bedroom window. He arose and threw on his clothes, and was soon making his way down a dirt path to the shores of a beautiful blue lake. There he was soon lost in that pastime that may just be the most intriguing pastime known to man.

Time passed and he had only caught two small fish when something else caught his attention. He saw a small group of men walking along the pathway just up from the shore of the lake. He recognized some of the fishermen in the group. He saw at once they were following Jesus, the man who had been amazing the Galilee region with his teaching, and especially with miracles of healing. He had great curiosity about what might happen next, and his curiosity sent him flying back up the dirt path to the village and home to ask his mother if he could go see the Teacher that day.

When he reached home the boy's mother was baking. She gave him permission, and while he was getting ready she cleaned his great catch of two small fish and laid them on the coals- just a couple of minutes on each side and they were thoroughly cooked through. Then she laid them on a cloth in the bottom of his knapsack, and put half a dozen small barley loaves on top of them. (I know the Bible story says there were five loaves, but remember little boys get hungry easily and often.)

By the time the lad got back to the lake-shore the Teacher and his little group had gone on, but he didn't have any trouble finding which way. it seemed like the whole village had the same idea— they wanted to see what excitement might follow this Man who worked miracles and told great stories.

When he arrived where Jesus was teaching, sitting up toward the top of the slope, the great meadow below toward the sea seemed to be filled with people. The lad did what little boys can easily do— he pushed and wiggled his way up the hill until he was near the very front of the crowd. Like little boys, the lad probably missed some of the finer points in the lessons that day, but then the Master quit speaking like a teacher and began a conversation.

"Look at this crowd!" he said. "Where can we get them some food? They have come a long way. They're hungry."

The lad looked up at the big fisherman standing next to him. "I won't be hungry," he said. "My mother packed my dinner. I have — five barley loaves and two fish I caught myself."

Meanwhile the conversation was going on. Philip, evidently one of the avowed realists among the disciples said, "Lord, maybe we had better just send these folk home hungry. If we had $5,000 we wouldn't have enough to feed them."

The lad looked up at his new friend. "If he's hungry he can have my loaves and fish," he said.

Andrew spoke to the Master, "There is a boy here who has some food— five barley loaves and two fish he caught himself. He says you can have them— but they are a drop in the bucket to what we need."

Jesus smiled. "Have all the people sit down on the green grass, " he said. And then turning to Andrew he said, "Bring the lad and his lunch to me."

What happened next must have been thrilling beyond belief to one small boy from Galilee. With his five loaves and two small fish Jesus fed 5,000 people. And then as if that weren't enough, the disciples gathered up the good fragments. The doggy bag that day went to twelve baskets full.

That night a tired boy with a jammed-full knapsack burst into his mother's kitchen and said, "Mom, you aren't going to believe what happened today!"

All four of the gospels tell how Jesus took five small loaves and two small fishes and fed 5,000 people. But only John's gospel tells about the lad who brought makings of that great miracle picnic on the shores of Galilee.

Now a story ought to just be told and stand as a story to make its own furrows in the imagination. But a sermon is supposed to urge us to make some decisions and take some actions. This must be an important story to be told so many times. You can probably make up your own sermon.

For me, I have always been encouraged at the thought of adequacy. When Jesus is involved in a project, big or small, he has a way of taking what we have and blessing it or breaking it until it can be more than we thought it could be. In that regard I have always liked to identify myself or my church project with the boy and his lunch in the story.

But the older I get I think about another character in the story. I think about the big fisherman— or we might say, the big fisherman's brother, because Andrew's brother, Peter, certainly was a great man and a leader. This man in Peter's shadow— this Andrew— every time we see him in the scripture he is near Jesus, and he is introducing people to Jesus. He isn't too big to notice a little boy. he isn't ashamed to bring small offerings. He does his best, and that helps Jesus get the job done.

Andrew makes me think of another man we might call a 'second-stringer,' instead of a 'star.' I think of Barnabus, the Son of Consolation, who befriended Mark when he left the party— he looked up Saul of Tarsus when he was considered a security risk. I would like to be like Andrew. I would like to be like Barnabus.

There you have it— a great story for your own do-it-yourself sermon. And I even have a good text from the epistle to sort of bring it all together. On this subject of Jesus taking what we have and doing with it whatever he wants. The general subject of spiritual adequacy, a lesson I need today and every day. The text is the 'doxology' from Paul's great prayer in Ephesians 3:14-21

For this reason I bow my knees before the Father, from whom every family in heaven and on earth takes its name. I pray that, according to the riches of his glory, he may grant that you may be strengthened in your inner being with power through his Spirit, and that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith, as you are rooted and grounded in love. I pray that you may have the power to comprehend, with all the saint, what is the breadth and length and height and depth, and to know the love of Christ that surpasses knowledge, so you may be filled with all the fullness of God. Now to him who by the power at work within us is able to accomplish abundantly far more than all we can ask or imagine, to him be GLORY IN THE CHURCH and in Christ Jesus to all generations, for ever and ever. Amen.

Glory in the Church

Prayer

Father in Heaven, help us give you what we have, and then dare to ask you to glorify your name in the church by doing what we could never do by ourselves. we can think and ask some things that seem pretty big to us. but we ask you to take us, bless and break us, and use us in the way that seems best to you. We pray in Jesus' name. Amen

Reverence, Relate, Right

The three "R's" of Etiquette with God

August 3, 1997

John 6 "I AM the bread..."

When Jesus said, "I AM the bread of heaven," (our morning text,) he was opening a window on the greatest and most awesome mystery we can ever address. Jesus was making a statement about God. He was opening a conversation on how we can relate to God, and be right with Him.

HOW WE THINK OF GOD

Jesus was speaking with people who had been absolutely steeped in the idea that God is great beyond all understanding. The Jews were taught to REVERENCE God. That is a lesson we all could learn with profit. The greatness of God is far beyond what we will ever be able to fully grasp.

A REVERENCE FOR GOD

Our generation is in danger because it has forgotten reverence in large measure. We die if we do not reverence God. The first commandment of all time is: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, soul, mind, strength. The first four of the Great Ten have to do with reverence for God. Do you recall them? (No other Gods; No images of God or idols; Hallow the Name of God; Remember the Sabbath Day as a day of rest and worship)

We could learn a lot from the reverence for the very name of God which the OT Jews had, and which orthodox Jews still observe. A reminder of that reverence is in your Bible if you know where to look. It is in the simple word for God, "LORD," that occurs over and over in the Old Testament in capital letters. There is represents the "unspeakable name," the name which God gave to Moses when he called to him from the burning bush. There God said, in effect, "My name is I AM THAT I AM." From that statement the Jews wrote the vowels YHWH, which probably sounds like "Yahweh," and which in English we have evolved into "Jehovah," but which in essence is a statement every time we see it or repeat it that GOD IS MORE THAN WE CAN EVER FULLY KNOW. God is great beyond the possibility of anyone but himself ever comprehending him.

THE NAMES OF GOD IN OUR BIBLE

If we read the Bible as a textbook, it BEGINS to expose the mystery of God, in terms that relate to us. The names of God as found in the Old and New Testaments are a good place to begin.

The first name God used of Himself is the name Elohim, which comes from a word relating to "power." It would suggest that God is the Source of all energy and power.

The second name God uses of Himself is the 'unspeakable name' which the ancient Hebrews would not speak, the name we call Jehovah, and scholars usually call Yahweh. THIS NAME IS A PROPER NOUN THAT MOSES HEARD AS I AM THAT I AM.

The Jews used compound names: Jehovah-Jireh "the Lord will provide"; Jehovah-Nissi, "The Lord my banner"; Jehovah-Shalom "the Lord send peace"; Jehovah-Shammah, "the Lord is there"; Jehovah-tsidkenu, "the Lord our righteousness."

Another Hebrew name for God is "El Shaddai," our "God our Nourisher" or "Strength-giver." "Adonai" which means Lord or Master was often spoken when the 'unspeakable name' of Jehovah was read with the eye. These are some of the names or concepts of God we see in the Old Testament. This is one aspect of how mortals must relate to God — with great respect and reverence.

JESUS BROUGHT A NEW DIMENSION IN APPROACHING THE IDEA OF GOD

Jesus did not come to teach us less reverence for God, but He did come to reveal a new dimension of our understanding of God. John declares that Jesus is the WORD of God, with God in the beginning, and indeed, the Word is God. Jesus is the expression of God, the Way in which we can relate to God in a personal way. It was a great missionary, Stanley Jones, who said the obvious: "We have a Christ-like God!"

PEOPLE CAN PERSONALLY RELATE TO GOD

So when Jesus began to say these "I AM" things in John's Gospel, he was taking the unspeakable name and combining it with common things which we need and use for everyday living. This great God is daily bread. This great God is the DOORWAY to life and to all that is good in life. This great God is Light in which to walk, and the Way, the Truth and the Life. This great God is Resurrection from the dead, and everlasting Life. This great God— who is worthy of our deepest reverence— is the True Vine who grafts us in as branches to share his life and bear much fruit.

PEOPLE CAN PERSONALLY RELATE TO GOD

Jesus teaches us that we can relate to God. We reverence God— yes. That is the proper attitude. But not from a great distance. Not in abject fear. God is not our enemy. God is not demanding our pain and agony and happiness and everything we call "good" in order to spare us from the fires of eternal hell. He wants us to know that he has already made the sacrifice necessary for us to begin to approach his holiness. He wants us to know he has set up this Universe in order to fully satisfy every true longing of the human heart. Jesus tells us that we can relate to God.

But there is a third "R" in our vocabulary of "etiquette before Almighty God." It is good and necessary to RESPECT God. It is possible and necessary to RELATE to God. But Jesus made it clear that we can be RIGHT with God, and know it.

WE CAN / MUST BE IN FELLOWSHIP WITH GOD . . . 'RIGHT' WITH HIM

Now to RELATE and to BE RIGHT ON with God seem like one and the same thing. But that is not always so. God is not "getting smaller and smaller" in our concept of Him as we draw nearer— but what is emerging is the fact that God is more than a Force, and more than a distant Ruler in a Capitol City Somewhere who watches a monitor to see where we stumble. What comes from listening to Jesus as he relates to God is the realization that GOD IS HERE! and we need to walk with Him day-by-day. To be in fellowship with God, and to know we are right with Him is the goal of our faith.

This is more than a great feeling. Feelings come and feelings go. This is even more than a true statement of what we believe. The "what" we believe is important. But God is not a "what." God is a very real "WHO."

We can reverence God— and we can even in some measure relate to God but still not think of God as a Person that can be pleased with us, or displeased and even hurt by our attitudes.

We "get right" with God when we invite Him to be LORD. We maintain fellowship with God as we try to live in a way that pleases Him. Sin happens, and God forgives. Wilful disobedience breaks this "right-ness" with God.

I Thessalonians says, "Don't put out the fire of the Spirit!" or "Don't quench the Spirit!" Did you ever have someone talk over you when you were trying to say something?

Ephesians 4 says it another way, "Don't make the Spirit sad!" or "Grieve not the Holy Spirit of God!" And the context here is that we are called upon to be kind one to another, and forgiving, even as God has forgiven us. When we are unkind or unforgiving we grieve the Holy Spirit of God.

HOW CAN WE KNOW WE ARE "RIGHT" WITH GOD? THIS IS A "REVELATION MATTER!"

We begin by trusting God's Word (Romans 10:9)

We continue by trusting Christ as Lord (text for the morning.)

[John 5:39] Jesus is somehow always more than the sum total of the "letter." We do not need some esoteric scholar to sift out the "real Jesus" behind the written word on a pseudo-intellectual basis. And we don't need someone to tell us we ought to feel like this, or have such-and-such an experience!

Remember! THIS IS A "REVELATION MATTER!" Jesus IS the Eternal Contemporary! It is a miracle of God's grace that enables us to believe that Jesus truly is the Son of God, and that He makes God "come alive to us."

WE CAN KNOW WE ARE RIGHT WITH GOD THROUGH HIS SON, JESUS CHRIST

Prayer: O Lord, Great God,

Chorus: O GOD YOU ARE MY GOD

The Bread of Life

August 3, 1997

John 6:35

There is nothing wrong with eating. And there is nothing better to eat than fresh bread. Bread smells great while it is baking— tastes even better when it is fresh.

WE ALL HAVE TO EAT AND JESUS KNOWS THAT AND CARES

Jesus fed the 5,000 and from then on that seems to be all they could think about. They kept following Jesus around asking him to feed them.

THERE ARE DEEPER NEEDS EVEN THAN HUNGER FOR FOOD; JESUS KNOWS THAT, TOO, AND CARES

The first great temptation of Jesus in the wilderness involved bread and physical hunger and it is a hard temptation to understand. Jesus met that temptation by quoting from Deuteronomy, "Mankind shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that comes from God the Father." The people looking for Jesus are in danger of facing that same issue: they think they know how to satisfy their own deepest needs.

Jesus told these people that he knew why they had come seeking him. "You want more bread, " he said. "But what you don't know is that I have something better than fresh bread for you." Jesus was speaking about a way of life and joy these people could not yet imagine.

Were these people coming selfishly? Probably. Probably you and I came to Jesus at first selfishly, too. We came because we thought we knew what we wanted. We stayed because we began to realize Jesus knew even better than we did what we needed. Until we listen to Jesus we think we can be happy with things of this world— good things— and not-so-good things:

FOOD, AND MONEY, AND TOYS, AND SEX, AND DRUGS, AND DIFFERENT KINDS OF POWER ARE ALL THINGS THAT PEOPLE USE TO MEET THEIR NEEDS FOR SATISFACTION. THEY ALL WORK TO A DEGREE. BUT THEN THEY DON'T WORK. THERE IS STILL THAT NEED THAT CANNOT QUITE BE REACHED.

Jesus told these people looking for a meal— that they needed to labor for a higher kind of bread. "How can we do this sort of work?" they asked. "What is the work of God we can do?"

THE WAY TO JOY IS ALONG THE PATH OF TRUST

Jesus said, "This is the work you must do: believe in the One that God has sent to you!" The work that begins the road to perfect satisfaction is trust.

JESUS CLAIMS TO BE ABLE TO SATISFY THE DEEPEST NEEDS OF THE HUMAN HEART. BUT FOR THIS TO HAPPEN A CERTAIN SORT OF 'LABOR' IS DEMANDED. IT IS NOT A 'WORKS' SALVATION OF EARNING OR MERIT. THE 'LABOR' OF WHICH JESUS SPEAKS IS TO TRUST THAT HE KNOWS BETTER THAN WE DO WHAT WE REALLY NEED.

One of the big lies of Satan is to convince people that making Jesus Christ Lord is like going on a diet. 'If it tastes good or if it is fun it is forbidden. Jesus has come to take all the joy and satisfaction out of life.' Here come people looking for a picnic and they get a lecture on spiritual bread and eternal life. They look at Jesus as if he is the great Killjoy.

Nothing could be farther from the truth.

The happiest and most joyful people in all the Universe are people who intimately know Jesus Christ. They have found the ultimate high.

In 1989 a scholar-pastor named John Piper wrote a book called Desiring God. In it he recognized this lie of Satan, and acknowledged that all too often Christians live far, far below the levels of joy intended for them. Piper wrote

Christianity has become the grinding out of general doctrinal laws from collections of biblical facts (78)

But then he goes on to challenge us Christians by saying

Worship is nothing less than obedience to the command of God: Delight yourself in the Lord! (77) and also...

The great hindrance to worship is not that we are a pleasure-seeking people, but that we are willing to settle for such pitiful pleasures (77)

He goes on to complain about the prosaic way we worship, saying

... childlike wonder and awe have died. The scenery and poetry and music of the majesty of God have dried up like a forgotten peach at the back of the refrigerator. (78) Not to pursue our JOY every day in the Word of God is abandonment of the revealed will of God. It is sin (125.)

Possibly we all came to Jesus at first for less than perfect reasons. I know that I did. And sometimes it is very difficult to honestly see into our deepest motives for even the good things we do. Parents and children, husbands and wives, friends and neighbors all can have a selfish edge on even the good things we do.

OUR CHALLENGE IS TO TRUST JESUS, THAT HE WILL LEAD US INTO JOY

Jesus told these people that they were seeking him because they thought he might feed them again. It almost seemed like Jesus couldn't get them off the subject of food. "Show us again," they said.

And Jesus, instead, challenged them to get to know him, and come to trust him, and let him call the shots of what they needed.

Some of them did. A whole lot of them didn't. They thought they knew better than Jesus. They thought Jesus' way of joy was impractical in their modern times. They went away one at a time and in groups.

Jesus turned to the people he had asked to follow him. "Do you want to go away, too?" he said.

They didn't go away. And they worked the work of God— they began to learn to trust Jesus.

*I heard the voice of Jesus say, "Behold, I freely give
The living water; thirsty one,*

Stoop down and drink and live."

I came to Jesus, and I drank of that life giving stream.

My thirst was quenched, my soul revived, and now I live in Him.

559 All the Way my Savior Leads Me

Into Communion

August 3, 1997

THE HOLY COMMUNION

The Law Read and Confession Made

The Lord Jesus Christ has said to us: "Thou shalt love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the first and great commandment. The second is like unto it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets."

Shall we pray:

Search us, O God, and know our most private thoughts. Try us, and show unto us the deepest motives, the real state of our hearts. Forgive us where we have been selfish, or insensitive, or sinful in any way. We cannot keep the Great Commandment, and truly love You, O God, with all our heart, soul, and mind unless You in mercy grant to us the grace of Your indwelling Spirit. We cannot love each other as we should unless Your love is shed abroad in our hearts.

Brothers and sisters, let us search our hearts. In silence let us ask God to draw us near to Himself so that we can come to his table with confidence.

We do not presume to come to this table, O God, trusting in our own righteousness, but in your great mercy and grace. Grant us to eat the Bread of heaven, and drink the blood shed for the remission of sins, that we may live in Christ, and Christ may live in us forever. Amen

Let us confess our faith:

The Nicene Creed (STL # 14)

The Informal Invitation ("This is not my table . . . ")

Holy and gracious Father; in your infinite love you made us for yourself; and, when we had fallen into sin, and were worthy of death and hell, you, in your mercy sent Jesus Christ, your only and eternal Son to share our human nature, to live and die as one of us, to reconcile us to You, the God and Father of all.

He stretched out his arms upon the cross, and offered himself in obedience to your will, a perfect sacrifice for the whole world.

The Words of Institution

On the night in which he was betrayed our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had give thanks to You he broke it and gave it to his disciples and said, "Take eat: THIS IS MY BODY, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me.

After supper he took the cup and when he had give thanks he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you; THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink this, do it in remembrance of me: Amen

We praise you for the mystery of our salvation! We truly believe

- Christ has died!
- Christ is risen!
- Christ will come again!

Bless these emblems, O God, and make them to us the Body and Blood of your Son, spiritual food, and spiritual drink of new and unending life in Jesus Christ.

And now, together, we pray, as Jesus taught us:

Our Father which art in heaven . . .

Now, humbly we receive the Gifts of God for the People of God

The Magnet

August 10, 1997

John 6:44 No one comes to me unless the Father draws them...

Ephesians 4:32-5:1 [Be kind — like God is kind]

INTRODUCTION

One force in this world is more powerful than any other. It is an attractive, drawing force. Most things we think of as powerful are pushing forces. Engines. Power that can blow you to pieces or land you on the moon. But with all those, a drawing force is ultimately the greatest. Gravity is a powerful force that attracts.

In the realm of personality there are many forces to push us. We have to make a living. We have to obey various laws. We have to get up and go to school. Often the force that pushes us is called a parent. Later we get pushed by teachers. Then a boss of one kind or other. But again, one force, one power that pulls, attracts, draws us, is greater than all of these other powers. There is a hunger for love in us that will pay any price, make any sacrifice if only that need can be met. The whole world seeks after love. Most life-shaping forces for good or for bad are based on this need for belonging, for love.

The greatest love is God's love. It is as silent as gravity, but it is even more powerful. When once we get a glimpse of God's love we can never be really satisfied with anything less. God's love is the center around which all Creation will finally be ordered and arranged. It is also the power that will draw you to the joy of eternal life if you respond to God's Word and come to Christ.

What do these passages tell us about God's kind of powerful love?

THE INITIATIVE IS GOD'S

Jesus said No one comes to me unless the Father draws ...

Mystery - There is always wonder involved when God connects with you and me. There is that little "synapse" that "gap" that Michelangelo graphically painted in his Creation. There is no ability in us to grasp hold of life apart from God's grace.

We "explain" these mysteries so glibly! But wars have been fought over the details of explanation. Reformed/Calvinists emphasize the helplessness of man and the sovereignty of God. In the extreme this means that God chooses who shall be saved and who shall be damned. Wesleyan/Arminians (and long before, all Eastern Christianity) emphasize the free will of men and women. Taken to the extreme it almost seems to make salvation an act of the human will, which no Wesleyan theologian believes. Universalists of various persuasions simply believe everyone will finally be saved, contrary to what the Bible warns, that there is a heaven to gain and a hell to shun.

The fact remains that Jesus said unless and until God convicts of sin and righteousness and judgment we remain helpless and unable to come to Christ. And the fact remains that the Bible teaches both the sovereignty of God and the responsibility of you and me to choose to follow that sovereign will.

If you have any desire to be saved, thank God that he is drawing you, and make up your mind to come to Jesus. For along with the initiative of God, we have the promise:

THE PROMISE IS CHRIST'S

Jesus says "Him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out..."

Again and again Jesus made it clear that his mission was to save us from our sins. I came not to condemn the world, he said, but that the world through me might be saved. (Adapted from John 3:17 For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved.)

No doubt people come to church for many reasons. Maybe we even get saved from pressure— forces that "push." But the only way we "stick" is if we find that great drawing power of God's love. Maybe that love is so wonderful we have to discover it over and over again. But let me tell you again: God loves YOU! And He has told you so in Christ! And that is the most wonderful thing in the world!

Choosing to come to Jesus is not simply a matter of our own initiative. Choosing to follow is more than accepting certain true facts about God and Jesus

Choosing to follow Jesus is to enter a trusting relationship; it is to seek to let Christ's spirit (Spirit) reside (preside) in us. (cf. here Ephesians 4:32-5:2)

And that is God's way of spreading that love to all the world:

THE FATHER GIVES HIS LOVE THROUGH THE CHURCH

(epistle) Be ye kind, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, be imitators of God, walk in love...

The love of God is on display in the church. The command to be kind, to love and forgive, to imitate God and walk in love is much more than a plan for harmonious and happy life within the church. It is the secret of reaching the world because it is the release of the magnetic, drawing, attracting power of God's love.

When this love really happens, it is powerfully attractive. A world hungers for real love. This is not simply mutual admiration it is self giving, forgiving, God like, God centered love. All real church growth has to begin and end here or it is not true church growth.

Jesus understood this when he said (John 13: 34-35) A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another, as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one for another.

This great drawing power is not just a gimmick to build the church, however. It is a love that will never let go of us, never, never, never!

THE POWER OF GOD'S LOVE REACHES BEYOND TIME INTO ETERNITY

...THE ATTRACTION IS FOREVER ..Jesus said, "I will raise him up at the last day..."

The Magnet

From all reaches of time and space the Magnet will call, and every atom of the Body will find its place. God's power begins here and now to draw us to himself. THAT 'ATTRACTIVE POWER' WILL UNITE US WITH GOD FOREVER

(Illustration: I cannot imagine what "the Last Day" will be like. Perhaps George O. Cole's illustration of great magnet in steel mill on Friday night, pulling all iron filings from the piles swept up on the floor... But we will meet Jesus! You may be sure!)

TWO THINGS SPEAK TO ME from these passages about God's powerful, drawing love:

1. I need to respond to the love that draws me!!
2. I need to take seriously my part in showing a needy world that love by being kind, tender-hearted, compassionate along with my witness of Christ's salvation.

Prayer

Here I am, Lord. Is it I, Lord?

I have heard you calling in the night

I will go, Lord, if you lead me

I will hold your people in my heart.

Our Daily Bread

August 17, 1997

John 6:51 I am the living bread.

Ephesians 5:18 ... be (being) filled with the Spirit.

INTRODUCTION

What is your favorite food? What was a great meal that you can remember? Can you think of one or two or three? What did you have for dinner, say, last Thursday?

Favorite foods can reflect changing tastes. When I was six months old my favorite food was milk. I graduated to hot dogs, spaghetti, hamburgers, pizza. Then for a while I think a big juicy steak was tops. Now I think seafood is as good as anything.

Favorite meals remind us of special times. Family get-togethers. Holidays. Vacations. But we don't stop eating in between the spectacular times. We don't even stop eating when the food is not at all spectacular. In between the great meals there are ordinary meatloaf days, and sandwiches on the run, and even potato soup meals. They may not be spectacular, but they keep us going. You may not remember exactly what was for dinner, but it kept the hunger pangs away for a few hours.

So what does all this have to do with the lessons of the day?

TWO TRUTHS TO TAKE HOME TODAY

JESUS HIMSELF IS OUR LIFE

First of all, Jesus says that he is the living bread. He says we must eat his body, broken for us like the five loaves and two fishes that fed the 5,000. He says we must drink his blood, his life poured out for the salvation of the whole world. He is speaking about a level of reality that takes all the faith we can muster.

When Nicodemus came to Jesus by night (as recorded in the third chapter of John's Gospel) Jesus cut his flattery short by saying, "You have to be born again!"

Nicodemus recoiled from that figure— and said, "How can I take the fetal position and get in my mother's womb again?" But Jesus was talking reality beyond the literal meaning of the word. Being born again is a reality. And eating the Bread of Life and drinking the cleansing, healing Blood of the Lamb is also spiritual reality. By faith we share in the very life of God.

Eternal life is a quality of reality, reflecting the love of God Himself. When we say "eternal life" we think only in terms of never-ending eternity. We think of living forever. And that is true. But if we simply lived on and on in the same plane of existence it would not be "eternal life." And by the same understanding, we do not need to wait until we die to enjoy the beginnings of "eternal life."

*"Eternal life, begun below,
Now fills my heart and soul.
I'll sing his praise forevermore,
Who hath redeemed my soul!"*

Eternal life is for us a never-ending theosis.

The sacrament of communion is a reminder that a real, living, breathing Person came from God's glory into the world where we live every day. Jesus was not an "idea" or a beautiful message from another incomprehensible realm. Jesus is the Message that God is, and that God wants to bring us all into the deeper reality that is eternal life.

To connect with Jesus is to begin to know life at its ultimate level. But to connect is only the beginning. The glimpses of the way God relates to us— the Door, the Bread, the Light ... are clues to the nature of eternal life, life centered in God. The final "I AM" saying of Jesus is "I AM the True Vine— ye are the branches." The life we know is an on-going, growing thing. And this is what it means to be filled with the Spirit, as well.

BEING FILLED WITH LIVING BREAD IS AN ON-GOING REALITY CHOICE

- To be filled with the Spirit is the whole purpose of salvation

I need to be careful that I do not make it seem less than that. Jesus came and became the living bread so that we might share his life. That life does not begin in heaven when we die, but here and now when the Holy Spirit brings life, and forgiveness and adopts us into God's family.

- To be filled with the Spirit begins with a crisis of obedience and surrender
I also need to be careful that I do not de-emphasize what it means to be sanctified wholly or entirely. One aspect of being filled with the Spirit is the response of God to a complete and total consecration. the fullness of the Spirit, in that sense, means a crisis of cleansing and empowering. We dare not stop short of the witness of God's Spirit that He has accepted our living sacrifice (Romans 12;1,2.)
- To be filled with the Spirit is also a daily necessity
Ephesians 5:18 is a present imperative: "Be continually filled with the Spirit." We cannot go on being filled unless and until we have let the Lord fill us. But then there is a verse we all need to learn and use every day— Luke 11:13 "If ye being evil know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will the Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask Him!"

Get up in the morning— make eye-contact with Jesus! Tell Him you love Him. Tell him you're sorry if and where you may have goofed. And then ask the Father to fill you for today— just ask Him! Use Luke 11:13! Believe that God hears— and go in the strength and power of the Spirit to walk with Jesus all day.

CONCLUSION

No meal, no matter how wonderful, can last a lifetime! We need a healthy diet; we need our daily bread. No "feeling" no matter how true and wonderful, can give us strength for a year or a month or hardly even a week. We need regular fillings.

Did you ever think that this is at least part of what Jesus is teaching is in his "Lord's Prayer"? We need the living bread as our daily bread! And we need the sacrament of communion to help us keep making that connection. Every time we have the privilege of communion the spiritual reality world somehow connects with the physical reality world in which we now live.

The Home of the Soul

(is where Jesus is!)

August 24, 1997 John 6:56-69

Ephesians 6: 16 - 20

(also Psalm 84 How lovely is Your dwellingplace, O Lord)with

INTRODUCTION

When you hear the word "home," what first comes to your mind? Do you think of a family around a table? Or, maybe the house where you lived when you first went to school? Do you think of the place where you now live? One of our denomination's advertising logos, which Merritt Nielson helped develop a long, long time ago is "Our Church Can be Your Home!" "Home" is a loaded word.

HOME IS MORE THAN A PLACE

"Home" is always more than a place. Home is always where love connects with trust and covenant on a lasting basis.

Place is important to me. I grew up my formative years traveling from place to place without a house we called our own. I remember the first little bungalow my parents rented, and I had a bedroom that was my own. When my parents moved to a house they bought a few years later I was so upset at leaving that place that I went back and crawled through a cellar window into the empty house and went up to my room and just sat there. I thought I was losing my home, my place. But it wasn't "home" any more. I quickly found out that home went along with the relationships— home was wherever there was that long-term love and trust and covenant.

That same phenomenon happened all over again when I came to this campus. I was so frightened and alone— and then little by little this place became home to me. Over the years I was a resident student here I made friends that are like family, even after more than forty years. But I found that sense of home was more than these grounds and buildings. After I had been away just a few years, pastoring in Ohio, I came back for a summer pastor's retreat. I knew a lot of the pastors— they were my brothers in Christ. But E.N.C. was so very, very different! My generation was missing! My "family" here was gone! I was NOT at home any more!

HOME IS WHERE LOVE CONNECTS WITH TRUST AND COVENANT ON A LASTING BASIS

Where lasting relationships are formed, our souls can be at rest. That slogan "Our Church Can Be your Home!" is a powerful promise. God help us to make it more than a slogan!

OUR HEARTS CRY OUT TO BE AT HOME

As we go through life our hearts keep crying out to be really at home. Again and again the Bible authors capture this sense of the hunger of the soul. David says it so powerfully and so beautifully in our morning psalm (84) "How lovely is your house, O God! My soul longs and cries out to be with you all the time! And you make me at home, too, O God! Why, even the little sparrow has found a place with you!"

David had found the paradox of being "at home "with God while at the same time being "on pilgrimage" to keep that covenant, and maintain that trust, and finally find his eternal home with God. Both psalm 23 and Psalm 84 are very true. "The Lord IS me shepherd!" and "My soul cries out for the living God!" David knew the peace and joy of living in covenant with God.

Our earthly homes are to be places of covenant love. The heart can find rest where love connects with covenant and trust on a lasting basis. Some covenants are clearly understood: Marriage is first of all a solemn covenant. Some covenants are assumed: Every time parents dedicate children they make a covenant to be there for them! They're saying to those children, "God help me, you can count on me! You can trust me!" We assume a similar covenant between the children and their parents: "I'll obey you! I'll be loyal to our home! I'll trust you and love you, too!" (Maybe we ought to formalize that sometime on Mother's Day or father's Day??)

COVENANTS ARE COSTLY

They are not set up for ease and comfort. Love and trust and covenant do not always have smooth sailing. "For better for worse, in sickness and in health..." those hard times come. But when love and loyalty are there, a home is being forged, and there is something precious beyond all understanding. Happy indeed is the earthly home where loyalty and love overcome temptation and the pathways of least resistance. There is probably not a family here that has not been wounded with the pain of trusts betrayed and covenants abandoned. Our homes have been attacked, and are being attacked from many different directions. There is no simple answer to this great need. But here in this church home we can and must support one another and pray for our homes that love and covenant and trust will prevail.

THE HOME OF THE SOUL

There is a home for the human soul that is the place where love and trust and covenant come together in a divine-human connection. Jesus came to establish a family relationship with every one of us. Trust — love— and commitment. Covenant. Jesus gives us all three— he trusts us. He loves us. He makes the commitment of his Presence with us for ever and ever. Jesus asks us for a commitment in return. "I am the only way," he declared. "No one comes to the Father except by me," and "no one comes to me unless the Father grants it and draws them."

"If you want to be with me," he told the crowds, "you'll have to share in my body and my blood." It was a hard saying. It wasn't easy to understand. it was hard to simply trust.

CONCLUSION

Many simply turned and walked away. We want a home for our soul, they thought. but we know better than this Man what we need. Then they simply walked away.

Jesus turned to the disciples. It is the climax of this chapter— the climax of this whole lesson about miracles and bread and the home of the soul. "Will you go away, too?" Jesus asked.

The Home of the Soul

Peter spoke for the other eleven— and I want you to know he speaks for me as well. "Lord, where would we go? You have the words of eternal life! You are the Holy One of God!"

It was underlined in her Bible— Marion Turkington "went home" to be with the Lord last Friday— these words from the morning's Psalm:

" For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand elsewhere. I would rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God than dwell in the tents of wickedness. For the Lord God IS a sun and shield; HE bestows favor and honor. No good thing does the Lord withhold from those who walk uprightly. O Lord of hosts, blessed is the man who trusts in thee!" (84:10-12) HAPPY IS THE PERSON WHO IS 'AT HOME' IN YOU, O GOD!

Prayer: O God, YOU are our home! You have the eternal words of life! Thank you that we can have the privilege of walking with you, and being 'at home' in your Presence, until the day comes when we will see you face to face in that 'place' you are preparing for all your family. In Jesus' name. Amen

Hymn 577 Jesus is All I Need, or 626 Gentle Shepherd

Extending the Comfort Zone

++Celebrate the Church!++

August 31, 1997 AM

2 Corinthians 1:3-10

INTRODUCTION

There they were, six tough kids— the Hayford Street Gang— just down the street. I was on my way home from school by myself, and I was in big trouble. You see, kids from my street always walked together so we wouldn't get into trouble like this. The Hayford Street Gang! I was so scared my whole life passed before my eyes in a flash! Of course it didn't take very long because my life wasn't too long at that time, I being only eight years old.

My alert mind went into high gear— should I walk up on a front porch and sit down, pretending that my aunt or uncle lived there? Should I take off between the houses and see if I could outrun them? They had spotted me! I knew that.

Just then alongside came a great big kid from junior high school. He must have been thirteen or fourteen years old. I didn't really know him, but my alert mind flashed with a great idea, and I said out of the corner of my mouth, "Hey, sir, can I walk with you? Those kids up there— they're after me!"

And the big kid said, "Sure, I don't care."

So I got in step with the big kid from junior high school, and walked along like he was my best friend, just smiling and talking. And when we came to the Hayford Street Gang they parted just like the Red Sea, and we walked through smiling and talking.

When we came to my corner, I turned down Magnolia Street and ran for home. My life had been spared. GOD'S COMFORT is something like that!

GOD'S COMFORT IS 'COMING ALONGSIDE WITH STRENGTH'

The Word says that God's kind of comfort begins with COMPASSION. WE HAVE A GOD THAT CARES. Not like the big kid who didn't care if I walked with him or not, God cares very much about us. COMPASSION means he FEELS everything we feel.

The Word says that God is a God of MERCY, and of HEALING COUNSEL. GOD IS FOR US, HE DESIRES OUR VERY BEST. If we will listen, God will guide us into His will for our lives.

The Word says that God's kind of comfort is revealed by His PRESENCE

Somehow, some way, God gets through to us that He knows where we are, and He cares, and he will give us the help we need. GOD IS WITH US RIGHT NOW!

Sometimes this "Presence" is direct, from the Word, or from a worship experience, a sermon— when the truth becomes personal.

Usually, however, this God of comfort 'comes alongside' in the love of one of His children. We may not be looking for it, but we see the reflection of God's face in the faces of His sons and daughters.

EXTENDING GOD'S COMFORT ZONE

The usual challenge these days for God's people is to "leave their comfort zone," which means to dare to step out beyond the usual— to put ourselves out and do whatever it takes to reach our world for Jesus. I understand that, and believe it. It costs to 'come alongside with strength.' It cost Jesus the glory of heaven. It certainly wasn't "comfortable" for Him to bear our sins.

Jesus left the glory of heaven— and to be willing to deny ourselves, and take up our cross, and follow Jesus— that means at times leaving "comfort" in the usual way we think of that word.

But in a deeper, root meaning of that word- the fact is that human beings cannot live long without COMFORT— God's kind of COMFORT. We need Him to come alongside us and give us grace day by day. And when the way gets tough, we need him all the more. Beyond the direct ministry of God the Holy Spirit in this kind of comfort, WE NEED TO COMFORT ONE ANOTHER! In fact, WE EXIST TO EXTEND GOD'S COMFORT ZONE! As Reuben Welch wrote in a beautiful little book a couple decades ago— We Really Do Need Each Other!!

THE MESSAGE PUTS IT THIS WAY:

All praise to the God and Father of our Master, Jesus the Messiah! Father of all mercy! God of all healing counsel! He comes alongside us when we go through hard times, and before you know it, he brings us alongside someone else who is going through hard times so that we can be there for that person just as God was there for us. 2 Co. 1:3,4

Coming alongside with strength can be within the Body. Thirty-eight years ago a member of a small church on Long Island, New York, a young woman named Millie Crawford was pregnant with her third child. She had had blood problems with her first two pregnancies, and though both of those babies were now alive and well, the doctors held little hope that she could carry this third baby to term.

Coming alongside with strength can mean sitting with dying people in a crude Romanian hospital like our own Joanna Rapalje did a year or two ago. She cared for very ill people, and was with several of them as they died. It changed the way Joanna looks at the world, and if I can speak for another person, I see great and wonderful growth in Joanna herself.

Coming alongside— extending our comfort zone— can become the heartbeat of an entire congregation. We want to extend our comfort zone to collegians, to Chinese neighbors, to single parents— to as many as God will let us reach. The Apostle James warns us not to be selective in giving away Go's love. The rich need it— the poor need it— the old need it, the young need it.

Let's take God's comfort Zone

CONCLUSION

Extending the Comfort Zone

God has a way of finding us, and 'coming alongside' when we really need Him— if we will look and listen. The disciples on the Road to Emmaus were lonely and sad and discouraged— and Jesus 'came alongside' and their hearts were warmed, and their faith sprang into life. The first thing they did was walk seven miles back to Jerusalem to tell their friends: "We have seen the Lord!"

"He comes alongside us when we go through hard times, and before you know it, he brings us alongside someone else who is going through hard times so that we can be there for that person just as God was there for us."

Prayer

Lord we need your comfort and your strength. But so do a lot of people, some we know and some we don't. Thank You for 'coming alongside where we are,' and help us, if it be Your will, to take your kind of comfort to those we meet today. In Jesus' name. Amen

Sing to the Lord # 679 - The Servant Song

Prayer requests today: Chinese church begins next Sunday at 9:30; new DS Chuck Zink, Sally Zink operation tomorrow; [death of Marion Turkington] Bill Restrict has been in hospital; Jason Kottis;

The Great Invitation

September 7, 1997

HAVE YOU RECEIVED AN INVITATION LATELY?

There are all kinds of invitations going around— some are more than invitations— they are SUMMONS: Come, or else we'll come after you! Some are to parties or special occasions but really are FUND RAISERS, or SALES EVENTS. They really don't want YOU— they want your MONEY! And then some PROMISE THE WORLD ("You have already won! If you are chosen you will win $1,000,000.00!!!)

So it is only natural that we have become very SKEPTICAL OF INVITATIONS. We have learned that if it is too good to be true, it is too good to be true! The problem is— we carry that skepticism into our spiritual life as well. We don't know who to believe when everyone claims to have the true faith. We even wonder if God is to be trusted— and if we can get past this preacher's spin or that denomination's sacred cow to find what God really is saying. Then even when we are pretty sure God is asking us to walk with Him and be his friend— we're pretty sure God has some ulterior motive in mind.

WHY WOULD GOD WANT TO ASK ME TO BE HIS FRIEND?

Then we find out that if we are going to follow God— sure enough— he wants us to learn from him, and take his mannerisms, and do his will. AHA! WE SAY— JUST AS I THOUGHT! GOD WANTS TO MAKE US HIS SLAVES!!!

What we don't stop to realize is that there is one— just one— Person in all this Universe who knows all about life! What we don't stop to realize is that every real commandment of God is based on the LOVE of God— and is for our ultimate happiness and joy and fulfillment.

Did you ever hear the story about the village that was seeded all around with landmine. Hardly a week went by but someone or other was either killed or their feet blown off by stepping on a mine as they walked through the fields and forests around the village. Then one night a village elder had a dream. In his dream he saw where every landmine had been planted. Quickly he arose and drew a map, and marked every place of death and danger. The next morning he called the village together and showed them the map, and they rejoiced! They copied the map— and those who were careful to stay in the paths were safe.

God's invitation to life is like that— there are no strings attached— he loves you as you are. But then he provides all you need to come to him and walk with him, and finally to spend eternity with him.

THE HOLY COMMUNION

COMMUNION IS A SACRAMENT OF THE CHURCH THAT 'DRAMATIZES', IF YOU WILL, THE GREAT INVITATION OF GOD FOR US TO DRAW NEAR AND BE HIS PEOPLE

THIS SACRAMENT WAS FORESHADOWED BY THE PASSOVER NEARLY 4,000 YEARS AGO

THE LORD JESUS HIMSELF OBSERVED PASSOVER WITH HIS DISCIPLES THE NIGHT BEFORE HE WAS CRUCIFIED FOR OUR SINS

AND THAT NIGHT HE TRANSFORMED IT FOR CHRISTIANS INTO A MEANS OF GRACE FOR THE WHOLE CHURCH— ALL BELIEVERS WHO CALL JESUS LORD

SINCE THAT NIGHT COMMUNION LOOKS BACK TO THE CROSS, WHERE JESUS BECAME OUR 'LAMB OF GOD' TO TAKE AWAY OUR SINS AND THE SINS OF THE WHOLE WORLD

AND IT LOOKS FORWARD TO THE GREAT BANQUET TO WHICH WE ARE ALL INVITED EVERY TIME WE COME TO THIS TABLE WE ARE ONE WITH ALL CHRISTIANS AROUND THE WORLD AND IN HEAVEN, ALL WHO CALL JESUS 'LORD!'

Will you prepare, with the help of God the Holy Spirit, to come to Christ's Table?:

The Law Read and Confession Made

The Lord Jesus Christ has said to us: "Thou shalt love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the first and great commandment. The second is like unto it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets."

Shall we pray:

LORD, YOU KNOW US BETTER THAN WE KNOW OURSELVES. YOU KNOW WE CANNOT LOVE YOU AS WE SHOULD APART FROM YOUR GRACE. YOU KNOW WE SOMETIMES SLIP INTO SELFISH WAYS, AND WE NEED YOUR LOVE TO ENABLE US TO LOVE EACH OTHER AS WE SHOULD. Forgive us where we have been selfish, or insensitive, or sinful in any way.

Brothers and sisters, let us search our hearts. In silence let us ask God to draw us near to Himself so that we can come to his table with confidence.

We do not presume to come to this table, O God, trusting in our own righteousness, but in your great mercy and grace. Grant us to eat the Bread of heaven, and drink the blood shed for the remission of sins, that we may live in Christ, and Christ may live in us forever. Amen

O LORD GOD, FORGIVE THOSE WHO ARE WILLING TO ACKNOWLEDGE THEIR NEED OF GRACE.

WE ACCEPT YOUR GRACE OF FORGIVENESS JUST NOW.

LET US CONFESS OUR FAITH:

The Apostles' Creed (STL # 8)

The Informal Invitation ("This is not my table . . . ")

The Words of Institution

On the night in which he was betrayed our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had given thanks to You he broke it and gave it to his disciples and said, "Take eat: THIS IS MY BODY, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me. After supper he took the cup and when he had give thanks he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you; THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink this, do it in remembrance of me: Amen O GOD, We praise you for the mystery of our salvation!

The Great Invitation

We truly believe Christ has died! Christ is risen! Christ will come again!

Bless these emblems, O God, and make them to us the Body and Blood of your Son, spiritual food, and spiritual drink of new and unending life in Jesus Christ.

And now, together, we pray, as Jesus taught us:

Our Father which art in heaven . . . (partake together // instructions if otherwise)

Now, humbly we receive the Gifts of God for the People of God

The Outsider

Good News! There's Hope!

September 7, 1997

Mark 7:24-30 The Syro-Phoenician woman with a daughter distressed with an unclean spirit.

This has been a week we will remember a long, long time. The death of the Princess of Wales has caught the attention of many millions of people around the world. At the outpouring of words that immediately followed the news of Diana's death, I think I was most impressed that Mother Teresa of Calcutta had loved Diana, and had said, among other things, that Diana "was in love with the poor" of the world. And then Friday afternoon we heard: Mother Teresa was gone!

Two women, so very different— one 37, and tall and stately and beautiful— one 87, and tiny and wrinkled and, yes, beautiful, too, in her own wonderful way. One born to great riches, and living in the glare of the spotlight. One with absolutely nothing of this world's goods to call her own, under a vow of chastity, poverty, obedience, and of service to the poor.

[[[Diana Frances Spencer was born on the first of July 1961, just over 36 years ago and married Charles Philip Arthur George, the Prince of Wales, in a spectacular wedding in St. Paul's Cathedral on July 29, 1981. Mother Teresa was born, Agnes Gonxha Bojaxhiu on the 27th of August 1910 to Albanian parents in what was then Serbia. She was called "Mother" but was a nun for 69 years.]]]

Two women very different— and yet both of them remembered with love for one thing: they made the people they met feel valued and respected. They somehow carried the message: "Whoever you are, you matter!" And in so far as they carried that message, they were messengers of truth. This world is starved for genuine love. We need to hear the message "You are a person of worth! You matter!"

The first message that God wants this world to hear is that same message: YOU MATTER TO GOD! Before they can really understand anything else of spiritual worth, they need to know that God cares about who we are and how we live.

It may not be the first message the church thinks the world needs. We begin with Lesson Two or Lesson Three. We attack the evils of our culture, and get wrapped up in boycotts and legislation, and no doubt there is a place for all of that and much, much more. (After all, Mother Teresa took every occasion she could to speak out against abortion. But first she paid her dues; first she saw in every face she met the image of God— her base from which she worked was: YOU MATTER TO GOD!) We tell the world "Change the way you're living, and God will accept you, and you will be saved!" We say, "Confess your sins— and turn to Jesus and be saved!" and of course this is the very heart of what we are here for— but first, "Lesson ONE" is the message the world needs to hear: God cares about you! You matter! You are of worth to Him!

It seems so simple, perhaps. We've heard it so many times. But the fact is, there are times when we need to hear this first word again. But if we, who know our Bibles, and know something of God's love need this, how much more people who have never met Jesus Christ need to hear the good news of strong hope— that God loves them, and that THEY MATTER TO GOD!

In the gospel lesson today a woman, a foreigner, heard that Jesus was nearby, in the coastal town of Tyre. This woman was an outsider so far as the pious Jews were concerned. She had two big strikes against her, maybe even three. She was a woman in a society where all the religious leaders were male; she was a Syrophoenecian, a sort of half-breed foreigner who was despised by the pure orthodox Hebrews. This woman had a daughter in deep trouble, deep spiritual trouble.

This outsider thought she saw in Jesus that same quality we have been speaking about— the love and respect for all people that drew people to Diana and Mother Teresa. Jesus had actually crossed a political and religious boundary in entering Tyre, a city in Gentile territory. It seems as though Jesus was trying to get a little down time— a tiny vacation, but it doesn't work and people flood in to ask for his help.

The Syrophenecian woman came to where Jesus was trying to rest, and she watched for a while as people came and went, and saw his kindness and power and healing compassion. Then she, too, asks for help with those who are breaking into his time of rest.

Mark doesn't tell us, but Matthew does, that this woman was noisily bothering the disciples and that they wanted Jesus to send her away. He doesn't do that however, and I wonder if maybe the interesting interchange between Jesus and the woman is more for the disciples (read "us") than it was for the woman.

But this "outsider" saw what we all will see if we will look and live— she saw that no one who ever came to Jesus was turned away, except those who came in hypocrisy to defeat Him. By his own words we know "The one that comes to me I will in no way (ever) cast out!" This "outsider" saw that compassion, and dared to ask for help. And she found that she mattered to God. She got the help she needed.

YOU MATTER TO GOD! That is Good News!

Do you really believe that? You don't have to break down doors and try to persuade God you are worthy to be loved by him. He loves you just as you are! He cares about you! He wants to come into your life and brings HIS HOPE to bear on all that you are and do.

YOUR NEIGHBOR MATTERS TO GOD!

How are you going to tell him/her? Probably imperfectly, if you're like the rest of us. But it will begin with an attitude.

James has some suggestions in our epistle lesson. He tells us that we had better stop deciding who is "in" and who is "out." He says if a person with money starts attending, and we act as though she matters more than another person who is poor, we are missing the message: you matter to God.

Don't get me wrong— rich people need to hear this message, too. Don't despise your neighbor because he may have more than you do. The message is the same: you matter to God!

(Conclusion:) Not one of us here will ever catch the attention of the entire world like Diana or Mother Teresa. We won't have the spotlight in which to tell people that they count, they are important. We probably can be thankful that we don't. But we will all have the privilege, first of all, to know that fact for ourselves. IN JESUS CHRIST WE HAVE A DOOR TO AN ETERNAL RELATIONSHIP WITH GOD! We matter! We are as important to God as anyone who ever lived!

And then we have the privilege and the duty to begin where we can by spreading the word far and near: YOU matter to God! You are NOT an "outsider" to him! That is the message of our church! Will you help tell it this week?

Prayer

Hymn #543 - Let Your Heart Be Broken

Come Follow Me

September 14, 1997

Mark 8:27-38

Lead-in ... John Filsak, a minister in Nottingham, was watching his son play with a 'virtual pet.' He came up with a very funny, yet sad and very biting piece of satire—he wrote about a "Cyber-Jesus," a virtual salvation that could be hung on a chain and manipulated with buttons.

OF course the reason this is so absurd is that we know Jesus is NOT someone we manipulate. Yet how often we think of him only in terms of what he can do for us. The whole point is: if you have a Savior, a Messiah that you can use for your own convenience, you do not really know the Savior.

In our Gospel lesson today Jesus asked the disciples two questions; (1) who do people say that I am? and, (2) who do YOU say that I am? These questions come very close to being the most important questions we will ever have to address. I would rephrase them just a little bit and ask them again just now:

THE TWO GREAT QUESTIONS

WHO IS JESUS?

If you really want to know who Jesus is, this becomes "a revelation question." It does not come from much study, and human persuasion. It comes from God the Father revealing the truth: JESUS IS THE CHRIST, THE SON OF THE LIVING GOD.

The correct answer is that Jesus is who he said he is: the Son of God, the living Word. But believe it or not, to answer this correctly is NOT the end of the search for salvation.

WHO IS JESUS TO YOU?

To answer this one is not quite so simple. For to say who Jesus is TO YOU requires a moral decision. It is a gift of God to have the faith to believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of the living God. but that faith does NOT, I repeat, to believe that Jesus is God's Son does NOT in and of itself save you. Jesus is Messiah! The devils know that and believe it, even though they hate it.

To answer "Who is Jesus to ME?" is to make a statement about whether or not we are willing to act on God's revelation. To follow Jesus is more than believing Jesus is who he says he is, but it is saying that we want to follow him, and trust him for our salvation. In some wonderful, even mysterious way, God gives us the power to respond— to choose 'Who will Jesus be TO ME!'

A THREE-FOLD INVITATION

[An OPEN invitation: "If any one will come after me... "]But, too, the scriptures say Many are called— but few are chosen. The reason is— this is not merely a "mental assent to propositional truth." It is a response to a Living Lord: a three-fold challenge:

DENY SELF

"I am NOT my own God!" "I give up my own attempts to save myself!" The most difficult master to escape is the tyranny of self-rule. To deny self is to accept the fact that Jesus is the Way, Truth, Life— and say, "God helping me, Jesus shall be my Lord! I will obey HIM!"

EMBRACE THE CROSS

"Come and die!" A willingness to follow Jesus to the very death!

The world ridicules the cross. Even children can get the wrong idea. "An elementary teacher in a public school was a devout Roman Catholic. She had studied to be a nun but decided that she was better suited for a lay vocation. She was teaching a class in reading, but she told the children, "You don't have to write or talk sometimes to get your point across." By way of example she stuck out her thumb and asked, "What does this mean?" The students all said, "I want a ride."

Then she asked, "What does this mean?" (She held her finger up across her mouth.) They all said, "Be quiet." Then she turned to one child and asked, "What can you say using signs?" He held up his hand flat to say stop. She asked another little boy to do one, and he gave the Catholic sign of the Cross, touching his forehead and crossing his chest. That just thrilled this devout teacher. She said, "Jerry, what does that mean?" He said, "That means I'm gonna shoot a free throw." 2

To take up the cross is more than wearing a religious symbol— however seriously we take it. To take up our cross is to accept the fact that there will be hard times, and suffering in the pathway of obedience.

[Believe me— you will not be able to dodge suffering, no matter what road you follow. But following Jesus transforms life's hard places into opportunities to lift Him up.]

There is a third part to this challenge to follow Jesus. It is the BEST part:

FOLLOW JESUS

We don't have to simply DENY SELF and TAKE UP THE CROSS. We also have the privilege of FOLLOWING JESUS. And as we follow, that relationship becomes closer, and more and more precious. Not necessarily EASIER.. but JESUS HAS PROMISED NEVER TO LEAVE US .. TO THE VERY END!

CONCLUSION

It is hard to come to the close of a sermon this morning and not think of the events of this week: I'm speaking, of course, of a certain Roman Catholic nun whose funeral was this Saturday Mother Theresa.

In following Jesus Mother Theresa incarnated this three-fold invitation: deny self, take up the cross— follow Jesus. Following Jesus for her meant that she devoted her life to the poor and sick. She went through the streets of Calcutta in India, physically picking up the skin and bones people and carrying them into her hospice. She went around the world setting up hospices where her many followers could do the same.

Mother Theresa didn't complain when she found a sick person. Like St. James, she counted it all joy that she could be there to help that person, for in that person she saw Jesus. She often said that she was so happy because she was able to do the work she was doing, caring for the sick and poor.

A reporter asked to see Mother Theresa. The nun who answered the door said Mother couldn't come. The reporter waited and finally asked what Mother was doing. The nun said, "Mother is cleaning the toilets and has asked that she not be called away from her work.

When reporters went to interview Mother Theresa, she immediately put them to work in her hospice. They ended up feeding a dying person by hand or washing someone, or in other ways performing the same work that Mother Theresa did, and her nuns do day by day. In this way only, Mother Theresa believed, could anyone come to an idea of her work.

When opened up a hospice in Brooklyn with her nuns, the authorities were worried that there was nothing like central heating or television. Mother Theresa said they would not need such things, for the poor did not have them.

Someone asked Mother Theresa once about being successful and Mother Theresa answered, "We are not called to be successful; we are called to be faithful." She followed Jesus!

Jesus wasn't some kind of masochist who enjoyed suffering. He even said in the Garden of Olives before his passion and death: "Father, if this cup [of suffering] can not pass, but I must drink it, then your will be done, not mine." But the point Jesus would bring us to in our following him with our cross is that we become so pliable to the Holy Spirit in our life that we welcome whatever comes along, because by accepting it, we become like Jesus. Jesus will transform our lives and join them with his own— and we will know HIS JOY!

"If any want to become my followers

There is an open invitation. Whosoever will may come!

552 O Master, Let Me Walk with Thee

But We See Jesus

October 5, 1997

Hebrews 1,2; Mark 10:15

Last week Norman McCullough was talking grandfather talk about his little grandson, Kevin. He, Kevin, had been reading (a dinosaur book) in the middle of the living room floor when he stopped and folded his hands and appeared to be praying. When it seemed he had finished his grandmother, Nancy, asked him gently what he had been doing.

"Well," he said, "Dad told me I should be praying and I was praying."

"What were you asking God for?" asked Nancy.

"I wasn't asking for anything," said little Kevin. "I was just listening."

GOD HAS SPOKEN

(HOW) In many ways across the centuries, our scripture tells us, God has spoken. God has spoken in majestic power, in the beauty of the cosmos and creation. God has spoken by prophets of an ideal of justice, and has given us the Commandments as a Guide to real Life. But, the scripture emphasizes, God has given His highest Word in His Son, Jesus Christ— a Word of LOVE and redemption and LIFE!

(WHAT) God has said several important things to us:

1. I AM THAT I AM! Don't try to "box me in" or "define me."
2. I LOVE YOU! I hear you when you cry! I am a God who will respond!
3. IN CHRIST 'ALL THINGS' WILL FINALLY 'MAKE SENSE'

WE DO NOT YET SEE . . .

The scripture is quick to say "We do not yet see all that has been promised!" There is a need for God's people to trust him— to HOPE in his word! (more on that perhaps this evening as we look into Job)

Frankly, life as we see and know it is not always "fair." We do not yet see the 'millennial reign' where the lion lies down with the lamb" (... even in the Church— the lamb is always very, very nervous!)

BUT WE (DO) SEE JESUS

Jesus is God's ETERNAL Word! Jesus is always near (by His Spirit!)

He is present NOW by His Spirit to guide. He is speaking if only we, like Norman's little grandson, will make the effort to LISTEN!

In the Gospel Lesson Jesus has said: Unless and until we can come as little children— we cannot begin to understand His love— we cannot inherit his kingdom.

God has spoken ... God is speaking! And one wonderful way God wants to speak to us today is through

THE HOLY COMMUNION

Communion, a sacrament of the church, gives us opportunity to listen for God's voice, and to affirm that we are one with all people around the world who say by the Spirit, "Jesus is Lord!" This sacrament both looks back to the Cross and forward to the Great Banquet when the redeemed of all ages will celebrate Life together in the glorious Light of God's immediate Presence.

Will you prepare, with the help of God the Holy Spirit, to come to Christ's Table?:

The Law Read and Confession Made

The Lord Jesus Christ has said to us: "Thou shalt love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the first and great commandment. The second is like unto it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets."

Shall we pray:

Search us, O God, and know our most private thoughts. Try us, and show unto us the deepest motives, the real state of our hearts. Forgive us where we have been selfish, or insensitive, or sinful in any way. We cannot keep the Great Commandment, and truly love You, O God, with all our heart, soul, and mind unless You in mercy grant to us the grace of Your indwelling Spirit. We cannot love each other as we should unless Your love is shed abroad in our hearts.

Brothers and sisters, let us search our hearts. In silence let us ask God to draw us near to Himself so that we can come to his table with confidence.

We do not presume to come to this table, O God, trusting in our own righteousness, but in your great mercy and grace. Grant us to eat the Bread of heaven, and drink the blood shed for the remission of sins, that we may live in Christ, and Christ may live in us forever. Amen

Let us confess our faith:

The Apostles' Creed (STL # 8) OR [Nicene Creed #14]

The Informal Invitation ("This is not my table . . . ")

Holy and gracious Father; in your infinite love you made us for yourself; and, when we had fallen into sin, and were worthy of death and hell, you, in your mercy sent Jesus Christ, your only and eternal Son to share our human nature, to live and die as one of us, to reconcile us to You, the God and Father of all.

He stretched out his arms upon the cross, and offered himself in obedience to your will, a perfect sacrifice for the whole world.

The Words of Institution

On the night in which he was betrayed our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had give thanks to You he broke it and gave it to his disciples and said, "Take eat: THIS IS MY BODY, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me.

After supper he took the cup and when he had give thanks he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you; THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink this, do it in remembrance of me: Amen

But We See Jesus

We praise you for the mystery of our salvation! We truly believe

- Christ has died!
- Christ is risen!
- Christ will come again!

Bless these emblems, O God, and make them to us the Body and Blood of your Son, spiritual food, and spiritual drink of new and unending life in Jesus Christ.

And now, together, we pray, as Jesus taught us:

Our Father which art in heaven . . . (partake together // instructions if otherwise) Now, humbly we receive the Gifts of God for the People of God

Empty Your Hands

October 12, 1997

Mark 10:17-31; Job 23:1-9 (also overview of Job 1)

Psalm 90; Ephesians 3:10

Our Gospel lesson today tells of a man dashing up to Jesus to inquire about finding eternal life. "EMPTY YOUR HANDS, COME, FOLLOW ME!" It is significant that the Bible pictures this eager person as a good man. Jesus did not challenge his statement that he had kept the Commandments from the time he was very young. In fact, the word is that "Jesus loved him!" God's great, free grace was very, very near.

But Jesus said, "You cannot really follow me if your life is centered on other things!" It wasn't wrong that the man had great possessions; what was wrong was that this man's possessions had him. Jesus was saying, "Empty your hands, and come, follow me!"

And the rich young ruler by his actions said, "The price is more than I can pay!" He turned and went sadly away. Jesus said, "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for people with great wealth to enter the kingdom of heaven!"

The disciples were literalists. They valued wealth, just as you and I do as well. "Who then can be saved?" they asked. Jesus said, "Nobody in the world, if they try simply on their own— with man it is impossible. But anyone who seeks God can be saved if they come in His terms— for all things are possible with God!"

My thoughts today about this Gospel lesson are very personal, and center about a story, not of a Rich Young Ruler, of a story of A Rich Young Woman, who also came to Jesus seeking eternal life. She, like the man in the story asked what was required, and determined to follow whatever the cost.

The name Walter Johannes Damrosch probably doesn't mean a thing to anyone here this morning. If you were to look in an encyclopedia you would find that he was a conductor of the Metropolitan Opera in New York City and founder of his own Opera Company, as well as for many years the conductor of the National Broadcasting Company Symphony before Arturo Toscanini. I drop his name as emphasis for the story with which I close:

Actually, the 'rich young woman' in my story wasn't really rich, but she did have a real treasure. She had discovered God had endowed her with a world-class contralto voice, and the musical ability to use it. Even as a teenager she became well known in the Lansing, Michigan, local music scene with concerts and solo work in oratorio and cantata presentations. Then through her local music teachers she received an invitation to come to New York City to audition and study with the great Walter Damrosch. It was the chance of a lifetime.

About this time this young woman with a treasure came face to face with Jesus Christ in a revival meeting in the Methodist Church where she was a member. She was saved, and joined a class meeting— a small group specifically designed for spiritual nurture which vital Methodist churches often used. She became aware that God was asking her to go to a Christian college and prepare for special ministry in His kingdom. And so it was that this young woman took her talents to Taylor University, a Christian college in Indiana affiliated with the Methodist church to which she belonged.

As much as she loved opera, and classical music, Leona felt that God was calling her into an even higher musical ministry. She literally gave her treasure to God, and worked her way through Taylor, where she sang solo parts in Elijah and Messiah and all the standard Christian vocals of her time.

There are still a very few people alive today that can remember Leona Metcalfe's musical power and ministry. In my very prejudiced view her contribution to worship and evangelism in camp meetings, assemblies, and revivals large and small was considerable. But she died in a little room in a nursing home, far away from her beloved Ohio. She might have echoed Peter, in our Gospel lesson: "Lord, we have left all— we have given up OUR WAY for YOURS! IS IT WORTH IT?" I am confident she would answer that question: YES, A THOUSAND TIMES OVER! For as with every one of us, in the end, who she was became far more important than simply what she had done. My mother followed Jesus, and came to know and love and serve him for many, many years. At her graveside in Ohio last Thursday four pastors came to bear testimony to a life that counted for God and the kingdom.

I don't know if we really realize that, or believe it! Salvation is free, for the asking. Grace is offered to the whosoever. But to make Jesus Christ Lord, and to follow him requires that we be willing to come with empty hands, and a willingness to follow Him. Whatever it takes to walk with Jesus— to follow him— is worth it. Whatever we may have in our hands, our cluttering up our lives, that would push him away from the center— even good things— are not worth the cost. For Jesus will be Lord of all, or he will not be Lord at all.

And many Christians tempt grace and shortchange the great love with which Christ would bless them by hesitating to follow without question— for as Jesus said:

"Many who are first will be last, and the last will be first!" What can this mean?

COSMIC ECHOES, 'WELL DONE, GOOD AND FAITHFUL SERVANT!' The Old Testament lessons that accompany our Gospel studies for three or four weeks have been selections from the Book of Job. Job was a wealthy man whose riches did not keep him from being a man who feared God and hated evil, and walked blamelessly before God.

The "Job experience." Sooner or later it happens to every one of us! Summarizing quickly: God was proud of Job. The Adversary asked the question: "Does Job serve God for love or for profit?" Then came what is often call 'The Wager.' God said, in effect: "I trust Job! He loved Me because I am God and because he believes I am GOOD!" We often think the Book of Job is about the eternal questions that arise around human pain and suffering. But to that question there is no satisfactory resolution, no cheap answer.

What we can see from the Book of Job is that God takes an interest in the people who seek Him with integrity and faith. Job's love and trust meant a great deal to God— in the story. And the Bible indicates that God treasures that love and trust in every one of us! Sooner or later every one of us will have our Job experiences, and I believe that when we respond with trust in God there are reverberations in heaven! God is proud of the man or woman that puts Him first!

Empty Your Hands

Ephesians 3:10 is a verse that I see as very significant— and I can never get people excited about it. But I believe it says that when a young person is tempted to cheat, and no one would ever know, but she does not because she knows she belongs to God— that act of righteousness by faith has cosmic echoes! Before the angels God is proud of the person that follows him, even though no one else may know!

A young adult is checking his e-mail and has opportunity to open his mind to pictures and voices rated with triple "X" and hits the "delete" button— and no one knows or cares— except God! Before God says, "See, love IS stronger than hate! People DO serve me because it is good and right!"

An older person is tempted to be fault-finding and bitter, and prays for grace to be able to tell people that God is good. And there are cosmic echoes! When God says, "Well done, good and faithful servant!" it is no little thing! Beyond the agendas that we can see, God is showcasing his love and grace in the trust He places in you and me, and he challenges us to empty our hands, and take up our crosses, and follow after the Christ!

That verse in Ephesians reads like this: "(God's) intent is that now, through the church, the manifold wisdom of God should be made known to the rulers and authorities in the heavenly realms!"

PRAYER

Lord, we pray that your grace may always precede and follow us, that we may continually be willing and able to empty our hands and follow you and lovingly serve you; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever.

538 I'll Go Where You Want Me to Go or 541 Jesus Calls Us

The Joy of Serving

October 19, 1997

Acts 20:35 It is more blessed to give than to receive.

Mark 10:35-45 and supplemental texts

(It wasn't exactly James' and John's most shining hour. Looking back later they were probably ashamed. They were trying to pull an 'end run' around their fellow disciples...) In this Gospel passage I am interested in the response of Jesus to an obvious power play. "We've got a favor to ask," they began.

JESUS MET THEM WITH THE QUESTION:

WHAT DO YOU WANT ME TO DO FOR YOU?

(That is the question that intrigues me! How would you answer that question if Jesus put it to you directly? And as a matter of fact Jesus IS asking that question of every one of us— and we are answering it every day whether we even know it or not!)

"Let us sit up front with you," James and John asked. "When you're finally doing the great things of the kingdom, we'd like to be right there, on your right hand and on your left!"

They knew they were walking with a winner. They wanted to absolutely get in on the best of the best. James and John were seeking one of the most attractive— if not the most attractive thing in the world. They wanted power. Of course they would use that power to the best purposes! "With us in the CEO positions," they might have said, " we'll make Your kingdom really efficient!"

Jesus loved James and John. He listened to what they had to say. He asked them a few questions. But before he granted them their petition he told them:

"You don't really know what it is that you're asking!"

YOU HAVE INSUFFICIENT DATA TO MAKE A LIFE-CHANGING REQUEST

"You don't really know what it is that you're asking!" As a matter of fact, when Jesus came to the absolute completion of his battle with evil, it was on a cross, and on his right hand and on his left were two criminals. For Jesus was lifted up on a cross. It was not at that time considered a place of honor.

"But that isn't what we meant!"

"Of course not ... but that is what I've come to show you!" Then Jesus went on to say that his kingdom was not to be like the power-structures of the world.

The power structures of the First Century were despotic, grand, top-down. Caesar Augustus, Nero, Galba— all were examples of top-down power. Jesus said that he would build his kingdom on servant power, and that he, himself, would be servant of all. That is something we have a hard time understanding.

Dick Rice is a counselor in the St. Paul Minneapolis area. He had the opportunity to interview Mother Teresa, and he asked her, "Mother, what is, would you say, your most difficult problem?" Immediately, he felt maybe he shouldn't have asked the question.

But Mother Teresa came right back and said, "Professionalism." Rice blinked and repeated "Professionalism?" "Yes," said Mother Teresa. "When I send a sister off to school to become a nurse or a doctor, she returns with her degrees and diplomas, I always have to interrupt her after a while in her work. She has become too intellectual about her work. She has lost the personal touch. So I send her down to the ward where we have people with advanced diseases who are dying. I tell her to just sit with them, empty their bedpans, hold their hand, feed them. Then, after a couple of months I let her go back to her work." If anyone was ever a no-nonsense person, but a happy person, it was Mother Teresa. In her reply she got to the heart of what Jesus was saying to James and John when they craved power.

JESUS KNEW THE JOY OF SERVING

Jesus came to turn the structures of this world— the accepted norms and values— upside down. He said (Acts 20:35) "It is more blessed to give than it is to receive!"

There is JOY in being able to give, to serve, to get the center of the Universe somewhere out beyond our own navel.

Did you ever hear of the McLandress Coefficient? When I was studying pastoral care many years ago I read about the "McLandress Coefficient;" Herschel McLandress was a professor of psychiatric measurement at Harvard Medical School, and he developed a way to measure a person's degree of self absorption. In spoken and written material he measured the use of "I," "me," and "my" and the "Coefficient" was the longest span of time a person can remain diverted from himself.

Eleanor Roosevelt was supposed to have a McLandress coefficient of two hours; John F. Kennedy's was twenty nine minutes, and Elizabeth Taylor's was three minutes. The reason I don't dare fill in God's blank check and ask for "power" or "glory" for myself could just be that I need to talk about me, when maybe Jesus wants to talk about something else. How is your McLandress Coefficient?

Could we take the McLandress Coefficient another step, and see how long we can go after getting up in the morning without thinking about God and grace and the love that surrounds us?

Could we even take it further and see how far we might be able to go into the day and week without ever once thinking about the needs of those we meet?

I only really became aware of the remarkable spirit of Joseph Cardinal Bernardin, of Chicago, last year as he was diagnosed with inoperable cancer but refused to feel sorry for himself— and continued his ministry of preaching the grace of Christ to others who were dying. I was impressed by a spirit of serving that reached across barriers. Then I found out that ten years before his death just this year Joseph Bernadin had written a little book, Christ Lives in Me, words he had evidently found grace to live and die by:

"As a people redeemed by Jesus' blood, we are called to a radically new way of life in which the criteria of success are totally different from the world's criteria. Now that the Word has become flesh, we cannot be overly concerned with ourselves... our petty vanities and prejudices, our hostilities and fleeting attachments... our vision must not be limited... we are a people called to a new intimacy and friendship with God. We are a people who reflect, with new brightness and beauty, the image and likeness of God; a people, who in the totality of our humanity are expected to express the values which Jesus realized in his own life. We are a people to whom much has been given and from whom much will be expected."

"Joseph Bernardin left behind more than words. I believe that he aspired to and achieved this true gospel greatness that Jesus was speaking about; he spent himself in the service of others.

How can we claim to be Christ's when everything we do and say revolves around US? Even in our worship and praying we cannot escape this selfish way of living. How do we escape our "Self?"

We admire those who are servants. like, say, our own 'Mother Teresa,' Esther Sanger, and the lowly servant path she walked, and we are sure she was a saint; but the desire for center stage and for power runs deep. Deep down inside we are fascinated by raw power and wealth and respect and notoriety, wherever its source. So the question:

WHAT DO YOU WANT ME TO DO FOR YOU? is there for us to face. (Already, by our lives and prayers and attitudes, we are answering Christ's question!) If God would grant you your one heart petition— what would it be? Be careful— for it might just happen!

Do you dare to say - Lord, YOU be the center of my life?

Lord, help me think of You in all I am - YOU fill in the blank check you've offered to me! Let me dare to follow you and be like you!

PRAYER - Almighty and everlasting God, who in your Son, the Suffering Servant Jesus Christ has shown to us the way of love: Grant that we Your church may persevere in that servant love to confess You before three worlds*; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. (*Ephesians 3:10 again!)

490 - O to be Like Thee then 535 - Make Me a Servant

I Believe in the Church

Reformation Sunday

October 26, 1997

Lectionary Text, Mark 10:46-52; Hebrews 7:21-27

INTRODUCTION

This is Reformation Sunday. In October of 1517 a Roman Catholic monk and priest and professor of theology named Martin Luther nailed a list of 95 subjects for debate or complaints against his church to the door of the Wittenberg Cathedral in Germany, and the Protestant Reformation was officially begun. We have been trying to sort out the results of the resulting dynamics in all branches of the church ever since.

Martin Luther's zeal split the visible, organized ranks of Christendom. But like all true reformers he had an underlying love for the Church of Jesus Christ. I believe Luther did what he did out of a deep faith not only in God, but in the church itself. Faith in the Church that Jesus Himself is building is a basic part of our faith, and is clearly stated in the ancient creeds that unite all who say by the Holy Spirit that Jesus is Lord.

In one of the last of his writings published before his death last year, Henri Nouwen wrote about this love for the church:

The Church is an object of faith. In the Apostles Creed we (affirm) "I believe in God the Father ... in Jesus Christ, his only Son our Lord ... in the Holy Spirit. (But we also say,) "I believe in the holy catholic church, the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body and the life everlasting." We must believe in the church! The Apostles Creed does not say that the church is an organization that helps us to believe in God, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.. No, we are called to believe in the church with the same faith we believe in God.

Often it seems harder to believe in the Church than to believe in God. But whenever we separate our belief in God from our belief in the Church, we become unbelievers.

God has given us the church as the place where God becomes God-with-us.- in Bread for the Journey

We are the church! The church is not a denomination, large or small. The Church is made up of all those now living, and those who have died in the faith, who say from their hearts, by the Holy Spirit, "Jesus is Lord!" to the glory of God the Father. On this Reformation Sunday we are all called to love the church, to be concerned about keeping faith with the church.

It is this wonderful confession that in some measure defines the church. Open your hearts with me just now as we consider the great confession of the church:

THE CONFESSION OF THE CHURCH: "JESUS IS LORD!"

JESUS IS LORD -THE MYSTICAL ELEMENT - 2 Timothy 2:19 "...the solid foundation of God stand, having this seal: 'The Lord knoweth those who are his.,' and 'Let everyone who names the name of the Lord depart from iniquity.'"

The church is a holy mystery. The Lordship of Jesus Christ is a powerful uniting force between otherwise widely divergent points of view. If we ask a diverse group of Christians what they believe a discussion will certainly follow, and tension and disagreement. But if we ask them who they love and follow there is an instant bonding and fellowship.

A distinguishing characteristic of the universal church, however, is a changed life. "Let everyone who names the name of the Lord depart from iniquity." The Church is not the world. The Church is IN the world, but not dominated by the values of the world. It is not for us or for anyone to define what is or is not the church. We cannot despise another who says "Jesus is Lord!" But there will be this wonderful, mysterious cry from within every heart, "Thy kingdom come! Thy will be done! Lead us NOT into temptation! Deliver us from evil!"

JESUS IS LORD -THE CREATIVE WORK OF THE SPIRIT

1 Corinthians 12:3 "no one can say "Jesus is Lord" except by the Holy Spirit"

The church is God's own creation. We can form organizations, and take in members, and call them members of the church. But no one can really add or subtract members from the one holy apostolic universal church except God Himself. When the confession is made with conviction, "Jesus is LORD!" a divine work of creation is taking place. Someone's world is shaking, and changing centers; instead of self being the cruel taskmaster, God in Christ is moved to the center, and "old things pass away, and all things are made new." (2 Co. 5:17) You cannot simply "join" the church; you have to be "born" into it— you must know the convicting, convincing power of the Holy Spirit that enables you to say, and to know, "Jesus IS Lord of MY life!"

JESUS IS LORD -THE PRESENT GRACE OF CONFESSION

Romans 10:9 (8-11) "(But what does it say? the Word is near you, in your mouth and in your heart [that is the word of faith which we preach]) that if you confess with your mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in your heart that God has raised him from the dead, you will be saved."

The church is alive in the very act of confession. The WORD is near. the confession is not simply an event or one-time thing. It is a living connection to a loving relationship. [The Gospel being read from the center of the church— in the middle aisle— is for a reason: it is a reminder every Sunday that the Living Word of the Gospels, Jesus Christ, who is GOD-WITH-US— the Word who became flesh— is even at this very moment very near to each one of us!] When we confess "Jesus is Lord!" we connect with the great High Priest of the Church! Where Jesus is, THERE is the church! The very name "Jesus" means "Jehovah Saves!" To invoke that name in prayer is to call on the Great High Priest of the church!

THE HIGH PRIEST OF THE CHURCH: - "HAVE MERCY, SON OF DAVID!"

THE GOSPEL STORY OF BARTIMAEUS

In the Gospel lesson blind Bartimaeus seized an opportunity when he knew that Jesus, the Living Word, was near. He cried out "Jesus, Son of David, have mercy on me!" That was a profound prayer!

The blind man cried. Those nearby thought the shouting was out of order. But Bartimaeus was in earnest. "Help me!" Jesus heard! He stopped. He called for the blind man. In his haste, blind Bartimaeus left his precious cloak behind as he ran and stumbled and hurried as best he could to where the Living Word waited.

Then came that question again: "What do you want me to do for you?" Bartimaeus was in the hands of the one person in all the Universe who could save him to the uttermost!

THE ASSURANCE OF HEBREWS

7:25 "(Our High Priest) is able to save to the uttermost them that come unto God by him, seeing he ever lives to make intercession for them."

Bartimaeus had come to the one person who could not only sympathize but effectively do something about his deepest needs. The Living Word is the great High Priest, the powerful Advocate in the Presence of the Father. Our text says, "HE IS ABLE!"

"HE IS ABLE TO SAVE!"

"HE IS ABLE TO SAVE TO THE UTTERMOST!"

THE JESUS PRAYER

Bartimaeus' prayer has become a model for the entire Church down across the ages. The devout Jews had been (rightly) taught such great respect and awe for the name of God that it was not to be spoken by human lips. (O.T. Jews read the word Yahweh with their eyes and said the word "Adonai" with their lips. God was known as GOOD, but too high and holy to be easily approached.) But by assuming our humanity, and becoming one with us— our Brother, the Word of God hands that great Name over to us, and we can use that holy name in prayer: JESUS means Jahweh Saves! The name "Jesus" breathed in prayer contains the whole economy of creation and salvation! Whoever prays, "Jesus, Son of God, have mercy!" is welcoming the Son of God who loved us and gave Himself up for us!

"Jesus, Son of David, have mercy on me!"... "Lord Jesus Christ, Son of God, have mercy on us sinners!"— this can be the humble, joyful, continual cry of our hearts as we celebrate who we are in Christ. And in that confession of Jesus as Lord the Church lives on forever!

CONCLUSION - Martin Luther and John Wesley are long since dead, but the "reformation" goes on— in your heart and mine— in our congregation as we sincerely seek to confess with our worship, with our words, and also with our attitudes and actions that Jesus is Lord. He is opening our eyes to the glory of his grace.

Prayer - Lord Jesus Christ, whose very name has been given to us to make us your church, open our eyes and help us to see You, and help us to love You better, to the glory of God the Father, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, One God high and holy, world without end. Amen.

Hymn- Mini-worship sequence, read 144 and sing 1,4 of 145 Glorious Is Thy Name

The Promise of Heaven

All Saints Sunday

November 2, 1997

Revelation 21:1-6 And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth are passed away; and the sea is no more. 2 And I saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven of God, made ready as a bride adorned for her husband. 3 And I heard a great voice out of the throne saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he shall dwell with them, and they shall be his peoples, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God: 4 and he shall wipe away every tear from their eyes; and death shall be no more; neither shall there be mourning, nor crying, nor pain, any more: the first things are passed away. 5 And he that sitteth on the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he saith, Write: for these words are faithful and true. 6 And he said unto me, They are come to pass. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely.

John 11:32-44 32 Mary therefore, when she came where Jesus was, and saw him, fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. 33 When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping who came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and was troubled, 34 and said, Where have ye laid him? They say unto him, Lord, come and see.

35 Jesus wept.

36 The Jews therefore said, Behold how he loved him! 37 But some of them said, Could not this man, who opened the eyes of him that was blind, have caused that this man also should not die? 38 Jesus therefore again groaning in himself cometh to the tomb. Now it was a cave, and a stone lay against it. 39 Jesus saith, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time the body decayeth; for he hath been dead four days. 40 Jesus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that, if thou believedst, thou shouldest see the glory of God? 41 So they took away the stone. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hearest me. 42 And I knew that thou hearest me always: but because of the multitude that standeth around I said it, that they may believe that thou didst send me. 43 And when he had thus spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth. 44 He that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with grave-clothes; and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

MAYBE I WAS MORE SENSITIVE this year than before... but it seems to me that Halloween was more pagan and repulsive this year than ever before. Oh, don't think I'm against innocent fun: I have no problem with Beggars' Night and Masquerades—we've been doing that forever. But this year glorifying the macabre, and emphasizing ignorant statements about life after death, and especially emphases on witches and the occult have been, to my mind, in very poor taste to say the least. Most people have forgotten, if they ever knew, that day on the ancient church calendars which was the real cause for celebration. Hallowe'en means, of course, 'The Eve of All Hallow's Day,' or All Saints Day. All Saints and All Souls were days to especially remember that those who have died in the Lord are not lost and gone, but are very much alive.

It certainly is true that death and what lies beyond is a great mystery. But it seems to me that we could better celebrate Christ's promise of eternal life, and celebrate the one holy church that is made up of those here struggling on earth, and those victorious in the glory of heaven. All Saints is a time to celebrate the promise of eternal life—the promise Jesus gave us of heaven.

THE PROMISE OF HEAVEN IS GOD HIMSELF

When we think of heaven we think in terms of what we shall see, and what we shall do—the golden streets, the mansions Jesus has gone to prepare. And that is understandable. But first of all, heaven is eternal life, and that life is Jesus Christ Himself. "I AM the resurrection and the life!" His words.

The earnest (or guarantee) of heaven is the Presence here in this imperfect world. Certainly life here and now is filled with both pain and pleasure— a full mixture of good and evil. But heaven's reality is never far away, for we have an High Priest who knows and cares how we feel— who has said "I will never leave you." This is NOT heaven— we weep, we hurt, we suffer, we die. people fail us— we fail ourselves sometimes. Jesus feels and cares. Jesus stood and wept at the sorrow of Martha and Mary.

Heaven is where faith becomes sight, and there comes an unveiled beholding of the Presence. A hymn writer wrote:

*"How happy are the saints above
Who once went sorr'ing here
For now they taste unmingled love
And joy without a tear."*

THE PROMISE OF HEAVEN IS FELLOWSHIP WITH THE TRUTH

Death is our enemy, and when it comes there is separation and there is sadness. But for those who trust in God, death is a defeated enemy. In Jesus Christ death has been conquered. We face death with hope— and that makes all the difference. Far from the macabre or the occult, John's glimpse through the door left ajar into heaven in his Revelation sounds like this:

"The home of God is with mortals. He will dwell with them as their God; they will be his people, and God himself shall be with them; he will wipe every tear from their eyes. Death will be no more; mourning and crying and pain will be no more, for the first things have passed away . . . I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end."

Heaven will be a place of true fellowship. We will be 'for real,' there, and everyone we see and talk to will be 'for real' as well. No hidden agendas, no back-biting, no slander, no jealousy— no envy! How do I know this? Listen to these words from this same 21st Chapter:

The Promise of Heaven

But for the fearful, and unbelieving, and abominable, and murderers, and fornicators, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars,— their part shall be in the lake that burneth with fire and brimstone; which is the second death.

There is a place of eternal separation from God and good. There is reason to view death and the hereafter with serious concern. It is not the subject for costumes and jokes. The perfect fellowship promised in heaven will be far different from the imperfect, flawed fellowship we know here. And what causes the most concern is the fact that I have lied! I may not fill all that list in personal testimony— but I certainly have been afraid! Have you ever lied? Have you ever been afraid to be all you knew God wanted you to be?

But then I think of Paul's words: "But such were some of you!" No, I would say, 'But such were ALL of us!' That is where God's great saving grace comes in! And that is where the witness of the Spirit becomes our promise of eternal life:

THE PROMISE OF HEAVEN IS COMMUNION BEGUN BELOW

Prayer

Investment with a Future

Good News—there's Hope!

November 9, 1997

Mark 12:38-44

A farmer went out walking early one morning, so the old story goes, and on his way to the barn passed a hen and a pig. He said right out loud so the animals could hear him, "I think I'd like some ham and eggs for breakfast."

"That sounds all right by me," said the hen. "No problem."

"Easy for you to say," said the pig. "For you his breakfast is a contribution. For me it is a total commitment."

Our gospel lesson this morning sorts out the difference between a donation and a commitment, which might just be one way to define the difference between faith and mental assent. The account Mark gives tells us that

JESUS OBSERVED THE WAY RELIGIOUS LEADERS MISUSED THEIR OFFICE

Some religious leaders 'just make a donation' of going through the motions, rather than give themselves wholly to God's service. The offenses of the religious leaders are listed:

1. they love attention in the marketplaces

when religious draws attention to itself it is always out of order religious people, or better, people of real faith, are God-centered, not self-centered we wouldn't wear pulpit robes down to Friendly's— but that probably isn't what Jesus is condemning; that is too obvious we can/and sometimes DO wear our 'holiness' on our sleeve

2. They assume the best seats in the synagogue and celebrations when our relationship to God and the church makes us feel superior and self-righteous it is not from God.

3. they devour widow's houses

it is right and proper for temple workers to be supported by the temple. but temple money is sacred money. it never belongs to the temple workers. this is not "my" property. nor yours, either. it is sacred to God.

4. they for pretense make long prayers worship can never be pretence. there is a kinship in play-acting and dramatic presentation of the Word. (Donny Woodbridge demonstrated that just this past week) but when we say one thing with our mouth and believe another with our hearts— when the impact of what we say is coolly calculated for the benefit it will bring to us it is very dangerous. [a young preacher needs to settle it that he/she will never say something just to enhance his/her won reputation. there is always the temptation to add something that will "impress" others how smart/ pious/ religious we are. Runaway from that!]

JESUS SAT AND WATCHED THE WAY PEOPLE REALLY WERE AS THEY GAVE

Jesus observed giving styles:

Ted Turner, it is reported, has said he will donate $1 b (1 followed by 9 zeroes!) to a charity of his choice across ten years: 100 million a year! That may not be impressive to you. But then, too, Ted Turner is reported to have said that he wouldn't miss a "b" or two. A donation? or a commitment??

Jesus observed amounts given, some with a flair, some to be seen. But the only made comments on one gift.

JESUS SEEMED TO SAY THE SMALLEST OFFERING COULD ALSO BE THE LARGEST

It reflected a commitment, not just a donation:

It was a gift of faith in God, beyond the human machinery of the temple

It was an act of worship that symbolized the gift of all her very life.

Was Jesus saying large gifts are not important or necessary? Or was he saying that any time any person gives "self" away to God it is a gift larger than the world can understand?

It was a widow— 'whose houses are devoured by the corrupt religious leaders' So why would a poor widow cast in all she had?

Didn't she know about the corruption in the temple?

Didn't she hate the changes being made in the worship services?

Didn't she know the next generation was missing it?

Why did Jesus make comment? ... didn't the woman know her commitment wouldn't make a difference? ... maybe the giving was doing something for HER

William Willimon told about a man in his early seventies who found himself in a nursing home under supervised care. Rev. Willimon couldn't tell there was anything wrong with him— but then he found out the man had begun working in soup kitchens after his retirement— helping the poor. I suppose that was fine with his family. But then one day he wrote out a check for $100,000 and gave it to the soup kitchen. Right out of his savings. He couldn't be in his right mind!

Signe Porter's tithes and offerings. In a nursing home 120 miles removed from her church family— pleasant enough— but remote— I would make the trip just to see her. She would give me an envelope for the offering— just a few dollars. And I would take it. It wouldn't come near to covering the cost of the fuel to drive, nor the time it took. But every time I placed that money on the offering plates the next Sunday I had the sense of taking part in something wonderful and holy. It was something, I believe, of the same spirit of this poor widow woman Jesus was watching. She was where we all are, except she knew it— and she dared to give her all.

Whether in ministry— the ministry of our time and life, ordained or lay— or whether with our time and money— Jesus knows the difference between giving for lesser reasons and giving out of faith and love. I want to give God all that I am, and all that I have! How about you?

Prayer

Father in Heaven, You have given us your Son. You have given us Life. Thank you.
Please give us grace to be like You, we ask in Jesus' name. Amen.

Hymn - 463 More Love to Thee, O Christ

The Story of Ruth

November 9, 1997

Ruth 1:19 So they two went until they came to Bethlehem.

The story of Ruth is one of the most beautiful and romantic stories ever written. In fact, when Benjamin Franklin was United States Ambassador to France, he would occasionally attend the Infidels Club - a group of men who spent most of their time searching for and reading literary masterpieces. On one occasion Franklin read the book of Ruth to the club when it was gathered together, but changed the names in it so it would not be recognized as a book of the Bible. When he finished, they were unanimous in their praise. They said it was one of the most beautiful short stories that they had ever heard.

They demanded that he tell them where he had run across such a remarkable literary masterpiece. It was his great delight to tell them that it was from the Bible, which they professed to regard with great scorn and derision.

Well, anyway— the Book of Ruth is just four short chapters you can read in half an hour or so— and I recommend it as a 'good read.'

It starts out sort of like 'The Grapes of Wrath' with a family in trouble because of a drought and because it looked like a lot of people might die of starvation. So one man took his wife and two teenage sons and went looking for relief. He went eastward from Bethlehem and Jerusalem into the mountains of Moab. {You can see Moab from the hill around Jerusalem— and the hills look white as though they were snow-covered. But there is no snow— it is desert and hot— just light colored rock and sand.}

Anyway the family in the story moved to Moab but they never really made it very big. The two sons got old enough to marry, and married local girls, but then the father died. And before either son had become a father they both died and left the mother alone with her two Moabite daughters-in-law.

The Story of Ruth

It was a bad scene. She didn't have any means of support— she couldn't keep up the rent and put food on the table. So she said, "I'm going back home to Bethlehem. I have a few relatives there. That is where home for me will always be." And she got ready to leave.

Now this had to be a pretty remarkable woman, because when she got ready to go back to Bethlehem, which would be a foreign country to her daughters-in-law, BOTH of them said immediately, "We want to come along with you!" And they got their few little possessions together and started out.

But the woman— her name was Naomi— didn't want to impose her will on the girls. She told them, "You are both young and attractive. You won't have any trouble marrying again, here among your own people. Bethlehem is a long, long way from here and a lot different in many ways. Go on back and start over!"

It made a lot of sense, really. And one of the young widows, named Orpah, took Naomi's good advice. She hugged her mother-in-law and kissed her goodbye, and cried, and went back to her father's house in Moab. But the other young widow, Ruth— for whom the book is named— made a little speech that has become more famous than the Gettysburg Address. It goes something like this:

"Don't ask me to leave you or turn back from going with you, for where you go, I will go; wherever you lodge I will lodge; your people will be my people; your God will be my God; where you die, I will die and there I will be buried. The Lord be my witness that I mean it— nothing but death will ever part you and me!" Wow!

Then the Bible records (1:19) "So they two went on until they came to Bethlehem." And it turns out that Bethlehem became a 'house of bread' for them— it really became their home.

What happened just after they came to Bethlehem is part of that fascinating love story. Naomi told Ruth how to make herself attractive to the richest man in town, who just happened to be a bachelor relative of their late husbands. It sounds terribly manipulative, but actually it was pretty wonderful. I won't ruin all the good parts, but some of her advice was, "Now here's how we'll go about it:

"First, take a bath." I don't know what their bathing customs were back then. Once a month? Once a week? Maybe it wasn't the time for it, but go ahead anyway.

"Second, dab on some perfume." Wonder what it was? Chanel No. 1? Naomi's Mystique for Moabite Maidens? Not TOO much, now or it might give him a headache!

"Third, put on your best clothes." Wonder what the style was?

"Fourth, you go to the threshing floor and wait until he's had his fill of meat and drink." Naomi evidently believed that a man cannot think about love on an empty stomach, or at least can only think of one thing at a time.

"Fifth—" ... well I'm not going to tell you the rest of her advice because, well, just because!!

Actually all this advice was to enable Ruth to ask Boaz to be the go'el, the redeemer kinsman, to marry her and fulfill the Levite vows as found in Deut 25:5-10. And what do you know? It worked! Boaz, the confirmed bachelor, was smitten hard! He proposed on the spot— and one of the happiest marriages you can imagine was the result. And both Boaz and Ruth loved mother Naomi, and she got to enjoy her grandchildren.

And do you know what? This alien woman— this widow Moabite became the direct ancestor, the great-grandmother, of David the king, and is listed as a 'fore-mother' of Jesus Christ the Messiah Himself!

Now good story tellers just tell a story and let it go at that. But this one is too rich in one area for me to just let go. I need to say that Ruth left her home so she could go home. She needed to find Bethlehem— the 'house of bread' where she could live. Finding a HOME is a journey every one of us needs to make: The Necessity of Going to Bethlehem

Bethlehem means 'house of bread.' It is "home" or the place where we are fed. To be 'fed' means to me 'nourishment,' and is more than physical.

Where is your home? Where do you go? Where do you stay? Who are your people?
Where is your God? WHERE IS YOUR HOME?

The Story of Ruth

Every home is different. Yet those faithful people who try to put God at the center of their lives, to make God's will essential and not just convenient have one thing in common: there is a commitment, centered in the integrity of God. Spoken or unspoken there is a commitment to hang in there with God and with one another! "Where you go—I go!"

Every one of us decides where we will live, and what we will settle for as "home." Every one of us will be called on to leave, or at least, to go on past the home in which we were born and shaped. If you had strong Christian parents you may be daunted at ever living up to their standard.

If you had, God forbid, insincere parents who were Christian at church and something less at home you may be tempted to think there is nothing to this 'game' of being a Christian. If your home, like Ruth's, was not a believing home you may have to find help in your journey to Bethlehem.

But yes, there is a Bethlehem! There is a house of bread where you can live. There is a family that will take you in! And where that family is found— there is Bethlehem for you!

The church is our Bethlehem, or can be and should be. Our individual homes can become true Bethlehems, 'houses of bread' where we nurture and care for each other. (For a period in my life E.N.C. was a Bethlehem to me!)

Let me say it again: Everyone's home is different. Yet those faithful people who try to put God at the center of their lives, to make God's will essential and not just convenient have one thing in common: there is a commitment, centered in the integrity of God. There is the stability and comfort of love that goes beyond selfishness. "Bethlehem" doesn't depend on wealth or titles. It is where there is love.

I'm reminded of the story of a little girl on the first day of school. She was new in town and the teacher asked her where she lived. The little girl said that Mother and Father were still looking for a place to live. The teacher asked, "You mean you don't have a home?" And the little girl replied, "Oh, yes, teacher! We have a home; we just don't have a house to put it in yet."

- Make your spiritual home with God's people!
- Make the home where you live right now a place of trust and love!
- Stay on the road to Bethlehem all your life!
- Let God build your home!

Read #684 verses 1 & 2 then Sing #734 Prayer of St. Francis

The King and the Kingdom

November 23, 1997

Matthew 6:33 But seek first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness...

We've come full circle through another church year. But we aren't simply going around in circles. God's people are headed for glory! Real faith is going somewhere! And the reason is— JESUS CHRIST IS KING OF KINGS!

The idea of God as Sovereign is not particularly popular because it reveals God as God not the servant of man's ambitions. Even though God is love, and gave Jesus to die for us, WE are not the center of the Universe! This is a God-centered creation! It is RIGHT for us to worship and bow down before our great KING!

Three Old Testament psalms, Psalm 93, 97 and 99 all begin with the same phrase, "The Lord reigns! The Lord is KING!" Then each one reveals a different facet of the glory that is our King. First— the simple statement itself: The Lord reigns! To think of God as King to say that Jesus Christ is the King of Kings may not have the impact that the words deserve.

I. THE SOVEREIGNTY OF GOD

"The LORD reigneth!" [Jesus said: "All authority is given unto Me in heaven and in earth" (Matthew 28:18)]

- A. This is present tense truth Not "shall one day reign" ... but even NOW He is in charge. Certainly that raises many questions. We hold God accountable for all the injustices of the world in our puny courts of logic. I do not defend god that is as foolish as defending the sun when people throw mud at it. And I know it is a statement of faith, but I do declare: God IS and God is GOOD!
- B. The LORD himself is in charge Not some intermediate power, and not some impersonal force. Jesus declares that the authority is given to Him! It makes a difference when we pray.

God cares when we speak with Him. The cry of our hearts is heard at the center of all authority.

- C. To believe otherwise is to live in a pre-Copernican age, spiritually.

We have a God centered universe. The Universe is not centered around ME, or around YOU or even around the human race!

Even though the finest minds in philosophy and science cannot finally provide adequate theories to allow us to understand unifying patterns of all we can observe of creation, the Bible gives us this word which we may choose to believe: The LORD is in charge of His universe!

II. THE MAJESTY OF GOD'S SOVEREIGNTY

"He is clothed with majesty!" (Psalm 93:1) [Jesus declared: "Before Abraham was, I AM! (John 8:58)]

- A. How can we speak of the transcendent majesty of God? I pity those who cannot see His hand in the heavens. We do not worship creation. But creation speaks to us of a Creator. (The beauty all around us speaks to us of God!)
- B. The Psalmist sees God as unperturbed by the noise of many waters. He is not a figurehead ruler; the disasters and appalling happenings that threaten our very sanity are not beyond His control. (93:5) We may depend on God's WORD!

III. THE MERCY OF GOD'S SOVEREIGNTY

- "Let the earth rejoice! (97:1)" [Jesus said: "I am come that they might have life..." (John 10:10)]

- A. [Majesty is not always synonymous with caring, but] THIS majestic (transcendent) One is also involved with a people which He calls His own. This great God "preserves the soul of His saints"(v10) Certainly there is MYSTERY here! But God will make Himself known to us all. If we SEEK, we shall FIND. IF we will listen, God will speak.

B. This great God "preserves the soul of His saints"(v10) He takes care of His own!

1. To say that God overcomes evil is not a simplistic statement. We may never understand all that is involved here. I sincerely believe that we do not need to become experts in evil but true Christians are specialists in belonging to God] God's people are called to a clear clean separation from evil (v 10) "Ye that love the Lord, hate evil." [It is a mark of low spiritual attainment to continually ask 'What is wrong with this?' or 'Can I do that and be a Christian?' The person who loves the Lord lives in order to draw nearer to Him. What offends the Holy Spirit offends those who are His temple.]

The LORD (Himself) is the touchstone of that righteousness. (v 12) "Rejoice in the LORD!" Not in the certainty that "we are right."

2. I am interested in democratic process and in doing what I can in saving the United States of America. But God is NOT American, and He is not committed to preserving our way of life as WE see fit. God may well be more interested in you than he is in any institution! If I understand the teachings of Jesus, YOU will be alive and conscious long after the United States of America is ancient history! The church of Jesus Christ will be Christ's BODY eternally! Are you in tune with that fact?

IV. THE MIGHT OF GOD'S SOVEREIGNTY

"Let the people tremble! (99:1)" (From Revelation 1:17 18) John the Beloved says "I fell at His feet as a dead man" And Jesus, the glorified Savior King lays his hand on John and says: Do not be afraid; I am the First and the Last, and the Living One; and I was dead, and behold I am alive forevermore, and I have the keys of death and of Hades."

- A. The Old Testament Psalm gives us just a glimpse of God seated between the cherubim. Majestic, YES! LOVING, certainly! But staggering the earth in His holiness. He is executing judgment in Jacob (v 4) The God who is faithful in nature and in creation ... faithful in mercy and loving-kindness .. faithful and just to forgive when we confess our sins ... is also faithful in judgment.

The first part of the New Testament is mostly about the earthly ministry of Jesus, the meek and lowly Nazarene. But that is not how the New Testament ends!

- B. All mankind shall be judged by our response to the Word Christ brought into this world, A word of love and of justice. Christ's love and Christ's justice are not decided democratically. We begin to define them and to understand them only as we come down off the throne of our own kingdoms, and acknowledge Him Lord. There is NO holiness apart from God. ONLY God is holy! All holiness is HIS! But there is GRACE! God accepts sinners! In fact He ONLY accepts sinners!

CONCLUSION: Why speak of this [God's Sovereignty] at all?

- A. Maybe I am reminding myself, (and maybe you, too) as I think again of the greatness and goodness and holiness of God, that whatever it takes, I need to seek repentance and a drawing near to Him. This great king is available to us—
- B. Certainly as an act of worship! I have tried in a pitifully small way to lift up the sovereignty of God so that we might desire to exercise our highest privilege, of (ongoing) worship.

We do not have to wait until Sunday to tell God we love Him! We don't have to wait until we die to sing God's praises! Somehow I feel that when a humble boy or girl or man or woman really worships, there is an echo that sounds throughout eternity! GOD TAKES NOTICE!

"So you are a king?" These words by Pontius Pilate seems so far removed from the questions we ask today about Jesus. Because of our culture and who we are, the idea of kingship doesn't compute very well and, in some cases for some people, it is an abhorrent term. Yet, isn't this the question we all ask about Jesus, in one way or another? "Are you a king?" And whether Christ is King or not, depends upon how we answer our own question. It was only a few weeks ago that Jesus said this to his disciples "Who do people say that I am?" (Mark 8:27) He then turned the same question directly upon them, "But who do you say that I am?" (Mark 8:28) Pilate says, "So you are a king?" To Pilate, he didn't seem to be a King but, is he king? What do you say? Is He king?

What would it mean to you and me if Jesus Christ was king just NOW in our lives? What would mean here in our church if we made Jesus Christ king? Would it make any difference? What about in our denomination? What would it mean to Quincy and Boston and the surrounding towns, if Jesus Christ was recognized as `king'? How I would like to know!!

PRAYER (contemporary language)

Almighty and everlasting God, whose will it is to restore all things in your well beloved Son, the King of kings and Lord of lords: grant that all the peoples of the earth, divided and enslaved by sin, may be freed and brought together under his most gracious rule; who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen.

The Hope of Redemption

Advent I - The Feast of St. Andrew

November 30, 1997

1 Thessalonians 3:9-13

Luke 21:28 Raise your heads!

Your redemption is drawing near.

Three simple statements about God emerge from the scriptures for this first Sunday of Advent. "Advent," the word, is about anticipation: appearance, approach, arrival, coming, commencement. The basic message of the Bible is that we have a God who comes to where we are. The three wonderful statements, then, about our God are simply: God comes! God comes looking! God comes loving!

I. GOD COMES

If you can believe that, then every other question is secondary, and can be dealt with later. If God gets involved in human affairs there is hope. If you do NOT believe that, if God never comes to where we are, then everything else is chaos, and we may as well go home now.

The miracle of miracles is that God IS, and that he associates with his creation. If you believe Genesis 1:1, and John 3:16, then the words of our text from the lips of Jesus: "Look up! Your redemption is near!" can also be believed.

The miracle of miracles is that God has made us, and has made us for himself. We may not know where we are in either time or space, but God comes! God knows! God cares! God knows where this tiny planet earth orbits a little star in a small galaxy among countless galaxies— and more than that, God knows and cares where you slept last night, and why you came to church this morning! Our God comes!

II. GOD COMES LOOKING

In the Beginning -In the creation story, in the Garden of Eden, after man and woman had lost their innocence God came striding through the green glory of his creation calling, "Adam! Where are you?" God was very evidently calling in love. The story makes it clear that Adam and Eve and God had had some sort of fellowship; walking in the cool of the day. After the guilty pair had hidden in shame God came looking for them. There was an accountability, yes. But there was concern, and love, and provision.

Not Just in the Beginning - That call to Adam and Eve is repeated in your life and mine over and over again. If we stop just for a moment, even if we are hiding somewhere in shame, we hear that Voice calling our name! God comes looking! God comes calling! The First Advent of Jesus was when God came looking for every one of us. By the Cross of Christ where Jesus died for our sins, and by his Holy Spirit God still comes looking for men and women who will walk with him.

At the End of Time as We Know it - Advent reminds us that there will be a Parousia—a time of revealing, when all the world will hear the call: "ADAM! WHERE ARE YOU?" That is what the Luke 21 passage is saying. These words of Jesus have been a source of controversy across the centuries. Distress, and fear, and the shaking of the very powers of heaven, and in the same breath redemption and great glory. Taken literally, they seem to say that before the people Jesus was talking to had died the end of the world would come. Two thousand years later, the earth is still here. Still Jesus said: Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away. We can get hung up in trying to find some esoteric code, or we can plunge into the truth that we live by trusting Jesus, and He is coming again to meet every one of us.

One person's hope is another person's terror. When Jesus calls we will run with joy to meet him, or we will go looking for fig leaves to cover our nakedness.

Jesus wants us to lift up our heads and greet Him with joy!

III. GOD COMES LOVING!

How do we go about lifting up our heads— anticipating our meeting with God with JOY?

This whole Christmas Season is about one kind or other of anticipation— or, in most cases, some mixture of both kinds. The climax of the Christmas Parade this afternoon is the coming of Santa. Santa has a list, and he checks it twice— to see who is naughty and nice. But it doesn't matter— he is always jolly, and doesn't really intrude into your personal life.

The climax of Advent anticipation is a little different. One who came as a Baby in a Manger is coming this Second Time as a King. The king is coming— he is coming, looking for you. He is coming in love, calling your name and mine! "Adam! Where are you?"

One person's dread is another person's anticipation. People who tell exactly how the Second Coming will take place will always have a following— and will always be wrong. [The end was eminent in Scotland in the year 700 A.D., in Italy in 1260; in Holland in 1533; in England in 1843; in New York City in 1914; London in 1934 and in Grannis, Arkansas in 1976. A person named "Edgar Whisenut" wrote a book called 88 reasons why Jesus will come in '88— September 11,12, or 13!! But NO ONE except the Father, can know the time and place when Jesus will come.] Before Paul had written 1 Thessalonians people had already started having trouble with the idea of Christ's Coming. Peter also spoke exactly to this mystery: (He wrote)

(2 Peter 3:3-) "... scoffers will come . . .saying 'Where is the promise of his coming? ...all things continue as they were from the beginning of creation...' But then he goes on to say, "But beloved, do not forget this one thing, that with the Lord one day is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some count slackness, but is long-suffering toward us, not willing that any should perish but that all should come to repentance."

A key word in both Paul's and Peter's handling of the Second Coming is the word blameless. They both tell us exactly HOW we can we genuinely look forward to meeting Jesus Christ face to face without shame! "Add that which is lacking in your faith," writes Paul (I Thess 3:10), "so that you can be blameless at Christ's coming." Peter says exactly the same thing: (2 Peter 1:1-5) He writes: "Add to your faith!"

The Hope of Redemption

Are these men saying we aren't saved if we aren't perfect and complete? Are they saying we need something beside faith to be saved? No, rather they are saying a genuine faith will be a living, growing thing. If our faith brings us into saving relationship with God, then it will be a living, growing faith.

Peter says, "Add to your faith virtue— and to virtue knowledge, and to knowledge self-control, and to self-control perseverance, and to perseverance godliness, and to godliness brotherly kindness— and top it all off with love, genuine love!

There is a great deal of difference between being blameless and faultless. By God's grace we can run to meet this God who comes when he comes calling for us! God comes! He comes looking! He comes looking for your love!!

Prayer

O Father God, grant us grace to turn away from all the works of darkness, and put upon us the armor of light. Now in this mortal life, in which your Son Jesus Christ came be one with us in great humility, help us know and love you; that in the last day, when he shall come again in his glorious majesty to judge all the peoples of the earth, living and dead, we may rise unashamed to join him in the life eternal; through him who liveth and reigneth with thee and the Holy Ghost, one God, now and for ever. Amen. (prayer adapted from American BCP)

#554 - It is Well with my Soul (or, Jesus, You are My Life)

Highway of Hope

Advent II

"Prepare ye the way of the Lord"

December 7, 1997

Luke 3:1-6

Advent is a time to prepare.

Exactly fifty-six years ago December 7 was also a Sunday. Although I don't remember it, our family went to church in the morning, went home to Sunday dinner, and I suppose for us it was just another ordinary Sunday. My father never allowed us to listen to the radio on Sunday, although he made an exception for Toscaninni and the NBC symphony in the afternoon. So we had no way of knowing what was going on half way around the world. But fifty-six years later I can still remember exactly where I was, as we came down the church stairs into the 'NYPS auditorium,' and I can still remember what time it was and who told us that our nation had been attacked at Pearl Harbor in Hawaii, and that we were now at war. Today is the 56th anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

History tells us that our admirals and generals knew of the danger of such an attack but they did not take it seriously. Radar was in its infancy, but the radar outposts clearly saw squadrons of airplanes approaching Hawaii from the north that were not from any American carrier or base. Still none of the warnings was considered seriously. And so a tragedy occurred which led to the deaths of thousands of American young men in uniform.

Advent is a little like a warning— it tells of a God who comes looking for our love. There is ample warning and enough time for us to get ready to greet this God with joy. The key to whether or not his coming is a time for hiding or a time for fellowship lies in the kind of preparation we are willing to make.

1. A Savior at a particular time in a particular place: The gospel lesson today introduces John the Baptist. The writer, Luke, emphasizes the exact time when John was preaching and the political circumstances into which Jesus entered the world arena. It's important that Luke is so specific in times and dates; he intends us to see that God came down at a particular time into a very specific political situation. The Baptist told the people that soon they would meet Messiah, and that Messiah wanted to baptize them all with the Holy Spirit and fire. But first they needed to prepare. And many of them did just that. They confessed their sins, they repented, they were baptized as a sign they were looking for Messiah's coming.

Last week, on the first Sunday in Advent, we said that God comes, and that he comes looking, calling "Adam! Where are you?!" He comes calling your name and mine. The message of John the Baptist, that God's imminent coming is a time for preparing, is still as valid today as it was when he first preached it. The need for repentance extends to all mankind.

Repentance basically means "a turning." It means a change of directions, or a willingness to change the directions of our lives.

2. God comes looking. The initiative is his. He is looking for a response of trust, of love, of turning. He comes to us so we can be together. But the turning is on our part (Amos 3:3 "Can two walk together unless they are agreed?") We need to agree with God. Perhaps we think we don't have many (if any) sins. But maybe we need to clean our spiritual eyeglasses.

Remember a couple of years ago the problem with the Hubble Space Telescope—it had a flaw in a mirror which prevented it from focusing clearly? The manufacturer's mistake had rendered the $1.5 billion telescope almost useless. After a 5-month investigation, a NASA panel uncovered what had gone wrong. The NASA engineers learned of the flaw before Hubble was launched because of a test by a "null corrector," as it is called. It is the principal optical instrument used to test the telescope and measure the progress of the polishing. They discounted the results of the test, however, because "engineers working on the mirror were confident that their primary test instrument had been assembled so carefully that it could not be giving false readings." But it was giving false readings, they learned too late. Their testing instrument, in which they had placed complete trust, so much so that they refused to consider the warning signs that it had not been "so carefully" assembled.

There's an Advent message here. Within us there is a spiritual "instrument" that tells us, if we'll heed it, that the time has come for us to admit our flaws, to confess our sins, and so to prepare to meet the Savior.

If you thinks sins are first of all what you DO— you might think again! Your sins may be attitudes— they might be who or what is really at the center of your life— creeping into crowd out the Life God wants to share...anything and everything that makes meeting this God who is coming something to fear instead of something to anticipate with joy.

3. God comes to us along the highway of our simply turning to him.

Reporter Terry Anderson was imprisoned in Lebanon for more than six and a half years, 2,454 days, ending in 1985. At first he was blindfolded most of the time and held in chains. He was losing his capacity to think. When asked what he wanted, he replied that he wanted a Bible. An object thumped onto his bed. He removed his blindfold and found a Bible. He began to read, starting with Genesis.

Terry Anderson was raised as a Roman Catholic but had not been practicing his faith for many years. That Bible was like a gift from heaven. He read and read, and thought about his life. He had lots of time to think. He wanted to confess that he had hurt his first wife and daughter. He wanted to confess his many mistakes and his arrogance. He wasn't sure that people liked him and he certainly didn't like himself very much.

Later in the first year of his captivity, Terry Anderson became aware that other hostages were living next door. One was a priest, Father Lawrence Jenco. He asked the guards if he could see the priest. "I am a Catholic and I want to make a confession," he said. His captors agreed and Father Jenco came to Terry Anderson's room. Both men took off their blindfolds. It had been 25 years since he had made a confession. Father Jenco gently encouraged him. Terry Anderson began telling the priest of his sins. There was much to confess! A bad marriage. Casing other women. Drinking. It was a tremendously emotional experience. When he had finished, both he and Father Jenco were in tears. Father Jenco then laid his right hand upon Anderson's head and proclaimed, "In the name of a gentle, loving God, you are forgiven." This was a turning point in Terry Anderson's life. His faith deepened. He had begun the process of turning around, leaving the darkness and facing the light. This is what repentance is like.

When the Bible says that John came preaching "Good news," we wonder how Luke can call confessing our sins and repentance "good news." Then we see that it is only in confessing our sins and repenting that we open the way for Jesus to come to us. He is waiting to hear us say, "Come, O Christ! I need You! I want You to take away my sin and walk with me!" Do you see that in this light, repentance is truly "good news,?" It becomes the Highway of Hope, because it opens us up to life with the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

We still have: A Savior at a particular time in a particular place:

John told the people there at the Jordan River that if they would repent Messiah would come! This same Jesus Christ is just as interested in your life and mine— and by His Spirit He is here just now in this Advent service. I know we are "anticipating" his coming. But don't miss the full message— he came, he comes, he is coming again— and he comes where meek souls will receive him. Not receive a creed or a doctrine— no matter how true or important— nor receive a fellowship in a church, although that will come in due time— but first of all— make a way to receive this Savior and Friend into your life right where you are today!

Joy in His Coming

December 14, 1997

Luke 3:18 (John) preached good news unto the people

Zephaniah 3:14-20; Isaiah 12:2-6; Philippians 4:4-7; Luke 3:7-18

Everybody ought to have at least one friend like John the Baptist. I know this is the man who wore strange clothing, and who ate locusts and wild honey. This is the man who shouted at people, and strode through the desert regions crying, "Prepare ye the way of the Lord!" But when I say we could use a friend like John, it isn't his appearance or his diet, or even the fact that he was a great prophet or preacher that I'm thinking about. Just what kind of friend do I think that John the Baptist might be?

That friend would have the courage to be real. He would accept me as I was, but at the same time, he would have enough respect for me to tell me where he thought I might be headed for trouble. A friend like John the Baptist would lay it on the line: "This is how it is!" But the best thing about a friend like John the Baptist, if we ever had one, would be a confidence that God wanted to make a difference in my life! With a friend like that there would always be room for HOPE! Wouldn't it be wonderful to have a friend like that?

Today's Theme for Advent is JOY! The scripture readings are all about casting away fears, and rejoicing because the King of Kings has promised to come to be with his people.

Zephaniah (3:14) says "Sing aloud! Be glad, rejoice- the King is here and we won't see evil any more!" Isaiah (12:2) shouts: "God is my salvation! I will trust and not be afraid! With JOY we draw water from the wells of salvation!" And from his jail cell where he wrote the letter to the Philippians, (4), Paul tells us all: "Rejoice! Rejoice!! The LORD is near! Don't be care-full and troubled, but instead cast your worry on the Lord!"(par.) The theme for the day is joy!

So when we first read it, then, John's words in the wilderness, calling people "snakes" and threatening God's judgment seems not to fit at all with "Rejoice in the Lord always," and "Rejoice and exult with all your heart," and "Shout aloud and sing for joy," these other readings for this Sunday, the Sunday of Joy, (or "Gaudete" Sunday, from the Latin term for "rejoice.") So, is John the Baptist and his rugged message out of place here? Not at all!!

Like a true friend, John is preparing us to meet God with JOY instead of shame. John is telling us that true repentance is not just saying you're sorry! Gospel repentance involves a change in the way you live your life.

If we are resisting God's love, and don't want to change our ways to walk with Him, John's message will seem harsh and mean spirited. If we realize our friend is telling us that God is coming, calling for us, and this is how we get ready to meet Him, then John's call to repentance really GOOD NEWS! It is an invitation to a permanent relationship with the King of Kings.

Everybody ought to have at least one friend like John the Baptist.

John did not try to impress people or 'make points' for himself— a friend like him would be a HUMBLE friend! ("He must increase— I must decrease") John was not afraid to tell the truth wherever he was— he would be an HONEST friend. (It got him into big trouble; but not with God!)

But John was also SENSITIVE and even GENTLE. He did not expect all the people to be like he was— pacing through the desert. His message was SIMPLE: Let LOVE change your life! Share your wealth! Give clothing— give food!

John said: Start where you are and live out your repentance! The people said, "What does that mean?" John said, "Loving is giving and sharing!" Then the (reviled) tax collectors said, "What about us?" John did NOT tell them to enter a monastery. He did not even tell them to quit their hated jobs. He just said, "Bring God's fairness into where you work!" Then even soldiers— armed and trained warriors— said, "What about us?" John said, "You don't have to wear camel hair clothes and eat bugs like me— just be good, honest, just soldiers!"

No wonder the people came! Just getting ready for Messiah— even before he comes— gets to be exciting! God is pleased!! and this is JOY: THIS IS GOOD NEWS!

Everybody ought to have at least one friend like John the Baptist.

John was the Introducer— the Announcer— the one who says, "Heeerrre's JESUS!" He told the people: Behold! The Lamb of God! He introduced people to Jesus, and Jesus brought them life and light and joy!

There is a sense in which we do have a friend like John the Baptist! We have the Holy Spirit, the Bible, and the church to tell us that God comes calling "Adam! Where are you?" Comes calling out your name and mine. All the graces of the Body of Christ combine to bring Jesus near to you and me. We have heard the word: Repent! Turn! Lay aside lesser loves! Share what you are! Share what you have! Behold! The Lamb of God! We hear it again in the scripture today. Everybody ought to have at least one friend like John the Baptist.

I have had people who have been for me my John the Baptist! I have had a friend or two that could look me in the eye and say, "You need to change your direction!" Have you had a John the Baptist in your life? If you have, you are blessed!

By the grace of God it may be that you and I can grow to be someone's John the Baptist! Maybe we could, by the help of the Holy Spirit, be real— and loving— and honest— and caring— until we could introduce people to Jesus.

If we can ourselves prepare, and draw near, and seek God's face during these days of Advent, and if our repentance filters out into sharing and caring— then we just might find as we try to help others that we, ourselves, will find a deeper blessing this Christmas than we have known before! And that just might be why we can call this Sunday a time for rejoicing.

Prayer

Stir up your power, O Lord, and with great might come among us; and, because we have no power or strength of ourselves, let your bountiful grace and mercy lead us in your will and way, and deliver us from evil; through Jesus Christ our Lord, to whom,

Joy in His Coming

with you and the Holy Spirit, be honor and glory, now and for ever. Amen. Hymn:
Open My Eyes #461 Silently now I wait for Thee

Responsible Love: The Gift of God

December 21, 1997

Advent IV

Ephesians 3:17 ... so that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith

3:19 ... that you may be filled up to all the fullness of God

Ephesians 3:17 21

Introduction

Christmas is a lot of different things to every one of us! Christmas is wonderful!

Christmas is exhausting! Christmas is expensive! Christmas is expectations!

Christmas is love! Christmas can and often does reflect the many sides of what we mean when we say the word "love."

I. CHRISTMAS AND LOVE AND GIVING

- A. CONDESCENDING LOVE - Like a parent to a small child: sometimes love at Christmas means saying "It's wonderful!" when you open a present.

Some of the presents I made or bought for my father and mother when I was small were pretty awful. But somehow they actually seemed to cherish them. What you really mean is "It's wonderful that you thought enough of me to give me a present but, really, what do we need an ash tray for when nobody smokes in our house?"

- B. REFLECTED LOVE - There is a joy in seeing other people who seem to be happy. Sometimes love at Christmas means nearly bursting with joy when the beautiful boys and girls of the Sunday School sing about the Babe in the manger.

- C. COMPASSIONATE LOVE - Sometimes love at Christmas means thinking about Mary and Joseph and what it means even in our time to desperately need a place to stay the night. That kind of love might make an on-going gift to the Quincy Crisis Center (shameless plug!)

- D. "PRESENCE! KIND OF LOVE!" - With loved ones, of course! But best of all with God Himself! Emmanuel! Sometimes the deepest significance of the Season dawns on us once again! Sometimes we have a "holy moment," when it seems that God Himself draws near, and we know that He really does love us tenderly. And what more could we ever ask? There is a higher level of love!
- E. RESPONSIBLE LOVE! (cf Maddox Responsible Grace) Maybe sometimes, just sometimes, love at Christmas might be saying, "Thank You God! You seem to have done all the giving! What can I get You for Christmas??" Maybe that the best Christmas love is not expressed until "gifts are exchanged" at this highest relationship of all! God's wonderful, gracious Gift to us may be echoed by the gift of our love and our trust to God! [What do you get a God who has everything?] - The life of Mary, the Mother of Our Lord, tells us how God needs human love to carry his gift of Life to the world He loves so very much.

II. THE RESPONSIBLE LOVE OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY

- A. She was the first one to know that there was going to be that First Christ-mas. We call the occasion when Mary found out "THE ANNUNCIATION." God sent an angel, Gabriel, to visit Mary. The story is found in Luke 1:26-38:

Now in the sixth month [of Elizabeth's pregnancy] the angel Gabriel was sent from God to a city in Galilee, called Nazareth, to a virgin engaged to a man whose name was Joseph, of the descendants of David; and the virgin's name was Mary.

And coming in, he said to her, "Hail, O woman richly blessed! The Lord is with you!"

But she was greatly troubled at this statement, and kept pondering what kind of salutation this might be. And the angel said to her, "Do not be afraid, Mary; for you have found favor with God. And behold you will conceive in your womb, and bear a son, and you shall name Him Jesus.

"He will be great, and will be called the Son of the Most High; and the Lord God will give Him the throne of His father David; and He will reign over the house of Jacob forever; and His kingdom will have no end."

And Mary said to the angel, "How can this be, since I know no man?"

And the angel answered and said to her, "The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you; and for that reason the holy offspring shall be called the Son of God.

"And behold, even your relative Elizabeth has also conceived a son in her old age; and she who was called barren is now in her sixth month. For nothing will be impossible with God."

And Mary said, "Behold the bondservant of the Lord; be it done to me according to your word." And the angel departed from her.

- B. THIS STORY IS "HOLY GROUND" to me. We stand in awe of the way God chose to become one with us; it was a unique a ONE TIME HAPPENING in the history of our world. I believe it literally, actually, physically and spiritually took place: God became incarnate in the womb of a virgin. GOD COULD HAVE SENT His Son full grown, a perfect Man formed from nothing; He chose instead to ask a beautiful teenager if she would be the mother of a very special, very human baby Boy.
- C. This is deeply significant: GOD CHOSE TO BRING HIS WORD TO EARTH THROUGH A COMBINATION OF SUPERNATURAL AND VERY HUMAN MEANS.
 - 1. The Annunciation was divine miracle. But Mary had to make a very human decision. Mary made that decision: she said, "Behold the handmaiden of the Lord!"
 - 2. The Conception was a divine miracle; the Baby grew within her, the Gift of the Ages was, like all babies, a miracle of creation beyond her understanding or ability.
 - 3. GOD STILL ENLISTS A COMBINATION OF SUPERNATURAL AND VERY HUMAN MEANS WHENEVER HE REVEALS HIMSELF and His love to this needy world! God could preach sermons and bind up wounds and speak out against evil by sending fantastic creatures; He chooses to use human, imperfect, stum-bling men and women like you and me.

D. MARY'S WILLINGNESS IS A VITAL LINK IN GOD'S PLAN.

Yes, Mary was blessed and highly favored. But God's purpose was not for Mary's benefit alone. The Gift was for the whole world, to the glory of God. Mary reflects this in "THE MAGNIFICAT" [the response she gave to the affirmation or worship of her unborn child she received from her cousin, Elizabeth: Luke 1:46 55:]

And Mary said: "My soul exalts the Lord. And my spirit has rejoiced in God my Savior. For He has had regard for the humble state of His bondservant; For behold, from this time on all generations will count me blessed. For the Mighty One has done great things for me; and Holy is His Name. AND HIS MERCY IS UPON GENERATION AFTER GENERATION TOWARD THOSE WHO FEAR HIM. He has done mighty things with His arm; He has scattered those who were proud in the thoughts of their heart. He has brought down rulers from their thrones, and He has exalted those who were humble. He has filled the hungry with good things; And sent the rich away empty handed. He has given help to Israel His servant, In remembrance of His mercy, As He spoke to our fathers, To Abraham and his offspring forever."

As she praises God, Mary is grateful for what has happened to her, and that is only right; but THE CENTER OF HER PRAISE IS GOD HIMSELF.

III. OUR CHALLENGE TO RESPONSIBLE LOVE TO GOD

- A. IT IS NOT A NEW THOUGHT that at Christmas we should let the Christ "be born in us today!" In fact, it is a common theme among Christians: Let Jesus in! Make room for Jesus in our hearts! One poet put it this way:

*Though Christ a thousand times
In Bethlehem be born,
Yet not within your heart
Your heart is still forlorn!*

IT IS NOT A NEW THOUGHT that Christ within is the Source of Life and Light and all spiritual blessing. We say: "Yes! There is room in our hearts! Be born in us!" We rejoice in the Name "God with us! Emmanuel!" But this is all about our salvation— about what God is doing for us!

B. What we dare not forget is that like Mary, WE MUST ACCEPT THE RESPONSIBILITY AS WELL AS THE HONOR OF SHARING THE LIFE of Christ that God has placed within us! There is only one Blessed Virgin Mary, and she is unique in her place of honor. But believe it or not, God comes to every one of us who will listen, and asks us if we will bring Christ into the world!

I know that is almost sounds sacrilegious to say it, BUT GOD STILL USES A COMBINATION OF SUPERNATURAL AND VERY HUMAN MEANS TO BRING HIS WORD, HIS SON JESUS TO THOSE WHO NEED HIM!

What do we give a God who fills the Universe? Remember the words to the carol "In the Bleak Midwinter" ??

*What can I give him, poor as I am?
If I were a shepherd I would bring him a lamb;
If I were a wise man, I would do my part;
Yet what can I give him give him my heart.*

SOMEHOW YOUR WILLINGNESS IS VITAL TO GOD'S PLAN. IT WON'T MAKE LIFE EASIER, OR LESS COMPLICATED. IT DIDN'T MAKE MARY'S LIFE EASIER!!

CHRIST WITHIN YOU AND ME WILL MEAN SOME MISUNDERSTANDING AND SOME BURDENS FOR US AS WELL.

The Apostle Paul prayed that the Church the church of HIS time as well as YOU and ME this very day might know this miracle. Ephesians (3:17 21). I read from the translation by Eugene H. Peterson called The Message:

I ask (the Father) to strengthen you by his Spirit— not a brute strength but a glorious inner strength— that Christ will live in you as you open the door and invite him in. And I ask him that with both feet planted firmly on love, you'll be able to take in with all Christians the extravagant dimensions of Christ's love. Reach out and experience the breadth! Test its length! Plumb the depths! Rise to the heights! Live full lives, full in the fullness of God.

God can do anything, you know— far more than you could ever imagine or guess or request in your wildest dreams! He does it not by pushing us around but by working within us, his Spirit deeply and gently within us.

Glory to God in the church!

Glory to God in the Messiah, in Jesus!

Glory down through all the generations!

Glory through all millennia! Oh, yes!

Conclusion:

There is no question about the wonderful Gift God has given to us all at Christmas! We have the gift of grace of life eternal through the gift of God's Son.

But may there be a gift exchange as well! May we say with all the love we can bring to prayer: Behold the handmaid of the Lord! Behold the bondservant of the Lord! Lord, Here's my heart! Love this world through me! Amen!

Prayer

(Will you join me in a time of prayer— just a bit longer than usual at the end of a sermon: Will you pray in your heart— and thank God for His gift of grace to you?)

We thank you for coming to Mary, and for her willingness to obey Your Holy will whatever the cost might be to her.

We thank you for coming to us— and unworthy as we may be, we ask for grace to respond to your love. We ask you to have your holy way in all our lives. Let us magnify the Lord, and exalt His name together!

Bless us this Christmas Week - - grant safe travel to those coming and going to meet with loved ones - - grant to those who are in the darkness of despair, or of want, or need of any kind a new light in their darkness.

Lord God, hear the hearts of this congregation today!

Accept the responsible love of our hearts!

169 StL O Little Town of Bethlehem

Word of Life

Christmas Eve Homily

December 24, 1997

Luke 2; John 1

A simple story is what has brought us together here tonight. Christmas is so many big and wonderful things we sometimes forget how small and wonderful was the beginning.

A worried husband trying to find a place for his wife, who is about to have her first baby. A young mother in a cave-stable behind a small town inn. A brand new baby Boy. And then angels and shepherds. And later a Star, and wise men. And now, 2,000 years later hundreds of carols, and thousands of different Christmas traditions, and literally millions of personal memories.

The prophets told how there would be a light shining for people who sat in darkness. And then Luke told this simple story. Scriptures clearly said to look for One whose name would be 'Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace.' And then came this simple story. The world looked for a conqueror. God sent a Baby.

That Baby was God's final Word. By 'final' I do not mean a threat or an ultimatum, or anything like that. I simply mean that what God has to say to the world, to you and to me, He has finally said, and is still saying, in Life that began in that stable on the first Christmas so long ago.

Luke tells the simple story from birth to the Cross to the Ascension. John begins his story by calling this One who was born in Bethlehem, "the Word!" He writes: "And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we beheld His glory, glory as of the only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth."

When we put these two introductions of Jesus Christ together the story grows and glows until we find that every one of us has the privilege to take a place in the Reality of God's great Gift!

In this Baby of Bethlehem, John tells us, God has lighted a light that shines to every person in all Creation. "That was the light," John wrote, "that lights everyone who has come into the earth." The WORD of LIGHT is not limited to Jewish people at Christ's time, nor to Catholics or to Protestants, or to any race or nation. God's WORD is meant to shine wherever there is darkness.

[Whatever darkness there may be in YOUR life just now, this WORD is more than a good feeling at holiday time! Good news! The Baby of Bethlehem is very much alive, and through Him God is shining into dark places!]

In this Christmas Story, John tells us, God is speaking a word of LOVE and of FAMILY. "As many as receive HIM," John wrote, "to THEM he gives the privilege to become sons and daughters of God Himself!" The WORD of LOVE and FAMILY says to all people everywhere that they can come to know God, and to call Him "Father." Through this Baby of Bethlehem we are offered the blessings of ADOPTION, and of NEW LIFE along with the assurance of FORGIVENESS OF SINS! All that from the simple story of one Baby's birth!

[There is an alone-ness and a loneliness to being human. We become separated from loved ones by distance. We become separated by silly quarrels and misunderstanding. We separate ourselves by stupid quirks of disposition. In our society divorce often does great damage with irreparable tears in relationships. For many of us here this evening, our loved ones have been removed from our presence by death. God Himself cannot change what has been done— but in this Babe of Bethlehem there IS the promise: "If you will let Me enter your life, you can be part of My Family! My Father will be YOUR Father! My brothers and sisters will be YOUR brothers and sisters! You will never be alone again!]

God has spoken a Word. It is a Word of Light. It is a Word of Life. It is a Word of LOVE. It is a FAMILY Word! Christmas is a truth for real people!

But the Christmas story is never complete until it has been received. If you have never welcomed Jesus Christ into your life, you can receive Him right now! December 24, 1997 in the Wollaston Church of the Nazarene you can receive the Lord Jesus Christ into your personal history. Receive Him as you are- Receive Him as you are led of God's Spirit.

The invitation to the Lord's Table is open to all who will come humbly to receive Him! Receive Him by yourself - with a friend - with your entire family. Receive Him, be a part of God's family!!

—

December 24, 1997

THE HOLY COMMUNION for Christmas Eve

All who truly repent of your sins, and who truly seek to worship the Lord Christ, and all who will acknowledge Jesus Christ 'Lord,' and all who desire to walk in His ways—draw near with faith and receive this Holy Sacrament to your soul's comfort.

The Lord Jesus Christ has said: Hear, O Israel, the Lord our God is ONE. Thou shalt love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind. The second commandment is like unto the first: Thou shalt love your neighbor as yourself. On these hang all the law and the prophets. Shall we pray:

Search us, O God, and know our most private thoughts. Try us, and show unto us the deepest motives, the real state of our hearts. Forgive us where we have been selfish, or insensitive, or sinful in any way. We cannot keep the Great Commandment, and truly love You, O God, with all our heart, soul, and mind unless You in mercy grant to us the grace of Your indwelling Spirit. We cannot love each other as we should unless Your love is shed abroad in our hearts.

Prayer of Confession and Absolution (in lieu of printed confession, on behalf of all truly taking part)

Lord, You see us here as we are. We confess that we need your grace: we have left undone those things which we ought to have done; we have done those things which we ought not to have done— there is no health in us.

But You, Lord, are gracious, and plenteous in grace and mercy. Forgive us all our transgressions, and grant to us Your great peace.

Lord, You have said that You are faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. You do forgive all those who confess to You, and who come to You in humble faith. Help us to draw near to You this Christmas Eve we pray. Let us Affirm our faith:

#67 STL (Responsive Te Deum Laudamus)

The Words of Institution

Father God: The same night in which he was betrayed our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had given thanks to You he broke it and gave it to his disciples and said, "Take eat: THIS IS MY BODY, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me.

Likewise after supper he took the cup and when he had given thanks he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you; THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink this, do it in remembrance of me:

We praise you for the mystery of our salvation! We truly believe Christ has died! - Christ is Risen! - Christ will come again! Amen

The Informal Invitation

("This is not my table . . .wherever you are in your spiritual journey, if the Host invites you, Come! Let us pray:)

We do not presume to come to this table trusting in our own righteousness. But your Word tells us, Holy and gracious Father, that in your infinite love you sent Jesus Christ, your only and eternal Son, to reconcile us to You, the God and Father of all.

This same Jesus, born in Bethlehem, has said to us, "Come unto Me, all ye who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest!

And now, together, we pray, as Jesus taught us: Our Father which art in heaven . . .

Now, humbly we receive the Gifts of God for the People of God

A Glimpse into the Silent Years

Wisdom from the Holy Family

December 28, 1997

Samuel; Psalm 148; Colossians; Luke

Between the Birth of Jesus and his public ministry there is a period of thirty years. In all these thirty years, while the Baby became a boy and then a man, we have just one brief opportunity to look in on the life of the Holy Family. When Jesus turned twelve the scriptures take us along as Joseph and Mary took him to Jerusalem, where he was admitted to the status of manhood. In modern terms we might understand that this was his bar mitzvah. Perhaps Jesus had been along on other trips to Jerusalem during the High Holy Days, but this was different. He would read from Torah, and prove he understood what he had read.

Certainly there could never be a better mother or father-figure than Mary and Joseph. Scriptures tell us Joseph was a devout man, and we know that he was a man who obeyed God's clear will. And Mary— well, she was Mary! Most highly favored of all the women of the earth, certainly she was a perfect mother. And yet, amazingly, the holy family had problems. It ought to make us all feel better that if Mary and Joseph could get 'bent out of shape' on occasion, maybe there is hope for us all.

I. Jesus Is Missing

You know the story— in the holiday/Holy Day crush in Jerusalem the caravan back to Galilee got started, and Mary assumed Joseph knew where Jesus was, perhaps with cousins— and Joseph presumed that Jesus had told Mary where he would be, and so they went the whole day without either of them seeing him. That night as they got ready to sleep they realized their wonderful son was not with them. They panicked! Jesus was "lost!"

The key word here for us is "presumed." They "took for granted." No, it was not a fatal blunder. Yes, it turned out all right. And certainly, if the holy family did it we do worse, on occasion. But is always dangerous to "take for granted," which is not the same thing as living by trust and faith. We do assume some things because we trust the integrity of another's covenant promise. But to "assume" that loved ones always know what we mean, or why we do what we do, or take for granted they know we love them without ever telling them— to "presume" that they will be all right even if we miss an important event— there is a danger here.

Which brings us to the next key word; the story goes on to say that they "sought, anxiously." Their love sprang into action right here. Joseph and Mary were willing to expend any energy in order to restore normal family fellowship. They spent an anxious day on the road back to Jerusalem, and then at least part of a third day in the city looking, asking, searching. Finally they found him in the last place they looked, of course: in the Temple where he had gone in the first place. he was not just answering rudimentary questions now; Jesus was both listening and asking astounding questions of the doctors of philosophy and religion.

Every parent ever living has known something of this searching and this anxiety. When our children are young the searching is more literal and physical. Maybe as they get older we need to try to see where their questions are coming from, and find where they are in a spiritual sense.

[Our own Stephen (now 40 with children of his own) got lost in the Museum of Natural History; we were on a 'family safari;' I suppose Steve was about nine; we all six of us by the saber-tooth tiger display and then I suppose we 'presumed;' Steve came up missing and we spent half an Hour of the most desperate searching imaginable there in one of the largest museums in the world. We 'sought anxiously;' and when we found the little fellow sitting in the sub-basement train station wiping his eye with his sleeve, we certainly asked each other "why?" Actually Steve's first words were "Where were you!" !!]

Finally, a very revealing word came from Mary's lips: "Son, why?" If Mary the mother of Jesus couldn't understand her Son's behavior, then God have mercy on us all!! Was there some sort of 'generation gap' manifesting itself here? Every last parent with teens and near-teens in the whole world has asked this question in one way or many. It is almost a "given" that generations need a lot of mutual understanding and love!

II. Three Wondrous Gifts/Resources

...for extending the LOVE in our Families (from the Colossian text:) The "given" is love. [[Love, the other-centered, indefinable glue that sticks families together— in danger of being fragmented by so many shouting voices, attractive games, selfish vices— etc.]]

The three Resources to strengthen any family love are: the peace of God, the Word of God, the Name of the Lord Jesus. They are practical gifts, and here is how you open them and use them:

[I'll take them in reverse order— as it were I'm working from the ground up— :]

The foundation is the name of Jesus. We are Christians. Christ-ones. So let it be foundational to all we are and do that we live in relationship to Him. "Do all that you do in Jesus' name!" Anything and everything that you cannot do with the approval of Jesus must be discarded. (Where that leaves games of killing and mayhem, well...I leave that to you just now... I know we have come a long way from strict guides of conduct—) Jesus will not discard you when you fail him. But

The house on the foundation is the Word of God. "Let the Word of God dwell in you richly." The way we know Jesus is through the Bible. The way we understand God's will is to read the Bible, and to think seriously about how the Bible speaks to your situation and mine.

The way we live in that house is the Peace of God. "Let the Peace of God rule!"

When we are "operating on all cylinders" in our walk with God we have (*Romans 14:16 "Love, peace, and JOY in the Holy Ghost.) Then when there is any sort of backsliding they seem to depart in that same reverse order: first the JOY goes— then the PEACE.

When the PEACE of God is disturbed, there is a reason that must be sought out!

III. You Can't Have The Peace Of God Apart From The God Of Peace.

Wherever you are on your spiritual journey you can stop and invite the God of Peace to enter your situation and begin to bring His peace to bear on your relationships, beginning with you, yourself.

God's peace does not come from theory or doctrine— but from BEING RIGHT WITH GOD! God HIMSELF is the Source of Peace! He wants to be your Friend— and He IS— if you will

Prayer

Father, help us to live as the holy family, united in respect and love.

Bring us to the joy and peace of Your eternal home. Grant Your blessing to all families everywhere so that they may enter into the Christmas joy that came down to us through Christ's birth. We ask this in Jesus Name. Amen.

#97 Be Still, My Soul

Prayer of the Day: Almighty God, you have made yourself known in your Son, Jesus, and redeemer of the world. We pray that his birth as a human child will set us free from the old slavery of our sin; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever. Amen.

The Path of Life

Faith in the Presence of Fear

December 28, 1997

John 20:19-31; Psalm 16

We stand on the threshold of a New Year. The record of 1997 is largely written. What's done is done; what's left undone is left undone, and there's no changing that. This is a time to look ahead, a time to anticipate and to plan for the future.

As we stand between the once was and the is not yet, what sort of claim do you suppose God might claim for your life and mine?

What is there in the months ahead that God would have us do individually and as a this church? How do you suppose we can bear witness to God's saving power? How can we help our Chinese ministry? What sort of New Mission do you suppose God intends for us to take on?

Psalm 16 begins, "Protect me, O Lord God, for I am trusting in you!" The Psalmist, David, is using what seems to me the language of fear. He probably had good reason to fear, for his life was often in danger. There could have been a tendency to simply play a defensive role— drop back and hold on to the good and let God's call come to him. There could have been a temptation to operate out of fear.

I. WE ALL FACE FEAR'S CHALLENGE IN OUR DARK HOURS OF THE SOUL

Do you ever feel fear? Is it a sin to feel negative emotions? Is it evil to have questions or even doubts when it seems everyone else is so certain about so many things?

Can the feeling of FEAR keep me out of heaven? Feelings are emotions feelings are results, not causes and God is not seeking reasons to exclude, but to INCLUDE. He is not willing that ANY should perish. NO FEELING will keep you or me out of heaven. In the Gospel Thomas is afraid to believe and Jesus comes to him in the Psalm David is afraid, and he cries out "O God help me!"

Still, there IS a fear that can keep us from taking hold of the gift of LIFE. And there is an unbelief that is not of the mind but of the heart that says, "I will not submit to God even when He speaks clearly to me."

After the resurrection the disciples were afraid to believe. They thought: "It is too good to be true!" Jesus came and dispelled their fears somewhat it took a while. But Thomas wasn't there. He said, "I have to SEE for myself." He was afraid to let himself get built up just to be let down again.

Looking again to Psalm 16, David prays for God's mercy, but even as he prays he recognizes how audacious it is to talk to God. He says, "MY GOODNESS EXTENDETH NOT TO THEE." In another place (Psalm 8) David says, "WHEN I CONSIDER THE HEAVENS, WHAT IS MAN THAT YOU ARE MINDFUL OF HIM?"

BUT THE GOD OF THE BIBLE WHO TRULY IS BIGGER THAN WE CAN IMAGINE HAS SPOKEN TO US IN THE LIFE AND DEATH AND RESURRECTION OF HIS SON JESUS CHRIST!

That message is understandable even though we can never understand WHY God should love us! That message IS: GOD LOVES YOU!

Jesus said: "Thomas, I'll help you believe! FAITH WITHIN US SAYS: Jesus really DOES know and care about ME!

As they faced an unknown future

Jesus told them how to overcome fear with faith. First:

Jesus BREATHED ON THEM, and said: RECEIVE THE HOLY SPIRIT!

I'm sure they did not grasp it fully then nor even fifty days later at Pentecost but the disciples and you and I are to be the place where God lives on this earth. We are God's housing! Do YOU think of yourself as a tabernacle of God? Is God welcome in YOUR body? In your relationships? is that a new thought to you? Is it a bit frightening?

Then, Jesus told them to tell people their sins were forgiven:

This is mysterious, and not easy to understand: "Those whose sins you forgive they will be forgiven... those whose sins you don't forgive they will remain..." We can stop and get hung up on the translation of words here OR we can understand that WE have a part in sharing the Good News of Salvation.

FEAR said, that night, "Lord Jesus we have all been afraid! We have all forsaken you and run away! How can WE ever accept such an assignment?" But FAITH SAID: "YOU CAN SHOW ME HOW TO BE FILLED WITH THE SPIRIT!"

II. SOMETIMES WE ARE AFRAID TO BELIEVE HOW MUCH GOD LOVES US

Our souls somehow become the battlefield of fear versus faith.

The Adult Class taught by Ruth Cameron has been studying Job. Job's soul certainly was a battlefield! Job loved God and refused to believe God was anything but GOOD! He certainly did not understand what was going on. But Job said, "GOD KNOWS! I WILL TRUST HIM!" Faith went beyond what it could see, and even what it could NOT see and reached for the hand of God.

In some of Britain's darkest hours in WW II, the people listened by their radios on New Year's Eve as their king, King George VI, gave his annual greeting to his people over BBC. It was truly a fearsome time. The very existence of their nation was at risk. And the king that night quoted words that have since become famous. he said:

"I said to the man who stands at the Gate of the Year, 'Give me light that I may tread safely into the unknown.' And he replied, 'Step into the darkness, put your hand into the hand of God, and that will be to you better than a light and safer than a known way.'"

David said, "In your Presence is joy! If I can just BE WITH YOU I will be all right!" We do not have to wait until we die and go to heaven to know God's Presence. he is near, He is with us today. If we will let Him he will live within us, and walk with us. We may not know all about Him, but we may know Him. He loves us, and his perfect love cast out fear.

The Path of Life

Prayer

Hymn (Chorus) #626 Gentle Shepherd Come and Lead Us

For the Love of God

Keynote to Say Yes '98

The Gospel of Luke ~ An Introduction

January 4, 1998

Luke 10:25-37

During most of this year we will be coming back again and again to the Gospel of Luke for our worship, our lessons and our sermons.

The Gospel of Luke was written by a companion of the Apostle Paul, the only Gentile writer of the New Testament. He was a physician, a medical doctor, and it seems to me something of a sensitive and poetic soul. In his Gospel we pick up details a musician might notice. There are songs of Mary, of Zachariah, of the angels announcing Jesus' birth, and old Simeon in the Temple.

The Gospel of Luke was written to a man called Theophilus. The Gospel, "Luke," is really Volume One of a two part work; "The Book of Acts" is the Second Volume, also written to Theophilus. Whoever Theophilus was, Theophilus is also anyone who would be a Friend of God.

One story in Luke's Gospel today represents the spirit of the whole: the parable of the Good Samaritan is a great launching pad not only for Say Yes '98 but the entire year's vision for ministry as well. The story was a response to two important questions a very keen person asked Jesus.

The first question is "What shall I do to inherit eternal life?"

Jesus answered in two terse sentences: Love God with all your being. Love your neighbor as yourself. Actually the lawyer said the answer and Jesus simply agreed. Then he said, "If you do that, you will live!"

But that brought up the second question. Maybe the lawyer was thinking: "If I am to love my neighbor as myself, just who might be 'my neighbor?' Next door neighbor?"

Or within the block on which I live? People I know?" So he said to Jesus: Who is my neighbor?"

Jesus answered with the familiar story:

A man walking the road from Jerusalem to Jericho is attacked, beaten, robbed, and left bleeding beside the road. A Priest comes by, and goes to the other side of the road. A Levite— professionally religious person— comes next, and he, too, does not get involved. Then finally an "outsider," a half-Gentile, if there was such a thing— a hated Samaritan comes along. He stops—gives first aid. Then he puts the wounded man on his donkey and takes him to a place of shelter. He promises to come back and take care of any costs involved with care.

And then, having told the story Jesus asked a question of his own: "Which of these three was neighbor to the man in need?"

The correct answer was given, of course: "The one who showed mercy! He was the neighbor!"

Then Jesus said to the lawyer, and the people listening, and to all Christians down across the centuries: Go and do likewise!

That is our keynote! All we have to do is love God—

— and love our neighbor

—and ask God to define the lines of our neighborhood!

Two things I underscore from an overview of the Gospel of Luke, this year's study, for our keynote attention this first day of Say Yes '98:

ONE WE HAVE A UNIVERSAL GOSPEL

[A brief paragraph about Luke's Gospel to state that it is 'the gospel for the Gentiles' for the "outsiders ... with God there are no outsiders]

Our "neighborhood" is wherever God permits us to be. There is no shortage of need for mercy and kindness and grace and love. The Gospel is for ALL people.

During this month we will see that our neighborhood can be half way around the world helping people we may never see until we meet around God's Great White Throne. People like the Stotlers and the Karahadians and the Slingerlands can help us see that very real people with very real needs can have their lives changed because we love God and love them, too!

During this month we may see that our neighborhood can be people with various kinds of needs here in Quincy or Boston, or in New York City or other needy places here in our own homeland. Our own Chinese ministry is reaching neighbors and showing love and concern. God may speak to you about ways you can help now or in the days to come.

During this month God will help us to see again that every person we meet, whether an old seasoned Christian or a hard-to-love next door neighbor or even someone who doesn't like us— every person we meet needs God's love. During this month God will show us that there are ways we can show other people right where we live that God loves them.

The wonderful thing is, we don't have this great assignment/responsibility to do in our own puny strength! For the second part to this humble keynote is:

WE HAVE AN INEXHAUSTIBLE PROMISE

[A brief paragraph about the importance of the Holy Spirit in Luke-Acts. From the first chapter of Luke to the final chapter of Acts there are many references to the dynamic inter-action of God the Holy Spirit in the everyday lives of people who will cooperate with God. From chapter one of the Gospel to the last chapter of Acts the Holy Spirit, God at work making his will clear, energizing, empowering, doing whatever is necessary to bring heaven and earth together.]

Two key verses from the Gospel, in this brief introduction-overview-keynote, are practical verses that unpack this promise of an indwelling God in our carrying out of His will.

In Luke 11:13 is the promise: "If you being evil know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will the Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?" In some way, some practical way, Jesus is saying that God's empowering indwelling Presence can be ours for the asking.

And then in the closing paragraph of the Gospel (24:49) there it is again: "Behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, until ye be endued with power from on high."

I ask you this first Sunday of SAY YES '98:

Are you welcoming the Holy Spirit into your life, where you live?

1. In a new way of living?

This promise can be, even must be, answered in a time of crisis prayer and faith receiving. The Holy Spirit comes to bring salvation, life, spiritual appetite, when we turn from sin and come to receive assurance of salvation.

2. In an entire consecration?

The promise of the Holy Spirit Jesus was speaking about in the closing paragraph of Luke was fulfilled for the disciples on the Day of Pentecost as they waited for the fullness of the Spirit to come and cleanse and empower them.

Have you made a total dedication of your life to God for time and for eternity? There is a fullness of the Spirit that comes only in this crisis of entire sanctification.

3. Then— the Holy Spirit is given for everyday victory; in day-by-day asking and receiving!

PRAYER (For the Early Service ONLY)

O God, who wonderfully created, and yet more wonderfully restored, the dignity of human nature: Grant that we may share the divine life of him who humbled himself to share our humanity, your Son Jesus Christ; who lives and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever.

Prayer (Second Service:)

Hymn #308 Come, Holy Spirit

The Baptisms of Jesus

January 11, 1998

Luke 3:15-17;21-22

One of the benefits of following the church year (as well as the lectionary) is that we trace again every scriptural record of our Lord's humanity, from his birth and infancy, a brief glimpse into his youth when he was twelve, in the temple, right through choosing the apostles, his teaching and healing ministry, his death and resurrection and ascension to the father. Now in Session at the right hand of God, we remember that Jesus Christ is very God of very God, but we also remember with gratitude that he is as human as we are ourselves.

So it is that this day we remember that Jesus came to the Jordan River and was baptized by his cousin, John the Baptist. The significance of this baptism is both profound and precious. By coming with sinners who were repenting, Jesus was identifying with us. John recognized that Jesus did not need to repent, and that the washing of water which stood for cleansing from sin and turning to God for everyone else had to mean something else for Jesus. "I have need to be baptized of You," is what John said to Jesus. But Jesus said, "Even though you don't understand it, do it anyway!"

Behold the Lamb of God! While everyone else was applying for grace to forgive their sins, Jesus, Himself, the Grace of God personified, was coming to receive the load of guilt and blame on himself so that God could forgive them. We cannot pretend to understand the 'how,' but as the songwriter put it: "He took my sins and my sorrows, he made them his very own; he bore the burden to Calvary, and suffered and died alone."

When we of the great condescension of Jesus we usually think only of the Cross and the passion of our Lord, how he suffered and died. But every step along the pathway from heaven's glory to earth's sorrow and sin was indescribable humility on our Savior's part, as outlined in Philippians 2, beginning with verse 5— "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus, who, being in the form of God thought it not robbery to be equal with God, yet made himself of no reputation, and being found in form as a man, humbled himself and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross."

The Baptisms of Jesus

I think again of a little poem by Dorothy Sayers called Christmas Eve:

*Tomorrow You are born again
Who died so many times
Do You like the candle light?
Do you like the chimes?
Do You stoop to wonder
Why men never see
How very closely Bethlehem Approaches Calvary?"*

But not just Bethlehem and the Virgin's womb; the baptism of Jesus was another of those giant steps down, down, down until He was where He could reach out and touch us— speak to us in language we know. He was baptized, and then tempted and tested in all ways as we are— "yet without sin," the Bible says.

John the Baptist had been telling everyone that Messiah was coming. But when he finally came even John was surprised. Jesus always surprises us— we can't predict or dictate how He will come. The key word in getting ready is the same word John the Baptist used: "Prepare the way of the Lord! Repent! Be willing to change your direction so you can get in step with Jesus!" And then Jesus came and got in step with those who were lining up to go down into the waters of baptism. When we step out to do the right thing, and go the right direction, Jesus is already i step with us, and invites us to get in step with Him!

John the Baptist said another thing about Messiah. He said that when Messiah came he would Himself be a Baptizer! Jesus was baptized to identify with us. But the Baptized was to become the Baptizer. One baptism— the baptism of Jesus by John identifies Jesus with us. But the other baptism— the baptism which Jesus gives to us, our baptism by Christ— identifies us with Him.

We, too, have been baptized with water and with the Holy Spirit. We have the privilege not only of repenting, and following Jesus, but actually sharing His life, and having His Spirit witness within us that we are children of God. We have responded in repentance. We have responded in consecration and faith. We are responding to the baptism of Jesus as we seek His face today; as we come to this table and share the sacrament.

Then is some wonderful way, when we are baptized in water and in the fullness of the Spirit then we, too, are called to be baptizers. In his assignment to the church Jesus said, "Go— teach all nations— baptizing them in the name of the Father and the Holy Spirit! And lo! I, the Baptizer, am with you to the very end of the age!

Prayer:

Father in heaven, who at the baptism of Jesus in the River Jordan proclaimed him your beloved Son and anointed him with the Holy Spirit: Grant that all who are baptized into his Name may keep the covenant they have made, and boldly confess him as Lord and Savior; who with you and the Holy Spirit lives and reigns, one God, in glory everlasting.

The Confession of Peter

January 18, 1998

Matthew 16:13-20

The regular lectionary lessons for this day are from John, chapter 2, and the first miracle of Jesus: changing water into wine. But also this 18th of January is a day to remember the great confession of Peter, as found in Matthew 16, the passage that has just been read. Obviously, I have chosen this latter text as the focus of this homily.

Evidently it was important that the disciples be aware of what people thought of their Master. It is important for us as well. This is a 'watershed question,' perhaps the 'watershed question' of all time. Thousands of books have been written to answer this question. I read a very fine one this week— maybe the best I have ever read: Philip Yancey's The Jesus I Never Knew. It was a blessing to me.

Ultimately what people say about Jesus to other people says more about them than it really does about Jesus Himself. A basic 'litmus test' of whether or not a church or denomination or para-church group is even Christian or not, at least from where I stand, is how they answer this first question: "Who do you say that Jesus is?" But that first question was just a preliminary for the one that followed. It may be important to hear what and who from other people. But Jesus looked at His own dear friends and asked them:

"But who do you say that I am?"

Peter answered it right. And if and when we answer it right it is a revelation question. Flesh and blood and apologetic and keen arguments and godly parents and long altar calls do not finally reveal to us who Jesus is. "Blessed are you, Simon, son of John, because flesh and blood has not revealed this unto you, but My Father who is in heaven!" When we answer it right it is a revelation! A penetration of faith! It was more than adding up the facts and making a judgment call. The disciples knew they were dealing with divinity. Jesus was pleased with Peter's answer, although in just a few moments he was scolding Peter for leaving revelation and going to his own ideas.

The Confession of Peter

I suppose pastors are supposed to be specialists in telling people who Jesus is— but in a sense that is always another answer to the "Who does someone else say that I am?" question. Jesus is still asking us that second question— asking you, and as a matter of fact, asking me. It makes an honest pastor stop and think.

One reason I have stayed with the confession of Peter on this Sunday is that this second question comes again today on a sort of anniversary for me— actually a VERY BIG DAY of remembrance.

For it was exactly 50 years ago this very day, January 18, 1948, which was also a Sunday that year, that I came as a seventeen-year-old backslider to an altar of prayer and renewed a covenant with God that I had made as a child, and remade and stumbled over many times as a wayward teen—

— anyway from that night at 9:09 PM until today I have not once wavered in my determination to be God's. If I could go back and do it all over I might change some decisions, with hindsight. But God being my witness, I have been obedient to the call God has given me, and have no real regrets. But still this question deserves an answer that is here and now— up-to-date: Who is Jesus to me? —to you?

I have heard "Jesus" all my life, and I am comfortable in this faith as I have learned it, culturally and doctrinally, and all the other overlays of learning we could add. I am a Christian by birth, and a willing Christian by choice, baptized and to a point disciplined in devotional habits and the like.

Who is Jesus to me? How can I tell you honestly? ...

My God! Jesus is a PRESENCE! I have never seen him, but I cannot imagine life without Him. I talk to Him. I listen for him. I wish I could hear his voice but he does speak to me from time to time, as I'm sure he does to you as well.

A mystery - Awe and fear; or over-familiarity? Do I spend enough time reading the Source Book itself, and not just about it, or do I only read popularized stuff to make it more palatable? We can find a doctrine that makes us comfortable if we look— or we can pursue the knowledge of who Jesus really IS!

My Friend! Jesus is A FRIEND. But a friend with a capital "F." He is not my peer. He is not someone I consult with before I decide whether or not to do his will. There are many decisions I have to make, and Jesus lets me make them, along with my share of mistakes. But when I know when Jesus makes it clear that this is or is not his will there is no decision further. I have already decided years ago that I will follow my Friend. Openness and Growing Intimacy Jesus LOVES ME! I confess I don't know why. It is sometimes hard for me to believe. But I DO believe it! I learned "Jesus loves me this I know" before I can remember. I never knew a time when I didn't know that and sing that. But this love has been dawning on me, little by little, more and more, for all the years of my life! I really want to return that love!

My Unquestioned Master! Savior and Lord A settled relationship of obedience and trust. One way of looking at the sanctified life is that provisionally decisions are already made before we come to them; not, of course in the sense that we don't have to sweat out choices, and take all factors into consideration when we face those decisions— but the Christian has already decided whose side he will come down on; he never says again "Shall I do God's will?" but always the question simply is "What is God's will?" and then I will do it!!

WHO IS JESUS... REALLY... TO YOU, AND ME?

OUR WITNESS, IF NOT OUR SALVATION, hangs on how we answer that question Jesus asked the disciples so many years ago. WHO DO YOU SAY JESUS IS?

- With your understanding: Do you believe he is God's Son?
- With your emotions: Do you say you LOVE Jesus?
- With you WILL: Do you accept Jesus as your Master and Lord?

HOW DO YOU ANSWER IT, PERSONALLY?

Prayers (contemporary language)

The Confession of Peter

Almighty Father, who inspired Simon Peter, first among the apostles, to confess Jesus as Messiah and Son of the Living God: Keep your Church steadfast upon the rock of this faith, that in unity and peace we may proclaim the one truth and follow the one Lord, our Savior Jesus Christ; who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen

The Conversion of Paul

...was a team effort!

January 25, 1998

Acts 9:1-19

The story of the conversion of Saul of Tarsus, the brilliant young Pharisee persecutor of the early church into St. Paul, the missionary and theologian and author of a dozen books in the New Testament is truly remarkable. The Scriptures show us that in this remarkable transformation God used over a period of time the ministry of three separate lay Christians who probably did not even know each other. Without two men named Stephen and Ananias the story of St. Paul probably never would have even begun. And without a wonderful, gentle man named Joseph, whom the early church nicknamed 'Barnabus,' or "son of consolation," Saul might never have found his calling as a missionary and apostle.

Stephen's impact on Paul came first: it is found in the book of Acts, Chapter 7, at the unspeakably violent scene of a mob killing. A lay deacon table server, Stephen, was stoned to death. The thugs who were doing the actual killing did not want their clothes ruined with blood spatters, so they laid them at the feet Saul of Tarsus. This arrogant young Pharisee was in full accord with what was going on, but was too proud to take part in the actual manual labor of lifting stones and throwing them.

Stephen SAID some tremendous things about the nature of God and what it means to worship. He said that from the beginning of time human beings have made substitutions for God they have worshiped creation instead of the creator. He also said that God Himself will speak to us if we will only listen. He said that finally the Word God speaks is not simply a lesson or a religion, but a Person. This Person Stephen declared to be Jesus Christ of Nazareth. He said that the proof of this truth is the fact that Jesus was crucified and died and was buried and that he rose again from the dead.

The Conversion of Paul

But Stephen's witness was in two parts: what he said AND THE SPIRIT IN WHICH HE SAID IT. The scripture says that the people there saw his face like the face of an angel. They heard his last words, not now a sermon, but a prayer: "Lord, lay not this sin to their charge!"

Saul of Tarsus, who became the great missionary apostle Paul, heard this sermon and saw this dying spirit. The church spread outward from Judea and Galilee, fueled by the threat of persecution that began with Stephen's martyrdom. It was as though the floodgates of anger and resistance broke and Acts 8:1 tells us that the whole church was scattered except the apostles.

How it was that the church reached Damascus in Syria we don't know. Evidently there was a healthy church there because the anti Christian forces in Jerusalem were sufficiently concerned to authorize an armed force to go and extradite them back to Jerusalem for trial, conviction, and execution. Saul of Tarsus had legal papers making him the equivalent of an ancient bounty hunter. He set off to Syria and Damascus with a vengeance.

We are all well acquainted with Saul's dramatic conversion aren't we? Jesus the risen Lord met Saul in the middle of the road to hell and knocked him off his feet with a challenge to turn his life around. Saul got up, groping, blinded, willing but bewildered. Who ARE You, Lord? But that is NOT Paul the Apostle speaking! He is still Saul of Tarsus and still on the outside of the fellowship looking in!

Enter the second witness: Ananias of Damascus! He was THERE. The Lord spoke to him "Ananias!" And Ananias answered: "Here I am, Lord!" It's a great way to begin every day! "Here I am, reporting for duty! What do you want me to do today?" On this day the "duty" was not routine: "Get up and go over to Straight Street to the house of Judas and look for a man from Tarsus, whose name is Saul. He is praying right at this moment and I told him a man named Ananias was on the way over to pray for him to get his sight back."

"Lord, I know about this man. He has legal authority to arrest Christians and take them back to Jerusalem."

God gave Ananias assurance. And Ananias was OBEDIENT. But I'm also sure he was BRAVE, too. The trip over to Straight Street must have been what athletes call a "gut check." But when Ananias got there, once again the SPIRIT OF JESUS shone through. "BROTHER Saul ..." As Ananias prayed Saul was healed. Saul was baptized they didn't wait around in the New Testament church. And then Ananias of Damascus sort of fades out of the story. He was soon forgotten, out of the way gone but WE know how vital a part Ananias played.

There was one other person that should get a share in Paul's ministry. His name was Barnabus, and he took up where Ananias left off. Later in the chapter when Paul, or rather Saul had come to Jerusalem (and that is another adventure story in itself) he tried to join the church there. But (26) they were all afraid of him. But Barnabus (27) took Saul, brought him to the apostles. The church enjoyed a time of peace but Saul/Paul was sent back to his home city, and actually went to the Arabian desert to study for three years. We don't see him again until Acts 11, when the church in Antioch had a revival and the Jerusalem people sent Barnabus there to lead.

It was then that Barnabus went to Tarsus (11:25) to look for that keen young man that the others hadn't really trusted Saul. Then in 13:2, in the Antioch church, the Holy Spirit said: "Set apart Barnabus and Saul for my work!"

During that first assignment Saul became Paul and the team changed from Barnabus and Saul to Paul and Barnabus and later on they split up over Barnabus's habit of siding with the underdog (Mark.) But if it had not been for Barnabus a man willing to do whatever was necessary to encourage Saul we would not have heard of the great Apostle to the Gentiles.

This hasn't been a sermon it has been a sort of lesson. We aren't all like PAUL. (Maybe Charles Coleson?) We aren't all like STEPHEN (aren't you glad of that!) But when unfair things happen, how do (I) we respond? We can't all be like ANANIAS. But we can get up in the morning and say, "Here I am, Lord!" We can't all be like BARNABUS. But I sure do wish we had a few more like him around, don't you?

And we can have the same two dynamic elements of witness:

The Conversion of Paul

1. WE CAN KNOW THAT JESUS IS ALIVE. Not as a textbook fact

But we can KNOW Jesus. Nothing less will do, if we are to witness. And

2. WE CAN HAVE THE SPIRIT OF THE RISEN LORD. These men were not simply "nice people." They were HOLY people. They were people who had been filled with the Holy Spirit. They were people who were living Hebrews 12:14 even before it had been written! When our words and our spirit unite with the mighty Spirit of God, then we can join the ranks of the Stephens and the Ananias and the Barnabuses. And Jesus will build His church. And there will be joy!

Prayer: O God, who by the preaching of your apostle Paul have caused the light of the Gospel to shine throughout the world: Grant, we pray, that we, having his wonderful conversion in remembrance, may show ourselves thankful to you by following his holy teaching; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen

Living by Faith

February 1, 1998

Genesis 15:6

All our lives we have heard, "Saved by faith, not by works!" But let me go out on a limb and say that faith does not save anyone. Ultimately we are saved by God's love, by God's grace extended to us in Jesus Christ. So we are saved by Jesus, and faith is the God-given gift that enables us to receive that salvation.

Faith is more than believing what is true, even more than believing what is scripturally true about Jesus Christ. Faith is more than believing in true doctrine or true propositions and in the infallibility of the scriptures. Faith that saves us is finally coming to trust in a Person.

The story of Abraham, about 4,000 years old, is amazingly fresh when it comes to giving insight into faith. The verse that is used by New Testament writers to describe faith is found in Genesis 15:6 Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him for righteousness.

What led to that statement? What came next? What is covenant faith? God is a what?

Faith is not a cold, impersonal experiment. God does not "perform" in a test tube, but God does respond to honest questions and doubt if we are willing to obey when he speaks. Faith is revealed to faith.

Faith is finally person to Person, or, Person to person. It is consummated in covenant. God will keep his side of the covenant.

Faith is made apparent in faithfulness. It will be tested. In any covenant relationship there will be stress. in Marriage. In our walk with God.

What does it mean: "We are saved by faith?" NOT necessarily that we have all the questions answered! Not that "our" doctrine is better than the Baptists (or Catholics, or whatever...) ((Of course it is!! :-))) But 'have you encountered the living God?

Living by Faith

Have you started out? Are you following? God won't quit on you!

Abraham BELIEVED God! We can believe HIM, too!

Step Back into Grace

February 1, 1998

Now the Word of the LORD came to me saying, "Before I formed you in the womb I knew you, and before you were born I consecrated you; I have appointed you a prophet to the nations."

Then I said, "Alas, Lord GOD! Behold I do not know how to speak, because I am (only) a (boy.)"

But the LORD said to me, "Do not say, 'I am (only) a (boy,)' because everywhere I send you, you shall go, and all that I command you, you shall speak. Do not be afraid of them, for I AM with you to deliver you," declares the LORD.

Then the LORD stretched out His hand and touched my mouth, and the LORD said to me, "Behold, I have put My words in your mouth. See I have appointed you this day over the nations and over the kingdoms, to pluck up and to break down, to destroy and to overthrow, to build and to plant." Jeremiah 1:4-10

The personal word that I got from the month of Say Yes has been very encouraging. Even though it came from a dozen different speakers, the Word was remarkably unified to my ears. I heard that God's blessing will follow simple obedience to Him. I heard that love and humility can release God's power into hopeless situations even when high powered human resources fall short. I got the word— "Step back! Humble yourself before God! Let Him lead! Build up the community of faith! Ask God for what you really need to do His will! Ask God for His Holy Spirit!" General Superintendent Jim Bond said it in the Chinese service last Sunday: "The secret of a fruitful church is Spirit-filled members!"

The word came through Dale and Pat Stotler: When they were about worn out and almost discouraged with the impossible size of their task they seemed to hear God saying, "Back off! Don't try so hard! Trust Me! Pray! Keep your eyes open, but don't worry!"

Almost by what seemed an accident an opportunity to hold a few services in a women's prison. A number of women found Christ, and the atmosphere of the prison was changed. Contacts from that humble start have opened up channels for God's Spirit to move where Dale and Pat never imagined they could or would go. Don't make any mistake— these people are heroes of the faith! They are humbly doing what most of us could never do— and going where most of us will never go. But what they are seeing done is NOT simply human; they are tapping into God, into His Spirit, and He is leading them in answer to prayer!

The messages of Chuck Zink, our district superintendent, and of Milton Karahadian, and of Dean Flemming were encouraging reminders that God answers prayer. Dean Flemming kept reminding us that God helps us tear down walls, and build bridges. He sometimes gets very specific in answers, as Milton found; he sometimes surprises and comes from a different direction as Jack and Natalie Holstead testified.

I was tremendously encouraged by the message and spirit of General Superintendent Jim Bond. It was refreshing to hear a top leader put our great denomination in humble perspective as 'just a tiny segment, a tiny piece of the great pie' that is God great Church— and at the same time say from his heart that we have a vital and important task in that one great Church of Jesus Christ. No blinders on that good and great man. He has seen his role as a vision-caster, and not just a keeper of the status quo or a ecclesiastical bean-counter.

Maybe the most refreshing word I heard was on the last Wednesday of Say Yes, when John Calhoun, the pastor of the Lamb's Church of the Nazarene, was with us. Operating from a building just off Times Square in New York City, he has perhaps, as daunting a task as any pastor in the entire world! 20,000,000 people go within a block of his church every year— and they are just the tourists that visit Time's Square. In his parish are rich businessmen and street walkers and college kids looking for an adventurous way to serve the Lord and homeless people who live in cardboard boxes over sidewalk gratings. He told us with a wry smile that he is getting used to operating on the brink of financial disaster. But he was far from defeated!

So— what was his victorious testimony? God has showed him that his first task as pastor is to step back into God's love. The only way he has found to effectively minister is out of a loving, trusting, genuine community. The obvious thing to do in the midst of such great need is to plunge in and begin spending and being spent— laboring with all the strength he has. But instead, the word John Calhoun has heard and passed on is that the Christian's task— his task— and our task— is to listen carefully

Today's scripture 'connects' with the message we have been hearing. In Jeremiah the young prophet says, "I am only a boy!" And God tells him, "Don't say 'only a boy!'" The passage from I Corinthians reminds us that finally only love makes everything worth while. And the gospel story, from Luke 4, where Jesus preached in Nazareth and was almost lynched, shows the other side of this truth— that when people think they know who Jesus is, when at the same time they doare not willing to really love Him and call Him 'Lord;' when they think they know all what Jesus can or can not do, even God can't change their sinful unbelief.

These lessons encourage me, remind me again, reinforce the truth that GOD'S CALL IS TO MORE THAN WE ARE OF OURSELVES

Jeremiah is just one in a long line of people God has called— right down to this very moment— that said to God, "But LORD! I am only" In a way that is a standard, and even GOOD reaction! HUMILITY is a virtue that opens the doors of prayer! When we are so cock-sure that we are the ones! we are disqualified!

GOD'S WORD TO JEREMIAH WAS: DO NOT SAY 'I AM ONLY . . . '

But more, these lessons reminds us that GOD LISTENS WHEN WE VOICE OUR DOUBTS

It is not a sin to have an honest dialogue with God. There is a difference between doubt and unbelief! God doesn't ask us to believe the absurd or obviously untrue— he does ask us to trust Him!

GOD'S CALL IS GOD'S ASSURANCE OF GOD'S PRESENCE

Step Back into Grace

WHERE FAITH COMES IN IS DARING TO GIVE OUR ALL AND TRUSTING GOD WILL MAKE THE DIFFERENCE . . . and if He has called, God WILL! The story of Jesus feeding the 5,000 is in all four Gospels, and we know it was a miracle that took five loaves and two fish and fed the multitude.

But only John told us where the five and two came from: a lad— "only a boy" — had enough for himself and maybe his little sister. But he gave his all to Andrew, who in turn brought them to Jesus— and the rest is history ![Maybe I need to remind some of us to bring our five loaves and two fish to Faith Promise yet!] GOD IS WORKING ON US . . . TO MAKE US INTO A COMMUNITY OF LOVE AND FELLOWSHIP THAT WILL MAKE A DIFFERENCE RIGHT HERE IN OUR WORLD, WHERE WE LIVE

PRAYER

OH, FATHER, HELP US TO 'STEP BACK INTO GRACE', AND LET YOU MAKE US INTO THE KIND OF LOVING COMMUNITY THAT YOU CAN USE TO LET YOU CHANGE OUR WORLD IN OUR GENERATION.

THIS WE ASK IN THE NAME OF YOUR SON, OUR LORD, WHO LIVES AND REIGNS WITH YOU AND THE HOLY SPIRIT, ONE GOD, WORLD WITHOUT END. AMEN

COMMUNION IS A WITNESS TO GOD'S PRESENCE

THE HOLY COMMUNION

Wherever you are on your Spiritual Journey - If you believe God is seeking fellowship with you— and if you want to turn to Him, I invite you to come in faith to the Table of the Lord. Draw near with faith and take this Sacrament to your comfort, and make your humble confession to Almighty God in humility before Him. - The Apostles Creed #8 in Sing to the Lord

The Law Read and Confession Made - The Lord Jesus Christ has said to us: "Thou shalt love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the first and great commandment. The second is like unto it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets."

Brothers and sisters, let us search our hearts. In silence let us ask God to draw us near to Himself so that we can come to his table with confidence.

(Reading No. 750) A prayer in unison, from scripture:

Unison: Search me, O God, and know my heart; Test me and know my anxious thoughts. See if there is any offensive way in me. Lead me in the way everlasting. Have mercy on me, O God, according to your unfailing love. Wash away all my iniquity and cleanse me from my sin. Create in me a pure heart, O God, and renew a steadfast spirit within me. May the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be pleasing in your sight, O Lord, my Rock and my Redeemer.

Pastor: Hear what our Lord has said: Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. And he has also said, "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believes in him should not perish but have everlasting life.

Prayer: Thank you. O God, for your forgiving us when we come humbly to you. We do not presume to come to this table, O God, trusting in our own righteousness, but in your great mercy and grace. Grant us to eat the Bread of heaven, and drink the blood shed for the remission of sins, that we may live in Christ, and Christ may live in us forever. Amen

(In Place of Gloria Patri) sing "Father, I Adore You, Lay my life before You How I love you!

"Jesus, I adore you . . ." and :Spirit, I adore you . . ."

The Informal Invitation

("This is not my table . . ." Do not come irreverently. Do not come because someone else expects it. But if the Host invites you, and you want to walk with Him, then you are welcome at His table...)

The Words of Institution

Step Back into Grace

On the night in which he was betrayed our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had given thanks to You he broke it and gave it to his disciples and said, "Take eat: THIS IS MY BODY, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me. After supper he took the cup and when he had given thanks he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you; THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink this, do it in remembrance of me: Amen

We praise you for the mystery of our salvation! We truly believe Christ has died! Christ is risen! Christ will come again!

Bless these emblems, O God, and make them to us the Body and Blood of your Son, spiritual food, and spiritual drink of new and unending life in Jesus Christ.

And now, together, we pray, as Jesus taught us:

Our Father which art in heaven . . .

Now, humbly come and receive the Gifts of God for the People of God [January 4, 1998 - also February 1, 1998]

#754 God of the Ages

Meeting Jesus at the Place of Confession

ASHES TO FIRE Series 1 of 14

1. Meeting Jesus at the Place of Confession
2. Believing Have Life
3. Repentance
4. The Unfinished Story
5. Humility The Root Virtue
6. Veiled Majesty
7. A Story of Faith
8. Obedience and the Other Witness
9. Reaching Out: The First Breakfast
10. A Shepherd and a Promise
11. Love: A New Covenant
12. Anticipation: Meeting Jesus in the In-Between Times
13. Unity: The Countdown to Pentecost
14. Fire: Pentecost is the Norm

Lent 1—March 1, 1998

The word is near you, on your lips and in your heart . . . because if you confess with your lips that Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. For one believes with the heart and so is justified, and one confesses with the mouth and so is saved. - Romans 10:8b-10

Beginning today, over the next seven Sundays until Easter, and after that the next seven Sundays until Pentecost, I would invite you to come with me on a journey of intentional and intensive fellowship with Jesus. Each week we will lift just one single, simple point of contact with God in Christ out of the scriptures for a focus. We are assured that if we will draw near to God he will surely draw near to us, and that if we diligently seek after God He will reward us with Himself. Today the focus of our meeting with Jesus is found in the word confession, and all that that word means.

CONFESSING IS ONE PLACE WHERE GOD IS NEAR

The text says "The word is near you, in your heart, on your lips"

CONFESSING IS ALWAYS GOD-ENABLED (God initiates every meeting with Himself)
AND YET 'WHOSOEVER WILL' MAY COME !

If you have any desire to God, you are welcome on this wonderful journey!

CONFESSION—"JESUS IS LORD!"— IS THE 'LAUNCHING PAD TO LIFE'

To say "Jesus is Lord!" is the beginning point of an eternal Friendship (but)
CONFESSION SHOULD ALSO BECOME A WAY OF LIFE "Jesus is Lord!" is not a one-time statement! (We say "I love you!" at the altar when we get married— but that shouldn't be the only time that we say it!!)

CONFESSION IS SIMPLE, YET IT IS GOD-ENABLED!

This verse is wonderful for what it DOES NOT say!

It does not say "If you believe like ME you will be saved ... or If you become a seasoned Christian and get your act together you will be saved . . . or "If you tithe" or "If you join a particular church"

No, it simply says if you (recognize how near God is and) say with your mouth JESUS IS LORD! and (truly) believe in your heart JESUS IS ALIVE: you will be saved!

Romans 12:3 says "No one can say "Jesus is LORD!" in this way except by the Holy Spirit! WHAT DOES THIS MEAN?

CONFESSION IS MORE THAN JUST THE WORDS BEING SAID

More than a creedal confession (that is necessary) It is a heart confession— it becomes a covenant confession!

CONFESSION IS LIKE THIS:

- Abandonment of all other means of salvation "No other gods!" Jesus is our ONLY Savior!
- Admission of personal inadequacy "I am not my own master— JESUS is Lord!"
- Confession means admitting our need, our sin against God - It will involve "confession" in the other sense of the word
- Confession will mean restitution "confessing Jesus" before those we have wronged . . . paying back what we have stolen; not as a 'works' to earn salvation, but as part of the confession of Jesus as Lord (Zaccheus/ RYR)

CONFESSION IN THE CHRISTIAN'S LIFE

We confess our Lord when we are baptized, and when we take communion; the SACRAMENTS of the church become meeting points; God comes very near!

Testimony and witnessing are also ways in which we confess "Jesus is Lord!" We need to tell other Christians! We also want to tell those who do not yet believe!

Confession is a constant "course correction" to keep us in step with Jesus.

I John 1:9; 2:1,2 is for Christians!

CONFESSION IS 'AN OVERCOMING GRACE'

The Gospel lesson for today is about the wilderness temptation of Jesus. If we believe that story— and with all my heart I tell you that it is true— if we believe that story that Jesus was tempted and overcame by the word of his own testimony then we too, in covenant with Him and by the same power He used and gives us we can overcome sin and temptation in our lives.

Jesus could say "No!" because He had already said a greater "YES!" to the Father's will. He would not break covenant with the Father.

WE can say "No!" to temptation and sin through the power of CONFESSION! When we say "YES!" to God by confessing 'JESUS IS LORD!'

497 "I'll Live for Him" is both a prayer to Jesus AND a confession that Jesus is Lord

Meeting Jesus at the Place of Confession

Confession means abandoning all other hope Confession means covenant Confession means admitting need Confession involves admitting sin Confession includes Confessing Jesus as Lord is one of the holy places where God and man meet.

Every meeting with God is always initiated by Him. Apart from grace we are helpless even to reach out to receive His touch. The way we have confidence to confess Jesus, and draw near to God through him is by the gift of faith.

Confessing faith in Jesus Christ is the launching pad of the journey into life.

If you have any desire, any interest at all, the scriptures make it clear that you're welcome to come and begin to get to know God. This is an adventure on which every one of us is invited. Every one of us has a tiny bit of 'faith' in us— a 'God-responder' that is God's gift.

Confessing Jesus is not human effort or works.

Confessing Christ as Lord comes as a response to the gift of God's love: "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believes in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." Our scripture text says, "If we believe in our hearts Jesus is alive— and if we say with our mouths that He is Lord, we shall be saved. That is what confessing Christ is.

It seems too simple to say, "Jesus is Lord!" as the basis for our salvation. But in fact it is a miracle of grace when those words are spoken from a God-given faith. The only way we know we can confess Jesus is by this gift of faith. We confess with our mouth, but we believe with our heart. Both of these are involved in confession— the outward testimony and the inward persuasion. If we have been granted the conviction that Jesus came, and died, and rose again for our salvation- - if we truly believe in our hearts that God has raised Jesus from the dead— then that inner persuasion is revealed truth. It is a gift of God.

It seems so simple just to say: Jesus is Lord! And yet a wonderful miracle happens when for the first time someone deliberately says that from the heart. A permanent covenant is established. Jesus Himself said, "I say unto you, everyone who confesses me before men, the Son of Man shall confess him before the angels of God; but he who denies me before men shall be denied before the angels of God."

Believing Have Life

ASHES TO FIRE Series 2 of 14

1. Meeting Jesus at the Place of Confession
2. Believing Have Life
3. Repentance
4. The Unfinished Story
5. Humility The Root Virtue
6. Veiled Majesty
7. A Story of Faith
8. Obedience and the Other Witness
9. Reaching Out: The First Breakfast
10. A Shepherd and a Promise
11. Love: A New Covenant
12. Anticipation: Meeting Jesus in the In-Between Times
13. Unity: The Countdown to Pentecost
14. Fire: Pentecost is the Norm

Lent 2—March 8, 1998

John 20:31 "...and that believing ye may have life through (Jesus') name!"

Last year a group of 34 students from two state universities in Washington State took a study trip into the Amazon jungles of South America. They were led on the last part of their journey by Stephen E. Saint, who happens to be the son of Nate Saint, one of the five Auca martyrs, (Jim Elliot, Pete Fleming, Ed McCulley, Roger Youderian, and Nate Saint,) killed 40 years ago as they tried to make contact with the Aucas, properly now called 'Huaorani'. What has happened since that first day has been a miracle story. This last fascinating glimpse into the miracle was reported in just this week's Christianity Today (3/2/98).

This group of 34 had come to study what they thought would be Stone Age people. Steve Saint has a home among the Huaorani. Some of the very men that speared his father and the others have become like adopted grandfathers to his own children. He has been helping the Huaorani develop ways of raising money for self-sufficiency, and he met this group himself.

The 34 students were taken by jungle bus deep into the forests as far as roads would go, where they were met by three Huaorani men, who led them on a 14-hour hike through jungle trails, followed by a journey in large dugout canoes to a campsite along a jungle river, where they were joined by other members of the Huaorani tribe.

The students quickly learned to respect and enjoy the warmth of the men who guided them. They were welcomed at the camp site, and were so comfortable with their new friends that they asked Steve when they would meet the Stone Age savages they had travelled so far to meet. Steve told them that they had been traveling with them— and they were now surrounded by them. The students did not believe him. So Steve Saint suggested that they ask any of the older people where their fathers might be.

One student took the challenge and nodded to one woman. Steve translated her reply something like: "My father is already dead a long time ago; having been speared he died." Four other Huaorani told the same story. One woman that had really "charmed" the students with her kindness, a very warm and friendly mother of ten, pointed to an old man in the circle: "He hated my family and killed all of them!"

The students were stunned. They had second thoughts about their own safety.

Then Dawa, one of the quietest women spoke up. Pointing at the grandfatherly old man sitting next to Steve Saint she told the students: "He is Kimo. He hating my family speared my father and mother and brothers and sisters and took me for his wife." That really stunned the students. They were deep in the jungle. They had to depend on these people to get them out again. Steve Saint said he thought of what they must be thinking right about then. It occurred to him they didn't know the story we have heard so many times in Christian circles.

Steve put his arm around the old man Kimo's shoulders and told the students, "He killed my father, too." Then there was stunned silence.

At last someone found courage to ask: "What changed these people?"

Steve Saint repeated the question in the language of the Huaorani. The Stone Age people tried to tell the students how it used to be before they changed. They threw babies away when they were a trouble. They buried people alive so their spirits would not be able to return to torment them. Some had strangled their own children with their own hands. But then they tried to explain WHAT THEY BELIEVE about a God they knew as the Man-Maker the missionaries told them about, who had sent his Son to die for people who were full of fear and hate and revenge.

Then Dawa, the wife of Kimo spoke. I quote from Steve Saint's article: "Badly, badly we lived back then," Dawa said. "Now, walking God's trail which he has marked for us on paper (meaning the Bible,) we live well. All people will die, but if living you follow God's trail, then dying will lead you to heaven. But only one trail leads there. All other trails lead to where God will never be after death."

The students were silent. But then Dawa went on to give her own version of an altar call: "Have you heard me well? Which one of you wants to follow God's trail, living well?" The students were silent again— and then one hand was raised.

Steve said that Dawa understood what that raised hand meant, and clapped her hands and said, "Now I see you well. Leaving we will see each other again in God's place some day!" Then she looked at the other 33 and said "Dying I will never see you again if you don't follow God's trail. Think well on what I have spoken so that dying we can live happily together in heaven."

Thirty-four students of anthropology, from Washington State, had traveled thousands of miles into a South American rain-forest to hear from primitive people about the most powerful life changing force in the Universe. They had heard how believing in the God of love and grace can release life-changing power that can only be called miraculous.

The emphasis this week in our intentional and intensive journey into fellowship with Jesus is summed up in this word "believing." The great text is outside our lectionary scriptures (John 20:31) but this is not an isolated, proof-text thing. This "believing" is at the very heart of our faith.

'BELIEVING' IS A STRONG WORD

In our English language "believe" can be a rather weak word. To say "I believe so" sounds a lot weaker than "I know so!" But the word translated "to believe" in both Old and New Testaments, in Hebrew and in Greek, has a much stronger meaning. It is not simply to "think" something, or even to be convinced of propositional truth—but rather it is to trust, to have confidence in, to put a complete reliance in the thing believed.

In Genesis 15:6 we read "Abraham believed God and it was counted to him for righteousness." the word there (aw-man) means 'to trust,' and is also interchangeable with a word that means 'to turn to the right hand.' Trusting means a willingness to change directions

In the New Testament the word is always, 'to commit one's trust to, to have confidence in the thing believed.

BELIEVING IS NOT trying with all your might to make yourself deny the obvious.

Believing is NOT saying "black is white" simply because someone has told you that is what Christians believe. Believing has a lot less to do with analysis and explanations and dogmatic statements about things nobody knows for sure than a lot of Christians feel comfortable admitting. There are people on all sides trying to explain away mysteries who simply have never fully surrendered to Jesus Christ. His loving Spirit is foreign to them.

BELIEVING IS DARING to say to the Christ of the Bible: "I believe You are who You say you are! I hear you say, 'Come unto Me!' Here I am! I believe YOU! I will follow You! If You will be my Lord and Savior, I will be Your man! Your woman! Your boy! Your girl! You be my Savior and my God!" THAT is what believing is about!

BELIEVING IS THE DOORWAY

Trusting Jesus brings us into the real world! In Acts 16 the Roman jailer came to the end of himself— and asked Paul and Silas, "What must I do to be saved?" They showed him the only way: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and you will be saved along with your household!"

You can't wait to figure out all the mystery, or explain all the ways a great and holy God 'connects' with finite and sinful you and me. You CAN respond directly to the living Christ as God's gift of faith makes Him real to you.

BELIEVING IS MORE— IT IS THE PATHWAY (THE TRAIL) WHERE WE LIVE

Believing is dynamic. It is never static. It is relational. It contacts and keeps contact. (Genesis 15:6) "In the middle of things" Abraham believed God. He had started out— he had been blessed— but he needed to obey and keep on obeying! We are never saved by "works." But believing enables us TO LIVE differently from the way we were "before." The Huaorani peoples' change was dramatic— they quit killing and feuding. But OUR CHANGE is just as needful— and needs just as much a miracle! We can quit gossiping and hating and being jealous and become "Ephesians 4:32" but only through the power of BELIEVING!

James (chapter 2) comments on this text (from "The Message" by Eugene Peterson):

Isn't it obvious that faith and works are yoked partners, that faith expresses itself in works? That the "works" are "works of faith"? The full meaning of "believe" in the scripture sentence, 'Abraham believed God and was set right with Go,' includes his action. It's that mesh of believing and acting that got Abraham named "God's friend." Is it not evident that a person is made right with God not by a barren faith but by a faith fruitful in works?"

BELIEVING IS STAYING POWER

Psalm 27 closes by saying, "I would have fainted unless I had believed to see the hand of God in the land of the living!" When Abraham was ready to give up he came with his complaint right back to God! Whenever we are in danger of being overwhelmed we can COME BACK TO GOD HIMSELF!

Wherever you are on your spiritual journey— wherever I am— we have the CHOICE to 'TRUST IN THE LORD WITH ALL OUR HEARTS' or to 'LEAN UNTO OUR OWN UNDERSTANDING!' We can BELIEVE the God who sent His Son to show us the way— OR We can waffle by using some lesser definition of what it means to BELIEVE.

Those thirty-four anthropology students from Washington State traveled thousands of miles to the Amazon rain-forest to hear about the miracle of God's love. They saw fear and hatred and revenge that had been exchanged for love and forgiveness and fellowship.

You and I know that same life-changing power is needed just as much right here where we live! Do you think it is easier to be Christ-like in our society? Where we LOVE THINGS and we USE PEOPLE— where we don't kill (usually) with spears— but we do kill with gossip and uncaring and selfishness.

The power of BELIEVING— in the full sense of trusting, relying on God— can work just that kind of miracle for us, here, as well as the Huaorani people. I Challenge you! This week— In your 'faith' go deeper than simply 'what' you believe (important as that is!) Go directly to God, through Jesus Christ! By faith look him in the face. Say simply, "I will trust you with all I am, now and for ever!"

437 Trust and Obey

Repentance

ASHES TO FIRE Series 3 of 14

1. Meeting Jesus at the Place of Confession
2. Believing Have Life
3. Repentance
4. The Unfinished Story
5. Humility The Root Virtue
6. Veiled Majesty
7. A Story of Faith
8. Obedience and the Other Witness
9. Reaching Out: The First Breakfast
10. A Shepherd and a Promise
11. Love: A New Covenant
12. Anticipation: Meeting Jesus in the In-Between Times
13. Unity: The Countdown to Pentecost
14. Fire: Pentecost is the Norm

Lent 3—March 15, 1998

Turning From—Turning To

Isaiah 55:1-9; Luke 13:1-9; Psalm 63:1-8; 1 Corinthians 10:1-13

The word for this week is "repentance".

Last weekend there was a blizzard over the Midwest and storms in the south. We got four inches of rain here; but it was a near-disaster 800 miles west of here. Chicago had a blizzard, and our church treasurer, Bill Esselstyn had to go out there for a business conference. One effect was that Bill got stranded in a luxury hotel and had to eat French gourmet food for two days.

Repentance

Bill description of O'Hare airport and the general state of the travelers' distress sounded like a zoo to me. He said some of his co-workers told of being in such violent turbulence that the doors on the overhead compartments flew open and luggage fell out on the passengers. I'm glad I wasn't on that flight.

I thought as I was reflecting on today's scripture lessons— on "repentance"— 'I wonder what sort of prayers were generated in that violently bouncing jet plane?' "Oh God! I'll be different! I promise! I'm sorry for all the sins I've ever done!"

Is that repentance? Would God hear a prayer like that? [He heard Walter S. MacPherson praying in a foxhole in World War I !!] When do you pray a prayer of repentance? Just what is repentance, anyway?

One simple definition I was taught as a young believer is that Repentance is a godly sorrow for sin. And true repentance certainly has that element. But a godly sorrow is more than sorrow over the pain or shame or results of sin— more than remorse for being caught. Repentance is turning away. Repentance always includes a desire to turn away from sin.

In our text today Isaiah cries: "Let the wicked forsake their way, and the unrighteous their thoughts!" Both the Old and New Testament words for "repent" have this concept of a change of direction. (Shuv=OT= disappointment// Metanoia=NT=turning)

Repentance is more than turning away— it is turning to! Isaiah goes on: "Let them return to the Lord, for He will have mercy— and to our God for He will abundantly pardon!"

Repentance FROM sin is never complete until the turning away— the godly sorrow- - "connects" with God's forgiveness and becomes a "turning to" the heavenly father. God stands waiting— ready to tell us we are already pardoned— and we come by the route of repentance— a willingness to turn away - and to turn to! That is how we enter God's family.

But did you know that repentance is not just for unbelievers and sinners? Many people will say, and I am one of them, "I am not a willful sinner! I do not live in known sin!" With a Wesleyan definition of sin as 'a willful transgression of a known law of God,' we often relegate repentance strictly to the crisis of being saved— we confess and believe and repent once and for all.

But did you know that God's people find revival and renewal when they are willing to live in a spirit of repentance! This world is very much with us, and bangs on us relentlessly day after day. We get so used to living in Sodom and Gomorrah that we need to be careful to listen to the Still Small Voice. When we are careless we often get defensive, or we rationalize— excuse ourselves for our sins of neglect.

Paul sounds four warnings to Corinthian Christians. "Many who left Egypt and experienced God's miracles of the Exodus nevertheless died in the wilderness! WHY? Because they were not living to please God!" Those warnings are 2,000 years old, nearly— but they still call us to repentance:

Don't become idolaters: (7) Anything that threatens to take over our first allegiance we need to recognize as a potential idol— anything we hold so dear that we neglect God: prayer becomes a burden; the gathering together of God's people is easily shunned. Often good things become enemy of God's BEST. Even God's GIFTS cannot take God's place! Is it possible that we need to repent of any attitude that is close to idolatry?

Don't indulge in sexual immorality: (8) God's people are called to purity! Even God's people are tempted by our world to have a casual attitude toward what God intends to be sacred relationships. Statistics tell us that often attitudes of permissiveness and loose morals are inside the church as well as outside. If you are engaging in sexual activity outside of marriage you are sinning! You need to repent!

If you are entertaining and excusing unhealthy thoughts, you need to repent! "Let the unrighteous forsake their thoughts!" — not my sentence— it comes directly from God's Word.

Don't put Christ to the test: (9) is the next warning. Paul is not saying that Christ is not to be trusted in the crunch time. But he is saying that it is possible even to be selfish about the way we live the Christian life! We can seek to use Christ for the profit we think He brings— or for the health and good feelings we think is the height of spirituality - - or even for climbing the social ladder. If we think more of what Christ can do for us— and never of what we can do for Christ we need to repent!

Repentance

Finally a sobering warning—

Don't be a complainer!: (10) When whining becomes a way of life we are certainly not where God can bless and use us!! Alongside bank robbing and murder, the sin of complaining and grumbling seems trivial indeed. Maybe you have never been guilty of it. But if we have— we need to repent!

When God's people are willing to turn as the Holy Spirit gently leads them— turn from unhealthy ways and turn to a deeper love of God and one another, then God can get through to us with his Spirit in ways that will surprise and delight us.

Do we ever get beyond the need for repentance? REPENTANCE - AS A WAY OF LIFE - BECOMES HUMILITY BEFORE GOD'S GREAT LOVE

As God walks with His people and they grow in love to Him REPENTANCE BECOMES MORE AND MORE A TURNING TO GOD'S POSSIBILITIES!

Until we get away from thinking of repentance as simply negative, or something to hit people over the head with, we will never find that banquet God is talking about (in Isaiah 55) "Listen carefully to me," God says, "and (you will) eat what is good, and delight yourselves in rich food!"

What do you suppose God could do with you if He had your full and complete attention? What do you suppose God could do with a congregation that said, "Lord we want to love You more than anything!"??

Deep repentance is NOT some exotic experience. It does not begin with celebration— although we have to celebrate along the way!! It begins with THE DESIRE TO DESIRE God's will above all others. Like Jesus in the Garden of Gethsemane, this is coming to say, and asking God not to listen to how we feel, but what we are saying: "NOT MY WILL BUT YOURS BE DONE!"

It continues, then, by asking God to help us be OPEN TO GOD's POSSIBILITIES. It is what Bill Bright calls living in the "God room." I'm not always there, I confess. But I want to be led out beyond my own depth! It is what one saint called "being deeply sensitive to the ways and being of God." (Ignatian??)

Conclusion

Would God hear the anguished cry of a person in mortal trouble? Could we call that repentance? Is repentance just a fire escape? When people asked Jesus, "How did those people sin that the Tower fell on?" "What terrible thing did those people do that Herod murdered?" Jesus told the people, "Do you think they were better or worse than you are? Do you think YOU are better than they are?"

I like to think that wherever you are on your spiritual journey God hears the sincere cry for grace. But I don't just want a "fire-escape" salvation! I don't simply want to "turn from" sin in fear of death. God helping me, I want to see us turn TO God. If we will listen for God's voice I believe we can move toward being "deeply sensitive to the ways and being of God!"

Prayer

O Father God, I thank You that You are merciful, and quick to forgive all those who turn to You and who are willing to change their ways. Help us to draw near to You and listen, help us receive your promised gifts of life and blessing. By faith help us to hear Your Son, the Lord Jesus Christ, say to us, "Your sins are forgiven! Come, follow Me!" Amen.

324 Come, Every One Who is Thirsty

The Unfinished Story

ASHES TO FIRE Series 4 of 14

1. Meeting Jesus at the Place of Confession
2. Believing Have Life
3. Repentance
4. The Unfinished Story
5. Humility The Root Virtue
6. Veiled Majesty
7. A Story of Faith
8. Obedience and the Other Witness
9. Reaching Out: The First Breakfast
10. A Shepherd and a Promise
11. Love: A New Covenant
12. Anticipation: Meeting Jesus in the In-Between Times
13. Unity: The Countdown to Pentecost
14. Fire: Pentecost is the Norm

Lent 4—March 22, 1998

"Openness"

Luke 15 1,2; 11-32

A Picture, A Story

The sun has already set and daylight has mostly faded and gone. The big house is dimly outlined between tall old trees against the fading glow in the sky. But there is light piercing out into the darkness from the big house, shining from every window, and from an open door.

There is sound coming from the big house as well as light. It is the sound of music and of people laughing. Dishes are ringing together— it is a party!

The Unfinished Story

In the foreground of this picture stand two figures silhouetted in the light from the door. Two men are talking. As the light reflects on their faces we can see that they remarkably resemble each other. It is a father and a son. They are in serious conversation.

"I heard you were out here. Why don't you just come on in."

"You know why! He's in there!"

"He is your brother! You know how I love him. I'm so glad he is home!"

"How could you! love him?"

~ ~ ~

We came in, of course, near the end of this familiar story. The Prodigal Son has gone away, and has come home again. The Loving Father has permitted him to go, but has watched and waited and welcomed him home again with celebration. Now the Elder Brother wonders why.

How could God love like that? Is this really how God loves?

The answer is yes, God loves like that! Love like that is the heart of the Gospel. It is what Jesus is all about. Whoever you are, God loves you. Wherever you are, God's grace can reach you. John 3:16. Grace does not quit.

It is harder to be damned than you might think! You have to fight God's love. His love will follow you. His grace will meet you when you come to yourself. Love "like that" is great when you are a Prodigal Son or Daughter. You can come home again. That is what the story says. We are so familiar with it that we think that maybe that is the whole point of the story. (But do you remember to whom Jesus was telling that story— in fact the three stories of Luke 15?)

Love "like this" is NOT always welcome. It is surprisingly easy to resent it when God's grace goes to work in other people's lives. Resentment and envy and greed can close out the love and the grace that reaches clear around the world. Selfishness closes the door to God's grace. We think the story is about a son who went away and was lost. But don't you think that the resentful brother was lost, too?

This story tells us that you don't have to run away to be lost. There are people right here, right now who are good people, and who have never caused a scandal, and who have never been in outward rebellion but inwardly they are lost.

We're the good child in the family. We've stayed at home. We deserve to be blessed. It is hard to not be resentful of God's grace at work in others. Doesn't God understand how hard we've worked to be good? Shouldn't we be rewarded for our efforts?

The answer is yes. But we are so often blind to truth that God has already blessed us with his presence in our lives. God is here with us, and always has been, and always will be. In our resentfulness, we fail to recognize this truth. And just about the time we know we are worthy— and certainly a lot more worthy than "those others" we are just as lost as they are!

~ ~ ~

We came in near the end of the story. The two men stand outside, now in darkness so deep the outline of the big house can no longer be seen. The bitterness has been poured out. The loving answer has been given in return. The lights still shine out—the laughter and the music still can be clearly heard.

"You have been here with me— I've been here for you all the time, son."

"You never had a party for me!"

"All that I have is always yours! Come on in!"

And there the story leaves off. This is a story that never really ends. Did the elder brother find grace to open his heart to the joy? Can he open his heart to forgive? Can he open to the possibilities of God?

The Unfinished Story

Maybe Jesus left the ending up to the Pharisees and scribes that day. Maybe one or two of them was smart enough to see himself in the elder brother and confess and believe and repent and swallow his pride and walk into the light and join the party!

Maybe Jesus left the ending off the story to see if maybe one or two of us is smart enough to see ourselves in the picture! Ernest Campbell said that the biggest problem with American Christianity is that we have a Loving Father Gospel in an Elder Brother Church.

In his wonderful little book about this story Henri J. M. Nouwen says that just maybe, at some time or other, each of us has some of the roles of each person in Jesus' story. I know I was the prodigal, and I know I have been welcomed home. Maybe there have been times I have been able to point someone to the Father, and help another find grace. But maybe, also, I have been closed in vision, closed in spirit- in the unattractive role of the son who stood outside and refused to come in.

The ending of the story, then, could be up to you and me.

Prayer

God of love beyond all our understanding, Through Jesus you enable us to be new people - part of your new creation. You have entrusted us with the task of being ambassadors of Christ. Loving God, we give you thanks for opening our hearts to yours, so that we can speak the words to others which you have spoken to us in Christ: "You are loved. You are forgiven. You are saved." We praise you and adore you, O God, as we pray in Jesus' name. Amen

#344 Jesus, I Come

Humility The Root Virtue

ASHES TO FIRE Series 5 of 14

1. Meeting Jesus at the Place of Confession
2. Believing Have Life
3. Repentance
4. The Unfinished Story
5. Humility The Root Virtue
6. Veiled Majesty
7. A Story of Faith
8. Obedience and the Other Witness
9. Reaching Out: The First Breakfast
10. A Shepherd and a Promise
11. Love: A New Covenant
12. Anticipation: Meeting Jesus in the In-Between Times
13. Unity: The Countdown to Pentecost
14. Fire: Pentecost is the Norm

Lent 5—March 29, 1998

The word this week: "HUMILITY" Philippians 3

HUMILITY: THE "ROOT VIRTUE" I want to know Christ . . . I have not yet attained "Humility" is the word this week— Confession—believing— repentance— openness— and now—humility!

This may be the hardest sermon to preach there can be! The reason is— we all think we have a measure of humility— and yet humility is so elusive!

In honesty— we all have ego, and plenty of it! (Even "inferiority complex is often simply pride turned inside out— occupation with "self.")

What is this elusive thing called "humility"? I am haunted by a line in an old classic by R Newton Flew, it is on page 411, two-thirds of the way down the page on the right hand side where he says "Indeed it is possible that our worst sins are those of which we are unconscious." We've all known egotists, quarrelsome, selfish people who were altogether unconscious of how they were. Remember the McLandress syndrome?

So I begin with a classic old story I heard years ago, about a little boy was very ill and had an operation and desperately needed a transfusion of whole blood. His big sister, herself just a child, matched his rare blood type. The doctors knew she could spare half a pint, and they asked if she would give her blood to her baby brother. She was naturally quite apprehensive, but still quite readily agreed, for she loved her baby brother very much.

Giving blood is really pretty painless, and the little girl watched every step of the procedure. When it was all over, so the old story goes, she asked, "Now when do I die?" She had thought all along that giving her blood would be the end of her life. She loved her own life— but she had gone outside herself with her love.

It may be that old story is not a perfect illustration of the word "humility." But it comes very close.

TOWARD A DEFINITION

For humility is a very near relative of agape love, love that can center itself outside the self. Humility is akin to love. It is a climate in which agape love can grow.

Humility is the willingness and the ability to live beyond self-serving. A modern writer, Steven R. Covey, has said, "Humility is the mother of all virtue, courage is the father, the child is integrity, and the grandchild is wisdom." Humility is a willingness to learn. It is openness toward God. Humility is saying 'I am not God, and I will not try to act as though I were.'

Humility is a delicate thing— and believe me, it is not often the central subject of sermon. Just the same, it is almost impossible to over-estimate the importance of humility. Humility is what I would call a "root virtue." That is, humility is the root out of which other virtues can grow.

I. HUMILITY AS "A ROOT VIRTUE"

You can think of humility as "a root virtue."

- A. There are root sins — sins of the spirit out of which all other sins spring. The violent and disgusting and horrifying sins that make the headlines seem to make sins of the spirit hardly worth mentioning. But the fact remains that in back of every sin that is ever committed are the sins of PRIDE and UNBELIEF. (It is hard to over-estimate the lessons of Genesis 3 and the Garden of Eden!)

PRIDE is the exact opposite of humility. Pride is not just 'healthy self-esteem.' Pride says "I will put my SELF first, ahead of society, ahead of family, ahead of covenants—ahead of God Himself!"

UNBELIEF is the opposite of faith. Unbelief says "I refuse to acknowledge God's Word! It does not apply to me! God can't tell ME what to do!"

- B. But there are also root virtues: virtues out of which all other virtues can grow — they are HUMILITY and FAITH!

HUMILITY is an attitude of OPENNESS — being able to be taught

FAITH is a desire to believe God. It is the willingness to trust God as He makes His Word plain. Root virtues, like root sins, may not be very spectacular. But HUMILITY and FAITH are absolutely vital.

II. HUMILITY IS A MOVING TARGET

The epistle lesson says two big things: (1) Paul wants to know Jesus, and be like him, and (2) Paul does NOT consider himself to have reached the goal.

Philippians 3:10 I want to know Christ and the power of his resurrection and the sharing of his sufferings by becoming like him in his death, 11 if somehow I may attain the resurrection from the dead. 12 Not that I have already obtained this or have already reached the goal; but I press on to make it my own, because Christ

Jesus has made me his own. 13 Beloved, I do not consider that I have made it my own; but this one thing I do: forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead, 14 I press on toward the goal for the prize of the heavenly call of God in Christ Jesus.

However Paul does give us some clear directions in seeking to find these root virtues:

A. I want TO KNOW CHRIST!

This is "teleo"— and means to know a person— not just know about a person— it means getting more and more intimately acquainted. It comes with the same concept as the OT word "to know" that is used for husband and wife— INTIMATELY!

B. I want to know THE POWER OF HIS RESURRECTION!

This is "dunamis"- -the living Christ— a guarantee of the importance of LIFE both now, and in the ages to come. The resurrection of Christ, William Barclay says, is the guarantee that life is worth living and the physical body is sacred; it is the guarantee that death is not the end of life and that there is a world beyond; it is the guarantee that nothing in life or death can separate us from (Jesus).

C. I (even) want to know THE FELLOWSHIP OF CHRIST'S SUFFERINGS!

William Barclay says, We share the way Christ walked— we share the cross he bore— we share the death he died— and finally we share the life he lives evermore!

We can come to know Jesus Christ just as surely as we know our friends here on earth. We can come to share our days and nights with Him. We can go beyond theories and book knowledge. By his Spirit, we can say "I know Jesus!" But at the same time we can say, "I am COMING to know Jesus!" We have a long, wonderful way to go!

III. HUMILITY IS A KEY TO KNOWING AND LOVING JESUS

I believe that HUMILITY enables us sometimes to see what is really important. We live so much to the spectacular— we miss God's grace in life's 'ordinary days.'

It was just an ordinary day— or so it seemed— at the Bethany home of Mary, Martha, and Lazarus— they could not know how near the end of Jesus' earthly ministry. But Mary did NOT miss an opportunity to turn an ordinary day into one the world will never forget!

Do you remember Thornton Wilder's play Our Town that you (probably) studied in the tenth or eleventh grade:

Emily Webb Gibbs gets a wish to come back to visit Grover's Corner, New Hampshire, on her twelfth birthday just to observe "an ordinary day:" Here are some words from that old play:

EMILY (beginning softly but urgently): Oh, Mama, just look at me one minute as though you really saw me. Mama, fourteen years have gone by. I'm dead. You're a grandmother, Mama. I married George Gibbs, Mama. Wally's dead, too. Mama, his appendix burst on a camping trip to North Conway. We felt just terrible about it — don't you remember? But, just for a moment now we're all together. Mama, just for a moment we're happy. Let's look at one another.

And later

EMILY: (In aloud voice to the STAGE MANAGER.) I can't. I can't go on. Oh! Oh. It goes so fast. We don't have time to look at one another.

(She breaks down sobbing. At a gesture from the STAGE MANAGER, MRS. WEBB disappears.)

I didn't realize. So all that was going on and we never noticed. Take me back — up the hill — to my grave. But first: Wait! One more look. Good-by, Good- by, world. Good-by, Grover's Corners . . . Mama and Papa. Good-by to clocks ticking.. . and Mama's sunflowers. And food and coffee.

*And new-ironed dresses and hot baths. . . and sleeping and waking up.
Oh, earth, you're too wonderful for anybody to realize you.*

(She looks toward the STAGE MANAGER and asks abruptly, through her tears.)

Do any human beings ever realize life while they live it? every, every minute?

STAGE MANAGER: No. (Pause.) The saints and poets, maybe — they do some.

EMILY: I'm ready to go back

Somehow the REAL WORK of the church comes very near when HUMILITY enables us to see the GOOD and even the HOLY in what seem to be ordinary days of our lives.

Am I too mystic here? Am I dreaming?

Judas couldn't understand how a lavish display of love to Jesus could be reconciled with Mary lavished fragrant perfume on Jesus. Judas missed any possible good that could come from such extravagant behavior. The significance was not that this was near the end of the ministry, or that the crucifixion was near— Mary could not have known that. This simply meant that Mary loved OUTSIDE her own little self- - she had been touched by the divine...

Prayer

Closing Hymn

Footnote:

Did you ever hear of the McLandress Coefficient? When I was studying pastoral care many years ago I read about the "McLandress Coefficient;"

Herschel McLandress was a professor of psychiatric measurement at Harvard Medical School, and he developed a way to measure a person's degree of self-absorption. In spoken and written material he measured the use of "I," "me," and

"my" and the "Coefficient" was the longest span of time a person can remain diverted from himself.

Eleanor Roosevelt was supposed to have a McLandress coefficient of two hours; John F. Kennedy's was twenty-nine minutes, and Elizabeth Taylor's was three minutes. The reason I don't dare fill in God's blank check and ask for "power" or "glory" for myself could just be that I need to talk about me, when maybe Jesus wants to talk about something else. How is your McLandress Coefficient?

Could we take the McLandress Coefficient another step, and see how long we can go after getting up in the morning without thinking about God and grace and the love that surrounds us?

Could we even take it further and see how far we might be able to go into the day and week without ever once thinking about the needs of those we meet?

Veiled Majesty

ASHES TO FIRE Series 6 of 14

1. Meeting Jesus at the Place of Confession
2. Believing Have Life
3. Repentance
4. The Unfinished Story
5. Humility The Root Virtue
6. Veiled Majesty
7. A Story of Faith
8. Obedience and the Other Witness
9. Reaching Out: The First Breakfast
10. A Shepherd and a Promise
11. Love: A New Covenant
12. Anticipation: Meeting Jesus in the In-Between Times
13. Unity: The Countdown to Pentecost
14. Fire: Pentecost is the Norm

Palm Sunday—April 5, 1998

Luke 19:29,41,45; Revelation 19

Intro:

Passover . . . moments of solemnity and sheer awe . . . hours and days of fun and sheer fellowship. People WALKED great distances to be there . . . TALKED together. SANG the "songs of ascents"

[Ps 122 "I was glad when they said unto me let us go to the house of the Lord"]

Abraham walked up [Zion] with Isaac... David bought Aurauna's threshingfloor there and made an altar ... Solomon built his magnificent Temple there: IT IS AN INDESCRIBABLE FEELING TO JOIN THE GENERATIONS COMING TO THE HOLY CITY TO MEET WITH GOD.

This Passover was different from all others before or since! ALL the prophecies of ALL the scriptures would focus on a CROSS just five days hence.

THIS IS THE CONTEXT OF THAT TRIUMPHAL ENTRY:

I. THE VEILED MAJESTY OF PALM SUNDAY

(What did Jesus DO ?)

- A. He accepted (imperfect) praise! (1) They anticipated victory they THOUGHT they understood (19:11) (2) They rejoiced in the miracles they had seen (19:37) (3) They could not grasp the great SACRIFICE; the tremendous STRUGGLE; the VICTORY JUST AHEAD!
- B. (19:41) The king showed great compassion; He wept! Because He would be rejected and suffer? NO! Because THEY rejected Him, and THEY would suffer and die!

(Illustration: Note the sheer beauty of Boston - - what do we see? Now, what does Jesus see?)
- C. (19:45) The KING must be JUST!

Here is just a hint of what the CONQUERING KING will do to this universe when our probation TIME is ended! "Temple" does not mean church building (to me;) it means Shekinah— your heart— our worship together!

II. THIS IS AN UNFINISHED, INCOMPLETE MESSAGE TODAY.

ANY PALM SUNDAY MESSAGE IS AN UNFINISHED MESSAGE

- A. JESUS IS STILL ENCOURAGING OUR PRAISE...

...even though it is still incomplete and partial. We THINK we have a handle on the truth— and we DO have the advantage of two thousand years' worth of perspective. By now Tony Campolo's sermon "It's Friday— but Sunday's coming!" is famous...and rightly so! But even knowing now what we know, and being invited to be a part of Christ's ministry, we are reminded that the story is unfinished! And at the same time...

B. JESUS IS STILL WEeping OVER THE LOST!

It is NOT wrong to say that we must praise and be joyful, and at the same time we must have the Lord's compassion and share in His suffering.

C. JESUS WANTS TO CLEANSE YOUR HOLY PLACE

...and He wants to cleanse mine! It is important that the temple of our hearts, the place where God's glory can dwell, be cleansed. And when pure hearts come together in worship, THERE is the Church! THEN God's kingdom is carried forward!

CONCLUSION:

III. AND ONE DAY THIS PALM SUNDAY MESSAGE WILL BE COMPLETED.

One day the whole world will see THE MAJESTY OF JESUS! The Palm Sunday's Triumphal March was followed in five short days by another kind of procession, still led by our King. He was led forth to die! But it is important to remember that Jesus was NO martyr!

In Luke 24 we read that even as He was going to Calvary Jesus said to the people that were crying out and weeping: "Don't weep for Me! Weep for yourselves! Weep for Jerusalem! Weep for those upon whom judgment shall fall!" For Jesus was and is the Lamb of God. The Lamb before Whom the powerful of this earth will flee to the rocks and mountains because of His wrath! The same!

(Revelation 6:16 Cry to the mountains, 'Fall on us! And hide us from the wrath of the Lamb!')

But there is yet to be still another procession!

The story is not finished on Palm Sunday, nor Good Friday— nor even Easter— nor even Pentecost! This same Jesus, who entered Jerusalem on a gentle donkey to the shouts of children waving palm branches is coming again in a different sort of majesty!

Hear the words from the closing chapters of the Bible:

(Rev. 19:11-16;22:10-13) And I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse; and He that sat upon him was called. Faithful and True, and in righteousness he doth judge and make war. His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on His head were many crowns; and he had a name written, that no man knew but he himself. And he was clothed with a vesture dipped in blood: and his name is called The Word of God. And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean. And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the winepress of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God. And he hath on his vesture and on his thigh a name written, KING OF KINGS AND LORD OF LORDS. And (the angel) saith unto me, Seal not the sayings of the prophecy of this book: for the time is at hand. He that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still. And behold I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be. I AM Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

As we walk with Jesus this Holy Week, as we take Communion with Him Thursday evening, and as we remember Calvary— in it all Jesus is King! And even beyond Easter and Pentecost— remember... one day all this Universe will know and acknowledge the majesty of our KING!

Let us pray:

One day every knee shall bow! Today help OUR tongues to confess that Jesus Christ is LORD, to the glory of God the Father! Amen!

A Story of Faith

ASHES TO FIRE Series 7 of 14

1. Meeting Jesus at the Place of Confession
2. Believing Have Life
3. Repentance
4. The Unfinished Story
5. Humility The Root Virtue
6. Veiled Majesty
7. A Story of Faith
8. Obedience and the Other Witness
9. Reaching Out: The First Breakfast
10. A Shepherd and a Promise
11. Love: A New Covenant
12. Anticipation: Meeting Jesus in the In-Between Times
13. Unity: The Countdown to Pentecost
14. Fire: Pentecost is the Norm

Easter Sunday—April 12, 1998
(April 11, 1993)

Living Hope

John 20:9 He saw and believed.

The seeds of life had been sown.

Wonderful, living words.

Wonderful loving deeds

The seeds fell on warm hearts and cold hearts.

They fell on good ground and stony ground.

And there the seeds of life waited

*Now the Sower was gone.
All of a sudden it was winter,
It was night,
And it had never been this dark, this bleak,
Ever, ever before*

*Then, suddenly the Sun came up,
And it was springtime.
Some of the seeds began to feel the stirrings of life.
Some of the seeds knew they must respond.*

The WORD was calling them to LIFE!

BELIEVING WITHOUT WORDS

The first person to believe in the Risen Savior was John the Beloved. His coming to this living faith is stated in just four words. He saw and believed. (8)

John is modest to a fault. He never calls himself by name throughout the book. But he does not deny what happened in his heart when he looked into the empty tomb. He had not yet even seen the risen Jesus. That would come later, and John would meet Jesus again and again. John's vision of the glorified and risen Jesus would finally surpass every vision, at least until we all behold Him face to face.

But that first beginning is recorded so simply that it is easy to pass over as insignificant. John saw and John believed.

John saw what? The empty tomb. The empty grave-clothes. And that was all John needed. He remembered Jesus had said, "I will rise again the third day!" He remembered Jesus had said, "I will not leave you comfortless!" The seed has been planted in pure and fertile soil, and a miracle took place: John believed! That was it!

Mary's revelation is so much more dramatic. A sinner, a notorious sinner, she was the first to see the Savior! But John was good ground. The seed had lodged well.

John stands for millions of believers who have been implanted with the Good Seed of the Gospel before they ever came to rebellion, or before they knew enough to doubt.

John stands for many who know that Jesus is alive long before they reach the age of full understanding.

John stands for those who are so inclined to believe in Jesus that they know even before they know HOW they know! And never despise such faith! It will mature. It will be tested. It will have its revelations.

John was first!

FAITH IN THE GARDEN

The first person to see the risen Savior was a woman. She was without doubt a remarkable woman, with a strong character that had been refined and prepared for faith by the redeeming grace of Jesus. Her past keeps coming back to us; when she first met the Nazarene she had been possessed of seven devils. Jesus had set her free, and she had been a part of the faithful few that went all the way to the cross with Him.

But after the crucifixion Mary came to a dead stop. Her life was totally circumscribed by a visible, tangible Authority. She would gladly have died for Him, but she had not fully grasped how He had died for her! Her hope was in a living Messiah. And she had seen Him die on a cross.

She loved Him so much she wanted to go as far as she could in showing Him respect and honor. But all the words He had spoken, and all the things He had done were history now. Except that she still was free of the demons.

She went to honor a dead Jesus, but she went with love. And the hunger and cry and aching of her heart were answered in a way she never could have imagined. It is one of the most beautiful scenes in all holy writ.

Jesus, Himself, came to the Garden where she was. He came near and spoke her name. "Mary!" And within her the dormant seed of faith sprang to life!

"Master!"

Mary stands for the millions who have come to faith through love of a Christ they have been seeking. Perhaps we all have sought in the wrong places at times for Jesus. It may be that we have "supposed" and have almost mistaken the truth in the error of our suppositions. And then the living, risen Savior has spoken our name! I know you! And you know Me, too!

Mary stands for those who go looking with love for the Master.

FAITH THAT CAME IN TIME

It was a different kind of 'coming to faith' that John used for the very climax of his Gospel.

Thomas was a man who missed church on the first Easter Sunday. Perhaps if he had been there it might have been different. But it wouldn't have been so good for you and me if we didn't know this story of Thomas.

Thomas seemed to be that sort of person who is cursed with a gloomy outlook on life. But at the same time he seemed to be as honest as he knew how to be.

Remember how at a time late in Jesus' ministry when Jesus said He was going to Jerusalem, and the other disciples tried to tell Jesus not to go, that it was dangerous? Remember who spoke up, and what he said? It was Thomas who said, "Well, let's go with Him and die!" He loved Jesus enough to follow Him even when he, Thomas, thought He was probably wrong!

Anyway, Thomas didn't see, so he wouldn't believe. I get the idea that Thomas didn't dare to try to believe, because he didn't want to be disappointed again. And besides, Thomas couldn't see how things had changed. They were still a powerless little band of outsiders in their society.

Thomas represents honest doubt. Thomas stands for millions who have been persuaded that all religions are made of smoke and mirrors, and that believing in an unseen God probably is delusion. (Who was it that said an agnostic is a person with no invisible means of support?)

Thomas would like Jesus to prove to him personally that He is relevant in a hostile world.

One thing comes through in this story. Jesus really loved Thomas. He may have been stubborn. He may have been unable to join in the celebration because he couldn't believe what he hadn't seen. Jesus still loved Thomas.

And Jesus found Thomas. And when Jesus came to where Thomas was, the arguments Thomas had insisted he would make were never made!

"Come, put your hand in my side!", said the Savior. Thomas never did! Instead he fell to his knees. The seed of faith sprang to life!

"My Lord and my God!" said Thomas.

It is a wonderful thing to know the story of Jesus. It is a wonderful thing to come to love Him and to believe in Him as the Christ of the Bible. Jesus said that the Good News of the Gospel is the Seed of Life, and to know about Jesus is to receive that seed into the heart.

But it is an infinitely more wonderful thing to believe! To believe, to be persuaded deep in one's heart that Christ is alive, and to make Him our own personal Lord and Savior.

Believing, in this sense, does not come from knowing more and more. Believing does not come by winning arguments, or human understanding. Believing comes when people meet the risen Jesus!

A church where Jesus is alive can be a place where Jesus meets with people, and brings the seeds of faith to life. A heart where Jesus lives can take the risen Savior to neighbors at school or in the work place. God help you and me to let the living Savior shine through our lives!

Whether we are like John, or like Mary, or like Thomas, if we will let Him, Jesus will come to where we are. He will speak the word that calls our seeking to a living faith: we can believe!

*Now the Sower was gone.
All of a sudden it was winter,
It was night,
And it had never been this dark, this bleak,
Ever, ever before.*

*Then, suddenly the Sun came up,
And it was springtime.
Some of the seeds began to feel the stirrings of life.
Some of the seeds knew they must respond.
The WORD was calling them to LIFE!*

StL #261 Christ is Risen, Christ is Living

StL #262 He Lives

StL #264 Thine is the Glory

Almighty God, who through thine only-begotten Son Jesus Christ hast overcome death and opened to us the gate of everlasting life: Grant that we, who celebrate with joy the day of the Lord's resurrection, may be raised from the death of sin by thy life-giving Spirit; through the same Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with thee and the same Spirit ever, one God, world without end.

Postscript:

This week in the US, PBS carried 4 hours of programming on the rise of Christianity from the 1st to the 4th Centuries CE. The programs began with the statement (as the camera pans through a Gothic style church): Every Sunday, in every corner of the world, people gather to hear a story. For nearly two thousand years that story has been told and retold

- HOW DO WE KNOW JESUS ROSE?
- WHAT DIFFERENCE DOES IT MAKE?
- HOW CAN OTHERS KNOW JESUS IS ALIVE?

Several years ago a group of salesmen went to a regional sales convention in Chicago. They assured their wives that they would be home in plenty of time for Friday's supper. One thing led to another and the meeting ran overtime so the men had to race to the airport, tickets in hand. As they barged through the terminal, one man inadvertently kicked over a table supporting a basket of apples. Without stopping they all reached the plane in time and boarded it with a sigh of relief. All but one. He paused, got in touch with his feelings, and experienced a twinge of compassion for the girl whose apple-stand had been overturned. He waved goodbye to his companions and returned to the terminal. He was glad he did. The ten-year-old girl was blind. The salesman gathered up the apples and noticed that several of them were battered and bruised. He reached into his wallet and said to the girl, "Here, please take this ten dollars for the damage we did. I hope it didn't spoil your day." As he started to walk away, the bewildered girl called out to him, "Are you Jesus?" (1)

(1) Reference

1. Are You Jesus? By Brennan Manning. From More Sower's Seeds, Second Planting, copyright 1994 by Brian Cavanaugh, T.O.R., p. 13. Paulist Press, Mahwah, NJ 07430.

Obedience and the Other Witness

ASHES TO FIRE Series 8 of 14

1. Meeting Jesus at the Place of Confession
2. Believing Have Life
3. Repentance
4. The Unfinished Story
5. Humility The Root Virtue
6. Veiled Majesty
7. A Story of Faith
8. Obedience and the Other Witness
9. Reaching Out: The First Breakfast
10. A Shepherd and a Promise
11. Love: A New Covenant
12. Anticipation: Meeting Jesus in the In-Between Times
13. Unity: The Countdown to Pentecost
14. Fire: Pentecost is the Norm

April 19, 1998

And we are witnesses of these things; and so is the Holy Spirit, whom God has given to those who obey him. Acts 5:32

AT THE END OF THE EXODUS

God's chosen leader-successor to Moses, Joshua, led the Israelites into Canaan, the Promised Land. By a miracle very much like the miracle that delivered them from Egypt, the waters of the Jordan, swollen at flood level, had parted while the entire young nation marched across into land in which Abraham had sojourned. It was a thrilling time. Joshua was being brave and very courageous, as he had been told by God to be.

But just at this time Joshua met God in a new way. In a new, unrecognized form God met Joshua along the way— as a man with a drawn sword. Joshua, in his boldness asked this wonderful being "Are you for us? or are you for our adversaries?" It is something we would all like to know. Is God on our side?

Now God is "for" every man and woman on the face of the earth, in that God loves us, and He wills life and goodness for us. But God is not "for" any person or group of persons in serving their goals, being "used" to bring about health, and wealth, and success. As Abraham Lincoln wisely said, "I am not concerned if God is on our side; I am concerned that I be on God's side."

Joshua got this answer:

No! As the captain of the Lord's hosts I have come!

Joshua immediately did the right thing. He realized he was in God's presence. He fell on his face and worshiped. The God spoke to Joshua in much the same way he had called Moses more than 40 years before, from the burning bush. "Take your sandals off your feet! You are in God's Presence! This is holy ground!"

Joshua was being fine tuned for obedience here. Joshua was God's choice as leader, but Joshua was not to be calling the turns. Joshua was not himself to be "in charge." Joshua was learning that his power was only in his obedience to God's revealed will.

Just a few days later in the next chapter or so of this history is the famous battle that is still celebrated in spiritual and song— the battle of Jericho. It was a strange campaign, that. You know the story— marching around the walls in silence seven days. The seventh day multiple marches and then sudden blowing of the ram's horns. It was a miraculous victory that put the fear of God into the enemies of Israel. Once again success was dangerous, however. For the very next battle was against a small tribal kingdom called Ai. This enemy army was so small that just a few regiments were sent to bring them under control.

But instead of smashing victory there was shameful defeat. The reason, as it was discovered, was that among the soldiers was willful disobedience and defiance of God's will. A man called Achan had deliberately kept spoils to his personal use. God refused to bless the efforts of the Israeli army until they had repented and returned to the ways of obedience.

What Joshua learned that day as he met the Captain of the Lord's hosts was that obedience is what wins the day! It pays to stay in touch with God— in tune with His will.

Fifteen-hundred years later this principle was still very much in force. In obedience to Christ's command the disciples waited in Jerusalem and the Holy Spirit came on the day of Pentecost and filled them with power. The very first day it was not the walls of Jericho, but the gates of hell that were shaken, as 3,000 souls entered the kingdom under the preaching of Peter and the witness of the 120 spilling out of the Upper Room.

The disciples had their set-backs. They didn't have an Achan in the Early Church, but they did have Ananias and Sapphira, who lied to the Holy Spirit, and lost their lives because of their wrong spirit. But as long as the disciples were careful to seek and obey God's leading, they were unstoppable.

In the passage read this morning, the disciples have been arrested and warned—they have been arrested again and jailed—they have been set free by God's intervention, and have gone back to the Temple area to preach again about the resurrection power of God in Jesus Christ. As they obey God they are unstoppable!

Brought before the authorities they are commanded again not to speak in Jesus' name. Then comes this text. WE MUST OBEY GOD, RATHER THAN HUMAN AUTHORITY!

Now 2,000 years later it speaks the truth to us in our march from "Ashes to Fire!" This text says four important things:

1. We must obey God, not human authority. We need to believe that what we are doing is God's will. We don't ask God's blessing on OUR ideas and plans— instead we submit our will to HIS.

2. We are speaking what we have experienced. "Witnesses" can only say what they know for themselves Our "witness" has to be first-hand: MY sins have been forgiven. MY life is being changed! Jesus Christ IS MY Lord!
3. The Holy Spirit is validating our witness. When we try to tell others about Jesus we can be sure that we are NOT alone! The Holy Spirit Himself backs up testimony! HE is what gives witness power to reach into hearts and change lives!
4. The Holy Spirit is given to those who obey him. Here is the KEY! The "Other Witness"— the Holy Spirit— is given to those who actively, deliberately are OBEYING God!

WE ARE ON OUR WAY TO NEW FULLNESS.

We are walking with Jesus from "Ashes to Fire!" We have believed. We have confessed. We have repented.

We have sought to be open and transparent before God. We have prayed for true humility. We have followed Jesus to the Cross, and we have rejoiced in his resurrection power. BUT WE AREN'T THERE YET! There is greater fullness ahead!!

We may be tempted to "use" these steps to "improve" our way of life— to make us "better people"— to fulfill our goals. God, are you with us? Are you for us? Will you help us do as we think You should?

The response is the same as it was to Joshua 3,500 years ago: "Come to holy ground! Know Me! Obey me! You will be MY witnesses! And so will the Holy Spirit through you!"

What sort of obedience is God seeking? We may be surprised in that God is not always promoting BIG and DRAMATIC scenes for us. God begins with the inner life:

Are you living in any known sin? Do you have unconfessed sin in your life? Is there someone who has wronged you that you have not forgiven? Do you secretly harbor hatred in your heart? Do you entertain lustful thoughts? Do you look at or read filth?

God can not bless us, no matter how gifted, or how doctrinally true or eloquent, if we are speaking from disobedient lips!

The "Other Witness"— God's Holy Spirit— is ready and waiting to work with us to carry forward the work of Christ in our homes, in our neighborhoods— through the work of this church! He is more loving, more powerful, more capable than we will ever be.

But that "Other Witness" will only come where we are willing to OBEY GOD!

Prayer

O Father God— we want to know You better. Whatever the cost, help us to be your people. Do with us what you will, only teach us to please you and do your will. We ask this in Jesus' name, who with the Holy Spirit lives and reigns with you, one God, forever and ever. Amen

Hymn 329 Is Thy Heart Right with God?

Reaching Out: The First Breakfast

ASHES TO FIRE Series 9 of 14

1. Meeting Jesus at the Place of Confession
2. Believing Have Life
3. Repentance
4. The Unfinished Story
5. Humility The Root Virtue
6. Veiled Majesty
7. A Story of Faith
8. Obedience and the Other Witness
9. Reaching Out: The First Breakfast
10. A Shepherd and a Promise
11. Love: A New Covenant
12. Anticipation: Meeting Jesus in the In-Between Times
13. Unity: The Countdown to Pentecost
14. Fire: Pentecost is the Norm

Annual Meeting Sunday—April 26, 1998

Acts 9; John 21

Our God is a bridge builder. In all his thoughts and actions toward us he is reaching out to let us know that in this vast and mysterious universe we are not alone. In the first pages of scripture God is seen as looking for Adam and Eve in the Garden, calling, reaching out. The final words of Revelation are reaching out words: "The Spirit and the Bride say, 'Come! And let anyone that hears say, 'Come!' And let anyone that is thirsting come! Whosoever will, let them take of the water of life freely.'" Those are bridge-building words!

God wants his people to be bridge builders as well. If we want to be better friends to God we can learn from Him to reach out. It is God-like not simply to "win souls," but to "be there" for others with God's caring love.

Our scriptures today tell the stories of two bridges being built. The first story is about a man who had already met Jesus, but now he was potentially the loneliest man in the world. If Saul became a Christian his old friends would hate him— even kill him. But Saul had been so vicious the Christians felt they could never trust him. For three days Saul of Tarsus sat in a daze in a house on Straight Street absolutely in the dark. Then along came a bridge builder named Ananias, who lived in the ancient city of Damascus, Syria.

It is easy to read the Book of Acts and see the stars. Peter and Paul dominate the action, and there is no doubt they were the stars- they were great! But it is also easy to read the Book of Acts and overlook the bridge builders. If it weren't for a praying church, and a house prayer meeting, and a big-hearted disciple named Barnabas, and faithful martyrs like James and Stephen there wouldn't have been any stars. When God was reaching out to Paul he used a bridge builder named Ananias.

Ananias was in touch with God; he was "connected." God called his name: "Ananias!" The answer came back immediately! "Present! Here I am!"

"I have an assignment for you! Over at Judas' house on Straight Street is a man named Saul. He needs a man like you!"

Ananias loved and trusted God. He could (in a sense) argue lovingly with Him. "Is this really what YOU want me to do? You know who this Saul of Tarsus is!" God gave him assurance; this was what Ananias was to do.

Ananias was absolutely obedient when he knew it was God's will. There was no hesitation once it was established: this is God's will! Sanctifying grace will do that for you— it takes the "Shall I do God's will?" question, and replaces it simply with "What IS God's will?" It is already settled that there will be obedience!

Ananias carried through in spirit as well as letter. "Brother Saul!" And before Ananias was through Saul-Paul was "connected" to the believers. Another bridge-builder took over later, a man named Barnabas. If there had not been a bridge builder, a person to "reach out", Paul could not have become the great missionary he became.

God needs great men like Peter and Paul. But in his providence he doesn't anoint many apostles. There simply aren't many Billy Grahams and Chuck Colesons. And maybe the church has as many as it can use. They are the "stars." But the church desperately needs more men and women like Ananias of Damascus, and Barnabas the Son of Consolation. It needs people who are willing to build bridges— to reach out with God's love, to go one-on-one with people who are trying to find their way. We have some people like that right here this morning! Thank God!

(I was blessed this morning as I thought of people in this church who have been bridge builders: Carol Mann, Loretta Fish, Lois Howard, Esther Sanger; I thought across the years to people who have been for me like Barnabus and Ananias: Walter Edsall, George Anderson; you have had them, too; maybe you have been there for others as well . . .as a church we are called to that sort of ministry.)

—

The second reaching out story is a fishing story. Well, it starts out about fish, but it sort of ends up about sheep. It is one of the most beautiful stories in the Bible. It is a sort of add-on after the climax of the Gospels and Thomas' confession of Jesus: "My Lord and my God!" and John put it there to show how Jesus is at building bridges.

The disciples had gone back to Galilee as Jesus had told them. No Jesus. After a few days Peter declared, "I'm going fishing!"

I don't fault Peter one bit for going fishing. It doesn't mean he didn't love Jesus. It doesn't mean he wasn't willing to do the right thing. Fishing is an exercise in hope, when you come to think of it. Like McCawber in David Copperfield, the true fisherman always is saying down in his heart, "Something will turn up!" And besides that people have to eat. So Peter and six others went fishing. They fished all night. And something did turn up. Or I should say, Someone.

It may have seemed unreal at first. Three years before they had fished all night long and caught nothing. Then a non-fisherman— a Carpenter, had told them to push out into the deep and let down their nets for a draft. Now once again after fishing all night without catching a single fish they see this solitary Figure on the shore who calls, "Cast your nets on the other side of the boat!" And immediately they have several hundred pounds of very lively fish in their nets. One-hundred-fifty-three big ones, to be precise. And believe me, every fisherman knows exactly how big, how many, what bait, and where!

From a hundred yards offshore John recognized the Stranger. "It is the Lord!" With that Peter grabbed a tunic and over the side he went swimming and wading ashore. He was so glad to see Jesus! But then just about the time he stepped out of the water Peter remembered. He had let Jesus down. In his time of greatest pain he had denied that he ever knew Jesus. Peter wondered what to say, and so he just turned and helped pull the heavy nets on shore.

If the Passover that was transformed into a sacrament is called "The Last Supper," maybe this story ought to be called, "The First Breakfast." It says a lot without words to think that the risen Lord of the Universe would meet seven tired and hungry fishermen with a hot bed of coals for a delicious morning fish fry. You might say we have a Savior who comes to breakfast. But the bridge building, the reaching out—that is what this chapter is really about.

After breakfast Jesus called Peter a little way apart from the rest. Nosy John tagged along, and I'm glad he did for several reasons. John heard Jesus ask Peter, "Simon, son of John, do you (still) love me more than these (other fellow disciples)?"

The competitive spirit, at least against his fellow Christians, had gone from Peter. Chastened he answered, "Lord, I am your loving friend!"

Jesus came back: "Feed my lambs!" There are tender hearts who need your redeemed, restored ministry.

Jesus bored in again, "Simon, do you love me?"

A little more quietly, a little more subdued, Peter responds: "Lord, you know that I love you!" "Feed my sheep," came back the command again.

But Jesus was building a strong bridge to Peter. A third time Jesus came back, this time in Peter's own word for love: "Simon, son of John, do you love me?" And this time Peter is totally broken. He knows Jesus has forgiven him. He understands a little of the great love that is reaching out to where he is right now. I am certain tears were flowing as Peter said the third time, "Lord, you know all things: you know that I love you!"

Jesus did not deny Peter's statement. But again he came back as if to say, "The only way you are going to prove that love to me is by caring for my sheep!" And then Jesus told Peter there would come a time when he would prove that love even by dying for Him. It was a sobering moment.

(Incidentally, a modern-day Christian teacher, the late Henri Nouwen left a tenured position at Harvard University and became a servant to severely retarded people on the strength of that challenge in verse 18 to Peter.)

The bridge was built. Jesus had reached out. Contact! But the story was not quite over. For John had tagged along. John had gotten Peter into the high priest's courtyard the night Jesus was arrested. John had run away, too. John didn't seem to need a bridge. Peter was human. He asked, "What about him, Lord?"

Peter heard the final word— for him and for us. "What is that to you? You follow ME!" And that is exactly what Peter did. His call was renewed. the fisherman became a bridge builder. He spent the rest of his life reaching out. He became a mighty preacher and soul winner. He became a representative of Jesus in healing miracles— even raising one young lady from the dead.

God needs us to be bridge builders, people who will reach out. Jesus will meet with us at the place of reaching out in fellowship to one another within the church. And he certainly will meet with us at the place where we are willing to reach out to those who do not yet know this Savior.

We are not saved in order to shut and lock the door against the world, circle the wagons and wait for the Rapture. We have been reached by grace so that we, too, can be bridge builders. Wherever God sends us, he will meet us and go along with us. We meet him at the place of reaching out.

Reaching Out: The First Breakfast

Prayer - Lord in some small measure we have sought to reach out to our brothers and sisters, and to those in our community who may not yet know you, and by prayer and faith, to reach out even around the world. grant to us that we can be like You, bridge builders— bringing your body together in love, we pray in Jesus' name. Amen

702 Christ for the World We Sing

A Shepherd and a Promise

ASHES TO FIRE Series 10 of 14

1. Meeting Jesus at the Place of Confession
2. Believing Have Life
3. Repentance
4. The Unfinished Story
5. Humility The Root Virtue
6. Veiled Majesty
7. A Story of Faith
8. Obedience and the Other Witness
9. Reaching Out: The First Breakfast
10. A Shepherd and a Promise
11. Love: A New Covenant
12. Anticipation: Meeting Jesus in the In-Between Times
13. Unity: The Countdown to Pentecost
14. Fire: Pentecost is the Norm

May 3, 1998

John 10:11-33; Psalm 23

Our Faith is about:

David says "The LORD is my shepherd . . ."

Jesus says, "I AM the Good Shepherd." "I lay down my life for my sheep. No one can pluck them out of my hands."

Such a PERSONAL thing! "MY" shepherd! Our faith begins and ends with Jesus! In the latest Christian Century is an article about being apprenticed to Jesus. We can tell whether our faith is on bedrock or "on stilts" if the emphasis is on Jesus! more than it is on secondary issues.

A Shepherd and a Promise

A valley and a presence:

In reality we are not always "up." "I shall not want" does not mean we will never go through valleys. Scary places. Dangerous places. But there is that promise: "I know that you will be with me! I know that you ARE with me!" "No one can pluck me out of your hand!"

A table and enemies:

When we are in the valley— when the pressure is on— the Lord has promised to feed us— to sustain us. (Of course he feeds us when we're picnicing on the mountainside as well. But feed us He does! That's His job!)

Our "enemies" will see this. It is not a "nah-nah-nah-nah-nah!" flaunting— eating in the presence of enemies. Rather it is being held, sustained—maintaining a love and Christ-like caring that the "enemies" can see!

Wherever you are on your Spiritual Journey the Presence is available to you. God's table can sustain you. Today's place of meeting Jesus in our Ashes to Fire is "Wounded Healers." We meet Jesus when we share His table before our enemies; we meet Jesus when we are at our strongest and share with others. But perhaps we meet Jesus more than we can ever know when we share our faith with others when we are at our very lowest- our weakest.

Barbara Howard's death left a fragrance; was a renewal—almost a revival!

I invite you to covenant again with Jesus at His table:

THE HOLY COMMUNION

Wherever you are on your Spiritual Journey:

If you believe God is seeking fellowship with you— and if you want to turn to Him, I invite you to come in faith to the Table of the Lord. Draw near with faith and take this Sacrament to your comfort, and make your humble confession to Almighty God in humility before Him.

(The Apostles Creed — #8 in Sing to the Lord)

The Law Read and Confession Made

The Lord Jesus Christ has said to us: "Thou shalt love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the first and great commandment. The second is like unto it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets." Brothers and sisters, let us search our hearts. In silence let us ask God to draw us near to Himself so that we can come to his table with confidence.

(Reading No. 750 — A prayer in unison, from scripture:)

Unison: Search me, O God, and know my heart; Test me and know my anxious thoughts. See if there is any offensive way in me. Lead me in the way everlasting.

Have mercy on me, O God, according to your unfailing love. Wash away all my iniquity and cleanse me from my sin. Create in me a pure heart, O God, and renew a steadfast spirit within me. May the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be pleasing in your sight, O Lord, my Rock and my Redeemer.

Pastor: Hear what our Lord has said: Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. And he has also said, "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believes in him should not perish but have everlasting life.

Thank you. O God, for your forgiving us when we come humbly to you. We do not presume to come to this table, O God, trusting in our own righteousness, but in your great mercy and grace. Grant us to eat the Bread of heaven, and drink the blood shed for the remission of sins, that we may live in Christ, and Christ may live in us forever. Amen

(In Place of Gloria Patri) sing

"Father, I Adore You, Lay my life before You How I love you!"

"Jesus, I adore you . . ." and : "Spirit, I adore you . . ."

The Informal Invitation

("This is not my table . . ." Do not come irreverently. Do not come because someone else expects it. But if the Host invites you, and you want to walk with Him, then you are welcome at His table...)

The Words of Institution

On the night in which he was betrayed our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had given thanks to You he broke it and gave it to his disciples and said, "Take eat: THIS IS MY BODY, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me.

After supper he took the cup and when he had given thanks he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you; THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink this, do it in remembrance of me: Amen

We praise you for the mystery of our salvation! We truly believe Christ has died!
Christ is risen! Christ will come again!

Bless these emblems, O God, and make them to us the Body and Blood of your Son, spiritual food, and spiritual drink of new and unending life in Jesus Christ.

And now, together, we pray, as Jesus taught us: Our Father which art in heaven . . .

Now, humbly we receive the Gifts of God for the People of God

Love: A New Covenant

ASHES TO FIRE Series 11 of 14

1. Meeting Jesus at the Place of Confession
2. Believing Have Life
3. Repentance
4. The Unfinished Story
5. Humility The Root Virtue
6. Veiled Majesty
7. A Story of Faith
8. Obedience and the Other Witness
9. Reaching Out: The First Breakfast
10. A Shepherd and a Promise
11. Love: A New Covenant
12. Anticipation: Meeting Jesus in the In-Between Times
13. Unity: The Countdown to Pentecost
14. Fire: Pentecost is the Norm

May 10, 1998

John 13:31-35

There are many ways to look at Mother's Day. I see it as an opportunity to celebrate family love. It doesn't have to just be birth mothers that we honor. At least we can think again about how important our loved ones are to us.

Children often see things a little differently from what we might think. David Heller wrote a book called DEAR GOD: CHILDREN'S LETTERS TO GOD. He eavesdrops on some children's prayer-letters in which they talk about family. For example:

Dear God, Thank you for my parents, my sister Anita, and for my grandma and grandpa. They are real warm and special. I forgive you for my brother Phil. I guess you didn't finish working on him. Sean (age 12)

Dear God, My mom is acting weird because she is getting old. Can you take back a few gray hairs? That would help bring back the house to normal. Thanks for what you can do. Mike (age 9)

Dear God, You light up my life. So do mom and dad. I hope you like this. I am not sure what it means. Luv, Toni (age 7)

Dear God, My mom tells me a story about you every night. Last night she told me how you always remember your mother on her birthday. And you give her divine gifts. I think she was kidding me and herself. Love, Holden (age 7)

In my early years we always had carnations on Mother's Day. We may not have had any money, but my mother saw to it that my sister Ruth and I had red carnations to show OUR mother was alive— and she and Dad wore white carnations in honor of their mothers who had died. It seemed somehow sacred and "official"— that was the way to observe Mother's day.

Mother's Day still is a good way to honor all that is best about mother love and family love. But it has to be much more than carnations and cards. Anna Jarvis, the West Virginia woman whose crusading got her state to adopt Mother's Day in 1910, and the whole nation to adopt by 1914 later became very bitter over the heavy commercialization of Mother's day. She told a reporter she was sorry she ever started Mother's day. In fact she was arrested for disturbing the peace at a War Mother's Rally when she protested the sale of carnations. "This is not what I intended," she was quoted as saying. "I wanted it to be a day of sentiment, not profit."

Mother's Day is an opportunity to honor far more than just birth mothers. Anna Jarvis herself, the founder of Mother's Day, never was a birth mother. And one of the most beautiful real-life stories in our nation's history was about a boy who was born in Kentucky, moved early to southern Indiana where his mother died. When his father brought home a new bride the little boy was very upset, almost frantic. He didn't want to accept a step-mother. he was afraid he would forget his birth mother.

But the boy's step-mother was a kind Christian woman. She read to him every night. She nursed him when he was sick, and held him on her lap a lot. As time went by he came to realize he could love this new mother without losing his love for the mother who had died. He came to call his step mother his "Angel Mother." Later on Abraham Lincoln would say, as 16th President of the United States, "All that I am or ever hope to be I owe to my angel mother."

This day of celebration of family love falls on the 11th Sunday in our Ashes to Fire Pilgrimage with Jesus, and is the day when we hear His greatest commandment— what some call, "The Eleventh Commandment." "A new commandment I give you," Jesus said, "That you love one another."

In two brief sentences that commandment is spoken three times, just to make sure the disciples would hear and understand.

First Jesus said it: This is my command! Love one another!

Then Jesus told them HOW they should go about it: As I have loved you, so you are to love one another! Like Jesus! As He loved!

Finally Jesus told them that this was to be their identification badge: By THIS, He said— by THIS shall all know that you are MY disciples— if you have love one for another!

Wonderful are the steps we have been following— we began with believing, then confessing, then repenting. We went on with openness or vulnerability before God, with humility, and to complete surrender. We rejoiced in the resurrection, and went on to obedience, and to reaching out to others. last Sunday night we talked about wounded healers. but now we are at the heart of the whole scheme: WE ARE TO LOVE ONE ANOTHER AS JESUS HAS LOVED US!

This is on a different plane now even from The Golden Rule. Jesus is not saying, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you!" He is saying, "Love one another as I have loved you!" He has just finished washing his disciples' feet. He is about to die on the cross of Calvary for their sins, and for yours and mine as well. And he says to them and to us: LOVE ONE ANOTHER AS I HAVE LOVED YOU.

This kind of self-giving love is what soul-health is all about! It lifts us out of self-pity and self-absorption, and brings us into a working partnership with Jesus Himself. I close with a little story by Eddie Ogan:

I'll never forget Easter 1946. I was 14, my little sister Ocy was 12, and my older sister Darlene 16. We lived at home with our mother, and the four of us knew what it was to do without many things. My dad had died five years before, leaving Mom with seven school kids to raise and no money. By 1946 my older sisters were married and my brothers had left home.

A month before Easter the pastor of our church announced that a special Easter offering would be taken to help a poor family. He asked everyone to save and give sacrificially. When we got home, we talked about what we could do. We decided to buy 50 pounds of potatoes and live on them for a month. This would allow us to save $20 of our grocery money for the offering. When we thought that if we kept our electric lights turned out as much as possible and didn't listen to the radio, we'd save money on that month's electric bill. Darlene got as many house and yard cleaning jobs as possible, and both of us babysat for everyone we could. For 15 cents we could buy enough cotton loops to make three pot holders to sell for $1. We made $20 on pot holders.

That month was one of the best of our lives. Every day we counted the money to see how much we had saved. At night we'd sit in the dark and talk about how the poor family was going to enjoy having the money the church would give them. We had about 80 people in church, so figured that whatever amount of money we had to give, the offering would surely be 20 times that much. After all, every Sunday the pastor had reminded everyone to save for the sacrificial offering. The day before Easter, Ocy and I walked to the grocery store and got the manager to give us three crisp $20 bills and one $10 bill for all our change. We ran all the way home to show Mom and Darlene. We had never had so much money before. That night we were so excited we could hardly sleep. We didn't care that we wouldn't have new clothes for Easter; we had $70 for the sacrificial offering. We could hardly wait to get to church!

On Sunday morning, rain was pouring. We didn't own an umbrella, and the church was over a mile from our home, but it didn't seem to matter how wet we got. Darlene had cardboard in her shoes to fill the holes. The cardboard came apart, and her feet got wet. But we sat in church proudly. I heard some teenagers talking about the Smith girls having on their old dresses. I looked at them in their new clothes, and I felt rich. When the sacrificial offering was taken, we were sitting on the second row from the front. Mom put in the $10 bill, and each of us kids put in a $20. As we walked home after church, we sang all the way. At lunch Mom had a surprise for us. She had bought a dozen eggs, and we had boiled Easter eggs with our fried potatoes!

Late that afternoon the minister drove up in his car. Mom went to the door, talked with him for a moment, and then came back with an envelope in her hand. We asked what it was, but she didn't say a word. She opened the envelope and out fell a bunch of money. There were three crisp $20 bills, one $10 and seventeen $1 bills. Mom put the money back in the envelope. We didn't talk, just sat and stared at the floor. We had gone from feeling like millionaires to feeling like poor white trash.

We kids had such a happy life that we felt sorry for anyone who didn't have our Mom and Dad for parents and a house full of brothers and sisters and other kids visiting constantly. We thought it was fun to share silverware and see whether we got the spoon or the fork that night. We had two knives that we passed around to whoever needed them. I knew we didn't have a lot of things that other people had, but I'd never thought we were poor. That Easter day I found out we were. The minister had brought us the money for the poor family, so we must be poor.

I didn't like being poor. I looked at my dress and worn out shoes and felt so ashamed I didn't even want to go back to church. Everyone there probably already knew we were poor! I thought about school. I was in the ninth grade and at the top of my class of over 100 students. I wondered if the kids at school knew that we were poor. I decided that I could quit school since I had finished the eighth grade. That was all the law required at that time.

We sat in silence for a long time. Then it got dark, and we went to bed. All that week, we girls went to school and came home, and no one talked much. Finally on Saturday, Mom asked us what we wanted to do with the money. What did poor people do with money? We didn't know. We'd never known we were poor.

We didn't want to go to church on Sunday, but Mom said we had to. Although it was a sunny day, we didn't talk on the way. Mom started to sing, but no one joined in and she only sang one verse.

At church we had a missionary speaker. He talked about how churches in Africa made buildings out of sun dried bricks, but they needed money to buy roofs. He said $100 would put a roof on a church. The minister said, "Can't we all sacrifice to help these poor people?" We looked at each other and smiled for the first time in a week.

Mom reached into her purse and pulled out the envelope. She passed it to Darlene. Darlene gave it to me, and I handed it to Ocy. Ocy put it in the offering. When the offering was counted, the minister announced that it was a little over $100. The missionary was excited. He hadn't expected such a large offering from our small church. He said, "You must have some rich people in this church."

Suddenly it struck us! We had given $87 of that "little over $100." We were the richest family in our church! Hadn't the missionary said so? From that day on I've never been poor again. I've always remembered how rich I am because I have Jesus!

Prayer: Heavenly Father, You have shown your great love to us by giving us your Son, Jesus Christ, who has himself loved us and given himself for us. By your grace, help us to obey this Great Commandment, and love as Jesus has shown us so to do. This we ask in His Name who with the Holy Spirit lives and reigns with You, One God, world without end. Amen

Closing Chorus

Anticipation: Meeting Jesus in the In-Between Times

Ashes to Fire #12 of 14

1. Meeting Jesus at the Place of Confession
2. Believing Have Life
3. Repentance
4. The Unfinished Story
5. Humility The Root Virtue
6. Veiled Majesty
7. A Story of Faith
8. Obedience and the Other Witness
9. Reaching Out: The First Breakfast
10. A Shepherd and a Promise
11. Love: A New Covenant
12. Anticipation: Meeting Jesus in the In-Between Times
13. Unity: The Countdown to Pentecost
14. Fire: Pentecost is the Norm

May 17, 1998

John 14:23-29; Acts 16:9-15

The period between Easter and Pentecost is divided into two distinct periods, punctuated by the Ascension of Jesus at the end of forty days. The final ten days were given a sharp focus by the final command of Jesus to wait in Jerusalem for the "promise" (Promise) of the Father. Those ten days were certainly an "in-between time."

The first forty days after the resurrection were not quite so clearly focused. Those days were even more of an 'in-between time,' for things were certainly not the same as they had been before. They would never be the same again. Jesus was alive, but he did not now speak publicly, or show himself to unbelievers. The disciples knew things had to change, but they didn't know what to expect. In their wildest dreams they could not have imagined what lay ahead. They could not know what the Promise would mean to them, personally. They could not know where the indwelling Spirit would take them.

During this in-between time it seems Jesus was concerned mainly with shaping and guiding the faith of his beloved disciples. He made himself known to his own. They had known him before, yes. But now there was a new dimension. Their Lord had been crucified, dead and buried. He had returned with a new and glorious body that seemed to appear and disappear, and yet was very, very real. That body itself was a promise of what the disciples one day would be.

In making himself known, the emphasis was on faith to faith. Where his disciples talked about him, Jesus showed up: Emmaus and the breaking of the bread; Galilee, and the restoration of Peter; More than 500 believers at one time and place saw and touched and fellowshiped with the risen Lord. But always in this in-between time the emphasis was on faith: "I am he that lives, and was dead, and behold, I am alive forevermore!"

Jesus during this time reinforced the role and purpose of the scriptures. he had already stated clearly to the religious scholars (John 5:39) that the purpose of the scriptures was not in and of themselves to give eternal life, but rather to testify to the Living Word who himself IS life. Now the risen Lord became the Teacher, and beginning with Moses and all the Old Testament prophets— which was all the Bible then extant— Jesus expounded to the disciples the things concerned Himself. And as he did their hearts were warmed, and their faith lifted. In the in-between times they found strength in seeing Christ in the Word.

Jesus also during this in-between time reminded them that the Promise was God indwelling them. Jesus had told them that when the Spirit came he would do two things: (1) guide the believers, and (2) convince the WORLD that He, Jesus, is the Christ!

How does this apply to our own "in-between times"? Those times when our next step is not quite clear, or, if it is more sharply focused, at least we do not know exactly how to take that next step? What can we learn from the word today?

Maybe we all are always in "in-between times." but there are especially difficult times that could only be described as transition periods. New choices to make. Decisions to be made. (How I HATED the East after I got here!!)

- Which college shall I attend?
- Which grad school would be God's choice for me?
- Should I marry him? her?
- What career is really best for me?
- Does God really "have a plan for my life?"

The lesson from Acts is an object lesson of "in-between time" decision making in the life of the greatest missionary who ever lived, the Apostle Paul.

1. He decided to go east. Nothing wrong with the decision— except— the Lord blocked him twice- so—
2. A closed door is an answer; not a final answer, but an answer all the same
3. Paul had a vision. That could be in itself dangerous. But then came an open door—
4. They moved through, believing God was leading Their spirit is everything here. It is not arrogance or self-seeking. If they get in trouble honestly and openly, it still comes under Romans 8:28 which had not yet been written but which is true eternally!
5. They met Lydia— everything starts out great— they even have a victory over evil— and
6. They end up in prison, at midnight, in stocks in the inner prison— but that is another great story!

Two things in final challenge:

In the in-between times God is still with us; we can deliberately seek to be his witnesses. Chinese people showing us the way! I challenge us to tell people: "God is good! God loves YOU!"

In the in-between times God will never abandon us!

One of the great In-Between Times in this century was during World War II, when the Nazis were bombing London every night, and the outcome of the war was very much unknown. At the end of each year the British sovereign would address his people over radio, and during those dark days King George VI, the father of the present queen strengthened his people with this saying that has since become well known:

"I said to the man who stands at the Gate of the Year, 'Give me light that I may tread safely into the unknown.' And he replied, 'Step into the darkness, put your hand into the hand of God, and that will be to you better than a light, and safer than a known way.'"

In the in-between times we have the Promise that the Holy Spirit will come, he will teach us, and reminds us of everything Jesus said, and lead us in His peace. Amen

Prayer

Eternal Father, just as you made clear your will to Paul and Silas in calling them to Macedonia, we ask that you will make your will clear to those who seek you in the in-between times of life. Give us the assurance that your Presence is with us, and by your Holy Spirit teach us and empower us to know and do your will, in Jesus' holy name, who with you and the Holy Spirit reigns forever, One God, world without end. Amen

Hymn Have Thine Own Way, Lord #480 or I Give All to You #482

Unity: The Countdown to Pentecost

ASHES TO FIRE Series 13 of 14

1. Meeting Jesus at the Place of Confession
2. Believing Have Life
3. Repentance
4. The Unfinished Story
5. Humility The Root Virtue
6. Veiled Majesty
7. A Story of Faith
8. Obedience and the Other Witness
9. Reaching Out: The First Breakfast
10. A Shepherd and a Promise
11. Love: A New Covenant
12. Anticipation: Meeting Jesus in the In-Between Times
13. Unity: The Countdown to Pentecost
14. Fire: Pentecost is the Norm

May 24, 1998

John 17:20-26

THERE WAS A BIG HOLE IN THE SKY. A loud silence! Jesus was gone! They stood there with their faces turned up and their mouths open. Two shining beings brought them confirmation of what somehow they already knew: they knew this was a forever kind of change. Things were never going to be the same ever again.

Jesus was gone, but he did leave definite instructions: Don't leave town! Jesus had told them, "Go into all the world! Begin in Jerusalem and go to Judea and Samaria and to the uttermost part of the earth— but for NOW— don't leave town!" I have Something— Someone— that I want to give you! I promise!

So in obedience the disciples went back to Jerusalem. They waited. And they prayed. During the next ten days there was a focus in their faith that brought them to where the scriptures say they were "in one place in one accord."

WHAT OR WHERE IS THIS PLACE WHERE PENTECOST COMES?

For the disciples it was the Upper Room, the place where they had had Communion with Jesus. That place became a place of unity of PURPOSE and OBEDIENCE.

Everything else went "on hold" until God came as He had promised. It was also a place of unity in FAITH and TRUST. The Resurrection had given them faith to know that Jesus is as good as His Word! That living faith was enough for them to hold them steady if they had to wait one day or ten days or more.

A place where Jesus' own prayer is answered: During the ten days they did wait the disciples certainly remembered the last prayer Jesus had prayed when they were together in this same Upper Room. It was a prayer for Himself: "Father, glorify me with the glory I had before the world!" It became a prayer for them: "Father, let these my friends share that glory, too!" But wonder of wonders, that High Priestly Prayer is a prayer for you and me! We, too, can come to the place where Pentecost happens!

It was a prayer for unity: "Make them one, Father! One with us— one with one another!" That prayer for unity was a feature of the High Priestly prayer that hits us right in the face. It is inescapable.

CAN PENTECOST BE REPEATED?

It has been many times, in many places. In one real sense Pentecost happens every time a soul is born into the Kingdom, or every time a believer is filled with the Holy Spirit. But as a mighty moving of God on His church? Can that happen again? I believe the answer is "Yes!" I also believe it is the only hope for the church to survive as the church and make any impact at all on this generation. "Yes!"

CAN WE MAKE PENTECOST HAPPEN AGAIN?

The answer absolutely is "No!" We are so self-confident in our age we think all we have to do is get in the right speaker— organize the right kind of rally— discipline ourselves, pray more— and we can have Pentecost again any time we want!

But that is all backwards! No one commands the Holy Spirit! He is not a captive of any sect or denomination. The Spirit's coming is always of grace! He responds when believers believe Jesus' Promise, and obey His command to wait.

CAN YOU AND I, CAN WE COME TO THE PLACE WHERE PENTECOST COMES?

We have been pointing toward Pentecost for 13 weeks now: Confessing... believing... repenting... in humility... obedience... in reaching out... in Christ-like love and anticipation... we have been pointing toward Pentecost! We want to know what it means to be awakened by God's Spirit!

Whatever took place those ten days— we don't know— but human effort— even human prayer was not what brought the Spirit. The Spirit's coming was all of grace. It was attractive. It was powerful. It was also frightening, awesome, and wonderful beyond description. It was the first mighty Awakening of the Holy Spirit. It has been repeated over and over again where God's people have come simply agreeing that they want God more than they want anything else!

When the church across the centuries has sought for God as more than a fire-escape, or more than a therapeutic convenience to enhance our life-style— when the church has given up its own selfish ways, God has been found!

THE SPIRIT IS A GIFT OF GOD'S GRACE!

It is hard to grasp, but Jesus said that if we simply ask the Father, He will give us the Holy Spirit as the free gift of His grace. Jesus said that as imperfect and self-centered as we can be, if we enjoy giving good and necessary things to our children— then HOW MUCH MORE WILL THE HEAVENLY FATHER GIVE THE HOLY SPIRIT TO THOSE WHO ASK? What would happen if we really believed that?

HOW ONE MAN CAME TO ASSURANCE:

In England one man had been seeking God's Spirit to witness with his own spirit that he was a child of God. Exactly 260 years ago this very day a 35-year old Anglican priest opened his Testament at five in the morning to the words: "There are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises, even that ye should be partakers of the divine nature." (2 Peter 1:4,) and then saw the words "Thou art not far from the kingdom of God." In the afternoon he went to Vespers at St. Paul's, and the anthem sung there was:

"Out of the deep have I called unto Thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice. O Let thine ears consider well the voice of my complaint. If thou, Lord, wilt mark evil, O Lord, who can abide it? For there is mercy with thee; therefore shalt thou be feared... And he shall redeem Israel from all his sins."

And then in his journal that Anglican priest wrote these famous words: "In the evening I went very unwillingly to a society in Aldersgate-Street, where one was reading Luther's preface to the Epistle to the Romans. About a quarter before nine, while he was describing the change which God works in the heart through faith in Christ, I felt my heart strangely warmed. I felt I did trust in Christ, Christ alone for salvation: And an assurance was given me, that he had taken away my sins, even mine, and saved me from the law of sin and death." This was the Holy Spirit's enlightenment to John Wesley. In his own words: "before I had served with the faith of a servant— now I could serve as a son."

God used Wesley's dynamic energy, and his methodistic approach to life, and certainly Wesley's genius for organizing believers into small groups for accountability. But it was not until Wesley saw that salvation was all of grace, and surrendered even his ambition and considerable strength of will that God brought powerful assurance, and the Wesleyan Revival that saved Britain from untold loss was begun. And at the heart of Wesley's newfound Holy Spirit assurance was a spirit that called for unity and love as well as renewal and revival throughout the Church of Jesus Christ:

On Wesley's Day— Aldersgate Day we might well ponder his words: John Wesley himself said: "By... a living faith... we labour to distinguish ourselves from the unbelieving world. ... But from real Christians, of whatsoever denomination they be, we earnestly desire not to be distinguished at all; not from any who sincerely follow after what they know they have not yet attained. ... Is thy heart right, as my heart is with thine? I ask no farther question. If it be, give me thy hand. For opinions, or terms, let us not destroy the work of God. Dost thou love and serve God? It is enough. I give thee the right hand of fellowship." ... (3)

Wesley came to the place where God could come on His terms, and the rest is history:

CAN YOU AND I, CAN WE COME TO THE PLACE WHERE PENTECOST COMES?

Prayer

Lord, Bring us to the place where Pentecost can come! We do not pray for uniformity, O God. We do not expect to agree on so many things of life. But, O great Father, we hunger and thirst for YOU! We want to be Your dwelling place! We unite our hearts in asking for the Holy Spirit in His fullness— the Promise Jesus made, and the prayer for us He prayed.

This we ask in His name, who with You and the Holy Spirit reign forever and ever, One God, world without end. Amen

Hymn "Come, Holy Spirit, I Need You"

Fire: Pentecost is the Norm

ASHES TO FIRE Series 14 of 14

1. Meeting Jesus at the Place of Confession
2. Believing Have Life
3. Repentance
4. The Unfinished Story
5. Humility The Root Virtue
6. Veiled Majesty
7. A Story of Faith
8. Obedience and the Other Witness
9. Reaching Out: The First Breakfast
10. A Shepherd and a Promise
11. Love: A New Covenant
12. Anticipation: Meeting Jesus in the In-Between Times
13. Unity: The Countdown to Pentecost
14. Fire: Pentecost is the Norm

May 31, 1998

In the last days, God declares, I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh ... Acts 2:17

Today we celebrate one of the three great days of the entire church year. Everyone celebrates Christmas, and most people even know that it has to do with the birth of Jesus, whether or not they call Him God and Lord. Most people celebrate Easter, and some of them know that Easter, too, has to do with Jesus, and His victory over death and sin.

But then, at least in our country, comes Thanksgiving, (when we do have ecumenical services; and that is good, although most Americans are more tuned into football and a big family reunion and meal), and then Super Bowl, and of course the Fourth of July.

But what is Pentecost? Why should anyone call it one of the "big three" Christian holy days? Do you know? To begin with:

PENTECOST IS (ANOTHER) TRANSFORMED JEWISH HOLY DAY

We say Pentecost is ANOTHER transformed Jewish holy day because Christians have seen Christ as the fulfillment behind just about all the Old Testament. Jesus is our Passover Lamb, and Jesus is our Seder Host, transforming the Passover Meal into the Communion we will share this morning. And so Passover, too, takes on fulfilling significance to Christians.

Pentecost was and is a Jewish feast day celebrating two things. Called "Pesach" or "Pentecost" because it follows fifty days after Passover and the High Holy Days, Pentecost was first a celebration of the first harvesting of summer fruits. It anticipates the later, greater harvest of the autumn season. Pentecost also in later times came to be a commemoration of the giving of the law to Moses on Sinai. Devout Jews praised God for giving guidance to all mankind on how to live lives of order and righteousness. The giving of the Law can be contrasted with the giving of confusion at Babel, when God confused those who were trying to reach heaven on their own wisdom; the giving of the Law is God's way of bringing order out of chaos.

WHAT HAPPENED THAT FIRST PENTECOST?

First of all, what happened on Pentecost was that the gathered disciples received the indwelling Holy Spirit, and the Church as Christ's body came into existence. It was the birthday of the church.

Christians believe that on the Jewish feast of Pentecost that came 50 days after Jesus rose from the dead, and ten days after He ascended to the Father, Jesus, HAVING RECEIVED THE FULLNESS OF GLORY, for which he prayed in John 17: 1, Jesus then poured that Spirit He had received out upon his beloved disciples.

This was THE FIRST FRUITS of a great harvest which was to come. As a matter of fact that FIRST FRUIT CELEBRATION that day netted 3,000 new believers in Jesus Christ! It is a celebration of FIRST FRUITS.

The Christian Pentecost might seem to have little to do with the second aspect of the Jewish celebration: the giving of the law to Moses on the mount. But actually, here was a fulfillment of the promise that God would pour out His Spirit on all flesh, and as Paul declares in 2 Corinthians 3:3 God wrote his law now not on tables of stone, but on fleshy tables of the human heart. And instead of confusion of languages, now everyone could hear God's plan of salvation in a language they could understand. In the words of a Sandi Patti song: "Fluent LOVE is spoken here!"

There were other, dramatic things that happened that day of Pentecost. There was mighty, shaking, fearsome sound of hurricane force wind. There were licking, flaming, forked tongues of fire. And there were languages spoken in order that every person who came to see what was happening could understand who Jesus is, and how he can deliver from sin.

Once again here was a direct contrast with Babel: where Babel had been confusion and misunderstanding, Pentecost was God's law in the hearts, God's law of LOVE, and the opposite of confusion: interpretation: everyone heard in his own language the message of salvation.

We have been trained to think of Pentecost and the Holy Spirit only in the rushing wind, and the tongues of fire, and the exotic gifts of language or experience. But first of all the coming of the Spirit is God loving us, and coming to make his home in us so that we can be at home in him on our way home.

THE NEED FOR PENTECOST TODAY

This is the NORM for our Christian existence. The Holy Spirit IS the life of the Church. No Spirit- no life! The Spirit fills every believer to the extent of his/her capacity. There is a deeper life for those who will seek the fullness of the Spirit's blessing. There are wonderful benefits to be received from living the life of full surrender to God's will. But it begins with the Holy Spirit coming to live in you and me and together making us the Church. Welcome the Holy Spirit into your inner being this very day!

Pentecost, or the descent of the Holy Spirit into the human heart, is NOT a doctrine or belief system to defend, but a reality to know and live out. As humanly understood belief systems, even the precious doctrines of our church, even holiness doctrines, are fallible— they are subject to the shortcomings of human understanding that mark all human belief systems. But as a living encounter with God holiness, being filled with God Himself, transforms lives and changes the course of human history. Almighty God actually DOES come to live in His people, and together God's people ARE the Church.

Faith in God must permeate the whole of my being and yours, not simply logically exist in my thinking, or excitedly flood my emotions, or even determinedly rest in my human will. God must be made welcome at the center of all I am and all I do! As a Person God can make Himself known to me, and can dominate my living and your living. And together you and I are the living Church of Pentecost. That is what Pentecost is all about: that is why is a BIG DAY!

PETER'S SERMON

That day Peter stood up and declared the glory and love and power of Jesus Christ. He told the devout Jews assembled that they needed to change their direction: "Repent, and be baptized, every one of you, for the forgiveness of your sins!"

Then he told them: "This God-shared LOVE, this Holy Spirit is to every one of you who will believe!

[HERE DEPARTURE FROM '95 TEXT]

[[Gordon Ramsey's '98 ideas here:]]

I don't know how many different meanings and lessons we are able to pick up from the coming of the Holy Spirit, as we celebrate it at Pentecost. Every time we discover one meaning, there seems to be 3 or 4 more, jumping out at us as well!

But that in itself is something about Pentecost: it is about ABUNDANCE. When the spirit of God is involved, there is always MORE THAN ENOUGH!

Enough for males and for females enough for young and for old enough for slaves and for free people enough for Jews and all the nations under the earth.

And as the life of the early church demonstrated, this over-abundance flowed on into all other aspects of their life - land, property, food, shelter, community.

Whenever people in the NT times talk about experiencing God's spirit, their language demonstrates the abundance that God provides. In all ways people have "more than enough".

The Spirit is the spirit of life and the fullness of life.

From the very first day, however, the spirit of abundance had its knockers. Cynicism reared its ugly head, standing, as it always does, against the movement of God's Spirit.

"They're just drunk" some said.

"The writers got carried away" others still say. "It isn't the same now. Can't be"

But the cynics miss the point of Pentecost. It is a reality of abundance, just as God is the God of reality and the God who is given to excess!. But the more we dismiss it as "idealistic" or "unrealistic" the more we move away from the pouring of the Spirit and the experience of God's excessive grace. So how is there really more than enough?

Firstly, Pentecost is grounded in Easter. It makes sense once people have been freed from the grip of death and destruction. You see, once people are no longer menaced by the threat of death, we are freed to live. Death is ultimately a denial of all things needed for our life: but the resurrection proclaims that Jesus has overcome that which robs us of life our entire lives are transformed into an experience of divine life

Secondly, and going on a step, we are remember that the early followers of Jesus were said to be "Of one heart and mind" That is part of what Pentecost means: The spirit who comes to us is the Spirit of Unity God's Spirit overcomes the division, the power struggles, the hatred and suspicions. The Spirit does not remove the differences but an openness to the Spirit means that the differences do not lead to a struggle for superiority over those who are different. When we are no longer afraid of one another, looking for people's "hidden agenda" we are freed to enjoy a depth of life and discover God. And there is always more than enough.

And thirdly, again from the life of the early church, we are reminded that "no one claimed things as their own, but shared everything in common" The most down to earth outcome is the most striking! As we discover the freedom for life and for unity we are freed from the spirit of accumulation that dogs us in this world. Freed from the fear of death and anxiety about life, life is transformed for each of us. And it doesn't just stop with "our own people". (If it did, it wouldn't be Christian) Even 300 years later, emperor Julian comments: "These Christians do not merely feed their own poor; they feed the poor of the whole city"

The cynic, the staunch 'capitalist', within us says that there is NOT enough for everyone. And so we must constantly compete for that which is there. In fact there is part within us and around us that declares that the world works best with competition But it is that drive for competition which works so effectively against the spirit of God.

We compete for goods, for schools, for marks, for jobs, for income, for friends and it is this incessant competition which divides us and fragments community. As we compete, we divide into nations, class, race, gender, age, background And as we believe that there is not enough, and it is "everyone for themselves" We forget the fact that at Pentecost the prophecy of inclusive acceptance was fulfilled: "My Spirit will come on ALL people - young, old, male, female, slaves, free ..."

The Spirit of Pentecost, the Spirit of God, the Holy Spirit bring us back to discovering the joy of abundance in life and the rediscovery of what life is. For Pentecost re-opens to us the joy, the delight, the extravagance and the responsibility that we have to re-build community to share our life with one another. For as we build and live in community, we discover true richness. Christian community can become the source of reforming the rest of society.

It is our joy to discover new life by the Spirit, and to live by that discovery.

The Spirit has given us all gifts. Let us use them. Pentecost is about pooling our gifts humbly and selflessly so that we can build a way to reach God. It is about building a house that leaves no one homeless—a Church.

Into Communion:

- First Preparing
- Next Choir (we ALL sing verse 4)
- Then Creed #8
- Then Prayers
- Then #304 (Sweet, Sweet Spirit) leads into Offering

NOTE: Much of this sermon was preached on June 4, 1995 in a text by the same title. Look for it under "The Norm: Pentecost."

Pentecost: God in the Present Tense

Pentecost Sunday

May 31, 1998 PM

John 14:8-27

I. PENTECOST: GOD IN THE PRESENT TENSE

The closing chapters of Revelation contain these words of promise:

"Now the dwelling of God is with men, and he will live with them. They will be his people, and God himself will be with them and be their God. He will wipe every tear from their eyes. There will be no more death or mourning or crying or pain, for the old order of things has passed away. He who was seated on the throne said, 'I am making everything new!' Then he said, 'Write this down, for these words are trustworthy and true.' Everything in the scriptures point to this. This is the reason that God the Son left the glory of heaven, so that he might make a way for us to be at home with him.

We read these words sometimes at funerals, because we really believe that when believers die they don't cease to exist— they don't die— they simply enter the Presence of God in a new and wonderful way. And that is true. But the good news is that we don't have to wait until we die in order to be at home with God.

Millions of people know this wonderful truth. "He lives! He lives! Christ Jesus lives today! He walks with me! He talks with me! You ask me how I know he lives? He lives within my heart!" That is what Pentecost is really all about.

For fourteen weeks we've been pointing to this day— what it signifies: the fire of God's life within. And several small groups have also been studying for fourteen weeks "The Jesus I Never Knew" (by Philip Yancey)— but what we've really been doing is just coming to know better "the Jesus we already knew" or "the Jesus we've 'always' known," because the weakest and the dumbest believer still has the Holy Spirit, and even when our knowledge is incomplete it is still the knowledge of a God who comes "into my heart to dwell."

This is what happened one late spring day nearly 2,000 years ago.

II. PENTECOST THEN

1. Pentecost was and is a Jewish Holy Day. It is another of the Old Covenant observances that Jesus infused with new meaning (just as he did with the "letter of the law" which he summed up in "Love the Lord, and love one another as I have loved you"; and also: Passover/Communion, and Atonement/Lamb of God.)

Pentecost was (1) a Feast of Thanksgiving for First Fruits. It was late spring when some of the early crops could be harvested, with the promise of much more to come. It was also in later years (2) a Celebration of the Giving of the Law to Moses on Sinai.

On that first "Christian Pentecost" there was a great harvest of "first fruits" into the body of Christ, as Peter preached and 3,000 people were baptized and brought into the newly born church. Also on that great day the law which had been written by God on tablets of stone were now begun to be written on human hearts. Christ had been with them, but now by the Holy Spirit, he was IN them, teaching them, guiding them, as well as giving them the power to do as he would lead.

2. Pentecost was Babel in reverse. You remember the Genesis account of the Tower of Babel when with carnal pride, hubris, actually, humankind sought to reach the heavens and find God on their own, and the result was confusion. The confusion of languages was something C.S. Lewis picked up on trying to describe the horror of hell in "That Hideous Strength" when everyone spoke a language all his own and no one understood or cared about anyone else.

That first Day of the Church there was a universal understanding. Everyone heard the good news that God is available to old and young, men and women, and heard it in their own tongue. Everyone can understand the universal language of genuine love!

3. Pentecost was communication of Good News. The word was: "You, too, can be united with God! Through Jesus the Crucified! Jesus the Living! By His Gift of the Holy Spirit we all can be "at one— at home with God" right here and now!

III. PENTECOST NOW

That was Pentecost THEN. But what is Pentecost NOW? What should it be?

1. Pentecost is already here! We have much more than we realize! Certainly there are great faults in every human organization, and great need for this or that. But there are millions of people who say from their hearts, "Jesus is Lord!" and mean it! Where there is ANY spiritual life whatsoever, there is Pentecost! Life in Christ is always and only by the Holy Spirit of God who was poured out on the church first at Pentecost!

Often when we speak of Pentecost we think ONLY of entire sanctification, or of powerful, spectacular service for God. We make it sound as though the Holy Spirit is reserved for the super-Christians. We may even hear thoughts expressed like, "I'm no saint! I'm only saved!" But that is not a small thing!

2. Pentecost as fullness is to be "the norm" for all Christians. Bill and Gloria Gaither's hymn to the Holy Spirit says, "Come, Holy Spirit, I need You— come in your own GENTLE way!" It isn't always in spectacular, emotional, thrilling ways the Spirit takes full control of us. He comes where he is asked, where he is permitted to come. He comes in answer to Jesus' promise (Luke 11:13.) He is the Gift of the Father. He comes and he comes!

Sometimes — often— I believe that we settle for less of God than we have available. Simply by not asking, we lose the keen edge from our walk with God. (Did I ever tell you the TRUE story of my Uncle Bert and Aunt Mertie, my granddad's brother— they lived in the woods in northern Michigan. When electricity first went through they were afraid it would cost too much or that it might burn their houses down. So they used tiny little fifteen-watt bulbs and continued to stumble in the darkness! There're more stories about them— but I won't burden you now! (Also: "I can't help it if I never come up to average!"))

Pentecost: God in the Present Tense

3. Pentecost is also a repeatable pattern for the church! Can we see times of great harvest again?

The answer is "YES!" Pentecost-like visitations of the Spirit have come many times across the centuries. Our own Wesleyan connection was born in the 18th century Spiritual Awakening in which Wesley and Whitfield were God's instruments.

The answer is also "NO!" if we think that WE can repeat Pentecost by anything WE deserve, or work for, or merit. The Holy Spirit is a Gift of God's grace.

But the answer is "YES! YES!" if we are willing to come to the place where Pentecost CAN come! We have to believe that God is more willing to pour out his Spirit than we are to receive Him. We need to believe Christ's promise and welcome His Gift. Celebrate the fact that the Spirit has come! He is now in you! if you are a Christian! What do you suppose God could or would do with you if he had ALL of you?

Dwight L. Moody, a shoe salesman here in Boston, is said to have said one time: "The world has yet to see what God will do with someone who is totally given to Him. I intend to be that man!" What do you suppose the Lord would do with a CHURCH if he had ALL OF US?

Pentecost is God in the Present Tense!

Jesus, by his Holy Spirit, is with us even today as we worship. How do we move forward into Pentecost? Well, all things spiritual begin and end in prayer. But you say how do we begin to pray like the waiting saints at that first Pentecost? Simply we continue to wait on God to move, and we continue to pray. Open your hearts to His fullness:

Prayer

In your Holy Gospel, O Father, in the words of Jesus Christ your Son, you have told us that we may have the other Comforter, the Holy Spirit, to make us ONE with You,

Father, Son and Holy Spirit. You have said (John 14:17) This is the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees him nor knows him. You know him, because he abides with you, and he will be in you.

We believe that You have sent Him, as you promised. We believe that we have received Him, for we are alive in You by His Presence. We ask this day that you will help us open our hearts wide for the fullness of Your Spirit, to do with us as You will. Help us in Him to bear much fruit to Your Glory, and to prove to the world that Jesus Christ is our Lord. In His name, Amen

Celebrate the Church

June 14, 1998

Ephesians 4

Just about 70 years ago a young Lutheran evangelical pastor began a sermon with words something like this (translated, of course:)

"There is a word that, when a Catholic hears it, kindles all his feelings of love and bliss; that stirs all the depths of his religious sensibility, from dread and awe of the Last Judgment to the sweetness of God's presence; and that certainly awakens in him the feeling of home; the feeling that only a child has in relation to its mother, made up of gratitude, reverence, and devoted love . . .

"And there is a word that to Protestants has the sound of something infinitely commonplace, more or less indifferent and superfluous, that does not make their heart beat faster; something with which a sense of boredom is so often associated. . .

"And yet our fate is sealed, if we are unable again to attach a new, or perhaps a very old meaning to it. Woe to us if that word does not become important to us soon again. . . . Yes, the word to which I am referring is church." [1]

What comes to your mind first of all when you hear that "c" word? Is it a warm fuzzy? Or is it boredom or something completely different? An honest answer here might give more insight into yourself than into your definition of "church"! The word "church" means different things, perhaps, to different people at different times. Often people come into this sanctuary and say, "What a beautiful church you have!" I always smile and say, "Yes. This building is beautiful, too." We all know that first of all somehow the church is people. The Bible tells us the church is composed of people to whom God has given eternal life and called his own.

This chapter (Ephesians 4) is a Golden Chapter of the Bible. It is a rich description of the church as the body of Christ on earth. It is also a practical prescription for being and becoming an integral part of that body. I commend it to your study and meditation at least for some portion of this summer's reading.

From this chapter are derived the basic doctrines of the church. Although there is great diversity in expression and interpretation, all orthodox Christendom, from Roman Catholic to Anabaptist, from Eastern Rite to Pentecostal, from Calvinist to Wesleyan-Arminian— all of Christendom agree that the marks of the church are four. (Learn them well!) The church is one, holy, catholic, apostolic.

Other working definitions help give insight. Luther said the church is 'where the gospel is preached and the sacraments duly administered.' Wesley would agree. My own humble thought is that the church is wherever God meets his assembled people who have come to worship Him. (Store fronts, cathedrals, house churches, underground meetings . . .) But at the risk of making the pulpit sound like a lecture podium, it might be profitable to think briefly on the four marks of the church.

- The church is ONE.

There are many manifestations, many denominations. Many of them claim to be the one true church. But the scripture makes it clear that there is only one God, one Lord, and all who call Jesus Lord are members of the one church. No true reformer ever started a new church, nor intended to start a new church. No denomination is the true church. No human institution can make that holy claim. Timothy George speaks well when he says that all too often we evangelicals "have sinned against the body of Christ by confusing loyalty to the truth with party spirit, and kingdom advancement with self-promotion."

- The church is HOLY.

Of course only God Himself is holy in an underived and absolute sense. And of course the church is made up of imperfect and even sinful human beings like you and me. But we are called to live holy lives, that is— lives dedicated to obedience of God's will. And one powerful definition of holy is "that which belongs to a holy God." The true church belongs to God, and it is HIS!

- The church is CATHOLIC.

Many contemporary evangelical fellowships have abandoned the word "catholic" and have even altered the traditional wording of the creeds so they don't have to say the word. But that does not change the fact: if we belong to Christ's church we are catholic. The church is world-wide. It fits the cultures, it reaches humanity wherever it goes. We worry about being confused with Roman Catholics. But in a sense Roman modifies Catholic and is to that extent less than truly universal. Don't be afraid of the word. Christ's church is world-wide. It is catholic.

- The church is APOSTOLIC.

"Built on the foundation of the apostles" (Eph 2:20) Some branches of denominations take this to mean an unbroken line of authority handed down from the apostles, particularly Peter, the first church leader. But there are serious problems with this definition. No one could be absolutely sure the line is pure and unbroken. And it is NOT this succession that gives the church its vitality. For apostolic refers to the same pure foundation of a gospel which was delivered by the Risen Lord to his disciples. By the power of the living Spirit we have the assurance that that same message is alive and well in the church today!

These marks of the church lift our perspective of what the church really IS from the partial and often imperfect impressions we may receive in our own spiritual journey. Wherever we begin our walk with God we have come by way of some expression of the church. We think "THIS is the church!" And it IS! But that expression may well be incomplete and even inconsistent. But it is the Spirit— Christ's Spirit— that validates our experience, and helps us build our understanding of how rich the church really is.

What was your experience of the church when you found Christ? Where did you begin? As a boy of six or seven, my parents landed in a city church not far from the factories of north Lansing, Michigan. It was a plain tabernacle of a building. The aisles had hard rubber runners instead of carpets. Most of the members were "blue collar", although there was a sprinkling of all kinds of people. But they were all fiercely serious about their faith. It had old theatre seats with arms that sometimes came off and when you turned them over they looked sort of like a boat and you could play with them while service was going on and on and on.

I know that often the sermons were extreme, and I often went home frightened that something terrible might happen, I wasn't sure just what. But I also know that the gospel was proclaimed, and I know that there were people in that fellowship that absolutely knew Jesus! They had His love radiating in their lives. They were the ones that helped reach me, not the fear, nor even the facts— but the love. Not the distinctive doctrines, now, either— but the Person of the Risen Lord.

I was eight years old when I joined that tabernacle church. I knew what I was doing— and yet I couldn't know ALL that it meant that day. I do recall many times thinking as a boy of ten or twelve when I would hear what had to be the finger of suspicion pointed at other Christian churches— how could it be that out of all this big world we Nazarenes have the very corner on truth! I knew my aunts and uncles knew Jesus, too. And some of them were Methodists and some were Baptists. I don't think I knew any Catholics. But the seeds were already there to believe that Christ's church is not some little sectarian group somewhere.

Our salvation is not based first of all on what we know, or even the purity of our understanding, but rather on Who we trust Before the doctrine comes the convicting, converting Spirit. After the doctrine, again, the Spirit! Keen observation by Rob Staples in latest Herald of Holiness.

"In Fundamentalism knowledge is the foundation, and salvation is the superstructure. In Wesleyanism, the opposite is the case- salvation is the foundation and knowledge is the superstructure." Once our hearts have been warmed by his assurance, then we can, as Peter says,

"Add to your faith— virtue, knowledge, temperance, patience, godliness, and agape love or charity!" (2 Peter 1:5-8) This Golden Chapter closes, not with a doctrinal lesson of profound truth about the church, but with some absolutely essential steps to making our local fellowship a living, vital part of the one, holy, catholic apostolic church to which we already belong. You might say that Paul could paraphrase President Kennedy's famous Inaugural challenge by saying:

"Ask NOT what your church can be doing for you! Ask what YOU can be doing for Christ's church!"

NO UNWHOLESOME WORDS BE SENSITIVE TO THE HOLY SPIRIT (Don't grieve Him! By dividing the church!) KINDNESS! Ephesians 4:32 TRY TO BE LIKE FATHER GOD! We're his dear children! PUT ON CHARITY! Place the center outside yourself!

Conclusion

What comes to your mind first of all when you hear that "c" word? Is it a warm fuzzy? Or is it boredom or something completely different?

[Bishop Michael Baughan spoke here several years ago. He told of 300 churches in the See of Chester, England, which are under his care, that use the same form or liturgy. But Bishop Baughan said that as he went from one church to the next, on church would "worship" and another would simply go through a form. The difference was the evident Presence of the Living Word among those worshiping.]

Prayer - Lord Jesus Christ, whose very name has been given to us to make us your church, open our eyes and help us to see You, and help us to love You better, to the glory of God the Father, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, One God high and holy, world without end. Amen.

Hymn

A Lesson in Praying

July 26, 1998

Luke 11:1-13

Everybody prays. It seems as though prayer is built into our make-up, a part of being human. Some prayers may be more direct and honest than others.

Consider some of these by little people: (Children's amusing prayers)

Dear GOD, I would like to live 900 years like the guy in the Bible. Love, Chris

*Dear GOD, If you watch me in church Sunday, I'll show You my new shoes.
- Mickey D.*

*Dear GOD, I bet it is very hard for You to love all of everybody in the whole world. There are only 4 people in our family and I can never do it. -
Nan*

Dear GOD, Thank you for the baby brother, but what I prayed for was a puppy. - Joyce

Dear GOD, It rained for our whole vacation and is my father mad! He said something about You that people are not supposed to say, but I hope you will not hurt him anyway. Your friend. (But I am not going to tell you who I am.)

Dear GOD, My brother is a rat. You should give him a tail. Ha-ha. -Danny

Dear GOD, Please send me a pony. I never asked for anything before, You can look it up. - Bruce

Everybody prays. Not everybody prays well or even knowing why they pray.

WHY PRAY?

If God already knows everything, then prayer isn't in order to inform Him.

And if God already has things all 'set in cement' then prayer can't change things.

There are several scriptural reasons why we should pray, and why we should keep learning to pray better and better. Prayer DOES make a difference : there have been too many solid examples of how prayer has made a difference. Let me challenge you to think about several reasons WHY we need to pray:

A. Prayer communicates love to God.

The first and great Commandment is: "Thou shalt LOVE the Lord your God with all your heart, soul, mind and strength. God is a Person, not a "Force." Salvation - faith is ultimately a relationship, not a doctrine or list of rules. The way we keep love going is called "communication."

Prayer is communication with God. It isn't easy or simple to love someone as big and as mysterious as God. But he has promised if we will reach out to Him he will reach out to us. And so maybe it IS simple: we just keep talking to God. Tell Him everything! Little by little we come to realize that He really is our Great Friend for time and eternity.

B. Prayer 'conducts' God's love to others.

Prayer not only is communication with God, it can bring God and those we pray for together. Prayer becomes a conduit or conductor' of God's love.

When you pray for others, you can release God's love in their lives. Especially when you sense the prompting of the Spirit, prayer can be a powerful release of blessing in other's lives.

Prayer is mysterious in some ways. We do not always see how it works. But James tells us that the effectual fervent prayer of God's people avails much.

Jim Couchenour said "Prayer does not make the work of the church go forward prayer IS the work of the church. After we have prayed the rest is just mopping up!"

When our Chinese work goes forward when our missionaries find strength to carry on when we see new avenues of ministry, perhaps in the inner city it will be because in prayer God has shown us how to conduct his love to others.

C. Prayer changes the pray-er.

Finally, prayer keeps us growing. It changes us!

[Sermon-within-the-sermon: The essence of the Lord's Prayer has the potential of keeping the spirit free and pure. In the epistle lesson for the morning (Colossians 2) Paul says three important negative statements:

1. Don't let anyone CONFUSE you with vain or important sounding speculation.
2. Don't let anyone CONDEMN you because you don't follow THEIR church calendar
3. Don't let anyone SIDETRACK YOUR FAITH with a show of humility, telling you that you don't really know how to worship (esoteric knowledge). What the pattern of prayer Jesus taught will do if it is used consistently and honestly and humbly is KEEP FAITH SWEET AND SIMPLE! Keep the
4. Prayer changes 'things.'

THE LESSON JESUS GIVES US

A. The pattern: It isn't the exact words that become a magic formula, although the exact words keep the focus sharp. Rather, it is the pattern: God First, Others and self next in God's care.

1. 1. God's name, worship, praise.
2. 2. God's kingdom bringing order out of chaos.
3. 3. God's will, in all the earth and in the details of my life.
4. 4. THEN, "its all right" to say (a) GIVE and (b) FORGIVE and (c) LEAD and (d) DELIVER.

B. The persistence: On the occasion of this lesson (in Luke's gospel) Jesus added the emphasis of persistency. Here is where we too often fall down. It is human to start BIG and then lose interest and energy and... then... start BIG all over again.

God's ideal is for us to grow IN BETWEEN the camp meetings and the revivals. We do that by talking EVERY DAY with the Father. We need to encourage each other. We need to pray when we feel like praying. And we need to pray when we DON'T feel like praying! Maybe that kind of prayer means the most both to God AND to ourselves!

As We Come to the Close of Worship Today

Let's pray again together, with the pattern of the Lord's Prayer in mind: God is here. Bow your head, close your eyes, and let God sit down beside you there.

1. In your heart tell Him you love Him, and are proud to be His child. Think of how this world will be when hatred and selfishness cease. Tell God you want His kingdom of peace.
2. Tell Him you will be part of His kingdom right now.
3. Tell Him He can tell you what to do, and you'll do it!
4. Now think of the people who are dear to you. Family. Children. Parents. Tell God you want Him to bless them. Give them the gift of God's love in your prayer just now.
5. Let the face of a person who has hurt you come to mind... Tell that name silently to God... Ask God to help you forgive that person. Give them the blessing of God's love in your forgiveness.

Silently think of any failure in your life right now. Do you dare to name the sin right now in your life that you feel you most need to confess to God... Tell God right now! Confess it... Ask God to forgive you; and you know what? He will! He does!

6. What is the daily bread that you need God to give right now?... Ask God for it; trust that He will guide you!
7. You have very much needed God's guidance on some decision and situation in your life... Tell God right now... Ask to know the will of God for you.

Amen.

Lord, teach us to pray! Help us to pray. Help us to know You, and love You. IN Jesus' name. Amen

Hymn (STL) #630 Be Still and Know

Tell It To Jesus

Another Family Dispute

Holy Communion

August 2, 1998

Colossians 3; Luke 12

This wasn't the first time for this sort of thing. For the second time in just a little while Jesus was asked to step into a family disagreement. First it was Martha and Mary. Now it was a brother against his brother over settling an inheritance. People have a way of wanting to use Jesus to put their relatives in line.

There certainly isn't anything wrong with telling Jesus when you have a problem with someone. Particularly someone close. In fact that is what we always ought to do first. It is not wrong to hate injustice. It is human to have feelings hurt. It doesn't mean you're not holy enough yet. Anyone that says he never feels slighted about anything has a real problem.

The only thing is when we tell Jesus about someone else, Jesus looks deep inside of us and knows what is really troubling us. He may or may not go to work in answer to prayer to straighten out the other person or persons involved. We have to leave that up to him. But you can be sure that he hears us, that he loves us, and his answer will begin with the one who is troubled.

As you certainly remember, Martha was upset because she thought Mary ought to be helping her in the kitchen. Jesus told Martha she didn't need to be troubled. He spoke to her about good, better, and best. This brother was upset because he thought he was being cheated. "Lord, make my brother divide the inheritance with me!" He probably had a legitimate problem. Somehow Jesus saw that he had a deeper problem than being cheated. He was in danger of corroding his own soul in hatred and greed. So instead of a "ruling" or a judgment," Jesus told him a story. We call the story the parable of the rich fool.'

Maybe we can focus too much on the details of the story itself. We think it is about rich people. Bill Gates. PowerBall winners. But the man in Jesus' parable wasn't a fool because he was rich. He was a fool because he forgot what was really important. He was a fool because he decided for himself what was really important. He was a fool because he thought and acted as if there were no God but himself. "I've done all this! I will pull down these warehouses, and build bigger!" [There is a bumper sticker that reads, "The one who dies with the most toys WINS!" Jesus might have had a bumper sticker: "The one who dies with the most toys DIES!"] There is no sadder name for a person than fool. Jesus ended the story by saying: "So is everyone who lays up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God."

Martha got a word about focus. This wounded brother got a word about perspective.

Colossians chapter 3 has an interesting idea about perspective. It says as Christians we are raised up with Christ. We are so to identify with our Lord that we can find and accept HIS way of looking at life. We know that he died for us, and we die with him in baptism. We know he rose again from the dead, and we are alive in him to God and the things of the Spirit. But that is not all that this means:

"If then you have been raised up with Christ, keep seeking the things above, where Christ is, seated at the right hand of God."

We are raised to God with Christ! God's own way of seeing things! What is important to God becomes important to God's people! In Ephesians 2 it is even clearer; there we read: "Even when we were dead in our transgressions (God) made us alive together with Christ (by grace you have been saved) and raised us up with Him, and seated us with Him in the heavenly places, in Christ Jesus."

Life in Christ is really all about finding the proper perspective.

Some ways of looking at life will corrode and destroy instead of strengthen. Self-centered living at any level is corrosive. There are attitudes that will destroy us spiritually. Even when we are in the right as far as the dispute is concerned. It goes without saying there are some attitudes that are always sinful, some actions that are simply wrong: "Put to death," the Bible says, "sexual immorality, uncleanness, sinful passion, evil desire, and greed." But there are also some legitimate, humanly understandable feelings that need to be dealt with and put aside as well, feelings that come when injustice is done, especially when the injustice is done to you or yours. The Bible puts it this way: "Put these aside also: anger, wrath, malice, slander and abusive speech from your mouth."

It isn't easy or natural to have God's perspective on life. God loves. God loves you. God loves your sister, your brother. God loves your enemy. When we identify with Jesus Christ we have been chosen to "put on a heart of compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness and patience." Instead of a life-view that will destroy us spiritually, we have the view from the Throne! It sounds impossible. It is impossible, apart from the indwelling Holy Spirit!

It isn't easy or natural to have God's perspective on life. We are born into earth-bound circles, and have earth-sensitive sense receptors. We see and hear things from where we happen to be.

When all the world around us is celebrating self-worship, Jesus' call to follow Him and take up a cross sounds stupid. When money and youth and power are what count, and people are valued because they can make their own rules it seems backwards to value the poor, and care about the helpless.

[Rudyard Kipling was addressing a graduating class once and said "You will go out from here and very likely you'll make a lot of money, and one day you'll meet someone for whom that means very little. Then you will know how poor you are." - Leadership 1995]

Fools act as if there is no God. They build and tear down on their own advice. They make plans that don't take God into the equation at all. Self is the center and circumference of living.

God's life within and His love come with God's enabling gifts: the peace of God, the Word of God, and the name of Jesus. It goes beyond both the time restraints and the parameters of the epistle lesson to develop fully these gifts to us that give us the divine perspective. But in this same third chapter of Colossians we read:

Let the peace of God rule in your hearts. When we come to God humbly to receive life in him our sins are forgiven, and we have peace with God. As we walk with Him increasingly we know the peace of God. Whatever disturbs that peace we need to take seriously. Check out everything that disturbs your conscience. Don't let me or anyone else condemn you but let the peace of God rule.

Let the Word of God dwell in your richly as you worship privately and together with fellow Christians. The Word of God is our living guide for living. No one becomes a strong mature Christian who does not spend time with the Word until the Word becomes at home' in every part of living.

(Finally) Let the name of Jesus dominate everything you do! If you can't do it in the company of Jesus, don't do it! Jesus' name is more than just an ending for our prayers. It is the signature at the bottom of God's checking account for all you need to do His holy will. But it is also our family name,' that we uphold with honor everywhere we go.

What would happen if every time we had a disagreement in our families we brought our grievances to Jesus? As a matter of fact that is exactly what we need to do! Tell Jesus how angry we are! Tell Him exactly how we feel!

But then, let's wait and listen as Jesus talks to us about US! We can pray until we have rolled the burden over on Jesus but Jesus won't let us get away just feeling sorry for ourselves . . .

Let's remember his gifts: his peace, his Word, his Name! And by God's help let's remember where we really are: Seated with Jesus in the heavenlies! "Keep looking down!"

Prayer

The Constant

August 30, 1998

Hebrews 13:8 Jesus Christ is the same, yesterday, and today, and forever.

CHANGING SCENES, CHANGELESS CHRIST

A couple of weeks ago I visited the house I left to come to E.N.C. as a freshman student 49 years ago this week. I found the house, even though the neighborhood has changed dramatically. It was painted a bright, shocking blue!

I met, too, with a number of friends I hadn't seen too often in the last 40 years. There were several who were members of the youth group; we had grown up as teens together. We laughed and remembered the good times and the dumb things we had done. But somehow THEY had all changed, too. They looked different, even though we recognized each other. I know that I have changed a lot, too.

But there was a constant. Our old friends had come to be with us to remember my father, who died earlier in the month. As we prayed the Lord's Prayer together Jesus Himself was there. Things had changed, we had changed, but Jesus had never left us, not one!

The fact that we were burying my father, who was born in 1901, really underscored the idea of "change." We had to laugh a little bit because Dad died in Texas, and we flew him back to Ohio to the family plot to be buried. And that was the first time Dad ever flew. He was born November 15, 1901, a month before the Wright Brothers made the first powered airplane flight. Dad was one of those who knew that if God had intended us to fly...

It is almost impossible to imagine the changes in the way we live and move and have our being that took place in this one century. But through those changing years, there was one constant: Jesus never left us!

It is a simple, powerful statement we are asked to believe: "Jesus Christ is the same, yesterday, and today, and forever." The same Jesus we know that the writer of Hebrews knew as he wrote those words. The same Jesus no matter where we come from, or what race we represent, or what our I.Q. might be, or how important our place in life is supposed to be. The same Jesus regardless of what our doctrines SAY about Him; because Jesus is not the product of our understanding: Jesus IS.

He is YHWH, the "I AM THAT I AM" who spoke to Moses from the burning bush. The "Alpha and Omega" who frightened John half to death on the Island of Exile. He is the same Jesus you learned to pray to when you said, "Now I lay me down to sleep" and he will be the same Jesus if you ever live to be 96 and close your eyes and die like my father did two weeks ago. In changing times, you can count on it: the one unchanging CONSTANT in this universe is Jesus Christ.

CONTRASTING GOALS, CHOICES FOR ETERNITY

I am probably pretty naive, but I'll say it anyway: There are just two kinds of people in this world . . . only two kinds of life-goals:

1. Those who believe that Jesus IS — is there for them to build their lives on . . . AND
2. Those who think they can "fit Jesus in", that Jesus changes with the times.

It may come as a shock to you, but YOU CAN'T FIT JESUS INTO YOUR LIFE PLANS! He always gets in the way. Jesus is the "odd-shaped cornerstone" that only works ONE WAY: You can trust Him, and build on Him, and He will never let you down as long as you live!

The first kind of people are people who really believe that Jesus doesn't change, and so they dare to follow him through the changing scenes of life. They believe that Jesus is NOT simply who we make Him out to be. He is not the private, personal "God of our choice", but the God that IS! He is YHWH!

The second kind of people are people who act as if Jesus Christ is in the same category as Santa Claus and the Tooth Fairy. They may never admit it out loud, but instead of staying in personal touch with Jesus they begin to accept what the experts say about Him, or they stop talking to Him because that is what little kids and old, old people do. And so they change their god to fit their world instead of the other way around.

THAT is what Jeremiah was talking about when he put God's words like this: "My people have done two big sins! They have left ME! They have constructed pitiful substitutes that will never work!"

COMPREHENSIVE PROMISE: A LIFE-TIME GUARANTEE

The Hebrews passage is a conversation. It is a dialogue we can play back when we need help in changing times. The conversation starts with God. God says, "I will never leave you or forsake you!" Then the response we are challenged to make is: "I will not be afraid!"

This doesn't mean I will not FEEL afraid. We can't always help how we feel. It doesn't mean we will never fall down and cry in fear at times. But it does mean: "I will not be afraid to build my life on my relationship with You, Father God!" I will not be afraid to look the values and non-values of this world straight in the face and say "If they don't fit with Jesus, they don't come into my life!"

I have a final challenge, to us all, but particularly to our kids who have had such a great time this summer at camps and on spiritual retreats. That challenge in a phrase is this:

Begin with your experience and turn it into relationship.

Being saved is wonderful; but it is not the end of the line. Having your sins forgiven is great; but that is not all there is. Experience can be essentially "me-centered." Have you been saved? Do you have the Holy Spirit? Are your sins forgiven? All these are necessary and wonderful...

But the secret of joy in the Christian Way is this: Everything God does for you, he does so that you can be his child and his friend. Being a child and a friend are not always one and the same thing. I hear that a lot in my journeys around our church. We LOVE our families; but we aren't always really FRIENDS!

The Constant

Prayer: Lord we come to You, the Eternal God! We thank You we can dare to build our lives on You. Give us grace to make and keep covenant with You and live to please You. In Jesus' name, AMEN

Closing Hymn

145 (STL) Glorious Is Thy Name (IF the brass can be ready!) After last verse go into #146 (STL) There is Strength in the Name of the Lord

A Plea for Useful

September 6, 1998

8:45 & 11 o'clock services

Wollaston Church of the Nazarene

-Philemon 10-

If you fish or sail in salt water you need to know at least something about tides and currents and channels. When I first went fishing on my own for flounder - you can ask my sons John and Steve - I nearly got stranded on shoal. But I'm a fast learner, and soon I learned a little about reading tide charts and watching weather fronts and seasons of the moon. It was all new and wonderful for a mid-westerner like me.

For years I owned a little boat. (I named it Conference. That way the office people could say that the pastor was in Conference for the rest of the afternoon.) I found that TIDES AND CURRENTS DO NOT DETERMINE DESTINATIONS. That is what rudders and engines and sails are for. While you don't dare ignore the tides and currents, you also never get anywhere if you let them dictate where you go and how you fish. When you can, you make them serve you. When you can't go with or against them, you cut across as best you can with your destination in mind.

[When one nor'easter threatened my boat at mooring at Squantum Yacht Club, I took the launch out to the mooring, and slipped the cable and started around Moon Island for the boat ramp at Boston Gas ramp in Dorchester. Just as I started from the mooring I saw a man waving his arms at me back at the Yacht Club dock, and maneuvered back to pick up John Stark. John has forgotten more about salt water and boats and fishing than I will ever know, and he wanted to go along for the fun of the roller coaster ride into the nor'easter. Just as we were about to go out of sight around Moon island one of the club members said to Jim Stark, who was watching his dad and me through binoculars, "Look at those two fools out there!" Jim said, "That is my pastor and my father!" We respected the elements, but were willing to take the risk for the safety of the boat and because we really enjoyed the ride!]

THE TIDES AND CURRENTS OF LIFE CANNOT DETERMINE OUR ULTIMATE DESTINATIONS. WE CAN GO WHERE GOD INTENDS FOR US TO GO!

IN THE TINY BOOK OF THE BIBLE, PHILEMON, which is actually a personal letter from the first century we have the story of how two men were challenged to take a voyage across the strong currents of their day. Behind this personal and private letter is the story of Onesimus and Philemon and the course they felt they had to take across the tides and currents of their culture.

TO THE CITY OF COLOSSE in western Asia Minor THE GOSPEL OF JESUS CHRIST CAME ONE DAY in the message of Paul the apostle. A church was established Among the households affected was that of a wealthy man named Philemon.

In that day when a man converted so did his whole household, his wife, children, servants, and relatives. Among the servants slaves, really- was Onesimus. Whatever his real name had been, he has been named "Useful."

"Useful" may have been officially baptized, but he watched his chance and one day he escaped, and took with him a sum of his master's money. He made his way into Europe, to Rome a thousand miles from Colosse. In that huge city slaves could melt into the population and be free forever. But there in Rome Onesimus, Useful, just happened to meet again the very preacher who had baptized him back in Colosse.

It is impossible for me, or for you or anyone to know what the tides and currents of culture were really like back then. We don't know, either, how Onesimus decided he needed to go the thousand miles back to the east to face Philemon. The Bible does not condone slavery in any form. But evidently Jesus was making demands on Philemon that seemed hard if not impossible. Onesimus knew he had to make good what he had stolen. And so Paul wrote this letter. And Onesimus set off to deliver it himself.

Think of the cost these men had to pay to face the tides and currents! The cost to Onesimus is obvious. He risked his freedom and his life. But the cost to Philemon was great as well. He would be branded as a slave-coddler. He would be vilified by other wealthy people in his society. He might even encourage slave-revolt.

Jesus made demands on both these men because he knew they could make the destination he set for them. The letter doesn't tell us what happened next. But tradition tells us that not only was Onesimus received and forgiven, but that he became the pastor in Colosse. Onesimus was one of the early bishops in Asia Minor.

JESUS HAS A WAY OF CHALLENGING EVERY ONE OF US to cut across the popular currents and tides of our times. The strong tides today tell us it is fine to be religious, but that we don't need to get carried away by our faith. It is not the central thing around which to build our lives.

The strong currents today say that morality is relative and comparative. "I may not be perfectly honest in my dealings, but I am not nearly as bad as my neighbors."

The accepted channels even in evangelical circles tell us that if we have the proper views on abortion and say the right words about family values then we are spiritual, and good Christians. Jesus challenges us to dare to be honest with ourselves and with Him, and with one another! Our faith must move beyond "experience" into the realm of relationship. He asks us to dare to follow Him no matter which way the tides are running and the wind is blowing.

(CONCLUSION)

It only makes common sense if you are fishing or sailing in salt water to know something about the tides and currents. It only makes good sense if you are living for Jesus in a secular, pluralistic world to understand a little bit about the way the winds blow. You may have to run for cover some times. You may have to wait while a northeaster blows over. But the winds and tides do not determine your final destination.

WHEN WE WERE BUILDING THIS SANCTUARY eighteen years ago we had quite a discussion over just how the steeple would be. We all agreed this building should be a testimony in itself to the worship of God and the fellowship of the church. It is Georgian Colonial in architecture inside and out and (except for the elevator and wall-to-wall carpeting) as authentic as some gifted members of our building committee could make it.

That committee thought a nice weather vane on the steeple would add a great authentic touch to a New England house of worship. Protestant churches in colonial times did not have crosses on their steeples. But in my stubborn way I insisted I did not want a church that seemed to say to the neighborhood "This is the way the winds are blowing just now!"

A church is not primarily to tell people which way the wind is blowing, but which way it is to heaven. So without any visible hard feelings the steeple went up without a weather vane and without a cross. I confess I may have hidden some pain! And the steeple really looked "bare" up there 100 feet in the air!

But then Wesley Angell, a great member of our board who knew more about building than anyone, noticed that the steeple was not perfectly straight. Sure enough, it had been damaged in the installation, and no one had seen it but Wesley. The steeple had to come down for repairs. And in the meantime the committee got back together. They inquired how much a cross would cost. And you can see what happened!

Since that day when a crane carried the cross 104 feet to the top of the steeple more than 6,500 days and nights have passed. There have been hurricanes and blizzards and foggy nights and blistering hot days. The wind has blown from every point of the compass and with every intensity from dead calm to full hurricane. But the cross stands there reminding us that there is a Way to heaven, and that if we will follow Jesus nothing can ultimately defeat us from the destination He has for us here in this life, and in the one to come.

Prayer

Hymn #97 Be Still My Soul

The Crooked Yoke

September 3, 1998

May 6, 1990 (pm)

2 Corinthians 6:14; 7:1

Do not be yoked together with unbelievers. For what do righteousness and wickedness have in common? Or what fellowship can light have with darkness? What harmony is there between Christ and Belial? What does a believer have in common with an unbeliever? What agreement is there between the temple of God and idols? For we are the temples of the living God. As God has said: "I will live with them and walk among them, and I will be their God, and they will be my people."

"Therefore come out from them and be separate, says the Lord. Touch no unclean thing, and I will receive you. I will be a Father to you, and you will be my sons and daughters," says the Lord Almighty.

Since we have these promises, dear friends, let us purify ourselves from everything that contaminates body and spirit, perfecting holiness out of reverence for God.

Introduction

The message of Jesus Christ to fallen mankind is a message of liberation, of hope, and of freedom. In Colossians (2:20 3:1) Paul writes: "If you have died with Christ to the elementary principles of the world, why, as if you were living in the world, do you submit yourself to decrees ... in accordance with the commandments and teachings of men? ... If then you have been raised with Christ, keep seeking the things above, where Christ is, seated at the right hand of God."

And so a message which says "Do!" or "Don't!" seems to be a contradiction to that freedom and liberty. [It is NOT! Trust the Spirit! He hates legalism and grudging service! He is the Spirit of Christ and of God and of love!]

What does it mean to obey: Come out from among them and be separate? Is this valid for today? Is this a "Nazarene" problem? Clarify "separate" and the motivations for "separation."

I. THIS IS A MESSAGE OF LOVE, NOT LIMITATION

- A. This message is not to unbelievers but to God's children. God doesn't begin His great salvation by saying: "I want to make you my child, so for the rest of your life you have to be different from everybody else (different=wierd)!" He starts by saying: "I DON'T WANT YOU IN BONDAGE TO ANYONE!"

The people who are in bondage in this world are those who have never met God in Jesus Christ. The Bible says that all sinners are slaves to sin!

- B. THE MESSAGE IS MORE A STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLE THAN A LIST OF RULES.

1. There is probably a proper time for all children to learn life rules; growing up in our society or any society we teach children, "DO this because I say so!" or "DON'T do that!" We don't let six year olds get driver's license we don't allow thirteen year olds to marry, usually. There are good reasons.
2. But with growing maturity comes growing personal responsibility for personal choices. We think: "Now I am able to make my own choices!"

- C. BUT IT IS CLEAR, AND STRAIGHT: COME OUT FROM AMONG THEM AND BE SEPARATE! DO NOT BE UNEQUALLY YOKED TOGETHER WITH UNBELIEVERS!

1. How are we to receive such a word? The message of separation is spoken to believers.
2. It is not a message of salvation. We do not separate in order to be saved. We are saved by grace: "just as I am, without one plea, but that Thy blood was shed for me."

[In answering that question ("How shall we receive such a word...") Paul asks several questions. One of them is ...]

- D. WHAT DOES A BELIEVER HAVE IN COMMON WITH AN UNBELIEVER?

1. One answer is ... quite a bit, actually! We are human ... we have families to raise ... we hurt the same ways.

2. Perhaps in our day the question might be turned around: What does a believer NOT have in common? What is it that is offended by being unequally yoked?

That one sacred thing A LOYALTY TO GOD AS FATHER AND A PERSONAL RELATIONSHIP WITH JESUS CHRIST AS SAVIOR.

THE PERSONAL LOVE OF GOD! IT IS LIFE, ETERNAL LIFE the reality of knowing God. It is precious. It must be nourished. To "believe" is not just a matter of facts we know To believe to be able to believe is precious! It must be nourished.

It is hard to describe, perhaps but it is unmistakable:

[I ran into Mrs. M. It was a thrill to sense the acceptance and oneness of this Protestant pastor and that very Catholic lay woman.]

II. THIS PASSAGE IS A CALL TO LIBERATION, NOT TO BONDAGE

- A. The command is: DON'T BE YOKED! ["Don't stick your neck in a noose!"] WHAT DOES BEING YOKED MEAN? Certainly it is neither possible nor desirable to have nothing to do with unbelievers.

But to be YOKED means to enter into binding, intimate, partnership relationships with people that fundamentally disagree with what is most important and vital to our very lives!

One kind of UNEQUAL YOKE would be to marry someone who did not love Christ! This all too often leads to real sorrow!

But there are many relationships and intimacies that will challenge the firstness of the Christ relationship. We are called to take Jesus Christ with us into every part of our lives.

OUR INTIMATE RELATIONSHIPS MUST NOT DENY WHAT WE REALLY ARE!

[Another question asked here is:]

- B. WHAT AGREEMENT IS THERE BETWEEN THE TEMPLE OF GOD AND IDOLS?
How is this question relevant?

We know:

1. the temple is not a building. But perhaps the building itself can illustrate the point. Would we have purely social times in this building? Would we allow worship of idols?
2. there are things which are appropriate at certain times and in certain places. there are other things which are never appropriate, anywhere, ever. We need to be careful in blurring all distinctions between "sacred" and "profane" that we do not "homogenize life" in a way that is theoretical and sad and deadly.
 - a. 1. is there a sacred and a profane?
 - b. 2. if all of life is sacred, what do we do with vulgarity?
 - c. 3. where do we put the garbage cans?
 - d. 4. what is the difference between garbage and poison? Both must be disposed of one is deadly.
3. Is bringing someone else's idol into the house of God ever appropriate? ... under what circumstances?

[Properly, I would be angry to have someone promote worship of some 'deity ' that pretends to equality with Jesus Christ. I would not tolerate it here in this place, dedicated to the worship of God. But ...]
4. If we wouldn't feel comfortable about doing some things here in God's "house" what, then, about bringing profanity and vulgarity and values antagonistic to Jesus into the corridors of our minds? What about holding on and letting go of questionable things? What about toying with X rated videos? What about tolerating suggestive thoughts? What about greed and envy and hatred? DO WE HAVE TO SIN IN THOUGHT? IS IT REALLY NECESSARY TO COMMIT ADULTERY OR TO COVET OR TO HATE IN OUR MINDS SIMPLY BECAUSE WE ARE 'HUMAN'?

[Transition: SO, WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO OBEY: COME OUT FROM AMONG THEM AND BE SEPARATE? Is this valid for today? Is this a "Nazarene" problem? Is it even a viable possibility, to think that we can separate our minds and bodies from the filth of the pervading sins of our time?]

[Of course it is possible! I CLOSE WITH AN OBVIOUS OUTLINE FROM II COR. 7:1
"Since we have these promises, dear friends, let us purify ourselves from everything that contaminates body and spirit, perfecting holiness out of reverence for God."]

III. THE CALL AND THE PROMISE ARE FOR CLEANSING

[How may we begin to comprehend the richness of being a child of God, in good standing and fellowship, having His divine approval on our lives? How may we be so unbelieving as to think it makes no difference how we live in relation to how we fellowship with the Father? How may we expect to be life sharing, world changing, Christ revealing people when we are absolutely no different from the world we seek to serve? How can we call ourselves God's children when we, ourselves, sit upon the throne of our little kingdoms, and refuse to have God tell us anything we do not first want to hear?]

- A. As believers we are called to A PURIFYING! ("Having these promised, BELOVED, let us cleanse ourselves ...")

Such a cleansing is possible, or the imperative would not be here. We can be set free from the garbage piles of the day and age into the freedom of pure fellowship with God.

- B. We are called to be active in this cleansing process: Only God can sanctify but here the imperative is "Purify yourselves!" Take some initiative! Get out of the manure piles of the world!
- C. The secret to cleansing is CONTROL! Dare to turn things over to God! We think we have a Nazarene problem... when in fact we have a "control" problem. We (naturally) do not want ANYONE to tell us what is good for us. If we will cooperate with God, He will purify from "all defilement;" OF FLESH (anything that keeps us from pleasing God in our "BODY", FLESH") AND SPIRIT! (God can even deal with our attitudes and motives!)

CONCLUSION: Listen to these words again not as a challenge, now, to reprobate sinners, or to rebels but as a loving call to God's own dear children:

"Therefore come out from them and be separate, says the Lord. Touch no unclean thing, and I will receive you. "I will be a Father to you, and you will be my sons and daughters, says the Lord Almighty."

Since we have these promises, dear friends, let us purify ourselves from everything that contaminates body and spirit, perfecting holiness out of reverence for God.

Will you ask God to perfect His work of holiness in your heart and life, beginning just now?

#246 Is Thy Heart Right With God?

Amazing Grace

September 13, 1998

1 Timothy 1:6-17

I hope you were watching TV the other night when Mark McGwire hit #62. I'm preaching about "grace" this morning, and grace is attractive wherever it is found, on whatever level. Professional sports is usually not the place to look for grace but there it was: a multi-millionaire baseball player actually putting people first on the list of priorities!

[Both McGwire and Sammy Sosa have done themselves proud! Sosa, when he passed the old NL home run record was surprised when the fan who caught it returned the ball. What did Sosa do? He signed the ball and gave it back to the fan! Maybe not earth-shattering. Maybe not even worth putting in a sermon. But to me an example of grace!]

On a more serious note, I heard a piper skirling "Amazing Grace" on the rocks at Peggy's Cove, and saw a Baptist choir and pastor ministering to people there in mourning. Once again, it may not have been "saving grace," but somehow God's love was being shown.

GRACE IS JUST ABOUT THE MOST BEAUTIFUL WORD IN OUR LANGUAGE OR ANY LANGUAGE! No wonder that the song Amazing Grace is maybe the most beloved of all hymns. It was written by a man who had been engaged in a wretched, sinful, sickening business. John Newton was in the shipping business: his cargo was human life! He was a slave trader. No wonder he wrote "Amazing Grace . . . that saved a wretch like me!"

PAUL WROTE in this letter to live by: "Christ Jesus came into this world to save sinners!" Then Paul added, "I am the chief of sinners!" But along with John Newton, Paul could testify, "I once was lost, but now I'm found!"

THERE ARE MANY WAYS TO BE LOST

(cf txt in Luke 15)

In Luke 15 Jesus tells three "lost and found" stories.

The first is about the ninety and nine sheep in the fold, and the one sheep out on the hillside lost. Grace searches and brings the lost sheep back and there is rejoicing.

The second parable is about nine silver coins in a purse, but one that has gotten lost in a crack or crevice somewhere. Grace sweeps and scours and looks and the coin is found and there is more rejoicing.

The last and most famous of the "lost and found" stories is the Prodigal Son story and when the son comes home grace is waiting and there is a celebration.

Different stories. Somehow it seems different ways to be lost. You have to look for a sheep. You also have to look for a coin. You have to pray and watch and wait for a son to come home. But being lost is still a helpless state. Grace is the "help" that reaches out and brings the lost back home. There are many ways to be lost.

THERE IS JUST ONE WAY TO BE FOUND: GRACE!

In our arrogance we say "I found the Lord!" We don't mean it for arrogance. But in reality whenever we meet with God, GRACE has been active and the Lord has found us! That grace is active here today! Wherever you are on your spiritual journey, God's grace is actively seeking to draw you nearer to God!

- If you are "lost" grace knows where you are!
- If you are in the midst of a struggle grace knows that, too!
- If you think everything is absolutely perfect give God's GRACE the praise!

TAKE A CLOSER LOOK AT AMAZING GRACE

Paul writes "The grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant with faith and love" (1 Tim 1:14) Paul, like John Newton, said he had been engaged in terrible sin. He had been a blasphemer, a persecutor of believers. He had been full of arrogance and pride. But Paul had been confronted by GRACE!

GRACE IS SEEN IN JESUS, AND PEOPLE THAT LET JESUS LIVE IN THEM

Grace is truth about God. It is words (like this sermon)— but more: It has to get wrapped in flesh, somehow. It has to be incarnate. Jesus is the Source of all saving grace. But Jesus is seen in his body, the church!

Paul saw Jesus in the people he persecuted. He saw grace in Stephen the martyr. He saw grace in Ananias of Damascus! He saw the love of God incarnate in Barnabas.

If you let Jesus live in you, you can be a channel of God's grace! Scary, isn't it!!

GRACE IS FREE . . . BUT IT IS NEVER CHEAP

There seems to be a qualifier in Paul's testimony: "I obtained mercy because I did it ignorantly in unbelief!" Is this saying God never forgives willful sin?

The answer I would give this question is: There is NO sin which God will not forgive except the sin we put beyond his grace by our own pernicious unbelief!

But this IS a warning against counterfeit grace! Grace is a very dangerous thing to play with! Playing with grace as though it is a license to go on sinning is foolhardy business!

To search our hearts and come to communion bringing our failures and sins is one thing. To try to use the means of grace as a fire-escape without any real intention to change is quite another thing entirely.

JOHN THE BAPTIST SAID RUGGED WORDS "Who has warned you to flee from the wrath to come? Bring forth the fruits of repentance!"

We are not saved by repentance. We cannot turn our own lives around. But we will not be saved unless by God's grace we DO repent!

GRACE NEVER EXCUSES SIN, BUT GRACE IS GREATER THAN ALL OUR SIN!

In my second pastorate I made friends with a man who had made a mess of his life. I went hunting with him many times. I came to love him and his wife, who by the way was his third wife. I came to understand that he thought he had committed the unpardonable sin because he couldn't go back and undo the mess he had made.

But one day grace broke through that black gloom, and I had the privilege of kneeling beside that man nearly old enough to be my father and holding his arm as we prayed together and he shook and wept and confessed and found clear forgiveness and grace! He lived a number of years after that with a clear witness that he was a child of God!

(Conclusion)

I began this message with glimpses of grace as it connected with stories in the news this week. But we are all well aware that the one story that has been overshadowing all others, at least for us Americans, is one almost too painful to talk about.

It seems as though everyone has an opinion about the sorry mess that has been revealed at the center of our government. At the very least we have been embarrassed by the actions of our nation's leader.

Is God capable of forgiving him? Of course he is. Has he truly confessed and repented? That is not for you or me to say, ultimately. Should he face the consequences of his wrongdoing? We have to leave that to those who have that heavy responsibility.

In the Book of Nehemiah, who lived under conditions perhaps worse than we can comprehend, is his testimony of what he, Nehemiah, did when he found the wall of Jerusalem had been broken and the gates burned:

"And it came to pass when I heard these words that I sat down and wept, and mourned certain days and fasted and prayed before the God of heaven . . .and said I beseech You O Lord God of heaven, who keeps covenant and mercy for them that love him and observe his commandments . . let your ear now be attentive and your eyes open that you may hear the prayer of your servant: I confess the sins of the children of Israel which we have sinned against you: both I and my father's house have sinned... grant... mercy."

Let the people of God unite in prayer for our nation! Not to picket and parade in the streets. Not to lobby in political power. This is a time to plead for God's Amazing Grace! Pray for our President. Pray for our nation.

Prayer

Hymn

Health and Wholeness

A Story of Healing

October 11, 1998

Luke 17:11-19

A story in Luke's Gospel- an incident that happened 2,000 years ago- may seem pretty disconnected to life as we live it here in the close of the 20th century. But there are windows in this particular story that let light shine on the pathways we all must walk. The story of the healing of ten lepers is not as remote as you might think.

I. WHEN THEY CALLED OUT, JESUS RESPONDED

Hopeless, isolated by law, absorbed by their own troubles a small band of lepers skulked around the borders of Galilee and Samaria in the northern regions of the Holy Land. They were not only sick with an incurable disease, they were marked as untouchables, kicked out of fellowship with anyone except other lepers. They foraged for food. They begged at a distance for anything and everything they needed. But the one thing they really needed, the one thing that makes life worth living— hope— was already lost.

Until Jesus came along, that is. A tiny spark of hope prompted the ten lepers to approach as near as they could and make a long distance shout for help.

"Jesus, master, have mercy on us!"

It may have been just a tiny spark of hope. It may have been just a long distance prayer. But that cry was heard.

The response from Jesus was not as spectacular as they might have hoped. But it was a response. Jesus heard. And Jesus told them what to do. It was a "next step." It had to do with getting legal permission to re-enter society.

"Go show yourselves to the priests!"

This window in the story lets the light in that reveals this truth: Wherever you are God's Word can reach you. You don't need to be lost one more day.

II. AS THEY WENT THEY WERE MADE CLEAN

The story next tells us that as they went, they were cleansed. They had called. Jesus had responded with a brief command. After he spoke they may have looked at their leper sores. Just after Jesus spoke they were exactly the same as they were before he spoke. They were still unclean lepers. But Jesus had told them what to do. They decided they had nothing to lose. They started out to find a priest. And as they went . . . as they walked along . . . they sensed something wonderful was taking place. They were changing.

The shaft of sunlight through this window shows us that: Obedience is faith in action; we cannot obey God and stay in bondage.

The healing of the lepers is remarkably like one of our Old Testament favorites, the story of Naaman and Elijah. Naaman was not poor and socially outcast like these ten lepers. He was a wealthy Syrian warrior. But the fact remains he was a leper and knew he was going to die.

You remember the story: when Naaman finally found the prophet of God, or rather, found where he lived, the prophet, Elijah, sent his servant out to tell this wealthy leper to go and dip himself seven times in the Jordan River.

No dramatics. No incantations. Just a word to obey. It seemed too easy: simply wash and be clean. Naaman struggled with the simplicity of it. But it was God's Word. And as he obeyed, Naaman was made clean of his leprosy.

It seems so simple to call out to God and be saved. It seems too easy just to confess our sins and trust that God is as good as his word and will forgive and cleanse us. Do you remember the lines from that old gospel song?:

*Chiefest of sinners Jesus will save
All He has promised that will he do.
Wash in the fountain opened for sin
"And I will pass, will pass over you."*

III. ONE CLEANSED LEPER RETURNED TO GIVE PRAISE TO GOD

There is one more window open in this narrative: The importance of worship.

Sickness has a way of turning us in on ourselves. We become absorbed with our symptoms. We tell about our hospital procedures. Sickness is often very self-centered. (I plead guilty from time to time.) Wellness is more than an absence of illness. It is the quality of being vibrantly alive. God's goal for you and me is more than being free from sin. More than not suffering for our sins. It is wholeness.

The goal of God's grace is not simply to save us from the damage of sin, but to set us free from our own selfish ego. We are not just saved so we can pursue our own selfish agenda, but so that we can discover God, and take our place in the circle of His family.

God does not save us just to make us clean or good. He shares His life so that we can come into his home and be part of his family. He takes away our sin so we can be happy in his Presence. The end of salvation is more than forgiveness and cleansing, it is fellowship with God and the whole family of God.

"If we confess our sins, (God) is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." (Then,) "If we walk in the light, as (Christ) is in the light we have fellowship one with another and the blood of Jesus Christ, God's Son, cleanses us (continually keeps us clean) from all sin." (1 John 1:7,9)

This Samaritan outcast leper closed the circle of grace that day of his cleansing. He actually got out of his own way! The center of his existence was changed. Instead of orbiting around his illness, and his very considerable pain, now he worshiped the God who had set him free. And that gratitude completed his healing for the moment. As he worshiped he was made whole.

In the Old Testament story Naaman passed the gratitude test as well. He had been really reluctant to obey the simple command to wash and be clean. But then as he obeyed he was cleansed; and to his everlasting credit he did not simply rush back to Syria shouting and celebrating. Instead he returned to the home of Elijah to give thanks.

Health and Wholeness

This last window lets in the light that:

Worship, thanks, gratitude bring us near to our God.

(Conclusion)

If this seems too very simple, well maybe it is. But sometimes I need to remember the very most simple of lessons:

When I call Jesus hears me! (He will hear you, too, wherever you are!)

As I do what he shows me to do, I will be set free! (Are you walking in all the light you know?)

When I tell Him "Thank You!" I am made whole!

Prayer: Lord, Help us to give You thanks from our hearts! Amen

Hymn #356 (STL) Then I Met Jesus

With Jesus at the Well of Sychar

October 11, 1998 (pm)

(From March 10, 1996 Lent 3)

John 4:5-42

If ever anyone lived on a dead end street this was the person. And by dead end I don't mean a nice cul-de-sac where the kids can play and the traffic can turn around. I mean dead end like going nowhere, like abandon all hope. I don't know how, but she had run through five marriages. Five separate stories of tragedy.

It could have been tremendously bad luck, and her husbands had all died. It could have been simply the result of a kind of society where wives were throw-away items, where certainly all women were second class citizens. But anyone who has been married that many times has become very well acquainted with loss and failure.

Maybe the biggest loss of all was this person's loss of any sense of self esteem.

This passage has been studied so thoroughly that we all know, or think we know, how women in the middle east always went for their water early in the day, together, in a community time of fellowship. While the little children played and the latest village gossip was passed, the women carried home their water from the well in the cool of the morning. The scene here is in the blazing light of high noon, when there was usually no one at the well and she could come and go in her loneliness without the added pain of feeling she was part of the gossip being passed along.

I don't know that she was a greater sinner than any of the other men and women of her village. But in her isolation she certainly had to be right up there among the greatest in terms of her pain and needs.

When she arrived at the well she was annoyed just a bit. For there on the curbing of the well sat a stranger. By his dress and his bearing she knew him to be a Jew. She had no idea that her life was about to change and that this man would be the most important person she would ever meet.

She had deliberately chosen this time to come to the well so she could stay away from people. This was a low time in her life. It was a time that she least expected to meet anyone, let alone someone very, very important. She certainly did not have in mind a challenge to her faith that would change her forever. She paused, not quite sure what to expect of this stranger.

The stranger surprised her by asking her for a drink. He looked a little tired, and he evidently was thirsty. The woman was not afraid to voice her surprise. "How come you even speak to me?" she asked.

Social rules were stronger then than we can understand in our society. Some things simply were not done. Jewish men would sooner suffer great thirst than ask a strange woman for a drink.

She let her water jar down and down into the deep well and watched it turn on its side and fill and sink. Then she hauled it hand over hand back to the well curb, and poured the cool water into the stranger's cupped hands. She was amazed that this Jew not only would speak to her, but drink from her water jar she was ceremonially untouchable, and she made the jar ceremonially unclean.

The stranger drank and drank, and then wiped his mouth.

Before he said another word this stranger had said a tremendous amount. He had said 'You are not worthless. You are someone who can help me. You are worth talking to.' He had said "I am not afraid to cross over barriers of gender and race that put people down.' He had even said 'It is all right to ask favors, and reach out to help and be helped by others.' And he said a lot more beside before he ever opened his mouth again.

But then Jesus DID open his mouth and say a whole lot. As a matter of fact, a part of this story is the longest conversation that is recorded that Jesus ever had with any one individual. And even though I hate to interrupt the flow of the drama, we do have to look at what Jesus told this one shunned and rejected woman. Actually he told her two things that stand out to me, and a third thing than was stunning!

1. He told her something about how people worship. Whenever sincere people seek after God they come under one of the ways Jesus described to this one woman. I'd love to say more about this but there is more there than I can say now.

Jesus simply said "You Samaritans don't know ... we Jews have heard God's revelation and do know but there is coming– and now is a higher, deeper way to worship!"

2. And then Jesus spoke some of the most profound words that have ever been spoken on the subject of true worship, of worship as God intends it shall be the kind of worship, Jesus said, that the heavenly Father goes looking for. Maybe I can address that best by reading a short paragraph of Eugene H. Peterson's translation, The Message:

"It's who you are and the way you live that count before God. Your worship must engage your spirit in the pursuit of truth. That's the kind of people the Father is out looking for; those who are simply and honestly themselves before him in their worship. God is sheer being itself Spirit. Those who worship him must do it out of their very being, their spirits, their true selves, in adoration."

The longest conversation on record with a woman who lived on a dead end street, going nowhere! The most profound words about worship to a person who had probably never heard of philosophy or knew much about Torah.

3. Then most stunning of all the first declaration of his Messiahship recorded in the Gospel She says, "Well these are wonderful words and when Messiah comes I'm sure HE will make them plain!" And the amazing, head spinning reply she got, and that she believed, were the words: "I that speak unto you am HE!"

Well, that may not have been the end of our woman's hard times in life, but it certainly shattered her isolation. She left her precious water pot right where it was and headed into the village looking for the people she had been afraid of, the people who had scorned her. And they listened to her! There was something absolutely fascinating to the village people about the genuine faith that had been kindled in this woman many of them knew had been a loser in so many ways. The village emptied at noonday, and streamed out to the edge of town to the well of Sychar, the well of Jacob their forefather. They heard for themselves. They believed. A genuine turning to God of a whole town began.

The transformation of a hopeless woman into a kind of evangel, the transformation of a Samaritan town into a worshiping community began when Jesus asked someone, someone on a dead end street, for a drink.

It makes me think there are no really dead end streets if Jesus is really there. We've probably all been to the well of Sychar at one time or other.

It makes me believe that in the least expected places, and in the strangest times Jesus shows up in the most unexpected ways. He treats us like people of worth for he values us. He asks us for our help if he needs it.

Then Jesus offers us in return the kind of respect we never thought we deserved. He gives us grace that the rich and famous can never buy with all their wealth, and the keenest scholars can never figure out with all their fabulous IQ, and the most powerful politicians cannot legislate with all their hot air. He offers us the knowledge of who we are, and the hope of who we can be. He helps us look Him in the face and see his purity and then look ourselves in the mirror and see our possibilities.

Then before we know it we are even looking our neighbors in the face, whether they are rich or poor, and telling them about a Man who makes us more alive than we ever thought we ever could be.

Prayer

Hymn Closer 458 (STL) Fill My Cup, Lord

The Faith Jesus Comes Looking For

October 18, 1998

Luke 18:1-8

It was the last of the ninth inning. The old days at Fenway. Red Sox versus Yankees. Red Sox batter steps into the batter's box and reaches out to make the sign of the cross on the plate. Yogi Berra reaches out with his big catcher's mitt and wipes off the plate. He says, "Why don't we let God just WATCH this game, OK?"

A God who just watches is probably good baseball theology. But it is a TERRIBLE theology for the way we live our lives every day. We believe that our God is a God that cares about every detail of our everyday living. We believe that it is right for us to pray about all things great and small. The text says we 'ought to pray all the time.' But the question is, HOW?

Prayer is not as simple as some people might want to make it. It is not like "writing a check on God's account," or running down a "wish list." You know, a 'little faith' gets a 'little item,' and a 'big faith' maybe gets a genuine miracle. We all know of miracles. We also all know about things we have desperately prayed for and have been denied.

One insight into this mystery of prayer and faith is this enigmatic story in Luke 18: 1-8. The story itself actually is NOT too difficult to understand:

I. THE STORY

The story is an encouragement to keep on doing the right thing. It is the same truth found in Galatians 6: 7 - 9. Don't quit when you know you are in the right spirit, and doing God's will!

Two or three years ago Kay Roberts was teaching English as a second language to a woman from Viet Nam. As often happens Kay began to get personally acquainted with her pupil. She found that at the close of hostilities in Viet Nam this woman's husband had been imprisoned by the Communists and was in serious trouble. Kay's pupil said that every day she would go to the prison, and knock on the office door, and ask the officials to release her husband. She sat down on the steps of the prison. She would not go away. Day after day she went back to plead the innocence of her husband. And one day they simply went and got him out of his cell and let him go.

Here in the Gospel we have (1) a powerful but unfeeling, unfair, amoral judge. We have (2) a helpless but persistent widow. And finally, we have (3) a very satisfactory conclusion.

Of course this has to be seen as a story of contrast. Our God is NOT like the judge. This is a "how much more" situation, like the promise in Luke 11:13. Prayer is not as simple as some preachers want to make it. It is not like "writing a check on God's account," or running down a "wish list." You know, a 'little faith' gets a 'little item,' and a 'big faith' maybe gets a genuine miracle. We all know of miracles. We also all know about things we have desperately prayed for and have been denied.

Why, do you suppose, did Jesus tell this kind of story about prayer?

II. THE PURPOSE

Luke tells us 'up front' what Jesus had in mind when he told this story. (He was not describing God's nature as being unfeeling and hard-hearted.) Jesus was teaching two things which actually merge into just one:

A. LIVE IN GOD'S FACE ("we ought always to pray")

God is NOT simply WATCHING the game. God wants intimate access by our own consent to every part of our lives. When we think of God as a Sunday morning God, and think of our faith as a 'special occasion faith,' we are missing the very heart of God's love for us. God wants us to 'stay in His face' in the sense that we keep in contact with Him all the day long. Every burden, every joy— nothing too big, and nothing too small.

This seems to trivialize God to those who have great theories. But the only theologies that fit the way we are to live are those that bring us into a living relationship with God. Theologies that don't 'connect with life' don't do the widow woman any good.

Yes, God is great beyond all comprehension. Yes, when we try to describe Him we are in danger of creating our own idol. God is the great I AM THAT I AM. But God is also a Father who wants to know us by our own consent. That is the way God has designed His people should live. 'LIVE IN GOD'S FACE!'

B. NEVER, NEVER GIVE UP! ("... always to pray and not faint!")

Go is a covenant-making God. He has entered into covenant with you and me, that He will be our God, and that we will be His people. God will NEVER break that covenant.

We all too often think of prayer as successful or not successful as we get the thing we are asking for; i.e., we are looking for a miracle of physical healing, or a particular job opening, or an end to a source of pain. When that doesn't happen as we see it we believe that something is either defective in our faith, or else God is limited in his power, or in His love for us.

Jesus is telling us that if a poor, weak widow woman can persuade a powerful wicked judge, then we can be certain that persistent prayer by the Weakest of God's little children will never be unheard, and never in vain. You can be sure of it. God hears you! God cares!

But the story part of the Gospel text is not the end of the lesson. I wish I knew how Jesus asked this question . I wish I could have seen the expression on his face, and understood the concern he seems to express.

III. THE QUESTION

When he had told this story about persistent prayer Jesus asked what seems a surprising question: "NEVERTHELESS, WHEN THE SON OF MAN COMES, WILL HE FIND [THIS KIND OF PERSISTENT] FAITH ON THE EARTH?"

Why did Jesus put this question right here? I'm sure it is not a mistake.

- A. The days before we see Jesus will be testing days. It is probably as difficult right NOW for people to "live in God's face" as it ever has been in all history. Only a fool with his head in the sand cannot see how sinful our times are. It is not a simple thing, but little by little the values we have been sure of have crumbled. We accept as normal things we would have been shocked about just a few years ago. Symptoms instead of causes, perhaps. Still, how easy is it for us to sense God's Presence all through our day?

- B. Staying in God's face is the ONLY way we can hope to come through this spiritual warfare. In our arrogance and conceit we think WE know what the church needs to survive. So we hold a few more seminars, and we arrange a few more studies of the latest spiritual fad. And we forget to stay kind and loving and tender and caring even for our own families. We know we ought to DO something.

[[British Prime Minister Winston Churchill failed eighth grade English three times but, during WW II, it was his eloquence over the radio that encouraged the huddled masses in bomb shelters to persevere. After the war Oxford University invited him to make a commencement address. He arrived on stage with his usual props: a cigar, a cane, and a top hat that accompanied the beloved Churchill everywhere he went. He stood confidently before his admirers. He removed his cigar and laid the top hat on the podium. All ears wondered what great things he would include in his speech. He gazed over his silent audience. A few seconds passed before his authoritative deep gravely voice said, "Never give up!" Again he waited a few seconds before he shouted, "Never, never give up!" His profound words thundered in their ears as everyone realized that their nation had been saved by such perseverance. There was deafening silence as Sir. Winston reached for his hat and cigar, steadied himself with his cane and walked off the podium, his commencement address finished.

This story has been redacted in our personal history all of our lives. Churchill, and the British peoples' fortitude has contributed greatly to our American ideal of stick-to-it-tive-ness.]]

But we DON'T know what we NEED! We DON'T have the answers! We DON'T DARE simply ask God to 'bless OUR plans!' IF EVERY ONE OF US DOES HIS/HER BEST TO BRING IN GOD'S KINGDOM WE WILL MISERABLY FAIL! Because PRAYER is where we begin! Being OPEN TO GOD is our only hope of finding justice. We cannot do anything until and unless we have prayed!

A GOD WHO SITS IN THE STANDS AND WATCHES, first base side,, front row– interested but impartial– that may be all right for baseball. (Especially since it is 'wait till next year' for the Red Sox.) But life is NOT a game of baseball. Unless we have a God who does more than just watch, then what is our faith all about?? We TALK too much about prayer and we PRAY too little. G. Campbell Morgan said, "Any study of prayer which does not result in praying is not only NOT helpful, it is HURTFUL!"

In this Gospel lesson YOU and I are the helpless widow woman! Unless God comes to our aid we are going to be finally lost and hopeless. Like dear Jim Couchenour has said more than once: "Prayer does not support the work of the church; prayer IS the work of the church!"

Our Lord is watching us– he is watching me as I type this message– watching YOU as you listen– watching to see if we will dare to be the kind of people who will live in God's face day in and day out. Stay in God's face for our children's salvation. Stay in God's face to find his best will for our lives. Stay in God's face to tell him we need him and we love him. Because THAT is the kind of faith Jesus is coming to look for!

Prayer

Father in Heaven, We, your church, want to be grateful for your many blessing. We want to keep covenant with you, and live as the people of God. Give us grace to love you above all else, and grace to love our neighbors as ourselves.

Grant that our times of worship may be a sanctuary in a very secular world. We pray that the Sunday School, Bible studies, and fellowship gatherings that bind us together as a community of believers will make us strong to do your will. And then in your mercy send us out of this sanctuary to dare to live in your face, and to be your Church. We ask this in the name of your Son, Jesus Christ, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, One God Holy and Eternal. Amen.

Song of Response - 477 - Oswald Smith's Deeper and Deeper

The Lord of All Saints

All Saints' Day

November 1, 1992

Luke 6:20-31; Ephesians 1:11-22

Ephesians 1:11 "In (Christ) we . . ."

On this All Saints' Day in the Christian calendar the Gospel lesson is the opening verses of Luke's record of Jesus' Sermon on the Plain. It is stark and challenging, possibly even a bit more rugged than Matthew's version that we call the Sermon on the Mount. Jesus says, "Blessed are you poor! Blessed are you who weep!" Then he says, "Love your enemies! Bless those who curse you! If anyone strikes you on the cheek offer the other!" "Do to others as you would have them do to you." The Golden Rule.

Is there any connection with the words of Jesus and the way life is supposed to be lived by ordinary Christians? Isn't this just an ideal? What does loving enemies have to do with ordinary people like you and me? We're not saints— are we?

There is! There is a connection! Of course WE can't live in the spirit of Jesus' kind of love in our own natural kind of power. That is the whole point. Jesus came to change us, and make us like Himself.

There is a word from the Lord which I've been listening to this week. It is a word for me, and I believe for the Church today, and it is summed up in the first three or four words of the epistle lesson, Ephesians 1:11: "In him we . . ." or "In Christ we have . . ."

- In Christ we have . . . obtained power and gifts for living.
- In Christ we have . . . a place or position of belonging.
- In Christ we have . . . Living relationship with all saints in God.

I. IN CHRIST ALL THE RICHES OF GOD AT OUR POTENTIAL COMMAND

In Christ we have all the gifts and blessings and graces that we need in order to carry out all that Christ calls us to do. In CHRIST, says Paul, we have obtained inheritance of Christ's hope, and his power, and his glory.

When I think of the phrase "In Christ" I think of Pastor Nielson's father,

Rev. John B. Nielson, who died in the summer of 1997. "In Christ" was not only the title of one of the books John B. wrote, it was the very signature phrase of John B.'s life and ministry.

Let me use some of John B. Nielson's favorite scripture references and then a quote or two to underscore the extent of our riches in Christ:

- For as in Adam all die, even so IN CHRIST shall all be made alive. 1 Corinthians 15:22
- Therefore there is now no condemnation for those who are IN CHRIST Jesus because through Christ Jesus the law of the Spirit of life set me free from the law of sin and death. Romans 8:1,2
- If anyone is IN CHRIST he is a new creation; the old has gone, the new has come. 2 Corinthians 5:17
- But thanks be to God who always leads us in triumphal procession IN CHRIST and through us spreads everywhere the fragrance of the knowledge of him. 2 Corinthians 2:14
- And God raised us up with Christ . . . in order that in the coming ages he might show the incomparable riches of his grace expressed in his kindness to us IN CHRIST Jesus. For it is by grace we have been saved through faith—and this is not of ourselves, it is the gift of God— not of works so that no one may boast. For we are God's workmanship created IN CHRIST Jesus to do good works which God prepared in advance for us to do. Ephesians 2: 6 - 10

From Rev. John B. Nielson's book In Christ these words, amplifying the power of our adequacy in Jesus. John B. had a vision of taking our inheritance IN CHRIST and turning our world upside down again with it:

God can overturn in a day . . . what it takes man's wisdom centuries to build. Paul saw the implications of Christ's presence in the world and sent them as harpoons into the prevailing culture and subjected it to Christ. What he did for his day must be done in our day. Someone with daring faith and confidence built on an experience of Christ must dismantle the bombs of our scientific self-confidence.

Even though it sounds like Jesus is challenging us to the impossible with his call to be saints, the fact is the resources are there for us in CHRIST — if we will ask for our inheritance.

(Transition) But maybe I should have emphasized the FIRST word first. The word IN Christ. The gifts of grace and the adequacy of God in CHRIST comes to those who are IN Christ.

II. IN CHRIST MEANS A PLACE, A POSITION, A BELONGING

Sainthood is not something we attain. It is not something we earn or merit or accomplish. Saints are those who are IN Christ.

In this Ephesians passage Paul puts it this way: You came IN Christ when you (1) heard the word of truth, and (2) believed in Jesus, and (3) were marked with the seal of the promised Holy Spirit.

A definite experience of grace comes when the Gospel is HEARD. The Gospel simply put is that Jesus died for your sins, and lives for your eternal salvation.

A definite salvation takes place when the Gospel is BELIEVED. Romans 10:9,10 says : "If we confess with our mouth 'Jesus is Lord!' and if we believe in our heart (that) God has raised him from the dead, we shall be saved."

A definite position or place in Christ is sealed when BAPTISM is complete: I am not here preaching salvation by sacrament, but Paul says we are marked by the seal of the Holy Spirit. In baptism we obey Christ's command, and receive the symbol and sign of the inward Presence of God's own Life within.

[Exhortation: Have you put your trust in the shed blood of Calvary?

- Have you seen your Savior dying on the cross even for you?
- Have you called out in your heart to God for mercy in Jesus' name?
- Do you keep covenant with God in the New Testament in his blood?]

It is IN Christ we have life, and then access to standing grace and gifts.

But that is not quite the end of the message of the phrase "IN CHRIST WE HAVE obtained an inheritance . . ." That little word "WE" is very, very important!

III. IN CHRIST WE . . .

Together WE are Christ's body, the church. The church is mysterious and wonderful. It is made up of all who call Jesus Lord, both here on earth, and in heaven.

We are part of the church that we call "Triumphant." That 'great cloud of witnesses' mentioned in Hebrews 12 is pulling for us to be faithful. When we celebrate the Lord's Supper by faith we join with them in worshipping our Head. Today on All Saints' Day we are one great body with all those who have gone on before. They are not complete without us. But we certainly are not complete without them.

We are also part of the whole church Militant around the world. We are brothers and sisters to ALL SAINTS. The church is not complete without us. But it certainly is not complete without every African saint, every Asian believer, every Christian in the far flung islands of the sea, every child of the king of every race and language around the world. The church does not all worship as we worship. They do not sing as we sing, or pray as we pray. But together we who call God Father and Jesus Master are that "WE" that is IN CHRIST. Sometimes I think that God wants to re-introduce us into the family– the body of Christ– the fellowship of all saints.

We have been conditioned to think of salvation as not only highly personal but highly individual as well. We are loved and called by God one by one it is true. But then we think 'What does my relationship with God have to do with you, or you, or you?' We have come to think of salvation as a very private matter.

Isolation is finally sin's bottom line. Sin is the great isolator and separator. Hell is where no one speaks your language. Hell is where no one cares a thing about your soul. Individualism is a selfish lie. God loves the individual. He makes characters out of each of us if we will let him. No one saint is a carbon copy of another.

Individuality is good. Individualism is something different. Denominations can be good. But DENOMINATIONALISM is something different. When one group of saints starts emphasizing its own purity as contrasted with all other groups in the body something seriously wrong is taking place. There may be room, even need for denominations. But the Church of Jesus Christ, his BODY, is more glorious and mysterious and complete and wonderful than any human organization can ever conceive.

The completeness we celebrate on All Saints' Day, the power to change our world, does not reside in any one group or individual. We have to do our individual best. We have to work to build up our local fellowship. But when the whole church begins to catch the vision of this greater "we" and dares to pray unselfishly "Thy kingdom come and Thy will be done" then perhaps Christ's prayer for all the saints will be answered as it never has been answered before!

Do we dare to pray that the Holy Spirit will come all throughout this world where people call Jesus Lord regardless of who gets the credit?

Prayer: O Lord our God, from whom neither life nor death can separate those who trust in thy love, and whose love holds in its embrace thy children in this world and the next; so unite us to thyself that in fellowship with thee we may always be united to our loved ones whether here or there; give us courage, constancy and hope; through him who died and was buried and rose again for us, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. [William Temple]

Hymn: 673 The Apostles' Creed (or)

Zaccheus

November 1, 1998 (pm) - Communion Service

Luke 19:1-10 (read)

INTRO: How would you preach this passage? What would you do if YOU were suddenly called on to bring this evening message? It happened to at least one young person:

The great London Baptist Preacher Charles Spurgeon had a school for preachers. Each day he would enter the chapel and call on one of the students to preach extemporaneously on a text or topic he would name. Mr. Jones lived in fear of the day his name would be called, and sure enough his morning came. Spurgeon walked in and facing the students announced "Mr. Jones your text is Luke 19:1-10. Preach us a sermon on Zaccheus."

Somehow Jones got up and made it to the pulpit where he held on for dear life, knuckles white and knees wobbling. With a squeak as his voice was breaking he began.

- "Zaccheus . . . (long pause)
- "Zaccheus was a small man . . . , and so am I.
- "Zaccheus was up a tree . . . , and so am I.
- "Zaccheus came down . . . , and so am I."

With that he quickly returned to his pew to await the judgement of the great preacher.

Spurgeon stepped forward to begin his lecture. He looked at the young Mr Jones and said quietly, "Young man, I think you'll do....."

This is a story of grace, and of humility, and of genuine change in the Presence of Jesus:

Zaccheus was small/ little / DIFFERENT. We make something of his short stature, but Zacchaeus had pretty much overcome that handicap in his own personal life. He was a success in many ways. But spiritually he knew a need. His desire to see Jesus and his inability on his own becomes a symbol of the inability every one of us has to see Jesus, to find God, without some kind of help. We call that help 'revelation.' It comes by the grace of God, through the Holy Spirit, by the Bible, by the truth, from the living Word.

Zaccheus was up a tree TO HIDE? TO SEE? Zacchaeus used the tree to see Jesus. But he might well have had the idea of being unobserved— a spectator, but not a participant. 'I'll just climb this tree and see and not be seen.' But Jesus made his tree a "corner" where he couldn't get away!

THE SEARCH FOR THE REAL JESUS

Luke 19:3 "And he (Zaccheus) was trying to see who Jesus was, and he was unable because of the crowd..." LOOKING FOR JESUS CAN BE A LONELY THING. There were people between Zaccheus and Jesus:

1. Bad people who hated him: Some possibly had reasons to hate a tax collector. Others simply put Zaccheus into a category, which is easier than dealing case by case. "All _____ are _____!" or, " _____ " was bad once, so he/she is " bad forever!!"
2. "Nice" people who "understood" him: how easy it can be to think we "understand" when we don't have any idea of the pain another is facing. We "explain things" very glibly at times; we make light of other peoples' struggles. It is no help to say, "Your situation is not all that bad!" Zaccheus may have had plenty of people to tell him what they thought he ought to do but he wanted to see for himself who Jesus was! "People" are supposed to be "witnesses," and God uses the Church to help bring people to the knowledge of Jesus. But can it be that we Christians have tried to be so nice and helpful that we have actually obscured Jesus from people who would see Him?

ONE MAN MADE A DETERMINATION TO FIND OUT WHO JESUS WAS/IS

The crowd, the many people, were confusing to Zaccheus. If everyone is busy describing Jesus to us, how can we ever come to find Him for ourselves? If we are always listening to this expert, or reading that latest book, do we take time to simply get alone and wait on God Himself? –

The student of Spurgeon was 'up a tree.' He was in a corner. We all get into places where we haven't planned to be, with results we could not foresee. It is amazing, then, when Jesus comes to exactly the branch on which we're sitting, peering through the leaves and "casually" looks up into our eyes and says, "I see you!" It could be disconcerting. Actually it is the most comforting thing in all the world!

JESUS CAME WHERE THE MAN SEEKING HIM WAS.

We don't "find Jesus;" The very hunger for God comes from Him. He finds us! THE SURPRISE: JESUS FOUND THE SEARCHER

Luke 19:5 "And when Jesus came to the place, He looked up and said to him, 'Zaccheus...'"

[ON THIS 'ALL SAINTS DAY'] IT IS IMPORTANT TO SEE THAT GOD REVEALS HIMSELF TO US ONE ON ONE!

God is a Rewarder of them that diligently SEEK Him; but in the end we see that God Himself is the Seeker; Hebrews 11:6; and (2 Chronicles 16:9) "For the eyes of the Lord run to and fro throughout the whole earth to show himself strong in the behalf of them whose heart is perfect toward Him."

(WE NEED TO SEE JESUS FOR OURSELVES!)

The revelation of Jesus Christ to His Church, and then the Church's witness of that revelation to the whole world, is what the entire New Testament is all about. Jesus is "the AUTHOR and the PERFECTER of our faith." (Hebrews 12:2)

1. WE NEED A MIRACLE! Like Zaccheus, we will find it difficult to know just who this Jesus is, apart from a miracle. People will be happy to tell us who Jesus is, and that is all well and good to a point.

2. THE MIRACLE IS FAITH ITSELF! Jesus still comes where we are, by His Spirit! He stops under our tree, and says, "Come down!" This is reality! It has happened to every born again Christian. Some more spectacularly than others, perhaps (like Saul of Tarsus.) But I remember, don't you?!)

ZACCHEUS CAME DOWN.

He made an end of isolation. Jesus invited himself over for dinner!, and we to need to come down accepting God's love at the invitation of his son who ate with sinners.

GOD DOES NOT SAVE US INTO ISOLATION!

The fellowship of the Gospel: Zaccheus was not "enlightened" [touched by saving grace] and then put out on his own resources to make his own way. Jesus said, "I'M COMING TO YOUR HOUSE I'M COMING HOME WITH YOU!"

That morning Zaccheus set out to see who Jesus was and before the day was over Jesus was looking at him over the coffee cups!

I know it isn't quite that pat or simple but it still is true (Hebrews 11:6) that IF WE WON'T TAKE SECOND-HAND REPORTS ABOUT WHO JESUS IS, WE CAN FIND THAT HE WANTS TO BE OUR DAILY COMPANION.

Into Communion:

THE HOLY COMMUNION

Wherever you are on your Spiritual Journey - If you believe God is seeking fellowship with you— and if you want to turn to Him, I invite you to come in faith to the Table of the Lord. Draw near with faith and take this Sacrament to your comfort, and make your humble confession to Almighty God in humility before Him.

The Apostles Creed Inside back cover of Hymnal

The Law Read and Confession Made - The Lord Jesus Christ has said to us: "Thou shalt love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the first and great commandment. The second is like unto it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets."

Brothers and sisters, let us search our hearts. In silence let us ask God to draw us near to Himself so that we can come to his table with confidence.

(Reading No. 750) A prayer in unison, from scripture:

Unison: Search me, O God, and know my heart; Test me and know my anxious thoughts. See if there is any offensive way in me. Lead me in the way everlasting. Have mercy on me, O God, according to your unfailing love. Wash away all my iniquity and cleanse me from my sin. Create in me a pure heart, O God, and renew a steadfast spirit within me. May the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be pleasing in your sight, O Lord, my Rock and my Redeemer.

Pastor: Hear what our Lord has said: Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. And he has also said, "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believes in him should not perish but have everlasting life.

Prayer: Thank you. O God, for your forgiving us when we come humbly to you. We do not presume to come to this table, O God, trusting in our own righteousness, but in your great mercy and grace. Grant us to eat the Bread of heaven, and drink the blood shed for the remission of sins, that we may live in Christ, and Christ may live in us forever. Amen

(In Place of Gloria Patri) sing "Father, I Adore You, Lay my life before You How I love you!" , "Jesus, I adore you . . ." and "Spirit, I adore you . . ."

The Informal Invitation ("This is not my table . . ." Do not come irreverently. Do not come because someone else expects it. But if the Host invites you, and you want to walk with Him, then you are welcome at His table...)

The Words of Institution

On the night in which he was betrayed our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had given thanks to You he broke it and gave it to his disciples and said, "Take eat: THIS IS MY BODY, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me.

After supper he took the cup and when he had given thanks he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you; THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink this, do it in remembrance of me: Amen

We praise you for the mystery of our salvation! We truly believe Christ has died!
Christ is risen! Christ will come again!

Bless these emblems, O God, and make them to us the Body and Blood of your Son, spiritual food, and spiritual drink of new and unending life in Jesus Christ.

And now, together, we pray, as Jesus taught us:

Our Father which art in heaven . . .

Now, humbly come and receive the Gifts of God for the People of God

#754 God of the Ages

The God of Eternal Life

November 8, 1998 AM

Luke 20:27-38

The Sadducees came with trick questions . . . (To, two, too . . . 'Second day of week' ??) (Twenty-six/ twenty-sick sheep . . .) that are not expected to be answered . . . No straight answers possible . .

- What is the afterlife? What is heaven really like?
- We don't really know, at least from personal experience
- We have several sources from which we can choose the answers we want to hear:
 - Literalists - street of gold/ three layered universe
 - Near death experiences
 - Observing the dying - all these are tremendously subjective, unreliable

OR

- We have Jesus' word

To these Sadducees - in effect: you don't know what you are talking about.

Insights in the parables: particularly the talents; hints of useful work.

Direct words: Today you will be with me in Paradise / I go to prepare a place for you.

Eternal life is connected with God's integrity. He has made covenant with us, and we with Him. By grace we can keep covenant. I am willing to believe He will know me, and help me know Him in the great unknown that waits us every one.

I heard a story about Cecil B. De Mille recently; he told of canoeing on a lake in the northern woods. He observed a swarm of water beetles under the surface of the water near his canoe. One of the beetle contacted his canoe and crawled up the side right out of the water where it seemed to fasten itself and die. He forgot about it for a time. But as the sunshine beamed down on it the shell of the beetle seemed to harden and crack, and out came a dragonfly. The gossamer wings unfolded, and dried, and the beautiful shimmering dragonfly took to the air. In one minute it flew farther and higher and faster than all its life as a beetle under the water.

De Mille imagined as it swooped down over the other beetles still under the surface that they could not have any clue as to what was happening in the world of sunlight and air, let alone that soon they would flit and dart and fly. He thought, "If God can do that for a beetle, what will He do for me?"

Prayer:

O God, whose Son came to this world to destroy the works of the devil and make us Your children and heirs of eternal life: Grant that we may take hold of this hope, and purify ourselves even as he is pure; that, when he comes again in power and great glory, we may be made like him in his eternal kingdom of glory; where he lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen

A Call to Stand on Holy Ground

November 15 PM

Exodus 3: 1 10

Most of the people you meet each day, good bad or indifferent, live by their wits in this dog eat dog world and never think about God at all. If they ever do consciously think of God they probably think in terms of restrictions and oughts and shoulds. But at the same time most of the people we meet each day at some time or other have stopped and asked themselves the question, "Is this what life is all about?"

For when we live by our wits or not, life is full of hard places.

If we were to be brutally honest, it isn't just the most of the people we meet that are frustrated with life at times and who do not think of God most of the time. People LIKE YOU AND ME who should know better, or who may have been taught better, or even people who in earlier times at a youth camp somewhere or a revival meeting or a VBS made a commitment to God find that they can live a whole day a whole week a whole month without ever looking to God, and then one day ask that same question, "Is this what life is all about? Isn't there more than this?"

THIS IS WHERE THE EXODUS STORY COMES IN....

In the most modern, progressive, intelligent civilization the world had known to that time a nation that had already produced man made wonders like the great pyramids of Giza that were evidence of knowledge of celestial orbits in that nation were several hundred thousand men, women and children who were descendants of the Hebrew Patriarchs. Four hundred years earlier Jacob had taken his tribe in a time of famine into Egypt, following his son Joseph who was viceroy of the entire land. They had been honored guests of the Pharaoh. At that time there were a total of 72 Hebrews.

But in the intervening 400 years governments had changed, and generations had passed and now the Egyptians had brutally dominated the Hebrews. The descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob were reduced to living by their wits in the absence of God or so they thought. But from time to time they raised their heads and hearts and voices and said, "O God! Is this all there is to life?" And so far as they knew nothing! Nothing happened! Day followed day, and nothing happened.

WHAT A GREAT STORY THIS IS!!

Just as these people were praying almost in despair several hundred miles to the southeast there was a solitary shepherd on the backside of the desert near a mountain called Horeb. He looked like any other shepherd, perhaps. He was a shepherd with a very interesting life story. He had been a prince. He tried being a hero. He became a fugitive. I have no idea what was going through this man's mind as he stood, a tiny isolated little speck of humanity in a vast dry wasteland south of the Negev. But Moses was about to have an encounter with God.

GOD MEETS ONE LONE MAN IN THE MIDDLE OF A BARREN DESERT

The man, Moses, saw a fire. It was a fire that burned and burned and burned. Moses turned aside to see it. (Significant!) The scripture says (4) "When the LORD saw that (Moses) turned aside..." then Moses was confronted with Almighty God. Moses was drawn, but he was also almost in terror. It was electrifying.

After more than 3,000 years this story has tremendous significance. For it tells in language deeper than words can express, to those who will listen, something about what happens when we come into living contact with God.

THE WONDER OF GOD REACHING TO A HUMAN BEING

[All Moses could do was "draw near"...not generate the experience; also extreme reverence of Jews for this name "YHWH" and LORD in our OT...]

Rudolph Otto, a respected German scholar, used three Latin adjectives to describe encounters with God in the Bible in general, and this Burning Bush story in particular. Those three words are tremendum, and mysterium, and fascinans.

Tremendum: Otto used the word tremendum to express three aspects of a divine human encounter. First, he said was (1) A sense of awe. It is, in his words, "a quite specific kind of emotional response, wholly distinct from that of being afraid, though it so far resembles it that the analogy of fear may be used to throw light upon its nature." The Scripture says "Moses hid his face for he was afraid to look at God." Later, when God had brought all the people to this place again they, too, were afraid and trembled and stood at a distance.

But there is more. Tremendum means also (2) an overpowering, a majesty a majestic distance realizing the infinite difference between the ineffable God and our mortal humanity. The prophet Habakkuk said: "I hear, and I tremble within; my lips quiver at the sound. Rottenness enters my bones, and my steps tremble beneath me." Daniel said, "My strength left me, and my complexion grew pale, and I retained no strength." Both these men stated later that they felt greatly beloved and yet they were shaken physically and mentally and spiritually.

Finally tremendum has elements of what can only be described as (3) sheer "energy." The "energy" is sometimes represented in fantastic ways Ezekiel's wheels within wheels the four living creatures of Revelation even the picture of the living Savior in Revelation chapter one– (words like Psalm 29: 5 9)

The voice of the LORD breaks the cedars; the LORD breaks the cedars of Lebanon. He makes Lebanon skip like a calf, And Sirion like a young wild ox. The voice of the LORD flashes forth flames of fire, The voice of the LORD shakes the wilderness; the LORD shakes the wilderness of Kadesh. The voices of the LORD causes the oaks to whirl, and strips the forest bare; and in his temple all say, "Glory!")

"Awe" like Abram in Genesis 15 when "a horror" came over him as God passed between the pieces of the sacrifice "Overpowering" like Habakkuk who says, "I hear, and I tremble within; my lips quiver at the sound. Rottenness enters my bones, and my steps tremble beneath me." Energy beyond any human generated excitement!

[THAT IS A LONG WAY FROM BODY SURFING AT A JESUS ROCK CONCERT]

But AWE is not all when God asks us to turn aside: [Another word:]

Mysterium: Encounters with God can never be really described. And they cannot be duplicated or summoned up at will. Ezekiel is never ever willing to say he saw God or even God's glory but he IS willing to say he saw something LIKE the glory of God:

And above the dome over their heads there was something LIKE a throne, in appearance LIKE a sapphire, and seated above the likeness of the throne was something that SEEMED like a human form..." and so on.

When the Bible tells about people coming into contact with God it never confuses this great I AM THAT I AM with the physical setting nor does it give any glory to the humans involved. God is not in the whirlwinds or the fire or in the burning bush or even in the mountain or the tablets of stone. Moses does not fast and pray until God has to do as Moses says. There is always mystery involved when the great God reaches out to communicate with people.

One might say God has a big problem. How does he get near to us without on the one hand consuming us with his energy, and on the other hand convince us that He really is interested in us if we will listen and respond in humility and faith. There will always be mystery.

[Finally and wonderfully there is another aspect:]

Fascinans: The final adjective Rudolph Otto uses to describe encounters with God is fascinans, or the root word for "fascination." There is a tremendous attraction within the human heart for the holiness of God. For God is white hot passionate caring LOVE. To think that someone just simply downright LOVES you is just about the most fascinating thing in the world.

"Love" of some kind or other is the dynamic that drives most of the dramas and novels of the world the concept of loving and being loved. But no love can compare with the purity and intensity of the LOVE that emanates from an encounter with God.

Awe. Mystery. Great fascination! Moses is awed. He covers his face. He certainly does not understand. But what is this this I AM THAT I AM finally saying to Moses?

THIS GREAT GOD CARES ABOUT PEOPLE

He is saying, to Moses, "I have been listening to a bunch of people who are living by their wits, and who haven't really ever thought much of Me, except that I am "absent" from their lives. I have been hearing them ask 'Is this all there is to life?' And I have even heard some of them cry poor, broken prayers like, "O God, if there IS a God like I have heard about in fairy tales and myths and stories about Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob why don't you show up here and help me? ' Well, Moses, I AM is going to show up! And GUESS WHO is going to introduce ME and begin the process of answering their prayers??"

God went on to say that the proof that He was really God would be that right here right at the base of this mountain one day you will be standing with those very people who are praying to Me right now and together you will worship. And then, and then only, the fire disappeared. It did not "go out." It simply was gone, and there stood Moses all alone in the vast expanse of desert.

THERE IS A CONNECTION, OF COURSE, BETWEEN THE PEOPLE IN EGYPT ASKING "IS THIS ALL THERE IS TO LIFE?" AND THE BURNING BUSH EXPERIENCE OF MOSES DO YOU THINK THERE MIGHT BE A CONNECTION OF GENUINE WORSHIP AND GOD'S LOVE FOR PEOPLE "OUT THERE"??

A lot of things happened in the next few months to Moses and to Egypt and the people who were slaves but were to become the people of God. Great miracles took place. and God nearly destroyed Egypt getting the people out and away from their old masters. But the bottom line is this: one man met God Almighty God and obeyed Him. When this one man invited the slaves in Egypt to follow God they believed him, they responded to the promises of this God. And one day the living descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob stood at the Mountain of God, and they saw the fire and they experienced tremendum, and they experienced mysterium, and yet at the same time they knew fascinans.

When WE think of the Exodus we think of the details of the journey the parting of the sea, the manna, the water from the rock– and that is only natural.

But really Exodus is about a God of fire and holiness and mystery who calls people to look up and believe and to walk with Him and trust Him and find they have never been so free and so happy. Exodus is about being drawn out of life that goes around in circles into a life that ascends in spirals that never, ever, ever end. Exodus is about an invitation to fellowship with the eternal God, the I AM THAT I AM.

THE WONDER OF EXODUS IS THAT GOD WANTS TO COME NEAR HIS PEOPLE AND NEVER, NEVER LEAVE THEM AGAIN!

So who are we? and where is God? Are we saying "Is THIS all?" Can we ever see God inviting us to come nearer to Him? Will we take time to "turn aside"??

THE MESSAGE OF EXODUS IS THAT ORDINARY PEOPLE CAN EXPERIENCE THE TREMENDUM AND THE MYSTERIUM AND CERTAINLY THE FASCINANS OF COMING INTO GOD'S PRESENCE AND THAT ORDINARY PEOPLE CAN WALK WITH GOD AND NEVER NEED TO LEAVE HIS FELLOWSHIP EVER AGAIN.

Prayer 133 I Love You Lord [Alleluia! Alleluia!]

See: A Call to Stand on Holy Ground [MM: I think this is an early draft of that sermon.]

Encounter with God on a Desert

November 15, 1998

Wollaston 6 pm

Exodus 3:1- 10

Picture a broad vista – high shot – vast panorama of barren desert valley between two mountain ranges on each side. Sparse bushes here and there as far as the eye can see. Tiny specks moving below - - a shepherd and scattered flock of sheep. Not another living thing in sight.

In that vast emptiness of desert - - we zoom in and see a deeply tanned handsome Beduin-looking sort of man. Far from any other human being, let alone any civilization - - one of the world's most important events is about to take place:

A bush begins to burn. So ??

It keeps burning . . And burning . . . The man looks.

It burns but is not burned up. The man turns aside to see.

THE EXODUS STORY IS BEGINNING:

GOD MEETS ONE LONE MAN IN THE MIDDLE OF A BARREN DESERT

After more than 3,000 years this story has tremendous significance. For it tells in language deeper than words can express, to those who will listen, something about what happens when we come into living contact with God. The story is important because it tells something of THE WONDER OF GOD REACHING TO A HUMAN BEING.

[All Moses could do was "draw near"...not generate the experience; also extreme reverence of Jews for this name "YHWH" and LORD in our OT...]

Rudolph Otto, a respected German scholar, used three Latin adjectives to describe encounters with God in the Bible in general, and this Burning Bush story in particular. Those three words are tremendum, and mysterium, and fascinans.

Tremendum

(Roughly "awe".)

Otto used the word tremendum to express three aspects of a divine human encounter. First, he said was (1) A sense of awe. It is, in his words, "a quite specific kind of emotional response, wholly distinct from that of being afraid, though it so far resembles it that the analogy of fear may be used to throw light upon its nature." The Scripture says "Moses hid his face for he was afraid to look at God." Later, when God had brought all the people to this place again they, too, were afraid and trembled and stood at a distance.

But there is more. Tremendum means also (2) an overpowering, a majesty a majestic distance realizing the infinite difference between the ineffable God and our mortal humanity. The prophet Habakkuk said: "I hear, and I tremble within; my lips quiver at the sound. Rottenness enters my bones, and my steps tremble beneath me." Daniel said, "My strength left me, and my complexion grew pale, and I retained no strength." Both these men stated later that they felt greatly beloved and yet they were shaken physically and mentally and spiritually.

Finally tremendum has elements of what can only be described as (3) sheer "energy." The "energy" is sometimes represented in fantastic ways Ezekiel's wheels within wheels the four living creatures of Revelation even the picture of the living Savior in Revelation chapter one (words like Psalm 29: 5 9)

*The voice of the LORD breaks the cedars;
the LORD breaks the cedars of Lebanon.
He makes Lebanon skip like a calf,
And Sirion like a young wild ox.
The voice of the LORD flashes forth flames of fire,
The voice of the LORD shakes the wilderness;
the LORD shakes the wilderness of Kadesh.
The voices of the LORD causes the oaks to whirl,
and strips the forest bare;
and in his temple all say, "Glory!"*

To some extent I fear we have lost a capacity for awe. But AWE is not all that happens when it is GOD that calls to us: There was a second word

Mysterium

(Roughly: "Mystery!")

Encounters with God can never be really described. And they cannot be duplicated or summoned up at will. We are uncomfortable with what we cannot explain or control. God is always MORE than we can understand– OTHER than can be described.

When the Bible tells about people coming into contact with God it never confuses Him, the I-AM-THAT-I-AM, with the physical setting AND IT NEVER gives any glory to the humans involved. God is not in the whirlwinds or the fire or in the burning bush or even in the mountain or the tablets of stone. Moses does not fast and pray until God has to do as Moses says. There is always mystery involved when the great God reaches out to communicate with people.

One might say God has a big problem. How does he get near to us without on the one hand consuming us with his energy, and on the other hand convince us that He really is interested in us if we will listen and respond in humility and faith. There will always be mystery.

[Finally and wonderfully there is another aspect:]

Fascinans

(A translation could be "fascination" or "dazzling attraction.")

There is a tremendous attraction within the human heart for the holiness of God. For God is white hot passionate caring LOVE. To think that someone just simply downright LOVES you is just about the most fascinating thing in the world.

"Love" of some kind or other is the dynamic that drives most of the dramas and novels of the world the concept of loving and being loved. But no love can compare with the purity and intensity of the LOVE that emanates from an encounter with God.

Awe. Mystery. Great fascination! Moses somehow knew something of all three. He covers his face. He certainly does not understand. But what is this? What is the I AM THAT I AM finally saying to Moses? Out here on a barren desert THIS GREAT GOD MAKES IT CLEAR THAT HE CARES ABOUT PEOPLE. AND

ONE MAN SAYING YES TO GOD CHANGES THE HISTORY OF THE WORLD!

THERE IS A CONNECTION, OF COURSE, BETWEEN ONE MAN'S ENCOUNTER WITH GOD ON A BARREN DESERT AND 1,000,000 SLAVES CRY FOR HELP FROM A GOD THEY HARDLY KNEW . .

A lot of things happened in the next few months to Moses and to Egypt and the people who were slaves but were to become the people of God. Great miracles took place. and God nearly destroyed Egypt getting the people out and away from their old masters. But the bottom line is this: one man met God Almighty God and obeyed Him.

When this one man invited the slaves in Egypt to follow God they believed him, they responded to the promises of this God. And one day the living descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob stood at the Mountain of God, and they saw the fire and they experienced tremendum, and they experienced mysterium, and yet at the same time they knew fascinans.

When WE think of this story of Exodus we think of the details of the journey the parting of the sea, the manna, the water from the rock– and that is only natural.

But really this story is about a God of fire and holiness and mystery who calls people to look up and believe and to walk with Him and trust Him. And they find they have never been so free and so happy. Exodus is about being drawn out of life that goes around in circles into a life that ascends in spirals that never, ever, ever end. Exodus is about an invitation to fellowship with the eternal God, the I AM THAT I AM. THE WONDER OF EXODUS IS THAT GOD WANTS TO COME NEAR HIS PEOPLE AND NEVER, NEVER LEAVE THEM AGAIN!

Words for Crisis Times

-Jesus Says Four Things-

November 15, 1998

Luke 21:5-19

In his wonderful translation of the New Testament, The Message, Eugene Peterson titles this passage in Luke 21 "Watch Out for Doomsday Deceivers". It is a serious thing to be a religious Chicken Little. If it weren't so very serious it would be very funny.

You remember the story of Chicken Little? An acorn fell on her head, and so she ran around crying "The sky is falling!" And soon she had Henny Penny and Goosy Loosy and Foxy Loxy believing her. A Chicken Little theology of end times tends to bring the real business of God's kingdom to a screeching halt.

In the mid-1800s a man named William Miller convinced thousands of people to stand out on hillsides waiting the end of the world, or at least the rapture. It was supposed to happen October 22, 1844. It didn't. In my own personal experience I have heard dire predictions made with great intensity. As a sincere Christian in my teens it made me want to cut short the best and most thorough preparation in favor of immediate action.

The church and the world do go through shaking times. Everything we take for granted as solid and secure can be up for grabs in a very short time. I remember near-panic in 1973 when an oil embargo made it hard to buy gasoline. I recall some very uneasy people— myself one of them— about eight years ago in January when the Scud missiles started landing in Israel. The world held its breath and the word "Armageddon" was in the air.

This very day's news is disturbing: millions homeless in central America that a few short weeks ago had no cause to be alarmed; Saddam Hussain thumbing his nose at U.N. sanctions; our own nation divided over things we would not have discussed in polite company just a few years ago. Are these signs of the end of the world?

Jesus was asked for specific time tables. Jesus never gave a formula for finding the time. But Jesus did say four things that we can take to the bank and live by:

1. he did NOT say "This is WHEN!"
2. he did NOT say "These will be the signs!"

but he DID say:

I. DON'T BE DECEIVED

Our clear call is to know and love God as he reveals himself to us in Jesus. Anything that takes us off that course is deception. There are many issues that are important, and many things worth taking a stand for. But there is only ONE ISSUE that is all-important: to know God, and to love and obey Him.

There are many mysteries involved in the Christian faith. There are many more things we don't know than we do. We can disagree and argue and split churches over important matters, and over not-very-important matters. It is all too easy to be deceived: Jesus says "Take care! Keep your spirit right! Stay close to Me!"

II. DON'T BE TERRIFIED

The second thing Jesus says is "Don't be afraid when the walls come tumbling down!" It is easier said than done! Fear as an emotion is not moral or im-moral. It is visceral.

Here's an old Texas story: Mother heard a commotion out in the chicken house and figured it was probably a chicken snake. She sent Bob and Billy out to kill it. They went in the hen house and looked all around; no snake. Then they got a box and started looking on the nesting shelves— and on the top shelf as they peeked over they came face to face with a big chicken snake.

Bob and Billy fell over each other and tried to get out the door at the same time in a panic, and as they burst out they met their mother, who reminded them that chicken snakes are harmless and never hurt people.

Bob looked at Billy, and Billy looked at Bob, and said, "Yes, ma'am, we know that but some things scare you so bad that you hurt yourself!"

Jesus didn't say things wouldn't be scary– in fact he knew they would be,. That's why he said, "Don't be afraid!" It is pretty scary to be arrested and put to death. But we can choose to believe that Jesus knows where we are, and that he will be with us. Jesus did say that even if we lost our lives for his sake and the Gospels' that not one hair of our heads would ever be finally misplaced and lost!

III. DO EXPECT A PRESENCE WHEN YOU NEED ONE

Crisis times are when Jesus expects us to let people know God loves them. We carry on doing what we believe God wants us to do. Someone asked Martin Luther what he would do if he knew the world would end tomorrow. He said, "I would plant a tree!"

The word Jesus gives us may be as small as a smile to your mail carrier. It may be showing a good spirit when you don't feel very much like it. We never know when God will take something very small and insignificant and change a life.

A little more than fifteen years ago a member of this congregation had a burden for people in crisis. She was past fifty years old, maybe five feet tall– no, maybe four-eleven. She had had her own share of crises. She was well-educated in social services and was a registered nurse, and cared for a number of our elderly people even to their death.

But God had a "word" for Esther Sanger to say– and she said it in a very small, almost insignificant way: she put a phone number on sheets of paper with the word "If you are in crisis call this number". The phone started ringing. It has never stopped. The Quincy Crisis Center touched hundreds of families, and continues as the Sanger Center to this very day. No one could have dreamed how to begin such a work.

IV. DON'T EVER GIVE UP YOUR FAITH

Jesus said "When the going gets tough, stick with Me! I'll stay with you to the end of the age!"

Conclusion

We have plenty of frightening things happening in our world right now. What do they MEAN? How should we act and re-act in our time on the human stage? In addition to world crises– there are personal crises represented here today. Nobody may know it– but perhaps YOU are going through what seems like the very end of the world for you! What shall we do?

1. Keep the long view: don't be deceived!

Don't listen to the date-setters. Don't get off course. Take time to make thorough preparation. Treat the earth the way your children and grandchildren would hope that you have treated it!

2. On the other hand live so you won't be ashamed to be surprised to meet Jesus face-to-face!

Our dog– actually my wife's dog, Schatzi, has a very sensitive doggy conscience. Not that she lives by her conscience at all– for she is not above falling into doggy sin any time she thinks she can get away with it.

But a funny thing is, we can tell if she has been a bad dog or a good dog by the way she greets us when we come home. Usually she is right at the door, smiling a doggy smile and wagging her tail. That means she hasn't done anything worse than sleeping on the sofa or drinking out of the you-know-what. But if she does NOT come to the door we know she has really been bad. She has gotten into the garbage, or opened the cupboard. Once she ate two pounds of Oreos.

Maybe that isn't a good example of facing the crises of life– but at the same time, the attitude you and I have right now as we think about that time when we will meet our Lord might just tell us something about what is or is not important in our lives just now.

3. Fifteen weeks ago today I was taking a couple MIT students home after Sunday dinner; I had just dropped them off at their dorm near Kresge Auditorium and turned onto Memorial Drive and started to make a U-turn– I looked both ways– hesitated while I watched a car coming east-bound, and without one split-second's warning I was broad-sided on my driver's door by a Subaru doing 45 miles an hour. I have thought about that split second a hundred times since then. There was no time to GET ready to meet my Maker.

That trauma has reenforced the truth of a cliché that I try to remember to live by: You can't GET ready when Jesus comes— you have to LIVE ready! Let your covenant with God dominate all the other relationships of your life! Amen

Prayer

Blessed Lord, who caused all holy Scriptures to be written for our learning: Grant us so to hear them, read, mark, learn, and inwardly digest them, that we may embrace and ever hold fast the blessed hope of everlasting life, which you have given us in our Savior Jesus Christ; who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen

Angels in the Treetops

November 22, 1998, PM

(Some background: Exodus 16:2-15, Matthew 20:1-16)

Philippians 1:21-30

In January of 1956 I loaded up a U Haul and drove to the place where I was to begin my pastoral ministry. Cherry Valley is a tiny crossroad community, not even a village, in northeastern Ohio. I was twenty five years old. As I began to learn the wonders of the pastorate, I was blissfully unaware of many problems and pitfalls. Amazing grace kept me safe sometimes in dangers I remember, and no doubt many times when I didn't have sense enough to recognize real danger. I did things backwards, I'm sure. I remember times when I was dreadfully afraid, and many times when I probably did the wrong thing. But people in the community were saved. God blessed in many ways. God has been good to me, and given Helen and me four loving sons, and twelve wonderful grandchildren, and I have served churches where the congregations have treated me with love beyond what I deserve.

In that very same month, January 1956, a small group of young Christians just a little older than I were launching a new ministry as well. These were people with top notch college and seminary educations, the kind who go to the very top in any field they enter. The one thing that distinguished this group was that they had totally dedicated their ambition to God.

This particular group had come together because they believed God wanted them to take the gospel of Christ to a tribe in South America where the life expectancy was barely 30 years of age, and where revenge and murder was the accepted way of life. Five wonderful, bright young Christian families believed God was leading them to take His Good News to these primitive people. They prepared in the best imaginable ways. It was as sophisticated and yet as dedicated a missionary endeavor as you could imagine, using aircraft and radio contacts. And then in their very first contact with the dangerous tribe all five men were killed.

Why have I put these two beginnings side by side? Am I comparing myself to those great martyrs? No there is no comparison in my mind. I wouldn't change places with them, and I know they wouldn't change places with me. I have the CONTRAST in mind. Grace does not seem to treat us all alike, as the gospel lesson makes clear. But again today (as last week) we see several insights into the nature of God's grace:

Last week speaking particularly about FORGIVENESS, we said:

- I . GRACE IS OF GOD HE ACTS
- II. GRACE IS RELATIONAL WE RESPOND TO GOD AND TO OTHERS
- III. GRACE IS NOT 'FAIR' IT IS LIFE CHANGING

Today's "outline" is about OBEEDIENCE, and it is similar:

- I. GRACE IS GOD'S BUSINESS, ON HIS TERMS
- II. GRACE IS GOOD, BUT NOT TO OUR EXPECTATIONS
- III. GRACE IS NOT FAIR IT IS UNDESERVING, AND IT IS GOOD]

GRACE IS GOD'S BUSINESS, ON HIS TERMS

Our gospel lesson tells of contrasts in work and working conditions: "The kingdom of heaven is like a landowner who hired people in the morning who worked all day in the sun he hired them at nine, and noon, and three in the afternoon, and again he hired an hour before quitting time and they all got a day's wage. The all day workers cried foul. Humanly speaking, as the only way we can speak, it was unfair.

How God assigns, how God rewards, what God calls vital and important is finally His business. Our business is to follow the pillar of fire, the "Presence," where it leads. Our challenge is to believe, to trust that God will care for us.

GRACE IS GOOD, BUT IT DOESN'T MOVE TO OUR EXPECTATIONS

Exodus passage: underscores the very human traits of grumbling when things don't go as expected. What outside forces could NOT do—destroy the Exodus mission internal dissension and bad will almost did do. The biggest headache Moses had was ...grumbling, complaining, murmuring—

The people experienced some hunger ... and expressed their discontent. They made unfair comparisons. They remembered best times of slavery Still on the journey, the Exodus, no one starved... but some died from snakebite.

Grace may be present and unrecognized, even despised; grace can be blacked out, even apparently defeated

The miracle of manna is how God chose to feed his people. It required both faith and obedience. That lesson is echoed every time we pray the Lord's Prayer: "Give us THIS DAY OUR DAILY BREAD! Faith and obedience connect with God's grace! We have provision for today to be what God would have us be today.

GRACE IS NOT FAIR. IT IS UNDESERVED. IT IS GOOD.

When the five missionary martyrs, died Life magazine carried pictures of red eyed widows, and corpses beginning to bloat in jungle heat. The reporters did make mention of the amazing calm of the women and children, and their lack of hatred and revenge spirit. But it was a sad, sad story. To a pure materialist there is no question that these people were deluded in the matter of life investment and spiritual reality. What a waste for people to study language and sociology, and to take expensive equipment into the moldy hot jungles only to be killed on their first encounter with their target tribe, and have their airplane torn apart.

The Christian world saw things somewhat differently from the start. It was not too long before the very same warriors who had killed the missionaries testified that the missionaries' God had conquered them, not with punishing power and vengeance, but with forgiveness and life changing love.

But just recently the whole story has emerged. In the latest Christianity Today is an article by Steve Saint, who was a baby when his father, Nate Saint, was killed by the people he was trying to reach with the love of Jesus. I read to you:

"Why didn't he flee into the jungle?" Mincaye emphatically asked me. "If he would have fled, surely he would have lived. Instead, he just waited for Kimo to wade out and spear him."

Dawa, one of the three women, told me she had hidden in the bush through the attack, hearing but not seeing the killing of the five men. She told me she had been hit by gun pellets in the wrist and just above the knee. (The obviously came from random warning shots fired to scare the attacker, because Dawa was hiding on the far side of the narrow river and the men could not have known of her presence.) She also told me that after the killing she saw COWODI (Auca word for foreigners) above the trees, singing.

She didn't know what this kind of music was until later she heard records of Aunt Rachel's and became familiar with the sound of a choir. Mincaye and Kimo confirmed that they heard the singing and saw what Dawa seems to describe as angels along the ridge above Palm Beach. Dyuwi verified hearing the strange music, though he describes what he saw more like lights, moving around and shining, a sky full of jungle beetles similar to fireflies with a light that is brighter and doesn't blink.

Apparently all the participants saw this bright multitude in the sky and felt they should be scared, because they knew it was something supernatural. Their only familiarity with the spiritual world was one of fear. Dawa has said that this supernatural experience was what drew her to God when she later heard of him from Dayuma. CT 9/16/96 26,7

[Supplemental story appended to this text at the end of the sermon]

Maybe that is something of what Paul meant when he wrote:

Philippians 1:20, 27-29 "For to me to live is Christ and to die is gain. ... Only live your life in a manner worthy of the gospel of Christ, so that, whether I come and see you or am absent and hear about you, I will know that you are standing firm in one spirit, striving side by side with one mind for the faith of the gospel, and are in no way intimidated by your opponents. For them this is the evidence of their destruction, but of your salvation. And this is God's doing. For he has graciously granted you the privilege not only of believing in Christ, but of suffering for him as well since you are having the same struggle that you saw I had and now hear I still have."

Did you get that one sentence?: For he has graciously granted you the privilege not only of believing in Christ, but of suffering for him as well—

We don't know where God's grace will lead us when we start out.

AND THAT IS GOD'S BUSINESS! DO WE DARE TO FOLLOW?

Steve Saint closed the article he wrote about his martyr father with this short paragraph:

God took five common young men of uncommon commitment and used them for his own glory. They never had the privilege they so enthusiastically pursued to tell the Huarani of the God they loved and served. But for every Huarani who today follows God's trail there are a thousand COWODI who follow God's trail more resolutely because of their example. This success, withheld from them in life, God multiplied and continues to multiply as a memorial to their obedience and his faithfulness. CT 9/16/96 27

GRACE IS LOVE, IT IS HERE FOR US NOW IF WE WILL RECEIVE IT

If you decide to take the way of depending on God you may have forty years of ministry, or you may have a disaster so far as a humanist observer could see. Grace is not fair. Thank God it is not fair. But I feel sorry for the people who have no invisible means of support.

Prayer

Hymn # 443 I Know Whom I Have Believed

NATE SAINT AND OTHER MARTYRS OF THE ECUADOR MISSION

(8 JAN 1956)

In the dense rain forests of Ecuador, on the Pacific side of the Andes

Mountains, lives a tribe of Indians who call themselves the Huaorani ("people" in their language, Huao), but whose neighbors have called them the Aucas ("savages" in Quechua). For many generations they have been completely isolated from the outside world, disposed to kill any stranger on sight, and feared even by their head hunting neighbors, the Jivaro tribe.

In 1955, four missionaries from the United States who were working with the Quechas, Jivaros, and other Indians of the interior of Ecuador became persuaded that they were being called to preach the Gospel to the Huaorani as well.

Nate Saint was 32 years old (born 1923), and devoted to flying. He had taken flying lessons in high school and served in the Air Force in WWII. After the war, he enrolled in Wheaton College to prepare for foreign mission work but dropped out to join the Missionary Aviation Fellowship. With his wife, Marjorie Farris, he established a base at Shell Mera (an abandoned oil exploration camp in Ecuador) in September 1948, and flew short hops to keep missionaries supplied with medicines, mail, etc. Once his plane crashed, but a few weeks later he returned to work in a cast from his neck to his thighs.

The other three, Ed McCully, Jim Elliot, and Peter Fleming, all Plymouth Brethren, came to Ecuador in 1952 to work for CMMML (Christian Missions in Many Lands). Ed McCully was 28 years old (born 1927). He had been a football and track star at Wheaton College and president of his senior class. After Wheaton, he enrolled at Marquette to study law, but dropped out to go to Ecuador. He and his wife, Marilou Hobolth, worked with the Quechuas at Arajuno, a base near the Huaorani. Half a dozen Quechuas had been killed at the base by Huaorani in the previous year. Jim Elliot was 28 years old (born 1927) and an honors graduate of Wheaton College, where he had been a debater, public speaker, and champion wrestler. In Ecuador, he married Elisabeth Howard . They did paramedic work, tending broken arms, malaria, snakebite. They taught sanitation, wrote books in Quechua, and taught literacy. Peter Fleming was 27 years old (born 1928), from the University of Washington, an honor student, and a linguist. With his wife, Olive Ainslie, he ran a literacy program among the Quechuas.

Nate and Ed found a Huaorani settlement from the air in late September 1955. Nate made four more flights on Thursday, 29 September, and found a settlement only fifteen minutes from their station. They told Jim and Pete, and the four planned their strategy. They would keep the project secret from everyone but their wives, to avoid being joined by adventurers and the press, with the chance that someone not dedicated to the mission would start shooting at the first sign of real or imagined danger, and destroy the project. They had one language resource, a Huaorani girl, Dayuma, who had fled from her tribe years earlier after her family was killed in a dispute. Dayuma, who spoke both Huao and Quechua, was now living with Nate's sister Rachel. From her the missionaries learned enough of the language to get started. They would fly over the village every Thursday and drop gifts as a means of making contact and establishing a friendly relationship. Eventually they would try for closer contact. Nate had discovered that, if he lowered a bucket on a line from the plane, and flew in tight circles, the bucket remained almost stationary, and could be used to lower objects to the ground. He had devised a mechanism to release the bucket when it touched down.

On Thursday, 6 October, one week after locating the village, they dropped an aluminum kettle into an apparently deserted village. On the next flight, several Huaorani were waiting, and the missionaries dropped a machete. On the third flight, they dropped another machete to a considerably larger crowd. Beginning with the fourth flight, they used a loudspeaker system to call out friendly messages in Huao. Soon the Huaorani were responding with gifts of their own tied to the line: a woven headband, carved wooden combs, two live parrots, cooked fish, parcels of peanuts, a piece of smoked monkey tail.... They cleared a space near their village and built platforms to make the exchanges easier. After three months of air to ground contact, during which they made far more progress than they had hoped, the missionaries decided that it was time for ground contact. They feared that they could not keep their activities secret much longer, and that delay risked a hostile encounter between the Huaorani and some third party. They decided that the expedition needed a fifth man, so they brought in Roger Youderian, a 31 year old (born 1924) former paratrooper who had fought in the Battle of the Bulge (a major German offensive in Belgium in the last stages of WWII) and had been in General Eisenhower's honor guard. Roger and his wife, Barbara Orton, were working with the Jivaros, and Roger was thoroughly at home in the jungle, accustomed to living like the Jivaros and blessed with acute survival instincts.

They located a beach that would serve as a landing strip, about four miles from the village, and decided to go in on Tuesday, 3 January 1956. After some discussion, they decided to carry guns, having heard that the Huaorani never attacked anyone who was carrying a gun, and having resolved that they would, as a last resort, fire the guns into the air to ward off an attack, but would shoot no one, even to save their own lives.

On Tuesday they flew in and made camp, then flew over the village to invite the Huaorani to visit them. The first visitors showed up on Friday: a man, a woman, and a teen aged girl. They stayed for several hours in apparent friendliness, then left abruptly. On Saturday, no one showed, and when the plane flew over the village, the Huaorani seemed frightened at first, but lost their fright when presents were dropped. On Sunday afternoon, 8 January 1956, at about 3 PM, all five missionaries were speared to death at their camp. A search party the next day found no signs of a struggle, and the lookout who was to be stationed in a tree house overlooking the camp at ground level had come down, so it appeared that the meeting had originally seemed friendly, and that the attack had been a surprise. Ed McCully's body was seen and identified, but was swept away by the river and not recovered. The other four, at the request of their wives, were buried at the site of the camp where they had died. Besides their wives, they left behind a total of nine children.

The effort to reach the Huaorani was not abandoned but rather intensified. Within three weeks, Johnny Keenan, another pilot of the Ecuador Mission, was continuing the flights over the Huaorani village. More than twenty fliers from the United States promptly applied to take Nate's place. More than 1000 college students volunteered for foreign missions in direct response to the story of the Five Martyrs. In Ecuador, Indian attendance at mission schools and church services reached record levels, and the number of conversions skyrocketed. A Jivaro undertook to go at once to another Jivaro tribe that had been at war with his own tribe for years, bearing the Christian message, and his visit brought peace between the two tribes. Truly, as Tertullian said 1800 years ago, the blood of the martyrs is the seed of the Church.

In less than three years, Rachel Saint (sister of Nate Saint) and Elisabeth Elliot (widow of Jim Elliot) had not only renewed contact but had established permanent residence in a Huaorani settlement, where they practiced basic medicine and began the process of developing a written form of the language. Nine years after the murder of the five missionaries, two of those who had killed Nate Saint and his companions baptized two of Nate's children, Kathy and Stephen Saint. In June 1995, at the request of the Huaorani, Nate's son Stephen moved to the settlement with his wife, Ginny, and their four children, to assist the Huaorani in developing greater internal leadership for a church committed to meeting the medical, economic, and social needs of their own people as a means of showing them God's love and his desire to provide for their eternal needs as well.

Why did the Huaorani suddenly turn hostile? Much later, one of the Huaorani who had helped to kill the five martyrs explained that the tribe, who had had almost no contact with outsiders that did not involve killing or attempted killing on one side or another, wondered why the whites wanted to make contact with them; and while they wanted to believe that their visitors were friendly, they feared a trap. After the killings, they realized their mistake. When they were attacked, one of the missionaries fired two shots as warnings, and one shot grazed a Huaorani who was hiding in the brush, unknown to the missionaries. It was therefore clear that the visitors had weapons, were capable of killing, and had chosen not to do so. Thus, the Huaorani realized that the visitors were indeed their friends, willing to die for them if necessary. When in subsequent months they heard the message that the Son of God had come down from heaven to reconcile men with God, and to die in order to bring about that reconciliation, they recognized that the message of the missionaries was the basis of what they had seen enacted in the lives of the missionaries. They believed the Gospel preached because they had seen the Gospel lived.

PRAYERS

Almighty God, who called your faithful servants Nate Saint, Ed McCully, Jim Elliot, Peter Fleming, and Roger Youderian to be witnesses and martyrs to the Huaorani peoples in the rain forests of Ecuador, and by their labors and suffering raised up a people for your own possession: Pour forth your Holy Spirit upon your Church in every land, that by the service and sacrifice of many, your holy Name may be glorified and your kingdom enlarged; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever.

Precious in your sight, O Lord, is the death of your saints, whose faithful witness, by your providence, has its great reward: We give you thanks for your martyrs Nate

Saint, Ed McCully, Jim Elliot, Peter Fleming, and Roger Youderian, who purchased with their blood a hearing for the Gospel among the forest dwellers of Ecuador, especially the Huaorani people, and for their wives and children, who shared with them in their work and witness; and we pray that with them we also may obtain the crown of righteousness which is laid up for all who love the appearing of our Savior Jesus Christ; who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever.

kilroy@copland.rowan.edu

The King of Love, Our Shepherd

Christ the King

For November 22, 1998

Luke 23; Colossians 1

It is a statement of faith to say "Jesus is Lord!" Every time we pray the Lord's Prayer we mouth the words of God's purpose in Creation, and in making humankind. That will is that finally God's kingdom will come and his will be done on earth as it is in heaven. But too often it seems that God's will clearly is not being done on earth as it is in heaven. Our century has seen more martyrs to the Christian faith than all the previous nineteen put together. The writer of Hebrews puts it this way (Hebrews 2: 8 - 11)

". . . now we see not yet all things put under him. 9 But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honour; that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man. 10 For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the captain of their salvation perfect through sufferings. 11 For both he that sanctifieth and they who are sanctified are all of one: for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren."

In the middle of the way things are— in the world— in our nation— and in our personal lives, it is a statement of faith to say, "Jesus is LORD!" It is the very heart of our faith to believe that God so loved the world that he sent us his Son, and to believe that Son of God is King of Kings and Lord of Lords.

CHRIST IS KING

Colossians 1:11 20

Our King is God Almighty

The King of Love, Our Shepherd

In Colossians 1 Paul describes our 'incomparable Christ', our King. John calls Jesus 'the Word', Paul here calls him "the image of the invisible God." He says that all things were created by Him, and that he is the heir of all creation. He is the head of the church, the pioneer of resurrection from the dead, and through Him the Father holds all things together in heaven and on earth. As God our Lord Jesus Christ is Creator, Sustainer, and King of light and life.

- Our King was the power that created all things. He is before all things, and all things are held together in HIM. In our KING we have the WORD on God, on how to relate to the Eternal.

- Our King is Flesh and Blood

The passage also makes it plain that our King is fully human. (Col . 1:22 . . . He has now reconciled you in His fleshly body) He is the HOPE of what we shall be, and the means of our complete acceptance into the life and fellowship of the New Covenant. Through the whole year we celebrate the divinity and the humanity of our King. He was the Eternal Son, but he came to a manger to be One with us. He lived with us thirty-three years, and taught by living and speaking. And then . . .

- Our King was Crucified
- Our king died on a cross . . . but he was not a martyr.

Nor was he a victim. He was not helpless to save himself, as those who watched him die said.

- Our king showed us how to live, but that was not the heart of why he came.
- Our king showed us how to die, but that was not why he came, finally, either.
- Our king came to fight battles for us which we cannot comprehend. He came because he loves us, and I cannot understand that, either.
- Our King was Crucified- but that is not the end of the story.

CHRIST IS KING

It is interesting/ fascinating the way we humans understand time in relation to our God. We have a God who IS, and who WAS and who IS TO COME. We call him the Eternal. We speak of Christ's Coming, and of his Coming Again. We have a Christ who CAME, and who COMES, and who IS HERE, and yet WHO WILL COME. But we only need one tense to describe the reign of Jesus. Jesus IS Lord! JESUS IS KING! Jesus WAS KING when he lay in the manger in Bethlehem, and when his family fled Herod to Egypt. Jesus WILL BE KING when he comes in splendor and glory. But in Christ's kingdom, there is never a time when Jesus is NOT KING!

Still, I admit this passage from Luke seems a strange setting for celebrating "Christ the King Sunday." The picture is anything but regal and majestic. We see our great king in the midst of his greatest battle.

Some people thought he was merely weak. His whole mission was just empty words. Some people hurled abuse on him. Some said, "If he really was Messiah he would save himself." After he died even his executioner recognized he was a righteous man. But amid this scene I shrink back from trying to describe there was one person most unlikely to recognize the majesty of our king, and yet that person did just that. That person was 'Dismas', who was dying on a cross next to our Savior.

Dismas spoke these words: Lord, remember me! Remember me when you come into your KINGDOM! For Jesus was king even on that cross. Especially on that cross!

The word that Jesus spoke to Dismas in reply was IMMEDIACY! It was a promise of Presence! "I am here with you now. This very day you enter my kingdom." No chance to be baptized. Dismas was not a church member. He never had a chance to do any good works at all. He just said, "Lord, remember me!"

There is too much here for superficial comprehension. More than we can quickly grasp. Plenty to study and meditate about regarding our own crossing into 'eternity'. Jesus' body would be in a tomb before the day was finally ended. Yet Jesus said, "THIS DAY you will be with Me in Paradise!" Paradise is the word the Bible uses for the Garden of Eden. The Cross, and the Resurrection bring us full circle in Creation by a New Adam into New Life, and New Kingdom– not just some time in the misty tomorrows– although that also is true– but the word from the king is, "Today you shall be with Me in Paradise!"

Nothing Jesus ever did was wasted. Nothing was left out that we need.

- It was not just the coming to us in our flesh, but that was necessary.
- It was not just the 'but I say unto you' authority that spoke of a New Covenant, but they were necessary also.
- It was not just the dying on the cross. Mystery, holy mystery! How necessary this is!
- It was not just the resurrection from the dead.
- It was not just the ascension to the Throne.

But it is all of these and more that are involved when we say by faith

Jesus is Lord, He is the King of Kings.

Do we dare say JESUS IS LORD in the light of what has happened this century? Of course we do! We do not dare to say anything less! There is POWER in the statement JESUS IS LORD!

JESUS CHRIST IS LORD!

There is POWER in the statement "JESUS IS LORD!" The thief prayed, "Lord, remember me!" "Remember me," is the cry of us all. In our King Jesus God is telling us that wherever we are we do not have to be forgotten. There is blessed assurance that TODAY WE CAN BE WITH JESUS. Wherever we are on our spiritual journey God is just a prayer away. On the stormy seas of life, in the calm seasons of prosperity and blessedness, or even on the cross of pain we can pray the prayer that Dismas prayed: LORD, REMEMBER ME! And we will ALWAYS receive the same reply that Dismas received; TODAY YOU WILL BE WITH ME! IN MY KINGDOM!

Do you dare to make that deliberate affirmation from the heart today:

JESUS IS LORD! JESUS IS MY LORD! I BELIEVE HE IS MY SAVIOR!

You may have known Jesus all your life– maybe you have been baptized as a child– maybe not– but you never have known the full and blessed assurance that you are saved totally by his grace, and not your own works.

Make Jesus KING of your life today! Say publicly, "Jesus is LORD!"

Pray with me: Bow your head, close your eyes: Maybe you have said from your heart before God: JESUS IS MY LORD! I BELIEVE HE IS THE SAVIOR WHO DIED AND ROSE AGAIN. BUT I NOW BELIEVE HE IS MY LORD!

Maybe you have said it many times but you do not have the blessed assurance. Say it with me again, all who will: 'JESUS IS LORD!

Would you like to publicly confess that NEW or RENEWED allegiance?

PRAYER

Almighty and everlasting God, whose will it is to restore all things in your well beloved Son, the King of kings and Lord of lords: Mercifully grant that the peoples of the earth, divided and enslaved by sin, may be freed and brought together under his most gracious rule; who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever.

Ready for the Dawning of the Day

Wollaston Church of the Nazarene

November 29, 1998 AM

Matthew 24:36-44 36 "But about that day and hour no one knows, neither the angels of heaven, nor the Son, but only the Father. 37 For as the days of Noah were, so will be the coming of the Son of Man. 38 For as in those days before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day "Noah entered the ark", 39 and they knew nothing until the flood came and swept them all away, so too will be the coming of the Son of Man. 40 Then two will be in the field; one will be taken and one will be left. 41 Two women will be grinding meal together; one will be taken and one will be left. 42 Keep awake therefore, for you do not know on what day your Lord is coming. 43 But understand this: if the owner of the house had known in what part of the night the thief was coming, he would have stayed awake and would not have let his house be broken into. 44 Therefore you also must be ready, for the Son of Man is coming at an unexpected hour.

44 Therefore you also must be ready, for the Son of Man is coming at an unexpected hour.

INTRODUCTION

This prophetic passage from Matthew 24 about the Lord's coming 'as a thief in the night' suggests a totally unexpected way of meeting God. It seems to indicate a discovery that things are changed; far different from what was assumed before:

FINDING THE REALITY OF GOD THE HARD WAY

An atheist was spending a quiet day fishing when suddenly his boat was attacked by the Loch Ness monster. In one easy flip, the beast tossed him and his boat high into the air then opened its mouth to swallow both. As the man sailed head over heels, he cried out, "Oh, my God! Help me!"

At once, the ferocious attack scene froze in place and, as the atheist hung in mid air, a booming voice came down from the clouds. "I thought you didn't believe in Me!"

"Come on God, give me a break!," the man pleaded. "Two minutes ago I didn't believe in the Loch Ness monster either!"

The Atheist continued, "God, please let the Loch Ness Monster be a Christian."

God replied, "So be it." The scene starts up, atheist falling.

And so the Loch Ness Monster folded his claws together and said, "Lord, bless this food you have so graciously provided." —Many thanks to Hal Hancock

- a. BEGINNINGS - THE CHURCH YEAR - Happy New Year! This is the first Sunday in the Christian Year. The Christian Year is divided into two seasons, the "sacred seasons" and "ordinary time". The first part of the Christian Year is divided into "sacred seasons" in which we remind ourselves of who we are, and who's we are. The second part of the Christian Year is "ordinary time" during which we remind ourselves of what we are to do.
- b. THE LECTIONARY - The Lectionary for Sundays is a three year series of Bible readings for each Sunday of the Christian Year. The New Testament breaks down to five stories, twenty-one letters, and one epic poem. Each year we take one of the first three stories and use it as a "key" to the rest of the year. This year "Matthew." Today begins the first of the "sacred seasons": Advent
- c. THE ADVENT - This first Sunday of the Christian Year is the beginning of the Advent Season. "Advent" means "coming". One aspect of this "coming" is past tense, Christ came then. A second aspect of this Advent season of "coming" is present tense, Christ comes now. The third aspect of the "coming" that we celebrate at Advent is future tense, Christ will come again.

Christ came at Christmas in a particular time and place. It was a coming that in just about every way was what might be least expected. And yet it was 'in the fullness of time' that Jesus came. He emptied Himself of the glory of heaven, and came and lived and taught and died and rose again to be our Champion, our Second Adam, our Lord and Savior.

Christ comes in our everyday lives as the power, wisdom, and model of God's perfect servant. By the Presence of his living Holy Spirit, Jesus is present in this world as he is present in your heart and mine. "How silently, how silently, the wondrous gift is giv'n; So God imparts to human hearts the blessings of his heaven. No ear may hear his coming, but in this world of sin, Where meek souls will receive him still, the dear Christ enters in." It is a miracle of grace, but it is reality: Jesus COMES! He is present with us even now as we Christ will come at the end of history like a thief in the night to accomplish the completion of his will and purpose. Whatever and whenever the Great Return will be, it is a fact that EVERY ONE OF US WILL MEET THIS 'THIEF IN THE NIGHT!' He comes, he strikes at a time and in a way that is least expected.

LIVING IN ANTICIPATION / PRACTICING THE PRESENCE

(The Sermon)

I . It Is Never A "detour" To Follow The Way Of Loving God Through Service To Others:

[WAKING UP TO THE REALITY OF LIFE THROUGH FOCUSING ON THE TRULY IMPORTANT (and nothing is more important than loving service!)]

Pulitzer Prize winning author Anna Quindlen was nineteen when her mother was diagnosed with ovarian cancer and given only a few months to live.

Anna had just finished her freshman year of college, but being the oldest of five children, she left school and returned home to "make meatloaf and administer doses of morphine in a house in the suburbs." Ann returned home that September; her mother died in January.

Ms. Quindlen, now a parent herself, writes about that difficult time:

"It is amazing how much you can learn in one year. "I went back to college and I looked around at all the kids who found life kind of a drag. and I knew I had undergone a sea change. Because I was never going to be able to see life as anything except a gift.

"Oh I've lost the feeling from time to time. Bad days and good days. Life cycles and dark moods....We've lived through a period in which pessimism was the fashionable mode, when the express purpose of fiction and films seemed to make you feel as terrible as possible...Our children die from neglect, abuse, sometimes simple ignorance and lack of interest. We live knowing that it would take a matter of seconds to wipe out the whole complicated mess.

"And yet...and yet. It's all so terrific the conversation and the relationships and the scenery in the midst of all our troubles. That's why we feel so deeply when it's endangered because, if we really think about life, we know how quietly wonderful it can be. We know that if we had only six months left, we'd hold on as tight as we could with both hands to every day, every hour...

"Sometimes we lose that wonder. And sometimes we regain it through hard lessons, the way I did. And sometimes it just comes to us slowly steadily, until we realize that, for all its horrors and injustices, the world is wonderful place.

"The year my mother died, I learned something enduring about life: that it is glorious, and we have no business taking it for granted." [1]

LIVING "READY" INVOLVES LOVING. Anna Quindlen took a risk in putting her life on hold to take care of her mother till death. Yet Anna speaks of how much richer her life is because she did so.

II. A relationship with God through Jesus Christ is far more important than all the prophecy in the Bible. (When we have Christ we have everything. We are ready.)

[FINDING EVERYTHING IN THE LOVE OF JESUS CHRIST]

There is a popular story about a wealthy man who found great joy in collecting fine art from all over the world. This man had a son. The son also grew to enjoy great art, and father and son spent many pleasant years collecting famous paintings for their mansion.

But one day, war broke out in their country, and the son went off to fight. A few weeks before Christmas, the young man was reported missing in action. The old man was filled with anxiety as he waited to hear of his son's fate. And then it came. Only days before Christmas, the news arrived that the art collector's son was dead. His son had died a hero. He had been trying to help a fallen comrade when he himself had been shot.

The old man didn't think he would survive his grief. He had loved his son more than life itself. He couldn't bring himself to celebrate Christmas. He barely felt alive. But a knock on the door roused him from his grief. The young soldier in the doorway introduced himself as the one whose life had been saved by the old man's son. He had come to express his appreciation and to give him a gift. The soldier explained that he, too, was an artist, and he had painted a picture of the man's son. The father was amazed by the life like quality of the painting. He hung it on the mantel of his study, and there it brought him great comfort. It became his most prized work of art.

A season passed, and the father died. Other art collectors around the world were excited to learn of the old man's death, for it meant that his collection would be up for sale. The day of the auction, people crowded into the mansion, eagerly waiting the chance to bid. A sigh of disappointment escaped the crowd when they realized that, per the old man's will, the picture of his son would be the first piece to be auctioned. The other collectors called out impatiently that they had come there to bid on the real art, not some sentimental piece. No one would make a bid.

Finally, a friend of the family bid ten dollars for the painting. He had been fond of the son, and he knew how much that piece meant to the father.

When his bid was accepted, all the other collectors cheered. Finally, they would get to bid for the important stuff. But the auctioneer put away his gavel and announced the bidding closed. The collectors were furious. Was he crazy? All they'd sold was a worthless picture of the old man's son.

What about the rest of the art? The auctioneer pulled out a draft of the old man's will and said, "It's very simple. According to the will of the father, whoever takes the son gets it all." [2]

When we have a know-so relationship with God through Jesus Christ we have it all! When we have anything and everything else BUT salvation we are still "sitting in the dark."

CONCLUSION

The silly joke about the atheist and the Loch Ness Monster may seem pretty remote from the "sophisticated understanding" of salvation we are so sure we have. But the fact is that without warning we could be face to face with the utter reality of God! "Like a thief in the night!" is how Jesus said it. (Shall we pray:)

PRAYER

O Lord, Hear the cry of our hearts this day! We think we know so much, and really we know so very little! So- above all else, help us to know You, and seek You, and belong to You, and be like You. We ask this in the name of your Son, our Lord Jesus Christ. Amen

HYMN #490 O to Be Like Thee

1) Family Circle, July 14, 1998, as quoted in "In defense of happiness," Connections, November 29, 1998, First Sunday of Advent (7 Lantern Lane, Londonderry, N.H. 03053 3905), Nov 1998.

2) Source unknown, "Rushing and realizing," Dynamic Preaching, 13 (4): 57 58, (Seven Worlds, 310F Simmons Road, Knoxville TN 37922), Nov 1998.

God's Adult Children

MATTHEW LECTINARY SOURCE

December 2, 1998 AM

Matthew 5:21-37, 48

There is nothing as wonderful and charming as a baby. When a baby is born into a home, or a new Christian comes into the fellowship of a church, there is a new life, and new life is almost always attractive.

God made little babies heart-smashing. They look at you and smile and its all over! "Gas pains, my eye! She SMILED at me!" Of course, when you consider what babies demand of their young parents, and the really basic things they do, it is a wonderful thing that babies CAN smash our hearts. They con us into taking care of them and loving it!

But perhaps the most wonderful thing about babies is that they start growing up, and they get housebroken before too many years they can even put on their own clothes. (Getting them to pick them up when they take them off may take a little longer!) One of the tragedies of life is when babies refuse to stop being babies.

In 1 Corinthians 3:1 Paul is addressing the fact that the Corinthians are not growing up. They are refusing to quit being babies. Paul is challenging them to move up, and get with it to grow up.

The Gospel lesson picks up this theme. Jesus says, "THAT is what you have heard THAT is what you learned then NOW HEAR THIS! THAT WAS THEN...THIS IS NOW!" The over and over Jesus repeats this formula: You have heard it said but I say unto you! You have lived by legalism, now you need to live in the spirit.

Another way to look at maturity in faith is to look at the difference between the Old and the New Covenants. The Old Testament has its oughts and shoulds and its promises and the New Testament has its promises, too but the oughts and shoulds now deal not only with actions, but with motivation with the spirit and the soul. Look at the contrasts in the lessons for the day, the contrasts of Old and New, (and by application) of babes in Christ and mature Christians:

I. THERE IS A DIFFERENCE IN UNDERSTANDING THE PROMISES

In the OT the promises are literal, concrete, immediate.

[Little children need behavior reinforcement NOW Jacob was home this week and very restless. Then his teacher came with an "assignment" and the promise of a "star" if he took a nap. he did. He got his "star." And Grandma got a little rest!]

The ultimate promise is A LAND CALLED ISRAEL. Crops will grow, prosperity will follow if God is obeyed, and the Commandments are kept inviolate.

In the NT the promises are no less real, but they are somehow fuller and higher.

"Blessed" are the poor in spirit To be congratulated! A hint at eternity! {A willingness to trust for the "Well done! ??]}

The ultimate promise is AN ETERNAL KINGDOM CALLED PEACE. There is a Christ, a Master, who asks us to dare to love Him, and trust Him, and follow Him even though it means carrying a cross. The ultimate promise is that He will say "Well done!"

If we are constantly seeking prosperity as a goal in relation to our faith we are betraying Old Testament concepts and wrong application of those concepts at that!

II. THERE IS A DIFFERENCE IN THE DEMAND FOR OBEDIENCE

In the OT every nuance of performance is proscribed. Do this! Don't do that! You can walk this far on a Sabbath and not one step farther. You can carry this much weight and not one ounce more! You must tithe exactly ten percent and that meets your requirements.

[Little children like routine. They NEED sameness to help them learn stable character ways. Just try changing the words in a picture story book to a two year old sometime! You will be corrected!]

In Deuteronomy 30 Moses challenged a new generation of God's people to make covenant with God for themselves. And do you see HOW they were to begin? BY KEEPING LAWS! A very necessary part of preserving society is learning to obey laws. We don't reason with babies (at least not on an adult level) when we teach them not to play with fire, or to stay out of the traffic. We all have to pass through elementary school for law keeping before we graduate into maturity.

In the NT Jesus teaches us the importance of WHY we perform the way we do.

Rules, laws, regulations serve as the guides and norms. But growing up involves internalizing law and order the reason we do what we do becomes as important as the acts themselves.

In Matthew 5 Jesus challenges the cutting edge of the human spirit: Don't just keep the letter of the law! BE pure in heart! BE peacemakers! BE meek strength under control! Jesus was beginning the lesson that tells us only by internalizing discipline will we ever be truly free.

When we quit kicking against God's law quit seeing them as "restrictive," we find they release within us the love of God! We find we can "come of age" spiritually!

WE BEGIN TO BE GOD'S ADULT CHILDREN!

Which brings me to my last comparison of Old and New Covenant or more properly of babes in Christ and God's adult children:

III. THERE IS A DIFFERENCE IN RELATIONSHIP

In the OT there is almost a child's attitude: I CAN do this I CAN'T do that so let's see how far we can go up to the very limit!

[Have you ever seen how a little child will take literally what you say? Be careful what you promise! They won't forget!]

All too often the parent child relationship is ADVERSARIAL. Too often children and especially adolescents come to think of authority as adversarial, when in fact good parental authority is loving and necessary. Remember SOCIETY DEPENDS ON CHILDREN LEARNING TO OBEY LAWS!

But all too often we never get past this inner rebellion it grows and grows into our teens and we transfer it to the heavenly Father. Sometimes people never do get over the idea that God is trying to curtail and limit and censor everything really GOOD!

Paul says: "I have brought the baby bottle with me all too often! You need to get on to more substantial fare!"

In the NT covenant Jesus introduces a COLLEGIAL RELATIONSHIP. He says to the disciples: "I have called you FRIENDS!"

Jesus closes this section of "You have heard it said ... but I say unto you" sayings with the remarkable verse (48) that is so often misunderstood, even by good scholars: BE YE THEREFORE PERFECT, EVEN AS YOUR FATHER IN HEAVEN IS PERFECT! The word is "complete" or "mature." It doesn't mean absolute perfection, or perfect performance or even perfect love, as much as we would like to hear it say that. "Perfect" here means MATURE finally filling the purpose for which you and I are made of being GOD'S ADULT CHILDREN.

Closing Illustration

If you will pardon a very personal application: I sat with Charlie and Sherry Burt the other day celebrating the birth of Gerron's little brother, Nicholas Dean. It is hard to describe the joy we all feel when a baby is born into a family that loves it. A baby brings a joy that can hardly be described.

As I sat talking I thought of the generations, of Lowell and Dorla as themselves parents, and of Charlie and Sherry as children themselves. I thought of my own grandchildren, as wonderful as they are. And as I thought out loud with the Burts, I expressed a fact that only older people fully understand! ADULT CHILDREN ARE THE BEST OF ALL!!!

When your children are grown up and still love you and for the most part share your values not because "you" are right but because in maturity they have found Christ for themselves THIS IS THE ULTIMATE RELATIONSHIP IN HUMAN CARING ... and it is what Paul is telling us GROW UP AND ENJOY THE BEST IN LIFE!

And somehow I am sure this is how the heavenly Father feels! When we begin to mature and love Him for himself and share His mind not because we HAVE to or we'll get spanked or because if we are good we will get a star but because he is who he is, and we are his children maybe we begin to understand what Jesus is telling us when he said "You have heard it said ... but NOW I say unto you!"

(Reprise: Jesus closed this section of the sermon with these words; BE PERFECT, EVEN AS YOUR FATHER IN HEAVEN IS PERFECT! The word is TELIOS! God's adult children! His friends! No longer "babes!" but now (I Co 3:9) " Laborers together WITH the Father!" Amen!!

Let us pray:

Hymn: #461 Open My Eyes, That I May See

The Home of the Soul

Advent 2 - The Promise of Peace in a Troubled World

December 6, 1998 (cf 12/10/95)

Isaiah 11:1-10; Matthew 3:1-12; Romans 15:4-13

Three years or so ago there was a front page picture in the newspaper along with a story that caught my attention. Briefly, the story was this: twin girls had been born 12 weeks premature, about two pounds each, and had been placed in separate bassinets in the Medical Center Hospital in Worcester. One started to do just fine—the other began slowly to fade. Her heart beat was rapid, she was visibly anxious, and nothing the nurses could do seemed to be able to stop what seemed like her inevitable death.

Then one nurse, Gayle Kasperian, remembered something she had read about treatment of preemies elsewhere in the world. As a sort of last resort the nurses put little Brielle, the weaker twin, right into the bassinet with Kyrie, her "big sister." (Kyrie was 3 ounces bigger!) In the words of Nurse Heidi Jackson, the results were immediate and dramatic. Little Brielle snuggled up to her sister, and her heart rate immediately slowed to normal. Her color came back. The baby visibly relaxed, almost it seemed with a sigh of relief. She accepted nourishment. The crisis was over. She would survive.

That tiny baby did not know who she was, or where she was. She did not know one word of any language to say what she needed. Indeed, she could not consciously know what she needed. But somehow tiny baby Brielle knew where she belonged. And she knew when she was where she belonged.

Our souls are like that. Deeper than words, back behind all conscious thought, our souls know what they need. Even when we cannot express or fully understand our hunger for God, that hunger remains. We are made for God, and we are made for fellowship with each other. When we are isolated and alone we are in trouble, serious trouble, like tiny two-pound Baby Brielle Jackson. We want to be close to someone who loves us. We want to be close to God, and to know that we are a part of God's family.

Christmas is about getting close to God— or, more properly, it is about God who wants to come very close to us. Christmas is when we remember that one name for Messiah is Emmanuel, "God-With-Us." This doesn't make sense according to the wisdom of our world, but our souls know it is true. We are never really "at home" until we know God really has come to where we are. When we know God has come, then we begin to understand how there can be peace even in this troubled world.

TWO PROPHETS, TWO VISIONS OF PEACE

Our lessons today feature words from Isaiah and John the Baptist, two great prophets who spoke about Messiah's coming.

ISAIAH'S VISION IS VERY POETIC.

Isaiah saw all nature as changing at the coming of Messiah. He saw a world where natural enemies make peace and live in harmony together. We have heard this vision called "The Millennium." This vision of Isaiah is always depicted as "way out there in the future somewhere." [The 'prophecy experts' have worked it out a long time ago— haven't they? You know, "this is how it will happen" and "then that" and they have it all worked out cold.]

That all may well be. But when Jesus the Messiah moves into a community of people right now, today, in our troubled times what do you think ought to happen? What if this vision of Isaiah is what ought to happen right now in God's kingdom, at least in part?

It certainly isn't according to the nature we know for 'lions to lie down with lambs,' and when they do you can be sure that it is the lamb who is going to have a hard time getting to sleep. But if Messiah is really present, is it too much to expect that we can learn to love and trust each other? All different kinds of people make up the kingdom, the church. Can different generations find common ground? Is it too much to expect that Christian young people will find patience and understanding for their old-fashioned parents? Do you think it is possible that older people might pray for and even enjoy the company of younger Christians?

Don't simply write off Isaiah's vision of peace for the far distant future. He has a vision of a place where people's purpose is "To know God, and to provide a climate in which each person can come to full spiritual potential in Jesus Christ!" Sound familiar?

JOHN THE BAPTIST'S MESSAGE IS MORE DIRECT, MORE PRACTICAL.

Instead of preaching about lions and lambs lying down together, John gathered the lions and lambs at the river, and told them all to REPENT. He preached to every level of society. He said "God's kingdom is close at hand! Make a path to your heart and Messiah will come!"

The common people came, and John said, "Repent!" The tax collectors came, and John said, "Repent!" Soldiers came, and John said, "Repent!" Pharisees and Sadducees all heard the same message: "Turn from YOUR way, and make room for the One who wants to come to where you are!"

This was NOT homogeneous grouping. (It defies church-growth accepted facts!) Where did we ever get the idea that when we come home to God we will all act the same, do the same things, look the same? Tax collectors came, and were baptized, and when they went home they were still tax collectors— only now they had made room for God. Soldiers came, and were baptized, and when they left they were still soldiers— only now they were living in harmony with God.

The Good News is that God invites us to come home into His house of peace right NOW, as we are. He loves us right now. God doesn't want to make lambs out of lions, or wolves out of kids. God wants to put his love into us until we can really be at home together in his kingdom.

Granted it takes a lot of work. There has never been a home where that is not true. But the vision of the prophets is not for "sometime, somewhere." God's call to come home is always NOW!

THERE IS A HOME OF THE SOUL THAT BRINGS PEACE AND COMMUNITY

Peace is Christ's legacy to his disciples.

"In the world you will have troubles, " Jesus said. He knew very well what this world is like. Still he told his disciples, and you and me: "Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you. I don't give as the world gives. Don't let your hearts be troubled. Don't let them be afraid." And when we understand that Jesus is really God With Us— then like Baby Brielle, we can breathe easier— we know we are going to make it all right. Peace is Christ's legacy to you and me right now, today.

But we need to be a willing to acknowledge our need of God. We need to give the God-hunger a name. Your soul cries out for the living God! We need to be willing to turn aside from doing "our own thing" and give God permission to come into our lives anywhere and everywhere He will. We can't live the Christian life on our own. We can't "prepare the way" by being good or nice so we deserve Him. But we can simply ask Him in! We prepare the way by saying from our hearts: Come, Lord Jesus! Be my Lord and savior! And you know what? He will come in! And he will bring God's peace with him!

I really hesitate to share my own experiences, and yet it came to me as I was thinking about the peace of belonging. When I was a child I traveled from place to place with my parents who were itinerant evangelist-singers. (I have alluded to this many times, I know, in the years I have been pastor here.) Whatever the positive benefits may have been, I harvested a great crop of hang-ups from being a child-evangelist, not the least was great insecurity in a great many ways.

One of these insecurities— I am not proud of this— nor asking for sympathy— was that I could never stand to be out of sight of my parents for any length of time. I would simply become very nervous, even agitated. This was embarrassing as a child, but as I started into my teens it became a major problem. Strangers usually were never aware of it, for I kept it hidden. But if my parents were due, say at 4 o'clock, and it came 4:15 or 4:30 I could think of absolutely nothing but that my world was caving in. My aunts and uncles all had regular jobs, and lived in houses— not traveling in cars all the time. My home was my father and mother.

Then one day as my anxiety was mounting the thought came to me, what if dad and mother never do come back? I know my Uncle Andy and Aunt Blanche love me just like one of their own. I know they would take me into their home. And it was absolutely true, they would have! And you know what? I may still have a lot of hang-ups fifty years later— but that one— that insecurity— was gone forever!

In knowing I was loved and accepted in a secure, stable home I simply could relax. It was a conversion-like experience to realize I was accepted into a family that had a house and would make me a home.

Like Baby Brielle, we may not know how to say what we need. But our hearts know. And I want you to know that already YOU are accepted in the most wonderful family in the Universe! Our hearts don't need to fade and die because we can be united with the God who loves us so much he left heaven to come where we are. The home of the soul is where Jesus is. He is our peace.

Invitation: If you want me to pray for you— if your heart hungers to come home to God— would you like to stand where you are as I pray?

Prayer

Reprieve on Hymn #675 The Kingdom of God . . . (v3 only "Challenge and Choice")

- Segue into

THE HOLY COMMUNION

Wherever you are on your Spiritual Journey - If you believe God wants to come to you, and if you want to find your home in Him, I invite you to come in faith to the Table of the Lord. (Now -As an act of worship and commitment, let us confess our faith together :)

The Apostles Creed (Inside back cover of hymnal)

The Law Read:- The Lord Jesus Christ has said to us: "Thou shalt love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the first and great commandment. The second is like unto it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets."

Confession Made:- Before we come to the Table of the Lord, let us in humility pray that God will help us to come without any shadow of rebellion or wilful sin:

(Reading No. 750) A prayer in unison, from scripture:

Unison: Search me, O God, and know my heart; Test me and know my anxious thoughts. See if there is any offensive way in me. Lead me in the way everlasting. Have mercy on me, O God, according to your unfailing love. Wash away all my iniquity and cleanse me from my sin. Create in me a pure heart, O God, and renew a steadfast spirit within me. May the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be pleasing in your sight, O Lord, my Rock and my Redeemer.

Brothers and sisters, let us search our hearts. In silence let us ask God to show you and me anything we need to confess— any "paths that must be made straight" so that we can come to His table in full harmony with His will: (silence)

Prayer: Thank you. O God, for your forgiving us when we come humbly to you. We do not presume to come to this table, O God, trusting in our own righteousness, but in your great mercy and grace. Grant us to eat the Bread of heaven, and drink the blood shed for the remission of sins, that we may live in Christ, and Christ may live in us forever. Amen

(In Place of Gloria Patri :)

Sing "Father, I Adore You, Lay my life before You How I love you! "Jesus, I adore you . . . " and "Spirit, I adore you . . . "

Pastor: Hear what our Lord has said: Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. And he has also said, "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believes in him should not perish but have everlasting life. ("This is not my table . . . " Do not come irreverently. Do not come because someone else expects it. But if the Host invites you, and you want to walk with Him, then you are welcome at His table...)

The Words of Institution

On the night in which he was betrayed our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had given thanks to You he broke it and gave it to his disciples and said, "Take eat: THIS IS MY BODY, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me.

After supper he took the cup and when he had given thanks he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you; THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink this, do it in remembrance of me: Amen

We praise you for the mystery of our salvation! We truly believe Christ has died!
Christ is risen! Christ will come again!

And now, together, we pray, as Jesus taught us: Our Father which art in heaven . . .

Now, humbly receive the Gifts of God for the People of God.

Good News in Strange Places

December 13, 1998

(cf 12/17/1995)

"And the poor have the gospel preached to them . . ." Matthew 11:5

IN the summer of 1986 a group of nine rich kids from a big Atlanta church got into a late-model rented Ford van and along with their pastor/sponsor drove to Appalachia, to a place called Barnes Mountain, Kentucky. The sponsor was Barbara Brown Taylor (no relation to the Bill and Barbara Taylor we knew), who is now quite a well-known author, teacher and preacher.

The rich kids didn't even know they were rich because their world was all they knew. They thought everyone got a new car on their 16th birthday. They thought every high school senior class party just might be held in the Bahamas.

Well, in Barnes Mountain, Kentucky, they came face to face with a different world. Their "job" that August was to finish chinking a log house for a mission director/minister to live in that fall. What Barbara Brown was hoping was that they could get a perspective on their material wealth. And Barnes Mountain certainly was a contrast to Atlanta.

Some local teens came around out of curiosity to watch the group work, and several stayed to help. One young man in particular caught the fancy of the Atlanta group. He was a sweet young man named Dwayne. The city teens were fascinated with Dwayne, and evidently Dwayne was fascinated with them as well. They told him about a restaurant on top of a hotel that revolved every hour. He told them about scary abandoned coal mine shafts. They told him about the Atlanta Braves. He told them about finding a baby owl and raising it.

Halfway through the week Dwayne made a great sacrifice: he let one of the girls give him a "city haircut." His shaggy, curly bangs were now a layered, cool look and Dwayne looked just like the nine city kids.

All that week the kids worked together. They played together, they shared what was important to them. And then before they parted, they prayed together. In that prayer the Atlanta Kids told God what a privilege it had been for them to serve the poor people in Barnes Mountain, and they asked God's special blessing on them. And the result, in Barbara Brown Taylor's own word, was "tragic".

Their prayer crushed Dwayne ! He said, "You all called me poor! I swear I never thought of myself that way until you said it. I have all these woods to run around in. I have a grandmama and a granddaddy who love me. I got a whole shed full of rabbits I can play with any time I want. Does that sound poor to you? It don't sound poor to me. You all should save your prayers for someone who needs them."

No one meant to hurt Dwayne, but their assumptions gave them away. Again in Barbara Brown Taylor's words:

We thought of "the poor" as people other than ourselves. We separated ourselves from Dwayne in our prayers, and our prayers stung him to the quick!" Their innocent prayer revealed how much the culture determines how we perceive reality, and how we value people not by God's standards but by our own ideas of worth.

OFTEN OUR VALUES ARE QUANTITATIVE, MATERIALISTIC: Christian faith is very materialistic. Nothing wrong with that.

It matters very much how we handle money and things. Jesus is not an Idea. He is a Person. He came in a particular time at a particular place. He taught us to pray daily for bread. He told us we ought to pay our tithes. His people share what they have with those who have less.

It is not possible to be a true Christian only in the mind and spirit. We are challenged to present our BODIES as living sacrifices to God. That means God cares what we do with things like money and possessions. But the Christian faith introduces a different sort of reality from the one that worships money and power and things.

IN JESUS' KINGDOM THINGS ARE USED, NOT LOVED. AND PEOPLE ARE LOVED, AND NEVER USED.'

In Jesus' kingdom the poor in spirit are blessed, and the last are first, and the lost are found, and material things become tools of the spirit. If the spirit is right we get the material things right. The spirit is everything.

Christian worship is of the spirit.

When we think of "rich" and "poor" we think of belongings. If we see a man who holds a lot of money or land or power, we say he is rich by this world's standards. We think if a lot of things "belong" to a person then he or she is rich.

We have heard Bible verses like "What shall it profit to gain the whole world and lose one's own soul." But still down inside we think we would be happy and rich if we had a few million, or if we had a lot of power.

Would you really like to change places with Bill Gates or Bill Clinton? Jesus has words that "fit" here:

And he said unto them, Take heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth. (Luke 12: 15)

Things that "belong" to us can not really make us rich.

What we "belong to" is what really makes us rich. Or more precisely, whom we belong to - to be accepted into God's house, and be a part of His family. When we really know we are in His kingdom then we dare to believe that he will make all the pieces fit. Our Master said, "Seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and then all these things will take their proper place in line." (Matthew 6:33, free translation)

We think that if circumstances could just change then we would have faith. If only we could be free from this situation then we could begin to live. If only we had more money— If only. It is human to doubt and be tempted to look to things for security. But Jesus challenges us to follow Him and says he will care for us.

Maybe that was where John was that day when he sent his friends to ask Jesus, in effect: "Have I missed it? Are you really Messiah?"

Christian hope is for life as it really is lived.

The question from Matthew's Gospel came echoing out of a prison. It was asked by the greatest prophet in the Bible: Are you really Christ? Are you the Son of God? Why am I here in prison? Aren't you supposed to change things for the better?

Jesus answered John the Baptist's question in an oblique manner. He told John's disciples to go back and tell John what they were seeing.

The lame walk. The deaf hear. The blind see. And the poor have the Good News told to them. The kingdom was already here, and just as Isaiah had prophesied, was already changing lives.

I believe in that dungeon John the Baptist's spirit was renewed and revived. His Master had answered him. From a purely human point of view things were unchanged. John lost his life to a weak and vain King Herod. But John the Baptist was rich beyond understanding, and is wealthy today in ways we can only imagine. And in this country alone today millions of Christians follow John the Baptist in telling their world about the One who came, who comes, and who is to come.

Conclusion

A prison is a strange place to hear Good News. But God's Good News is made for strange places. Wherever YOU are in your spiritual journey today, there is GOOD NEWS! YOU are not a "mission project," but you are a candidate for acceptance into God's family. God's kingdom is here! I leave you with two thoughts:

1. Hear the Good News for yourself! Like the rich youngsters from Atlanta you may think of the poor and imprisoned as "others." But there are prisons and "strange places" here with us this morning:

There are childhood memories, memories of abuse or worse. There are sins that just won't go away, and keep coming back. There are "if only" situations of all kinds. Some of us face the burden of getting older. Some are wrestling with bereavement or depression or fear.

There are prisons of hurt feelings, or worse: of unforgiving hatred. We do NOT have to wait until the ideal time comes. We do not have to wait until we feel salvation to come to God and ask for grace. We come just as we are.

2. Pray that this Advent/Christmas we can be agents in the work of Christ. Think small! Think near at home. The blind and lame and deaf may be nearer than you think. A healing word. A prayer in the morning for filling, and then a watchful eye through the day for sharing.

Prayer:

O God our Father, who sent Christ's messenger before Him to prepare hearts to receive Him; Give us grace also to proclaim your Good News to the poor, whether they possess great worldly treasure or none at all. Turn the hearts of your people to true wisdom, so at Your Son's Coming Again we may be found faithful to the covenant of life You have made with us in the Cross of Jesus Christ, who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, One God, world without end. Amen

Hymn: Please join with me reflectively and sing the words of Just as I Am #343 to the Christmas Tune of #195 I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day

Joseph and The Naming of Jesus

December 20, 1998

Matthew 1:18-25

Two thoughts come to me this year from this familiar narrative on the birth of our Savior. One thought is about

THE KEY ROLE OF JOSEPH IN THIS WONDERFUL STORY

Joseph is the silent figure in the Manger Scene. Dressed in drab brown he looks down into the manger. We don't look twice at him. Mary gets a blue robe and a white shawl. Mary sings a Magnificent song that needs to be heard over and over again. Joseph just stands there.

There isn't a lot written about Joseph in the Bible. Much of what is preached about him is pure speculation. What the Bible does say, however, is pretty deep stuff.

The first word, aside from his engagement to Mary, is that Joseph was a just man. Just, as in righteous. Joseph loved God's holy law. He ordered his life by the Schema and the Ten Commandments. When Joseph's world began to crash in around his ears, and the woman he had counted on spending his life with seemed to have betrayed him (we know she hadn't but at the time Joseph believed she had) Joseph knew the law and intended to abide by it.

Which brings us to our second word on Joseph. Joseph was a considerate man. He was kind. Even though he was just he was not legalistic. The letter of the law said "put her away" or maybe even "put her to death." But Joseph was willing to forget his own pain and try to ease someone else's shame. He planned to put Mary away quietly, discretely, even while his own heart must have been very heavy.

But God had not forgotten Joseph (and he hasn't forgotten you, either!)

Finally, Joseph was a teachable and obedient man of faith. When God spoke to Joseph through his angel Joseph listened. He did as he was told. There was a wedding. Joseph took Mary into his home. And when the time came, after the long journey to Bethlehem, and after the shepherds had come and gone, Joseph called a rabbi, and the Baby was circumcised, and Joseph had the privilege of giving the Messiah a name. When the time came Joseph declared: "His name is Jesus!"

Just and kind. Loving and obedient. Not a bad profile for the man who had the privilege of naming our Lord.

Which brings me to the other thought in this Gospel lesson. It has to do with the significance of the name of Jesus, or actually the TWO names in the passage.

THERE ARE TWO NAMES IN THIS PASSAGE

Matthew says this birth was to fulfill the centuries-old prophecy of Isaiah 7: "Behold, the virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and shall call his name Emmanuel" (v 23) But then it says Joseph was told to name the Baby "Jesus." Emmanuel and Jesus: those two names mean everything to us.

IN THE BIBLE NAMES ARE OFTEN VERY SIGNIFICANT:

[The way we name our children usually is not significant or truly meaningful; my name, Russell, means "red headed." But sometimes we give names to people; names of honor or fun or behind their backs names of mocking.

[In Africa it used to be at least that missionaries got names from their African co-workers that were more true than was sometimes comfortable: have it on first-hand sources that Elmer Smelzenbach's African name was Isisu Siyaduma, which being interpreted means "The Stomach that Thunders". Another missionary, Mary Cooper's African name was Mihlotini, or "In the Tears," because she often cried when she spoke. Oscar Stockwell's African name was Ntsua. Or "Mountain." Not because Oscar was a big man, but he had a big spirit and talked about Caleb in the Bible who said, "Give me this mountain." And that made Margery Stockwell (here with us this morning) Mamana Ntsua, or "Mother Mountain." Not a bad name at all!

We can actually learn how God relates to us from the names we see in the Bible. Some Old Testament names are: El Shaddai (nourisher) Elohim (power) Jehovah-jirah (God will provide) Jehovah-nissi (God my banner) Jehova-shalom (God our peace) Jehovah-shammah (God is there) Jehovah-tsidkenu (God our righteousness)

The names of God are one way we come to know God, or at least he God would reveal Himself to us.

{It may be the "in thing" for scholars to emphasize just how little we dare say about God– how little we understand the eternal and infinite Other (and there certainly is virtue in humility before that great Mystery.) At the same time Advent and Christmas fairly shout out scriptural truth that ought to fill us Christians with great JOY! James Wall (in the latest Christian Century) talks about "the extravagant language of affirmation" in regards to the Incarnation. Christmas is NOT the time to hang your head, spiritually. The message is "Behold I bring you glad tidings of great joy which shall be to all people." And the reason is that our God is Emmanuel, the God who is WITH us!

WHAT IS THIS NAME, EMMANUEL?

Isaiah was speaking to a particular time and a particular person, King Ahaz, when he predicted the birth of a baby to be symbolically named Emmanuel. But at the same time he was speaking far more truth that he himself could understand. The birth of a baby would be a sign to Ahaz that God was with him whether he wanted Him to be or not; that God could and would work out His divine will.

Ahaz wasn't very strong in his faith; he failed the faith-test. The baby called Emmanuel was Hezekiah, who was king after his father Ahaz died, and before he was weaned the enemies Ahaz had dreaded had been removed through no wisdom or skill of Ahaz.

But the prophecy was bigger than the occasion. One was to be born with the name Emmanuel who would not be symbolically named. Seven centuries later Joseph passed his faith-test. A baby was born that fulfilled all the Messianic prophecies of the Old Testament. This literally was EMMANUEL.

THE NAME EMMANUEL STANDS AT THE HEART OF OUR FAITH

All the other miracles of the Bible pale in comparison to the miracle of the Incarnation. God has come to dwell with us in the Person of Jesus the Babe of Bethlehem. God has come to share our human condition so that we might be able to share His divine light and life.

Whether we have faith to believe, like Joseph, and are willing to listen and obey; or whether we don't have faith, like Ahaz, and receive his blessings without acknowledging Him, it does not change the fact that God has come to this Earth to give us the Good News of his Love.

If we receive Him with faith and obedience he is with us to comfort and understand and help us and save us. If we reject Him and go our own way, we have to do so over the kind of love that gave God's only begotten Son to die for us. Forever God is involved with humankind. Our eternal happiness or eternal separation from God is wrapped up in our relationship with EMMANUEL.

THE OTHER NAME in this passage is the one we use the most when we think of Messiah. The angel told Joseph to name the baby "JESUS." This name means JEHOVAH OUR SALVATION. It is Joshua in the Old testament, like the Joshua who led the people "IN." When we put the two names together, GOD WITH US, and JEHOVAH OUR SALVATION we are coming to understand the heart of the meaning of Advent and Christmas.

The Gift of Faith is a wonderful thing indeed. If you believe that God has come near in His Son Jesus, then THE NAME EMMANUEL HAS ALREADY COME ALIVE FOR YOU.

Jesus died on the Cross for your sins, and He rose again from the Dead so that you never need to suffer eternal death. Your heart already knows this— and if you believe this it is the gift of Faith.

But your passive, gift faith must be coupled with a responsive faith. God does not force His way into hearts unless they ask Him in. (Revelation 3:21) And that is where the name of Jesus has great power. If you are willing to say, from the faith in your heart that Jesus is Christ, and God has raised Him from the dead,— if you are willing to say, 'JESUS IS LORD! JESUS IS MY LORD!' You will begin to understand the mighty power in Jesus' name!

[[Over a century ago, a clergyman named Phillips Brooks spent a Christmas in Jerusalem and went to an impressive worship service that lasted several hours. Later, as he was winding down, he spent part of the evening on the hillside outside of Jerusalem and he looked out at the small town of Bethlehem. And he realized that Christ is there too. He captured that insight in a song he wrote, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," with the words "but in the dark streets shineth the everlasting light." (Frm Bass Mitchell)

Our 'streets' are dark these days, with missiles falling in Bagdad while a president is being impeached, but whether or not we will receive Him, Emmanuel is here now.]]

Prayer: Breathe on our hearts, O Breath of God, that EMMANUEL who has come already might be known to us; Give us the living faith to say from our hearts, JESUS IS LORD!, to the glory of God the Father. In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

169 Hymn O Little Town of Bethlehem

Christmas Eve

Christmas Eve in Wollaston 1998

Christmas has many faces, sparkling and shining everywhere, but also dark corners of disappointment, with myriad traditions. Families gather, and at the same time loneliness is all the more painful. Still, Christmas is the most celebrated event around the world. But Christmas, real Christmas, has but one focal point: THE GIFT.

To me, Christmas is a little like a great cathedral, like Westminster Abbey. So many things to see. A tourist's "must see" in London. Poets corner. Kings, greats and near greats, glorious soaring arches and beautiful windows. David Livingstone in the main aisle. But even though coronations and royal weddings and funerals get great publicity, and though most people would deny it, and it is denied by the way it is thought of and used, Westminster Abbey is first of all a house of worship. Worship. A meeting place with God.

[A few summers ago Helen and I were in the Abbey when the announcement was made for Evensong. Tourists were invited to become worshipers or at least to stop and be quiet or to leave. There was some grumbling, and many did leave. But then the service began and even though the setting was different from our home church God met with us.] The wonder is God meets with people in Westminster Abbey, but also in Rescue Missions, and in Baptist Churches and in high church prayers . . .IF we remember THE GIFT.

WHATEVER ELSE Christmas has brought to you this year, whether pure joy, or even pain; reunion or loneliness, GOD has come to bring YOU a priceless GIFT. With great love, at great cost to Himself, a very real and wonderful GIFT is yours, and mine. It is the Christmas Story, but that story is bigger than all the ideas of Christmas rolled into one. It is an invitation to belong to God's family. It is the assurance that your sins- all your sins- are forgiven. It is a new and wonderful Life that can make us new and beautiful from the inside out.

One tiny Baby! It seems so improbable! So impossible! That if God wanted to bring Light and Life to a world that He would begin with a Carpenter's wife-to-be, a Virgin Mother, and tiny Bethlehem in Judea, of all places. That tiny spark has never gone out. It has grown. It will fill all the universe with glory.

One simple prayer! It seems too simple! Impossible! That receiving God's GIFT can bring light and Life into a human heart.

*"How silently, how silently
The wondrous Gift is giv'n.
So God imparts to human hearts
The blessings of His heav'n.
No ear may hear His coming
But in this world of sin
Where meek souls will receive Him still
The dear Christ enters in."*

Have You taken the time this Christmas Season to tell Jesus He is welcome in your life? Have you ever prayed a simple prayer accepting THE GIFT, and thanking God for sharing His life with you? Among all the shining and even sorrow of Christmas nothing is more important than God's GIFT. [I would not impose my will on any of you this evening, but there is a Prayer of Acceptance I would like for you to see, and if you will, for us to pray again together this evening. It is a Prayer of Acceptance of God's greatest GIFT. (It is found on page 327 in the Hymnal.)]

Dear Father, I believe that Jesus Christ is your only begotten Son, and that He became a human being, shed his blood and died on the cross to clean away my sin that was separating me from You. I believe that He rose from the dead, physically, to give me new life. Lord Jesus, I invite You to come into my heart. I accept You as my Savior and Lord. I confess my sins, and ask You to wash them away. I believe that You have come and are living in me right now. Thank You, Jesus. Amen.

I certainly do not mean to trivialize conviction, godly sorrow for sins, repentance, and all that often comes with turning from sin to God. But I want to tell you this Christmas Eve, that if you mean that prayer we have prayed, and if you have asked Jesus into your heart then He is faithful to His Word to enter your life and bring His light. As you walk in that light you will find fellowship and cleansing and assurance.

Words of Invitation and Confession

You who do truly and earnestly repent of your sins, and are in love and charity with your neighbors, and intend to lead a godly life, following the commandments of God, and walking in His holy ways; draw near with faith and give God praise [# 67 in Hymnal.] Please read responsively: (Pastor, read italics!)

We praise You, O God.
We acclaim You as Lord;
All creation worships You,
Father everlasting.
To You all angels, all the powers of heaven,
cherubim and seraphim, sing in endless praise.
Holy, holy, holy Lord,
God of power and might,
heaven and earth are full of your glory.
The glorious company of the apostles praise You.
The noble fellowship of prophets praise You.
The white-robed army of martyrs praise You.
Throughout the world the holy Church acclaims You:
Father of majesty unbounded,
Your glorious, true, and only Son, and the Holy Spirit, Advocate and Guide.
You, Christ, are the King of Glory,
the eternal Son of the Father.
When You became incarnate to set us free
You humbly accepted the Virgin's womb.

You overcame the sting of death,
and opened the kingdom of heaven to all believers.
You are seated at God's right hand in glory.
We believe that You will come to be our judge.

(All:) Come then, Lord, and help your people, bought with the price of your own blood,
and bring us with your saints to glory everlasting.

Words of Institution (Let us continue in Prayer)

As Mary and Joseph went from Galilee to Bethlehem and there found no room, so Jesus went from Galilee to Jerusalem and was despised and rejected.
As in the poverty of a stable Jesus was born, so by the baptism of his suffering, death and resurrection
you gave birth to your Church, delivered us from slavery to sin and death,
and made with us a new covenant by water and the Spirit.
Your Word became flesh, born of woman, on that night long ago.
And, on the night in which he gave himself up for us, he took bread, gave thanks to you, broke the bread, gave it to his disciples, and said:
"Take, eat; this is my body which is given for you.
Do this in remembrance of me."

When the supper was over he took the cup, gave thanks to you, gave it to his disciples, and said:

"Drink from this, all of you; this is my blood of the new covenant, poured out for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins.
Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me."
And so, in remembrance of these your mighty acts in Jesus Christ, we offer ourselves in praise and thanksgiving
as a holy and living sacrifice, in union with Christ's offering for us, as we rejoice in the mystery of our faith:

Christmas Eve

- Christ has died,
- Christ is risen,
- Christ will come again.

Pour out your Holy Spirit on us gathered here,
and on these gifts of bread and wine.

Make them for us the body and blood of Christ, that we may be for the world the body of Christ, redeemed by his blood.
By your Spirit make us one with Christ, one with each other, and one in ministry to all the world, until Christ comes in final victory, and we feast at his heavenly banquet.
Through your Son Jesus Christ, with the Holy Spirit in your holy Church, all honor and glory is yours, Almighty God, now and forever.

And now with the confidence of the children of God, we are bold to pray
as Your Son has taught us:

Our Father who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. Amen

The Gifts of God for the People of God

Family Flight to Safety

December 27, 1998

Matthew 1; Hebrews 2

Matthew 1:14 When (Joseph) arose he took the young Child and his Mother by night and departed for Egypt.

The abrupt "end" to Christmas in the secular world reminds us that many people have no idea what the Christmas story is all about. [How many times I heard this year "That's what the real meaning of Christmas is all about" and then some word of wisdom about loving our neighbor or being kind all year.]

Christmas is about God invading our planet. Christmas isn't over on the 26th. It is just getting started. But what a story! The Holy Family has to run for its life! The Magi. Herod's jealous paranoia. And then a flight in the middle of the night.

Jesus was a refugee even before he could walk or talk. The Holy family was not exempt from the demands of life every family group has to face.

The love and integrity and sensitivity of Joseph as he sought to care for his family is a lesson for all who would seek God's will for the ones they love.

The fact that even Jesus had to flee for safety could make us AWARE OF THE SUFFERING, HIDDEN AND OTHERWISE, IN OUR WORLD.

We all need God's deliverance from evil (as we are taught in the Lord's Prayer) Our world is full of refugees of one kind or another/ of people who pray the prayer "deliver us from evil."

One step we might take is asking God to make us away of those who are in need. We may be able to do something– we certainly can begin by praying– we can't pray unless we are aware:

- REFUGEES are more numerous than we might believe: a recent U.N. high commission on refugees estimated there were 25,000,000 refugees in our world that had fled across national borders, beside many displaced within nations.

- THE AGED often suffer dread of change and displacement. They need love and care.
- CHILDREN often are without loving parents; unwanted, un-cared for needing advocates.

We may or may not be able to reach out to these needs. But we need to be ALERT TO THE SPIRIT'S WARNINGS IN OUR OWN FAMILY GROUPS

Joseph was warned that he faced a serious physical threat.

It may be that some of the threats that face our families today are serious spiritual threats that could have eternal consequences!

God's people need to flee the evil spirits of our secular culture. [I know there is an empty sort of external, legalistic piety that mocks true spirituality. But we have swung so far from preaching against what we used to call "externals" – that it is impossible to tell the difference between the church and the world any more.]

We need to develop a sensitivity to the Holy Spirit.

We need to dare to say "Others may– I can not! I will not!" Whatever grieves the Holy Spirit of God not only will bring shallowness into my life– it will serve to make my children, my family insensitive to God's Spirit as well.

Secular culture USES PEOPLE. Sex and violence and worship of money are SYMPTOMS of the worship of SELF gone out of control.

Secular culture EXALTS PERSONAL GRATIFICATION. If it pleases me, then find a way to buy it or rationalize it. If covenants or marriages become inconvenient, they must go!

WE NEED TO BE WILLING TO LISTEN TO THE HOLY SPIRIT. TO TAKE TIME TO HEAR WHAT GOD HAS TO SAY.

Then finally we need to be AVAILABLE TO GOD'S SPIRIT TO HELP OTHERS.

I recall George Anderson and Walter Edsall stopping by the parsonage and saying "Let's go bowling" when I felt absolutely devastated as a young pastor in New Jersey. Maybe not a spectacular flight to Egypt. But a loving gesture of caring that may have saved a ministry??

Maybe something more direct: In our own family, who will, take charge? Deliberate choices of what we shall watch . . . of what games we shall play . . .

I'm not interested in developing lists of this is OK" and "that is WRONG"

I am deeply concerned that we Christians determine we will obey the Holy Spirit, day after day. Step by step he will lead us!

Conclusion

The passage from Hebrews is tremendously encouraging. It says two or three vital things:

1. We are ALL welcome into the Holy Family. Jesus is not ashamed to call us his brothers and sisters.
2. Jesus understands our hard places. He was a refugee Himself, and not only as a Baby. He was despised and rejected. So He is able to help everyone who sincerely asks Him.

Prayer:

Lord Jesus we thank you for our families, with all their tensions and awkwardness. Thank you for days that go well, when we feel proud and hopeful and warmly embraced. Thank you for times when we love them beyond question, and we see them strong and good and caring. And thank you for memories of courage and joy, when we see skills and values and character passing and growing from generation to generation. Heal us of hurts too long remembered, and childhood jealousies never released. Help us to see you in the faces around our table, to hear your voice in those family phone calls and to know your presence in comfortable silence For you are Emmanuel, "God with us", at home with us, making every meal holy, and every family member a child of God... Lord, hear our prayer....

Family Flight to Safety

Lord, help us to see that the power of Christmas isn't exhausted with the music and the lights and the gifts and the food, but grows as slowly as a baby, to become a living treasure, a reservoir of peace and love, to sustain us, not only through December and into the holidays, but each and every day of the days you grant to us. Indeed, O Lord, bless us that we may see your presence with ever greater brightness and that we may ourselves become more and more like unto him whose birth we celebrate this season. Lord hear our prayer...

Lord, hear our prayer too for those particular persons and those particular things that have been shared within this holy place today:

(Prayers of The Community)

Lord hear our Prayer....

Gracious God, we ask all this knowing that you indeed hear us for we pray as your son Jesus, he who is our brother and Lord taught us, saying.... Our Father...

Hymn No.

The 'Say Yes' Kind of Covenant

January 3, 1999

Malachi 3:10 "Bring the whole tithe into the storehouse, so that there may be food in My house, and test Me now in this," says the Lord of Hosts, "if I will not open for you the windows of heaven, and pour out for you a blessing until it overflows."

INTRODUCTION

- A. Malachi 3:10 is a text that lends itself to manipulation by people who want to raise money for churches. It appeals to a strict cause and effect mentality; it may be used to underscore the mind set the ultra fundamentalist, who sees salvation as a strict contract with the Almighty.

Actually, there ARE elements of contract, of promise, even hints of cause and effect here. God says, "If you will do thus and so, you can prove Me now! I will do thus and so!"

- B. But to be fair we need to see that THE TEXT IS A CLIMAX OF THE [TOTAL] LESSON OF MALACHI; and the whole book reveals God's desire to love and to be loved by His people. God is disappointed when His own people are less than they could be. [The reason God's people do not experience God's full blessing is plain. They have forgotten that real life centers around GOD! One message of Malachi is:]

I. SPIRITUAL IGNORANCE ON ISRAEL'S PART

- A. The entire Book of Malachi reveals that religious people who claimed to know all about God and religion were actually in mortal danger because they were so ignorant. A recurrent theme throughout the short book is (1) a statement of fact by God, through His prophet; immediately followed by (2) incredulous statements like "How can that be?" "Why do you say that?" "Where is that a fact?"

- 1. (1:2) They were ignorant of God's LOVE to them. (1:6) They were even ignorant of insulting the name of God.

The 'Say Yes' Kind of Covenant

2. (2:14) They were ignorant of any reason why God should despise their fancy worship, even though they did not act in honesty and love with one another.
(2:17) They were ignorant of the fact that God was weary of their empty mouth-ing of prayers.
 3. (3:7) They were ignorant both of the need to return to God, and the way in which they might return to God.
- B. There is no sense of the 'personal' in their dealings with God: [God is "an institution, not a Person with feelings!"] How easy to take God for granted! How easy to despise holy things!
1. (3:8) They have never connected GIVING with LOVING GOD! They are ignorant of the fact that when they withhold their tithes from God they are robbing God.
 2. (3:13) They have become CASUAL about SEEKING and DOING God's will! They are ignorant that when they speak for God without being in touch with God they are actually speaking against God.
- C. The call of the prophet is not to condemn, but to re establish true faith. The clear way in which God's people may experience God's grace is practical in nature:

II. THE RE ESTABLISHING OF TRUST IN GOD

- A. God is NOT bound strictly by "contract" to us, or we would all be long gone! We are never dealt with as we deserve, but by God's great grace! GOD IS A COVENANT-MAKING, COVENANT-KEEPING GOD! God is faithful to His covenant with His people! He is reluctant ever to write off one of His own!
- B. TO LOVE GOD, WE MUST MAKE HIM OUR LIFE'S CENTER
- Our love to Him must not be merely a matter of convenience. Malachi says, sarcastically, to his hearers (1:8): "Try giving what is left over to the IRS! Try paying your bills with left overs– with the things you don't want any more! Doesn't that work?? Well, then WHY GIVE YOUR 'CONVENIENCE' TO GOD?

C. TO LOVE GOD, WE ARE TO SEEK TO LEARN TO GIVE!

1. The people to whom Malachi was preaching were consumer minded! THEY WERE TAKERS! They asked "What can God and religion do for me?" Malachi (actually God, speaking through Malachi) was seeking to turn around their thinking, to make them covenant minded!

God always wants His people to be GIVERS! And in God's economy, and in His own currency it is the givers who are rich!

2. Keying on the areas where Malachi accused the people of ignorance, here is an outline on how we should give:
 - a. Our MOTIVE must be love not profit.
 - b. Our ATTITUDE must be reverence for God and His church; and faith. (Not cynical, not self serving. The widow woman COULD have saved her two mites, saying "I need it more than those rich Pharisees...")
 - c. Our ACT OF GIVING should be sacramental. When the plates go by, the amount you place on the plate is one thing; but the very fact of placing something on the plate can be an act of stewardship, a statement of submission to God's will!
 - d. Our METHOD of giving is NOT unimportant! Malachi mentions tithing!

I think that I have heard most of the arguments against storehouse tithing: Tithing is legalistic. Storehouse tithing is invented to support institutions. O.T. Law has been eliminated. Give to get preaching has decimated genuine giving.

The fact is: storehouse tithing is the floor on which to build a disciplined life of stewardship. I do not limit my personal giving to 10% of my income now; but I grew up in the demonstration of what it means to be partners with God, including faithful tithing during the Great Depression. I will testify that it works!

The 'Say Yes' Kind of Covenant

POINTS TO DRIVE HOME: It is possible to give and not be a Christian, but it is impossible to be a Christian and NOT give. Tithing makes us partners with God in the practical world of finances.

CONCLUSION

The end of this short book is like a fork in the road. Ignorance is not excuse when there is light! We can accept what God has to say, and in turn we can SAY YES! To his will and way. Or, we can pursue the way of do-it-yourself religion. One fork in the road is the warning of cursing for those who are arrogant, and choose to remain in ignorance of God's Law and God's LOVE. But the other pathway of renewed covenant and saying YES! To God is full of God's assurance:

(3:16) "Then those who feared the Lord spoke to one another, and the Lord gave attention and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before Him for those who fear the Lord and esteem His name. "'And they will be Mine,' says the Lord of hosts, 'on the day that I prepare my own possession, and I will spare them as a man spares his own son who serves him.' "So you will distinguish between the righteous and the wicked, between one who serves God and one who does not serve Him."

(4:2)"But for you who revere my Name, the sun of righteousness will rise with healing in its wings; and you will go forth and skip about like calves from the stall."

The beginning of a New Year, the opening week of SAY YES! Month are a great time for us to renew Covenant with our God. As we come to the Table of the Lord and receive assurance of His salvation and blessing, will YOU bring the sacrifice of your own submitted will? Bring your burdens and your problems, yes; but also bring the promise that whatever God asks for He can have— that whatever God tells you to do, you will obey! God loves you! He wants to bless you! He wants to bless US!

The windows of heaven are open, and God's blessing is promised to those who truly seek to love Him, and let Him love through them. I pray for you and me and for us the joy of being GIVERS to the glory of God! Amen.

The Holy Communion

Words of Invitation and Confession

You who do truly and earnestly repent of your sins, and are in love and charity with your neighbors, and intend to lead a godly life, following the commandments of God, and walking in His holy ways; draw near with faith and give God praise [# 67 in Hymnal.] Please read responsively:

We praise You, O God.

We acclaim You as Lord; All creation worships You, Father everlasting.

To You all angels, all the powers of heaven, cherubim and seraphim, sing in endless praise.

Holy, holy, holy Lord, God of power and might, heaven and earth are full of your glory.

The glorious company of the apostles praise You.

The noble fellowship of prophets praise You.

The white-robed army of martyrs praise You.

Throughout the world the holy Church acclaims You: Father of majesty unbounded, Your glorious, true, and only Son, and the Holy Spirit, Advocate and Guide.

You, Christ, are the King of Glory, the eternal Son of the Father. When You became incarnate to set us free You humbly accepted the Virgin's womb.

You overcame the sting of death, and opened the kingdom of heaven to all believers.

You are seated at God's right hand in glory. We believe that You will come to be our judge.

(All:) Come then, Lord, and help your people, bought with the price of your own blood, and bring us with your saints to glory everlasting.

Words of Institution

(Let us continue in Prayer)

The 'Say Yes' Kind of Covenant

On this SAY YES Sunday, in this Season of Christmas, and in the dawning days of a New Year in our reckoning of time, we thank You for the Promise of Life Eternal which you have freely offered to us all in the Gift of Your Son.

Your Eternal Son took our flesh, was born of woman, and lived among us to teach us of Your love; He was tempted as we are, yet without sin; He was despised and rejected, and crucified for our salvation; He rose the third day from the dead in triumph over death, in which we may share; He promised us Power from on high, which You have poured out on us in the coming of the Holy Spirit, birthing the Church and establishing a new Covenant by water and the Spirit.

And, on the night in which he gave himself up for us, he took bread, gave thanks to you, broke the bread, gave it to his disciples, and said:

"Take, eat; this is my body which is given for you. Do this in remembrance of me."

When the supper was over he took the cup, gave thanks to you, gave it to his disciples, and said:

"Drink from this, all of you; this is my blood of the new covenant, poured out for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins.

Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me."

And so, in remembrance of these your mighty acts in Jesus Christ, we offer ourselves in praise and thanksgiving as a holy and living sacrifice, in union with Christ's offering for us, as we rejoice in the mystery of our faith:

- Christ has died,
- Christ is risen,
- Christ will come again.

Pour out your Holy Spirit on us gathered here, and on these gifts of bread and wine. Make them for us the body and blood of Christ, that we may be for the world the body of Christ, redeemed by his blood. By your Spirit make us one with Christ, one with each other, and one in ministry to all the world, until Christ comes in final victory, and we feast at his heavenly banquet. Through your Son Jesus Christ, with the Holy Spirit in your holy Church, all honor and glory is yours, Almighty God, now and forever.

And now with the confidence of the children of God, we are bold to pray as Your Son has taught us:

Our Father who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. Amen

ENC Chapel Notes

The Feast of Epiphany, the Twelfth Day of Christmas

January 6, 1999

FIRST READING: Isaiah 60:1 3,9

ARISE, SHINE; for your light has come! And the glory of the Lord is risen upon you. For behold, darkness shall cover the earth, and deep darkness the people; But the Lord shall arise over you, And His glory will be seen upon you. The Gentiles shall come to your light, and kings to the brightness of your rising.

*SURELY THE COASTLANDS shall wait for Me;
and the ships of Tarshish will come first,
To bring your sons from afar,
their silver and gold with them,
To the name of the Lord your God,
and to the Holy One of Israel,
Because He has glorified You.*

This is the last time I'll be speaking in chapel, I'm sure— and I really ought to try to preach a decent sermon, I suppose. I've known for some time this morning was coming, and it would be easiest to hang out three points and a story or two.

But somehow I thought I'd just give my testimony. It is sort of fun getting older— sometimes. Sometimes it isn't. Sometimes I feel invisible when I get around young people: sometimes I feel like a tombstone. Lawson Saunders gave me a fitting epitaph:

*Behold all ye who pass me by
As you are now so once was I
As I am now so you will be Prepare to die and follow me.*
...To which he added:

*To follow you I'm not content
Until I know which way you went*

Actually— I'm not ready to lie down and die just yet— I don't think. I may be, could be, might be hanging it up this year as a pastor, but I've got a few good things I want to do before the people in the white coats come for me. I'm on a journey, and I haven't arrived yet. And that is why life is so good.

As a teenager I began a serious search for God. My church told me— or at least I understood— that if I would do certain things- and NOT do certain other things— I would be, could be filled with the Spirit and be holy.

I confess I have never FELT very holy in all my life! But I began running to God! Literally, at times! I really wanted to reach out and touch God. And when ever I FELT blessed I would think that my "connection" was now good so I would start asking for what i thought I needed— and poof!

But I kept on running! And from time to time God let a little crack of assurance, or guidance, or growth fall down on my head. I've been a slow learner. And for years I was quite an undisciplined scholar of the Word— undisciplined scholar, period.

But once in a while there would be a little break-through. I learned— or came to believe that I would never be a Christian to amount to anything unless and until I found a way to cultivate a simple but consistent relationship - - covenant relationship - - with God.

I discovered Isaiah 41:10 just for ME! In 1949 on my way here from Ohio.

In Edison, New Jersey, in the pastor's study, after I had been a pastor for more than fifteen years, one day I knew God loved me! I know I was saved and wholly consecrated and sanctified before that— but I don't know how else to tell it. It was just one of those affirming moments that come.

Little by little my understanding of our church's teaching on heart holiness has come to mean to me belonging to God— total willingness to let God have control of my life.

On this day of Epiphany I can't give you words of wisdom on how to follow your star and bring your presents to the King - - but I can share with you my working patter for personal devotions:

1. Some kind of plan for letting the Scriptures address me. I believe the Bible has been given to us to show us who Jesus is. Begin. Haphazard isn't good— but keep at it whatever you do. The Holy Spirit will be your teacher!
2. Find verses to help you focus:
 - Hebrews 11:6 diligently SEEK— expect to be REWARDED with God Himself
 - Ephesians 4:32 seek a spirit like God Himself(KIND, tender-hearted, forgiving)
 - John 15:8 Don't just settle; bear MUCH fruit!!
 - Luke 11:13 If we ask, the father will give us the Holy Spirit! (Jesus said!)
3. Use the Lord's Prayer. Like the Ten Commandments, it has two parts— toward God - - and from God toward US.

After a few years it has a way of addressing the day— where we are just NOW!
4. Keep some sort of written journal. Write out your heart. You can be honest with God— and he will help you see your growth.

I'm not a prophet. But I do know the only thing we can be sure about is we can't know the future. And I do know that if God spares you, and you have forty or sixty or seventy more years to live, they will go by faster than you can ever imagine! Lots of things in this world I don't understand—and lots of things seem to make no sense at all. But I am determined I will not be a sour old pessimistic old man. When I can't make sense of things, I have something that gives me real hope:

There's an old story about a mother who wanted to keep her child informed as well as amused; so she bought a jig saw puzzle picture map of the earth, with lots of pieces. "See how long it takes you to put this map together," she said.

The boy had the map finished in just a very few minutes. It was amazing! "How did you do it so fast?" the mother asked.

"Actually, it was easy!" was the answer. "There is a picture of a man on the back. I just slid it on the checkerboard and turned it over!"

There is the face of a Man at the Back of All History! And that Man is even now at the Throne of the Universe! He ascended into heaven! If we keep His face in view, He will make sense, finally, of your world and mine!

Do YOU need reassurance in your world? I do in mine! There are times when I am absolutely overwhelmed! IT IS THEN I REALIZE I NEED TO LOOK FOR 'THE MAN'S FACE ON THE BACK OF THE PUZZLE!'

Prayer: (For Epiphany)

O God, who by the leading of a star manifested your only Son to the Peoples of the earth: Lead us, who know you now by faith, to your presence, where we may see your glory face to face; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever.

January 6, 1999

Chapel, E.N.C.

R Metcalfe

When I was about eight my parents rented a small house at 610 S. Magnolia in Lansing, Michigan. It was the first house, the first room of my own. But that's another story.

I learned that it was safer to walk to school with the other kids from S. Magnolia. If we went together we usually weren't bothered. But if we got caught alone it might be a different story. The kids who lived on Hayford Street seemed to love beating up kids who didn't belong to their gang.

[The Hayford Street Gang story.]

. . . has become a metaphor for me— finding out that when I face frightening situations there is Someone who comes along side.

I have found that at times in my life when I needed help the most there was a Big Brother very near to me. I am sure He is near to us at all times. But it is very comforting when He lets us know He is there.

Isaiah 41:10 on the way here, in 1949 !

The walk to the hamburger stand - the "Presence!"

In the Edison study - after facing evil people- when "I knew I was saved"!

The Road to Emmaus . . . Jesus came along side: through scripture, through Presence: the "Presence" is enhanced by developing a walk, a daily time of prayer. I cannot be a vital Christian apart from some kind of regular coming alongside HIM!

Bible

Focus (life verses) Lord's Prayer:

Surrender & Trust

Intercession

(Journaling)

Jesus makes sense of your world! Look for the "Face of the Man" and your world will come together.

To Love Gods Law

January 7, 1999 PM

Psalm 19

This morning we talked about the Master Teacher, and his expectations of us. In his great "lesson," the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus said plainly that he did not come to destroy the Ten Commandments, but to fulfil them. Actually, he said, "Think not that I have come to destroy the Law. I came not to destroy, but to fulfill."

In fulfilling, not abolishing, Jesus again and again used the phrase: "You have heard it said . . . but I say unto you." You have heard "don't kill!" But I say, "Don't hate!" You have heard "Don't be immoral." But I say, "Don't think immorally!"

I. THE GOAL: TO LOVE GOD'S LAW

The Old Testament talks a lot about loving God's Law. Modern day Jews could teach us something about appreciating the fact that God communicates with mortals. Chaim Potock in his portrayal of Hasidic Jews in Brooklyn paints vivid pictures of the celebrations where the scrolls of the Torah are reverently yet almost hilariously carried around and even danced with on holy days.

How long has it been since you danced with your Bible? How long since you looked at it and thought how wonderful it is that God speaks through its pages?

We are conditioned to think of 'law' as something that restricts. The way we use legislation of human law reinforces that idea. Many laws that are meant to make life better for most people end up being tremendously damaging to individuals. Most of us have heard a horror story of how some environment-protection has brought disaster to some poor farmer. But God's law is not like that.

A modern-day parable by a man named John Killinger, in a book about the Ten Commandments (To My People with Love, Abingdon, 1988) you may recall:

A village was being plagued with disaster after disaster. the reason was the someone had planted land mines all over the countryside. people were constantly being killed or maimed.

Then one night a village elder had a dream. in that dream he saw a map of where every land mine was hidden. He awoke and wrote the map down, and gave it to the people. They were absolutely delighted, and grateful. And they memorized the map.

The Ten Commandments are like that. They would keep us from actions and attitudes which would blow our personal world apart. They would keep us from going into harm's way, spiritually. God's law is precious to people who make it life's business to seek to know God. GOD IS BIG ENOUGH TO FILL THE HEAVENS WITH STARS AND YET POWERFUL ENOUGH TO SPEAK PERSONALLY THROUGH HIS LAW TO YOU AND ME

II. TO BE FULLY CHRISTIAN: GOD'S LAW WRITTEN IN OUR HEARTS

Most of us pass through various attitudes toward God's Holy Laws, especially those of us who grow up within the preaching of the Bible.

1. We have a period when we live in and love authoritarianism. Whether or not we realize it, WE THINK THAT BY KEEPING GOD'S LAWS WE CAN BE SAVED. We may not think we do, and may not say we do but we like the security of being told what is right and wrong. We like to hear that we are on the right side, and we know what is right and wrong because someone we respect tells us so. BUT WE FIND THAT THERE IS NO REAL LIFE IN TRYING TO BE SAVED BY KEEPING THE LAW.
2. But then we begin to think as adults; we reject untested truth. We don't like to be told: "Do so because I say so!" Especially we don't like people telling us things like that our parents, our teachers, human authority figures. But this carries over even to the heavenly Father, too! And in one way or another we demand AUTONOMY! We decide we'll be our own boss! BUT WE FIND THAT THERE IS NO REAL PEACE AND JOY IN BEING 'FREE FROM KEEPING THE LAW' OF GOD.
3. BUT WHEN WE COME TO OURSELVES, AND WHEN WE COME TO KNOW THE LOVE OF JESUS IN SALVATION, WE CHOOSE FREELY TO COME UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF GOD. Responding to the call of grace (not simply accepting authoritarian dictatorship), but freely accepting the authority of our heavenly father. (He knows where the land mines are!!)when we are born from above we discover the truth:

"BLESSED (HAPPY!) IS THE MAN (WOMAN) THAT WALKETH NOT IN THE COUNSEL OF THE UNGODLY . . . BUT IN (GOD'S) LAW DOTH HE MEDITATE DAY AND NIGHT. Life AND peace AND joy are not detached from the love of God's Laws!

4. To the person struggling in authoritarian blindness it seems that God has simply tried His best to make up some rules to keep us from having a good time.
5. But the wonderful thing we discover when we voluntarily place ourselves under God's LAWS, we see that they are an expression of His lovingkindness to us! The beautiful thing is: God's commandments are not harsh and arbitrary! Rather, they are designed to help to meet every need and longing in our God created being!
6. If YOU are having trouble finding the power to live like a Christian the secret is in TRUSTING ENOUGH TO PUT GOD AT THE CENTER! Matthew 6:33 If we will seek first the kingdom of God, and HIS righteousness, then all these things will be added.

February 7, 1999

Communion

Read in Unison # 752

I do not want you to be ignorant of the fact that our forefathers were all under the cloud and that they all passed through the sea.

They were all baptized into Moses in the cloud and in the sea.

They all ate the same spiritual food and drank the same spiritual drink.

For they drank from the spiritual rock that accompanied them, and that rock was Christ.

Is not the cup of thanksgiving for which we give thanks a participation in the blood of Christ?

Is not the bread that we break a participation in the body of Christ?

I received from the Lord what I also passed on to you: The Lord Jesus, on the night he was betrayed, took bread, and when he had given thanks he broke it and said,

"This is my body, which is for you; do this in remembrance of me."

In the same way, after supper he took the cup, saying. "This cup is the new covenant in my blood; do this whenever you drink it, in remembrance of me."

For whenever you eat this bread and drink this cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until he comes.

Jesus said, "I have eagerly desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer. For I tell you, I will not eat it again until it find fulfillment in the kingdom of God."

- Communion is Remembering "You show the Lord's death . . ." Jesus died for us, for you, for me. For the world. We were sinners. Jesus saved us. Communion looks back to Calvary. Looks back to our own personal history with God. We remember.
- Communion is Hope "You show the Lord's death UNTIL HE COMES!" Jesus is NOT dead. He died but he is now in Session. He is making intercession. He is guiding us to life. He is preparing a Place. He will come again. That is a promise.
- Communion is Presence In true mystery reverently we bow in awe before it in true mystery Christ is Present when the Church remembers. He comes near when the church comes together around the table of hope.

In communion time and space recede. We sit at the table with Moses and Elijah and James and John. We are part of the Universal church, all peoples around the world who say "Jesus is Lord!" And we draw close to our loved ones wherever they may be as well. At the Lord's table we fellowship with people we have never seen, and whose language we would not understand on a human level. But we are brothers and sisters at the Lord's table.

In communion we draw closer to God Himself, and so we cannot help but draw closer to each other. I invite you to prepare your heart and come to the Lord's table. (We will partake together)

The Coming of the Dawn

Friday, January 22, 1999

Isaiah 8:11-9:2

Romans 13:8 The night is far spent, the day is at hand; let us therefore put off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armor of light.

Introduction:

Advent is the time of year just before Christmas when believers think about the coming of the Lord Jesus. We think about the light and the love that His coming has brought into the world. And we wonder, if we had been living before His coming, would we have heard and heeded the promises of Messiah?

Advent is a time when we look to the promises of the Old Testament prophets, especially Isaiah. We see his message as beautiful poetry signifying the coming of Jesus Christ into a benighted world. We try to think of how it must have been to be in the darkness before Christ came. We wonder if we would have had the faith to look to the east for the streaks of dawn.

All this is excellent. But Advent is also a time to do more than speculate about the past. It is even more than a time to recall with joy and wonder that Jesus came. Advent is a time to hear for ourselves living promises that speak about light that overcomes darkness.

And Advent is a time to be looking toward Christ's coming again. Advent is a time to make certain that we are not blocking our hearts from one of God's most priceless gifts the gift of hope!

I. THE WORD FROM ISAIAH REGARDING A LIGHT IN DARKNESS

A. ISAIAH'S MESSAGE SAID, "YES, THERE IS DARKNESS!"

But God's people do not need to live in fear of the darkness!! (Isaiah 8:11-13) God says "DON'T walk in the way of the people...in fear of death and dying. RATHER, sanctify the Lord God in your hearts. Be more afraid of displeasing Him than you are of what the darkness can do to you! And this faith/fear will be your sanctuary!"

How can we describe "fear" of God? Does it mean terror? Does it negate the fact that God is full of loving-kindness and tender regard for His children?

The fear of God is a healthy respect for Holy POWER tremendous regard for the sheer POWER of God's hatred for sin and injustice. God IS tender. But God is HOLY. The closer men and women are privileged to approach to God, the more they will regard Him with awe and holy fear.

To come closer and closer to God does NOT mean becoming more "casual" and "familiar" with Him, or becoming more careless regarding living to please Him! There is no contradiction between tender, giving, sacrificial love and the demand for high ethical and moral standards of conduct!

B. ISAIAH'S MESSAGE WAS THAT GOD WILL GIVE HIS PEOPLE LIGHT TO WALK IN!

The times may be dark, but God is interested in leading His own people where they ought to go! And God is particularly jealous about NOT having His people looking elsewhere for guidance!

(8:19) DON'T look to secular or un godly sources for directions on how to live!

(8:22) When God's people look to earthly sources for help they find trouble and darkness. It is insulting to Almighty God to profess to love His light, and to profess to be people of light and then (1) to stumble along exactly like un believers; and (2) even to look to God's enemies for guidance in the affairs of life and living.

C. THE MESSAGE OF ISAIAH IS, "IT IS NIGHT NOW BUT DAYLIGHT IS COMING!"

It may be dark, but Isaiah proclaims: (9:2) You cannot keep the sun from rising! The light of God is coming! If you are faithful– Messiah will come!

If you are NOT faithful Messiah will still come! But those that look to God for light will NOT be disappointed.

TRANSITION: WE CAN AND DO SEE THIS AS BEAUTIFUL POETRY SIGNIFYING THE COMING OF JESUS CHRIST INTO A BENIGHTED WORLD.

We think of how it must have been to be in the darkness before Christ came. We wonder if we would have had the faith to look to the east for the streaks of dawn. But this is MORE than beautiful poetry. It is talking about living in a world that is AGAINST God and holiness and light, and yet living victoriously in HOPE in the loving fear and holy fellowship of the God of LIGHT!

Paul sounds this note in our text this first Advent Sunday

II. A WORD FROM PAUL ABOUT DARKNESS AND LIGHT (TEXT)

A. THE STATEMENT OF FACT: THE NIGHT IS FAR SPENT, THE DAY IS AT HAND.

When Paul wrote these words it was still night, but he could see daylight coming. We could be cynical, and say, 'See, 2,000 years have gone by and it is still night. Paul was mistaken.' But for Paul, and the generation of Christians he served, there was already an abundant dawning. They were people of the morning. And every generation of Christians since has had the opportunity to be children of light.

B. THE CALL TO ARMS: TO BELONG TO THE CHILDREN OF THE MORNING!

Paul says "Put off the works of darkness, put on the armor of light." At the very least, this is a call to wake up, to 'get out of bed!' This is no time to be 'sleeping in,' when worlds are being changed, transformed. But for most who hear this message, it is a call for people who would be people of faith to stop living by fears and un faith like people who don't know God!

'Putting on the armor of light' might be amplified in rereading Ephesians 6:13 18: "Put on the whole armor of God..." And in I Thessalonians Paul speaks of "... the helmet of the HOPE OF SALVATION!" We are at war with darkness!

C. [RECURRING THEME]

WE SEE THESE PASSAGES AS BEAUTIFUL POETRY signifying the coming of Jesus Christ into a benighted world. We think of how it must have been to be in the darkness before Christ came. We wonder if we would have had the faith to look to the east for the streaks of dawn.

But this is MORE than beautiful poetry. It is talking about world conditions and personal situations very similar to the world in which we live, and the situation in which you find yourself this very day!

Can we grasp what the "Evangelist Isaiah" is saying about seeing a great light? Can we understand what Paul says in our text: "The night is far spent, the day is at hand!"?

"Yes this means that Jesus Christ is going to return SOME DAY. That is what we have been taught. That is what we believe. That is what we are supposed to say!" But the facts are: We are not really very much creatures of HOPE!

Perhaps MOST Christians are in a "SURVIVAL MIND SET" rather than being filled with HOPE about the DAWNING! We are not too excited about Christ's coming again and we are not even sure WHY we are supposed to be excited about it! But Jesus Christ is Lord! Holiness shall conquer!

If we are faithful, Jesus will come again. If we are NOT faithful, we can be certain, Jesus will come again!

Whether or not we are people of hope, Christ's kingdom will come! We do not control the movements of the sun and the moon and the stars. Those movements will happen inexorably. But even more unstoppable are the movements of the Son of God! We do not CONTROL the movements of light, BUT WE CAN, BY GOD'S GRACE, BE PEOPLE OF HOPE! We can hear what the Holy Spirit would tell us about hope:

[[Is it right to make the Gospel message "fit" the times? (In the 18th century John Wesley did not spend too much time moaning and crying about how wicked his age was he preached instead that God LOVED the common and the uncommon, the rich and the poor. He told people they could be saved and they could know it.) Like John Wesley, I don't propose we spend too much time with negatives, crying what's wrong with our times. We are in charge of the Church and we each have a job to do. We have the gifts necessary to carry out our jobs faithfully.

I don't have any special revelation that a new Wesleyan Revival is on the way, and the world may end in chaos before we know it. But I do have revelation that we are called to be faithful where we are.

The results are not for us to determine.]]

(text:) The night is far spent, the day is at hand; let us therefore put off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armor of light."

And a few paragraphs later, Paul prays (15:13) "(May) the God of HOPE fill you with all JOY and PEACE in believing, that you may abound in HOPE by the power of the Holy Spirit!" God wants us to abound in HOPE! And we may! HOW?

(How to be people of hope:)

1. Center your life around the will of God. Personalize the promises. You can be all that God wants you to be!
2. Seek ways to share hope with those who look on the dark side. One way to witness is to think of faith and non faith as light and darkness; people NEED light. Believe that Jesus came that He comes! and believe that He is coming again!
3. LIVE TO THE LEVEL OF JOY! (Rom. 14:17 The kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost!) And most of settle for the first, or the first and the second.

But JOY is a by product of living that is GOING SOMEWHERE! Joy is the privilege of every believer! Don't "settle!" Delight in the Lord.

We can make a difference in this dark age in which we live! We can, by God's grace, be people of HOPE! LET'S BE AWAKE FOR THE SUNRISE!

#192 Lo! He Comes, with Clouds Descending

The Venture

January 24, 1999

1 Corinthians 1: 10-18

Psalm 27

"Follow Me, and I will make you . . ." Matthew 4:19

It was a time of change and crisis in Andrew's life, and probably in Peter's and James' and John's as well. Andrew, we know, had been a follower, a disciple, of John the Baptist. Now John was in prison, and the One John had said was the Anointed One was an Unknown Quantity.

Crisis times are opportunity times. But change is threatening. Change can be exciting, it is almost always challenging. But for certain, perhaps in our time as never before, changes are swift, and change is inevitable.

Sometimes I think I'm tempted to sympathize with the Mugwump, the legendary bird that always flew backward so it could see where it had been. But even when we bravely try to face the future, and peer ever so hard into the fog, we really can not tell what even tomorrow may bring. Except that there will be change.

We can wring our hands and wish for the good old days. (Which, by the way, weren't all that much fun then. I know. I was there.) We can hold on for dear life to what we think we know, and rail against anything we don't understand. We would have lots of company across the years:

A university professor, who was evidently in synch with the latest wave of academic sophistication just about at the dawn of the 17th century is said to have said to Galileo, who was proposing a different place in the cosmos for the earth than plunk in the center: "You have made me see this business so plainly and sensibly that, did not the text of Aristotle assert the contrary I should be constrained to confess your opinion to be true."

In 1825 the March issue of The Quarterly Review, in England, had this calculated statement: "What can be more palpably absurd than the prospect held out of locomotives traveling twice as fast as stagecoaches?"

An American explorer, Lt. Joseph Christmas Ives, in the middle of the last century, 1857, sailed up the Colorado River to a place near what is now Las Vegas, and wrote in his diary: "Ours was the first and will doubtless be the last party of whites to visit this profitless locale."

At the turn of this century a United Brethren Bishop (who, by the way, was just about my age now!), named Milton Wright, had this to say at the suggestion that one day humans would be able to fly: "Blasphemy! Utter blasphemy! God intends only his angels to fly."

Just a few years later airplanes were flying, but one of the great military men of the western world, Marshall Ferdinand Foch of France, said, "Airplanes are interesting toys, but they have no military value."

(It is probably overkill, but interesting, a couple more of these bold predictions of the future:)

In December 1941, four days before Pearl Harbor on December 7, Frank Knox, the Secretary of the Navy said, on December 4 of that year: "Whatever happens the U. S. Navy is not going to be caught napping."

In 1958 the publication Business Week said: "With over 50 foreign cars already on sale here, the Japanese auto industry isn't likely to carve out a big slice of the U. S. market."

Crisis and change are inevitable. We can face the future with fear, or with human wisdom and optimism– OR we can seek to find a center we can trust. Like Andrew and Peter and James and John, we can bet our lives that following Jesus will be the wisest thing we can do. It has been a long time since Jesus called these men. We think they were really fortunate to hear Jesus in the flesh. And we wonder if sometimes when preachers talk about God coming by and calling us, and use these scriptures, they are just using "call" as a figure of speech. I have a couple questions, actually three:

1. Does God still call people like He did Peter, Andrew, James and John? Is it just as personal, just as real?
2. How would God get your attention if He wanted to speak to you?
3. How can we respond to a call from God in 1999?

To answer #1: (Does God still call individual people?]

- a. My answer, in fact my 'message' is "YES!" God calling people personally, by name, in love, is a basic theme that runs through the whole of scripture. This story is true, it happened; but this story is also an example, a paradigm of how Jesus calls you and me. From Adam in the Garden, to Noah, and Abraham, and Jeremiah and Samuel, to the stories of the New Testament God's word is: DARE TO LEAVE WHATEVER WOULD HINDER YOU, AND COME WITH ME: I WILL GIVE YOU REAL LIFE!" In one way or another the Holy Spirit repeats the Savior's call and makes it personal: "Leave the prison of your self-made gods— come away from a Scripture that YOU edit and cut and pick and choose and stand in judgment over— leave the bondage of "what so-called sophisticates might think," AND STEP OUT ON A JOURNEY OF FAITH WITH ME! My official "answer" is YES!
- b. My personal testimony is YES!: I know you would expect an evangelical Christian minister to answer in the affirmative. I am certain, convinced, sure, that God spoke to me when I was living selfishly and out of fellowship with Him. He spoke to me by both love and fear; by what I might call "Behold the goodness and the severity of God"(Romans 11:22)

To answer #2 [How would God get your attention if He wanted to speak to you?]

- a. To hear God speak we might just have to be listening! God can't teach us anything if we already know it all!

Wes Tracy wrote these words in the Herald a few years ago:

"Some who take the name of Christ seem owned by their ambitions, chained to a success formula, enslaved by the hunger for prestige— diseases they have caught from our sinful culture... Aren't you tired of trying to be a classy sophisticate who knows all about things timely— progressive education, career enhancement, political correctness, next season's fashions, and the done thing? . . . "

- b. To hear God speak there must be faith; some measure of trust. The One who is speaking is all-important. We aren't simply buying into a plan or a theology. We aren't waiting until we know all the answers before we follow. When we are convinced: this is God! then we must make a decision.

In every purely human decision we consider very carefully all the factors and then we decide which way to go. And that is only common sense. But when it comes to the deep satisfaction of the heart, and we hear God begin speaking, we have to choose— make a decision— on whether or not Jesus will be at the very center of our lives.

These fisher men did not know, certainly, where that decision to leave their boats and follow Jesus would take them. Something inside them convinced them Jesus was no ordinary preacher. They trusted HIM!

The "common sense" thing would seem to be to say, "God— let me see what You have in mind, then I'll say yes or no—" And that certainly works for everything and everyone except God. But Romans 12: 1,2 says "Present yourselves to God for His service and then He will let you know what is his good and acceptable and perfect will!" So to really hear God speak is a matter of trust!

- 3. To hear God speak we may well have to go against the current of what is accepted as Christian by many evangelicals. We have to choose to take SELF off the throne, and seek God's face for Himself alone!

Spirituality is MORE than self-fulfillment. God's way is what we are made for— but it is a way of spiritual discipline that does not have happiness or deliverance or becoming fully human as its final goal— though these may well be by-products. Spiritual fulfillment begins when we realize GOD ALMIGHTY WANTS US TO COME AND WALK WITH HIM ON A JOURNEY WHERE ONLY HE KNOWS THE WAY!

Responding to #3 [How can we respond to a call from God in 1999?]

WE HAVE TO CHOOSE WHAT IS MOST IMPORTANT IN OUR LIVES. I BELIEVE GOD CAN AND WILL LEAD 'STEP-BY-STEP' THOSE WHO WANT TO BE LED.

A few years ago one morning I opened my Bible to read and get ready to pray. The passage was I Kings 3, and I got as far as verse five (5) where God is speaking to the newly crowned Solomon. He, God, tells Solomon "Ask for whatever you want me to give you."

I stopped. I thought. Honestly, now, what one thing would I ask of God if I knew for certain that He would grant me that one thing, and I did not know if He would grant me anything else. What one thing is most important to me?

First I thought "You, Lord, You tell me! You decide for me!" That sounds very pious, but somehow it did not let me off the hook. I felt prodded. No— what really is the most important thing?

I was pleased that I didn't think about big bucks, or a palatial retirement home or material things— at least not "up front," but only after a long reflection— reflection that these were "way down the list."

I confess I did think of things like not ever wanting to come down to old age and be a burden to myself and others. I thought of what a pleasure it would be to be able to write and speak and teach for years to come.

Do you know what I finally decided was most important? What would YOU say?

Conclusion

WHAT DID FOLLOWING JESUS "DO" FOR ANDREW, PETER, JAMES AND JOHN?

It certainly didn't make them rich. I suppose they are famous now, but they never knew it. But they have made thousands and even millions rich as a result of their decision to go where Jesus led them.

They didn't get to by-pass hard places and pain and even death. But the fact is whether or not you follow Jesus, whether or not you are a Christian, life has hard places and pain and death. And Christians are never alone in their hard places, although at times they forget and feel alone.

But they did find great joy. Peter could write years later, "Even when tribulations come, children, count it all joy!" They did find the love and fellowship of Christ and his church. John as an old man wrote, "My little children, love one another!" And they did meet the massive changes of their generations without being swept away. Their lives were resilient. Change does not need to intimidate and destroy us.

Bishop Milton Wright (,the man I spoke about at the turn of the last century who said flying would be "blasphemy" for humans,) had two sons. Their names were Wilbur and Orville. (Last spring Helen and I drove around Kitty Hawk and saw the big dunes where these two men on December 17, 1903, became the first humans to fly with a powered plane.) Some years later, in 1910, Orville took his dad, Bishop Wright for his first ride in an airplane, back in Ohio. The old man, at 81 years of age, could be heard shouting above the roar of the engines: " Higher Orville, higher!"

Change is exciting. Change can be threatening. Change is one thing we cannot avoid. All too often we can't easily tell which way to go. But it is possible to hear Jesus, and respond to Him. In our personal lives, in our families, in our church life, we can listen and pray and obey and follow Jesus step-by-step. We can help heal hurts we know about. We can be gentle in spirit and try to reflect the love of Jesus. On this Sunday when many churches are emphasizing the epistle lesson that speaks about unity we can pray to God for a love for all who call Jesus Lord in a depth we haven't known before, perhaps.

That epistle lesson says that if we follow Jesus and proclaim His gospel it will be foolishness to a lot of people, but the promise is that the Gospel will be the very power of God at work through us if we can dare to say no to our fears, and SAY YES! To the One who is calling us. To be very honest with you, some of the changes that loom out in front of me seem staggering in their proportions. I am tempted to be as negative as that "old" (68-year-old) bishop who said "Man will never fly!!" Somehow I believe as we follow God our spirits will soar with something like the old bishop's words: "Higher, Orville, higher!"

Prayer: Thank you, Father, that You still call us by your Spirit, to follow your Son.
Father, make us what Jesus calls us to be; make us reflectors of Your love in Christ.
Help us to find the blessing of a closer walk with you.

Hymn: #541 JESUS CALLS US

The Simple Walk

January 31, 1999

Micah 6:1-8, Matthew 5:1-12, 1 Corinthians 1:18-31

Introduction: This statement by the Prophet Micah, in the Old Testament, is one of the most concise summaries of what it means to be a genuine person of faith in all the scriptures: (Micah 6:8) He has shown you, O mortal, what is right; and what does God require of you but to do justice, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God.

The background of this summary statement is almost like a courtroom trial scene. God is making accusations against his people, Israel, who through selfishness and cruelty are in danger of his judgment. Most have forgotten him altogether. And even though there is the promise of Messiah, God's people are called to repent and turn to him.

In the verses just preceding the text (vv 6 - 7) Israel asks: With what shall I come before the Lord and bow myself before the High God? Shall I make spectacular sacrifices? Shall I pour out libations of rivers of oil? Shall I sacrifice my first born son for the sins of my body? And the answer, a resounding "No!" comes in the text: (reprieve)

I. A SIMPLE OFFER OF GRACE

Invitation to walk with God

- A. God alone can show us what is good. It is easy to overlook the premise of the statement of grace: God is the only one who can (ultimately) determine good and evil. Basic to a right relationship with God is accepting that GOD IS GOD!
- B. Here is a 'trinity of righteousness.' DO justice: doing flows out of who and what we are. LOVE mercy: LOVE speaks of "WHY" we do what we do. Ultimately, we do what we LOVE to do! Most important, in God's eyes, are our MOTIVES! Love mercy! WALK HUMBLY WITH YOUR GOD! This is both the GOAL, and the MEANS OF ATTAINTING

THE GOAL! As we "agree with God" is is honor-bound to show us "what is good!" (Amos 3:3 "Can two walk together unless they are agreed?")

- C. Being a Christian is not for the casual or foolish. It is a simple thing, in theory, to 'walk with God.' In practice, it takes every bit of loyalty and faith we have!

[R. C. Sproul likes to tell of a conversation between a minister-theologian and a scientist-astronomer. The star-gazer said, "When it comes to religion we don't need all this study- these big words, Faith and salvation are simply "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." And the pastor came right back: "I think I see what you mean about technical terms and study: I don't understand "expanding universe" and "novae" and "black holes" and the like. Such terms are unnecessary; astronomy is simply, "Twinkle, twinkle, little star . . ."]

It is a challenge to walk with God. Is it realistic to say we can?

II. JESUS SPELLS OUT WHAT WALKING HUMBLY WITH GOD MEANS.

Here in the Sermon on the Mount, particularly in the Beatitudes, Jesus is KEY-NOTING what amounts to A COUNTER-CULTURE. Blessed are the poor in spirit! What? Blessed are they that mourn! Are you serious? Blessed are the meek! All this on Super Bowl Sunday!

1. CHRIST'S KINGDOM DOESN'T MAKE "NATURAL" SENSE! THE PERCEPTION OF FALLEN MANKIND IS: I AM THE CENTER. It makes sense to put others down, to compete, to climb over, to say: "We're Number ONE!" We are BORN into the CENTER of our own little universe. Little children, as wonderful as they are, have a very small world that slowly expands but always has "EGO" at the center!
2. THE CENTRAL THEME OF CHRIST'S KINGDOM IS: GOD IS GOD THE TRUTH THAT DAWNS IN A BELIEVER'S HEART IS: I AM NOT GOD! I am NOT at the center! I'm not SUPPOSED to be at the center! Apart from grace I have NOTHING! In the LOSSES I have experienced I both know my need of God, and realize HE IS WITH ME!

These "be-attitudes DON'T make sense in our world; but to be BORN AGAIN is to enter into the REAL WORLD, where God is at the CENTER. We come to believe spiritual reality by the ministry of the Holy Spirit but we still see things, humanly, from our own eyes, from within our own frame of reference. The secret to walking humbly with our God is to keep looking to Jesus.

III. JESUS TAUGHT ON ONE MOUNT WHAT HE PROVED ON ANOTHER

A. IN THE CROSS OF CHRIST, GOD HAS REVEALED HIS LOVE TO US

Yes, it is mystery, in that we can not know 'why' or 'how' God should love us so much.

The cross unlocks the treasure chest of grace. Paul writes: I Corinthians 1: 18 - 31 18 For the word of the cross is folly to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God. . . . 21 For since, in the wisdom of God, the world did not know God through wisdom, it pleased God through the folly of what we preach to save those who believe. 22 For Jews demand signs and Greeks seek wisdom, 23 but we preach Christ crucified, a stumbling block to Jews and folly to Gentiles, 24 but to those who are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God and the wisdom of God. 25 For the foolishness of God is wiser than men, and the weakness of God is stronger than men. 26 For consider your call, brethren; not many of you were wise according to worldly standards, not many were powerful, not many were of noble birth; 27 but God chose what is foolish in the world to shame the wise, God chose what is weak in the world to shame the strong, 28 God chose what is low and despised in the world, even things that are not, to bring to nothing things that are, 29 so that no human being might boast in the presence of God.

[Roman/cross = weakness] Pilate thought he could use the cross to prove how Roman power was greater than anything else; might makes right.

[Jewish/cross = non-sense] The enemies of Jesus thought that the cross would prove the claims of the Galilean Messiah were silly: that God loved the world and that love is stronger than legalism and hatred.

B. IN TAKING UP THE CROSS TO FOLLOW JESUS WE DISCOVER THE 'SIMPLE' MEANING OF MICAH'S SUCCINCT STATEMENT: (DO justice, LOVE mercy, WALK

HUMBLY WITH GOD!

The DYNAMIC of THE CROSS-WALK! Unless we are willing to walk with God the best human intentions are actually ARROGANCE! Saying/thinking that WE know already what the Bible means we reflect that we have eaten from the Tree of knowledge of Good and Evil, but NOT from the Tree of Life!

CONCLUSION:

The transcript from a "60 Minutes" TV show a two weeks ago this evening began with words something like this:

"Except for her passionate love of South Africa, AMY BIEHL was a typical Southern California kid, a straight A student and a college diving champion who would end her diatribes against apartheid with the words 'Free Mandela!' So it was not surprising that when she won a Fulbright scholarship, she opted to go to South Africa and immerse herself in the country's culture and politics.

But her young life ended abruptly in 1994 when she was stoned and stabbed to death by a mob of angry, young, black militants. She was killed by the very people whose cause she was fighting for. But instead of being angry with her murderers, her parents did something so atypical that it boggles the mind. The Biehls dealt with their grief by doing what they believe their daughter would have wanted: understand the fury that drove the mob, forgive the killers, and become, in effect, the patron saints of the village that her very killers came from.

Amy's parents, Linda and Peter Biehl, decided they had to try and understand their daughter's commitment to the people for whom she had given her. They read her diaries, in which she wrote about her admiration for those who were suffering under apartheid. The Biehls and their three other children decided that they had to go to South Africa. Linda attended the trial of Amy's killers. They visited the squatter camps of Guguletu, the black township where Amy's killers had grown up. They came to understand how those squalid conditions could have led them to violence. Linda went into the home of one of the murderers and met with his mother. She says that after hugging her, "I walked out of that home. There was a rainbow in the sky. My heart was very light. I felt I had come to terms. And if that is forgiveness, I felt it. And I felt you know, I felt I feel at peace with myself. So to me, that's forgiveness."

When asked about the Biehl's forgiveness, Rhoda Khadalie, one of Amy's professors in South Africa and a close friend said "It is a gift from God that they can forgive the killers of their daughter, meet with the mother, go into the homes of the killers and understand who they are and where they come from." Not only do they understand, they spend much of their time in Guguletu, passing the very spot where their daughter was killed. What they've done to carry on for her is to establish the non profit Amy Biehl Foundation. With $1/2 million in grants, donations and their own money, they sponsor 15 programs, including welding classes and after school programs which involve thousands of young people, all in the very community where their daughter was killed. What the Biehls are doing is widely known in South Africa, and like Archbishop Desmond Tutu, everyone marvels at it. "The [Biehl's have] turned it all upside down,"

Tutu said. "It is the victims, in the depth of their own agony and pain, who are saying, 'The community which produced these murderers, we want to help that community be transfigured.'"

The twelve year old sister of one of the murderers is enrolled in the after school program. And when her brother and the other two murderers applied for amnesty after serving four years in jail, Peter and Linda did not object, even though they could have blocked the release. There are more incredible details from their efforts in South Africa, but I think you get the point.

This is where walking with God took one family. This is the message of the beatitudes. Do the beatitudes tell us there is a BLESSEDNESS that seeks us out when we are empty? Do they say that JOY FROM GOD can be ours when we are at the end of our own hoarded resources?

The world will be watching a football game today. Millions will be spent for seconds of commercial time. But next year I, for one, will have a hard time remembering who won, and who played whom. The world's triumphs come and they go.

The Simple Walk

But God's people know a JOY and BLESSEDNESS that comes from being in the company of Jesus. The "blessedness" is not just for the vague and distant future. That humble walk with God can begin here in the reality of life as it really is. It is a companionship that will never, ever end.

But remember: Not great deeds of heroism: Just THE CHOICE TO WALK WITH GOD! To AGREE with Him! To let HIM show us what is GOOD! (Amos 3:3) "Can two walk together except they be agreed?"

An unbroken relationship that goes beyond DEATH into ETERNITY (Enoch like) for us ALL!

#552 O Master, Let Me Walk with Thee

The Least and the Greatest

February 3, 1999

Matthew 5 ... "salt and light"

Comparing "greatness" or "pettiness" in people somehow doesn't seem a very polite thing to do. Often we politely avoid comparisons, of who is great and who is least, at least among people we know personally. Jesus invites such comparisons, or at least advertises the fact that there will be greater and lesser in His kingdom.

When we do think of the greats, we measure with a different yardstick from Jesus. How about Larry Bird? Do I like Larry Bird? Does Helen like Larry? But that isn't fair.

I. SALT AND LIGHT RE DEFINES, RE CLASSIFIES ORDERS OF IMPORTANCE

- A. We tend to classify by (1) notoriety and fame; (2) intelligence; it is better to live by one's brain than by one's hands, no matter how skillful those hands may be; (3) material success— money made from almost any source; and (4) the unfocused, the people who live from paycheck to paycheck which takes in most of the population.

ILLUSTRATION: Cornelius Vanderbilt built a house on the east bank of the Hudson. In the village of Hyde Park are actually two mansions. One is the Roosevelt mansion, and it was a summer home and white house for FDR. The other is the Vanderbilt mansion, of truly palatial proportions, of marble and granite one of several such homes Cornelius Vanderbilt had scattered around the country and world. (One is in Newport)

Vanderbilt is hailed (by plaques there in the Hyde Park mansion) as something of a great hero because he helped fund the Hyde Park fire fighters association. I may be cynical, but it seemed like so called "conscience money" to me because his BED was probably as expensive as the entire Fire Department his bedroom RUG weighed in at 2,000 pounds.

- B. God has entirely different criteria for gaging individual worth. His scale is rated entirely on RELATIONSHIPS.

1. First, there is a Master Relationship, which divides the entire population of the world. Either we are seeking after God, or we are not. Unless you are BORN AGAIN you cannot (even) SEE the kingdom of heaven!
2. Then, there is an Integration of that Master Relationship through society. You are the SALT of the earth! You are the LIGHT of the world! The people who grasp this will be GREAT; the people who don't will be LEAST!
3. But here is the "zinger!" for Christians for us "society" can never simply be that nameless, faceless "population" "out there, somewhere." We can never discharge our duties by joining some ideology or "ism" and contributing our money. The relationship by which God judges us is intensely personal. We must LOVE GOD, and then we must SEEK TO PROVIDE A CLIMATE IN WHICH OTHERS CAN KNOW HIM, TOO.

II. A KINGDOM WHERE POOR BECOME KINGS, AND WHERE KINGS ARE SERVANTS

- A. Paul doesn't sound flattering when he describes the fact (in I Corinthians 2) that not many of them were wise, or mighty, or noble after the flesh but Paul goes on to say (2:27) God has chosen the foolish things of the world to shame the wise and the weak things to shame the things that are mighty.

Later in that same letter (6:9 11) Paul gives an unsavory list of the unrighteous that do not inherit the kingdom fornicators, idolaters, adulterers, perverts, homosexuals, thieves, covetous, drunkards, revilers, and swindlers; but then these amazing words: AND SUCH WERE SOME OF YOU! But you were washed, but you were sanctified, but you were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and in the Spirit of our God.

- B. Saved, made kings but kings like our Master, who served.

We never get "too important" to do the "one on one" thing.

ILLUSTRATION: Cliff Barrows You have all seen Cliff Barrows at one time or another across the years; directing a choir numbering in the thousands, leading a song at a Billy Graham rally, or doing a "commercial" on a Billy Graham TV program. In that parlor right across the hall I had a conversation with Cliff Barrows and George Beverly Shea. You might never guess what the conversation was about. Cliff Barrows talked about his wife, and about their mutual concern for new neighbors and how they were trying to introduce them to Jesus. Not to impress me but as naturally as conversation could be. C. Barrows was living out on the personal, one to one level the kind of life that he was advocating to the millions.

Conclusion

We are kings and priests! We can change society! But IF we do— or should I confidently say "WHEN" we do it will not be because of values and powers the world understands.

We never dare to think that because we are saved, and because Christ loves and lives in us that WE, now are the SOURCE of truth and light and love and power. We DRAW from Christ; and it is as we obey Him and carry out our SALT and LIGHT MISSION that the power is manifest:

ILLUSTRATION: paraphrased Wangerin: "You actors must remember that you do not possess the truth, but that you are communicators of the truth. We tend to worship the "stars" when real actors make people think about the character, the truth they portray."

SALT AND LIGHT RE-DEFINES CLASSES OF IMPORTANCE

THE NEW ORDER OF IMPORTANCE ACCORDING TO CHRIST

NOW ARE GRAINS OF SALT AND RAYS OF LIGHT

A meeting of the plant services people last Monday left me contemplating a practical meaning of what it means to be "salt" and "light." They are true partners in the enterprise of whatever Eastern Nazarene College is doing, and have a part in shaping the lives of young people in significant ways.

Prayer: [Into Invitation to, and Sacrament of, Communion]

The Life-Changing Teacher

February 7, 1999

Matthew 5 You are the salt of the earth . . . I tell you that unless your righteousness surpasses that of the Pharisees and the teachers of the law, you will certainly not enter the kingdom of heaven.

BEGINNING

Do you remember an outstanding teacher you once had, maybe a long time ago; maybe for you current students just recently? One that stands out in your memory. If you're like me, you've had so many teachers that you've forgotten many of them. Their faces are sort of a blur. But then along the way a few faces stand out. Some good memories. Some not so good. But maybe one or two teachers that really had an influence on your life. Maybe one even helped with a decision in choosing a major or even a career.

As you think back, was that outstanding teacher one that made no demands on you? It seems strange, maybe, but often we remember a teacher who was anything but a pushover. But at the same time they were demanding, they also made us think what they were teaching was for us. They demanded because they thought we could do what they were teaching. There is a powerful motivation in a good teacher's expectations.

[[[I read a story some time ago about a tutor hired by a school system to take lessons to students who had been out with health problems for a period of time. One day the tutor's assignment took him to a hospital, and before he understood what was happening he had been ushered into a sterile room where a very badly burned boy was fighting for his life day by day.

The tutor didn't know how to back our gracefully, so he told the boy he was there to help him with his adjectives and adverbs in English. He went over some material as briefly as he could and excused himself. The boy asked if he was coming back and the tutor mumbled something about being back in a couple of days.

When the tutor came back in two days he was met by a nurse that said, "What did you do in your lesson the other day?" The teacher was aghast. He hadn't meant to be any kind of burden. But the nurse said, "No, it isn't what you think. The boy has taken a turn for the better. He is fighting back. It looks like he will make it."

When the facts were known they found out the boy had reasoned to himself, "It isn't likely they'd send a teacher to drill me on verbs and adverbs and adjectives if I was going to die!" So he started fighting to get better.]]]

Jesus wouldn't teach such a lesson to poor sinful mortals unless He thought there was reason to believe grace could help them receive the lesson and respond. The very lesson brings hope!

Jesus was certainly an outstanding teacher! Here in the greatest lesson ever recorded by the greatest Teacher who ever lived, Jesus is combining a challenge with confidence: You will have to do better– but I know you can do it!

I. "YOU MUST DO BETTER!"

JESUS CAME RAISING EXPECTATIONS WHILE AT THE SAME TIME HE WAS OPENING WIDE HIS KINGDOM

He said, "Come to me ALL who labor!" He said, "WHOSOEVER believes on God's only begotten Son will be saved!" He said, "I have come to seek and to save that which is lost!"

But then he called his disciples around him and told them, "Unless your righteousness goes beyond the righteousness of the so-called 'professionally righteous people,' you can't really enter the righteous kingdom!"

Jesus isn't into teaching lessons which are non-sense. He is not wasting his time demanding that which can never be understood or obeyed. But how in the world could his disciples beat the Pharisees at their own game? They were "pros" at keeping the letter of the law. Does this lesson— do Jesus demands even apply to us today? "Unless you do better in righteousness than the professional law-keepers you can't even get into the kingdom!" What does this mean?

II. "BETTER THAN WHAT?"

THE RIGHTEOUSNESS OF THE SCRIBE AND PHARISEES

The people Jesus was talking about, could be blameless at keeping the letter of the law. They were strict tithers. They kept a rigid Sabbath. They prayed long and loud and often. Outwardly it was hard to see where they broke any of the Ten Commandments

We do not dare to simply say the Ten Commandments have been superseded. Jesus made it plain that is not what he was doing. We do not dare to take the Law lightly. Jesus says plainly here: "Whoever breaks one of these commandments and teaches others to break them is to be called least in the kingdom of heaven." What Jesus was concerned about was MOTIVATION. He was concerned about what goes on INSIDE a person's heart. In Matthew 23, if you want to take time to read it later, Jesus shows why our righteousness has to go beyond outward righteousness. These people were SELF-righteous. They were concerned with APPEARANCE. They were like WHITE-WASHED TOMBS . . . beautiful little houses full of corruption and death on the inside.

III. "YOU CAN TRUST ME!"

'BUT I SAY UNTO YOU . . .' THE 'BETTER WAY' OUR TEACHER HAS SHOWN TO US

If the world might want to build a righteous man or woman it would begin with what can be seen. It would say I had better have this righteous person join a church. It probably would say I had better have my righteous person begin doing good works, and the more public the better. It would carefully build an image built on things to do, and even more on things NOT to do.

The Life-Changing Teacher

But Jesus begins building a righteous man or woman starting with the inside. Not that the outside is not important. But when the inside is right the outside soon begins to take care of itself.

Jesus said he did not come to do away with the law, but to complete it, or fulfill it. So he had the authority to say, "The law says thus and so . . . but I say THIS!" And every time it was going "inside." Jesus is installing a new center, a new CORE for living, based on God's law written within.

The old law rightly says, "Don't kill." Jesus says, "Don't HATE!" But Teacher, that's a high standard! "Don't BE immoral!" "Don't even THINK immorally!" Teacher, that's too high!!

But then this demanding, loving Teacher somehow says, "You can do it!"

YOU CAN TRUST ME!

It took a while for this lesson to unfold.

There were a few, more than a few glitches along the way.

YOU CAN TRUST ME!

Jesus not only TOLD them. Jesus SHOWED them.

When he died their faith wavered! But he rose again, and came and expounded the scriptures. He told them to pray for the promised Holy Spirit.

Jesus promised them that the same empowering Holy Spirit that had descended on Him like a dove when he was baptized and began his ministry would be available to every one of them personally, just for the asking.

YOU CAN TRUST ME!

And Jesus told them: I'm counting on you to get this lesson! YOU are the salt of the earth! You're the only way I have to preserve and flavor and bring healing to this world! YOU are the LIGHT of the world! I AM the light of the world! But you are going to bring ME, your lives are going to reach wherever there is darkness!

CLOSING

[If you have heard on TV the famous Christmas Eve choir from Kings College, Cambridge, then you know that the first notes are sung by a soloist. What you may not know is that the sopranos do not know whom it is until the conductor points at one. Whichever singer is directed to begin singing does not think, "I should be the soloist this evening!" but rather she knows, "I AM the soloist! If I don't start there is not Christmas program!" Instantly— the call comes—"You're IT!"]

That is what the Master Teacher is saying to you and me right now. He is saying, "I've forgiven your sins. I have opened the doors of the kingdom, You're IN! But unless you take my Gift of the Holy Spirit, and do better than just pretend or put on a show you're not going to make it in the kingdom!" He is demanding! But he is also loving! He believes in you and me!

That is what the Master Teacher is saying to us, here, now! Jesus is demanding, challenging— he won't let us just 'get by.' Jesus did not say, "You WILL BE the salt of the earth, WHEN . . . When we have a new center, a new heart, a genuine walk with God, the future is NOW!

Prayer

Hymn

With Jesus on the Mountain

February 14, 1999

(cf. February 18, 1996 am)

Matthew 17:1-9 - The Transfiguration

"This is my Son ...listen to him!"

Mountains As Points Of Reference

One Sunday afternoon, a long time ago, instead of taking the usual Nazarene nap, I took my four sons on a hike up Mount Beacon above the majestic Hudson River in Beacon, New York. We lived in Poughkeepsie where I was pastor at Vassar Road Church. It was sultry and hot, and the thought of climbing in shady, cooler woods sounded like fun.

It was a twenty minute drive to a place where we could leave the wagon as far up the mountain as it could go. Then it was just over an hour's walk to the top where you could look up and down the river for miles.

On the way up the trail we heard the sound of a brook off to one side, and followed the sound and found a beautiful place where the water was falling through a U shaped place in a big rock into a shallow pool like a basin underneath it. It was hot, and the water was very cool.

The four boys stripped down to their shorts and into the water they went. One of them would sit in the cleft in the rock and dam up the water it was that narrow until it spilled over his shoulders– then he'd jump into the basin below with the wave gushing after him.

We stayed at that pool half an hour or less that hot Sunday afternoon and that was more than thirty years ago. I drove back to Vassar Road and preached and led the evening service. I haven't a clue as to what I preached it has been long forgotten. But every one of those four boys, now grown men with families of their own, remembers that day we climbed Mount Beacon. And somehow it has a good place in our family history. It was one of those defining moments that help give life direction.

We've all had those times, those defining moments, that we remember as we look back across the landscape of our lives. (R.C. Sproul had a teacher who put his paper on the board and told him, "You can write!") We look back to those mountains, literal or figurative, that show us where we've been, and to some extent, who we are and where we're going.

The Transfiguration As A Point Of Reference

Perhaps the day the story in our Gospel lesson began started out like just any other day for the disciples. But it was going to turn out to be a day they would never, ever forget.

Jesus called to Peter, James, and John. He often went apart to pray, and a prayer time was all they really were expecting. Up and up the mountain trail they went, until they reached the top. And there they stopped. Luke's Gospel says that Jesus began to pray, and he also tells us that the three disciples became sleepy.

Peter, James and John were not expecting what came next. While they watched in awe something wonderful beyond description began to happen. The kindly face of the Galilean carpenter began to change in ways the evangelist has found difficult to describe. Later the three men tried to find words to express what they had seen: "Light streamed from his face, as bright as the sun. His clothes became whiter than white they shone with light."

These men knew Jesus well. They had been with him three years and had heard him speak, and heal, and raise the dead. They had even confessed their faith that He is the Son of God, the Messiah. But they were NOT prepared for this display of dazzling glory. They knew Jesus. But they also realized they hardly knew him at all!

(To be very honest, coming to know God is always like that! We CAN know Him! But no matter how well we think we know Him, God IS WHO HE IS! We do not define or comprehend except as He chooses to reveal. Our doctrines are good/necessary; they try to explain the mysteries of faith: Jesus is very God and very man, the Son of God and the Son of Mary. The Father in heaven helps us to confess our faith with Peter, and say with conviction: "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God!" But NOTHING is as convincing and satisfying and thoroughly frightening as a mountaintop glimpse of Christ's glory!)

As they watched, the three disciples next became aware that two other people were present, talking with Jesus in the cloud of light. In some mysterious and wonderful way, they knew that these two glorious figures were Moses and Elijah, the Lawgiver, and the greatest of Old Testament prophets.

Moses on a mountain many years before this Day of Transfiguration, Moses, this great giant of faith, this the meekest man who ever lived, had talked with God face to face, and had received the Ten Commandments, the holy Law of God by which all mankind is supposed to live, but especially the people of God.

Elijah on another mountain in the days of wicked King Ahab and Queen Jezebel, this rugged prophet had prayed fire down from heaven, and had defeated the prophets of Baal, and had brought God's people back to Him.

Here incarnate as it were, were the Law and the Prophets in conversation with the Living Gospel, the Good News of Salvation. Here was a vision of the Law fulfilled, and of Truth triumphant, the whole Plan of Salvation, the whole Word of God represented in one glorious conversation.

Luke tells us something of what Moses and Elijah were discussing with their glorious Lord that mountaintop day. They were not talking about Mount Sinai, or Mount Carmel. They were talking about another mountain that had yet to be climbed. They were talking about the hill we call Calvary.

Peter, James and John may not have understood the full implication in the dazzling light of the moment, but they were dramatically seeing portrayed before their eyes

1. Jesus as fulfilling the Law (Moses), completing the truth of Torah; and
2. Jesus as Champion over evil (Elijah), making sinners right with God, completing the Plan of Salvation.

The disciples were uncomfortable. Don't ever think that when God is manifested in power it is a comfortable, easy time. This was gut wrenching, frightening to the limit! Peter began to 'prattle' a bit. "Lord, let's build succoth booths right here on top of the mountain! We'll build three one for Moses, one for Elijah, and one for You!"

At that moment a majestic, thundering, authoritative voice from heaven said, "This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased. Listen to HIM!" The Father put things into perspective. The heart of faith is not Jesus AND Law, or Jesus AND Proclamation, or Jesus AND anything else. The heart of faith is Jesus. That is the message this mountain top experience carried home to Peter James and John. Then it was over. Just like that.

As soon as they came down the mountain actually before they got to the bottom they were back at nitty gritty work. As far as we know they never had another Transfiguration type opportunity. (Oh, yes, John saw the glorified Savior during his exile on Patmos you can read about it in the first chapter of the Revelation.) But these men never forgot what they saw on that mountain that day.

They needed it in just a few weeks when their Master was taken from them and mocked and beaten and killed on a Cross. It looked like defeat. It looked like weakness. (But) They had been to the mountain. They had seen the glory. They could believe when the Resurrection came.

They needed it after Jesus ascended to heaven, and their own crosses became heavy, and they were tempted to wonder if it was worth it. But they had seen a glimpse of the glory. They knew that their Master was Lord of Moses and Elijah who are very much alive. They had been on the mountain. They could trust that God would not waste their sacrifice.

James was killed by the sword early in the first wave of persecution. Had the vision been wasted on him? I don't think so. Peter led the church in Jerusalem, and then Antioch and Ephesus and Rome. The vision sustained him, and he passed it on to Luke. John the Beloved outlived all the other apostles. As long as he lived the memory of that day of Transfiguration on a mountain in the north of Israel was a blessing and a hope.

We cannot live on mountain tops, or even live FOR that kind of experience. Don't forget, eight perfectly good apostles got word of this day second hand, just like you and I have. Ninety-five, maybe ninety-nine per cent of life is lived in the lower places of life between the mountain peaks. We will probably not be on the mountain top this very week. In fact you may be in a pretty deep, dark valley right now.

What we can do is live in confession of faith in our Master. If truly the faith has been granted us to believe that Jesus is the Christ we can say with Peter, six days BEFORE this glory time, "You are the Christ, the Son of the Living God!"

What we can do if we have that faith is affirm from our hearts, "Jesus is LORD!" We can ask Him if we can follow Him around day after day. We can listen to Him pray. We can ask Him if we can come along when he cares for people who hurt. That is what we can do.

And sometime when we least expect it there will be those loving times those tender times when Jesus lets us know He's pleased with us. Not Transfigurations, maybe. But mountain experiences. Defining moments. Moments we never forget.

I can tell you on the authority of God's Word that God KNOWS when you're in the valleys. And I can tell you with confidence that God CARES right now! But I pray also that you will know He IS WITH YOU RIGHT NOW.

Let's pray:

O God, Father, Savior, Brother, Our very LIFE!

How we want to KNOW You!

Today is Valentine's Day, when the official subject of the day is "love." God, we want to tell You that we love YOU!

Maybe it is not answers to our questions that we need. Maybe we do not even know what questions are important. Maybe we really need to be silent before You.

With Jesus on the Mountain

We confess Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God. We ask that we can walk with You—that you will walk with us. Somehow, help us to glimpse Your glory!

Fill us with your Spirit. Cleanse our hearts.

Hymn No. 66 Thou Art Worthy

No Short Cuts to Glory

February 21, 1999

Matthew 4

He had finally got his chance to make the Really Big Sale. He was going into the final interview on the biggest contract he had ever written. He was ushered into the office of the executive buyer. An assistant brought coffee and left. The atmosphere was cordial.

Then the assistant tapped on the door and re-entered the office and spoke briefly with the executive. She stood and said, "I apologize, but I have to tend to a matter. I'll just be a minute or two." She followed her assistant out of the room.

The sales representative looked around the beautifully appointed office. He saw her family pictures on her desk. Then he noticed she had evidently been studying what looked like a contract, a bid from a competitor. Leaning forward, he saw a column of figures, but it was obscured by a diet soda can.

What harm possibly could there be in reading her private information? After all, she had left it out in plain sight. But when he lifted the can it wasn't diet soda; it was 1,000 BBs that gushed out the bottomless can, and ran all over the desk and cascaded onto the carpet. His attempt to short cut the competition was exposed. Not every temptation is so obvious. Not every failure is so embarrassing. But every temptation is a challenge. Not even Jesus was spared the choosing.

I. Temptation Is An Enticement To Use A Short Cut To Reach A Desirable Goal.

You want a good grade. Good grades are desirable. They open doors. They bring scholarships. The easiest way to good grades is to let someone else do your work for you. But there is no real short cut to real education.

You want intimacy and the good feelings of love and security. No one has to tell you those are good things. The easiest way to those feelings is the pathway of least resistance. But there are no short cuts to real friendship. There is never an excuse to USE people like things, no matter what the goal may be.

You want success and influence. Within the boundaries of genuine caring those could be very worthy goals. But in our world all too often personal goals are reached at whatever the cost. But there is no short cut to real integrity.

And cheating is always wrong. Adultery and fornication are always sin. Betrayal of confidence is always heartbreaking.

Whatever the reason, remember: there are no short cuts in finding and doing God's will. It is a wonderful thing to come to believe that in God's will we don't need short cuts!

II. Adam And Eve And Short Cuts

Adam and Eve, even in their innocence thought they might be able to take a short cut to God-likeness. They were tempted to believe that maybe God was holding out on them. Whatever good was coming, they wanted it NOW! A short cut. The Tempter said, "Did God really say that?" Then he pursued that seed of doubt with philosophical denial. "You won't really die! God has it wrong! You can't really trust Him. He wants a monopoly on Truth!"

But they did die! Their innocence was gone. They were dead in trespasses and sin. And they were expelled from a garden into a wilderness. Their short cut was a tragedy.

In the classic Pilgrim's Progress, Christian and his new companion Hopeful fell in with a smooth talking man named By-end, from the town of Fair-speech. To hear By-end talk the Christian journey required no effort at all. As his name suggests, he took the position that the end always justifies any short cut necessary, just so long as the rugged way of obedience could be avoided.

Just then Christian and Hopeful came alongside a beautiful meadow. There was a fence marking the pathway, but there was a stile over the fence, and they could see a path running parallel to the Way on the other side of the fence. After some discussion they crossed over to take advantage of easier going on the other side of the fence.

But soon it became less simple. Darkness fell, and it became hard to see. They tried to make their way back to the crossing, but soon they had to stay the night under a tree in the open. Then they were captured by a wicked Giant Despair, and taken to a dungeon in the Doubting castle. A pleasant short cut turned out to be a near disaster.

We can never leave the clear known will of God for our lives without bringing on big trouble. The most innocent disobedience brings broken fellowship with God. And there is no such thing as a short cut to where God wants you to be. You can trust His timing.

III. Jesus In His Innocence, Was Exposed To Temptation.

Fresh from his public baptism, and with the blessing of the Father's endorsement ringing in his ears, and in the joy of the Spirit's anointing, Jesus was led into the wilderness to face the challenge to take a short cut. Haggard and drawn from fasting, he was confronted with evil, demonic, powerful, hostile suggestion. The evil enemy attacked every angle. Henri Nouwen summed up the three temptations: be relevant, be popular, be powerful.

Be relevant: you have to survive! 'Make these stones into bread. You're famished. This is the real world. A dead Messiah isn't going to do anyone any good.'

But Jesus' response in fact said, "No, I don't have to survive! I have to be true!"

It wasn't that Jesus wasn't hungry. It wasn't that he couldn't work a miracle later. He fed 5,000 people with a little boy's lunch. But Jesus was taking orders from no one but the Father, and especially was not about to take advice from the Evil One.

"Man does not live by bread alone," he said, "but by every word that proceeds from the mouth of God."

Be popular: you need to communicate! 'Spiff up your act! What is this "repent stuff!?? Put on a show! Do miracles! Walk a high wire!'

But Jesus was never a performer. He never did things for the effect. It wasn't that he couldn't master the forces of nature. He walked on the sea. He calmed the storms. He raised the dead. And he died and rose again the third day.

"Don't try to put God on the spot!" was his reply.

Be powerful: you need to take charge! 'No one will see you out here in the desert as you compromise and kneel down to me. But then I'll lay off, and you can be the dictator of the world! No competition! A cross is a terrible way to go. You have to take charge of your life! Assert yourself!'

This was not a friendly debate. It was not a gentleman's duel of honor. Weak, exhausted, physically drained, Jesus was facing pure evil at its demonic worst.

Jesus, at his weakest, used the defense that is available to us all if we will just use it. (It is the 'key' that finally unlocked the dungeon of Doubting Castle, and let Christian and Hopeful out.) He did not reason with the Enemy. He reached into the Father's promises. He fled to the first Commandment. He claimed the protection that comes from utterly belonging.

He was God's Son! He affirmed his determination to worship Him only, and to live by the father's Word and way. Satan had to leave. And the angels came, there in the wilderness, and Jesus was refreshed. Then he resumed the step-by-step following of the Father's will that would take him to Calvary, to Olivet, and to Glory and Salvation for you and me. There would be no short cut.

Conclusion

Temptation Is an Enticement to Use a Short Cut to Reach a Desirable Goal

Temptation is NOT sin. But yielding to temptation IS sin. And sin never, never, never makes good on its promises. There are no short cuts to truly desirable goals.

A workman went to his big boss one day and said, "I'm tired. I think I'll take my retirement benefits and hang it up. It's been great working for you."

The big boss looked disappointed, and said, "I really hate to see you go. I was hoping you could do at least one more big job for me. Will you, just one more?"

Reluctantly the builder agreed to build a house for some important client of the big boss. It was a big house, a lot of work on a golf course, with a lot of detail. But the man's heart really wasn't in it. He threw the house together in record time, and cut corners on material and labor wherever he could. He saved the boss a lot of money, but it wasn't really his best work and he knew it.

Imagine how he felt when he turned the keys over to the big boss, and the boss gave them right back, and fished around in his briefcase and gave him the title and deed to the property on the golf course. "This is my gift for you!" he said. "Thanks for all your good work across the years!"

Then the builder wished he hadn't been in such a hurry. He wished he hadn't cut corners and taken short cuts just to get the job done.

Life is like that. Exactly like that. We become the product of our own integrity in following after God. Or lack of integrity. We become exiles from innocence when we try to take short cuts to being like God. Or, following our Savior, we use the promises and the commandments of God to resist the tempter's power, and we begin to share in Christ's righteousness.

This is the first Sunday in Lent. It is a good time to ask God for His help in deliberately drawing closer to Him. I don't know about you, but I don't want to try to get away with building a shoddy house. I know I'm going to have to live in what I build.

Prayer

#512 Take Time to be Holy

20-20 Blindness

With Jesus into the Light

February 28, 1999

March 17, 1996

John 9:1-41

Did you ever hear the old saying about college students:

Freshmen know not, and know that they know not;
Sophomores know not, and know not that they know not;
Juniors know, and know not that they know;
Seniors know, and know that they know?

I don't quite know what to say about that, except I'm not sure I ever met a "pure" freshman who knew that he/she didn't know and I'm not sure which I am more ashamed of that I still catch myself being like a sophomore, who doesn't know how much I don't know or even like a senior who is wise beyond all understanding.

The story today is about knowing; about knowing the most important things in the world. It is a story about the healing of physical blindness. Before the story is over we see there are worse things than not having physical sight. At the end of the story one big question is asked: "ARE WE BLIND?" That is a question we all might want to dare to ask Jesus. Because NO ONE IS QUITE AS BLIND AS THOSE WHO ARE SURE THEY CAN SEE CLEARLY.

[To the story: John 9:1 14]

You might not think it would be hard to imagine what it would be like never to have seen to be blind from birth. You could just shut your eyes, you might think. But of course you know that is not the same.

The man in this story got on in the world as best he could, using his other senses. Blindness was a severe handicap, but he made a living, such as it was. Then one day the blind man met Jesus. He didn't know, really, who Jesus was. We are not told how much he had heard about Jesus. By what he told the authorities after he received his sight, the blind man didn't know very much about Him at all.

We have to wonder what in the world inspired such hope and faith in him that he would even listen to Jesus. Then when Jesus did what he did, and told the blind man to do what he was supposed to do this man simply went and did as he was told. [What Jesus did: made mud, sent the blind man off in his darkness to wash in the Pool of Siloam}]

I like to think that something warm happened inside the man when Jesus spoke to him. I like to think that grace began to work in him to begin the miracle of faith. That beginning faith might have been as small as simply saying "What do I have to lose!?" Or it may have been inspired by what he had heard of other miracles.

Whatever it was, this man did not deserve to be blind because he had sinned and he did not deserve to be made well because he was good. We know he was made to see because Jesus took compassion on him; not because he believed in Jesus as Messiah or savior or because he was especially religious or deserving. He simply obeyed, and a miracle took place: He could see!

We have to speculate a bit on what it must have been to experience sight for the first time. To live in a dark world of sounds and smells and jostling, and suddenly to see a donkey for the first time, or a pigeon, or the crowded streets of Jerusalem, or the Temple mount looming above the pool?

Did the blind man have to have help getting home? Did he have to shut his eyes so he could remember where he was?

Finally he got home and found that he was now quite a celebrity. If he lived now he would certainly make at least the local talk shows on the radio he might even make Good Morning Israel! on nationwide TV. People began to take notice. It isn't every day a person born blind can see with 20/20 vision by a miracle of God.

So now the people who know everything about everything who have a faith of rules and regulations that exist to maintain their traditions, rather than traditions that nurture and maintain their faith these people said, "This is outside OUR control! This is too dangerous!" They moved in.

"Number one nobody does anything or goes anywhere on the Sabbath unless WE say so." [The healing had taken place on the Sabbath.] Of course there were ways to get around Sabbath rules but they were sure Jesus hadn't bothered to worry his head about that.

Number two this Jesus was the object of grave concern because he had been teaching SPIRITUAL worship that God must be worshiped by placing HIM at the center of life instead of by just keeping rigid rules and regulations.

Number three they had to show this man who was really in control of spiritual matters so they found him and began their interrogation.

This is one of the funniest stories in the Bible, in one way. The interchange between the big shots and the blind man becomes actually almost hilarious.

"Tell us about what happened," they say.

He does.

"Well, this man couldn't be good and do what he did not the Sabbath."

"I think it's pretty good, what he did," says the blind man. "I'm learning to read at 35 years of age!"

"Don't get smart with us," they say. "Maybe you are twin brothers or something." Then, "Let's go and ask his mom and dad."

Mom and Dad don't need trouble with the authorities. They don't want to make any waves.

"No," they say, "we only have the one blind son he was blind all his life that's him he's 35 years old he can speak for himself."

The big shots look the poor man up again.

"Tell us what happened," they say.

"I have already told you about six times," he says. " Are you considering joining the Church of the Nazarene?" Oooh, that one burned!

"Don't be smart with us! We know this man is bad news."

"Bad news, good news ," our friend is getting testy. "All I know is this: I was blind. I can now see 20/20! That is the sum and total of it!"

For his veracity and tenacity the blind man succeeded in getting the high up people very angry. On the spot they officially excommunicated him. His last hope of heaven, supposedly, was out the window. Their rage must have been a bit sobering even for the ex blind man, and I'm sure his parents, who didn't want to make trouble, were devastated.

But then comes the best part of the story: Remember, this man had never ever even once seen Jesus. I'm sure Jesus planned it that way. He could have healed him on the spot and when he opened his eyes to see for the first time the first thing he would have seen would have been Jesus instead of that donkey by the pool of Siloam. But Jesus had sent him away to wash.

The blind man didn't know what Jesus looked like but Jesus looked him up. The disciples said, "Jesus, Master, you know that man you healed last Sabbath day? The authorities have cast him out! His whole neighborhood is buzzing about three visits in one day by the long black robes and all the commotion." So Jesus went looking for him.

And Jesus found him. "Do you believe in Messiah?" Jesus asked.

"Who is Messiah?" answered the man. " I'd like to be able to believe." And then here it came again! Last week to a Samaritan woman, this week to an excommunicated ex beggar blind man. Jesus reveals to one person the fact that He is the Messiah.

"You're looking at him!" said Jesus.

"Lord, I believe!" said the blind man who now could see in more ways than one. Down on his knees before the Son of God he went.

Then Jesus said one of those enigmatic statements that aren't too difficult to understand if you really want to understand them: "I've come, he said, to help blind people see, and to make those who see become as blind as bats."

Some Pharisees heard him and they got really upset because they thought they knew what Jesus meant. It was then they asked the question I began this sermon with: "YOU'RE NOT TELLING US THAT WE'RE BLIND, ARE YOU? ARE WE BLIND?"

And Jesus said: "THERE ISN'T ANYONE QUITE AS BLIND AS THE ONE WHO THINKS HE KNOWS EVERYTHING!"

AM I BLIND, JESUS?

If I am a know it all, yes!

But if I am in a living connection with Jesus I can say No! I am not blind! The LORD is my Shepherd!

With Jesus as prophet, priest, and king I can see: If my life is centered in Him ('looking unto Jesus' Hebrews 12:3) As Prophet he helps me see clearly what is his will, As Priest he shows me that the cross and the empty tomb are my salvation, and As King he is the shepherd who leads me even through the (Glen Coe) dark valleys of shadow.

In Chapter 8:12 Jesus said these words: "I am the light of the world. Whoever follows me will never walk in darkness, but will have the light of life."

Prayer & Hymn 424 The Song of the Soul Set Free

The One Imperative Life

February 28, 1999

Last week we began Lent with Matthew's story of Jesus facing temptation in the wilderness. The lesson from that story: THERE IS NO SHORT CUT TO INTEGRITY.

Today we begin a four-week visit in John's Gospel, for four Lenten lessons. John was very selective in writing his story of Jesus. He chose seven discourses, seven miracles, and seven "I AM" statements Jesus made about himself. He had a SINGLE purpose in his selectivity (20:30-31): 'Jesus did many other things beside what is written here, but these were selected and written down "that you might believe that Jesus is the Son of God, and that believing you may have life in His name.'"

John is interested in one question: DO YOU HAVE ETERNAL LIFE?

THE ONE IMPERATIVE: LIFE!

John 3:3, 5, 7 "... You must be born again"

I. NICODEMUS VERY EVIDENTLY WAS INTERESTED IN THIS QUESTION.

The conversation between Jesus and this scholarly Pharisee is the first of the seven discourses recorded in the Gospel.

Nicodemus addressed Jesus as a teacher. He was looking for learned discourse, looking for a lesson. Jesus is a teacher. [We can learn the language of salvation; the so-called 'life-style.'] But salvation is not LEARNED.

(Later another intelligent, respectful (Rich Young Ruler) came to Jesus, and asked, "What must I DO to be saved?" Jesus said, "Empty your hands. There isn't anything you can DO! Come follow Me!" Salvation is not EARNED.)

Jesus told Nicodemus: "This is mysterious stuff! The wind blows where it will, and you see its effects. The Holy Spirit is like that! He is blowing right now if you will stop and look and listen! YOU MUST BE BORN AGAIN!" Nicodemus was mystified! This seemed like non-sense! What is this Rabbi talking about?

II. SALVATION IS A RESPONSE TO GRACE

- A. A response TO GRACE : Jesus gave the Pharisee a quick challenge to faith: "Do you remember that story about how our ancestors in the wilderness were bitten by snakes?" Jesus said.

"Of course," answered the scholar. "Every schoolboy knows that story."

"You remember how they sinned, and as punishment they were being killed by poisonous snakes? Do you remember how they were kept from dying when they were bitten?"

"Yes."

"Well, just as Moses put a brass serpent on a pole and lifted it high so it could be seen by those who were dying, God the Father is lifting up his Son in love high above the earth, on a Cross, and whoever LOOKS in faith will live forever!"

SALVATION IS NOT ABOUT 'DOING'; IT IS HAVING SOMETHING DONE.

Jesus has paid the penalty for sin, your sins, and my sins, and the sins of the whole world on the cross. But we are still dead and dying in our sins unless and until we look to the cross.

We can't simply hear a lesson and learn how to live. We are not called by God to be "better" men and women. We are cursed by sin, and God is calling us to be "different" with a different center; TO BE 'BORN AGAIN.'

- B. SALVATION IS A RESPONSE TO GRACE. A RESPONSE :THE INITIATIVE IS GOD'S

When we talk of eternal life the story of Abraham always comes up. Abraham responded to God's clear call. "Where You lead is where I am going." Until God called, Abraham wasn't going anywhere. When he responded, God made covenant with him, and he was justified by faith. Until God calls you and me, we are without hope and without life. Until we respond we are still lost.

C. GOD IS CALLING!

But the wonder is GOD DOES CALL! God's Spirit still does come where we are and say: "Will you quit this way of living and come, follow Me?" Abraham said, "You lead, and I'll follow!" Do you dare pray a prayer like that? Have you been challenged in your inner spirit that God wants YOU?

God wants to lead you into a covenant relationship with HIM! He wants to forgive your sins. He wants to give you a new kind of life, real LIFE, that you can share with HIM. He wants to adopt you into His family, for ever and ever. He wants to make you like Himself! All this simply because he loves you. The price is already paid. All you need to do is LOOK and LIVE!!

III. WHY IS SOMETHING SO SIMPLE SO VERY DIFFICULT TO SEE??

- A. One reason is OUR HANDS ARE ALREADY FULL. We are talking when we need to be listening. We are too busy being "good" and working our own salvation: A story both Henri Nouwen and Barbara Brown Taylor have used goes like this:

Once upon a time, there was a woman who set out to discover the meaning of life. She read everything she could get her hands on history, philosophy, psychology, religion. She became a very smart person, but nothing she read gave her the answer she was looking for. She sought out other smart people and asked them about the meaning of life. They had long and lively discussions, but she was never satisfied.

At last she took a leave of absence, closed her house, and set off in search of the meaning of life. She went around the world. She went to India. She went to South America. She heard about a man who knew the meaning of life, and asked about him everywhere she went. Finally, someone told her where he lived on a mountain, in a tiny little hut just below the eternal snows.

She climbed and climbed to reach his front door. When she finally got there, with knuckles so cold they hardly worked, she knocked.

"Yes?" said the kind looking old man who opened it. She thought she would die of happiness.

"I have come halfway around the world to ask you one question," she said, gasping for breath.

"What is the meaning of life?"

"Please come in and have some tea," the old man said.

"No," she said. "I mean, no thank you. I didn't come all this way for tea. I came for an answer. Won't you tell me, please, what is the meaning of life?"

"We shall have tea," the old man insisted, so she gave up and came inside. While he was brewing the tea she caught her breath and began telling him about all the books she had read, all the people she had met, all the places she had been. The old man listened (which was just as well, since he couldn't get a word in edgewise), and as she talked he placed a fragile tea cup in her hand. Then he began to pour the tea.

She was so busy talking that she didn't notice when the tea cup was full. So the old man just kept pouring until the tea ran over the sides of the cup and spilled to the floor in a steaming waterfall.

"What are you doing? !" she yelled when the tea burned her hand.

"It's full, can't you see that? Stop! There's no more room!"

"Just exactly so," the old man said to her. "You come here wanting something from me, but what am I to do? There is no more room in your cup. Come back when it is empty and then we will talk." (Barbara Brown Taylor, "Stay for Tea, Nicodemus" Christian Century, Feb 21, 1996)

(WHY IS SOMETHING SO SIMPLE SO VERY DIFFICULT TO SEE??)

- B. Another reason WE TAKE HOLY THINGS FOR GRANTED. It may be that we have heard so much about God's unconditional love that we have confused it with UNIVERSAL SALVATION. If there is nothing we can DO to be saved, then we take it that we will be saved without even genuinely responding to God's grace. UNCONDITIONAL LOVE IS NOT THE SAME AS UNIVERSAL SALVATION. Unconditional love is NOT the same as universal salvation!

God loves you. He loves me. He loves us just as we are, warts and all. He loves the worst sinner. But the most effective lie from the pit of hell that is loose in the churches today is the old Antinomian heresy of a false confidence in a kind of love that is not holy, and does not come from a holy God.

IV. THE QUESTION: DO YOU HAVE ETERNAL LIFE?

DO YOU KNOW YOU ARE RIGHT WITH GOD?

NO QUESTION WE CAN ASK IS MORE PROFOUNDLY IMPORTANT

Do you know that you have passed from spiritual death into this life in Christ Jesus told Nicodemus about? Are you SAVED? This is not a question about which we can afford to be casual.

People who spend great pains preparing for their children's future, and who invest time and fortune getting ready for retirement can be very careless about what it means to be ready for an eternity with a holy God. As surely as there is a heaven of joy and reunions and eternal feasting awaiting those who simply look in faith to the Cross of Christ, there is a hell of eternal emptiness and isolation in the darkness away from God's face for those who refuse the free gift of God's grace.

[[Jude, the Lord's brother, wrote about pretenders at the church's love feasts, big as life, sitting there eating without the slightest qualm, but he says (in vs 12,13) "they are twice dead- wild waves of the sea, foaming up their shame- wandering star, for whom blackest darkness is reserved forever." In Peter's epistle Peter echoes this reality, saying "blackest darkness is reserved for them."]]

THAT NIGHT LONG AGO NICODEMUS HEARD THE GOOD NEWS OF THE GOSPEL
When he had heard, the response was up to him. Would he look to the Son of God and be saved? Or would he go on in darkness?

The One Imperative Life

Sooner or later that same question comes to every one of us.

HOW DO WE KNOW? When we are saved, there is new LIFE! (Regeneration) and our SINS are all FORGIVEN (Justification) and we are welcomed into God's FAMILY (Adoption) and begin to be made LIKE JESUS (Sanctification.)

But how do we know?

HAVE YOU SAID "YES!" TO GOD'S CALL? ARE YOU EVEN NOW SAYING "YES, LORD!" THAT'S how we know!

Prayer

461 Open My Eyes, That I May See

Light for the Way

A Story of a Gift of Light

Lent IV

March 14, 1999

John 9:1-41

What a week it was for the man who had been born blind! Highs higher than high. And then lows lower than low.

He had been living by begging until Jesus came along and found him in his blindness. Jesus spat in the dust and made a clay and anointed the blind man's eyes. He sent him off to the pool of Siloam, still blind— never having seen Jesus at all. "Go wash!" was all he said. He obeyed, and came away seeing.

When you think of it, sight had to be a traumatic change. I wonder if he had to close his eyes to get his bearings to even get home. He must have been fascinated by the simplest of sights. He had never seen a pigeon, or a donkey, or his mother's face. It had to be total good news. Not spiritual news. No spiritual application now. Just good news.

What happened? His neighbors asked. He told them. "A man named Jesus anointed my eyes with cool mud and told me to go wash. I did and now as you can see, I can see!" Everyone was happy. He was a celebrity. If he lived in our time he would have been on Larry King Live.

But then the religious people had to rain on his parade.

They brought in their idea of the spiritual dimension. Maybe the blind man had never seen Jesus but they had. And they didn't like Jesus. So now the people who know everything about everything— who have a faith of rules and regulations that exist to maintain their traditions, rather than traditions that nurture and maintain their faith— these people said, "This is outside OUR control! This is too dangerous!" They moved in.

1. Nobody does anything or goes anywhere on the Sabbath unless WE say so." [The healing had taken place on the Sabbath.] Of course there were ways to get around Sabbath rules— but they were sure Jesus hadn't bothered to worry his head about that.
2. This Jesus was the object of grave concern because he had been teaching SPIRITUAL worship— that God must be worshiped by placing HIM at the center of life— instead of by just keeping rigid rules and regulations.
3. They had to show this man who was really in control of spiritual matters— so they found him and began their interrogation.

This is one of the funniest stories in the Bible, in one way. The interchange between the big shots and the blind man becomes actually almost hilarious.

"Tell us about what happened," they say.

He does.

"Well, this man couldn't be good and do what he did not the Sabbath."

"I think it's pretty good, what he did," says the blind man. "I'm learning to read at 35 years of age!"

"Don't get smart with us," they say. "Maybe you are twin brothers or something." Then, "Let's go and ask his mom and dad."

Mom and Dad don't need trouble with the authorities. They don't want to make any waves.

"No," they say, "we only have the one blind son— he was blind all his life— that's him— he's 35 years old— he can speak for himself."

The big shots look the poor man up again.

"Tell us what happened," they say.

"I have already told you about six times," he says. "Are you considering following the Nazarene?" Oooh, that one burned!

"Don't be smart with us! We know this man is bad news."

"Bad news, good news—," our friend is getting testy. "All I know is this: I was blind. I can now see 20/20! That is the sum and total of it!"

For his veracity and tenacity the blind man succeeded in getting the high-up people very angry. On the spot they officially excommunicated him. His last hope of heaven, supposedly, was out the window. Their rage must have been a bit sobering even for the ex-blind man, and I'm sure his parents, who didn't want to make trouble, were devastated.

But then comes the best part of the story: Remember, this man had never ever even once seen Jesus. I'm sure Jesus planned it that way. He could have healed him on the spot and when he opened his eyes to see for the first time the first thing he would have seen would have been Jesus instead of that donkey by the pool of Siloam. But Jesus had sent him away to wash.

The blind man didn't know what Jesus looked like— but Jesus looked him up. The disciples said, "Jesus, Master, you know that man you healed last Sabbath day? The authorities have cast him out! His whole neighborhood is buzzing about three visits in one day by the long black robes and all the commotion." So Jesus went looking for him.

And Jesus found him. "Do you believe in Messiah?" Jesus asked.

"Who is Messiah?" answered the man. "I'd like to be able to believe." And then here it came again! Last week to a Samaritan woman, this week to an excommunicated ex-beggar blind man. Jesus reveals to one person the fact that He is the Messiah.

"You're looking at him!" said Jesus.

"Lord, I believe!" said the blind man who now could see in more ways than one. Down on his knees before the Son of God he went.

Then Jesus said one of those enigmatic statements that aren't too difficult to understand if you really want to understand them: "I've come, he said, to help blind people see, and to make those who see become as blind as bats."

This is an arresting story of darkness and light, light and darkness. But it is more than a story. It is a lesson: Jesus said some very profound things about blindness and sight, and darkness and light:

Light Both Heals And Blinds

Jesus made some profound statements about 'spiritual light'. He said (39) that Light divides. He said he came into the world so that people who were in darkness could see, but also so that people who see might be made blind. Light divides. The most dangerous thing in the world, spiritually, is to play with what you know to be God's truth. In the Sermon on the Mount Jesus Himself said, (Matt 6:23) If therefore the light that is in you becomes darkness, how great is that darkness!!!!!!

- Jesus said: Light is precious. He said, "I must work the works of Him that sent me while it is day." ONLY as God gives us light we are able to discern right and wrong. The spiritual light that shines into the life of every follower of Jesus gives opportunity to do the father's will.
- Jesus said: Light is limited. Jesus also said "The night comes when no one can work!" There is a night coming that will end the day we know. It seems a pity that it takes scare tactics and selfish motivation to get people excited about getting ready for the inevitable appointment we have with eternity. So-called Christian entrepreneurs are making money scaring people with Y2K speculation when a real crisis looms out there for every one of us. The night coming is not to be feared if we know the Shepherd who has promised to be with us even in the valley of the shadow of death. But neither is the coming of night to be ignored.

The Question

The religious experts were stung by the fact that Jesus was not impressed with their self-righteousness. They threw out a bitter rhetorical question:

Are we blind too?

Jesus threw the question back at the questioners. If you really were blind, and honest, even like the blind man, then there would be great hope for you. But since you say, "We can figure out the answers for ourselves!" the fact is you are without Light and without Hope!

But this is a haunting question! Do we dare ask it of Jesus??

Are we blind too? Are WE blind? I'm sure we ALL have our blind spots! But there is a key to understanding in the very way we ask the question! The Pharisees "KNEW" they were NOT blind, and they asked in anger!! But if we come in humility the fact is we will find grace that covers our sins. (Psalm 139 "Search me!") We admit the possibility that we ARE blind!!

But remember what Jesus told us:

Light IS precious! The tiniest candle can push back an ocean of darkness! When God shines in your soul, walk in that light! You need light! I need light! We can't live without it! (Pilgrim's Progress . . "Conversion" Do you see that light?" "I think I do!")

We may have Light for the asking. But it is a humbling thing to be died for! To come the way of grace. And we need to walk in the light we have before we get more.

We may have light. And as we walk humbly in the light we are saved! (I John 1:7,9)

Light is limited! We must work while it is day. We spoke a moment ago about the Y2K scare. People are more concerned about Y2K than they are about the night that is coming when no one can work.

Will you ask the God of Light to let YOU shine in the lives of those you love?

How long has it been since you thought seriously about what Jesus said about the Day of his Coming? We have become so sophisticated, and we have let the extremists and know-it-all self-proclaimed prophets rave about the end of the world that we forget that light IS limited!

What would happen if instead of Y2K and failure of computer chips around the world in some way known only to God He would decide that time will be no more and ring the curtain down on this day and say "That's it! What's done is done!"

Jesus said "As long as I am in the world I am the light of the world." But guess who the light of the world is NOW? God is depending on you!

A Closing Prayer (from a UMH #456)

O Lord,

open my eyes that I may see the needs of others;

open my ears that I may hear their cries;

open my heart so that they need not be without succor;

let me not be afraid to defend the weak because of the anger of the strong, nor afraid to defend the poor because of the anger of the rich.

Show me where love and hope and faith are needed, and use me to bring them to those place.

And so open my eyes and my ears that I may this coming day be able to do some work of peace for thee.

Amen.

459 Open Our Eyes, Lord

Summons to Life

March 21, 1999

Lent V

Ezekiel 37; John 11

THE FUNERAL WAS OVER.

Soon the official time of mourning would be over as well. Where there's life there's hope. That's good human optimism. But death is another matter. Death has a ring of finality. Where there's death it's all over, isn't it?

The words of Jesus in the face of death don't seem to make sense. How can a dead person hear and believe? Jesus said, "The one that believes in me, even if they are dead, yet shall live; and whoever is alive and believes in me will never die!"

Have you ever been really down? I have. Have you ever prayed in desperation, and felt like nothing happened? I have. Have you ever felt as though the last train had left and you weren't on it? I think that is what these scriptures are talking about. These are not "self-help" scriptures. They are words about grace that comes when everything else has gone.

I believe that Jesus came to show us that nothing can frustrate God's love for us. Jesus came to let us know that while we can't avoid life's reality- there will be times of loss and pain- yet in the dark we can trust; God is there and if we listen He is calling our name.

I. THE JEWS IN BABYLON WERE REALLY DOWN.

They prayed in desperation and nothing happened. Their pathway to hope was closed down permanently. And then God sent along a visionary prophet with fantastic word-pictures. Wheels in wheels, mysterious flying creatures, and a God who knows and cares.

Ezekiel's vision really is a tremendous message of hope if it is received from faith to faith. You have heard the details read again today: the prophet finds himself in a valley, grim and foreboding. It is exceedingly dry. Even worse, it is populated with human skeletons, and they, too are dried and scattered.

God speaks to the prophet. He asks him a question: "Son of man, can these dry bones live?" The prophet is wise. He does not know the answer, even though he knows, humanly, there is no hope. "O Lord God, " he says, "you know the answer to that question."

God speaks again. This time it is a command. "Preach over these dead bones," God says. "Tell them, 'O dry bones, hear the word of the Lord.'"

"Tell them 'Thus saith the Lord God YHWH: Behold I will cause breath to enter you that you may come back to life. And I will put sinews on you, make flesh grow back on you, cover you with skin, and put breath in you that you may come alive, and you will know that I AM the LORD.'"

So Ezekiel, in his vision, stood there in the valley of dry bones and preached the word God had given him. Then in the virtual reality of his vision Ezekiel reported, "Even as I preached there was a rattling and a shaking and the bones came together, bone by bone, until there was an army of bodies" But they were just that– bodies, for, Ezekiel said, "There was no breath in them."

Just then God broke in again and spoke to his prophet: "Prophecy to the wind, now, Son of man, and say to the Wind, 'Come Holy Spirit, and blow over these dead bodies!' What a vision! In his vision Ezekiel saw this great army of corpses come alive and stand to their feet, ready to take orders from God, ready to live! And Ezekiel understood.

The exiles in Babylon heard and understood as well. WHEN THEY WERE WILLING TO RECOGNIZE THEIR OWN HELPLESSNESS– GOD'S WORD SPARKED THE LIGHT OF HOPE. The word of God was not dependent on their resources. It was a call to life that rekindled new life and new hope. Even in the dark we can trust; God is there. If we listen He is calling our name.

II. THE FUNERAL WAS OVER.

Martha's and Mary's faith had slipped into the past tense. They both said the very same thing when Jesus finally arrived four days after their brother Lazarus had died and was buried: "Lord, IF you HAD been here, my brother would not have died!"

Several interesting things stand out in this story of the final miracle in John's Gospel: Jesus' timing. (Why did he stay where He was so long?) Thomas's devotion: "Let's go an die with him!" Jesus' powerful, wonderful words: "I AM the resurrection and the life. Those who believe in me, even though they die, will live, and everyone who lives and believes in me will never die. Do you believe this?" These are words we have learned to use with power at our funerals. They give us hope for we know the Authority behind them.

Jesus asked them to take him to the grave. They said, "Come, we'll take you there."

Jesus wept. (Lots of speculation here. But real men cry; they feel; they CARE!)

Then Jesus said, "Take away the stone that seals the grave." Mary said, "It won't be good." Lazarus had been dead four days. Jesus said, "Hold steady. Trust me."

Jesus called: Lazarus, come forth! The final miracle of John's Gospel was a preview of the time when by the power of his own Resurrection Jesus could say for all the world to hear: "Do not be afraid: I AM the First and the Last. I am He who lives and was dead, and behold, I am alive forevermore. Amen. And I have the keys of Hell and of Death." (Rev. 1: 17,18) It was an astounding miracle. It ended hopelessness for the household in Bethany. And it set off the final countdown to the Cross.

CONCLUSION

[[Have you ever been really down? I have. Have you ever prayed in desperation, and felt like nothing happened? I have. Have you ever felt as though the last train had left and you weren't on it? I think that is what these scriptures are talking about. These are not "self-help" scriptures. They are words about grace that comes when everything else has gone.]]

Summons to Life

God sent Ezekiel to exiles in Babylon who thought their situation was hopeless, Ezekiel with his fantastic vision of dry bones coming to life. That vision seemed unconnected to life as it really is lived. It flew in the face of common sense and logic. But it connected.

"We may be as good as dead," they said. "But God is not! We hear him calling us to hear his Word of creation!" And they listened and lived!

The situation in Bethany, humanly, was past hope. The human word of optimism is "Where there's life there's hope." But Lazarus was DEAD! God's Word is "Where there is GRACE there is HOPE!" Jesus is God's Word of GRACE!

Where you are just now– where I am– if we will just stop and listen we just may hear Jesus calling our name!

In a work called "May I Have this Dance?" Joyce Rupp said in poetry what I think I've been trying to say:

*There I am in Ezekiel's valley
one heap among many, just another stack of old, dry bones.*

*Some Mondays feel this way, and Tuesdays, too,
to say nothing of Wednesday, Thursday, Friday.*

Lost dreams and forgotten pleasures, sold like a soul to a gluttonous world

feeding on my frenzy and anxious activity.

*But just when the old heap of bones seems most dry and deserted,
a strong Breath of Life stirs among my dead.*

*Someone names God comes to my fragments and asks, with twinkling eye,
"May I have this dance?"
The voice stretches into me,
a stirring leaps in my heart,
lifting up the bones of death.*

Then I offer my waiting self to the One who's never stopped believing in me, and the dance begins.

PRAYER

Lord Jesus, If we hear what we think we hear today, You are calling our name! We want to come to Life! O God, without YOU life is not really Life at all. We hear you say, "Come to Me!" Please, Jesus, help us take that next step Into your Presence, because knowing You is What Life is all about. Amen.

HYMN #305 (STL) O Breath of Life Verses 1 & 3 only

King Jesus on a Donkey

Palm Sunday

March 28, 1999

Matthew 21:1-13; Philippians 2:5-11

The face-to-face showdown was inevitable. Jesus had become unbearable to the religious powers that controlled Jerusalem. They were on a collision course. But no one could predict how that final confrontation would take place.

Some who thought they knew Jesus saw in him a possible leader for a revolt against hated foreign government. Maybe the people would rally and they could take back Jerusalem from the hated Romans.

Others thought they knew Jesus, and told him to stay away from Jerusalem altogether. They were sure his kind spirit and his powerful words were no match for swords and spears. They just wanted to keep things the way they were as long as they could.

But both ways of facing the conflict were mistaken. The battle would be joined. Jesus would meet his challenge head on. But no one could predict how the inevitable conflict would unfold.

It Began With A Parade.

The joyful, tumultuous procession down the hill called Olivet may have looked as though it just spontaneously happened. But this Triumphal Procession was orchestrated and deliberate. The gospels make it clear that Jesus sent for the donkey he would ride. It wasn't the disciples' idea; it was Jesus'.

A parade may seem at first to be a total contradiction to both the humility of the lowly Man from Galilee and the terrible events of the Friday to follow. And it might even seem silly or ludicrous for the lowly Nazarene to ride a donkey down Olivet's hill, and be hailed as a king. But the funny thing is, no one was laughing!

The enemies of Jesus certainly were not laughing. They said, "The whole world is going after him!" And maybe not the whole world just then, but Matthew tells us that this excitement got the attention of the entire city. The battle was joined. The opposition could not ignore further.

The crowd certainly was not laughing! They were shouting and jubilant! They were caught in the excitement of praise! It was entirely fitting!

Jesus was not laughing, either! He was accepting of the praise that should only be given to God; in fact he told his critics, "If these don't praise me, the stone in the road will cry out praise to their creator!"

King Jesus on a donkey! What a statement of contrasts! Jesus is Emmanuel. He is God and he is fully human. In him combine the majesty and strength as well as the humility and faith of very God and very man.

That parade down the slope of Olivet made a powerful statement about Jesus. It gave a glimpse into his majesty and authority. It refuted the idea that he was a local, temporal revolutionary, for he was sent for the salvation of the whole world. It made it clear that he was not to be a martyr or victim, no matter how it looked that next Friday. Jesus was moving without swerving to do the father's will, conquering sin, and death, and hell.

A Statement Of Authority: Lion And Lamb Combine In Jesus

Everything about Jesus that day spoke of his majesty and authority. In the way Jesus orchestrated the parade Jesus showed it was not by accident this parade took place. The very act of sitting calmly on an unbroken colt which had never before been ridden is remarkable. Somehow I have the feeling the colt was delighted to have the opportunity to carry its Creator.

As the parade reached the temple area, Jesus exercised authority in a remarkable way. He moved through the holy ground overturning the money changers tables and driving out the people making business out of religion. "My house," he shouted in majestic anger,"is to be a place of prayer for all nations. You have made it a den of robbers!"

A Higher Vision Than Freeing Israel From Romans

The parade did not make its way to the houses of government: it stopped at the temple. Jesus knew he was the Paschal Lamb, and that this Passover would be the fulfillment of the Baptist's prophecy: "Behold the Lamb of God that takes away the sins of the world!" Jesus told Pilate late that next week: "My kingdom is not of this world or my people would fight!"

The parade that day was to make the statement that Jesus was not a Martyr, but a Champion.

The King was taking the fight to the enemy; he came to bear witness to the Truth; he IS the Truth. He was not running away or hiding from fear. Yes, he would be arrested. Yes, he would be mocked and crucified. But he could forgive even those who crucified him. And hardened soldiers saw something awesome in the One they nailed to the cross.

Here, today, we make a break in the story of Christ's passion that we know so very well. We know in our minds how it unfolds; we have heard it over and over. But it is not a myth. It was all very real: Jesus had to live through that Holy Week.

There was a crisis in the drama on that same mountainside that next Thursday night, in a garden called Gethsemane, where Jesus prayed "Not my will but thine be done." He was arrested, and the final confrontation continued to the Cross, and then to the Open Tomb, and on to the Emmaus Road, and beyond.

Exactly 47 days after this strange and wonderful parade, on this very hillside where the people shouted hosanna and the authorities complained, Jesus, now risen from the dead, led his disciples to the very place where the parade began. There he told them to go back to Jerusalem and wait for the Holy Spirit. And then Jesus ascended into the very Presence of the glory of the Father. There he sat down in unspeakable majesty to begin his Session.

King Jesus on a Donkey

He had not hesitated to humble himself to do the Father's will. He did not once violate the integrity of his love for God and for you and me. And as a result he has opened a pathway between a holy God and sinful me and sinful you. He has made it possible for us to walk that wonderful pathway. And the story continues to this very moment . . .

Hear the challenge of the scripture:

"Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus, who, being in the form of God, did not consider it something to be held onto to be equal with God, but made himself of no reputation, taking the form of a slave, and being born in human likeness. And being found in human form, he humbled himself and became obedient to the point of death, even the death of the cross.

"Therefore God also highly exalted him gave him the name which is above every name, so that at the name of Jesus every knee should bend, in heaven, and on earth, and under the earth, and every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father."
(Philippians 2: 5 - 11)

Prayer

Almighty God our father, We pay homage to Christ in his majestic triumph, With songs and palms we follow his parade into the holy city. Grant that we may dare to follow him in his humility as well, With surrender and trust and obedience to the father's will for our lives, So that with joy we may come to the Heavenly Jerusalem To be with Him who reigns with You and the Holy Spirit To all eternity. Amen

Hymn 215 All Glory Laud and Honor

or 217 Hosanna, Loud Hosanna

or 124 All Hail the Pow'r

Praising God in "Handed Over" Life

April 1, 1999

"...the Lord Jesus, the same night he was betrayed took bread ..."

I've been reading devotions by Henri J. M. Nouwen this Lenten season, a little book Esther Sanger gave to me almost five years ago. This week I got new insight into a word we associate with Good Friday and salvation. The word is "passion."

The word "Passion" correctly refers to the agony of Jesus. The Oxford English Dictionary has as its first definition of Passion: "The suffering of Jesus on the cross (also often including the Agony in Gethsemane.)"

But there are shades of meaning to the word passion that shed light on Christ's mission and on our own calling to follow Him.

The way I commonly think of passion is the OED's third general definition, i.e.: "An affection of the mind; any kind of feeling by which the mind is powerfully affected or moved." I can have an (almost) passionate love for Scotland. Some people have a passion for certain ball teams. We can be passionate about faith, or love, or various pursuits.

But I am intrigued by the second general definition of the OED in relation to Jesus: "The fact of being acted upon, the being passive. Being acted upon or affected by an external agency."

The night Jesus ate the last Passover with his disciples, and gave them the Great Commandment: "Love one another as I have loved you—" that night Jesus was betrayed. The word in Greek (pa-ad-dou-) means "handed over, give into the hands of." It is what Judas did in the Garden that night, but it is also the same word in Romans, spoken of God the Father, "He that spared not his own Son, but "handed him over" (pa-ad-dou-) for the sake of us all, how shall he not with him also freely give us all things?"

Henri Nouwen points out that in the passion, in the sacrifice, Jesus finished his mission not by what he actively does, but by what is done to him! The passion, proper, began when he was handed over to those who bound him, and took him from place to place, and mock inquiry to mock trial to the Cross itself. His ministry had gone from action to passion.

Most of our lives, yours and mine, comes to us without asking, and without anything we can do about it. We have the illusion that we can control our own destiny. Self-help books are best sellers, and always will be. But passion is a great part of our lives than action. It is how we respond in the parts of life that are "handed over" to things beyond our control that shape our character, and ultimately fulfill our purpose as Christians.

Certainly what we do for God is important. It is wonderful to follow a vocation, and attempt great things for God, and even accomplish great things for God. That is sometimes the only way we can see things: in terms of what we can measure, or see, or count. But as hard as it may be to believe, it is not a cop-out to say that what we are is far more important in God's eyes, even, than what we do. The kind of person we are, the trust we put in God, and the integrity with which we seek to obey Him are somehow more precious to him than all our accomplishments. If we can, like Jesus, say "Yes!" to the Father's will even in the darkness of being betrayed, "handed over", we will be letting his passion speak to us where it counts.

Somehow the Book of Job is relevant here; it gives insight into how God knows and cares and even highly values genuine integrity above active accomplishment. You remember the setting of that poem: God brags on Job, and says, "Have you considered my servant who loves me and hates evil?" Then comes the contest or wager: the Adversary asks "Does Job love YOU, or does he just love your blessings?" And so Job is tested. But in it all, Job does not have a righteous clue as to what is going on. He is being "handed over" and in his integrity in that time of helplessness he is making God very proud of him.

In surrendering to the Father's will, and trusting Him through the darkest days in all history, Jesus has shown us, by his passion, that we can dare to trust where we cannot see. It is very meet and right, and our bounden duty to praise God when the sun is shining, and when we are happily occupied in some good work. But maybe it is even more precious in the times, the many, many times, when we are "handed over"— maybe even betrayed— to say with Job, in the dark, "Even if God slays me, I will still believe He is good! I know He knows where I am! I will trust Him!"

That next dark day, the day we call Good Friday Jesus knew darkness like we never will. In his passion, his agony, his utter helplessness he cried out, "My God, My God WHY have you forsaken me?" for that is how he truly felt.

But his very next words, wonderful words, as he gave up his spirit and died, were words of trust: "Father, into Your hands I commend my spirit!" His passion was over! He would rise as Conqueror of sin and death and hell.

Invitation to Communion

April 1, 1999 - Continuation from meditation:

Scripture (I Corinthians 11:23 - 30)

For I received from the Lord what I also handed on to you, that the Lord Jesus on the night when he was betrayed took a loaf of bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it and said, "This is my body that is broken for you. Do this in remembrance of me." In the same way he took the cup also, after supper, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me." For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until he comes.

Whoever, therefore, eat the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord in an unworthy manner will be answerable for the body and blood of the Lord. Examine yourselves, and only then eat of the bread and drink of the cup. For all who eat and drink without discerning the body, eat and drink judgment against themselves. For this reason many of you are weak and ill, and some have died. [NRSV]

Apostles' Creed (#8)

Invitation to the Table of the Lord

Jesus Himself is the Host.

Examine your heart. If He bids you come, you are welcome.

Prayer of Confession/Forgiveness

The "holiest" among us needs every moment the grace of God; we are not holy in and of ourselves. We come short of the perfect will of God in performance, and all too often, we lag in spirit, are insensitive in our relationships, and act more to our own self interest than for the kingdom of God and the salvation of others.

For this we ask your forgiveness— purchase of your blood on Calvary.

We claim your promise: (I John 1:7,9) If we confess our sin, God is faithful and just to forgive us our sin, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

Prayer of Dedication

We ask that we may have your ASSURANCE that we have been CHOSEN of you to be your sons and daughters.

We ask that you will give us our ASSIGNMENT, not just our "big" assignment for life's career, but our day-by-day assignment of introducing You to those we know.

We ask that You will help us ACCEPT Your revealed will, and put you at the center of our lives, in all we do.

We ask that as we partake of these emblems of bread and the cup they may be for us true means of grace, by faith may we partake of your body and blood to our soul's life and health.

Lord's Prayer - (Instructions. Come, receive, and hold the bread and the cup and we will partake together.)

At the moment of partaking: The BODY of the Lord Jesus Christ: (may it) Preserve you blameless to life everlasting.

Again, with the cup: The BLOOD of the Lord Jesus Christ: Preserve you blameless to life everlasting.

#220 Lamb of Glory

- Into Tennebrae - (pa-ad-dou-)

With Jesus into Resurrection Life

Easter Sunday

April 4, 1999

Revelation 1:17 Do not be afraid. I am the First and the Last. I am the Living One; I was dead, and behold I am alive forever and ever! And I hold the keys of death and of Hades.

My earliest recollections of Easter are in the Great depression of the '30s, when, although I never recall being "poor," I do recall how many times we were literally "penniless." And yet Easter was always special. Easter we boiled eggs and colored them. Easter my mother would somehow always get us to church looking fresh and scrubbed, and in spring colors. Usually we had something brand new to wear, even in the Great Depression.

I got the idea that Easter was important— and of course that the Resurrection was the central thing about Easter.

EASTER REALLY MEANS RESURRECTION

ALL MY YEARS as a Christian pastor I have seen Easter as important, and have seen the Resurrection as the center of what Easter stands for.

But I think there has been a subtle change as I have been growing older. I no longer see the Resurrection as the most important part of Easter. I see the Resurrection of Jesus Christ as the heart and soul of all our faith, and Easter is an important part of the Resurrection, and not the other way around. As Paul wrote some twenty years or so after the Crucifixion, in 1 Corinthians 15:14 "If Christ has not been raised, our preaching is useless and so is your faith." It is as simple as that.

We praise God for the sacrifice of Christ on Calvary. We sing of the old rugged Cross. And that is very vital and true. But the resurrection is the engine that drives all our faith. The resurrection means that all we have to do with that connects with Jesus is vibrant and alive.

I. WE WORSHIP A LIVING SAVIOR

A. Because Jesus is alive, we have A LIVING WORD

Jesus is our living PROPHET. Jesus IS the Word of God. Our faith is a living faith, and our Scriptures are living Scriptures. If we read the Bible to find Jesus we find that He is there by His Spirit to help us find Him. (We read soteriologically instead of epistemologically.)

B. Because Jesus is alive, we have A LIVING WORSHIP

Jesus is our living High Priest. He is present in our worship of Him. When we gather in His name, he comes! I feel sorry for those who worship week by week and never make contact with a living God. He is present in the sacraments, yes. But also where two or three have gathered together.

When we worship we do not meet simply to enhance the life we once lived in the flesh. But we meet in the reality of the everlasting covenant. We meet in a union with God that has been sealed by the blood of the Cross.

C. Because Jesus is alive, we have A LIVING HOPE

Jesus is the Alpha and Omega, the King of Kings. We do not yet see all things the way they shall be in the full expression of the kingdom of God. The kingdom of God is at work on this planet in our time!

II. RESURRECTION LIFE BEGINS NOW, WITH GRACE

A. This resurrection life is a free gift.

"If you believe in me," said Jesus, "you will never die."

The news seems too good to be true. We can 'connect' with eternal life here and now, today. [Usually such claims are false advertising: if it seems too good to be true, it no doubt is too good to be true. But Jesus stands behind his promises.] How do we 'connect' with eternal life?

1. Do you want to know Jesus? Do you have desire to know God?

The desire comes from God. It is a measure of his grace. No one can come to me except the Father draw him. The faintest desire is precious; RESPOND TO THAT DESIRE.

2. Do you believe that Jesus is alive? That God has raised him from the dead?

The faith to believe comes from God. It may come with some struggle. Thank God for "doubting" Thomas! But by God's grace deep down within you can know this is true. This faith is not yet saving faith: it is grace reaching to you: RESPOND TO THAT FAITH

3. Confess with your mouth JESUS IS LORD! Romans 10: 9,10 says: "If we confess with our mouth the Lord Jesus, and if we believe in our hearts that God has raised him from the dead, we shall be saved!"

B. This life is too good to keep to ourselves!

A study friend of mine, Fr. Jerry Fuller, sent along a story about a boy named Joey. Joey was one of those scary little kids you come across every once in a while, the type who seems to know much more than you might expect in a child, the beginnings of wisdom in a five or six year old.

(I have a grandson Joey just like that— eight years old, and knows every Red Sox player and his number— can play an entire baseball game in the back yard, playing all positions, all nine innings, all by himself.)

Fr. Jerry's Joey's mother and father had always tried to live up to their responsibility as his first and most important teachers about faith. For a long time, their son had known about Jesus as though he were a member of the family. Joey knew how good Jesus was, how kind he was, how God was at work in Jesus and did wonderful things for all the people through his Son.

That year, during Holy Week, they also told Joey about what had happened to Jesus at the hands of bad people. They told him about Jesus suffering and his death. And on Easter morning, they told him that Jesus rose from the dead.

Joey always enjoyed learning about Jesus, and all during this special week, he was right there with Mom and Dad, seeming to take very seriously the sad story as it unfolded. But he did have a little trouble with the Resurrection. As a matter of fact, what he said was, "Nope. When you're dead, you're dead." Mom and Dad were perplexed, and they tried again, retelling the story. They explained that God acted on behalf of his Son, Jesus, that because Jesus was so true to God and so faithful to all God's people, God gave him new life.

Joey tried really hard to listen, but he was still shaking his head. Very patiently, Mom and Dad assured their son that they believed, and that it was really true.

Suddenly Joey jumped up and headed toward the telephone.

Where are you going? they asked. Who are you going to call?

Joey's face was bright, and eager, and intense. Does Grandpa know about this? I gotta tell him!

Joey had the right idea. The fact of Jesus rising from the dead is so mind-boggling that we immediately feel the need to tell someone. Mary Magdalene felt that need after seeing Jesus on resurrection, and she raced back to Jerusalem to tell the apostles: He is risen! That is something worth sharing!

WILL YOU AFFIRM YOUR FAITH IN THE RISEN LORD AGAIN WITH ME THIS MORNING?

Will you say with me, "Jesus is LORD!"? (Jesus is LORD!)

Prayer

He is LORD! He is Risen from the dead and He is Lord!

Whom Having Not Seen You Love

Easter 2A

April 9, 1999

John 20:19-31; Psalm 16

I Peter 1:8 Though you have not seen him, you love him.

John 20:29 Blessed are those who have not seen, and yet have believed.

THEY WERE MEETING BEHIND CLOSED DOORS on the very day of Christ's resurrection. The great victory over death had been fought and won, but they were still afraid, and I don't blame them. All power in heaven and on earth was now in the hand of their Lord. They had heard he was alive. Mary had seen him, or so she said. John believed. They wanted to believe. But they were afraid. I would have been, too. Oh, how they wanted to believe!

('Closed doors' sounds like A DEFENSIVE FAITH. A remnant mentality. 'Our dogma is the right dogma; our logic is the pure logic' There are Christians who worship like that to this day! There is a difference between defending the faith and a defensive faith.)

THEN JESUS WAS THERE! It was really Jesus! Somehow he was different. There was a glory that shone in his face; his clothing almost glowed– but somehow, too, he was the same! It was their Lord! An indescribable joy welled up in their hearts.

(PERHAPS OLD DREAMS WERE RESURRECTED THEN.) Perhaps all sorts of possibilities raced through the minds of the disciples there in that Upper Room. If Jesus had come back now maybe his revolution would begin? Maybe all the world would see him now, and fall in behind him? Maybe even the authorities who crucified him would simply give up? What would Jesus do now?

(By itself, human faith tends to be AN AMBITIOUS FAITH. If Jesus is really alive, then we had better get going! Somehow the planners always have the important role in the plan!)

THEN JESUS BREATHED ON THEM. He said, "Receive the Holy Spirit!"

They were still behind locked doors. They would go on meeting behind closed doors for some time to come. But with that breath of God a new kind of divine life had been planted. The church had been conceived. God's plan was under way.

"Receive the Holy Spirit," Jesus had said. Then he told them what the Holy Spirit would do through them. He was describing the core mission of the church that was yet to be born. "Whose sins you forgive will be forgiven. If you do not forgive them they won't be forgiven," is what Jesus said. The work of salvation is the central, solemn charge of Christ to his church.

THEN JESUS WAS GONE. The doors were still locked. The disciples were still afraid of the authorities. But a flame had been kindled. It was never extinguished again. The joy was still there. They were determined to obey Jesus and find out what in the world it was that he had said.

(The DEFENSIVE faith had faded along with the AMBITIOUS faith— at least for the time being. In its place Jesus had kindled AN OBEDIENT FAITH! The disciples had no idea of how Jesus would lead. They could not anticipate the next step. But they were willing to listen and learn.)

FOR FORTY DAYS Jesus came and went in what seems a mysterious fashion. When he was with the disciples they had no doubt at all that God was in his heaven and all would be right with his world. Where Jesus went in between times, where he slept, what dimensions he visited, all this is mystery.

During the forty days the core group of the embryonic church-to-be-born became totally convinced that Jesus was really who and what he said he was. We read of "many infallible proofs," and of "over 500 brethren at one time" that saw and believed. The life stirred within them.

They continued to meet in the same retreat. But when the Promise was fully come, then the breath of life that Jesus had breathed into them when he said, "Receive the Holy Spirit!"— when that breath one day became the outpouring of Pentecost with the sound of the mighty rushing wind, THEY UNLOCKED THE DOORS! Not to let the authorities in where they were, but to let the life and joy spill out.

THEY COULD NOT HOLD BACK THE LIFE THEY HAD RECEIVED. The church had been born! It began then to carry out the Plan. Jesus had told them, "I will build my church." Now he would begin to do it. Conceived on Resurrection Sunday, the church was born on Pentecost, and on its birthday 3,000 people were baptized. They died to sin and self, and came alive to Christ as they, too, received the Breath of the Holy Spirit.

(Defensive faith [became ambitious faith that] gave way to obedient faith. Obedient faith always leads to more and more of God. Pentecost fulfilled the Promise.)

But it all began behind locked doors. It began when fear turned to joy when the living Savior came. It began with a holy breath. It was the Second Creation of Man. (2 Corinthians 5:17)

THOMAS WAS NOT PRESENT THE DAY THE CHURCH WAS CONCEIVED. I'm glad that he wasn't. His story is like yours and mine. We weren't there either. So we say with Thomas, "I really want to know for myself! I need to be convinced!"

Thomas's confession is the climax of John's apology. It is the exact place where he intends for you and me to finally arrive. It is the place where life is conceived, where Jesus breathes life.

"Blessed are you!" Jesus said to Thomas, after he had shown him his hands and his side. But then Jesus said, "And blessed are YOU!" You here this morning behind closed doors. You have not seen me, but you love me! I love you, too! "Receive YE the Holy Spirit!" Believe in me! Trust me! Obey me! Let that life grow up within you!

THAT FIRST DAY OF THE NEW CREATION THE CHURCH WAS CONCEIVED.

For Thomas it was the second Sunday of Easter. Life, hope, joy— all were there with the dawning of the great truth: Jesus is alive!

There was worship! The Lord himself was with them! They knew they were alive in Him, and with Him. And although they did not understand it then, they were on course for Pentecost.

IT REMAINS FOR US TO RENEW THE GREAT CONFESSION. Jesus said we are blessed if by the Spirit we can truly believe he is risen from the dead. Peter said in the epistle lesson that even though we have never seen Jesus we have a genuine love for him. We have come to know Him.

Has Jesus breathed on us? Are we alive in Him? Those doors cannot contain such wonderful news for very long!

I'm sure they did not grasp it fully then— nor even fifty days later at Pentecost— but the disciples— and you and I— are where God lives on this earth.

It was the Presence that kindled this trust. Jesus is faithful: he is with us here and now! If we will let Him he will live within us, and walk with us. We may not know all about Him, but we may know Him. He loves us, and his perfect love cast out fear. David said, "If I can just BE WITH YOU I will be all right! In your Presence is joy! "

Prayer - Hymn (Chorus)

#301 O Breath of Life, OR

716 So Send I You- By Grace Made Strong

Moments of Recognition

April 18, 1999 (cf April 21, 1996)

Luke 24:13-35

The Walk to Emmaus is one of my very favorite stories in all the world. It brings the story of the earthly life of Jesus to a close in a way that is really a launching pad for a sequel that is still unfolding. Whatever it was that happened on that road the first Easter evening is still taking place.

There are a number of other stories of encounters with God in the Bible. Moses turned aside from his flock of sheep to see why a bush would burn and not be consumed. Jacob laid his head on a stone while he was running away from his troubles, and saw a stairway to heaven, and then, years later, he wrestled all night with a manifestation of God in the flesh. Isaiah saw the Lord high and lifted up in the Temple. But still I love the story of the Road to Emmaus perhaps best of all.

The Emmaus Road story contrasts with another famous encounter with the risen Savior. Saul of Tarsus first met Jesus on another road, going in another direction. On the Road to Damascus Jesus got Saul's attention by knocking him to the ground. In this story Jesus walked along with the disciples, warming their hearts with scripture, and would have walked on if they had not asked him to come in.

Perhaps those two encounters are examples of the ways some of us here today came to meet the risen Lord. Saul was not at all acquainted with Jesus before he met him on the Damascus Road. Paul was very much NOT a part of the followers of Jesus. But Jesus found Saul, and stunned him with conviction. His conversion story has all the subtlety of a whack on the head with a stick! Saul was blinded for three days, and his life turned around 180 degrees.

No one here has had a conversion exactly like Saul/Paul. But all the same, that confrontation, that shock, is the way some people need to find God if they ever find him at all. My own father never heard of being born again until he was 21 years old. His conversion was night and day, black and white, dramatic change, a break with everything old in his life. Maybe you were not brought up in the fellowship of Jesus, or with the followers of Christ. But God spoke to you, the Holy Spirit showed you where you were wrong and you repented and surrendered and Jesus became your Lord and Savior. There was a dramatic meeting with Christ you couldn't miss.

The two disciples on the Road to Emmaus had an altogether different problem. If Jesus was the last person Saul would have wanted to meet these two disciples were mourning because they loved Jesus so much, but believed they could never know him again. These were people who had spent time with Jesus, and with the friends of Jesus. Maybe they had heard the Sermon on the Mount maybe they even knew the Lord's Prayer by heart, and had been taught to pray by Jesus Himself.

When they met Jesus on their road, there was no light from heaven at least not the kind that knocked them to the ground. There was no persuasion from being against Christ to calling Him 'Lord.'

THE STORY ITSELF is deceptively simple:

The disciples were:

- SAD- which is understandable; they thought Jesus was dead, permanently.
- DISCOURAGED Their faith was in the past tense (If only it could be like it used to be) Jesus described them as sinful, or at least "slow of heart to believe"
- UNBELIEVING: even sinful in their inability to believe

The Savior was

- A COMPANION even as they walked the road. (Illustration: The walk to the hamburger stand??? [where God comes up along side] A FEW times since- YOU have had them, too ??)
- AN INTERPRETER OF SCRIPTURE Jesus demonstrated how we should read the Bible
Jesus is the reason for the Scriptures!
- REVEALED IN THE BREAKING OF BREAD

Their faith brought:

- THAWING HEART (like John Wesley's testimony!) as they walked. (Can it be that when WE talk about Jesus to others their hearts will also feel that warmth of His Presence, be "thawed"??)
- CERTAINTY! Their faith immediately came back into the PRESENT TENSE!! The fact that Jesus immediately disappeared was not the least discomfiting; the fact that he was very much alive, very real, totally satisfied their hearts. They would have to walk by faith for years they may never have such vivid assurance again but they knew what they had experienced.

Then . . .

- AN IRRESISTIBLE URGE TO SHARE THE GOOD NEWS!

They got up from the table and started back the seven miles to Jerusalem to tell the other friends of Jesus!! The Emmaus Road is the way some of us found the Lord. But the reason I love the story is that the Emmaus Road happens again and again.

This is not just a story about conversion it is a story of the re kindling of faith, of assurance. Even Saul needed this kind of reassurance: he had one Damascus Road experience, but then he went on to have many more encounters much more like the Emmaus Road.

The day his ship was wrecked, and strong men were failing with fear it was Paul who said, "Don't be afraid! God stood by me last night and said we are all going to be all right!"

Where ever you may be on your spiritual journey, Jesus is not very far away! He wants to make sense of the Bible for you. He wants to get to know you in the breaking of bread. He wants to bring your faith into the present tense.

Where do you suppose Jesus is right now?

Prayer

Moments of Recognition

Hymn #606 (one or two vs) In the Garden "And He Walks with me, and He Talks with Me."

A Return to the Shepherd Psalm

Communion Meditation

April 20, 1999

October 11, 1992 (pm)

Psalm 23

Jesus said, "I AM the Good Shepherd." John 10:10

The phrase in the 23rd Psalm, "Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of my enemies," is somehow comforting and at the same time mysterious. I often think of it as I approach the sacrament we call the Eucharist, or Communion. And then the phrase takes on an almost immeasurable depth of meaning. This is the table of the Lord!

A TABLE GOD HIMSELF PREPARES

Jesus is the Good Shepherd. A good shepherd knows his sheep; knows what they need, and provides for them. If we are His sheep, then we need to believe that He knows what we need and will provide for us.

What we need is not always what we are most concerned about. I am pretty sure that if a flock of sheep caught wind of a wolf in the vicinity they would be very apprehensive. They would have reason to be worried if their shepherd either did not know about the wolf, or was unable to deal with the wolf. But the shepherd might not be quite as concerned, knowing exactly what he was going to do to protect his sheep.

Jesus knows we need food and fellowship and refreshment. He knows that we are human and frail.

God Himself has provided strength for our journey. Our meat and drink come from the very life of our Shepherd, who lays down His life for the sheep.

A TABLE IN DEFIANCE OF MANY UNCHALLENGED SO CALLED FACTS OF LIFE

Life is filled with "enemies."

The Psalmist speaks of the "valley of the shadow of death." Life at times is harsh, and dark, and foreboding. We shrink back from that which would destroy us. The only thing that kept the Psalmist from a death of shattering fear was the Presence of the Shepherd. For the presence of the enemies was evident!

Personal enemies! David had real enemies, people who wanted to do him in, to kill him. We have real enemies, too. Life is NOT a game, it is for real.

We have personal enemies; that which would keep us from believing that God really will guide us into abundant life. The Table of the Lord is a corrective that says, What I need more than anything else is You, O God!

Enemies of the CHURCH! The very spirit of our age is corrosive to the spirit of the church, and vice versa. And some of our worst enemies are attitudes from within, attitudes that can be corrected at the table of the Lord. [Perhaps you may think I'm "reaching" to include this, but it needs to be said:]

In the book Resident Aliens William Willimon and Stanley Hauerwas list some rather unconventional "enemies of the church" which may be present as we partake at the Lord's Table:

1. One such enemy is SENTIMENTALITY. Commenting that "exciting services" and "good feeling" have become ends in themselves in the ministry they write; "When that happens the church and ministry cannot avoid sentimentality, which we believe is the most detrimental corruption of the church today."

Sentimentality, after all, is but the way our UNBELIEF is lived out.

SENTIMENTALITY, THAT ATTITUDE OF BEING ALWAYS READY TO UNDERSTAND BUT NOT TO JUDGE, CORRUPTS US AND THE MINISTRY. This is as true of the conservative churches as it is of the liberal. Sentimentality is the subjecting of the church year to "Mother's Day" and "Thanksgiving."

Sentimentality is the necessity of the church to side with the Sandanistas against the Contras. Sentimentality is "the family that prays together stays together."

Without God, without the One whose death on the cross challenges all our "good feelings," who stands beyond and over against our human anxieties, all we have left is sentiment, the saccharine residue of theism is demise. [1]

2. A second enemy is LETTING THE WORLD DEFINE THE CHURCH; or accepting conventional definitions of the church. If the church accepts the values of our rotten culture, then (and I quote again:)

(The) church will be a source of conventional, socially acceptable answers, a place to reiterate what everybody already knows, even without the church. We shall die, not from crucifixion, but from boredom.

(We especially pastors are conditioned) "to think in terms of what the church can do to help people but within parameters set by a society that does not know God. In that myopic world view, solutions to what ails us will be petty. WHAT SORT OF COMMUNITY WOULD WE HAVE TO BE TO BE THE SORT OF PEOPLE WHO LIVE BY OUR CONVICTIONS? [2]

3. A third enemy of the church named by Hauerwas and Willimon is UNREALISTIC EXPECTATIONS: We try to make the church whatever WE think it ought to be, or what we think the WORLD wants it to be to meet their perceived needs. Hauerwas and Willimon are speaking especially of pastors, but this truth applies to us all. We must focus in on what GOD wants us to do, and then we find we have peace with Him, and with ourselves! Listen to what they say about pastors, and see if there is an application for you in this enemy of "Unrealistic Expectations":

Pastors come to despise what they are and hate the community that made them that way. Because the church is not a place to worship God, but rather a therapeutic center for the meeting of one another's unchecked, unexamined needs, the pastor is exhausted. Only a few months into his or her first pastorate the new pastor realizes that people's needs are virtually limitless, particularly in an affluent society in which there is an ever rising threshold of desire (which we define as "need." There is no job description, no clear sense of purpose other than the meeting of people's needs, so there is no possible way for the pastor to limit what people ask of the pastor. Not knowing what they should do pastors try to do everything and be everything for everybody. The most conscientious among them become exhausted and empty. The laziest of them merely withdraw into disinterested detachment. Not knowing why their pastor is there, the congregation expects the pastor to be and do everything. They become unrealistic critics of the clergy rather than co workers, fellow truth tellers."

Self hatred is inevitable in someone who feels abused, prostituted, unfairly criticized. The burden of being a generally good person, open and available to people of unbounded need is too great for anybody to bear. Self hate and loneliness result. [3]

IN THE PRESENCE OF THESE ENEMIES, as well as all others, we have THE TABLE OF THE LORD, which is prepared for us by the Shepherd Himself! And, how does this truth apply?

A TABLE OF BOTH PROTECTION AND WITNESS PROTECTION

By coming humbly to partake of the Blood and Body of the Lord, in obedience and in faith, we find the strength to obey, to take daily direction, to keep in the Path of Righteousness for His Name's sake.

We find that our enemies are powerless to keep us from the Pathway, so long as we are careful to stay in His Presence. Have you read or re read Pilgrim's Progress lately? Remember the lions that stood by the pathway just ahead? Remember how they were chained, and could not reach to the center of the path?

WITNESS

On November 16, 1989, members of the church family met in the gathering room after the funeral of Donna Bowers. (She had been cared for for weeks in Esther Sanger's living room in a hospital bed.)

The church family sat around tables, and then one after another Donna Bowers' friends stood and told stories of her kindnesses.

Later four of us made the trip to Attleboro for the interment. John, Janice Nielson, Esther Sanger and I. We sang, four part harmony, "My hope is built on nothing less than Jesus' blood and righteousness... On Christ the solid Rock I stand all other ground is sinking sand."

The cemetery workers were amazed. "Do you always do that?" they asked.

WE COME TO THE TABLE, TO THIS SACRAMENT, FOR STRENGTH IN THE MIDST OF OUR ENEMIES. BUT AS WE DO, THE CHURCH ITSELF IN A SENSE BECOMES THE SACRAMENT

If a definition of "sacrament" is an outward and visible sign of a spiritual reality then is not the church to be a living sacrament making visible the love of THE GOOD SHEPHERD WHO CARES FOR HIS OWN?

Our first concern is not what other people may see, but what in fact we ARE, and what we are TO BE and TO BECOME. But what other people may see is not unimportant; as we pay attention to the reality, then what three worlds observe will be the gratitude and worship and appreciation and love of a people who have a God they call "Father" and whose love makes them truly "family." Is there any reality in this vision? This table may well be a key to true evangelism!

Finally,

A TABLE OF PERPETUITY

God will provide for us, as family, in HIS house where we shall dwell with Him, for ever!

[1] Resident Aliens, Hauerwas & Willimon, 121

A Return to the Shepherd Psalm

[2] Resident Aliens, 122

[3] Resident Aliens, 124

Faith Comes By Hearing

Romans 10:17 – and hearing by the Word of God

April 25, 1999 - Annual Meeting Sunday

Acts 2; John 10:1-10; Psalm 23

On the front page of yesterday's Globe there was a ringing Christian testimony. Out of the tragedy of this week in Columbine High School in Littleton, Colorado, again and again we heard and saw Christian faith in action. This was just one story, the story of a true martyr:

Last Sunday morning Cassie Bernall went to church. Whatever else went on while she was there, evidently Cassie was listening to the Shepherd. For sometime after she got home she sat down at her desk, this beautiful seventeen-year-old high school senior, and wrote these words of faith on a little note pad that had advertisements on it for caps and gowns and other graduation things– these words:

Now I have given up on everything else - I have found it to be the only way to really know Christ and experience the mighty power that brought him back to life again, and to find out what it means to suffer and to die with him. So, whatever it takes, I will be one who lives in the fresh newness of life of those who are alive from the dead.

Cassie Bernall had no way of knowing what was going to happen two days later. Tuesday she was in the library at Columbine High School when the tragedy that has shocked our nation began to unfold. She opened her Bible and began to read. One of the killers stopped in front of her and asked, "Do you believe in God?"

Loud enough for her classmates to hear, Cassie answered, "Yes, I believe in God!"

The gunman mockingly asked her, "Why?" and then before she could answer, he shot her dead. Cassie died for her faith.

There is no way to 'make sense' of killing like this. I will not believe that God wills evil in order to get greater good. But the fact is that after the killing was over, and the disbelief and mourning began to set in, Cassie's younger brother found what she had written after church last Sunday. Cassie had died in the faith, and perhaps specifically FOR her faith. Cassie was a martyr. Listen again:

Now I have given up on everything else - I have found it to be the only way to really know Christ and experience the mighty power that brought him back to life again, and to find out what it means to suffer and to die with him. So, whatever it takes, I will be one who lives in the fresh newness of life of those who are alive from the dead.

These words clearly echo Philippians 3:10: I want to know Christ and the power of his resurrection and the fellowship of his sufferings being made like him in his death and so somehow to attain to the resurrection from the dead.

These words echo the mission statement of our church: To know God! And what ought to be the mission statement of every Christian!

ABUNDANT LIFE BEGINS WITH LISTENING

It is obvious that Cassie had been listening to the Shepherd: ((FAITH COMES BY HEARING. MY SHEEP HEAR MY VOICE.))

We are influenced by what we hear. Making a distinction between hearing, and listening, we become what we listen to. How important that we not only hear, but listen to the Good Shepherd.

It is also sadly obvious that the two young men who did the killing were listening to voices that were not the Good Shepherd's.

ABUNDANT LIFE BEGINS WITH LISTENING

Jesus says that he leads his sheep– they follow him– go in and out and find pasture. The end result is abundance. "I have come," Jesus said, "that they might have life, and have it abundantly– to the full." (John 10:10)

HOW DO WE HEAR? HOW DO WE LISTEN? HOW DO WE FOLLOW?

. . . THREE MILE AN HOUR GOD

((It is always important to keep the Shepherd in view– at the center. It is always important to listen for his voice. But it is particularly important in the crisis times, and in the times of choosing, decision times. We never know when a crisis will come.))

THE POST RESURRECTION APPEARANCES HAVE A PATTERN:

1. THE WORD,
2. THE FELLOWSHIP
3. THE BREAKING OF BREAD

At the end of Peter's sermon in Acts 2 is this pattern repeated and embellished a bit. Luke tells us:

- They (the disciples) devoted themselves to the apostles teaching (that's the WORD)
- and fellowship (that's FELLOWSHIP)
- and to the breaking of bread (that's COMMUNION)— and Luke adds
- "and the prayers." (That is private and public conversation, on-going, in Jesus' name.)

((How do we come to know and trust the Shepherd? How do we find the Gate to the sheep? How do I find my way in a new phase in my life? How does the church chart a course to life more and more abundant?)) There's the formula:

1. The Word
2. The Fellowship
3. The Breaking of Bread
4. The Prayers

God will lead you. God will lead me. God will lead us– in and out to green pastures and still waters, and even through the valleys as we listen for his voice, the voice we know.

This is true in individual lives. People do not make a statement of consecration such as Cassie Bernall made lightly. And even though it seems such a waste– a tragedy beyond understanding- I know in the depths of my being that Cassie's consecration was not wasted. It is something precious beyond words. And given the horror of that day, can you imagine the comfort such words bring to Cassie's parents? Bertha Munro stated as her deepest conviction: GOD WILL NOT WASTE A CONSECRATED LIFE!

This is also true for the Body of Christ, and for individual congregations. Abundant life begins when we listen for the Shepherd's guidance.

If I could be explicit on the Annual Meeting Sunday, and speak particularly to the Wollaston situation- it is important that the church listen for the voice of the Shepherd during this time of transition. It would be great if God would write instructions in the sky, or speak with an audible voice from heaven. We know that isn't usually the way He works. But God does speak.

I DON'T HAVE ANY PROFOUND WORD ABOUT THIS WEEK'S TRAGEDY

BUT I DO KNOW GOD IS WAITING TO USE PEOPLE WHO WILL LET HIS LOVE SHINE THROUGH THEM.

Probably you have thought about how it took tragedy for faith and love to come out into plain view. Tragedy seems to bring out the best as well as the worst in people. But, too, the thought that comes to us all is- why can't we at least try to show some love here in Quincy where THANK GOD there has not been a tragedy? Why can't we pray for our neighbors, and support one another in love and deeds of kindness? Thoughts like that come from tragedies like this week's. CAN WE FIND A 'BREAK-THROUGH' INTO SHOWING OUR LOVE??

IT HAPPENED TO ESTHER . . . she found a way to "break through" into active caring for others, as she heard the Shepherd's voice.

IT WILL HAPPEN WHENEVER THE SHEEP LISTEN FOR THE SHEPHERD'S VOICE

Three years ago there was a terrible tragedy somewhat like this week's in a little village in Scotland. In Dunblane a violent man shot sixteen little children and a teacher, and like Columbine High's sorrow, shocked the world.

In a book called Everyday Passions Rev Dorothy McRae-McMahon lifted out an incident that followed that shooting. She told of how soon after the massacre the minister of the local Church of Scotland was trying to think about God and life as he walked home one night. Her book quotes him as saying:

'As I was reflecting on all this, I made my way to the school gates which had become a center of devotion, transformed by the floral and other offerings placed there by residents and strangers alike. As I approached, the street outside the school was deserted apart from a handful of police officers, and a gang of youths aged, I suppose, about seventeen to twenty. As I watched, they took from their pockets sixteen night lights one for each dead child and, kneeling on the damp pavement, arranged them in a circle and then lit them, using glowing cigarettes to do so.

'They stood around the candles for a moment, then one of them said, 'I suppose somebody should say something.'¹ As they wondered how to do it, one of them spotted me, identified me as a minister and called me over with the words, 'You'll know what to say.'¹ Of course, the reality was quite different. As I stood there, tears streaming down my face, I had no idea what to say, or how to say it. Words had not been especially useful to me, or anyone else, in this crisis.

'So we stood, holding on to each other for a moment, and then I said a brief prayer. That was the catalyst to enable them to start praying. A question came first: 'What kind of world is this?'¹ Another asked, 'Is there any hope?'¹ Someone said, 'I wish I could trust God.'¹ 'I'll need to change,'¹ said a fourth one. As he did so, he looked first at me and then glanced over his shoulder to the police who were on duty. He reached in his pocket and I could see he had a knife. He knelt again by the ring of candles and quietly said, 'I'll not be needing this now,'¹ as he tucked it away under some of the flowers lying nearby. One of the others produced what looked like a piece of chain and did the same. We stood silently for a moment and then went our separate ways.'¹

ABUNDANT LIFE BEGINS WITH LISTENING

We hear what we listen for . . .

PRAYER (contemporary language)

O God, whose Son Jesus is the good shepherd of your people;
Grant that when we hear his voice we may know him who calls us each by name, and follow where he leads; who, with you and the Holy Spirit, lives and reigns, one God, for ever and ever.

#100 - The Lord's My Shepherd (Scottish Psalter, Crimond)

A Place For You

Easter 5

May 2, 1999

John 14:2

A place of belonging is at least a part of what Jesus was telling his disciples; there would be a place for them in his personal future. Where he was, they would be, and they would belong. [The importance of a sense of "place" in belonging. 'This is yours!'] A place where you "fit." A place where you are welcome.

"I'm going to prepare a place for you. , " Jesus said. "You know where I'm going, and furthermore, you know the way to where I am going."

"Oh, no, we don't!" was Thomas' response.

"I am the way, and the Truth, and the Life. No one comes to the Father except through me," Jesus said.

And then Philip chimed in, "Show us the Father and it will satisfy us."

Jesus said, "If you have seen me you have seen the Father."

If you think the place Jesus is preparing is like a mansion or a hotel suite that is fine. It won't be anything less, I'm sure. But the place Jesus has prepared is more than spatial. That place in Jesus' heart for you is available right NOW!

Some years later the apostle Peter in one phrase summed up a big part of what that "place" is that Jesus is carving out for his own people– including you and me. He said, "You are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, God's own people!" It is a phrase so rich we can rush right by and not realize how wealthy we really are if we have trusted in Jesus.

We have a place in A NEW RACE . . A new kind of HUMAN RACE! "We are A CHOSEN RACE"

This has nothing to do with our color, or economics, or nationality here. It has to do with the genetics of Calvary. The Adam of our race is Jesus, who died to sin for us all, and who was "buried to carry our sins far away. But rising he justified freely forever" and so we belong to a life that is eternal, that never "runs down" or "wears out."

We have a place in A ROYAL PRIESTHOOD. "We are A ROYAL PRIESTHOOD"

Priests stand between a holy God and sinful human beings and make sacrifices that bring God and people together. Some things we do when we worship are sacramental in nature, and priestly in function. But beyond times of worship, Christians are privileged to stand on that mysterious border between the world we can see and the very real world of fellowship with God. Christians are called to stand between God and people, and somehow make sacrifices that bring God and people together. There is a place in that royal priesthood for every Christian. For YOU!

We have a place in GOD'S KINGDOM "We are A HOLY NATION"

It may sound unpatriotic to say that God's kingdom is NOT identical to our own beloved nation. But it is true! The kingdom of God is not "of this world.," even as Jesus told Pilate. Jesus has the authority to command our first allegiance. Any person or group claiming what we claim without authority would be a dangerous sect. And whenever we waver from belonging to the kingdom we become just that: dangerous to ourselves and to all we meet. But if we say "Jesus is LORD!" we have the authority and the responsibility to be his ambassadors. After all, the Lord's prayer begins "Hallowed be thy name, THY KINGDOM COME! Thy will be done!" We live as citizens of two world.

We have a place IN GOD'S OWN FAMILY!

"We are GOD'S OWN PEOPLE" WE EXIST TO BRING PRAISE TO THE ONE WHO HAS CALLED US FROM DARKNESS INTO HIS MARVELOUS LIGHT God wants to use us to tell the world he is to be trusted - that he is GOOD that John 3:16 is true!

We have a place of our own in God's love while we look for the time when we shall take OUR PLACE in heaven that he has prepared for us.

FINDING OUR 'PLACE' HAS TO DO WITH ROCK-SOLID FOUNDATION

WHAT DO WE DO WITH 'THE ROCK'???

Either Jesus is a stumbling stone - OR the foundation for everything GOOD!

In our difficult times the knee-jerk reaction is "What shall we DO?" "Pass a new law!" Instead of focusing entirely on what is wrong (which is normal and needful) - maybe we should focus on WHAT WAS AMAZINGLY RIGHT WHEN THE STORM CAME!!

Instead of JUST looking at "Harris" and "Klebold" we need to look at the Christian response to anger and evil: an unashamed turning to God in Christ!

[Last week was no time to analyze the horror; it was time to pray for the hurting, and to marvel at the faith of those who showed us Jesus. Cassie Burnell must have been used of God, for many, many pulpits of many points of the spectrum of faith were catching her clear martyrdom faith.

[But if last week as NOT a time to look at possible reasons for our violent society, maybe this week, and this week's scriptures could be at least a starting place.

Maybe instead of just asking "What is wrong?" we ought to ask "What is RIGHT about the Christian response to evil? !!" [Closing of Sermon on Mount]

Cassie Bernall and Isaiah Shoels and the other Christian teens- the Christian response to the tragedy by parents and community - reveal the solid rock foundation that we can have in Jesus Christ!

I don't know what I would do if a loaded gun were pointed at me and I was asked "Do you believe!" But I would certainly hope that my foundation would be as solid as that 17-year-old young woman who had absolutely sold out to God!

IN THE SACRAMENTS WE COME BACK TO OUR SOLID FOUNDATION

- We affirm that we are a chosen race HIS race
- A royal priesthood HIS priests, to offer spiritual sacrifice
- A holy kingdom and HE is LORD and KING!

Two Ways to Look at Grace

Grace over and above to be reached for in our need to keep us alive in a hostile world sort of punching holes in a dark sky to let pinpoints of light shine on us. Grace permeating all of creation and life. Sacraments help us to be aware that Jesus IS Lord to be aware that wherever we are, Jesus is already HERE.

The sacraments, all our worship, remind us that Jesus goes before us. Grace is here for you and me today.

#473 The Sold Rock

THE HOLY COMMUNION

The Law Read and Confession Made

The Lord Jesus Christ has said to us: "Thou shalt love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the first and great commandment. The second is like unto it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets."

Shall we pray:

Search us, O God, and know our most private thoughts. Try us, and show unto us the deepest motives, the real state of our hearts. Forgive us where we have been selfish, or insensitive, or sinful in any way. We cannot keep the Great Commandment, and truly love You, O God, with all our heart, soul, and mind unless You in mercy grant to us the grace of Your indwelling Spirit. We cannot love each other as we should unless Your love is shed abroad in our hearts.

Brothers and sisters, let us search our hearts. In silence let us ask God to draw us near to Himself so that we can come to his table with confidence.

We do not presume to come to this table, O God, trusting in our own righteousness, but in your great mercy and grace. Grant us to eat the Bread of heaven, and drink the blood shed for the remission of sins, that we may live in Christ, and Christ may live in us forever. Amen

Let us confess our faith:

The Apostles' Creed

The Informal Invitation ("This is not my table . . . ")

Holy and gracious Father; in your infinite love you made us for yourself; and, when we had fallen into sin, and were worthy of death and hell, you, in your mercy sent Jesus Christ, your only and eternal Son to share our human nature, to live and die as one of us, to reconcile us to You, the God and Father of all.

He stretched out his arms upon the cross, and offered himself in obedience to your will, a perfect sacrifice for the whole world.

The Words of Institution

On the night in which he was betrayed our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had give thanks to You he broke it and gave it to his disciples and said, "Take eat: THIS IS MY BODY, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me.

After supper he took the cup and when he had give thanks he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you; THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink this, do it in remembrance of me: Amen

We praise you for the mystery of our salvation! We truly believe Christ has died!
Christ is risen! Christ will come again!

Bless these emblems, O God, and make them to us the Body and Blood of your Son, spiritual food, and spiritual drink of new and unending life in Jesus Christ.

And now, together, we pray, as Jesus taught us:

Our Father which art in heaven . . .

Now, humbly we receive the Gifts of God for the People of God

(Today we will (please) hold the elements and partake together)

Marvelous Light of Gods Grace

May 2, 1999 - cf. May 5, 1996

Last week was no time to analyze the horror; it was time to pray for the hurting, and to marvel at the faith of those who showed us Jesus. Cassie Burnell must have been used of God, for many, many pulpits of many points of the spectrum of faith were catching her clear martyrdom faith.

But if last week as NOT a time to look at possible reasons for our violent society, maybe this week, and this week's scriptures could be at least a starting place.

- Foundations/ Cornerstones
- Habitat Housing in Hurricanes
- Owner-built, and extra nails
- Closing of Sermon on Mount
- WHERE WE ARE IN SOCIETY CONTRASTED WITH WHERE WE ARE IN JESUS CHRIST

(The following is NOT a manuscript, nor a complete set of notes for the May 5 sermon; more of a diary of what I was thinking about before during and after I stepped into the pulpit last Sunday. RFM)

Communion Meditation

Acts 7; 1 Peter 2:9; John 14: 1 14

Introduction

Today we need to learn again something which we already know, but which come to us in the words of Peter:

But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, God's own people, in order that you may proclaim the mighty acts of him who called you out of darkness into his marvelous light.

Who We Are

If we are Christians, and can say from our hearts with the help of the Spirit, "Jesus is Lord!" then these statements apply to us now, in the present.

- We ARE . . .A CHOSEN RACE.

This has nothing to do with our color, or economics, or nationality here. It has to do with the genetics of Calvary. The Adam of our race is Jesus, who died to sin for us all, and who was "buried to carry our sins far away. But rising he justified freely forever" and so we belong to a life that is eternal, that never "runs down" or "wears out."

- We ARE . . .A ROYAL PRIESTHOOD.

Priests stand between a holy God and sinful human beings and make sacrifices that bring God and people together. Some things we do when we worship are sacramental in nature, and priestly in function. But beyond times of worship, Christians are called to stand between God and people, and somehow make sacrifices that bring God and people together.

- We ARE . . .A HOLY NATION, GOD'S OWN PEOPLE.

Any person or group claiming what we claim without authority would be a dangerous sect. And whenever we waver from belonging to the kingdom we become just that: dangerous to ourselves and to all we meet. But if we say "Jesus is LORD!" we have the authority and the responsibility to be his ambassadors. After all, the Lord's prayer begins "Hallowed be thy name, THY KINGDOM COME! Thy will be done!" We live as citizens of two world. WE EXIST TO BRING PRAISE TO THE ONE WHO HAS CALLED US FROM DARKNESS INTO HIS MARVELOUS LIGHT God wants to use us to tell the world he is to be trusted that he is GOOD that John 3:16 is true!

AN EXAMPLE OF LIVING OUT THIS SPIRITUAL REALITY

The early church reached the end of the earth in a generation. There were great miracles along the way. There were stories of deliverance from illness and death and danger. But those stories actually are incidental to the march of the kingdom.

One of the very first stories is that of Stephen the deacon who became the first martyr. He proved he belonged to a chosen race by his spirit. He was unafraid to confront unbelievers when they questioned him about the faith. All the disciples did that. But in Stephen's case his confrontation brought persecution to the extreme. And his spirit did not waver there was a gentleness, a forgiving spirit, and a vision of the eternal that proved he belonged to a higher plane of life. As a royal priesthood we have never forgotten the sacrifice Stephen made.

What kind of sacrifices do we of the royal priesthood make? (Laura Kottis raised this question in our study last Wednesday evening.) Whenever a Christian, living in this world, in this limited flesh, obeys the Spirit, and says "No" to the so called "wisdom of this world" he or she is making a sacrifice that is acceptable to God (Romans 12:1,2) and is bringing heaven and earth together. Not too many we know have been called upon to make the kind of sacrifice Stephen made, although thousands still make it in other parts of this world. Stephen saw the throne of the royal kingdom that day. He saw Jesus standing at the right hand of God the Father.

But of course that was not the end of the story. In God's kingdom there never is a final end of good things. Stephen's sacrifice brought God and a young man named Saul closer together. Stephen had his part in everything God did through the ministry of the Apostle Paul.

JESUS IS THE KEY TO WHO AND WHAT WE ARE (JOHN 14:)

Before Pentecost, before the Resurrection, before Calvary Jesus told the disciples about this life we Christians know. He told them that there was plenty of room in the kingdom for all of them, and that he, Jesus himself, would prepare a place in the kingdom and makes sure they found their place.

He said, "Where I am going you know, and the way to get there you know." Thomas was like us, all too often. he was thinking strictly in this world's thought mode, of what he could see and handle. "Lord, we DON'T know about heaven! We've never been there! How can we ever know the way?" Jesus answered: "If you know ME, Thomas, then you know the way to God!"

Philip said then, "Show us God the Father and we will be satisfied!" (The Jews had the highest imaginable concepts of God, and have passed that reverence on down to us if we will but receive it: no pictures of God no portrayals for that would be to construct an idol. So what Jesus then said would either be the highest blasphemy possible OR the declaration of a wonderful revelation:) Jesus said, "If you know ME, you know God! If I am with you, God is with you!

I am with you, and I will be IN YOU!" (He was speaking of the Spirit who would inhabit the church beginning at Pentecost!)

PRAYER (contemporary language) Almighty god, whom truly to know is everlasting life: Grant us so perfectly to know your Son Jesus Christ to be the way, the truth, and the life, that we may steadfastly follow his steps in the way that leads to eternal life; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who lives and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever.

IN THE SACRAMENTS WE SEEK TO DO JUST THAT: TO KNOW JESUS BETTER We affirm that we are a chosen race HIS race A royal priesthood HIS priests, to offer spiritual sacrifice A holy kingdom and HE is LORD and KING!

Two Ways To Look At Grace

Grace over and above to be reached for in our need to keep us alive in a hostile world sort of punching holes in a dark sky to let pinpoints of light shine on us

Grace permeating all of creation and life. Sacraments help us to be aware that Jesus IS Lord to be aware that wherever we are Jesus is already HERE.

The sacraments, all our worship, remind us that Jesus goes before us. Grace is here for you and me today.

THE HOLY COMMUNION

The Law Read and Confession Made

The Lord Jesus Christ has said to us: "Thou shalt love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the first and great commandment. The second is like unto it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets."

Shall we pray:

Search us, O God, and know our most private thoughts. Try us, and show unto us the deepest motives, the real state of our hearts. Forgive us where we have been selfish, or insensitive, or sinful in any way. We cannot keep the Great Commandment, and truly love You, O God, with all our heart, soul, and mind unless You in mercy grant to us the grace of Your indwelling Spirit. We cannot love each other as we should unless Your love is shed abroad in our hearts.

Brothers and sisters, let us search our hearts. In silence let us ask God to draw us near to Himself so that we can come to his table with confidence. We do not presume to come to this table, O God, trusting in our own righteousness, but in your great mercy and grace. Grant us to eat the Bread of heaven, and drink the blood shed for the remission of sins, that we may live in Christ, and Christ may live in us forever. Amen

Let us confess our faith: The Nicene Creed (STL # 14)

The Informal Invitation ("This is not my table . . . ")

Holy and gracious Father; in your infinite love you made us for yourself; and, when we had fallen into sin, and were worthy of death and hell, you, in your mercy sent Jesus Christ, your only and eternal Son to share our human nature, to live and die as one of us, to reconcile us to You, the God and Father of all.

He stretched out his arms upon the cross, and offered himself in obedience to your will, a perfect sacrifice for the whole world.

The Words of Institution

Marvelous Light of Gods Grace

On the night in which he was betrayed our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had give thanks to You he broke it and gave it to his disciples and said, "Take eat: THIS IS MY BODY, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me.

After supper he took the cup and when he had give thanks he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you; THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink this, do it in remembrance of me: Amen

We praise you for the mystery of our salvation! We truly believe Christ has died!
Christ is risen! Christ will come again!

Bless these emblems, O God, and make them to us the Body and Blood of your Son, spiritual food, and spiritual drink of new and unending life in Jesus Christ.

And now, together, we pray, as Jesus taught us:

Our Father which art in heaven . . .

Now, humbly we receive the Gifts of God for the People of God

A Reason for Sharing the Jesus Film

May 9, 1999, from May 11, 1996

1 Peter 3:13-22; John 14:15-22

One of the most significant, and by all accounts, the most effective project for sharing the Good News of salvation, at least in recent years, is the simple showing of a motion picture, The Jesus Film. I don't know exactly how it got started, but I do know that Bill Bright of Campus Crusade for Christ asked our denomination if we would team up with him in distributing the Gospel of Luke, the words and story of Jesus. As you may have heard Ned Yankovich say last Sunday, more people have seen this movie than any other moving picture on the face of the earth.

World-wide, nearly half of the people who see this film have made some profession of faith in Jesus. Literally millions have been introduced to Jesus by this film.

SO- what does that have to do with us here in good old Massachusetts, in the beautiful little city of Quincy? Well, the Jesus Film has reached even to us! We can have a part in this sharing of the Good News. And I could not imagine a more gentle, neighborly, way of getting the Good News out to our community.

(Recall last week's text, 1 Peter 2:9. "But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, God's own people— that you may proclaim the mighty acts of him who called you out of darkness into his marvelous light.") Today's text picks up on last week's concept of proclamation: Peter says "Be always ready to give a reason for the hope that is in you."

We will use a tool: handing people a free video. But WHY we do it is just as important as HOW we do it; the SPIRIT of what we do is always more important than the actual words: the things we do for God always ought to come from the heart. That is true, even if it is as simple a thing as handing people a free video and a package of microwave popcorn. Why should we participate in The Jesus Film?

I. TELLING PEOPLE GOD IS GOOD

There is no question that God's people are supposed to tell the world that God is good. The code-word in the church is "witnessing." All my life I've been told I need to "witness." And usually I feel vaguely guilty about it because I know I don't do it very well. Right here I want to tell you I am not going to put guilt on you if you are not high pressuring people about spiritual things. But how do we tell others that God is good? Peter gives some clear directives for telling people about our hope. He says:

- Sanctify the Lord God in your heart. Make certain that Jesus is Lord.
- Be ready where people are. Be prepared. (The best preparation is simply staying on good terms with Jesus all the time.) If someone asked you who Jesus is to you, are you prepared to tell him or her?
- Do it with extreme gentleness and courtesy, respect for the person to whom you are speaking. We will not win people to Jesus without the spirit of Jesus. Our spirit must be congruent with the love of God. (Yes, Jesus got angry at times— but those people he drove OUT of the temple, not IN!)

Illustration: Verne Ward, missionary to Papua New Guinea, who was here with his wife Natalie a few years ago for "Say Yes!" worked for several years in some of the most primitive culture on earth. Every bush, rock, tree has "spirits" and the people were ruled by what we would call "witch doctors."

One day Verne saw a witch doctor talking with one of his Christian people and it made him angry. He came up and "shooed" the man away in no uncertain tones. He was protecting his little flock.

But then as he walked away along the trail it seemed that God spoke to him about the way he had spoken to the witch doctor. Verne made his way back along the trail until he located the man. According to the custom of that culture, which Verne had learned, Verne sat down on the ground silently and waited for the man to recognize his presence. When finally the man spoke, Verne asked him, asked the witch doctor to forgive him for being rude. He made it clear that the God he served was not unkind, and that he loves everyone. Then he went on his way.

The story of that witch doctor's conversion is too long to tell here. God spoke clearly to him, almost like he did to Saul of Tarsus on the Road to Damascus. But it began with simple gentleness and courtesy, and the humanness of an American missionary who was big enough to apologize, and to ask a New Guinea Witch doctor for pardon.

Our spirit must be in harmony with the words we speak. We cannot tell people about a God who loves them when we don't love them. We can't simply throw money at the world's problems. We can't simply buy the latest games and clothes for our children, and leave them for the television to educate and call that giving a reason for the hope that lies in us.

We cannot really LOVE by 'remote control.' We say our love with words— and that is important But we really say our love with our spirit— with our time and with our presence.

Illustration: There is an old country tear-jerker ballad called Roses for Mama that tells the story of a going into the florist to order flowers sent to his mother for Mother's Day— he is going elsewhere. A little boy comes in with just a little money to buy for his mother. I think the first man helps the little boy buy a few more flowers, but anyway the next verse takes our flower order-er past the cemetery where he see the boy laying flowers on his mother's grave— Whereupon he turns around and goes back to the florist— asks if the flowers have been delivered yet— and then delivers them himself.

Our spirits must say the same things that our words say. We may not even be able to say the absolutely correct thing— but if we care, and if we are there— God will help us get the word of HOPE where it belongs.

Peter's word is not the final one on this matter. Jesus himself says, "If you love me you will love each other, as I have commanded you." He tells us that if we will love him and love each other we will never be alone.

II. TELLING PEOPLE GOD IS GOOD ACTUALLY BRINGS GOD NEAR

It may have been my fault, the way I heard it. But I thought that witnessing was trying to persuade hostile people to become something they didn't really want to become. All Jesus asks us to do is to love Him, and love people, and then let them know we care and God cares. This is saying, "GOD IS GOOD!"

Illustration: The Russian Count Leo Tolstoy wrote a short story called "Where Love Is, There is God," that actually is a beautiful picture of what Jesus was telling us when he said "If you love me, you will keep my commandments." It told of a humble cobbler, a shoemaker, named Martin Avdeich, a widower who worked in a basement shop that had but one window at street level. From that lowly position Martin could only see the boots of people passing by in the street outside his shop. After the loss of his wife and the tragic death of his only son, he became despondent and hopeless. He wished to die.

"How shall we live for God?" he asked a visiting countryman who had just returned from a eight years of pilgrimage. The old holy man reminded him "Christ has shown us how to live for God. Do you know how to read? If so, buy yourself a Gospel and read it, and you will learn from it how to live for God. It tells all about it."

So after the man departed, Martin did what he had been instructed to do: he began to study scripture. His heart was lifted. His life began to change. He was happy simply in the seeking. But one night as he was reading late into the night he put his head down on the table and not knowing if he was asleep or awake he heard a voice which he believed to be that of Christ: "Tomorrow I will come to the street!" And so, expecting a miraculous appearance, he began the next day to look for a visit from Jesus.

As he waited, expecting a knock at his door, he attended to the needs of those passing by his window an old man who had come to shovel the snow from his sidewalk whom he invited in for hot tea; a poor woman with her infant child, whom he fed and offered his cloak; and, finally, a young boy caught in the act of theft, whom he spared from a beating reconciled with his intended victim.

Finally, the cobbler realized that the day had drawn to a close, and he searched his mind to interpret the voice he had heard and make sense of the absence of his promised visitor. In the growing darkness, he heard a voice calling to him: "Martin, oh Martin, have you not recognized me?" One by one, those whom he had helped during the day appeared to him in a dream. After the last of them departed, he opened his Bible and his eyes fell upon the text from Matthew twenty five: "Inasmuch as you have done it unto one of these, the least of mine, my brothers, you have done it unto me."

Tolstoy concludes: "And Martin Avdeich understood that his dream come true, that the Savior had really come to him on that day, and that he had received Him."

We think "To know Christ is to love Him." We think "If Jesus makes himself known to me then I will surely give him all my love." But the fact is we will see Jesus when we love Him; we will come to know Christ when we learn to serve one another in love. To love him is to know him.

III. TELLING PEOPLE 'GOD IS GOOD' IS REDEMPTIVE

(Finally) When we incarnate love to others— when we express to them the fact that God cares and we do, too— we may do more than save a soul— we may redeem a life. Every one of us has had a teacher or a Sunday School teacher or a camp counselor along the way that has made a lasting impression on us. Sometimes that impression may be negative. Sometimes that word of hope goes far beyond what that person dreams of.

Illustration: Bertha Munro prayed for me. (Hector Hawkins was mean to me!)

Charlie and Gladys Caldwell sponsored junior high kids years and years ago. Many of them are old enough to have their own kids in junior high now and more. But they still remember the love they got at church from their junior high sponsors!

R. C. Sproul is one of the leading evangelical Presbyterian theologian-writers. I have heard him tell in person about what it was that first gave him courage to become a scholar. A second grade teacher pinned one of his papers on the bulletin board at school and said, "R. C, you can write!"

Sanctify the Lord God in your hearts— and then gently, and with great respect— this week be ready to tell people that God is good. If we get ready to tell them, we'll certainly have a chance to say it: "GOD IS GOOD!" And if we have a chance, and if we tell them— who knows !!!

Prayer

Hymn - (Prayer Chorus, actually) Open Our Eyes #459

The Third Great Day of the Church

May 22, 1999 - Pentecost Sunday

John 7:37-39 On the last and greatest day of the feast, Jesus stood and said in a loud voice, "If anyone is thirsty let them come to me and drink. Whoever believes in me, as the Scripture has said, streams of living water will flow from within." By this he meant the Spirit, whom those who believed in him were later to receive. Up to that time the Spirit had not been given, since Jesus had not yet been glorified.

Today is one of three great celebration days in the church year. Yet when the day has come and gone many Protestant churches won't even know it was Pentecost. The other two great days, Christmas and Easter, are adopted into the culture, and celebrated by many non-Christians. Christmas becomes a family time at the winter solstice; Easter a celebration of the return of spring. But so far the secular world has not discovered Pentecost, and so many Christians don't even know it exists, or why it is such a great day.

CHRISTMAS AND EASTER

We all understand the how and why of Christmas and Easter— don't we? Christmas is when God stooped low, and took on our humanity and walked and talked among us—the greatest of all miracles to believe. Easter is when God in that only begotten Son took our sins and nailed them to the cross and provided eternal life for us. But Pentecost— just what did God do then? The fact is without Pentecost we would have no way of personally connecting with either Christmas or Easter.

PENTECOST Is A Little More Mysterious.

In the wisdom of God it is a Jewish Feast that has been assimilated into the framework of God's Master Plan of Salvation through his Son, Jesus Christ.

The Jewish Feast of Pentecost was (1) a feast of First Fruit; the first harvests of summer were coming in, with the promise of more to come. Also (2) Pentecost came to be celebrated as thanks for the giving of the Law on Sinai.

The Third Great Day of the Church

That first Christian Pentecost a number of wonderful things took place. The sound of a mighty wind brought people running– there was a manifestation of God's Presence that seemed like tongues of fire. And wonder of wonders, every foreigner in the gathering crowd- Luke mentions sixteen different nationalities- heard the Good News about JESUS in a language they could easily understand. It was Babel reversed! THEN- at Babel- humans thought they could answer all questions and reach heaven on their own intelligence and the result was total confusion. HERE- at Pentecost- men and women humbly sought to let heaven reach to where they were, and the result was a universal language of God's great love reaching in and through them to everyone there.

WE have picked up on the symbols of wind and fire and languages. We speak of Pentecost as bringing purity and power. We have codified the coming of the Spirit, and often have limited it in our circles of preaching to a second crisis of consecration and cleansing. But the fact remains that Pentecost is mysterious. We can't "explain" it, or make it "fit" our grids and frameworks.

But we can understand that somehow Pentecost is at the very life and soul of the church. Pentecost is when the Church was born. And since that time every Christian who has ever been born again has experienced a measure of Pentecost– for Pentecost is nothing less than the life of God in Christ brought right into our very beings. (Romans 8:9) "If anyone does not have the Spirit of Christ he is none of his!"

What is Pentecost supposed to mean today? How do we properly celebrate this Third Great Day which is just as important as Christmas and Easter?

1. Recognize: YOU ARE (ALREADY) A PENTECOST CHRISTIAN! There is life within you if you have received Jesus!
2. Respond: THE SPIRIT IS ALWAYS WILLING TO TAKE US DEEPER
3. Receive: ASK FOR A FRESH IN-FILLING!

Jesus said that whenever two or three are gathered in his name, there he will be in their midst. In the life of any congregation there are times of challenge, crisis, even peril. There are times when we may be tempted to forget that God is in charge even in the hard times. But Pentecost is a reminder that God is not distant, not uninterested in what we're doing or where we are. The Holy Spirit is at work in us creating a new sense of unity of purpose and mission. The Holy Spirit is present as we begin to act together in the Spirit.

PENTECOST is re- discovering that God is in you, and in us, as we live in the light of the resurrection. It is not simply a memory of the living Christ of Christmas, or even just praise that our sins are forgiven and we will live in heaven forever, but it is grasping God's call to embody Christ for one another. Amen.

In Pentecost the LIFE of God has reached even where we are. But it calls us to where we have never dared go before!

(Have you ever been swimming in a river? It can be a moving experience! :-))

One wonderful image likens the life of God in the Holy Spirit to a mighty flowing river proceeding from the Throne of God. The water is life-giving, refreshing. As we stand in the river the water flows against us and around us. It seeks to move us with it, but if we resists, perhaps fearful, perhaps unwilling to let go and surrender fully, it moves around us, pushing on toward its destination. Yet the current is there, ready to move us when we are ready to let go and let God.

Prayer:

Almighty God, who on this day opened the way of eternal life to every race and nation by the promised gift of your Holy Spirit: Shed abroad this gift throughout the world by the preaching of the Gospel, that it may reach to the ends of the earth; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you, in the unity of the same Spirit, one God, for ever and ever.

Alternative closing exhortation: "Warning" that to let go into the flow of the River may sweep you away where life can never be the same . . .

[One time Bob Hope spoke at a college commencement. "The world is out there, waiting for you," he told the graduates. Then Hope added a fervent, "Don't go!"

The Third Great Day of the Church

Once Moses was living the comfortable life of a shepherd. One day, however, he sees burning bush that was not consumed by the flame. He goes closer to investigate, and he hears the voice of God.

So, when you see divine fire, beware! God is calling you. The world needs you. And your first impulse will be, "don't go!" Just believe a few dogmas, just sing a few hymns, just pray a few prayers.

However, if you do hear the Lord's voice, if you do take Jesus' teachings to heart, if you do vow to be faithful to the gospel then the world will never be the same again!]

Majesty Mystery Mercy

Trinity Sunday

May 30, 1999

Isaiah 6:1-9a

THE STORY

Isaiah was in the temple when it happened. That was not unusual: Isaiah was a prophet in good standing. He had stood before King Uzziah many times and proclaimed his vision for God's people. He was in the mainstream of the best in Israel's faithful.

Isaiah had come for the usual reasons: he needed renewal and refreshing. He always felt better when he had worshiped. (That's why we're here, isn't it?) But somehow this day the focus swung away from Isaiah's hopes and Isaiah's expectations. And all of a sudden Isaiah got a glimpse into the majesty and the mystery that is Almighty God! The most important thing in your life and mine is the nature of our God, and our relationship to Him.

GOD BEGAN TO REVEAL HIMSELF TO ISAIAH

THERE WAS MAJESTY - When God Almighty reveals Himself in any measure there is also a corresponding sense of awe or reverence. The temple in which the prophet was worshiping was beautiful. But God's Presence is a beauty and majesty of a different quality altogether. I love to worship- thank God for the many ways in which we express praise to God- but when God chooses to reveal Himself- whenever there is that unmistakable Presence- there is majesty.

THERE WAS MYSTERY - When God comes near it is more than a "good time." In Isaiah's vision there is an awesome, almost eerie sense of God the "other." There is a disturbing, almost frightening quality to awareness of the holiness of God coming near.

You could say that God has a problem in communicating with us: if He wants to come near he has "to be careful" on two important counts: (1) we are finite, and can't really grasp the dimensions of eternity; and (2) we are sinful, and don't begin to understand the utter power and sheer white-hot energy of pure holiness.

GOD ALSO BEGAN TO REVEAL ISAIAH TO HIMSELF

The most important thing in your life and mine is the nature of our God, and our relationship to Him.

When God comes near- when we begin to recognize how He loves us- we begin to get a glimpse of ourselves as we really are. God is majesty, and he is mystery, but that LIGHT shines where we are and we begin to see things about ourselves we had not seen before. (Like shafts of sunlight in a darkened room, we see tiny little swirling particles of dust . . .) Isaiah cried out with the self-revelation: WOE is me!

The painful thing to Isaiah was fact that he was a GOOD man, and yet as he had the opportunity to draw nearer to God instead of being affirmed and having his needs met, Isaiah began to see himself as sinful and needy.

Every time God draws near the focus is not on how good I feel, or how great "I" am, but on HOW GREAT THOU ART! Peter: "Depart from me, for I am a sinful man!" John: "I fell at his feet as dead!"

But that self-revelation as not the end of the vision:

THERE WAS MERCY!

GOD HAD EXACTLY WHAT ISAIAH NEEDED

With the revelation of his own need, and with his cry of "Woe is me!" Isaiah moved up to a new level in his walk with God. It came (in what always seemed to me a s boy hearing this message) in a strange way: with a live coal from off the altar of God.

This was NOT to torment Isaiah, however- it was not to sear his lips so he could not speak; quite the contrary it was cleansing, illuminating, purifying FIRE! Isaiah began to experience the greatest luxury, perhaps, that mortals can know: Isaiah was clean, in God's Presence (7)!! ISAIAH ENTERED INTO GOD'S FELLOWSHIP IN A WAY HE HAD NOT KNOW BEFORE.

CONCLUSION - UNIQUE and UNIVERSAL dimensions of Isaiah's vision:

WHO was Isaiah? He was NOT a casual worshiper. (Why "the year that King Uzziah died"? Removal of royal 'prop'?)

TO WHOM does God reveal Himself? Hebrews 11:6 TO SEEKERS! The most important thing in your life and mine is the nature of our God, and our relationship to Him.

Chances are no one will ever have another vision exactly like Isaiah's. But the promise is there: IF WE ARE SEEKERS AFTER GOD, GOD WILL REWARD US WITH HIMSELF!

There is a big difference in TALKING about seeking, and actually putting God at the center of our lives and SEEKING HIM. We are experts on doctrine; we can tick off the steps to discipleship– but not many of us are very well acquainted with this great GOD who is so GREAT he shakes temples, and so HOLY he makes us see our SIN and yet so TENDER AND KIND that he comes where we are with holy FIRE to touch our lips and our hearts.

TALKING about God is pretty "boring" and "tame" compared to, say, a trip to Disney World, or even a gospel concert . . . UNTIL ONE DAY AS WE EARNESTLY SEEK GOD COMES!

I was 18 years old before I ever saw the ocean. I had read about it. Intellectually I understood that it was vast. But since I first got a glimpse of it– here at the end of this street– and then out at Nantasket Beach– then flying over it a number of times - - then watching it in hurricane-force waves– I began to realize that I could never know the ocean just by reading about it. As a matter of fact, I know there is a sense in which I don't know the ocean very much at all!

We could say the same for all the great wonders of God's creation– and they are just handiwork that point to the great God beyond, a God we can KNOW, and whom we can never FATHOM. David said: "When I consider the heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars which thou hast ordained, what are WE that you are mindful of US, or our children that you visit us?"

Today we think of the TRINITY– the God who is OVER us, and who is WITH us, and who is IN us. The doctrine of the Trinity is not a fascinating puzzle for our holy amusement, but in some wonderful way it is God's own revelation to us of His love. Our God is so great as to be unspeakable in his glory, and yet so condescending that he has taken our nature, and speaks in our language to show us how we may live– and a God so very near that he is with us HERE as we worship.

Prayer

Hymn

The God Who Comes Alongside

DRAW NEAR TO GOD

Trinity Sunday

May 30, 1999

The Hayford Street gang story.

When I was about 7 or 8 years old we moved into our very first house of our own; I had a room of my own— on Magnolia Street in Lansing Michigan.

The Hayford Street gang story. Has become a metaphor for my life . . .

I DON'T KNOW what Isaiah faced. He was in the temple. Maybe for the usual reasons . . maybe he was feeling loss (Uzziah died . .) I don't know, but the focus went from Isaiah's needs to a sense of God's Presence. God came alongside.

There was MAJESTY and there was MYSTERY — but there was also MERCY: Isaiah saw himself in new light; but he also got help.

FIFTY YEARS AGO this very year I discovered Isaiah 41:10 on the way to Eastern Nazarene College in early September, 1949, in the Durkee's new Plymouth. The occasion was evening bible reading. I didn't know where I was, but God not only knew, He let me know that He knew.

And many times since. This is TRINITY SUNDAY. The Sunday when we are challenged to ponder the MAJESTY and the MYSTERY of our great God. But best of all, we have a God who comes alongside when we need Him.

I don't know where YOU are on your spiritual journey this morning. I don't know what has motivated you to be here in worship. I don't know what storms you've come through, or what you may be facing just now. But I do know that we have a God who is there for us! I do know that true worship is a two-way conversation!

The God Who Comes Alongside

We have a great and wonderful God, who fills the heavens. But this great God comes alongside and lets us walk with Him. He is nearer than we think— every day of our lives. From time to time He lets us know.

Prayer

O God, thank you, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, for your majesty, and for the wonder of your glory. But thank You most of all that you CARE, and that you COME to where we are. Help us to learn to walk with You. We ask in our Savior's name, Amen - Hymn

The Call of and to Faith

June 6, 1999

Genesis 12:1-9; Matthew 9: (call of Matthew)

Our lessons today, the stories of Abraham and Matthew being called, pick where last week's message left off. The (last week) we told again of a God who comes alongside us as we go through the living of our lives. Today, another facet of that Presence: a God who calls to us wherever we happen to be to come alongside HIM, and get in step with Him where He is going.

Abraham and Matthew were centuries and cultures apart, and in very different circumstances. But both were quite well situated, well off, when the divine challenge came.

I don't know how God spoke to Abraham. Somehow we think it must have been easier in Bible times to discern the voice of God. But I'm not so sure that it was all that simple. I DO know that Abraham did not know where he was going when he left Ur of the Chaldeas. He was convinced of one thing: it was God calling. So Abraham followed the call and BEGAN his walk to a new level of life.

Abraham didn't arrive in a day, or a month, or a year. That walk with God never really ended. It is still going on. But God led Abraham from strength to strength, from trial to testing, and he became a blessing to the entire world.

I KNOW how God spoke to Matthew: it was the human voice of the Savior. But you and I don't know how Matthew knew Jesus was for real, and not just another prophet-for-profit sort of preacher. I do know that when Matthew heard Jesus say, "Come, follow Me" Matthew simply stood up and left his tax business and followed.

Matthew didn't know where he was going either. But Matthew had caught a glimpse of the holy and true and good. He wanted to be where Jesus was. So he took the opportunity to get in step with Him.

IN EVERY CALL OF GOD IS THE CALL TO REPENT

WE NEED TO REPENT OF SIN AND SINFULNESS

To "repent" means to turn from our own wicked way, and seek the path of righteousness. Isaiah tells us "we have turned every one to his own way." God's call makes it possible to turn out of the pathway of sinfulness and be forgiven. "The Lord has laid on (Jesus) the iniquity of us all."

THE CALL TO REPENT IS AN ON-GOING CALL

The Lord's Prayer has a built in adjustment for course-correction. It doesn't say "Forgive THEM– those mean and rotten sinners OUTSIDE the church . . ." It says "Forgive US our debts! ...our trespasses." It doesn't mean we're rebellious and have deliberately walked away. Quite the contrary, it means we accept correction.

IN EVERY CASE THE CALL OF GOD IS A CALL TO LEARN AND GROW

God does not stand still. HIS life carries us forward. The life of Abraham is a great example of how God calls . . . and calls . . . and calls.

First Abraham left Ur . . . then he decided not to argue and fight but let God choose his way . . . then (15:6) he came to a firm COVENANT with God . . . then (17) he was challenged to be marked for life (CIRCUMCISION) . . . and when he was more than 115 years old came maybe the hardest test of his following the CAL– Issac!

IN EVERY CASE THE CALL OF GOD IS TO GROW AND GROW FOR LIFE!

That last challenge to Abraham resulted in what unbelievers see as BIZARRE . . . some sort of pagan cult story; but faith sees as a portrait of God's great Father-Love– giving, saving, redeeming!

CONCLUSION

God does come alongside us in every challenge of our lives. He is here for us today. But, too, God challenges us to come alongside Him and walk with Him, and let Him take us where He is going.

THE HOLY COMMUNION

Wherever you are on your Spiritual Journey - If you believe God is seeking fellowship with you— and if you want to turn to Him, I invite you to come in faith to the Table of the Lord. Draw near with faith and take this Sacrament to your comfort, and make your humble confession to Almighty God in humility before Him.

The Apostles Creed

The Law Read and Confession Made - The Lord Jesus Christ has said to us: "Thou shalt love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the first and great commandment. The second is like unto it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets."

Brothers and sisters, let us search our hearts. In silence let us ask God to draw us near to Himself so that we can come to his table with confidence.

(Reading No. 750) A prayer in unison, from scripture:

Unison: Search me, O God, and know my heart; Test me and know my anxious thoughts. See if there is any offensive way in me. Lead me in the way everlasting. Have mercy on me, O God, according to your unfailing love. Wash away all my iniquity and cleanse me from my sin. Create in me a pure heart, O God, and renew a steadfast spirit within me. May the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be pleasing in your sight, O Lord, my Rock and my Redeemer.

Pastor: Jesus our Savior Himself said: Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. And he has also said, "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believes in him should not perish but have everlasting life."

Prayer: Thank you, O God, for your forgiving us when we come humbly to you. We do not presume to come to this table, O God, trusting in our own righteousness, but in your great mercy and grace. Grant us to eat the Bread of heaven, and drink the blood shed for the remission of sins, that we may live in Christ, and Christ may live in us forever. Amen

The Call of and to Faith

(In Place of Gloria Patri) sing "Father, I Adore You, Lay my life before You How I love you! "Jesus, I adore you . . ." and :Spirit, I adore you . . ."

The Informal Invitation ("This is not my table . . . " Do not come irreverently. Do not come because someone else expects it. But if the Host invites you, and you want to walk with Him, then you are welcome at His table...)

The Words of Institution

On the night in which he was betrayed our Lord Jesus Christ took bread; and when he had given thanks to You he broke it and gave it to his disciples and said, "Take eat: THIS IS MY BODY, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me. After supper he took the cup and when he had given thanks he gave it to them, and said, "Drink this, all of you; THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, which is shed for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Whenever you drink this, do it in remembrance of me: Amen

We praise you for the mystery of our salvation! We truly believe Christ has died!
Christ is risen! Christ will come again!

Bless these emblems, O God, and make them to us the Body and Blood of your Son, spiritual food, and spiritual drink of new and unending life in Jesus Christ.

And now, together, we pray, as Jesus taught us: Our Father which art in heaven . . .

Now, humbly come and receive the Gifts of God for the People of God

#754 God of the Ages

Making God Welcome

Hospitality of the Heart

June 13, 1999

Genesis 18; Romans 5:1-11

One bright, warm spring morning Abraham was sitting outside his tent set up on a small hilltop, overlooking miles and miles of his flocks and herds and the tents of his servants and their families when something unexpected took place. God dropped by for a visit.

God's appearance was not like anything Abraham could invent or imagine, and yet Abraham did not seem surprised that God chose to reveal Himself as He did. Then, as wonderful or amazing that God should come for a visit, even more amazing— even unbelievable was what God told Abraham that afternoon.

"You're going to have a son! A year from right now you'll be parents of your own child!"

Sarah was listening just a few short feet away behind the tent flap. The flap shook just a little bit, and the Visitor said, "Why is Sarah laughing?"

Sarah stuck her head out the tent flap and said, "I'm not laughing!"

"Oh, yes you are," smiled the Visitor. "But it is true all the same! You're going to have a baby!"

The Promise seemed both remote and impossible. But Abraham took pains to make God at home with him. Not simply in this incident which reveals the mind-set formed across years of faith and obedience, but as a way of life Abraham cultivated a walk with God. And the result was great and far-reaching blessing.

Abraham entertained God. It couldn't have been "the expected." Three men, addressed as "My LORD." Abraham knew it was a visitation from God, and he did his best to make God welcome. The result was God's agenda for Abraham and Sarah.

THAT was unexpected as well. But certainly welcome. The result was also a role in God's agenda for Lot. Abraham became an intercessor. It began when Abraham made room for God. HOSPITALITY: Making room. Making space. An act of the will. Deliberate. For God, room. Then for God's thoughts, room. Which means – for people, room.

HOW IMPORTANT IS HOSPITALITY??

Hospitality is not necessarily a certain way of welcoming people; it is rather an opening of the heart to them. I have been entertained in luxurious circumstances, and made to feel absolutely welcome and at home. But it was not the luxury that made me comfortable. I have been entertained in very humble surroundings, and once again, have been made to feel welcome. Hospitality, as Henri Nouwen might define it, is making space where it counts in the heart.

This passage of scripture sent me back to an old favorite book that may be your favorite, too: Reaching Out, by Nouwen. In that book hospitality is an important word, and he speaks of three movements toward making space: in ourselves, toward others, and toward God. They seem to fit this message today:

We need space within our hearts for ourselves. We need time alone, with ourselves. We need quiet. Tomorrow. Next week. After I get this project done. But if, like Abraham, we were visited today by a theophany, and manifestation of God, would we, could we possibly recognize and welcome God to our homes and our tables?

We need to make space in our hearts for each other, for people. Nouwen calls it "moving from hostility to hospitality." We might call it being aware of our basic attitude toward others: defensive, fearing, suspicious after all this is the real world and then asking God to help us make space for genuine compassion: compassion feeling what others are feeling!

How we really feel about others becomes an aura that welcomes or shuts out. Do you think churches can have auras?

Finally, or maybe first of all, we need to make space in our lives for listening to God. Moving from faith to faith. Moving from sporadic experience to trusting relationship. Moving from 'what has God done for me lately' to 'What is God saying to me NOW!'

CLOSING STORY

A story of hospitality...

Holy Spirit, Thou art Welcome 306

A Valedictory for Wollaston

Pastor Metcalfe's final annual report to the Wollaston Church of the Nazarene congregation.

June 27, 1999

1 Corinthians 3:21-23

Our message this morning is one of praise and thanks to God, and of thanks to you, the Wollaston church family. Our words may be more testimony than sermon, but these are valedictory words.

A lot of good things have happened around here these past 22 years. Yes, there have been some failures and tough times as well. In our personal valleys the church family has been there for us, and we are grateful.

We've been through two major building projects: the erection of this sanctuary, and the transformation of the lower 800-seat sanctuary into a multi-use facility. E.N.C. alumnus Jim Couchenour was God's instrument in challenging us to believe we could go ahead and build, and you went ahead and did just that.

In 1983 Merritt and Linda and Jeremy and Jennifer Nielson came, to be joined later by Brandon and Andrew. Merritt and I have been colleagues now for sixteen years, and he has been at the very heart of many good things that are now part of Wollaston's ministry heritage. "Say Yes!", Second Church in Dorchester- a Church of the Nazarene, Quincy Chinese Church- and much more would not have happened without Merritt's vision and key input. And as a matter of fact, Merritt has served in a pastoral relationship here in Wollaston longer than anyone else- except for the one speaking to you now.

I have asked Merritt to share in this valedictory this morning, our last worship service as pastors here. Merritt: [seven minutes]

*** **

A Valedictory for Wollaston

I can not hope to summarize two decades of worship together in the time we have. But I want to express my gratitude to God and my thanks to you for the privilege of being called "Pastor" and the honor of having your confidence.

You have been kind and generous: you sent Helen and me on a cruise in the Caribbean when we had been here ten years. In our twentieth year you sent us on vacation in Switzerland (and even gave us round-trip tickets!) On two occasions, beginning in 1982, we had pulpit exchanges with Paisley, Scotland, and Brian and Joyce Farmer were your summer pastors here while we enjoyed the hospitality of the folk there. Many great friendships on both sides came out of that exchange. They preceded us in retirement by just one month, but I have a feeling you'll see them again a time or two in the future.

Many honors have come our way more than we ever expected or deserved: I've come to know the leaders of our church, local, district and general. We were "minister-in-residence" at N.T.S. for a week; we've had writing assignments from different departments in Kansas City; we've been a camp meeting speaker, and held prayer and ministry seminars and revivals on several districts other than New England. But no honor has been more precious to us being your pastor.

We have had the privilege to be with many of you in significant and insignificant times in your lives. I've held newborn babies. I've sat with the dying. I've had part in memorial services for great and humble people whom I revered more than I could tell you. I've married and dedicated and baptized and all with a sense of wonder and awe that God would ever use me as pastor.

I have seen families blossom as covenants have been honored. I've seen character develop into Christ-likeness even through great adversity and opposition. I've had great disappointments, as has just about every family represented here; but God has been with us, and is with us now, and He will be with us.

We have developed and grown together in the way we have worshiped, emphasizing scripture and celebrating our full heritage in the Church of Jesus Christ.

My first sermon here was on July 3, 1977. I preached it in nine minutes flat, and the church board and pulpit committee: Ruth Bullock, Chuck Gailey, Lowell Hall, and Cecil Paul must have felt like maybe they had made a big mistake. [I have said that the ghost of Dr. J. Glenn Gould followed me out on the platform that morning, and I confess I think he did intimidate me a bit!] I never did preach that sermon again, although the message is still with me, and it is this:

"Let no one glory in the merely human. For all things are yours: Paul, Apollos, Peter, the world, life, death, things present, things to come, all are yours, and you are Christ's; and Christ is God's." (I Co 3:21-23, par.)

That rich promise is just as true this morning as it was twenty-two years ago. That message is bright with hope: if we depend on our own wisdom and strength we will certainly fail, but because we are in Jesus Christ we are standing on tip-toe with possibility. This is a valedictory– a farewell. But if all things are ours, and we are Christ's and Christ is God's, then even in this farewell and change we can celebrate. Paul Cunningham prayed a prayer that Merritt remembered and wrote down for us this spring. He said,

- The future is your friend.
- You have nothing to fear.
- God is already there!

Prayer: Father God we have everything to thank you for, and now we commit our ways to You. You know us, You know the way we take– and we thank you that nothing can ever separate us from your love, or ultimately frustrate your will as we follow You. Help us to walk with you confidently into your best will for us, In Jesus' Name we pray.

Amen

93 - Children of the Heavenly father

Making Room For Jesus

The Meaning of Hospitality

September 18, 1999

Lowell First Church of the Nazarene, Lowell Massachusetts

Luke 10:38-42

(Story One:)

One bright summer morning Abraham was sitting outside his tent which was set on a small hilltop. He was looking out over literally miles of his own flocks and herds and the tents of his servants. Then something unexpected happened. God dropped in for a visit.

The appearance of God was not like anything Abraham could have imagined or even dreamed. Yet Abraham did not seem surprised that God might choose to reveal himself as he did. And as wonderful and awe inspiring as it was that God should drop in for a visit, it was what God SAID after lunch that day that was even more unbelievable.

"You're going to have a son! A year from right now you and Sarah will be the proud parents of your own child of promise!"

Sarah was listening just inside the flap of the tent that served as a door. The flap shook just a little bit and the Visitor said, "Why is Sarah laughing?"

At that Sarah stuck her head out the door and said, "I didn't laugh!"

"Oh yes you did," smiled the Visitor, "but it is true all the same. You are going to have a baby!"

God always stretched Abraham's faith, it seemed, to the breaking point and then just a little bit more. But Abraham loved God. He took pains to make God welcome in his life wherever he was on his journey. Not just here in this part of Abraham's life, but across years of trust and obedience and faith Abraham kept God at the center of his life's focus.

Making Room For Jesus

ABRAHAM WELCOMED GOD! HE MADE ROOM FOR GOD IN HIS LIFE. AS A RESULT ABRAHAM FOUND GOD'S AGENDA FOR HIS OWN LIFE. Then Abraham became part of God's agenda for his nephew's life. Lot was saved from disaster. And finally Abraham became a blessing across the years to millions of people. It began with a heart of hospitality: making room for God.

MAKING ROOM. FOR GOD. IN OUR OWN HEARTS. FOR PEOPLE. GENEROSITY, AS GOD IS GENEROUS.

(Story Two:)

One morning a small boy woke up early and dressed as fast as he could and walked down a well trod path to a beautiful blue lake, where he was soon engaged in one of the finest past times known to humankind. He had just caught two small fish when his attention was caught by what seemed to be a parade or crowd coming around the end of the lake from the direction of the village. He was curious as all small boys are, and so he went to investigate. What he found out sent him flying home to ask his mother if he could go along, too. And amazingly she said he could.

She cooked his two fish and wrapped them in a clean napkin and put in half a dozen small biscuits she was baking on top of them in his basket. Then he was off to find out what was so exciting. By this time it was afternoon, and he had worked his way through a lot of people right to the very front where Jesus was teaching. He liked the stories, but didn't really understand too much, but he did hear a private conversation in between lessons. He got the idea that the disciples were hungry and there was no food.

So the boy spoke to one of the people with Jesus he was a big fisherman. We know he was Andrew, Peter's brother. "Jesus can have my lunch," he said. "At least HE won't have to go hungry!"

All four Gospels tell the story. Only one tells where the disciples got the five loaves and two fish to feed the multitude. But WE know it was a small boy. His hospitality for Jesus turned into a blessing that went far beyond what he could have dreamed. It all began when someone forgot his own ego, and put Jesus at the center.

SOMEONE MADE ROOM FOR GOD.

THAT IS WHY WE ARE HERE TODAY! (to make room for God in our lives) THAT IS WHAT CHRISTIANS ARE SUPPOSED TO DO EVERY DAY (make room for God!) THAT IS WHAT IS FIRST, PRIMARY, CENTRAL about our faith.

(Stories 3,4) It can be comical sometimes when secondary things are remembered and primary things are forgotten

(Story 3)

Victor Borge told about a couple at the airline check in line waiting to go on vacation. They had piles of luggage; suitcases of all shapes and sizes.

The husband said to the wife: "I wish we had brought the piano."

Wife: "We've got sixteen bags too many already!"

H: "Yes, I know but the tickets are on the piano!"

(Story 4) This actually happened, in Sacred Heart Parish, Can Street, New Orleans: In the late 1960s they were beginning to do baptisms in the Sunday mass times, and a couple was having their baby baptized.

The parents were instructed. They were told the importance of not being late. The paperwork was all done. Everything was set.

Well, the parents were on time, and they hurried forward, and yes you guessed it they forgot to bring the baby. The baby was still at home with Grandma. EVERY ACTION, RELATIONSHIP, INSTITUTION, LIFE has a basic focus a most important thing, or it should have if there will be success in its existence. A CHURCH EXISTS TO KNOW GOD, AND LIFT HIM UP, AND LOVE AND WORSHIP HIM . . . if all there is to church is counting noses or raising money or singing songs or anything else then the potluck suppers and walks for hunger and all are missing the heart of the target.

Making Room For Jesus

(Story 5)

Jesus said, "Martha, Martha! You are all worked up out there in the kitchen! You have forgotten that the most important part of having company is making that company feel 'at home.' "

(Conclusion, into Story 6)

THE PASSAGE IN LUKE 10 tells us that the focus of our lives is to be LOVE. We are to MAKE ROOM FOR JESUS at the center. The very heart of the meaning of "love" here is "HOSPITALITY." How?

1. Put Jesus ahead of your own self. The Lord's Prayer: GOD, then petitions, etc.

The McLandress Syndrome, named after Prof Herschel McLandress of Harvard: he developed a way to measure a person's self absorption: In spoken and written material he measured the use of "I, me, mine" – and the "coefficient" was supposed to be the longest a person could remain diverted from himself. Eleanor Roosevelt was supposed to have a coefficient of two hours. JFK could go 29 minutes. Elizabeth Taylor's was THREE MINUTES. Maybe the reason Jesus isn't at home with me is because I want to talk about ME while HE wants to talk about something else???

2. Make Jesus "literally" at home in all our work and play: be aware that HE wants to share in your TV watching, your work problems, your attitude as you drive, check out at the grocery, etc.
3. Continually "come back to basics" with Jesus in the many things we need to do around a home or around a church don't forget that Jesus just might be cooling his heels in the living room waiting for a chance to tell us he loves us!

Thank God for Martha. Those who do the pots and pans. Thank God for Mary– who reminds us what faith is all about.

(IF TIME:)

Her name was Esther. She was a Martha if there ever was one. Esther had ways of getting Esther's way. She was always a mover and a shaker. But then about 1979 or so something changed. Esther started making room in her heart for God. More room than she had ever given Him before.

She never dreamed what would happen. She put her phone number on sheets of paper that said, "Having a crisis? Call xxx xxxx" and she nailed them to telephone poles around her neighborhood. The phone started ringing. It has never stopped.

The Quincy Crisis Center went to a budget of $800,000 a year before Esther died. It is still functioning.

ONE THING IS NEEDFUL! I wonder what might happen in our homes and in our churches– to say nothing of our personal relationship with God if we really made room for God - - FIRST!??

Prayer:

God help me listen! Help me love You! YOU are what we need. Amen

626 Gentle Shepherd

Tale of Two Rivers

September 28, 1999

Psalm 65 "The river of God is full of water . . ."

Introduction

It is certainly not my purpose to have a string of sermons based on 'what I did on my summer vacation,' and yet here I go again! Last week I talked about heat and desert dryness and God's Presence that satisfies like a drink to a thirsty man. This week I have been thinking about rivers. And my mind went to the Red River in Texas.

All my life I've been singing "When I come to the Red River valley..." But when one sees the Red River it is likely to be quite different from what one expects. The bridges that cross the Red River seem to be few and far between. When there is a bridge it is a BIG bridge. A strong bridge, too; we were told a number of times about last year when the floods came, and how the water all but swept away the bridge that carries I 44 across the Red River (I 44 is the Interstate from Oklahoma City to Dallas.)

The Red River basin itself is quite wide, too. It is made to carry a lot of water or perhaps more correctly, has been shaped across the centuries by carrying a lot of water. But the thing that has impressed me the several times that I have seen the Red River has been: HOW LITTLE WATER! Where's the river?!

Now comparisons are odious. And no one can blame the Red River for it depends on its sources.

Every river is the product of its tributaries. And evidently in the normal course of events the Red River has a very limited supply of steady, dependable, unfailing water. When the cloudbursts come up in the hills, the Red River, and many Texas rivers can become extremely dangerous. They fill up their wide banks and more.

If one came to cross the Red River bridges at flood time one would say: "Here is one of the strong suppliers of water, a major stream in this part of the world." But when the run off of the distant storm is over the Red River becomes a shallow, meandering stream amidst a great long pile of sand.

Comparisons are odious. No one can blame the Red River. But for years I lived near another river. As a matter of fact I was born on its banks, at Nyack, New York. I have crossed the Hudson many more than a hundred times. I have put my little boat on its broad expanse and felt it moving powerfully under me.

The Hudson is actually a tidal estuary as well as a mighty river, and the tides move many miles to the north from its mouth in New York Harbor. It is navigable by ocean vessel more than 100 miles, all the way to Albany. It is connected with the Great Lakes system through the Erie Canal. And while the Hudson has its moods, it is always there, and it is always FULL! It can't help it. It is a product of its sources.

For coming down from Lake Champlain, and through two (or three) ranges of mountains (if you want to name the Berkshires as separate from both the Adirondacks and the Catskills) the Hudson does not change character for thunderstorms. The mighty Hudson is fed by hundreds of spring fed lakes and streams that flow into scores of brooks and rivers.

It is amazing when one thinks of the sheer volume of water that passes, say, the Tappan Zee, where the river is two or three miles wide, flowing two or three miles an hour past a given point. Where does all that water come from? But there it is!

What is the difference between the Red River and the Hudson? Or, perhaps more importantly: How may we keep the rivers of our souls filled with God's water of life and blessing?

ON KEEPING THE STREAM FULL

1. WE CAN DETERMINE: Not just to live on the run off.

We can begin to keep our soul's life streams filled when we determine that we will not be satisfied with a spasmodic flow of grace.

Perhaps "determination" is the key in starting. To say: "Inasmuch as in me lies, I will tap into the great and permanent sources of God's grace." Rivers cannot help what they are, nor can they determine their 'character.' But people may choose how they shall be filled. People can simply move to higher ground, or to where the water is flowing. People have the privilege of tapping into God's resources.

2. So how do we go about 'tapping into the deep springs?'

I want to talk about keeping our souls filled with God in these minutes we have together.

(Perhaps there is one sense in which this is a process that cannot be taught. Our relationship to God is intensely private, and each of us must learn the deep lessons for ourselves. But in another sense we can guide and help each other. That is what pastors are for, and churches, and fellowship in the Holy Spirit. There are two sides to that truth!)

Illustrations are helpful. When we talk about rivers that are full and rivers that are half full or less we get a picture in our minds. But illustrations cannot sustain the total truth. They aren't the whole picture. And we need to see that while we may talk 'tributaries,' of many 'sources' and many 'means of grace,' there is really but one Source of Life! And that Source, of course, is God Himself! God is the Source of spiritual fullness.

All that we do, all that we are come to this one point: we are made to know GOD!

3. GOD IS THE ONLY SOURCE. But He has provided what we call "means of grace."

Our goal is God Himself. Not what God can give, or what He can do for us: God Himself! But in finding God Himself, we still see that God has provided (what we call) means of grace that bring us into contact with Himself.

Some of these means of grace are public worship, and scripture, and daily communion, and fellowship with God's people. And the goal of all these and many other channels (or tributaries) to our stream of life is an increasing awareness that God is with us, and wants to share all our life with us.

- a. So we look to meet GOD when we come to worship! It may seem so elementary but often people come to church because they know they should; or they come because vaguely they want to 'receive help.' But deliberately come to meet God and be filled anew with His Presence.
- b. And read the scriptures to meet GOD. Once again, it is so simple I hardly dare say it but many of us learned to read the Bible because we know we SHOULD (and so we should! . . . but there's the rub!
- c. And so on down the list of "means of grace!" PRAY in order to be filled with God's Presence . It is one of the things that will make a river of you instead of a dry stream bed. SEEK JESUS IN FELLOWSHIP with God's people!

One of the rich sources of finding God is looking for Him in the face of the Church! We find God in an INCREASING AWARENESS of the "Presence."

The Quaker teacher Thomas Kelly (A Testament of Devotion) holds forth the ideal that common, ordinary, work a day mortals like himself and you and me can practice the Presence of God until He becomes to most real Person in our lives!

Conclusion

I don't know about that but I'm bound to find out! Where will such a determination to find God leave us?

1. It won't make 'little gods' out of us as we said in the message this morning: when we pray "OUR Father..." With Jesus we still have our faults and need His grace . . .
2. But it will become our greatest joy to know that in some measure GOD DOES FILL THE CHANNEL OF OUR LIVES and once in a while we have that exquisite joy of realizing: God has used me! God has blessed me by letting me serve Him!

Oh, humanly it is possible to be exhausted in doing well (don't we have to 'rest up from our vacations' now and then?) and even Jesus became weary. But Jesus also said, at the well at Sychar when He had been so very tired: "I have meat to eat that ye know not of!"

In ministering to the woman at the well, Jesus had been physically refreshed, as it were.

None of us are great "Hudson Rivers," perhaps. But God's Source channel is full of water! We do not need to be gushing full and then empty and dry. We can tap into the deep wells of God and stay filled with Him!

The Constant

October 22, 1999

(August 30, 1998)

Hebrews 13:8 Jesus Christ is the same, yesterday, and today, and forever.

CHANGING SCENES, CHANGELESS CHRIST

Last year (1998) I visited the house I left to come to E.N.C. as a freshman student back in September, 1949. I found the house, even though the neighborhood has changed dramatically. It was painted a bright, shocking blue!

I met, too, with a number of friends I hadn't seen too often in the last 40 years. There were several who were members of the youth group; we had grown up as teens together. We laughed and remembered the good times and the dumb things we had done. But somehow THEY had all changed, too. They looked different, even though we recognized each other.

I know that I have changed a lot, too. But there was a constant. Our old friends had come to be with us to remember my father, who died earlier in the month. As we prayed the Lord's Prayer together Jesus Himself was there. Things had changed, we had changed, but Jesus had never left us, not one!

The fact that we were burying my father, who was born in 1901, really underscored the idea of "change." We had to laugh a little bit because Dad died in Texas, and we flew him back to Ohio to the family plot to be buried. And that was the first time Dad ever flew. He was born November 15, 1901, two years before the Wright Brothers made the first powered airplane flight. Dad was one of those who knew that if God had intended us to fly...

It is almost impossible to imagine the changes in the way we live and move and have our being that took place in this one century. But through those changing years, there was one constant: Jesus never left us!

It is a simple, powerful statement we are asked to believe: "Jesus Christ is the same, yesterday, and today, and forever." The same Jesus we know that the writer of Hebrews knew as he wrote those words. The same Jesus no matter where we come from, or what race we represent, or what our I.Q. might be, or how important our place in life is supposed to be. The same Jesus regardless of what our doctrines SAY about Him; because Jesus is not the product of our understanding: Jesus IS.

Jesus is YHWH, the "I AM THAT I AM" who spoke to Moses from the burning bush. The "Alpha and Omega" who frightened John half to death on the Island of Exile. He is the same Jesus you learned to pray to when you said, "Now I lay me down to sleep" and he will be the same Jesus if you ever live to be 96 and close your eyes and die like my father did. In changing times, you can count on it: the one unchanging CONSTANT in this universe is Jesus Christ.

CONTRASTING GOALS, CHOICES FOR ETERNITY

I am probably pretty naive, but I'll say it anyway: There are just two kinds of people in this world . . . only two kinds of life-goals:

1. Those who believe that Jesus IS — is there for them to build their lives on . . . AND
2. Those who think they can "fit Jesus in", that Jesus changes with the times.

It may come as a shock to you, but YOU CAN'T FIT JESUS INTO YOUR LIFE PLANS! He always gets in the way. Jesus is the "odd-shaped cornerstone" that only works ONE WAY: You can trust Him, and build on Him, and He will never let you down as long as you live!

The first kind of people are people who really believe that Jesus doesn't change, and so they dare to follow him through the changing scenes of life. They believe that Jesus is NOT simply who we make Him out to be. He is not the private, personal "God of our choice", but the God that IS! He is YHWH!

The second kind of people are people who act as if Jesus Christ is in the same category as Santa Claus and the Tooth Fairy. They may never admit it out loud, but instead of staying in personal touch with Jesus they begin to accept what the experts say about Him, or they stop talking to Him because that is what little kids and old, old people do. And so they change their god to fit their world instead of the other way around.

THAT is what Jeremiah was talking about when he put God's words like this: "My people have done two big sins! They have left ME! They have constructed pitiful substitutes that will never work!"

COMPREHENSIVE PROMISE: A LIFE-TIME GUARANTEE

The Hebrews passage is a conversation. It is a dialogue we can play back when we need help in changing times.

The conversation starts with God. God says, "I will never leave you or forsake you!" Then the response we are challenged to make is: "I will not be afraid!"

This doesn't mean I will not FEEL afraid. We can't always help how we feel. It doesn't mean we will never fall down and cry in fear at times. But it does mean: "I will not be afraid to build my life on my relationship with You, Father God!" I will not be afraid to look the values and non-values of this world straight in the face and say "If they don't fit with Jesus, they don't come into my life!"

I have a final challenge, to us all, but particularly to any who have had great times of blessing; real experiences of God's blessing, perhaps at camps or on spiritual retreats. That challenge in a phrase is this: Begin with your experience and turn it into relationship.

Being saved is wonderful; but it is not the end of the line. Having your sins forgiven is great; but that is not all there is. Experience can be essentially "me-centered." Have you been saved? Do you have the Holy Spirit? Are your sins forgiven? All these are necessary and wonderful... But the secret of joy in the Christian Way is this: Everything God does for you, he does so that you can be his child and his friend.

Being a child and a friend are not always one and the same thing. I hear that a lot in my journeys around our church. We LOVE our families; but we aren't always really FRIENDS! It is great when families actually CARE! Do you LOVE God??

Prayer: Lord we come to You, the Eternal God! We thank You we can dare to build our lives on You. Give us grace to make and keep covenant with You and live to please You. In Jesus' name, AMEN

Closing Hymn 145 (STL) Glorious Is Thy Name (IF the brass can be ready!) After last verse go into #146 (STL) There is Strength in the Name of the Lord

No Short Cuts to Glory

October 31, 1999 (am)

Falmouth Church of the Nazarene, Falmouth, Massachusetts

(September 25, 1999 and February 21, 1999)

Matthew 4

He had finally got his chance to make the Really Big Sale. He was going into the final interview on the biggest contract he had ever written. He was ushered into the office of the executive buyer. An assistant brought coffee and left. The atmosphere was cordial.

Then the assistant tapped on the door and re entered the office and spoke briefly with the executive. She stood and said, "I apologize, but I have to tend to a matter. I'll just be a minute or two." She followed her assistant out of the room.

The sales representative looked around the beautifully appointed office. He saw her family pictures on her desk. Then he noticed she had evidently been studying what looked like a contract, a bid from a competitor. Leaning forward, he saw a column of figures, but it was obscured by a diet soda can.

What harm possibly could there be in reading her private information? After all, she had left it out in plain sight. But when he lifted the can it wasn't diet soda; it was 1,000 Bbs that gushed out the bottomless can, and ran all over the desk and cascaded onto the carpet. His attempt to short cut the competition was exposed.

Not every temptation is so obvious. Not every failure is so embarrassing. But every temptation is a challenge. Not even Jesus was spared the choosing.

I. Temptation Is An Enticement To Use A Short Cut To Reach A Desirable Goal.

You want a good grade. Good grades are desirable. They open doors. They bring scholarships. The easiest way to good grades is to let someone else do your work for you. But there is no real short cut to real education.

You want intimacy and the good feelings of love and security. No one has to tell you those are good things. The easiest way to those feelings is the pathway of least resistance. But there are no short cuts to real friendship. There is never an excuse to USE people like things, no matter what the goal may be.

You want success and influence. Within the boundaries of genuine caring those could be very worthy goals. But in our world all too often personal goals are reached at whatever the cost. But there is no short cut to real integrity.

- And cheating is always wrong.
- Adultery and fornication are always sin.
- Betrayal of confidence is always heartbreaking.

Whatever the reason, remember: there are no short cuts in finding and doing God's will. It is a wonderful thing to come to believe that in God's will we don't need short cuts!

II. Adam And Eve And Short Cuts

Adam and Eve, even in their innocence thought they might be able to take a short cut to God likeness. They were tempted to believe that maybe God was holding out on them. Whatever good was coming, they wanted it NOW! A short cut. The Tempter said, "Did God really say that?" Then he pursued that seed of doubt with philosophical denial. "You won't really die! God has it wrong! You can't really trust Him. He wants a monopoly on Truth!"

But they did die! Their innocence was gone. They were dead in trespasses and sin. And they were expelled from a garden into a wilderness. Their short cut was a tragedy.

In the classic Pilgrim's Progress, Christian and his new companion Hopeful fell in with a smooth talking man named By end, from the town of Fair speech. To hear By end talk the Christian journey required no effort at all. As his name suggests, he took the position that the end always justifies any short cut necessary, just so long as the rugged way of obedience could be avoided.

Just then Christian and Hopeful came alongside a beautiful meadow. There was a fence marking the pathway, but there was a stile over the fence, and they could see a path running parallel to the Way on the other side of the fence. After some discussion they crossed over to take advantage of easier going on the other side of the fence.

But soon it became less simple. Darkness fell, and it became hard to see. They tried to make their way back to the crossing, but soon they had to stay the night under a tree in the open. Then they were captured by a wicked Giant Despair, and taken to a dungeon in the Doubting castle. A pleasant short cut turned out to be a near disaster.

We can never leave the clear known will of God for our lives without bringing on big trouble. The most innocent disobedience brings broken fellowship with God. And there is no such thing as a short cut to where God wants you to be. You can trust His timing.

III. Jesus In His Innocence, Was Exposed To Temptation.

Fresh from his public baptism, and with the blessing of the Father's endorsement ringing in his ears, and in the joy of the Spirit's anointing, Jesus was led into the wilderness to face the challenge to take a short cut. Haggard and drawn from fasting, he was confronted with evil, demonic, powerful, hostile suggestion. The evil enemy attacked every angle. Henri Nouwen summed up the three temptations: be relevant, be popular, be powerful.

Be relevant: you have to survive! 'Make these stones into bread. You're famished. This is the real world. A dead Messiah isn't going to do anyone any good.'

But Jesus' response in fact said, "No, I don't have to survive! I have to be true!"

It wasn't that Jesus wasn't hungry. It wasn't that he couldn't work a miracle later. He fed 5,000 people with a little boy's lunch. But Jesus was taking orders from no one but the Father, and especially was not about to take advice from the Evil One.

"Man does not live by bread alone," he said, "but by every word that proceeds from the mouth of God."

No Short Cuts to Glory

Be popular: you need to communicate! 'Spiff up your act! What is this "repent stuff!?? Put on a show! Do miracles! Walk a high wire!'

But Jesus was never a performer. He never did things for the effect. It wasn't that he couldn't master the forces of nature. He walked on the sea. He calmed the storms. He raised the dead. And he died and rose again the third day.

"Don't try to put God on the spot!" was his reply.

Be powerful: you need to take charge! 'No one will see you out here in the desert as you compromise and kneel down to me. But then I'll lay off, and you can be the dictator of the world! No competition! A cross is a terrible way to go. You have to take charge of your life! Assert yourself!'

This was not a friendly debate. It was not a gentleman's duel of honor. Weak, exhausted, physically drained, Jesus was facing pure evil at its demonic worst.

Jesus, at his weakest, used the defense that is available to us all if we will just use it. (It is the 'key' that finally unlocked the dungeon of Doubting Castle, and let Christian and Hopeful out.) He did not reason with the Enemy. He reached into the Father's promises. He fled to the first Commandment. He claimed the protection that comes from utterly belonging.

He was God's Son! He affirmed his determination to worship Him only, and to live by the father's Word and way. Satan had to leave. And the angels came, there in the wilderness, and Jesus was refreshed. Then he resumed the step by step following of the Father's will that would take him to Calvary, to Olivet, and to Glory and Salvation for you and me.

There would be no short cut.

Conclusion

Temptation Is an Enticement to Use a Short Cut to Reach a Desirable Goal

Temptation is NOT sin. But yielding to temptation IS sin. And sin never, never, never makes good on its promises. There are no short cuts to truly desirable goals.

A workman went to his big boss one day and said, "I'm tired. I think I'll take my retirement benefits and hang it up. It's been great working for you."

The big boss looked disappointed, and said, "I really hate to see you go. I was hoping you could do at least one more big job for me. Will you, just one more?"

Reluctantly the builder agreed to build a house for some important client of the big boss. It was a big house, a lot of work on a golf course, with a lot of detail. But the man's heart really wasn't in it. He threw the house together in record time, and cut corners on material and labor wherever he could. He saved the boss a lot of money, but it wasn't really his best work and he knew it.

Imagine how he felt when he turned the keys over to the big boss, and the boss gave them right back, and fished around in his briefcase and gave him the title and deed to the property on the golf course.

"This is my gift for you!" he said. "Thanks for all your good work across the years!"

Then the builder wished he hadn't been in such a hurry. He wished he hadn't cut corners and taken short cuts just to get the job done.

Life is like that. Exactly like that. We become the product of our own integrity in following after God. Or lack of integrity. We become exiles from innocence when we try to take short cuts to being like God. Or, following our Savior, we use the promises and the commandments of God to resist the tempter's power, and we begin to share in Christ's righteousness.

This is just another Sunday evening service. There isn't anyone here but us. But God is here. And right now is a good time to ask God for His help in deliberately drawing closer to Him. I don't know about you, but I don't want to try to get away with building a shoddy house. I know I'm going to have to live in what I build.

Prayer

#512 Take Time to be Holy

The Power of Gods Word

-A Story of Martin Luther-

-For Reformation Sunday Evening-

For: October 31, 1999

Falmouth Church of the Nazarene, Falmouth, Massachusetts

Preached first October 31, 1993

Let me tell you a story this evening about a man who became a legend in his own time. This man, I sincerely believe, spent his life earnestly seeking after God, but he made at least as many enemies as he made friends. Five hundred and sixteen years after his birth (Nov 10, 1483) he is still a controversial figure in history.

The man's name, of course, is Martin, Martin Luther. He was the son of a peasant, Hans Luder, a working copper miner who was himself shrewd and ambitious and became an owner of mines. In a way it was a miracle that Martin should have gotten higher education, for few in his social level were recognized as worthy. But Martin was gifted, both scholastically and musically. He was permitted to attend the University of Erfurt, in Saxony, where he received his Bachelors of Arts in September 1502, and Master of Arts in January 1505. He began studies for law in May of that same year, 1505.

Like many young people Martin thought seriously about life and God and salvation. He was a seeker after truth and after God. In July of 1505, the year in which he began his law studies, Martin was caught in a thunderstorm, and a bolt of lightning struck so close to where he was that he was frightened half to death. He was certain that God Himself had spoken. In that moment Martin Luther said to God, "I will become a monk!" [cf. Acts 9/St. Paul] He was "shocked" into the most extreme action he knew how to take.

The Luders were devout Catholics, but they did not want their child to be too religious. A monk takes vows of poverty, and there would be no way Martin could support them in their old age. And so it came as a shock to Hans Luder as well when Martin announced that he was entering religious orders. But enter he did, and he was ordained in 1507 and celebrated his first Mass just two years later.

So Martin Luther not only became a monk, but a priest, and an outstanding scholar. Highly respected, Martin was promoted to Doctor of Theology in October of 1512, and was appointed the cathedral lecturer there at Wittenberg.

About this time two things happened that sparked a great change in Martin Luther, and ultimately in the way many of us have come to understand God's plan for our salvation.

FIRST, in these early years as a scholar and lecturer Martin Luther was wrestling with the word of God as revealed in Holy Scripture— wrestling with it directly.

Often as he studied Martin actually lived in torment because his faith only brought him into conflict with a God that demanded righteousness but never satisfied those who sought after it. So along with his studies came a growing sense of his own inability to measure up to what he could see of God's demands that God's people be holy and righteous.

In 1513, the year after receiving his Doctorate and becoming lecturer, Martin began lecturing on the Psalms. When he arrived at Psalm 72, even as he was lecturing to the students he got a new grasp about "the righteousness of God." He began to see it as a quality which God was willing to give to believers, and which would make them acceptable in his Presence.

He was struggling to HEAR WHAT GOD'S WORD REALLY WAS SAYING to him. In 1515 he began lecturing on Romans, and soon his "LISTENING" centered Paul's statement that the righteous live by faith. Martin had always thought this said, "If you are RIGHTEOUS, then you will have the true faith." He knew that God was righteous, and that he, Martin Luther, was not.

But as Martin listened to the word of God with the ears of his soul he heard, he understood, finally, what we now take so much for granted, and what we need to hear again and again:

It is by God's gift of grace to us, by FAITH, that we are enabled to take hold of Christ's righteousness— and the righteous LIVE BY THIS FAITH.

Luther declared that we could not even understand that we are sinners apart from the gospel. He wrote:

"We must know that we are sinners by faith alone, for it is not manifest to us; rather we are more often not conscious of the fact.. Thus we must stand under the judgment of God and believe His words with which he has declared us unjust, for he himself cannot lie."

Luther discovered that he had had it all backwards: WE DO NOT ACHIEVE FAITH BY BEING RIGHTEOUS, BUT WE RECEIVE CHRIST'S RIGHTEOUSNESS BY FAITH! This kernel of truth— this powerful portion of God's Word— was HEARD by Luther. He processed it— what could it mean? He RECEIVED IT AS GOD'S WORD. And Martin BELIEVED it! THE WORD OF GOD WENT TO WORK IN MARTIN LUTHER!

The SECOND THING that sparked change was: The mother church at Rome needed money, and was sending out special missions to collect it by the selling of indulgences. In Saxony, where Luther was, this conflict centered around an itinerant money collector named Johann Tetzel, who had the franchise on indulgences for that part of Germany.

Historian Walther Köhler has quoted Tetzel's sermon: "Do you not hear the voices of your dead relatives and others, crying out to you and saying, 'Pit us, pty us, for we are in dire punishment and torment from which you can release us for a pittance'?" And then the last exhortation in the form of a couplet:

"When the coin in the coffer rings, the soul from purgatory heavenward springs!"

Luther may not have been opposed at that time on the idea of purgatory, or even perhaps on praying for the dead; but he knew and understood that the motivation behind Tetzel's money-raising was not the salvation of souls at all. So he vehemently opposed the selling of indulgences, and he pretty well ruined Tetzel's business in his territory.

For it was on October 31, 1517, exactly 482 years ago this very day, Martin Luther nailed 95 Theses— 95 statements for debate on why the sale of indulgences were evil— on the Cathedral door in Wittenberg, Germany. He wrote these propositions for debate in Latin— the language of the church, and they began great debate, you may be certain. But the 95 theses were also translated into the common German, and printed, and spread far and wide. THAT is how Tetzel's business was ruined in that part of Saxony.

A whirlwind of things happened in the months and years following this revolt. The presenting problem had been sale of indulgence, but the underlying problem was where final authority for the church would rest. There were many communications and interviews, including a citation from Pope Leo X for Luther to come to Rome, which Elector Frederick of Saxony refused. Finally a Papal Bull in June of 1520 gave Luther 60 days to submit, and early in 1521 Luther was invited, under safe conduct, to the high court, or Diet of the Church at Worms, where he finally appeared in April, 1521.

Luther had hoped to engage in debate, but when he was admitted to the Diet on April 17, at about 4:00 p.m., before the Emperor Charles V and all the representatives of Rome the chancellor of the archbishop of Trier gave him no opportunity. Instead he gestured to a table in the middle of the impressive assembly, which was piled high with books. He told Martin Luther he had been called to the Diet of Worms to answer two questions: Had he written those books? Was there a part of them he would now choose to recant?

The monk and professor from little Wittenberg was given a chance to recant— not to debate. The judges had already made their decision. He spoke in a voice that could scarcely be heard: "The books are all mine— I have written more." But then, as he considered the second question: "This touches God and his Word. This affects the salvation of souls. I beg you, give me time." And so he was given one day. Back in his quarters Luther wrote, "So long as Christ is merciful, I will not recant a single jot or tittle."

Luther was not admitted to the Diet the next day until nightfall, and he stood in the candle-lighted episcopal hall next to the great cathedral. After realizing again that there was no room for debate, Luther made this statement:

"Unless I can be instructed and convinced with evidence from the Holy Scriptures or with open, clear, and distinct grounds and reasoning— and my conscience is captive to the Word of God— then I cannot and will not recant, because it is neither safe nor wise to act against conscience."

And then he added the famous words: "Here I stand. I can do no other. God help me! Amen" And with those words Luther became an outlaw.

Even though he had been guaranteed safe passage his life was immediately in danger. [He made his way to the Castle Wartburg, where he allowed his hair to grow out, and he became "a knight" for the next few years. But much of Germany was responding to this concept of salvation by faith.]

Let it be said that it is clear from all records that Martin Luther loved his church, and never intended that he start a different movement of the church. He appealed to the Pope himself to stop the excess. But there were many factors that entered the picture, too many to put in one sermon. The political scene in Northern Europe, the threat and even invasion of the Turks up the Danube against Christendom— soon the lines were drawn, and the division became beyond repair.

But the entire Christian world was changed by this man who listened— who believed— who let the word work in him. We who call ourselves Wesleyan owe a great deal to Luther, for in May, 1738, while he was at a prayer meeting, John Wesley heard one reading Luther's Preface to the Book of Romans— and Wesley knew in a new way that he was saved— by faith— that his sins were forgiven through grace!

THIS ENTIRE REFORMATION MOVEMENT WAS SPARKED BY ONE THEME, ONE PHRASE, AS IT WERE, FROM THE WORD OF GOD.

LOOK AGAIN AT THE LESSON (in your worship folder) THAT IS OUR TEXT FOR THE MORNING: Paul says

The Power of Gods Word

1. I labored to give you the gospel of God; and
2. I am thankful when you heard it you received it and believed it, and
3. it is at work in YOU now!

Two thoughts:

1. HOW IMPORTANT IT IS THAT WE SHARE THE WORD OF GOD; (SHARE THE WORD AND NOT OUR IDEAS!) The ancient prophet Micah complained that false prophets were saying whatever got them the highest salary.
2. HOW POWERFUL GOD'S WORD IS WHEN IT IS HEARD AND TRUSTED.

Just what IS the "word of God?" It is revelation; it is given to us in the Bible, by the Spirit, by the foolishness of preaching, by God's great grace.

The word of God is that which we know to be God's will communicated to us with convicting power; the word of God is the transforming message of God's love in Christ. The Bible is all that. It is the word of God.

THE WORD OF GOD IS DYNAMIC:

1. The word of God needs to be communicated. Spoken. Proclaimed faithfully. Preaching is God's appointed means, method.
2. The word of needs to be received, heard, believed. The word of God is "not" the word of God for you, for me unless and until it is received!!

The word of God is powerful. The same word that called worlds into being is the power that calls LIFE into being within the person/church that hears, receives, and believes. The listening ear of the soul is the receiving organ of God's mighty holy power.

What happens when we hear the word of God? When we really listen to what God is saying?

We can never stay the same. We either walk forward in the power of the word that transforms us— that is "at work in you who believe"— OR we fall forever behind what God wills for us to be.

To listen, to hear, is to be a part of God's Plan of salvation. Every true messenger of God has been energized, empowered, compelled by the WORD OF GOD. When evil attacks us, our families, our world— our first reaction is to march out with all our might against it. And if we do we are doomed to failure. But if, instead, we listen to what God is saying about the evil, the word of God at work in us will involve us effectively. The whole thing will be wrought of the Spirit.

461 Open My Eyes That I May See

Lesson:

Surely you remember, brothers(and sisters), our toil and hardship; we worked hard day and night in order not to be a burden to anyone while we preached the gospel of God to you.

You are witnesses, and so is God, of how holy, righteous and blameless we were among you who believed. For you know that we dealt with each of you as a father deals with his own children, encouraging, comforting, and urging you to live lives worthy of God, who calls you into his kingdom and glory.

And we also thank God continually because, when you received the word of God, which you heard from us, you accepted it not as the word of (mere humans), but as it actually is, the word of God, which is at work in you who believe.

1 Thessalonians 2: 9-12 (NIV with my own (x)s)

Jesus is Lord

Christ the King Sunday

November 21, 1999

Lesson: Matthew 25:31-46

Introduction

This is the last Sunday of the church yearly cycle. Next week we begin the wonderful season of Advent. The last Sunday of the year is called "Christ the King Sunday;" when the final chapters have been written, and the books are balanced and closed, the Bible tells us all Creation will acknowledge that Jesus Christ is Lord of All.

God's Word for today is found in this 25th Chapter of Matthew; Jesus is speaking what shall come to pass. These words are sobering:

I. WE HAVE HERE A VISION OF CHRIST'S GLORY (not A Parable!)

- A. The people knew Jesus as the lowly Nazarene. Now Jesus tells them He is coming again as King and Judge. All the angels of heaven will be with Him— the angels that sang when He was born, and that fill heaven even now with praise— that run to and fro at the bidding of God— now will attend around a throne of great glory and splendor.
- B. Jesus here tells us that human history will be brought to account. What we celebrate on Christ the King Sunday is vividly illustrated in the last enigmatic book of the Bible. The Revelation is a mysterious book which no one fully understands. But the message of Revelation is loud and clear, and that message is that we know who wins the war between Good and Evil!
- C. Certainly not everyone believes this. Darkness and chaos abound; city streets are stalked by fear, and lawlessness has reached into every corner of our land. There are two kingdoms existing side-by-side; there are two ways of looking at life. Jesus tells us we can count on it: He will be here to take charge. The light that shined in the darkness has not been snuffed out; and the darkness cannot comprehend it. Jesus tells us that all Creation must join in the chorus: Worthy is the Lamb that was slain!

But this is not simply majestic and dramatic. Jesus has promised us

II. HERE ALSO, THE PROMISE OF ACCOUNTABILITY FOR US ALL

A. All nations shall be gathered before this glorious Throne where the Son of Man shall sit. The Apostle's Creed says that Jesus Christ is seated at the right hand of God the Father, "from thence He shall come to judge the quick and the dead."

B. This raises questions of "narrowness" and "sectarianism" and "triumphalism." But Jesus Christ is God Almighty, and if God Almighty is Faithful and True, then there must be, there shall be a final accounting. The concern at the Judgment is: HAS THERE BEEN LOVE IN YOUR HEART? HOW HAVE YOU EXPRESSED THAT LOVE?

The moral and spiritual world that is without form and void, and that has darkness upon the face of the deep will hear again the word of Power: "LET THERE BE LIGHT!" And then IN THAT JUDGMENT LIGHT every sin will be exposed, every evil thought and intention of the heart will be brought into full view, and every motivation will be fully understood and rewarded in kind. That is what Jesus is telling us here.

Explain away or edit this passage if you can. Many people will, and do. Tell us what it really meant to those who heard it, or those who thought they heard it and wrote it down in this form. I choose to believe that by the Holy Spirit this is the solemn word of God writing history before it happens. I cannot understand how or where or in what way this Great Azzize will take place. But YOU will be there. And I will be there. I will answer then for this message, and for the life I am living. And so will you.

[This is not a triumph of "us" over them. God is NOT on OUR side. God loves all people, everywhere. But how important it will be then to really be on HIS side!}]

III. AN AMAZING PART OF CHRIST'S PROPHECY: BOTH GROUPS ARE SURPRISED BY HIS JUDGMENT!

They have an identical response! Their love, or lack of love expressed, has been for the most part totally unconscious! "When did we ever see You? When didn't we do what we were supposed to do?"

IV. WHAT WAS/IS THE DIFFERENCE IN THIS DIVISION OF THE NATIONS?

(After all, these are NOT real sheep and goats; they are people!) THERE WILL BE A DIVISION OF HUMANKIND!

NICODEMUS ASKED THE QUESTION: "What do I need to DO in order to enter the righteous kingdom? And what Jesus told Nicodemus is what we need to remember when we think of Christ the King, and the Day of reckoning:

YOU MUST BE... AND THEN YOU WILL DO!

[How may we "prepare" for the time when we shall stand before this throne of splendor? How do I make sure that I will be on the right hand in the Day of Judgment? Do I set out to be more sensitive? do I make sure I do the good things I should? Do I begin to love more and better?

DOESN'T THIS REFLECT A WAY OF THINKING THAT IN OUR BETTER MORE LUCID MOMENTS WE REJECT— THAT SALVATION REALLY AND FINALLY IS A MATTER OF WORKS AFTER ALL? IF I AM GOOD, THEN I WILL BE SAVED ... AND IF I AM BAD I WILL BE DAMNED?

If I want to be a sheep I don't start out simply trying to act like a sheep. I don't give Jesus "an important part of my schedule;" or start doing good things, and associating with Christians and joining the church; but rather, like Nicodemus I need to hear Jesus say

UNLESS YOU ARE BORN AGAIN YOU CANNOT EVEN SEE THE KINGDOM!

If Jesus and the things of God are a more-or-less important part of my life, the chances are that I am not a Christian. If I am trying to become a citizen of the heavenly kingdom without swearing allegiance to the King I will never be anything but an illegal alien. To see the church as kingdom is much different from being a part of a "church" that exists as an auxiliary to life and living. If we are the sheep of God's pasture, if we are kingdom people, then the church must be a way of life for us. If we are NOT kingdom people, then we by default become part of the rest of the world, the kingdom of chaos, and hopelessness.

When, by the Spirit of God, I see that God so loved ME that He sent His only-begotten Son to die for me— when by the Spirit of God I see that Jesus has raised from the dead for MY life, for MY victory over sin and death— then I am coming close to birth into this great kingdom.

And when by the Spirit of God I pledge allegiance to the great Kingdom by saying from my heart:

JESUS IS LORD!

then I leave the rank of the "goats" and have been born again as a child of God— I may be counted among His sheep!

We are not saved by ACTING LIKE SHEEP== we are saved by BEING GOD'S PEOPLE OF GRACE, THE SHEEP OF HIS PASTURE— AND THEN LETTING HIS GOD-LOVE FLOW OUT THROUGH US!

AND THAT GOD-LOVE COMES WHEN WE SAY FROM OUR HEARTS: JESUS IS LORD!
DO You indeed say it from your heart this morning?

1. It is a gift of faith to look to the past and see Jesus hanging between heaven and earth, dying on the Cross for you and me, and to truly believe that the Cross was not the end for a great martyr—BUT THE OPENING OF THE DOOR TO ETERNITY BY THE LORD OF LORDS AND KING OF KINGS! It is good, and it is right to say,
Jesus WAS Lord!"

It is a gift of faith to look to the past and see the open entrance to an empty tomb, and know that THE RESURRECTION OF JESUS DEFEATED SIN AND DEATH AND HELL! In the Resurrection,

Jesus WAS Lord!

2. It is also a gift of faith, and even more thrilling to look to the future when our Lord shall return, and the promise is that EVERY KNEE SHALL BOW AND EVERY TONGUE SHALL CONFESS THAT JESUS CHRIST IS LORD TO THE GLORY OF GOD THE FATHER! I say with all my heart, and I believe it is true that, JESUS WILL BE LORD!

3. But what does SAVING FAITH say? It says, Jesus IS Lord!

Right here and now, in the midst of problems! Right now, when the church is imperfect- right now, I affirm that JESUS IS LORD!

Prayer

Read together 125 Yours Is the Kingdom Sing

123 All Hail King Jesus

Scriptures for Christ the King Sunday - November 21 (1999?)

Ezekiel 34:11-17 For thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I, even I, will both search my sheep, and seek them out. As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day. And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel by the rivers, and all the inhabited places of the country. I will feed them in a good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel. I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord God. I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: but I will destroy the fat and the strong; I will feed them with judgment. And as for you, O my flock, thus saith the Lord God; behold, I judge between cattle and cattle, between the rams and the he goats.

Psalms 95:1-7 Come let us sing unto the Lord; let us shout for joy to the Rock of our salvation. Let us come before His presence with thanksgiving and raise a loud shout to Him with praise. For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. In his hand are the caverns of the earth, and the heights of the hills are his also. The sea is his, for he made it, and his hands have molded the dry land. Come let us bow down, and bend the knee, and kneel before the Lord our Maker. For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand. Oh that today you would hearken to his voice!

Matthew 25:31-46 When the Son of Man comes as King, and all the angels with him, he will sit on his royal throne, and all the earth's people will be gathered before him. Then he will divide them into two groups, just as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats: he will put the sheep at his right and the goats at his left. Then the King will say to the people on His right: 'You who are blessed by my Father: Come! Come and receive the kingdom which has been prepared for you ever since the creation of the world. I was hungry and you fed me, thirsty and you gave me drink; I was a stranger and you received me in your homes, naked and you clothed me; I was sick and you took care of me, in prison and you visited me.' The righteous will then answer him: 'When, Lord, did we ever see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you drink? When did we ever see you a stranger and welcome you into our homes, or naked and clothe you? When did we ever see you sick or in prison, and visit you?' The King will answer back, 'I tell you, indeed, whenever you did this for one of these poorest brothers of mine, you did it for me!' Then he will say to those on his left: 'Away from me, you who are under God's curse! Away to the eternal fire which has been prepared for the Devil and his angels! I was hungry but you would not feed me, thirsty but you would not give me drink; I was a stranger but you would not welcome me into your homes, naked but you would not clothe me; I was sick and in prison but you would not take care of me.' Then they will answer him: 'When, Lord, did we ever see you hungry, or thirsty, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and we would not help you?' The King will answer them back, 'I tell you, indeed, whenever you refused to help one of these poor ones, you refused to help me.' These, then, will be sent off to eternal punishment; the righteous will go to eternal life. I Corinthians 15:20-28 But the truth is that Christ has been raised from death, as the guarantee that those who sleep in death will also be raised. For just as death came by means of a man, in the same way the rising from death comes by means of a man. For just as all men die because of their union to Adam, in the same way all will be raised to life because of their union to Christ. But each one in his proper order: Christ, the first of all; then those who belong to Christ, at the time of his coming. Then the end will come; Christ will overcome all spiritual rulers, authorities, and powers, and hand over the kingdom to God the Father. For Christ must rule until God defeats all enemies and puts them under his feet. The last enemy to be defeated will be death. For the scripture says, "God put all things under his feet." It is clear, of course, that the words "all things" do not include God Himself, who puts all things under Christ. But when all things have been placed under Christ's rule, then he himself, the Son, will place himself under God, who placed all under him; and God will rule completely over all.

The Baptism of Our Lord

January 9, 2000

"Did you receive the Holy Spirit when you believed?" Acts 19:2

Last Thursday, January 6th, was the Twelfth Day of Christmas, the Epiphany of Our Lord. ("Epiphany" means "showing" or "revealing.") Epiphany is the day we remember the Wise Men and their Gifts. In some respects it closes the Christmas Season.

But we Christians know that Christmas is never over. Christmas is not an ending, it is a beginning. Jesus needs to be shown not just to the wise men but to the whole world.

Mark's Gospel does not tell the Christmas story. We first meet Jesus as a young adult. With Mark, Jesus' showing, or his epiphany to the world, began with his baptism.

I. THE BAPTISM OF JESUS BY JOHN

Mark in his story of Jesus plunges right in . . . He starts with John, preaching repentance from sin in the wilderness of the Jordan. His message is rugged, like his appearance. Somehow this rugged message of repentance from sin, getting right with God strikes a chord with the hearts of seeking men and women. Mark tells us that the whole countryside, even as far as Jerusalem, came out to listen, to hear, and to repent and be baptized for the forgiveness of their sins.

Onto this scene of revival and repentance from sin comes the One— the only One— who was absolutely without the need for repentance or renewal. The only One who was intrinsically holy. The only One who could say "Who can convict Me of sin?" And what does this sinless One do? He gets in line with the sinners waiting to be baptized. And when his turn comes, even though John the Baptizer protests, Jesus is baptized.

WHY?

The Baptism of Our Lord

1. Jesus was identifying with us. The pivotal event in all history was when God became a Baby and in Jesus took our flesh, our humanity as His own. (That is why we turned the calendar over last week to 2,000. Not when Jesus died, or even when he rose—vital as those are. But when he CAME!))But as if that were not enough, now Jesus accepts our sins. 2 Corinthians 5:21 "For (God) hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin, that we might be made the righteousness of God in him."
2. Jesus was being obedient to the Father's Plan. In being the Sin-Bearer he also was pleasing to the Father.
3. Jesus was gloriously affirmed by (1) the descent of the Holy Spirit, and (2) the Voice from Heaven "This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased."

That is the historical beginning of Jesus' ministry. Identifying with sinners. Obedient to the father's Plan. Affirmed by the Father in the outpouring of the Holy Spirit.

But that is not all "The Baptism of Jesus" means: Not just that Jesus himself was baptized, but that Jesus also had a baptism to give to others. Jesus Himself was a baptizer even more than John the Baptist. In our lesson John urges us not to forget that fact.

Here is the heart of our message today: Jesus was baptized by John so he could be one with us, and he came all the way to where we are. But Jesus baptizes us with his greater baptism so that we might be one with HIM, and take us into the very LIFE of God!

II. THE BAPTISM JESUS HIMSELF GIVES

The lesson in Acts 19 asks the question: "Did you receive the Holy Spirit when you believed?" Remember in our Gospel lesson John the Baptist said, "I baptize you with water, but One is coming after me who will baptize you with the Holy Spirit!"

- What is this Spirit baptism?
- Who gets to have God's Spirit?
- When do you suppose that prophecy or promise of John the Baptist was fulfilled?

The answer may surprise you! It is simpler and yet more profound and richer than we can fully grasp. It is one of the wonderful mysteries of our faith!

The first real baptism of the Holy Spirit came when the church was born after Jesus ascended to the Father. We call that Day "Pentecost" and it is recorded in the second chapter of Acts.

There was a lot of excitement that day. There were tongues of fire, and strange sounds and speaking in at least sixteen different languages so that everyone could hear the Good News. All the church that day was filled with the Holy Spirit.

But what about you and me? Do WE get to have the Holy Spirit in our lives as well? Can we share in this baptism of Jesus?

Absolutely! When we are baptized into Christ– when we are converted from selfishness and sin– when we confess that Jesus is Lord– at that moment we receive the Holy Spirit! (Cf Romans 10: 9,10) Paul also says (in Romans 8:9) "If we do not have the Spirit we are not Christ's!"

When we realize that Jesus is alive! He is risen from the dead! And when by the help of the Holy Spirit Himself we can say "Jesus is LORD!" it is a kairos moment! It is a change time! The baptism of LIFE by Jesus Himself is begun in our lives! THAT IS THE BAPTISM OF JESUS!

[Have YOU been born of the Spirit? Have you confess Jesus as your personal Lord? Do you know Jesus lives in your heart just now?]

Conclusion

BUT there is a difference in being alive, and in being abundantly alive! (John 10:10) Do you want to know how you can be sure you have both been baptized and filled with the Holy Spirit?

[Unfortunately there are many complex answers to that question! Everyone is an expert in the Holy Spirit! Some say you have to "feel" something– or "speak a certain way" – or claim somebody's doctrine. But forgive me if I tell you I believe there is a very simple way: we ASK!]

The Baptism of Our Lord

A "life verse" of mine is Luke 11:13. Jesus is teaching his disciples to pray. It is another version of what we call "The Lord's Prayer." But then Jesus tells us: "If you being evil know how to give good things to your children, how much more will the Father in heaven give the Holy Spirit to those who ask?!!"

We can have this baptism of Jesus. We can be filled, and keep on being filled. But we must ask. And we must be willing to empty our hands of stuff that might hinder us from coming really alive in Christ. Shall we pray?

Prayer

Father in heaven, who at the baptism of Jesus in the River Jordan proclaimed him your beloved Son and anointed him with the Holy Spirit: Grant that all who are baptized into his Name may keep the covenant they have made, and boldly confess him as Lord and Savior; who with you and the Holy Spirit lives and reigns, one God, in glory everlasting.

O Father! Your Son who baptizes people with the Holy Spirit has told us that if we ask You, you will fill us with the Holy Spirit. We come for that filling again today. In Jesus' name. Amen

Will you share communion with me this morning?

Listen! God wants to tell us something about His purpose for us here! If we will listen, God will do a wonderful thing! I don't know about the future of this church. I don't know about my own future, or yours. But I know Someone who holds the future. We do not have to be afraid, for He is already there! So for these first few weeks as we get acquainted I ask you to join with me in listening! Step by Step He will lead us! I really believe that!

And so John came, baptizing in the desert region and preaching repentance and baptism for the forgiveness of sins. The whole Judean countryside and all the people of Jerusalem went out to him. Confessing their sins, they were baptized by him in the Jordan River. John wore clothing made of camel's hair, with a leather belt around his waist, and he ate locusts and wild honey. And this was his message: "After me will come one more powerful than I, the thongs of whose sandals I am not worthy to stoop down and untie. I baptize you with water, but he will baptize you with the Holy Spirit."

At that time Jesus came from Nazareth in galilee and was baptized by John in the Jordan. As Jesus was coming up out of the water, he saw heaven torn open and the Spirit descend on him like a dove. And a voice came from heaven: "You are my Son, whom I love; with you I am well-pleased." - Mark 1:4-13

O God, You are my God
And I will ever praise You
O God You are my God
And I will ever praise You
And I will seek you in the morning
And I will learn to walk in your way
And step by step you'll lead me
And I will follow You all of my day.

The Call of God

January 16, 2000

East Wareham United Methodist Church, Wareham, Massachusetts

1 Samuel 3:1-10; John 1:43-51

LISTENING!

This room, right this moment, is full of pictures and words and music! We can hear and see them if we just have the proper equipment and know how to use it.

Here I hope to produce a transistor boom box radio. I turn it on. It does NOT work. THEN I see it doesn't have any batteries. I find the batteries in my bag, put them in and turn it on again. I begin to get random stations. Some (bad) music. Some talking. There are many stations all competing for our attention.

This world is full of spiritual messages. Not all of them are from God. But do you know what? You already HAVE the equipment. You don't HAVE a spirit; you ARE a spirit.

Maybe you need power. FAITH is God's gift; the batteries to give you power to listen. Then you have to TURN ON, and TUNE IN.

To TURN ON, means to deliberately seek to listen for the Word of God. To realize we are spiritual creatures, and must not seek to live by bread alone.

To TUNE IN means to tune OUT so-called spiritual messages that are not God's best will for our lives. We can't follow many leaders. As a matter of fact we can't even really follow TWO leaders. We have to decide: what is God saying to ME? To US?

There are MANY spiritual messages available— and we have the ability to "tune in" to God. But to do that we need to "tune out" a lot of other broadcasters.

(I had a memorial service this week for a semi-homeless person, and met a lot of wonderful people you might call "street people." One of them told me he belongs to fifteen Christian ministries. "Oral Roberts sends me mail," he told me. He has too many messages coming in to be able to "tune in.")

HEARING!

How do you suppose God speaks to people who really want to listen?

1. We have to be willing to take advice, and not begin by knowing it all before we even start!

According to one 19th century expert, after the battle of Little Big Horn some Cheyenne women found Custer's body, the one they called 'Yellow Hair'. He and all his men had died because he had failed to listen to good advice. Evan Cornell, a historian, said these Cheyenne women pierced Yellow Hair's eardrums with sewing awls. This was so that in the next world he would be able to hear better, because he sure hadn't listened in this one.

As Jerry Fuller, who told this story said, "Ouch! Lucky Custer was dead!"

2. We need some quiet time, even silence in our lives.
3. We need a regular time and place to talk with God, and even more important, to listen.
4. We need the Bible. The Spirit uses the Bible as He talks with us. In the Word preached, yes. In the Word studies together, yes. And in the Word we read and think about.

If we will listen, and use our equipment, God is already speaking!!

Obeying!

How can we be sure it is GOD speaking??? We have to be willing to OBEY! We may not understand; we may not know what is the right choice; BUT IF WE ARE WILLING TO OBEY GOD WILL LEAD US!

God's will will always be bringing us closer to Jesus! To His Lordship! To His glory!!

THE GOSPEL STORY HERE - John 1:43-51

Jesus told Philip the Apostle, Follow me. He did. Philip had to talk about it. He told his friend, Nathaniel. The result was the conversion of Nathaniel.

So, in fact, Jesus called Nathaniel through Philip! He might call someone through you or me!

Philip: We have found the Messiah!

Nathaniel: Can anything good come from Nazareth? (Can anything good happen HERE?)

P: Come and see!

Jesus: (Backs Philip up) I know you! Nathaniel, your faith is on the right track!!

N: How do you know me?

Jesus: You haven't seen ANYTHING yet!!

Nathaniel begins to follow Jesus— his faith begins to unfold as he listens, hears, obeys!!

We might reflect on others who have answered God's call.

(Henri Nouwen's responses to God's calls led him first to the ordained ministry in his native Netherlands, then to university classrooms in Europe and the U.S.A. Later, seeking, Nouwen became a member of one of Jean Vanier's L'Arche Communities; there he answered God's call as spoken through the needs of the intellectually and physically handicapped with whom he shared his love and care. Nouwen found at L'Arche the home and family harmony for which he had longed so many years of his life.)

Esther Sanger was past 50 years of age when she heard God speak in a special way.

God is a God of surprises. We need to be listening and willing to hear and to heed the call of God from wherever, in whomever and whenever it may come.

When we feel unequal to the challenge of God's call, remember that no call ever comes without accompanying grace. When there seems to be inner conflict or we think we need to quit or take a detour it is time to renew surrender, and tell God we are WILLING to obey if we KNOW IT IS HIS WILL!

Remember we cannot be filled with the Spirit if we are not willing to let go of the stuff that clutters up our lives. We cannot be blessed and a blessing if we are hanging on to known sins. When it is clearly God's will we had better ask for grace to obey immediately:

The Call of God

Illustration: The renowned preacher Donald Grey Barnhouse told of a missionary in Africa whose little son was playing in the yard. Suddenly he heard his father's voice. "Philip! Obey me instantly! Drop to the ground!" The boy did what he was told without any question. "Now crawl toward me as fast as you can." Again the boy obeyed. "Now stand up and run to me!" The lad followed instructions and ended in his father's arms. Only then did he look back at the tree where he had been playing. Hanging from a limb was a 15-foot snake! Suppose the boy had paused to ask why, or in a whining tone had inquired, "Do I have to do that right now?" He would have been killed by that deadly reptile.

LET US PRAY: Lord God, You showed Your glory and led many to faith by the works of Your Son. As He brought gladness and healing to His people, grant us these same gifts and lead us also to perfect faith in Him, Jesus Christ our Lord. AMEN.

Affirm your faith with me:

The Apostles' Creed - on Page 7 UMH

Invitation

Prayer of Confession - on Page 8 UMH

Let us offer ourselves and our gifts to God!

The Lord's Prayer

Communion

O God you are My God

Benediction

Postlude

Answering Gods Call: Jonah, Peter, and You

January 23, 2000

Jonah 3, Mark 1:14-20

Did you ever have a neighbor that could make life miserable for you? Thank God we haven't had very many, but even one is one too many!

{In one church the houses were close together and our next-door neighbor was a sour old man who seemed to hate my four sons. He called the police if their friends parked across the street from his house. He kept their ball if it went over his fence. One day he had a heart attack and as he was being carried on a stretcher out to the ambulance he raised his head and yelled "Keep off the grass!"

{I wish I could say I changed him with charm and prayer, but I'm afraid he was just as unhappy when we moved as when we came.}

I. JONAH'S CALL

Multiply your worst neighbor by 1,000,000 and add blood-letting and hatred and horrible violence and you get the idea of what Assyria was as a neighbor to the little kingdoms in the Middle east. So– one day God said to his prophet Jonah, "Go down there to Ninevah and tell them they are in big trouble!"

GOD CALLED HIS MAN, TO DO A JOB FOR HIM

And you know what? Jonah ran the other way! Why? Was he afraid? Maybe. But I think he was afraid that God might forgive those wicked neighbors and Jonah didn't want to share his God with them. They didn't deserve it! So Jonah ran!

{Do you know the story of Jonah? Ran to Joppa, got a ship to Tarshish - BIG storm– draw straws- over he goes– BIG FISH - deep-sea prayer meeting- SICK FISH . . . THEN}

GOD GIVES JONAH ANOTHER SHOT AT IT and a miracle of miracles– Ninevah repents. God does NOT destroy them. And Jonah is sorry!

BUT JONAH'S MESSAGE IS: GOD LOVES US, BUT HE LOVES THAT DIFFICULT NEIGHBOR, TOO

(Just pray He doesn't ask you to be nice to him!! If he does what will you do??)

II. JESUS CALLS PETER ANDREW JAMES AND JOHN

This is about God's love, too. But it seems a lot more personal. Jesus comes along and says FOLLOW ME!

What would you have done?

I really want to know Jesus! I would follow Him if He came along, wouldn't you?

Peter and Andrew and James and John first of all got to be with Jesus. They didn't have to tell their nasty neighbors anything until Jesus showed them how. Later He did just that.

Peter had to learn to follow Jesus even after Jesus had gone to heaven. Jesus sent the Holy Spirit to help Peter get over his prejudices. Peter never was "perfect" but he left everything he needed to leave and he followed. And we're here because he did!

III. JESUS CALLING!

- Does Jesus still come by where people are working and playing and ask them to follow Him?
- Do you remember when Jesus called to you?

I can't remember the first time I believe I knew Jesus was calling me. But I certainly DO remember ONE time! JANUARY 17, 1948 was a Saturday night. That night Jesus spoke to me and I felt very sick of my sins. I knew I was not where I ought to be with God. I promised God that night that I would give my heart to him the next chance I got. I was thinking in terms of an invitation to an altar of prayer,

The very next night JANUARY 18, 1948, Sunday night, I went to church. I don't know what the pastor said. I didn't FEEL anything emotional. But I heard Jesus say in my spirit 'DO YOU REMEMBER YOUR PROMISE?' I heard my call 'FOLLOW ME!'

- Do you believe Jesus still calls us?
- Do you think he is calling us, like Jonah, to love those neighbors?
- Do you believe he calls us to follow Him?
- Do you say "Yes!" to Him?
- Do you know you are saved?

John Wesley, the founder of the Methodist Church, preached that we could be saved and we could KNOW we are saved! That ASSURANCE is a wonderful thing!

HOW do we know we are right with God?

1. By the Word of God: If we confess God is faithful!
2. By our spirit's witness that we have answered in good faith.
3. By the assurance that the Holy Spirit gives us that we are forgiven.

Prayer

O Father God, through your Son the Lord Jesus, we hear you calling, "Come, follow ME!" We don't know where you want to take us. We don't know what you want to do with us. But we want to be with You! We want to belong to You! So we come! Forgive our sins! By your Holy Spirit live in our hearts! Make us Your people this very day, we pray

We ask this in Jesus' Name. Amen

The Authority of Jesus Word

January 30, 2000

Mark 1:22 And they were astonished at his teaching, for He taught as one having authority, and not as the scribes.

Do you know the difference between power and authority?

You're sitting at a traffic light, in the middle lane, waiting for the light to change. On your left is a Dodge Viper, with about a zillion horsepower, just waiting to streak away like a shot. That is power! On your right is the biggest, shiniest eighteen-wheeler you ever saw, with chromium exhaust pipes and a cab that looks two stories tall, and it is rumbling like a thousand snarling lions, waiting for the light to change. That's power!

But just before the light begins to change, you see a State Policeman, in shiny boots and spit-and-polish uniform. His car is parked across the way. He is evidently filling in for the school crossing guard. He walks to the center of the street and holds up his hand. All the traffic comes to a stop. You wait. The Viper waits. The eighteen-wheeler waits. And a tiny little girl with a backpack walks kitty-corner across the busy intersection. The rumbling engines have power. He has authority!

I. JESUS SPOKE WITH AUTHORITY

What was the difference in the preaching of Jesus and the preaching of the scribes? I'm sure it was not that the scribes preached untruth. They were versed in the Old Covenant. That was God's powerful Word. That was the scripture that Jesus came to fulfill. The difference was that the scribes were teaching lessons, and Jesus was teaching LIFE! The bean-counters were quoting this or that rabbi and explaining all the meanings of the words. Nothing wrong with that. But Jesus was never a bean-counter. He was not a legalist. He was inviting those who heard him to believe that God cared about how they responded to His Word. Jesus spoke and HOPE began to spring up in his hearers' hearts.

Jesus always spoke with authority. In the storm when the disciples were terrified Jesus said, "Peace! Be still!" and the storm was over! He said, "Lazarus, come forth!" and the dead man was alive again. When the authorities sent police to arrest Jesus they came back without him. "No one ever spoke like this Man, ever before!" was their reason for coming back empty-handed.

Jesus forgave sins. Jesus said the Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath. Jesus said, "You have heard it said, but I say unto you!" Yes, Jesus spoke with authority! He still does!

II. THE AUTHORITY OF JESUS IS WHOLESOME AND GOOD

A man with an unclean spirit had come to church that day. The words of Jesus troubled him greatly— or at least troubled the unclean spirits within him. They cried out at the pressure of God's AUTHORITY. A selfish, sinful heart does not like the idea of God telling it what to do. Preaching from the Bible gets hate and ridicule because the WORDS separated from the AUTHOR can easily be used to restrict their happiness and freedom. When there is true AUTHOR-ity there is always happiness and freedom. The authority of Jesus sets us free. God is the author of true freedom. But true freedom is never finally freedom FROM unless it is also freedom TO!

Don't get hung up on the unclean spirit part of the story. You don't have to be demon possessed to have problems inside. There is such a thing as a spirit world that oppresses. But all of us are filled with something or another. There are no true spiritual vacuums. That is why it is so important that we know God, and are being filled with His Presence, His Love, His Spirit.

III. THE AUTHORITY OF JESUS CAN BRING REAL LOVE TO YOUR LIFE

Jesus could have made us all perfect robots, with no problems, and no doubts and fears. He chose instead to give us freedom to choose which way we shall go: toward the light, or away from it. Faith tells us that in the end God will sort things out. His Word is powerful. His will is good, and will finally be done on earth as it is in heaven.

But in the meanwhile, God does not operate without the consent of persons. We are what theologians call "free moral agents." God has given us the power to say yes or no to the great choices in life.

We are heavily weighted on the side of error and sin. Sin has great power. In fact the Bible says that every one of us has fallen, and not once but many times. It seems that the power of the Truth escapes us. Still, we are not left without help.

We are free to choose to call upon the authority of Jesus. We can ask him to meet us where we are and take us to where he wants us to be.

[The love of Jesus meets us where we are. Billy Graham went to Korea during the conflict there and preached and held services and met with the troops. One thing he did was visit the hospitals, and in one visit he saw a man who was burned badly, and was recovering by being strapped into a bed-frame that was turned periodically. He was lying face down when Billy Graham came through. Billy Graham lay down on the floor and scooted under the bed so he could talk face to face with this wounded soldier. That is an icon to me of how God in Christ meets us where we are when we really want to come under his authority.]

[The authority of Jesus leads us where we have never been before - - -The true story of J____ T]

Conclusion

The POWER and the AUTHORITY of God reside in His Son, Jesus Christ. I want Him to walk into the intersections of my life and hold up His hand and let the traffic move according to His Plan. By His Spirit Jesus wants to give us freedom to do God's will. Where His Spirit is in control, there is true liberty.

You have to make the decision. Can you trust the authority of Jesus? Will you deliberately ask Him to take direction of your life? The decision takes an instant. The choices continue for a lifetime. But so does the Presence!

Prayer

Times of Refreshing from the Lord

February 6, 2000

Isaiah 40:21-31, Holy Communion

Have you ever been "down"? Who hasn't? Have you ever had someone come along and give you just the lift you needed? What do you know about finding strength to go on when the going gets tough?

The simple story in today's lesson from Mark's Gospel, chapter one. Coming from the synagogue (where he spoke with authority) Jesus find's Peter's mother-in-law down in bed sick. Jesus heals her. Then the whole community heard about it. The one with authority also had power. They all had needs, so they turned up to get whatever Jesus could give.

But early in the morning Jesus disappeared. He went to find a quiet place where he could be alone with his father. Even Jesus needed renewal and refreshing. And Jesus knew where to find it.

Some thoughts that come from our lessons today:

GOD IS GREAT AND MIGHTY BEYOND ALL UNDERSTANDING

"To whom will you liken God?"

- JESUS CAME WITH ALL AUTHORITY AND POWER, AND YET
- JESUS CAME TO BRING LOVE, TO LIFT UP, TO CARE...
- JESUS BROUGHT GOD TO WHERE WE ARE

He showed us the compassion of PRESENCE!

ISAIAH GAVE US THIS WONDERFUL PROMISE OF RENEWAL: THOSE WHO 'WAIT ON THE LORD' SHALL RENEW THEIR STRENGTH

What is 'waiting'? Time ? (no) Serving tea and biscuits to God? (No!)

It is listening! It is LOVE! It is obedience! (Even when we do not see the way . . . even when the way gets hard!)

A minister named JOHN CLAYPOOL had a child who died from leukemia. He found this very passage in Isaiah very helpful to him. In a sermon he described three situations Christ's followers live under as they seek renewal.

1. FIRST there is a spiritual HIGH. The Lord feels very close. Things are great. We mount up to the sky. Maybe you've been there. Maybe you're there now. Maybe not.
2. SECOND, there is the spiritual NORMAL. We're inspired to do our work and worship. We're hanging in there. This is where we most often live. Nothing TOO exciting, but God is with us. Maybe that is where you are now. Maybe not.
3. But the THIRD state is when all we can do is drag one foot in front of the other. We feel like the end of the world. And if you are like me, you have been there. Maybe you're there right now.

In that THIRD state we're tempted to go our own way. God has failed us– or so we think. Or we're tempted just to give up altogether. But here is where the promise is most precious of all. If we cry out to God, God hears. In the darkness we can dare to trust. And we will not faint!

THE GREATEST VICTORY WE ALL SHARE CAME FROM THE EARTH'S DARKEST MOMENT

On the cross our Lord was faithful to the will of the father He was faithful to you and me. We will live forever as we keep faith with Him.

So where does that leave us this morning? Flying high? Maybe. But usually not.

Running on "normal"? Probably– most of the time.

Under the very heaviest of loads? This will come to us all!

BUT THE PROMISE STANDS!

THEY THAT WAIT ON THE LORD SHALL RENEW THEIR STRENGTH

Let me tell you about a remarkable man named Millard Porter . . . In many ways Millard Porter was pretty ordinary. You wouldn't look at him twice if you saw him in Wal-Mart. He was getting old when I first met him. I came to know and love him because he loved the Lord and he loved his little church.

Millard Porter died in an eight-bed ward in a hospital in New Brunswick, New Jersey. He had a stroke that left him helpless. But twenty years ago this coming October when we dedicated a great new college church I was thinking of Millard Porter. In his darkest hour he said a word I never forgot. It has been a challenge to me to seek and find the renewal Isaiah is talking about in this passage (40:29-31). Do you know what the word was that Millard Porter told me? He said, "Thirty-four." I had to lean over and listen to be sure. Yes, he said it again. "Thirty-four."

Now I knew Millard Porter. He had lived for God and the church. Janitor. Usher. Counter. Taxi. Whatever. Ready. Steady. And I knew Millard Porter's favorite Bible verses– or at least some of them.

So when Millard said, "Thirty-four," I knew he was saying "I will bless the Lord at all times. His praise shall continually be in my mouth. My soul shall make its boast in the Lord! The righteous shall hear thereof and be glad!"

Even when a stroke had taken away his ability to speak or communicate Millard Porter was receiving strength from his God. In utter weakness this man of God spoke to a young pastor of the fact that it pays to serve Jesus. It pays to stay true. I want to have a "34" witness. I want to be like Millard Porter! I want to be like Jesus!

(Eagle's Wings 143)

Prayer - then into HOLY COMMUNION

The Joy of Being Clean

February 11, 2000

East Wareham United Methodist Church, Wareham, Massachusetts

Mark 1:41 I will: be thou clean.

We Americans are obsessed with physical cleanness. Not all of us, maybe. But it is hard to imagine how a great part of the world lives– and in fact, how we used to live before we had the kind of plumbing we have today. I know I'm really old, but can you remember when we took baths once a week? When we might wear the same shirt and pants to school over and over again?

Some cultures even today seem to enjoy various kinds of odors we would just as soon not talk about. Some even think some odors are attractive. In our own country perfume used to do more than just be an accessory: it was a cover-up. But we all know there isn't really any substitute for being clean!

I used to wash my face to come to the supper table. Sometimes I just got the front sort of wiped off. My mother had a way of looking behind my ears. (And she also had a disgusting way of looking me over before we went into church and if she saw a spot she'd take her handkerchief and touch it to her tongue- spit on it- and then wipe my face– hard! Ouch! Yuck)! As I said, there is no substitute for being really clean.

TO BE IN GOD'S PRESENCE IS TO SEE HOW MUCH WE REALLY NEED TO BE MADE CLEAN

(Whenever in the Bible people meet God there is usually a sense of shame or fear.) The prophet Isaiah was a very good man. A priest. But as he started to really draw near to God he said, "Woe is me! I am in big trouble! I have a dirty mouth! I live with people who have dirty mouths! I have seen God– now what am I ever going to do?"

THERE ARE TIMES WHEN ONLY BEING REALLY CLEAN WILL CUT IT

The Old testament lesson today is a fascinating story about a truly important, even great man– but one day he looked at his arm while he was bathing and saw a strange sore. He asked his doctor about it. The doctor called another doctor. Then they just shook their heads. "You're unclean!" they said. "You have leprosy!" Naaman was going to die!

Naaman's boss was upset. Everyone in Damascus where he lived was upset– at least the one's who knew it. They kept it a secret as long as they could because leprosy was like AIDS today– incurable, and bad, bad news.

Then though a strange coincidence– the Lord seems to use a lot of these– a slave girl from Israel gave her mistress, who was Naaman's wife– a tiny ray of hope. "There's a man of God in Samaria, Israel, who could help the General," she said.

That began a chain of events that finally led to a really impressive caravan pulling up in front of the man of God's house in Samaria. How they finally got there is a fun part of the story. (Maybe I'll tell you.)

Naaman was willing to pay any price. He came prepared. "Would you like to be a millionaire?" he was waiting to say to Elisha. But Elisha didn't even show. He sent Gehazi his servant to the door with instructions. "You're unclean. OK– go wash seven times in the River Jordan on your way home. That will do the trick. Goodbye." Very strange treatment for a VIP by the prophet. And believe me, Naaman did NOT like it!

"Let's get out of here!" he said.

No price could pay for it! It couldn't be bought. But at the same time nothing but submission and obedience could receive it. Naaman's servants talked some sense into him. They pulled up by the river and off came the jacket with the five stars. Off came the sandals and all the rest. Down into the shallow Jordan walked the general. He dipped, and dipped, and dipped again and again. Seven times. Six times– nothing. Seventh time– miracle! No more unclean! Grateful, Naaman headed back to the prophet's house to give him his zillion dollars reward.

NOW the prophet came down, smiling. "Nope, I don't want any money. This is God's miracle. Just be grateful."

"I am! I am!" It is wonderful when you have been unclean to realize– I am clean! I am clean! What a luxury to have a clean heart! Jesus said, "Blessed are the pure in heart!"

The Old Testament seems to discriminate against anything unclean. There were unclean foods. There were unclean animals. There were a thousand ways to get unclean. One reason, and in my mind, the reason for this is the fact that God is HOLY. We need to see that fact as well as the true fact that God is love.

Only God is holy in a pure, underived, absolute sense. So everything that belongs to God, or approaches God, or wants to have to do with God has to be clean.

And there is our Catch 22. We have to be clean to come to God, and we can't come to God unless we are clean and yet we can't make ourselves clean. When Isaiah saw God he immediately felt he was unclean.

That is where the message of grace comes in. Our unclean-ness does NOT keep us from asking God for help. For forgiveness. For inner cleansing. Isaiah was made clean as soon as he cried "Woe is me!" God cares when we want to come to Him. And God makes a way where we could never make the way ourselves.

Naaman was willing to pay, but he could never have enough to buy clean-ness. The leper that came to Jesus cried for help, and said, "If you wanted to you could-" In both cases their cry for cleanness was heard.

What a luxury it is to have God not only save us and grant us his forgiveness for sin, but to fill us with his Spirit, and make us clean on the inside! The Holy Spirit will do that for us. And we can be filled with God's Spirit just for the asking.

But maybe first we need to see how much we need the cleansing. Maybe Naaman can teach us a lesson. He did not look for the cheap way. And when he found out it took humbling, and obedience, and washing he repented and relented and the miracle took place.

The Joy of Being Clean

Our hearts can be made pure. Not just a cover-up. But a cleansing- an on-going cleansing. Not some sort of absolute perfection, but a freedom from the power and filth of sin.

"Lord, if you will, you can make me clean!"

"I will! Be clean!"

Prayer

The God Who Comes Alongside

February 20, 2000

East Wareham United Methodist Church (#7 in this church)

Isaiah 41:10

Two lessons for the price of one this morning: Mark 2:1 - 12 tells of a paraplegic man who was carried by four healthy men to meet Jesus, who forgave his sins, and healed him on the spot. Isaiah 43: 18 - 25 tells of a God who says God loves us and wants to do a new thing for us, and it comes out of a portion of Isaiah that is very precious indeed, especially to me.

FIRST, THE MAN CARRIED BY FOUR.

In his book, The Return of the Prodigal, Henri Nouwen takes that story apart, looks at it from the perspective of every person in the story. You remember, there was a loving Father, an elderly brother, and the younger brother who wasted a great portion of his wealth and life, but was welcomed when he came home. Then Henri Nouwen seems to imply, at least he did to me, that at one time or another Christians take each of the roles in that great story. We all are the Prodigal in some ways until we come to ourselves and come home to Father. Perhaps whether we like it or not sometimes we are the selfish elder brother who stands back and wonders if the Father has lost his mind to welcome such a sinner back home. And Nouwen even says sometimes we have the privilege of speaking for the Father, bringing love and welcome to wanderers.

Well, I wonder if we could take that same technique and apply it (very briefly) to this story of the paraplegic carried by four others to Jesus. I don't know about you, but there are times when I have felt weak and helpless. I have been that helpless man. And then I have felt someone or something carrying me, lifting me. Maybe it was a phone call. Maybe it was a word from someone at church that was more than just the perfunctory "How are you?" There have been times when our family has gone through the deep waters. Then it has been a humbling thing, but a marvelous thing to realize the church was there for us. I wasn't Mr Strong Man, the Pastor– I was just a father hurting, who appreciated being carried.

Then, too, there have been times when I have been privileged to be a part of a team that brought someone to Jesus. In fact I don't think I ever brought someone to Jesus all on my own. It is always a cooperative effort, a function of the true church, when people are brought to Jesus. So do you want to be a part of that kind of team? So do I!

Maybe sometimes we are like the scribes that looked on. "What is going on!?!?," they asked. It is always a challenge to see any kind of new thing, any kind of change. I don't like change, usually. Change for the sake of change is usually wrong. But life is full of changes. God is always doing something new and fresh.

Maybe we are the home owner who looked up to see his ceiling coming apart and people lowering a pallet or stretcher right into his living room. His hospitality was certainly stretched that day! But people are more important than things!

Sometimes, believe it or not, we are even called on to be Jesus, as in the story! This is never something we take on ourselves, or something we earn or deserve. But is we let Jesus live in us, and seek to walk with him, He will shine out through our lives.

Many years ago there was a social work student at the college where I was pastor named Cindy Knox. When she graduated she began working in Boston. Often Cindy saw things that shocked her; things she never knew existed. One day Cindy was involved a particularly case. People had been mistreated. I remember her telling about it later in a prayer meeting. She said that she got almost angry with God that He let such a thing happen. She cried out in her heart, "Where are You, God! Where are You in this house!?!?"

And then she said she was shocked as she could almost HEAR the immediate answer to her prayer: "I'm in YOU, Cindy! I'm in YOU!"

The story speaks about cooperation, and even compromise; it speaks of confidence in bringing our loved ones to Jesus– and it tells us Jesus won't disappoint.

Which brings me to the other lesson, the Isaiah passage:

A GOD WHO COMES ALONGSIDE

Isaiah 43 reminds us that God want to love us, to bring us to new planes of trust. God comes alongside those who go through difficult places.

I remember when I was a young, teenager Christian. I used to try to "run to" God. I wanted to feel blessed. I thought the feeling was the thing. Then, when I felt, I asked. And frankly it was pretty "thin soup."

Well, I still am trying to run to God– but then I stop and realize God is HERE. I need to open up to Him, not try to get Him to come around to my ideas. I still ask, but now it is "Please let me know YOUR will!"

I have NOT "arrived." I know Jesus. But as a dear and godly friend of mine once said (Reuben Welch) "I know Jesus– but sometimes I think I hardly know Him at all!" I get scared again. I look at life's problems and I FEEL overwhelmed. Then I see this passage in Isaiah saying, "I was waiting for you to call Me! I am waiting! I am willing! I will be with you! I am with you!"

And I remember times past when I have been overwhelmed, defeated– and have cried out. Nothing! But NOT nothing! I have been heard in those cries!

And often I remember a story, a thing that really happened to me a long time ago that has sort of become a Parable for me to remember. It is the story of the Hayford Street Gang.

(How many times have I told this one?!!!) . When I was about ready to go into the fourth grade my parents moved into a little house on Magnolia St in Lansing, Michigan. I loved that little house. I had great friends on the street there. I did just fine in the Allen St school a half mile or so away. But one thing could make life miserable. The Hayford Street Gang. So— we Magnolia kids made it a point to walk to school and back again together every day. Safety in numbers, you know. But one day I had to stay after school . . . and they parted just like the Red Sea did for Moses and I walked right through with my big friend.

The God Who Comes Alongside

We have a big Friend like that. We can call on him ourselves. We can team up in prayer with each other to bring our needy friends to Him. We can invite Him to live in us.

PRAYER: WE WANT TO WALK WITH YOU

LET Your Word be our food and drink this morning, O Lord. More than just stories, and more than wishful thinking, we want to know you, and walk with you, and stay so close to you that you can go with us through the good times and the tough times. We want you to live in us so that we can bring others to you, and they will see you and know that you love them, too. In Jesus' name we ask. Amen

A Call to Put God at the Center

February 27, 2000

Mark 2:13-22

The story of the call of Levi (or Matthew, as we better know him,) is simple and straightforward. Jesus stopped by Levi's place of business and said, "Follow Me." Immediately Matthew cleaned out his desk. They went to Matthew's house where they had something very much like a party. Matthew's old friends came. They were not typical church-type people. The church-type people of Capernaum were offended. Jesus said to them "These are the very kind of people I have come to invite into my kingdom." From that very day Matthew had a new reason for living. Jesus became the center of his life.

Jesus is still calling people to follow him. He doesn't (usually) come by in a visible form and ask us to get up and go with him. We think it would be simpler if he could and did. But believe me, Jesus still says "You! I want you! Come, follow me!"

Sometimes we church-type people get the call of Jesus all mixed up with our idea of the call of the church, or the call we heard way back then. It is always a wonderful thing when Jesus comes by and says "Follow me!" The best thing we can do is help people listen— to sort out all the voices that are shouting, help them seek to follow the voice of Jesus.

The so-called important people seemed to think Levi and his friends were not eligible to walk with God because of what they had been in the past. They knew tax collectors and publicans and sinners were not usually found in the synagogue when worship time came around. Actually they weren't welcome there.

But Jesus said, "If true religion is about getting right with God, then- well, maybe they should be welcome!"

THE CALL TO LIVE WITH GOD AT LIFE'S CENTER IS A CALL TO BE LOVED

The religion of the scribes and Pharisees saw living life with God at the center as a matter of rule and regulation. It was a joyless, sterile, juiceless way of living. By contrast, the relationship with God Jesus was introducing was made for real life— life the way it ought to be lived.

[Illustration: There is an old story of a woman who was married to an extreme hard-nosed legalist. A real nit-picker, he made a list of things his wife was to do and not to do and put it on the refrigerator. Scrub the floor. Wash the clothes. Pack the lunches. Bring my slippers— it was all there and believe me he made life miserable if she missed a beat. The list made her life very difficult. Thankfully, the legalist caught a bad cold because he had his mouth open so much, and he died.

In due time the lady married again, and this time her husband was quite different. He brought her flowers. He told her every day he loved her, and he seemed to mean it. He was thoughtful, and kind, and loving. Their home was happy.

But one day as she was cleaning she found an old list left by the first husband in a drawer somewhere. As she sat down to look at it she realized she was doing every single thing on the list and even more. Her life was not unhappy because she was doing for love what the old law had demanded that she do or else!]

THE CALL TO LIVE WITH GOD AT THE CENTER IS A CALL TO SHARE LIFE WITH JESUS

Jesus said, "I did not come to people who are whole. I came to bring genuine soul health to those who are sick or broken!" If there is no sin, we don't need a Savior. But the Bible says we all have sinned and come short of God's glory. The LAW tells us we have a list on the refrigerator and we had better get with it or else. Jesus comes along and says. "The old Way is dead. Come along with Me, and I'll show you the way of LOVE!"

The theological way of describing this New Life in Jesus is not dull and dry: three things take place, which coalesce into a fourth. When we decide we will follow the call and follow Jesus— not just mental and tentative, but when from our hearts we say "Come into me heart! Be Lord of my life!" these things begin to take place:

1. we are given a genuine NEW LIFE inside (crying for food! regeneration)
2. we are given A CLEAN SLATE (ALL our sins are forgiven justification)
3. we are ADOPTED INTO GOD'S FAMILY (adoption)
 - and together this effects our
4. sanctification (we are made, we are being made, we will be made like Jesus)

THE CALL TO LIVE WITH GOD AT THE CENTER IS A CHALLENGE TO LOVE LIKE JESUS LOVED

Jesus loved those old scribes and Pharisees, I'm sure, even though they were miserable and made others miserable. He even loves us when we get set in our ways. But the message is: Jesus loves everyone. The hospitality of Jesus reached out. He was not ashamed to love "sinners." He even loved ME! He loves YOU!

Our live can reflect that hospitality. Our worship will reflect that hospitality.

[Illustration: I heard a great story recently about a brilliant young hippy-type college student whose regular outfit was tee shirt and jeans and long hair and all. He found the Lord in a college fellowship, but never really had been to a "church' church.

So one day he wandered into a really big neat downtown church right during morning worship. The service was pretty far along; actually the pastor was preaching. The place was full. All the aisle seats were taken. Our hippy friend listened for a moment and liked what he was hearing and he just sort of wandered down the center aisle and squatted down on the carpet. That is what they did in the informal college fellowship. But no one had ever done it in First Church before!

Just then the head deacon got up from his aisle seat and started toward the front where the young man sat in the aisle. The deacon was dressed impeccably: three piece suit, gold rimmed glasses, the whole nine yards. The congregation watched out of the corners of their eyes, and even though the pastor kept talking no one was hearing what he was saying except maybe the college student on the carpet.

A Call to Put God at the Center

When the deacon got to where the hippy was sitting he bent down and— he lowered himself to the carpet and sat down beside the young man so he wouldn't have to feel strange. The pastor said later that he was sure the people would forget his sermon that day, but they would never forget what the deacon did.

REAL religion, heart-felt religion is Jesus at the center of our lives, and that makes room then for real hospitality.]

Life with Jesus at the center will help us love people who don't "know enough" to worship "the right way" (like WE do it!)

Jesus is calling every one of us this morning, calling us to follow Him and put him at the center of our lives. He is asking us to put away selfishness and sin, and asking us if He can give us LIFE, and FORGIVE OUR SINS, and ADOPT US into his Family.

INVITATION TO COMMUNION

As we come to Holy Communion time, let this be a way we can respond to the call of Jesus to "Come, follow Me!" Affirm your faith with me:

The Apostles' Creed - on Page 7 UMH

Invitation

Prayer of Confession - on Page 8 UMH

Let us offer ourselves and our gifts to God!

The Lord's Prayer

Communion

Here I Am, Lord (chorus only)

Benediction

Up the Mountain and Down Again

March 1, 2000

Mark 2:2-10 - And after six days Jesus took with him Peter and James and John, and led them up a high mountain apart by themselves; and he was transfigured before them, and his garments became glistening, intensely white, as no fuller on earth could bleach them. And there appeared to them Eli'jah with Moses; and they were talking to Jesus. And Peter said to Jesus, "Master, it is well that we are here; let us make three booths, one for you and one for Moses and one for Eli'jah." For he did not know what to say, for they were exceedingly afraid. And a cloud overshadowed them, and a voice came out of the cloud, "This is my beloved Son; listen to him." And suddenly looking around they no longer saw any one with them but Jesus only. And as they were coming down the mountain, he charged them to tell no one what they had seen, until the Son of man should have risen from the dead. So they kept the matter to themselves, questioning what the rising from the dead meant.

11 - 13 - And they asked him, "Why do the scribes say that first Eli'jah must come?" And he said to them, "Eli'jah does come first to restore all things; and how is it written of the Son of man, that he should suffer many things and be treated with contempt? But I tell you that Eli'jah has come, and they did to him whatever they pleased, as it is written of him."

14 - 29 - And when they came to the disciples, they saw a great crowd about them, and scribes arguing with them. And immediately all the crowd, when they saw him, were greatly amazed, and ran up to him and greeted him. And he asked them, "What are you discussing with them?" And one of the crowd answered him, "Teacher, I brought my son to you, for he has a dumb spirit; and wherever it seizes him, it dashes him down; and he foams and grinds his teeth and becomes rigid; and I asked your disciples to cast it out, and they were not able."

And he answered them, "O faithless generation, how long am I to be with you? How long am I to bear with you? Bring him to me." And they brought the boy to him; and when the spirit saw him, immediately it convulsed the boy, and he fell on the ground and rolled about, foaming at the mouth. And Jesus asked his father, "How long has he had this?" And he said, "From childhood. And it has often cast him into the fire and into the water, to destroy him; but if you can do anything, have pity on us and help us."

And Jesus said to him, "If you can! All things are possible to him who believes." Immediately the father of the child cried out and said, "I believe; help my unbelief!" And when Jesus saw that a crowd came running together, he rebuked the unclean spirit, saying to it, "You dumb and deaf spirit, I command you, come out of him, and never enter him again."

And after crying out and convulsing him terribly, it came out, and the boy was like a corpse; so that most of them said, "He is dead." But Jesus took him by the hand and lifted him up, and he arose. And when he had entered the house, his disciples asked him privately, "Why could we not cast it out?" And he said to them, "This kind cannot be driven out by anything but prayer."

1. A glimpse of the spiritual reality beyond what we now understand. The revealed glory of Jesus. Moses and Elijah alive and able to carry on conversation. The disciples were very much afraid.
2. Why do you suppose this glimpse was given to Peter, James, and John? And what does it mean for us 2,000 years later? Why did Jesus tell Peter, James, and John not to tell until after the resurrection?
3. Coming down from the mountain top- disappointment? Certainly more work to do!
4. Significant- the father's prayer: Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief. God will work with less-than-perfect faith, understanding, proper formula. All he asks is that we ask His help!

With Jesus on the Mountain

The Transfiguration "This is my Son ...listen to him!"

March 5, 2000 (cf: February 22, 1996 AM)

Mark 9:2-9 cf Luke 9:28-36

Mountains As Points Of Reference

One Sunday afternoon, a long time ago, instead of taking the usual Sunday afternoon nap, I took my four sons on a hike up Mount Beacon above the majestic Hudson River in Beacon, New York. We lived in Poughkeepsie where I was pastor at Vassar Road Church. It was sultry and hot, and the thought of climbing in shady, cooler woods sounded like fun.

It was a twenty minute drive to a place where we could leave the wagon as far up the mountain as it could go. Then it was just over an hour's walk to the top where an old restaurant had stood; you could look up and down the river for miles.

On the way up the trail we heard the sound of a brook off to one side, and followed the sound and found a beautiful place where the water was falling through a U shaped place in a big rock into a shallow pool like a basin underneath it. It was hot, and the water was very cool.

The four boys stripped down to their shorts and into the water they went.

One of them would sit in the cleft in the rock and dam up the water it was that narrow until it spilled over his shoulders then he'd jump into the basin below with the wave gushing after him.

We stayed at that pool half an hour or less that hot Sunday afternoon and that was more than thirty-five years ago. We walked back to the station wagon and I drove back to Vassar Road and preached and led the evening worship. I haven't a clue as to who was there, or what I preached it has been long forgotten. But every one of those four boys, now grown men with families of their own, remembers that day we climbed Mount Beacon. And somehow it has a good place in our family history. It was one of those defining moments that help give life direction.

We've all had those times, those defining moments, that we remember as we look back across the landscape of our lives to those mountains, literal or figurative, that show us where we've been, and to some extent, who we are and where we're going.

Perhaps the day the story in our Gospel lesson began started out like just any other day for the disciples. But it was going to turn out to be a day they would never, ever forget. Jesus called to Peter, John, and James. He often went apart to pray, and a prayer time was all they really were expecting.

Up and up the mountain trail they went, until they reached the top. And there they stopped. The Gospels tell us that Jesus began to pray. Luke tells us that the three disciples became very sleepy.

Peter, James and John were not expecting what came next. While they watched in awe something wonderful beyond description began to happen. The kindly face of the Galilean carpenter began to change in ways the evangelist has found difficult to describe. Later the three men tried to find words to express what they had seen: "Light streamed from his face, as bright as the sun. His clothes became whiter than white they shone with light."

These men knew Jesus well. They had been with him three years and had heard him speak, and heal, and raise the dead. They had even confessed their faith that He is the Son of God, the Messiah. They had seen the authority of Jesus, and watched Him do miracles. But they were totally unprepared for this display of dazzling glory. They knew Jesus. But that day they also realized they hardly knew him at all!

As they watched, the three disciples became aware that two other people were present, talking with Jesus in the cloud of light. In some mysterious and wonderful way, they knew that these two glorious figures were Moses and Elijah, the Lawgiver, and the greatest of Old Testament prophets.

Moses. A long time before this wonderful day Moses, the meekest man who ever lived, had been on a mountain, had talked face to face with God, and had received the Ten Commandments. What a great giant of the faith!

Elijah. On another mountain top, also many years before this day, this rugged prophet had prayed fire down from heaven, and had defeated the false prophets of Baal, and brought God's people back to Him. Here were the Law and the Prophets personified, in conversation with the Living Gospel, the Good News of Salvation. Here was a vision of the Law fulfilled, and of Truth triumphant, the whole Plan of Salvation, the whole Word of God represented in one glorious conversation.

It was Luke who actually wrote what Moses and Elijah were discussing with their glorious Lord that mountaintop day. They were talking about another mountain yet to be climbed. They were talking about the hill we call Calvary. Moses and Elijah were there to worship their Master, and urge Him to hurry home!

Peter, James and John may not have understood the full implication in the dazzling light of the moment, but they were dramatically seeing portrayed before their eyes 1) Jesus as fulfilling the Law (Moses), completing the truth of Torah; and 2) Jesus as Champion-over-evil (Elijah), making sinners right with God, completing the Plan of Salvation.

The disciples were uncomfortable. Don't ever think that when God is manifested in power it is a comfortable, easy time. This was gut wrenching, frightening to the limit! Peter began to 'prattle' a bit. "Lord, let's build succoth booths right here on top of the mountain! We'll build three one for Moses, one for Elijah, and one for You!"

Then came a majestic, thundering, authoritative voice from heaven. The Father put things into perspective. He said, "This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased. Listen to HIM!" The heart of faith is not Jesus AND Law, or Jesus AND Proclamation, or Jesus AND anything else. The heart of faith is Jesus. That is the message this mountain top experience carried home to Peter James and John. Then it was over. Just like that.

As soon as they came down the mountain, the very next day actually before they got back to Capernaum they were back at nitty gritty work. As far as we know they never had another Transfiguration type opportunity. (Oh, yes, John saw the glorified Savior during his exile on Patmos you can read about it in the first chapter of the Revelation.) But these men never forgot what they saw on that mountain that day.

They needed it in just a few weeks when their Master was taken from them and mocked and beaten and killed on a Cross. It looked like defeat. It looked like weakness. (But) They had been to the mountain. They had seen the glory. They could believe when the Resurrection came.

They needed it after Jesus ascended to heaven, and their own crosses became heavy, and they were tempted to wonder if it was worth it. But they had seen a glimpse of the glory. They knew that their Master was Lord of Moses and Elijah who are very much alive. They had been on the mountain. They could trust that God would not waste their sacrifice.

James was killed by the sword early in the first wave of persecution. Had the vision been wasted on him? I don't think so. Peter led the church in Jerusalem, and then Antioch and Ephesus and Rome. The vision sustained him, and he passed it on to Mark and others. John the Beloved outlived all the other apostles. As long as he lived the memory of that day of Transfiguration on a mountain in the north of Israel was a blessing and a hope.

We cannot live on mountain tops, or even live FOR that kind of experience. Don't forget, eight perfectly good apostles got word of this day second hand, just like you and I have. What we can do is live in confession of faith in our Master. If truly the faith has been granted us to believe that Jesus is the Christ we can say with Peter, six days BEFORE this glory time, "You are the Christ, the Son of the Living God!"

What we can do if we have that faith is affirm from our hearts, "Jesus is LORD!" We can ask Him if we can follow Him around day after day.

In a way that comes right to where we are today, we can ask Jesus to help us walk with him. In our private lives, and together as a church fellowship, we can tell Jesus we will walk with him even in the valley. the next seven weeks before Easter, in our worship services, in our private devotions, we can be true to what we know about Jesus!

Like the disciples, we can ask Him if we can come along as he cares for people who hurt. That is what we can do.

And maybe sometime when we least expect it there will be those loving times those tender times when Jesus lets us know He's pleased with us. Not Transfigurations, maybe. But mountain experiences. Defining moments. Moments we never forget.

And who's to say? Oh well.

Let's pray

Blessed are you, God of light eternal. Hear our prayers and let your glory shine upon us. Let our lives reflect your goodness, let our labors bring you honor. You have shined in our hearts to show your glory in the face of your only Son, Jesus Christ, who with You and the Holy Spirit, One God, world without end, be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

May the Communion this morning be a time of drawing close to our Lord for each one of us. Amen

The Great "I AM" is Where You Are

March 12, 2000

August 30, 1992 - 6 p.m.

Exodus 3: I AM THAT I AM; John 10: I AM the Door...

Everybody knows what God is like! That is— until they try to describe Him. Sometimes I think we are like the little kindergarten boy painting at his easel, with his frock made out of his father's shirt.

"What is that you are painting, Andrew?"

"I'm painting God!"

"But Andrew, no one knows what God looks like!"

"They will when I get done with this picture!"

I. THE INEFFABLE GOD

(transcendent/wholly other)

A. The fact is God is NOT 'LIKE.' He is INEFFABLE! God is NOT "like" anything! God IS!

Not is LIKE, but IS! Do you see the difference?

B. We may not have pictures of God, but God is a God who reveals Himself to faith:

1. In ancient times God spoke through prophets and holy men of God:
2. He revealed Himself to Moses as: I AM THAT I AM
3. The great "Call to Worship" of the Old Testament is still valid: (Deuteronomy 6:4,5) "Hear, O Israel! The LORD is our God, the LORD is one! And you shall love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your might. Jesus re-emphasized this call to worship, and added, "And you shall love your neighbor as yourself."
4. There is ONE God of heaven and of earth. One "God for all purposes": this was a revolutionary concept to ancient peoples. They had gods for everything. But then, you see, they constructed their gods; but the God of revelation was different— IS different, I should say. In a practical way, it is still revolutionary to say "There is ONE God of heaven and earth!"— for we have "one God" to take care of life's "ritual times" when we are "born" and "married" and when we "die." But all too often in between we serve the non-gods of the culture, the day, the age— and Christians are not distinguished from the rest of the non-believers! But remember, it is still true: GOD is ONE— God of heaven and earth. He is "not LIKE."

II. THE IMMINENT GOD

(condescending/present to us)

- A. This great, transcendent God has a face. [The INEFFABLE is also the IMMINENT.]
While it is true that we will never "know" God in the sense of comprehending all that He is, it is possible to KNOW Him right here and now in the sense that He IS our Friend, and that He desires to BE our Friend. And so it is that this great God of heaven and earth has made Himself available to us. As the writer of Hebrews opens his epistle: "GOD, after He spoke long ago to the fathers in the prophets in many portions and in many ways, in these last days has spoken to us in His Son, whom He appointed heir of all things, through Whom also He made the world. And He is the radiance of His glory and the exact representation of His nature, and upholds all things by the word of His power." (Hebrews 1:1-3) God has a face. That "face" is Jesus. As we come to know Jesus, we come to see God, and to know HIM, the I AM.
- B. This great God meets us at our point of need. WE are NOT the center of the Universe. GOD does NOT exist for us; WE exist for HIM. But at the very same time, God stoops to our weakness; God loves us; God reveals Himself to us as Father and Friend and Loved One. And so sometimes we say "God is 'like'" when we try to describe ways that God relates to us:
 1. Consider just ONE writer's attempt to show us the nearness of God in Jesus Christ: John (in His Gospel) records Jesus as saying:
 - I am the Bread of Life
 - I am the Door

- I am the Good Shepherd
 - I am the Light of the World
 - I am the Way the Truth and the Life
 - I am the Resurrection and the Life
 - I am the True Vine (and Ye are the Branches)
2. Let me lift out just ONE of these "I AM" statements: "I am the DOOR!"
- A door way is (1) an entry and an exit; a door is (2) a source of security, a haven; a door is (3) access to the "beyond" ("By ME you shall (not only come IN and find LIFE, but you shall) go in and out, and find pasture.") Jesus Christ is the ACCESS to everything GOOD and everything WORTHWHILE in all of life! He is God-making-life-available!

III. WHERE CAN I FIND THIS GOD?

A. You CAN'T find Him— He has to find YOU! But good news! He is always LOOKING for you! He is speaking if we will listen!

1. The face of Jesus is reflected in the love of His people. I need to see it, and sometimes I see it in you. You need to see it, and sometimes you see it in me.
2. It is important that if we know God, we need to give Him access to us so others who are seeking Him will not be disappointed!

B. Our greatest privilege is to press into the knowledge of Jesus

Conclusion: What is God like? God is a great Mystery! But God is also the gentle Jesus you have known since you were a Baby! God is Your dearest, closest Friend! God is NEAR— just NOW! His promise is: "Draw near(er) to Me— I will draw near(er) to you! (James 4:8.)"

Prayer: Wherever we are in our spiritual journey, O God; show Yourself to us in newer, fresher, stronger ways. Whatever our needs may be just now, O God; help us to see that You are what we need most of all. And so, help us to come near to You so that You can come near to us. In Jesus' name. Amen

Invitation - (Essence of the prayer) - Hymn Only Trust Him -UMH 337

Abraham's Challenge

March 19, 2000

cf Feb 23, 1997

Genesis 17:1

I love the story of Abraham. Even across thousands of years, somehow I feel connected to the great Father of Faith.

Three great world religions look to Abraham as the one who showed them what it means to walk with God by faith. Jews call him their father; Muslims believe his son Ishmael was their ancestor; Christians own him as their own. It is easy for us to try to fit the life of Abraham into our particular understanding of theological truth. I don't have a problem with that at all. I see MY story in miniature in Abraham's story. God calls. God says move. Move up! Trust me!

Abraham had left his native land to follow God. He had started out not knowing where he was going. Furthermore, Abraham had made covenant with God simply on the basis of trust (see Genesis 15:6.) But now in old age, when Abraham's best years seem to be behind him, God asks Abraham to move up.

This call to move higher reached Abraham at the very point of his weakness and inability. (When we think it is all over, maybe God is thinking about beginnings!) "When Abraham was ninety years old and nine YHWH appeared . . ."

God's challenge was to walk before Him and be perfect, or blameless. We could easily get sidetracked by the use of the word "perfect." Abraham didn't PERFORM perfectly. Abraham made some dumb mistakes. But Abraham responded perfectly to God's challenge. It wasn't a perfect performance God was looking for. Abraham fell on his face before God. He prostrated himself in worship and submission. He agreed with God, he continued to believe God's word; Abraham's perfect response was simply total willingness to belong to God and God alone.

Abraham's Challenge

This faith of Abraham and Sarah was not to do great things with God's help. RATHER, THEY BELIEVED GOD WOULD DO WHATEVER GOD WANTED TO DO WITH THEM. God would do great things if God said so. Abraham himself became a living sacrifice, and God could have him, weakness and all.

Two things took place when God challenged Abraham to a closer walk with Himself. God changed Abraham's and Sarah's names. Scholars cannot say for sure what the new names mean; the best explanation for me is that God took a part of his own name and put it into Abraham's and Sarah's names. One thing is for sure— when God changes a name it is significant, and it means a life, a character is being changed for the better. To really be a CHRISTIAN means more than believing a certain way. WE TAKE THE NAME OF JESUS AS A PART OF OUR OWN!

God also established the old testament covenant of circumcision that day. Abraham accepted a permanent sign of the covenant, to forever belong to God. Being circumcised did not save Abraham. Being baptized will not save you. Abraham's faith resulted in obedience. Whatever God said, Abraham listened, and believed, and obeyed. BAPTISM IS MORE THAN AN EMPTY REMEMBRANCE. Do you affirm what YOUR baptism means this morning?

THE GOSPEL LESSON FROM MARK 8 IS ABRAHAM'S CHALLENGE ALL OVER AGAIN. It is a call to a deeper walk, a higher way. That challenge is open to us all:

Jesus was speaking to the twelve disciples, and yet at this point he also included all who would listen, "the multitude," and he said, IF ANY ONE will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me. It is clear that God's call is to the whosoever: John 3:16 "God so loved the world . . .that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." Peter tells us (2 Peter 3:9) " The Lord is . . . long-suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance."

(We are all called, but not everyone— in fact not many— respond to that call. In fact, it seems as though there are at least two levels of Christians— many are called— few are (finally) chosen. But those who do choose to follow, to walk with Jesus, he has promised His Presence.)

Dr. (Edward S.) Mann used to begin one of his great sermons with a bit of poetry. I probably don't have it exactly right, but this is how I remember it: (I don't know who wrote it . . .)

*Behold, I set before you a way, and ways, and a way.
And the high soul goes the high way, And the low soul gropes the low.
And in between, on the misty flats, The rest drift to and fro.
But to each is opened a high road and a low,
And each one must determine The way his soul would go.*

THE CHALLENGE TO ABRAHAM, AND THE CALL FROM JESUS TO EACH ONE OF US, IS TO DELIBERATELY CHOOSE THE HIGH ROAD OF WALKING BEFORE GOD, or, as Jesus put it, of following after Him.

Jesus makes it clear and simple what the steps are if we want to take the high road. They are just three:

- We are to deny self.
- We are to embrace the cross.
- We are to follow Jesus.

To deny one's self is not to deny one's self of something. It is to ask God to do what we cannot do— to seal us with His Spirit— to circumcise the heart— It is a willingness to be His love-slaves for time and eternity. It is to take self out of the center and to seek with all one's heart to know and do God's will.

Some of the disciples loved Jesus that much. They wanted to be where He was. They were willing to give up their own selfish wills. And when the Holy Spirit was given to them they found that their hearts were made pure, and it was possible to deny self and delight in God's will at any cost.

To take up the cross is more than being willing to die for Jesus. It is being willing to LIVE for Him— it is making an offering of our lives to Him. The world lives for happiness. If a relationship is painful, throw it away. If promises or responsibilities get in the way of happiness, throw them aside. "We deserve it!" But to take up the cross is to say with Jesus, "Thy will, not mine be done, even when it costs!"

To follow Jesus means simply that this higher road, this deeper walk has the great privilege of always being where Jesus is. God's challenges are always in the context of covenant— and we can count on it, God keeps his word. If we will take the time to listen these days and weeks of Lent, we will hear God calling us to come and walk with Him.

WHEREVER YOU ARE ON YOUR SPIRITUAL JOURNEY, GOD WANTS TO MAKE COVENANT WITH YOU. He wants to unfold His best will for you, in you. God's best and highest comes only as we, like Abraham, go down on our faces before God— as we, obeying Jesus, are willing to deny self, take up our cross, and follow Him.

Shall we pray: Prayer (of A. W. Tozer) I am your servant, Lord. How I want to be a good disciple. Lead me; awaken me— not that I might be great through you, but that you might be glorified through me. Amen

UMH #408 The Gift of Love or Just as I Am #357 (Nazarene #462 Sweet Will of God)

Coming to the Light

April 2, 2000

Numbers 21; Ephesians 2; John 3:14-21; Psalm 107

Nicodemus came to Jesus in the darkness, out of the shadows. He asked Jesus how he could find eternal life. Why he came at night we do not know. Why he told Jesus he believed he came from God we do not know. But we do know that Jesus interrupted Nicodemus to tell him that he had to be "born again" in order to be able to see the kingdom of God.

Then Jesus told him that heaven's light has come into the world.

Jesus also said that as Moses had lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so He would be lifted up so that anyone who would believe could have eternal life. Do you remember that story of the serpents in the wilderness? (It was the lesson from the OT, from Numbers 21 today.)

That story was about death and life, and about God's wrath against sin, but his grace and mercy for the sinner. I don't pretend to know all there is to know about that story, but it says to me that the Israelites were evil. Do you know what their sin was? They were whining and complaining against the God who had delivered them from slavery in Egypt. God, in the story, sent fiery snakes among them with painful and fatal bites.

But even as they were crying out in pain, God gave Moses a remedy. He said quick, take some bronze and make a copy of the snakes that are biting and put it on a pole. Lift it up where everyone can see it. Then tell the people that all they have to do is LOOK at the bronze serpent and they will not die. All they have to do is LOOK and they will LIVE.

Can you imagine that some people were so mad at God they wouldn't even look? Can you imagine how simple an easy it was to just say 'what do I have to lose?' and look—and be instantly healed?

Coming to the Light

How can this possibly be a comparison to Jesus? What did he mean that as Moses lifted up the snake, even so must the Son of man be lifted up so people can believe?

The bronze serpent represented the penalty for the people's sins. Jesus on the cross of Calvary became "sin" for us– he who never sinned, who was pure and holy, took your sins and my sins and carried them to the cross. He represented there the sting of sin which is death for all of us.

And in his own words, Jesus did not come into the world to bring judgment and damnation, but he came to bear our sins away and to save the world.

THERE IS LIFE FOR A LOOK.

WHOSOEVER BELIEVES IN THE SIN-BEARER WILL BE SAVED. Can you imagine NOT looking to Jesus? Can it be real?

God HATES sin, make no mistake about that. But he loves the sinner. I'm glad for that because I was a sinner and a rebel, going my own way. I was bitten and sure to die. But I heard there was life for a look.

HOW DO WE 'LOOK TO JESUS'?

To believe means more than just believe a thing is true. To believe means to ACT AS IF a thing is true. To believe means to turn around from our own ideas and agree with God.

[Psalm 107 is a wonderful example of people coming to believe: they are away from God and safety– then they cry out for God! He hears them– and he saves them. To "look to Jesus" is to cry out to God for help. God hears. God saves.]

Nicodemus came to Jesus in the darkness, and Jesus told him about light. Nicodemus heard about the serpents in the wilderness, and Jesus told him that he had been bitten, too, and that He, Jesus would be a remedy for sin's curse. Nicodemus came, probably seeking how to live, and Jesus told him he hadn't even been born yet. He was not yet alive!

I WOULD BE NICE IF WE COULD LIVE– BE ALIVE– SOMETIME BEFORE WE DIE!

What is death, anyway?

"By and large, most of us pretend that death is something which happens to other people. Somehow, it's like the husband who said to this wife, 'If one of us dies, I think I'll move to Paris'."

Was Nicodemus "dead"? What IS dead? Dead means to be totally unresponsive to the world around you. Dead means there is air but you can't breathe. There is food but you are not hungry. There are loved ones, but you can't hear them.

Paul (in the Ephesians passage) defines death as FOLLOWING THE COURSE OF THIS WORLD– in other words– LIVING AS IF GOD IS NOT THE MOST IMPORTANT THING IN YOUR LIFE!!

IN EPHESIANS PAUL SAYS WE WERE ALL DEAD, BUT GOD HAS MADE US ALIVE TOGETHER WITH JESUS.

Listen to how Peterson puts that passage in his translation called The Message: (Ephesians 2: 1- 6)

'You let the world, which doesn't know the first thing about living, tell you how to live. You filled your lungs with polluted unbelief, and then exhaled disobedience. We all did it, all of us doing what we felt like doing, when we felt like doing it, all of us in the same boat. It's a wonder God didn't lose his temper and do away with the whole lot of us.

But then comes that contrast of death with life:

"Instead God, immense in mercy and with incredible love, he embraced us. he took our sin-dead lives and made us alive in Christ. he did this all on his own, with no help from us! Then he picked us up and set us down in highest heaven in company with Jesus, our Messiah.

Coming to the Light

Contrasts in death and life, in light and darkness, tell the story of every one of us. We have all been bitten by the fiery serpents of sin and guilt. But we can be saved by a look at the cross.

Of course, the cross itself does not save. It is the One on the Cross who knows we have looked. Even the look does not save. But somehow God Himself comes down that look and meets us with mercy and forgiveness! Have you looked to Jesus? Are you looking just now? Communion can be a time when we look again to God for his grace and mercy!

Jesus said, "As often as you do this, do it in remembrance of Me! I came to save you!"

Life Beyond Pain

April 9, 2000 - Lent 5 Year B

Psalm 51:1-12; John 12:20-33

One thing we hear in the lessons this morning we may not particularly want to hear. That thing, that word is pain. Two weeks from today is Easter. Easter is the happiest, brightest day on the Christian calendar. Resurrection. Light. Life. But before Easter is Good Friday. Before the resurrection there is a cross. The hard lesson for today is: sooner or later every one of us faces real pain. But along with that lesson comes a mirror, and a challenge.

I. DAVID'S PAIN IS A MIRROR

David was in an agony of guilt. He had done some terrible things. No mistake about that. He had betrayed another man who trusted him. He had seduced his neighbor's wife. He had compounded his sin by scheming to have the man (Uriah) killed to cover his guilt. And he had gotten away with it. Or so he thought. David had swept his guilt under the carpet of activity and forgetting. Out of sight out of mind. But no one ever gets away with sin. No one. Ever.

God sent a prophet, Nathan, to confront the king. King David. David had the power of life and death, so Nathan was brave to face him. But Nathan was also wise. He told an intriguing story. David became enraged about someone else's selfishness and sin and injustice. Then Nathan said: "Thou art the man!"

When David came face to face with his own sin—it HURT! Psalm 51 is a record of what happened next.

David's pain was deserved. In his case, the pain was the pain of GUILT. Do you think pain is bad? Evil? Is guilt a bad thing?

Actually guilt and pain are not themselves always evil; guilt and pain are the RESULT of something wrong. Pain is necessary, even healthy! (Lepers cannot feel pain.) Like pain, guilt is not something to be ignored or covered up or stuffed back in the recesses of the mind.

But God does not want his people to live with guilt, either! I'm certainly not saying your sins or mine were as gross as David's, although that is possible. I am saying that every one of us has sinned. Every one of us knows what it feels like to be caught in the wrong. And that is the mirror! Psalm 51 holds up a mirror of confession: we do not have to live with the pain of guilt and sin.

The good news is: GOD FORGIVES SIN! I John 1:9 says: "If we confess our sins, God is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." We don't have to live with guilt. The only sin that cannot be forgiven is the sin we try to hide away from the light.

David prayed that the JOY would be restored. He prayed that God's PRESENCE would not be taken away– he wanted to be near to God. And that prayer was answered. Your prayer and mine, like that of David, will be answered as well WHEN WE CRY FROM OUR HEARTS GOD HEARS US. The power and penalty of sin has been broken forever.

But there is another sort of pain in our scripture lessons for this morning: it is the pain of the Lord Jesus Himself.

II. THE PAIN OF JESUS - A CHALLENGE

John 12:27 "Now is my soul troubled, and what shall I say? 'Father, save me from this hour?' But for this cause came I to this hour. Father, glorify thy name!"

This was a very different sort of pain from what David knew. This was NOT guilt. This was NOT deserved. This pain was the price of an unselfish love for you and for me. I do not pretend to understand such love. But I think I know this much: Jesus would not take the easy way out for himself because he loved the Father, and because he loved me, and loved you. He was willing to take our place, to bear our sins.

I heard a story last week about an incident that happened during WW II, when some people were about to be shot in a concentration camp. I wish I had names and details, but the heart of the story stays with me: a prisoner who was also a pastor offered to take the place of a man about to be shot because the man had family and the pastor did not. The officer roughly ordered the switch to be made. But then one of the soldiers on the firing squad spoke up and said "I can't shoot a pastor!" And the officer in command ordered the soldier to stand with the condemned and he, too, was shot and killed with the prisoners for disobeying orders in wartime. Seemingly a useless waste of life. He died rather than be silent.

Love costs. Love will demand sacrifices. Love cost Jesus. And yet Jesus something in you and me that he believed was worth dying for! The writer of Hebrews even says that Jesus saw A JOY set before him as he endured the cross: and that JOY was when you and I confess our sins and find eternal LIFE because of what Jesus did for us.

This pain of Jesus is NOT a mirror for me. I don't see myself in His part of the story. I am not pure and holy as He was. I am not a hero or martyr. I am not able to save anyone. I CAN identify with David and HIS pain. I CAN ask forgiveness for my sins. But I cannot identify with Jesus. No one is so good and so holy as He.

THE PAIN OF JESUS IS A CHALLENGE TO ME!

I cannot see that he suffered for me and not want to receive the gift that cost Him so much. Somehow Jesus asks me to follow Him. Jesus asks YOU to give him your guilt and your sins and let HIM bear them. Leave your own selfish way and come to the sin bearer.

To accept this challenge to follow Jesus is worth whatever it costs! HOW? This is something we each must answer for ourselves, but I think I know this much:

1. we can be with the One we love. ("Where I am there also will my servant be." If we can be with Jesus it is worth whatever it costs.)
2. we can share the JOY of Jesus. There is no joy like hearing the Father say, "This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased!"

Conclusion:

Life will NOT be pain-free. But life can have its full share of joy.

God's GRACE enables us to deal with the pain of guilt. We can come and confess as sinners, and be born again into the kingdom of God. We can confess our need for grace as Christians, and maintain the necessary course-corrections that keep us in fellowship with God and with one another. The Lord's Prayer reminds us of our need for the grace of forgiveness.

God's LOVE calls us to embrace the cross. We certainly do not seek any way of pain. We pray "Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil." But also we hear our Lord say, "Follow me!"

PRAYER

Almighty God, You alone can bring into order the unruly wills and affections of those who come by faith to you. Grant your us your people grace to love what you command and desire what you promise; that, among the dizzying changes of this world, our hearts may surely stand firm where true joys are to be found; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever.

#UMH 382 - Have Thine Own Way, Lord

The King is on Parade

Palm Sunday

April 13, 2000

(cf April 12, 1992)

Luke 19:28-38

Introduction

It may have seemed to the casual observer that this was a very impromptu procession, this parade we call the Triumphal Entry of Jesus into Jerusalem. It had all the obvious organization of a pick up game of softball.

But in fact this was a very well planned and deliberate happening, this one Man parade! It had been announced in detail hundreds of years before by a prophet born in Babylon:

Rejoice greatly, O Daughter of Zion! Shout, daughter of Jerusalem! See, your king comes to you, righteous and having salvation, gentle and riding on a donkey, on a colt, the foal of a donkey. I will take away the chariots from Ephraim and the war horses from Jerusalem, and the battle bow will be broken. He will proclaim peace to the nations. His rule will extend from sea to sea and from the River to the ends of the earth. Zechariah 9:9-10

As unlikely as it seems, even to the casual reader today this was:

I. A PARADE OF INFINITE POWER

- A. Usually when we think of power in a parade we think of booted soldiers marching past Hitler, or massed tanks and missiles filling Red Square. But those powers have come and gone, and the "parade" down Olivet's hill manifested a power that still remains as vital as ever.

The King is on Parade

In fact, the people that day were thinking of the Triumphal Procession in terms of power as they understood it! And they were all mistaken about the nature of the power they saw, but real power was there:

- B. The enemies of Jesus saw Him as a threat. They hadn't really worried until they heard He had said that everyday common believers should have righteousness that exceeded the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees themselves! And then there were the miracles! And finally, Lazarus! This Jesus had to be stopped!
- C. Many if not all the friends of Jesus saw Him then as a fulfillment of their dreams. "Will You at this time restore the kingdom to Israel?" "Hosanna to David's son! Surely HE is going to throw out the Romans and their stooges!"
- D. This power, real power, was not what the friends or enemies thought! Jesus was demonstrating the power of LOVE. He was carrying out His mission, which was John 1:12 type power. To as many as were going to receive Him, Jesus was giving the power to become the children of God, to share in God's eternal life, to still be happy and growing and useful when the stars grow old!

II. IT IS A PARADE OF INFINITE DURATION

- A. How long was this procession? About one donkey long or two, if the mother donkey came, too. About an hour's time, or less, if we just count the time when people sang, "Hosanna!" For just a few moments, in order to declare to three worlds that Calvary was not an accident out of His control, Jesus accepted the praise of the multitude. Jesus was King! He knew where He was going that week! He knew Thursday and Friday were out there ahead! But He also knew that He would know the JOY of completing the Father's will, and releasing the mighty power that makes us all God's children. The parade was short just a brief flash of power.
- B. But this movement of Christ toward Jerusalem and the hosannas and the cross and the empty tomb beyond began a long time before even Zechariah prophesied about it! John tells us (in Revelation 13:8) that Jesus was "the Lamb slain from the creation of the world."

Out of the fullness of His LOVE God sent His Son.

C. The movement of Jesus toward Jerusalem and the cross was settled in the heart of Jesus long before this brief parade. On the Mount of Transfiguration He had spoken with Moses and Elijah about where He was going. Again and again He had told His disciples that He was going to Jerusalem to die and to take back His life again.

1. Yet what a strange display of power! Knowing He was going to His death Jesus deliberately kept on doing the things we love Him for; he attended to the details he heard the blind man shouting from the edge of the crowd he saw Zaccheus up in the sycamore tree all this was in Jericho as he was on His final journey to Jerusalem. Even later in this last week of ministry, on the very night He was arrested this King of All Power in Heaven and Earth took a towel and washed His disciples' feet!
2. And even though at the end of this procession He entered the Temple and, as He had done before, cleansed it with anger, and demonstrated His authority in a way we cannot understand it is true that before He got all the way down the hill— when He was in view of the beautiful Temple, this great King of power stopped his little mount and wept over the city that had rejected Him.

III. A PARADE OF CONTRASTS, OF CHOICES

A. That first Palm Sunday certainly was a day of contrasts! A Carpenter being called a King! Little children and happy disciples praising and shouting for joy while worried power brokers frowned and plotted evil! Bright sunshine on a happy parade while black storm clouds piled high on the western sky!

B. There was LOVE and there was HATRED contrasted that day! There was PEACE and there was TURMOIL and STRIFE in stark contrast that day! Suspicion, questioning every motivation, giving no one the benefit of the doubt; while Jesus, who knew what was in the heart of every human being still loved them and believed in them.

There was WORSHIP taking place that day in stark contrast to BLASPHEMY AND DENIAL OF GOD.

C. The government, and the power brokers, and the policy makers probably weren't too impressed by the POWER of that parade that first Palm Sunday! The same kinds of people in our own world today are exactly the same! Jesus doesn't really matter! God is a "Private Matter!" Faith is the Great Irrelevancy!

The King is on Parade

But if we listen and look with the gift of faith, we can see those same contrasts clearly even today: love IS stronger than hatred! Trust IS greater than suspicion and pettiness.

And what is more, if we look and listen with our eyes and ears of faith we can hear this King of Kings say, If you really want to, you can come after Me! Get in line! Join the parade!

The only thing is, to join in the parade we must "Deny our own self sovereignty and say, 'Jesus is LORD!'" and we must take up our own cross, day by day, and then we may follow Him!

Conclusion

And the wonderful thing is that we CAN get in the parade! We CAN, because He DID!

Parades are supposed to inspire. I confess that I enjoy hearing stirring marches, and feel a flutter when the flag goes past. But those kinds of parades pale in comparison to what happens within when the King Himself looks our way and says, "Come, Get in line! Follow on!"

This is the way the writer of Hebrews has put it and how it has worked again and again for me!

Let us fix our eyes on Jesus who, for the joy set before Him endured the cross, scorning its shame, and sat down at the right hand of the throne of God. Consider Him that endured such opposition from sinful men, so that you will not grow weary and lose heart! Hebrews 12:2,3 Shall we get in His parade? The line forms here!

Prayer: Help us to see with the eyes of faith, and hear with the ears of faith as You bid us to follow You, for we know that You have the power to make us God's own children. Amen

Hymn : Jesus Comes with All His Grace

Black Holes and Anchor Lines

April 30, 2000

John 20:19-31

One afternoon about twenty years ago I was fishing along the edge of nantasket Roads, the shipping channel that goes just past the Boston Light. It was well into the fall and past the summer heat. I had a VIP guest in my little fifteen-foot boat. I really wanted to catch some flounder. (My VIP was Sam Hunt, the biggest linebacker in the NFL, and a starting player for the New England Patriots.)

I was all set for a couple of hours of good bottom fishing as I swung my boat around to face the incoming tide and threw out my anchor. It was fifty to sixty feet deep and the tide was beginning to run, and I let the anchor line run out through my hands. As a matter of fact it ran so fast that I came to the end sooner than I thought and I watched with a sick feeling as the end went overboard.

I grabbed for it, and then quickly started the engine and tried to swing back and get a boat hook on it but it was out of reach and the line was slowly sinking out of sight. We were drifting with no way to hold steady.

How we finally got another anchor and had a great day of fishing is another story. [Should I tell you?] But I never will forget the sinking feeling when my anchor was lost. It was a mini-picture of what it is like when things we really count on aren't there any more.

WHEN THINGS WE REALLY COUNT ON AREN'T THERE ANY MORE!

THOMAS LOST AN ANCHOR WHEN JESUS DIED

When Jesus died something in Thomas did, too. Jesus simply had not performed according to Thomas's idea of what Messiah was supposed to do. Messiah was supposed to end suffering and bring peace and probably beat up on the Romans and bad guys and make His friends the new government. Thomas found out he didn't know Jesus as well as he thought he did.

Thomas LOVED Jesus, Don't make any mistake about that. Before the Passover, when Jesus was on his way to Bethany he was warned people were waiting there to kill Him. Thomas was one who said, "Well, let's go and die with Him!" But when the actual death came it shattered Thomas. Thomas had seen Jesus' power. Calmed the sea. Healed the sick. Raised the dead. But then Thomas had seen Jesus crucified in weakness and now Jesus was DEAD!

Thomas really wanted to believe that Jesus was alive. The rest of the disciples said they had seen him/. Two men on the road to Emmaus claimed he had talked with them and broken bread at their house. They were so very sure. But Thomas was not. "I have to see for myself! I have to know!"

Did YOU ever get the idea that others had a better, tighter faith than you? Did you ever wonder how people could be so sure they knew God? Did you ever wonder if anyone could really KNOW Jesus?

CAN ANYONE REALLY KNOW GOD?

CHRISTIANS DON'T ALWAYS TALK ABOUT THEIR DOUBTS

We like to talk about our victories. We like to have people think we're really together, spiritually. But people do fight battles with darkness. There are some questions we don't know the answers to.

Maybe sometimes we get to thinking "I'm probably the only one who fights battles like this!" Or, "If other people knew the thoughts that come to my mind they wouldn't have any faith in me." But the reality is that every Christian has to fight the good fight of faith.

Am I saying that we cannot know we are saved? Absolutely NOT! Our spiritual model John Wesley specialized in preaching about the assurance of salvation. We can be saved and we can KNOW we are saved. But there will always be questions we can not answer.

THE ONLY PEOPLE WHO NEVER FIGHT BATTLES WITH DOUBT ARE PEOPLE WHO NEVER ADDRESS THE PROBLEMS THAT FAITH ENCOUNTERS IN A REAL WORLD.

THERE IS A NAME FOR 'OSTRICH PEOPLE' WHO LIVE WITH THEIR HEADS IN THE SAND. IT IS 'OBSCURANTIST.' ONLY THE OBSCURANTIST NEVER FIGHT BATTLES OF FAITH, AND THEY GIVE UP THE INNER CORE OF THEIR INTEGRITY. THEY FIGHT WITH ANYONE AND EVERYONE WHO DARES TO DISAGREE WITH THEM ON ANY MINOR POINT. THEY BECOME TRUE FANATICS.

Fanaticism is only insecurity turned inside out. But genuine faith is forged on the anvil of honest doubt. It says "I wish I could believe, but here is a reality I can't understand. Please, God, I want to know!"

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE BETWEEN HONEST DOUBT AND UNBELIEF

Doubt and unbelief may superficially look alike. Maybe even sometimes they are hard to tell apart, Unbelief comes from a heart that is centered in itself and says "Show me and I'll think about it and maybe I will and maybe I won't!" Doubt, on the other hand, seeks to find God. It says, "Show me Yourself, and i will believe!"

I have based my entire life and my life's calling on the trust that God answers that cry. Like Thomas who cried "Show me!" I believe that God answers the seeker. A life verse is Hebrews 11:6, which says that God honors a seeking faith.

What do we do when we are seeking a Jesus that seems out of reach?

What do we do when we face the dark moments when it almost seems our God has failed us? Black holes of agony when we send our desperate prayers winging their way toward heaven, and NOTHING seems to be happening?

THE ANSWER OF FAITH IS JESUS, A PERSON, NOT AN EXPLANATION

We think we need the answers to the questions of life. And we need to keep facing them, and wrestling with them. But answers are not what makes faith. Thomas thought he needed one kind of proof. When Jesus CAME, that was all Thomas needed then.

THAT PERSON IS STILL VERY MUCH AVAILABLE

Text: These words were written so that YOU might believe, and that believing you might have LIFE through Jesus' name!

His name is Joel. He is a leader in his field of science, radiology; a practicing physician, but more, a professor at a university, and a Sunday School teacher. But once Joel was far, far away from where he ought to be with God. He and I had a confrontation about something he was doing I believed was wrong. I recall desperate prayer and tears, and I had little reason to believe there was hope. After that confrontation there were years of what seemed to be little spiritual progress. Imagine my joy when a few years ago I had a phone call: "My wife and I have found the Lord!"

I lost the anchor line out of that little fifteen foot boat because I failed to take hold of the end of the anchor line. But our eternal life doesn't depend on how well WE hang on, but rather it depends on our being able to say to Jesus MY LORD AND MY GOD!

God does not reveal himself to unbelief. But God ALWAYS answers honest, seeking, willing-to-follow-Him doubt, the doubt that wants to become faith. THE RESURRECTION IS AN INVITATION TO CHOOSE LIFE!

INVITATION TO COMMUNION

Jesus is calling every one of us this morning, calling us to follow Him and put him at the center of our lives. He is asking us to put away selfishness and sin, and asking us if He can give us LIFE, and FORGIVE OUR SINS, and ADOPT US into his Family.

Holy Communion

As we come to Holy Communion time, let this be a way we can respond to the call of Jesus to "Come, follow Me!"

Affirm your faith with me:

The Apostles' Creed on Page 7 UMH

Invitation

Prayer of Confession on Page 8 UMH

Let us offer ourselves and our gifts to God!

The Lord's Prayer

Communion

Benediction

Two Kinds of Rich

May 3, 2000

(cf September 27, 1998 AM Letters to Live By)

1 Timothy 6:6 ...godliness, with contentment

Luke 16:19-31

I. JESUS TELLS A STORY, A STORY OF CONTRASTS

Here in Luke 16 is a story full of contrasts. Jesus has painted a word- picture— a sketch, really— of two men who could hardly have been more different from each other in every way. One had more money than he knew what to do with. The other was poverty- stricken. One evidently had the best in health care. The other had disgusting open sores.

One had great parties with the V.I.P.-types over for dinner. The other ate out of the garbage. While they were alive not many people would have wanted to be Lazarus. After they both died NO one would trade places with the rich man. They were contrasts in their eternal destinies as well.

Why do you suppose Jesus ever told this story? What was He telling us? (Well, actually a story is a story. And you might get a different lesson from the one I get.) I can tell you what I hear Him saying. And I can tell you what Paul told Timothy in Letters to Live By.

Jesus is NOT saying that it is a sin to be rich. Jesus is NOT saying that it is good to be poverty stricken. Jesus IS saying that there are spiritual dimensions in life that go far beyond even extremes like these in the story. Jesus is also saying— at least I am hearing— that it is not what we have or do not have that ultimately makes us "rich." It sounds impossible, but the truly "rich" are those who have discovered, or are discovering the "contentment factor."

This spiritual "contentment" is not a loss of the challenge to grow in every way. It is not a slovenly laziness that believes that "the world owes me a living." It is the sense that even though we are on a journey, and we haven't arrived, yet we are walking with our Father, and we are in the center of His will for NOW! Jesus is saying that money can't buy LIFE.

"You can gain the whole world and still lose your soul !!" Jesus IS saying that hardship and extreme circumstances can't keep a person from eternal life. The angels knew where to find Lazarus. The name "Lazarus" is a clue, I really believe. Lazarus is the Latinized form of the Hebrew Eleazar which means "God is my help", and he is the only character mentioned by name in any of our Lord's parables.

We are pilgrims on a journey. This world is not our final home. Still we can be "at home" while we are on our way home. God is our contentment. "Godliness with contentment is GREAT gain!" It isn't a sin to have a lot of money. It isn't any fun to be in poverty. But money is NOT the "bottom line" for Christians. There are spiritual dimensions in life that will make us or break us eternally. This is where our "Letters to Live By" lesson from Paul comes in:

II. LOVING ADVICE ACROSS THE GENERATIONS

- A. Paul is very practical. He says: Your attitude toward money will make you or break you! He deals directly with the matter of "riches." But before we look at his advice let me return to a theme from last week. I believe it is important enough to stress one more time. Hear what he says to Timothy, a young man— his "son in the faith": (1 Timothy 6:11) "But you, O man of God!!"

Paul (the seasoned veteran) addresses Timothy (the "next generation") as "MAN OF GOD!" Paul challenges Timothy to step up and be a full partner in the Body of Christ! Yes, it takes time to develop the gifts and graces God gives each of us. BUT we do not need to be "second-class Christians" even one day! We, you and I, are called to be men and women of God! You are not the church of yesterday if you happen to be retired! You are a vital part of the church right now! You are vital, you are needed!

You are a man of God! A woman of God! You are not the church of tomorrow if you happen to be in school! Your task, your job right now IS SCHOOL! You are to prepare and sharpen your skills. But right now! YOU ARE A MAN OF GOD! YOU ARE A WOMAN OF GOD!

- B. Paul warns: Your attitude toward money will make you or break you! It is very easy to be driven by a financial "bottom line." Here is an often misquoted verse; how many times have you heard MONEY is the root of all evil?? Of course Paul does not say that at all. He says, "The LOVE of money is a root of all kinds of evil." The ambition solely to make money is a trap that feeds selfishness. Money is a wonderful servant, but it is a deadly master. Jesus said, "You cannot serve both God and money."
- C. Then Paul repeats the "call to arms" that we heard last week. Remember then he said "That you might wage a good warfare." Your attitude toward money will make you or break you! Do you recall the weapons he mentioned then? Faith and a good conscience. Here Paul gives two battle commands: [Flee, run away, shun,] AND [pursue, follow, cling to]. Flee the selfish ambitions of this world: (see 4 - 10) Follow, pursue: righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness.

III. CALLED TO TRUE RICHES

Quality of life is always a spiritual dimension. But we still do not believe it! Proverbs 30:8 says "Give me neither poverty nor riches . . ." A very wise young pastor and academician named John Piper wrote a book several years ago called "Desiring God: Confessions of a Christian Hedonist." The idea of connecting the words "Christian" and "hedonist" caused some raising of eyebrows.

But Piper got his point across: the best and highest satisfactions come from God's blessing of making Himself known to us, his children. The name-it-and-claim-it people set their sights far too low. They are despicable, like the government lottery industries are despicable; they play on the hopes of poor people to suddenly find all their problems solved by winning a sweepstakes. God does not exist to be our servant, to give us every whim we think we need or want. We are not the center of the spiritual universe.

God is at the Center of all Existence. The heavens declare his glory. The angels sing his praises. The Eternal Son of God came to earth saying, "I delight to do Your Will, O God!" When we begin to get this relationship straight and understand the Covenant, we find that as God is our helper (Lazarus, Eleazar) and as we seek to live to His glory we are rich beyond all understanding! Selfish ambition - to wealth, or to power, or to fame - can never find satisfaction. Stay the course! You will find tribulation and challenges and pain whatever course you choose. But if you make it your purpose to walk with God you will find that you have a Companion with you in joy and sorrow.

Conclusion

One day Peter said to Jesus: "Lord, we have left everything to follow You!" Do you remember what Jesus said in reply?" Jesus had said that it was harder for a worldly-type rich man to enter the kingdom than for a camel to go through the eye of a needle. (See Mark 10) But when Peter said what he said, that he was "poor,"

Jesus answered: "Truly, no one leaves anything for me but he receives a hundred-fold back in this life! Yes, there is persecution! There is pain! But you will have family! You will have shelter! You will have what you need! And in the world to come you will live with Me forever!"

Prayer

O God, who declare your almighty power chiefly in showing mercy and pity: Grant us the fullness of your grace, that we, running to obtain your promises, may become partakers of your heavenly treasure; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever.

#707 Freely, Freely

Doing Lost, Being Found

May 7, 2000

(cf September 17, 1995)

Luke 15:1-10; 1 Timothy 1:12-17

This chapter is about what it means to be LOST. When I think of "lost" sometimes I remember the story of "Lady Be Good."

In the early years of World War II after the United States forces invaded northern Africa, crude airstrips were established on the desert, and bombing runs across the Mediterranean were begun on Axis targets in Italy.

"Lady Be Good" was a Flying Fortress, B 17 bomber, that was making these long and dangerous flights. The night this plane was tragically lost the crew had made it to Italy and was returning on a radio beam from the desert air strip. When the beam would come on the Lady be Good made certain it was on a straight line toward home.

The crew never knew until it was too late that they had a strong tail wind that brought them back much sooner than expected. With no visual point of reference they simply overflowed the directional signal and kept straight on until they ran out of gas and came down in the Libyan desert more than a hundred miles south of the coast and water. They were LOST. They simply disappeared off the face of the earth no one knew they had overflowed their base into the heart of the desert.

Their plane has been almost perfectly preserved in the dryness the men themselves survived the emergency landing only to die of thirst in the desert with no one knowing where they might be.

This story has always been a classic object lesson to me, personally, that doing MY best and following rules, even good rules, is not enough. These men were literally "on the beam." And perhaps the chilling part of this story is that people can be lost and not even know they are lost until it has ruined their lives or worse.

In order to find our way in this world there has to be a dependable point of reference, a point of personal contact with God. The Ten Commandments and the Beatitudes and the guidance of scripture are all good, but they cannot save us, and we can keep them all so far as human effort is concerned and still be lost.

"Lost" is being where you're not supposed to be. "Lost" is not really knowing where you belong, or how to get there. [I had a son to get lost in a great museum in Manhattan one day; it still frightens me more than thirty years later!] "Lost" is having no valid point of reference outside of "self." A great proportion of society today is unaware that there is any reference point beyond what looks good, or feels good, or seems good at the moment. The worst kind of being lost is not having a clue that you are lost at all.

These people Jesus was talking to when he told these stories about "lost" and "found" did not think at all that they were lost themselves! They were sure and certain they knew all about God and what God expects; they "knew" they didn't need Jesus or anything he could tell them. And one thing for sure, the Pharisees are not the only people who ever thought they knew more than anyone else about right and wrong.

These people thought they were all right because they went to church and kept rules. Whenever religion becomes a matter strictly of "doing" with no reference point for "being" we have people who are lost and don't even know they are lost. The three stories about being "Lost and Found" in Luke 15 are a warning to people not to just DO RELIGION apart from really knowing GOD.

How do we find ourselves? What do we DO to be FOUND? The answer is WE don't!

The message is: GOD IS THE SEEKER ! He is looking for us! We're the sheep! We're the coin! The stories of our Gospel lesson speak of one who seeks the lost one who turns the house upside down looking for the lost.

So– what do we do to be saved? How can we be sure we're not LOST?

If you care at all about your relationship with God I can tell you that grace is at work in your life! If you even THINK that maybe you need to find God and move closer

Him, then you can be sure that grace is already at work in your life. If you WANT a God centered faith, you are a lot closer that you might think. Being FOUND is there for the asking.

I remember a story of the sea from days gone by.

A sailing vessel had become becalmed off the coast of South America and had drifted for days with not enough wind to go anywhere. Their supplies had been low when the wind had died, and now they were becoming desperate for drinking water. They prayed for rain, prayed for a wind, but just scorching sunshine. Then over the horizon came a coal burning steamship. They shouted and hoisted flags, and soon the ship turned and came toward the becalmed vessel.

They shouted as soon as they could make themselves heard "Do you have any water for us? We're dying of thirst?"

They thought they heard the reply "Let down your casks into the sea?" They asked again and got the same strange answer. Anyone knows that to drink sea water doesn't quench thirst and is inviting death. "Let down your casks where you are right now!"

Someone threw over a bucket on a line and hoisted it on deck, and, amazingly, it was sweet and fresh. The reason they has drifted into the mouth of the Amazon River, which is 100 miles wide when it flows into the ocean. They had been dying of thirst with water to drink all around them.

There are people not far from where we are right now who are drying up in spirit, and dying of spiritual thirst with the provisions of God all around them. We don't have to DO anything to bring God where we are. But maybe we DO need to let down our buckets into the water of life!

GOD IS HERE!

He is here, waiting for us to recognize Him and ask His help in putting him at the center of our lives.

Doing Lost, Being Found

- WE CAN CONFESS OUR NEED
- WE CAN ASK CHRIST INTO OUR LIVES
- WE CAN RESPOND IN OBEDIENCE AS HE LEADS US
- WHEN WE ARE WITH HIM, WE ARE NOT LOST!

We can respond to a God that seeks us in our lost condition.

Pray with me:

INTO COMMUNION - Make the confession count: make the prayer your own.

Abundant Life in Jesus

May 14, 2000 - Mother's Day

John 10:11-18

John 13:34-35 A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also may love one another. By this shall all know that ye are my disciples; if ye have love one to another.

There are many ways to look at Mother's Day. I see it as an opportunity to celebrate unselfish love. It doesn't have to just be birth mothers that we honor. At least we can think again about how important our loved ones are to us.

Children often see things a little differently from what we might think. David Heller wrote a book called DEAR GOD: CHILDREN'S LETTERS TO GOD. He eavesdrops on some children's prayer-letters in which they talk about family. For example:

Dear God, Thank you for my parents, my sister Anita, and for my grandma and grandpa. They are real warm and special. I forgive you for my brother Phil. I guess you didn't finish working on him. Sean (age 12)

Dear God, My mom is acting weird because she is getting old. Can you take back a few gray hairs? That would help bring back the house to normal. Thanks for what you can do. Mike (age 9)

Dear God, You light up my life. So do mom and dad. I hope you like this. I am not sure what it means. Luv, Toni (age 7)

Dear God, My mom tells me a story about you every night. Last night she told me how you always remember your mother on her birthday. And you give her divine gifts. I think she was kidding me and herself. Love, Holden (age 7)

In my early years we always had carnations on Mother's Day. We may not have had any money, but my mother saw to it that my sister Ruth and I had red carnations to show OUR mother was alive— and she and Dad wore white carnations in honor of their mothers who had died. It seemed somehow sacred and "official"— that was the way to observe Mother's day.

Mother's Day still is a good way to honor all that is best about mother love and family love. But it has to be much more than carnations and cards.

Anna Jarvis, the West Virginia woman whose crusading got her state to adopt Mother's Day in 1910, and the whole nation to adopt by 1914 later became very bitter over the heavy commercialization of Mother's day. She told a reporter she was sorry she ever started Mother's day. In fact she was arrested for disturbing the peace at a War Mother's Rally when she protested the sale of carnations. "This is not what I intended," she was quoted as saying. "I wanted it to be a day of sentiment, not profit."

Mother's Day is an opportunity to honor far more than just birth mothers. Anna Jarvis herself, the founder of Mother's Day, never was a birth mother.

One of the most beautiful real-life stories in our nation's history was about a boy who was born in Kentucky, moved early to southern Indiana where his mother died. When his father brought home a new bride the little boy was very upset, almost frantic. He didn't want to accept a step-mother. he was afraid he would forget his birth mother.

But the boy's step-mother was a kind Christian woman. She read to him every night. She nursed him when he was sick, and held him on her lap a lot. As time went by he came to realize he could love this new mother without losing his love for the mother who had died. He came to call his step mother his "Angel Mother." Later on Abraham Lincoln would say, as 16th President of the United States, "All that I am or ever hope to be I owe to my angel mother."

This day of celebration of family love comes on a Sunday when we read about how Jesus came to bring 'abundant life.' It fits with what Jesus said just a few pages later in the same Gospel of John: "A new commandment I give you," Jesus said, "That you love one another."

First Jesus said it: This is my command! Love one another!

Then Jesus told them HOW they should go about it: As I have loved you, so you are to love one another! Like Jesus! As He loved!

Finally Jesus told them that this was to be their identification badge: By THIS, He said— by THIS shall all know that you are MY disciples— if you have love one for another!

When we talk about unselfish love we are at the heart of the whole scheme of salvation: WE ARE TO LOVE ONE ANOTHER AS JESUS HAS LOVED US!

This is on a different plane now even from The Golden Rule. Jesus is not now saying, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you!" This is more than that! He is saying, "Love one another as I have loved you!" He had just finished washing his disciples' feet. He was about to die on the cross of Calvary for their sins, and for yours and mine as well. And he said to them and to us: LOVE ONE ANOTHER AS I HAVE LOVED YOU.

This kind of self-giving love is what soul-health is all about! It lifts us out of self-pity and self-absorption, and brings us into a working partnership with Jesus Himself. I close with a little story by Eddie Ogan:

I'll never forget Easter 1946. I was 14, my little sister Ocy was 12, and my older sister Darlene 16. We lived at home with our mother, and the four of us knew what it was to do without many things. My dad had died five years before, leaving Mom with seven school kids to raise and no money. By 1946 my older sisters were married and my brothers had left home.

A month before Easter the pastor of our church announced that a special Easter offering would be taken to help a poor family. He asked everyone to save and give sacrificially. When we got home, we talked about what we could do. We decided to buy 50 pounds of potatoes and live on them for a month. This would allow us to save $20 of our grocery money for the offering. When we thought that if we kept our electric lights turned out as much as possible and didn't listen to the radio, we'd save money on that month's electric bill. Darlene got as many house and yard cleaning jobs as possible, and both of us babysat for everyone we could. For 15 cents we could buy enough cotton loops to make three pot holders to sell for $1. We made $20 on pot holders.

That month was one of the best of our lives. Every day we counted the money to see how much we had saved. At night we'd sit in the dark and talk about how the poor family was going to enjoy having the money the church would give them. We had about 80 people in church, so figured that whatever amount of money we had to give, the offering would surely be 20 times that much. After all, every Sunday the pastor had reminded everyone to save for the sacrificial offering. The day before Easter, Ocy and I walked to the grocery store and got the manager to give us three crisp $20 bills and one $10 bill for all our change. We ran all the way home to show Mom and Darlene. We had never had so much money before. That night we were so excited we could hardly sleep. We didn't care that we wouldn't have new clothes for Easter; we had $70 for the sacrificial offering. We could hardly wait to get to church!

On Sunday morning, rain was pouring. We didn't own an umbrella, and the church was over a mile from our home, but it didn't seem to matter how wet we got. Darlene had cardboard in her shoes to fill the holes. The cardboard came apart, and her feet got wet. But we sat in church proudly. I heard some teenagers talking about the Smith girls having on their old dresses. I looked at them in their new clothes, and I felt rich. When the sacrificial offering was taken, we were sitting on the second row from the front. Mom put in the $10 bill, and each of us kids put in a $20. As we walked home after church, we sang all the way. At lunch Mom had a surprise for us. She had bought a dozen eggs, and we had boiled Easter eggs with our fried potatoes!

Late that afternoon the minister drove up in his car. Mom went to the door, talked with him for a moment, and then came back with an envelope in her hand. We asked what it was, but she didn't say a word. She opened the envelope and out fell a bunch of money. There were three crisp $20 bills, one $10 and seventeen $1 bills. Mom put the money back in the envelope. We didn't talk, just sat and stared at the floor. We had gone from feeling like millionaires to feeling like poor white trash.

We kids had such a happy life that we felt sorry for anyone who didn't have our Mom and Dad for parents and a house full of brothers and sisters and other kids visiting constantly. We thought it was fun to share silverware and see whether we got the spoon or the fork that night. We had two knives that we passed around to whoever needed them. I knew we didn't have a lot of things that other people had, but I'd never thought we were poor. That Easter day I found out we were. The minister had brought us the money for the poor family, so we must be poor.

I didn't like being poor. I looked at my dress and worn out shoes and felt so ashamed I didn't even want to go back to church. Everyone there probably already knew we were poor! I thought about school. I was in the ninth grade and at the top of my class of over 100 students. I wondered if the kids at school knew that we were poor. I decided that I could quit school since I had finished the eighth grade. That was all the law required at that time.

We sat in silence for a long time. Then it got dark, and we went to bed. All that week, we girls went to school and came home, and no one talked much. Finally on Saturday, Mom asked us what we wanted to do with the money. What did poor people do with money? We didn't know. We'd never known we were poor.

We didn't want to go to church on Sunday, but Mom said we had to. Although it was a sunny day, we didn't talk on the way. Mom started to sing, but no one joined in and she only sang one verse.

At church we had a missionary speaker. He talked about how churches in Africa made buildings out of sun dried bricks, but they needed money to buy roofs. He said $100 would put a roof on a church. The minister said, "Can't we all sacrifice to help these poor people?" We looked at each other and smiled for the first time in a week.

Mom reached into her purse and pulled out the envelope. She passed it to Darlene. Darlene gave it to me, and I handed it to Ocy. Ocy put it in the offering. When the offering was counted, the minister announced that it was a little over $100. The missionary was excited. He hadn't expected such a large offering from our small church. He said, "You must have some rich people in this church."

Suddenly it struck us! We had given $87 of that "little over $100." We were the richest family in our church! Hadn't the missionary said so? From that day on I've never been poor again. I've always remembered how rich I am because I have Jesus!

There are many ways to look at Mother's Day. It is an opportunity to celebrate unselfish love. It doesn't have to just be birth mothers that we honor. At least we can think again about how important our loved ones are to us. We may not have a lot of this world's goods— but we are never so poor but what we can care about others.

Prayer: Heavenly Father, You have shown your great love to us by giving us your Son, Jesus Christ, who has himself loved us and given himself for us. By your grace, help us to obey this Great Commandment, and love as Jesus has shown us so to do. This we ask in His Name who with the Holy Spirit lives and reigns with You, One God, world without end. Amen

189 UMH Fairest Lord Jesus

The Presence of God

Pentecost Sunday

June 11, 2000

East Wareham United Methodist Church, Massachusetts

Whatever happens the next few days and weeks around here, one thing is for sure: it will never be the same again. All things have to come to an end sometime. The closing of a church is a big thing. Change. Uncertainty. Parting. It is not easy for any of us. My heart has been heavy for you, even though we have accepted that it must be.

But strangely enough, I do not have a sad message this morning. I have to recognize the reality of change, yes. But today is Pentecost Sunday, and with it comes exactly, precisely the message you need, and that I need. It is a message about the reality of continuity that is greater even than the reality of any change, of life or death, for time and for eternity. A reality of continuity— reality of good that just doesn't quit, ever, ever, ever!

The situation the disciples were in, from the time the Gospel texts were taken, was a little like the East Wareham United Methodist Church right now. A little like it. Maybe a lot like it! All this we're comfortable with and used to, the comfort of this place and these few people, will not be the same very soon. I am just a small part at the end of this, but yet I feel some of what you must be feeling.

The disciples were puzzled. Jesus had told them he was going away. There was no way this change could ever be for the better. They had Jesus right with them, right there. Change could never be as good as, let alone better. What could be better than waking up in the morning and sitting across the table with Jesus at breakfast? Now he says he is going away? Great!

Jesus promised his disciples that he would not abandon them. It would get very scary. It would seem like all was lost. But Jesus promised: I won't leave you orphans. I won't abandon you. When I go away it will only be so I can send you another Friend who will be with you night and day from then on to the end of your lives and beyond.

Jesus was speaking of the Holy Spirit, the Comforter, the other Friend who would be in his disciples very soul and being.

Jesus said that when this Friend came he would do two things. Both of these things were to continue the work Jesus was already doing. Both these things would bring Jesus in a very real way back into the lives of his disciples in a more intimate, personal way than they could at that time imagine. It happened on Pentecost.

When He comes, Jesus said, he will speak to this world about sin and righteousness and judgment. The truth would be revealed again and again as God's people received this Spirit. This is the promise of the reality of continuity of the Word and work of Jesus carrying on and on until he comes again in final glory. It will continue, you can count on it. Churches close. Whole denominations come and go. But the church will not close. It will not fail. We are all part of Christ's body the church. We each can and will have a place in that work until we are translated to glory. Then we can paint on larger canvasses. That is good.

But the word for us now— even better— more personal— the reality of continuity that we need:

When He comes, Jesus said, he will take your hand and lead you into all the truth there is! Jesus is not just building his church "out there" somewhere— Jesus is caring for every last individual member of his body the church. He is not allowing any one of us to get lost, to fall down between the cracks in the floorboards.

Remember, when Jesus said "I'm going away, and you know where I'm going and you know the way" the disciples were NOT sure of what was coming next. They said, "No we DON'T know where you're going. No, we DON'T know where to go from here! No, we don't know the way!"

That is when Jesus began this discourse, He said, "I AM the way, the truth, and the life." And Jesus also said, "When THE FRIEND comes, he will show you– he will lead you! Don't worry! I won't abandon you!"

WHEN HE COMES! WHEN HE COMES! WHEN! WHEN! WHEN!

THAT WAS Jesus's promise THEN. But this is NOW! Here we are facing BIG change. If we only knew when he was coming– if we knew WHEN . . .

But that is where the good news comes in! Do you know the very best part of Pentecost? It is an open secret . . .but the promise is still the same. I have never seen tongues of fire or heard the sound of mighty winds. I have never spoken in languages that foreigners could understand. But I have heard the Promise, and I have believed the promise and I do believe the promise right now!

The promise is not now WHEN HE COMES– but the promise is HE IS HERE! The Holy Spirit has been given to the church. We don't have to wait 40 days or 10 days or any specific waiting time. The disciples waited for the first outpouring until the Day of Pentecost was completely come. It was God's timing. But ever since that day the Holy Spirit has been available to God's people simply for the asking.

Yes– we need to ask according to God's will. Yes, we need to ask in the strength of Jesus' promise. Yes, we need to ask in complete agreement with who Jesus is and what Jesus is doing. But now we simply need to invite the Spirit, to welcome Him and receive this promise; HE WILL BE WITH YOU! HE WILL REMIND YOU OF WHAT JESUS HAS SAID AND DONE. HE WILL TAKE YOU BY THE HAND AND LEAD YOU INTO ALL THE TRUTH THERE IS!

At Home With God

June 20, 2000

(cf May 20, 1995)

John 14:23

As you probably have heard me say before, when I was a little boy my parents were song evangelists. We literally lived out of suitcases, on the road at least 36 weeks a year. Our "home" was simply the address of an aunt and uncle in Lansing, Michigan. I guess I didn't think of traveling all the time as strange because it was the only life I knew. I think I felt sorry for other kids who didn't get to see new things all the time.

But at the same time I looked with great longing at houses, homes, permanent places to live. How I looked forward to coming back to Lansing to be with aunts and uncles and cousins by the dozens! How I valued that aunt and uncle's home!

Still I think I learned something very early in my life that applies to this scripture lesson today. It is good— best perhaps— to have a sense of place and permanence. But being "at home" finally is a people matter. When we did not have any permanent house whatsoever when I was with father and mother I was "at home." Their security was my security. Their peace was my peace.

Occasionally, their discontent was mine, too— for while they were people of integrity they weren't perfect. That first lesson, then, was where the people you love and trust are— there is home, at least in the sense of security for the child.

Later, when circumstances made it necessary for my parents to leave the itinerant ministry, our first-ever house of our own was a bungalow at 610 South Magnolia in Lansing— you know— two blocks over from Hayford Street. I had a room that was mine, and I slept in the same bed every night, and could have my own closet and my own pictures on the wall. It was far from heaven. But there I had my family, and I had a sense of permanence as well.

I know it is a stretch of imagination to apply this homely and personal understanding of what it means to be "at home" with God, but the facts somehow seem similar: The reality is that we are not yet at home. [The choir has sung "I Feel Like Travelling On" because "This world is not my home, I'm just a-passing through..."]

The promise of Jesus early on in this great passage is that in the place where he lives are many dwelling places, and that he has gone to prepare a place for us so we can be where he is permanently. The passage from Revelation is not so much descriptive, to my literary understanding, as suggestive of a glorious reality that transcends everything we know now. But the reality also is that God Almighty, YHWH— the Father, Son and Holy Spirit, God wants to be "at home" with us while we travel towards home.

This kind of being at home with God isn't the final word on glory or fulfillment or permanence. We are not yet what we are going to be. But if in fact God is wi-i-i-i-ith us!! as the choir sang last Sunday night and Tom Waltermire has been TRYING to sing all week— if God is with us on the road, and we are at home in him— then we need to make sure this has happened in a personal way in each of our lives.

"IF YOU LOVE ME,"said Jesus, "YOU WILL OBEY ME, AND THE FATHER WILL LOVE YOU, AND WE WILL COME TO YOU AND TAKE UP PERMANENT RESIDENCE IN YOU." God not only WITH us— God not only WATCHING OUT for us— God not only SAVING US FROM SIN— BUT GOD AT HOME IN US WHILE WE ARE ON THE WAY! A WORKING DESCRIPTION OF WHAT WE CALL "HOLINESS!"

How do we go about making God at home in us?? Love is the key Love is not a feeling, but a centering, an act of will and covenant In the case of humans there is a submission to covenant In the case of divine-human relationship god is always right He accommodates our weakness but cannot compromise dishonesty or selfishness so he must be obeyed, but obeyed because of trust/love .

The everlasting "YEA" is the doorway to everything of significance in the kingdom of God. You know whether or not you have come to the place in your walk with God where you have deliberately said "yes!!!! Yes!!! Y E S!!!!!" to god for time and for eternity! That is the place where god moves in to make Himself at home.

An Unfinished Story

August 6, 2000

Bethany Church of the Nazarene, Rumford, Rhode Island

Luke 15:1-3, 31

Introduction:

The sun had already set, and daylight had mostly faded and gone. A big house was dimly outlined under tall trees against the fading glow in the sky. But there was light stabbing out into the darkness from every window, and from the open door of the house. Not only was light piercing the darkness, but there were loud, happy sounds coming out of the house as well. Sounds of music and laughter and people having a good time. Dishes were clanking- a party was in full swing.

In the foreground of this scene stood two figures silhouetted in the light from the door. Two men stood talking quietly. As the light reflected in their faces it was evident they resembled each other. It was a father and his son. They were in a serious conversation.

"I heard you were out here. Why don't you just come on in?"

"You know why! He is in there!"

"He is your brother! You know how I love him. I'm so very glad he is home!"

"How could you? After what he's done! How could you love him?"

You know, of course, that we came in near the end of the story. For those of you who are at all familiar with this great 15th chapter of Luke, and the story of the Prodigal Son, the Prodigal has gone away, and has come home again. The loving Father has permitted him to go, but has watched and waited and welcomed him back home again. Now the older brother is wondering why.

Transition:

Probably ninety-nine times out of a hundred, when we read Luke 15 we think about the lost sheep, the lost coin, and the lost son. We think of how Jesus seems to tell us that God is willing to move heaven and earth and seek and save and welcome the lost. And that certainly is right. We are not wrong when we say that Luke 15 is about the lost being found. That is surely what our God is like.

Maybe it would be good to look again at that "lost and found" message in Luke for just a minute or two today before I come back to this story's unfinished ending.

I. GOD IS IN THE LOST AND FOUND BUSINESS:

LOST SHEEP, LOST COIN, LOST BOY

- How do people get lost? (Molly Bish, currently in news; tragic)
- Have you ever been lost? (Steve, our son, lost in NYC's M of NH)
- What about when it is their own wicked fault?

The message is clear: God values you. If you are like a poor sheep there is a Shepherd looking for you. If you feel like a coin that has fallen down into the cracks of life there is a light and a broom sweeping your way this very moment! And even if you have been wicked and wasteful and find yourself in a pigpen somewhere if you return to God you will find pardon.

If you know the Lord today you're a sheep, or a coin, or a Prodigal or maybe all three– but you were lost and now you are found! Or– maybe you are now an Older Brother!! Maybe you and I could have become one across the years?

Bridge:

Do you know to whom Jesus was telling these wonderful stories? There is nothing wrong with you and me taking them and believing them, and using them as evangel stories- help in winning the lost. But Jesus originally told these stories to Pharisees and scribes who criticized Him for eating with the publicans and sinners.

[Text Luke 15: 1-3 Then drew near unto him all the publicans and sinners for to hear him. And the Pharisees and scribes murmured, saying, This man receives sinners, and eats with them. And He spake this parable unto them, saying, . . .] Jesus was telling scribes and Pharisees– old-time religious people "Don't get in my way when I am eating with sinners and seeking the lost! Don't miss the whole point of faith– God loves everybody!"

II. THE UNFINISHED STORY

In the evening shadows outside that big house, the big house that was shining with light and rocking with laughter and music, the father urged his older son to come in and join the party. In that conversation the father said two things that I have been thinking about over and over this summer. (It may be dangerous to deduce doctrine from narrative, but I think in this case it is valid.)

The father said, (1) Son, you are always with me; and (2) all that I have is yours!

THE ELDER BROTHER WAS A FULL SON, YET HE ACTED LIKE A SERVANT

He served only from duty, or from expectations, or something other than love and shared ownership. It was his farm, too.

We don't just work for God, as good and important as that is. We work with God. I Corinthians 3:9 "We are laborers together with God" Yes, ours is the greatest task in the universe. It gets hard and even tiresome. But love helps transform labor.

[Illustration, maybe? Expectations without love - - love way before expectations . . . ??]

THE ELDER BROTHER WAS RICH, YET HE WAS NOT HAPPY

Careful: Don't make this sound like "prosperity gospel" because it isn't!

His idea of getting ahead was comparing:

"I'm more righteous than he is!

"I didn't get the party he did! "

He had the idea that he had to wait until the old man died until he could take over. The inheritance was later, But the father made it plain: whatever you really need or want is already here for you!

HOW ARE WE "OLDER BROTHERS" RICH?

Are we? Do we really believe that?

What do we have that is better, richer, more wonderful– even more powerful than anything else in this world? When we think of 'making it'— of getting whatever we want, do we think of money? Do we think of security? Is that why "Do You Want to be a Millionaire" is so popular? We think that if we only had enough money, or enough things we could be happy–

What does God already have for us that makes us rich?

1. Grace is ours. The forgiveness of all our sins. The Presence of God to dwell in our every-day-living lives! We are tenderly loved by the heavenly Father!
2. the whole heritage of faith belongs to every child of God
 - creeds
 - saints
 - Fathers
 - martyrs
 - the fellowship of all saints belongs to every child of God
3. Whatever we need to do the whole will of the father is ours!

I'm trying to grasp that! I really believe it!

All the wealth of the kingdom belongs to all of God's children. "You are always with me! All that I have is yours!"

Did the Elder Brother go in? The story ends here. We don't know! But we can still join the party!!

Prayer:

O God, move me away from selfishness and smallness of soul– help me cherish my friendship with You, the great Father of Lights. Help me see how rich I am in the things that really matter. Help me to live in joy and in fellowship with You and with all your children. In Jesus' name. Amen

Hymn No. 617 (Sing to the Lord) O for a Closer Walk with Thee

A Question of Love

August 13, 2000

Bethany Church of the Nazarene, Rumford, Rhode Island

John 21:1-19

THE SETTING of the story in the last chapter of John's Gospel is a beautiful lake at sunrise. The wind has died off as it often does just at dawn, and some tired fishermen are rowing their boat through the rising mists the last quarter mile to the beach. The sail hung limp in the stillness, and the only sound was the thump of the oars against the sides of the boat.

It had been more than two weeks since Easter. The disciples had been in Jerusalem for the Passover. It was then that Jesus had been taken from them and crucified. They believed he was alive—resurrected from the dead. They had seen him twice, except Thomas had seen him once. He had said something about meeting them back in Galilee. They weren't quite sure what to expect, whether they would start up their preaching from town to town again, whether now that Jesus had risen from the dead he might set up his kingdom— they really didn't know. The Bible makes that plain.

But they did know that life goes on— and they had to eat. Their boats were still on the beach— their nets were ready. Peter said: "I'm going fishing!" There were finally seven disciples who got into the little sailing vessel and went off into the evening to fish the night through. Now they were coming home empty and tired.

As the boat got close enough to shore to begin to make out shapes through the mist the fishermen could see a figure standing on the beach. The person on the beach called through the still morning air:

"Children— do you have any fish?"

He could have been a shopkeeper from Capernaum looking for fish to sell. He might have been another fisherman wondering where the fish were biting. But we know, and the disciples were soon to find out, it was Jesus Himself.

"Sorry! No— no fish!"

The answer came back clearly through the still air: "Cast your net off to the right side of your boat and you'll catch some."

It was not the first time these men had fished all night and come up empty. And it was not the first time they had been told to try again in the morning light. But as they began to draw their big net back in this time they thought somehow they had snagged bottom. As they kept pulling they realized the net was completely full of big fish.

John immediately said, "That's the Lord! Jesus is on the shore!" And before anyone could say a word Peter grabbed his robe and was over the side swimming and then wading ashore. The other six had their hands full with more than half a ton of fish. The cash flow of several fishermen was about to improve dramatically.

It was probably as Peter was wading up the beach he remembered that there was a cloud in his relationship with Jesus. He was so very happy to see him that he would jump overboard, but then he was afraid to ask him if he was really forgiven for denying him three times the night he was arrested in the Garden of Gethsemene. So he just helped secure the boats and haul the nets up on the beach.

THE WARM FELLOWSHIP that followed that morning would never be forgotten by any of the seven men. Jesus already had a fire burned down to a bed of coals for broiling, and had some fish already cooking. He called to the men to bring some more from what they just landed. I don't know what they talked about around that breakfast fire. I know there were a lot of questions yet to be asked. Somehow I am sure that every one of those men was happy just to be near the Lord they loved. But in the heart of one of those men was a big, hard lump that wouldn't go away.

A TENDER PERSONAL SCENE is what came next.

Jesus got up and motioned for Peter to follow him down the beach. It was one of those very private times; only John tagged along. And he took notes. Jesus asked Peter some very tough questions that morning. Three questions— and yet they were all asked with the same words, or very nearly the same words.

Three times Jesus said to Peter— as Peter had denied Jesus three times— "Simon— son of John— do you love me more than these?

"Simon, do you love me?

"Simon—son of John— do you love me?"

Tough questions— and because John tagged along and took notes— and wrote the questions down— and they are part of our scripture— it must be that you and I need to answer those tough questions, too.

"Peter, do you love me more than these?"

OUR LOVE MUST BE BEYOND COMPARING WITH OTHERS

Before Peter denied his Lord and stumbled he "knew" that his love was stronger than anyone else's. His doctrine was purer. His understanding was truer.

But it is always the wrong approach to tell God we love Him in any comparison to others. "Lord, if all these deny you, I will still go to the death with you!" Or, "I could never love the Lord like that person!" If our faith must be in comparison and in contrast to others the chances are it is on shaky ground.

Some churches build their entire message and ministry on "NOT being like 'the unbelievers'." Jesus is not the spirit that takes shots at other followers. Peter had to say "I love YOU, Lord, and not in relationship to THEM."

"Do you love me?"

OUR LOVE MUST BE BEYOND COMPETITION WITH OTHERS

Life is NOT fair— some will have glamorous assignments. Some will die young. Some will suffer while others seem to prosper. Jesus told Peter that hard times loomed ahead for him. That didn't shake Peter. But Peter did say— "Look at HIM, Lord— the one following along here— what about HIM?" It was then that Jesus had what seem like harsh words for Peter. But they are words that every one of us need to take to heart if we are to really tell Jesus we love HIM:

"What is that to YOU? You follow ME!"

"Do you love me?" "Feed my lambs, my sheep!"

OUR LOVE HAS TO GO BEYOND THE WORDS OF CONSECRATION

Each time in response to Peter's anguished answer: "Lord— you know I do! You know I love you..." Each time Jesus said: "Then you take care of my lambs, my sheep!"

Love is more than warm feelings in worship services or quiet times. Peter understood that love is God, not Peter, at the center of life and all.

And it was then, and only then that in the same place as three years before- with the same words as when he started out— Jesus renewed Peter's call: "FOLLOW ME!"

SO, HOW DOES THIS INTIMATE STORY APPLY in a sermon on a Sunday morning in the summer of 2000 A.D.?

Somehow I want to hear Jesus— I want to make certain that there is nothing between Him and me— I want to answer His hard questions: "Lord, you KNOW I love You!"

1. I love you with a love that I will not compare to other's love. I will seek YOU— not the recognition from others that I am seeking you.
2. I love You with a love that does not compete for position. If I am in a place of responsibility, I hold it only on your command. I do not grasp. If you put me aside, or anywhere— in a hard place- that is your wisdom, your will— and I will love you!
3. I love you with a love that wants to be obedient. Not just words, Lord, but with my body, my reasonable service. With Peter I say "Lord, you know all things! You KNOW that I love you! Let me hear you say, 'FOLLOW ME!' "

Prayer Hymn - # 133 I Love You, Lord

The Risk Takers

THE CALL

Genesis 12: 1 - 9 August 13(pm)

Bethany Church of the Nazarene, Rumford, Rhode Island

Matthew 9:9-13

Once upon a time there was a good man. He had a good family. He had good connections. He was living in a reasonably comfortable manner. He was abreast of the latest modern technology. His life was not in crisis. But deep in his heart there was the nagging uncertainty, the question he could not put into words:

"IS THIS ALL THERE IS TO LIFE?"

Then one day this good man became aware that Almighty God was talking to him. Just how this awareness came about I cannot tell you. But God was saying, "Well, no, as a matter of fact THIS isn't all there is to life! And if you are willing and obedient, I will show you exactly what your heart is seeking!"

That day Abraham had a decision to make. He had to decide what one thing was absolutely the most important thing in his life. The way the story puts it: God said, "I want you to LEAVE...your country...your people...your father's relatives. Above all, I ask you to LEAVE your right to say what is right and wrong!" I want YOU to come and walk with ME! And if you DO, I'll bless you far beyond anything you can possibly imagine!" SO ABRAHAM STARTED A TREMENDOUS ADVENTURE. NOW NEARLY 4,000 YEARS LATER WE ARE STILL LEARNING FROM HIS FAITH.

SOME QUESTIONS

Does God Still Call People Like He Did Abraham?

To answer #1: [Does God still call individual people?]

My 'message' is "yes:" Abraham's call IS A BASIC THEME OF THE WHOLE BIBLE! The story of Noah— the Exodus— right through the whole Bible— to Jesus calling the disciples— the message is DARE TO LEAVE WHAT UNSPIRITUAL, UNGODLY, UNBELIEVING SELFISH WAYS TELL YOU— "Leave the prison of your self-made gods— come away from a Scripture that YOU edit and cut and pick and choose and stand in judgment over— leave the bondage of "what so-called sophisticates might think," — AND STEP OUT ON A JOURNEY OF FAITH WITH ME!

How Would God Get Your Attention If He Wanted To Speak To You?

My personal testimony is "yes:" I know you would expect an evangelical Christian minister to answer in the affirmative. I am certain, convinced, sure, that God spoke to me when I was living selfishly and out of fellowship with Him. He spoke to me by both love and fear; by what I might call "Behold the goodness and the severity of God" (Romans 11:22)

To answer #2 [How would God get your attention if He wanted to speak to you?]

1. To hear God speak, we might just have to be listening! God can't teach us anything if we already know it all! Wes Tracy wrote these words a few years ago:

Aren't you tired of trying to be a classy sophisticate who knows all about things timely— progressive education, career enhancement, political correctness, next season's fashions, and the done thing? . . . Some who take the name of Christ seem owned by their ambitions, chained to a success formula, enslaved by the hunger for prestige— diseases they have caught from our sinful culture. They fill up the ranks of the Christian jet set.

2. To hear God speak there must be faith— an element of TRUST. Trust in WHO is speaking is ALL-IMPORTANT!

In every purely human decision we consider very carefully all the factors and then decide which way to go. And that is only common sense. But when it comes to the deep satisfaction of the heart, and we hear God begin speaking, we have to choose— make a decision— on just HOW important God is to us.

Abraham started out not knowing at first where he was going— only Who he was going with (see Hebrews 11:8.) The "common sense" thing is to say, "God— let me see what You have in mind, then I'll say yes or no" — That works for everything and everyone except God.

Romans 12: 1,2 says "Present yourselves to God for His service and then He will let you know what is his good and acceptable and perfect will!"

So to really hear God speak is a matter of trust!

How Can We Respond To A Call From God In THIS VERY MOMENT?

To hear God speak we may well have to go against the current of what is accepted as Christian by many evangelicals. We have to choose to take SELF off the throne, and seek God's face for Himself alone!

Spirituality is MORE than self-fulfillment. God's way is what we are made for— but it is a way of spiritual discipline that does not have happiness or deliverance or becoming fully human as its final goal— though these may well be by-products. Spiritual fulfillment begins when we realize GOD ALMIGHTY WANTS US TO COME AND WALK WITH HIM ON A JOURNEY WHERE ONLY HE KNOWS THE WAY!

Responding to #3 [How can we respond to a call from God IN THIS VERY MOMENT?]

WE HAVE TO CHOOSE WHAT IS MOST IMPORTANT IN OUR LIVES. I BELIEVE GOD STILL SPEAKS, AND THAT HE HONORS THOSE WHO WILL STEP OUT IN FAITH AS ABRAHAM DID.

ONE MORNING for my devotions I opened my Bible to read and get ready to pray. The passage was 1 Kings 3, and I got as far as verse five (5) where God is speaking to the newly crowned Solomon. He, God, tells Solomon "Ask for whatever you want me to give you."

I stopped. I thought. Honestly, now, what one thing would I ask of God if I knew for certain that He would grant me that one thing, and I did not know if He would grant me anything else. What one thing is most important to me?

The Risk Takers

First I thought "You, Lord, You tell me! You decide for me!" That sounds very pious, but somehow it did not let me off the hook. I felt prodded. No — what really is the most important thing?

I was pleased that I didn't think about big bucks, or a palatial retirement home or material things— at least not "up front," but only after a long reflection— reflection that these were "way down the list." I confess I did think of things like not ever wanting to come down to old age and be a burden to myself and others. I thought of what a pleasure it would be to be able to write and speak and teach for years to come.

Do you know what I finally decided was most important?

When I was about six years old— this scripture from 1 Kings brought back a memory I hadn't thought of for a long, long time— when I was about six— a little boy evangelistic singer traveling almost year round— a store owner - I can still dimly see the store— a sort of hardware or Western Auto-type store with wide aisles— anyway, the owner took us— Mother, Dad, and me— to this store after church one night— opened the store, turned on the lights— and said to me,— maybe six years old— "You can have any one thing you want in this store!"

I walked up and down the aisles looking at bicycles and lawn mowers and garden furniture and clocks and house supplies and car radios, items big and small— expensive and relatively cheap. I never would have such an opportunity again— although at that time I was totally unaware of the values, unaware of what my dad might need, or my mother.

This is a true story. I picked up a little wind-up toy car, a little painted car, made in Japan, worth less than a dollar in 1937. I'm not even sure why I remember so well except I think my father was so disappointed I didn't at least pick out a scooter or a bike— but as I recall I was thinking it wouldn't fit in the car anyway. I could have had any one thing up to many times the value of the thing I chose. But that was that— and what would you expect from a six-year-old?

Do you know what I finally decided was most important?

IF WE ANSWER GOD'S QUESTION: WHAT DO YOU WANT ME TO DO FOR YOU IN ANY LESSER WAY THAN SAYING FROM OUR HEARTS "I WANT TO BE WHERE YOU ARE! I WANT TO WALK WITH YOU!" WE ARE LIKE THAT SIX-YEAR-OLD BOY IN THE TOY STORE. WE WALK OUT WITH STUFF WHEN GOD WANTS US TO HAVE IT ALL!

WHENEVER THERE HAS BEEN A LIFE THAT HAS COUNTED FOR GOD IT HAS BEEN THE SAME STORY ALL OVER AGAIN. Different centuries . . different countries . . different situations, but the same God– the same call.

The journey won't be easy. It never is. Shallow spirituality, and greed and lusts and cheap grace will try to take us off the track. But they lead only to emptiness. Until we have God we are empty if we are millionaires! And if we are in God's company we have everything if we are shipwrecked or in prison or going through family trauma or whatever!

As Thomas Kelley wrote in his great little book, A Testament of Devotion: About God's way, he says,

*Its joys are ravishing, its peace profound,
its humility the deepest,
its power world-shaking,
its love enveloping,
its simplicity that of a trusting child ...*

It is the life and power of Jesus of Nazareth.

- IS GOD SPEAKING TO YOU?
- ARE YOU LISTENING THIS VERY MOMENT?
- ARE YOU WILLING TO SIMPLY GET UP AND FOLLOW JESUS?

Prayer

Hymn #552 O Master, Let Me Walk with Thee

No Short Cuts to Glory

August 20, 2000-Providence

(cf 2/21/99, 9/25/99, 10/31/99)

Matthew 4

He had finally got his chance to make the Really Big Sale. He was going into the final interview on the biggest contract he had ever written. He was ushered into the office of the executive buyer. An assistant brought coffee and left. The atmosphere was cordial.

Then the assistant tapped on the door and re entered the office and spoke briefly with the executive. She stood and said, "I apologize, but I have to tend to a matter. I'll just be a minute or two." She followed her assistant out of the room.

The sales representative looked around the beautifully appointed office. He saw her family pictures on her desk. Then he noticed she had evidently been studying what looked like a contract, a bid from a competitor. Leaning forward, he saw a column of figures, but it was obscured by a diet soda can.

What harm possibly could there be in reading her private information? After all, she had left it out in plain sight. But when he lifted the can it wasn't diet soda; it was 1,000 Bbs that gushed out the bottomless can, and ran all over the desk and cascaded onto the carpet. His attempt to short cut the competition was exposed.

Not every temptation is so obvious. Not every failure is so embarrassing. But every temptation is a challenge. Not even Jesus was spared the choosing.

I. Temptation Is An Enticement To Use A Short Cut To Reach A Desirable Goal.

You want a good grade. Good grades are desirable. They open doors. They bring scholarships. The easiest way to good grades is to let someone else do your work for you. But there is no real short cut to real education.

You want intimacy and the good feelings of love and security. No one has to tell you those are good things. The easiest way to those feelings is the pathway of least resistance. But there are no short cuts to real friendship. There is never an excuse to USE people like things, no matter what the goal may be.

You want success and influence. Within the boundaries of genuine caring those could be very worthy goals. But in our world all too often personal goals are reached at whatever the cost. But there is no short cut to real integrity.

And cheating is always wrong. Adultery and fornication are always sin.

Betrayal of confidence is always heartbreaking. Whatever the reason, remember: there are no short cuts in finding and doing God's will. It is a wonderful thing to come to believe that in God's will we don't need short cuts!

II. Adam And Eve And Short Cuts

Adam and Eve, even in their innocence thought they might be able to take a short cut to God likeness. They were tempted to believe that maybe God was holding out on them. Whatever good was coming, they wanted it NOW! A short cut. The Tempter said, "Did God really say that?" Then he pursued that seed of doubt with philosophical denial. "You won't really die! God has it wrong! You can't really trust Him. He wants a monopoly on Truth!"

But they did die! Their innocence was gone. They were dead in trespasses and sin. And they were expelled from a garden into a wilderness. Their short cut was a tragedy.

In the classic Pilgrim's Progress, Christian and his new companion Hopeful fell in with a smooth talking man named By end, from the town of Fair speech. To hear By end talk the Christian journey required no effort at all. As his name suggests, he took the position that the end always justifies any short cut necessary, just so long as the rugged way of obedience could be avoided.

Just then Christian and Hopeful came alongside a beautiful meadow. There was a fence marking the pathway, but there was a stile over the fence, and they could see a path running parallel to the Way on the other side of the fence. After some discussion they crossed over to take advantage of easier going on the other side of the fence.

But soon it became less simple. Darkness fell, and it became hard to see. They tried to make their way back to the crossing, but soon they had to stay the night under a tree in the open. Then they were captured by a wicked Giant Despair, and taken to a dungeon in the Doubting castle. A pleasant short cut turned out to be a near disaster.

We never leave the clear known will of God for our lives without bringing on big trouble. The most innocent disobedience brings broken fellowship with God. And there is no such thing as a short cut to where God wants you to be. You can trust His timing.

III. Jesus In His Innocence, Was Exposed To Temptation.

Fresh from his public baptism, and with the blessing of the Father's endorsement ringing in his ears, and in the joy of the Spirit's anointing, Jesus was led into the wilderness to face the challenge to take a short cut. Haggard and drawn from fasting, he was confronted with evil, demonic, powerful, hostile suggestion. The evil enemy attacked every angle. Henri Nouwen summed up the three temptations: be (practical) relevant, be popular (go along), be powerful (seize control).

Be relevant: you have to survive! 'Make these stones into bread. You're famished. This is the real world. A dead Messiah isn't going to do anyone any good.' But Jesus' response in fact said, "No, I don't have to survive! I have to be true!"

It wasn't that Jesus wasn't hungry. It wasn't that he couldn't work a miracle later. He fed 5,000 people with a little boy's lunch. But Jesus was taking orders from no one but the Father, and especially was not about to take advice from the Evil One.

"Man does not live by bread alone," he said, "but by every word that proceeds from the mouth of God."

Be popular: you need to communicate! 'Spiff up your act! What is this "repent stuff!?? Put on a show! Do miracles! Walk a high wire!' But Jesus was never a performer. He never did things for the effect. It wasn't that he couldn't master the forces of nature. He walked on the sea. He calmed the storms. He raised the dead. And he died and rose again the third day.

"Don't try to put God on the spot!" was his reply.

Be powerful: you need to take charge! 'No one will see you out here in the desert as you compromise and kneel down to me. But then I'll lay off, and you can be the dictator of the world! No competition! A cross is a terrible way to go. You have to take charge of your life! Assert yourself!'

This was not a friendly debate. It was not a gentleman's duel of honor. Weak, exhausted, physically drained, Jesus was facing pure evil at its demonic worst.

Jesus, at his weakest, used the defense that is available to us all if we will just use it. (It is the 'key' that finally unlocked the dungeon of Doubting Castle, and let Christian and Hopeful out.) He did not reason with the Enemy. He reached into the Father's promises. He fled to the first Commandment. He claimed the protection that comes from utterly belonging.

He was God's Son! He affirmed his determination to worship Him only, and to live by the father's Word and way. Satan had to leave. The angels came. There in the wilderness Jesus was refreshed. Then he resumed the step by step following of the Father's will that would take him to Calvary, to Olivet, and to Glory and Salvation for you and me. There would be no short cut.

Conclusion

Temptation Is an Enticement to Use a Short Cut to Reach a Desirable Goal

Temptation is NOT sin. But yielding to temptation IS sin. And sin never, never, never makes good on its promises. There are no short cuts to truly desirable goals.

A workman went to his big boss one day and said, "I'm tired. I think I'll take my retirement benefits and hang it up. It's been great working for you."

The big boss looked disappointed, and said, "I really hate to see you go. I was hoping you could do at least one more big job for me. Will you, just one more?"

Reluctantly the builder agreed to build a house for some important client of the big boss. It was a big house, a lot of work on a golf course, with a lot of detail. But the man's heart really wasn't in it. He threw the house together in record time, and cut corners on material and labor wherever he could. He saved the boss a lot of money, but it wasn't really his best work and he knew it.

Imagine how he felt when he turned the keys over to the big boss, and the boss gave them right back, and fished around in his briefcase and gave him the title and deed to the property on the golf course.

"This is my gift for you!" he said. "Thanks for all your good work across the years!"

Then the builder wished he hadn't been in such a hurry. He wished he hadn't cut corners and taken short cuts just to get the job done.

Life is like that. Exactly like that. We become the product of our own integrity in following after God. Or lack of integrity. We become exiles from innocence when we try to take short cuts to being like God. Or, following our Savior, we use the promises and the commandments of God to resist the tempter's power, and we begin to share in Christ's righteousness.

This is just another Sunday worship service. There isn't anyone here but us. But God is here. And right now is a good time to ask God for His help in deliberately drawing closer to Him. I don't know about you, but I don't want to try to get away with building a shoddy house. I know I'm going to have to live in what I build.

Prayer

#512 Take Time to be Holy

Believing Have life

September 2, 2000

(First used March 8, 1998 Lent 2 as part of Ashes to Fire series in Wollaston)

John 20:31 "...and that believing ye may have life through (Jesus') name!"

In 1997 a group of 34 students from two state universities in Washington State took a study trip into the Amazon jungles of South America. They were led on the last part of their journey by Stephen E. Saint, who happens to be the son of Nate Saint, one of the five Auca martyrs, (Jim Elliot, Pete Fleming, Ed McCulley, Roger Youderian, and Nate Saint,) who were killed in 1956 as they tried to make contact with the Aucas, properly now called 'Huaorani'. What has happened since that first day has been a miracle story. You can read more about it in Christianity Today archives. (CT for 3/2/98).

This group of 34 had come to study what they thought would be Stone Age people. Steve Saint has a home among the Huaorani. Some of the very men that speared his father and the others have become like adopted grandfathers to his own children. He has been helping the Huaorani develop ways of raising money for self-sufficiency, and he met this group himself.

The 34 students were taken by jungle bus deep into the forests as far as roads would go, where they were met by three Huaorani men, who led them on a 14 hour hike through jungle trails, followed by a journey in large dugout canoes to a campsite along a jungle river, where they were joined by other members of the Huaorani tribe.

The students quickly learned to respect and enjoy the warmth of the men who guided them. They were welcomed at the camp site, and were so comfortable with their new friends that they asked Steve when they would meet the Stone Age savages they had traveled so far to meet. Steve told them that they had been traveling with them— and they were now surrounded by them. The students did not believe him. So Steve Saint suggested that they ask any of the older people where their fathers might be.

One student took the challenge and nodded to one woman. Steve translated her reply something like: "My father is already dead a long time ago; having been speared he died." Four other Huaorani told the same story. One woman that had really "charmed" the students with her kindness, a very warm and friendly mother of ten, pointed to an old man in the circle: "He hated my family and killed all of them!"

The students were stunned. They had second thoughts about their own safety.

Then Dawa, one of the quietest women spoke up. Pointing at the grand fatherly old man sitting next to Steve Saint she told the students: " He is Kimo. He hating my family speared my father and mother and brothers and sisters and took me for his wife." That really stunned the students. They were deep in the jungle. They had to depend on these people to get them out again. Steve Saint said he thought of what they must be thinking right about then. It occurred to him they didn't know the story we have heard so many times in Christian circles.

Steve put his arm around the old man Kimo's shoulders and told the students, "He killed my father, too." Then there was stunned silence.

At last someone found courage to ask:

"What changed these people?"

Steve Saint repeated the question in the language of the Huaorani. The Stone Age people tried to tell the students how it used to be before they changed. They threw babies away when they were a trouble. They buried people alive so their spirits would not be able to return to torment them. Some had strangled their own children with their own hands. But then they tried to explain WHAT THEY BELIEVE about a God they knew as the Man-Maker the missionaries told them about, who had sent his Son to die for people who were full of fear and hate and revenge.

Then Dawa, the wife of Kimo spoke. I quote from Steve Saint's article: "Badly, badly we lived back then," Dawa said. "Now, walking God's trail which he has marked for us on paper (meaning the Bible,) we live well. All people will die, but if living you follow God's trail, then dying will lead you to heaven. But only one trail leads there. All other trails lead to where God will never be after death."

The students were silent. But then Dawa went on to give her own version of an altar call: "Have you heard me well? Which one of you wants to follow God's trail, living well?" The students were silent again— and then one hand was raised.

Steve said that Dawa understood what that raised hand meant, and clapped her hands and said, "Now I see you well. Leaving we will see each other again in God's place some day!" Then she looked at the other 33 and said "Dying I will never see you again if you don't follow God's trail. Think well on what I have spoken so that dying we can live happily together in heaven."

Thirty-four students of anthropology, from Washington State, had traveled thousands of miles into a South American rain-forest to hear from primitive people about the most powerful life changing force in the Universe. They had heard how believing in the God of love and grace can release life-changing power that can only be called miraculous.

The focus of this true story comes down to this "believing." "Believing" is at the very heart of our faith.

'BELIEVING' IS A STRONG WORD

In our English language "believe" can be a rather weak word. To say "I believe so" sounds a lot weaker than "I know so!" But the word translated "to believe" in both Old and New Testaments, in Hebrew and in Greek, has a much stronger meaning. It is not simply to "think" something, or even to be convinced of propositional truth— but rather it is to trust, to have confidence in, to put a complete reliance in the thing believed.

In Genesis 15:6 we read "Abraham believed God and it was counted to him for righteousness." the word there (aw-man) means 'to trust,' and is also interchangeable with a word that means 'to turn to the right hand.' Trusting means a willingness to change directions

In the New Testament the word is always 'to commit one's trust to, to have confidence in the thing believed.

BELIEVING IS NOT trying with all your might to make yourself deny the obvious.

Believing is NOT saying "black is white" simply because someone has told you that is what Christians believe. Believing has a lot less to do with analysis and explanations and dogmatic statements about things nobody knows for sure than a lot of Christians feel comfortable admitting. There are people on all sides of trying to explain away mysteries who simply have never fully surrendered to Jesus Christ. His loving Spirit is foreign to them.

BELIEVING IS DARING to say to the Christ of the Bible: "I believe You are who You say you are! I hear you say, 'Come unto Me!' Here I am! I believe YOU! I will follow You! If You will be my Lord and Savior, I will be Your man! Your woman! Your Boy! Your girl! You be my Savior and my God!" THAT is what believing is about!

BELIEVING IS THE DOORWAY

Trusting Jesus brings us into the real world! In Acts 16 the Roman jailer came to the end of himself— and asked Paul and Silas, "What must I do to be saved?" They showed him the only way: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and you will be saved along with your household!"

You can't wait to figure out all the mystery, or explain all the ways a great and holy God 'connects' with finite and sinful you and me. You CAN respond directly to the living Christ as God's gift of faith makes Him real to you.

BELIEVING IS MORE— IT IS THE PATHWAY (THE TRAIL) WHERE WE LIVE

Believing is dynamic. It is never static. It is relational. It contacts and keeps contact. (Genesis 15:6) "In the middle of things" Abraham believed God. He had started out— he had been blessed— but he needed to obey and keep on obeying! We are never saved by "works." But believing enables us TO LIVE differently from the way we were "before." The Huaorani peoples' change was dramatic— they quit killing and feuding. But OUR CHANGE is just as needful— and needs just as much a miracle! We can quit gossiping and hating and being jealous and become (Ephesians 4:32) but only through the power of BELIEVING!

James (chapter 2) comments on this text (from The Message by Eugene Peterson): Isn't it obvious that faith and works are yoked partners, that faith expresses itself in works? That the "works" are "works of faith"? The full meaning of "believe" in the scripture sentence, 'Abraham believed God and was set right with Go,' includes his action. It's that mesh of believing and acting that got Abraham named "God's friend." Is it not evident that a person is made right with God not by a barren faith but by a faith fruitful in works?"

BELIEVING IS STAYING POWER

Psalm 27 closes by saying, "I would have fainted unless I had believed to see the hand of God in the land of the living!" When Abraham was ready to give up he came with his complaint right back to God! Whenever we are in danger of being overwhelmed we can COME BACK TO GOD HIMSELF!

Wherever you are on your spiritual journey— wherever I am— we have the CHOICE to 'TRUST IN THE LORD WITH ALL OUR HEARTS' or to 'LEAN UNTO OUR OWN UNDERSTANDING!" We can BELIEVE the God who sent His Son to show us the way— OR We can waffle by using some lesser definition of what it means to BELIEVE.

Those thirty-four anthropology students from Washington State traveled thousands of miles to the Amazon rain-forest to hear about the miracle of God's love. They saw fear and hatred and revenge that had been exchanged for love and forgiveness and fellowship.

You and I know that same life-changing power is needed just as much right here where we live! Do you think it is easier to be Christ-like in our society? Where we LOVE THINGS and we USE PEOPLE— where we don't kill (usually) with spears— but we do kill with gossip and uncaring and selfishness. The power of BELIEVING— in the full sense of trusting, relying on God— can work just that kind of miracle for us, here, as well as the Huaorani people.

I Challenge you!

Right NOW! Today! This week! In your 'faith' go deeper than simply 'what' you believe (important as that is!) Go directly to God, through Jesus Christ! By faith look him in the face. Say simply, "I will trust you with all I am, now and forever! You show me Your will and i will obey You!"

Believing Have life

437 Trust and Obey

The Life-Changing Teacher

October 8, 2000 - Saugus Church of the Nazarene, Massachusetts

(cf 1/7/99 and 10/1/00)

Matthew 5 You are the salt of the earth . . . I tell you that unless your righteousness surpasses that of the Pharisees and the teachers of the law, you will certainly not enter the kingdom of heaven.

BEGINNING

Do you remember an outstanding teacher you once had, maybe a long time ago; maybe for you current students just recently? One that stands out in your memory. If you're like me, you've had so many teachers that you've forgotten many of them. Their faces are sort of a blur. But then along the way a few faces stand out. Some good memories. Some not so good. But maybe one or two teachers that really had an influence on your life. Maybe one even helped with a decision in choosing a major or even a career.

As you think back, was that outstanding teacher one that made no demands on you? It seems strange, maybe, but often we remember a teacher who was anything but a pushover. But at the same time they were demanding, they also made us think what they were teaching was for us. They demanded because they thought we could do what they were teaching. There is a powerful motivation in a good teacher's expectations. (Tough love)

Some time ago I heard a story about a tutor hired by a school system to take lessons to students who had been out with health problems for a period of time. One day the tutor's assignment took him to a hospital, and before he understood what was happening he had been ushered into a sterile room where a very badly burned boy was fighting for his life day by day.

The tutor didn't know how to back out gracefully, so he told the boy he was there to help him with his adjectives and adverbs in English. He went over some material as briefly as he could and excused himself. The boy asked if he was coming back and the tutor mumbled something about being back in a couple of days.

When the tutor came back in two days he was met by a nurse that said, "What did you do in your lesson the other day?" The teacher was aghast. He hadn't meant to be any kind of burden. But the nurse said, "No, it isn't what you think. The boy has taken a turn for the better. He is fighting back. It looks like he will make it." When the facts were known they found out the boy had reasoned to himself, "It isn't likely they'd send a teacher to drill me on verbs and adverbs and adjectives if I was going to die!" So he started fighting to get better.

Jesus wouldn't teach such a lesson as this one in the Sermon on the Mount to poor sinful mortals unless He thought there was reason to believe grace could help them receive the lesson and respond. The very lesson brings hope! Jesus was certainly an outstanding teacher! Here in the greatest lesson ever recorded by the greatest Teacher who ever lived, Jesus is combining a challenge with confidence: You will have to do better— but I know you can do it!

I. "YOU MUST DO BETTER!"

JESUS CAME RAISING EXPECTATIONS WHILE AT THE SAME TIME HE WAS OPENING WIDE HIS KINGDOM

He said, "Come to me ALL who labor!" He said, "WHOSOEVER believes on God's only begotten Son will be saved!" He said, "I have come to seek and to save that which is lost!"

But then he called his disciples around him and told them, "Unless your righteousness goes beyond the righteousness of the so-called 'professionally righteous people,' you can't really enter the righteous kingdom!"

Jesus isn't into teaching lessons which are non-sense. He is not wasting his time demanding that which can never be understood or obeyed. But how in the world could his disciples beat the Pharisees at their own game? They were "pros" at keeping the letter of the law. Does this lesson— do Jesus demands even apply to us today? "Unless you do better in righteousness than the professional law-keepers you can't even get into the kingdom!" What does this mean?

II. "BETTER THAN WHAT?"

BETTER THAN THE RIGHTEOUSNESS OF THE SCRIBES AND PHARISEES

The people Jesus was talking about, could be blameless at keeping the letter of the law. They were strict tithers. They kept a rigid Sabbath. They prayed long and loud and often. Outwardly it was hard to see where they broke any of the Ten Commandments

We do not dare to simply say the Ten Commandments have been superceded. Jesus made it plain that is not what he was doing. We do not dare to take the Law lightly. Jesus says plainly here: "Whoever breaks one of these commandments and teaches others to break them is to be called least in the kingdom of heaven." What Jesus was concerned about was MOTIVATION. He was concerned about what goes on INSIDE a person's heart. In Matthew 23, if you want to take time to read it later, Jesus shows why our righteousness has to go beyond outward righteousness. These people were SELF-righteous. They were concerned with APPEARANCE. They were like WHITE-WASHED TOMBS . . . beautiful little houses full of corruption and death on the inside.

III. "YOU CAN TRUST ME!"

'BUT I SAY UNTO YOU . . .' THE 'BETTER WAY' OUR TEACHER HAS SHOWN TO US

If the world might want to build a righteous man or woman it would begin with what can be seen. It would say I had better have this righteous person join a church. It probably would say I had better have my righteous person begin doing good works, and the more public the better. It would carefully build an image built on things to do, and even more on things NOT to do.

But Jesus begins building a righteous man or woman starting with the inside. Not that the outside is not important. But when the inside is right the outside soon begins to take care of itself.

The Life-Changing Teacher

Jesus said he did not come to do away with the law, but to complete it, or fulfill it. So he had the authority to say, "The law says thus and so . . . but I say THIS!" And every time it was going "inside." Jesus is installing a new center, a new CORE for living, based on God's law written within.

The old law rightly says, "Don't kill." Jesus says, "Don't HATE!" But Teacher, that's a high standard! "Don't BE immoral!" "Don't even THINK immorally!" Teacher, that's too high!!

But then this demanding, loving Teacher somehow says, "You can do it!"

YOU CAN TRUST ME!

It took a while for this lesson to unfold.

There were a few, more than a few glitches along the way.

YOU CAN TRUST ME!

Jesus not only TOLD them. Jesus SHOWED them.

When he died their faith wavered! But he rose again, and came and expounded the scriptures. He told them to pray for the promised Holy Spirit.

Jesus promised them that the same empowering Holy Spirit that had descended on Him like a dove when he was baptized and began his ministry would be available to every one of them personally, just for the asking.

YOU CAN TRUST ME!

And Jesus told them: I'm counting on you to get this lesson! YOU are the salt of the earth! You're the only way I have to preserve and flavor and bring healing to this world! YOU are the LIGHT of the world! I AM the light of the world! But you are going to bring ME, your lives are going to reach wherever there is darkness!

JESUS IS THAT TEACHER, THAT LIFE-CHANGING TEACHER!

AND DO YOU KNOW WHAT?

JESUS MAKES US INTO LIFE-CHANGERS, TOO– IF WE WILL LET HIM!

CLOSING

We never know what power the love of Jesus can release when it is put in practical living. There are pearls of great price all around us, waiting to be loved and challenged to respond to God's love. You never know when the people we deal with every day are just waiting for YOU to show them God's love.

Some time ago I came across an article by Marian Wright Edelman. She tells this story about a school teacher, " Jean Thompson, and a fifth grade boy, Teddy Stollard:

On the first day of school, Jean Thompson told her students, "Boys and girls, I love you all the same." But she did not like little Teddy Stollard. He slouched in his chair, didn't pay attention, his mouth hung open in a stupor, his eyes were always unfocused, his clothes were mussed, his hair unkempt, and he smelled. He was an unattractive boy and Jean Thompson didn't like him. Through school records, the teacher learned that Teddy's mother had died a year ago and his father showed no interest. A previous teacher's note had read: "Teddy is in deep waters; he's totally withdrawn."

Christmas came, and the boys and girls brought their presents and piled them on her desk. They were all in brightly colored paper except for Teddy's. His was wrapped in brown paper and held together with a string. And scribbled on it were the words, "For Miss Thompson from Teddy." She tore open the paper and out fell a rhinestone bracelet with most of the stones missing and a bottle of cheap perfume, almost empty. When the other boys and girls started to giggle she had enough sense to put some of the perfume on her wrist, put on the bracelet, hold her wrist up to the class and say, "Doesn't it smell lovely? Isn't the bracelet pretty?"

"And taking their cue from the teacher, they all agreed. At the end of the day, when all the children had left, Teddy lingered, came over to her desk and said, "Miss Thompson, all day long you smelled just like my mother. And her bracelet, that's her bracelet, it looks real nice on you. too. I'm really glad you like my presents." And when he left, she got down on her knees and buried her head in her chair, and she begged God to forgive her. From then on, she was a different teacher. She tutored Teddy and put herself out for him. By the end of the year, Teddy had caught up with some of the children and was even ahead of some.

The Life-Changing Teacher

Several years later, Jean Thompson got this note:

Dear Miss Thompson: I'm graduating and I'm second in my high school class. I wanted you to be the first to know. Love, Teddy.

Four years later she got another note:

Dear Miss Thompson: I wanted you to be the first to know. The university has not been easy, but I like it. Love, Teddy Stollard.

Four years later, another note:

Dear Miss Thompson: As of today, I am Theodore J. Stollard, M.D. How about that? I wanted you to be the first to know. I'm going to be married in July. I want you to come and sit where my mother would have sat, because you're the only family I have. Dad died last year.

And so she went and she sat where his mother should have sat because she deserved to be there."

Dr. Teddy Stollard was a pearl of great price. I'm not sure that Miss Thompson had any idea that he was. But the LORD did! HE is the one who is looking for pearls— and he is using us to look! He is living in us to challenge one another to be what God can make us.

I think you'd agree that just one Teddy Stollard would be a pretty good year's work for this church or any church. And I'm sure there are more than one we are in touch with already! We ALL are God's pearls— and we ALL are God's pearl-finders as well.

The task ahead could be overwhelming if we had to do it alone, or had to do it perfectly all at once. We can remember we are not alone— we have God, and we have each other. You and I can do what we can do with God's help. It is HIS work! And we are HIS family. Amen.

Prayer: Lord, Be our Teacher today! Help us see what You see! Help us BE what you see we can become! And, Lord, help us this week let the light of your love shine through us into the lives of those we meet. We ask in Jesus' name.

Closing Hymn/ Benediction/

A Pattern for Personal Prayer

October 29, 2000

When the disciples asked Jesus to teach them to pray, they were looking for a simple lesson in how to conduct their personal devotions. instinctively they were reaching for the heart of the faith life, for everything stops or goes in relation to the quality of our prayer everything worthwhile in the church, that is.

Have you ever outlined your personal devotions?

What do you do when you get alone with God? Do you just sort of "let it happen"?

Here is a suggested pattern for personal devotions, based on Jesus' response to the disciples' expressed need (which of course is "The Lord's Prayer"):

FIRST, before you actually begin: FOCUS! Just what is the aim, the purpose in your life? Why are you coming to the place of prayer? I find it helpful to repeat, not as a prayer, but as a "focus sharpener," these words:

God wants me to be primarily concerned with pleasing HIM, and not too much concerned with pleasing anyone else, no matter how good or godly.

Think about that! It doesn't mean that you don't have varied and sometimes conflicting responsibilities as parent, as church worker, as citizen but in seeking to please God, you will more effectively do everything else that is needful.

THEN, ask God's blessing on the portion of scripture you READ. Just as you pause to ask the blessing on your meals, ask for insight and illumination in the Word. Use a notebook, and read with pen in hand. Jot down thoughts that occur, questions that arise, words you don't understand. Always write down the date, for as months and years slip by you will be able to trace God's grace in growth and blessing in your life. Read by some plan that does not limit your reading to just a few choice passages.

BEGIN your prayer time with PRAISE! Whatever you do don't give into the temptation to skimp on this part in order to get to the "important" part of the day's prayer. In fact, if you are heavily burdened take extra time in praising God. Be specific. I find it helpful to write out three things for which I wish to praise God; don't be afraid to tell God you appreciate His patience with you, or praise Him that you can see Jesus in fellow Christians. Praise Him for godly parents, for blue skies, for a warm home, for the person who introduced to Jesus, for being with you in hard times. Really tell God from your heart how much you love Him, and how you want to give Him praise!

NEXT comes SURRENDER. Yes, I believe in consecration and crisis experiences of salvation. I also believe that in a practical way I can give to God in a daily way what I surrendered when I was saved, and when I consecrated my all seeking sanctification. Give God THIS day! Ask Him to make your appointments! Offer to be His instrument, to be used of God. He will use you every single day!

Surrender any failures, too. Don't let temporary setbacks harden. Don't gloss over stupidity or carelessness. Ask for forgiveness and give forgiveness, too. Surrender any temptation to harbor resentment, ill will, or even moodiness.

Surrender is quite naturally followed by TRUST. But make it an active trust! Expect God! Expect a fresh infilling of the Spirit! Expect to be used during the day. Don't be surprised when you find yourself really ministering to someone's heartache. And finally, expect God to help you pray as you enter into the final phase of your devotions.

Expect His help as you make INTERCESSION. Pray, by name, for every member of your immediate family. Keep a list of those you pray for daily. Be sensitive and the Spirit will bring to your mind names and faces and needs. How much more keenness and power your intercession AFTER praise and AFTER surrender and EXPECTANT FAITH.

Finally get up and leave the place of prayer, but seek to go in the spirit of prayer and thanksgiving. Be thankful God has heard you. Be thankful He is with you. Let your whole day be the "Amen!"

If you haven't tried patterned devotions before try it for 30 days. Pray all you want, any way you want IN BETWEEN regular patterned devotions. But every day FOCUS, and then prayerfully, with your pen in hand, READ, and PRAISE and SURRENDER and TRUST and make INTERCESSION AND PETITION, with THANKSGIVING AND OBEDIENCE as you depart the place of prayer.

It is the pattern Jesus gave. It works!

The Life-Changing Teacher

October 29, 2000 - Falmouth Church of the Nazarene, Massachusetts

Matthew 5 You are the salt of the earth . . 'But I say unto you . . ' .I tell you that unless your righteousness surpasses that of the Pharisees and the teachers of the law, you will certainly not enter the kingdom of heaven.

BEGINNING

Do you remember an outstanding teacher you once had, maybe a long time ago; maybe for you current students just recently? There is a powerful motivation in a good teacher's expectations. (Tough love)

Some time ago I heard a story about a tutor hired by a school system to take lessons to students who had been out with health problems for a period of time. One day the tutor's assignment took him to a hospital, and before he understood what was happening he had been ushered into a sterile room where a very badly burned boy was fighting for his life day by day.

The tutor didn't know how to back out gracefully, so he told the boy he was there to help him with his adjectives and adverbs in English. He went over some material as briefly as he could and excused himself. The boy asked if he was coming back and the tutor mumbled something about being back in a couple of days.

When the tutor came back in two days he was met by a nurse that said, "What did you do in your lesson the other day?" The teacher was aghast. He hadn't meant to be any kind of burden. But the nurse said, "No, it isn't what you think. The boy has taken a turn for the better. He is fighting back. It looks like he will make it."

When the facts were known they found out the boy had reasoned to himself, "It isn't likely they'd send a teacher to drill me on verbs and adverbs and adjectives if I was going to die!" So he started fighting to get better.

Jesus wouldn't teach such a lesson as this one in the Sermon on the Mount to poor sinful mortals unless He thought there was reason to believe grace could help them receive the lesson and respond. The very lesson brings hope!

I. "YOU MUST DO BETTER!"

JESUS CAME RAISING EXPECTATIONS WHILE AT THE SAME TIME HE WAS OPENING WIDE HIS KINGDOM

He said, "Come to me ALL who labor!" He said, "WHOSOEVER believes on God's only begotten Son will be saved!" He said, "I have come to seek and to save that which is lost!"

But then he called his disciples around him and told them, "Unless your righteousness goes beyond the righteousness of the so-called 'professionally righteous people,' you can't really enter the righteous kingdom!"

Jesus isn't into teaching lessons which are non-sense. He is not wasting his time demanding that which can never be understood or obeyed. But how in the world could his disciples beat the Pharisees at their own game? They were "pros" at keeping the letter of the law. Does this lesson— do Jesus demands even apply to us today? "Unless you do better in righteousness than the professional law-keepers you can't even get into the kingdom!" What does this mean?

II. "BETTER THAN WHAT?"

BETTER THAN THE RIGHTEOUSNESS OF THE SCRIBES AND PHARISEES (PEOPLE WHO ARE 'GOOD' FROM THE INSIDE OUT)

The people Jesus was talking about, could be blameless at keeping the letter of the law. They were strict tithers. They kept a rigid Sabbath. They prayed long and loud and often. Outwardly it was hard to see where they broke any of the Ten Commandments

We do not dare to simply say the Ten Commandments have been superceded. Jesus made it plain that is not what he was doing. We do not dare to take the Law lightly.

Jesus says plainly here: "Whoever breaks one of these commandments and teaches others to break them is to be called least in the kingdom of heaven." What Jesus was concerned about was MOTIVATION. He was concerned about what goes on INSIDE a person's heart. In Matthew 23, if you want to take time to read it later, Jesus shows why our righteousness has to go beyond outward righteousness. These people were SELF-righteous. They were concerned with APPEARANCE. They were like WHITE-WASHED TOMBS . . . beautiful little houses full of corruption and death on the inside.

III. HOW IN THE WORLD?

WE ARE NOT SUPER-CHRISTIANS! THE ANSWER IS LOVE!!"

YOU CAN TRUST ME!" - 'BUT I SAY UNTO YOU . . .' THE 'BETTER WAY' OUR TEACHER HAS SHOWN TO US

If the world might want to build a righteous man or woman it would begin with what can be seen. It would say I had better have this righteous person join a church. It probably would say I had better have my righteous person begin doing good works, and the more public the better. It would carefully build an image built on things to do, and even more on things NOT to do.

But Jesus begins building a righteous man or woman starting with the inside. Not that the outside is not important. But when the inside is right the outside soon begins to take care of itself.

Jesus said he did not come to do away with the law, but to complete it, or fulfill it. So he had the authority to say, "The law says thus and so . . . but I say THIS!" And every time it was going "inside." Jesus is installing a new center, a new CORE for living, based on God's law written within.

The old law rightly says, "Don't kill." Jesus says, "Don't HATE!" But Teacher, that's a high standard! "Don't BE immoral!" "Don't even THINK immorally!" Teacher, that's too high!!

But then this demanding, loving Teacher somehow says, "You can do it!"

The Life-Changing Teacher

YOU CAN TRUST ME!

It took a while for this lesson to unfold.

There were a few, more than a few glitches along the way.

YOU CAN TRUST ME!

Jesus not only TOLD them. Jesus SHOWED them.

When he died their faith wavered! But he rose again, and came and expounded the scriptures. He told them to pray for the promised Holy Spirit.

Jesus promised them that the same empowering Holy Spirit that had descended on Him like a dove when he was baptized and began his ministry would be available to every one of them personally, just for the asking.

YOU CAN TRUST ME!

And Jesus told them: I'm counting on you to get this lesson! YOU are the salt of the earth! You're the only way I have to preserve and flavor and bring healing to this world! YOU are the LIGHT of the world! I AM the light of the world! But you are going to bring ME, your lives are going to reach wherever there is darkness!

JESUS IS THAT TEACHER, THAT LIFE-CHANGING TEACHER!

AND DO YOU KNOW WHAT?

JESUS MAKES US INTO LIFE-CHANGERS, TOO– IF WE WILL LET HIM!

CLOSING

We never know what power the love of Jesus can release when it is put in practical living. There are pearls of great price all around us, waiting to be loved and challenged to respond to God's love. You never know when the people we deal with every day are just waiting for YOU to show them God's love.

Some time ago I came across an article by Marian Wright Edelman. She tells this story about a school teacher, Jean Thompson, and a fifth grade boy, Teddy Stollard:

On the first day of school, Jean Thompson told her students, "Boys and girls, I love you all the same." But she did not like little Teddy Stollard. He slouched in his chair, didn't pay attention, his mouth hung open in a stupor, his eyes were always unfocused, his clothes were mussed, his hair unkempt, and he smelled. He was an unattractive boy and Jean Thompson didn't like him. Through school records, the teacher learned that Teddy's mother had died a year ago and his father showed no interest. A previous teacher's note had read: "Teddy is in deep waters; he's totally withdrawn."

Christmas came, and the boys and girls brought their presents and piled them on her desk. They were all in brightly colored paper except for Teddy's. His was wrapped in brown paper and held together with a string. And scribbled on it were the words, "For Miss Thompson from Teddy." She tore open the paper and out fell a rhinestone bracelet with most of the stones missing and a bottle of cheap perfume, almost empty. When the other boys and girls started to giggle she had enough sense to put some of the perfume on her wrist, put on the bracelet, hold her wrist up to the class and say, "Doesn't it smell lovely? Isn't the bracelet pretty?"

"And taking their cue from the teacher, they all agreed. At the end of the day, when all the children had left, Teddy lingered, came over to her desk and said, "Miss Thompson, all day long you smelled just like my mother. And her bracelet, that's her bracelet, it looks real nice on you. too. I'm really glad you like my presents." And when he left, she got down on her knees and buried her head in her chair, and she begged God to forgive her. From then on, she was a different teacher. She tutored Teddy and put herself out for him. By the end of the year, Teddy had caught up with some of the children and was even ahead of some.

Several years later, Jean Thompson got this note:

Dear Miss Thompson: I'm graduating and I'm second in my high school class. I wanted you to be the first to know. Love, Teddy.

Four years later she got another note:

Dear Miss Thompson: I wanted you to be the first to know. The university has not been easy, but I like it. Love, Teddy Stollard.

The Life-Changing Teacher

Four years later, another note:

Dear Miss Thompson: As of today, I am Theodore J. Stollard, M.D. How about that? I wanted you to be the first to know. I'm going to be married in July. I want you to come and sit where my mother would have sat, because you're the only family I have. Dad died last year.

And so she went and she sat where his mother should have sat because she deserved to be there."

Dr. Teddy Stollard was a pearl of great price. I'm not sure that Miss Thompson had any idea that he was. But the LORD did! HE is the one who is looking for pearls— and he is using us to look! He is living in us to challenge one another to be what God can make us.

I think you'd agree that just one Teddy Stollard would be a pretty good year's work for this church or any church. And I'm sure there are more than one we are in touch with already! We ALL are God's pearls— and we ALL are God's pearl-finders as well.

The task ahead could be overwhelming if we had to do it alone, or had to do it perfectly all at once. We can remember we are not alone— we have God, and we have each other. You and I can do what we can do with God's help. It is HIS work! And we are HIS family. Amen.

Prayer: Lord, Be our Teacher today! Help us see what You see! Help us BE what you see we can become! And, Lord, help us this week let the light of your love shine through us into the lives of those we meet. We ask in Jesus' name.

Closing Hymn/ Benediction/

Christ the King Sunday

November 26, 2000 - Malden First Church of the Nazarene, Massachusetts

Scripture Lesson

Revelation 1:4-18; (also Psalms 93, 97, 99, verses 1 for each . . .)

Grace to you and peace from Him who is and who was and who is to come, and from the seven Spirits who are before His throne, 5 and from Jesus Christ, the faithful witness, the firstborn from the dead, and the ruler over the kings of the earth. To Him who loved us and washed us from our sins in His own blood, 6 and has made us kings and priests to His God and Father, to Him be glory and dominion forever and ever. Amen.

Behold, He is coming with clouds, and every eye will see Him, even they who pierced Him. And all the tribes of the earth will mourn because of Him. Even so, Amen. 8 "I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End," says the Lord, "who is and who was and who is to come, the Almighty."

Vision of the Son of Man

9 I, John, both your brother and companion in the tribulation and kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, was on the island that is called Patmos for the word of God and for the testimony of Jesus Christ. 10 I was in the Spirit on the Lord's Day, and I heard behind me a loud voice, as of a trumpet, 11 saying, "I am the Alpha and the Omega, the First and the Last," and, "What you see, write in a book and send it to the seven churches which are in Asia: to Ephesus, to Smyrna, to Pergamos, to Thyatira, to Sardis, to Philadelphia, and to Laodicea."

12 Then I turned to see the voice that spoke with me. And having turned I saw seven golden lampstands, 13 and in the midst of the seven lampstands One like the Son of Man, clothed with a garment down to the feet and girded about the chest with a golden band. 14 His head and hair were white like wool, as white as snow, and His eyes like a flame of fire; 15 His feet were like fine brass, as if refined in a furnace, and His voice as the sound of many waters; 16 He had in His right hand seven stars, out of His mouth went a sharp two-edged sword, and His countenance was like the sun shining in its strength.

17 And when I saw Him, I fell at His feet as dead. But He laid His right hand on me, saying to me, "Do not be afraid; I am the First and the Last. 18 I am He who lives, and was dead, and behold, I am alive forevermore. Amen. And I have the keys of Hades and of Death.

The Psalmist boldly declares, again and again, "The LORD reigns!" The LORD is SOVEREIGN. Sovereign: supreme in rank, in power, in authority! The LORD is KING!

We live in a democracy, or republic, where there is no sovereign as such. We (rightly) respect the flag of our country, and give it the respect due to an earthly power, which power the flag represents. We love our country, and we respect the office of president, but we have no sovereign.

We probably get our ideas of kings and queens from watching what is left of the kings of the earth on TV. We enjoy the parades in England when their queen makes public appearances. It is hard for us to understand the feeling British people have for their royals, even while they may criticize them. There is a residue of respect and even reverence. (When Princess Diana was killed I recall the personal grief of one of my dear friends, Brian Farmer, who mourned as if a family member had died.)

Maybe there is something in us that enjoys seeing even an earthly sovereign, especially if we don't worry about losing our heads by his command. To realize 'This person leads a nation!' is exciting. (I saw President Truman in 1948 in Akron, Ohio. I was prepared to scoff and hiss. Instead I stood and cheered!) (I saw the Queen Mum from three feet away in St Paul's Cathedral in London. I may be a softy, but I was thrilled to the core!) But no sovereign in the civilized world today has the power of life and death arbitrarily held over his or her subjects.

(Still) When we read "The LORD is sovereign! The LORD reigns!" we just do not get the depths of what that means!

I. THE LORD IS SOVEREIGN; THIS IS AN ABSOLUTE TRUTH!

We may not understand HOW or WHEN, but the Bible makes it clear and plain that when time as we know it shall cease, and we stand before the Great White Throne, we shall be able to see that all through the ages God IS in charge!

Revelation 11:15 looks into the future and hears the angels singing: "The kingdom of this world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ, and He shall reign forever and ever!" And in Philippians 2, in the passage where Paul tells about how Jesus came and poured out his very life for us, he goes on to say, "Wherefore God has exalted Him, and given him a name above every name, THAT AT THE NAME OF JESUS EVERY KNEE SHALL BOW, AND EVERY TONGUE SHALL CONFESS THAT JESUS IS LORD, TO THE GLORY OF GOD!"

We may not understand why bad things happen to good people, or good things happen to bad, but the fact remains that God is SOVEREIGN.

God IS! God is GOOD. And God is KEEPING SCORE! You can take that to the bank!

II. WE RESPOND TO THIS SOVEREIGN LORD!

God has made us in such a way that sooner or later we come up against the fact of God. It may not be as dramatic as a burning bush in the desert, like Moses. It might be in a church on a Sunday morning. It might be on a Saturday night in the jangle of a party somewhere. But sooner or later God says, "What are you going to do about ME?"

The Psalmist looked at God's sovereignty in several ways. I summarize them (oversimplify, perhaps) using the opening verse of three Psalms, 93, 97, and 99. Look at them briefly with me: (93:1) The LORD reigns, he is clothed with MAJESTY! (97:1) The LORD reigns, let the earth rejoice! MERCY! (99:1) The LORD reigns, let the earth tremble! JUSTICE!

A. (93)The LORD reigns, he is clothed with MAJESTY!

We have heard a great deal about the mercy and unconditional LOVE of God. That is the message we LIKE to hear, and it is true. BUT WE DO NOT HEAR A GREAT DEAL ABOUT THE MAJESTY OF GOD. We could learn more about what it means to worship in AWE and WONDER.

Did you ever notice in the Old Testament how the word "Lord" is written? Sometimes it is capital-L small-o small-r small-d. And many times it is capital-L and then smaller capital-O capital-R capital-D. In that spelling could be a lesson in reverence for the awesome majesty of God. Do you know WHY LORD is spelled that way? [Explain YHWH , I AM THAT I AM, the name given to Moses; and how it was so revered it became the unspeakable name. It was written, YHWH, but at the same time it was pronounced Elohim, or Lord, because the Jewish people so very high revered the name of God.] We could think of that more often, and not take the name of God lightly. He is MAJESTIC.

B. (97) The LORD reigns, let the earth rejoice! MERCY!

But at the very same time, without diminishing the majesty of God for one moment, the Psalmist says, OUR GOD REIGNS, AND WE CAN REJOICE! This great God who fills the earth and sky with his majesty is OUR SHEPHERD! He cares for us! He has chosen us as his very own people! We are HIS people, and the sheep of HIS pasture! Enter into His gates with Thanksgiving! Enter His courts with PRAISE! Rejoice, God know you and still loves you!

C. (99) The LORD reigns, let the earth tremble! JUSTICE!

But this love is nothing to PRESUME upon, or take for granted. Our God is HOLY! Every book will be balanced! The judge of all he earth will bring the living and the dead all together before the Great White Throne, and there WILL BE A JUDGMENT DAY!

If our sins have been sent on before, washed in the blood of the Lamb, we will rejoice! But it will still be a solemn time! Let the earth tremble! Our God is HOLY!

III. JESUS IS LORD!

How will YOU respond to the wonderful fact that God is sovereign? To KNOW that as a Christian is more than just acknowledging it as a fact to be believed in the head. It is a TRUTH to be embraced with all our being. Look at that statement with me, in closing: I will ask you three questions. The answer to each one of the questions is the same: Jesus is Lord! But the emphasis is different for each question. Answer from your heart, if you will embrace God's sovereignty.

1. Question ONE: WHO is Lord?

Answer: JESUS is Lord! Not Jesus AND . . . Just JESUS!

2. Question TWO: WHAT is Jesus?

Answer: Jesus is LORD! Not just your Advisor, or Savior- but LORD!

3. Question THREE: WHEN is Jesus Lord?

Careful, now. This can be, should be– MUST be person for you and me! We believe Jesus WAS Lord when the sun, moon, and stars were created. We believe Jesus WILL be Lord when time has ended. We may even believe Jesus cares and answers prayer for us now. But to say He is SOVEREIGN! To mean that He can order our lives– tell us what to do and be– that is personal! To say Jesus IS MY Lord! That is a powerful, wonderful thing! Let me repeat the question for YOU–

WHEN is Jesus Lord?

Answer: 'Jesus IS LORD!

Bow your heads and affirm your statement of faith with me in prayer:

Lord God, Father of Light and Love and Holiness, we thank you that you loved this world so much you sent your only begotten Son to us that whosoever believes in him should not perish but have everlasting life.

Christ the King Sunday

Thank You for sending Jesus. We trust that he died for our sins. And from our hearts—from MY heart- we say "Jesus IS MY Lord!"

We do not yet see all things under His control. We do not know what the future may hold. But we do believe You are King of Kings and Lord of Lords!

#271 - Jesus Shall Reign

The Christmas Story

December 24, 2000

Malden Church of the Nazarene, Massachusetts

Behold the virgin shall be with child, and shall bear a Son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which translated means, "God with us." (Matthew 1:23)

Many wonderful and sentimental things come along with the Christmas Season. There is probably nothing at all wrong with that. There is a warm fuzzy feeling, I suppose, along with the shopper's panic and a general free-floating anxiety.

SENTIMENTALITY CAN BE FAITH'S WORST ENEMY

But sentimentality can be faith's worst enemy, when we mistake a feeling for spiritual reality. The true JOY of Christmas is wrapped up in the name "Jesus," which means Savior, and in the name Emmanuel, which means "God with us!" The true message of Christmas is the fact that in a particular time and in a specific place God came to this earth because He so greatly loves you and me. If we begin with this great Fact of Christmas, then probably the other things we add on as traditions or fun things will be on the "plus side." But Christian remember that Christ is not just one part of Christmas; He is the very heart and life of Christmas JOY.

CHRISTMAS IS ETERNAL, BUT NOT TIMELESS

Christmas is NOT "timeless truth." Eternal, yes. But not timeless. The message God gave us in Jesus is not like a lesson or a litany of good ways to live, or a feeling of love that we might hope would last all year. The message of Christmas is not something which, ultimately, can be learned. It has to be believed! And "it" is a Person, JESUS, who can free us from sin and guilt. EMMANUEL, who is God with us.

Our modern Christmas has become so stylized, so red and gold and white that we forget that in the original Christmas story Jesus came into a world of darkness. We have so many wonderful stories about how Christmas is candles and Christmas is silver bells that we forget that Christmas is NOT timeless truth about "all that is good about mankind" but rather is a particular story about one little Baby being born— and what He did when He grew up! But we all know that story:

MARY BECAME WITH CHILD BY THE HOLY SPIRIT

An angel appeared to Mary. Walter Wangerin, in his book The Manger is Empty, pictures this taking place in Mary's bedroom, where she is happily getting ready for bed, with happy thoughts of an impending marriage to Joseph— when suddenly a light begins to shine and to glow and get brighter and brighter until she realizes a glorious being, very real, is standing right there in front of her.

With her holy consent, Mary became with child by the Holy Spirit. This was not just a sermon illustration, or an "idea," or an allegory of how God asks each of us to submit to His will so that He can do good things with our lives. This was a real growing Baby, and in time it was moving inside Mary's womb, and in three months or so it could no longer be hidden.

People 2,000 years ago may not have had computers or airplanes. But they knew very well about the facts of life. Sometimes in the telling of the story we put down the idea of Jesus as the Son of God, very God, very man, as easier for more primitive minds to accept. [It is an allegory, we say; what difference does it make if Jesus were or were not born of a virgin— or, for that matter, if He ever actually lived in the flesh?]

JOSEPH WAS DEEPLY ANGUISHED

Joseph was deeply anguished. Marriage may not have been the romantic scene then that we picture in our Western Civilization fantasy of love, but Joseph knew that in Mary he had the finest, most wonderful person any fortunate husband could ever want. But the evidence was overwhelming. She was going to have a Baby, and he knew that it was not his Baby. People no doubt were already talking about the probability of a hurry-up wedding.

But Joseph, too, received direct word from God's messenger. Joseph's faith was challenged, but he believed, and obeyed. Or perhaps to believe and to obey are one and the same thing.

PERHAPS TO BELIEVE AND TO OBEY ARE ONE AND THE SAME THING

Joseph and Mary went from Nazareth to Bethlehem. Obedient Joseph took Mary into his home as his own beloved wife, where they lived happily ever after— for about three months, when they had to travel 90 miles south to Bethlehem. It was right at the worst possible time for an awkward, beautiful, nine-months-pregnant Mary. Can you imagine walking or riding a donkey ninety miles in that condition?

A BABY WAS BORN

A Baby was born in a cave, where animals were kept behind a rude public house, probably in the spring of the year 4 B.C., although it could have been 6 B.C., depending on which mishandling of the Calendar you accept. Have you ever been in an old-fashioned barn on a small working farm? Have you heard cattle grumbling over their feeding? Have you smelled the body-warmed air, rich with the smell of manure?

What a "particular place" God chose for His Son to be born! A stable is no place for any baby to be born— but the Son of God?

That Baby was toothless and helpless, at the mercy of His loving mother and step-father. When Jesus came down from His glory, He came all the way down to where we live!

CHRISTMAS IS JUST THE OPENING CHAPTER OF THE STORY OF EMMANUEL

But at the same time, all heaven was watching, and somehow some people were made aware, and others were practically summoned to worship, and to make certain that Jesus would be able to come to human maturity. Christmas, of course, is just the opening chapter of the very real story of the God-Man, our Emmanuel.

The Christmas Story

And so it came that in the fullness of time, Jesus, aware of His unique connection with the Father Almighty, and in the full power of the Holy Spirit, lived and died and rose again and sent His Spirit so that every son and daughter of Adam's race could find the reality in the name, Immanuel, God with us!

The JOY of Christmas is far, far deeper than we can ever realize. All the rest of the trimmings of the Season are well and good if they do not obscure the Reality that now God is with us! Our salvation, our life, depends on our somehow hooking up with this event we call Christmas. And this morning, either you know this Christmas reality, or you don't!

There are (at least) two ways to arrive at the persuasion that any story is true. The Christmas story is no exception:

There is the approach that says I will make my decision based on what I can see and hear and fully understand. So, because of all the wonder and all the beauty, and all the ways that Christmas truth and Christmas glory "fit together," I find that there is a warm glow of love and wonder in my heart, and I call this the "truth" of Christmas. Jesus is a cute little Baby in a stylized manger bed.

Perhaps this is as much "Christmas" as some people know. Perhaps they have never been exposed to Gospel preaching, and never have read the New Testament with faith. I feel sorry for them. For there is yet another way to come to the Christmas story:

This "other way" comes by being confronted with the challenge to believe. By "believe" I do not mean to simply accept the facts of an historical Jesus, for that search is another quest, entirely. But the challenge to believe that God came to earth in the Babe of Bethlehem is, in a way, exactly where Mary and Joseph and the shepherds and Peter and Paul and every Christian since have been challenged to begin a personal walk with God.

To believe does not mean we cannot also learn more and more about our faith. It does not mean that we cannot apply methods of historical study to ancient writings, even scripture. All truth is God's truth. But to believe means that, like Joseph, God is asking YOU to dare to believe that Emmanuel really has come, and that He is waiting for YOU to let Him into YOUR heart!

The work of Jesus is still very much continuing. His work of atonement is finished, but He is at the right hand of the Throne making intercession for us; He has sent the Holy Spirit to testify about the reality of Christmas and all the rest of God's great work in His Son, and He is coming again in power to reign over all Creation.

This way of faith says, "I have heard God speak to me!" It probably is not in the form of the angel Gabriel, or in a dramatic vision. But God still persuades men and women! God still deals with individual people, convincing, convicting, converting. This way of challenge says "I can, I will, I do believe that in the Babe of Bethlehem God entered into our human history."

And so, because the Baby was God Incarnate, and because He grew to Manhood and accepted His role as Servant and Savior, and because He died on a Cross to bear the sins of the world, and because He rose again from the dead, and because He has presented Himself in a personal, real way to your life you personally KNOW the Christ of Christmas, and so all these other allegories and ornaments can find their place in a gallery of praise.

I am as sentimental as anyone here. But the simple fact of Christmas lies deeper than sentiment. The JOY of Christmas is far, far deeper than we can ever realize. All the rest of the trimmings of the Season are well and good if they do not obscure the Reality that now God is with us! Our salvation, our life, depends on our somehow hooking up with this event we call Christmas. And this morning, either you know this Christmas reality, or you don't!

- Do you know, really KNOW the Lord Jesus Christ as your own Savior from sin? Let me tell you, on the authority of God's word: His name is JESUS! He will save you if you ask Him!
- Do you have the CHRIST as your daily Friend and Companion in the stress of life? Let me tell you, on the authority of God's word: He is called EMMANUEL! He will come to live IN your heart and never, ever leave you or forsake you!

The Christmas Story

- And whatever else Christmas means, good or sad, forevermore it will mean that this God Almighty who came to earth 2,000 years ago in Bethlehem has accepted YOU as His friend! Will you receive Him today?

Advent is for right NOW! More than 1,000 years ago hymns were written to express the deepest longings of the human heart for Christ, called the "O Hymns, or Antiphon Hymns." The most familiar of all we know as, "O Come Emmanuel!" And that name means, "God with us!" God IS with us, waiting for us to ask Him into our lives where we are right now!

It is in that coming— in the certain knowledge that God is indeed "with us" that there is JOY - an audacious thing, certainly NOT the product of our will and energy, but rather the result of realizing that we are not alone, not lost— but that God Himself is here with us. This Emmanuel does not "fix things" necessarily in the way we think they ought to be fixed. He simply says, "If you will open your heart to me, I will come to where you are and I will never, ever leave you again!" We get the idea that if this is true, then maybe we can face the unthinkable. We're still very human, very fragile. But Jesus is, too— human, that is— and he shares his strength with us.

One very human story illustrates the power of love that comes to where we are:

Henry Carter, a pastor and an administrator of a home for emotionally disturbed children, tells of an encounter he had one Christmas Eve that gave him a new insight and perspective. He was busy with last minute preparations for the worship service, when one of the floor mothers came to say that Tommy had crawled under his bed and refused to come out. He followed her up the stairs and looked at the bed she pointed out. Not a hair or a toe showed beneath it. So he talked to Tommy as if he were addressing the bucking broncos on the bedspread. He talked about he brightly lighted tree, the packages underneath it and the other good things that were waiting for Tommy out beyond that bed.

No answer.

Still fretting about the time this was costing, Henry dropped to his hands and knees and lifted the spread. Two enormous blue eyes looked out at him. Tommy was 8, but looked like a 5 year old. He could easily have pulled him out. But it wasn't pulling that Tommy needed it was trust and a sense of deciding things on his own initiative. So, crouched on all fours, Henry launched into the menu of the special Christmas Eve supper to be offered after the service. He told of the stocking with Tommy's name on it, provided by the Women's Society.

Silence. There was no indication Tommy heard or that he even cared about Christmas.

At last, because he could think of no other way to make contact, Henry got down on his stomach and wriggled in beside Tommy, snagging his sport coat on the bed springs on the way. He lay there with his cheek pressed against the floor for a long time. He talked about the big wreath above the altar and the candles in the window. He talked about the carols all the kids were going to sing. Then, finally running out of things to say, he simply waited there beside Tommy.

After a bit, a small child's chilled hand slipped into his.

Henry said, "You know, Tommy, it is kind of close quarters under here. Let's you and me go out where we can stand up." As they slid out from under the bed, Henry realized he had been given a glimpse of the mystery of Christmas.

Hasn't God called us too, as Henry had called Tommy, from far above us? With his stars and mountains and his whole majestic creation, hasn't God pleaded with us to love him and to enjoy the universe he gave us as a gift?

And hasn't he drawn closer through the Bible, and through preaching, and conviction for sin? At then that very first Christmas God stooped to where we live, and came all the way down to live among us. And we have heard, and received, and found assurance of His salvation.

The Christmas Story

But even this very day, wherever we are in our spiritual journey, One is among us, where we are, that is willing to "get under the bed" with us and stay with us until we have the courage to come out and go with Him, and He will go with us.

PRAYER for Christmas Eve Day:

O Lord, with great might come among us; and, because we often are so easily centered in ourselves, let your light shine on us, to show us how very near You are to us, and how very much You love us. We invite you to enter every part of our lives. O Come and let your bountiful grace and mercy speedily help and deliver us; through Jesus Christ our Lord, to whom, with you and the Holy Spirit, One God, be honor and glory, now and for ever. Amen

#155 - A Name I Highly Treasure

A Lesson in Praying

June 24, 2001 - Falmouth Church of the Nazarene, Massachusetts

Luke 11:1-13

Everybody prays. It seems as though prayer is built into our make-up. It is a part of being human. Some prayers may be more direct and honest than others.

Consider some of these direct and honest prayers by "little people:"

- Dear GOD, I would like to live 900 years like the guy in the Bible. Love, Chris
- Dear GOD, If you watch me in church Sunday, I'll show You my new shoes. Mickey D.
- Dear GOD, I bet it is very hard for You to love all of everybody in the whole >world. There are only 4 people in our family and I can never do it. Nan
- Dear GOD, Thank you for the baby brother, but what I prayed for was a puppy. Joyce
- Dear GOD, It rained for our whole vacation and is my father mad! He said something about You that people are not supposed to say, but I hope you will not hurt him anyway. Your friend. -(But I am not going to tell you who I am.)
- Dear GOD, My brother is a rat. You should give him a tail. Ha- ha . Danny
- Dear GOD, Please send me a pony. I never asked for anything before, You can look it up. Bruce

Everybody prays. Not everybody prays well or even knowing why they pray.

WHY PRAY?

NOT to inform God: If God already knows everything, then prayer isn't in order to inform Him.)

And yet there is MYSTERY! If God already decides everything, obviously then prayer can't change things. But still we pray!!! There are several scriptural reasons why we should pray, and why we should keep learning to pray better and better. Prayer DOES make a difference : there have been too many solid examples of how prayer. Let me challenge you to think about several reasons WHY we need to pray:

A. Prayer communicates love to God.

The first and great Commandment is: "Thou shalt LOVE the Lord your God with all your heart, soul, mind and strength. God is a Person, not a "Force." Salvation - faith- is ultimately a relationship, not a doctrine or list of rules. The way we keep love going is called "communication." Prayer is communication with God.

It isn't easy or simple to love someone as big and as mysterious as God. But he has promised if we will reach out to Him he will reach out to us. And so maybe it IS simple: we just keep talking to God. Tell Him everything! Little by little we come to realize that He really is our Great Friend for time and eternity.

B. Prayer 'conducts' God's love to others.

Prayer not only is communication with God- it can bring God and those we pray for together. Prayer becomes a conduit or 'conductor' of God's love. When you pray for others, you can release God's love in their lives. Especially when you sense the prompting of the Spirit, prayer can be a powerful release of blessing in other's lives.

Prayer is mysterious in some ways. We do not always see how it works. But James tells us that the effectual fervent prayer of God's people avails much. A dear friend of mine, Jim Couchenour, said "Prayer does not make the work of the church go forward- prayer IS the work of the church. After we have prayed the rest is just mopping up!"

When God's good work goes forward- it will be because in prayer God has shown us how to conduct his love to others.

C. Prayer changes the pray-er.

Finally, prayer keeps us growing. It changes us!

[Sermon-within-the-sermon: The essence of the Lord's Prayer has the potential of keeping the spirit free and pure. In the his letter to the Colossians (Colossians 2) Paul wrote three things about keeping our spirit free:

1. Don't let anyone CONFUSE you with vain or important sounding speculation.
2. Don't let anyone CONDEMN you with their personal so-called convictions.
3. Don't let anyone SIDETRACK YOUR FAITH by getting away from the basic simplicity of the Gospel. With a show of humility they tell you that you don't really know how to worship (esoteric knowledge)

The pattern of prayer Jesus taught if it is used consistently and honestly and humbly will KEEP FAITH SWEET AND SIMPLE!

(Finally WHY pray?):

- D. Prayer changes THINGS! Makes lives over! Receives forgiveness! Brings Joy to life!

HOW, THEN DO WE PRAY?

Of course this is a life assignment! But we can look at this basic lesson:

THE LESSON JESUS GIVES US

- A. he pattern: It isn't the exact words that become a magic formula, although the exact words keep the focus sharp. Rather, it is the pattern:
1. God First, God's name, worship, praise.
 2. God's kingdom bringing order out of chaos. God's will, in all the earth and in the details of my life.
 3. Others and self next in God's care.
 4. THEN, "its all right" to say GIVE and FORGIVE and LEAD and DELIVER.
- B. The persistence: On the occasion of this lesson (in Luke's gospel) Jesus added the emphasis of persistency. Here is where we too often fall down. It is human to start BIG and then lose interest and energy and . . . then . . .start BIG all over again. God's ideal is for us to grow IN BETWEEN the camp meetings and the revivals. We do that by talking

EVERY DAY with the Father. We need to encourage each other. We need to pray when we feel like praying. And we need to pray when we DON'T feel like praying! Maybe that kind of prayer means the most both to God AND to ourselves!

A PRACTICAL EXERCISE IN PRAYING

As We Come to the Close of Worship Today

Let's pray again together, with the pattern of the Lord's Prayer in mind:

- God is here. Bow your head– close your eyes– and let God sit down beside you there.
 - In your heart tell Him you love Him, and are proud to be His child.
 - Think of how this world will be when hatred and selfishness cease.
- Tell God you want His kingdom of peace.
 - Tell Him you will be part of His kingdom right now. Tell Him He can tell you what to do– and you'll do it!
- Now think of the people who are dear to you.
 - Family.
 - Children.
 - Parents.

Tell God you want Him to bless them. Give them the gift of God's love in your prayer just now.

Let the face of a person who has hurt you come to mind... Tell that name silently to God... Ask God to help you forgive that person. Give them the blessing of God's love in your forgiveness.

- Silently think of any failure in your life right now. Do you dare to name the sin right now in your life that you feel you most need to confess to God... Tell God right now! Confess it... Ask God to forgive you; and you know what? He will! He does!

- What is the daily bread that you need God to give right now?..

Ask God for it; trust that He will guide you!

You have very much needed God's guidance on some decision and situation in your life...

Tell God right now... Ask to know the will of God for you.

Amen.

Lord, teach us to pray! Help us to pray. Help us to know You, and love You. IN Jesus' name. Amen

Hymn (STL) #630 Be Still and Know

Obedience Bible Study

Bible study for "Obedience" lesson, for Sunday April 22, 2001

Manchester Church of the Nazarene

"On Our Way to Pentecost!!"

Joshua 5 The Commander of the Army of the LORD 13 And it came to pass, when Joshua was by Jericho, that he lifted his eyes and looked, and behold, a Man stood opposite him with His sword drawn in His hand. And Joshua went to Him and said to Him, "Are You for us or for our adversaries?" 14 So He said, "No, but as Commander of the army of the LORD I have now come." And Joshua fell on his face to the earth and worshiped, and said to Him, "What does my Lord say to His servant?" 15 Then the Commander of the LORD's army said to Joshua, "Take your sandal off your foot, for the place where you stand is holy." And Joshua did so.

Acts 5 Lying to the Holy Spirit

1 But a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession. 2 And he kept back part of the proceeds, his wife also being aware of it, and brought a certain part and laid it at the apostles' feet. 3 But Peter said, "Ananias, why has Satan filled your heart to lie to the Holy Spirit and keep back part of the price of the land for yourself? 4 While it remained, was it not your own? And after it was sold, was it not in your own control? Why have you conceived this thing in your heart? You have not lied to men but to God." 5 Then Ananias, hearing these words, fell down and breathed his last. So great fear came upon all those who heard these things. 6 And the young men arose and wrapped him up, carried him out, and buried him. 7 Now it was about three hours later when his wife came in, not knowing what had happened. 8 And Peter answered her, "Tell me whether you sold the land for so much?" She said, "Yes, for so much." 9 Then Peter said to her, "How is it that you have agreed together to test the Spirit of the Lord? Look, the feet of those who have buried your husband are at the door, and they will carry you out." 10 Then immediately she fell down at his feet and breathed her last. And the young men came in and found her dead, and carrying her out, buried her by her husband. 11So great fear came upon all the church and upon all who heard these things.

Apostles on Trial Again

27And the high priest asked them, 28saying, "Did we not strictly command you not to teach in this name? And look, you have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine, and intend to bring this Man's blood on us!" 29But Peter and the other apostles answered and said: "We ought to obey God rather than men. 30The God of our fathers raised up Jesus whom you murdered by hanging on a tree. 31Him God has exalted to His right hand to be Prince and Savior, to give repentance to Israel and forgiveness of sins. 32And we are His witnesses to these things, and so also is the Holy Spirit whom God has given to those who obey Him."

What sort of obedience is God seeking? God begins with the inner life:

Are you living in any known sin? Do you have unconfessed sin in your life?

Is there someone who has wronged you that you have not forgiven?

Do you envy those who seem better off? Do you secretly harbor hatred in your heart?

Do you entertain lustful or covetous thoughts? Do you look at or read filth?

God can not bless us, no matter how gifted, or how doctrinally true or eloquent, if we are speaking from disobedient lips! The "Other Witness"— God's Holy Spirit— is ready and waiting to work with us to carry forward the work of Christ in our homes, in our neighborhoods— through the work of this church! He is more loving, more powerful, more capable than we will ever be. But that "Other Witness" will only come where we are willing to OBEY GOD!

Good News in Strange Places

July 24, 2001

(adapted from December 13, 1998)

Gospel Lesson: Matthew 11:1-6

NOTE: This is an outline of what I'm working on for Sunday. I'll send you the sermon with a story in the front by another e-mail BUT I don't think the story can be told in translation (??) But THIS is the outline in full: -- Russell

"And the poor have the gospel preached to them . . ." Matthew 11:5

John the Baptist was a great man. Jesus makes that plain in this story in Matthew's gospel. But even as great as he was, when he was in prison, facing death, he wanted to hear some good news about the Savior he had put his trust in.

"Why didn't Jesus get me out of this?" he may have wondered. At any rate he sent his disciples to say, "Am I mistaken?" And Jesus sent them back saying, "Just tell John what is happening here, and tell him to hold steady!"

(I will tell a story about rich kids and poor kids that I don't think would translate too well to begin the next section of the message)

It is very easy to let our circumstances, our feelings, determine our spiritual faith. It is all too easy to let the worldly culture determine who is right and who is wrong. John is "wrong" because he is in prison; some rich person is "right" because he is a "success."

UNLESS WE ARE VERY CAREFUL OUR VALUES WILL BE LIKE THE WORLD: "HOW MUCH?" "HOW MANY?" "HOW BIG?" EVEN IN CHURCHES!

I. Christian Faith Is Very Materialistic. Nothing Wrong With That.

It matters very much how we handle money and things. Jesus is not an Idea. He is a Person. He came in a particular time at a particular place. He taught us to pray daily for bread. He told us we ought to pay our tithes. His people share what they have with those who have less.

It is not possible to be a true Christian only in the mind and spirit. We are challenged to present our BODIES as living sacrifices to God. That means God cares what we do with things like money and possessions.

But the Christian faith introduces a different sort of reality from the one that worships money and power and things: IN JESUS' KINGDOM THINGS ARE USED, NOT LOVED. AND PEOPLE ARE LOVED, AND NEVER 'USED.'

In Jesus' kingdom the poor in spirit are blessed, and the last are first, and the lost are found, and material things become tools of the spirit. If the spirit is right we get the material things right. The spirit is everything.

II. Christian Worship Is Of The Spirit.

When we think of "rich" and "poor" we think of belongings. If we see a man who holds a lot of money or land or power, we say he is rich by this world's standards. We think if a lot of things "belong" to a person then he or she is rich.

We have heard Bible verses like "What shall it profit to gain the whole world and lose one's own soul." But still down inside we think we would be happy and rich if we had a few million, or if we had a lot of power.

Would you really like to change places with Bill Gates or Tiger Woods?

Jesus has words that 'fit' here: And he said unto them, Take heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth. (Luke 12: 15)

Things that "belong" to us can not really make us rich. What we "belong to" is what really makes us rich.

Or more precisely, Whom we belong to— to be accepted into God's house, and be a part of His family. When we really know we are in His kingdom then we dare to believe that he will make all the pieces fit. Our Master said, "Seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and then all these things will take their proper place in line." (Matthew 6:33, free translation)

We think that if circumstances could just change then we would have faith. If only we could be free from this situation then we could begin to live. If only we had more money— If only. It is human to doubt and be tempted to look to things for security. But Jesus challenges us to follow Him and says he will care for us.

Maybe that was where John was that day when he sent his friends to ask Jesus, in effect: "Have I missed it? Are you really Messiah?"

III. Christian Hope Is For Life As It Really Is Lived.

The question from Matthew's Gospel came echoing out of a prison. It was asked by the greatest prophet in the Bible: Are you really Christ? Are you the Son of God? Why am I here in prison? Aren't you supposed to change things for the better?

Jesus answered John the Baptist's question in an oblique manner. He told John's disciples to go back and tell John what they were seeing.

The lame walk. The deaf hear. The blind see. And the poor have the Good News told to them. The kingdom was already here, and just as Isaiah had prophesied, was already changing lives.

I believe in that dungeon John the Baptist's spirit was renewed and revived. His Master had answered him. From a purely human point of view things were unchanged. John lost his life to a weak and vain King Herod. But John the Baptist was rich beyond understanding, and is wealthy today in ways we can only imagine. And in this country alone today millions of Christians follow John the Baptist in telling their world about the One who came, who comes, and who is to come.

Conclusion

A prison is a strange place to hear Good News. But God's Good News is made for strange places. Wherever YOU are in your spiritual journey today, there is GOOD NEWS! YOU are not a "mission project," but you are a candidate for acceptance into God's family. God's kingdom is here! I leave you with two thoughts:

Good News in Strange Places

1. Hear the Good News for yourself! Like the rich youngsters from Atlanta you may think of the poor and imprisoned as "others." But there are prisons and 'strange places' right here with us this morning:

- There are childhood memories, memories of abuse or worse.
- There are sins that just won't go away, and keep coming back.
- There are "if only" situations of all kinds.
- Some of us face the burden of getting older.
- Some are wrestling with bereavement or depression or fear.
- There are prisons of hurt feelings, or worse: of unforgiving hatred.

We do NOT have to wait until the ideal time comes. We do not have to wait until we feel salvation to come to God and ask for grace. We come just as we are.

2. Pray that you can pass the good word along! Wherever we are we can be agents in the work of Christ. Think small! Think near at home.

(Our next door neighbors on the Cape- we had no idea - but . . .)

The blind and lame and deaf may be nearer than you think. A healing word. A prayer in the morning for filling, and then a watchful eye through the day for sharing.

Prayer:

Step-by-Step with Jesus

August 12, 2001

John Wesley United Methodist Church, Falmouth, Massachusetts

Luke 12:32-40; Hebrews 11:1-3,8-16

Introduction: (In 10:30 service this will be the children's sermon) The Hayford St. gang story ... the big kid who came alongside and saved me from a beating. A true story, but a metaphor for my walk with God. We have a God who comes alongside when we need Him.

Abraham is a BIG man in the Bible. As a matter of fact he is a big man in human history. He is known as the Father of Faith. He was a friend of God. The three great monotheistic religions of the world claim him. (I have been to his tomb-cave in Hebron, and sure enough the Jews and the Arabs as well as the Christians venerate and honor the memory of this man who walked with God.

Abraham is venerated because he DID walk with God by faith. "By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to set out for a place that he was to receive as an inheritance; and he set out, not knowing where he was going." (text) He left a civilized place, Ur of the Chaldee, to take up a nomadic life in search of his true home, the Promised Land which God would show him. His life and the struggles and growth and sacrifices he made are recorded in Genesis, chapters twelve through twenty-two, and are referred to over and over in the new Testament as well.

The walk of faith is not less frightening in our time. God calls. We hear- and then we pull back. Plenty of people are ready to tell us what we should do. How can we hear God's voice and be sure? How can we walk with God in this modern age? Do we really dare to go across the current?

What IS faith anyway? " Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen ..." (text) WHAT DOES THAT MEAN?

1. Faith Is Mysterious:

one side is very SIMPLE: any child can understand. Great philosophers and gifted teachers as well as mentally retarded and little children have the privilege of coming to God through Jesus Christ, our crucified, risen Savior. (Jesus loves me, this I know, for the Bible tells me so was supposed to have been quoted by Karl Barth, the great theologian as the essence of our faith.)

one side is very PERSONAL: it is a response to God that no one else can make for you. Faith is not first of all a system, or even propositional truth. Faith is hearing Jesus Christ saying "Follow Me!" and responding, "Here I am! Help me follow!"

faith is A GIFT of God: Ephesians 2:8,9 "For by grace are ye saved through faith, and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God lest anyone should boast."

- I hear you, God!
- I believe you!
- I want you to be my Lord and Savior!

2. Faith Is Heuristic

(I LOVE that word "heuristic". The dictionary definition of heuristic is: "Serving to discover or stimulate investigation.")

Faith ALWAYS leads us onward and upward toward HOME. The HOME of faith is God Himself! Faith is an adventure in living that takes us through life's good times and hard times on our journey home.

THIS WALK OF FAITH INHERITS THE KINGDOM "It is the Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom!" But the inheritance is a life-long process that extends into eternity. Nearly 4,000 years later we are still amazed at Abraham, who is very much alive and enjoying God's Presence.

In following God's call to live by faith Abraham both became very rich and very poor. He had great possessions on earth, but lived in a tent with a dirt floor. He talked with God face to face, and yet looked for a city yet to come. He made mistakes, and even did a few foolish things, but God gave him the child of promise, Isaac. And that Isaac was given back to God. The way of faith is so mysterious, and yet so wonderful.

(A PRACTICAL CLOSING)

A PERSPECTIVE ON VALUES

A HEART FOR GOD

HOW? HOW CAN WE BE SURE WE ARE WALKING BY FAITH?

(The channel to the yacht club . . . markers lined up . . .)

1. You can trust the bible
2. You have the gifts of God's peace, his Word his name
3. You can have that Presence! The God who comes alongside.

God is Our Refuge and Strength

September, 2001

Psalm 46

Three vital words to the people of God in a time of crisis:

FEAR NOT FOR I AM WITH YOU

Text, also Isaiah 41:10 - It is all right to want comfort, to seek sanctuary, to confess we are afraid. God's people have His promise: "I AM with you!" Not one cry goes unheard. We may not know the answers- in fact we probably don't even know the proper questions. But if we will stop, and pray and listen, and wait we will find God is already HERE, waiting to be our strength, our assurance. NOTHING can separate us from His love.

RELEASE GOD'S POWER IN INTERCESSORY PRAYER

One mystery we do not appreciate is how God limits Himself in some situations according to the extent of His people's prayers. "You have not because you ask not!" In ways we can but dimly see, good and evil are engaged, and God's people can make a difference with their prayers.

Clearly the forces of darkness would stifle any serious call to turn to Almighty God. But God's people can pray that heaven's powers will be released in ways that will glorify God and turn many people's hearts to Him. We have a president who is a born again Christian and the media for the most part make him out to be a fool. Hold up his hands in prayer. Join with people of faith in confessing our nation's need of God, and in praying for spiritual awakening.

REPORT FOR PERSONAL DUTY, ONE-ON-ONE

Ask God now, today, to fill you with His Holy Spirit (Luke 11:13), not just so you will feel good, or not even so you will personally benefit (as you certainly will!), but in order that you can reflect (re-present) a God of love to your next door neighbors,

God is Our Refuge and Strength

your fellow students, your co-workers who will certainly be feeling the same fears and questions you have felt, but without the assurance that you have in Jesus.

Don't spout wisdom- don't try to be a prophet and say how this all "fits into Daniel or Revelation." Just say "God is good!" Say it with words if necessary, but ask God to help you say it with love and compassion.

Pray WITH your neighbors if the Lord opens the way.

Faith in the Presence of Fear

Words for Our Day

October, 2001

John 20:19-31; Psalm 16

The opening words of Psalm 16 are the cry, "Protect me, O Lord God, for I am trusting in you!" The Psalmist, David, is using what seems to me the language of fear. He probably had good reason to fear, for his life was often in danger.

Do you ever feel fear? Is it a sin to feel negative emotions? Is it evil to have questions or even doubts when it seems everyone else is so certain about so many things?

In the very last chapter of the last book in the Bible (Revelation 21) is a list that sometimes bothers me. It is a list of people who are not going to enter the New Jerusalem. In fact John, the writer of Revelation, says they will have part in "the second death."

Now part of that list I can understand would not fit in heaven: "the abominable, murderers, whore-mongers, sorcerers, and all liars" is how the list ends. But the part that bothers me is how the list begins. The list of those who miss heaven begins: "But the fearful and the unbelieving... will have their place in the lake of fire." What does this mean? Sometimes I feel like the Cowardly Lion, and I admit there are a lot of questions I cannot honestly answer.

Can the feeling of FEAR keep me out of heaven? [Before I go any farther, let me say I believe the answer is NO FEELING will keep you or me out of heaven. Feelings are emotions— feelings are results, not causes— and God is not seeking reasons to exclude, but to INCLUDE. He is not willing that ANY should perish. In the Gospel Thomas is afraid to believe and Jesus comes to him— in the Psalm David is afraid, and he cries out "O God help me!"] No the feeling will not exclude you.

Still, there IS a fear that can keep us from taking hold of the gift of LIFE. And there is an unbelief that is not of the mind but of the heart that says, "I will not submit to God even when He speaks clearly to me." This passage from John helps us understand how we can dare trust the Risen Savior.

I. THE DISCIPLES WERE AFRAID TO BELIEVE HOW MUCH GOD LOVED THEM

They lived in a time and place every bit as scary as our own terror-threatened post-9/11 time. They thought: "It is too good to be true!" Jesus came and dispelled their fears somewhat— it took a while.

But Thomas wasn't there. He said, "I have to SEE for myself." He was afraid to let himself get built up just to be let down again.

Looking again to Psalm 16, David prays for God's mercy, but even as he prays he recognizes how audacious it is to talk to God. He says, "MY GOODNESS EXTENDETH NOT TO THEE." In another place (Psalm 8) David says, "WHEN I CONSIDER THE HEAVENS, WHAT IS MAN THAT YOU ARE MINDFUL OF HIM?"

Many of the theologians of our day (whether post-modern, or process, or deconstructionist, or whatever— I'm probably ten years behind in labels) seem to be saying, "You common people have no idea of how big God really is— and so you can never speak about Him with any kind of certainty!" And some of them carry it so far they are saying 'GOD'S LOVE, IF IT IS THERE, IS TOO BIG, TOO MYSTERIOUS FOR US TO KNOW AND BE SURE ABOUT.' It is almost a blocking FEAR before the mystery of God's love.

BUT THE GOD OF THE BIBLE— WHO TRULY IS BIGGER THAN WE CAN IMAGINE— HAS SPOKEN TO US IN THE LIFE AND DEATH AND RESURRECTION OF HIS SON JESUS CHRIST!

That message is understandable even though we can never understand WHY God should love us! That message IS: GOD LOVES YOU!

Jesus said: "Thomas, I'll help you believe! Blessed are those who have NOT seen, and still believe! FAITH WITHIN US SAYS: Jesus really DOES know and care about ME!

Even after the disciples began to grasp the fact that Jesus was alive, and that He was with them again, there was a hesitation to dare to believe what Jesus was asking them to do (commanding them, actually).

II. THE DISCIPLES COULD NOT BELIEVE WHAT GOD EXPECTED OF THEM

Jesus began outlining his assignment for the church that very night. First, he BREATHED ON THEM, and said: RECEIVE THE HOLY SPIRIT! Be carriers of God! Be contagious with LOVE! Exude confidence that God is GOOD!

I'm sure they did not grasp it fully then— nor even fifty days later at Pentecost— but the disciples— and you and I— are to be the place where God lives on this earth. We are God's housing!

Do YOU think of yourself as a tabernacle of God? Is God welcome in YOUR body? In your relationships? is that a new thought to you? Is it a bit frightening?

God is what this frightened world needs right now! And who do you suppose God is wanting to use to meet your neighbors and mine, face-to-Face?

Jesus began assigning His disciples a role in telling the world that all their sins had been forgiven on Calvary. This is mysterious, and not easy to understand:

"Those whose sins you forgive they will be forgiven... those whose sins you don't forgive they will remain..?"

We can stop and get hung up on the translation of words here— OR we can understand that WE have a part in sharing the Good News of Salvation.

FEAR said, that night, "Lord Jesus we have all been afraid! We have all forsaken you and run away! How can WE ever accept such an assignment?"

But FAITH SAID: "YOU CAN SHOW ME HOW TO BE FILLED WITH THE SPIRIT! YOU CAN HELP ME SHARE THE MESSAGE OF SINS FORGIVEN!" And that is exactly what happened.

That is all well and good for the disciples... then... and for the worship times in church. But what about the everyday fears that come— AND WHAT ABOUT THE REALLY DARK PLACES IN LIFE THAT COME TO US ALL? Can fear defeat us when we face the worst life can offer? It is frightening to think there are people who hate us just because we live where we do, and believe what we believe- but in the darkness is where even little lights can shine brightly! Jesus loves YOU! He is with you and me! He says "Tell people that God loves them! God is GOOD!"

III. WE ALL FACE FEAR'S CHALLENGE IN OUR DARK HOURS OF THE SOUL

Faith's victory over fear is NOT just doctrine or theory. We cannot help at times FEELING overwhelmed— even pushed toward despair. In the Garden of Gethsemane Jesus Himself prayed like one who hated, even dreaded what lay out ahead. He prayed, "O MY FATHER, IF IT BE POSSIBLE, LET THIS CUP PASS FROM ME!"

In the Psalm (16) David wrote the script for the Messiah's hope even though it was 800 years or so before the time— he wrote for Jesus— and for all who follow Jesus— "THOU WILT NOT LEAVE MY SOUL IN HELL, NOR SUFFER YOUR OWN TO SEE CORRUPTION"

Our souls somehow become the battlefield of fear versus faith. For insight into that aspect of the emotions of fear and temptation to unbelief there is no better book than The Book of Job. Job loved God— and refused to believe God was anything but GOOD! He certainly did not understand what was going on. But Job said, "GOD KNOWS! I WILL TRUST HIM!" Faith went beyond what it could see, and even what it could NOT see— and reached for the hand of God.

In some of Britain's darkest hours in WW II, the people listened by their radios on New Year's Eve as their king, King George VI, gave his annual greeting to his people over BBC. It was truly a fearsome time. The very existence of their nation was at risk. And the king that night quoted words that have since become famous. He said:

"I said to the man who stands at the Gate of the Year, 'Give me light that I may tread safely into the unknown.' And he replied, 'Step into the darkness, put your hand into the hand of God, and that will be to you better than a light and safer than a known way.'"

David said, "In your Presence is joy! If I can just BE WITH YOU I will be all right!" We do not have to wait until we die and go to heaven to know God's Presence. He is near, He is with us today. If we will let Him he will live within us, and walk with us. We may not know all about Him, but we may know Him. He loves us, and his perfect love casts out fear, our own fear, and the fear that we cannot tell our frightened neighbors with assurance: "God is GOOD! God loves YOU!."

Prayer

(Hymn-Chorus, Sing to the Lord #626) Gentle Shepherd Come and Lead Us

No Short Cuts to Glory

October 28, 2001 - Wareham Church of the Nazarene, Massachusetts

Matthew 4

He had finally got his chance to make the Really Big Sale. He was going into the final interview on the biggest contract he had ever written. He was ushered into the office of the executive buyer. An assistant brought coffee and left. The atmosphere was cordial.

Then the assistant tapped on the door and re entered the office and spoke briefly with the executive. She stood and said, "I apologize, but I have to tend to a matter. I'll just be a minute or two." She followed her assistant out of the room.

The sales representative looked around the beautifully appointed office. He saw her family pictures on her desk. Then he noticed she had evidently been studying what looked like a contract, a bid from a competitor. Leaning forward, he saw a column of figures, but it was obscured by a diet soda can.

What harm possibly could there be in reading her private information? After all, she had left it out in plain sight. But when he lifted the can it wasn't diet soda; it was 1,000 Bbs that gushed out the bottomless can, and ran all over the desk and cascaded onto the carpet. His attempt to short cut the competition was exposed.

Not every temptation is so obvious. Not every failure is so embarrassing. But every temptation is a challenge. Not even Jesus was spared the choosing.

I. Temptation Is An Enticement To Use A Short Cut To Reach A Desirable Goal.

You want a good grade. Good grades are desirable. They open doors. They bring scholarships. The easiest way to good grades is to let someone else do your work for you. But there is no real short cut to real education.

You want intimacy and the good feelings of love and security. No one has to tell you those are good things. The easiest way to those feelings is the pathway of least resistance. But there are no short cuts to real friendship. There is never an excuse to USE people like things, no matter what the goal may be.

You want success and influence. Within the boundaries of genuine caring those could be very worthy goals. But in our world all too often personal goals are reached at whatever the cost. But there is no short cut to real integrity.

Cheating is always wrong. Adultery and fornication are always sin.

Betrayal of confidence is always heartbreaking. Whatever the reason, remember: there are no short cuts in finding and doing God's will. It is a wonderful thing to come to believe that in God's will we don't need short cuts!

II. Adam And Eve And Short Cuts

Adam and Eve, even in their innocence thought they might be able to take a short cut to God likeness. They were tempted to believe that maybe God was holding out on them. Whatever good was coming, they wanted it NOW! A short cut. The Tempter said, "Did God really say that?" Then he pursued that seed of doubt with philosophical denial. "You won't really die! God has it wrong! You can't really trust Him. He wants a monopoly on Truth!"

But they did die! Their innocence was gone. They were dead in trespasses and sin. And they were expelled from a garden into a wilderness. Their short cut was a tragedy.

In the classic Pilgrim's Progress, Christian and his new companion Hopeful fell in with a smooth talking man named By end, from the town of Fair speech. To hear By end talk the Christian journey required no effort at all. As his name suggests, he took the position that the end always justifies any short cut necessary, just so long as the rugged way of obedience could be avoided.

Just then Christian and Hopeful came alongside a beautiful meadow. There was a fence marking the pathway, but there was a stile over the fence, and they could see a path running parallel to the Way on the other side of the fence. After some discussion they crossed over to take advantage of easier going on the other side of the fence.

But soon it became less simple. Darkness fell, and it became hard to see. They tried to make their way back to the crossing, but soon they had to stay the night under a tree in the open. Then they were captured by a wicked Giant Despair, and taken to a dungeon in the Doubting castle. A pleasant short cut turned out to be a near disaster.

We never leave the clear known will of God for our lives without bringing on big trouble. The most innocent disobedience brings broken fellowship with God. And there is no such thing as a short cut to where God wants you to be. You can trust His timing.

III. Jesus In His Innocence, Was Exposed To Temptation.

Fresh from his public baptism, and with the blessing of the Father's endorsement ringing in his ears, and in the joy of the Spirit's anointing, Jesus was led into the wilderness to face the challenge to take a short cut. Haggard and drawn from fasting, he was confronted with evil, demonic, powerful, hostile suggestion. The evil enemy attacked every angle. Henri Nouwen summed up the three temptations: be (practical) relevant, be popular (go along), be powerful (seize control).

Be relevant: you have to survive! 'Make these stones into bread. You're famished. This is the real world. A dead Messiah isn't going to do anyone any good.' But Jesus' response in fact said, "No, I don't have to survive! I have to be true!"

It wasn't that Jesus wasn't hungry. It wasn't that he couldn't work a miracle later. He fed 5,000 people with a little boy's lunch. But Jesus was taking orders from no one but the Father, and especially was not about to take advice from the Evil One.

"Man does not live by bread alone," he said, "but by every word that proceeds from the mouth of God."

Be popular: you need to communicate! 'Spiff up your act! What is this "repent stuff!?? Put on a show! Do miracles! Walk a high wire!' But Jesus was never a performer. He never did things for the effect. It wasn't that he couldn't master the forces of nature. He walked on the sea. He calmed the storms. He raised the dead. And he died and rose again the third day.

"Don't try to put God on the spot!" was his reply.

Be powerful: you need to take charge! 'No one will see you out here in the desert as you compromise and kneel down to me. But then I'll lay off, and you can be the dictator of the world! No competition! A cross is a terrible way to go. You have to take charge of your life! Assert yourself!'

This was not a friendly debate. It was not a gentleman's duel of honor. Weak, exhausted, physically drained, Jesus was facing pure evil at its demonic worst.

Jesus, at his weakest, used the defense that is available to us all if we will just use it. (It is the 'key' that finally unlocked the dungeon of Doubting Castle, and let Christian and Hopeful out.) He did not reason with the Enemy. He reached into the Father's promises. He fled to the first Commandment. He claimed the protection that comes from utterly belonging.

He was God's Son! He affirmed his determination to worship Him only, and to live by the father's Word and way. Satan had to leave. The angels came. There in the wilderness Jesus was refreshed. Then he resumed the step by step following of the Father's will that would take him to Calvary, to Olivet, and to Glory and Salvation for you and me. There would be no short cut.

Conclusion

Temptation Is an Enticement to Use a Short Cut to Reach a Desirable Goal

Temptation is NOT sin. But yielding to temptation IS sin. And sin never, never, never makes good on its promises. There are no short cuts to truly desirable goals.

A workman went to his big boss one day and said, "I'm tired. I think I'll take my retirement benefits and hang it up. It's been great working for you."

The big boss looked disappointed, and said, "I really hate to see you go. I was hoping you could do at least one more big job for me. Will you, just one more?"

Reluctantly the builder agreed to build a house for some important client of the big boss. It was a big house, a lot of work on a golf course, with a lot of detail. But the man's heart really wasn't in it. He threw the house together in record time, and cut corners on material and labor wherever he could. He saved the boss a lot of money, but it wasn't really his best work and he knew it.

Imagine how he felt when he turned the keys over to the big boss, and the boss gave them right back, and fished around in his briefcase and gave him the title and deed to the property on the golf course.

"This is my gift for you!" he said. "Thanks for all your good work across the years!"

Then the builder wished he hadn't been in such a hurry. He wished he hadn't cut corners and taken short cuts just to get the job done.

Life is like that. Exactly like that. We become the product of our own integrity in following after God. Or lack of integrity. We become exiles from innocence when we try to take short cuts to being like God. Or, following our Savior, we use the promises and the commandments of God to resist the tempter's power, and we begin to share in Christ's righteousness.

This is just another Sunday worship service. There isn't anyone here but us. But God is here. And right now is a good time to ask God for His help in deliberately drawing closer to Him. I don't know about you, but I don't want to try to get away with building a shoddy house. I know I'm going to have to live in what I build.

Prayer

#512 Take Time to be Holy

Also preached:

- September 30, 2001 - Rumford
- September 3, 2000 - Duxbury
- August 20, 2000 - Providence
- October 31, 1999 (am) Falmouth

No Short Cuts to Glory

- September 25, 1999
- February 21, 1999

Miracle of Miracles

December 23, 2001 - Quincy Chinese Church of the Nazarene, Massachusetts

Two brief scriptures:

John 1:1-5; 10-13

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was in the beginning with God. All things were made through Him, and without Him nothing was made that was made. In Him was life, and the life was the light of men. And the light shines in the darkness, and the darkness did not comprehend it.

He was in the world, and the world was made through Him, and the world did not know Him. He came to His own, and His own did not receive Him. But as many as received Him, to them He gave the right to become children of God, to those who believe in His name: who were born, not of blood, nor of the will of man, but of God.

Hebrews 1:1-2a

God, who at various times and in various ways spoke in time past to the fathers by the prophets, has in these last days spoken to us by His Son ...

Christmas is the biggest miracle Christians are asked to believe. If we can believe what really happened at Christmas then all the other true miracles will take their place. But everything in the Christian faith begins with this one miracle.

That miracle is this: God has spoken our language. A Baby who could not even talk in any language, yet who is God, God's only Son, is the Word that God spoke.

This Baby who we know as Jesus came to tell us what can never fully be said in words. When I say God spoke our language I do not mean the Hebrew language, or English, which was not even dreamed of when Jesus lived on earth, nor Cantonese or Mandarin, which are ancient languages. No, when I say God spoke our language I mean the common HUMAN language of life the way it is really lived: hopes, and fears, and families, and love.

The Word of God came to identify with us. This is what I mean by the miracle of miracles: how the God of glory was willing and able to come all the way down to where you and I live so He could know us, and we could get to know Him.

The miracle is He really became a human being, and lived the way God intended that every one of us shall be able one day to live: being able to give and to receive love, and to turn from lying and hatred and prejudice and know true fulfillment.

We think of Jesus as growing up to be a teacher, and it is true that Jesus taught with words. He said we don't just live by bread alone, but that we need every Word that comes from God. He said that He did not come to condemn the world, but to seek and save those who were lost. He said that if they would look, the people who sit in spiritual darkness could and would see a light that would lead them to God. And he dared to say that He, Jesus, IS that light.

But the Word that Jesus spoke is more than the lessons that He taught and the words He spoke, as wonderful as they are. As we read the Bible, and as we open our hearts to the Holy Spirit of God, we realize that it was in what Jesus did, and in who Jesus IS that God has spoken.

Jesus, the Word, because He is God, and because He is without fault or sin, was able to take upon Himself the burdens and sins of the whole world. The Word became flesh, our scripture says, and lived among us- and then took our sins and our sorrows with Him to the Cross, which is another aspect of this, the greatest miracle. Then the third day after his death, Jesus, the Word, arose from the dead to say "Do not be afraid; I am the First and the Last. I am He who lives and was dead, and behold I am alive forevermore. Amen. And I have the keys of Hades and of Death." (Revelation 1:17-18)

Yes, the miracle is that God has spoken our language- the human language- and He has said- and is saying now: "I LOVE YOU!" The Word is a Person- and that Person is God's Son, Jesus.

A Christmas Story to Close With (I don't know where I got it) A story is told of a widowed man who was a great collector of art. He traveled around the world collecting Picasso, Van Gogh, Monet, and many, many other world class objects of art to adorn his mansion.

The man's only child grew up to be both a skilled doctor and a great art collector in his own right. The son became highly respected in both medicine and art circles.

One summer the young doctor left the mansion to go for several months on a medical mission to Central America. When he had been gone only three months a terrible hurricane swept through that country, and communication was cut off from the rest of the world.

The old art collector was anxious, and within a few days his worst fear were confirmed. He got word that his son had died while rescuing a family from a flooded river. He was very sad and lonely as he faced the upcoming Christmas holidays all alone. There would be no joy of Christmas in his house.

On Christmas morning there was a knock on the door of the old man. As he walked to the door the masterpieces that lined the walls only reminded him that his son would not be coming home. Then as he opened the door he was met by a small brown man carrying a large package.

"My name is Jorge Pascodero," the man said. "I was a friend of your son.

It was MY family your sons saved by sacrificing his life." The father invited Jorge in.

"I want to give you this," said Jorge. He placed the package in the old man's hands. Opening it carefully the father saw a great enlarged photograph of the man's only son. It was not very good as art because it was blurred and grainy. The son was holding a small child and speaking to a woman in his clinic. A stethoscope was around his neck, and he was looking toward the camera. You could see kindness and gentleness in his hands and face. The father was deeply moved. They talked awhile and then Senor Pascodero left.

After Senor Pascodero left the father took down a million dollar Picasso over the fireplace and hung up the grainy photograph of his son. He sat in his chair and spent Christmas gazing at the gift he had been given. He realized that even though his son was no longer with him, the boy's life would live on because he had touched a lot of people with love. He found later that his son had treated literally hundreds of people in the short time he was in Central America.

Two years later the old man became ill and passed away. Because his son has been his only heir the estate would be auctioned off. The art world was really excited at the prospect of such a rich estate becoming available.

When the day of the auction sale arrived dealers from all over the world gathered to bid on the spectacular paintings. Wealthy people from Europe, North America, and Japan came. Millions were at stake.

The auction began with the photograph of the man's son. That was not a piece that was on any of the wealthy collector's "must have list."

"Who will open the bidding?" the auctioneer asked.

The room was silent. Moments passed. No one spoke. From the back of the room someone could be heard: "Who cares about a lousy photograph? It's just a picture of his son. Let's forget about it and go on to the good stuff." Voices echoed in agreement.

"No, we have to offer this first," replied the auctioneer. "Now who will take the son?" Silence. "Come now," said he auctioneer. "There must be someone who will take the son."

Finally the old man's gardener spoke. "I will. I knew the boy from the time he was born. He was a fine man. I miss him. I'd like to have it. I'll take it."

"Give it to him," cried the gallery of collectors. The auctioneer said to the gardener, "The son is yours without cost, sir." Cheers filled the room. Someone exclaimed, "Now get on with the auction! Put up a Picasso!"

The auctioneer looked at the audience and banged his gavel. He announced, "The auction is over! All the paintings in the collection will be registered as the property of the gardener."

The room was stunned! "What do you mean it's over? How can the gardener get anything? There are millions of dollars worth of art! You must explain! What's going on here?"

The auctioneer waved a sheaf of documents at the gallery and replied, "It is very simple: according to the will of the father, whoever accepts the son gets everything the father has!"

Conclusion

God has spoken by his son, spoken in OUR language. He has said, "I love YOU!" The golden text of the Bible tries to put in in words we can begin to understand: "For God so loved the world- you and me- that he gave his one and only Son that whosoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life. (John 3:16)

That is the Christmas message- the Miracle of all Miracles. Deeper than the most wonderful words in Chinese, English, or any other spoken language, God is saying to you and me this Christmas: "I love you!"

Jesus and the Lost and Found Business

January 13, 2002

Emmanuel Church of the Nazarene, Wareham Massachusetts

Luke 19:10 For the Son of Man came to seek and to save what was lost

(contextual background Luke 15: 1 - 10}

When people began to find fault with Jesus because he was friendly with the wrong kind of people, and even sat down and ate with them, Jesus told them some stories. He talked about what it means to be LOST!

Sometimes when I think about "LOST" I remember the true story of "Lady Be Good."

In the early years of World War II after the United States forces invaded northern Africa, crude airstrips were established on the desert, and bombing runs across the Mediterranean were begun on Axis targets in Italy. "Lady Be Good" was a Flying Fortress, B-17 bomber, that was making these long and dangerous flights. The night this plane was tragically lost the crew had made it to Italy and was returning on a radio beam from the desert air strip. When the beam would come on the Lady Be Good made certain it was on a straight line toward home. The crew never knew until it was too late that they had a strong tail wind that brought them back much sooner than expected. With no visual point of reference they simply overflowed the directional signal and kept straight on until they ran out of gas and came down in the Libyan desert more than a hundred miles south of the coast and water.

They were LOST. They simply disappeared off the face of the earth— no one knew they had overflowed their base into the heart of the desert. Their plane has been almost perfectly preserved in the dryness— the men themselves survived the emergency landing only to die of thirst in the desert with no one knowing where they might be.

The chilling moral of this story, at least to my thinking, is that people can be lost and not even know they are lost until it has ruined their lives or worse. Following rules, even good rules, and doing MY best won't save me. These men were literally "on the beam." "Lost" is being where you're not supposed to be. "Lost" is not really knowing where you belong, or how to get there. "Lost" is having no valid point of reference outside of "self." The worst kind of being lost is not having a clue that you are lost at all.

The people who criticized Jesus were lost themselves and didn't want to hear about it. They were sure and certain they knew all about right and wrong. They didn't need Jesus or anybody else to tell them anything. One thing for sure: those old Pharisees aren't the only people who ever thought they knew more than anyone else about right and wrong. Any time we think we know how to DO RELIGION apart from the love of God, apart from His Spirit, we are already on dangerous ground.

Among people who were only thinking of themselves- of how they could be saved and let the rest of the world be damned, the Lord Jesus was out of step. The Pharisees could find fault with what He said and did.

So Jesus told three fascinating stories about being "Lost and Found". These stories are a rebuke to those who simply DO RELIGION. Jesus was saying that true faith is God-centered, not self-centered. When we become simply judges instead of godly friends to the lost we are exposing the fact that WE are LOST! We are SELF-centered instead of GOD-centered! (AND IT IS TOO EASY TO BECOME SELF-CENTERED!)

Did you ever hear of the McLandress Coefficient?

The McLandress Coefficient

When I was studying pastoral care many years ago I read about the "McLandress Coefficient;" Herschel McLandress was a professor of psychiatric measurement at Harvard Medical School, and he developed a way to measure a person's degree of self-absorption. In spoken and written material he measured the use of "I," "me," and "my" and the "Coefficient" was the longest span of time a person can remain diverted from himself. Eleanor Roosevelt was supposed to have a McLandress coefficient of two hours; John F. Kennedy's was twenty-nine minutes, and Elizabeth Taylor's was three minutes. The reason I don't make Jesus more at home at times is because I need to talk about me, when maybe he wants to talk about something else.

How is your McLandress Coefficient? How can we claim not to be LOST when everything we do and say revolves around US? Often even in our worship and praying we cannot escape this selfish way of living.

MAYBE THERE IS A LITTLE PHARISEE IN ALL OF US.

We want to get comfortable. We want to think we have discovered the best way to do church, and we don't want to have anyone tell us differently. How do we escape our "Self?" I have GOOD NEWS!

If you even WANT to have a God-centered faith, that desire is from God! Jesus, the Shepherd, the Searcher- the One who goes after the lost is not only looking for YOU - He is looking for YOU TO BE HIS HELPER IN REACHING OUT TO OTHERS!

If you even WANT to not be self-centered, you are a lot closer than you might think. The worst kind of "lost" is the one who has no idea he or she IS lost. If you have an inkling that maybe you need to find and move closer to the Eternal Point of Reference, then you can be sure that grace is already at work in your life.

I remember a story of the sea from days gone by.

A sailing vessel had become becalmed off the coast of South America and had drifted for days with not enough wind to go anywhere. Their supplies had been low when the wind had died, and now they were becoming desperate for drinking water. They prayed for rain, prayed for a wind, but all they got was scorching sunshine. Then over the horizon came a coal-burning steamship. They shouted and hoisted flags, and soon the ship turned and came toward the becalmed vessel. They shouted as soon as they could make themselves heard "Do you have any water for us?

We're dying of thirst?"

They thought they heard the reply "Let down your casks into the sea?"
They asked again— and got the same strange answer. Anyone knows that to drink sea water doesn't quench thirst and is inviting death. "Let down your casks where you are right now!"

Someone threw over a bucket on a line and hoisted it on deck, and, amazingly, it was sweet and fresh. The reason— they has drifted into the mouth of the Amazon River, which is 100 miles wide when it flows into the ocean. They had been dying of thirst with water to drink all around them.

How, do you suppose, can we return to a God-centered life? How can we put God at the center of our worship and our everyday, walking- around lives?

Could I suggest a couple of ways to begin with?

Right where we are, here today, God's grace is all around you, and waiting for you to say "I'm sorry of I've been selfish or thoughtless, please forgive me and fill me with your love and help me be like YOU!" We don't have to DO anything to bring God where we are. He is here, waiting for us to recognize Him and ask His help in putting him at the center of our lives. YOU don't have to be dry and cold in your walk with God!

If you have never made a definite decision to make Jesus Lord of your life, and give your self over to Him, you do not have to wait one hour longer!

You can let down your faith into His promises right now.

BUT TODAY I'M ALSO THINKING ABOUT EMMANUEL CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE.

YOU'RE A GOOD CHURCH! A GREAT HISTORY! YOU HAVEN'T BEEN SELF-CENTERED!
YOU'VE SENT OUT PREACHERS AND MISSIONARIES!

YOU'VE REACHED OUT. AND YOU ARE REACHING OUT INTO THIS COMMUNITY!

If YOU and YOU and YOU will ask God, and join faith, and determine not to be small and selfish in any way - YOUR VERY BEST DAYS ARE AHEAD OF YOU!

(A new pastor arrives here this week. Is HE (Pastor Shaw) "the answer"? No, JESUS is the Way, but you will work with the one who is called to be your LEADER! Will some great new "program" be what will make Emmanuel great? No- of course you will need\ plans and projects!)

BUT "THE ANSWER" IS: WE HAVE A SEEKING GOD! AND HE WANTS US TO JOIN WITH HIM IN LOVING THE LOST AND INTRODUCING THEM TO HIM!

And do you know, there are people not far from where we are right now who are drying up in spirit, and dying of spiritual thirst with the provisions of God all around them. We don't have to DO anything to bring God where they are. If He is in us, He will use us to help HIM find the lost!

(Exhortation)

If our faith, or church, our religion is a burden, when our so-called "salvation" consists of what WE DO, of how good WE are, we are like the Pharisees that day a long time ago that watched Jesus and criticized Him, to whom he told these stories.

It doesn't have to be that way! God is seeking every one of us— to bring us to Himself— to give us His Spirit— to make us his own.

Pray with me:

Lord Jesus— I turn my life over to You. I don't want to be the center— I want YOU to be Lord. Forgive my self-centeredness. Forgive my trying to DO salvation. Help me to BE Your own dear child. I ask this according to Your own great promises. Amen.

Sing with me: Just a Closer Walk with Thee

God is Good God Loves You

Trinity Sunday

May 26, 2002 - Community Chapel, Nashua, New Hampshire

Psalm 8; Matthew 28:18-20 "Baptizing in the name of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit."

When Trinity Sunday rolls around it gives a good occasion for ministers to make fools of themselves. When we get to thinking we can explain the great mystery of the Triune God. I think of the little boy in kindergarten wearing his father's old white shirt for a paint smock, busy daubing paint on a newsprint easel.

"What are you painting?" his teacher asks him.

"I'm painting a picture of God!" is his humble answer.

"But no one knows what God looks like," says the teacher.

"They will when I get done with this picture!" says the confident kindergartner.

Maybe we aren't quite as naive when we tell people about God. Still, it is all too easy to get comfortable with a God who we think we "understand", but any God we could comprehend is absolutely too small.

It is good to have a Sunday when we think about how absolutely unspeakably wonderful is our great God. We shut ourselves off from unspeakable wonder and grace when we think we have arrived at any stage of our journey into the wonder of knowing God.

Make no mistake about it- I believe we know God! But then I remember Reuben. Once I heard him say, "I know Jesus!" But then he went on to say, "But sometimes, I feel like I hardly know Him at all!"

I. A HIGH VIEW OF GOD IS ESSENTIAL TO TRUE SELF DISCOVERY

What we think of God- how we relate to Him- the quality of our heart's worship will determine the measure of our soul here and our soul satisfaction in eternity.

People are lost until they get a glimpse of the glory of God, and then begin to realize that we are made for that glory!

II. THE BIBLE REVEALS A GOD OF MYSTERY, MAJESTY, AND MERCY

Mystery! But mystery which has revealed enough of itself to let us know that at its essence it is GOOD, and that it LOVES us! Mystery that defies comprehensive analysis, and yet is more real than the four dimensions we experience with our five senses. The mystery of God is not irrational or illogical. It simply goes past the highest and the best we can see. Faith is always heuristic. I feel sorry for those who have explained every dimension of their salvation.

- Mystery! I remember sitting in church on a Sunday morning hearing the good pastor say how God told someone (it was Moses) that his name is I AM THAT I AM. Even as a little kid I thought that was strange, a strange name. But in more than sixty years since, I have yet to get to the bottom of that name. Our God is the great I AM!

Mystery! We begin to discover who WE are as we learn to relate to the true Reality, the great I AM.

- Majesty! Authority to go along with the glory! True dignity and worth! The Risen Savior is the glimpse we have into the life we will share with God; a life that has already begun if we will only begin to recognize it.

I'm an incurable romantic. I love a parade. I have been deeply moved in some of the great cathedrals people built 1,000 years ago to the glory of God. But most of man's majesty is empty. Most of our parades don't go anywhere, really.

But our God has a majesty and glory which one day all the world will see. He has the authority to go along with the pomp and circumstance.

- Mercy! I have tried in a few sentences to express how beyond our comprehension God is great. But maybe the most difficult part of thinking of the Trinity is the fact that God is not only great and good, but that this Universe-filling God knows me and loves me. He knows YOU, too. God knows us, and not just how we are here on Sunday, but every good and bad thing we've ever done. And yet I say with deep conviction: GOD, THIS GREAT GOD, LOVES YOU!

Not 'God will love you if you jump through some hoops' or 'God will love you when you get your act together.' God loves YOU just as you are, right now!

He may not love all the ways we come short. He cannot love rebellion and willful sin. But still his mercy is there.

III. HOW DO WE BEST DRAW NEAR TO THIS GREAT GOD?

We don't- at least we don't find God. He already is close to us; He finds US!

SOMETIMES WHEN GOD IS TALKING, SO AM I! MAYBE I NEED TO LEARN TO LISTEN!

We need to learn to listen. In his great love this Mysterious, Majestic, Merciful God has already made overtures to every one of us. Because he has first loved us, we are enabled by grace to respond to HIM.

CLOSING STORY:

A professor at a great university began a key course with a lecture in which he brought out a large jar and set it on the lab table at the front of the lecture hall. He reached under the desk and pulled out several large rocks that just barely fit through the mouth of the jar and placed them together until they filled the jar.

"Is the jar full?" he asked. "How many think so?"

A few raised their hands. The rest didn't know where he was going, so they waited. The professor then got out a dish of smaller stones and he dropped them in and shook the jar until the empty spaces around the larger rocks were pretty much filled. "Is the jar full now?" he asked. "Do you think so now?"

A couple more raised their hands, but the rest thought there might be a trick so they waited.

Out came a few cans of dry white sand. In a little while with some help from a couple on the front row the professor had filled in every crevice, and the stones were pretty much hidden. "How about now?" asked the prof. "Is it full?"

The students were pretty sure this was it. But before they could answer the prof reached for the hose at the sink and began to fill the jar filled with rocks and sand with water. "Is it full now?"

Now they weren't sure. But the prof said, "I could get some more stuff in chemically, but that will do. It is pretty full now. So- what have you learned from this exercise? "

Thoughts of how to cram the very most facts in the least time into their limited heads passed through their thinking. How to be the most economical of space and time. But the professor surprised them all when he told them:

"You have to put the big rocks in first!" Conclusion

You cannot simply add God in to your ideas and plans. Believe me, He is FOR you! But He has to come in on the ground floor!! We cannot CASUALLY enter into intimate relations with this great I AM THAT I AM.

We CAN know Him! We can become friends with HIM. We can learn to talk with Him and know His loving responses. GOD IS GOOD! GOD LOVES YOU! Prayer:

The Assurance of Salvation

GOD IS GOOD! GOD LOVES YOU!

June 2, 2002 - Community Chapel, Nashua, New Hampshire

Matthew 7:21-29

One thing that marked the beginnings of the Methodist revival in England, and later here in America, was the message that WE CAN BE SAVED, and that WE CAN KNOW THAT WE ARE SAVED. 250 years later I wonder how important we think that certainty is? 'Everyone' knows what it means to be saved. Do YOU know that YOU are saved? HOW do you know?

Sometimes people put the bar way too low. They say, "Oh, God is too good and merciful to ever send anyone to hell!" And so they adopt a tacit universalism. Others say "Except you dot your 'i' and cross your 't' exactly as WE do, you will be damned!" They show the world an unholy exclusionism.

The Bible makes it plain that God is interested in saving everyone. IT IS HARDER TO BE DAMNED THAN SOME PEOPLE MAY THINK. The Bible says, "Whosoever will may come!" The Bible says, "If you confess with your mouth and believe with your heart you shall be SAVED!" (Romans 10:9-10) I believe that!

As we come to the table of the Lord today to celebrate our salvation I would lift out three figures of salvation that the scriptures use to help us in our assurance.

1. One is the figure of the Ark of safety; the story of Noah.
2. A second is the figure of a journey; the Savior's call that echoes down the centuries: "Come! Take up your cross! Follow Me!" wherever it takes us.
3. A third paradigm is salvation as a HOME that is built or being built on a solid Rock.

I. SALVATION AS AN ARK OF SAFETY

This is the lesson of Noah. An evil generation is doomed. Only a few are saved. Salvation is entering into an Ark where God Himself shuts the door. Either you are

"IN" the Ark, or you are "OUT."

There are a few problems making this figure stand for all that salvation means. It is a "static" salvation; it is salvation, as it were, in a "box." I do believe salvation is freely offered to all. Entering is not hard (Romans 10:9,10 !) But is that all there is, really, to this life in Christ?

Also- who built the Ark? GOD didn't build it! He gave the plans to Noah, but God didn't drive a nail or saw a board. Maybe, just maybe, the ARK is the figure of the TRUE CHURCH- the Body of Christ. Jesus IS building His church with the help of His Body here on earth!

II. SALVATION AS A JOURNEY WITH JESUS

"If anyone would come after Me, let him . . . follow Me!" Here is a call to leave all and follow Jesus. Our Reformed and Calvinist brothers and sisters (and they ARE brothers and sisters!!) think we are preaching salvation by "works" here, perhaps. But I am more interested in getting right what Jesus said than in interpretations of static and passive salvation.

The journey can get rough. The going can get hard. Storms WILL come. You can count on it. Abraham will be asked whether he loves God or Isaac more. And so will every one of us. But when we cry to the Lord in the storm, you can be sure HE HEARS EVERY CRY!

As we come to the Table this morning, WHEREVER YOU ARE ON YOUR SPIRITUAL JOURNEY, CRY OUT TO JESUS! He hears every cry! You can be assured that He is with you. This is not a static, dead thing: it is DYNAMIC, ON-GOING TRUST!

III. SALVATION AS A HOME (BEING) BUILT ON A ROCK

Matthew 7:21-29

Jesus didn't preach CHEAP grace. Salvation IS free. But Jesus made it clear (as He closed the Sermon on the Mount) that our lives would be consistent with our confession of faith. We are NOT saved by "being good."

By the same token we are NOT damned and cut off when we stumble and sin unless we rebel and continue in rebellion.

But we ARE saved finally and eternally as we trust Jesus enough to build a life day-by-day in obedience and trust whether we feel like it or not.

A workman went to his big boss one day and said, "I'm tired. I think I'll hang it up—take my retirement benefits and get in a hammock. It's been great working for you."

The big boss looked disappointed, and he said, "I really hate to see you go. I was hoping you could do at least one more big job for me. Will you, just one more?"

Reluctantly the builder agreed to build a house for some important client of the big boss. It was a big house, a lot of work, on a golf course, with a lot of detail.

But the workman's heart wasn't really in it. He threw the house together in record time, and cut corners on material and workmanship whenever he could. He saved the boss a lot of money, but it wasn't really his best work, and he knew it.

Imagine how he felt when he turned the keys over to the big boss, and the boss gave them right back; he fished around in his briefcase and gave him the title and deed to the property on the golf course.

"This is my gift for you," he said. "Thanks for all your good work across the years!"

Then the builder wished he hadn't been in such a hurry. He wished he hadn't cut corners and taken short cuts just to get the job done.

Life is like that. Maybe our assurance of salvation is like that, too. We become the product of our own integrity in following after God. Or our lack of integrity. We become exiles from assurance when we cut corners in our walk with God.

IV. AN INVITATION TO THE TABLE OF THE LORD

We can be saved! And we can KNOW that we are saved!

The Assurance of Salvation

Do YOU know you are saved just now? Are you clear in your heart between yourself and God? Between your heart and your brother or sister? HOW do you know you are right?

- I invite you into the ARK of safety! You are welcome!
- I invite you on a life-journey with Jesus Himself! "Whosoever will may come!"
- I invite you to hear the words of Jesus- and take them seriously enough to BUILD YOUR LIFE ON THE SOLID ROCK!

GOD IS HERE! Right NOW is a good time to ask God to help you draw closer to Him! I don't know about you but I don't want to try to get away with building a "shoddy house" because I know I'm going to have to live in what I build!

WHAT THIS TABLE IS:

Memorial, Promise, best of all PRESENCE!

WHO MAY COME?

You who truly REPENT! What about "back-sliders" "never-been-saved" ??? IF you believe Jesus died for YOU - and IF you WANT to trust Him- YOU COME!

PRAYER

make this a true sacrament - make us able to receive YOU - The Lord's Prayer -

*WORDS

Jesus BROKE the bread- he TOOK the cup- This is my BODY, BLOOD

BENEDICTION

The Risk Takers

June 9, 2002 - Community Chapel, Nashua, New Hampshire

Genesis 12:1-9; Matthew 9:9-13

- A. Once upon a time there was a good man. He had a good family. He had good connections. He was living in a reasonably comfortable manner. He was abreast of the latest technology.

His life was not in crisis. But deep in his heart there was a nagging uncertainty, the question he could not quite put into words. But the question was shaped something like this:

IS THIS ALL THERE IS TO LIFE?

- B. Then one day this good man became aware that Almighty God was talking to him. Just how this awareness came about I cannot tell you. But plain as day, God was saying, "Well as a matter of fact, NO!, this ISN'T all there is to life! And if you are willing and obedient, I will show you exactly what your heart is seeking!"
- C. That day Abraham had a decision to make. He had to decide what was absolutely the most important thing in his life. The way the story goes, God said, "I want you to LEAVE . . . your country, your people, your father's relatives, and above all, I want you to LEAVE your right to try to tell ME what is right and wrong!"
- "I want you to come and walk with Me. And if you do, I promise you I'll bless you beyond anything you can imagine!"

[Right here I want to ask some audacious questions:]

SOME QUESTIONS

1. Does God still call people like He did Abraham? (Does he still promise He can give people exactly what their hearts are seeking?)
2. How can we expect to HEAR God if He wants to speak with us?
3. How can a person respond to God in 2002?

QUESTION NUMBER ONE: DOES GOD CALL?

1. My "professional" answer- my "message" is YES! YES! You would expect a Christian minister to say God calls people. But I am convinced that God calling people is the basic theme of the Bible: "Adam! Where are you?" "Noah!" "Moses!" The EXODUS- right down to Matthew- the Bible's message is:

DARE TO LEAVE THE SELFISH WAYS OF THE GODLESS (Psalm 1) AND STEP OUT ON A JOURNEY OF FAITH WITH ME!

2. I believe my "message" but I want you to know MY PERSONAL ANSWER IS ALSO 'YES! YES! YES!' When I was living selfishly, and out of fellowship with God I am certain that God spoke to ME! Both by LOVE and by FEAR he showed me I needed what only He could give me.

QUESTION NUMBER TWO: HOW MAY WE EXPECT TO HEAR GOD?

1. We have to listen. God can't teach us anything when we think we already know the answer. God can't talk to us if we are ourselves talking.
2. To hear God speak there has to be some element of faith. Of TRUST! We have to come to the point where we say: if I know it is YOU, I will OBEY You! Our human relations have taught us to be careful- to not believe everything we're told; all well and good. But Abraham stepped out with God NOT KNOWING WHERE GOD WAS LEADING- ONLY KNOWING IT WAS GOD THAT WAS DOING THE LEADING.
3. The "common sense" thing would seem to be to say, "Now God, let me see what you have in mind and then I'll say yes or no." But the attitude has to be instead: "God, if we know it is YOU, then we say "Yes!" already!" THAT is an attitude to which God will respond!
4. To hear God speak sometimes we have to go against the current of what is accepted as Christian by many evangelicals. We have to take SELF off the throne, and forget about a Gospel that is JUST interested in SELF-fulfillment. God's way WILL deliver exactly what we are designed for- we are MADE for God, BUT HAPPINESS OR DELIVERANCE OR BECOMING FULLY HUMAN are not the GOALS we seek- they are the BY-

PRODUCTS OF WALKING WITH GOD! There is no greater call than to be a friend of God: that's where Abraham was headed!

5. These interim days are good days for Nashua Community Chapel to be LISTENING! If you LISTEN, if you ASK! If you cry out to God you will find that God has something vital to say.

QUESTION THREE; HOW MAY WE RESPOND WHEN WE HEAR GOD?

1. We have to CHOOSE! We have to decide how important God is to us! Most people seem to want to "add God" into their schedule- and nothing much really happens. But God honors those who step out in faith like Abraham did, who say "I will absolutely obey God when He speaks to me!" ("I'll say YES, LORD, YES!- Earl Lee)
2. Some time ago I opened my Bible to read and get ready to pray. The passage was I Kings 3, and I got as far as verse five (5) where God asks Solomon, who has just been newly crowned king, "Ask Me whatever you want Me to give you!"

I stopped and I thought. Honestly now, what one thing would I ask of God if I knew he would grant me that one thing, and I did not know if he would grant me anything else. WHAT ONE THING IS MOST IMPORTANT TO ME?

First I thought, "Lord, YOU tell me! YOU decide for me!" That sounds very pious, but somehow it didn't let me off the hook. I felt prodded. No- what really IS the most important thing?

I was pleased that I didn't think of big bucks, or a palatial retirement home or material things- at least not "up front." After some reflection I realized that I wanted those things but they were somewhere "way down the list."

I confess I did think of not wanting to come down to old age and find myself helpless, a burden to others. I thought what a pleasure it is to be able to preach and write and teach for years to come. But do you know what I finally decided was most important?

When I was about six years old- this passage from Kings brought back a memory I hadn't thought of for a long time- when I was about six, a little boy evangelist singer traveling almost year round- a store owner- I can still dimly see the store in memory- a sort of hardware or Western Auto-type store with wide aisles- anyway the store owner took us, Mother, dad and me to this store after church one night. He opened the store, turned on the lights, and said to me- maybe six years old- "Now Sonny, you can have any one thing in this store that you want! Whatever you want- you can have one thing!"

I walked up and down the aisles. I looked at bicycles and lawn mowers and garden furniture and clocks and house supplies and car radios, items big and small, expensive and relatively cheap. I never would have such an opportunity again.

I was totally unaware of values, or of what my mother or father might need. This is a true story: I picked up a little wind-up toy, a painted tin car, made in Japan, worth less than a dollar in 1937. I'm not even sure why I remember so well, except I think my father was disappointed I didn't at least pick a bicycle or a scooter. But as I recall I was thinking a big thing wouldn't fit into the car anyway. I could have had any one thing up to many, many times the value of the thing I chose. But that was that. And what would you expect from a six-year-old?

Do you know what I decided was most important?

If we answer God's CALL in any lesser degree than saying from our hearts "I WANT TO BE WHERE YOU ARE! I WANT TO WALK WITH YOU!" then we are like that six-year-old boy in the hardware store. WE WALK OUT WITH STUFF WHEN GOD WANTS US TO HAVE IT ALL!

CLOSING

The Gospel story- the call of Matthew- different century- different circumstances- same God, same call: "Is this all there is to LIFE?" "NO! Come, follow ME!" And Matthew simply got up and followed Jesus!

Once there was a good woman. Her name was Esther. She was in church every Sunday. She was a good church member. But somehow she wasn't satisfied. She had that unspoken question: IS THIS ALL THERE IS TO LIFE?

Honestly I don't know exactly how she heard God say, "No! This ISN'T all there is!" I was her pastor- and her friend. But Esther seemed to say, "All right, Lord!" and as she followed God some rather amazing things happened.

[notes on telephone poles ... meals in front of city hall... Quincy Crisis Center... Mary Martha Learning Center, Hingham... $800,000 annual budget by the time she died (I was with her and her family then)... on-going QCC in her name: Esther Sanger, the 'Mother Teresa of the South Shore'.]

I'm no Esther Sanger, or Matthew, or Abraham. Neither are you. But the faith we follow is more than simply words and rules and little prayers we pray. Until we are walking with God we are missing what God wants us to be even if we are as rich as Bill Gates! And if we ARE really seeking to walk with God we will have everything we need even if we are shipwrecked or in prison or going through a family trauma or whatever!

Thomas Kelly wrote, in a wonderful little book called "A Testament of Devotion": (About God's Way, Thomas Kelly says:) "Its joys are ravishing, its peace profound, its humility the deepest, its power world shaking, its love enveloping, its simplicity that of a trusting child! It is the LIFE and POWER of Jesus of Nazareth.

And Jesus is calling YOU: DO YOU DARE COME WALK WITH ME?

Options before/with PRAYER

#484 - A Covenant Prayer (from John Wesley's Covenant Service)

A Capella Chorus "In My Life, Lord, Be Glorified" ("Your Church")

What Price Peace

GOD IS GOOD! GOD LOVES YOU!

June 23, 2002 - Community Chapel, Nashua, New Hampshire

Background lesson: Genesis 21 (story of Hagar, etc.)

(Galatians 4:6-9;22-24;28-31)

Text: Matthew 10:34-39 (38-39 Paraphrased:) If you do not take up your cross and follow after me you are not worthy of me. If you grasp selfishly after life you will lose it; if you lose your life for my sake you will find it.

The words of Jesus here in Matthew 10 seem somehow different from what we expect to hear from him. They do not seem to be the mission of his life; isn't he the prince of peace? Here he is saying, "I did not come to bring peace, but a sword! The members of one's own household will be divided!"

What can this mean?

Certainly it does NOT mean that Jesus does not bring peace to those who seek him as Lord and Savior. What Jesus is saying is that following him will not be easy. When we start out to follow Jesus and do God's will, count on it, we will be opposed.

THERE ARE MANY EXTERNAL CHALLENGES

Surely many people will say right off: the devil will oppose those who seek to follow Jesus. It is true, there is evil in this world that hates God and seeks to fight God through discouraging his people.

There are people in this world that hate religion, who ridicule and oppose and would persecute where they can. More people have been martyred in the last hundred years for their faith than any other century in history!

There are (even) Christians who let us down, who may betray our confidence— who may turn back. All these external challenges are serious, and real, and can cause pain. But they are to be expected— and by God's grace they can be overcome.

MUCH HARDER TO FACE ARE THE CHALLENGES CLOSER TO HOME

A divided home is always a challenge to faith. When people we love and are bound to by ties of blood and ties of covenant do not share our faith, we have challenges that are harder to face than external challenges. People who love us and whom we love have the power to hurt us the most! Jesus never asks us to "hate" loved ones. That is not what this language means.

A divided home may cause us to have to change course— but we can still seek to follow Jesus, and we can show those closest to us His Spirit of love.

Sometimes that may have to be very tough love. Only the Spirit can give us wisdom to know how to carry forward. Still, the hardest challenge of all is not a divided HOME— but

A DIVIDED HEART IS THE HARDEST CHALLENGE OF ALL!

There is something inside every human being- until it is dealt with scripturally- something that is not willing to trust God and simply obey Him.

IS IT POSSIBLE TO HAVE VICTORY OVER A DIVIDED HEART?

Here is where the ancient story of Abraham 'connects' with us where we are, even in the dawning of the 21st century! I love Abraham because his story is your story and my story— the story of everyone who has ever tried to leave old ways and start following God's will. The New Testament writers used Abraham over and over as a living allegory of the Pilgrim's Progress. It FITS!

Abraham on his pilgrimage of faith faced this opposition Jesus was talking about. He faced external opposition. He struggled in Egypt with enemies of faith— and finally overcame. He struggled with his nephew Lot and was generous and prayerful and he overcame. But the very hardest thing Abraham ever had to do was settling the division in his own heart and mind.

The heart of Abraham's struggle was his love; love for his God, for his sons, for his own ambition.

Maybe you know the story of Abraham and Isaac. That is the famous story. But Abraham had TWO sons. Ishmael was the son of Abraham's own self-assertion. Ishmael represented Abraham's own answer to God's promises. When God finally gave Abraham and Sarah the son of His own promise, Isaac, the other son, the older son— Ishmael began to bully and struggle and compete with Isaac. The conflict really began— Ishmael was strong and older— he bullied Isaac.

This becomes a painful story. Abraham and Sarah sent Hagar and Ishmael away— a cruel thing to do in our 21st century perspective. A very hard thing to do back then. This hard thing represents to us that whatever it costs us, we need to make sure that we do not tolerate a divided heart! We need God's help to help us put away our precious efforts to be righteous on our own— and to simply obey and trust Him. In Galatians 4 the Apostle Paul tells us clearly that our life in Christ is like the gift of a son of promise to Abraham:

(Listen to these verses:)

(Galatians 4:6-9) Because you are God's children, God sent the Spirit of his Son into our hearts, the Spirit who calls out "Abba, father." So you are no longer a slave, but a son; and since you are a son, God has also made you an heir. Formerly when you did not know God, you were slaves to those who by nature are not gods. But now that you know God— or rather are known by God— how is it that you are turning back to those weak and miserable things of the world? Do you want to be enslaved by them again? (21-24) Tell me, you that want to be under the law, are you not aware of what the law says? For it is written that Abraham had two sons, one by the slave woman and the other by the free woman. His son by the slave woman was born in the ordinary way; but his son by the free woman was the result of a promise. These things are an allegory, for the women represent two covenants. (28-31) Now brothers, you, like Isaac, are children of promise; at that time the son born in the ordinary way persecuted the son born by the power of the Spirit. It is the same now. But what does the scripture say? "Get rid of the slave woman and her son, for the slave woman's son will never share in the inheritance with the free woman's son. Therefore brothers (and sisters) we are not children of the slave woman, but of the free woman.

Jesus said the opposition will come. But Jesus also tells us how to find victory and peace. In Abraham's story we know what he had to do. He sent Hagar and Ishmael off into the desert so Isaac could grow up as the child of promise. "Cast out the bond woman and her son!" But in our day and age, what in the world does this mean? How can we end the conflict of a divided heart?

Jesus calls this ending of INNER conflict "taking up our cross." It is a decision to follow Jesus, and make him master over even our own will and desires. Then it is a carrying through with His help, day by day. It is the sincere decision of our heart in covenant to Him: NOT MY WILL, BUT YOURS BE DONE! (Remember #484 in our hymnal! Wesley's Covenant)

Jesus is NOT telling us to be hateful to our parents, or to those in our households that oppose. He IS saying, "Follow ME, whatever it costs!"

Whatever it takes to make an end of our own division— to end that thing within that says, "I will not let anyone, even GOD, tell me what do!"— whatever it takes, we can and must do it! Our own will can be submitted forever to God's will, and we can know peace and freedom on the inside. The external challenges will be with us until we die.

This surrender— this "casting out our own self-assertion"- does not have to be dramatic and emotional. Whatever it may take, by a deliberate surrender, saying to God that AT ANY COST He can have us for time and eternity— our hearts will be opened to the Spirit in a new and fresh way that can and will set us free from the law of sin and death. (Romans 8:1,2)

There is an eternal "YES!" that can be said to God's will that changes forever how we approach the future. We have many little "yeses" that will follow. But the great decision can and must be made!

Does it mean an end to temptation? No— of course not. Does it mean we can never fall into sin? No— I wish it did mean that.. but we are still free moral agents. But if with all your heart you ask God for the grace to cast out the self-seeking, self-righteous way— God will meet you in a new fresh way with His Spirit.

When we get to heaven surely we will be free from the tyranny of sin. But to be free here and now-is that possible?

English pastor Spurgeon used an illustration of a wealthy American woman who brought her "servant" aboard a British ship anchored off the port in which she lived. (Servant = slave!) The rich lady made the observation that if she sailed to Britain, and the servant went ashore on British soil, she would be "free." But the captain said, "She was a free woman the moment she walked on this deck!" And the black woman refused to go ashore with the woman that had been her mistress. She sailed to England a free woman!

When we step aboard with Jesus, under HIS flag- the cross- we are free to live for HIM! The struggle is not for us to try to be free- to be holy. No, the struggle is to BELONG, wholly, without reservation to Jesus. What belongs to HIM is holy! He will see to it that we are free!

This is what we call "Sanctification! Entire sanctification" — entire— because it holds nothing back!

But it is not finished, ever! it is a total surrender of self—

PLUS asking for all God's fullness! Have YOU surrendered your SELF for time and eternity?

Prayer

#33

Three Ways to Worship

July 7, 2002 - Community Chapel, Nashua, New Hampshire

John 4:4-26

She lived on a dead end street. I don't mean one of those nice cul-de-sac dead end streets where kids can play in safety. I mean dead end like the end of the line. Like no-where. Like no hope.

She had been married and divorced five times. She was living with a man she hadn't bothered to get married to. Whatever the reasons, her fault or not, this is the story of a tragic life.

This is also a great, great story. It is a wonderful chapter in John's Gospel. This is the longest conversation ever recorded of Jesus one-on-one with an individual, and he said some tremendous, life-changing, deep, profound things. He said them to ONE person. That person was a Samaritan. Samaritans and Jews did not ordinarily speak. She was a woman. Jewish men did not speak to women that they did not know.

But Jesus spoke to the Samaritan woman on her dead end street, and something like joy was kindled down deep in her heart. Something like hope began to bubble up. Faith was born. She had met Messiah, and her life was changed forever. And so was an entire village.

That part of the story- how Jesus changed a dead end street into a highway of hope- is wonderful and could be a lifetime of study in and of itself. Wherever we are on our spiritual journey Jesus is not very far away and he has hope for you.

But just now I want to lift out a little comment that Jesus made to this lady when it seemed as though she was dodging the line of questioning he had started. After asking for a drink, and then telling her he had living water, Jesus told her to go call her husband. When she said she didn't have a husband Jesus said, "That's the truth- you don't have ONE- you have had FIVE- and the one you're living with now ISN'T..."

Three Ways to Worship

So our dead end street lady said, sort of out of the blue: 'WHAT IS THE PROPER WAY TO WORSHIP?'

"We Samaritans worship under these mountain peaks- You Jews say we need to come to Jerusalem. WHO IS RIGHT?" [And we think the 'worship wars' are something new!]

Jesus surprised her. He said, "Well, there are three ways to worship. Three ways that sincere people try to connect with Almighty God."

He said, "You Samaritans worship what you do not understand" (THAT'S ONE) We Jews worship what we DO know. We have Torah. We have David's Psalms. We have the Prophets. God has given us scripture. Informed worship. We KNOW what we worship. (THAT'S TWO)

But then Jesus went on to add "There is a third and better way for us all to come to the Father. The time is coming, and as a matter of fact, it has now come, when true worshippers will worship the Father in Spirit and in Truth. (THAT'S THREE)

THREE WAYS TO WORSHIP! Look at them again with me. This lesson isn't in the Bible just to be read as history. Jesus outlines how people worship God to this very day! This is deep. This is profound. But you know, even I can begin to understand it! To this day there is UNINFORMED, OR IGNORANT WORSHIP.

Good, sincere, even sacrificing people who do religious things, and if you ask them why they couldn't give a good reason. "My mother always did it this way." "All good Nazarene (read Catholic, Baptist, Irish, left-handed people) have always done it this way. To this day there is INFORMED, INTELLIGENT WORSHIP BASED ON BIBLE REVELATION.

"God said it, I believe it, that settles it!" "Don't you know what the Good Book says? Thou shalt! Thou shalt not!"

Believe me, this is miles better than no reason at all. If people only lived by the Book we could save a lot of money on jails and store security people. But God is still looking for a higher form of worship. [I'm not talking worship STYLE here- not "high church/low church/ contemporary/traditional"-not at all!]

To this day GOD IS LOOKING FOR VITAL, SPIRITUAL WORSHIP THAT COMES FROM A LIVING, BREATHING RELATIONSHIP WITH GOD. This is a little harder to describe, maybe. But something like, well, you know God spoke to me one day. (Really?) Yes, He told me I was lost but that He loved me. He forgave my sins. He walks with me day by day. I actually LOVE God! I honestly believe he loves even ME! Right now! Wow!" THREE WAYS TO WORSHIP - How do YOU worship? Would you believe that in every church, to this very day, there are all three ways represented?

- ARE THERE IGNORANT WORSHIPERS HERE? (Hint- "ignorant" doesn't mean stupid) Not in OUR church, surely! How about the children? They don't know the scriptures yet but they can and do worship. They can and do get introduced to God. "Jesus loves me, this I know!"
- ARE THERE INTELLIGENT WORSHIPERS HERE? Informed, by-the-Book Christians? That is the way I was raised. It isn't bad- it is good! BUT, informed needs to move on to "spiritual" or it can and will become LEGALISTIC. Some of the meanest, nastiest people you will ever meet know the scripture inside and out and can beat you to death with it if you don't watch out.
- ARE THERE SPIRITUAL WORSHIPERS HERE? I would certainly hope so. People who let God into every nook and cranny of their lives. People who actually pray between Sundays!

But how about YOU? How about ME? I'm thinking there can be a little of all three ways in me all at once!

I may do some religious things for no other reason than it has always been done that way and it certainly feels good and religious when I do it. That doesn't mean it is bad. It just means I do it because my godly mother did it, or my beloved pastor did it. She was (probably) right. But don't ask me to back it up with scripture. (Illus: Dr J. Fred Shields an the Red Sox vs. my 'conviction' about baseball)

Three Ways to Worship

I may do other things, good things, for the good reason that I know what the Bible says, and I know the rules and regulations of my church and believe they are good and right. I respect what I call "corporate conscience." That is a good reason!

But where our lives are changed and we meet with God is when that wonderful third way happens! LOVE! We see how much God loves us! We are able to at least in some small way return that love!

We begin to see God as a loving heavenly Father who loved us enough to give his Son. We begin to see Jesus as loving and caring and praying for us NOW, and not just a dim figure who lived 2,000 years ago. We respond to His Spirit and we find we are loved and able to return love. That is what Jesus was talking about that day to one Samaritan woman at the well by Sychar.

To one woman. And that one woman got so excited she left her water pot and trotted off in the heat to the village shouting, "Come and see! Messiah is here! He talks to Samaritans! He even talks to women!"

Three ways to worship- and God is always challenging us to do it on that highest level! That highest way can become a LIFESTYLE. It can celebrate a PRESENCE! Prayer - into communion (May the Mind of Christ my Savior live in . . .)

Why Jesus Came

December 15, 2002 - Community Chapel, Nashua, New Hampshire

John 10:9-11

"I have come so that YOU may have life, and might have it more abundantly"

Introduction

I am this day 72 years old. I celebrate my birthday with you. The older I get the message I speak becomes more simple. It has come down to just two words: GOD IS GOOD! And GOD LOVES YOU! Everything I say simply tries to explain those two sayings.

EVERYBODY WANTS A GOOD LIFE.

We have different thoughts on what makes life good. I have 14 grandchildren. Sometimes I think what they do for fun is more like insanity. Loud music. Video games. But then I am 72 years old, and maybe my ways are old. But all the same there ARE some things that finally all would agree make life good.

There is PEACE. There is JOY. There is LOVE.

Through the centuries men everywhere have looked for peace and love and joy. They have sought for good life in many places. Sincere wise men have discovered many deep and wise truth. But something always has seemed to be missing.

In the Bible we have the Ten Commandments of Moses, and the words of the prophets. (Thou shalt have no other gods. Thou shalt not kill. Honor your father and mother. Thou shalt not steal. And so forth.) Some people think of God's commandments as simply ways to make us more miserable, saying "No" to everything that seems like fun. Maybe like I feel sometimes about my grandchildren? But even in the commandments, God is trying to say "I love you." How can Ten Commandments that mostly say "Thou shalt not" have anything to do with "I love you!" from God?

Why Jesus Came

Let me tell you a short parable story: (The village that was cursed with land mines.)

Once in a faraway land there was a village that was cursed because an enemy had planted explosives, land mines, all around the countryside. People were being injured and even killed almost every day. They did not know what to do.

Then one night the village elder had a dream. In his dream he saw a map of his village. On that map he could see the location of every enemy land mine.

Quickly he rose up from his sleep and wrote down what he had dreamed. It was true! Now he knew where the bombs were planted. So he called his village together. He showed them the map. They were all very happy and thankful. Now they knew where NOT to go. They didn't need to be killed that way any more.

And that is something like what the Commandments of God are like. They are there to help us see where the "land mines of life" are.

But do you know what?

EVEN THE TEN COMMANDMENTS CANNOT BRING LOVE, PEACE, JOY

As true as the Ten Commandments are, or as true as all the good wisdom of wise men of the ages may be, they still cannot really bring peace and joy and love. Even with a "map" people cannot resist temptation to go away from the way of Life.

God saw that a "map" was not quite enough. The Bible is absolutely true, and it is God's holy Word. But the Bible cannot by itself bring life. So God sent One to walk with us through the minefields of life. Jesus is God's gift to each one of us who will receive Him. By his Spirit Jesus comes not only to say "God is GOOD!" but to say to each one of us "God loves YOU!" He says "I know you!" I will walk with you through the minefields of this life.

Look at these words of scripture again:

I AM THE DOOR.

Jesus, Himself, is the entrance into a way of life that is forgiveness of all our sins. That is PEACE.

He is entrance into A FELLOWSHIP OF FAITH, for all who go through this Door become FAMILY. That is JOY.

Jesus brings us into HARMONY AND FELLOWSHIP WITH GOD the Father. We have a new LIFE that is eternal. It never ends. That life is LOVE. That is what we are created for!

Jesus is more than just a DOOR, he stays on to be our GOOD SHEPHERD.

I AM THE GOOD SHEPHERD

That is what Christmas is about- GOD IS GOOD! GOD LOVES YOU! To enter the door does not mean we know all the answers to life. We do not even know all the QUESTIONS. But it does mean that from now on, we do have One who will walk with us. If we stay near Him he will help us through the minefields of life. And we will know PEACE, AND JOY, AND LOVE.

Prayer:

The Hospitality of Jesus

(Outline.)

September 5, 2004 - John Wesley united Methodist Church, Falmouth, Massachusetts

Luke 14

A leader of the Pharisees invited Jesus to dinner. It was NOT because he wanted Jesus' company for fellowship. Jesus was "watched intently." This was a fault-finding expedition.

Have you ever gotten into an awkward social situation?

But Jesus was watching them, too. There they were, jockeying for position. He also saw something, someone, they did not see. He saw a man that needed help.

He asked them, do I keep your rules, or do I heal this man on the Sabbath. (He was NOT "breaking" the Sabbath!)

I. JESUS EXPOSED THE INSINCERITY OF SOCIAL CONNECTIONS BUILT ON APPEARANCE RATHER THAN SUBSTANCE

When people say what they think other people want to hear . . .when they don't dare to be who they really are . . . they are NOT reflecting the simple love of Jesus! God's people seek to speak the truth in love.

II. JESUS SHOWED THAT HOSPITALITY IS A HANDS-ON ATTITUDE, RATHER THAN A "LONG-DISTANCE" IDEA

Hospitality is having room in our heart for another.

WHAT GOES ON INSIDE A CHURCH IS OFTEN THE KEY TO WHAT WILL HAPPEN OUTSIDE!

III. AT THE LORD'S TABLE WE ARE HIS GUESTS, RECEIVING HIS HOSPITALITY

We take our place at the family table, and share the family's meal.

IV. BUT SOMETIMES, AS THE LORD'S FAMILY, WE HAVE THE PRIVILEGE OF INVITING OTHERS TO COME INTO THE HOSPITALITY

WHEN WE ARE INVITING OTHERS to Christ's banquet Jesus says our motives must be meeting THEIR NEEDS, and not simply making OUR church bigger. Jesus saw a man who had a need while all the others seemed to be looking for the best seat. Listen to a part of the Epistle lesson again, from The Message:

"Stay on good terms with each other, held together by love. Be ready with a meal or a bed when it's needed. Why, some have extended hospitality to angels without even knowing it! Regard prisoners as if you were in prison with them. Look on victims of abuse as if what happened to them had happened to you. Honor marriage, and guard the sacredness of sexual intimacy between wife and husband. God draws a firm line against casual and illicit sex.

Don't be obsessed with getting more material things. be relaxed with what you have. Since God assured us, "I'll never let you down, never walk off and leave you," we can boldly quote, "God is there, ready to help; I'm fearless no matter what. Who or what can get to me?" (Hebrews 13: 1 - 5)

IV. JESUS DEMONSTRATES HIS HOSPITALITY HERE AT HIS TABLE THIS MORNING: HE HAS INVITED ALL WHO WILL TO COME, TO PARTAKE.

The hospitality Jesus expects of us is simply a reflection of the kind of hospitality He extends to us as He invites us to His table. Jesus does not exclude those of us who are weak, or sinful, or imperfect in our service. He does not invite those who can afford to pay their own way. He calls to you and to me.

Will you come if he asks you? Will you try to be more like Him?

Where is God in the Dark Night of the Soul

September 9, 2004

Sooner or later, just about every believer faces some crisis of life that becomes a personal dark night of the soul. What may begin as a normal reaction to loss or change may take on what seem to be spiritual dimensions. Days, weeks, even months may go by with no sense of blessing. When prayer and worship become blocked and meaningless, and when that emptiness continues and continues with seemingly no end in sight, we may be in one of life's supreme tests. We wonder what has happened. Where is God?

The dark night of the soul is not a fun place to be. We've all had our ups and downs. Mood swings are more or less normal. They come to us all. We feel lousy, but we try to soldier on. We wait for the clouds to pass, and they may tarry, but pass they do. The dark night of the soul is something else. The lights go out. The screens go black. The lines are dead. God is not answering his phone. And as hard as we look, there is no light at the end of the tunnel. Where is God now? Where can we look for answers? How do we articulate the questions? Are there any points of reference? Where are the life-lines?

Let me begin by distilling all the years of my pastoral perspective into two short statements: God is good. God loves you. I really believe that. The dark night of the soul will pass! You may not see the light at the end of the tunnel. But believe me, the dark night of the soul comes to the believer with God's permissive knowledge, and though at the time unseen, with his support of his child in the furnace. You won't feel it. You certainly will be tempted not to believe it, but God knows, and God cares. With God's help you can hold steady in the darkness.

There are no quick fixes, or cheap solutions, but there are sources of strength to which we may turn. The fellowship of God's people can be a vital support. As Reuben Welch said by the title of his book a few years back, We Really Do Need each Other. When the usual avenues of prayer seem to have dried up, take the advice of someone who has 'been there, done that,' and don't add the burden of guilt to the load. There are things we can do to sustain and strengthen us as we wait for the dawn. A trusted counselor may be of great help. Perhaps the resource most likely to reach us will be the written Word.

Where is God in the Dark Night of the Soul

An old country pastor was asked for a promise from the Bible to use in tough times. He said, "My favorite verse is, 'It came to pass!' And pass it will. But in addition to his sage advice, and keeping in mind that there are many promises the Holy Spirit can use for healing, I would recommend two passages from the scriptures in this attempt to answer the question, "Where is God in the dark night of the soul?"

The first scripture passage with great life-lines is the story of Job. Job's story is the premier handbook on the believer's dark night of the soul. Take hold of the Book of Job as best you can. It is not a simple book. Crises of faith are never simple. But there are some life lines in Job's story that can be grasped and trusted.

Careful! Not all of the apparently profound statements in the Book of Job are to be taken at face value. Job's story is given in the form of a drama, and the different characters voice opinions and would-be solutions. Look and listen to how Job faced his profound darkness.

Job resisted simply giving up. He refused to play the blame game. He said, "The Lord has given, and the Lord has taken away. Blessed be the name of the Lord!" (Job 1:21) Even when his wife told him to curse God and die, his reply was, "Don't be foolish!" And later in his agony, he said, "Even if God should kill me, yet I will believe He is good; I trust Him!" (paraphrase of 13:15)

Job cried out to God in prayer and told Him how he felt. "I don't know where You are! I'd like to present my case in person!" (paraphrase of 23:3,4) He prayed "Show me why I'm going through this!" (paraphrase of 10:2) But even when Job couldn't find God anywhere, he determined to hold his faith. "God knows where I am," was his testimony. "When this test is over I will come forth as gold." (23:10)

Some of the most sublime words in all scripture are Job's testimony in his darkest hour, "I know that my redeemer liveth, and that He shall stand upon the earth in the latter days. And though worms destroy my body, yet in my flesh shall I see God, whom mine eyes shall behold, and not another!" (19:25-27 KJV)

At the end of the drama none of the characters, including Job, had it all figured out! The "why" of it all was a mystery to the humans involved, and remained a mystery. Job and his counselors thought they needed "answers." They tried to analyze and diagnose and prescribe. But at the end of the story when God breaks in and speaks Job is satisfied! God never explained, and Job didn't ask. What Job needed, and what we need in soul darkness, is for God to move in with that unmistakable, powerful Presence. Just to KNOW God knows, and cares, and that He is with us brings an end to both the question, and to the dark night itself.

Job's story makes it plain that the dark night of the soul is not an indication of God's displeasure. God permits these times, but God does not bring them about as punishment. There is absolutely no indication that Job's trial came because he had broken God's laws. Quite the contrary. Satan was permitted to use terrible circumstances to attack Job's relationship with God. He was unsuccessful.

Circumstances may trigger spiritual darkness in the believer's life. Severe illness, loss, a heart attack may bring us to feel God's absence. Circumstances come to all. They do not prove anything bad or good about our walk with God. If we have sinned God is faithful to show us exactly where, and is faithful and just to forgive us as we confess. The dark night of the soul is not so easily understood.

Job's story is a window on the place of friends and counselors in the times of darkness. Job's 'comforters' were a sorry lot. As long as they just kept him company and kept quiet they were probably some help. But then came the great words of 'profound wisdom', usually ending with a diagnosis of guilt! And sure enough, it will be very easy to find some modern relatives of Job's comforters who will very kindly give advice. Often that advice is some form of "you get what you deserve" or, in other words, "Your fault! Snap out of it!" But remember, the dark night of the soul is not an indication of God's displeasure, nor of judgment for sin.

Where is God in the Dark Night of the Soul

One important but mysterious lesson from Job is this: we don't know how our holding steady may bring honor to God. In the scriptural account, Job never knew about how proud God was of him, how God valued Job's relationship with Himself. Job never knew that he was proving to heavenly beings the question that Satan asked: "Does your servant Job serve You because he loves you, or just for what he gets out of it?" (my paraphrase of Job 1:9)

In Ephesians Paul hints that just maybe this sort of cosmic testimony is still going on: "...the manifold wisdom of God might be made known by the church to the principalities and powers in the heavenly places." (Ephesians 3:10 KJV) A careful reading of this passage would seem to indicate that whenever the God's people are faithful in trial, God's wisdom is being manifested in realms beyond our human understanding. When you and I as members of the Body of Christ hold steady in our dark night of the soul, and prove that God is good and faithful, then Job's faithful testimony is presented again, and again. In the dark night of the soul God is watching, with love. And Jesus is at the right hand of the throne of God where He is praying for you.

The second scripture passage is Hebrews 12:1 -3, and the Passion, Ascension, and Session of Jesus that it invokes. Remember who and what Jesus said He IS: the Good Shepherd, the Way, the Truth, the Life, The Light of the World. Listen again to His invitations: "Come unto Me! Find rest! Him that cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out!" But above and beyond even that, in your dark night of the soul, take hold of the Passion and Session of Jesus. The Passion is what Jesus did for us; he endured the cross, and despised the shame so that He can be the author and the finisher of our faith. Then Jesus Ascended to the Father, where He is in Session. The Session is what Jesus is doing now for us: making intercession, praying for each of us. (Romans 8:34) The Passion and Session of Jesus are a strong life-line.

Hebrews 12:1-4 has proved a powerful, practical help to me. In this passage we are reminded that 1) Jesus is the Author and Finisher of our faith. What he has begun he is capable of completing. 2) Jesus knows the darkness. He endured the dark night of the soul himself. In the Garden of Gethsemane Jesus prayed alone. On the cross he cried, "My God, why?" 3) Jesus triumphed, not only for Himself, but for you. He is in Session! He is now seated at the right hand of the throne of God where he is making intercession for those of us who by faith are following after him.

"Consider Him who endured...lest you be discouraged!" (Hebrews 12:3 NKJV) The writer of Hebrews urges us in the dark night of our own soul agony to look to Jesus, and trust that He knows and cares what we are going through, and to hold steady regardless of how strong the winds are blowing and how pitch dark the night.

In looking to the scriptures, to the example of Job, and above all, to Jesus Himself for guidance in our darkness, there are some very practical measures we can determine to take. We can determine to hold steady no matter how we feel! The dark night of the soul is a poor place to think about quitting. No one gets off the train when it is halfway through the tunnel! Take courage and do what you are able to defy the darkness and affirm your praise of God even in that darkness!

In addition to the purely spiritual dimensions of finding an answer to the question, "Where is God in the dark night of the soul?" let an old pastor offer some personal, practical advice:

DO get physically tired. A wise medical doctor once told me "It is almost impossible to have tired thigh muscles and maintain a high level of anxiety." I know dark night of the soul is not exactly the same as mental and emotional depression, but emotional depression almost always is part of the package, and needs to be addressed. Mental exhaustion is real exhaustion, but getting the muscles tired to match the mental and emotional stress can bring about a more healthy sort of tiredness that enables sleep to "knit up the raveled sleeve of care," with apologies to William Shakespeare. DON'T over-extend or tire yourself schedule-wise. Leave extra time for a nap AFTER a long walk, jog, or reasonable exercise.

When the rugged prophet Elijah lay under a juniper tree physically exhausted and emotionally drained and spiritually feeling isolated he certainly experienced a dark night of the soul. God's prescription was sleep. He was already physically tired. When he woke, an angel had prepared a light lunch, and then, more sleep. Then Elijah was ready to wait for the still small voice.

Where is God in the Dark Night of the Soul

DO find a compatible prayer group to join. Your pastor may be the one to guide you into a small group support setting. DON'T isolate or shut yourself away from friends and family. But by the same token, be very selective in sharing your heart. You don't need Job's comforters. A good Christian counselor can sometimes help point to that light at the end of the tunnel.

DO tell God how you feel. He can handle your feelings, but remember He is on your side whether you believe it at the time or not, so remember He will have the last Word! DON'T worry if and when your prayers are difficult or impossible. One thing is certain; we've said it before: the dark night of the soul will not last forever.

Let me close with a final thought that is so simple it just might prove a help. Remember that between Psalm 22 and Psalm 24 is Psalm 23. Now isn't that profound! But Psalm 22 is the dark night of the soul! It begins with the words of David that became the cry from the Cross: "My God, My God, why have You forsaken me?" But Psalm 24, just one short chapter away, begins with a magnificent shout of assurance: "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof!" David is saying "All's right with the world! Living is great!" It seems a long way from Psalm 22 to Psalm 24, emotionally and in terms of assurance. Maybe it is just a coincidence, but isn't it interesting that in between Psalm 22 and Psalm 24 there it is- Psalm 23!!

The way from darkness of soul to full assurance is in the personal Presence of the Shepherd of the soul. Sixteen times in those six short verses that we all know by heart, David uses the personal pronoun to affirm that "the Lord is MY shepherd," and that "the Lord restores MY soul!" The way these scriptures are arranged are a reminder that the path from desolation to assurance is in the personal, assuring Presence of the Shepherd.

"The Lord is MY shepherd!" begins the journey from darkness to glory.

Welcome Back! Join the Party!

September 12, 2004 (cf September 13, 1992)

Text Luke 15:1-10

Luke 15:6 "rejoice with me" Luke 15:9 "rejoice with me"

Luke 15:32 "It was right that we should make merry"

Introduction

Anyone knows that this chapter is about being lost and found. We learn a lot about a seeking, caring God from these three brief stories. But there is more to these stories than meets our first glance. It is significant WHY Jesus told these stories— and TO WHOM! These parables are as much about the attitude God's people should have toward those who are lost as they are about salvation itself.

[When Jesus told these stories He was going about His business— doing what He normally did. He and His disciples were taking the kingdom of God into the weekday world. They were expressing their faith outside the temple as well as they faithfully worshiped inside. They were eating with publicans and sinners. And the religious elite, who were always looking for flaws in Jesus, grumbled about it.]

I. THE PEOPLE THAT PROMPTED THESE PARABLES

- A. The people to whom Jesus addressed these stories were learned; especially in the written law; they were scribes and Pharisees— people who literally lived and breathed the Torah.
- B. They were grumblers; or in some translations, they were murmurers— complainers. To "murmur" means a soft, low complaint— a whine— they talked among themselves instead of openly asking Jesus about their concern. And complainers and murmurers and grumblers are basically unhappy people.

Welcome Back! Join the Party!

- C. They were out of touch with the basic work of God in Messiah. This basic work is exactly what Jesus had come to do.

[This basic work of God in Christ— WHAT IS IT? Precisely what the stories were about.]

II. WHY JESUS CAME: RECONCILING THE LOST TO GOD

- A. Jesus came to bring God down to where we live in order that he might bring us up to fellowship with God forever! The whole entire idea of "lost" is being away, separated, out-of-touch with God!
- B. And so— this lesson: "Variations on the theme of lost-ness" Three stories on one theme: being LOST is serious business— God Himself is interested in finding the lost— and all heaven is pleased when the lost is brought back!
- C. Being LOST is something to which we can all relate to some extent: "Have you ever been truly LOST?"

[Illustration: My son Stephen was (at least mis-placed) in the Museum of Natural History in New York City. He was nine years old. For more than an hour— and there was concern on his part and ours: "Where were you?!?"]

1. Lost like a sheep: "All we like sheep.. turned each one to HIS/HER own way! An introduction to THE UNIQUE ISOLATION OF DAMNATION. Hell will be full of isolated individuals wrapped in their unique selfishness... Hell calls out "Do your own thing! Be yourself! Rise above the masses!" The shepherd simply goes after us one by one! See Him seeking... calling.
2. Lost like a coin: "Many of life's forces are 'set' before birth. You are the product of many forces beyond your control: Your IQ... your $$.. your limits... your country of birth... God comes SWEEPING AWAY THE DARKNESS— valuing His image— "Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's" Think about that! Every man, woman, boy, girl is a coin with God's image stamped on it— and Father God is looking for His precious coinage!

3. Lost by deliberate, bull-headed choice! The third "lost" in this chapter is— a lost child! A Prodigal. A lost that must have a response of WILL in order to be found!

- D. The disciples understood what Jesus was about: Jesus was where He was and was doing what He was doing BECAUSE HE LOVED THEM ALL! And He especially was there to bring us all— all lost without Him— to bring us all to God!
- E. But there is another part to this message: ALL THREE STORIES END WITH REJOICING! One measure of our faith is- what makes us really HAPPY!

[These sour intellectuals weren't happy until others could dot the "i" and cross the "t" like they did— and then they didn't have it right— but they couldn't see that Jesus was finding the lost before their very eyes!]

III. WHAT IS THIS PASSAGE SAYING TO YOU AND ME, HERE, NOW??

The "usual" application is vital: God is seeking YOU! God loves YOU! Whether you are lost by carelessness or by (seeming) circumstances— or even by deliberate choice— God still loves you and is seeking you! God is waiting for you to "come home to HIM!"

- A. IT IS TRUE: PEOPLE ARE LOST UNTIL THEY "CONNECT" WITH GOD! They are not lost because they are not keeping your rules or because they are "liberal" or "fundamental" or "educated" or "simple." They are lost if they are living as if God does not matter!

God is always concerned about the lost. He is illuminating, revealing, sweeping the corners; He is calling, carrying, bandaging, forgiving. What God can do in regard to the lost, God does. If we are away from Him, then it is important— absolutely the most important thing in the world— that we be saved! Sheep - coin - son/daughter – God is moving heaven and earth to bring you INTO FELLOWSHIP WITH HIMSELF.

- B. But that is not where this lesson ends.
- C. WE ARE CALLED TO BE LIKE GOD HIMSELF: NEVER GIVING UP ON THE LOST. We ARE God's candle— God's broom— God's under-shepherds— TELLING

Welcome Back! Join the Party!

EVERYONE: "HEY! GOD IS GOOD! HEY! GOD LOVES YOU! " When we cannot go and force people to come, we must be like the Father in the story, praying waiting watching— ready to run down the road and say "Welcome into the FAMILY!"

CONCLUSION

GOD IS ALWAYS LEADING A CELEBRATION OVER THE FOUND! God is a cheerleader, who applauds every sincere effort toward the light— who makes heaven ring with music when anyone takes a step toward faith and God.

OUR HAPPINESS IS COMPLETE WHEN IT IS LIKE GOD'S OWN JOY; IN SEEING THE LOST COME HOME! This chapter just a hint into what God's heart must be— how much God loves YOU and ME— how he spares no effort to locate us— and Jesus loved even the scribes and Pharisees! He was seeking THEM, too!

Prayer: On this Homecoming Sunday thank You for welcoming us into Your House and Home. Help us to be like You- Amen

A Servant Named Shrewd

THE WISE MANAGER

September 19, 2004 - John Wesley United Methodist Church, Falmouth, Massachusetts

Luke 16:1-13

No servant can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other; or else he will be loyal to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon.

This is one difficult scripture! The main character in Jesus' story is a very smart person who is "just a little but" off course. It isn't always easy to detect when you are dealing with a SHREWD character. (Particularly if you are trying to get a good price on a different car!) But the sad fact is that sometimes I think there are remnant of this character lurking inside my own heart and mind! I try sometimes to be SHREWD!

This servant called Shrewd is convinced that faith is real. The only thing is that Shrewd thinks that he is an exception to the rules. In some situations– which he decides upon– it is all right for him to cheat on his Master. To depart from what he knows his Master would want him to be doing.

You have to admit that Shrewd is forward looking. There is nothing wrong with planning for the future. The only problem is that Shrewd's forward look is not FAR enough forward looking. He is thinking about next week and next year. He doesn't think about the fact that he is going to live forever.

Shrewd bargains away from total honesty. Away from keeping faith with the Master. Shrewd says "I'll

- ... put extra into the offering
- ... build a hospital
- ... underwrite a scholarship

A Servant Named Shrewd

- ... certainly a Christian doesn't have to live his whole life in obedience to God.

Shrewd missed the point entirely. Dealing with God is NOT done with a sharp pencil and fine print. Dealing with God is a LOVE BUSINESS!

Is it OK to cheat just a little in our LOVE relationships?

Unfortunately, most people do! Just a little! BUT CHARACTER IS BUILT ON INTEGRITY! (Verse 10) "He who is faithful in what is least is faithful also in much; and he who is unjust in what is least is unjust also in much! "

WE DON'T HAVE TO SERVE GOD WITH PERFECTION. WE DO HAVE TO BE HONEST WITH HIM. WE SERVE GOD BY LOVE, NOT BY SHREWDNESS.

Postscript to sermon, in view of 40 Days of Purpose beginning next Sunday (Sept 26, '04):

Beginning next week in the bulletins will be an insert with questions to be thought about and answered, having to do with the church-wide emphasis on seeking to draw closer to God.

There were questions for this pre-launch Sunday. They were:

1. WHAT DOES GOD WANT? The answer given is: "MY WHOLE LIFE"
God doesn't want what we have– God wants US! He loves US!
2. WHAT DOES IT TAKE? The answer is: "DISCIPLINE" I would put that in my own words by saying pleasing God takes: A deliberate decision to tell God we love Him by our willingness to obey Him.
3. WHY SHOULD I DO IT? The answer is: "THE CROSS" How else can we respond to genuine LOVE? God so LOVED us that he gave his only begotten Son. 2 Corinthians 5: 15 he died for all that those who live should no longer live for themselves, but for him who died for them and was raised again.

Two Kinds of Rich

September 26, 2004

(cf September 27, 1998 (am) #4 in series "Letters to Live By")

1 Timothy 6:6 ...godliness, with contentment

Luke 16:19-31

I. JESUS TELLS A STORY, A STORY OF CONTRASTS

Here in Luke 16 is a story full of contrasts. Jesus has painted a word- picture— a sketch, really— of two men who could hardly have been more different from each other in every way. One had more money than he knew what to do with. The other was poverty-stricken. One evidently had the best in health care. The other had disgusting open sores. One had great parties with the V.I.P.-types over for dinner. The other ate out of the garbage.

While they were alive not many people would have wanted to be Lazarus. After they both died NO one would trade places with the rich man. They were contrasts in their eternal destinies as well.

Why do you suppose Jesus ever told this story? What was He telling us? (Well, actually a story is a story. And you might get a different lesson from the one I get.) I can tell you what I hear Him saying. And I can tell you what Paul told Timothy in Letters to Live By.

Jesus is NOT saying that it is a sin to be rich. Jesus is NOT saying that it is good to be poverty stricken. Jesus IS saying that there are spiritual dimensions in life that go far beyond even extremes like these in the story.

Jesus is also saying— at least I am hearing— that it is not what we have or do not have that ultimately makes us "rich." It sounds impossible, but the truly "rich" are those who have discovered, or are discovering the "contentment factor." This spiritual "contentment" is not a loss of the challenge to grow in every way. It is not a slovenly laziness that believes that "the world owes me a living." It is the sense that even though we are on a journey, and we haven't arrived, yet we are walking with our Father, and we are in the center of His will for NOW!

Jesus is saying that money can't buy LIFE. "You can gain the whole world and still lose your soul !!" Jesus IS saying that hardship and extreme circumstances can't keep a person from eternal life. The angels knew where to find Lazarus. The name "Lazarus" is a clue, I really believe. Lazarus is the Latinized form of the Hebrew Eleazar which means "God is my help", and he is the only character mentioned by name in any of our Lord's parables.

We are pilgrims on a journey. This world is not our final home. Still we can be "at home" while we are on our way home. God is our contentment. "Godliness with contentment is GREAT gain!"

It isn't a sin to have a lot of money. It isn't any fun to be in poverty. But money is NOT the "bottom line" for Christians. There are spiritual dimensions in life that will make us or break us eternally. This is where our "Letters to Live By" lesson from Paul comes in:

II. LOVING ADVICE ACROSS THE GENERATIONS

- A. Paul is very practical. He says: Your attitude toward money will make you or break you! He deals directly with the matter of "riches." But before we look at his advice let me return to a theme from last week. I believe it is important enough to stress one more time. Hear what he says to Timothy, a young man— his "son in the faith": (1 Timothy 6:11) "But you, O man of God!!!"

Paul (the seasoned veteran) addresses Timothy (the "next generation") as "MAN OF GOD!" Paul challenges Timothy to step up and be a full partner in the Body of Christ! Yes, it takes time to develop the gifts and graces God gives each of us. BUT we do not need to be "second-class Christians" even one day! We, you and I, are called to be men and women of God! You are not the church of yesterday if you happen to be retired! You are a vital part of the church right now! You are vital, you are needed! You are a man of God! A woman of God!

You are not the church of tomorrow if you happen to be in school! Your task, your job right now IS SCHOOL! You are to prepare and sharpen your skills. But right now! YOU ARE A MAN OF GOD! YOU ARE A WOMAN OF GOD!

- B. Paul warns: Your attitude toward money will make you or break you! It is very easy to be driven by a financial "bottom line." Here is an often misquoted verse; how many times have you heard MONEY is the root of all evil?? Of course Paul does not say that at all. He says, "The LOVE of money is a root of all kinds of evil." The ambition solely to make money is a trap that feeds selfishness. Money is a wonderful servant, but it is a deadly master. Jesus said, "You cannot serve both God and money."
- C. Then Paul repeats the "call to arms" that we heard last week. Remember then he said "That you might wage a good warfare." Your attitude toward money will make you or break you! Do you recall the weapons he mentioned then? Faith and a good conscience. Here Paul gives two battle commands: [Flee, run away, shun,] AND [pursue, follow, cling to].
- Flee the selfish ambitions of this world: (see 4 - 10)
 - Follow, pursue: righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness.

III. CALLED TO TRUE RICHES

Quality of life is always a spiritual dimension. But we still do not believe it! Proverbs 30:8 says "Give me neither poverty nor riches . . ."

A very wise young pastor and academician named John Piper wrote a book several years ago called "Desiring God: Confessions of a Christian Hedonist." The idea of connecting the words "Christian" and "hedonist" caused some raising of eyebrows. But Piper got his point across: the best and highest satisfactions come from God's blessing of making Himself known to us, his children.

Two Kinds of Rich

The name-it-and-claim-it people set their sights far too low. They are despicable, like the government lottery industries are despicable; they play on the hopes of poor people to suddenly find all their problems solved by winning a sweepstakes.

God does not exist to be our servant, to give us every whim we think we need or want. We are not the center of the spiritual universe. God is at the Center of all Existence. The heavens declare his glory. The angels sing his praises. The Eternal Son of God came to earth saying, "I delight to do Your Will, O God!" When we begin to get this relationship straight and understand the Covenant, we find that as God is our helper (Lazarus, Eleazar) and as we seek to live to His glory we are rich beyond all understanding!

Selfish ambition - to wealth, or to power, or to fame - can never find satisfaction.

Stay the course!

You will find tribulation and challenges and pain whatever course you choose. But if you make it your purpose to walk with God you will find that you have a Companion with you in joy and sorrow.

Conclusion

One day Peter said to Jesus: "Lord, we have left everything to follow You!" Do you remember what Jesus said in reply?"

Jesus had said that it was harder for a worldly-type rich man to enter the kingdom than for a camel to go through the eye of a needle. (See Mark 10) But when Peter said what he said, that he was "poor," Jesus answered:

"Truly, no one leaves anything for me but he receives a hundred-fold back in this life! Yes, there is persecution! There is pain! But you will have family! You will have shelter! You will have what you need! And in the world to come you will live with Me forever!"

Prayer

O God, who declare your almighty power chiefly in showing mercy and pity: Grant us the fullness of your grace, that we, running to obtain your promises, may become partakers of your heavenly treasure; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever.

#707 Freely, Freely

The God Connection

40 Days of Purpose, Week 2, Worship

October 3, 2004 - John Wesley United Methodist Church, Falmouth, Massachusetts

2 Timothy 1:1-7 "Rekindle the faith that is in you" "God did not give us a spirit of fear, but of power, of love, and of a sound mind."

Luke 17:5-10 "Increase our faith!"

THE SCRIPTURE LESSONS FOR TODAY connect powerfully with our "40 days of Purpose" emphasis. Paul tells his son in the faith "REKINDLE THE FAITH THAT IS IN YOU!" The apostles, God's chosen twelve, as Jesus: 'INCREASE OUR FAITH!' That is exactly what we are praying and striving to do with God's help as we march through these 40 days of purpose.

KINDLING faith that we already have- INCREASING faith that we hold precious- and FINDING FAITH IF WE AREN'T SURE- that is what these 40 days are all about.

LAST WEEK WE BEGAN by thinking about how much God loves YOU and ME! We were created for God's pleasure! We were made for fellowship with God- and God wants us to return his love. RETURNING GOD'S LOVE IS THE MOST WONDERFUL, SATISFYING THING HUMAN BEINGS CAN DO!

As we go through this study we will see that there are FIVE basic ways we can bring pleasure to God- and in so doing find utmost fulfillment for our own lives. Those five ways include FELLOWSHIP, and DISCIPLINE (OR GROWING IN GOD'S GRACE), IN FINDING OUR MINISTRY OF SERVICE, AND FINALLY IN SHARING IN GOD'S MISSION FOR THIS WORLD. That is FOUR of the five- but the KEY to all the rest of what we do is what we're talking about this morning is: WORSHIP!

WORSHIP IS THE GOD-CONNECTION THAT MAKES ALL THE OTHER THINGS WE DO COME ALIVE!

That's what I'd like to focus on just now. As we learn to worship better-WE WILL STIR UP OUR FAITH! If we WORSHIP better OUR FAITH WILL INCREASE!

WHAT IS WORSHIP?

I can tell you some things that worship is not!

WORSHIP is NOT simply what is done in church. Not music. Not any performance. Worship IS very rewarding to us but (surprise, surprise!) THAT IS NOT WHAT WORSHIP IS REALLY ABOUT! It is about GOD– not US!

"WORSHIP" is derived in English from "Worth-ship" Ascribing WORTH– giving GLORY– telling GOD we love Him, and appreciate that He loves US WORSHIP IS NOT ONE DENOMINATION'S OR ONE brand of theology's 'WAY' OF COMING TO GOD.!

WORSHIP IS RETURNING LOVE TO GOD!

WORSHIP IS ... MORE THAN I CAN TELL YOU BUT LET ME TRY:

- "Worship is to quicken the conscience by the holiness of God, to feed the imagination by the beauty of God, to open the heart to the love of God, to devote the will to the purpose of God" - Archbishop William Temple
- "Worship is our human side of a mutual fellowship with the Almighty." - RFM
- Worship is being aware of God, and responding to that awareness in love and obedience with the totality of living, reflecting God's glory from every facet of the personality." - RFM

WORSHIP IS BEING WHO YOU REALLY ARE– AND GOD LOVES OUR DIFFERENCES:
(Gary Thomas lists 9 ways people draw near to God:

- Naturalists - inspired by out-of-doors, nature
- Sensates - love God with their senses and appreciate beautiful worship and music and all the senses, not just hearing
- Traditionalists - appreciate liturgies, traditions, unchanging structures (that's me!)
- Ascetics - approach God in solitude and simplicity
- Activists - confront evil, battle injustice, work to make the world a better place

- Caregivers - approach God by meeting other people's needs, caring (Mabel!, others)
- Enthusiasts - want to celebrate! The more exciting the better!
- Contemplatives - love God through adoration
- Intellectuals - love God by studying with their minds

The best way I can describe what I understand WORSHIP to be is to say it is the highest, most fulfilling, most challenging kind of LOVE RELATIONSHIP you will ever know.

WORSHIP IS:

- It is a PERSONAL relationship. God is a Person. God loves YOU! Personally!
- It is a MYSTERIOUS relationship, because God is so great no one can ever comprehend Him.
- It is meant to be a SIMPLE relationship, even though it is at the same time very PROFOUND. It is a life-long quest. It is also a "blessed assurance."
Before I completely muddy all the waters...

This LOVE is MORE than a feeling. Oh, there will be great feelings along the way. But this love goes deeper. Our worship is meant to encompass all we are.

- We worship God with our MINDS! "The Bible tells me so..."
- We worship God with our HEARTS AND SOULS! "We love Him because He first loved us!" 1 John 4:19
- We worship God with our OBEDIENCE! "I delight to do YOUR will, O my God!" Psalm 40:8

WE CAN GET AS CLOSE TO GOD AS WE WANT TO ! "Draw near to God, and He will draw near to you!" James 4:8

QUESTIONS IN THE INSERT - Here is what we will discover this week as we study together:

- MY 1ST PURPOSE IN LIFE IS TO WORSHIP GOD .
- WORSHIP IS MY RESPONSE TO GOD'S LOVE

The God Connection

- WORSHIP IS GIVING BACK TO GOD
- GOD WANTS ME TO LOVE HIM...
 - THOUGHTFULLY - "with my mind"
 - PASSIONATELY - "with my heart and soul"
 - PRACTICALLY - "with my strength"
- WORSHIP IS FOCUSING MY ATTENTION ON GOD.
- WORSHIP IS EXPRESSING MY AFFECTION TO GOD.
- WORSHIP IS USING MY ABILITIES FOR GOD

Segue into COMMUNION

For ME, one of the facets of worship I enjoy the MOST is the Table of the Lord– Holy Communion.

Informal invitation

You can't RE-KINDLE faith unless you already HAVE faith. If you are not sure you have a covenant relationship with God, all you need to do is OPEN YOUR HEART AND LIFE TO GOD.

God is GOOD! God loves YOU! God has a purpose for everyone here– God has a GOOD PURPOSE FOR YOU!

Believe that!

Then simply INVITE JESUS CHRIST INTO YOUR LIFE! Pray with me an affirmation, JESUS, PLEASE COME INTO MY LIFE! FORGIVE MY SINS! BE MY LORD AND SAVIOR!

Invite Jesus in!

(Pray for wisdom-pray for me!)

The Forever Family

40 Days of Purpose, Week 3 - "Fellowship"

October 10, 2004 - John Wesley United Methodist Church -

Epistle Lesson Philippians 2:1-11

1. Don't be selfish. Esteem others.
2. Look out not only for self– but look out for the interests of others.

Gospel Lesson John 13:34-35

1. A new commandment give I unto you, that you love one another AS I HAVE LOVED YOU.
2. By this shall all know that you are my disciples IF you have love for one another.

REVIEW: Where have we been; where are we going; are we having a good time??

There is nothing we will ever do that is more important than WORSHIP. But if we truly WORSHIP well, God will guide us into the other FOUR BASIC TASKS OF THE CHURCH. These tasks, in addition to WORSHIP, are Discipleship or Becoming more like Jesus, Ministry, or sharing our gifts, and Evangelism, or telling others about God's great love. But today, and this coming week we will be looking at the SECOND purpose in life, which is FELLOWSHIP.

ASIDE: Re-introduce "40 days of Purpose"– still not too late to be a part of this church-wide effort. We will GIVE YOU A BOOK The Purpose Driven Life and you can be a part just by doing three things: Read the book, a short chapter every day. Attend the worship here at John Wesley the remaining Sunday mornings. And IF AT ALL POSSIBLE catch on with one of the many small groups that are studying week by week. We'll get you a study guide. It isn't hard. It is pretty exciting.

WORSHIP IS VITAL: IT IS THE GOD-CONNECTION

Worship is the VERTICAL relationship. WE ARE SAVED ONE BY ONE. WE COME TO KNOW GOD PERSON TO PERSON. IT IS AN INDIVIDUAL THING. GOD CARES FOR

YOU. YOU ARE UNIQUE. GOD WANTS YOU TO BE YOU...BUT

WE ARE NOT SAVED IN ISOLATION!! WE ARE SAVED INTO A FAMILY! WE PLEASE GOD BY NOT ONLY LOVING HIM BUT BY LEARNING TO LOVE GOD'S FAMILY.

FELLOWSHIP IS VITAL: IT IS LEARNING TO LOVE GOD'S FAMILY

It is easy to over-emphasize the INDIVIDUAL aspect of faith. What do I get out of worship? How can i develop MYSELF? How can I maintain that vertical relationship best? What is all-important– JESUS AND ME ME ME!!

That is NOT how God intends for us to live! Did you know that the word "saint" is very, very rare in the Bible? It may appear ONE TIME in most translations of the New Testament. The words is just about ALWAYS IN THE PLURAL: SAINTS!! THERE IS A REASON FOR THAT.

We are made for God's family. Together we are Christ's BODY. Together we are the CHURCH. Together we are THE BRIDE OF CHRIST. Together we can continue the work of Jesus!

WE PLEASE GOD BY LEARNING TO LOVE GOD'S FAMILY!

FELLOWSHIP IS GOD'S WAY OF TAKING THE LONELINESS OUT OF LIFE

It is one of the worst pains in the world to feel alone and shut out.

God fully intends that we will NOT be alone; he has set us into a family.

When we receive Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior WE ARE ADOPTED into the family of God. We receive the Spirit of adoption, which cries "ABBA, Father! (Translate: DADDY!) Romans 8:15

FELLOWSHIP IS GOD'S WILL FOR YOU AND ME

It takes work. We will be disappointed from time to time. We won't find a perfect church to join– and if we did—

But we have this assignment; LEARN TO GET ALONG– NO, LEARN TO LOVE ONE ANOTHER– AS I HAVE LOVED YOU!

When Jesus was ready to leave his disciples he gave them what he called "a new commandment."

We know that Jesus had already said the greatest commandment is to love the Lord with all your heart, soul, mind and strength; the second is like unto it: Love your neighbor as yourself." (Matthew 22:26) But here he seems to ratchet it up a notch– don't just love your neighbor like you love yourself– BUT LOVE AS I HAVE LOVED YOU!

This kind of fellowship - this love will be the BADGE of belonging to Jesus! He said (text) BY THIS SHALL ALL KNOW THAT YOU ARE MY DISCIPLES IF YOU HAVE LOVE ONE FOR ANOTHER!!

MEMBERSHIP: FELLOWSHIP IS A DELIBERATE CHOICE

Believers should be BAPTIZED. NOT re-baptized. But it is proper to re-dedicate. To remember your baptism. It is important– but the METHOD is NOT. Don't be intimidated. We need to commit to a local, visible congregation. We need to support with our spirit of boosting, praying, presence, and giving. A church family will keep you from being isolated, self-centered.

FRIENDSHIP: FELLOWSHIP IS LEARNING TO SHARE

A church family will help you get perspective. MY problems seem overwhelming–until I see others with the same that are coping. OR I see others with greater problems than my own – and can help them and myself at the same time.

Talk about important things. Dare to pray together. Give the gift of TIME!

The small groups are an ideal place to begin learning to share.

[Fifteen- maybe 18 years ago– I started a small group in Wollaston. "I'm not spilling my guts to anyone!" THIS NEXT WEDNESDAY THEY'LL BE MEETING! They'll pray for ME! Wow!]

PARTNERSHIP: FELLOWSHIP IS FINDING THAT WE HAVE A(N IMPORTANT) PART IN THE BODY OF CHRIST (DOING MY PART)

Some people never stay long enough to find out what they do in the body. Rick Warren calls them "bunny Christians" that hope from one church to another. In a healthy church there are many different "organs" that supply what the body needs to function.

YOUR gift is important! As you WORSHIP and FELLOWSHIP you will discover that you are not only LOVED, but that you have a vital part in making Christ's body complete. For US it means making John Wesley an instrument of God's love right here where we live.

It would be great if as we worship and fellowship somehow the whole world would see how good Jesus is— and maybe that will happen. BUT WHILE WE'RE WAITING, MAYBE THERE IS SOMEONE WHO LIVES NEAR YOU THAT COULD USE A SMILE, AND A SINCERE PRAYER, AND SOME FELLOWSHIP OVER A CUP OF COFFEE!

KINSHIP: FELLOWSHIP COMES FINALLY TO BE LOVING LIKE FAMILY

Families don't always run smoothly; they disagree sometimes. "Christians are not brought together because they like each other, but because they share a common life in Jesus and are faced with the task of learning how to love each other as members of THE family." WRDNEO - Reuben Welch 31

Insert Questions (for last sheet of sermon)

MY 2ND PURPOSE IN LIFE IS FELLOWSHIP.

FELLOWSHIP IS loving God's Family.

FOUR LEVELS OF FRIENDSHIP

- LEVEL 1: MEMBERSHIP: CHOOSING TO BELONG
- LEVEL 2: FRIENDSHIP: LEARNING TO SHARE
- LEVEL 3: PARTNERSHIP: DOING MY PART
- LEVEL 4: KINSHIP: LOVING BELIEVERS LIKE FAMILY

Prayer: Thank you, Father, for the gift of belonging. Help us to love you and worship you, and help us to love each other as you have loved us, and your Son Jesus Christ has loves us, and as the Holy Spirit continues to guide us into true fellowship. We pray in the Name of the One who has taught us when we pray to say:

OUR FATHER...

Gods Adult Children

40 Days of Purpose, Week 4, Discipleship

October 17, 2004

2 Timothy 3:14-4:5 "continue in what you have learned" "be persistent"

Luke 18:1-8 "pray always" & "do not lose heart"

Just about everyone loves a baby! God made babies heart-smashing. They smile at you and its all over! "Gas pains, my eye! She SMILED at me!"

Of course, when you consider what babies demand of their young parents, and the really BASIC sort of things they DO, it is a wonderful thing that babies CAN smash our hearts. They CON us into taking care of them and loving it! (And it is one of the perks of being a grandparent that you can hand the baby back to Momma when it smells funny.)

Maybe the very best thing about babies is that they begin to grow up. From day One they begin to change. Every new thing they do is a celebration. They get housebroken. Before too long they can start putting on their own clothes. Getting them to pick them up when they take them off may take a little longer!

One of the tragedies in life is when a baby refuses to stop being a baby. The goal of a baby is to grow up. When you're a little kid you can't wait to get big. It seems like you'll never be big enough to drive a car. Then when you DO get old everything changes again!

Our lectionary scriptures resonate with this week's emphasis in our 40 Days of Purpose- which is BECOMING LIKE CHRIST. The Epistle, 2 Timothy, urges us to CONTINUE IN WHAT WE HAVE LEARNED, and to BE PERSISTENT. The Gospel tells one of Jesus' stories on prayer, about a woman with need and an unjust judge who gave her what she needed because she KEPT ON ASKING and WOULD NOT GIVE UP. (A story in CONTRAST. God is NOT like the judge; He WANTS to give us what we need- AND WE NEED TO 'GROW UP'.)

Persist! Keep growing! This is a THEME of the entire N.T. In order for us to become mature, Christ-like, "God's ADULT children" and not remain "babies in Christ" we will want to:

1. KEEP GROWING IN UNDERSTANDING

- from a literal, concrete "rules" mentality, TO
- TO catching the SPIRIT OF BELONGING

2. KEEP GROWING IN OBEDIENCE

- from not just "supposed" to do it this way, "I said so!"
- don't 'change the bed-time story' even one word!!
- TO trusting there is a "WHY" that is good and right

3. KEEP GROWING IN DEPTH OF RELATIONSHIP

- little children can be very literal, very self-centered
- even adversarial– baby-bottle Christians
- TO collegial relationship

[Illus. I recall the first time I "consulted" with Steve when a family needed counsel.]

MY conclusion:

Growth, physically, is more or less in the genes, automatic. GROWTH, SPIRITUALLY, IS A DELIBERATE CHOICE!

Come back to Romans 12:1,2. We do not grow INTO grace; THAT is God's free gift to receive. But we MAY grow IN grace, and that takes OUR COMMITMENT. Because God has loved and received us, let us OFFER HIM OUR BODIES– OUR TIME - OUR OBEDIENCE! Together with God we CAN GROW UP! We can be GOD'S ADULT CHILDREN!

Sermon, short, leads into "fill in the blanks":

Here is what I have for the bulletin inserts:

MY 3RD PURPOSE IN LIFE IS TO BECOME LIKE CHRIST

"Discipleship"

THREE UNEXPECTED TOOLS

1. GOD USES TROUBLE TO TEACH US TO TRUST HIM .
 - Keep a spiritual journal .
 - Remember the reward . (You aren't home yet!)
2. GOD USES TEMPTATION TO TEACH US TO OBEY .
 - Keep focused on good thoughts .
 - Get a spiritual partner .
3. GOD USES TRESPASSES TO TEACH US TO FORGIVE .
 - Remember God has forgiven me .
 - Remember God is in control .

Prayer:

Father in Heaven, we are grateful to be part of your family. Help us to continue to grow in grace and be more and more like your Son, our Lord Jesus Christ. Thank you for your patience with us. We really want to learn to please You so we can take our place in the Family that You have for each of us,

In Jesus' name, who taught us when we pray to say,

OUR FATHER WHO ART IN HEAVEN . . .

The Compassion of Jesus

June 12, 2005

Matthew 9:36-38

"And seeing the multitudes, He felt compassion for them, because they were distressed and downcast like sheep without a shepherd. Then He said to His disciples, "The harvest is plentiful, but the workers are few. Therefore beseech the Lord of the harvest to send out workers into His harvest."

You probably have heard this scripture many times before. But what comes to your mind when you pay attention to these words? (Text) The first thing I see is the compassion of Jesus. Jesus cares! The word compassion means to come alongside with caring.

I. THE COMPASSION OF JESUS— AND 'HOW I FEEL ABOUT IT . . .'

Jesus cares! Jesus feels the heartbeat of those who have need. The primary motivation of Jesus is LOVE!

My motivation - apart from God's grace - is usually something else. As I look at the kids in their baggy pants, and listen to the rap I think of the 'good old days' when swing and Benny Goodman was driving the old people crazy. When I hear of TV shows where people are eating bugs for money I am not moved with love so much as wonder when they'll bring back swallowing live gold fish. When I think about them changing the way we worship – I wonder why don't people see things RIGHT? The WAY I SEE THEM? The idea is: Jesus can love them – I'm not sure I can – so who is right? Jesus or me? In my fear or whatever?

Of course Jesus is right – but how can I begin to see life as Jesus sees it? How can I feel a way I don't feel? What can I DO about it?

II. THE COMMAND OF JESUS - AND WHAT I AM TO DO ABOUT IT

The command that comes out of Jesus mouth first is NOT "Go do something about it!" He doesn't even say, "YOU better love those people, too!" NO - Jesus first command is:

"Pray the Lord of the harvest that he will send forth laborers into the fields." This command resonates with the command Jesus gave just before his Ascension, when he said, "Don't leave town! Don't go start your work yet! Wait until you have prayed! Wait until the Holy Spirit has had a chance to do a job on your hearts!" Here Jesus says, in effect, 'Before you try to do something yourself and really mess up – PRAY! Tell God what is really on your mind when you look at the situation! Make God at home in your heart and then see what HE wants to do with you.

Which brings me to the Old Testament lesson for today – the story of Abraham's hospitality – how this old man made God welcome to his tent. (Genesis 18:1-15)

Abraham is an old man – 99 years old. He is very wealthy. Fulfilled –in a manner of speaking. Pretty much convinced he has seen his best days. Sarah is 89 years old.

Abraham makes God welcome, but he is totally unprepared for what God has to say. God says, "You're not done yet, old man! My promise is that you will be a blessing! Next year at this time you will have a son!

Sarah in the tent door hears – and laughs! It is ridiculous. Faith now would be audacious! Old people clip coupons... They put their feet up – they go fishing. But it is a dangerous, wonderful thing to make God welcome! To pray HIS way! To say, "Lord of the harvest – send forth workers into these places where I don't understand!

IF WE WILL PRAY – DO YOU THINK GOD WILL ANSWER A PRAYER THAT JESUS COMMANDED US TO PRAY?

III. THE COMMISSION OF JESUS - AND MY PLACE IN HIS PLANS

Most of us won't be like Charlie and Alice and Donna and the others that have gone to Ghana for hands-on work with needy people in foreign lands. That is good work, and rewarding. But there are lots of so-called LITTLE THINGS which we CAN do after we have prayed.

Big things sometimes swing on "little hinges of prayer."

Let me tell you, at the risk of sounding like bragging, which honestly I do not mean to do – of a little hinge or two of prayer – that enabled Jesus' love to reach a small portion of "the multitudes."

Second Church in Dorchester stands in Codman Square, built in 1808, with fellowship halls and a sanctuary that seats 1,000 and a gymnasium. For many years it was in decline. Tom Jones. Don Brickley. Ruth Richardson. Merritt Nielson. Driving around the church in prayer. Today – Haitian, West Indian, Cape Verdean as well as 'main church' will worship in that building.

Fifteen or twenty years ago Asians started moving into Quincy. For the most part these were upscale people, many from Hong Kong, who came with all their savings in a suitcase and bought homes for cash. The schools' honor rolls were flooded with Asian names. The churches wondered what in the world to do with these people.

Rev. Merritt Nielson, my associate for sixteen years in Wollaston, came up with the idea of getting a consultant, a Chinese man with church growth experience, to come and give us some advice on what to do.

Rev. Sam Chung came and walked with us in the streets of North Quincy. He met with a Bible study group that met in our church on Saturdays. He spoke to our congregation on Sunday morning.

That Sunday evening Helen and I met with Rev. and Mrs. Chung at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Donald Reed where they were staying for the weekend. We talked about the "multitudes" and the compassion of Jesus. Then around the table where we had eaten some pie and ice cream the six of us held hands and prayed. Sam Chung said, "Pastor, if you ask us, we will come here to pastor a Chinese church!" Quincy Chinese Church of the Nazarene was an idea that evening six or seven years ago now. They meet every Sunday now, with 140 as an average attendance, and with a vision to see four more churches on the South Shore.

The "vision" for these two projects never played out the way I thought they would. I have preached in both churches, but only as a visitor. I never pastored them. The "vision" developed FAR from what I thought.

Conclusion:

Seeing the multitude, Jesus had compassion! Jesus STILL has compassion on us! And if we will obey Jesus and PRAY about the harvest fields IN THIS COMMUNITY – in Ghana - in Iraq – in whatever area our hearts are stirred,

1. (1) GOD WILL SEND LABORERS! But even more
2. (2) GOD WILL CHANGE OUR HEARTS SO WE LOVE THE 'MULTITUDE', TOO!
 - We will have INTEGRITY to BE like Jesus!
 - We will KNOW JESUS BETTER in His Word
 - We will BE WHERE HE CAN USE US IN PROJECTS BIG OR SMALL!

Prayer: Lord, we DON'T see the world like YOU do. But we pray YOU will send workers into the places that concern us. And do it YOUR way; we say "YES!"

Amen.

The Sacrament of Baptism

Baptismal service

Intro:

One of the difficult things for Protestants is fixing in their minds the relative importance of the sacraments of the church. Of all the means of grace, they are possibly understood the least.

I. THE IMPORTANCE OF THE SACRAMENTS AS MEANS OF GRACE

I would like to ask you a very simple question:

A. WHAT IS GRACE?

Grace is unmerited favor of God; grace is that which bestows God's great LOVE on us; grace is God's attitude of forgiveness toward the sinner; grace is a quickening and strengthening of life within the soul.

B. AND MEANS OF GRACE ARE just that: the ways and means, the vehicles or channels by which God bestows His LOVE on our hearts.

And what are the 'means of grace?'

My list may not be complete, but I submit seven:

1. WORD OF GOD; and with this I include the faithful the preaching of the Word, as well as reading in order to obey God's will.
2. PRAYER IS PROBABLY THE PRIMARY MEANS OF GRACE; and prayer combines with power with the use of the Word.
3. THE FELLOWSHIP OF GOD'S PEOPLE is a significant and powerful means of grace. God never intends for us to make our way to heaven independent of other individuals, or of other families, or even other groups of believers. God intends that we bear one another's burdens.

The Sacrament of Baptism

4. CORPORATE WORSHIP, in the large groups or celebrations, in the smaller groups united around a lesson or a ministry (congregations,) as well as in the accountability groups of prayer and sharing (cells,) is a means of grace.
5. PERSONAL WORSHIP may be the same as #2, prayer; but it involves the carrying forward of life in the spirit of 'the living sacrifice.'
6. The good old Nazarene theologian, H. Orton Wiley, lists THE SABBATH AS A MEANS OF GRACE! It was introduced at the time of man's creation, and belongs to mankind generally and perpetually.

I am convinced that there is great spiritual power waiting to be released in the lives of the people who can tap the resources of the Lord's Day by observing it joyfully, not in bondage, but in rest and worship and refreshing.

7. But the last 'means of grace' I would mention are THE SACRAMENTS OF THE CHURCH THAT WERE INSTITUTED BY JESUS.

C. WHAT ARE 'SACRAMENTS?'

We use the term 'sacrament' to signify an outward and visible sign of an inward and spiritual grace given to us, ordained by Christ Himself as a means of receiving that grace, and as a pledge or assurance of Christ's promise. From the earliest times, the sacraments have been understood by the church to be religious rites that carry the most solemn obligation of loyalty to Jesus Christ and His Church.

1. The RC church teaches seven (7) sacraments: baptism, the Lord's supper (or "mass",) confirmation, ordination, extreme unction (or 'last rites,') penance (or 'confession,') and marriage.
2. All Protestant churches recognize but two: baptism and the Lord's Supper.

SACRAMENTS ARE PLEDGES OF LOYALTY TO JESUS CHRIST; THEY ARE TESTIMONIES THAT MARK CHRISTIANS AS SEPARATE, DIFFERENT FROM THOSE WHO DO NOT BELIEVE.

- D. It is vitally important that we reach out for God's grace in every way we can. [Perhaps we do not take seriously the parables of Jesus when He warned us that it is mortally dangerous to have talents and not use them!] We are responsible not only for what we are, but for what we might be by God's free gifts of grace!

Along this line John Wesley once said: (in 1736) "I think the rock on which I had the nearest made shipwreck of the faith was the writings of the Mystics; under which term I comprehend all, and only those, who slight any of the means of grace." GFH, p541

In other words, Wesley said that even people who seem to be so very, very spiritual nearly led him astray when they picked out which means of grace they would adopt, and which they would avoid.

Wesley was saying 'I want to be faithful to God through Christ's church!'

- E. And if you wonder what John Wesley thought the 'true church' consisted of, here is a quote from H. Ray Dunning:

"There were two major means that Mr. Wesley seemed to identify as constitutive of the church: the pure Word of God preached, and the sacraments duly administered. This puts him squarely in the Reformation tradition." GFH p542]

II. THE IMPORTANCE OF BAPTISM AS A MEANS OF GRACE

Baptism is clearly one of the sacraments of the church. It was instituted by the Lord Jesus, first by His example, and then by His unmistakable command (in the words of the text:)

Baptism means three things for the believer:

- A. BAPTISM MEANS IDENTIFYING WITH JESUS in His baptism.

John the Baptist baptized many people in the Jordan. This was not clearly outlined in Old Testament law, but it could have some meaning of preparation for the coming of a new order, in that just before the giving of the Law on Sinai, God told Moses to sanctify the people, and He specifically said: "Have them wash their garments!"

The Sacrament of Baptism

But the baptism of Jesus was unique. Jesus was identifying with sinners, even though He knew no sin. In coming with the sinners, JESUS TOOK THE ROLE OF THE SUFFERING SERVANT; and in the descent of the Holy Spirit HE CLEARLY EXEMPLIFIED THE ROLE OF THE ANOINTED ONE, THE MESSIAH.

No one else was sinless that day, or any other day. But Jesus identified with everyone who has failed; he came to bear our sins and sorrows to the Tree.

No one else could ever hear the Father say: "This is my Beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased!" and have the Holy Spirit descend without measure.

But if Jesus identified with us, with sinful humanity that day of His baptism; then we, as His spiritual sons and daughters identify with Him.

We are not called on to die as the sinless sacrifice; but BAPTISM IS THE WAY OF THE SUFFERING SERVANT; and we identify with Jesus in death to sin (He died for sin.)

We cannot know the fullness of the Holy Spirit as Jesus knew Him, but WE ARE CALLED TO ACCEPT THE ANOINTING OF GOD, indwelling us, and live in the new life and power of that life the Holy Spirit brings.

- B. BAPTISM MEANS INCORPORATION INTO THE CHURCH. The washing of baptism by John indicated a preparation for a new age of the Spirit of God. But Jesus transformed John's baptism, and made it the sacramental portion of His Great Commission: "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit.
- C. BAPTISM MEANS THE INITIAL RECEPTION OF THE HOLY SPIRIT. The Holy Spirit is the gift of the Son, and of the Father.

He comes to make Jesus real to us. He is the Spirit of Jesus. He does not testify of Himself, but is the fulfillment of the promise:

"Lo, I AM with you always, even to the end of the age."

The connection of baptism with the reception of the Holy Spirit seems clear in the New Testament. Sometimes the people received the Spirit as, or after they were baptized; sometimes it was a witness or a seal after they had already been saved.

Acts 2:38 (Peter says:) "Repent and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, AND YE SHALL RECEIVE THE GIFT OF THE HOLY GHOST." Here, clearly, the people to be baptized did not yet have the Holy Spirit.

But later, at Caesarea, Cornelius and his household received the Holy Spirit as Peter was preaching to them. And the question there was: "Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, WHICH HAVE RECEIVED THE HOLY GHOST AS WELL AS WE?"

In obedience to the command of Christ, we can expect that the sacrament of baptism will be a confirmation of the promise of God the Father and God the Son to bestow the Holy Spirit, personally, and powerfully, into each believer's heart!

January 5, 1992 - To this class of girls being baptized:

We have talked together about Romans 10:9,10, and what it takes to be a Christian.

It is so very simple— and yet cannot be done without the life of God being breathed into us:

1. to truly believe that God has raise Jesus from the dead is in large part the work of the Spirit within;
2. to confess with the mouth that Jesus is Lord is something which we can do by God's help.

This act of baptism is one way that you confess, loud and clear, that Jesus is LORD!

In just a few moments as part of the ritual of Baptism I am going to ask you three questions. Your answer will be, in part, that second part of Romans 10:9,10— for you will be saying publicly that Jesus is YOUR Lord, that you love Him, and that by God's help you will serve Him and do His will!

Right Place, Right Time, Right Word

May 14, 2006

Scripture: Acts 8:26-40

Background to the passage.

He wasn't an apostle- in fact he had been elected a 'steward,' a table waiter. There aren't many lines in the Book of Acts dedicated to his biography, but what a great man of God was this man Philip! In the first persecution that scattered the church in all directions from Jerusalem, except for the apostles who no doubt went underground (see Acts 8:2), Philip ended up in Samaria. He preached Christ to the Samaritans, and such a great many people responded that when the word got back to headquarters in Jerusalem the church leaders thought it best to send Peter and John to take charge. A lesser sort of man with an ego problem might have felt a twinge of possessiveness. In the middle of revival excitement God spoke to Philip. He had a place, a time, and a word in mind for this man of God.

The Right Place

8:26 "...the Lord spoke to Philip saying, Arise, and go ..."

It seems like half the stories in the Bible are about God getting people from one place to another. Sometimes He tells them where to go. Other times He says, "I'll show you in good time." There is absolutely nothing else in all the world as satisfying as being exactly where God wants you to be. Often it takes a deep breath and a lot of faith to simply step out and be obedient.

Where God was asking Philip to go would hardly seem the "right place" for ministry. It was desert. Philip was a powerful preacher. The 'Samaritan Pentecost' began under Philip's ministry, and right then Samaria was an exciting place to be. Many were coming to salvation. (see 8:10). But Peter and John had come to Samaria from Jerusalem to take the leadership there. Philip got the desert assignment. Philip arose and went south as he was told. There he met one man.

From the right place in witnessing to many, Philip was led to the right place to meet one hungry soul. As he approached Gaza he saw ahead of him an obviously important person in an impressive set of wheels. God said, "Catch up with that chariot!" So Philip ran and came alongside.

Philip and the Ethiopian eunuch had a quiet conversation. It was quite a contrast with the excitement of multitudes coming to hear the Gospel. But when that one man was saved, he became the first member of a flourishing church in Ethiopia.

The Right Time

The timing in this new assignment had to be exquisite. After days of foot travel, he met one specific chariot making its way along the road to Egypt and beyond. An hour later and he may have missed altogether. Sheer coincidence? Every seasoned Christian can recall those kinds of "coincidences"! God has ways of bringing His people into situations where they can represent Him if they will.

The "coincidence" of timing continued. The man in the chariot was reading as he rolled along. Evidently a devout Ethiopian Jew who had been to Jerusalem on holy pilgrimage, he was reading the scroll of the Prophet Isaiah. But not just any place in that magnificent book, for as Philip came near the chariot he recognized the 'Servant Song' of the familiar words of Isaiah 53. God had this meeting timed to the very minute!

"He was led as a lamb to the slaughter," the man in the chariot read aloud. Philip knew the words by heart. He had the audacity to engage a VIP in conversation: "Do you understand what you are reading?"

"Come up here and explain it to me," was the reply. Philip gladly obliged.

The Right Word

The "word" Philip used that day in the desert was the same "word" he used in the crowded streets of Samaria. He told the Ethiopian about Jesus. "Jesus" is the right word. "Jesus" is a living word, and it comes with saving power when it is spoken at the right time and in the right place by the right person.

What Philip did there in the desert to bring a hungry soul to faith is almost exactly the approach of the risen Jesus Himself! On the Road to Emmaus (see Luke 24:27) Jesus began with Moses and the prophets and showed two heartbroken disciples how He is the fulfillment of all the hope of the scriptures. And on the Gaza strip, when the eunuch asked whom Isaiah was describing, Philip was ready. He couldn't have asked for a better set-up. Philip told this important man about Jesus in words he could understand, backed up with the Scripture.

Faith was stirred in the heart of this devout seeker. "What is preventing me from being baptized?" he asked. They were passing an irrigation pool. Philip was encouraging: "If you believe with all your heart you are a candidate for baptism!"

The eunuch gave a clear and ringing confession of faith: "I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God!"

He gave the command; the chariot stopped. The two men went into the water, and a new life in Christ began. The Ethiopian eunuch went on his way southward absolutely in transports of joy.

Philip apparently got a mysterious transport to Azotus. (See 8:39,40) He then made his way north, preaching in towns and hamlets, until he came to the magnificent marble Roman-built city of Caesarea on the shore of the Mediterranean. There Philip made his home and raised a fine family.

Echoes of John 15:8

Philip was tremendously fruitful in his life, in different kinds of situations; in large movements of the Spirit, in itinerant ministry, in one-on-one witness, as well as in his own family relationships. (See Postscript on Philip)

One of my life verses is John 15:8: "Herein is my Father glorified: that ye bear MUCH fruit" (KJV) As we abide in Christ, and his words abide in us, the promise is that we can bear MUCH fruit. Only God finally defines what "MUCH" may be in each of our lives. John 15:8 had not yet been written, but Philip was already proving it. Only God knew that day how Philip's faithfulness would play out in glorifying the Father. Only God finally defines "MUCH."

In Samaria Philip had been faithful, and many people sought the Lord. A town, a local region was blessed. In the desert Philip was faithful to one man. One man had been saved. No doubt Philip won many others to Christ during his lifetime. Although he was not an apostle, he was deserving of the title "evangelist." But however many Philip may have led to follow Jesus, he never had a better day than when he went to a desert place and met one man who was ripe for salvation. Through that one man a reigning queen, and an entire nation was touched with the Good News.

Postscript on Philip

A number of years after Philip witnessed to the Ethiopian, he hosted Paul the Apostle and Luke in his home. Luke wrote of coming with Paul to Caesarea on Paul's last journey back to Jerusalem. They stayed, Luke said, in the house of the evangelist Philip. Luke also mentioned that Philip had four grown daughters, and every one of his grown daughters was a preacher! MUCH fruit! Paul and Luke and their party so enjoyed Philip's hospitality in that beautiful seaside city that they stayed many days! (See Acts 21:8-10.) For them it was the right place, and the right time. That was nothing new for Philip! I'm sure he had the right words, too!

Crossing Cultural Barriers

May 21 2006

Acts 10:34-49 (+)

This chapter in Acts is a fascinating story about two very different men from very different cultures, and about how the love of God brought them together with life changing results for both of them.

Two Very Different Men

Cornelius was a Roman, and a soldier. He was wealthy and powerful, the commander of occupying soldiers in a land that was foreign to him. He was a Gentile, and certainly did not observe the many ritual observances of the Jews. But Cornelius was a sincere seeker after God, and a seeker after God's truth. He was a man who cared about people, and who prayed to God for light to find the way (10:2).

Peter was the acknowledged leader of the followers of Jesus. He was a great Christian- even though the actual word "Christian" had not yet been coined. People actually sought Peter's shadow as he passed so they could be healed. He had been imprisoned more than once by the Jewish authorities, but an angel had released him from Jerusalem's inner prison.

Peter was a strictly observant Jew, and had strictly kept all the rituals of his ancient faith all his life. He found no problem at all simply bringing his Jewish disciplines into his genuine faith in Jesus Christ. In fact he probably saw the new faith as an extension or continuation of his devout upbringing. And at the time of this story there had been no Gentile converts to Jesus. Jesus had told the disciples that his message was for the whole world (see Luke 24:46 and Matthew 28: 18-20.) But it was not easy for strictly observant Jews to reach outside their comfort zone. They were not sure but that Gentiles might have to become Jews before they could be good Christians. It would take clear and vivid directions from God to help cross the cultural barriers. God would have to work on both sides to build a bridge of communication.

Maybe when we read this passage the broad reach of God's love slips past us. Maybe we are sometimes so occupied with our own brand of Christian tradition that we miss the difference between acceptance and approval of the life styles of others who may be sincerely seeking after God. Sometimes it takes a breakthrough vision to see how to connect with people who seem very different from us. That is what happened in this story: not one vision, but two!

Two Visions From God

The first vision came to the Gentile Cornelius. (10: 3 - 6) As Cornelius was praying an angel appeared to him. It was a vision, but it was a direct answer to Cornelius' seeking. My "take" of the conversation is something like this:

Angel: Cornelius!

Cornelius: (understandably terrified) What do you want?

Angel: God knows you are seeking Him. God loves you a lot. Here's what you have to do: Send to Joppa. On the waterfront there is a tanner named Simon. Another man, Simon Peter, is staying at his house. Peter will come and tell you the next step.

The angel vanished. It was about three o'clock in the afternoon, and within the hour Cornelius had sent off two trustworthy servants and a Roman soldier whom he also trusted. They set out to go thirty miles to the south to look for this house by the sea and a man called Peter. They would arrive at their destination by early the next afternoon.

The second vision came to Peter. It was about noon the day after Cornelius had had his conversation with the angel. Actually, Peter was on the roof patio of the tanner's house, praying. Maybe he was praying for lunch, because the scripture tells us he was very hungry (10:10). While he was waiting for the call to dinner he drifted into a trance-like state. In a vision Peter saw a huge sheet held by its four corners like a big seine purse. In the net were all kinds of animals, kosher and non-kosher- pork chops, lobsters, ham sandwiches- a Jewish nightmare! The accompanying word from heaven was downright puzzling.

Peter heard, "Get up, Peter. You're hungry! So have a ham sandwich!"

But Peter immediately responded. In his dream he knew this was the Lord speaking. But Peter also remembered his strict upbringing. In all his life Peter had never tasted food that was not on the approved list.

"Lord, I will not! I have never had a non-kosher meal in all my life!"

But in his vision the word from God came back, "What I call clean is not for you to call unclean!" This happened three times.

This is the point where the two visions connect. Just as the sheet was disappearing from view in his vision there was a commotion at the front gate of the tanner's house. Exactly at that time the Holy Spirit said to Peter, "There are three Gentiles downstairs looking for you. Not to worry, I have sent them. Go with them."

And so three Gentiles came into an observant Jewish home and had a strictly kosher meal and rested the rest of the day, and spent the night together with Peter and Simon's family. That was a miracle in itself. Then the first thing next morning a group of strict kosher Jewish Christians and Gentile members of a Roman occupation officer's household started out on a day-and-a-half journey together. That had to be a first!

The next day, the fourth day since Cornelius first had his vision, the little group reached Caesarea. They had made the thirty miles in good time.

And that is where our scripture lesson for this lesson actually begins.

Two Prayers Being Answered

The story began with two very different people praying. The Bible does not give the content of their prayers. Maybe they were something like this: "Lord, I am a seeker after You. Show me how to draw nearer." And, "Lord, I am an 'old' believer. Show me how to tell others how much You love them." These are two prayers that God will always answer. Period.

God heard both prayers. God was working with willing hearts, and the results were spectacular.

Cornelius was ecstatic when the group from Joppa showed up. He was willing to almost worship Peter, but Peter stopped that. Peter had begun to learn a lesson that maybe he had to learn again and again. (See Galatians 2: 11 - 14) God had shown him, Peter said, that he should never, ever count anyone out as not being precious to God. God cares for everyone. That is a great lesson for every one of us to learn.

Then Peter began to preach. He told the household of Cornelius about Jesus and his grace and mercy. He told them of his atoning death on Calvary. He told them how Jesus carried our sins away. "Whoever believes in Jesus", Peter said, "will receive remission of sins." (10:43)

As Peter spoke the same manifestations of the Holy Spirit's power came on the household of Cornelius that had appeared on the Day of Pentecost (in Acts 2). It was as though God was making it plain that here was a Gentile Pentecost, even like the first time the Holy Spirit was poured out with power at the birth of the church at Jerusalem.

Two Lives Changed

Cornelius, Gentile and Romans citizen, became a baptized believer in Jesus Christ that very day. He became a Christian. Cornelius never did become a Jew. He never did embrace kosher ways, so far as we know. The powerful officer of the greatest government in world history bowed before a Jewish carpenter who had never been more than ninety miles from where he was born, and yet who was and is the Son of God come down from heaven.

Peter remained a Jewish Christian. He was more comfortable that way. The disciplines reminded him of all the promises of the Bible he knew. But from that moment in Cornelius' house a new day had begun in the church. The big fisherman got a new insight into just how much God loves all people, and not just those who know all the rules.

A wall had come down. God had been working on both ends of a relationship, the seeker and the speaker. He still does. That day old and new praised God together because of His great love.

The Jews stayed on in the house of Cornelius for a few days, and felt right at home.

Jesus Plan for Adequacy

July 30, 2006 - John Wesley United Methodist Church, Falmouth, Massachusetts

John 6:1-21 - (Ephesians 3:14-21)

*"...that you may be filled to the measure of all the fullness of God." –
Ephesians 3:19b*

A PRAYER, AND A STORY

The lesson from Ephesians is a prayer Paul prayed for the church there in Ephesus. In that prayer the apostle asks that God will not only live in the church, but that the church will be filled with God's power and love, filled to overflowing. Then he adds that God is able to do exceedingly abundantly even more than we can ask or even think. It is a prayer for adequacy.

The gospel lesson seems to have no connection whatsoever to this grand prayer. But it does! It is probably dangerous to do theology out of stories; that is, to take a story and then define doctrines from them. But stories wonderfully illustrate good doctrine. And the gospel passage is about Jesus being there when we need him- and that is adequacy,

NO ONE EVER SURPRISES JESUS

The gospel lesson today has two parts. The first begins with the miracle of the feeding of the 5,000.

This was such a remarkable miracle that all four evangelists, Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, include it in their version of the story of Jesus. It is interesting to read them all and see the little variations. But one thing comes through clearly, there were a lot of people and not very much to feed them with. Some of the disciples said, "Send them home!" But Jesus had other things in mind. (verse 6 "(Jesus)... had in mind what he was going to do.")

As I said, all four gospels tell the story, but only John tells us where they got the five loaves and two small fish. John tells us that it was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, who said, "There is a lad here... with five small barley loaves and two small fish... but what are they among so many?"

Andrew noticed a small boy, and brought him to Jesus. We only see Andrew a couple of times—Peter his brother got all the headlines. But every time you see Andrew in the Bible he is bringing someone to meet Jesus!

Everything we do for Jesus is part of a team effort. That is the way it is. That is the way it is supposed to be. Andrew couldn't feed the 5,000. He didn't have ANY food. But he could look around and encourage someone who DID have food to be a part of the plan. The little boy with the loaves and fishes couldn't possibly feed the 5,000. But he could and did give his lunch to Jesus! Jesus COULD have called down bread from heaven- BUT HE DIDN'T! AND HE DOESN'T! But Jesus could, and did, take what Andrew and the lad brought to him, and there was enough! No- actually—there was MORE than enough!

We don't know why the young lad had five loaves and two fishes there- or what he had intended to do with them. But there they were- gone! True, he had a meal. But if he had been supposed to have some left over—well—Jesus told the disciples to gather up the fragments. "Don't waste any good food!" And the disciples gather up twelve baskets full!

The boy had as much bread and fish as he could carry, and yet there was more!

What is the 'theology' of this story? It would seem to me that you can't go wrong in giving what we have to Jesus. We can trust him with our treasure.

Maybe I shouldn't bring it up here, but this reminds me of a different kind of story about giving. In the 5th chapter of Acts there were two disciples that wanted to make a show of their giving. No one told them they should give, or that they had to give- but they saw how others were bringing gifts, so they pretended to give a gift 'so big,' but they really gave for show, and held back most of the profit.

Their names were Ananias and Sapphira, and they lied by pretending to be big givers when they were not. The end of their story was tragic. But I'll bet you never heard a sermon about them!

JESUS HAS LOTS OF SURPRISES FOR US WHO LOVE HIM!

The second part of the lesson began when Jesus sent the disciples back across the lake by themselves. Evidently Jesus still wanted to have some quiet time alone, so he sent them back across the corner of the lake to Capernaum, their home base, where Peter lived.

Now it is important to remember that the disciples were doing their best to obey Jesus. The disciples went because Jesus sent them. He told them to go. But while they were obeying, what started out to be just a little sail in fairly calm waters became a 'very interesting' session with very fresh wind and rising seas. Even though they were doing what Jesus told them they were in a big storm!

Meanwhile, Jesus had finished his prayers and decided he would walk back to Capernaum. Only instead of going around the lake shore ten miles or so he decided to cut straight across, maybe four or five miles. ACROSS the lake.

It must have been a full moon behind the storm clouds that night, or maybe there was actually some sort of glow around Jesus as he walked because there was enough light for the disciples to see this form striding through the storm, catching up with them- and starting to go past. It scared the living wits out of them!

"Don't be afraid!" It was that familiar voice. "It is I!" Jesus knew where they were, and soon everything was back to whatever normal is supposed to be. (Matthew also tells of the adventure of Peter, who dared to try water walking for himself!)

How about the 'theology' of this part of the story? What I'm getting is that even when we obey Jesus as best we can we are not exempt from the storms that blow. But we can and do have the assurance that Jesus knows where we are. And Jesus is with us! He will not abandon his own!

SUMMARY

A PRAYER FOR OVERFLOWING FULLNESS

In the epistle lesson (Ephesians 1: 15 – 22) Paul's prayer for them, the Ephesian Christians, and for us here today, is that we might find that overflow- the twelve baskets of fragments- that richness of spirit that comes from belonging lock, stock, and barrel to Jesus. We all have only five loaves and two fish—and if we hang on to them—or even if we give them away one by one as we think best- in the end not much will happen.

But I believe with all my heart that when we do our part in God's scheme—whether it is like Andrew simply saying to Jesus "There is a boy here!" or to the boy or girl or neighbor, "There is a Savior here!" Or whether it is bringing our lunch to Jesus, or to someone who needs it in Jesus' name—when we do our part in God's scheme we will begin to know how Jesus works.

Nothing ever surprises Jesus! He knows what he intends to do!

We can all have the fullness of God's blessing if we really want it! This prayer cannot be frustrated, except by our own carelessness or sin. The fact that we all have burdens, or hard times, or challenges cannot keep us from being God's people.

We've all been through storms of life. I don't like them! When I'm in a storm I pray for God to help me through. And maybe sometimes the worst storms are when you care about a loved one, or feel a brother or sister's pain and don't think there is anything you can do. But when the storms come, watch out! Jesus surprised the disciples in that storm on Galilee.

And Jesus never stops surprising his own! As St. Paul wrote in another letter: "No eye has seen, no ear has heard, no mind has conceived what God has prepared for those who love him"- 1 Corinthians 2:9

Amen. Let us pray:

A Mission for Ordinary Times

May 18, 2008 - John Wesley United Methodist Church, Falmouth, Massachusetts

Matthew 28:16-20 Now the eleven disciples went to Galilee, to the mountain to which Jesus had directed them. When they saw him, they worshiped him; but some doubted. And Jesus came and said to them, "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything that I have commanded you. And remember, I am with you always, to the end of the age."

Introduction:

Trinity Sunday, just after Pentecost Sunday, marks the end of the special" season when the church recalls the earthly life and work Of Jesus, from Advent and Christmas to Lent and Easter, and finally to the Ascension and Pentecost and the birthday of the church.

Trinity also marks the beginning of "ordinary time" when the Book of Acts begins the story of how the Holy Spirit is poured out on ALL believers (not just prophets and priests) and the work or mission of the church is carried forward— in a sense we continue to write the Book of Acts.

As the "TEXT for today's Trinity sermon I want to use our own church's mission statement. The mission statement for John Wesley United Methodist Church is: ("on the bulletin every Sunday; do you know it?")

To know God, and to become disciples of Jesus Christ, and to go into the world in the power of the Holy Spirit.

I. To Know God

Hebrews 11:6 Them that come to God must believe that He IS, and that He is a rewarder of them that diligently seek Him. (also) The place to begin to know God is with a healthy, God-given respect for the wonder and greatness we can never fully comprehend: (we are altogether too casual and glib about the most important thing in all our lives!) In every place where God is truly revealed there is that sense of awe:

Psalm 8 O LORD, our Sovereign, how majestic is your name in all the earth! You have set your glory above the heavens. Out of the mouths of babes and infants you have founded a bulwark because of your foes, to silence the enemy and the avenger. When I look at your heavens, the work of your fingers, the moon and the stars that you have established; what are human beings that you are mindful of them, mortals that you care for them? Yet you have made them a little lower than God, and crowned them with glory and honor. You have given them dominion over the works of your hands; you have put all things under their feet, all sheep and oxen, and also the beasts of the field, the birds of the air, and the fish of the sea, whatever passes along the paths of the seas. O LORD, our Sovereign, how majestic is your name in all the earth!

On this Trinity Sunday I cannot "describe God." The greatest theologian, whoever he or she might be, who says "THIS is God!" is like the little boy painting at his easel in kindergarten class, with his dad's old shirt for a smock.

"What are you painting?"

"I'm painting a picture of God!"

"But no one knows what God is like!!"

"Well, they will when I get done with this painting!"

But this great, holy, Creator God beyond all our comprehension has revealed Himself as loving. The promise in the Bible is "Draw near to God and he will draw near to you." (James) But this drawing near is not a casual arrangement.

To "know" God is the work of a lifetime, or more properly, the privilege of eternal life. The universe as we can see it is almost beyond description. It reflects the majesty of our God. It is right and proper that we come to Him with reverence. He has promised to meet us. To seek to know God is to draw near to the majesty that is God...

Transition: But God has not only spoken by "general revelation." He has spoken by His Son, Jesus Christ. The Bible from cover to cover speaks of a seeking God, and one who calls to us: "Where are you?" The WORD God has spoken is Jesus. Which brings us to the second statement in our mission for ordinary times:

II. To Become Disciples Of Jesus Christ:

Ephesians 4:32

Be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake has forgiven you.

We may never fully understand the Mystery that is God, but God has made us in His image, and then sent his Son to show us how to live. It was a great Methodist missionary of a generation ago, Dr. E. Stanley Jones, who said, profoundly: "We have a Christ-like God!"

So Jesus came, and showed us how to live, and taught us how to live, and brought to Word to life before our eyes. Then Jesus took our sins and our failures on himself and died on the cross of Calvary. More than an example, Jesus became our Entry into eternal life. (John 3:16)

Romans 10:9,10 reads: "If we confess with our mouth the Lord Jesus, and if we believe in our hearts that God has raised him from the dead, we shall be saved!" How we get to that confession, and how that faith to truly believe in Jesus comes to us is something of a mystery. But no one who comes to Jesus sincerely is ever turned away!

It is important that we have this personal relationship with Jesus! We are HIS disciples! We want to be like HIM! And the "bottom line" in my understanding is this: what sort of spirit is manifested? The chorus we sing says, "They'll know we are Christians by our love!" And that's where this life verse, Ephesians 4:32 becomes important, at least to me: BE YE KIND!

Trinity Sunday!

The majesty and mystery and LOVE of the FATHER!

The grace and forgiveness and kindness and LOVE of the SON!

But there is more: It is not enough for us as Christians simply to "be good" or to be "saved," as important as that may be. The third part of our text/mission today is:

III. To Go Into The World In The Power Of The Holy Spirit

John 15:8 Here is the way the Father is glorified:

If You bear MUCH fruit; so you will be My disciples.

Jesus loves us very much—it is great to have fellowship with Him and with one another! But the Gospel text this Trinity Sunday was what we call the Great Commission of Jesus, and it is about GOING INTO THE WORLD WITH THE GOOD NEWS WE ARE FINDING OUT ABOUT GOD! It is about going to the world with this TRINITARIAN message, baptizing in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit!

We are not all we can be if we are simply content to be "saved." Did you know that each one of us has some way we can join with the Father and the Son and by the Holy Spirit make a difference where we are?

John 15:7 is a favorite verse for people who study prayer and praying; it is a great promise: "If you abide in Me, and my words abide in you, you may ask whatever you will, and it shall be done unto you." But we don't always connect that verse with its context! We begin thinking selfishly! Whatever I want I'll ask for!

But the very next verse, verse 8, says: "THIS is the way the Father is glorified, IF YOU BEAR MUCH FRUIT,; THAT WILL PROVE YOU ARE MY DISCIPLES!

It is the HOLY SPIRIT, who was the Gift at the first Pentecost, who gives us what we need to carry on the work of Jesus. The Book of Acts began with the coming of the Spirit to the church. Its chapters tell the story of ORDINARY, VERY ORDINARY PEOPLE who dared to ask for God to live in them and have all of them, and simply did what the Spirit led them to do.

There are 28 chapters of Acts in our Bible. But the Book of Acts has never been finished. Each generation has an opportunity to write another chapter! Sometimes I even think some of that chapter might be written in John Wesley United Methodist Church right here in Falmouth!

Jesus said, in Luke 11:13 that we can have the Holy Spirit just for the asking. I'm not saying this lightly or casually, but these are Christ's words from Luke's Gospel:

If YOU, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, HOW MUCH MORE, will the Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask Him?

Do we dare ask again:

Let us pray . . .

A Light In the Darkness

Psalm 118:24-29 This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it. . . . God is the Lord which hath showed us light; bind the sacrifice with cords, even unto the horns of the altar.

We have come with Jesus to the Upper Room. Passover is a FAMILY meal, and yet Jesus has made us family. We still love our flesh-and-blood relatives very much. But this is a "forever family" somehow . . .

The Upper Room is borrowed — and yet it, like all the earth, is His. We have come here especially to celebrate the Passover. It is Thanksgiving and Christmas and reunion and worship. For almost 2,000 years the people of God have been remembering deliverance. There has been some kind of disturbance. An uneasiness. Jesus has talked about betrayal, and of sorrow and death. We have all denied, of course. We don't want to ruin the fellowship. Judas has suddenly gone out into the night. But now we go on with the Passover ritual.

We sing the usual songs of praise, the "hallel." The 118th Psalm— about the joy of God's Providence, and His provision for coming into His Presence. Somehow these words seem to take on weight: The stone which the builders have rejected— IS become the headstone of the corner. THIS is the day the Lord has made. We will rejoice and be glad in it. Never mind that in just a few short hours the darkness of Gethsemane will be over us. God has showed us LIGHT! Then the Master does a NEW thing: He takes the bread and breaks it and speaks of His broken body; He takes the cup and passes it and speaks of His shed blood. We do not fully understand it— yet somehow— this Passover becomes...

I. A CELEBRATION THAT SPEAKS OF SACRIFICE FOR SIN

The Paschal Lamb was first a sacrifice, its blood sprinkled on the lintel and doorposts . . .

THEN it became food for the journey; strength to escape from bondage and move toward the Promised Land . . .

II. A MEMORY THAT IS ALSO A HOPE

Passover looked BACK — but THIS Passover looked to the immediate tomorrow. NOW we look back to Calvary— but we also look forward to a time when we shall celebrate Passover at the married supper of the Lamb!

III. A LIGHT WHICH NO DARKNESS CAN EXTINGUISH

We will lose our way in the hours ahead. We will grope in utter darkness. We will lose our sense of faith. Our faith will slip into the past tense. But we will remember this New Passover! And Jesus will call our faith back into newness of life! And then ever after this, when we eat the bread and drink the cup, we will remember — and look forward to living forever with Jesus!

And NOW— the sacrifice must be bound to the horns of the altar! BUT REMEMBER! God's MERCY endures forever!

Invitation to Communion:

Dedication of the Elements of Communion; of our own selves before God to worship, to receive of God's grace.

Invitation to come, to partake.

A Man of God in the Church

Philip, the Evangelist

Acts 21:10

Intro:

When Paul was on his last journey before his arrest and transportation to Rome, he stopped several days at a home in Caesarea. It must have been a spacious home, and I'm certain it was a pleasant home. The entire party traveling with Paul were made comfortable there.

The name of the home's owner was Philip. Not Philip the Apostle, but Philip the evangelist— the same man who was chosen to be part of the first "church board" and serve tables, as recorded in Acts 6.

Even though Philip was called an "evangelist," I'm not sure he was an evangelist like we think of evangelists. He was a layman, not part of the recognized clergy. But he was chosen to a place of leadership because he was full of the Holy Spirit and of faith.

We get the first glimpse of Philip in Acts 6, where he is chosen as one who help in practical ways within the church. Philip is the second deacon mentioned.

A second passage highlights two episodes of evangelism in which Philip had key roles. In Acts 8, Philip is used to spark a revival in Samaria, and then leads an Ethiopian official to faith in Jesus Christ.

The last passage in Acts 21 we have read. It mentions that Philip has four daughters, all of whom are prophetesses. You might say in summarizing this man of God's life that he was (1) a servant in the church; and (2) a witness to Jesus in the world; and (3) a Christian in his own home. It was because of men and women like this that the church of Jesus Christ changed the course of history.

I. PHILIP WAS A SERVANT IN HIS CHURCH

If the church is really a unit bound in the life and love of Christ, there is no room for rivalry, jealousy, or pettyness. There are no "mean" positions. There are no "privileged classes." And all exist to serve the good of the whole body. Jesus Himself served. Mature Christians will serve the church because in so doing they are serving Jesus.

II. PHILIP WAS A WITNESS IN HIS WORLD

The 8th of Acts tells of persecution, and the church, including Philip, had to leave Jerusalem. They proclaimed Jesus wherever they went. Proclaiming Jesus is the total task of the total church! Proclaiming Jesus is all that the church needs to do. But proclaiming Jesus must be done by each one of us. Proclaiming Jesus is done from the pulpit. But proclaiming Jesus is done wherever Christians go, and whatever they do. It is much more than preaching. In fact, the pulpit is NOT the primary means of evangelism in God's agenda!

In Samaria Philip proclaimed Christ. I wish I had more details (Acts 8) but it seems a community was stirred because of Philip's witness. As we said above, the "clergy" saw fit to supplant Philip, but that was "all right" with him! In the desert (where the Holy Spirit led him) Philip proclaimed Christ to a solitary man. but in so doing Philip may well have influenced an entire NATION for Jesus Christ!

If we are willing, and if we ask God to fill us with His Spirit and keep us full day by day, we will have opportunity to proclaim Jesus! It is exciting! It is rewarding! It is what we are all called/privileged to do!

III. PHILIP WAS A CHRISTIAN IN HIS HOME

As we read at the beginning, the last reference to Philip has to do with his home in Caesarea, and his four daughters who were all engaged in Christian endeavor. (Acts 21)

It is great to serve in the church. It is perhaps even better to witness to Jesus in the world outside the church walls. But to my mind, the real acid test of a Christian, and the kind of Christian that makes the church a healing place is the woman or the man who is at home the same kind of Christian he or she professes to be in the public arenas of life. A powerful Christian is one who is a Christian in the home!

How might we describe such a home? What sort of man was Philip at home?

There has to be "reading between the lines" here. But when a godly man has godly children, there is something wonderful and holy going on! I would make these suggestions:

In a Christian home there is:

A. DISCIPLINE THAT IS UNSELFISH

Discipline is good and necessary. But it must flow from LOVE, and not from fear or selfish ambition.

[Illus: I saw "ambition" that grabbed a little boy's arm in anger—]

B. FAITH THAT IS HEURISTIC

We "do things" in certain ways. But we learn to serve God for better and better reasons. We are not spiritual because we copy our godly mothers and fathers. We are spiritual because we dare to break new ground and follow Jesus.

A mother or father that is growing in his/her faith will NOT confuse the children in the home. They are smarter than that!

C. COURTESY BEYOND ETIQUETTE

Some people think that courtesy is a matter of rules. there is a right way and a wrong way to hold a knife and fork, and a proper order in which to pass the dishes. And that is all well and good.

But happy is the home that has discovered that the heart of courtesy is respect for the individual, and kindness. [Who was it that said that "a gentleman is one who never inflicts pain"?]

And happy is the home that considers every member of the household worthy of courtesy!

There is weight in words!

Too often parents become prophets with their prophecies of gloom and doom, with their pronouncements in anger.

"You are no good!"

"You are stupid!"

Say that to your BOSS! Or to a perfect stranger! But don't say it to your little daughter or son!

Conclusion:

Perhaps I've taken a little poetic (or prophetic) license in filling our Philip's life. But I believe the outline of Acts will bear me out: He was (1) a servant in church. He was (2) a witness in the world. And (3) He was a Christian in his home!

I think we can each do all three of these things!

1. We can have a servant-spirit in our church, and relating to our church. We can "find the open man!" We can talk up our brothers' and sisters' strengths!
2. We can proclaim Jesus in our world! Make this a matter of prayer— to ask Jesus to give us a chance to talk about Him outside the walls of the church each week!
3. We can pray every day we live for grace so that we can live like Jesus in our homes!

We cannot afford to omit ANY of these three things. But if we MUST— lets not omit #3!!!

Contrasts

Luke 16:19-31

Jesus was talking to people who were scoffers. They were wealthy, and self-righteous; the Bible says they were lovers of money. Finally he told them this story. It may or may not be a parable; but it is obviously told for a purpose:

I. THE PURPOSE OF THIS STORY

1. It is not obviously a parable; but if it were, what is its purpose? Why did Jesus use it in His teaching?
2. It seems to say that God 'evens things out.' The poor are more pure than the rich. But is that what it really says?
3. It says, with unmistakable simplicity, that there is a life after death; and that there will be rewards and punishments.
4. It says, too, that it is "safe" to live by God's special revelation: by Moses and the prophets— by the Bible.
5. But it says, finally, THAT THIS LIFE IS NOT ALL THERE IS TO LIVING; AND THAT WE DO WELL TO PREPARE FOR ETERNITY.

II. IT IS A STORY OF OBVIOUS CONTRASTS

Jesus was certainly not saying it was wrong to be rich; for the subjects of the two immediately preceding parables were both rich and good. But it seemed He wanted to show as much contrast as he could between the way the worldly, materialistic-minded people set their values, and the way that God sets His values. So this was a story of contrasts.

1. There were contrasts in material surroundings.
rich vs. beggar sumptuous fare vs. longing after crumbs purple and fine linen vs. a covering of sores ...
2. There were evidently hidden contrasts in life purpose.

3. There were contrasts that became apparent in death: Oh, I'm sure that the funerals carried on the contrast.

The rich man had the mayor/flowers/car vs. just a few family to grieve a big 'obit' and pix vs. nothing in the Ledger . . .

But Jesus gives us a little insight when He says: "The angels carried Lazarus into Abraham's bosom!"

III. BUT THE FINAL CONTRASTS LIE IN ETERNAL, UNCHANGING VERITIES

[Conclusion:] The contrasts that were obvious were not necessarily the important ones: what had these men lived for? For whom had they lived?

A. THIS STORY IS A CLEAR WARNING

What is the real "key" to this passage? Look at vv 14,15: "Now the Pharisees, who were lovers of money, were listening to all these things, and they were scoffing at Him.

"And He said to them, 'You are those who justify yourselves in the sight of men, but God knows your hearts; for that which is highly esteemed among men is detestable in the sight of God.'"

1. It is a warning to self-sufficient men and women. This is the "text" of the story we have read!

Hear it again: ' You are those who justify yourselves in the sight of men, but God knows your hearts; for that which is highly esteemed among men is detestable in the sight of God.'

2. It is a reminder of the eternal perspective we all need. We must make sure our possessions are working for us, and not the other way around. We need to see if what we think is important is detestable in God's eyes.
3. It is a healthy reminder that we can prepare NOW to die. Death is part of life, and it is not morbid to prepare well for it.

B. THIS STORY IS ALSO A SOURCE OF ASSURANCE

No matter how insignificant or unloved, God does not forget His own people; the angels know their address— they do not die unnoticed. (Is it morbid to think on death?)

It makes sense! We must prepare!

But how do we prepare?

1. WE SHALL DIE AS WE LIVE

[Proverbs 14:32] "The wicked is driven away in his wickedness; but the righteous hath hope in his death." It is a fact we must accept; we are never really quite 'prepared' for death; it ALWAYS comes at an inconvenient time.

2. So: WE CAN'T "GET" READY... WE HAVE TO "BE" READY!

Some people are waiting for an unusual sign or signal before they get right with God! Dives said: 'If someone were to rise from the dead then certainly my brothers would give heed!'

But Abraham, in Jesus' story, said, 'No- If they don't heed their everyday opportunities, they wouldn't be saved if someone came back from the dead!'

We must LIVE in a right relationship with God.

3. But if we are saved, and if we are walking in the light, how will we know what to do when we come to cross over?

That's the beautiful part; we don't have special preparation! When we belong to God, it is THEN DYING GRACE IS A 'GIVEN!'

And then: We don't have to "get" ready!

#244 (Wesley) I Do Believe!

#246 Is Thy Heart Right with God?

Covenant for Life

THANKSGIVING SUNDAY

2 Chronicles 7:14

On a Friday morning, April 21, 1747, to be exact, John Wesley rode his horse into the village of Thirsk, about 25 miles north of York, in beautiful north Yorkshire, England. John Wesley came intending to preach and conduct religious services. But if the countryside there is beautiful, the spirit of the town, as, indeed, the spirit of much of the entire nation, was ugly.

Wesley wrote in his Journal that night: "I called at Thirsk; but finding the town full of holiday folks, drinking, cursing, swearing, and cockfighting, I did not stop at all, but rode on to Boroughbridge, and in the afternoon to Leeds."

In Thirsk, as well as in all of Britain, Wesley and his Christian contemporaries faced a sea of evil. The people were scripturally ignorant and illiterate. The living was hard. The character of the average man in the street was coarse. What could one man, or a few people, or even a few hundred people do to stem such a degenerate tide?

WHAT COULD GOD'S PEOPLE DO?

- THEY COULD RESOLVE TO BE HOLY.
- They could live to please God!
- And THEY COULD MAKE THEMSELVES AVAILABLE TO GOD.

And a relatively small number of people set out to do exactly that. They had no delusions of grandeur, but they knew that they served a great God. And they determined to live to please Him. AND GOD, THROUGH THOSE RELATIVELY FEW PEOPLE, BROUGHT ABOUT A SPIRITUAL AWAKENING!

Perhaps it is not possible to make parallels between our modern culture and early 18th century England, and draw spiritual and moral conclusions. But I feel challenged by what I perceive to be almost identical spiritual confrontations. I have no way of knowing whether our pornography and abortion and political corruption are worse or better than the brutality and prejudices and class discrimination which Wesley faced. BUT I DO KNOW THAT WE ARE IN DANGER OF SIMPLY ACCOMMODATING THE WAY WE LIVE TO THE TENOR OF THE TIMES.

We go home from our worship service, where we all agree that sin is bad and God is good— and we tell ourselves that we are on God's side with all we have. And maybe we are. But I also do perceive that UNLESS MORE HAPPENS TO STEM THE FLOODTIDES OF EVIL IN OUR DAY THAN IS HAPPENING NOW, THEN WE SHALL SINK QUICKLY and quietly into a post-Christian, hedonist, Godless society that will swallow up our children and our own faith as well!

I believe I sense some of the same frustration that Wesley may have felt as he rode his horse into Thirsk that spring morning. I believe that he was at least tempted to say, "What can one person do against such emboldened evil!" I know that I am tempted! But WE KNOW AS CHRISTIANS WE MUST DO SOMETHING!

[Transition:]

I'm sure that it is natural to think first of all about doing; and particularly about acting politically. It seems natural to see the sinful conditions of society and begin by attacking those evils, wherever and however we are able. It might do us well, instead, TO LOOK TO Wesley for a working model, and beyond Wesley, to THE SCRIPTURAL PRINCIPLES WESLEY USED in the spiritual awakening which came during his lifetime.

These principles come into sharp focus in the words of our text: (2 Chron. 7:14)

THIS IS A COVENANT STATEMENT.

It is not "contractual;" it does not give service rendered for value received, and in no way can a spiritual awakening ever be earned, merited, deserved, or "prayed down." But it is a covenant statement.

GOD SAYS "I'LL BE RESPONSIBLE AND DO CERTAIN THINGS, IF YOU WILL BE RESPONSIBLE AND FOR YOUR PART, YOU WILL DO CERTAIN THINGS!"

I. THE PART WHICH FALLS TO GOD'S PEOPLE IS CLEARLY OUTLINED:

1. IF MY PEOPLE, which are called by MY name

I have made this phrase a separate "condition" even though it isn't something to "do;" but it DOES tell WHO is called to be the agent of God's healing. The call of God is not first of all to militancy against the evils of society, but to the people called by His name, that they will come to Him. The call is not to reform the terrible conditions we see on the outside (although we must do what we can when and where we can.)

GOD'S CALL IS TO SEEK HIS FACE, and His promise is that if HIS people will hear and believe Him, then HE will heal the land. This task of land healing is too big for any of us, and it is too big for all of us put together! But it is NOT too big for God!

[Somehow I see Abraham standing on the edge of the mesa overlooking the valley of the Dead Sea below. I hear him interceding to God for Sodom and Gomorrah, and hear God saying, "If there are 40 righteous, I will spare the city! If there are 30 righteous, I will not destroy the people!"]

[And somehow I wonder who is holding back the fire and brimstone of God's wrath on a society that has absolutely no time for any god but pleasure and convenience and comfort?]

2. SHALL HUMBLE THEMSELVES

This means putting ourselves into the "servant role." We see ourselves as the agents of God's work; 'any great awakening depends on US!' BUT GOD SAYS HUMBLE YOURSELVES!

Recognize the helplessness of all flesh apart from God! Cry out in desperation to God! WE'RE so "cool!" WE know so "much!" Just a few more seminars— a few more hard prayers— a little more sweat and busy-ness— and we'll bring in the New Jerusalem all by ourselves! WE THINK!

God says: Either I do it— or it won't get done!

3. "Humble yourselves . . . AND PRAY AND SEEK MY FACE"

This means giving God TIME and giving Him ATTENTION for AS LONG AS IT TAKES, until we get ourselves lined up with His good, and acceptable, and perfect will.

It isn't a matter of praying to change God's mind. God is not reluctant to help us against the forces of evil. He is ready and able right now to move in and change our world under our feet. But our problem is praying, without mixture, "I delight to do YOUR will, O God!" Your kingdom come! In YOUR way!

God says: "Pray and seek my face until your whole being is on the stretch for more of ME!"

4. AND TURN FROM THEIR WICKED WAYS

And how will we know when we are coming near to praying and seeking God's face enough? The answer is: WHEN WE ARE WILLING PUT THE WAY WE LIVE ON THE LINE, WHATEVER IT COSTS US TO OBEY GOD'S WILL! We think of "wickedness" as violence and impurity and flagrant greed and denial of God. But GOD SAYS WHEN HIS PEOPLE STOP PUTTING OTHER THINGS FIRST AHEAD OF HIM— WHEN THEY ARE WILLING TO PUT COMFORT AND SECURITY AND LEGITIMATE PLEASURES WAY DOWN THE LIST OF THEIR LIFE PRIORITIES, and absolutely put God FIRST— THEN GOD'S PEOPLE WILL BE LEAVING THEIR WICKED WAYS!

[This is 'our' side of the covenant. But God Himself has made a promise of what He will do for His part of the covenant!] And WHEN IT IS GOD THAT MOVES IN, then the dynamic, and the wisdom, and all the glory are HIS!]

II. AND THE COVENANT PROMISE OF THE LORD GOD ALMIGHTY IS CLEAR: THEN WILL I:

1. HEAR FROM HEAVEN

YOUR PRAYERS WILL "CONNECT!" Did you ever have a prayer "connect?" I'm not sure how to describe "praying through." And I know that we are called upon to pray in faith no matter how we "feel," and I am also sure that some of our most effective prayers are "embattled prayers." We are to "be instant in season and out of season." (2 Timothy) BUT IT IS GREAT WHEN PRAYERS "CONNECT!" It makes all the difference when, beyond mere emotional feeling, there is the assurance, the certitude that God is not just "aware" of what you have prayed, but that God has heard!

2. WILL FORGIVE THEIR SIN

WHOSE SIN? The sins of the abortionists and drug pushers? Not yet— THE SINS OF HIS OWN PEOPLE! The sins of NEGLECT— of BROKEN ALTARS and NEGLECTED BIBLES and UNKIND ATTITUDES and PRAYERLESS DAYS and WEEKS. THIS FORGIVENESS IS KEY!

WHAT SIN? Once again— THE SIN OF BEING "DISCONNECTED" from the Source of Goodness and Life and Light. The connection once again will be established. God will have a voice in the land. God's Word will be heard in its glory!

3. HEAL THEIR LAND

If the job is too great for us— and the sickness too profound, it is not for the great God we serve. This is a covenant statement! AND ONE WAY OR ANOTHER, GOD WILL HEAL THE LAND OF THE PEOPLE WHO KEEP COVENANT WITH HIM! And make no mistake, we will have a part, and an important part to DO. For THERE DOES COME A TIME FOR "DOING!" GOD WILL ASK US TO PUT OUR LIVES ON THE LINE! But it begins with HUMBLING, and continues in PRAYER, and SEEKING GOD'S FACE, and TURNING FROM SELFISH WAYS!

Because God does the healing does NOT mean that we will not have any part in the healing process. John Wesley was certainly an instrument in the awakening of His day. GOD WILL USE HUMAN INSTRUMENTS IN THE AWAKENING WE SEE. But remember: THIS COVENANT PROMISE CLEARLY DOES MEAN THAT THE HEALING WILL COME FROM GOD.

Conclusion:

Wesley was dismayed and temporarily dismissed in Thirsk and a number of other places because of the prevailing spirit of lawlessness and sin in his times. But Wesley went back to Thirsk another day... and another and another! There are 14 entries in his Journal that record visits to Thirsk. After 1747 there are entries like June, 1755:

- Thirsk: a little society; June 1763: intended to preach by a house, but asked by gentlemen to preach in the marketplace; to a large, deeply attentive congregation;
- June 1764 "exceeding large congregation"
- May 29, 1766 I preached in the new House (chapel) at Thirsk.

And Wesley kept on recording visits to Thirsk until 1788, a year before his death! And if you go to Thirsk today there stands what to Americans is a very old, substantial chapel built of brick, built by the people called Methodists. Indeed, in just about every hamlet and village in Britain there is a Methodist chapel that testifies to the truth of our text, that: "if God's people . . .!"

It is past time for another awakening in our world! And we are frustrated— we are helpless. We cannot begin by starting out to tilt against the windmills of evil in our own righteousness and our own strength and power.

WHAT CAN WE DO AGAINST THE CURRENT OF DEGENERATE TIMES?

- WE CAN RESOLVE TO BE HOLY.
- We can live to please God.
- And WE CAN MAKE OURSELVES AVAILABLE TO GOD.

Prayer: Lord God, The task is too large! And we are so very small! But we are NOT alone! Together with Your people today all over this world we pray! Heal our land! Your kingdom come! In US as it is in heaven! Amen.

Draw Near to God in Prayer

A Lesson in Praying

Luke 11:1-13

Everybody prays. It seems as though prayer is built into our make-up, a part of being human. Some prayers may be more direct and honest than others.

Consider some of these direct and honest prayers by "little people:"

- Dear GOD, I would like to live 900 years like the guy in the Bible. Love, Chris
- Dear GOD, If you watch me in church Sunday, I'll show You my new shoes. Mickey D.
- Dear GOD, I bet it is very hard for You to love all of everybody in the whole >world. There are only 4 people in our family and I can never do it. Nan
- Dear GOD, Thank you for the baby brother, but what I prayed for was a puppy. Joyce
- Dear GOD, It rained for our whole vacation and is my father mad! He said something about You that people are not supposed to say, but I hope you will not hurt him anyway. Your friend. -(But I am not going to tell you who I am.)
- Dear GOD, My brother is a rat. You should give him a tail. Ha- ha . Danny
- Dear GOD, Please send me a pony. I never asked for anything before, You can look it up. Bruce

Everybody prays. Not everybody prays well or even knowing why they pray.

WHY PRAY?

If God already knows everything, then prayer isn't in order to inform Him. And if God already has things all 'set in cement' then prayer can't change things.

There are several scriptural reasons why we should pray, and why we should keep learning to pray better and better. Prayer DOES make a difference : there have been too many solid examples of how prayer. Let me challenge you to think about several reasons WHY we need to pray:

A. Prayer communicates love to God.

The first and great Commandment is: "Thou shalt LOVE the Lord your God with all your heart, soul, mind and strength. God is a Person, not a "Force." Salvation - faith- is ultimately a relationship, not a doctrine or list of rules. The way we keep love going is called "communication." Prayer is communication with God.

It isn't easy or simple to love someone as big and as mysterious as God. But he has promised if we will reach out to Him he will reach out to us. And so maybe it IS simple: we just keep talking to God. Tell Him everything! Little by little we come to realize that He really is our Great Friend for time and eternity.

B. Prayer 'conducts' God's love to others.

Prayer not only is communication with God- it can bring God and those we pray for together. Prayer becomes a conduit or 'conductor' of God's love. When you pray for others, you can release God's love in their lives. Especially when you sense the prompting of the Spirit, prayer can be a powerful release of blessing in other's lives.

Prayer is mysterious in some ways. We do not always see how it works. But James tells us that the effectual fervent prayer of God's people avails much. Jim Couchenour said "Prayer does not make the work of the church go forward- prayer IS the work of the church. After we have prayed the rest is just mopping up!"

When our Chinese work goes forward- when our missionaries find strength to carry on- when we see new avenues of ministry, perhaps in the inner city- it will be because in prayer God has shown us how to conduct his love to others.

C. Prayer changes the pray-er.

Finally, prayer keeps us growing. It changes us!

[Sermon-within-the-sermon: The essence of the Lord's Prayer has the potential of keeping the spirit free and pure. What the pattern of prayer Jesus taught will do if it is used consistently and honestly and humbly is KEEP FAITH SWEET AND SIMPLE! Keep the

[If the occasion warrants I could share my focus verses here: Hebrews 11:6 SEEK, John 15:8 MUCH. Ephesians 4:32 KIND, and LUKE 11:13 'ASK!' (For the Holy Spirit!)]

THE LESSON JESUS GIVES US

- A. The pattern: It isn't the exact words that become a magic formula, although the exact words keep the focus sharp. Rather, it is the pattern: God First, Others and self next in God's care. God's name, worship, praise. God's kingdom bringing order out of chaos. God's will, in all the earth and in the details of my life. THEN, "its all right" to say GIVE and FORGIVE and LEAD and DELIVER.
- B. The persistence: On the occasion of this lesson (in Luke's gospel) Jesus added the emphasis of persistency. Here is where we too often fall down. It is human to start BIG and then lose interest and energy and . . . then . . . start BIG all over again. God's ideal is for us to grow IN BETWEEN the camp meetings and the revivals. We do that by talking EVERY DAY with the Father. We need to encourage each other. We need to pray when we feel like praying. And we need to pray when we DON'T feel like praying! Maybe that kind of prayer means the most both to God AND to ourselves!

As We Come to the Close Talking ABOUT Prayer, would you let me LEAD YOU in prayer?:

Let's pray again together, with the pattern of the Lord's Prayer in mind:

- God is here. Bow your head– close your eyes– and let God sit down beside you there.
- In your heart tell Him you love Him, and are proud to be His child.

Draw Near to God in Prayer

- Think of how this world will be when hatred and selfishness cease. Tell God you want His kingdom of peace.
- Tell Him you will be part of His kingdom right now. Tell Him He can tell you what to do– and you'll do it!
- Now think of the people who are dear to you. Family. Children. Parents. Tell God you want Him to bless them. Give them the gift of God's love in your prayer just now.
- Let the face of a person who has hurt you come to mind...
- Tell that name silently to God...Ask God to help you forgive that person. Give them the blessing of God's love in your forgiveness.
- Silently think of any failure in your life right now. Do you dare to name the sin right now in your life that you feel you most need to confess to God...
- Tell God right now! Confess it...Ask God to forgive you; and you know what? He will! He does!
- What is the daily bread that you need God to give right now?..
- Ask God for it; trust that He will guide you!
- You have very much needed God's guidance on some decision and situation in your life...
- Tell God right now...Ask to know the will of God for you.

Amen.

Lord, teach us to pray! Help us to pray. Help us to know You, and love You. IN Jesus' name. Amen

CHORUS: O GOD YOU ARE MY GOD . . . STEP-BY-STEP

Entering the Kingdom

Matthew 7:13-23, 13-14: "Enter by the narrow gate; for the gate is wide, and the way is broad that leads to destruction, and many are those who enter by it. "For the gate is small, and the way is narrow that leads to life, and few are those who find it."

21-23 "Not everyone who says to Me, 'Lord, Lord,' will enter the kingdom; but he who does the will of My Father who is in heaven. "Many will say to Me on that day, 'Lord, Lord, did we not prophecy in Your name, and in Your name cast out demons, and in Your name perform many miracles?' "And then I will declare to them, 'I never knew you; depart from Me, you who practice lawlessness.'"

INTRODUCTION:

We have spoken in this brief series about the Sermon on the Mount as "an inaugural" message for the Church, the kingdom of heaven on earth. We have spoken of its spirit, and of its heroes. We have looked at its values, and priorities; and have acknowledged its righteous laws.

But toward the close of the Sermon on the Mount Jesus talks about entering the kingdom of God. He begins to speak of a narrow gate, a disciplined way. And He says "Not everyone that calls me 'Lord Lord' is going to get in! It is sobering!

But let me ask you:

1. How did YOU enter the kingdom? [We all came in the same way— and we each one came in a different way!]

And let me ask you perhaps an even tougher one:

2. How would you give instruction to someone else who wished to enter the kingdom of heaven? [Even though we all are individuals, there are certain 'absolutes' that apply to Christ's kingdom:]

I. THE KINGDOM IS ENTERED ON THE LORD JESUS CHRIST'S TERMS

There will always be people saying: Go there!" "Do this!" "Believe our way!"

But the kingdom is not any one man or one group's monopoly. Should we do this? Do we have to do that? Don't ask MAN— be open- - ask God! OBEY HIM!

Jesus reveals God's terms to each of us! He is perfectly capable of making us KNOW we have been dealt with personally! The Holy Spirit makes it seem that the truth is written just TO us, just FOR us!

Jesus confronts us (lovingly) where we are! Sooner or later we need to deal with the sin question. Jesus never compromises with sin. Sooner or later we need to identify with the visible kingdom and be baptized. Sooner or later we get our values established, and start to grow in grace. [He spoke to the woman at the well about her five husbands. He saw the rich young ruler walk away sorrowful because he loved his money more than eternal life. He called Zaccheus down from his sycamore tree and went home with him, a despised tax gatherer, when no one else would have anything to do with him. Jesus always deals with us where we are!] BUT WE DON'T TELL JESUS HOW WE SHALL COME, OR WHAT OUR TERMS WILL BE! THE TERMS ARE ALWAYS "YOU FOLLOW ME!" I'll do the leading!

II. THE KINGDOM IS ENTERED BY FAITH IN THE LORD JESUS HIMSELF

It takes that strange thing we call FAITH to enter Christ's kingdom!

Faith always has the element of volition; of willingness to obey. We are not saved by doing; but it isn't faith unless there is more than idle curiosity; unless and until

In Luke 17 when the Pharisees asked when the kingdom of God should come— Jesus said: "YOU can't see it— you can't observe it- - but the kingdom of God is already HERE! The kingdom is where Jesus is!

- A kingdom of righteousness, of peace, of life. A kingdom of sin defeated, through justification by faith in Christ's blood (Romans 5:1)
- A kingdom of death defeated, through the gift of eternal life, called regeneration (2 Corinthians 5:17 a new creation)

- A kingdom in which isolation and loneliness and separation are defeated by adoption into God's great family: (Romans 8:15)

But these are just empty theological terms apart from Jesus. Jesus is our righteousness! Jesus is our regeneration! Jesus redeems us from being alone in this universe, lost in space! The call is not "Come and learn your way INTO the kingdom!" The call is "COME UNTO ME!"

III. WE ENTER THE KINGDOM IS TO SERVE HIS PURPOSE! AND IT IS THE ONLY WAY OF SAFETY ... HE IS JUST !

Make no mistake! Storms are coming! As He comes to the close of the inaugural message Jesus speaks of gathering storms! Every Sunday School child has learned "The wise man built his house upon the rock!" But every grown up Sunday School child has known the rains coming down, and the floods coming up!

Jesus spoke of rains and floods. And in later conversations about the kingdom Jesus referred explicitly to Noah, and again to Lot.

He made it plain that the Old Testament stories could be used as powerful warnings about the need to prepare for judgment! The only way of safety is knowing Him, and trusting Him personally!

So, we can speak profitably about "justification" and "adoption" and "regeneration," but still the 'bottom line' of salvation is to know Jesus Christ.

When we meet Him face to face He will not first be concerned with what we KNOW, or even what we have ACCOMPLISHED! But His acceptance will be whether or not we have been occupied with the Father's will. And His rejection, seen here in His own words, is on the basis: "I never KNEW YOU!"

Conclusion:

At the beginning I asked two questions. I asked "How did you enter the kingdom?"

Jesus said the days would be evil— but He reminds us that Noah was saved because he believed!; and Lot was snatched from Sodom because he was RIGHT with God!

Entering the Kingdom

It is important that we know that WE are in God's righteous kingdom! And we can know!

Have you answered that question? If you do not have a clear- cut answer, you can enter the kingdom if you answer the call of Jesus to come to HIM. Where Jesus is, there is the kingdom! If He calls you, you may enter the kingdom now.

I would like to give an opportunity for YOU to enter Christ's kingdom, receive His salvation, join HIS church!

Jesus says: "Enter by the narrow gate; for the gate is wide, and the way is broad that leads to destruction, and many are those who enter by it. "For the gate is small, and the way is narrow that leads to life, and few are those who find it."

May we PRAY?

#227 Jesus I Come

Freedom in Becoming

Lesson Romans 8:18-25

Text: 8:21 "... the creation itself also will be set free from its slavery to corruption into the freedom of the glory of the children of God."

INTRODUCTION

Holiness is belonging to God. [This is what we have been talking about the past three Sunday mornings.] Holiness is also the freedom to enter into the glory of being God's children (text.) Holiness is being like Jesus, or at least, becoming like Him, the One who was and IS pure and holy. As the hymn writer penned it, and we pray as we sing:

"Give me, Lord, the mind of Jesus, Make me holy as He is; May I prove I've been with Jesus Who is all my righteousness."

Is it realistic to speak of becoming like Jesus Christ? One thing I am sure of, if any Christ-likeness is possible, and if it ever takes place in your life and mine, it will be the result of God's grace!

I. ROMANS: A HANDBOOK ON GRACE

A. We think of "grace" as salvation FROM sin— and so it is. There certainly is a glorious negative side of God's GRACE:

1. FREEDOM FROM A "WORKS SALVATION"

Romans 4 - Freedom from having to EARN salvation: [Romans 4:4 "Now to the one who works, his wage is not reckoned as a favor, but as what is due. 5 But to the one who does not work, but believes in Him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is reckoned as righteousness." 6: "... David also speaks of the blessing upon the man to whom God reckons righteousness apart from works ..."]

2. FREEDOM FROM SIN'S GUILT

Romans 5 - Freedom from the GUILT of confessed sin: peace WITH God / justification [Romans 5:1 "Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ..."]

3. FREEDOM FROM SIN'S DOMINION

Romans 6 - Freedom from the DOMINION of sin ... [Romans 6:1 "Shall we continue in sin that grace may abound? God forbid!" 6:22 "But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, you have your fruit unto holiness (i.e., sanctification) and the outcome, eternal life!"]

4. FREEDOM FROM "LEGALISTIC SALVATION?"

Romans 7 - Freedom from LEGALISM: [Romans 7:6 "But now we have been released from the Law, having died to that by which we were bound, so that we serve in newness of the Spirit and not in oldness of the letter."]

B. GRACE ALSO HAS A POSITIVE ASPECT! We are not merely set free FROM EVIL, [although we have just looked at quite a litany of God's great grace!] NOW HERE COMES Romans 8— which speaks of the victorious LIFE IN THE POWER OF THE INDWELLING SPIRIT!

Where may we look for an example? Who, do you suppose, best embodies what this life in the Spirit can be? You are right! Jesus does!

II. ROMANS 8: FREEDOM IN THE SPIRIT: A PROFILE OF JESUS

[It may seem strange musing on Romans 8 as a profile of Jesus. But when you think about it, EVERY high point in the NT is a lesson on how we can and should live, and is a candid shot of Jesus. These great chapters of the Bible are not simply theological wonders. They serve to help us become holy. And to be holy is to be like Jesus!]

A. JESUS LIVED IN THE FREEDOM OF THE SPIRIT. Can anyone doubt or deny that? If ever anyone was filled with the Spirit, it was Jesus! If ever anyone lived to please God the Father, it was Jesus!

Not in an ideal, sterile situation, but in the living out of real life at its best and its worst, Jesus showed us how to live in the freedom of the Spirit:

Romans 8:1

1. [Jesus was accused! But] JESUS WAS FREE FROM CONDEMNATION

Freedom from condemnation, but not from controversy. Accusation will come to us all! Remember how it came to Jesus?:

Brothers: You are crazy! Pharisees: He has a devil! Pilate: This man is irrelevant! Priests: He saved others! He cannot save Himself!

God the Father: This is My Son!

2. [Jesus was tempted! But] JESUS PLEASED THE FATHER!

Romans 8:8 (Those who are in the flesh cannot please God" ...but we know that Jesus pleased God!)

Jesus lived above sin, He was FREE from its power, but not from temptation. Recall how He was tempted?:

Temptation of the flesh: (Make bread from stones.) Temptation of the spirit: (Cast yourself down!) Temptation to get things done quickly: (Compromise! Short-cut!)

3. [Jesus HAD to pray!] JESUS HAD A VICTORIOUS PRAYER LIFE!

But even Jesus had times when prayer was not easy! He had freedom and victory, but even He was not free from groaning. (8:34 Says that this praying Christ intercedes for US!)

4. [Jesus knew loneliness!] JESUS WAS ONE WITH THE FATHER

But even Jesus was not excluded from the realities of the struggles of the spiritual realm.

And on the Cross He suffered alone-ness like we will never need to know! Because He loves us! (8:37-39 We overwhelmingly conquer through HIM that loved us... nothing .. shall separate us from the love of God which is in Jesus our Lord.")

- B. Jesus is our Great Example of the Life of GRACE! We can actually read Romans 8 by overlaying it with Jesus' life; and we can know Jesus better by seeing in HIM all this fullness of the Spirit. If we want to, we can know Jesus ... and become LIKE Him, by the power of His Spirit! (text) "Free from slavery ... into the freedom of the glory of the children of God!"

III. ROMANS 8: LIFE IN THE SPIRIT: IS FREEDOM TO BECOME LIKE JESUS!

- A. (Verse 2) THE LAW OF THE SPIRIT OF LIFE IN CHRIST JESUS HAS SET (US) FREE ... [look at that phrase!] We are enabled to become all that has been described here: free from condemnation, victorious in temptation, coming to God in prayer, never to be separated from the love of God in Christ Jesus.

- B. THIS IS NOT A SELFISH, SELF-CENTERED 'FREEDOM'

- 1. By looking to Jesus, we see that "FREEDOM" GOES BEYOND MERE "INDIVIDUALISM."

It is wonderful to be set free so that we can be ourselves. It is wonderful even to LIKE ourselves! (Most of us are at least a little ambivalent.)

We tend to relate freedom to individualism. But individualism can be a prison, a strait-jacket, if we descend into the strictures of our own desires. Hell, said one very wise man, could be getting exactly what we want for all eternity!

Individualism can be a prison— about the size of a small telephone booth— bounded on all sides by our own limitations. Freedom in Christ is more a freedom TO BECOME a part of the larger community. A church is a community of incomplete and imperfect people who can find completeness as they come together in Christ and His family.

The kind of "freedom" that glorifies "Individualism" can be a conformity to non-conformity. Some of the saddest uniforms I ever see are garish fashions, or punk dictations, which say: "We will NOT conform!" From kindergarten on, we are somehow taught to be afraid to be different. [I know one missionary who returned from a different culture and at some expense bought his children everything that the other children had, so far as he could tell. But the "things" were not the right "brands." And the children were humiliated! And by other "Christian" families' kids!]

Jesus was Unique! And he has made every one of us an "original!" But Jesus also bound Himself to you and me— to His church— which He loved! Our FREEDOM is to be like Him!

2. JESUS DID NOT LIVE OR DIE TO HIS OWN INDIVIDUAL GLORY He came to be the Father of a new kind of race. In 1 Corinthians 15:45 Paul writes: "The last Adam (Jesus Christ) became a life- giving spirit."
 - a. Jesus was to be THE FIRST-BORN AMONG MANY BRETHREN (8:29 "His Son, that He might be the first-born among many brethren.")
 - b. Jesus lives to MAKE INTERCESSION FOR US (8:34)
 - c. Jesus LOVES US (8:38-39 "Nothing can separate US from HIS love!"

C. IT IS REALISTIC TO SPEAK OF BECOMING LIKE JESUS CHRIST! The FREEDOM is there! The Holy Spirit makes it possible to begin!

But if we are like Jesus

1. WE will live for others, like Jesus did!
2. WE will PRAY for others (become INTERCESSORS) like Jesus did!
3. His LOVE will UNITE us with God and with each other, just as Christ's love reaches you and me!

CONCLUSION:

Freedom in Becoming

Paul writes (in Philippians 2) "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus!"
Here in Romans is something of the power to make it really happen!

- That dynamic is God CALLING us to conform to the image of His Son!
- That dynamic is the GRACE to be free FROM guilt, and from slavery to sin, and from ugly legalism!
- That dynamic is the Spirit of Christ Himself dwelling in YOU and in ME to make us HIS CHURCH!

If God calls you, you can be FREE! But remember, you aren't REALLY free unless and until you are not just free FROM ... but free TO BE, to BE BECOMING.. like Jesus Himself!

#60 Sitting at the Feet of Jesus

Holiness: The Lamb of God

John 1:29 Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world.

Introduction

Here is great good news! The sin of this world is going to be taken away! Can you imagine what this world would be like without any sin? It is going to happen! The Son of God will destroy all the works of the devil.

And here is great good news for every one who will receive the Lamb of God! Not only is the Lamb of God come to take away the sins of the world, but He is come to take away the burden of sin from your life and from mine.

But how was Jesus the Lamb of God? How will He deal with the sin of the world? In what ways does He deal with your and my sin? And what, really, is sin? The word in the text is "hamartia" which is the most common word translated "sin" in the NT, and means "to miss the mark."

Wherever there is sin, there the Lamb will prevail. I cannot tell you the details of how one day the Lamb of God will cleanse this entire world of its murder and cheating and child abuse and war and famine and all that is wrong. But I do know the Book of Revelation (in Rev 6:16) speaks mysteriously of the terrible "Wrath of the Lamb" from which the nations sought to hide in rocks and mountains to avoid; and in Rev. 17:14 we read of the forces of evil warring against and being defeated by the Lamb. We may not know how, but we may be certain that Jesus, the Lamb of God, will cleanse this whole creation from sin.

And, I cannot fathom the depths of God's love that makes it possible, but the Bible tells us a little more about how the Lamb of God can and does take away the sin of individual men and women, boys and girls who simply ask Him! If you have any kind of a sin problem— the Lamb of God can and will take it from you!

I. JESUS Is The Lamb Of God That TAKES AWAY THE GUILT OF WILFUL COMMITTED TRANSGRESSIONS

Every last one of us has done things in times past of which we have every right to be ashamed! We have turned to our own way! If sin is "hamartia," and "hamartia" is "missing the mark," this kind of sin is missing the mark of righteousness because of deliberately choosing to shoot at evil. It is wrong-doing because of wrong choice. This is the sin of which Paul writes when he says: "The wages of sin is death!"

This is the sin of living for all purposes just as though there is no God; it is living without regard to God or His law or His good will. No real Christian lives in this kind of out-broken, habitual, deliberate, willful rebellion against God. And those who do— and at one time this has included us all— those who do are deserving of death. (Romans 6:23.)

But Jesus came to pay the penalty for our willful transgressions: Our iniquity has been laid on Him (Isaiah 53); and If we come to Him for forgiveness he will not cast us out (John 6:37.) The only willful sin which Jesus cannot forgive is the sin which we will not bring to the blood in confession.

[But this is not the only burden the Lamb of God takes from us: for]

II. JESUS Is The Lamb Of God That TAKES AWAY THE POWER OF SIN TO MASTER US

It is one thing to be forgiven and be free of guilt. It is quite another thing to be able to quit habitually sinning.

The reason we shoot at the wrong target, deliberately choose evil, is because sin masters us. In John 8:34 Jesus said: "Whoever commits sin is the SLAVE of sin." We may begin to sin wilfully because we choose to sin— but once we are enmeshed in sinning, we cannot extract ourselves from its filthy grasp.

But in the Exodus, when the Passover Lamb was first revealed to the people of faith, God did not simply want His people to be free from Egyptian bondage, toiling as slaves to make bricks without straw; God wanted His people out of Egypt, and free in their own Promised Land! And when we come to God for salvation, by the power, the authority of this Lamb of God, we are free NOT to sin willfully any more!

The power of sin is not broken in a second work of grace we call "entire sanctification." The power is broken in the grace of regeneration. We don't stop the life of sinning when we get sanctified! We stop shooting at the wrong mark, deliberately choosing evil, WHEN WE FIND CHRIST AS SAVIOR!

(Indeed, for most people the testimony is that sin begins losing its grip when real "Holy Spirit conviction" comes! You don't even have to be saved to be sick of sinning, and turning away from sinning! When the Holy Spirit begins to press home the rights of a holy God on your allegiance— when He shows you the depths of your need— sin then begins to become "exceeding sinful" (Romans 7:14.) Christians need to re-learn the lesson that it is possible to focus prayers on lost friends and loved ones until this kind of liberating conviction takes powerful hold in their lives.)

[If this were all that the Lamb of God could do for us until He comes in awesome power to cleanse the whole world of sin, it would be wonderful. But it is NOT all, for:]

III. JESUS Is The Lamb Of God That TAKES AWAY THE POLLUTION AND STAIN OF SIN

If the power of sin is broken when we are forgiven, until it is possible NOT to sin— still the pollution and divided aims and goals of life remain. Sin is caused ultimately because of corrupt inner springs of motivation. We miss the mark in our actions, and fall under the mastery of sin because there is within us a twist or a bent to unbelief. We may now be shooting at the right target— but when the air clears we see that there are still at least TWO targets out there for us to aim at. There is God's holy, righteous way— and there is OUR own selfish will and way.

The Lamb of God cleanses from indwelling sin, too. The pollution— the double mind, the "bent to sinning" is REMOVED by the INDWELLING FULLNESS OF THE HOLY SPIRIT.

Peter testified (in Acts 15:9) that on the day of Pentecost, the sanctifying Presence of God "PURIFIED OUR HEARTS BY FAITH!"

And Paul, writing to the Thessalonians prayed that "The very God of peace would SANCTIFY THEM THROUGH AND THROUGH, THAT THEIR WHOLE SPIRIT, SOUL AND BODY BE PRESERVED BLAMELESS TO THE COMING OF OUR LORD"

[All this is pretty straightforward doctrine— and it is good, sound, scriptural. Jesus is the Lamb of God who came to take away the sin of the world.]

What a privilege it is to be able to say:

I AM FORGIVEN! I AM WASHED! I AM WALKING IN THE LIGHT! MY HEART IS FOCUSED ON ONE SINGLE PURPOSE!

But can there be anything more? Yes, there is:]

IV. JESUS Is The Lamb Of God That TAKES AWAY THE CONTAMINATION, THE ROAD-STAINS OF SIN

One of the great blessings which Christians can and must learn is that

1. they do not need to live in willful sin; and at the same time
2. it is all right to pray the Lord's Prayer all the way through; i.e., to ask God for forgiveness on our shortcomings.

Looking at this frankly I have to ask: Is there any place for Wesleyans and sanctified people to ask for forgiveness? Can we ever say: "Forgive us our sins?" We are pretty well locked into Wesley's definition of sin as "a willful transgression of a known law of God"— which is a viable and valuable instrument to keep us from being careless with God's known will. But what about the Lord's Prayer as Jesus taught his disciples? We use the Matthew version (opheelima=debts, that owed, error)— but what about Luke's version which uses plain old "hamartia."

I know there is great wisdom in the old Methodist adage that says "If we start calling mistakes (debts, errors) sins, pretty soon we will be calling sins mistakes." But perhaps one of our greatest strengths- genuine freedom from sin— is also misunderstood, and becomes the source of one of our greatest weaknesses: we are afraid to admit we ever come short of the mark of perfection in our Christian walk and our service to God.

I am not trying to make any excuse for willful transgression, or for breaking God's commandments. As Christians we don't willfully transgress God's known laws! But what do we do with our feelings? What do we do when we're "left out" and the feeling stays on and we hold it just a little longer than we should (even though we know we ought to pray immediately about it)? What do we do when we're under pressure and we are irritable with the ones we love the most? DO WE JUST IGNORE IT? Do we call it weakness of the flesh and assume it is automatically forgiven? Well— perhaps in God's mercy it is. But it is still WRONG! And if we simply ignore these spiritual failures they become cumulatively destructive!

We all do come short of God's glory, and we all live in a world that is unfriendly to God's love, and we all are touched by the filth and grime of sin every day. And so we need the cleansing grace of the Lamb of God that takes away the sin of the world to keep us clean and pure, day by day.

We don't need to carry ANY of the load of sin. So we need to hear it (even though Jesus has said it:) IT IS ALL RIGHT TO ASK FOR FORGIVENESS AS A SANCTIFIED CHRISTIAN!

No, IT IS NOT JUST 'ALL RIGHT' TO PRAY FOR FORGIVENESS EVERY DAY; IT IS MANDATORY! BUT NEVER PERFUNCTORILY, NEVER JUST RITUALLY.

It is an abomination if we presume to keep ourselves clean and unspotted from the world apart from humble dependance on the Lamb of God.

Conclusion

It is your privilege to live clean and pure and holy in this world that is so dirty and stained with sin. John the Baptist points us to Jesus Christ, and he says: BEHOLD THE LAMB OF GOD WHICH TAKETH AWAY THE SIN OF THE WORLD!

I Thirst

John 19:28 After this, Jesus knowing that all things were now accomplished, that the scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst.

I. THE WORD OF HUMANITY

There is always a danger that the most sacred things we know will become mere matters of record. William Barclay recalls another preacher talking about 'running around the burning bush taking photographs from suitable angles instead of taking off our shoes from our feet because the place whereon we stand is holy ground. He speaks of theologians who put their pipes in their mouths and stick their feet up on the mantelpiece and talk about theories of the atonement instead of bowing down before the wounds of Christ.'

I don't like to talk about the suffering of Jesus. I am afraid we might think of it as another statistic or story. How many TV killings have we seen? How cheap does human life appear?

But suffering can never be a matter of statistics.

'I THIRST' must remain a cry of mystery.

The One who created the seas needs a drink of water. Somehow we understand that Jesus Christ is very MAN as well as very God. He is forever committed to be one with YOU and with ME. He is forever one of US!

But 'I THIRST' is assurance of understanding at the throne. At the heart of God is one who KNOWS what it is like to be human and to suffer — to be alone — to hurt — to weep — to thirst! When WE hurt, Jesus hurts! For He cares!

And 'I THIRST' is qualification for representation at the throne. At the heart of God is One who represents the thirsty of the world!

II. JESUS SAID SOME THINGS ABOUT WATER AND THIRST:

1. John 4:14 (to the woman at the well:) But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be a well of water springing up into everlasting life.
2. (At the Feast of Tabernacles) John 7:37-8 In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, "If any man thirst let him come unto me, and drink. He that believeth in me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water.

We are to share this living water. To slake our own thirst — and then share what we have received. I don't mean to entirely spiritualize this business of thirst and water. BOTH aspects are here.

III. AND JESUS STILL IS SAYING: "I THIRST!"

"I thirst!" is a cry that we must learn to listen for where we are — and with what water we have!

Matthew 25:35, 42 "I was thirsty and you gave me a drink!", or, "I was thirsty and you gave me NO drink."

We cannot do ALL . . . but we all can do what we can do, in Jesus' name. By God's love and grace we can do better.

We can never know why or how Jesus is fully human, and why and how He needed a drink there on the cross: but the One who said 'I THIRST' can satisfy our thirst, and make you and me channels of living water!

Jesus is Lord

Lesson: Matthew 25:31-46

"JESUS IS LORD!"

Christ the King Sunday

Introduction

This is the last Sunday of the church yearly cycle. Next week we begin the wonderful season of Advent. The last Sunday of the year is called "Christ the King Sunday;" when the final chapters have been written, and the books are balanced and closed, the Bible tells us all Creation will acknowledge that Jesus Christ is Lord of All.

God's Word for today is found in this 25th Chapter of Matthew; Jesus is speaking what shall come to pass. These words are sobering:

I. WE HAVE HERE A VISION OF CHRIST'S GLORY (not A Parable!)

- A. The people knew Jesus as the lowly Nazarene. Now Jesus tells them He is coming again as King and Judge. All the angels of heaven will be with Him— the angels that sang when He was born, and that fill heaven even now with praise— that run to and fro at the bidding of God— now will attend around a throne of great glory and splendor.
- B. Jesus here tells us that human history will be brought to account. What we celebrate on Christ the King Sunday is vividly illustrated in the last enigmatic book of the Bible. The Revelation is a mysterious book which no one fully understands. But the message of Revelation is loud and clear, and that message is that we know who wins the war between Good and Evil!
- C. Certainly not everyone believes this. Darkness and chaos abound; city streets are stalked by fear, and lawlessness has reached into every corner of our land. There are two kingdoms existing side-by-side; there are two ways of looking at life. Jesus tells us we can count on it: He will be here to take charge. The light that shined in the darkness has not been snuffed out; and the darkness cannot comprehend it. Jesus tells us that all Creation must join in the chorus: Worthy is the Lamb that was slain!

But this is not simply majestic and dramatic. Jesus has promised us

II. HERE ALSO, THE PROMISE OF ACCOUNTABILITY FOR US ALL

- A. All nations shall be gathered before this glorious Throne where the Son of Man shall sit. The Apostle's Creed says that Jesus Christ is seated at the right hand of God the Father, "from thence He shall come to judge the quick and the dead."
- B. This raises questions of "narrowness" and "sectarianism" and "triumphalism." But Jesus Christ is God Almighty, and if God Almighty is Faithful and True, then there must be, there shall be a final accounting. The concern at the Judgment is: HAS THERE BEEN LOVE IN YOUR HEART? HOW HAVE YOU EXPRESSED THAT LOVE?

The moral and spiritual world that is without form and void, and that has darkness upon the face of the deep will hear again the word of Power: "LET THERE BE LIGHT!" And then IN THAT JUDGMENT LIGHT every sin will be exposed, every evil thought and intention of the heart will be brought into full view, and every motivation will be fully understood and rewarded in kind. That is what Jesus is telling us here.

Explain away or edit this passage if you can. Many people will, and do. Tell us what it really meant to those who heard it, or those who thought they heard it and wrote it down in this form. I choose to believe that by the Holy Spirit this is the solemn word of God writing history before it happens. I cannot understand how or where or in what way this Great Azzize will take place. But YOU will be there. And I will be there. I will answer then for this message, and for the life I am living. And so will you.

[This is not a triumph of "us" over them. God is NOT on OUR side. God loves all people, everywhere. But how important it will be then to really be on HIS side!}]

III. AN AMAZING PART OF CHRIST'S PROPHECY: BOTH GROUPS ARE SURPRISED BY HIS JUDGMENT!

They have an identical response! Their love, or lack of love expressed, has been for the most part totally unconscious! "When did we ever see You? When didn't we do what we were supposed to do?"

IV. WHAT WAS/IS THE DIFFERENCE IN THIS DIVISION OF THE NATIONS?

(After all, these are NOT real sheep and goats; they are people!) THERE WILL BE A DIVISION OF HUMANKIND!

NICODEMUS ASKED THE QUESTION: "What do I need to DO in order to enter the righteous kingdom? And what Jesus told Nicodemus is what we need to remember when we think of Christ the King, and the Day of reckoning:

YOU MUST BE... AND THEN YOU WILL DO!

[How may we "prepare" for the time when we shall stand before this throne of splendor? How do I make sure that I will be on the right hand in the Day of Judgment? Do I set out to be more sensitive? do I make sure I do the good things I should? Do I begin to love more and better?

DOESN'T THIS REFLECT A WAY OF THINKING THAT IN OUR BETTER MORE LUCID MOMENTS WE REJECT— THAT SALVATION REALLY AND FINALLY IS A MATTER OF WORKS AFTER ALL? IF I AM GOOD, THEN I WILL BE SAVED ... AND IF I AM BAD I WILL BE DAMNED?

If I want to be a sheep I don't start out simply trying to act like a sheep. I don't give Jesus "an important part of my schedule;" or start doing good things, and associating with Christians and joining the church; but rather, like Nicodemus I need to hear Jesus say

UNLESS YOU ARE BORN AGAIN YOU CANNOT EVEN SEE THE KINGDOM!

If Jesus and the things of God are a more-or-less important part of my life, the chances are that I am not a Christian. If I am trying to become a citizen of the heavenly kingdom without swearing allegiance to the King I will never be anything but an illegal alien. To see the church as kingdom is much different from being a part of a "church" that exists as an auxiliary to life and living. If we are the sheep of God's pasture, if we are kingdom people, then the church must be a way of life for us. If we are NOT kingdom people, then we by default become part of the rest of the world, the kingdom of chaos, and hopelessness.

Jesus is Lord

When, by the Spirit of God, I see that God so loved ME that He sent His only-begotten Son to die for me— when by the Spirit of God I see that Jesus has raised from the dead for MY life, for MY victory over sin and death— then I am coming close to birth into this great kingdom.

And when by the Spirit of God I pledge allegiance to the great Kingdom by saying from my heart:

JESUS IS LORD!

then I leave the rank of the "goats" and have been born again as a child of God— I may be counted among His sheep!

We are not saved by ACTING LIKE SHEEP== we are saved by BEING GOD'S PEOPLE OF GRACE, THE SHEEP OF HIS PASTURE— AND THEN LETTING HIS GOD-LOVE FLOW OUT THROUGH US!

AND THAT GOD-LOVE COMES WHEN WE SAY FROM OUR HEARTS: JESUS IS LORD!
DO You indeed say it from your heart this morning?

1. It is a gift of faith to look to the past and see Jesus hanging between heaven and earth, dying on the Cross for you and me, and to truly believe that the Cross was not the end for a great martyr—BUT THE OPENING OF THE DOOR TO ETERNITY BY THE LORD OF LORDS AND KING OF KINGS! It is good, and it is right to say,
Jesus WAS Lord!"

It is a gift of faith to look to the past and see the open entrance to an empty tomb, and know that THE RESURRECTION OF JESUS DEFEATED SIN AND DEATH AND HELL! In the Resurrection,

Jesus WAS Lord!

2. It is also a gift of faith, and even more thrilling to look to the future when our Lord shall return, and the promise is that EVERY KNEE SHALL BOW AND EVERY TONGUE

SHALL CONFESS THAT JESUS CHRIST IS LORD TO THE GLORY OF GOD THE FATHER! I say with all my heart, and I believe it is true that, JESUS WILL BE LORD!

3. But what does SAVING FAITH say? It says, Jesus IS Lord!

Right here and now, in the midst of problems! Right now, when the church is imperfect- right now, I affirm that JESUS IS LORD!

Prayer Read together 125 Yours Is the Kingdom Sing 123 All Hail King Jesus

Scriptures for Christ the King Sunday - November 21

Ezekiel 34:11-17 For thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I, even I, will both search my sheep, and seek them out. As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day. And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel by the rivers, and all the inhabited places of the country. I will feed them in a good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel. I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord God. I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: but I will destroy the fat and the strong; I will feed them with judgment. And as for you, O my flock, thus saith the Lord God; behold, I judge between cattle and cattle, between the rams and the he goats.

Psalms 95:1-7 Come let us sing unto the Lord; let us shout for joy to the Rock of our salvation. Let us come before His presence with thanksgiving and raise a loud shout to Him with praise. For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods. In his hand are the caverns of the earth, and the heights of the hills are his also. The sea is his, for he made it, and his hands have molded the dry land. Come let us bow down, and bend the knee, and kneel before the Lord our Maker. For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture and the sheep of his hand. Oh that today you would hearken to his voice!

Matthew 25:31-46 When the Son of Man comes as King, and all the angels with him, he will sit on his royal throne, and all the earth's people will be gathered before him. Then he will divide them into two groups, just as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats: he will put the sheep at his right and the goats at his left. Then the King will say to the people on His right: 'You who are blessed by my Father: Come! Come and receive the kingdom which has been prepared for you ever since the creation of the world. I was hungry and you fed me, thirsty and you gave me drink; I was a stranger and you received me in your homes, naked and you clothed me; I was sick and you took care of me, in prison and you visited me.' The righteous will then answer him: 'When, Lord, did we ever see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you drink? When did we ever see you a stranger and welcome you into our homes, or naked and clothe you? When did we ever see you sick or in prison, and visit you?' The King will answer back, 'I tell you, indeed, whenever you did this for one of these poorest brothers of mine, you did it for me!' Then he will say to those on his left: 'Away from me, you who are under God's curse! Away to the eternal fire which has been prepared for the Devil and his angels! I was hungry but you would not feed me, thirsty but you would not give me drink; I was a stranger but you would not welcome me into your homes, naked but you would not clothe me; I was sick and in prison but you would not take care of me.' Then they will answer him: 'When, Lord, did we ever see you hungry, or thirsty, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and we would not help you?' The King will answer them back, 'I tell you, indeed, whenever you refused to help one of these poor ones, you refused to help me.' These, then, will be sent off to eternal punishment; the righteous will go to eternal life. I Corinthians 15:20-28 But the truth is that Christ has been raised from death, as the guarantee that those who sleep in death will also be raised. For just as death came by means of a man, in the same way the rising from death comes by means of a man. For just as all men die because of their union to Adam, in the same way all will be raised to life because of their union to Christ. But each one in his proper order: Christ, the first of all; then those who belong to Christ, at the time of his coming.

Then the end will come; Christ will overcome all spiritual rulers, authorities, and powers, and hand over the kingdom to God the Father. For Christ must rule until God defeats all enemies and puts them under his feet. The last enemy to be defeated will be death. For the scripture says, "God put all things under his feet." It is clear, of course, that the words "all things" do not include God Himself, who puts all things under Christ. But when all things have been placed under Christ's rule, then he himself, the Son, will place himself under God, who placed all under him; and God will rule completely over all.

Just As I Am and Waiting Not

Abide...and Ask! John 15:7,8

Introduction

Much of God's truth seems to us PARADOXICAL. We aren't sure whether doing or growing are more important. We are to be BUSY for the Lord, and yet God is more interested in what we are, more than what we do.

We are children of the King, rich beyond all understanding, and yet we are to have the mind that was in Christ, 'Blessed are the poor in spirit!'

Jesus indicated that when He returned He expected a return on His talents; yet Jesus said about a poor woman who cast two pennies into the treasury: "She gave more than anyone else!" The answer to these paradoxes of faith is usually not "either-or." It is "both-and!"

Some of these paradoxes are

1. We are never to be rushed, in haste, at least in the sense of being panicked by situations or crisis. Busy-ness, for the sake of being busy, is not necessarily a good thing. It is hard to imagine God all out of breath, or Jesus overwhelmed by His schedule to the point of frustration; but at the same time...
2. We need to live with a sense of urgency! An urgency that does not comfortably put off until tomorrow that which God expects us to do today! An urgency that sees men and women as lost until they meet Jesus (Jesus at well: "Look at the harvest!")

In other words— we are told to:

1. Wait on the Lord! Be patient for Him! In HIS good time He will come through with His good will! But at the same time we are told,
2. There is a time when we don't wait any longer! There is a time to throw ourselves into the battle:

Judges 4:14 "Up, this is the day!"

Ecclesiastes 9:10 "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might, for there is no work in the grave, whither thou goest!"

I. THE TASKS AT HAND FOR CHRIST'S CHURCH

A. The church as a whole, and as individual congregations:

God has called us to WORSHIP, to WITNESS AND EVANGELIZE, to TEACH OUR CHILDREN AND OUR CONVERTS in the way; and we are also called to FELLOWSHIP, to nurture and encourage one another in the faith- fellowship is more than good times and parties— it is a vital function of the Church of Jesus Christ. Finally, we are called upon to SERVE, to give a cup of cold water, or a blanket, or what we can give to those OUTSIDE the fellowship.

Anything LESS than this, and we are not fulfilling our role as a church.

Anything MORE than this and we have gone beyond what God has called us to do.

B. Could I look at these five functions one time, slowly, with you?

Worship: the central task of the church out of which all other tasks take their strength.

1. To WORSHIP is "the primary task" of the church— and I believe it is impossible to worship well and not be challenged into all the other aspects of the church's task. WORSHIP will be shaped and colored by the culture of the people who worship; native New Guinea people worship far differently from the solid citizens of Scotland. But worship is NOT a matter of simply "doing things right or wrong." Worship is a matter of putting God in the center of all of life and living- worship is the dynamo that makes everything else the church is called to do possible.

2. To EVANGELIZE is a first priority for the church. The last challenge of the Lord Jesus Christ to the church was:

"Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature!"

A church that is not witnessing and winning is at best a sick church, in danger of the Laodocian warning. How a church evangelizes, once again, will be shaped by the situation; but God Himself is the power and the wisdom behind evangelization, and a church that wants to witness finds that, by God's grace, it CAN witness and win!

3. To FELLOWSHIP may not seem such a high priority. But that is because we have emphasized other commands and tasks and have not heeded the imperatives of some other commands, just as vital:

Ephesians 4:32 may just be one of the most important verses in the Bible! and Galatians 6:2 "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ."

[[HERE DEVELOP THE IDEA OF 'ACCOUNTABILITY' WHICH (1) MORTIFIES THE FLESH; (2) PROVIDES SUPPORT FOR EVERY GOOD IMPULSE]]

We think of fellowship in terms of special occasions, of dinners and get-togethers— and they are good and vital. But the Church is called on to be a center of love and encouragement— a SANCTUARY from the world that lives in isolation and selfishness. Fellowship is the church really being 'FAMILY' in the best sense of that term.

4. To EDUCATE is also a first priority. Only as a church indoctrinates its children and converts can it hope to bring them to maturity; only as it educates can it hope to be more than a 'first stage rocket' in the plan of God to get into His orbit.
5. To SERVE is a vital part of every church's ministry. Jesus Himself gave the example; He washed dirty feet the night before He went to the Cross for the salvation of the world!

C. EACH CHURCH WILL HAVE A DIFFERENT 'PROFILE' OF THE EMPHASES OF THESE TASKS THAT WILL FIT THE TIME AND PLACE IT SERVES.

That is why "programs" often do not transplant well. Bus ministries, circles of concern, friendship evangelism, and all— must be totally adapted to the situation by much prayer and by humility of lay and clergy leadership in not pretending to know all the answers in advance.

II. THE TASKS AT HAND FOR EACH MEMBER OF CHRIST'S CHURCH

Where do "I" fit into this plan, these tasks— how may I be a part of the church of Jesus Christ as He would have me to be ?

A. I HAVE A UNIQUE ROLE.

Just as each church has its own profile, so each Christian is different from every other. God does not expect us to do what He has not equipped us to do.

Every command of God— as it becomes personal— is also a promise and an enabling! What God expects of ME is what will suit ME best!

B. MY ROLE WILL 'SPECIALIZE' TO A DEGREE, BUT WILL ALSO TOUCH ON ALL THE TASKS OF THE CHURCH.

I will certainly need to WORSHIP! I will witness, I will have a role in education somewhere; I will certainly need to receive and to GIVE the encouragement of fellowship. And every last one of us must seek to have the servant heart that Jesus had.

Still God calls each of us to be strong in one or two areas of this work of the Body of Christ.

C. "JUST AS I AM, AND WAITING NOT..."

This is the altar song we believers need to sing to ourselves! I must be up and about what God wants me to be and do! The key is NOT WAITING!

1. Not waiting for some celebrity to lead... God's work is NOT validated when it becomes popular and we see it on TV. It is validated the minute we hear God speak. Contrary to much thinking, the majority of God's work is done without fanfare and is done in the local situation.

2. Not waiting FOR THE FULL PROGRAM. It is great to get organized, and even greater when the organization is on fire with holy zeal. But we can be used of God every single day! We can be channels of blessing, even when the program hasn't been fully developed yet.
3. Not waiting UNTIL I HAVE A CLASS TO SHOW ME HOW... although such classes are wonderful— but simply LIVING TO PLEASE THE LORD... 'reporting for duty every day!'
4. Not waiting FOR THE ONE WHO CAN DO IT BETTER. This is a particular cavil (frivolous objections) of the larger church.
5. Not waiting UNTIL I AM IN THE INNER CIRCLE. In a large church it seems more people are 'outside looking in'— or think they are. But actually we need to seek our strokes from God Himself, and plunge in even when we feel 'left out' at times. It is amazing how God will sweep us into the center of the stream of His grace when we take this attitude.

Conclusion:

The 'bottom line' of the Christian faith— the REAL Christian faith— is L I F E !! If we live in Christ the Vine, it will get out on us! We will EXPRESS that life.

Many charismatic and near-charismatic ministers emphasize the "expression" of praise, by which they mean hands raised, and "Amens!" And that is good . . .but . . . Somehow I think the expression of life will also be manifested in doing the works of Jesus Christ: HEALING the brokenhearted, LOVING the unloved, BEARING one another's burdens,

Remember the great promise of John 15:8 - which, amazing to behold, comes right after John 15:7

This may be 'The Year of Christ's Return! In any case, let's live this year by the PARADOX: Let's WAIT as never before! And let's live with a new urgency to do our Master's bidding!

#190 - A Charge to Keep I Have

Make Way for Hope

Isaiah 12:1-6 "...with JOY shall ye draw water from the wells of salvation..."

Romans 15:4 "Now the God of HOPE fill you with all JOY and PEACE in believing, that ye may abound in HOPE, through the power of the Holy Ghost."

(Introduction:) " We've all heard the innocent expression, 'Thank God It's Friday!' But that innocent statement is really a confession! A confession about the quality of HOPE! The idea of 'hope' for many people is limited to something on the level of a WISH that the weekend weather won't be too bad."

I. LIFE WITHOUT REAL HOPE IS LESS THAN LIFE! IS INTENDED TO BE

- A. We might be so bold as to speak of 'The Curse of TGIF!' It is a confession of failure when a person really comes to live by a TGIF total mind-set. It is a tragedy when people only are alive part of the time. It is a tragedy when people are only alive when they are being excited or thrilled or somehow escaping the life sentence of eternal boredom.
- B. What TGIF really is is a kind of HOPELESSNESS! It is the confession that life, for the most part, is a dead end street. It is saying that all of life does NOT have meaning. HELL IS LOOKING FOR A BREAK ON THE WEEKEND THAT NEVER REALLY COMES!

The saddest fact I know is that people can live out their lives in an empty "Thank God it's Friday" mind-set, and go out into an eternal night and never have known the joy real HOPE can bring!

[Transition: But a change takes place when people meet the Lord Jesus Christ! Same old job— same old "personality traits"— same old situations, perhaps. But somehow everything is different!]

II. SALVATION BRINGS WITH IT A MEASURE OF HOPE

A. Grace opens the eyes of HOPE

Salvation changes the WAY we live, but salvation also begins to change the way we LOOK at living! We not only receive adoption and regeneration and justification, we have the makings of an entire new OUTLOOK ON LIFE! We start with the persuasion deep within that somehow life in Christ Jesus is worth the living!

B. But HOPE must be deliberately pursued, developed!

There is the possibility of a full assurance of hope! In Hebrews 6 there are verses which read: "And we desire that every one of you show diligence... to the full assurance of hope ... that we might have a strong consolation ... to lay hold upon the hope that is set before us." We need diligence in pursuing hope to a full assurance!

C. God's grace will naturally lead us into HOPE if we diligently endeavor to walk with God.

Romans 5:2-5: "We have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. And not only so but we glory in tribulations also: knowing that tribulation worketh patience; and patience experience; and experience, hope: and hope maketh not ashamed; because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us."

III. MILLIONS ARE WAITING THIS FOR WORD OF HOPE!

A. A world in darkness is waiting for a word of hope.

Born-again Christians need hope for themselves. They need to recover the joy and the power that come from living in full assurance of hope.

But beyond this basic selfish reason for the need of hope, there is another powerful, compelling reason why we must lay hold of hope! We don't dare leave the Advent-type HOPE to the faithful of the Old Testament! Our God is coming again light and in power— and He wants us to be beacons of His light!

"The people who sit in darkness" are not just those who lived in Isaiah's time! And all those who don't know Christ and salvation would love to be convinced that there really is HOPE in THIS dark hour! The unsaved world is waiting for a word of hope.

- B. But, sadly, even a great segment of THE CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST is living far below the level of HOPE that our text calls us to! There are many Christians, born-again believers, who would love to think that there is more to being saved than just hanging on by our teeth and our toenails until Jesus returns to bail us out of this mess. Especially new converts, instead of hearing older Christians take a defeatist attitude, would like to hear a genuine note of HOPE sounded!

William J. Abraham, in a challenging new book, The Coming Great Revival, says, "There is a vast army of new Christians hungry for initiation into a modern version of the Christian faith that will integrate DEEP PIETY, SOCIAL ACTION, and CLASSICAL THEOLOGY in a penetrating expression of the Christian gospel. A renewed evangelical tradition that holds in tension both its unity and its diversity can provide exactly this." (p 112)

All the world would like to hear a genuine word of HOPE!

IV. HOW DO CHRISTIANS 'LAY HOLD' ON HOPE? (HOW MAY WE BECOME PEOPLE OF HOPE, AND THEN, EXPONENTS OF HOPE?)

- A. First: HOPE is NOT dependent on the size of our talent, OR the happy circumstances of our situation. Hope has to do with saying "YES!" to LIFE!

Listen to these words from Howard Thurman:

"Granted that the daily routine is monotonous, that the personal equipment is extremely limited, that all the options were frozen long ago, that there is nothing on the horizon that sounds the trumpet call to the great adventure or the high demand— granted all of this. But there is always available to the individual another alternative even where options are frozen. One can make an offering of the self to God... to respond to life where I am without bargaining or bartering."

And somehow a life deliberately given to God gathers HOPE like a magnet gathers iron filings! CAN GOD HAVE YOU JUST NOW? WILL YOU SAY YES TO LIFE! ?

- B. Second: Saying "YES!" to LIFE must be on God's terms, and must be HOLISTIC. We cannot start out by "knowing in advance everything God wants us to do!" But we may be certain that our response to LIFE must involve EXPERIENCE, and PRACTICE, and also CREED or DOCTRINE! ALL THREE FACETS OF LIFE IN CHRIST!

Too often we see a part of this truth— and think the answer is DEEPER PIETY, or BETTER SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY. But we must be open to the possibility that our DOCTRINE, our UNDERSTANDING, has limited both our faith and our hope. In a large measure, all throughout the evangelical church— we Christians are more involved in defending a particular position than in opening our hearts to the power of God's truth!

- C. (I know I am prejudiced, but) I BELIEVE WE WESLEYANS HAVE AN OPPORTUNITY TO BE A CATALYST IN A REAL RENEWAL RENEWAL OF HOPE!

We stand (in a sense) between the extremes in doctrine and practice— between fundamentalists and charismatics. If somehow as a CHURCH we could recapture the genius of Wesley in his deep reverence for scholarly theology and ecclesiology and couple that with his sacrificial dedication to the poor and needy, the orphan and the prisoner, and put that together with his God-given gift for folding each and every convert into a spiritual-life group— we would be a powerhouse of HOPE in a dark and needy world!

William Abraham said:

"Wesleyans need to recover not just the genius of the Wesleyan heritage in its theology, they also need to recover its genius for organization, social involvement, ecumenical action, and world mission. For example, the single greatest loss over the years within Wesleyan circles has been the abandoning of the pattern of pastoral care established in the class meetings. Unless this or a modern equivalent is restored within Wesleyan circles, renewal will be mostly cerebral and cosmetic. Without this, young converts will not develop the spiritual stamina needed to survive in the modern world."

I am praying that in some measure we here can catch this vision.

- D. But sermons are not just to churches, they are to individuals, too. And each one of us needs to be 'taking hold on HOPE!'

We need to have the same kind of Advent-type hope the faithful men and women of God in the Old Testament had as they looked forward to Christ's coming!

1. We personally need to recover the reality of the experience of a clean heart. We dare not settle for shibboleth or second-hand assurance here. But we also need to go into the Word in a measure that we have not commonly done:
2. We personally need to recover the disciplined and methodistic love of creedal, scriptural truth and doctrine! And all this time...
3. We, each one of us dare not neglect the debt that all Christians have to society!

[Conclusion:]

Maybe I haven't convinced you that "Thank God it's Friday!" is the major curse of the world today. But just maybe I have been able to challenge you not to wish your life away, and seek to escape from the boredom of life, but instead to decide to live by HOPE, hope that makes life worth the living!

Micah on Main Street

Micah 6:8 He has told you, O man, what is good; And what does the Lord require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with your God?

The Old Testament is the Bible Jesus used. The God of the Old Testament is not to be disparaged, for He is the God of our Lord Jesus Christ.

And the prophecies of the Old Testament must be read with faith and obedience for today, and not merely with a critical eye and an editor's pencil. ["Oh, This is not relevant; and that is what was meant— we don't have to pay any attention to Old Testament words!"]

Micah's message is amazingly fitting to today— this time in which we live. He speaks with precision to the spiritual situation of our time.

It is true that being translated from another language much of his pungent style is lost, for by our marginal notes we can see and understand that his mind turned to puns and ironic twists on the names of towns that stood in danger of judgment. [GATH meant 'tell,' so Micah said "Tell it not!"; BETH OPHRA meant 'dust,' so Micah said "Roll in the dust!"] But if Micah were preaching today he would say: "Philadelphia! City of Brotherly love! What do YOU know about brotherly love? Los Angeles! City of Angels! or Providence! You have forgotten the Provider! And so forth!"

But even though we miss something of the keen use of language which Micah had, as Mark Twain said, 'it isn't what is hard to understand about the Bible that disturbs us— it is what we cannot help but understand that hammers us into the admission that we need God! Micah is like that.

I. MICAH ON MAIN STREET: THE MESSAGE

- A. Micah cries against a religion without a vital connection to God (3:5-6 says the Lord, concerning the prophets who lead my people astray; when they have something to bite with their teeth they cry, "Peace," but against him who puts nothing in their mouths, they declare holy war. Therefore it will be night for you- without vision, and darkness for you- without divination. The sun will go down on the prophets, and the day will become dark over them.") The last thing in the world that I wish to become is a holier-than-thou-type separatist; I thank God that there are many, many non-Nazarenes who are part of the Church of Jesus Christ.

But at the same time we need to be careful that we worship and align ourselves with people of the Book, of the Spirit, of the 'sold-out-to-God!' In the name of social progress we will be called on many times in the near future to join forces with political expediency, which is fine so far as it goes. But we need to be careful of using religion to give legitimacy to humanist causes! Try calling a prayer vigil at the mausoleum in Quincy Square in the cause of Right to Life, instead of Amnesty International! See what kind of "spiritual coalition" emerges!

- B. Micah also cries out against all witchcraft and soothsayers: (5:12 "I will cut off sorceries from your hand, and you will have fortunetellers no more. I will cut off your carved images and your sacred pillars from among you, so that you will no longer bow down to the work of your hands.") It is an insult to Almighty God when His people look for guidance to the horoscope charts and the tea leaves of infidels or druids. Jesus said that when the Holy Spirit is come, HE will guide you into all truth! What possible connection can God's people have with the occult, except to their own shame and darkness?
- C. Micah denounces widespread covetousness and grasping and materialism: (2:1,2 - and many other places- "Woe to those who scheme iniquity, who work out evil on their beds! When morning comes, they do it, for it is in the power of their hands. They covet fields and then seize them, and houses and take them away. They rob a man and his house, a man and his inheritance.") There is the distinct possibility (it seems to me) that we in America, in the Church of Jesus Christ, are where the Church of Laodocia was as described in the Third Chapter of Revelation: we think we are rich, and so very wise, and have need of nothing! And the Third World church that has so little is becoming vital while we decline!
- D. Micah was not afraid to cry out against corrupt government, even in a totalitarian regime that could kill him! (7:3 Concerning evil, both hands do it well— The prince asks, also the judge, for a bribe, and the great man speaks the desire of his soul; so they weave it together. The best of them is like a briar, the most upright like a thorn hedge.) What would Micah say in our society— where most politicians are much more interested in getting elected than they are in integrity; where, if a wealthy white man and a poor black man commit the same crime one will pay a comparatively light fine and the other will go to prison ? What would Micah say about the lawmakers who have knuckled under to power blocs and pressure groups and have made laws to kill babies, and to legitimize perverted and deviant behavior like blatant homosexuality, calling it 'alternative lifestyle?'

We can be certain that he would decry it! He certainly cried against these things in his own day! And yet, against such a bleak and seemingly hopeless backdrop, MICAH'S MESSAGE WAS A MESSAGE FULL OF HOPE!

II. MESSIAH WILL TRIUMPH!; THIS IS THE HOPE!

- A. A vision of PEACE over all the earth: (4:1-3 And it will come about in the last days that the mountain of the Lord will be established as the chief of the mountains. It will be raised above the hills, and the peoples will stream to it. And many nations will come and say, 'Come and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord and to the house of the God of Jacob, that He may teach us about His ways and that we may walk in His paths.' For from Zion will go forth the law, even the word of the Lord from Jerusalem. And He will judge between many peoples and render decisions for mighty, distant nations. Then they will hammer their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks; nation will not lift up sword against nation, and never again will they train for war.) This vision of peace will be fulfilled in the Reign of Jesus Christ.

But remember when He comes He will not come peacefully! He will not slip in as a bringer of "peace at any price!" THAT will be someone else!

- B. That vision is centered, not in human politics or wisdom, but in the Person of Messiah! If we will look, all truth is centered, ultimately, in GOD, THE PERSON! (5:2 But as for YOU, Bethlehem Ephrata, Too little to be among the clans of Judah, from you One will go forth for Me to be ruler in Israel, His goings forth are from long ago, from the days of eternity... and (v4) He will arise and shepherd His flock IN THE STRENGTH OF THE LORD IN THE MAJESTY OF THE NAME OF THE LORD HIS GOD. And they will remain because at that time He will be great to the ends of the earth. AND THIS ONE WILL BE OUR PEACE!)

And all this is well and good— even gripping and vital, as Micah speaks to our day and age.

(transition)

But the challenge of Micah goes beyond the world-wide— and beyond warning and hope for the world at large— and becomes a challenge of what God requires of ME in the midst of all this!

God's complaint against His people is a clear, concise statement of what God asks of HIS people. AND THIS REQUIREMENT IS STILL VALID:

III. A HOLY PEOPLE: THE STANDARD GOD REQUIRES

- A. Micah shows us the total failure of earning our way to heaven: (6:6.7 With what shall I come to the Lord and bow myself before the God on high? Shall I come to Him with burnt offerings, with yearling calves? Does the Lord take delight in thousands of rams, in ten thousand rivers of oil? Shall I present my first-born for my rebellious acts, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?) How can we make it up to you, God, for the rotten way we have lived? And the awful answer comes back: YOU CAN'T!

But then comes this simple, easy-to-understand outline of our text:

- B. The simple outline: "DO!" "LOVE!" "WALK!" (6:8 - text)
1. What we DO reflects what we are!
 2. WHY we do is the basis for God's judgments! (Our INTENTION! Perhaps we cannot understand all our motivation, but we can ask God to purify our heart springs; and we can deliberately side with God on every issue!)
 3. But we can neither DO nor LOVE apart from WALKING HUMBLY WITH OUR GOD! That is the secret of power in our faith!
- C. The DYNAMIC of holiness: Walking humbly with our God!
1. (Apart from God's constant company) the best of human intentions are actually ARROGANCE! Saying/thinking that WE know already what the Bible means— we reflect that we have eaten from the Tree of knowledge of Good and Evil, but NOT from the Tree of Life!

2. (But also apart from God's constant company) the best of human intentions fail to relate to the whole orb of truth. "We put little parts of the puzzle together" with no understanding of the significance of the whole.
3. (Apart from God's constant company) even the Sermon on the Mount becomes an impossible ideal. For the law of love must be imprinted on the human heart by the fires of a personal Pentecost, a time when the Holy Spirit comes to reside and to preside in the heart forever!

CONCLUSION: (Thus:)

D. To walk humbly with our God means:

1. A deliberate CHOICE! (Amos 3:3) "Can two walk together except they be agreed?"
2. To walk with God means there has to be some change/ some adaptation on the part both of God and of man!
 - What stooping God has done! But He cannot compromise with falsehood and sin!
 - What JOY surrender means for us! HOLINESS makes us fit to fellowship with God!

E. Such a walking means:

1. Fellowship with God!
2. Direction of life into MEANING!
3. An unbroken relationship that goes beyond DEATH into ETERNITY (Enoch-like) for us ALL!

#241 His Way with Thee

Ministering from Maturity

Holiness and Maturity

1 Peter 1:16

I. 'Holiness' Is A Way, Not An End

In the right and proper emphasis holiness preachers place on experience, we have sometimes heaved a great sigh of relief and joy when good altar work is completed, feeling that somehow our hardest work is done.

Perhaps the hardest work is done when the crises have been met. But being justified, and even being sanctified wholly, are not points of 'arrival.' They are more properly points of departure, entry points into fellowship with Jesus and His church.

We are made holy in entire sanctification, not in order to parade righteousness or exult in our sanctimony, but in order that we may have to do daily with the Holy One. "Be ye holy, for I AM holy!" is the command.

II. What Are The Goals Of A Mature Holiness Ministry?

The following list is hardly comprehensive.

1. Child-like faith that is not childish.

The mature Christian increasingly learns to live with paradox. as, "Blessed are the poor in spirit" and "You are complete in Christ; seated with Him in power" (Colossians 2:10,3:1), or 'God is Sovereign' and 'Men and women are free moral agents' or 'God is Transcendent' and 'God is Our Friend', etc.

And part of this mature child-likeness will ponder the imponderable questions, as 'Why do the righteous suffer?' and 'What about those (billions) who have never heard of the Lord Jesus Christ?'

2. Ministering from Completeness.

Part of the paradox mature Christians must accept is that the poor in spirit are blessed and that mature Christians are complete in Christ, sharing His authority.

Ministering from completeness reflects a basic concept of God. Somewhere in the backs of our minds we have hidden something we heard once in VBS, that God made all the beautiful things like the sun, moon and stars, but then God was lonely, and so out of His loneliness and need God said: "I will make man so that I can have fellowship!"

It sounds nice— but it isn't so— and it is very dangerous. God never could lack anything! It sounds nice to say "He has no hands but our hands!" and there is an element (paradox) of truth in the statement. But we need to remember that God the LORD is GOD! God is Sovereign! God is complete!

He made us out of His love and completeness! And so when we serve we must serve, not with the idea of building merit or seeking to save our own souls, but rather we must serve from love, like God! We must seek to serve in the power of His might, and do His will, in His power.

3. Gathering and Scattering.

The mature church will gather to share the joy of God's Presence in worship. "Training" will take place although the sermon cannot possibly detail how to proclaim Christ in every situation and circumstance. But if we can "gather" to celebrate the Presence, and then in various groups "reinforce" the purpose of our existence and clarify our gifts and call, then we will "scatter" to take Jesus Christ in His beauty and life-changing power wherever it is that we work or play or fellowship.

4. Diversity of ministry.

A mature church may well have many different expressions of proclamation. Many of them will be "church-owned" and church- directed. Missionary endeavors such as work-and-witness, support groups, prayer and Bible study groups are just a few of the varied church ministries that along with youth work and Sunday School are the staples of mature ministry.

But there will also be church-related or church-approved ministries, and even "non-religious" work done by Christians that are no less called to their assignment than the clergy.

Perhaps only 20% of active members should be engaged in maintaining local church activities. That leaves a full 80% to be engaged in carrying out those ministries, or serving Christ with the support of the local body where they are placed.

[I have one woman who used to be a district missionary president who is now executive secretary for a judge in public social work. She influences many people for Jesus, and often brings them to church with her. (Doris Restricks)]

5. World Vision.

A mature church does not have to be a large church. But it will not be small in its vision or thinking. A mature church will cross lines of membership and even denomination to support the larger picture of God's work in its area. There is a "Church of Jesus Christ" in every area to which a local congregation may seek to be an active part. It is possible to be totally loyal to the Nazarene church family, and to the local church family, and at the same time seek to be a catalyst for revival and Christian love and brotherhood throughout the great Church of Jesus Christ.

For your participation: If personnel and money were no limitations, what would you attempt for God in your present situation?

Our Father

An oldie but goodie.

The air conditioning in the Catholic Church had broken down, so they had to hire a man to crawl around in the ducts to figure out what was wrong. As the man peeked down through one of the vents in the sanctuary, he saw his neighbor, an elderly lady who was kneeling by the altar apparently saying her rosary. The man just could not resist the temptation to mess with this poor lady's mind. In his most authoritative voice, he said, "This is Jesus. Your prayers will be answered."

The little old lady didn't even blink; she just kept on saying her prayers. The man decided maybe she didn't hear him, and tried again. "This is Jesus, the Son of God! Your prayers will be answered!"

Again, she didn't react at all. Mustering up a big breath of air, the man decided to try one more time. He loudly repeated, "This is Jesus Christ, the Son of God! Your prayers will be answered!"

This good Catholic woman looked up and answered, "Young Man. Quiet, please! I am trying to talk to your mother!" [i]

Prayer. It can be humorous. It can be frustrating. It can be rewarding. It was apparently rewarding for Jesus, for he appeared to his apostles so energized after a night in prayer that they asked him to teach them how to pray.

It's interesting that the apostles had to ask Jesus how to pray. He had taught them many things, tools they would need in their ministry. Why hadn't he taught them to pray? Perhaps because the only real prayer, the one that's always answered, is the prayer that asks for the Holy Spirit. Jesus says at the end of today's gospel "If you, evil as you are, know how to give good things to your children, how much more will your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask him?" (Luke 11:13).

But you can't tell someone to pray for the Holy Spirit. They have got to want to; they have to feel the need. And that's something Jesus couldn't force on the apostles. But when they finally did ask him, when he saw they had the need, then he taught them to pray.

Also, for Jesus prayer was a private matter. He had seen too many hypocrites crying out in the public square, praying to draw attention. Jesus told his apostles to go their room and pray in private.

Jesus spent nights in prayer. He must have felt the need for prayer as greater than the need for sleep. "True prayer, the sincere unburdening of one's soul before God, may not change things but changes people. As C. S. Lewis said: 'Prayer doesn't change God; it changes me.' [ii]

True prayer is finding out what God wants us to do, not getting him to do what we want to do. "A disciple goes to an elder and says, 'I really like it here, and I'd like to stay. But I need to know, does your God work miracles?' The elder replies, 'It all depends on what you think is a miracle. There are those who say that a miracle is when God does the will of the people. But we say here that a miracle is when people do the will of God.'" [iii]

A minister was invited to speak at a women's conference. During the program, the chair of one of the organization's committees announced plans for a new mission project and challenged the membership to take on the goal of raising several thousand dollars for the project. After her presentation, the chair turned to the minister and asked if he would pray for God's blessing upon the project. But to her surprise, the minister graciously declined.

"You already have the resources necessary to complete this mission project right here in this room," he told the women. "It would be inappropriate to ask for God's blessing, when God has already blessed you with the abundance and means to achieve this goal. The necessary gifts are in your hands. As soon as we take the offering and underwrite this mission project, we will thank God for freeing us to be the generous, responsible and accountable stewards that we are called to be as disciples." [iv] God rejoices in our persistence to have him grant our prayers. He wants to work in coalition with us. We see this in the first reading where Abraham barter with God on how many just people need to be found in Sodom and Gomorrah for God to spare the city.

"Does this mean that without Abraham's mercy God would not have had mercy? Who knows? It didn't happen that way. What did happen was that a creature pressed the Creator for mercy and it was granted [for ten just men. Unfortunately not even ten could be found].

In that light the strange teaching of Jesus in Luke 11 becomes clearer. God encourages persistence in praying because in that way a coalition is formed. The compassion of a creature joins with the compassion and power of the Creator, and a situation turns from rigid legalism to mercy. Abraham discovered in his persistence that God was not always a rigid legalist. Abraham also discovered in his persistence that God invites dialogue, even though to some of us it may seem aggressive. God asks for strong partners. [v]

Abraham shows persistence. Jesus also underlines this quality in prayer in a small parable he tells at the end of the gospel about a friend coming at night to another friend and knocking on his door till his friend got up and gave him what he wanted.

"There is a company in the Midwest that specializes in handling subscription mailings for various magazines. Among other things, they send out renewal and expiration notices. But one day the company's computer malfunctioned. As a result, a rancher in Powder Bluff, Colorado, received 9734 separate mailings informing him that his National Geographic subscription had expired and that it was time for him to renew. In response to that flood of notices, the rancher drove the ten miles to the nearest post office and sent in his money for the renewal. In addition, he sent along a note that said, "I give up! Send me your magazine." In a way, the subscription company learned that persistence does pay off." [vi]

Heartwarming is the encouragement that persistence will make a difference in the ultimate outcome. God will not fail to meet our needs. That's not the same as assuming God will meet all our wants. There's a difference.

God's initial silence after we come with a pressing need should not reduce us to a bitter cynicism that wonders whether prayer is worth the effort. God's silence doesn't necessarily mean "No." The silence is more likely a testing whether our prayers are truly expressive of our need, truly representative of our desire to share our greatest hopes and fears with God. Overriding everything is the great truth that, unlike earthly fathers who may or may not provide what their children need, God will never fail us because God is both eager and able. That is the final and great lesson.

The challenge for us, I should think, is not how well we can craft touching prayers when we have ample advance notice. It is rather how well we know that our words don't matter a bit but that what counts is how well we trust. When faith and trust move us, the most illiterate peasant will be able to pray as well or better than the most eloquent preacher. Best of all, no one should feel the need to ask, "Lord, teach us to pray." [vii]

When the great Rabbi Israel Baal Shem-Tov saw misfortune threatening the Jews, it was his custom to go into a certain part of the forest to meditate. There he would light a fire, say a prayer, and a miracle would be accomplished and the misfortune would be averted. Later, when his disciple, the celebrated Magid of Mezritch, had occasion, for the same reason, to say the prayer, he would go to the same place in the forest and say, "Master of the Universe, listen! I do not know how to light the fire, but I am still able to say the prayer." Again, a miracle would be accomplished. Still later, Rabbi Moshe-Leib of Sasov, in order to save his people once more, would go into the forest and say, "I do not know how to light the fire, I do not know the prayer, but I know the place, and that must suffice." Once again, there was a miracle. Then it fell to Rabbi Israel of Rizhyn to overcome misfortune. Sitting in his armchair, his head in his hands, he spoke to God, "I am unable to light the fire and I do not know the prayer; I cannot even find the place in the forest. All I can do is tell the story, and that must be sufficient." And it was sufficient. Again a miracle occurred and the misfortune was avoided. There is nothing magical about the Lord's Prayer. Rather the reward of prayer is found as we consistently turn to God in faith. [viii]

And finally, if you make your life a prayer, you can end up like grandpa.

A little boy approaches his slightly older sister with this question: "Susie, can anybody ever really see God?"

Busy with other things, Susie curtly replies: No, of course not, silly. God is so far up in heaven that nobody can see him."

Still wondering, he approaches his mother: "Mom, can anybody ever really see God?"

"No, not really," his mother says gently. "God is spirit and he dwells in our hearts, but we can never really see him."

This answer satisfies him for the moment, but he still wonders.

A few days later his beloved old grandfather takes his grandson on a fishing trip. They have a great time together - it has been an ideal day. As the sun begins to set, the grandfather stops fishing and turns his full attention to the beauty unfolding before their eyes. On seeing the peace and contentment on his grandfather's face, the boy thinks for a moment and asks hesitatingly: "Grandpa, I - I wasn't going to ask anybody else, but I wonder if you can tell me something I've been wondering about for a long time. Can anybody ever really see God?"

The old man does not even turn his head. A long moment slips by before he finally answers. "Son," he responds quietly, "it's getting so I can't see anything else." [ix]

[i] Frank Lyman, "Friends come through for friends," Dynamic Preaching 16 (3): 29 (Seven Worlds Corporation, 310 Simmons Road, Knoxville TN 37922) July 2001. Fr. Gerard Fuller, o.m.i.

[ii] Lyman, pg. 32.

Our Father

[iii] Mark G. Boyer, "Hearing and acting on God's word," Readings - 111, Seventeenth Sunday in Ordinary Time (The Thomas More Association, 205 West Monroe St. — Sixth Floor, Chicago IL 60606-5097) July 2001.

[iv] "The gift is in your hand," Seventeenth Sunday of the Year, Connections, (MediaWorks, 7 Lantern Lane, Londonderry, N.H. 03053-3905) July 2001.

[v] R. Clint Hopkins, "Serving the word," Homily Service 34 (4): 59 (Homily Service, The Liturgical Conference 415 Michigan Ave. NE, Suite 65, Washington D.C. 20017-1518) July 2001.

[vi] "Staying in touch," Lectionaid 9 (3): 33 (LectionAid, Inc., P.O. Box 19229, Boulder, CO 80308-2229. J. Nichols Adams, publisher) July 2001.

[vii] Gerald Oostervan, "Pastoral implications," Lectionary Homiletics 12 (8): 32 (Lectionary Homilitecs, Inc., 13540 East Boundary Road, Building 2, Suite 105, Midlothian, VA 23112) July 2001.

[viii] "Staying in touch," pg. 33-4.

[ix] __Connections.

Fr. Jerry Fuller, o.m.i. P. O. Box 367 Gainesville MO 65655

Our Living Lord

Romans 8:34 Who is he that condemneth? It is Christ that died, yea rather, that is risen again, who is even at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us.

On Easter Sunday my temptation is to try to be profound. After all, this is the day the most people come to church. Except at college churches. The fact is that the simple message itself is beyond enlarging. And that simple truth is encapsulated in this one verse:

I. JESUS DIED . . .

With every other person who was ever born it would be a great wonder if they did not die; with Jesus it is truly remarkable that He did die. By His own words (John 10:18) "No man taketh my life from Me, but I lay it down of My own accord." And then—"Father, Into Thy hands I commend my spirit."

- A. Christ's death was a triumph of love. "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." (John 15:13)
- B. Christ's death was a mighty, effective redemption. "By His own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us." (Hebrews 9:12)

But the text goes on:

II. JESUS ROSE AGAIN . . .

This is the most incontrovertible fact in all of history. The disciples believed Jesus was alive again. And people do not martyr themselves for lies and deception.

- A. His rising was a PERSONAL triumph. It was a vindication of His integrity. He was who He said He was! As Peter said on the day of Pentecost: "It was impossible that death should hold Him!" (Acts 2:24)
- B. But His rising is also a triumph for the whole human race (a whole NEW race! "But now is Christ risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that slept." (I Corinthians 15:20)

(Transition:) But this triumph is not just sometime in the dim future when we die, for:

III. JESUS ASCENDED TO GLORY . . .

A. Jesus came to do a task. He came to defeat sin, to destroy the works of darkness and hell; and having finished that task He assumed again the glory that was rightfully His.

"I have finished the work which Thou gavest Me to do. And now, O Father, glorify Thou Me with Thine own Self with the glory which I had with Thee before the world was." (John 17:4-5)

B. This dazzling brilliance is hard for us to comprehend! The risen Lord is still the same Jesus—yet He is somehow gloriously different!

1. He must be spiritually revealed/discerned: Mary, Peter, Cleopas, Upper Room
2. He is awesome, even to the beloved disciple (Revelation 1:8.17)

But perhaps best of all:

IV. JESUS MAKES INTERCESSION FOR YOU . . .

In this glory and power at the center of the Universe, this risen Christ is now engaged in His great work.

A. Jesus is forever identified with us. He became like us so that we may be like Him.

"Beloved NOW are we the sons of God, ... we know that when He shall appear we shall be like Him." (1 John 3:2)

B. At the throne we are loved! Romans 8:35 (the next verse after our text) asks: "Who shall separate us from the love of Christ?" (Friends are not easily offended!)

C. And we are prayed for at the Throne!" Not just in our hour of death . . . (which is in itself wonderful) . . . but power over spiritual death and separation.

Conclusion

Because Jesus lives, we have all that we need in order to live in the power of the Resurrection here and now! These are the simple, profound facts of Easter: Jesus

DIED, Jesus is RISEN, Jesus is SEATED IN GLORY, and Jesus MAKES INTERCESSION FOR US so that nothing can ever separate us from His love.

But the simple truth of Easter is not just something we "learn;" it is a Person we RECEIVE!

1. If we will receive Him, Jesus will personally reveal Himself to each of us:
2. He will forgive our sin and our rebellion;
3. He will assure us of eternal life; and
4. He will unfold His will in the living out of His grace.

Prayer

Worthy is the Lamb! Blessing, and honor, and glory, and power be unto him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb for ever and ever. . . Amen!

EH #36 Alleluia! Alleluia!

Parable of Seed and Soil

Luke 8:4-15

Introduction

This is a familiar parable. It appears in Matthew and Mark and Luke. And Jesus even explains it Himself. So even a child can understand it easily. It is so simple that we may not take the time to look at it carefully.

But it is both simple and profound.

And it is a very important parable. Look with me at the explanation Jesus gave. He spoke first of all about the seed. Before He talked about the different kinds of soil, and what they signify, Jesus said something vital about the seed that was to go into the soil. He said (verse 11) that the seed is the word of God.

I. THE LIFE IS IN THE SEED IT IS ESSENTIAL THAT THE TRUE SEED BE PLANTED.

There can be no compromise. No matter how GOOD we are— nor how cultivated and sincere and earnest we may be, until the seed of God's word has been sown by the Holy Spirit within our minds and hearts and lives we cannot grow into Christ-likeness.

[ILLUS: Can you imagine a farmer saying "We're going to make extra effort for a big crop this year. We're going all out.

"We're going to do extra cultivation. We're going to do extra fertilizing. we're going to put in a new sprinkler system and water whenever there is dryness.

"But good seed is so expensive that we're going to plant rye grass instead of expensive wheat." [IDIOCY!]

THERE CAN BE NO COMPROMISE ON SEED!

- The SEED is the LIFE. The seed is life. There is LIFE in the word when it reaches into our heart by the Holy Spirit.

- The SEED is the GOSPEL! The seed is the Gospel - the truth of the cross and the empty tomb. But it is MORE THAN FACTS. By the Holy Spirit the WORD gives LIFE! We understand [we come to believe] that God wants to make His home within us!
- The SEED is GOD'S LIFE SET FREE, RELEASED, GROWING WITHIN US!

The seed is "unlike" the full plant in its appearance; and we may reject ITS WEAK APPEARANCE; it seems to wrong thing to want to overcome and so to plant the seeds of submission and surrender and confession and the like.

BUT THE POWER OF THIS SEED IS INDOMITABLE.

II. THE SECRET OF THE CHRISTIAN LIFE IS RECEIVING AND HOLDING THIS SEED AS IT GERMINATES AND GROWS

The familiar part of this story is the story of four kinds of soil. We remember: some fell on the path and the birds got it; some fell on rocks and sprang up only to wilt when the heat was on; some fell among thorns and when the wheat grew so did the dandel and so the wheat was choked.

Think with me about this familiar part again:

1. THE SEED THAT THE BIRDS GOT.

[People that are "so smart" that God never has a chance to let them know genuine LIFE!]

The seed never germinated. Never really had a chance. Hardened. Busy, busy place. No reception into incubation. NEVER REALLY GOT THE MESSAGE THAT GOD CAN COME RIGHT INTO OUR INSIDES AND LIVE WITH US AND LOVE US DAY BY DAY!

2. THE JOYFUL SKYROCKET!

[People who live ONLY by how they FEEL!]

Warm reception. Lots of feeling. No real soil preparation; no discipline whatsoever.

Here is the classic case of perpetual immaturity! We are fond of saying: "Purity is NOT maturity!" and looking the other way when people continue to live on the basis of how they FEEL long after they should be living by what they KNOW!

Maturity is not usually considered as part of holiness. It is "OK" to stay juvenile— or is it? It is OK to keep wrestling with the battles of identity over and over again (and I AM sympathetic! There is childishness in ALL of us to some extent!) But when do we stop living for hard rock and settle down to breaking up the depths of our souls for Jesus to have us clear to the bottom? Skyrocket goes up like a bullet, explodes like the creation of the world, and then goes out into darkness that seems darker than it was before.

Maturity is one of the goals of true holiness!

3. THE SEED THAT GOT CHOKED.

[People who lose sight of the most important things in life!] Here, to my mind, is a real tragedy!

A lot of work went into this ground. It was pretty well prepared. Ground that is tender catches more than just good seed, however.

Gardens have to be tended. No exceptions. RELATIONSHIPS SIMPLY WILL NOT MAINTAIN THEMSELVES! There is an enemy that specializes in sowing tares— darnel, false wheat-and there is enough bad news to go around.

Jesus said: "As they go on their way they are choked with worries and riches and pleasures of this life, AND BRING NO FRUIT TO MATURITY!"

And so, finally, all the hard work goes for nothing! If the LIFE that was in the SEED is not manifested, the garden is a failure!

4. THE NOBLE GARDEN.

There are reasons for the other kinds of soil. But this is where we need to live! And by God's grace we CAN!

Parable of Seed and Soil

Jesus says: "These are those who hold the LIFE in an honest and good heart AND BEAR FRUIT WITH PERSEVERANCE!"

It isn't hard to bear fruit!

You don't even have to TRY to bear fruit!

What is hard is STAYING OPEN AND OBEDIENT AND GIVING THE CHRIST-LIFE A CHANCE TO GROW WITHIN YOU! If the life is there, and if you hold it with an honest and good heart and don't quit, YOU WILL BEAR FRUIT!

III. WE MUST LEARN TO TRUST THE SEED!

[As James says (Jas/ 1:21) "Receive with meekness the engrafted WORD which is able to save your souls!"]

1. THE SEED OFTEN DOES NOT RESEMBLE THE MATURE, FULL-GROWN, FRUIT-BEARING PLANT.

The human way to seek "success" is to focus on HUMAN MODELS. We want to "stick an adult plant into the ground." We look for results, and we look to methods, and to models.

God's way is to let the LIVING WORD sink down into our hearts and do a miracle that is both unique and powerful.

2. In our PERSONAL lives: Assurance, soul-winning, growth in grace spring from humility, and openness before God, from confession and weakness before the Lord.
3. In our corporate life, CHURCH-WIDE: We look for results, for numbers—to 'Pastor Cho' and his church of 200,000 members, we take trips to seminars to see how/what others are doing. (And seminars have their rightful place!)

But healthy, growing, powerful churches are UNIQUE! They spring from healthy seed (the Gospel) in well-prepared ground!

Conclusion

We can be abundantly fruitful, both personally and as a church!

Let's claim the power of John 15:8— which comes right after John 15:7 ! Here is a prayer that cannot fail! All we have to do is pray it honestly and openly—

"By this is my Father glorified, that you bear much fruit, and so prove to be my disciples." (NASB)

IF in fact the Holy Spirit has planted the seed of christ's gospel, the life of Jesus, within our hearts and beings!

Exalt Him #66 May the Mind of Christ, My Savior

Peace Through a Higher Focus

THE SPIRIT OF JESUS

Lesson: Philippians 4:6-9 Text: 12-18 ("What then?")

Preface: If a man in prison can tell me how to experience real joy and peace- tell me in practical terms- and can demonstrate the same- I'll buy the book! But we all already have the book! Let's look at it these four Sundays in August! [One would-be master writer ... with means ... made an idyllic place to write (I've forgotten his name;) ... Paul wrote about LOVE and about JOY and about PEACE from prison!]

INTRO:

'DEFINING' "PEACE"

1. The word 'peace' is almost a cliché. What really is peace? Defining "peace" is a little like defining "health." We usually use negative terms: absence of disease. But health is MORE than just not being sick; and God's peace is more than just absence of tension and the storms of life. (Harmony/ tranquility/ serenity)

One thing we know is that Jesus gives peace to His people as their right: He wills that we shall know His peace.

But having it in the "will" and appropriating real peace are two different things.

2. 'Peace' does not mean we will never face tension or struggles or storms of life. Peace does not mean we sail the wide seas no more.

Many of us struggle with emotions that will not behave at times; some people know acute emotional stress. Still I believe that peace that passes understanding, peace that keeps the heart and the mind are for me and for you!

WHAT ARE THE ELEMENTS OF THIS PEACE JESUS HAS FOR HIS PEOPLE?

I. The Foundation For God's Peace Is A FREEDOM From THE GUILT And The DOMINION Of SIN.

There is a lack of awareness of sin in much of our world today. That does not erase the fact that existential unrest - lack of peace- exists where SIN, its GUILT and its POWER have not been dealt with.

TO ENTER GOD'S PEACE WE MUST KNOW OUR SINS FORGIVEN, AND OPEN OUR HEARTS TO GOD'S CLEANSING

II. The Structure Of God's Peace Is A SELF-WORTH That Comes From Belonging To God, To His Family.

This peace connects directly to what we call VALUABLE in life.

We cannot have peace if our self-worth depends on secondary good things. WE CAN NEVER HAVE REAL PEACE IF OUR GOALS IN LIFE ARE WRONG, OR IF THEY ARE FUZZY!

1. Real PEACE is built upon a separation from the idols that the world worships. Almighty God is the enemy of all false gods, and He will never give peace to those who worship lesser deities, whether they are pagan idols, or whether they are "things" and "positions" and "feelings."
2. Many of the things that the world worships are good servants, and God is not diametrically opposed to "things;" He simply will not give peace to those who make "things" first in their lives.
3. TWO THINGS are wrong with setting our first priorities on 'lesser gods.'
 - a. If we don't achieve them they frustrate us!
 - b. If we DO achieve them they frustrate us! To know God's peace we can deliberately surrender our goals for God's transforming light ... ask Him to show us the privilege of being His children, and ask Him to show us His goals for our lives!

III. The Experiencing Of God's Peace COMES IN 'LETTING GOD BE GOD!'

[Easy to say; not always easy to do!] It is when we can find 'detachment' from God's work! (We don't have to do it ourselves!)

GOD IS SOVEREIGN, HE IS IN CONTROL! AND GOD IS THE MASTER- BUILDER, HE WILL ACCOMPLISH HIS PURPOSE! We can trust Him that He will do what He says He will do!

A. WE CAN EXPERIENCE Peace in the matter of CONTROL:

1. WE DON'T HAVE TO SEEK TO CONTROL OTHER PEOPLE (We can't make over that spouse! We are not living through that adult son or daughter!)
We cannot seek to STEER other people, situations!

2. WE DON'T HAVE TO BE STEERED BY OUTSIDE PRESSURES!

B. AND WE CAN LEARN Peace in the matter of RESULTS!:

PAUL isn't building the church! Paul isn't RESPONSIBLE for building the church! Paul IS responsible to do Paul's job! Paul belongs to Jesus.

But when Paul has done his best and ends up in jail Paul can honestly say, "So WHAT!" God WILL do what God alone can do! WE CAN BE FREE FROM RESPONSIBILITY FOR RESULTS!

HOW CAN WE EXPERIENCE THIS PEACE THAT JESUS GIVES?

Conclusion

A simplistic start toward renewed peace in your life ... foolish enough to speak of three simple steps:

1. We can OPEN UP to God! Don't hide anything! Tell Him how you feel! But be sure to confess your sin, your need of Him. And that doesn't END when you are soundly saved! STAY OPEN! That's the foundation!
2. We can continue to SEEK AFTER God! [Paul: This ONE thing I do!] Don't insist on YOUR way — and don't let any person or any group tell you what God's will is! Surrender your claims, your rights to God alone! Ask HIM to give you life goals and values! Don't stoop to be a multi-millionaire if God wants you to be a servant!

3. And, by God's grace we can learn to LET GOD BE GOD! (20 'Christ will be exalted in my body') This is a LEARNED thing! But as we do our faithful best to obey because we love ... Paul says: THE PEACE OF GOD WILL KEEP YOU! AND THE GOD OF PEACE WILL BE WITH YOU! That's how Paul could say: "So what!" Let HIM be responsible for the results! Perhaps you and I are a bit behind Paul in the school of perfect personal peace. But I am pretty certain that even Paul himself had to work at the job of maintaining his peace.

You don't have to have a perfect setting to have peace .. nor [thank God] do you have to be in jail, either!

#409 Singing I Go

Personal and Professional Guidelines

April 18, 1999

ONE - Only ONE God!

Try to focus every day on pleasing God:

"God wants me to be primarily concerned with pleasing HIM, and not too much concerned with pleasing anyone else, no matter how good or godly."

TWO- Two Tables of God's Law

- I. No other gods
- II. No idols
- III. Holy Name (reverence)
- IV. Holy Day (time apart)
- V. Honor father and Mother (family)
- VI. Do no murder
- VII. Do not commit adultery
- VIII. Do not bear false witness
- IX. Do not steal
- X. Do not covet

Jesus summarized them: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all your heart, soul, mind" and added, "The second is like unto it: Love your neighbor as yourself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets."

The first "table" enables and empowers the second; they cannot be separated.

THREE - THREE OFFICES OF CHRIST

- Prophet - challenge of the Word
- Priest - Mediator between God and humanity (you, me)
- King - Focus of cooperative relationships of the kingdom

This ties in perfectly with our observance of the church yearly cycle:

- Advent - a vision of God so loving that he sends his Son . . O Come, Emmanuel
- Lent, Good Friday, Easter - the Son of God as both sacrifice and High Priest
- Pentecost - the ushering in of the church which must be "organized" by coordinating power of the
- Holy Spirit "He has made US to be kings and priests" the disciplinary grace of God to organize and vice-regent our own sphere.

FOUR - FOUR MARKS OF THE CHURCH

- One
- Holy
- Catholic
- Apostolic

FIVE - FIVE TASKS OF THE CHURCH

- Worship - VERTICAL
- Evangelism -OUTWARD
- Fellowship -INWARD
- Education -INWARD
- Service-OUTWARD

. . . .that's all (for now) folks! :-)

Personal and Professional Guidelines 2

IN SUMMARY (2)

I. AUTHORITY

Wesleyan Quadrilateral

Scripture

Tradition

Reason

Experience

. . . Heavily weighted to Scripture.

II. EVANGELISM

or, how people come to know God and salvation:

(Wesleyan)

1. Awakening
2. Enrolling
3. Justification
4. Sanctification

(Modern) (George Hunter in Church for the Unchurched)

1. Discovery We matter to God

2. Relationships

to God's people to God (discovering prayer)

3. New Life

desire to do God's will discovering a love for God's people a freedom in Christ (from sin's power; legalism)

4. A New Life-style in the world but not of it (different drummer)

service and ministry (discovering gifts/purpose)

witness (telling others- mission)

we discover who we are (identity)

AUTHORITY

Who tells the church what to do? Who is my boss?

The Bible, of course!

"God said it, I believe it, that settles it!"

Sounds great . . . So why 200 denominations?

NAZARENE - WESLEYAN - ARMINIAN

So- my boss is a denomination? A D.S.?

In one respect, I suppose so . . . But remember

GOD WANTS ME TO BE PRIMARILY CONCERNED WITH PLEASING HIM, AND NOT TOO MUCH CONCERNED WITH PLEASING ANYONE ELSE, NO MATTER HOW GOOD OR GODLY.

So how do us Wesleyans come out sort of thinking the same way?

WESLEY'S "QUADRILATERAL"

Scripture

Tradition*

*Tradition is the living religion of people who have died

*Traditionalism is the dead religion of living people . . .

Reason

Experience

HOW PEOPLE COME TO GOD AND SALVATION

Wesley (probably over-simplifying)

Awakening

Enrolling

Justification sought and found

Sanctification pursued

Modern Adaptation (George Hunter)

Discovery

New Relationships

New Life

New Lifestyle

Discovery

People matter to God

YOU matter to God

New relationships

With God (through prayer)

With God's people (the usual pocket hit)

New Life

Seeks God's will (into the Word)

Loves God's people (finding fellowship)

Finds freedom (sin's power broken)

New Life Style

In the world, but no longer OF the world (does not "follow the crowd")

A heart for others/ service (gifts that build up the Body)

A desire to share (witness of word and life)

Discovering identity; unique yet Christ-like

MOTIVATION & MORALS

The discovery of Lawrence Kohlberg's theory of moral development was a breakthrough in helping me with motivation.

I thought of motivation as getting people to do something– usually what I thought they ought to do– to give, to witness, to build the church.

People do "the right thing" for widely different reasons at different stages of their lives.

III. POST-CONVENTIONAL (PRINCIPLED LIVING)

II. CONVENTIONAL

I. PRE-CONVENTIONAL (peek UP from bottom on this one)

I. PRE-CONVENTIONAL

Rewards and punishment– right is what is rewarded. Wrong is what is punished.

Or

Quid pro quo - I'll do right by you so you'll do right by me

II. CONVENTIONAL

By definition where most people live:

"Right" is doing what is accepted as the thing to do.

"Right" is living by the rules that make one a "good citizen" or "good scout" as long as it is what is seen as acceptable.

III. POST-CONVENTIONAL

"Right" is what is perceived as good for all concerned; behavior is not changed whether or not other people know or see what is being done.

"Right" is living by principles seen as universal; observed by the "Unseen Observer"

So– what does this have to do with my basic pastoral understanding?

JOHN 4 - JESUS AT THE WELL

'THREW AWAY' A POWERFUL UNDERSTANDING OF 'WORSHIP'

JESUS SAID THERE ARE THREE WAYS TO WORSHIP GOD

IGNORANT

INTELLIGENT

SPIRITUAL

Promise of Joy

December 12, 1993

&=bsp; A =ROMISE OF JOY

Sometimes I wonder, since the Bible tells =s that Jesus was born like a light shining into a darkened world, how much darker the =orld could have been then than it is right now! A hundred years ago optimistic Christians in this country were saying that with just a =it more education we would usher in the Millennium. And yet in =his century more people have been killed in wars, and in religious persecution, and in so-called ethnic cleansing than in any other period in recorded history, and perhaps more than in all previous history combined. If ever we needed Messiah's Light, we need it just now!

Jesus has changed this world already. =any millions have found that He is as good as His word. It is impossible to imagine what =his world would be today apart from the leavening influence of the Holy Spirit holding back the tides of evil and darkness through the Body =f Christ on earth. But unless something like a new challenge to turn =o the light is heard and heeded our civilization is headed for anarchy and chaos. I do not need to re-play the evening news; you did not come to church to be depressed. But what this world needs is the message of John the Baptist: Prepare the way for God to come!

I. (John 1:6-8) A MAN WITH A PROMISE

A. He was a strange, mysterious figure, this man they =all 'the Baptist.' His looks were odd; he might be called a "mountain =an" in our day. His social skills were unorthodox to say the least— =e spent most of his time in solitude, or at least with just a few disciples in the desert.

Promise of Joy

But this man was sent from God! He =as a man! And he was sent! John the Baptist bridged the gap from Old Testament prophet to New Testament evangel. He had a rugged, uncompromising message. =e called sin by name. He did not despise the poor; he even gave soldiers (fighting men) hope of salvation.

John the Baptist was remarkable for his =umility. He had disciples, which indicates that people believed in his integrity. =ut John did not claim more grace than he had. And when Jesus came =long John pointed the way to the Light. His testimony was "He must increase! I must decrease!"

John came for the purpose of proclaiming = PROMISE! "God has spoken," he declared. "One is coming after me who will baptize =ou with the very Spirit of God!"

B. The church today needs to recover this same message: PREPARE =HE WAY OF THE LORD!

We are bearers, like the herald angels, =f a promise of great JOY! Like John, we may be voices crying in the wilderness. =ut if we will cry, the message will be heard! Only God knows what would =eed to take place for us to see one last Great Spiritual Awakening. =e may not bring about Millennium. But we can tell the world they may trust God's Promise of GREAT JOY!

II. (Psalm 126) TEARS BEFORE HARVEST

A. A hole where JOY should be

The world probably does not understand =hat JOY really is.

There is a lot of laughter around, but not too many really happy people. There are many kinds of so-called =quot;entertainment," but not very many people can say they are truly "fulfilled." And =atever JOY might be, there is an extraordinary amount of un-joy around. =here are many refreshing exceptions, but a lot of what we are being =aught is selfishness, hedonism, nihilism. The popular expression is "Take care of number one!"

So we have people bruising people. People hurting, and being hurt. Thank God in the Christian community sometimes we remember the admonition, "Bear one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ!" But sometimes even we forget!

B. That HOLE is "God-shaped

The seemingly logical answer to the need for joy is to seek after it. But it is not ever quite that simple. For JOY is not an obvious end in and of itself. That is, if we set out simply to please ourselves we can never quite make the speed that kicks us out of our self-bound orbit. Joy comes as the mighty by-product of delightful relationships! Joy is difficult to define, and there is a mysterious aspect of this "fruit of the Spirit." But we might say that JOY IS AN INNER HARMONY OF POWERFUL SATISFACTION THAT COMES AS A WITNESS TO RIGHT RELATIONSHIPS, AND THE PRIMARY RELATIONSHIP OF ALL IS PERTICAL!

B. (Psalm 126) The Psalm today gives two interesting aspects of this joy.

1. Surprisingly, the first is not our joy at all, but God's! See it there on the back of your worship folder:

I will rejoice over Jerusalem and take delight in My people, the sound of weeping and crying will be heard in it no more.

It is thrilling to me to think that the very heart of God rejoices when we, His children, look to Him with love. It is a source of joy to any child to realize that he or she is bringing pleasure to a parent. [How long has it been since you sincerely took pleasure in your child, and expressed it?]

Promise of Joy

2. But the other aspect of joy is the =eliberate investment that is demanded if we are to be able to rejoice in God and in His assignment for us.

Those who sow in tears will reap with songs of =oy. He who goes out weeping, carrying seed to sow, =ill return with songs of joy carrying sheaves with =im.

If there is no sowing, there will be no harvest of joy. Joy is =lways the result of having faith in a dream or a vision or a promise— and then investing in that promise:

the JOY of a game well-played and won the JOY of V-J Day, when a great deal more was =t stake the JOY of the last BAPTISM here in this =anctuary, as the candidates testified to DEATH TO SELFISH WAYS and to LIVING WITH AND FOR JESUS CHRIST!

C. (I Thessalonians 5) This is how Paul can urge us =in the epistle (see it there on the back of your worship folder:)

Be joyful always! Pray continually! Give =hanks in all circumstances! This is God's will for you =n Christ Jesus!

We may rejoice for the God who calls us to His holy fellowship is =he God who makes us able. We become His new creation!

III. (Isaiah 65) CREATION NOW!

Isaiah 65: 17-28 The promise of a new heaven and new earth; the call =o rejoice in what God is creating; and His greatest creation is YOU!

The changed nature - "The wolf and =he lamb shall graze together, and the lion shall eat straw like the ox; and dust shall be the serpent's food. They shall not do evil or harm in all my holy mountain, says the Lord."

This is a return to the theme of Peace under the Rule of Messiah; the theme of what we sometimes call "The Millennium," as seen in Chapter 11. Prophecy literalists see only a time in the future when these beasts of such different and incompatible instincts get along and "a little child shall lead them."

Certainly this poetic prophecy speaks to us of God's ability to create that which He has promised. A new heavens, a new earth will be remarkable. But the kind of creation spoken of here is beyond belief, apart from the knowledge of Jesus Christ.

 x x x

When the shepherds finally came to announce the birth of Messiah, after the silence of centuries their first words were

Behold I bring you glad tidings of great joy which shall be to all people . . . Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace to men of good will.

There was immediacy in that announcement. At that very time Jesus Christ had come! Immanuel was not just a promise any more, for in the very flesh here was God, bone of our bone, flesh of our flesh, in the manger of the stable of the inn in Bethlehem.

There was also promise of that which was yet to be in that announcement. The angels sang of a joy which shall be to all people. The darkness had not yet been dispelled. The light was shining, small as it seemed. The promise was that the light would never be extinguished, and that in fact it would one day illumine the whole earth.

Real Solutions to Real Problems

SUNRISE MEDITATION

2 Corinthians 5:17 Therefore if any person be in Christ they are a NEW creation; old things have passed away, behold all things are become new!

The Revelation Moment We revere the Christ of Calvary, for there He poured out His life in order that we might forever live in Him. But Calvary is not the end of the story! The empty Tomb, the Risen Savior manifested, is the necessary climax of the drama of eternal life.

And did you ever ask yourself how YOU know Jesus is really alive? I. DRAMA AT THE EMPTY TOMB

All our salvation can be epitomized in a sunrise moment:

Mary, empty, sad, weeping, even worshiping, comes to do homage to a dead Hope, a dead Lord. She has heard the words of life. She has known the Savior so very well that no one could ever deceive her.

Still- Mary did NOT know Jesus when He met her that first Easter morning. Why, do you suppose? Tears in her eyes? Marred, mutilated face? Darkness?

"Mary!" When Jesus spoke her name something happened!

"Rabboni!" Joy! Faith! Understanding! LIFE! WAS THIS 'RECOGNITION MOMENT' UNIQUE TO MARY?

When we speak about the Risen Lord we are speaking about the mysterious, wonderful LIFE that is the place where heaven touches the earth! It is true what is written in this Book we call the Bible. But just knowing it and even believing it intellectually does not mean that we know the risen Lord! II. PAUL AND THE CORINTHIANS

Some of them had heard Jesus preach. They had seen Him; they said to Paul, WE knew Jesus— YOU did not!

But Paul said, (II Corinthians 5:16) Even though we have known Jesus after the flesh, yet from now on we do not know Him that way any more!

WE must know Jesus in an even more intimate way than the disciples who walked with Him and ate with Him and heard Him speak knew Him! Can you believe it?

Jesus must be personally revealed! III. DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN THE HOLY SPIRIT SPOKE TO YOU ABOUT YOUR NEED OF A SAVIOR?

Jesus calls YOUR name! He says, YOU have sinned! YOU need a Savior! I love YOU! And He calls YOU by name!

And YOU say, with Mary: RABBONI! MASTER!!

That is what 2 Corinthians 5:17 is all about: IF ANY MAN, IF ANY WOMAN, IF ANY BOY, IF ANY GIRL BE IN CHRIST, THEY ARE A NEW CREATURE! All because Jesus, by the power of His Holy Spirit, the Risen Jesus, comes near and makes Himself known! That is the "recognition moment!"

Prayer: O Jesus, Be Thyself to Me— a living, bright Reality! Amen!

The Abiding Reality of Pentecost

John 14:23; John 16:8-11

John 14:23 "If anyone loves Me, he will keep My word; and My Father will love him, and We will come to him, and make Our abode with him."

Introduction

When we say, "What happened at Pentecost?" we often see what we have been taught to look for; we have the answer before we have the experience and the personal sense of need. To be exposed to the holiness teaching is for the most part very good indeed; it helps us into the experience of full surrender plus faith that brings cleansing and power and fullness of the Presence! But all the same, I'm convinced that much of what took place cannot be analyzed and explained. And yet I believe with all my heart that the same Holy Spirit that came to and into the church in the second chapter of Acts still comes to live in the church today.

What does the Bible show us about the abiding Presence of God in the church and in our individual lives? WHAT HAPPENED AT PENTECOST ?

I. SENSIBLE EVIDENCES AT PENTECOST

The Initial Signs of Pentecost:

A. RUSHING MIGHTY WIND:

Signifying the uncontrollable nature of the Spirit, (not that we are 'out of control, and made puppets; but He, God's Spirit, is NOT simply at our beck and call, for us to use); cleansing, powerful, breath of God Himself. This very evidently was NOT something "private," or confined to the immediate participants. The NOISE was heard. It brought a crowd.

B. TONGUES OF FIRE:

Cleansing, powerful, fire from the altar of God. It reminds us of Isaiah vi.

C. OTHER TONGUES:

Intelligibility, universality, THE REVERSE OF BABEL; when man is glorified it does not 'make sense;' when God is glorified, there is communication from God to man to man; giving of the law into the very heart.

II. UNFOLDING PROMISES AT PENTECOST

The mighty work of the Holy Spirit begun:

A. THE HOLY SPIRIT A TEACHER (John 14:26)

The Helper will TEACH you all things; and bring to your remembrance all that I said to you.

B. THE HOLY SPIRIT LIFTING UP JESUS (John 15:26/ John 16:14)

When the Helper comes, whom I will send to you from the Father, He will bear witness of ME. He shall glorify ME; for He shall take of Mine, and shall disclose it to you.

C. THE HOLY SPIRIT CONVICTING SINNERS OF THEIR NEED OF SALVATION (John 16:8,9,10,11)

And He, when He comes, will convict the world concerning sin, and righteousness, and judgment;

D. THE HOLY SPIRIT GUIDING THE CHURCH IN ACTION (John 16:13)

But when He, the Spirit of truth, comes, He will guide YOU into all the truth; for He will not speak on His own initiative, but whatever He hears, He will speak; and He will disclose to you what is to come. All these BEGAN to come to reality as soon as the disciples received the fullness of the Spirit on the Day of Pentecost.

There was no higher Lordship than that of Jesus; AND WHEN THE CHURCH RECEIVED THE SPIRIT, THE WORLD BEGAN TO BE CONVICTED OF SIN, AND RIGHTEOUSNESS, AND JUDGMENT! THAT IS STILL THE FORMULA!

III. THE OPEN SECRET OF PENTECOST

JESUS, WHO WENT AWAY INTO HEAVEN, CAME BACK IN THE PERSON OF THE HOLY SPIRIT TO ABIDE IN HIS DISCIPLES' HEARTS

The ABIDING Reality: God making Himself at home in the human heart.

The word "abiding" has various connotations: as constant, enduring, eternal, immutable, lasting, permanent. To "abide" also has the connotation of "being at home." Of "living there!"

Look again to our text for this Pentecost Sunday evening: John 14:23 "If anyone loves Me, he will keep My word; and My Father will love him, and We will come to him, and make Our abode with him." THAT is Pentecost!

A. THIS ABIDING, SO FAR AS WE ARE CONCERNED IS INITIATED BY LOVE FOR JESUS CHRIST:

("If anyone loves ME!") We do not receive the "abiding reality" if we do not love Jesus!

B. LOVE IS GENUINE WHEN IT INVOLVES A DESIRE TO PLEASE:

("If anyone loves Me he will keep my words.")

C. LOVE FOR JESUS IS RETURNED: THE FATHER RESPONDS WHEN WE SEEK TO BE LIKE JESUS.

("My Father will love him")

D. The result: "WE" will come to live with the one who loves Me! My heart God's HOME!

Conclusion

In our holiness tradition we give great importance to the experience of heart holiness. We understand that consecration plus faith will bring the fullness of the Presence! WE DARE NOT STOP SHORT OF THIS EXPERIENCE! We must have the fullness! We must know the blessing!

But the EXPERIENCE is vitally connected with our RELATIONSHIP- the way we think about God, and act toward Him!

The Abiding Reality of Pentecost

We say: "What has God DONE for you?"!! "Do you have the EXPERIENCE?"!! And sometimes we talk as if the EXPERIENCE was something like a "thing" or a "gift" that we can have in and of itself.

The way into EXPERIENCE is by RELATIONSHIP! The question is not so much, "What has God DONE for you?" but "Who IS God to you?" It is not so much asking God to GIVE us— but asking God to help us LOVE HIM, AND GIVE OURSELVES TO HIM!

Jesus said: "If you LOVE Me . . . WE, the Father and the Son, by the ministry of the blessed Holy Spirit, will come to you, and live IN you!

Prayer: Lord Jesus, Make it so! Amen

#63(EH) We've been singing Wesley all day. Charles Wesley. I'd like for us to close with a song by Paul Gerhardt, a German— but one that John Wesley thought so much of that he translated and rhymed it into English: Jesus, "Thy Boundless Love to Me"

The Atonement - What is Salvation

Romans 5:1-11

Introduction

In answering the question, "What is salvation?" it is absolutely necessary that we deal with the need for atonement.

There is only one place in the entire New Testament where the English word "atonement" is used, Romans 5:11, although the same Greek word (kat-al-a-GAY) is translated "reconciliation" in several other places. And "atonement" or "reconciliation" is at the heart of being "saved", being right with God.

There are at least six shades of meaning that can be brought to mind when we use either the word "atonement" or "reconciliation," or seek to express the truth these words convey.

- It can mean that which brings together estranged parties, making them "at-one-ment" or, of the same mind.
- It can mean the state of mind itself that exists when reconciled parties have been brought together.
- It is sometimes used to mean an apology; sometimes a grieving or apology to those who have died, and we cannot make amends directly to them.
- Most frequently "atonement" means a substitute for a penalty— a person willing to step in and take care of the punishment or fine.
- The Old Testament idea has the idea of a covering, and applies to anything that might hide a person's sins from God.
- But in the New Testament is the highest expression of the meaning of atonement. There it speaks of the propitiary sacrifice of Jesus Christ on the cross for the sins of mankind.

In non-technical words: the Bible tells us what we already know by instinct- that somehow we want to be near God, but are out of touch with Him; but by His love to us in Jesus Christ, we can be brought near, made to know and love and have fellowship with Him. This "coming near" is by Christ's atonement.

I. SOME DOCTRINAL OBSERVATIONS ON THE ATONEMENT

A. A DEFINITION

I know it is extremely old-fashioned to quote theologians, especially conservative theologians. But on this world-wide communion Sunday I want to define what we mean by "atonement:"

1. We define the atonement of Jesus as "The satisfaction offered to divine justice by the death of Christ for the sins of mankind, by virtue of which all true penitents who believe in Christ are personally reconciled to God, are freed from the penalty of their sins, and entitled to eternal life." (Richard Watson, in his monumental Theological Institutes, 1851.)
2. Or, another definition, "The atonement is the satisfaction made to God for the sins of all mankind, original and actual, by the mediation of Christ, and especially by His passion and death, so that pardon might be granted to all, while the divine perfections are kept in harmony, the authority of the Sovereign is upheld, and the strongest motives are brought to bear upon sinners to lead them to repentance, to faith in Christ, the necessary conditions of pardon, and to a life of obedience, by the gracious aid of the Holy Spirit." (Thomas O. Summers, Systematic Theology.)

I understand this simply to say that in Jesus Christ, by His death on Calvary, we have been offered the free gift of eternal life. LIFE HAS BEEN OFFERED TO ALL WHO BELIEVE!

B. A NECESSITY

I also know it is extremely naive to believe that atonement is necessary. For "sin" has all but disappeared from the vocabulary and from the thinking of our culture. We live in a no-fault, no-sin society.

But all the same, all have sinned, and desperately need to be reconciled to God. We may have the image of God, but not all people everywhere KNOW God or have Him in their thoughts. So atonement is needed, on your part and mine, because we have sinned.

And atonement is needed on God's part, also. For He is perfectly holy and just. And even though He yearns with love for His creatures, He cannot fellowship with sin. And so He needs Someone to take away the creature's sin so that God can know again (what Dr. Bob Hubbard called last Tuesday) "the Eden experience."

C. A CENTRAL SCRIPTURAL TRUTH

Before I leave this "doctrinal side" of my message, I would show how the scriptures clearly point to Jesus as the only One who can reconcile us to God.

1. In the Old Testament, the doctrine of atonement unfolded beginning with the primitive sacrifices of the pre-Law, pre-Mosaic time, when Abel and Noah and Abraham, and no doubt many others who sought after God offered sacrifices and were accepted of God.
2. Then came the sacrifices prescribed by the Law, and given in detail in Exodus and Leviticus, where God made it plain that life was precious, that the life was in the blood, and that without the shedding of blood there was no remission for sin.
3. But the high point of Old Testament understanding of "atonement" came in the prophetic statements of the One Who would come to bear the sins of the world.

Listen to Isaiah 53:4-5:

"Surely he hath borne our griefs and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God and afflicted. But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed."

II. JESUS HIMSELF IS OUR ATONEMENT

But all doctrine, and all necessity, and all scriptural fulfillment are found in Jesus Christ Himself. And Paul, the greatest theologian of all summed up my understanding of the atonement in four words, found in Romans 5:8. They are the words of my text for this communion worship hour: "Christ died for us."

Will you say them with me, reverently? "Christ died for us."

The closing part of my meditation today has three parts, each of which I will open with a question. And the answer to each question is the text, these four words: "Christ died for us." But the emphasis is different, with the stress being laid on the obvious answer. You will understand as we go along.

A. WHO died for us? "CHRIST died for us!"

It is a humbling thing to be died for! And we all have had moments of reflection when we have pondered the wonder of ordinary men who have gone off to some foreign land because they loved this land— and there they have died so that we would not have to be enslaved. Maybe THAT is old-fashioned and corny, too. But I have stood at Arlington National Cemetery and felt deep emotion to think that here lie men who have died for me.

But all others who have died for us have bought life and freedom that is limited, and that will one day end. They themselves were sinners, and needed atonement. If there were only someone who were NOT a sinner, who was willing to die, and would not have to purge his own sins— then his death would have vicarious, substitutionary grace.

And if that perfect, sinless person were God Himself, infinite in power and grace and life, then his acceptance of our penalty would satisfy perfect justice. And this is exactly what happened. As Cecil Alexander wrote in the hymn,

There Is a Green Hill Far Away:

"There was no other good enough To pay the price of sin He only could unlock the gate of heav'n, and let us in."

But there is a second question:

B. Christ DID WHAT for us? "Christ DIED for us!"

Jesus Christ not only came to reveal God, as the Eternal Word, He came to make us the sons and daughters of God as we receive Him by faith!

And so He has fully paid our penalty for sin. If we will receive the free gift of atonement, as the Holy Spirit enables us to reach out and take it by faith, we shall be saved. NOT because sin is not deadly, and NOT because we have not sinned, and NOT because God has simply "excused" sin. But because Jesus DIED, and so we do not need to pay the penalty ourselves! Jesus DIED for us!

And there is a final question:

C. Christ died FOR WHOM? "Christ died FOR US!"

This is where God the Holy Spirit makes the truth of "atonement" very personal! The truth of salvation is magnificent, and hard to grasp in all its splendor— that God should care for mortal men and women. But that He should care for common, ordinary people like me and you is incomprehensible apart from divine revelation.

But God does care! And Jesus died not only for great and famous people in other times and other places; Jesus died for you, and for me— for us who are gathered right here and right now in this place!

The atonement is HERE!

The Challenge to Faith

Exodus 4 and 6, selected passages

When Moses first attempted to lead his people out of Egyptian bondage, his efforts were a resounding and total failure. He was gifted, and well-trained, and he was utterly sincere. He was willing to put his life on the line. But the very best that Moses had to offer was far too little for the task at hand. And somehow God did not seem interested in helping Moses in his project.

The failure of Moses was the final scene in what we could call "Act I" of the drama of his life. And Moses' life was dramatic! It began with the faith and love of a mother and father that hid him in a basket in the bulrushes along the Nile. It continued with the almost unbelievable adoption into the royal family of Egypt, but with his own Hebrew mother as his nursemaid and teacher. There is no doubt that Moses felt in his own heart that he was destined for some role of leadership and noble greatness. But at the age of forty Moses tried to fill the role of emancipator, tried with all his own strength, and was bitterly rejected by his own people. He turned his back on Egypt and left, a failure.

But now, forty years later- yes, at an age when many people have no strength at all- Moses was back on the scene in Egypt. How he got there, and what he had done and seen and experienced is a thrilling story. We know that he had encountered God! The hot-blooded, impulsive, arrogant Moses was now Moses the meek. Somehow in the first attempt it had been 'Moses the gifted whiz-kid' pitting his talents against injustice, with the hope and prayer that God would see the wisdom of siding with him.'

But now it was Moses the meek, obedient to God's direct commandment, and instead of Moses against injustice, it is now GOD and Moses against the injustice! And that is quite a difference! But remember, it was still the same person- Moses. The same human being, a lot less glamorous, a little less sure of himself, a bit sun-baked, with leathery skin, perhaps. The same leader that the children of Israel had rejected out of hand before. And now they believe him! The Exodus is about to begin. And I am very interested in just what made these people decide that this message was really from God. Just what constitutes a LEGITIMATE challenge to faith?

I. FAITH IS ALWAYS A DECISION AND REQUIRES COURAGE AND EVEN DARING!

- A. Leaving the story of the Hebrew children in Egypt for just a moment, it is important to see that in every age and time, whenever God speaks to men and women it is decision time. God is NOT in every voice that makes a claim on our spiritual allegiance. Every human being has deep feelings and needs that may be exploited as well as ministered to. Have you ever thought about the decision that had to be made in the hearts and minds of many people during the earthly ministry of Jesus? The struggle to decide whether or not He was really the promised Messiah?

We are so sure and certain that we would have recognized Him! We would have followed Him without question! But I am sure that it was not that simple!

And this struggle to know if this salvation-dream/vision is from God- if it is within the realm of possibility that we can be free under God- or, if this is just a pipe-dream of some false messiah- this struggle is very much a part of the Exodus story. There was a great deal of drama in those first meetings of the people with this desert-man Moses who had returned after all these years— and after his encounter with God.

- B. Let's look at how the Hebrews came to their decision of faith:

Just to meet together was an act of daring and courage. It tells us how desperate their situation really was. But then they had to decide: are we willing to risk all, and stand up to our oppressors, or shall we just recognize the situation as hopeless, and get along as we have, as best we can? And, as it turned out, it was NOT a nice, neat, one-time-for-all kind of struggle of faith.

The first meeting seemed to go pretty well. (Exodus 4:31 So the people believed; and when they heard that the Lord was concerned about the sons of Israel and that He had seen their affliction, then they bowed low and worshiped.) The meeting was called; the people dared to attend; God's LOVE for them and God's PROMISE to them was revealed. And there was faith! It was small, imperfect. But the people believed! This is God!

But then— instead of the doors simply flying open, and things getting better and better until they simply walked out of Egypt and bondage with a handshake from the dictator, things began almost immediately to get worse!

Faith was being tested! Sifted! Honest doubt began to surface, along with a great deal of carnal unbelief and self interest and cowardly fear. And from that very time of decision until the night of the Passover the struggle to believe God and follow Him on the basis of faith in His Word was ON! The conviction that God wanted His people free had begun! WHEN GOD CONVINCES (CONVICTS) THE BATTLE OF FAITH IS BEGUN! It isn't saving faith as yet! But the battle is joined! Will God prove Himself TRUE?

II. FAITH IN GOD IS ALWAYS VINDICATED! GOD IS NOT CAPRICIOUS!

Just how bad things got when the people began to believe is recorded in Exodus 6. The taskmasters, or slave-drivers among the Egyptians increased the daily tally of bricks required, and at the same time they cut back on the supply of ingredients necessary to come up with that tally. The making of bricks required straw. Evidently this had been provided by the Egyptians before they had requested their freedom. But now the task of gathering their own straw was added to the heavy burden of brick making, and the load became humanly intolerable. Faith was being sorely tested!

What could Moses say to the people now? His response to the challenge of faith was to repeat God's words to the people (Exodus 6: "Say therefore, to the sons of Israel, 'I AM the Lord, and I will bring you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians, and I will deliver you from their bondage, I will also redeem you with an outstretched arm and with great judgments. Then I will take you for My people, and I will be your God; and you shall know that I AM the Lord your God, who brought you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians. And I will bring you to the land which I swore to give to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and I will give it to you for a possession; I AM THE LORD."

Note the POSITIVE emphasis here. God does not merely say. "You will be free from this trouble... you won't be slaves any more." But from the very beginning God wanted the people to understand that their goal was to come to KNOW HIM AS THEIR GOD, and to make them possessors of their own land.

To Pharaoh and his people it was obvious that this was a religious matter.: "Let my people go so that they may worship Me!" was God's word to the Egyptians. The lines of battle were spiritual lines. Of course there were social and economic elements to the problem. Human greed has always sided with the forces of evil.

But to His people, God was revealing Himself as FATHER and FRIEND and GUIDE. The ultimate purpose of Exodus for the children of Israel was not merely freedom, nor was it getting a new set of religious habits, nor even the possession of their own homeland in Canaan, as important as those were. The ultimate purpose was TO KNOW GOD! (Sound familiar? Wollaston Church Mission Statement)

These words of the Lord God rang true with the will of God that had been revealed to them by word of mouth from their forefathers. Not an Israelite lived that had not heard of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. Perhaps the Word of God was not as clear to them as the revealed Word we call the Bible today. But it was the same truth, from the same Source, and it was unmistakable.

They knew that Abram had followed God's call from Ur of the Chaldeas. They knew that Isaac had been born a child of promise. They knew about Jacob and his ladder to heaven, and they remembered Joseph's dying words (Hebrews 11:21 'a reminder that Egypt was not to be the Hebrew's home.')

So the challenge of Moses, their challenge to faith for deliverance, went along perfectly with the revealed word and revealed will of God that had been passed on to them. Their hope for freedom was now based on the character and integrity of God, and not the talents or programs of a human leader.

The challenge unfolded step-by-step, not all at once, and not neat and clear-cut. It had its set-backs, and struggles along the way. Not everyone who decided to leave Egypt made it all the way through to the Promised Land! As these early chapters close, the people are still slaves.

But by the time God and Moses were through dealing with Pharaoh, ten plagues had come. The people's faith had been raised to the point where they were willing to follow God's appointed leader. Their faith had progressed from conviction to persuasion to obedience. And THEN the actual Exodus began! A horde of slaves was in the process of becoming— the people of God!

III. THIS SAME CHALLENGE IS WHAT FAITH IS ABOUT TODAY!

Dare to follow God! Dare to be God's people! This call of faith is still being heard! The Exodus is both history and an object lesson. And it isn't any easier now to decide to put your life on the line and follow Jesus than it was for the Hebrews to believe Moses, believe that he had heard from God and had God's message for them. It isn't any easier for us than it was for Matthew and Nicodemus and the others to believe that Jesus really IS the Messiah and worth living for— and if necessary, worth dying for! It was hard for the slaves to believe that the Master of the Universe had heard their pitiful cry, and was asking them to follow Him out of their misery. It is hard for us to believe that God sees us in our sins, and in our weaknesses, and in our habits and in our dead-end relationships or situations— and that He cares about us and wants us to follow Him to freedom and power and into KNOWING HIM! Vaguely we think we know that when God calls we will have to change our life-style, or give up this or that. But give up WHAT? Go WHERE? How do we start?

So many conflicting and confusing elements enter in when we think of changing the way that we live. So many voices are eager to give us free advice! So many claims on our allegiance! Everywhere we turn someone has it all figured out, and knows exactly what we should do!

Everywhere we turn someone claims to be "Moses" or "Jesus" and says: "Follow me!!!"

HOW CAN WE BE SURE? WHAT TESTS ARE THERE FOR SAVING FAITH TO TAKE HOLD OF?

Conclusion:

There must be the conviction: this is the voice, the will of God! But everyone claims to be sent of God. And often there are wonders and emotions and miracles and success attending false prophets. (Worldwide Church of God is immensely wealthy. (In Zimbabwe the believe-and-get-rich church is booming.)

1. FAITH MUST COINCIDE WITH GOD'S PROMISES.

Not by proof-testing; not in a special revelation to an individual or small group. When God reveals new truth He does so pretty much to the entire believing church. When He comes every eye will see Him.

2. FAITH WILL ULTIMATELY BE POSITIVE.

God's promises are not based on sheer negativism; not on simply getting rid of bad habits, or beating some evil scheme. The end of salvation is to bring us into the JOY of the Father-child relationship! God challenges our faith because He loves us!

3. FAITH WILL CENTER IN GOD...

... and not in men or women! Not in Moses! Not even in FREEDOM! (Although it is bondage that makes us understand how much we need help!) In a PERSONAL way, God lets YOU know! Follow ME!

The Christian Passover

LENTEN SERIES #1

Sunday evening communion.

Lesson: Hebrews 9:11-22

But Christ being come an high priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building; Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us.

For if the blood of bulls and of goats, and the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh, how much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God?

And for this cause he is the mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance. For where a testament is, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator. For a testament is of force, after men are dead: otherwise it is of no strength at all while the testator liveth. Whereupon neither the first testament was dedicated without blood. For when Moses had spoken every precept to all the people according to the law, he took the blood of calves and of goats, with water, and scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book, and all the people, Saying, This is the blood of the testament which God hath enjoined unto you. Moreover he sprinkled with blood both the tabernacle, and all the vessels of the ministry.

(22) And almost all things are by the law purged with blood; and without shedding of blood is no remission.

Introduction:

As we come to the Table of the Lord again this evening, coming from a world that is not in any way sympathetic with the things we hold sacred and dear, we may be tempted to say: "What does Communion have to say to me that makes sense in the world in which I live? What does the Lord's Supper have to do with the real world?" Is it relevant?

I ask you this evening, solemnly, "What IS the 'real world'?" I'm sure that God is not confused by computers, and that He understands all the nuances of onrushing history. Still, who do we think we are by asking God to make Himself "real" to us on our terms? Who are we to say to HIM what is important?

If God is God, and if we are His people, we need to acknowledge that we need to be made relevant to the Truth, and not try to adapt the Truth to our avenues of reality.

We look to an ancient story to show us how to obediently share in the Table of the Lord: the story of Passover. Communion is the Christian Passover.

I. THE CHRISTIAN PASSOVER

- A. This is the covenant service God ordained that the children of Israel observe perpetually to commemorate His deliverance of them from Egypt and slavery, and forming them into a people He called His own.

(We can easily listen to those who speak disparagingly of "repulsive" blood rituals; so crude and so easily relegated to the dim, dark past.)

What we do NOT realize is just how this ritual contrasted with the other religions of the time; it highlights conflict - the conflict with the pagan superstitions and sacrifices; man-centered religion; sacrifice of human beings, children;

And it is easy for US to fall into man-centered thinking today, too. We are "so sophisticated." Why do we need to speak of the cross and of the blood of Jesus?

Instead we are sacrificing OUR generation's children! -literally, in abortion- and just as literally, in materialism, damning our children to life with no moorings or moral foundations...

- B. God is God! We cannot "adapt HIM to us! We need a God who is beyond our manipulation; a God who is the great I AM THAT I AM, and who cannot be reasoned out of what is true.

There are good reasons for every command of God! The love of God is behind His law. But all we need to know to begin with is: GOD SAYS SO!

II. REGULATIONS OF PASSOVER FOR GOD'S PEOPLE

- A. GOD SAID: IF YOU WILL OBSERVE PASSOVER I WILL DELIVER YOU

The problem of credulity versus faith: DOES GOD REALLY INTERVENE IN OUR LIVES? ... a God who intervenes on His terms

- B. GOD SAID: DO IT THIS WAY! Obedience versus accommodation.

1. Purging out leaven ...
2. Preparing a sacrifice: revealing a principle: the innocent for the guilty

- C. GOD SAID: DON'T EVER FORGET!

A continuing covenant/ observance. God had great and noble aims in mind for His people even when they could only think of salvation in "negatives" (i.e. free from).

- D. IT WAS AT THAT PASSOVER THAT JESUS ESTABLISHED THIS SACRAMENT

III. CHRIST OUR PASCHAL LAMB

- A. At once a challenge and a great lift to our faith.
- B. Our obedience must be CHRIST-CENTERED. We must not accommodate rugged truth to our defective sensibilities. Christian faith is not some sort of beautiful game we play!

THE 'OFFENCE'- the offensiveness of the cross is real! It is NOT a beautiful ornament, even though we often wear it as such, and forget its meaning. It is a means of execution, of death

THE LOVE OF JESUS - the innocence of the Lamb; the cross reminds us of the hatred God has for sin and rebellion. It cannot simply be forgotten. It must be forgiven!

C. A TIME FOR PURGING OUT OLD LEAVEN- Our preparation should be sincere!

D. OUR OBSERVANCE WILL BE REWARDING!

- The Paschal Lamb became the food and sustenance for the journey out of slavery and degradation. The unleavened bread became the traveling food.
- The faith and the sustenance of the obedient observance of Communion is genuine!

IV. LIVING BY LOVE

- We have been taught to "live by the rules" and we have learned to "do" and "not do" until we can be comfortable in our outward conformity.
- The secret of Communion is that we share it with Jesus Christ the Lord

[Close service with EH #24 I Cannot Tell]

The Coming of the Dawn

Isaiah 8:11-9:2

Text: Romans 13:8 The night is far spent, the day is at hand; let us therefore put off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armor of light.

Introduction:

Advent is the time of year just before Christmas when believers think about the coming of the Lord Jesus. We think about the light and the love that His coming has brought into the world. And we wonder, if we had been living before His coming, would we have heard and heeded the promises of Messiah?

Advent is a time when we look to the promises of the Old Testament prophets, especially Isaiah. We see his message as beautiful poetry signifying the coming of Jesus Christ into a benighted world. We try to think of how it must have been to be in the darkness before Christ came. We wonder if we would have had the faith to look to the east for the streaks of dawn.

All this is excellent. But Advent is also a time to do more than speculate about the past. It is even more than a time to recall with joy and wonder that Jesus came. Advent is a time to hear for ourselves living promises that speak about light that overcomes darkness.

And Advent is a time to be looking toward Christ's coming again. Advent is a time to make certain that we are not blocking our hearts from one of God's most priceless gifts— the gift of hope!

I. THE WORD FROM ISAIAH REGARDING A LIGHT IN DARKNESS: 8:11 - 9:2

A. ISAIAH'S MESSAGE SAID, "YES, THERE IS DARKNESS!"

But God's people do not need to live in fear of the darkness!! (Isaiah 8:11-13) God says "DON'T walk in the way of the people... in fear of death and dying. RATHER, sanctify the Lord God in your hearts. Be more afraid of displeasing Him than you are of what the darkness can do to you! And this faith/fear will be your sanctuary!"

How can we describe "fear" of God? Does it mean terror? Does it negate the fact that God is full of loving-kindness and tender regard for His children?

The fear of God is a healthy respect for Holy POWER— tremendous regard for the sheer POWER of God's hatred for sin and injustice. God IS tender. But God is HOLY. The closer men and women are privileged to approach to God, the more they will regard Him with awe and holy fear.

To come closer and closer to God does NOT mean becoming more "casual" and "familiar" with Him, or becoming more careless regarding living to please Him! There is no contradiction between tender, giving, sacrificial love and the demand for high ethical and moral standards of conduct!

B. ISAIAH'S MESSAGE WAS THAT GOD WILL GIVE HIS PEOPLE LIGHT TO WALK IN!

The times may be dark, but God is interested in leading His own people where they ought to go! And God is particularly jealous about NOT having His people looking elsewhere for guidance!

(8:19) DON'T look to secular or un-godly sources for directions on how to live!

(8:22) When God's people look to earthly sources for help they find trouble and darkness. It is insulting to Almighty God to profess to love His light, and to profess to be people of light— and then

1. to stumble along exactly like un-believers; and
2. even to look to God's enemies for guidance in the affairs of life and living.

C. THE MESSAGE OF ISAIAH IS, "IT IS NIGHT NOW— BUT DAYLIGHT IS COMING!"

It may be dark, but Isaiah proclaims: (9:2) You cannot keep the sun from rising! The light of God is coming! If you are faithful— Messiah will come!

If you are NOT faithful— Messiah will still come! But those that look to God for light will NOT be disappointed.

TRANSITION: WE CAN AND DO SEE THIS AS BEAUTIFUL POETRY SIGNIFYING THE COMING OF JESUS CHRIST INTO A BENIGHTED WORLD.

We think of how it must have been to be in the darkness before Christ came. We wonder if we would have had the faith to look to the east for the streaks of dawn. But this is MORE than beautiful poetry. It is talking about living in a world that is AGAINST God and holiness and light, and yet living victoriously in HOPE in the loving fear and holy fellowship of the God of LIGHT!

Paul sounds this note in our text this first Advent Sunday

II. A WORD FROM PAUL ABOUT DARKNESS AND LIGHT (TEXT)

A. THE STATEMENT OF FACT: THE NIGHT IS FAR SPENT, THE DAY IS AT HAND.

When Paul wrote these words it was still night, but he could see daylight coming. We could be cynical, and say, 'See, 2,000 years have gone by and it is still night. Paul was mistaken.' But for Paul, and the generation of Christians he served, there was already an abundant dawning. They were people of the morning. And every generation of Christians since has had the opportunity to be children of light.

B. THE CALL TO ARMS: TO BELONG TO THE CHILDREN OF THE MORNING!

Paul says "Put off the works of darkness, put on the armor of light." At the very least, this is a call to wake up, to 'get out of bed!' This is no time to be 'sleeping in,' when worlds are being changed, transformed. But for most who hear this message, it is a call for people who would be people of faith to stop living by fears and un-faith like people who don't know God!

'Putting on the armor of light' might be amplified in rereading Ephesians 6:13-18: "Put on the whole armor of God..." And in I Thessalonians Paul speaks of "... the helmet of the HOPE OF SALVATION!" We are at war with darkness!

C. [RECURRING THEME]—WE SEE THESE PASSAGES AS BEAUTIFUL POETRY

... signifying the coming of Jesus Christ into a benighted world. We think of how it must have been to be in the darkness before Christ came. We wonder if we would have had the faith to look to the east for the streaks of dawn.

But this is MORE than beautiful poetry. It is talking about world conditions and personal situations very similar to the world in which we live, and the situation in which you find yourself this very day!

Can we grasp what the "Evangelist Isaiah" is saying about seeing a great light? Can we understand what Paul says in our text: "The night is far spent, the day is at hand!"?

"Yes— this means that Jesus Christ is going to return SOME DAY. That is what we have been taught. That is what we believe. That is what we are supposed to say!" But the facts are: We are not really very much creatures of HOPE!

Perhaps MOST Christians are in a "SURVIVAL MIND-SET" rather than being filled with HOPE about the DAWNING! We are not too excited about Christ's coming again— and we are not even sure WHY we are supposed to be excited about it! But Jesus Christ is Lord! Holiness shall conquer!

If we are faithful, Jesus will come again. If we are NOT faithful, we can be certain, Jesus will come again!

Whether or not we are people of hope, Christ's kingdom will come! We do not control the movements of the sun and the moon and the stars. Those movements will happen inexorably. But even more unstoppable are the movements of the Son of God! We do not CONTROL the movements of light, BUT WE CAN, BY GOD'S GRACE, BE PEOPLE OF HOPE! We can hear what the Holy Spirit would tell us about hope:

(text:) The night is far spent, the day is at hand; let us therefore put off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armor of light."

And a few paragraphs later, Paul prays (15:13) "(May) the God of HOPE fill you with all JOY and PEACE in believing, that you may abound in HOPE by the power of the Holy Spirit!" God wants us to abound in HOPE! And we may! HOW?

(How to be people of hope:)

1. Center your life around the will of God. Personalize the promises. You can be all that God wants you to be!
2. Seek ways to share hope with those who look on the dark side. One way to witness is to think of faith and non-faith as light and darkness; people NEED light. Believe that Jesus came— that He comes! — and believe that He is coming again!
3. LIVE TO THE LEVEL OF JOY! (Rom. 14:17 The kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost!) And most of settle for the first, or the first and the second.

But JOY is a by-product of living that is GOING SOMEWHERE! Joy is the privilege of every believer! Don't "settle!" Delight in the Lord.

We can make a difference in this dark age in which we live! We can, by God's grace, be people of HOPE! LET'S BE AWAKE FOR THE SUNRISE!

#192 Lo! He Comes, with Clouds Descending

The Death of Jesus

Luke 23:44-49 [...and the veil of the temple was torn in two. And Jesus, crying with a loud voice, said, "FATHER, INTO THY HANDS I COMMIT MY SPIRIT." And having said this, He breathed His last.]

Introduction

THERE IS A MYSTERY that is always a part of coming in contact with the reality of Jesus Christ. Nowhere is that mystery any more electric and powerful than in the death He died for us on the cross. It is there that God destroyed the works of Satan, death was defeated, tragedy was turned inside out. We always must approach the cross reverently and in the awe of wonder.

THERE IS PARADOX in this death Jesus died for us: just a little while ago we heard Him say, "My God! My God! Why have You forsaken Me?" Now here are words of trust and commitment and confidence.

I do not try to "explain" the mysteries of faith. But in part we can see and try to understand that Jesus, the Paschal Lamb, bore our sins alone, and as the Sin Bearer He experienced that horror of isolation from the Father which is the very essence of hell itself.

But now, here in this word from the cross, His work finished, JESUS IS SHOWING US HOW TO DIE. He is dying exactly in the spirit and manner in which He lived.

I. DEATH, THE LAST ENEMY

1 Corinthians 15:25 "...the last enemy that shall be destroyed is death..."

Death is a very real part of the human experience. But we do not like to think about death as a reality. We think superficially when we must think about it. We dress up our dead and say how healthy they look. We simply find it hard to bear the thought of the finality of mortal relationships as we now know them, of the separation, and of the struggle with what the scriptures call 'the final enemy.'

I DO NOT TRUST SO-CALLED 'NEAR DEATH EXPERIENCES.' We dare not expand our Bible to accommodate either optimistic or pessimistic 'revelations' that in any way contradict what the Bible teaches us of this mysterious journey which one day we all must take.

In ages past the 'near death experiences' that were reported seemed to be horror-filled, frightening. Now in the "Kubler-Ross" era, they are almost universally warm and glowing— and the message to atheist and believer alike is: "There is nothing to fear!"

THERE IS SOMETHING TO FEAR. There is the unknown. Perhaps I am not a normal Christian. But I believe there is something to fear in death. [If I were going to take a trip to Moscow tomorrow, with all expenses paid, and all possible needs cared for, I would still be somewhat apprehensive simply because of the "unknown factor." I know that my guide would be with me; and I know that all bills are paid. But I have never been to Moscow before, and I'm a bit frightened.]

BUT CHRISTIANS HAVE A GUIDE and a Companion in life and in death. Jesus has removed the bitter sting of death.

II. WE MAY TRUST AND FOLLOW JESUS IN LIFE AND IN DEATH

If we cannot trust human testimony about death, what and whom may we trust?

WE CAN TRUST GOD'S WORD. The unlikely source of a word of wisdom here is the tragic prophet Balaam, who said, "Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his."

WE SHALL DIE AS WE HAVE LIVED. It was John Wesley who said, "Our people die well!" There are such things as near-death conversions. But it is a risky business to presume to live life in one way, and then, just before the end of life, to swerve, to change direction, and thus avoid the precipice.

SUPREME AMONG THE EXAMPLES, beyond comparison, is the life and death of our Lord. Jesus died as He lived! HOW DID JESUS LIVE? [Three observations:]

A. JESUS LIVED OPENLY BEFORE GOD.

Thus when He came to die, His life was an open book to the Father. There were no hidden areas; no reservations in his agenda for life.

Jesus was limited with the limitations that He Himself as God had self-imposed on His incarnation: limitations of physical strength, of being subject to His human parents, of experiencing temptation in all points even as we are tempted. Paul tells us (Philippians 2:5-11) that Jesus poured Himself out. But within these limitations there was no holding back whatsoever.

IS IT POSSIBLE for other, imperfect, sinful human beings to live perfectly openly before the heavenly Father?

It is hard to 'open up' what we do not even see or understand ourselves. We pray David's prayer (Psalm 139) of willingness to be searched and known.

Perhaps we cannot be as open as Jesus was before God. But by God's grace we can be as open as we can be! No secrets! For when we are open before God we are forgiven and cleansed of guilt, and of the power of sin to condemn us.

B. JESUS LIVED OBEDIENTLY BEFORE GOD.

It is almost a corollary of openness with God to be obedient. And Jesus did not shrink back from the will of the Father. He said an everlasting "YES!" to the will of God. And even when it meant suffering and shame Jesus prayed: "Not My will, but Thine be done!"

IS IT POSSIBLE for imperfect and sinful human beings to live perfectly obediently before God?

Before we lightly dismiss this, and say "Of course we can't!" we need to at least consider the question. Of course we can never give perfect service, and follow God's will without error or flaw. But we may by God's grace say an everlasting "YES!" to the will of God, and deliberately surrender our will to God's will. Paul challenges us (Romans 12:1,2) to make our redeemed beings living sacrifices of obedience to God's good and perfect will!

[The obedience of Jesus had brought Him to the cross. There He had faced history's darkest hour- alone. He had lost all sense of support, spiritual and emotional. But He had been obedient. And so having obeyed, in the moment of death, Jesus died as He had lived, committed to the Father.]

C. JESUS LIVED AN OVERCOMING LIFE.

He was more fruitful than any other Person who ever lived.

IS IT POSSIBLE for you and me to be fruitful, too? Not as He was! But yes, we CAN be fruitful! Our lives can make a difference! Conclusion: We die as we live.

YOU AND I WILL DIE AS WE HAVE LIVED!

Jesus has shown us how to die: because Jesus has shown us how to LIVE! We must, by God's grace, seek to Live like Jesus; or, better said, we must let Jesus live IN and THROUGH us.

And then when that transition time comes which we see as death, we will once again experience the electricity of the miracle of Jesus' Presence! This is what the generations past called "Dying grace!" It is real! Angels bend low, and heaven is very near when God's people come to die! We will dare to say, like Jesus: "Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit!"

Prayer

The Declaration

Matthew 26:2 "Ye know that after (TWO) days is the Passover, and the Son of man is betrayed to be crucified.

Introduction:

Jesus said: "In two days is the Passover." I do not think it is exaggerating to read into this all the force of the definite article. This was not to be just "Passover." This was the Passover that would give full and complete significance to the ceremony that had been observed ever since the Passover deliverance from Egypt, and still is observed as Passover among the Jews of the world today. This was to be THE Passover!

How so?

1. The IMPORTANCE of the Passover to Jesus: it was not just an empty ritual, it was something He regularly did as a Jew. But this was to be something new.
2. The PASSOVER was a living reminder that God is a covenant-making and covenant-keeping God. The covenant was IMPLICIT from the beginning: with our first parents: and in these early years of history God made covenant with devout men, especially with Abraham, on a personal basis, with revelation that satisfied them.

The covenant was made EXPLICIT at Sinai, when Moses brought back from the mountain the Ten Commandments that have never been repealed. The Jewish nation was to be a testimony to all the nations of the world. They were NOT God's favorites, chosen to the exclusion of all others. They were highly favored, and were to be the channels of God's revelation.

The covenant was INTERNALIZED at Pentecost: Jeremiah and others had predicted this (Jer. 31:33 "But this is the covenant I will make with the house of Israel after those days," declares the Lord. "I will put My law within them, and on their heart I will write it; and will be their God, and they shall be my people.") Jesus had said as much in his Sermon on the Mount ("But I say unto you . . .")

The covenant will be CONSUMMATED in the Parousia. Sixteen times in the scriptures we read not only of a covenant with God, but of an everlasting covenant. While the Jews of Christ's time focused no doubt on the deliverance from the Egyptian bondage, and their identity as a people because of and in the light of that deliverance, Jesus had all these depths of meanings in view as He established the Christian Passover.

3. The youngest child in the household asks, at the beginning of the meal: (see Exodus 12:26) "What mean ye by this service?"
 - a. The Exodus deliverance/ remembered to all time the very identity of the Jews and , indeed, of Christian faith is bound up in this miracle of God's deliverance.
 - IT WAS A TIME OF JUDGMENT: the judgment of God on people who had been cruel and unjust. God had heard the cries of the sufferers. Through Moses, God gave the Egyptians opportunity to change. I know the scriptures imply that "God hardened Pharaoh's heart." But there is NOT one God of the Old Testament, and another of the New. God hardened Pharaoh's heart because Pharaoh would not respond to God's word. The same sun hardens the clay that softens the wax.

By the same token, God may be said to harden the heart of the unbeliever today: in his sermon before he was martyred Stephen said to the religious leaders: "Ye stiff-necked and uncircumcised in heart you are always resisting the Holy Spirit just as your fathers did..."
 - AND IT WAS A TIME OF SEPARATION

Those who obeyed, and prepared, and who sprinkled the blood of the Lamb on their doorposts were saved. And those who hardened their hearts, and ignored the clear judgment of God were bereft and lost. God had striven with Pharaoh . . . there had been great warning.

NOW THERE WAS DELIVERANCE AND LIFE ON THE ONE HAND AND JUDGMENT AND DEATH ON THE OTHER

- b. Jesus gives notice: the Passover takes place in two days! We need to "get ready" — to "prepare."

Like children, let us ask in faith, in wonder, in expectancy: WHAT DOES THIS MEAN? WHY IS THIS NIGHT DIFFERENT FROM ALL OTHER NIGHTS?

We "know" the answer.

But during the next six weeks may the Lord Himself prepare our hearts and attune our lives FOR THE EXODUS! AND, INDEED, FOR THE PAROUSIA! Remember: It will be a time of JUDGMENT! It will be a time of SEPARATION; put the 'leaven' out of our houses!

Practical ways to prepare:

1. A TIME OF WEEKLY FASTING
2. SOME EXTRA EMPHASIS ON OPENNESS BEFORE THE WORD
3. REGULAR PRAYER WITH A LOVED ONE; WITH FAMILY IF POSSIBLE; perhaps just continuing in the prayer group you are already in. 4. Pastor Nielson is starting a second "Spiritual Gifts" course during the month of March. If this appeals to you we will find "room" for you. See him.

DIRECTLY TO COMMUNION

The Fountain of Life

The Cross of Jesus Christ

Jeremiah 9:23-24 Thus says the LORD, "Let not a wise man boast of his wisdom, and let not a mighty man boast of his might, let not a rich man boast of his riches; but let him who boasts boast of this, that he understands and knows Me, that I am the LORD who exercises loving-kindness, justice, and righteousness on earth; for I delight in these things, " declares the LORD.

I. 'I LIKE JEREMIAH!'

He was a true prophet . . . and probably true prophets aren't too pleasant to have around. Jeremiah is known as the weeping prophet. He somehow shared in the suffering of God for the needs of his people. He was God-called. He didn't ask for the job. He was a lover of king and country— but he was NOT a blind patriot. He had an un-popular message; it went against the tide of his day. Sort of like saying

1. America is not necessarily God's favorite!
or, which might seem more sacrilegious,
2. "Super Bowl is NOT a part of the church calendar!"

The religious leaders of his day had for the most part decided they needed to "go with the flow" and put their trust in what they could do.

[They remind me of Pogo's pigeon. Just doin' their job.]

II. THE SPIRITUAL TRAGEDY OF JEREMIAH'S DAY

- A. The religious leaders were not in tune with God.

Jer. 2:8 "The priests did not say, 'Where is the LORD?' and those who handle the law did not know Me; the rulers (or shepherds) also transgressed against Me, and the prophets prophesied by Baal and walked after things that did not profit."

1. "Priests" speak of the services of worship: Their worship services were man-centered instead of God-centered. This can be more subtle than we may realize! We may want more excitement, more "emotional pay-back", instead of more confrontation with God and with the living Word of God!
 2. "Rulers/Pastors" speak of the spiritual leaders or shepherds: The people who were thought of as leaders were not examples; but they themselves were transgressors.
 3. "Prophets" speak of those who preached! The proclamation of God's word, His will— a special sort of called person, highly regarded: These respected men had taken to prophesying by Baal— the fertility gods of the people by which the Israelites were surrounded.
- B. The people of God, understandably, since their leaders were corrupt, had lost the vital connection with God.

Jeremiah 2:13 "For My people have committed two evils: They have forsaken Me, the fountain of living waters, to hew for themselves cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water."

Not finding satisfaction in God, even though they were made BY Him and FOR Him, they had turned to other things that could not satisfy them. Perhaps they weren't entirely evil— they were a lot like people today, no doubt— but they wanted "Peace" without knowing the God of peace.

The people to whom Jeremiah preached wanted an end to their problems (whatever THEY were)...but they didn't want a radical cure (Jeremiah 6:14 and Jeremiah 8:11 "They have healed the hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying "Peace, peace, when there is no peace!")

III. JEREMIAH'S MESSAGE RINGS TRUE FOR TODAY, RIGHT NOW—

Our day's evils seem overwhelming to us, even as the needs of his day must have to Jeremiah:

A. FIRST-AID TREATMENT CAN NEVER DO

The problems of our society serious. They are complicated. Abortion, AIDs, poverty and hunger, broken homes— [Pastor Leite said yesterday that of 50 weddings of teenage people in Boston last year, 38 ended in divorce before the year was up.]— these ills, and many others are not going to simply "go away."

We believe the "cure" our sick society needs is God, and God's grace. But somehow the "church" is not changing society at large! All the remedies and legislation and sermons haven't saved our cities. Oh, there have been some exciting inroads. And there will be more! But we need to see that the ills of our society are not going to be cured by "lovingkindness and education" nor are they going to be cured by "justice and law and order" nor will they be cured by "righteousness and pious living!" Somehow we need all of these— and MORE!

When we seek to address the our deepest needs, and those of our fellow humans, we tend to come from one extreme viewpoint or another— from one pole or another; we see only spiritual needs, or we emphasize only moral solutions— justice! Or, we try to be tender in the exclusion of knowing how or when to be firm.

THIS IS TRUE IN EVERY HUMAN ENDEAVOR— IT IS TRUE IN PARENTING, IN ANY HUMAN ORGANIZATION FROM LOCAL GOVERNMENT TO THE WHITE HOUSE AND PARLIAMENT TO THE ADMINISTRATION OF A COLLEGE OR A HOSPITAL OR A PRISON OR A FACTORY. We need to listen to God's answer:

B. GOD'S PRESCRIPTION IS SIMPLE: HAVE CONFIDENCE ONLY IN ME! Jeremiah's message is:(txt) have confidence in/know Me!

1. THE 'IN-WARD' TASKS OF THE CHURCH MUST BE GOD-CENTERED:
IN OUR WORSHIP, IN OUR FELLOWSHIP, IN OUR EDUCATION/PROCLAMATION

- OUR WORSHIP— which we describe as "informal" or "liturgical" or "charismatic" or " " must have the touch of God!

Whatever our cultural background, the Church of Jesus Christ must be constantly in touch with Almighty God! Our call must ever be, in regard to our worship: WHERE IS THE LORD?

- OUR PASTORING— SHEPHERDING— which we think of as done by a pastor— and no doubt it begins there— but this must be shared by every mature believer, and it must be the responsibility of men and women who are in harmony with God's Spirit! There can be no 'do as I say, and not as I do' or our little ones and converts will be turned away!
- OUR PULPIT— God help us!— must declare the whole counsel of God without fear or favor! It is never a light thing to teach a class or disciple a convert or say what the Bible really "means!."

2. THE 'OUT-WARD FUNCTIONS' OF THE CHURCH MUST ALSO REFLECT TOTAL DEPENDENCY ON GOD: OUR EVANGELISM AND OUR SERVICE (2:13)

Forsake the broken cisterns! When we have tasted the living spring water, we don't need to drink out of the mud puddles and gutter water of the world! LOOK TO GOD FOR THE SATISFACTION OF OUR BASIC NEEDS! Establish or re-establish the "Living Water Connection!"

Isaiah 55:1/John 7:37

[Conclusion:]

WE CAN ONLY BEGIN TO 'KNOW GOD' WHEN WE COME TO THE CROSS!

This is a strange sort of message, perhaps, for the evening of Palm Sunday— the message from an Old Testament prophet weeping because so many people had gone far away from God. His message is:

There is only one thing that counts! Knowing God! But this message is echoed in the words of St. Paul:

THERE IS ONLY ONE PLACE WHERE WE DARE PUT OUR FULL CONFIDENCE:

Galatians 6:14 But may it never be that I should boast, except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through which the world has been crucified to me, and I to the world.

If Christ ever changes this world through His church— if He ever works the miracle of grace through you and me— it will be because we have been to Calvary.

We will not simply "learn a lesson" or "grasp new insights." But there we will come face to face with love both just and compassionate. There we will know the awful holiness of God that hates and destroys sin, and there we will meet the loving-kindness that reaches even where we are. It is in the cross of Jesus Christ, and ONLY in the cross of Jesus Christ these seemingly irreconcilable elements meet: loving-kindness and justice and righteousness on the earth as it is in heaven!

At the cross, Paul says, the world will lose its power over us forever: it will be crucified to us! And there, too, we will be crucified to the world, and the ties that bind us to it. This is the message this turned the world upside down! It is the message that Paul proclaimed. If God's people put their confidence in HIM, then through His people our Lord will execute loving-kindness and justice, and righteousness over all the earth! May it be so! Amen.

#23 (Exalt Him) Jesus Comes with All His Grace

The God Who is There

Isaiah 41:10 Fear thou not for I am with thee; be not dismayed, for I am thy God. I will strengthen thee, yea, I will help thee, yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness.

Introduction:

This verse is a personal treasure to me. It is powerful! It brings great reassurance. I want to share it with you if you haven't already discovered it (as, I am sure, many of you have!) How can we best appropriate the personal assurance of God's Presence and power?

I. IT IS A PROMISE TO THOSE WHO ARE CALLED OF GOD

If we know the Lord at all, it is because He has called us! So often we think that the initiative was with us. We say, "I found God!" And sometimes it sounds as though we think God ought to be profoundly grateful to us for coming on board His team.

But salvation begins with God! We never "come to God" just because we decide it might be a good idea.

And it is a comfort to know that God has called us! "You have not chosen Me," Jesus said, "But I have chosen you!" (John 15) It is always a privilege to hear God say: "I want YOU!"

Frightening, maybe. Humbling, always! But also a high privilege! Our relationship to God must be clear. "You have not chosen me," God says, "But I have chosen you!"

And if Jesus has called you, He will also see to it that His call will never be frustrated by any outside force. Times can and will get hard. People can and will let us down. Things that we don't deserve will happen to us. But the promise is there: "I have called you— and I won't abandon you!"

[I spoke this morning of going beyond 'getting saved and sanctified' in our goals and dreams and visions. But we must make the foundations certain! We must be saved!

We must be sanctified wholly! And we may be, IF we will listen and respond to God's call.]

II. IT IS A PROMISE TO GOD'S SERVANTS

The idea of being a servant— even to God Himself— is not very high on the totem pole of desirable jobs, at least not naturally. In our society today it is hard to find people who are willing to fill the so-called "service positions." Everyone wants to be a boss, and no one wants to be just a foot soldier or a trench warrior.

But somehow this adversity to serving God and fellow man must be broken down if we are to be followers of Jesus.

IN THE MATTER OF OUR RELATIONSHIP TO GOD: it is a high privilege to carry out His will. It is what the angels delight to do. We are made to be vice-regents to Almighty God! And yet how many people carry this "no serve" attitude even into their relationship with God.

We get the idea that "faith" is a power that makes God do what we want Him to do. We unconsciously think that God "owes us." We may never say so even to ourselves, but we assume deep down that God exists to make us healthy and wealthy and very very comfortable. But when God calls us, He calls us to serve Him! But at the same time, God loves His servants. And God's servants love Him! They have discovered what they are created for! The angels rejoice in carrying out the will of God. And God calls us, and leads us out of bondage into freedom in order that we can have the joy of this privilege the angels already know.

There is great reassurance when our purpose is to please God. Abraham is the 'father of faith' because when he heard God say "Go!" he got up and went!

BUT THIS SERVICE TO GOD MUST FILTER DOWN INTO A PRACTICAL WILLINGNESS TO SERVE ONE ANOTHER, TOO: Jesus gave His example by washing the disciples' feet. He said that when we helped others we were helping Him.

AND IT IS ALONG THIS PATHWAY OF SEEKING TO SERVE THAT WE MEET GOD AND HIS PROMISES! "Well done, good and faithful servant!" Happy is that woman, that man that knows what God is calling him or her to do! Happy is that person who is engaged in obedience! For theirs are the assurances of God! "I am with you, Jacob My servant!"

III. IT IS A PROMISE BOTH OF GOD'S PRESENCE AND IN GOD'S PRESENCE

Assurance is precious. It comes just when it is needed, often times. But it does not take away the need for faith.

Look at the counsel and instruction that goes along with this great promise:

1. DON'T BE AFRAID
2. DON'T BE DISMAYED (DON'T QUIT)
3. EXPECT TO BE WEAK AND TIRED (I WILL STRENGTHEN YOU)
4. TAKE SOME RISKS!

Assurance is personal. It cannot be received second-hand. Oh, preachers MAY be channels— but the inner assurance is the witness of the Holy Spirit Himself!

There is the "I AM with thee!"

Assurance is HERE! It always comes along the pathway of obedience:

We need courage and we need perseverance and we need strength beyond our own. We need help! We need support! It is not an easy way, this business of following God.

But God has exactly promised to meet our exact needs!

The Heart of Hospitality

Luke 10:38-41

On a dangerous seacoast where shipwrecks often occur there was once a crude little lifesaving station. The building was just a hut, and there was only one boat, but the few devoted members kept a constant watch over the sea, and with no thought for themselves went out day and night tirelessly searching for the lost. Many lives were saved by this wonderful little station, so that it became famous. Some of those who were saved, and various others in the surrounding area, wanted to become associated with the station and give of their time and money and effort for the support of its work. New boats were bought and new crews trained. The little lifesaving station grew.

Some of the members of the lifesaving station were unhappy that the building was so crude and poorly equipped. They felt that a more comfortable place should be provided as the first refuge of those saved from the sea. So they replaced the emergency cots with beds and put better furniture in the enlarged building. Now the lifesaving station became a popular gathering place for its members, and they decorated it beautifully and furnished it exquisitely, because they used it as a sort of club. Fewer members were now interested in going to sea on lifesaving missions, so they hired lifeboat crews to do this work. The lifesaving motif still prevailed in this club's decoration, and there was a liturgical lifeboat in the room where club initiations were held. About this time a large ship was wrecked off the coast, and the hired crews brought in boatloads of cold, wet, and half-drowned people. They were dirty and sick, and some of them had black skin and some had yellow skin. The beautiful new club was in chaos. So the property committee immediately had a shower house built outside the club where victims of shipwreck could be cleaned up before coming inside.

At the next meeting, there was a split in the club membership. Most of the members wanted to stop the club's lifesaving activities as being unpleasant and a hindrance to the normal social life of the club. Some members insisted upon lifesaving as their primary purpose and pointed out that they were still called a lifesaving station. But they were finally voted down and told that if they wanted to save the lives of all the various kinds of people who were shipwrecked in those waters, they could begin their own lifesaving station down the coast. They did.

As the years went by, the new station experienced the same changes that had occurred in the old. It evolved into a club, and yet another lifesaving station was founded. History continued to repeat itself, and if you visit that sea coast today, you will find a number of exclusive clubs along that shore. Shipwrecks are frequent in those waters, but most of the people drown.

This is a classic parable (by Howard Clinebell in his 1966 book on pastoral counseling) about how focus on vital goals can first grow fuzzy, and then be lost altogether. In recent years institutions of all kinds, not just the church, have discovered they need constant focus on mission. They need to put in words why they exist, and then they need to make every effort to keep first things first.

It can be comical at times when secondary things are cared for and primary things forgotten. Victor Borge told about a couple going on vacation, standing in line waiting to check their bags at the airline counter.

The husband said to the wife, "I wish we had brought the piano."

The wife said, "Why? We've got sixteen bags already!"

The husband said, "Yes, I know— but the tickets are on the piano!"

I asked members of a study group if they knew stories of people who took care of everything but the one most important thing. I got this story from Rev. John S. Korcsmar, C.S.C., a Roman Catholic priest in Austin, Texas.

This is really a true story. At Sacred Heart Parish (Can Street, New Orleans) in the late 1960's they were beginning to do baptisms at Mass. The parents were instructed. The paperwork was done.

Since they were doing baptisms at Mass for the first time and were afraid that the people would be late, the parents were reminded several times to be on time.

Well, the parents were on time, and they hurried and forgot: yes, you guessed it: the baby to be baptized was left at home!

(One of the wits of the group asked if they then had to throw out the baptismal water without the baby.)

Every action, every relationship, every institution has a basic focus, or should have if it hopes to succeed in its reason for existence. It doesn't help to have the sunscreen if you don't have the tickets to the beach. It doesn't help to have the water ready if there is no one to baptize.

Both institutions and individuals need to remember constantly the first reason they exist. A family must have a parent or parents who love and discipline and children who love and grow. A school must have a teacher who can teach and a pupil who wants to learn. A church exists for God, exists to love Him with heart, soul, mind and strength. If all there is to a church are the trappings— the lessons and the potluck dinners and the walks for hunger— then we have blurred the focus. Like Martha in the story we are careful, and troubled about secondary things.

Jesus said, "Martha, Martha— you are worried and troubled about many things. But one thing is needful!" Don't forget the center! It isn't that the other things are not good, or important, or even vital. But they must serve and not dominate the central purpose.

This chapter (Luke 10) tells us that the focus of our lives is to be LOVE; first the love of God, and because of that love, love for our neighbor. The very heart of the meaning of love, revealed here, is hospitality.

Hospitality is a wonderful, powerful word! ["Get him a plate ... pull up a chair ... come to the table!" Inclusive!] It gives a definition to "love," a word which can be vague. It is the mother-word of other important words such as hospital, and hospice. Hospitality means moving over and giving someone else a share of your life. Not just out of the surplus, but right out of what you are using yourself.

This sort of hospitality (toward others) is illustrated in the story of the Good Samaritan. A man is beaten and left helpless alongside the road; a priest came by and had no space in his life to share with anyone; the same with a religious Levite. Then came a social pariah with every excuse for looking the other way— but this man made space in his day, and in his pocketbook, and in his plans. It was with his story Jesus gives definition to the word 'hospitality.'

Today's lesson, which immediately follows the story of the good Samaritan, is also about hospitality. Only this time it is about making space for Jesus. Jesus reminded his kind hostess, Martha, that hospitality has love as its focus. "One thing is all that is necessary," said Jesus. Is it possible to sharpen OUR focus on making Jesus "at home" in our lives?

How can we bring hospitality to Jesus?

1. Think of His needs, even before our own. The Lord's Prayer is our pattern; before we pray "Give us ... forgive us ... lead us..." We are taught to pray "Thy name ... Thy kingdom ... Thy will!" Yes, we cannot exist apart from what Jesus does in/for us. But as our Guest, we seek to put Him first. His NEED is that we love Him more than the gifts He brings.

When I was studying pastoral care many years ago I read about the "McLandress Coefficient;" Herschel McLandress was a professor of psychiatric measurement at Harvard Medical School, and he developed a way to measure a person's degree of self-absorption. In spoken and written material he measured the use of "I," "me," and "my" and the "Coefficient" was the longest span of time a person can remain diverted from himself. Eleanor Roosevelt was supposed to have a McLandress coefficient of two hours; John F. Kennedy's was twenty-nine minutes, and Elizabeth Taylor's was three minutes. The reason I don't make Jesus more at home at times is because I need to talk about me, when maybe he wants to talk about something else. How is your McLandress Coefficient?

2. Make Him truly "at home" in all our work and play. By making Jesus "at home" I mean simply that we take him with us wherever we are, whatever we are doing. Whether it is called "practicing the Presence" or what Thomas Kelly calls "continuously renewed immediacy," our faith intends for us to be at home in God, and for God to be at home with us. (John 15) This is both reality and every challenging goal.

3. Continually come back to basics with Jesus: in all the many things that we do, make sure we do that "one thing (that) is needful!" If we get elected to the General Board and forget that Jesus is waiting to talk with us out in the living room we may be straining our "hospitality."

Conclusion

Thank God for Martha— for those who give us pots and pans and who put flowers on the table. Thank God for Mary who reminds us that Jesus is what our faith is all about.

Jesus wasn't telling Martha He didn't appreciate her hospitality. But he was telling her "Martha, we don't always have to have a banquet! A hot dog is fine— just come on in and let me see your face! Come in and let me know I'm welcome here!"

If LOVE is defined as HOSPITALITY, then the ultimate hospitality is the fact that God has opened his heart, has made room in his life for you and me.

["Get her a plate ... pull him up a chair .. come up to the table!"] and welcomes us into his home- not as transient guests, but as members of his family.

#193 - Thou didst leave...

The Lamb of God

John 1:29 Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world.

Introduction:

Here is great good news! The sin of this world is going to be taken away! Can you imagine what this world would be like without any sin? It is going to happen! The Son of God will destroy all the works of the devil.

And here is great good news for every one who will receive the Lamb of God! Not only is the Lamb of God come to take away the sins of the world, but He is come to take away the burden of sin from your life and from mine.

But how was Jesus the Lamb of God? How will He deal with the sin of the world? In what ways does He deal with your and my sin? And what, really, is sin? The word in the text is "hamartia" which is the most common word translated "sin" in the NT, and means "to miss the mark."

Wherever there is sin, there the Lamb will prevail. I cannot tell you the details of how one day the Lamb of God will cleanse this entire world of its murder and cheating and child abuse and war and famine and all that is wrong. But I do know the Book of Revelation (in Rev 6:16) speaks mysteriously of the terrible "Wrath of the Lamb" from which the nations sought to hide in rocks and mountains to avoid; and in Rev. 17:14 we read of the forces of evil warring against and being defeated by the Lamb. We may not know how, but we may be certain that Jesus, the Lamb of God, will cleanse this whole creation from sin.

And, I cannot fathom the depths of God's love that makes it possible, but the Bible tells us a little more about how the Lamb of God can and does take away the sin of individual men and women, boys and girls who simply ask Him! If you have any kind of a sin problem— the Lamb of God can and will take it from you!

I. JESUS Is The Lamb Of God That TAKES AWAY THE GUILT OF WILLFUL COMMITTED TRANSGRESSIONS

Every last one of us has done things in times past of which we have every right to be ashamed! We have turned to our own way! If sin is "hamartia," and "hamartia" is "missing the mark," this kind of sin is missing the mark of righteousness because of deliberately choosing to shoot at evil. It is wrong-doing because of wrong choice. This is the sin of which Paul writes when he says: "The wages of sin is death!"

This is the sin of living for all purposes just as though there is no God; it is living without regard to God or His law or His good will.

No real Christian lives in this kind of out-broken, habitual, deliberate, willful rebellion against God. And those who do— and at one time this has included us all— those who do are deserving of death. (Romans 6:23.)

But Jesus came to pay the penalty for our willful transgressions: Our iniquity has been laid on Him (Isaiah 53); and If we come to Him for forgiveness he will not cast us out (John 6:37.) The only willful sin which Jesus cannot forgive is the sin which we will not bring to the blood in confession.

[But this is not the only burden the Lamb of God takes from us: for]

II. JESUS Is The Lamb Of God That TAKES AWAY THE POWER OF SIN TO MASTER US

It is one thing to be forgiven and be free of guilt. It is quite another thing to be able to quit habitually sinning.

The reason we shoot at the wrong target, deliberately choose evil, is because sin masters us. In John 8:34 Jesus said: "Whoever commits sin is the SLAVE of sin." We may begin to sin willfully because we choose to sin— but once we are enmeshed in sinning, we cannot extract ourselves from its filthy grasp.

But in the Exodus, when the Passover Lamb was first revealed to the people of faith, God did not simply want His people to be free from Egyptian bondage, toiling as slaves to make bricks without straw; God wanted His people out of Egypt, and free in their own Promised Land!

And when we come to God for salvation, by the power, the authority of this Lamb of God, we are free NOT to sin willfully any more!

The power of sin is not broken in a second work of grace we call "entire sanctification." The power is broken in the grace of regeneration. We don't stop the life of sinning when we get sanctified! We stop shooting at the wrong mark, deliberately choosing evil, WHEN WE FIND CHRIST AS SAVIOR!

(Indeed, for most people the testimony is that sin begins losing its grip when real "Holy Spirit conviction" comes! You don't even have to be saved to be sick of sinning, and turning away from sinning! When the Holy Spirit begins to press home the rights of a holy God on your allegiance— when He shows you the depths of your need— sin then begins to become "exceeding sinful" (Romans 7:14.) Christians need to re-learn the lesson that it is possible to focus prayers on lost friends and loved ones until this kind of liberating conviction takes powerful hold in their lives.)

[If this were all that the Lamb of God could do for us until He comes in awesome power to cleanse the whole world of sin, it would be wonderful. But it is NOT all, for:]

III. JESUS Is The Lamb Of God That TAKES AWAY THE POLLUTION AND STAIN OF SIN

If the power of sin is broken when we are forgiven, until it is possible NOT to sin— still the pollution and divided aims and goals of life remain. Sin is caused ultimately because of corrupt inner springs of motivation. We miss the mark in our actions, and fall under the mastery of sin because there is within us a twist or a bent to unbelief. We may now be shooting at the right target— but when the air clears we see that there are still at least TWO targets out there for us to aim at. There is God's holy, righteous way— and there is OUR own selfish will and way.

The Lamb of God

The Lamb of God cleanses from indwelling sin, too. The pollution— the double mind, the "bent to sinning" is REMOVED by the INDWELLING FULLNESS OF THE HOLY SPIRIT.

Peter testified (in Acts 15:9) that on the day of Pentecost, the sanctifying Presence of God "PURIFIED OUR HEARTS BY FAITH!"

And Paul, writing to the Thessalonians prayed that "The very God of peace would SANCTIFY THEM THROUGH AND THROUGH, THAT THEIR WHOLE SPIRIT, SOUL AND BODY BE PRESERVED BLAMELESS TO THE COMING OF OUR LORD"

[All this is pretty straightforward doctrine— and it is good, sound, scriptural. Jesus is the Lamb of God who came to take away the sin of the world.]

What a privilege it is to be able to say:

I AM FORGIVEN! I AM WASHED! I AM WALKING IN THE LIGHT! MY HEART IS FOCUSED ON ONE SINGLE PURPOSE!

But can there be anything more? Yes, there is:]

IV. JESUS Is The Lamb Of God That TAKES AWAY THE CONTAMINATION, THE ROAD-STAINS OF SIN

One of the great blessings which Christians can and must learn is that

1. they do not need to live in willful sin; and at the same time
2. it is all right to pray the Lord's Prayer all the way through; i.e., to ask God for forgiveness on our shortcomings.

Looking at this frankly I have to ask: Is there any place for Wesleyans and sanctified people to ask for forgiveness? Can we ever say: "Forgive us our sins?" We are pretty well locked into Wesley's definition of sin as "a willful transgression of a known law of God"— which is a viable and valuable instrument to keep us from being careless with God's known will. But what about the Lord's Prayer as Jesus taught his disciples? We use the Matthew version (opheelima=debts, that owed, error)— but what about Luke's version which uses plain old "hamartia."

I know there is great wisdom in the old Methodist adage that says "If we start calling mistakes (debts, errors) sins, pretty soon we will be calling sins mistakes." But perhaps one of our greatest strengths- genuine freedom from sin— is also misunderstood, and becomes the source of one of our greatest weaknesses: we are afraid to admit we ever come short of the mark of perfection in our Christian walk and our service to God.

I am not trying to make any excuse for willful transgression, or for breaking God's commandments. As Christians we don't willfully transgress God's known laws! But what do we do with our feelings?

What do we do when we're "left out" and the feeling stays on and we hold it just a little longer than we should (even though we know we ought to pray immediately about it)? What do we do when we're under pressure and we are irritable with the ones we love the most? DO WE JUST IGNORE IT? Do we call it weakness of the flesh and assume it is automatically forgiven? Well— perhaps in God's mercy it is. But it is still WRONG! And if we simply ignore these spiritual failures they become cumulatively destructive!

We all do come short of God's glory, and we all live in a world that is unfriendly to God's love, and we all are touched by the filth and grime of sin every day. And so we need the cleansing grace of the Lamb of God that takes away the sin of the world to keep us clean and pure, day by day.

We don't need to carry ANY of the load of sin. So we need to hear it (even though Jesus has said it:)

IT IS ALL RIGHT TO ASK FOR FORGIVENESS AS A SANCTIFIED CHRISTIAN! No, IT IS NOT JUST 'ALL RIGHT' TO PRAY FOR FORGIVENESS EVERY DAY; IT IS MANDATORY! BUT NEVER PERFUNCTORILY, NEVER JUST RITUALLY.

It is an abomination if we presume to keep ourselves clean and unspotted from the world apart from humble dependence on the Lamb of God.

Conclusion:

The Lamb of God

It is your privilege to live clean and pure and holy in this world that is so dirty and stained with sin. John the Baptist points us to Jesus Christ, and he says: BEHOLD THE LAMB OF GOD WHICH TAKETH AWAY THE SIN OF THE WORLD!

The Living Way of Joy

Philippians 3:7-12

Called to JOY! The Book of Philippians is a happy book! It seems to be full of JOY! Again and again Paul says: Rejoice! Know God! Find power!

Don't be anxious! My God shall supply all your needs! I can do all things through Christ! Be full of LIFE! Perhaps the heart of this book is this verse where Paul says that the most important thing is knowing Jesus Christ.

One part of the Wollaston Church of the Nazarene's mission statement centers around this verse: WE EXIST TO KNOW GOD! There is no higher priority than knowing God in Jesus Christ. This knowledge is the source, the well-spring of genuine JOY!

But what IS Christian joy? And how are we called to joy?

I. THE CALL TO JOY IS NOT FOR THE FAINT-HEARTED

The fact is, this is not a very joyful world.

[I recall walking with horror through the Shrine of the Holocaust in Jerusalem and wondering how humans could do such things to other humans. And if I can believe even a small portion of what I read and see, injustice and suffering are widespread over the wide world. How are Christians to have JOY?]

As we speak, a planeload of hostages in the Mediterranean is in its second week of agony beyond our understanding . . .

This week I attended the Eunice Ferreira - E.N.C. production of The Trojan Women, which is a candid attempt to look at some of the agony of injustice, selfishness, sorrow, helplessness in our world. It is an attempt for a long hour and forty minutes to enter into that suffering. I cannot imagine any of the players ever being quite the same again.

And yet, are we Christians still "called to JOY?"

Paul was not looking at his world with rose colored glasses. He was writing this letter from a Roman prison. He was giving his life day by day, and he would ultimately be executed for the JOY that he knew in Jesus. This is NOT heaven on earth where we live!

In the plain sight of all that— Christians are called to JOY! But it is NOT a cheap denial of all that is wrong in the world. It is NOT a cheap trip that blocks out all the pain for a while and then wears off.

II. JOY DOES NOT EXCLUDE LIFE'S CHALLENGES

A. Joy is not dependent on circumstance; we can be channels of joy even when we are not in ideal situation. This is a prison epistle. It was written from a prison cell.

B. WE SUFFER OURSELVES: Suffering is a part of life! Listen to some of these words to early Christians:

Paul: "For I reckon that the SUFFERINGS of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us. Romans 8:18"

"For as the SUFFERINGS of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ. And whether we be afflicted, it is for your consolation and salvation, which is effectual in enduring the same SUFFERINGS which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted it is for your consolation and comfort. And our hope of you is steadfast, knowing that as ye are partaker of the SUFFERINGS, so shall ye be also of the consolation. " 2 Cor. 1:5,6,7

C. WE SHARE IN CHRIST'S/OTHER'S SUFFERING:

I Peter 4:13 "But rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's SUFFERINGS; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy."

CHRISTIANS DO NOT JUST FOCUS ON THEIR OWN BURDENS . . . Not only our own pains...but somehow sharing in the pains of others, too! "...the fellowship of His sufferings!"

[Yesterday Barbara Howard (who was dying of cancer, herself) called to tell me about Nancy Detwiler's dad ... request prayer for her!]

- D. Christians have the conviction that even as the sufferings of Christ have made all the difference to us, so when we share in His LOVE, we can make a difference, too!

III. THE WAY OF JOY IS THE FELLOWSHIP OF THE CROSS

- A. The Christian's JOY does not come from IGNORING the dark side of life and living.
- B. The Christian's JOY does not come from human resources. Apart from divine guidance and wisdom our natural reaction to injustice is like Moses, before he met God— we strike out in our own strength; too often we meet huge problems with human analyses, and quick and simplistic judgments. And too often we are overwhelmed and disillusioned.
 - 1. And then We find it easy to rationalize or justify doing nothing on the basis of ignorance.
 - 2. Or we are heavy on accusation: which takes two themes—
 - a. "THEY" are to blame— naming obvious targets; and so we need to DO THIS! Sometimes if the extreme statements were followed through, the very fabric of society would be pulled apart, for we live in a technocratic society that depends for its very life blood on a variety of systems that no one person can fully understand. Or we say,
 - b. "WE all" are to blame! Which sounds pious, but it so generalizes guilt that it is difficult to really accept any possibility of doing anything personally.
- C. Christ's JOY flies in the face of suffering! Never think that we can do nothing! Jesus faced the CROSS with JOY in mind, and the JOY of pleasing the Father, of accomplishing His purpose, of seeing you and me redeemed and set free from sin is real to Jesus today.
The hope of our world is the power of the resurrection of Jesus Christ! The people who know Christ in His fullness can make a difference!

[John 15:6 Jesus spoke of JOY— he left His disciples JOY on His way to the CROSS!]

[And yet]

- D. It almost seems as though the major thrust of the Christian message for years has been avoiding all pain at any cost! :

We like the idea of "resurrection" and "power"— but we shrink back from the "fellowship of suffering."

1. We have had a lot of emphasis on 'Personal overcoming';
 - HOW TO... lose weight in Jesus
 - HOW TO . . . be better integrated in life.[and]
2. We have also had a lot of 'Church building':
 - HOW TO ... build a bigger and better Church organization.
 - BUT THESE ARE SECONDARY OBJECTIVES! What counts is KNOWING JESUS!

IV. JOY IS CHRIST'S WORLD-CHANGING GIFT

- A. JOY is what begins to dawn along the Road to Emmaus.

About the time we have come to the end of our own resources, and have seen all we hold precious fail, and are sad and discouraged and unbelieving — JESUS, HIMSELF, COMES ALONGSIDE!

- B. JOY is not "learned" like a lesson. It is (not so much) deliberately appropriated as it is the result of deliberately choosing to invite Jesus IN, and sharing HIS life! The JOY is:
- BEING WHAT CHRIST WANTS US TO BE
 - AND GOING WHERE CHRIST WANTS US TO GO
 - AND DOING WHAT CHRIST WANTS US TO DO!

In that sort of fellowship with Jesus there is real JOY! Not just an abstract idea of JOY somewhere off in heaven... but "Joy in the midst of sorrow, Peace in the midst of pain Jesus will give, Jesus will give, He will uphold and sustain!"

Conclusion

We don't have to go looking for hard times. They come to us all. But I am saying we do not need to be overwhelmed! And even when WE share Christ's sufferings, or perhaps especially when we share His sufferings, we can be a part of God's SOLUTION to the pain of this world!

Our challenge is to really know Jesus Christ! Not just to know about Him, but to meet Him on the Emmaus Road, in our SADNESS, and in our DISCOURAGEMENT, and in our UNBELIEF, and have our hearts set on fire by His revelation.

The Mind of Christ Workout

Philippians 2:12-13 So then, my beloved, just as you have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your salvation with fear and trembling, for it is God who is at work in you, both to will and to work for his good pleasure.

Introduction

In this rather obtuse title (Mind of Christ 'Work-Out') I am referring to the interesting use of the word "work" by St. Paul. He says YOU work OUT your salvation— and at the same time GOD is AT WORK IN you!

This is more than a play on words.

It is a matter worthy of our full attention: OUR working and GOD'S working in the matter of our sanctification; how they relate, how they interact.

I don't have a final word on it— but "as I work on it" I believe "God will work in our minds and hearts" to help us grasp how "we are co-laborers with God!" (I Corinthians 3:9)

Return with me to this passage:

I. THE LOFTY MESSAGE OF THE PREVIOUS PASSAGE

- A. The description of the mind of Christ is the focus, the "meat" of this passage: IT IS A LESSON IN AND OF ITSELF.

We have come to look to this passage simply in order to see the love of God manifested in the outpouring of Christ's very life for us. And it is right that we do. It tells us how Jesus left heaven's throne and came to die because He loves us.

- B. But this passage starts "Let THIS mind be IN YOU!" And here in our text the words (v 12) "So then" REFER BACK TO THIS IMPERATIVE: "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus."

And so the bottom line— THE 'MESSAGE' OF THIS PASSAGE IS: LET THIS MIND BE IN YOU!

II. THIS MESSAGE GETS LOST IN EXCUSE AND HUMAN REASONING

A. WE NEED TO TAKE THIS IMPERATIVE SERIOUSLY:

"Of course we can't have the mind that was in Christ!"

"No one can be like Jesus!"

And we give up the battle without a shot being fired. What does this imperative mean, "Let this mind be in you!"??

B. JUST WHAT IS IT THAT WE ARE TO TAKE SERIOUSLY? The essence of the mind of Christ that we can understand was that Jesus did not insist on HIS rights; that he did not GRASP at His own benefit— but that he gave Himself.

Is it possible for Christians to love like that today?

C. YES! THE LIFE OF FAITH BY DEFINITION MEANS DOING WHAT OTHERWISE WOULD BE IMPOSSIBLE!

This is not something new. Way back in Moses' time the people thought it was impossible to stay "in tune" with God.

In Deuteronomy 30 are some words that speak to this challenge. Moses is speaking to the Israelites before he goes up on Pisgah to die. (vv 5,6) "(the Lord will prosper you, and multiply you more than your fathers.) Moreover the Lord will circumcise your heart and the heart of your descendants, to love the Lord with all your heart and with all your soul, in order that you may live."

(vv 11-14) "For this commandment which I command you today is not too difficult for you, nor is it out of reach. It is not in heaven, that you should say, 'Who will go up to heaven for us to get it for us and make us hear it, that we may observe it?' Nor is it beyond the sea, that you should say, 'Who will cross the sea for us and make us hear it, that we may observe it?' But the word is very near you, in your mouth and in your heart, that you may observe it."

(vv 19-20) "I call heaven and earth to witness against you today, that I have set before you life and death, the blessing and the curse. So choose life in order that you may live, you and your descendants, by loving the Lord your God, by obeying His voice, and by holding fast to Him; for this is your life and the length of your days, that you may live in the land which the Lord swore to your fathers, to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, to give them."

Way back in the Old Testament, God wanted it understood that His commandments are also His promises!

THIS WHOLE MATTER OF SANCTIFICATION FROM BEGINNING TO END, AND CERTAINLY INCLUDING WHAT WE CALL "ENTIRE SANCTIFICATION" IS SIMPLY THIS:

III. DELIBERATELY LETTING CHRIST'S MIND BE IN US!

- A. IN LIGHT OF THE MORNING'S MESSAGE IT IS HOLDING THE SEED OF THE 'GOOD NEWS' FAITHFULLY, LETTING GOD WORK HIS LIFE OUT "WORKING OUT" WHAT GOD HAS "WORKED IN" (That is too glib!)

The human way to seek "success" is to focus on HUMAN MODELS. We want to "stick an adult plant into the ground." We look for results, and we look to methods, and to models.

God's way is to let the LIVING WORD sink down into our hearts and do a miracle that is both unique and powerful.

In our PERSONAL lives: Assurance, soul-winning, growth in grace spring from humility, and open-ness before God, from confession and weakness before the Lord.

In our corporate life, CHURCH-WIDE: We look to see how/what others are doing. (And seminars have their rightful place!) But healthy, growing, powerful churches are UNIQUE! They spring from healthy seed (the Gospel) in well-prepared ground!]

- B. But what about these two "works" in our text? What does this mean "YOU work!" and "GOD works!"??

IT DOES NOT SIMPLY OUR PART AND THEN HIS PART — ALTHOUGH THERE IS THAT WAY OF LOOKING AT IT:

OUR confession of NEED — HIS Promise to MEET that need OUR obedience — HIS ENABLING OUR consecration — HIS SANCTIFYING (cleansing/empowering)

- C. WHAT THIS TEXT SAYS IS WE DO AS GOD DOES ! We pray that somehow we may be "labourers together WITH God! (I Corinthians 3:9)

1. The desire to have the mind of Christ comes from God. As we pray we get the hunger after more of God. His will for our holiness comes clear. As we make it our own desire, God answers our prayer.
2. Then, God not only works in us to WILL of His good pleasure, but TO DO IT AS WELL! The realization of the mind of Christ comes from God: God works in us to will and to do of HIS good pleasure.

This is what Wesley called: the circumcision of the heart. The dedication for life of the entire person to God.

3. The LIFE OF FAITH involves OBEDIENCE! It means that we must seek to work out, to express, what God has worked IN! [WHO does the work? Unless it is God it isn't genuine ... and yet, unless it is US it never will be done! God helps us to get in "over our heads" and then he does through us what we alone can never do!]

- D. (Illus: Abraham is called the father of faith. He is one of the giants of faith in all of history. How did Abraham get that way? Who did it? God? or Abraham?

- God CALLED (12:1) ... and Abraham started out.
- God TAUGHT (15:6) ... and Abraham "believed God and it was counted to him for righteousness."
- God COVENANTED (17:1) IN A CHALLENGE TO PERFECT TRUST ...and Abraham COVENANTED WITH GOD!

- God CALLED FOR ABRAHAM'S DEAREST GIFT BACK (22:1) ... Abraham's covenant was tested ... and Abraham withheld NOTHING from God!

THAT is how he became the "father of faith!"

HE WORKED OUT ... WHAT GOD WORKED IN! WHATEVER GOD ASKED/WILLED, ABRAHAM AGREED AND SET TO WORK TO OBEY!)

God calls us ALL to inherit great promises of faith! He wants to be our God, our Friend! Let's take the "long view!"

Text: Philippians 2:12-13 So then, my beloved, just as you have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your salvation with fear and trembling, for it is God who is at work in you, both to will and to work for his good pleasure.

#243 I'll Live for Him

The Place of Accountability

One day Jesus was praying in a certain place. When he finished, one of his disciples said to him, "Lord, teach us to pray, just as John taught his disciples." Luke 11:1

A remarkable scene took place in my living room a few short years ago. A Baptist pastor had driven 200 miles to share in the fellowship of a prayer meeting. It was Friday, lunch time, and he knew the fellowship would be meeting. That particular time it was at the Nazarene parsonage.

This pastor was experiencing one of those difficult times that most pastors know. He knew that in this group, where once he had been a regular participant, he would find acceptance and understanding. He knew that he would be prayed for by men who knew him well and loved him.

Our hearts reached out to him that day. We assured him that he was indeed God's man, and that God would not abandon him. And then as prayer time ended and we rose to leave, this Baptist pastor met an Episcopal priest in the middle of that Nazarene living room. The priest shared how God had helped him in a similar experience. And God did a work of healing and help before the pastor left to drive back to his assignment.

The scene was remarkable, but not unusual. Across the ten years and more that I have been part of this accountability group just about every member has been in some way a healer or a recipient of healing. A fellowship of accountability in love is one of God's very most precious gifts.

Prayer life is a highly personal and private matter. There are secrets and treasures in prayer that must be discovered by each Christian alone. Book and papers on prayer may be helpful to a point. But there is no way to learn to pray effectively except to pray, and without exception that learning process is a lonely business. It is probably possible to be effective in ministry and never share one's personal prayer life with anyone else in a meaningful way.

But it is evident that God intends for the ideal of prayer to be both intensely private and social. There are things that one can say to God alone— things one almost whispers even in private because they are between the heavenly Father and one's own heart. And yet in the Pattern that Jesus gave for prayer the very first word is a word of community. Even the very most private prayers can never escape the responsibility of relationships.

"Accountability" is a popular word in the current language of those who teach 'spiritual formation' and personal spiritual growth. Accountability means a deliberate choosing to pray in community, to be to some extent answerable to other or others.

Accountability in one form or other has always had a large place in the mainstream of the church. John Wesley's many talents and accomplishments perhaps came to full flower in his catholic spirit that sought to reach out and fold people into fellowship. All his converts were required to attend "class meetings," which would be (very) roughly analogous to Wednesday prayer meetings. But it is very significant that his converts also were welcome to join "cells," groups of five. In these cells there was no leader, no lesson, but serious and loving concern and prayer. It is probably significant, too, that two thirds of Wesley's converts opted not to participate in the cells.

In the devotional classic, A Testament of Devotion, Thomas R. Kelly lauds the concept of accountability. He says, in part, "Within the wider Fellowship emerges the special circle of a few on whom, for each of us, a particular emphasis of nearness has fallen. These are our special gift and task. These we carry by inward, wordless prayer . . . these bonds of divine love and 'carrying' are the stuff of the kingdom of God . . . we know that these souls are with us, lifting their lives and ours continually to God (85-6.)"

Yet it is not a comfortable or easy thing for many pastors to accept the concept of "accountability" in the matter of prayer. Pastors are used to holding other people accountable. And imposed or arbitrary accountability could only inhibit or restrict, instead of foster liberty and growth and love and joy. This is true of any mature person, and not just pastors.

But the fact remains, people need fellowship in prayer. And this factor of accountability is often the missing ingredient that could have prevented 'infant mortality' among new converts, or could have been a life-saving source of strength to the most seasoned of veterans. And pastors are not exceptions to this need for accountability in prayer. Pastors are people, too. Tragic episodes of "burn-out" and even sadder moral lapses might well be avoided through the grace of accountability.

Some practical suggestions for moving toward a healthy accountability in prayer include:

Honesty. It takes some strength of character to look into the mirror and admit imperfections and weakness. Honesty is more than just telling the truth about facts and figures. Honesty is being willing to admit the possibility of finding help in praying with others. And the blessings of accountability come only to those who are willing to admit that they might need such help.

Humility. Lack of humility is the biggest single impediment to spiritual growth. To accept the fact that others, even in different levels of understanding, or from different "families" in the fellowship of faith can have a genuine and vital relationship with Jesus Christ, and can be channels of God's blessing, can be the open door to new vistas of joy and growth.

Openness. Openness is simply honesty carried into the world of relationships. There aren't many deliberate hypocrites in the ministry. But it is easy to fall into spiritual posturing, to almost unconsciously seek to appear more spiritually effective than one really is.

Openness needs a proper sense of the appropriate, of course. It is not simply "telling all," or washing one's linen in public. But it is the attitude in which accountability can begin to take place.

Adaptability. There are many ways in which spiritual accountability can be used and adapted in the relationships of the pastorate. One could be the 'Paul-Timothy' relationship growing out of the mentor program as fostered by the Pastoral Ministries leadership. Another is simply the way ministers relate one-on-one with people. Accountability can be shared with staff in scheduled staff prayer meetings.

Two desirable ways for pastors to develop accountability, however, are in deliberately planned cell groups from within their own congregations, and in inter-denominational ministerial prayer groups.

Four or five men (women, if the pastor is a lady) who may have expressed or implied a desire for spiritual growth can agree to meet together once a week, for a limited number of weeks, to read the Bible and pray for each other. The time limit gives an 'out' if the group does not develop.

The main purpose of the group is not to exegete, but to simply accept the authority of scripture and then to seek God's Presence together. Such a group can become a wellspring for personal growth to all involved, as well as a pattern and a nucleus for renewal throughout the entire congregation.

Perhaps the ideal accountability group for a minister is a prayer fellowship composed of ministers from different denominations in a given community, who have come to know and love and trust each other. There is identity, for all participants have a more or less similar task. There is non-threatening acceptance, for any disclosure of personal weakness cannot be leaked to denominational grapevines. Often there is potential for fresh insight in the variety of viewpoints expressed on any given day.

One last factor that may be needed for developing accountability in the minister's prayer life is the determination not to give up until one is regularly participating in one or several accountability fellowships.

A few years ago my wife and I were enjoying some retreat time in Scotland, and on a highlight day we spent a few hours with Dr. and Mrs. Sydney Martin in their cottage in Twechar. This great and kindly man of God makes it easy to talk naturally about spiritual things, and I spoke glowingly of the prayer fellowship among the ministers back home.

And I was surprised and delighted to hear Dr. Martin tell of a similar weekly group right there in the little village of Twechar. Clergy of the Church of Scotland, Baptist pastors, and others are dear brothers and prayer partners to this sainted Nazarene. The line of accountability are the strong bonds of Christ's church, and they are potentially universal.

Work Cited:

Kelly, Thomas R. A Testament of Devotion. New York: Harper and Row, 1941.

The Promise of His Presence

John 14:3-7 "If I go and prepare a place for you, I will come back and take you to be with me that you also may be where I am. You know the way to the place where I am going." Thomas said to him, "Lord, we don't know where you are going, so how can we know the way?" Jesus answered, "I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me. If you really knew me, you would know my Father as well. From now on, you do know him and have seen him."

Also, as a text, verse two: "I go to prepare a place for you."

INTRODUCTION

Jesus spoke these words to prepare His disciples for a radical change. He wanted them to understand that He wouldn't be with them in the same way that He had been for the previous three years.

It wasn't the first time that He had tried to tell them of His mission of salvation. In fact Jesus had said on many occasions that He had come from the Father and was going back to the Father. But did you know that there was a time when Jesus had used almost these same words, "I am going away," in a very different setting?

Here His purpose is clear; He loves these people so very much; and His clear intent is to cushion the shock and to strengthen the faith of people who already knew and loved Him. But this other time John records almost these same words, earlier on in Christ's ministry, in John 8, there is a different setting, a different mood entirely.

I. WHEN TWO WORLDS SEPARATE IN UNBELIEF

In John 8 Jesus had declared "I am the light of the world." (John 8:12) And later in that same setting, as the Pharisees objected and opposed Him, Jesus said these disturbing words:

"I am going away, and you will look for Me, and you will die in your sin. Where I go, you cannot come."

Why do you imagine Jesus would say something like that, and to whom?

It is significant that in both instances where Jesus mentioned going away the conversation came to center around heaven, and knowing God the Father.

In response to His declaration that He was the Light of the World, the Pharisees had asked Him derisively, "Where is your father?"

There could have been an intentional double meaning here, with the intention being a cutting reference to what we know as His virgin birth. But Jesus answered them that they knew neither Him or His Father.

"If you knew Me you would know my Father also," He said. These are the exact same words Jesus spoke in comfort and assurance to the disciples perhaps two years later in the Upper Room. "If you knew Me, you would know My Father as well!" This is some of what had preceded these strong words, "I am going away and you will seek me and you will die in your sin!"

Their response was, "Will He kill Himself? Is that why He says, 'Where I go you cannot come'?" They were totally insensitive to the truth Jesus was speaking.

Jesus went on to say "We are on different paths, different patterns of thought, different world-schemes entirely. You are thinking only of this world, I am not of this world. If you do not believe that I AM what I claim to be, there is no hope that you will ever change and see the futility of the way you are now going.

It wasn't that Jesus took delight in damning these people. He merely stated the fact— this world ends. This world is dead ended. The values and goals and things of this world are not worth living and dying for.

And as a matter of fact even as Jesus spoke these words the scripture says that many there found the grace and faith to trust that He indeed is who He says He IS.

II. WHEN TWO WORLDS COME TOGETHER IN FAITH

It was different that night in the Upper Room the night before Jesus died on the Cross. Tomorrow the world would begin again. Tomorrow the powers of death and darkness would be defeated forever. Tomorrow all the sins of the world would be met with the Infinite Love of the Savior.

And the Savior was thinking of His own. He was concerned about their frailty. He wanted to assure them. "I am going away for a while, " He told them. "But I am coming back to get you— and you know where I am going, and you know the way there." He made it plain that He was going to the Father. Which brought about the questions and the assurance.

Thank the Lord for Thomas. You can criticize him if you want. I am thankful for a man who expressed his honest doubts. Notice that Jesus did not write him out of the kingdom.

III. TWO WORLDS MEET HERE TONIGHT

In the sacrament of Communion we sit at table with the Lord once again. He has gone to prepare us a place. But we know that He is HERE. And we know, too, that He is THERE, with the Father, making intercession for us. And, mystery appreciated, we also know that Jesus is COMING AGAIN to receive us to Himself, even as He told the disciples at the first Communion that He would. The assurance that He gave them is our assurance as well.

CONCLUSION

How we know Jesus is a mystery. None of us has ever seen Him, yet we do know Him. He is our Friend. And because we know Him, we know the Father, and we know the WAY to God and Life and heaven.

The sacrament is one way that Jesus assures us. By faith we are at the Table with Him this evening, and hear Him say:

Don't worry! I have gone away, but I'll be back to get you. And I won't ever leave you. And you will know the way to me, and you DO know the way.

The Promise of Peace

Romans 5:1; Philippians 4:7,9; Colossians 3:15-17

Here in these three brief "texts" are some words about "peace." Peace is part of the legacy left us by Jesus; it is the Christian's right: Jesus said: "My peace I leave you!"

Peace is part of the definition of the kingdom of God extended to us: (Romans 14:17) "The kingdom of God is NOT meat and drink, but righteousness and PEACE and JOY in the Holy Ghost."

"Peace" is one of the most attractive ideas in the world. But talking about peace and experiencing peace are two different things. It is good to know that I am supposed to have peace. It is good to understand that peace is in the definition of the Kingdom: But how does that help ME when the storms of life are raging?

Jesus said: "Blessed are the peace-makers!" But am I supposed to be an agent for peace in this world when I don't have real peace in my own heart? [The prophets warned about those who would cry, "Peace, peace" when there was no peace.]

HOW may I start to be a peace-maker? HOW may I experience God's peace?

I. To BEGIN With Peace: We Can And Must Find Peace With God

(Romans 5:1,2). Not "telling God" what HE needs to do, but confessing sin, and pleading the saving, cleansing blood of Jesus!

What IS "Peace WITH God?" An end of hostility; a sense of acceptance; access by faith into all God's grace. not a bad thing! A wonderful thing, actually!

But peace with God is NOT the end! It is only a good beginning!

II. Then, We Can CONTINUE Toward Peace: The Peace OF God

(Phil. 4:7) We find this peace by learning to think like God!

(Well, actually we cannot "think LIKE God thinks...His ways are far, far above ours. But) This is a beginning of a new perspective, believing that God sees, God knows, and God is in control! This is FAITH as a total way of life. A deliberate choice of attitude. NOT an automatic or simple thing. NOT accomplished without determination and struggle. NOT a guarantee that there will not be emotional turbulence. But there is a clear formula here:

1. Do not be anxious (fret not)
2. Make God a partner in all of life! (In everything with thanksgiving—let God know where you stand!)
3. Deliberately dwell on the good and holy

Only God knows the damage and danger of grumbling/complaining/whining: an entire generation of Israelites died in the desert because they GRUMBLED!

III. But The END Or GOAL Of All This Is GOD!

Our goal in life is—the God of peace! (4:9)

"Peace" is not just a technique we learn, or a wonderful emotion— the best thing about it is being near to God Himself!

"When we look back on what the masters of the spiritual life have written and said, its hard to escape the conclusion that we have been the victim of a confidence trick in our century. Over the past few decades, the evangelical church has been gripped by a series of issues and concerns that have primarily been marginal, or at best of secondary importance. Conferences, seminars, and books on a whole series of "vital concerns" have dominated center stage and determined the agenda in many churches and for many individual Christians. But strikingly absent has been concentration on God Himself. Indeed, on the rare occasions when this absence has not been the case, we have sat up to take notice as though something out of the ordinary were being said!"—Sinclair B. Ferguson, in A Heart for God, quoted from CT, January 15, 1988.

The peace of God is not a lesson to learn; the peace of God is a "spin-off" from friendship with God Himself! Here's the essential connection!

Yes, until we die we must "walk by faith!" Yes, there will be times when our emotions and our human judgment will fail to give us the assurance that we need. But if we have PEACE WITH GOD, and if we are actively pursuing THE PEACE OF GOD, then the GOD OF PEACE WILL BE WITH YOU!

But remember, the pathway of peace does NOT lie along the line of asking questions, assigning blame, finding fault with God! NO, the pathway of peace is PUSHING UP CLOSE TO THIS GOD WHO WANTS TO BE NEAR US!

Conclusion:

Our faith grows, develops! We learn new questions to ask as we grow older. We are staggered at times by the failures of others we trust.

YOU CAN TRUST JESUS! He is the same person you prayed to as a child! He is the same person you gave yourself to when you first heard about heaven and hell and sin and salvation. He really did die for you—and rose again for you—and is seated at the right hand of the Father just now praying for you! This Jesus wants you to have HIS peace!

In the other passage about "peace", Colossians 3, is one of those convenient "lists" that will help you "keep the peace." It is a three-fold or three-part "handle" on living in God's peace, and it all related to JESUS: Paul says:

1. LET THE PEACE OF CHRIST RULE! (Col. 3:15) In the everyday living out of your life, let your PEACE be the referee!

Whatever disturbs your peace, immediately stop and find a place to pray about it. God isn't troubling you to damn you; He is trying to strengthen His peace:

- when you are tempted to "cut corners" in honesty
- when the TV becomes blatantly VIOLENT or LUSTFUL (What business do God's people have watching people shoot other people for fun?)

The Promise of Peace

- when you are using your body, or your relation with the opposite sex, for thrills! That is NOT love—it is SIN! The THRILL isn't wrong—it is SEX OUT OF COVENANT!

When we find our peace disturbed—we need to quickly heed! LET GOD'S PEACE RULE!

2. AND LET THE WORD OF GOD DWELL RICHLY! (Col. 3:16) DWELL!

Nobody— no one in the world! can find God's peace apart from God's WORD! The WORD is the Source and Resource of our strength...it is our FOOD! The Word is our living supply!

That is why Bible PREACHING is important! That is why BIBLE STUDY is important! That is why we need to read by ourselves, and together—and this includes SOCIAL WORSHIP: (Col. 3:16) - teaching and admonishing one another—with psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with thankfulness to the Lord.

LET GOD'S WORD DWELL!

3. AND LET CHRIST'S NAME AUTHORIZE ALL YOU DO! (Col. 3:17)

The authority must come from HIM! This doesn't mean you can simply "write a check" for anything you might think you want.

But it does mean that whatever God commands, He makes possible!

It does mean that where He sends, He opens the doors!

It does mean that if you want PEACE, His authority says that you can have it!

#416- Hidden Peace

The Revelation Moment

SUNRISE MEDITATION

2 Corinthians 5:17 Therefore if any person be in Christ they are a NEW creation; old things have passed away, behold all things are become new!

We revere the Christ of Calvary, for there He poured out His life in order that we might forever live in Him. But Calvary is not the end of the story! The empty Tomb, the Risen Savior manifested, is the necessary climax of the drama of eternal life.

And did you ever ask yourself how YOU know Jesus is really alive?

I. DRAMA AT THE EMPTY TOMB

All our salvation can be epitomized in a sunrise moment: Mary, empty, sad, weeping, even worshiping, comes to do homage to a dead Hope, a dead Lord. She has heard the words of life. She has known the Savior so very well that no one could ever deceive her. Still- Mary did NOT know Jesus when He met her that first Easter morning. Why, do you suppose? Tears in her eyes? Marred, mutilated face? Darkness?

"Mary!" When Jesus spoke her name something happened!

"Rabboni!" Joy! Faith! Understanding! LIFE!

WAS THIS 'RECOGNITION MOMENT' UNIQUE TO MARY?

When we speak about the Risen Lord we are speaking about the mysterious, wonderful LIFE that is the place where heaven touches the earth! It is true what is written in this Book we call the Bible. But just knowing it and even believing it intellectually does not mean that we know the risen Lord!

II. PAUL AND THE CORINTHIANS

Some of them had heard Jesus preach. They had seen Him; they said to Paul, WE knew Jesus— YOU did not!

The Revelation Moment

But Paul said, (II Corinthians 5:16) Even though we have known Jesus after the flesh, yet from now on we do not know Him that way any more!

WE must know Jesus in an even more intimate way than the disciples who walked with Him and ate with Him and heard Him speak knew Him! Can you believe it?

Jesus must be personally revealed!

III. DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN THE HOLY SPIRIT SPOKE TO YOU ABOUT YOUR NEED OF A SAVIOR?

Jesus calls YOUR name! He says, YOU have sinned! YOU need a Savior! I love YOU! And He calls YOU by name!

And YOU say, with Mary: RABBONI! MASTER!!

That is what 2 Corinthians 5:17 is all about: IF ANY MAN, IF ANY WOMAN, IF ANY BOY, IF ANY GIRL BE IN CHRIST, THEY ARE A NEW CREATURE!

All because Jesus, by the power of His Holy Spirit, the Risen Jesus, comes near and makes Himself known! That is the "recognition moment!"

Prayer: O Jesus, Be Thyself to Me— a living, bright Reality!

Amen!

The Righteousness of Faith

Romans 4:13-25; (Text) Romans 4:25 Jesus was delivered over to death for our sins and was raised to life for our justification.

Introduction

The "Faith Connections:" There is a clear connection between faith and obedience, (Romans 1:5; 1:25-27) ; Paul speaks of "the obedience of faith." But there is also another powerful connection to this mysterious gift of God we call "faith." And that is the connection of faith to righteousness.

Over and over again, in Romans and all the New Testament, there is this connection of "faith" and "righteousness." We know that God is holy and righteous altogether. We know that we must in some way be counted as holy and righteous if we are ever to approach God, and have to do with Him.

What is "the righteousness of faith" as applied to you and me?

I. IT IS REAL RIGHTEOUSNESS.

A. (Yes, I know that) GOD ALONE IS ABSOLUTELY HOLY; (and I believe with all my heart that) all righteousness is His. No one can be absolutely holy except God; and by the same token, no one can be perfectly righteous in all actions and attitude except God. Our righteousness must be at least in some great measure be IMPUTED to us: "credited!" "Abraham BELIEVED...it was counted/imputed/credited!"

B. But here are the facts. When people come to faith in Jesus Christ, and that faith is genuine, GOD'S RIGHTEOUSNESS CHANGES OUR VERY BEING AND OUR ACTION: People's lives change.

If "faith" is something merely "mental" or an acceptance of "truth," then there is a shallow, mental, passing "conversion." But if faith responds to Christ's invitation to "Come in!" and the living God enters the life, ALL HEAVEN IS LET LOOSE IN CHANGING LIFE'S DIRECTIONS!

Directions are radically altered.

If a person continues in the same life goals and directions after coming to "faith," it is a pretty certain sign that this is not the saving faith Paul is writing about. Sometimes these "directions" may be entirely internal. Some people don't have any OUTWARD life to "clean up." But goals, and purposes and loves and values change when faith brings the righteousness of God into the center of our being. C. The POWER of sin to control the life is broken!

Perhaps this is the most incontrovertible proof. There may be struggle at times with habits and physical addictions. [Illus. Mr. Nichols, of Pittsburgh, saved in Kuhlman crusade, spent several days resisting hellish temptation before he was finally delivered from alcoholism.]

This doesn't mean Christians cannot sin; it does not mean that they live lives of perfection in action. But Christians are set free from the ENSLAVEMENT of sin! "Shall we continue in sin that grace may abound? GOD FORBID!" [And yet ... this freedom, power, liberty is not self-generated! It is not merely a matter of "reform;" it is the RELEASED RIGHTEOUSNESS OF CHRIST WITHIN!]

II. IT IS CHRIST'S RIGHTEOUSNESS.

- A. Credit. "Reckon" yourselves as dead to sin! "Standing before God!" We (Arminians) don't usually like to hear about "standing." We believe in "state." And there are both standing and state.

Paul talks a lot about "IMPUTED RIGHTEOUSNESS", or "credit." He says that Abraham BELIEVED and (immediately) he got credit for being righteous. (see Genesis 15:6)

- B. 'Standing' changes 'state': If we say "credit" and live the same old way it is false faith. Standing immediately begins to affect change in state! Sanctification begins when we are justified! And that is good Wesleyan-Arminian truth!
- C. We Become Like What We Worship! It is a "law"! (For example, in Psalm 115, verses 1-7 describe the absolute impotence of "idols." Then (verse 8) it says: "Those who make them will become like them, Everyone who trusts in them!" [Yuppies beware!])

III. RIGHTEOUSNESS BY FAITH IS MANIFESTED BY PEACE, AND BY JOY.

A. Two great "HIGHS!" It seems to me there are two "peaks" that Paul hits as he tells us of this great salvation, by faith, unto obedience, and bringing God's righteousness. The highest peak is Romans 8, where we read of LIFE IN THE SPIRIT.

But a genuine rejoicing point is Romans 5, where we read of the peace and joy of being JUSTIFIED! Enjoying this righteousness which is by faith! [5:1-11 — as far as I dare to go here:]

B. LOOK AT THESE GREAT "SOURCES OF JOY:" (How "standing" changes "state!")

1. PEACE WITH GOD
2. ACCESS BY FAITH TO GRACE WHEREIN WE STAND
3. INCREASING CONFIDENCE (ALWAYS BY FAITH, HOWEVER)
4. WONDER IN THE CROSS (verse 8!)
5. (verse 11) THE JOY OF PRESENCE, GOD HIMSELF!

Conclusion

We are "saved by FAITH!" That certainly is true!

But remember, FAITH is always connected with OBEDIENCE! If you want to know God and be saved, you must be willing to follow Jesus as LORD! And, too, FAITH is connected to RIGHTEOUSNESS!

Christ's righteousness imputed to your account; but also a very real righteousness imparted into your LIFE!

Faith is connected with obedience! And faith is connected to righteousness!

You can have Christ's righteousness imputed to your account! And as you trust in His death on the Cross as your death to sin; and as you trust in His resurrection and life as your life in the Spirit, "Old things pass away!" Old loves become hatreds! Old hatreds become loves! There is a hunger and thirst after the things of God! And best of all, we have fellowship with God, Himself!

PRAYER

The Righteousness of Faith

#81 (EH) My Faith Has Found a Resting Place

— #68 (WS) O to Be Like Thee!]]]

The Shepherd and the Door

John 10:9 Jesus: "I am the door; if anyone enters through Me, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture."

Isn't it strange and wonderful that in this suave and civilized society the most cherished concepts of our faith have to do with sheep and shepherd? We are hardly a pastoral group, here, and yet we call our preachers 'pastor,' and we take great comfort in knowing and reciting: "The LORD is my Shepherd, I shall not want!" "We are His people, and the sheep of His pasture," says the Psalmist (Psalm 100) and there is great comfort in that assurance.

And Jesus declares that as our Good Shepherd he will

1. (1) give His life for us, and that His intention is that
2. (2) we might share the very quality of His life: "I have come that they might have LIFE," He says, "And that they might have it more abundantly." John 10:9

I. WHERE THE SHEPHERD HAS LED US:

Most of my message today has to do with vision, or of what our church here can be under God's leadership. But a so-called 'State of the Church' message needs to also deal with the church as it is, and what the past year has brought forth.

The kind of church year we have had must be reflected on a personal level by each of us; if we have been saved, or sanctified, or brought closer to the Lord this year, then the church year has been, in one very important way, a success. And no matter what the statistics show, if you or I have not grown in God's grace and love this year, then to that extent the church has failed.

But the composite picture of the church year is generally good. In addition to the facts and figures in our Annual Report booklet, which show involvement in several areas of ministry and financial increase as we meet the challenge of physical expansion, we have added 28 new members this year, twelve (12) by profession of faith. We have also lost 23 members by transfer and death, thus showing a net increase of five. This is a good indicator, but I will be surprised and disappointed if we do not show an increase in this vital statistic next year at this time.

II. WHERE THE GOOD SHEPHERD WANTS TO LEAD US:

I have no other way of presenting this than my own vision of what the Good Shepherd is saying here about what He wants to do with His "sheep." In this passage Jesus combines two figures in Himself; He says both I AM the Good Shepherd, and I AM the Door! "By ME," Jesus says, "You enter and are saved, and then, you go in and out and find pasture."

- A. I see the Church as a place of sanctuary, of healing, of salvation: THE CHURCH AS A HAVEN OR SANCTUARY "By ME ye shall be saved..."

The church is a place of salvation. Maybe you think it is weak or cowardly of me to want a place, to even crave a place, where I can go and not get pressed and beaten with the "wisdom" of our civilization. But I think one great function of the church is to be a retreat, a different place, a holy place, often a quiet place where the Shepherd can lead me beside the still waters and restore my soul. God wants our church to be a place of healing and salvation and receiving love and life, a place where life begins! But we "COME IN" for more than just salvation and succor. I also see:

- B. I get the "picture of" the Church as a "Come" Place: "By Me ye shall go 'IN!':

The Presence of the Good Shepherd makes a church an attractive place to COME IN: THE CHURCH AS A HOME

"By ME ye shall go IN..." Maybe in many respects that is the same thing as seeing the church as sanctuary or haven. Certainly both of these concepts—"sanctuary" and "home" are "IN" functions of the church. They see the church as a "COME" place— and that is all right. It is a COME place! "By Me ye shall go IN!"

And if Jesus is the Shepherd, the Door, there will be a lot to go in for! A home is much more than just a nursery where children are born. And while a home is, or should be, a sanctuary, it is much, much more. A home is NOT always a quiet place. A home bustles with activity. There are times around the table— both the banquet table (like Thanksgiving Dinner) and the picnic table.

Can we talk about receiving spiritual food for just a moment? People say: 'I want to go to a church where I can be fed.' And certainly a church is a place where people should receive spiritual nourishment. But there is a difference between a home and a filling station, between filling up your car's gas tank with unleaded, and sitting down at the dinner table with people you love. We can think of the table as a place where we get refueled to go "out" and do the important things like make a living and play tennis and go to school and go fishing. But every happy family knows that what happens around the table, and how it happens, and the spirit in which it happens is as important as the "going out."

Perhaps the attitude of each one of us can help determine whether our church will be a filling station or a dinner table.

Worship is the central purpose of any Christian church. What is essential is that we come in contact with the Good Shepherd regularly.

Worship is not just a matter of what and how we do, but worship must always involve being before the Lord, and a deliberate seeking of God, and God's will, and subjection to God's Word. There is a lot more I would like to share about what we do in the "COME" or "IN" functions of our church, and why we do, and how we do, but our time is limited.

I would like to talk about the difference, in Sunday School class, between teaching and learning a "lesson" as opposed to teaching and learning how to help each other, and how to find the resources necessary for growing in grace.

I'd like to talk about the difference between a passive, inner welcome for strangers, and that little extra that breaks over natural shyness and actually smiles and says hello!! Do you know that actually hundreds of visitors go through here each year?

I'd like to talk about my concern for qualified, caring altar workers. During the past year we have seen more than 200 people kneel at these altars seeking God for spiritual help, beside those who kneel each Sunday morning. These seekers have "COME."

And we all "care," but how many of us care enough to spend a few minutes praying with those we know, or for those we don't know? And all these not because I want to find fault with you; but because I see this natural shyness in myself. We're doing "pretty well," but there is room for improvement.

- C. But the vision I see of the Church is that it is not only a "COME" place, a place where we go IN; the church is a "GO" place.

III. THE CHURCH AS A LAUNCHING PAD

"By ME ye shall go OUT!"

The church Jesus would have us visualize and strive for is not complete unless and until we leave the sanctuary, and use the Door which is our Savior to go IN and OUT!

- A. We can go OUT in sending missionaries and money to the wide world: the giving is NOT unimportant! The level of our giving is indicative of seriousness of mission.

Money is "condensed life." It is NOT insignificant.

Far away, and in cities at home the 'people called Nazarenes' are still sending— and we are a vital part of that going out.

- B. We can also go OUT in challenging the BEST of our young people to lives of under-shepherding. I used to say "full-time Christian service." But is there any other kind? And besides, one hope of the future of the Church of Jesus Christ is in dedicated "tent-makers" who have a definite call to see the church of Jesus Christ GO OUT into the highways and the inner cities and the Saudi Arabias where ordained clergy are not welcome.

But still, there is a need for some of our very best young people to hear and answer God's call for the necessary training to be full-time ministers, missionaries, college professors, and church workers.

- C. But perhaps the absolutely most vital way the church must learn to go OUT is by every one of our members taking Jesus "out" with them wherever they go . . . in witness, yes! But it doesn't have to be (always) dramatic and for a "decision." That should be in mind, perhaps, all the time.

But more clearly, positively in mind can be: BY ME YE SHALL GO OUT!—taking Jesus with us to care about others and be part of the world's healing instead of its wounding.

Conclusion:

The way we must move toward God's will for us, and for our church is by consciously using 'the Door'! The abundant LIFE Jesus speaks of requires all our ransomed powers. Jesus also said, in this same Gospel, that He IS the light, and the bread, and the victory over death, and the way, and the truth, and the life, and the true Vine. But He, Himself, is the DOOR through which those who want to know all these other facets of what God is to us must enter. He is the Good Shepherd that will help us enter in.

A door is the exclusive way into life. Jesus makes it plain we cannot enter any other way except through Him. A door means an exit as well as an entering. We cannot go in and out with Jesus and be relying on our own wisdom or influence or knowledge or goodness.

And somehow, in this all there must be the consciousness of an higher purpose and loyalty. Our ultimate goal goes beyond the Wollaston Church of the Nazarene, and beyond our own personal growth and development.

I believe there can be a holy rest and in one sense even a holy indifference as to the visible result of our labors. For the ultimate success and score-keeping is beyond the measure of man's mind.

The Shepherd and the Door

Our first consideration must be to be people of integrity before God. To seek to be open with Him, obedient to Him, available to Him, IN OUR COMING IN FOR ATTENTION AND FOOD AND CARE, and IN OUR GOING FORTH TO TAKE HIS CARE AND CONCERN AND LOVE TO OTHERS wherever we range in our daily assignments.

Jesus is the Good Shepherd. It is His Church. He is the Door. He is open to us today.

The Spirit-Filled Community

Today's "sermon" is an annual meeting address to the church in which the Church (at Wollaston)

Romans 8:21 " ... the freedom of the glory of the children of God."

Romans 12:5 " ... we, who are many, are one body in Christ, and individually members one of another. "

INTRODUCTION

Last Sunday's message would have been a good and logical place to end this series on "defining sanctification" from Romans 8— "Being filled with the Spirit." But on this Annual Meeting Sunday I wanted to pursue the truth that being sanctified is not just an individual matter.

Frankly, there is not a major emphasis on social holiness in this one chapter. But this great chapter is not isolated, and we do not need to leave the epistle to find clear statements about the community of Christian faith (Romans 12:5) In this very chapter (8:21) we have this one marvelous phrase: "the freedom of the glory of the children of God." This phrase suggests a good deal about sanctification as it is lived in community. It speaks of the freedom of the Spirit in community.

I. FREEDOM IN THE SPIRIT

- A. One important end result of salvation will be freedom, as contrasted here with the slavery of corruption. When evil is finally exposed for the falseness and hollowness and cruelty which it is, then all creation will be set free from corruption. This freedom is what God's children experience.
- B. Freedom does have an element of the negative: FREEDOM FROM
 - 1. Usually when "freedom" is discussed in our society, tainted as it is by the worship of the individual, we think of "freedom" as mostly freedom FROM— "...so that I can do anything I want to do!"

2. This ['freedom FROM' idea] even carries over into Christian setting, until "freedom" or "liberty" means (a.) genuine-ness, the ability to express delight in God; and (b.) the absence of bondage: sin does not control me any longer. [Both of which are GOOD.]

But we often carry this further and say (c.) NOBODY has the right to tell me what to do! I am free! Even GOD can only SUGGEST to me! I'LL decide!

3. This sort of freedom [tainted with the worship of the individual] does not exist - for ultimately it means freedom from responsibility, and freedom from binding relationships, and freedom from choice and from the results of choice. And there simply is no such freedom in or out of God's kingdom! We all face the consequences of our relationships and our choices! (Galatians 6:7)

- C. Freedom is more than 'not being bound;' it is FREEDOM TO: Freedom is ever something more than the NEGATIVE, what we DON'T HAVE TO DO any more; freedom is THE ABILITY TO DO WHAT WE ARE CREATED TO DO!

1. To be free from the hindrances to holiness means that we now have freedom to belong to God without reservation; freedom to become more and more like Jesus as a life's goal; freedom to be filled with the Spirit and bear His fruit.
2. This positive side of freedom means we can find God's will and pursue it. We have freedom to "be all that you can be!" the only way we can be "all" is in this freedom

[But freedom is not merely an individual matter, believe it or not. Our text opens the idea of "the relationships of freedom:"]

II. THE RELATIONSHIPS OF FREEDOM: "THE GLORIOUS FREEDOM OF THE CHILDREN OF GOD"

- A. Sanctification is always social. Freedom is linked to a relationship with God, but it is also clearly linked with God's children. We are each of us "one among many brethren and sisters" (v 29) Christ is "the first-born among many brethren."

Romans 12:5 says it even more succinctly: "... we, who are many, are one body in Christ, and individually members one of another."

1. Every child of God has a place in the Body and relates to the entire community of faith
 2. Every child of God is a servant to other individual's needs.
- B. The closing chapters of Romans are pure practical social sanctification. When Paul gets through with the necessary and deep and profound foundational statements about God and sin and grace and salvation, he proceeds without apology into the practical application of all the deep things he has written. Perhaps the "Therefore" at the beginning of Chapter Twelve is the demarcation.

"Present your bodies as living sacrifices— and get with the program!"

[But let me make a particularly sharp application on this Annual Meeting Sunday:]

III. WOLLASTON: THE CHALLENGE TO BE A SPIRIT-FILLED COMMUNITY

- A. Our unique position as a church:

When E.N.C. moved here from Rhode Island in 1918 the community simply gathered for worship each Sunday— and when summer came they dispersed and went their several ways. It was not until 1922, nearly 4 years after the college was here in Wollaston that the Wollaston Church of the Nazarene was officially organized. As a church we are definitely the "child of the college."

But in 1949-50 a new concept took shape. The college had sold the church this corner of the campus (for $1) and the relatively small congregation built what was then a mammoth basement structure here— and set out to have its own facility and to reach out into the community in a new way.

To a certain degree we have accomplished, or are accomplishing, this visionary goal. We have three distinct and vital streams that, combining, compose the church as it is today: a community, non-college church; a permanent college-related constituency; a transient college population. Each of these are themselves complex tributaries, and each is indispensable to the character of our fellowship.

B. Our challenges:

1. DIVERSITY: Our strength is also our greatest challenge. "Profound diversity." One of the most gratifying things that has happened to me in a long time was receiving (of all things) a request for transfer out. But in that letter this woman took the time to tell me what she felt about the Wollaston experience, and share her own vision for a community of diversity. (Listen, also, for the note of positive FREEDOM in her letter:)]

Dear Pastor Metcalfe,

Please pardon the "stationery," but I wanted to jump on this opportunity to communicate with you. As you can see, I am, at last, transferring my membership to another local congregation. This isn't an easy step to take. Wollaston will always feel like my "home" church. ... I was on staff at L.A. First Church of the Nazarene and got a wonderful hands-on education in urban ministry doing intake, needs assessment, and crisis counseling as well as the real work of urban ministry- networking ministries and services and compiling demographic information.

I've learned that God isn't looking for any "Lone Rangers" to go do glamorous work in the city, but computer skills and a heart for paperwork are pretty helpful ... It's hard, when so many dramatic portrayals of urban ministry are floating around, to recruit someone to do some "light typing for Jesus ..."

I've been seeing God's vision for a church of profound diversity where the powerful and powerless, rich and poor, those of a variety of cultures and sub-cultures, minister to one another and their community out of their individual gifts, where- like the Church at Antioch- people in different polarities bring their tensions of our urbanized world together in commonality under the anticipation of the kingdom of God. In three months here I've already been challenged, discouraged, humbled and made witness to the profound power in the love of Jesus Christ. So often in these times I recall the way you've [AT WOLLASTON, MY WORDS] communicated His love.

And so, at the core, I remain encouraged that this world remains the domain of my God. The freedom I find in that knowledge is such a relief. In a frequently constraining and stressful lifestyle, Jesus has come to mean Choice- what a beautiful word! ...

I feel very fortunate to have a life touched by this diversity and placed "on call" to pick up and move on to new challenges and chances as the days unfold. While my membership is moving to Chicago as I join this staff, my roots in this journey remain in that patriot-blue sanctuary and very much with you and your work in the Wollaston community. It was under your pastoring that I came to conversion and became convinced of the grace of Jesus Christ.

I couldn't tell you how many times in a day I think or speak the words: "Justified by faith ... just-as-if-I'd never sinned." I didn't learn everything there is to know of God at Wollaston, but I was given a solid foundational education where I learned to worship, confess, and experience Christian community. I sit back and think of the Wednesday night meetings, the hymns of Luther and Wesley, the prayers of my teachers and peers surrounding me at the altar, and I am warmed with gratitude and love for you all.

Warmest regards, (signed)

[By the way, did you get that one phrase: "I learned to worship, confess, and experience Christian community."?]

Remember: We have a unique opportunity to worship with people who are different from ourselves— and consider them God's GIFTS to the Body! (Romans 12:5) " ... we, who are many, are one body in Christ, and individually members one of another. "

2. PARKING: Believe it or not, our greatest challenge to numerical growth is parking! Visitors really have to find us— and to walk a block sometimes after they park their cars!
3. BUSY PEOPLE: Like "Diversity" this is also both strength and weakness. Other churches "envy" our "talent." Tonight we will have more than 50 people in a wonderful chorus choir. Other times it is hard to get 25 who are free to practice. We have some of the most interesting and challenging Sunday School classes imaginable. But at the same time it has been very difficult to find candidates for Sunday School superintendent.

Recently I preached a sermon on the fact that, under God's direction, it is all right to say "No!" to demands on your time, which is really God's time. I stand by that statement. But at the same time, our church is the product of our sacrificial love.

C. Our resources:

Love. We are a loving community! Understanding. The fellowship works!

Redundancy: Thank God we are a college church! It is a privilege to know our own gifted scholars and teachers as well as hear the outstanding speakers that visit here each year.

But we are NOT JUST a "college church" ... we have Community people ... one of our strongest segments is our Young Adult Fellowship (Y.A.F.) ... "Pie Monday" concept

Conclusion: ["What about:"]

GOALS:

They should be consistent with our mission statement:

"To know God, and to provide a climate in which each person may come to his or her full spiritual potential in Jesus Christ."

They should implement the joy implicit in the text:

"... the freedom of the glory of the children of God."

By God's grace we want to be, or continue to be:

A WORSHIP CENTER A SOUL-SAVING COMMUNITY A SPIRITUAL RESOURCE FOR E.N.C. A RESOURCE FOR THE CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST A CONCERN FOR RADICAL OBEDIENCE TO THE REVEALED WILL OF GOD

And I return to Romans for a scriptural "how to" closing for this message:

1. SANCTIFICATION IS SOCIAL: [Accept] 12:5 "So we who are many are one body in Christ, and individually members one of another."
2. SANCTIFICATION IS LOVING: [Be aware of] 14:1-3 "Now accept the one who is weak in faith, but not for the purpose of passing judgment on his opinions. One man has faith that he may eat all things, but he who is weak eats vegetables only. Let not him who eats regard with contempt him who does not eat, and let not him who does not eat judge him who eats, for God has accepted him."

The Spirit-Filled Community

We are strong and weak. We can and must live together and promote spiritual health. We must recognize our temptation to judgment and/or to contempt.

3. SANCTIFICATION IS CHERISHING ONE ANOTHER: [Live by] 15:1-2 "Now we who are strong ought to bear the weaknesses of those without strength and not just please ourselves."

We can learn to think of each other as God's gifts to the community. Each of us has something important and vital to give, if it is not crushed out of us before its time. Each of us has share in the responsibility to cherish all the rest. Together we can discover what it means to live in a Spirit-filled community.

Prayer EH #47 God of Grace and God of Glory

The Substance and the Shadow

Luke 20:41-47 (46) Beware of the scribes...

also 17-18 But He looked at them and said, "What then is this that is written (in Psalm 118): 'The stone which the builders rejected, This became the chief cornerstone'? Every one who falls on that stone will be broken to pieces; but on whomever it falls, it will scatter him like dust."

All my life I've been torn between wanting to be real and wanting people to like me. There is something in each of us that wants to put the best foot forward; that is only natural. But in the realm of relationships, and especially in the realm of religion, it is very dangerous to deliberately strive to appear to be what we are not.

[There is a difference between putting your best foot forward and deliberately deceiving. I don't think there are very many outright, deliberate hypocrites!]

This entire chapter is a warning against appearing to be religious but missing the heart of what religion strives for: GOD HIMSELF!

It is possible to appear religious, and be empty and dead inside. Jesus warns here against trying to appear devout and holy, while at the same time totally neglecting the qualities of character that walking with God should produce in a life.

Here are some of the negative qualities we might seek to avoid: Religion (primarily) concerned with appearance is:

I. INSINCERE

(7)

(v 1,2) The chief priests, scribes and elders- religious professionals- asked Jesus for His credentials. It would seem on the surface a legitimate request. ["TELL US BY WHAT AUTHORITY YOU ARE DOING THESE THINGS? (Cleansing the Temple)"]

But God never merely satisfies curiosity, and certainly never panders to human selfish guile.

So here Jesus asked for a return answer: ["WHAT DO YOU THINK OF JOHN?"] AND THEY HEDGED. They weighed what they would say rather than be honest before Jesus.

Real faith is withheld from insincerity.

Jesus immediately keyed in on this insincerity by telling a story of Stewards who refused their owner his just dues. He climaxed the story with the (mixed) metaphor of the Cornerstone. Jesus is either a Rock upon which to build . . . or He becomes an obstacle that must be rejected and that ultimately comes back to crush and grind in judgment.

A second observation. Religion (primarily) concerned with appearance is often:

II. CRITICAL, CARPING, FAULT FINDING

(22)

There is not a simplistic answer for everything. Some questions almost defy answering. At the same time, when we want to avoid the really painful questions of personal accountability to God, we can hide behind the smoke screen of nitty-gritty details. Almost without exception, when someone is slipping away from God he will seek to justify his backsliding by comparison. Well, what I am doing isn't nearly as bad as ...

"Can we pay taxes to such a corrupt government as Rome?" This was really a sneaky question. It would undercut Jesus either way He answered, either "Yes!" and look like a Rome-lover, or "No" and look like a revolutionary they could report.

Coming back to the 17th verse: Jesus threw the religious people into a panic when He asked them what an OT scripture meant and they didn't know:

Religion primarily concerned with appearance has to be:

III. "IN CONTROL"

(17 +) The people were flustered when Jesus asked them what the meaning of a certain scripture was:

It is disaster when you ask someone who isn't sure of his/her relationship with God a question they aren't sure about!

A genuine Christian is never afraid of saying "I don't know THAT! But I know WHOM!"

Conclusion

A. SUMMARIZE THIS PICTURE JESUS PAINTS OF DEAD RELIGION:

1. Worried MORE about appearance than reality
2. Seeking CREDIT or HONORS rather than seeking to SERVE
3. GREED for CONTROL

B. HOW MAY WE END ON A POSITIVE NOTE?

C. [LOOK INTO THE NEXT CHAPTER:]

1. Jesus SEES the widow's mites. He sees your desire and mine to be REAL!
2. Jesus SAYS (14,15) "IF YOU KNOW ME, I WILL BE WITH YOU IN THE HARD PLACES! I WILL HELP YOUR TIMING! I WON'T LET YOU DOWN!"

[But this is sort of a 'scary prophetic chapter' like Matthew 24 and 25. He does warn that "appearance religion" will then fail; ungrounded hearts will fail them for fear (21:26). And yet His final word is more encouragement than warning:

3. (28) When you think these things are taking place, "STRAIGHTEN UP AND LIFT UP YOUR HEADS! YOUR REDEMPTION IS DRAWING NEAR!" But He also says:

21:34 Be on guard, that your hearts may not be weighted down with (1) dissipation and drunkenness, and (2) the worries of life, and so THAT DAY come on you like a trap ... (3) praying that you may have strength to escape ... and to stand before the Son of Man."

[LOOK AGAIN AT THE QUESTION JESUS ASKED THE RELIGIOUS PEOPLE!:] "What does it mean, 'THE STONE THE BUILDERS REJECTED BECAME THE CHIEF CORNERSTONE ?'"

The Substance and the Shadow

Even while they were being insincere with Jesus, HE WAS SHOWING THEM A PROMISE, THE SECRET TO BEING REAL! THE SECRET IS OUR RELATIONSHIP TO HIM!

If we are REAL with Jesus NOW — He will help us to be more and more real with each other. And when it really counts, JESUS WILL BE THERE FOR US!

203 Ho! Everyone that is Thirsty

The Word is Hope

Matthew 2:21 "And (Joseph) arose and took the Child and His mother, and came into the land of Israel."

THE STORY IN MATTHEW

For a very brief time in the beginning of the Gospels' story of Jesus, the focus of attention falls on Joseph. It is easy to pass over the importance of the part Joseph had in the life of the Lord Jesus Christ. For Joseph was the guardian of hope.

Everything that we know about Joseph is good. But in his lifetime, so far as we know, Joseph never saw the full fruition of his faith and obedience. Still, his obedience kept HOPE alive for us all, and is still bearing fruit to this day.

Joseph is the guardian of hope. Before he ever SAW any of God's promises fulfilled Joseph was willing to obey and believe. First Joseph was confronted with misunderstanding and shame. He chose to take Mary into his home. Then Joseph had the privilege of naming the Holy Child "JESUS" in accordance with what the angel had told him.

His faith was rewarded, and there were visitors who came and confirmed what he already knew; there were shepherds that very first day; there were devout people in the Temple in Jerusalem, Anna and Simeon, who confirmed and assured his heart that the Child truly was Messiah.

Then came even greater surprises; kings, strange Gentile wise men from distant lands came paying homage to the Child, and bearing costly gifts, but at the same time speaking, perhaps in surprise, that the local authorities were unaware and probably hostile to this great HOPE of all the earth. Then that very evening Joseph had a vision of the angel again warning him: "Take the young child and his mother and go to Egypt. He is in danger!"

We see this story from the perspective of centuries; we read it like a drama. How could anything ever harm the Lord's Anointed One, even as a Baby? Would not the angels keep watch over Him? If Jesus was truly God and the Son of God, why shouldn't he, Joseph, simply take the Baby to Jerusalem and proclaim Him before all the world?

But Joseph was living out his relationship with Jesus in the harsh reality of life. God's TIMING is impossible for us to figure. All Joseph knew was that precious LIFE must be protected at every and any cost! Whatever it took to keep the Baby alive and well Joseph would do! That very night, before dawn, Joseph was on the way to Egypt.

Where he stayed, what he saw— so pleasant for our speculation— the pyramids were already nearly 3,000 years old— did Joseph and Mary see them? What happened— the Bible is silent. Joseph stayed in Egypt until the angel sounded the "all clear." And then, with human fear and trembling, the Holy Family made its way back to the home town of Mary, to Nazareth, where Jesus spent the rest of his life until He began His ministry.

Joseph had the discernment of humility and obedience. He kept HOPE alive!

THE PRAYER IN EPHESIANS

What comes to us in a story in the Gospels Paul often packs into a lesson in the Letters. The connection between Joseph's obedience and this prayer in Ephesians 1 is not immediately apparent, but in both there is underscored the importance of keeping HOPE alive and well. Paul prays first of all for discernment, for enlightenment, so that believers can see what the essence of HOPE really IS.

Paul's world was dark and gullible; it was impressed with soothsayers and Caesars. Even believers were turned on by visible gifts more than they were by love and integrity; they were challenged by the show biz and glitz of their age, as we are by our own. And so Paul prayed: Lord, help my people to be able to see what is the HOPE of their calling, where the true POWER is to be found!

- HOPE is not self centered! There is an element of risk involved. Hope is the confidence that God will carry through— in God's own good time.
- Hope must be nurtured in obedience and faith.

- Hope is related to what God can and will do.
- Hope on our part has to do more with BEING than it does with DOING!

It is interesting just here how a best-selling book, The 7 Habits of Highly Effective People, by Stephen R. Covey, interacts with the Christian concept of the importance of discernment and keeping genuine HOPE alive. In his book Covey says that:

For the first 150 years of our existence as a nation we were challenged along the lines of CHARACTER: the qualities that make for quality of life and relationships: integrity, honesty, fairness, congruence between profession and life-style.

For the last 50+ years the literature of practical life has swung to the emphasis on PERSONALITY: those attributes of human nature that make for success and the appearance of completeness. Techniques and short-cuts and seminars that bring about desired results without the outlay of personal development. He says that we have been taught that if we maintain (1) good public relations, and (2) keep a positive mental attitude we can accomplish "success," whatever that is. "Success" can be had by shortcuts, including cheating in school, being insincere in business relationships, and selfish in our own families.

Interestingly, Covey says this is NOT SO. He calls his readers back to the basics of CHARACTER FOUNDATIONS.

And really, that is what Paul is praying for: that we will discern how important it is to keep HOPE alive!

THE PROMISE IN JEREMIAH 31

The third seemingly unrelated passage in this morning's message comes from "the weeping prophet," Jeremiah; a man so burdened with the hardness of his generation and the shallowness of worship that he earned that pseudonym. "Weeping prophet!" But some of the most beautiful and sensitive passages in the Bible come from Jeremiah's heart! For all ages Jeremiah caught something of the extent of HOPE which shall be, through Jesus, for all people.

The Word is Hope

How important to "nurture the Babe" and let Him grow and become Lord on His terms! How important to seek the noble way, the way of integrity and honesty before God, and leave the timing up to Him! For, according to the promises of God through Jeremiah, HOPE opens up these realities of faith:

- I will gather my people
- I will lead them
- I will turn their mourning into joy [My people will be satisfied with My goodness]
- I will be their God; they will be My people [I will write My law in their hearts and they will KNOW Me!]

CONCLUSION

Hope is what makes life worth the living. All these great stories and promises are nothing if they are cut off from where we live and where we are just now.

But HOPE must be sustained by obedience. HOPE does not follow our agenda, nor does it follow a timetable which we set. We, like Joseph, may have to move to Egypt for a while, whatever that means. We WILL have to listen carefully for God's voice. If we think we hear Him saying exactly what we want Him to say we had better be very, very careful!

For God NEVER asks us to take short, cross-lot, cheap methods into "success." God never compromises His demand that we serve Him with excellence, with the best that we have. God never sacrifices CHARACTER on the altar of PERSONALITY!

If we have the precious LIFE of Jesus within, then that LIFE must be preserved at ALL costs!

CHARACTER OVER PERSONALITY INTEGRITY OVER IMAGE JESUS OVER ALL KINGS
AND GIFTS

Thoughts on the Second Coming

Matthew 24:1-11; Matthew 24:38-51 (Text 24:44 For this reason ["You do not know which day your Lord is coming"] you be ready too: for the Son of Man is coming at an hour when you do not think He will.

Preaching on prophecy, and any words about how this world is going to 'wind down' are all too often left to the self-proclaimed "experts." [How long has it been since someone explained the Book of Revelation to you?] There is a reluctance on the part of journeyman pastors to rush into the prediction business.

Honest scholars have to admit both that (1) there is a great deal of the Bible devoted to telling what shall happen, and at the same time, that (2) there is no way to be authoritative in saying "First this, then that..."

But with armies gathered this very moment in the general area in which many prophecies center, and with express hatred of the entire region for people now occupying Jerusalem, and, incidentally, Armageddon, there is renewed interest, if not anxiety, regarding what is going to happen. What does the Bible say?

Bookstores are having greatly increased sales on prophetic themes since the Arabian gulf crisis. Late Great Planet Earth in demand, other new books rushing to print. What does the word say?

I. THERE IS GREAT MYSTERY

- A. We like to have control, to think that we know and understand. Preachers and authors who are graphic, and certain of themselves get strong followings— for a short while at least. It is great when you "know" something!
- B. No one has control of the Second Coming. But it is an event in history exactly as sure and certain as Christmas! God's mysteries remain mysteries until HE reveals them. There are no special deals for special sects or groups. God will speak to His entire church.

II. THERE IS GREAT DEMAND ON FAITH

- A. End times will be a time of sifting. I used to think that the sifting would be overt violence. I recall hearing preaching as a small boy, just before WWII, and thinking of where I might hide if the Germans came...

But the sifting of our day is to decide to believe that God is BOTH Transcendent AND Immanent; to believe that GOD MATTERS IN EVERY DAY LIFE AND LIVING! The sifting is a willingness to be considered a fool, perhaps, and to be a man or woman of faith. Many intellectuals reject the idea of an imminent God, a God who is both great and majestic and concerned with large-scale things like Creation and planets and continents and concerned with you and with me in the details of our lives, down to our attitudes and motivations.

To believe that this God is coming back to earth— that He did come as one of us, and that He communicates with us by His own Spirit— but that He is coming back to set up His own government— is too fantastic to be given any credence.

But this is exactly what every orthodox Christian believes! "That He shall come again to judge the quick and the dead..." is part of the Apostles' Creed, distilled from the Scriptures, and given allegiance to by Protestant and Catholic Christian alike!

- B. Several grand theories have emerged across the years, and have all been "proved" by sincere experts out of the same pages:
- POST-MILLENNIAL RETURN OF CHRIST— the CHURCH brings in the age of Gold, and then Jesus returns— this pretty much died with Queen Victoria, and was buried with two World Wars and several genocides.
 - The PRE-MILLENNIAL RETURN, now accepted by evangelicals, has been split several ways:

- PRE-TRIB RAPTURE when Christ returns secretly before all hell breaks loose on Planet Earth...
- And POST-TRIB RETURN, when the Church wades through dark times before Christ returns at Armageddon..
- Then there are MID-TRIB RAPTURE THEORIES, when the world experiences SEVEN years of hell, but in the MIDDLE Jesus returns...

All these have had their ardent supporters... but the Bible is strangely silent. It says: BE READY!

- C. One conflict, or at least paradox— is the seeming conflict between "faith" and "works;" or between "grace" and "merit." If we are saved by faith, not of works, then once we have believed, have been saved, we are "in forever."

And, so it would seem, we are. But to "believe" may mean much, much more than many have been giving it credit for— that's the rub! To "believe" may mean a total alignment of the life, of the will in accordance with the Word of God! And to make a profession of faith when there has been no change of heart and no change of the way of living is to deny the reality of "faith" and "believing."

We will NOT be saved by our works. No matter how well we serve, we cannot earn our salvation. We will not be saved by hitting the bulls eye of perfection every time we act. But if we are not even shooting at the target, how can we say that we are persuaded that Jesus is Lord? How can we say we are HIS?

III. THE SUPREME CALL FOR THE CHRISTIAN IS FAITHFULNESS

One can never "get ready" for Christ's second coming; one must BE ready.

And that meeting is to be one of great JOY! Text 24:44 For this reason ["You do not know which day your Lord is coming"] you be ready too: for the Son of Man is coming at an hour when you do not think He will.

#78 (EH) When He Shall Come

Walk to Emmaus

Luke 24:13-35; 2 Corinthians 5:16-17

Why this text on Easter? Even if we had known Jesus in the flesh— we would have to come to know Him the way we do now— by spiritual revelation and spiritual discernment. I'm not sure we ever understand this lesson!]

The loss of a loved one is never easy. Getting used to a world that will never quite be the same ever again is a bitter reality that breaks in with pangs of pain over and over. The disciples were GETTING USED TO THE IDEA OF A WORLD WITHOUT JESUS. Something wants to deny the reality of pain and suffering. But these people had seen Jesus die. They knew that THINGS WOULD NEVER BE THE SAME, EVER AGAIN.

I. THE DISCIPLES WERE:

- A. SAD (17) Life without Jesus is hard for Christians to imagine. What would this world be without Him?
- B. DISCOURAGED (21) "We trusted!" Their faith was in the past only.
Of course faith is ALWAYS rooted in what has happened— in the integrity of what we think we can trust. This loss of faith is always serious; when it happens in a divorce; it is tragic— when it happens between parents and children/children parents— it is tragic. But now their faith has let them down. JESUS has let them down! (They think!) We "trusted" ... but we don't trust any more!
- C. UNBELIEVING! - SINFUL (25) Forgetting is no excuse, really! Jesus had told them! And they were not only NON-believing— they were UN-believing! THEIR SINFUL NATURE COULD NOT GRASP SPIRITUAL TRUTH UNAIDED! And Jesus preached from their Bible:

II. THE SAVIOR WAS:

- A. A COMPANION IN THEIR DARKNESS (15) (even before they knew it. v 15) [[Did you ever have Jesus 'slip up beside you' when you were not really expecting Him, but when you needed Him very much? Is it possible that Jesus is near at hand and ready to break into our consciousness more often than we realize?!?

B. REVEALED IN, A REVEALER OF THE SCRIPTURES (27) Jesus always brings us knowledge of Himself and of salvation along the avenue of the Scriptures.

1. Not until the Bible is opened do we see our sin and unbelief as the root of the problem of isolation and loneliness and separation and sin.
2. Not until we see the truth from Him do we see that the ultimate sin is just that—unbelief.
3. Jesus revealed Himself, finally, as a friend! The dominant thing, and the thing that had continuity with the Jesus they remembered was love. (And what pastor would not give all the books in his library to have heard that exposition from Moses and all the prophets that day, as Jesus taught the things concerning himself!)

But something took place immediately as they recognized their risen Lord:

III. THEIR EXPERIENCE BROUGHT:

- A. A GENUINE FAITH (31) "And they knew him." They saw that this world's seeming defeats are not final, not real— that Jesus can be depended upon.
- B. REAL HOPE AND JOY (32) "Did not our hearts burn within us?" They saw that they had a share in Christ's triumph. They could not then know all the implications— but it began to dawn then of the great scope of Jesus' victory over death!
- C. A DESIRE TO SHARE (33) "They rose up the same hour, and returned to Jerusalem." Seven miles on foot after dark— they just couldn't wait until morning!

Conclusion: Jesus breaks the power of bereavement with the promise: life never will be the same, ever again! But it will be all right! "I will never die again! And neither will you!"

The joy of Christ's victory becomes contagious! It cannot be contained! Suffering is redeemed! Faith takes on new meaning.

(It doesn't mean that NOW we start to live by sight— not yet— and faith will always be stretched to the next level of obedience.) But the Word of our Lord is to be trusted! What He says, He does!

Have YOU ever been like those two disciples on the Emmaus Road— sad, discouraaged— even perhaps without faith and hope? It could be that someone has a faith that is in the past tense. "I trusted, but my heart has been broken; I have been failed!"

Where, do you suppose, is Jesus right now? He is nearer than you think! And in just the same way that He revealed Himself to Mary, and to the Eleven, and to these two on the way— He will reveal Himself to you.

Will you respond to the thing that you know in your heart that He would have you to do?

#459 Just When I Need Him Most

WHERE ARE YOU IN YOUR JOURNEY? HAVE YOU EVER BEEN WHERE THESE MEN WERE?

What is Salvation?

Psalm 27 "The LORD is my light and my salvation . . . the LORD is the strength of my LIFE"

Mark 1:14-18 "...Jesus came. PREACHING THE GOSPEL of the kingdom of God, and saying (NOW!), The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: REPENT YE, and BELIEVE THE GOSPEL. Now as He walked by the sea of Galilee, He saw Simon and Andrew his brother casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers. And Jesus said to unto them, COME YE AFTER ME, and I WILL MAKE YOU to become fishers of men. And straightway they forsook their nets, AND FOLLOWED HIM."

We have been considering the profound questions of our faith: "Is there a God?" "What is God like?" "What is man?" "What is sin" And we have been looking, in each question, to the Lord Jesus Christ, not only FOR an answer, but as Himself the Answer to the questions of life.

Today we ask the question, "What is Salvation?" And I would ask you to think with me for a few minutes as we look at a theological, scriptural answer to the question, for it is good and necessary that we understand in a systematic way what the Bible clearly teaches about being saved. Each person is (finally) his or her own theologian; but it is also very true that there is a great deal of conflicting misinformation passed off second-hand as God's truth of salvation. I would challenge you to think soberly about the scriptural concepts of God's Sovereignty and man's free will.

And then in closing, I would look at what we could term the irreducible minimum of salvation.

First, then,

I. A THEOLOGICAL RESPONSE TO THE QUESTION, WHAT IS SALVATION?

The Bible teaches that salvation is ALL of grace, initiated by God Himself.

(Ephesians 2:8,9 For by grace are ye saved...etc.)

What is Salvation?

A. PRE-SALVATION GRACE (What theologians call "Preliminary States of Grace")

1. Election & Predestination,

("Salvation begins in the loving heart of a holy God." Ephesians 1:4 "God hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love." (and many more!) (And this opens up an age-old Calvinistic / Arminian controversy: Often we have either glossed over it, or have spoken pejoratively of those on the "other" side of the dilemma: How can God be Sovereign and at the same time our wills be free?)

J. Calvin: "Predestination we call the eternal decree of God by which He has determined in Himself what He would have of every individual of mankind, for they are not all created with a similar destiny; but eternal life is foreordained for some, and eternal damnation for others. Every man, therefore, being created for one or the other of these ends, we say he is predestinated to life or to death. . . .In conformity, therefore, to the clear doctrine of scripture, we assert that, by an eternal and immutable counsel, God has once for all determined both whom He would admit to salvation and whom He would condemn to destruction." (Institutes of the Christian Religion)

Arminian view of predestination is (Wiley) "...that gracious purpose of God to save all mankind from utter ruin." In other words the atonement is not limited by God's decree: PROVISIONALLY all men are saved.

2. The Call to the Gospel

- a. Universal in scope; to all mankind
- b. Awakening (Becoming aware of "lostness.")
- c. Conviction (A proper sense of guilt for sin; but of HOPE and not of DESPAIR!)

3. Prevenient Grace (Grace: "The unmerited favor of God")

- a. Both Arminians and Calvinists agree on the depravity of human nature; that man, unassisted, cannot save himself. Both magnify God's grace in salvation.
- b. But Calvinists say that "grace is irresistible." Wesleyans say God's prevenient grace makes it possible to respond to God's call. We believe that every movement toward God is a movement of His grace, and yet at the same time man is a free agent; free to choose good or evil.

[I have no pleasure or selfish purpose in escalating this division, but I do need to point out that (1) I know of NO major evangelical denomination which emphasizes man's total helplessness in receiving salvation. Appeal is made: "Hear God's call! Come forward! Pray!" And that sounds to me like free choice, a response, by grace, to grace. Fine! But (2) then once man has responded, modern Calvinism, or neo-Calvinism, says that he cannot lose that salvation. It is like a ticket to heaven which cannot be lost. Nothing can pluck the believer out of God's hand. One cannot be un-born. Arminianism is seen as a heresy of maintaining salvation by works, instead of by God's sovereign decree. But it cannot be BOTH ways! If we are saved simply by God's sovereign decree, and not by responding to God's call, then we are in no way responsible for our relationship to God, and can neither resist or lose our salvation, IF indeed we are among the "elect". But if we are saved by God's graciously enabling us to RESPOND to God's call and conviction, then why should we be KEPT without regard to our on-going RESPONSE AND FAITH toward God?] I do not state this antagonistically, and many great and good and holy men disagree here.

Summary regarding the "sticky" subject of predestination:

- Calvinism: All ELECTED are BELIEVERS
- Arminianism: All BELIEVERS are ELECTED

4. Repentance

"A godly sorrow for sins..." A turning away from . . . Repentance is THE RESULT of the Holy Spirit working in the souls of sinners. Wiley says, in part: " ...true repentance is marked by an abhorrence for all sin as against a holy God. Repentance is characterized by a feeling of utter helplessness before the law of God, and an acceptance of the just judgments imposed as a result of the violation of that law." Repentance does not save us. But true repentance is the "ground" out of which saving faith can spring. There is never genuine saving faith without repentance for known sins.

- B. THE FAITH THAT SAVES! - Entering Into God's Life Faith is at once the condition and the instrument of salvation.

Saving faith has both a divine and a human side.

Adam Clarke says: "God never believes for any man, no more than He repents for him; the penitent, through this grace enabling him, believes for himself: nor does he believe necessarily or impulsively when he has that power; the power to believe may be present long before it is exercised, else, why the solemn warnings which we meet everywhere in the Word of God, and threatening against those who do not believe?"

- C. Justification, Regeneration, Adoption, Sanctification [What God does for us, and in us, and to us, and through us in bringing us into fellowship with Himself; I spoke at some length about these concomitant elements of salvation just last Sunday evening. Suffice it just now to say by way of reminder that...]

1. our sins are forgiven;
2. we have a new quality and reality of spiritual LIFE in Christ Jesus; and

3. we are made sons and daughters of God, and are brought into His family when we are enabled to exercise saving faith and believe unto salvation.

D. THE WITNESS OF THE HOLY SPIRIT

We all need assurance— but we also almost always mean "feeling." But the witness of the Spirit is a persuasion; an inner assurance that is deeper than feeling! Do we dare let our eternal salvation be a matter for anything less than certitude?

(TRANSITION: We have talked about salvation in terms that have been somewhat 'theological.' But what, in a practical, down-to-earth language does it mean TO BE SAVED? WHO is "saved?" WHAT is a Christian?)

II. A BOTTOM-LINE ANSWER TO THE QUESTION: WHAT IS SALVATION?

Look at the passage from Mark 1: (a practical description)

- A. Saving faith IS doctrine, belief. But it is MORE! It is pursuit of truth, and is expressed in doctrine; but it is more than simply intellectual trust in what we know. Orthodox Christianity can be extremely ugly.

We must always remember that being truly Christian is more than knowing and even than believing with all our hearts the truth of the Bible. There must be submission to Jesus, and life-changing involvement with HIM.

- B. Saving faith IS life-changing encounter with God, and means there WILL be feeling! It is an experience; but experience can never be either the center or goal of our faith. It may sound heretical, but it IS possible to be a 'born again' Marxist.

- C. Saving faith IS giving, serving, loving in Jesus' Name: It is service and ministry to need (and here we're getting close to Jesus! Mother Teresa is much more appealing to a needy world than any great theologian, say, J.I. Packer or John Stott— they want to see compassion, not simply know truth.

Yet it is possible to SERVE and still not be saved! I Corinthians 13 "though I give my body..."

What is Salvation?

D. Salvation is LIFE IN GOD BY JESUS CHRIST.

It is being inextricably linked with Jesus Christ; HE is the VINE, our LIFE is abiding in HIM! And then you may or may not agree with Wesley or Calvin in every dot of the "i" or cross of the "t", but if there is LIFE IN YOU BECAUSE YOU HAVE MET JESUS CHRIST AT THE CROSS . . . THEN YOU ARE A CHRISTIAN!!

Conclusion:

Jesus Christ, by His Spirit, and by His Word, is able to make Himself known to you. He comes by where you are, and He says, "Follow Me!" You say, "I don't understand all the doctrines, Lord."

He says, "I will teach you. Follow me!"

You say, "I don't feel any thrills or any profound inner moving of emotions."

He says, "I will change you, inside and out. Follow Me!"

You say, "I see a lot of things that need to be done in this world, Lord!"

He says, "I see them more clearly and feel them more keenly than you do. And I will use you. But first you have to submit to Me. Follow Me!"

[#81(EH) My Faith Has Found a Resting Place]

What is the Church

Part 1 of 2

(Titus 2:11-14) For the grace of God that brings salvation has appeared to all men. It teaches us to say "No" to ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright and godly lives in this present age, while we wait for the blessed hope- the glorious appearing of our great God and Savior, Jesus Christ, who gave himself for us to redeem us from all wickedness and to purify for himself a people that are his very own, eager to do what is good.

(1 Peter 2:9) But ye [are] a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvelous light:*

*(as in Titus, "a people that are his very own")

Introduction:

[We have been looking at basic questions of our faith. We have tried to start with the big ones— the simple ones— the ones we think it is almost heresy to ask, such as "Is there a God?" "What is God like?" "What is sin?" "What is salvation?"]

Any list of basic questions Christians must answer is not complete without this question, "What is the CHURCH?", and we address this question today and also, perhaps, next Sunday morning.

In the history of the Exodus we have a valid paradigm of how our God calls a people to Himself. And it is not "spiritualizing history" to look to that story for an outline of what Christ intends for His church.

The children of Israel cried out to the God of their fathers in misery from their bondage in Egypt. In 400 years the descendants of the seventy-two souls of Jacob's family that had been invited as guests of Pharaoh to Egypt had become an ethnic group of hundreds of thousands. They were no longer guests, but despised slaves and tools of a pagan culture.

What is the Church

And God heard their cry from their bondage. He came to them in power in the ministry of His servant Moses. God parted the Red Sea, and delivered them from slavery. Those who tried to keep them in chains were drowned in those same waters of deliverance which set God's people free.

As soon as they were free, and even before, a new thing was beginning. They were becoming a people; they were together for better or for worse. In the pressure and sifting they experienced in the wilderness, God gave them holy laws to live by, standards that reflected His own nature, His holiness and His love. These Ten Commandments set the emerging community apart, and gave them identity.

God watched over this band of travellers in the wilderness. He shaded them by day, and illuminated them by night. He rained food from heaven on them, and kept them from dying of thirst in the bleak desert. God defeated their enemies— sometimes as they watched, and sometimes when they didn't know anything about it. God brought them into a land flowing with milk and honey, and helped them become a real nation. He gave them a king when they cried for one. God took care of His own.

But all along, God's highest and best for the people He called His own was that they would be His sons and daughters; that they would love Him with all their hearts, and love each other as brothers and sisters as well. God wanted His people to be "family." For this great God loved the whole world, and it was through His people God wanted all nations of the earth to be blessed!

God's purpose then for people of faith is still the same today. And God's purpose for you and me helps answer the question, "What is the CHURCH?"

I. In One Vital Aspect, The Church Is Always A Movement

It has a vital interest in our LIBERATION!

True "liberation theology" is not interested in guns and bullets and violence, but in God's power stooping to set people free who cry out to him in despair.

(Just this week I interviewed a student (Kevin Coleman) who, as a pagan in New Jersey, cried in despair to a God he wasn't even sure existed— and God heard him! He will be joining the Church of the Nazarene next Sunday!)

The symbol of deliverance is not the sword or spear, and God's deliverance does not come by insistence on rights and by human hatred.

What God would have us remember is... the Red Sea! God wants the church to be a fellowship where men and women can be set free from sin and from enslaving bondage to things. The church is a place where people can get saved! When God speaks, sinners can get up and walk away from a life of bondage to sin!

II. The Church Is Also To Be A Coming Together

Because of a common faith, and a common way of life, the church becomes a place of IDENTITY!

Mount Sinai is more than just a place where the Law was given; it is also the symbol of a birth of a holy nation. God was teaching His people Who He IS and what He is like, and inviting them to identify with Him: Be Ye HOLY, for I AM HOLY!

And that is one of the things that happened on the day of Pentecost. God wrote the Law again— but this time on human hearts, instead of cold tablets of stone. And the church was born as men and women began to learn what Who God IS, and what God is like. And as a church, together we come to acknowledge why God put us here on this earth, and how we can become what God intends that we shall be.

In seeking to learn these lessons the church affirms its identity...

III. God's Church Is Also Intended To Be A Fortress

Some of the proud and the strong among us may not like to admit they need this; and some of the weaker among us think it is all the church is for. But God intends that His church shall be a place of SAFETY! We call this room in which we are worshipping "the sanctuary." We talk glibly about "a fortress mentality" and the negative implications of withdrawing into a shell to hold off the insidious and pervading evils of a dominant culture. And yes, God does expect us to do most of the work of the church outside these four walls.

What is the Church

But remember, too, that Jesus said (Matthew 6:33) "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness...and God will care for your needs of security!" That deep conviction that if we follow our Shepherd, our Shepherd will take care of us, is basic truth in our faith.

The symbol of God's care in the story of Exodus might well be the 'Pillar of Fire.' Or, it might be the manna, or water from the rock, or any other of the many times God kept and provided and defended His people. I hope you read and know and love those stories.

The church is to be a sanctuary from the storm of evil; a place of refreshing and renewal. It is the only source of true security in a world of change.

There is danger, of course, that security and sanctuary can become an end in and of itself. The legitimate need for God's protection can degenerate into a cry for comfort at any price. We don't merely want God to help us through problems, we don't want to experience any pain. But life isn't like that!

There came a time that the holy nation cried out for a king, so they could become a secular nation as well. They wanted for a king to defend and deliver them, and soon any love and caring and family spirit was gone. David may have been a man after God's own heart, but he soon became absorbed with keeping the machinery of government working. And by the time Solomon's reign had ended the nation that was to be God's own people had traded their liberty for the safety of keeping the status quo.

Here is a point of caution: we must exist for reasons beyond maintaining organization and status quo.

IV. But Remember, The Highest Form The Church Takes Is A Family

Our God is a God who loves FELLOWSHIP! He created us to love Him— there is no no higher reason for life than that! All the laws of community, and all the commandments; all the teachings of Jesus, including the Great Commandment, have to do with LOVE! And do you know where "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself!" is found? In the story of the Exodus, Leviticus 19:18! (and eight other times, quoted in the New Testament.) The church as family is not an idea that is new.

The acid test of the reality of the Christian faith, as John wrote, was to be, "Behold how they love one another!" One great purpose of the church, from our human perspective, is to restore the fellowship of the Garden of Eden. The high point in life for Adam and Eve, was walking with God in the cool of the day. They walked with God and loved each other with pure love, not because they had to, but because it was what made them happiest! The church is to be a family! It is to know a love beyond legislation!

And that is just what we are striving for here— what every true fellowship within the church wants. WE ARE FAMILY! And more and more we need to see that reality grow!

V. But Remember, Too, God Has Another Great Purpose For The Church. God Intends That The Church Shall Be A Witness

When the word got out [about 1492 B.C.] that a renegade son of Pharaoh named Moses had led a motley throng of Hebrew slaves into the wilderness, loaded with gold and silver jewelry, and with no visible means of defense, what do you think the kings of the established nations in the Sinai peninsula and the rest of the western Oriental world thought?

One of these pagan rulers, Sihon, king of the Amorites, decided he was not going to let this mass of people go through his territory, even though they asked him politely. He probably thought Pharaoh's loss was his gain— he would make a huge profit of these defenseless shepherds. But God told Moses not to be afraid, and Sihon was killed and his armies routed. And after that incident Sihon's name is mentioned more than twenty times in the rest of the Bible, usually in a Song of Praise to God, as the "church" looked back on how God blessed them when they were defenseless.

What do you think this did as a witness to God's power and love for His people? Everybody— EVERYBODY!!— knew that the Hebrews' strange God— a God no one could see- stood by them! The watching kingdoms saw the manna— they saw God's care. They witnessed the defeat of evil enemies. God stood by the Jews, not because He loved them better than the rest of mankind, but because He chose them to witness to His great love! I believe this truth would be acknowledged by the great Jewish scholars, even though it is easy for both Jews and non-Jews to think that God simply had His favorites and didn't care about the rest of the world.

What is the Church

The Golden Verse of the Bible does not say, "God so loved the Jews that He gave His only begotten Son!" But listen carefully, John 3:16 does not say, "God so loved THE CHURCH! that He gave His Son", either! God does love the church, and intends that we shall love Him and love each other, God also loves the world, ALL the world, and intends that His people shall be witnesses to that love.

God loves all people everywhere. The primary witness to God's love for the world is the church. A very important part of that witness will be a deliberate evangelism, or taking the gospel to the ends of the earth in obedience to Christ's Great Commission. But all of the life of the church can be a witness! From the Red Sea to the Promised Land God spoke to the world by His people.

In every facet of its existence, in worship, and education, and in service, as well as in fellowship, as well as evangelism, a living Church is a living witness! If we are simply reacting against our culture, or worse, if we are simply a non-critical part of our culture, then no wonder we are a poor witness or no witness at all.

But if we are on our way to God's Promised Land, and are walking by His vision for us, across cultural pressures where need be, then we shall be the witness God wants us to be!

WHAT IS THE CHURCH? (text) We are God's people! God help us to live like God's people! Amen.

#8(EH) Christ is Made the Sure Foundation

What is the Church Part 2

Part 2 of 2

Ephesians 4:4-16

[Last week we asked the question, "What is the Church?", and looking at the story of the Exodus as an example of how God deals with His people we said that the church is:

1. a movement concerned with setting people free; and
2. a coming together that gives believers identity with God; and
3. a refuge so that those who trust God do not need to be overwhelmed by evil; and
4. a family that knows God as Father; and, finally,
5. a witness to watching worlds that God is just and holy and merciful.]

READ TEXT PASSAGE

I. THE CHURCH IS THE HABITATION OF GOD ON EARTH

It is 'where God dwells with His people.' The New Testament gives two great representations of the CHURCH. In I Peter 2:5 "...you also, as living stones, are being built up as a spiritual house for a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ.

"The one great representation of the Church is as the TEMPLE of God— the place where God is worshiped, where He is high and lifted up. Not the physical building of brick and mortar— but the people of God, individually AND together are an habitation of God for worship.

The other great New Testament figure of the Church is as the BODY of Christ. Throughout this passage the message is "The Church is the BODY of Christ— a mystical continuation of the Incarnation."

And so the Bible teaches that every believer is a "living stone" in the Temple that is THE CHURCH; and every believer has a vital part in the Body of Christ that is THE CHURCH!

But there are many voices and many faces claiming to be "the one true Church," OR, claiming to be a part of the "one true church." How may we know, and be sure? (The CHURCH may be (much) broader than we think in some respects; and it may be (much) narrower. We all are concerned, or ought to be— about knowing the TRUE church!)

II. THE ONE, HOLY, CATHOLIC, APOSTOLIC CHURCH JESUS INHABITS

A "thumbnail definition" (necessary but not sufficient) is to ask: is the church "creedal?"

Four creedal "Notes:" One - Holy - Catholic - Apostolic.

A. "One" - Eph 4:4-9 Unity

One day, possibly sooner than any of us thinks, a trumpet blast will sound and the church will be called to meet the Lord of the church. (Matthew 24:) Jesus said that He would send His angels with the great sound of the trumpet and gather his elect from the four corners of the earth.

At that time the unity of the church will be most apparent. The CHURCH will rise to meet Her Lord not as Nazarenes or Baptists or Catholics; not as Calvinists or Lutherans or Wesleyans. These labels and denominations may serve important, even vital functions here and now. But there is an even deeper, more vital, underlying unity that pervades the Church of Jesus Christ.

THAT UNITY IS THE LORDSHIP OF JESUS CHRIST!

It is confessing that Jesus Christ is VERY God and VERY man, and that He is Lord of all, Lord of the church!

And every believer is a living part of this one true church. And there will be a gathering!

B. "Holy" [The church is ONE, the church is HOLY.] (Ephesians 5:27)

The more we understand of the word "holy," the more we respect it and even stand back from it in awe.

"Holy" belongs to God! Only God is holy in an underived and pure sense. All holiness is HIS.

And we see the church as human. WE are a part of the church, so how can the church be HOLY? If WE belong to the church— and if we have such a high view of what "holy" is to be— then how can the church be holy? But in Ephesians 5 we read that Christ loved the church, and gave Himself for it, that He might present it to Himself glorious, without blemish, a HOLY CHURCH!

1. "HOLY" does pertain only to God— one definition of "HOLY" is just that: belonging to God! What is HIS is HOLY! And the church is HIS!
2. In order to make the church HOLY, Christ not only LOVED the church, Christ DIED FOR THE CHURCH. "That He might sanctify the people with His own blood, suffered outside the gate." The church is made up of those who have been washed in the precious blood of Jesus. They are not faultless, because they are human. They are blameless, because they have been washed in the sanctifying blood.
3. To be more specific, this HOLY church is made up of all whose sins are washed away, and who are partakers in the blood and body of the Lord.

I am not a liturgist, and I do not ascribe saving power to the God-ordained sacraments of the church. But the holy Church of Jesus Christ is made up of all truly baptized and communicating members; those who have made themselves subject to the Lord of the Church.

In baptism our sins are washed away and we die to an old way of living. The sacrament is an outward sign of the inward reality.

In communion we are partakers of the divine nature, and once again, the sacrament humbles us before God as we realize our total dependency on the blood and body of our Lord.

- C. "Catholic" - Eph 4:12-13 Unity in Diversity The church is WORLD-WIDE! We get the idea that where WE are is the center of God's love and attention— everything else is peripheral. But Christ's church is BIGGER THAN WE THINK! There is not only a diversity of GIFTS (we're used to THAT!) There is A diversity of PEOPLES:

(Zechariah 2:11 "And many nations shall be joined to the Lord in that day, and shall be my people: "

Revelation 7:9 After this I beheld, and, lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands.")

The church of Jesus Christ is world-wide; there is a place for individual, provincial churches, of course. But each of us needs to remember that we are connected to a greater whole; that we are part of Christ's great Body world-wide.

- D. "Apostolic" - Eph 4:15-16

Eph 2:20 says that the church is "built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief Corner Stone."

The church of Christ is diverse in gifts and cultures, but it is ONE in its essential faith and creed. But we also believe the church is confessional. It is not enough to say: "We believe what the apostles taught and believed!" Or even to say, "Our church has a direct line of succession from Peter!" But we must say, "I confess the same LORD the apostles preached and knew!"

Romans 10:10 says: "With the heart we believe unto righteousness, and with the MOUTH we confess unto salvation!"

(Eph 4:15-16) Holding to the truth in love we are to grow up into the Head of the Church, even in Christ. (Note: We are not simply to grow in grace as individuals, so that WE can do OUR thing. But we are to HOLD TO THE TRUTH ONCE DELIVERED TO THE SAINTS (Jude 1:3) and grow up into Christ as Christ is the Head of the church!

(Conclusion:)

Perhaps this has been more like a lesson than a sermon; take heart, the sermon is almost over. But if the answer to the question, "What is the Church?" is: "The CHURCH is a continuation of the incarnation, the Life of Jesus!", then, What does that have to do with you and me? The New Testament gives two representations of the church, as the Temple of God, and as the Body of Christ.

SO, how does that make any difference in my everyday life and living? That is a fair question. Most of us are not very interested in abstractions or unrelated theological ideas.

1. But a call to follow Jesus Christ is a call to be an active and vital part of Christ's Church! Every believer is to be a part both of the TEMPLE OF GOD, that is the Church; and of THE BODY OF CHRIST, that is also the Church.
2. Being a part of the Temple has to do with what we ARE IN CHRIST. Every believer is to be a living stone in the Temple. Perhaps this speaks of a certain passiveness a being inhabited, being set apart for God's glory, for His worship. Just as a cathedral speaks volumes, so the inhabited Church,ÜjÜ the Temple, points to God and glorifies Him, and exists for His glory. Everything we say or do ultimately springs out of what we ARE. And if we exist to glorify God, and to be inhabited by Him, we will be to His glory.
3. But being a part of Christ's Body speaks of what we may DO IN CHRIST. There is not only a passive role to fill, but an active and exciting part to play in the dynamic life of the Church. Not every member of Christ's church is an evangelist or preacher. But every member is called to be a WITNESS! We all contribute our energy to the LIFE of the Body.

What is the Church Part 2

We are all concerned with what Jesus is DOING in this need world. YOU have a contribution to make (to Christ's BODY) that will make an eternal difference! WHAT IS THE CHURCH? The Church is Jesus Christ living in US!

The CHURCH is JESUS living in YOU!

#306 In Christ There Is No East or West

#311 I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord